Persian National Assembly
Washington, Aug. 10.-For the first time in her history, Persia is to have a National Assembly. This information was conveyed to the Bersian Minister here late today in a cablegram from the Grand Vizier and Mimister fop Forgiga Affaire, who st sted that ir wof the tesire of Hise Fm o p Nal Majesty, the shah, for the extension of national trarquility and for the welfare of Persia and all its inhabitants and in order to fortify the Government. It hao been decreed necessan y cdrtain reforms and a Constitu tiondurable for the country and for the adminitatration.
The immediate orginization o
National Assembly ior thes refurms accordingly was organ ized. - Dally News. $\longrightarrow$ paid his brard, tuition, and the had just $\$ 5$ left. At books, he the fuu thyear he toof the "A. B." degrae, and the next year the "A.M." Hegree. His poor, old widowed mother sold one of the iwo plow-horses to pay him through the fifth year. But at the end of that year herat among the graduates-dressed in plain brown linen coat and pants, and no vest. But he was the honor graduate and at the head of the class, When a beautiful gold medal was handed to him, he stepped from the rostrum and walked straight to the back of the roow, where, right by the donr, sat a homely old womar. in blark, and tied the blue ribbon with the great glittering medal around her neck. She buried her wrinkled face in her old, drawnhands and wept like a child. It seemed the applause would never diesway. And now he is a corporation lawyer at $\$ 6,000$ a year, his mother sits happily in the gloaming of a bright beyond, and the picture of this nobleson hangs on the walls of his alma mater.

Then let us unite and make our school better if possible than that of the past year.
She rode to church in an elegant carriage drawn by twe magnificent horses, withfilver-mounted narness. Her coachman was arrayed in splendid livery. She reclined gracefully in a luxuriously cushioned pew. She was dressed in costly silk and velvet, her wraps were of the finest fur, her little pink ears and lily-white fingers blazed with diamonds. And as the preacher told the needs of the suffering poor, she wiped a tear from her eye with a lace handkerchief, that oost a hundred and filty dollars When the plate came around for the collection, with uncalculating generority, she laid upon it the princely sum of twenty-five cente, and joined heartily in singing'Were the whole realm of nature mine That were a present far too small., And the Angels wept.

Bryan and Retorm.
If the question were asked of us, who is the most fampus Amer ican of the present dny? we would unhesitatingly answer, William Jennings Bryan, He ho'dy the front rank in the list of famous men of this country, both as orator and statesman. In his travels abroad he has been honored as a distinguished personage, not only by the most eminent men, but by the kings and rulers of the countries he has visited. His reteption by the people of other lands has been like an ovation, to 8 sme viotor tous general. He is recognized is che highest ty pe of American citizenship and as an eminent my Corator and atatesmán for re electare Gladatone, the Great Treseungmoner, Mr. Bryan eepoused Car the caueeot the weak against the strong, of the people, against unjust legislation, enacted in the interest of wealthy cumbinations. Six yeare ago, during bis presidential cbmpaigo, Mr. Bryan gravely warned the people of the Janger of allowing ereat combinations and trusts to control the commodities of the cuuntry, by creating monopolies in their own hands. He pointed uut to them that the guvernment was cuntroled and administered in the interest of the truste, to enrich themselves at the expense of the people. His platform was not then endorsed by a majority of the people, but his ideas of reform have steadily gained in popular favor, since that time The masses having had their attention directed to publio affairs, have become familiar with the avils of the trusts and their dishonest and corrupt practices, which have been fully exposed, by public investigation. There has existed for years ampirit of urrest and discontent ar ong the masses and a lack of confidence in the governuent on their part This has gradually developed into a movement for reform, which is now sweeping like a great tidal wave over the length and breadth of the land. As the Democratic party is cummitted to reform, it seems to haveturned to Beyan, the author of reform, as thair logical cboice for the prasidency in 1908. The tidings of his enthusiastic endorsement, in all parts of the country, evinces the atrength of the reform movement and is in'atrong contrast to the disorganization and opathy of the Republican party.
During his travels abroad, Mr. Bryan has devoted much thought and study to the Goyernmente and laws of the countries he has visited. Hence he would bring t) the exsyutiva pisition, broad er views ant a larger experiance in the adn'nistration of public

Doctor Gladden tells us that it is the men and women who sit every'Sunday morning in the pews of our churches ta whom the call fir increased putlic apirit comes first and loudest. They, more than all others, are responsibio for the redemption of our cities and towns. The cities are in the concition in which we now find them because they have worn too loozely the konds of civic obligations. Tbey have ouen too willing to takg from the commonweal h the prutectio, the privilege, the bounty, and tu render little or no return in fath.* ful.service, When the city summons, they say "I pray thee, have me excused," Thay sometines talk of unreasonableness if you suggest that a man might berequires to neglect his business, or to furcgo a portion of iis gains, in order that he might serve the city. All such estimatea must be revised. W'è shall never have gond government until those who eall themselves Christians get a deeper und broáder idea of consecration.
