Experienced Home Demonstration Agent Is Coming to County

SUCCESSFUL WORKER WILL OPEN PROGRAM

Miss Myrtle Miller Is Choice to Take Charge

FORMERLY WAS IN GREENVILLE Once Was Student of Canyon Teachers College

Gray county's new home demonstration agent in the person of Miss Myrtle Miller will arrive in Pampa next Sunday and will begin work Monday, according to a letter received by Judge Ivy Duncan from Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs, district home demonstration agent.

Miss Grubbs stated she would accompany Miss Miller to Pampa to get her located in an office and get the work started.

Miss Grubbs letter follows: "I have at last succeeded in securing an experienced home demonstration agent for Gray county. I feel that your county as well as the Extension service is quite fortunate in securing Miss Myrtle Miller. Miss Miller was a very successful agent in Hunt county for three years.

Last spring she resigned to go to school and take some special work. She is a former West Texas State Teachers college student.

Miss Miller has lived in the Panhandle and understands the conditions in that section of the state.

"I expect to come to Pampa with Miss Miller Feb. 16, to get her located in an office and get the work started."

Agriculture is highly developed in Hunt county, which is one of the most productive counties in Texas. Greenville is its county seat.

Fields Well Is Increasing Flow to Gusher Capacity

Its flow increasing from 48 to 76 barrels an hour in one day, Empire Gas and Fuel company's Fields No. 1, section 13, block 7, Carson county, showed signs of developing into a real gusher today.

A test made of the well after it was drilled from 3,208 feet to 3,232 feet Tuesday, showed that it produced 1,170 barrels of oil from 7 a. m. Tuesday to 7 a. m. Wednesday. At noon Wednesday it was making 76 barrels an hour.

Empire officials are convinced that the flow would greatly increase if the hole were deepened, as the big pay has not yet been penetrated. The elevation of the location is 3,410 feet and there is plenty of room to drill. The oil is flowing natural with five million feet of gas. It tests 44.8, corrected gravity.

The oil is being stored in two 800-barrel tanks erected since last Saturday. Four 1,600 barrel tanks are being built and one has been completed.

The well is located five miles northeast of Panhandle and five miles west and one north of White Deer. Pay was topped Friday and six-inch casing was run Monday. The well opens a new area, being ten miles south of production.

THE WEATHER VANE

WEST TEXAS: Fair, colder except in extreme north portion tonight; Friday fair.

—AND A SMILE MILAN, Italy (AP)—This capital of Lombardy is about to celebrate the 400th anniversary of a scientist whose greatest invention has been a terror in all parts of the world for centuries.

The historical society is looking into the archives to see if some of the ignominy can be removed from him. Dr. Andrea Ocicato invented the alarm clock. His device not only sounded a bell at a selected time but lighted a candle.

INDEPENDENT MERCHANTS OF CITY FORMING "MINUTE MEN" MOVEMENT TO COMBAT CHAIN STORE GROUPS

Act to Wipe Out Chicago Gangs

Indignation of citizens at the reign of hoodlums in Chicago has spurred Chief of Detectives John Egan, above, and Police Commissioner William Russell, below, to inaugurate a vigorous drive to rid the city of criminals. Nearly 1000 suspected thugs were arrested in the first day's raids.

TRIAL COURT ACTION IS AFFIRMED BY COURT

Right of the trial court to appoint a receiver for the oil well in section 177, block B-2, was affirmed by the court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo yesterday.

W. B. Sausbury contested the right of E. Bass, royalty owner, to have a receiver appointed after Judge W. R. Ewing had appointed C. M. Lyon.

Appointment of the receiver grew out of the suit International Supply company vs. George W. Bilbo and others. There were a dozen intervenors in the suit.

Love Bill Is Passed

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 (AP)—The house today finally passed Senator Thomas B. Love's bill giving courts of civil appeals or the supreme court jurisdiction in matters of mandamus to force executive committees of political parties to do certain things.

Organization of the Merchants Minute Men based on the declaration that "there's absolutely too much money going out of Pampa and never coming back" has been announced by J. Wade Duncan, who is one of those sponsoring the move here.

A membership fee of $12 is being taken in connection with the campaign of independent merchants against chain concerns. Every independent merchant in Pampa is being urged to join.

A membership goal of 250 has been set, according to Mr. Duncan who stated at noon that more than 50 names already had been obtained. Individuals, as well as firms, may join, he stated.

DALLAS, Feb. 13 (AP)—Independent merchants were in the field today to fight chain stores in Texas after a meeting here at which the merchants protective league was organized and 800 independent merchants heard former United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield deliver a scathing attack upon chain store systems.

In his address last night the former senator termed chain store systems "the greatest menace to the continued prosperity of Texas and the nation."

He centered his attack on what he termed absentee ownership and foreign control, under which he asserted the chain stores "took everything and gave little in return to the communities in which they were located, becoming mere siphons for the sucking of money to a few centers in the north and west."

The major remedy proposed by him was legislation to compel chain systems to become part of the communities they serve by paying their share of city, county and state taxes, by contributing to eleemosynary and charitable organizations, and by investing a percentage of their profits, earned in Texas, in Texas properties or securities. Such legislation, he said, would be constitutional as well as equitable.

Other speakers on the program were Mark McGee of Fort Worth, former adjutant general, James V. Allred, Wichita Falls, former district attorney here, and Bert Egan, Wichita Falls merchant.

The newly organized association will meet in the day hall here at 8 p. m. J. S. Forman of Dallas, president, and presidents, Frank Davis of Waco, O. R. Duff, Ennis; Bert Egan, Wichita Falls; and Henry Alexander, Haskell; secretary-treasurer, H. G. Harrow, Dallas. Temporary headquarters etc to be maintained here.

The executive committee selected included: Earl Cullum, Dallas; H. C. Clay, Paris; F. F. Brooks, Waxahatchie; Henry Law, Fort Worth; H. G. Mosheart, Yantis; O. C. Robertson, Terrell; and J. E. Bentley, Dallas.

The league laid plans for forming district organizations in each senatorial district of the state and the executive committee was directed to formulate a legislative program.

Lincoln's Birthday Is Program Topic

Three programs in observance of the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln were given yesterday at West Ward school. Readings, playlets, patriotic songs, stories of the great American's life, and flag salutes made up the exercises.

At 9 o'clock in the morning, the first grades taught by Miss Wilma Chapman and Miss Mary Nail and Mrs. C. C. Cockerill's second grade met together for the first program.

The second exercise was held at 10:40 o'clock, for Mrs. T. A. Cox's fourth grade, Mrs. C. W. Stowell's low fifth, and Miss Sue Roday's high fifth grade.

At 1 o'clock the third grade, taught by Miss Nettie Sims, and the fourth grade, taught by Mrs. L. C. Peddicord, had their joint program.

S. M. U. LABORATORY BURNS

DALLAS, Feb. 13 (AP)—Laboratory equipment and a frame building which housed it on the campus of Southern Methodist university were in ruins today as the result of a fire early today. President C. C. Selcman estimated the loss at $30,000 and advanced the theory that the fire started from a gas or chemical combustion.

CLUBHOUSE TO BE ERECTED IN NEAR FUTURE

Country Club Plans $15,000 Building Project

MORE STOCK IS TO BE ISSUED Growing Interest in Golf Encouraging Factor

Plans for a fine clubhouse at the Pampa Country club have been approved and placing of the stock necessary to finance the project is well under way, according to H. Otto Studer, president.

The club already owns its course, an investment valued at $15,000. The clubhouse will cost $15,000 more, it is estimated. The building will contain a reception hall with dance floor 50 by 40 feet. There will be ladies' and men's lounge rooms, lockers, kitchen and dining room, and other facilities.

The kitchen likely will be so built that it can be used for hand ball as well. Construction will be of brick veneer type. A loan may be secured to cover part of the cost.

Enlargement of the membership, now about 60, is the intention. A meeting of the directors will be held some time this month to finally approve the project and to authorize its execution.

Interest in golf here is growing rapidly every day and weather permits many courses and foursomes may be seen on the course. Tennis courts may also be provided for followers of that sport.

Father and Son Banquet Tonight Will Be Large

A Father and Son banquet that will be one of the community's most successful meetings for the entire year is anticipated by the Rev. Tom W. Brabham, who, as chairman of the Lions committee, is in charge of the program and arrangements for the big community event tonight.

Preparations are being completed, this afternoon for the entertainment of 150 men and boys. Tickets and reservations may be secured up to 5:30 o'clock this evening, Mr. Brabham said. Application should be made to him directly.

The program will be made up largely of addresses by local speakers, including leaders in boys work, prominent business men, ministers, and boy scouts. The Rev. A. A. Hyde will award merit badges to the scouts. C. Clark, scout executive of the Adobe Works council, will be a speaker.

Music of the evening will include violin numbers by LaVerne Twifield and vocal selections by Miss Audrey Noel. An interesting feature of the program will be the initiation of a group of Pampa boys to the rank of tenderfoot, with Borger scouts conducting the ceremony.

The Rev. Brabham emphasized the community-wide nature of the banquet, urging that all fathers and sons attend, and that men who would not have the opportunity of attending, the large group will be seated at 7:30 o'clock.

OPPOSITION TO NOMINEE HAS BEEN GROWING

Precedent May Be Set If Senate Rejects Candidate

SENATOR WATSON BELIEF CONTRARY Charge Made That Big Power Companies Involved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The opposition to Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice of the United States, was joined today by Senator Walsh of Montana, acting Democratic leader.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Confirmation of Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice of the United States by the senate went into the doubtful stage today as his friends conceded "big trouble" by the opposition over night.

After asserting the senate would not set a precedent by rejecting the nomination and had "a right and reason to consider the environment, training and probably sympathies" of candidates for the supreme court, Senator Nye read lengthy extracts from a history of Hughes' record up to 1912. It listed several power corporations as among the clients of Hughes' law firm and said that the nominee started out as a young lawyer in the "lucrative field" of corporation litigation.

Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, predicted a margin of 17 votes for the nominee as the fourth day of debate was resumed with Senators Glass, Democrat, Virginia, and Nye, Republican, South Dakota, carrying on the attack against Hughes.

Others who were busy checking the situation agreed there was beginning to be doubt on the outcome with decision depending on the final attitude of the Democrats.

Senators Norris, Republican, Neb., who opened the attack on Hughes on Monday, said "he will be confirmed," but he smiled broadly when asked by how many votes.

Senator Glass was of the opinion that the result was in doubt.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Chairman Norris of the senate judiciary committee gave notice to the senate today he would move to recommit the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes to be chief justice of the United States to the judiciary committee.

"Denver" Smith Will Be Tried on Burglary Charge

A charge of burglary was filed against "Denver" Smith yesterday afternoon after city and county peace officers said that he had admitted robbing the United Cigar store and Craft's Mint Sunday night.

The boy told officers that he is 15 years old. He will be tried in county court before Judge Ivey E. Duncan this afternoon.

Charges of burglary against the two negroes who were arrested in connection with the store robbery were dismissed but the two are being held for investigation.

Smith denied that he participated in the robbery of the cigar store the first two times it was looted. He also asserted that he was alone Sunday night when he took merchandise and $25 in cash from the cigar store and $50 in cash from Kraft's Mini.

WHEN THE WIFE GOES TO A NEIGHBORING CITY AND PAYS MORE FOR GOODS THAN THE PRICES QUOTED IN PAMPA, IT IS THE HUSBAND'S TIME TO LAUGH.

Prices are right in Pampa on most things. There is absolutely no reason for going elsewhere to trade. Volume, quality, price—they are o. k. It is easier to compare than might be imagined. For instance, read the ads in this newspaper and those of newspapers from other cities. Compare the prices and the bargains. The News and its employees very often hear comments or receive letters from readers living in other cities. Almost invariably it is remarked that shopping should be easy in Pampa.

Trade extension is vital to any community located as is this one. But it is equally true that education of the folks within the city limits is necessary. Trading at home means prosperity of those who build Pampa. If every firm and individual were to check up on shortcomings in this regard and act accordingly, the result would be astounding.

And it is not inappropriate to add that printing orders totaling $50,000 or more are sent out of the city every year. This sum, expended here, would make possible better equipment and better service.

ILLITERACY IS FAR FROM ABOLISHED IN THIS LAND OF OURS.

American schools are making rapid progress, but the spirit of scholarship and learning is so weak in some sections that even ability to read and write—if not the proper opportunity also—is lacking. The South is making great efforts to raise her standing before the next federal census begins.

The Associated Press stated that "five southern states, where the illiteracy is highest—Louisiana, Georgia, South Carolina, Mississippi, and Alabama—are putting forth the greatest efforts. Word has gone out through the cotton fields and along the bayous. Late lights are flickering in countless school rooms. Louisiana, which had the highest illiteracy record of all the states in the 1920 census—21.9 per cent—is working to remove the stigma. Georgia raised a fund of $30,000 by private subscription and is putting on a campaign. South Carolina has 110 night schools running in one county."

The center of least illiteracy is in the Middle West. Iowa, with 1.1 per cent illiterates, took first place from Nebraska in 1920. Nebraska hopes to remove that tenth of one per cent and regain her lost prestige. The Panhandle probably will rank far higher than the average for the South, and even for Texas as a whole.

Considering how plentiful are the single murders, we wonder where there are not many more killings under polygamy. Frame your own answer.

Ladies with black veils are not of much interest in local circles, but add the word "fortune" and we imagine interest would quicken enormously in these parts. Lubbock's mayor was tagged and fined for over-parking. He paid off in fine spirit. Still, it would have been a better story had he tagged himself.

Oil Journal Files Are Given Society
CANYON, Feb. 13. (Special)—The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society has just received from R. R. Sherwood of Amarillo, files of the Oil and Gas Journal beginning August, 1926, and extending to the present time. This publication contains, according to Professor L. F. Sheffy, field secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, the most valuable information on the oil and gas development in the Panhandle which has been published. It is hoped that a complete file of the Journal dating from 1926 back to the beginning of its publication, will be found and given to the Historical Society library.

TWINKLES

This is a great country, but one has to look long and patiently to Washington or Austin to get anything needed or requested.

Prohibition has brought many benefits, but the government is not doing its part as long as Boston and Walter Lippitt debate over whether there are ten thousand speakeasies down there, or only seven thousand.

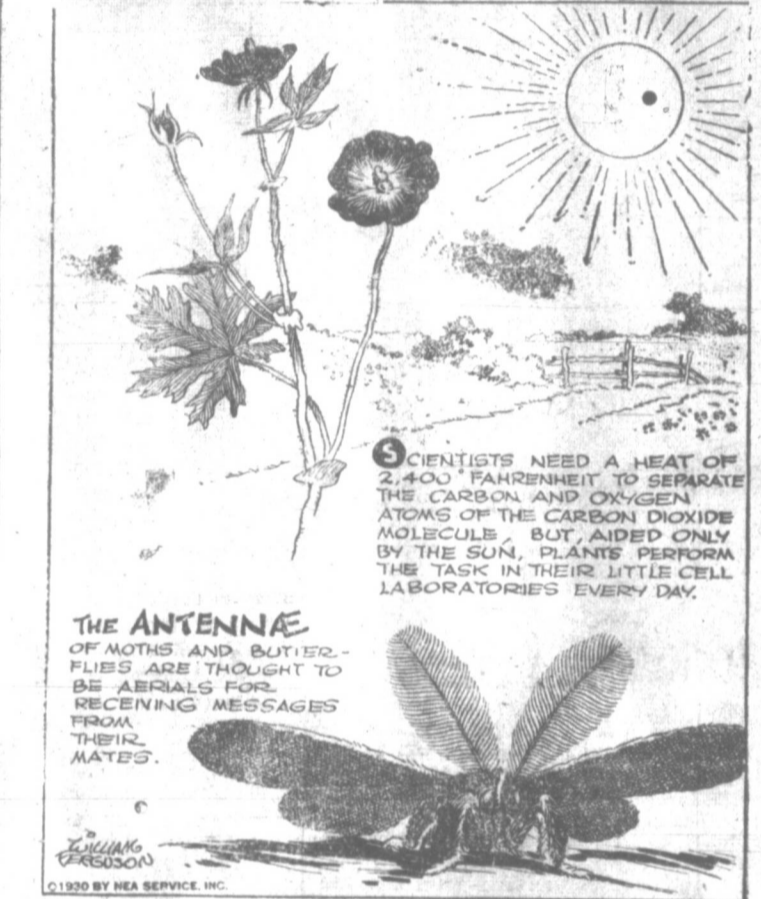

Another paradox is that just as dresses increase in square footage the economists declare that we must have fewer acres of cotton.

They are threatening to do away with submarines before we have a chance to see one come slinking up the "navigable" North Fork.

What we need in this city are more folks "at home". The number of "don't answer" telephone calls is hampering our business. And we hope golfers may soon carry radio telephones around the fairways with them.

El Progresso Club Studies Hawthorne's "The Scarlet Letter"

In their second lesson on the works of Nathaniel Hawthorne, members of El Progresso club gave their program period yesterday afternoon to a study of the author's most famous production, "The Scarlet Letter."

Mrs. H. L. Ledrick was director. She opened the program with a paper on the plot structure and a synopsis of the novel. "The Minister's Vigil," cut from the twelfth chapter of "The Scarlet Letter," was read by Mrs. Dave Pope.

Methodist Circles Study Bible Lessons and Mission Topics

Mission study and Bible lessons occupied members of the Methodist Women's Missionary society at their circle meetings yesterday afternoon. Circles 1 and 2 had programs on missionary work as it pertained to international harmony and racial brotherhood, the title of their study being "Learning to Live Together." Bible lessons outlined in two chapters of "Spiritual Adventures" were conducted at the meetings of Circles 3 and 4.

Sub-topics of the missionary program, discussed in well-rounded talks by the leaders and their helpers, were as follows: Everybody's Questions; National Hospitality Altered; America for Americans; The Neighborhood Approach; Towards Understanding.

Circle 1 met in the home of Mrs. Wm. Castleberry. Mrs. George Wallace was leader in the program, and had as assistants Mrs. Irvin Cole and Mrs. J. J. Noel. The meeting was opened with a hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," followed by a prayer by Mrs. W. Purvyance. The Lord's Prayer, quoted in mission, closed the devotional period.

A social hour of unusual interest followed the circle meeting. Mrs. Castleberry was hostess to the members and other friends at a celebration of her fortieth wedding anniversary, during which she served wedding cake with coffee. She was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Dave Osborne, Mrs. Emmett Osborne and Mrs. H. Cobb.

Members of the circle who attended were: Mrs. R. C. Campbell, Mrs. E. F. Daughy, Mrs. C. T. Hunikapilas, Mr. Guyer, Mrs. J. G. Noel, Mrs. J. E. Ward, Mrs. Maddox, and those named in the program. New members received were: Mrs. Grady Morton, Mrs. Mamie Hartnell, Mrs. T. H. Buster, and Mrs. W. R. Presnell.

Mrs. J. G. Burgess was hostess to Circle 2, and Mrs. Luther Pierson was leader of the study. Mrs. S. A. Hurst and Mrs. O. H. Booth presented topics. Other members attending were Mrs. Joe Hodge, Mrs. Fred Cary, Mrs. R. S. McConnell, Mrs. Roy Bourland, Mrs. C. L. Certain, Mrs. A. S. Beavers, and Mrs. W. S. Tolbert. The meeting was opened and closed with prayers.

Two topics from "Spiritual Adventures" were reviewed on the programs of Circles 3 and 4, with a leader for each. Members of No. 3 met in Mrs. F. L. Elliott's home. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Lee Harrah. The Price of Spacious Life was discussed in two parts, by Mrs. J. D. Sackett, leader, and Mrs. Peters, helper. Mrs. H. F. Barnhart presented the second topic from the outline, Irresistible Power Within Our Reach.

A round table discussion followed each talk, and the Lord's Prayer was said in unison at the close of the study. Members in attendance, in addition to those named, were: Mrs. O. W. Ferguson, Mrs. Joe Shelton, Mrs. W. R. Lane, Mrs. Wholgemuth, Mrs. Selby, and Mrs. W. R. Campbell. Mrs. Dunaway was a visitor.

Mrs. F. G. Broigne and Supt. Hessey Organize Skellytown P.-T.-A.

Organization of Skellytown's first Parent-Teacher association took place last evening under the auspices of the extension department of Baker P.-T.-A. of Pampa, with Mrs. F. G. Broigne of the latter association officiating.

County Supt. John B. Hessey, an honored guest at the meeting, gave an address to the gathering, complimenting the citizens of the district upon their well-equipped and attractive school building, and congratulating them upon the forward-looking attitude of the patrons. He stressed the fact that the right foundation was being laid for the promotion of child welfare when cooperation between home, church, and school became an actuality and was recognized in its true importance, as was being done in that progressive community.

At the close of his talk, Mr. Hessey introduced Mrs. Broigne, prominent worker in Pampa Parent-Teacher activities, and a graduate of the Parent-Teacher correspondence course. Mrs. Broigne took charge, and organized the association with an initial enrollment of thirty members. Afterward, she gave a short discourse on parliamentary procedure.

The following officers were elected: President, L. M. Cummings; first vice-president, Mrs. L. M. Cummings; second vice-president, Mrs. Connutt; recording secretary, Mrs. Freeman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. New; treasurer, Mrs. Hammon.

The patrons were very enthusiastic, and planned to make their organization one of the best in the Eighth district. Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, the one factor which they felt was needed to complete their school system, which employed nine teachers and owned one of the best buildings of any rural school in the district.

HOW FORD METHODS CUT COST OF DISTRIBUTION

Lower profits in selling save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in manufacturing

TWENTY-SEVEN years ago the Ford Motor Company was formed to provide reliable, economical transportation for all the people. That original purpose has never changed. The constant effort in every activity is to find ways to give you greater and greater value without extra cost—frequently at lowered cost. This applies to distribution and similar important factors, as well as manufacture.

For the Ford Motor Company believes that its full duty is not only to make a good automobile at the lowest possible price, but to see that there is no waste, extravagance, or undue profit in any transaction from the time the car leaves the factory until it is delivered to your home. It is obvious that hard-won savings in production will be of little value if they are sacrificed later through excessive selling costs.

EVERY purchaser of a motor car has the right to know how much of the money he pays is for the car itself and how much is taken up by dealer charges. If these charges are too high, one of two things must happen. Either the price of the car must be raised or the quality lowered. There is no other way. The money must come from somewhere.

In the case of the Ford, the low charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories mean a direct saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser in addition to the still greater savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

The profit margin on the Ford car has always been fair to both the dealer and the public. Within the past three months, it has been possible to effect still further economies. Today, the discount or commission of the Ford dealer is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

THE business of the Ford dealer is good because he makes a small profit on a large number of sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales. He knows, too, that the extra dollar-for-dollar value of the car makes it easier to sell and more certain to give satisfactory service after purchase.

Consider also that the Ford car is delivered to the purchaser equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, an extra steel-spoke wheel, and bright, enduring Rustless Steel for many exterior metal parts, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes.

If for any reason you wish to buy certain small accessories, you will find that these, too, are sold at the usual Ford low prices. Replacement parts are also available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the country.

THESE are important points to remember in considering the purchase of a motor car. They show why it is possible to put so much extra quality into the new Ford and still maintain the low price. They are also the reasons why more than 35% of all cars sold today are Model A Fords.

Magnolia Says Company Drills to Protect Rights

Questioning the success of the proration program, A. G. Post, superintendent, said today that exclusive of the proration being done by the pipeline companies, only the Humble Oil and Refining company is prorating its production in the restricted areas of Gray county.

"The other production companies are not prorating—it's just that the pipeline companies are refusing to take more than a certain amount of oil," he said. "The production companies sell all the oil they can."

Challenging a statement made in last Sunday's News that failure of proration was threatened when Magnolia located No. 4 Wright in section 13, block 3, necessitating the drilling of four offsets, Mr. Post asserted that the Texas company located its No. 1 Wright, offset to No. 4, compelling the Magnolia to make its location.

Mr. Post explained that the Magnolia has drilled only one offset first in the four years his company has been operating in the county. The company has been compelled to drill in the other wells for protection, he stated.

"We informed the operators at the last two proration meetings that we'd prorate our production if the proration plan was given 100 per cent support, but that if it wasn't we intended to protect our property and that is what we have done," Mr. Post said.

Texas company officials stated yesterday that its Wright No. 1 was located Feb. 5. Mr. Post explained today that Magnolia's No. 4 Wright was located Feb. 6, a day after the Texas company location was made.

Scholarship Is Chapel Subject

A program on scholarship was given at the high school chapel exercise at Central auditorium with strong interest manifested in the student body.

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, president of the Pampa branch of the American Association of University Women and the College club, announced the terms of the scholarship and the loans which her organization has established. Applause from the audience indicated the students were pleased with the terms and conditions.

Supt. R. B. Fisher told of the National Honor society, its purposes, and its requirements. Stating that membership in the All-Southern association of colleges and secondary schools or in the All-Northern branch, was a prerequisite to a school's awarding the honor, Mr. Fisher said it was a hope and an ambition that an honor society might be formed here.

The program was arranged by Miss Fannie Florence Sims, a member of the high school faculty, who, as chairman of the A. A. U. W. and College club's scholarship committee, has been active in raising money and effecting terms of the outstanding scholarship award of the city. She introduced each of the speakers.

Two orchestra selections, directed by Thomas Fannell, were enjoyable numbers of the program.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

BY ROBBINS COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Now that Producer Edwin Carewe is going ahead with plans to remake "The Spoilers" as a talkie, movie old-timers are recalling the excitement with which the old Selig forces greeted the author's demand of $2,500 for the screen rights to his novel.

Rex Beach's price at the time was considered exorbitant, and after months of bargaining a compromise gave the author royalties instead of a flat purchase price.

The picture, an elaborate nine-reeler, opened April 1, 1914, at the Strand on Broadway, the theatre which was the screen's first challenge to the legitimate stage of New York.

Enormously successful, it made famous its cast, including William Farnham, Thomas Santschi, Wheeler Oakman and Bess Eyton, while Beach's royalties rose to staggering figures over a period of years in which reissues of the film were shown.

In 1922, a second silent version was made, this time with Milton Sills in the brawny leading role. Who will take the part in Carewe's production, has not yet been announced, nor in fact, has any of the cast.

Settlers
Sparks at random from the grinding movie wheels:

Vivienne Segal, stage singer here for talkies, has completed three pictures without being photographed on black-and-white film. She's in "Song of the West," "Golden Dawn," and "Bride of the Regiment," all in color.

Stuart Erwin, "dumb" athletic student of "Sweetie," will be Helen Kane's boob-pooch-pun-doo in "Dangerous Dan McGrew," to be made in the east.

The writer of "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby," the song which helped the "Blackbirds" of 1928 to linger long on Broadway, is going to Hollywood. Dorothy Fields, daughter of Lew and Weber

FOUR LEADING WRESTLERS TO MEET HERE TONIGHT—STRONG WORDS BEING HURLED TODAY

Wrestling as a sport will be revived in Pampa tonight with four top-notch wrestlers on the card. These four, especially Billy Londos, are feature attractions at wrestling matches in the larger cities of the nation.

The semi-final event will see Tex Watkins and Billy Londos take the mat for one fall, no time limit. The final match will be between Otis Clingman and Roy Rob, three falls, no time limit. Wrestling preliminaries will be provided. The matches begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Watkins arrived in town this afternoon with fire in his eye and his tongue producing venom for Londos. "I've taken about all the insults I'm going to take off that low-brow Greek—let him go back to his restaurant and wrestle with skillets and slop-buckets. That's where he belongs. Wait until the U. S. Navy gets a hold of him!"

Said Londos, "I'm used to loud-mouthed sailors. They talk and say nothing. I've been throwing these supposed-to-be navy champions for years. Every time I see a sailor I think of a parrot."

Londos, by the way, is the most thoroughly hated wrestler in the country. He gives the fans plenty of reasons for hating him. There is no rough stuff that he won't pull. A favorite trick of his is to break his opponents' little fingers. He is ballyhooed to be the roughest wrestler in the game anywhere. This will be his first appearance in the Panhandle in six years. Since then he has wrestled most all of the big boys.

Both Londos and Roy Rob have been in the game for many years, while Watkins and Clingman are comparatively young. But what they lack in experience they have in science and skill. Clingman was champion wrestler in 1925-26-27 and Watkins in 1928-29.

The match has been heavily advertised in nearby towns and in Amarillo. Cal Farley will be presented as a participant in the next card.

HARVESTERS BEAT CLARENDON HIGH SCHOOL, 50-23—TO PLAY MOBEETIE FRIDAY AT MIAMI

Another victory last night attested to the improvement the Harvesters have been making lately—they defeated Clarendon high school's basketball five 50 to 23.

Clarendon's guards were very weak, giving Pampa sharpshooters many opportunities that a stronger defense would have nipped. The only defense the visitors exhibited was that of the offense, with Baird and Nichols, forwards, and Dillard, center, passing the ball. Baird was easily the star of the Donley boys. He was fast and accurate, scoring 11 of his team's points. Nichols, his partner, was not so accurate but carried his weight well and passed viciously.

Every Harvester scored except English, and he could have done so had he not purposely passed the ball to the regular gunners. Sausbury, James, and Ayres were the leaders, with 13, 12 and 10 points respectively. James, recovered from the flu, showed the visitors a brand of speed which confounded their guards.

Coch Mitchell inserted his second string line-up in the last quarter, with no success. The younger jads carried on the scoring, with Braly finding the basket three times.

The local squad will go to Miami, Friday night to play Mobettie at 7 o'clock at the invitation tournament. The Harvesters will be hosts to Amarillo's junior college five Tuesday night. This game, to begin at 8 o'clock, will be a fine test preliminary to the Canyon district tournament soon thereafter. The junior college five is supposed to rank a notch above the high schools.

Connie Mack Is Given Bok Award

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13. (P)—Connie Mack, veteran manager of the world's champion Athletics, has received the 1929 Edward W. Bok award, presented annually to the man or woman who during the preceding twelve months, "rendered the most outstanding service to Philadelphia."

The gift, a $10,000 check enclosed in an ivory case, a gold medal and a scroll, was presented last night at a dinner at which Mack and 50 prominent citizens were guests of the board of trustees of the award.

Mack, who had been in Florida awaiting the beginning of the baseball raining season, made a hurried trip from the South to receive the honor, heretofore bestowed upon artists, scientists, educators and philanthropists.

Charles E. Fox, former district attorney, made the presentation speech and lauded the gray-haired manager for his years of effort devoted to the honesty, decency, and efficiency of the national game.

force tackling. If was his skill, not his strength, that accomplished it."

The story is told of Tom Shevlin, famous end of later Yale days and sometimes rated with Hinkey in the All-Time class.

Hinkey was Shevlin's idol, pattern and inspiration in end play. Tom was a physical giant by comparison. As he developed, gained fame, Shevlin wondered whether perhaps he was improving on Hinkey's record and prowess. Finally he mentioned the matter one day to Mike Murphy, the famous trainer.

"Mike, am I a pretty good end?" he asked.

"You sure are."

"Do you think perhaps I am as good as Hinkey?"

Old Mike pondered a moment, then flashed into his pocket and hauled out two coins.

"See them, Tom?" He displayed a nickel and penny.

"Well, that penny, that's you. The nickel, that's Hinkey."

Cleveland, which has not enjoyed a pennant since Tris Speaker led the Tribe to victory in 1920, may prove the main obstacle to another triumph for the World's Champion Athletics. More ballyhoo will be turned out for Bob Shayskey's Yankees but Roger Peckinpaugh's Indians have better prospects of going places and doing things in the forthcoming race.

Sudduth testified that he was knocked in the head with a pistol and robbed of $34 and a pocket knife. The next day he identified Adams and Cole on the street. His knife was found on one of the men, officers said.

The arrests were made by Deputy John Cone. Sudduth is an employe at the carbon black plant at LeFors.

Mrs. Harlan Stone's Fish Is Largest

LONG KEY, Fla., Feb. 13. (AP)—Some sixty pounds of sailfish behind the judiciary in the battle of bending poles and slender lines, the President and Mrs. Hoover set out today to regain angling honors for the executive branch of the government.

The capture of the expedition's largest trophy thus far, a 65-pound sailfish measuring seven feet ten inches, by Mrs. Harlan F. Stone, wife of the supreme court justice, caused the chief executive to abandon plans for a 25-mile trip south of here and concentrate on the nearby island studded waters which Mrs. Stone visited yesterday.

While Mrs. Hoover recorded Mrs. Stone's catch with a motion picture camera, Justice Stone landed a 40-pound sailfish from Mr. Hoover's boat. The president got an early lead on his companions Monday when he brought in a 45-pound sailfish, but since then he has been unable to snare one of the big gamesters.

COLTEXO BAN BURNED M. G. Tullos, employe of the Coltexo gasoline plant, was painfully burned yesterday when a stream of hot absorbing oil from a leaking control valve sprayed into his face and both knees. He was taken to McKean & Connor hospital for treatment.

Bills to Raise Revenue Are Not Likely to Pass

AUSTIN, Feb. 13. (AP)—Revenue measures, suggested by Governor Moody in a special message to the legislature as necessary before he would submit emergency appropriations, had a slim chance to pass during the closing days of the legislature, it was indicated after the house committee had reported adversely the proposed $1 per ton tax on sulphur.

The committee voted 9 to 6 against the bill early today, after a hearing which lasted past midnight. Representative Phil Sanders of Nacogoches, author of the bill, said he would try to bring it out on minority report.

Representative Leonard Tillotson of Setly had pending before the committee a bill which would levy an occupation tax on all natural resources, the charge against sulphur being 20 cents per ton.

There were several other tax measures, including one that would make a stiff assessment against chain stores, yet to be acted on.

Kenneth Johnson, employe of Wilcox Oil & Gas company, underwent an operation for appendicitis in McKean & Connor hospital Tuesday.

Bootlegger Is Killed, Deputy Badly Hurt

EVERETT, Wash., Feb. 13. (AP)—Al Kinsman, bootlegger, was dead and Deputy Sheriff J. W. Thomas lay seriously wounded today as the result of a gun battle, at Kinsman's ranch, nine miles north of Arlington, Wash., when officers attempted to search the premises for liquor.

Armed with a search warrant, Thomas, with Sheriff George I. Stever, and Deputy Jessy Jackson, went to Kinsman's isolated ranch to look for liquor yesterday.

According to the officers, Thomas, who held the warrant, knocked on the door and told Kinsman to open it, adding they were from the sheriff's office. The door was opened slightly, and Kinsman shot Thomas twice.

Kinsman then ran out the back door, to be met by Jackson. Instead of halting at his command, Kinsman opened fire, Jackson asserted. Jackson fired four shots at the fleeing man, which proved fatal.

Man and Woman Killed by Gang

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. (AP)—An unidentified woman, about 24 years old and her escort, Carmine Barrell, 30, were shot and killed in the Bronx today by four men who alighted from an automobile, fired two bullets into each and drove away.

The woman was fashionably gowned and wore two valuable diamond rings. There were no marks of identification on her person. Barrell died a few minutes after the shooting, and the woman while being taken to Morrisania hospital.

The two were walking in Inwood avenue, the Bronx, when the four men jumped from their machine. They attempted to flee in opposite directions, but the gunmen chased them and shot them down.

Employees of a nearby garage told the police the man and woman had proceeded about 50 feet from a garage where he had stored his car when the automobile with the four men drove up to the curb beside them.

As the men stepped from the machine, the woman screamed and started to run north, while Barrell fled in the opposite direction. Two of the men chased the woman, who after running a few yards tripped and fell. They then fired four shots at her.

Rash Romance © 1930 by NEA Service Inc. by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY JUDITH CAMERON, typist in a New York publishing house, marries ARTHUR KNIGHT, executive of the department in which she works. Knight is a widower with a daughter, TONY, 18, and in Paris, and a son, JUNIOR, 16, at school. A blissful honeymoon in Bermuda is interrupted by a cablegram that Tony is on her way to America. Judith and Arthur sail to meet her. When Knight brings his daughter to their Long Island home the girl ignores her step-mother. Later she tells Judith she must leave the house. Knight, over-hearing, forces Tony to apologize. The girl spends much of her time with MICKEY MORTIMER, blase amusement-seeker whom she met in Paris. As days pass a state of armed neutrality exists between Tony and Judith. Junior arrives home for the holidays and treats Judith with aloof politeness. Christmas proves to be a dismal day with both children away from home and all Knight's eager preparations are wasted. Judith is uncomfortable until the boy returns to school. A letter comes from AUNT HELENE, who had chaperoned Tony in Europe, telling Knight of the girl's affair with Mortimer. Tony easily persuades her father that her aunt has misjudged her. ANDY CRAIG, a young man Knight has helped through college, calls on Tony. Craig is to be employed in the legal department of publishing house. He has loved Tony for years—rather hopelessly. One afternoon Judith encounters Craig unexpectedly. She is annoyed at her embarrassment. Because time hangs heavily on her hands, Arthur suggests that Judith should have the house redecorated. Craig calls frequently and one evening when Tony refuses to accompany him to a dog show at Madison-Square Garden, Judith goes. Tony, left alone with her father, tells him it is Judith and not herself whom Craig comes to the house to see. Knight denies this angrily. Tony surprises Judith by asking her to have lunch with her in town next day.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXI Because Judith was eager to meet Tony's unknown friend and to look her best at the luncheon, she took particular care in dressing. She selected a black crepe cut on think of dressing for luncheon, but Judith was in an anticipatory mood. She was pleased at the prospect of unching with Tony and very anxious that the girl should feel proud of her. So she wandered about the room, singing softly, pulling out dresser drawers and closing them as she selected undergarments and hose. Someone gave a light tap on the door. Before Judith had time even to call out, the door opened and Tony's head emerged through a narrow slit. "Morning, Judith," she said cheerfully. "Aren't you surprised to see me?" "Rather," Judith answered good-naturedly. "What is it—excitement about meeting the young man?" "Oh, no!" Tony insisted, shaking her head in firm denial. "Much more important things on my mind this morning than men. Judith I've an appointment at the hair-dresser's at 11:30. I'm such a particular hairdresser, oo. I simply don't dare miss a date. You have to sign up for 'em days and lays ahead. Will you mind if I dash in into town for my appointment and then meet you at one o'clock for lunch?" "No," said Judith, who did mind but couldn't very easily object. "That's quite all right, Tony. Where's the place I'm to meet you?" "At the Rookery. It's a little place in Madison that I'm crazy about. Wait—I'll find the address."

The door closed. Five minutes later it opened and Tony's head appeared once more. "Here," she said, "I wrote it down. Of course you'll have Bert drive me. He knows where it is. Taken me here lots of times." Tony hurried a folded piece of paper across the room. It fell in Judith's lap. The older girl picked it up and read the address. "Oh, yes," she said, "I know where this is. All right, I'll meet you at one o'clock sharp." "Just go in and say you want Tony Knight's table," the girl in the doorway instructed. Mrs. Waynes, who runs the place, knows me." Judith nodded her head. "I'll be there at one," she repeated. "Thanks a lot. Bye-bye." Tony disappeared and the door closed. Judith found her purse and jammed the scrap of paper into it. It was cer-written and sank back against the comfortably upholstered cushions. Judith loved the car and always enjoyed the ride into the city. To sit back in the big car with a livered chauffeur in front and glide over the smooth pavements was a sensation which had not yet lost its novelty. Traffic delays which she had anticipated did not develop. It was 10 minutes of one when Bert brought the car up to the curb in front of "The Rookery." Judith stepped out and instructed the driver to return for her at two. "The Rookery" was really familiar territory. Judith had never been in the place but she had passed it often during her employment at a Hunter Brothers. It was not more than a block and a half's walk from the publishing house. She had never ventured inside, knowing well that its a la carte price list was not meant for her purse. Today she opened the door and stepped in.

"The Rookery" looked a good deal like a hundred other tea rooms. It appeared to be a place where food of good quality was served at high prices. The walls were creamy brown. Wood-en chairs and tables stood about and in places of sunlight there were burning candles. The outstanding characteristic of the place was its air of intimacy. There were such a number of tables for two set at angles which seemed to give them privacy. A smiling woman in a blue frock came forward. "Can I give you a seat?" she asked. "Yes," answered Judith. "I came to meet Miss Antonette Knight. I believe she reserved a table?" "Oh, yes," the hostess assured her. "Miss Knight's table is back here. Will you come this way?" She led Judith to the rear of the room where, standing well apart from the others, was a table laid for two. "But this can't be right," Judith protested. "There should be a third plate. Miss Knight is bringing a friend." The woman in blue showed concern. "How odd! Miss Knight particularly requested this table. She called me not more than an hour ago." "Well, perhaps—perhaps I'm mistaken. It may be her friend was unable to keep the engagement." Judith took the chair which had been drawn back for her. So she was to have luncheon with Tony alone after all! There were still several moments to wait even if Tony were prompt—of which Judith was highly doubtful. She glanced about the room prepared to enjoy herself. New eating places were interesting to Judith. Her attention was captured by a pretty waitress who looked so very much like a Pampa celebrity she might have been the star's twin sister. "It's the wavy line of her hair about her face," Judith told herself. The waitress' dark locks were parted at the center, drawn back, then allowed to fall straight at the sides so that her face seemed very slim and her dark eyes were given unusual emphasis. There were other pretty waitresses about. They wore pale blue frocks with fragile organdie aprons tied in floppy bows and tiny bits of organdie pinned on their heads for caps. "Well, hi-LO!" Mrs. Knight! The booming masculine voice startled her. "Why—Andy Craig! What in the world brings you here?" "Tony!" "TONY!" "Why, yes, Mrs. Knight. Any objections? You seem rather surprised." "But—you mean you're meeting Tony here for lunch today?" "Yes. If she's anywhere within an hour of being punctual—which of course she may not be." "But I'm meeting Tony here myself!" "Well, then it looks as though we're going to have a party, doesn't it? Mind if I take a seat?" Judith shook her head in perplexity. "No, of course not," she said. "Sit down—only we're going to need another place, aren't we?" Andy stretched out one long arm, drew another chair toward the table and sat down in it. That was a little better. Judith somehow felt most uncomfortable sitting opposite Andy Craig in the tete-a-tete atmosphere of "The Rookery." She glanced at her wrist watch. "Tony's late," she announced. "It's five minutes after one." Craig leaned back and smiled tolerantly. "Oh, when you know Tony Knight as long as I have you won't even start counting against her until at least 30 minutes have gone by. She's a brilliant young woman but she has never yet managed to get well enough together to learn how to tell time." Judith tried to appear affable. She was beginning to feel certain that Tony Knight's invitation to luncheon was not the simple, friendly gesture it had seemed. "How about the pup?" Craig asked. "Go nuts yet?" Judith shook her head. "No," she said. "Arthur didn't feel well yesterday. I don't think he took time to see about the dog." "Sorry to hear Mr. Knight wasn't well." "Oh, he's all right again today. It was just a disagreeable headache." A shadow fell suddenly across the table. Judith looked up and continued to stare with amazement. Coming directly toward them was Tony Knight. And behind her came—Arthur!

NIGHT CLUB GUESTS NOW FACING ARREST

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. (AP)—Patrons who take their own liquor into hotels, restaurants and night clubs are threatened with arrest by Major Maurice Campbell, prohibition administrator. Coupled with his announcement of a new policy of enforcement action against individuals, Major Campbell issued a warning to proprietors and managers that they must not serve accessories, glasses, ginger ale, mineral water, and ice to patrons of public dining rooms who bring liquor.

princess lines, because it made her look older and also because the dress happened to be particularly becoming. There was a touch of old lace at the throat. Judith was one of those fortunate souls possessing a figure which needed only to be clothed in well-fitting garments to give those garments distinction. The princess frock fitted perfectly and had the correct neckline to display Judith's lovely pearls—Arthur's Christmas gift. She was to wear a small black toque, suede slippers with huge steel buckles, and the fur wrap. Judith stood, her head on one side, thoughtfully checking each item of the costume. She decided it would do. She was humming a little snatch from a catchy waltz tune that had been on the air the evening before. It was 10:30 o'clock in the morning, early to

An icy gust of February wind eddied down the dark stairway, rustled the pages of the telephone book on the landing, and sent its chill breath down through Robert McBain's thin pajamas. McBain glared angrily into the telephone, shivered, sneezed. "Listen!" he interrupted impatiently, "there's really not much we can do about it until morning, is there? Suppose you see me then!" He rattled the receiver on the hook and plodded back upstairs to the bedroom. "Calling me at midnight!" he snapped. "That's nerve for you. And . . . and now . . ." Warning twitches assailed his nostrils and again . . . he sneezed! ". . . and now," he finished wearily, "I guess I'll nurse a cold for the rest of the winter." Beneath comfortable cover, his wife stirred sympathetically. "I've always said," she began drowsily "that we needed a . . ." "Yes, I know!" broke in her husband. "An extension telephone in here. And mark my word, tomorrow we'll have one, right beside this bed!" Telephones where you need them save time, patience, inconvenience—sometimes, strange as it may seem, prevent colds. Few know that the extra cost of one or two "extensions" is somewhat less than that of the single telephone they now have. By a wisely-placed "extension" or two, and perhaps a rearrangement of the equipment you already have, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of the telephones in your home.

Fourteenth Bomb of Year in Chicago Is Exploded at Factory

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—The 14th bomb of the year exploded today in the Elston avenue factory district, doing $20,000 damage to the Right Welding and Boiler Repairing company plant and nearby structures.

On January 28 last a bomb exploded at the front of the Central Paper Stock company, next door to the welding concern. Police believe today's bomb was planted in the front doorway of the welding company building by mistake, the paper stock company being the intended victim.

M. B. Davis and Ed Dunigan returned last night from Washington where they had been for two weeks in the interest of a tariff on crude oil. Wirt Franklin, spokesman for the independent oil men, was joined by Reese Allen and J. I. Staley of Wichita Falls before the local men left the capital.

WHEAT AGAIN FIRM
CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Wheat scored material gains today after an irregular start. Absence of selling pressure was an outstanding feature.

Opening at 5-8 off to 1-4c up, Chicago wheat future deliveries sagged a little more, and then rose all around to well above Tuesday's finish. Corn, oats and provisions were easy, with corn starting unchanged to 1-2c down, and afterward keeping near to the initial figures.

Lawyers Hurry to Free Gunmen

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Seven "big shot" gangsters, found behind the drawn shades of a room in which not long ago two others were murdered, were held to the grand jury today as gunmen.

Altogether, police took 425 prisoners yesterday, bringing their "crime drive" total for the five days to more than 2,500; but the seven found in the dingy second floor restaurant were regarded by police as the most important of all.

In presenting them at last night's "show-up," at which suspects are paraded across a small stage before the victims of recent crimes, Chief of Detectives Egan said:

"Their names would grace a penitentiary roster of a hangman's warrant. They are of the O'Donnell gang."

Two of them were O'Donnell brothers, Myles and Bernard. (There is a third and better known O'Donnell, called "Klondyke") There was "Three-Fingered Jack" White, once convicted of murder; George (Red) Barker, known as a labor terrorist and once charged with murder; Mike Quirk, Edward Strick, and John O'Connor.

With the seven was arrested Frank Lacey, concerning whom police have no previous information.

Five minutes after the "pinch," eight lawyers were demanding that the men be promptly booked so bail could be arranged and the men freed. They were successful only in the case of Myles O'Donnell, whom they represented as "a dying man."

Noah Beery Very Ill After Operation

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 13. (AP)—Noah Beery, motion picture bad man, today in real life was waging a desperate battle against the death he has so ably portrayed in numerous villainous roles on the screen.

At the Hollywood hospital where the film "heavy" yesterday underwent an operation for appendicitis, his condition was described as dangerous.

Operating physicians said a gangrenous condition of the appendix was found and that it was yet too early to tell whether the infection had spread.

Fire Drill Is Held at School

Two hundred and ninety-one children were conducted from the East Ward school building in 24 seconds, yesterday morning, in a semi-weekly fire drill. It was announced by Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal.

Teachers of the East Ward devote two periods each week to training the pupils to leave the building in orderly fashion in the event of emergency. Mrs. Daniels regards the record made yesterday as outstanding.

Wets Declared to Be Losing Strength

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Asserting that anti-prohibitionists are growing fewer and fewer in congress and the state legislatures, Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, today said this was evidence of "the diminishing power" of the wet forces.

"Today the liquor crowd finds itself unable to muster more than a corporal's guard in those halls of legislation where its word some years ago was law," he told the editors' advisory section of International council of religious education.

Cherrington pointed to "this waning of the power of an anti-social force" as "significant evidence of the trend of public sentiment" after ten years of prohibition.

"It is interesting to note," he said, "that each of the ten congresses during the last twenty years has had a larger majority in favor of prohibition and its enforcement than any previous congress, and that the legislatures of the states as they stand today, together with the membership of the present congress, present a larger aggregate majority of members of all these legislative bodies in favor of prohibition and its enforcement than at any previous time."

W. M. Milnor and M. B. Johnson, postal inspectors, are in Pampa today.

Talks To Parents

HOLDING THE FLOOR
BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE
 Billy had been taken shopping with his mother and two of her friends.

At the grand tea room lunch table, under the influence of all his favorite dishes and a double order of ice cream, Billy became expansive. He talked freely of the relative merits of a suit of armor and a cowboy outfit he had seen in the toy department. He offered his opinion of the French teacher's looks and his mother's tennis game.

He had the floor entirely to himself for about 10 minutes before his mother checked him with, "I always say, 'give them an inch and they take an ell.' Billy, you are talking too much. Nobody wants to hear what you have to say. Finish your ice cream and keep still."

To squelch a child publicly for what amounts to no more than lack of training is a mistake. The child's response is most likely to be a sense of resentment against the person who silenced him. For the child the emphasis of the situation does not lie in the correction he has received nor does it give rise to a wish to improve.

The time to teach a child manners is when you are alone with him. A word tactfully spoken at such a time will teach him to do the approved thing whereas a public reproof, unless it is excessively humiliating, is merely annoying.

In any case, we need to be patient with the child who is just beginning to be admitted to the society of grown-ups.

BY RICHARD MASSOCK

NEW YORK—Back in 1912 before the word "racketeer" had been coined by the underworld, the Italian populace of New York lived in mortal dread of the Black Hand.

Vendettas of their native mountains had been carried over to the new world and commercialized into a violent system of blackmail, extortion, kidnaping, and murder.

By 1915 there was an epidemic of bomb explosions. Finally a detective happened to see a furtive figure late one night plant a bomb in the doorway of a garlic and spaghetti grocery. A companion seized the bomb and tore out the fuse while he grabbed the fleeing bomber.

The latter turned out to be a Sicilian grocer of considerable respectability, named Petrone. Through him the police were able to round up the ring of terrorists.

The "dick" who seized Petrone was Michael Fiaschetti, head of the bomb squad and later of the Italian squad, succeeding the legendary Lieut. Joseph Petrosino, who had been assassinated by the Mafia in Sicily in 1909.

RACKETEERS' FORERUNNERS

The Black Hand is seldom seen nowadays, but the sawed-off shot gun originated in the vendettas, remains the weapon of the gangster.

"The Italian racketeers, too, are successors on a wider scale of the old Camorra and Mafia gangs, of which the former's Brooklyn branch used to burn the bodies of victims in bakery ovens instead of leaving them out in the street to be given gaudy funerals."

These and other practices are re-described in the memoirs of Fiaschetti, as told to Prosper Buranelli, a former newspaper man, in the book "You Gotta Be Tough."

Fiaschetti's narratives throw an un-official light on some of the town's sensational crimes. He was one of those assigned to the Dot King case, in which he says somebody defeated justice by throwing "a big monkey wrench" after the murder of the Broadway butterfly.

GUARDED TIPSTERS

Do you wonder how the police learn about murder contracts and are able to say, without legal evidence, what gang took a late lord of the underworld for a last ride?

They nearly always learn from the stool-pigeons, says Fiaschetti, in exchange for kindnesses or more often freedom.

The same system he found employed in Italy to which he went to locate a fugitive and to search for the slayers of his former chief, Petrosino.

Petrosino had gone to Sicily to look up the criminal records of some 2,000 Italians in the American branches of Camorra and the Mafia, with a view of having them deported.

A Neapolitan prince saw him shot down in front of his palace and recognized the gunman, one Schiffranno, who hawked around the city the blood of slaughtered animals. The prince had been afraid to talk, but under the promise of secrecy he told what he knew to Fiaschetti.

Detective Mike then disguised himself behind a beard and obtained access to the meeting of the Mafia, where he learned that Schiffranno had fled to America. And he adds that the blood seller is still at large in this enormous country.

Children Hurt as Blast Damages School Building

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. (AP)—Ten school children were rushed to hospitals suffering from cuts and bruises and some 40 or 50 others suffered slight injuries today as the result of an explosion which wrecked a nearby one-story brick building and shattered windows in public school 83, at Bergen street and Schenectady avenue, Brooklyn.

At one of the hospitals it was said the condition of two of the children was critical.

The blast, heard over a wide area, caused rumors that a bomb had exploded at the school, and a crowd, estimated at 5,000, including many parents, swarmed to the school.

Some excited parents managed to slip past police reserves and into the building frantically shouting the names of their children, but by that time all of the children had been led from the rooms.

FAVOR PRESBYTERIAN UNION

FORT WORTH, Feb. 13. (AP)—Texas Presbyterian laymen went on record here last night as favoring immediate union of all branches of the Presbyterian church, a merger that would give the denomination a combined membership of more than 3,000,000 communicants. Action was taken at the close of the statewide Presbyterian men's conference.

ABILENE, Feb. 13. (AP)—W. S. Ham was convicted by a grand jury today on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of N. V. Nixon, El Paso chauffeur, in 1930, and his punishment was fixed at 25 years in the penitentiary.

Drowned Youth Found
GALVESTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—The body of a young man attached to a life preserver bearing the name of Edward F. Coney was found on the Gulf beach 9 miles west of here today by Arthur Boehl, farmer.

The body was believed to be that of one of the sailors who perished on the ill-fated tug Edward F. Coney when she went down in the Gulf of Mexico in a storm off Port Arthur several days ago.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Railroads of the Southwest have never charged higher freight rates on large tonnage commodities, witnesses testified today at the rate hearing here before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Texas railroad commission.

Carlots and trainloads of rock, asphalt, gravel, agricultural products, livestock, wool and mohair have always been given common point rates and the lowest available under the tariffs fixed by the state and national carrier commissions.

IN MEMORIAM

From the Daily Call, Beloit, Kans. WALTER JAMES

Walter James, one of the finest young men the community has ever known, is dead, a victim of suffocation from carbon monoxide.

He was overcome with the deadly gas yesterday afternoon, in the garage at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward James, and died at the hospital, after efforts at resuscitation had failed.

It is believed that he entered the garage about three o'clock, to work on the car. The engine was running and the garage was filled with fumes of the gas when Mrs. Edward James, returning a little before five o'clock from a meeting in the Presbyterian church, found her son unconscious. Aid was called and Walter James was reached by men who fought their way through the dense fog of gas to the large garage door, which evidently had been attempting to open when he was overcome and fell to the floor. The small service door, at the east side of the garage, toward the house, was open.

No member of the James family was at home during the time that Walter James was in the garage. He had been writing business letters when the family left, on various errands, about three o'clock. His wife had gone to call on a sick relative, his father had business down town, his mother was attending a session of the Westminster Aid. Walter had mentioned some work that was needed on the family car, but had not intimated that he might undertake it yesterday afternoon. Mrs. James was led to the garage by the sound of the motor.

The loss of the young man is intensified to his family because they had begun to relax the anxiety which they had felt for him during a period of illness. He had recovered, and had planned to resume his work at Pampa, Texas, where he was manager of a J. C. Penney store, February 15. He and his wife had accepted a dinner invitation for yesterday evening. His letter, written in the afternoon to his business assistant, was constructive and optimistic in tone.

Walter James was one of the most exemplary young men reared in Beloit. Exemplary, upright—with no trace of self-righteousness nor prigishness. He was a clean, and active lad. He was an honorable man, an industrious man—it was his very application to business that brought on the period of ill health that preceded his death. He responded rapidly, however, to the influence of his old home, to the climate and surroundings of his native state, and was considered practically in normal health before the occurrence of yesterday's sad accident.

As Walter James grew up, he worked in the implement business with his father, absorbing its every detail. The farmers of the community trusted his judgment. His word was the equivalent of a bond certificate. He was polite and affable, but those tributes did not spring from a cheap desire to please but were the honest expression of his nature. To know Walter James was to admire him more than that to regard him with affection, and his loss is a loss to the entire community.

Walter Edward James, the son of Edward and Asenath Weaver James, was born in Beloit, March 1, 1892. He was reared and educated in Beloit, entering business with his father, and later leaving to become associated with the J. C. Penney system.

He was married to Hazel Carter, July 25, 1916, at Kansas City, Mo. One child was born, Justine.

He leaves his widow and daughter; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward James, Beloit; a sister, Mrs. Richard Jackson, Lawrence; and two brothers, Leonard, El Paso, Texas, and Paul, Monroe, Louisiana.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church of the Masonic and M. W. A. Orders.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, with the Rev. Wm. S. Irwin officiating. Burial will be in Elmwood cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Edward James residence from two to five, Saturday afternoon.

BODY OF ELECTRICIAN BELIEVED IN MUENCHEN

NTW YORK, Feb. 13. (AP)—With the still smoldering below decks, the North German Lloyd liner Muenchen today rested on the river bed at her Hudson river pier a wrecked hulk from fire and explosions that swept her yesterday.

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON — Forty-six years ago, a young Chinese student just graduated from Yale and vastly more interested in plants and flowers than diplomacy, arrived in Washington and reported to his country's legation.

The minister put him to work translating state papers. Soon his dreams of being a scientist were lost and a career in statecraft arose in their place.

Yung Kwai is now counselor of the Chinese legation in the queer-shaped brick building on Nineteenth street. And he also has the distinction of being the oldest diplomat in Washington in point of service.

There have been many changes in Chinese politics since Yung Kwai first came to Washington. The Manchu dynasty was in power when he became a diplomat. Twelve Chinese ministers have come and gone, and under eight of these Yung Kwai has served.

He has known them all. China's first minister to the United States was at one time Yung Kwai's teacher.

Tsai was China's representative in this country when Yung Kwai came down from Yale. And in the years he has been attached to the legation he has seen Tsai go out and Wu Ting Fang, Liang Chang, Shah, Koo, Sze and Chao-Chu Wu—representative of almost as many different political faiths—preside over the little legation on Nineteenth street.

"I have always managed to keep friends on all sides," he says in explanation of his long tenure. "My politics have had little effect on my position in my country's diplomatic service."

More of a westerner than an easterner is Yung Kwai—at least from the outside. His English is faultless. His hair is gray and he wears a closely-cropped mustache. He is intensely interested in things American and delights in talking about them. He has a remarkable sense of humor, and supplies innumerable anecdotes to conversation.

Knew Grant

Yung Kwai still remembers shaking hands with Grant, the first American president he ever met. As an attaché of the Chinese legation, he sat in a prominent place in the United States senate chamber when Grover Cleveland was inaugurated.

He has given no thought to retirement, although he says it might be a good idea since men like Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, are doing so.

Senator Borah is a fan for the troubles of two radio comedians who talk with a negro dialect. He even used one of their adventures to make a point.

The Philippine question, so said, was a good deal like the situation of the pair when they started to organize a bank.

"One said," Mr. Borah related, "Everything is now all right; everything is set for the opening of the bank. All we need is some money."

"So it is with Philippine independence. All that is needed is enough votes."

We Need More Lads Like This

A Scout is Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, Friendly, Courteous, Kind, Cheerful, Obedient, Thrifty, Brave, Clean, Reverent.

Help Save Our Boys

Below is shown illustrations of a number of Merit Badges of the Boy Scouts of America together with the name of a standard brand of merchandise, the name of an individual or a suggestion. It will be observed that the title of the merit badge is not given. Make up a list showing the name of the firm or store, name of street address and telephone number where a suggestive sentence appears. Where the name of an individual is shown state what line of business he is in, and give street address and telephone number; or perhaps the individual is seeking election to a public office. Give name of office he is seeking and what party ticket he is running on. In some instances store name only will appear; give name of manager or owner, street address and telephone number, also line of merchandise carried. Also give the title of the merit badge shown in the same space in all instances. The person who sends in the nearest correct list to the office of the Pampa Daily News we will present $10 in cash; to the second, third and fourth persons will be given $5 each.
