EARTH OVER SOUR LAKE OIL FIELD MYSTERIOUSLY SINKING

PRODUCTION IS CUT BY QUEER PHENOMENON

Good Well Suddenly Is Making Flow of Salt Water

NO EXPLANATION IS YET FOUND

Large Cracks Forming Near Crater at Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Oct. 9. (AP)—The sinking of earth over an area 150 feet by 150 feet in the Sour Lake oil field, two miles from Sour Lake, Texas, caused oil men to become apprehensive of consequences in that field today.

The depression was first noticed yesterday when it covered only a small area. It continued to enlarge during the night, however, and today had covered the area of the town lot. The depth of the depression had not been measured, due to the hole filling up with water. Trees of medium size visible yesterday, however, had disappeared today. Some observers placed the depth from 50 to 100 feet.

Large cracks were reported forming on the outer edge of the affected area. The area is an old oil field which had produced oil for above 25 years. The nearest well was 75 feet away.

Wells in a nearby field have been variously affected. No. 1 H. M. Perry, completed Saturday with a daily flow of 150 barrels of oil, started flowing salt water soon after the depression was discovered. Other wells were reported to have increased their flow. Geologists could give no reason for the phenomena, since no gas wells were located in the field. Blasting in a nearby vicinity was advanced as a possible solution.

Music Teachers Meeting Announced

CANYON, Oct. 9. (Special)—Canyon will be the meeting place for the South Plains Music Teachers' association on November 9, according to announcement made today by Wallace R. Clark, head of the music department of the West Texas State Teachers college. The visitors will spend the day in business session, and at night will be guests of the college at the concert to be given by the Russian Cossack chorus, which comes as one of the lycum numbers for the year.

KEG LIQUOR FOUND

DALLAS, Oct. 9. (AP)—Bodies of Arnold Taylor, 47, of Plano and J. B. Risor, 60, of Allen, killed in a grade crossing accident at Tarrant yesterday were on their way to Plano for burial today while officers were sought to determine the source of a 10-gallon keg of liquor found in the debris of the wreck. The men were riding in a truck which contained some hay when hit by a Rock Island passenger train. Taylor is survived by his widow and three daughters, one of whom, Miss Leola Taylor, is a student of a college in Denton.

Shetland to Be Given Away This Evening

The two Shetland ponies will be given away tonight by Gordon Stores company in front of the store. Through an error in The News yesterday, the date was given as Thursday night when it should have been "Wednesday Night." This is the second year that Mr. Gordon has given a pony away. Last year one was given and it was increased to two this year.

CUBS LOSE, 9-3

Carnival of Hits Is Feature in Second Game

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 9. (AP)—With the big bats of Al Simmons and Jimmy Foxx beating a tattoo against the fences, the Athletics crushed the Cubs today, 9 to 3, to score their second straight victory for the tenth in a row for the American league in world's series competition.

Final Score:
Athletics 9; 12; 0
Cubs 3; 11; 1

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 9. (AP)—Connie Mack had not surprised for the crowd gathered on a cold gray afternoon for the second world series game, sending Big George Earnshaw, one of his regular pitchers to the mound.

The start was made a contest of speed when Joe McCarthy countered with three hits. Malone, strike-out king of the National league.

So that the discomfort of the weather would last no longer than necessary, the umpires were on hand today to start the game on time after the crowd had stood for the National anthem.

CUBS—McMillan walked, English fanned, swinging at a low ball. Hornsby fanned for the second time, swinging. Wilson walked on a ball inside. Cuyler walked, filling the bases. Stephenson went out on a fly to Simmons, who ran in to make the catch. No runs, no hits, no errors, three left.

Fourth Inning
ATHLETICS—Dykes singled to right, the ball barely eluding Hornsby. Boley bunted to Malone and was thrown out to Grimm, for a sacrifice as Dykes made second. Earnshaw hit to English and was safe when the latter fumbled the ball. It was an error for English. Bishop walked, filling the bases. Dykes scored when Haas hit to English and Bishop was out at second, English unassisted. Earnshaw went to third and Haas to first. Cochran walked, again filling the bases. Earnshaw and Haas scored on Simmons' single to center. Cochran went to third and Simmons to first. Malone was taken from the box.

Seventy-Eight of 181 City Arrests for Intoxication

Of 181 persons arrested by the city police during the last month, 78 were charged with intoxication. They paid fines aggregating $1,069.50, but some of them did not have the money to pay out their fines so they worked 40 days on the city streets. Prisoners worked a total of 55 days paying out fines.

Other arrests were made as follows: 65 who violated traffic laws paid fines amounting to $138.50; five who peddled without licenses paid fines in the amount of $25; eight who fought and disturbed the peace contributed $119.50 to the city. Cost to 25 for being arrested on charges of vagrancy was $295. Total amount of fines was $1,482.50.

Three Sentences Are Assessed in District Court

Two two-year sentences and one five-year suspended sentence, was the record made yesterday by District Attorney Clifford S. Braly and Judge C. G. Englewood in the 31st district court here.

The two-year sentences were for John Edward Jones, who pleaded guilty to theft charges, and for H. A. Skelly, who was convicted on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale. Skelly has been in jail here since the last term of court. The suspended sentence was allowed Cluster Baker who waited on the outside of DeLea Vicar's house while Jones ransacked it. Several forgery cases were to be tried today.

Injured Police Officer Returns

Claude Roper, city policeman, who accidentally shot himself three weeks ago at Erick, Okla., where he had gone to bring his wife back to Pampa, returned to the city today. He was in a hospital 16 days and was released a week ago.

Roper's gun discharged when he accidentally dropped it on the running board of his car as he started to adjust the holster around his waist. The bullet entered his right cheek and came out above his right ear. Whether or not his hearing will be permanently damaged remains to be seen. Roper's cheek was badly burned and a dozen small bits lodged in the region about his ear. For a time he was in a very critical condition.

Roper will be back on the job the latter part of this week.

CASE MAY BE CONTINUED IF HEALTH FAILS

Bronchial Attack Is Serious, Court Learns

HAD TO LEAVE ROOM YESTERDAY

Physician Is Named to Examine Former Secretary

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Frank Hogan, chief counsel for Albert E. Fall, on trial on a charge of accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny, announced before court opened today his client would be unable to appear at today's session.

Fall was excused from the court room yesterday after his condition became worse. He suffered a bronchial attack shortly after coming to Washington.

Hogan announced he was no better today and said he planned to ask for a recess as soon as court opened. It appeared likely if Fall did not improve within the next few days the jury would be excused and the trial stopped.

Fall's chief counsel said the former secretary's temperature today was 99.4 but his pulse had gone up and he was still coughing blood.

When court opened, Hogan did make the request, and Justice William Hitz granted a recess until tomorrow. Dr. Sterling Ruffin, one of the physicians who attended the former President Wilson, was named by Justice Hitz to examine the former secretary of the interior.

Post Office to Be Enlarged at Rear of Building

A new brick extension, 28 feet wide and 25 feet long, will be added to the postoffice as soon as final building plans are completed and the contract is let, according to Postmaster W. M. Crawford.

The addition will be joined to the present building at the rear. It will be used as a general working and dispatch room. City free delivery carriers will also have headquarters in the new extension. The already crowded condition of the postoffice was increased when free delivery service was instituted. More space was necessary for proper handling of the mail. The extension will relieve congested conditions in the postoffice.

Despite the free mail delivery service, there are still many on the waiting list for postoffice boxes. Postmaster Crawford says. Although many released their boxes there were not enough to satisfy the demand. However, no more boxes will be installed. At present, Pampa just lacks 200 of having as many as Amarillo.

Mrs. George Russell of Borger, who had spent several days here with her mother, Mrs. Estelle Tarrant, left yesterday morning to spend six weeks visiting relatives in Fort Worth, Dallas, and Shreveport, La.

Express Delivery Service Will Be Begun Here November 1, Klein Says

The positive statement that express delivery here will start November 1 was made by L. W. Klein, Santa Fe agent, this morning. Inauguration of the service, originally planned for October 1, was delayed owing to non-arrival of the necessary trucks. This difficulty is being removed. The scope of delivery is expected to include the business section and the paved streets.

Steps to secure this service were started more than a year ago, and surveys participated in by the Board of City Development were made,

COOK, BUCKLER, AND WILKS OFFER PARK SITE—CITY NOW CONSIDERING ITS ACCEPTANCE

What is now an unattractive waste of weeds and soggy bottom land, the "draw" that separates the Cook addition from main Pampa, will be developed into a slightly park if the city accepts the offer of it from Cook, Buckler, and Wilks which was made some time ago.

The donors appeared before the city commissioners Monday night to discuss with them the various conditions which must be met in the event the city accepts the park. Negotiations are now under way and the two parties expect to reach an agreement this week. Complete plans for the development of the park will then be announced, provided the city decides to accept it.

City commissioners assumed the attitude that the 11 acres in the offer now constitute a tract of land that is an eye-sore to the city and should be improved. Making a park out of the draw would serve not only as recreation place, but would beautify the city. The commission contemplates the building of parks in other parts of the city as well.

Injured Man Is Somewhat Better

FORT WORTH, Oct. 9. (AP)—Assistant District Attorney Elbert Hooper today sought a statement from Roy A. Scott, shot down here Monday in an altercation with two of his cousins over his love affair with their sister. Hughie and Fred Hodges, the brothers, were at liberty on bonds on charges of assault to murder. Reports from the hospital said Scott, first thought to have been fatally wounded, was improving.

POTTER COUNTY AND GRAY TO BE INCLUDED

Federal Officers Have Complaints From Both

CLAIM BORGER IS "PICKED ON"

Tolerant Conditions Are Mentioned by Marshall

BORGER, Oct. 9. (AP)—Clint Millhollon, one of the prisoners held under general order six issued by officials of the Texas National Guard, is dangerously ill at Stinnett, it was learned here. He will be brought to the county hospital here.

CANADIAN, Oct. 9. (AP)—Attorneys obtained a habeas corpus hearing here today. Joe O'Neil, Matthew and Sam Jones, held in Hutchinson county on orders from officials of the Texas National Guard enforcing martial law there, and it will be heard in Stinnett tomorrow by Judge E. J. Pickens along with those granted by the jurist yesterday.

BORGER, Oct. 9. (AP)—While military authorities continued their campaign to smash the alleged crime ring here, District Attorney Clem Calhoun and the legal staff of the army of occupation administering martial law prepared today for a court battle over their right to hold prisoners without bond.

To date fourteen prisoners, arrested under General Order No. 6, have been held without bond. The general order says prisoners so held are not to be released until the criminal ring is exterminated.

Seven of the prisoners held indefinitely have sought, and obtained, a hearing on their applications for writs of habeas corpus. The hearings are to be held in district court at Stinnett tomorrow. One of the applicants already is at liberty, having been granted $1,000 bond last night when it was determined he had no actual connection with the offense for which she was held.

Calhoun refused to comment formally on the coming legal battle, but indicated he had no doubt a military commander, under martial law could hold a prisoner as long as he felt necessary, if the prisoner obstructed his mission. All of the applicants for habeas corpus were arrested for liquor law violations.

In the meantime, federal investigators working in the Panhandle have about concluded Borger is merely one of several communities where vendors of illicit liquor have meddled in elections and have profited under tolerant enforcement conditions. Federal District Attorney Alex Mood said he had received numerous complaints from Gray and Potter counties and acting United States Marshall Doug Campbell said Borger had been "picked on."

Although the military court of inquiry has been pushing its investigation of the assassination Sept. 13 of District Attorney John A. Holmes, the crime that precipitated martial law here has been relegated to the background in public interest recently by other affairs. Deliberations of the committee are secret, and it is probable its findings will not be announced until they are used in evidence.

BREWERS CLOSE MEET

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)—The 25 brewers organized as the Associated Producers of Cereal Beverages closed the first annual meeting today by going on record "to leave the prohibition problem to the public and the alley brewer to the prohibition department, feeling that the public sooner or later will demand a sensible solution."

Oscar Gould is recovering rapidly, after a major operation performed ten days ago at Pampa hospital.

ONE OF THE MOST PERPLEXING ISSUES OF THIS TIME IS THAT OF THE PROPOSAL TO FORM A PANHANDLE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, WHICH WOULD AUTOMATICALLY WITHDRAW THIS AREA FROM THE WEST TEXAS CHAMBER.

It is admitted, with little argument, that many of the big issues which brought about organization of W. T. C. C. have disappeared. West Texas now has Tech, she has better representation and recognition at Austin, and rapid development is attracting enough attention down state to prevent most of the oldtime steamrolling tactics when bills affecting this section are brought up.

The problems which the West Texas Chamber have helped to solve have been extensive, rather than intensive—general rather than local. To the extent that present demands are more localized, to that extent is the demand for a chamber of more local methods growing. It appears to The News that W. T. C. C. must either generalize its work still more and cut expenses drastically, or adopt a much more detailed program and answer the demands of individual communities. To broaden the scope would be to make way for smaller independent grouping, while to form smaller territorial units would be to multiply activities, responsibilities, and expenses.

Pampa pays about $1,600 annually into the West Texas Chamber. The intangible results, excepting whatever aid the Chamber gave in the "navigable stream" fight, have for outnumbered the tangible. There is a natural inquiry when most contacts with representatives of W. T. C. C. mean requests for money, rather than offers of assistance.

One of the greatest failings of present-day territorial organizations is that too many of their efforts are dissipated in raising funds to make the necessary machinery possible. In other words, it takes too much time to plan and finance the work that no time is left in which to work the plans. One of the criticisms most of ten heard concerning such organizations is that contact men ask for funds rather than offer their services, and that they think up no ideas—for community betterment.

Can a Panhandle organization be large enough to avoid this failing and yet small enough to provide the localized contacts desired? Can it assemble issues enough to keep it busy without developing differences to make its financing possible? It would require an expert staff to get results. Most Chamber of Commerce work of territorial character must be done, or at least organized, by paid workers. Individuals cannot, or will not, spare the necessary time.

It is not improbable that the time will come when the Panhandle will bear the same relation toward West Texas in general that West Texas had a few years ago toward the whole state. In the absence of more substantiating evidence than is now in hand, we would not attempt to say that this time has arrived.

Those advocating a Panhandle Chamber of Commerce base their claims on the assumption that their idea would be better adapted to Plains needs than are the activities of W. T. C. C. They are entitled to be heard, just as is the West Texas body in its coming attempt to reorganize along more desirable lines. The bigger organization is in a critical period, while the proposed smaller body is in embryonic form.

TWINKLES

Unwelcome indeed are the bearers of bad news. The expressions of disgust or pleasure which greet Daily News employees who answer the query, "What's the score now?" are rather revealing of human nature.

We are asked why people can get enthusiastic enough about anything to take up their beds and wait in a ticket line all night at a ball park. We think it is fortunate that the extremes to which people go are usually harmless, however overdone.

Here's applause for Bill Kaufman, architect on the Gray county courthouse. The use of terra cotta is beautifully proportioned, and for its size the building is as pretty as one could desire.

This community is not golf-conscious despite the dandy tournament which just closed. There are still snickers at the sight of our men in knickers.

Appearances are that we may connect with the Carson county paving, likely by spring, or as soon as it is warm enough to pour concrete after the widened road bed settles. There will be no objections here, by the way, and the Carson county folk won't kick a bit either.

A mud hole part of the time this winter is going to advertise the west Gray county line. And after the paving is connected we favor erecting a large sign telling of what we have. But not until travelers can ride into town on concrete.

A WASHINGTON BYSTANDER

BY HERB PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—It was during the days of the American revolution that doughty Col. Peter Muhlenberg stepped out of his role as parson and went forth to battle for his country.

But the kind still exists—in modern times in the person of the Rev. William Graham Everson, named by President Hoover to be chief of the militia bureau of the war department.

For 20 years General Everson has been preaching the word of God to Baptist congregations in various sections of the country. And on the side he has been soldiering for Uncle Sam.

He has been as active a soldier as a preacher. Two wars—Spanish-American and the world war—found him at the front doing service in as widely separated sectors as Cuba, France, Italy, Austria, Dalmatia, Serbia, and Montenegro.

He started as a private, but now that he is to take charge of one of the country's main arms of national defense he bears the rank of major general.

Romantic Life Full of romance has been the life of this soldier-minister who has just rounded out his fiftieth year.

Tall, of athletic build and fair-haired, he immediately impresses one with this fact.

For three years he was a piano finisher; for six years he served as physical director to college students; for 31 years he has been soldiering, and for 20 years he has been preaching.

General Everson was a soldier when he turned to the ministry. Back in 1898 he cast his lot with the Indiana state guard and served throughout the Spanish-American war.

It was not until 1901 that he was ordained a Baptist minister. He had quit the army after being mustered out at the conclusion of the Spanish-American war, but in less than two years he had re-enlisted. Since then he has had a continuous service record.

He has served churches in four states—Indiana, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. He holds the degrees of bachelor of arts and bachelor of divinity. And he is a graduate of the command and general staff school, national guard officers' course, and of the G-2 course at the army war college.

In Italy During War General Everson can rightfully lay claim to the title of "fighting parson" if he so chooses.

He was in command of the American sector at "Vittorio Veneto" in Italy from October 24 to November 4, 1918, and commanded the American contingent at Fiume from November 19, 1918, to February 10, 1919. He was in charge of the American forces on the Piave river for more than a month in 1919.

He has been decorated with the Italian campaign and trench service medal, wears the Italian war cross, the gold star and cross of Fiume, and was officially cited by General Pershing, Maj.-Gen. Gro De Angeles of the 31st Italian division and Brig. Gen. H. Gordon of the British contingent at Fiume.

Cult Mystery Baffles Police

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9. (AP)—Los Angeles authorities today attempted to ascertain whether four missing women, all purported members of the religious cult known as "the divine order of the royal arm of the great seal," are dead, and, if so, what caused their deaths and what disposal was made of their bodies.

The body of 16-year-old Willa Rhoads, described as a priestess of the sect, was found Sunday in a casket under a house occupied by her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rhoads, cult members. Investigation of her death and burial has indicated she died of natural causes, but a chemical analysis of the body is being made.

Members of a colony maintained by the order in the Santa Susana hills, north of here, were questioned regarding the reported deaths of Rhoads, Turner, Harlene Sartoris, Katherine Bolz, and Addie McGuffin. Investigators say they have evidence to indicate the women are dead, and are attempting to learn in what manner they died and where they were buried.

Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Sartoris were said by investigators probably to have been buried in Ventura, Calif. Mrs. McGuffin, a 66-year-old widow, was reported to have left the colony three weeks ago. Police said they could find no trace of her. Mrs. Bolz apparently has been unheard from since 1927.

Mrs. May Otis Blackburn, head of the cult, her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Angeline Weiland-Rizzo and Mr. and Mrs. Rhoads were held in the Los Angeles county jail pending completion of the investigation of the reported deaths, the burial of Willa Rhoads, and charges of embezzlement made by Clifford Dabney, Long Beach, Calif., oil man, and other cult members, against Mrs. Blackburn and Mrs. Weiland-Rizzo.

The embezzlement charges against Mrs. Blackburn and her daughter, the latter identified as a cult priestess, relate they obtained $50,000 from Dabney and others through representations that a book they were to write by divine order would reveal, by use of "lost measurements," the whereabouts of all mineral wealth remaining in the earth.

Mrs. Rhoads told police her foster daughter Willa, would be resurrected when the book, "The Sixth Seal," was completed, and she objected hysterically to removal of the girl's body from beneath the Rhoads' home in Venice, Calif. She said the young woman's body was not buried until more than two years after her death on New Year's eve, 1928, but was preserved with ice, and that when finally buried, it was embalmed with spices as in ancient times, in belief such treatment would least interfere with her expected resurrection.

Miss MacDonald Meets Social Elite of Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (P)—Ishbel MacDonald can now turn back to London with the assurance she has met almost everybody in Washington who is prominent. The young daughter of the British prime minister met them at the brilliant dinner and reception in her father's honor last night at the British embassy.

The reception, where Miss Ishbel, in simple gown of pearl white crepe, received 600 guests in the second of three very large parlors, must go down in the annals of Washington as a social occasion of unusual distinction and interest.

Scotch Highlanders in kilts played bagpipes in a spirited greeting to the arriving guests. A Scotch guard also in kilts, with the elaborate, heavy headgear of the dress uniform, stood at the center of the massive, carved stairway of the old structure, which may soon be converted into a movie set for fiction functions.

Arriving after the dinner, Vice President Curtis of the United States shook hands with Vice President Don Ricardo J. Alfaro of Panama. Few social occasions, even in Washington, boast two vice presidents.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, wife of the speaker of the house, the one woman of high officialdom in Washington that Miss MacDonald had not met, returned from her summer vacation in time for the reception, though not in time to accept the invitation to the dinner just preceding it.

Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann came with her brother, Vice President Curtis. Like Mrs. Longworth, she was a center of attention and interest among the guests. Their names have been linked frequently in Washington's long discussion of rights of precedence.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (P)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald dedicated the last full day of his momentous visit to Washington today to the rounding out of his crowded official and social program.

A conference with President Hoover to put the finishing touches on a lengthy joint statement, tributes to the memory of two American soldiers, Washington and the unknown, and receipt for an honorary degree from George Washington university accounted for the daylight hours.

A dinner tonight at the home of Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, will conclude his final day in Washington.

In Mexico's Presidential Race

This shows a demonstration given by supporters of Jose Vasconcelos, right, anti-administration candidate for the presidency of Mexico, as Vasconcelos arrived at Juarez recently. A seventh attempt to take Vasconcelos' life was made while he was en route to Juarez, enemies burning a bridge over which his train passed. The top picture shows that Mexicans take their politics quite enthusiastically.

Lindbergh Making Final Exploration

BELIZE, British Honduras, Oct. 9. (P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today brought to a close his explorations of the Yucatan peninsula for ruins left by the ancient Maya Indians when time and early enemies wiped them from the Mexican terrain.

In three days flying over Yucatan, Mampêche, Quintana Roo, and parts of British Honduras and Guatemala, Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh and two scientists of the Carnegie institute discovered one city hitherto unknown to science and found strong indications of existence of another.

Leaving here today, en route to Miami, Fla., the aviator planned a final reconnaissance along the east coast of Yucatan and over Cozumel island, where it is thought still other ruins as yet unlocated may exist. He expected to put in somewhere along his route tonight, arriving at Miami late Thursday. He landed at Belize at 6:25 p. m., yesterday.

Oil Ruling Is Made by Court

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (P)—Both the owner of state land and the lessee is liable to the State School Fund for one-half the bonus paid for oil and gas rights and 50 cents an acre rental after deducting the usual ten cents per acre paid the state as stipulated in an oil and gas lease, the Third Court of Civil Appeals held today in affirming the decision of the Tavis District court in the case of the State of Texas vs. the Empire Gas and Fuel company.

The state had obtained judgment in the court below against J. H. Tippet, lessor, and the gas and fuel company, lessee, for one-half of the $16,800 cash bonus and one-half the $1 acre rental remaining after deducting the ten cents per acre paid the state, as stipulated in an oil and gas lease executed by Tippet to the company under the delinquency act on 480 acres of school land.

It was contended by appellants the lower court erred because the land involved was never properly classified as mineral.

New Minister Called to Church of Christ Here

The Rev. J. L. Wiseman, formerly of Paducah, has accepted the position of minister to the local Church of Christ, and is to move to Pampa immediately. He was called to the position following the recent resignation of the Rev. C. C. Merritt, who was pastor of the church for sixteen months. The Rev. and Mrs. Merritt left this morning for points in Missouri, where they will visit relatives. Their plans for the future were indefinite when they left here.

Own Effort Vital in Success, Asserts Prime Minister

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (P)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald said today in accepting the honorary degree of doctor of laws from George Washington university that one could never acquire anything in this world without purchasing it by "one's own effort, own will, and own sacrifice."

The degree was conferred and the premier's words uttered in continental memorial hall where seven years ago the five great naval powers of the world signed the first agreement for limitation of naval armaments.

The furtherance of that agreement as well as other steps for world peace is the purpose of the visit of the premier to this nation.

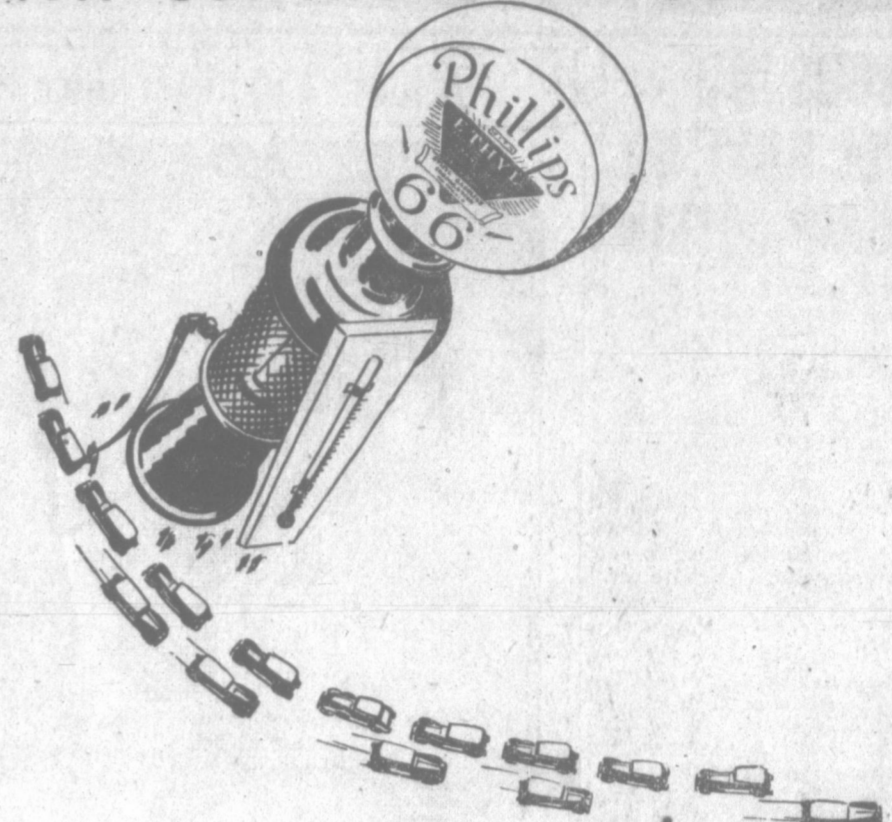

Today a distinguished gathering assembled in the hall for the ceremony of conferring the degree. It included members of the diplomatic corps, justices of the supreme court, members of the cabinet and of congress.

Upon receiving the degree from Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of the university, the prime minister said he assumed the distinguished robes with which he had been invested the thanks of the university to all of those who try to promote the peace of the world.

FAMOUS 'BO' WILL HAVE NO GRID CUSSING

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The redoubtable Be McMillin, who brings his Kansas Aggies down from Manhattan Saturday to face the Texas Aggies at Fair Park stadium, Dallas, has not entirely forgotten the teachings of Uncle Charlie Moran at Centre college. While McMillin does not lead his boys in a prayer service before the game, he insists that there be no profanity on the playing field, and his wishes are respected. His most searing epithet, they say, is "goodness gracious."

The Kansas eleven is stronger than in several years and prospects are that Saturday's fray will be tightly contested. McMillin had 17 lettermen to start with and a wealth of reserve material. One of the brightest prospects from the freshman class is said to be Ray McMillin, cousin and ward of Bo, who is a quarterback candidate. There was a chance he would break into the line-up at Dallas.

Two of Baylor's backfield veterans are running a close race for individual scoring honors as the grid season enters its fourth week. Ernest McCreath has rung up 36 points; Jake Wilson 31. Each has scored five touchdowns, but McCreath has kicked on six extra marks with his toe. Green, Texas Christian, has scored 22 points in two games. Schoonover, Arkansas; Leland, T. C. U., and Furl, Baylor, each has 18.

Only one game is booked in the T. I. A. A. race this week, the Abilene Christian college Wildcats meeting West Texas Teachers at Abilene. The first meeting between Texas conference elevens is scheduled October 18 at Brownwood, when Howard Payne and Austin college will get together. Howard Payne and McMurry college clash in a feature non-conference game Friday at Abilene. Daniel Baker and Texas Tech tangle Saturday at Lubbock in another game that doesn't count.

Fans throughout the state are disappointed that Baylor and the Aggies will not meet on the gridiron this fall. Both schools are unusually strong, and they probably would supply a thriller. Not only that, but there is an outside chance their failure to meet will leave the conference race muddled. More than one critic is picking the Bears to wade through without worse than a tie against them. The Aggies, while not generally regarded as equal to Baylor in man power, have a tailor-made schedule that might keep them in the thick of the fight. They play Texas, Southern Methodist and Arkansas on Kyle field, and how those Aggies can scrap on that particular turf!

Chances are the Bears and Aggies will resume athletic relations within another year or two. Officials of the schools almost got together on a football date for next season, contingent upon permission being granted by the governing bodies; but it fell through. Both held the last week in October open for a time. Then the Aggies gave the date to Centenary for 1930 and 1931.

"Three-Fingered" Brown of Oldtime Chicago Cubs Analyzes First Game

By Mercedal "Three-Fingered" Brown (Famous Pitcher of the old Chicago Browns)

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)—"I saw my first world's series game yesterday that I have seen since 1910, when the Athletics did to us Cubs something like they did to our successors in the opener.

The old game has changed considerably, but it is still the same. The Cubs, I think, lost because Root thought he could slip his fast one over the plate on Foxx with two strikes and

TWO UNBEATEN TEAMS CLASH HERE FRIDAY

Central high school Harvesters this week are learning the fine art of low tackling—a science they severely lacked in the Canyon game.

In downing the fast little backs of Estelline and Electra elevens, low tackling was ineffective and dangerous. Something similar to the wrestler's headlock proved quite adequate in such instances. But it was different with Canyon's 200-pound pile-drivers. High tackles were about as effective as they would be applied to a caterpillar tractor.

Coach Mitchell told his lads to shoe-string the Eagles, but they found it hard to change their style. So this week the coaches are changing the manner by enforced drill. Since the Borger Bulldogs are specialists in end runs, sure tackles will be essential in smearing these plays.

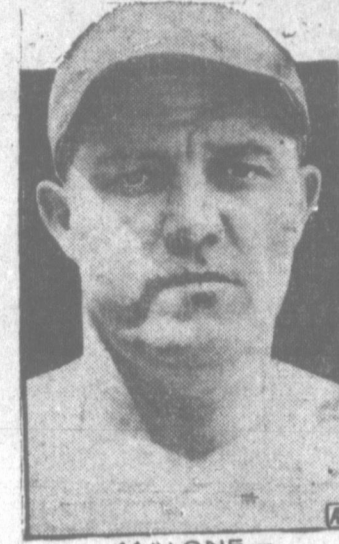

Friday's encounter here will bring together two undefeated elevens. The worst that Borger has had was a tie with Canyon, which is no discredit to any man's Class B team.

Respect for the coming guests is high in the Harvester ranks, for the locals were on the sidelines at Borger when that tie resulted. Friday's game will begin at 3:30 o'clock at the new Harvester field.

no balls. His guess was as good as anyone's except a second guesser, and the fact that Foxx hit it over the bleachers is all that counts. If he had shot it over and caught Foxx asleep he would have been a hero.

As for fielding and inside play—all I can say is they play the game differently now. Some fellow bunted yesterday, and the crowd gasped as if they had forgotten the bunt. I liked McCarthy's generalship, even if it lost. He first balled Ehmke a couple of times

Dutchman Will Give Clingman All Exercise Needed

Contrast will mark the big "rasslin" match at the Pla-Mor auditorium Friday night when smiling Sailor Otis Clingman meets scowling Dutch Betke. Looks, actions, style of wrestling and everything that goes with the game will be in contrast when the two noted men take to the squared circle.

Clingman of Dalhart, former United States navy champion, is a blond, smiling youngster with the looks of a college youth, but the courage and stamina of a bulldog. Betke, Borger apeman, is a short, scowling man who waddles when he walks and hunches his shoulders when he enters into a battle.

The boy from Dalhart became a favorite of Pampa wrestling fans more than a month ago when he met Leo Chase, local wrestler, here. The sailor showed that he was a real champion when he dropped Chase in one minute. He lost the match when the local man fell on him for the second fall. He is working under Cal Farley and is becoming more adept at the game.

Betke can give the best man in the game a run for his money. He has no science but his ability to break holds and get holds that are unknown in the "rasslin" fraternity, it almost uncanny. He starts in at the gong to win and never lets his opponent rest for a minute. He is a dynamo of speed and stamina.

A half-hour preliminary will bring together Sam Stringer, local man, and Kid Williams of Dallas. Both men want a main event here and are all set to show everything that is known in the game. They are both fast and can give and take with the best as has been shown in their workouts at the Pla-Mor.

Preliminaries will open the big card Friday night at 8:15 o'clock.

and came near turning the ball game upside down, but Ehmke, after being fooled those two times saved himself by fine pitching. He mixed up his curve which has an upward tendency, and he crossed them with a fast curve. He used a slow motion and put a lot of stuff on the ball in the pinches.

The opening game was almost perfectly planned and played, and I think the Athletics deserved to win because they took advantage of chances and they were best when they were threatened. We old timers have to stick together, and even if I am rooting for the Cubs I have to root for Ehmke. The old head won the game over the youngsters who will have their day sometime.

I haven't any criticism to offer of either team. The errors were part of the game and young English had a least one tough ball to handle because it bounded in a funny way to him. But that didn't really count—Foxx's home run settled it. If Hornsby had been able to hit the ball at all in the third inning the result probably would have been different as it probably would have meant Ehmke would have been out for a pinch hitter and Root would have finished the game.

The turning point of the whole game I think, was when Ehmke outsmarted Hornsby and struck him out. Hornsby was way back on the back line of the box laying to step in and hit a curve and Ehmke shot a fast one past him for a strike, catching him unbalanced and then curved him with a slow and then a fast curve. It was fine pitching and fine control, and it doesn't mean Hornsby isn't a great hitter. In fact you can't fool a dumb batter—it is the smart ones who get fooled worst.

ATHLETICS WILL LEAVE FOR HOME WITH EVEN BREAK EVEN IF TODAY'S GAME IS DROPPED

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Thanks to the wizardry of Howard Ehmke, a tall, solemn righthander with one of the slowest slow balls in baseball, the Athletics will leave tonight for Philadelphia with no worse than an even break in the first two games of the world's series, despite the result of the second game today.

Ehmke's spectacular 3 to 1 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the opening game will take high rank with sensational pitching performances in World's series history. Thrice in serious trouble, the native New Yorker, now in business in Philadelphia in the summer ed with Rube Walberg, a left hander, ready to lend first aid. Some thought: Old Jack Quinn, another slow ball artist might be called.

Pat Malone, strikeout king of the National league, seemed certain to take up the burden for the Cubs, with Hal Carlson, a calculating person, in reserve.

Play is resumed in Philadelphia Friday after today.

and Detroit in the winter, pitched a little slower each time until danger no longer threatened.

With no lack of confidence in his support, the pitcher disposed of 13 of the hard hitting Cubs without assistance from anyone but his catcher. The Baker's dozen strikeouts set a new record, bettering Ed Walsh's performance in the 1906 world's series when the White Sox pitcher forced 12 Cubs of another generation to miss third strike.

Big George Earnshaw, speedy Bob Grove, and veteran Jack Quinn were to the front in the pre-game speculation with only a scattering thought here and there that Ehmke might get the assignment. Ehmke had pitched only two complete games during the season and his innings of work in the championship campaign totalled only 25. His appearances on the mound had been few and far between and he was not even asked to accompany the team on its last invasion of the west.

Charlie Root, losing pitcher, left the game to make room for a hitless pinch hitter with only one run and three hits scored against him in 7 innings, the "ne counter being a towering drive into the center field bleachers from the bat of Jimmy Foxx.

In contrast to Ehmke's tantalizing side arm curves, with less than half a dozen fast balls mixed in for variety, Root depended on a fast ball and a fast curve. Guy Bush, the other Cub pitcher, allowed three hits and two runs, but the runs were made possible by two successive errors by Elwood English, Chicago shortstop.

Exactly 50,740 spectators paid to see Ehmke stop Rogers Hornsby and Hack Wilson in their tracks, neither of the Cub sluggers getting to base. Wilson made the best bid, crashing a line drive into Ehmke's side in the ninth with such force that it knocked the pitcher to the ground and produced an ugly bruise. Ehmke, however, took only a short count and was strong at the closing bell.

After Mack crossed the talent so thoroughly in his first pitching choice, speculation as to his second nomination was subdued. There was a tendency, however, to believe George Earnshaw, rugged right hander, would be summoned

Lawyers Battle in Hidalgo Case

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (AP)—Some of Southwest Texas' best lawyers matched oratory before the third court of civil appeals today in arguments in the case wherein Gordon Griffin in contesting the right of Judge J. E. Leslie to the district judgeship of Hidalgo county.

Griffin won the first legal battle in the Travis county district court, when Judge J. D. Moore held the county commissioners court of Hidalgo county should have included the Westlaco box returns in the canvass of the general election vote last November.

Minus the Westlaco vote, Judge Leslie, Democratic candidate, showed a small majority over Griffin, an independent. With the Westlaco votes included, Griffin's total number of votes would have exceeded Leslie's, Griffin claimed.

He brought suit in Travis county to enjoin Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, from opening the returns from Hidalgo county, alleging they did not show the true result of the election.

Members of the commissioners' court testified they did not count the Westlaco votes because the returns from that box were enclosed in an unsealed envelope and also because they had been advised of other irregularities at the polls there.

The election was hotly contested, and Texas Rangers were stationed at Edinburg and other points in the county.

Among those appearing for Judge Leslie were James R. Dougherty of Beville, F. E. Smith of Austin, and B. D. Tarlton of Corpus Christi. Arguing Griffin's contentions were T. M. Sewall of McAllen, J. M. Patterson of Austin, and George C. Clough of Houston.

Mrs. Roy Shuck, who has been at Pampa hospital for more than a week, will return home within the next few days. Her condition is much improved.

STOP Cagle!

Those are the words of warning handed out in advance to the foes of the Army football team who would win from the West Pointers this fall.

Christian K. (Red) Cagle, well-built, red-headed, captain of the Cadet eleven, was practically the unanimous choice of critics for a half-back position on the All-America team of 1928. Deeds, and not press-agenting, won for him the reputation of being one of the best ball-toters of all time.

Cagle will be All-America again this year—unless coaches are successful in getting across to their athletes the significance of those two words—Stop Cagle. With every man primed to halt the Army red-head in his tracks every time he attempts to carry the ball, it seems almost certain that Cagle will be stopped. But wait and see.

Against Yale last year he uncorked runs of 73 and 52 yards for touchdowns. Single-handed he provided the punch necessary for the Army to defeat Boston University, Southern Methodist and Harvard. And the country is full of football fans who will gamble that Cagle will perform better this season.

Nice things were said of Chris last year. Many said he was the greatest ball-carrier of all time. Others said he outshone the great Red Grange of Illinois University. Still others said he was hardly the equal of the phantom Grange in a broken field, but that he far surpassed the Wheaton ice man in other departments of play.

Michigan and Pennsylvania said, "Stop Grange", but they failed. And stopping the speedy Army back will bring just as much grief to scores of other players.

The auxiliary will gladly receive donations of all sorts of clothing, but is especially anxious to acquire a large supply of children's garments. Members of the organization will make necessary repairs. Mrs. Taylor requested, however, that garments should be cleaned before they are donated.

Cooking School May Be Last in City for Years

Pampa housewives, attention! Have you made complete plans as yet to attend the opening lecture of Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, nationally famous culinary expert, who is being brought to Pampa by the Pampa Daily News to conduct the cooking school for five days, beginning Oct. 14? Those who miss the event of the year, will not have another opportunity soon, since this will be Mrs. Ihrig's only appearance in this territory during the present year, and indications at the moment are that it will be very difficult to secure her return next year because of the number of cities bidding for her services.

Absolutely free in every respect, the amazing contributions this remarkable woman will be able to make in the one short week she is here, will prove a revelation to every woman attending. Solutions of household finance, menu balance, actual cookery, economical buying, accompanied by a visual platform performance of each and every ceremony involved in the preparation of a meal that is as scientifically balanced as modern dieticians can provide, will trip over themselves in startling rapidity as this genius of the range and serving table fascinates her audience with a personality and knowledge of her subject that has been drawing crowds of thousands of the nation's best posted women, to her classes.

Baker P.-T. A. Contributes to State Endowment and Birthday Fund

Commemorating the birthday of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent Teacher associations, which was organized Oct. 9, 1909, by Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter, the Baker P.-T. A. yesterday made a gift to the state organization. In so doing, the local association followed a tradition of groups throughout the state, and contributed to the maintenance, extension, and running expense fund of the Texas organization.

A similar gift was made by the Baker P.-T. A. to the endowment fund, of the interest of which the work of the P.-T. A. is extended to the rural and newly settled sections of the state and the work of important state branches developed. The gift of $2.50 which the Pampa association made will be added to the principal of the fund, which is being begun with a $5,000 gift from Mrs. Caruthers, and which is rapidly rising to the goal of $50,000.

The donations were voted at a regular meeting, where a program of outstanding merit was presented. The library extension service of the P.-T. A. was explained by Mrs. F. G. Brown, Miss Arless O'Keefe, a member of the high school faculty, discussed parliamentary law, and conducted a parliamentary drill. The seven objectives of the Parent-Teacher association were ably outlined by Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, president of the high school association. Mrs. J. L. Lester, primary supervisor, told the patrons and teachers of the needs and activities of the three lower grades.

Preceding the formal program there was a series of demonstrations by the pupils of the primary classes taught by Miss Sarah Campbell and Miss Carice Fuller. It included songs by both groups; a number by the rhythm orchestra from Miss Campbell's room; and highly dramatic interpretations of "The Three Bears," and "Little Red Riding Hood," originated by Miss Campbell's pupils. Thirty-seven members were present for the business meeting and the program.

A comprehensive review of the life and works of Sinclair Lewis, followed by a resume and critical analysis of "Arrowsmith," comprised an interesting program presented at a meeting of the A. A. U. W. and College Study club on Monday afternoon. Mrs. A. D. McNamara gave the first portion, and Mrs. H. H. Hicks, program leader for the afternoon, reviewed the novel.

The members discarded club dues in a brief business session.

Another Car Bombed
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9. (AP)—In the face of a mass meeting of union street car men called for tonight to review the strike situation, dynamites before daybreak today set off an explosion under a street car at Pontchartrain boulevard and Dante street that rocked that section of the city. The car crew escaped unhurt. The explosion derailed the car, tore up trackage and scattered steel rail and splinters in all directions. Windows were blown out of nearby residences.

Mrs. G. Cravey is in Pampa hospital for treatment. No change in her condition has been noted the last few days.

R. G. Hawkins, whose ankle was fractured several days ago, is recovering satisfactorily from the injury, according to the report from Pampa hospital.

Tom E. Rose is transacting business in Tulsa.

A similar gift was made by the Baker P.-T. A. to the endowment fund, of the interest of which the work of the P.-T. Cotton Crop in Texas Is Under 10-Year Average

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (P)—The 47 per cent condition of Texas cotton on Oct. 1 compares with 46 per cent a month ago and 58 per cent on Oct. 1, 1928, according to H. H. Schutz, statistician with the United States department of agriculture bureau of agricultural economics. The ten-year average is 51 per cent.

The probable average yield per acre of 108 pounds may be compared with 138 pounds last season and 133 pounds the ten-year average, he said.

It was estimated this year's crop in Texas would amount to 3,950,000 five hundred pound bales. Last year 5,106,000 bales were made. Ginnings prior to October 1 were 2,130,000 bales, or 55 per cent of the estimated equivalent 900 pound bales, Schutz said. Last year 53 per cent had been ginned at this date, he stated.

"Somewhat more than one-half of the Texas crop had been picked and ginned by October 1," he said. "About three-fourths of the southern half of the state had been picked and a third of that in the northern portion. Very little top crop is expected and many farmers are plowing up the stalks to stop the increase of insects. Yields this season have been most irregular. In the northwest they are comparable in a measure with 1918; in the north, northeast and south with 1925; in the center, west center and east, with 1921, and in the southeast with 1919.

"These five seasons—1929, 1925, 1921, 1919 and 1918—had two or more districts adversely affected by drought, floods or insects. The present season was one of excessive rain followed by drought and extreme insect activity. Only 40 out of 219 cotton-growing counties are exceeding last year's production."

About New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK
NEW YORK—The race for the tallest building and swiftest apartment honors is becoming almost as unstable as aviation endurance records.

The panting effort to create superlative size and grandeur has extended beyond the rearing of more magnificent movie cathedrals, which lately have served as symbols of the Bigger and Better age.

At this writing the Manhattan building is intended to be the highest in New York. Its 68 stories will extend 880 feet above Wall street.

But the projectors of the Empire State building on the site of the old Waldorf-Astoria hotel, headed by Alfred E. Smith, hope to make their office-pile the tallest in the world.

Recognizing a tendency to sketch additional floors and peaks on building plans, the architects are holding up the final design for the Empire State until the last moment. Although the building probably will have 80 stories and a height of more than 900 feet, these dimensions will depend upon whatever announcements are made by other landlords within the next few months. Then the former governor and his associates hope to establish a landmark that will stand as such as least for the time it takes to put up a loftier mass.

Incidentally, it begins to look as though the Woolworth tower is doomed to the obscurity that long has made the once-famous Flatiron building an almost forgotten architectural curio.

In the apartment field, the 63-room triplex of E. F. Hutton may be exceeded in the number of rooms by the new top-floor castle Hugh B. Baker and a banker-associate are building on Fifth avenue.

As for the largest single apartment room, the two-story music salon of William Mathews Sullivan, the attorney of opera stars, will have few, if any rivals. It will be 58 feet long, 27 feet wide and 20 feet high. Step that off in your living room.

Lingering Custom
With the western alphabet being taught in Turkey, motor trails crossing African jungles and the world generally becoming modernized, old world customs are a lingering curiosity in New York.

A couple of visiting Italian journalists were astounded to find their emigrant countrymen here perpetuating the saint's day festivals of old Italy.

These fetes are common street scenes in New York. Whole blocks in the Italian sections are decorated with arches of electric lights in many colors. The festivities center about a gaudy shrine which contains a statue of the particular saint that is being remembered, usually the patron of some native city. The spirit is that of carnival.

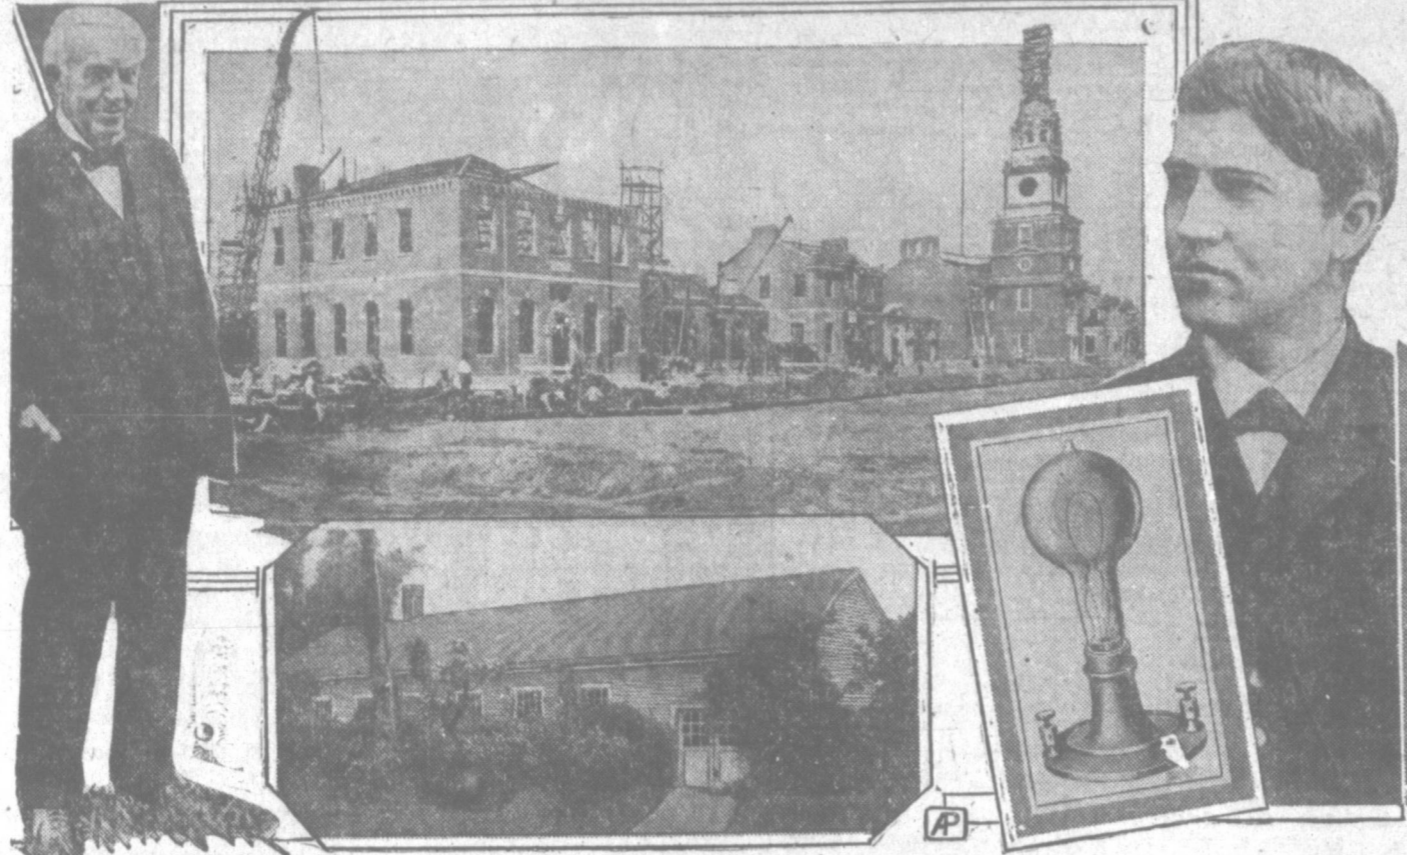

Such celebrations have virtually disappeared in Italy, the newspaper men said. Here they are kept up by the older folk of un-Americanized and anti-Mussolini generations.

Learned From Literature
At a recent party at the Ritz, during one of those inevitable lulls, a worldly young woman asked if the crowd could play chemin de fer.

"Ah," said her escort, brightly, "I know what that is. Something out of an E. Phillips Opouheim novel."

EDISON JUBILEE SET IN SCENES OF PAST

Hoover, On Trip to Detroit, Will See Evidences of History Reconstructed in Henry Ford's Village

BY DAVID J. WILKIE

Associated Press Correspondent
DEARBORN, Mich. (P)—Scenes that tell of the past and foretell the future will greet President Hoover when he comes to this city October 21 to participate in the ceremony memorializing the achievements of Thomas A. Edison.

The historical village that Henry Ford is creating on a 120-acre site already has assumed shape, and many of the buildings purchased in various parts of the country to form the "community of yesterday" have been restored to their original condition and placed on foundations.

Just across the road, to furnish a sharp contrast, is the huge Ford airport, with its large hangars and the tall mooring mast for dirigibles. Completing the modern note are the Ford engineering laboratories and the other building of the automobile "just around the corner" from the scenes of an almost forgotten past.

As the day is to honor mainly Thomas A. Edison, no little interest will center in the actual laboratories and offices used by Mr. Edison in Menlo Park, N. J., and in Ft. Myers, Fla., which Ford has brought to Dearborn and reconstructed in the most minute detail.

It is here that Edison will reproduce his original experiment that brought the incandescent lamp to the world.

There will be interest, too, in the Edison machine shops and perhaps less serious but none the less keen interest in the small railway station where legend has it Edison once was thrown off a train near Port Huron by an irate conductor after the future inventor had set fire to an empty baggage car in the course of some experiments with phosphorus.

The visit to the Ford home, "Fairlane," will take President Hoover and Mr. Edison to another interesting section of the vast Ford estate. "Fairlane" skirts a trunk line highway, and tall trees permit a view from the road of only the top of the motor magnate's home.

Burlesque Play Will Be Presented Here October 15

"Squaring It With the Boss," a one act rollicking burlesque from the pen of J. C. McMullen is the title of the first play to be given by the Epworth Leaguers of the First Methodist church on Tuesday evening, Oct. 15 at 8:15 p. m. in the church basement.

Some of the best local talent will be in the cast of the play. The Leaguers are planning to present a series of plays during the fall and winter season.

Those in charge of the play announce that the Rotary Ladies quartet will also appear on the program Tuesday evening.

A free will offering for the League mission fund will be taken.

The Innocent Cheat

THIS HAS HAPPENED HELEN PAGE feels unhappy since the girls at boarding school tease her about posing as Miss Simplicity just to please her handsome guardian LEONARD BRENT, with whom they accuse her of being in love...

"YOU are," Brent said tensely, "an heiress, Helen." "An heiress?" Helen was bewildered. If Brent had lost his money... "You needn't have told me anything," she cried. "Everything could have been just as it was. About the money, I mean. Of course I want to know about my parents, but I've always hoped..."

"You aren't Helen Page. Only your middle name is Helen. Your father took the name of Page so that your grandfather would find it more difficult to locate him and your mother." "And my mother?" Helen pressed. "Where was she?" "She had died a year before."

"How much nearer to me it brings my mother to know her name," she said to Brent. He sighed. "You see," he said, "already... you will want to see her home, won't you?" "Oh yes," Helen answered, swift in her understanding, "but that can't be come between us in any way."

"I hate him!" Helen exclaimed. "I never want to see him!" Brent waited a moment for her agitation to pass. "I'm afraid we can't either of us make that possible," he said earnestly, "unless we are to break a promise to your father." "But I never promised," Helen protested. "I promised for you," Brent explained to her. "You see, dear, before your mother's death she begged Charles to take you back to America and appeal to her father once more to help you. I'm afraid she knew that poor Charles was scarcely the man to bring up a motherless girl and provide for her in a proper way. But Charles was too bitter to comply with her request. It preyed on his mind, however, and when he knew he was near death itself he sent for me and asked me to fulfill her wish."

OTHER NATIONS COULD WRECK ARMS SOLUTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Indications of the attitude Japan, France and Italy will take toward the British invitation to a new five-power naval limitation conference were eagerly awaited in Washington today as details of the document became generally known.

Acceptance by the United States, inevitable in view of President Hoover's approval of the substance of the text during his conference with Prime Minister MacDonald, is expected before the British statesman concludes his trip to America next Tuesday.

Policemen Held in Alleged Conspiracy

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Wheat scored an early advance today, helped by material fresh upturns in quotations at Liverpool. Official announcement of the federal farm board might resort to purchase and withdrawal from commerce of considerable tonnage of grain tended also to strengthen values.

Opening 5-8c to 1 3-8c higher, Chicago wheat later held near initial figures. Corn and oats were also firm, with corn starting 1-8 to 1-4 to 3-8c up, but subsequently receding a little. Provisions tended downward.

DEFECTIVE VISION OF CHILDREN

Government investigations have found that approximately 25 per cent to 30 per cent of the children in the public schools have defective vision, and the alarming fact is that this percentage increases with grade progress through the schools. The Government has published quite a large pamphlet, "The Eyesight of School Children", treating on this condition. It cites as one of the principal causes—eye-strain due to over taxing of the eye muscles. Even adults' eyes are affected in the same way.
