Glider Launched From Flying Dirigible

NEA New York Bureau

These pictures prove, according to naval aeronautical experts, that the motorless glider can play an important part in the safe operation of huge dirigibles. In the upper photograph you see how a tiny glider, piloted by Lieut. Ralph E. Barnaby, was launched from the Los Angeles high above the air station at Annapolis, Md. The arrow shows how he dived almost vertically after releasing the glider, then its fastenings under the hull of the dirigible. Twelve minutes later he landed safely on the field.

COMMISSIONERS ASSURED THAT NEW COURTHOUSE WILL BE READY FOR OCCUPANCY ON NEXT MARCH 1

FIRST MEETING OF CITY BOARDS TO BE TONIGHT

A joint meeting of the city planning commission and the city park board will be held this evening. The session will begin at the B. C. D. auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

Permanent organization of both boards will be made at this first meeting, and plans for the year will be made. The appointment of these boards is regarded as one of the most important events here.

Terracing School Will Be Held Here by Farming Experts

Announcement was made here today by L. D. Huxley that a terracing school will be conducted here on the morning of February 10.

A. K. Short of the Federal Land bank at Houston and M. R. Bentley, farm engineer at A. & M. college, will be in charge of the school, opening the meeting at 9 a. m. at the B. C. D. rooms.

At the close of the school a terracing demonstration will be given at some farm. All farmers and others interested in conserving soil and rainfall are urged to attend.

Henry Bolt, auditor of Murfee's Inc., will return to St. Louis, leaving this afternoon, after a week's business visit in the city.

Earl Isky, formerly of Miami, Okla., has been added to the staff of the Rex and Crescent theatres of this city.

The interior of the county courthouse may appear to lack a great deal of being completed, but assurance that it would be ready for occupancy by March 1 was given today by H. L. Case, contractor, to county judge, Ivy E. Duncan.

Mr. Case stated that his company would deliver the courthouse, finished, to the county on the first of next month.

An inspection of the courthouse yesterday revealed that the steam radiators, lights, special flooring in the district and county court rooms, including chairs for the court room, have not yet been installed. The furniture is scheduled to arrive here in the next few days.

The sheriff's department, justice of peace offices and county superintendent's office are located on the first floor, while the offices of county and district clerk, county judge and county treasurer are on the second floor. The county courtroom are also on the first floor.

The third floor contains the balcony for the district court room, grand jury rooms and the county jail. The jail will accommodate 35 prisoners. Each cell compartment contains a shower bath, toilet and dining room, in addition to the bunk beds.

The grand jury rooms on the third floor are equipped with the bathrooms and large bedrooms. Dark-red marble slabs, four feet in height, form the wainscoting for walls of the corridors and halls. The walls and ceiling of the district court room are decorated in white, amber and cream.

Mrs. Marie Watson of Des Moines, Ia., who had been a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Robinson, left today for her home. She was accompanied as far as Amarillo by Mr. and Mrs. Robinson.

TREE PLANTING DRIVE IS LAUNCHED BITTER BRADY TRIAL ARGUMENT STARTS

DEFENDANT IS CALLED FIEND BY ATTORNEY

Deliberate Murder Will Be Prosecution Claim

CANNOT PUNISH HIM IF INSANE

Brilliant and Kindly Man He Once Was Described

COURTROOM, Austin, Feb. 4. (AP)—The last phase of John W. Brady's murder trial—the arguments rapidly was being completed this afternoon, and the probability that the case would reach the jury around 5 p. m., was strong.

COURTROOM, Austin, Feb. 4. (AP)—Under the lash of a young prosecutor's accusing words and the defending argument of an old friend, John W. Brady sat with half-closed eyes and bowed head today.

Hardy Hollers, assistant county attorney in his twenties, opened the jury arguments in the trial of Brady, once an appellate court judge, for the murder of a 28-year-old stenographer, Miss Leola Highsmith.

Lon Curtis of Belton, 50 years old and more, answered first for the defense. Brady was his classmate in Texas university in the long ago.

Hollers thundered out his charge that "Brady, this eminent man, this son of the gods, willfully and knowingly right from wrong stabbed Leola Highsmith, an ignorant girl from the country, to death because 'she was trying to get away from the life he had been leading her.'"

"John W. Brady," he thundered, "who bragged about his knowledge, John W. Brady went to her house that night; he realized he could not hold her. He determined that if he could not hold her nobody should."

"If you want sufficient evidence to send John Brady to the electric chair, you can find it," Hollers asserted.

Curtis began his speech in a low voice.

"We (the defense lawyers) are here because we were friends and are

Bonds Are Fixed in Cases Growing Out of Auto Accident

E. P. Williams of Panhandle was charged with driving a car while intoxicated and placed under a $1,000 bond by County Judge Ivy E. Duncan this morning after three witnesses had testified that he was driving an automobile that crashed into three others parked near Gibson's cafe yesterday noon.

It was expected that Williams would make bond today. His case will be subject to the Gray county grand jury which meets next month. Williams and two companions who were riding with him, G. C. Cleveland and Alf Pemberton of Panhandle, pleaded not guilty. Cleveland and Pemberton were charged with intoxication. Their bonds were placed at $250 each. All three were returned to jail following examination in county court.

Witnesses were Deputy Herman Wachtendorf and Bob Rose. The deputy said the car was driven past the red signal light. He also testified as to the intoxicated condition of the three men. Four cars were wrecked in the smash up. Williams was driving his car west on Roster street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lewright visited in Fort Worth last week-end.

T. L. Certain, Paul Certain, and R. Earl O'Keefe returned this morning after a week's business trip to Wichita, Kans., Tulsa, and Oklahoma City. Leaving here in a car, they returned on the train, leaving the car in Oklahoma because of the almost impassable roads.

TAFT IS HELPLESS ON ARRIVAL AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—The condition of William Howard Taft was described by his physicians today as extremely serious. After an hour's examination, Drs. Thomas A. Clayton and Francis R. Hagner said there was some doubt that the retired chief justice would recover.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—William Howard Taft returned to Washington today shattered in health and practically helpless.

Perceptibly worn, weak and indifferent to his surroundings, the former president, who resigned as chief justice of the United States yesterday, came back to the capital from Asheville, N. C., was assisted from his car, placed in an automobile and driven to his Wyoming avenue home.

"A sick man," was the short description of Mr. Taft's physician, Dr. Francis Hagner, who accompanied him on his journey from North Carolina. But he added that "as far as we can tell he is in no immediate danger."

Ill as he was, the former chief justice was dressed when his train reached the union station here at 7:05 a. m., but he remained in his drawing room while his car was being transferred to a level nearer the streets. Dr. Hagner timed and again entered his state room to speak to the distinguished patient, but he seemed to have difficulty in impressing upon Mr. Taft that the time had come to leave the car.

Gently, the doctor asked Mr. Taft to get to his feet, but it was necessary for several others to assist him. Step by step, Dr. Hagner and his aides guided his footsteps as the sick man left the train.

In the narrow passage between his stateroom and the side of the sleeping car, the former president grasped the hand rails to steady himself, although he literally was being carried along. A trained nurse, who has been with Mr. Taft throughout his illness was nearby.

After Mr. Taft reached the vestibule of the car, he was held by stalwart

Average of Over Birth Each Day Is January Record

Over a birth a day in the Pampa community was recorded by Chas. O. Duenkel, vital statistician, during the January of this year. Thirty-four births were reported by physicians during the month, although a number of doctors do not report births regularly despite the state law requiring same.

Mr. Duenkel urges all physicians to report births so that these can be recorded at the bureau of vital statistics in Austin where the names are sent each month. It was suggested that parents prevail upon doctors to report the birth of their children.

—AND A SMILE

NEW YORK (AP)—George Bernard Shaw's anger is histrionic, says a letter: "I always get into a rage very carefully and conscientiously when it is necessary, because it saves a lot of time and makes people realize my opinion vividly and promptly, but my indignation, as you probably guess, is purely histrionic—mere mountebanking." The letter is one of a number involved in litigation which the magazine Plain Talk contemplates against Shaw. The presses were stopped when Shaw forbade publication. Then the magazine decided it was within its rights in printing the correspondence.

CHINESE ELMS TO BE BOUGHT FROM STATION

B. C. D. Will Receive Orders Until Feb. 20

BULLETIN WILL BE ISSUED SOON

Industrial Survey Will Be Made—Help Is Asked

A tree planting campaign similar to the one conducted last year will be inaugurated at once by the civic committee of the Board of City Development.

Orders will be accepted by George Briggs, manager, up to February 20. The trees will be the Chinese elms which have been doing so well in this climate. They will be ordered from the Lubbock experiment station at the following prices, delivered to Pampa:

Trees 4 to 6 feet high, 56 cents each. Trees 6 to 8 feet high, 95 cents each. A few available 8 to 10 feet high at $1.50 each.

One tree firm offers to furnish and set-out trees 6 to 8 feet high for $1.25 each.

Last year nearly 500 trees were ordered and distributed by the Chamber of Commerce, and it is expected that the number will be even larger this year.

Another committee with a big program is the one on industries. This group has worked out a questionnaire and will make a much needed industrial survey of Pampa and immediate territory. Facts and figures will be given in totals only, and those pertaining to individual firms will be confidential and not known to anyone except committee men. Business men are asked to give requested information promptly.

The B. C. D. directors last night voted to send Chas. C. Cook to Washington to present oral arguments in favor of the Fort Worth & Denver Pampa-Childress rail request. The date of the oral arguments has not been set, but will be soon.

The board instructed its publicity committee to prepare as an experiment a small B. C. D. news monthly, which will be distributed to business men, farmers, and others interested in Pampa and this territory.

The directors also voted to join the United States Chamber of Commerce in order to obtain benefits from the activity of that large organization.

Father of Local Man Dies at His Home in Clarendon

S. E. Atteberry of Clarendon, father of C. G. Atteberry of this city, died Saturday afternoon at his home, after a long illness, and was buried at Clarendon Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Atteberry, who had spent the greater part of the three weeks preceding at the elder Mr. Atteberry's home, their three daughters, and a number of other residents of Pampa, attended the funeral services.

S. E. Atteberry was a pioneer resident of the Panhandle, and owned what is thought to have been the first hotel in this section of the state, at the old town of Clarendon on the Salt Fork of Red River. That was 1885. When the town was moved to its present site, he moved his business with it, receiving the first shipment of lumber to come into the town for the building of his new hotel.

He was familiarly and affectionately known throughout the Panhandle, and among traveling men in all parts of the country, as "Uncle Sam Atteberry." Surviving him are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. R. E. Bigger of Clarendon; two sons, C. G. Atteberry of Pampa, and Paul Atteberry of Clarendon; nine grandchildren; a sister, and two brothers.

Deputy W. S. Wilson was in Fort Worth last week-end on business.

ONE DEAD, MANY HURT IN BLAST AT BORGER

BORGER, Feb. 4. (AP)—An explosion of a gasoline vapor recoverer at a refinery at Phillips, 3 miles northeast of here, yesterday resulted in the death of Frank Collins, 34, and the injury of a dozen other workers. Cause of the blast had not been determined. A new recovery unit had just been installed and was being tested. It exploded with a terrific force, damaging nearby buildings. Those injured were working about the refinery.

Ringling Boat Goes Aground—All Aboard Safe

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 4. (AP)—Four passengers and a crew of twelve were landed safely from the yacht Zalophus, owned by John Ringling, the circus magnate, after it went aground two miles south of here today.

A statement issued by Ringling said no one was injured, and only minor damage was done the craft. Belief was expressed high tide would float it.

Earlier reports said the Zalophus sank.

YOUTH FOUND DEAD—GAS IS LIKELY CAUSE

Apparently asphyxiated, Lester J. Gathright of Noca was found dead on the floor in a heap of bed clothes in a one-room cottage at the Skipp Apartments at 611 West Porter avenue at noon today. Chas. O. Duenkel, who removed the body to the G. C. Malone funeral home in an ambulance, said that Gathright's age was between 20 and 24.

Mr. Duenkel also said the youth had been dead about 10 hours. When the body was discovered at noon by Samuel Skipp, the jets in the gas cook-stove in the room were burning their full force. The room was full of fumes.

County Judge Ivy E. Duncan and Deputy Sheriff C. E. (Tiny) Pipes, who ordered the removal of the body, found one empty pint bottle containing a few drops of whiskey sitting on the table. Another pint bottle was found broken in a refuse can in the room.

The following note, scrawled on the back of a business card of R. L. Mayer Cleaning and Dyeing company, Idabel, Okla., was also found on the table.

"Roy Albritton; Gathright, this boy, is O. K."

Jack Hill—Mr. Skipp stated that Gathright rented the room Saturday night and said that he would wait for it only one night. Mr. Skipp told officers that he did not see Gathright again until he found him dead today at noon.

A letter from his mother was found in Gathright's clothing, and also a written communication from Geo. F. Tynes, Lieut. Col. 1st F. A. Fort Sill, Okla., which ordered Gathright "not to re-enter Fort Sill Military reservation." The letter was dated Oct. 24, 1928. Section 45 of the Criminal Code of the United States was cited.

Questioned by Deputy C. E. Pipes, Mr. Albritton stated that Gathright came here several days ago and said that he was "broke." The boy was furnished money to buy food while he looked for work at dry cleaning companies. He was able to have obtained additional funds at a local cleaning plant.

QUAKE IN KANSAS

CHAMONITE, Kans., Feb. 4. (AP)—Earth tremors, severe enough to shake buildings and arouse sleepers, were felt here between 1 and 2 a. m., and again at 4:15 a. m., today. A rumbling noise followed the tremors.

PRODUCERS IN CAPITAL TELL OF BIG ISSUE

Importing Is Menace to Stability, Declares Franklin

LOCAL MEN AT SESSION TODAY

Citizens Urged to Ask Congressmen for Support

Residents of Gray county, the Panhandle, and the Southwest in general today in Washington heard Wirt Franklin, their spokesman, plead for a tariff on petroleum imports to enable the industry to stabilize itself in this country.

As a tie-up with Franklin's efforts, local men are urged to send telegrams to the senators of Texas and the representatives from this territory urging support of this tariff on oil. The Western Union office has prepared and addressed telegrams, and to send the proper message citizens need only pay the required charge.

This arrangement was made today under the direction of Dan Williams, local representative of the Panhandle interests. Regarding the oil situation, Mr. Williams said:

"The producers in this country for the past several months have been curtailing development and prorating the production of wells already producing in an endeavor to stabilize the oil industry, while the ever-increasing flow of foreign oil is still being shipped."

"Recently several of the large chasing agencies have further denied the smaller oil interests a very drastic cut in the price of oil. This cut in price takes a

Big Slash Made in Oil Production of United States

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 4. (AP)—While Oklahoma massed its independent forces for a march on Washington for tariff protection, proration in virtually all fields slashed 43,290 more barrels from the estimated daily average production of crude in the state during the week ending February 1. During the same time, according to current report by the Oil and Gas Journal, the California and Rocky Mountain areas, less affected by curtailment of production, gained approximately 13,934 barrels.

Estimated production of crude oil for the week was 2,565,617 barrels as compared to 2,615,128 for the preceding week. This was a total decrease of 29,511 barrels. The light oil decrease was 30,941 barrels. Heavy crude increased slightly.

The Oklahoma City pool, under 50 per cent and partial 75 per cent proration slashed 25,955 barrels for the major portion of the total. Seminole under a curtailment program varying from 25 to 33 and one-third per cent, lost 14,850 barrels. St. Louis-Pearson dropped 2,980 barrels.

The West Texas area, principally the miscellaneous pools, added 1,632 barrels while the total Mid-Continent area declined 43,875 barrels. Heavy crude in this section virtually was constant.

Gulf Coast and Southwest Texas heavy crude areas added, the former 2,405 and the latter 1,430 barrels. Kansas production was 110,210 as compared to 110,180 for the week ending Jan. 26. The Rocky Mountain area added 6,934 barrels.

California, particularly in the Elwood area, added 7,000 barrels of light crude, dropping 3,000 in heavy.

WHILE HE HAS NOT YET ANNOUNCED HIS CANDIDACY FOR CONGRESS AS HE PREDICTED HE WOULD DO, SENATOR CLINT SMALL OF WELLINGTON IS QUOTED BY FRIENDS AS SAYING THAT AN ANNOUNCEMENT WILL BE MADE BEFORE THE END OF THIS SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE SESSION.

While there are many who regret that Mr. Small has seen fit to change his services from Austin to aspire to activity at Washington, it is said that much pressure has been brought to bear in favor of the latter course.

Senator Small's term does not expire until January 1, 1932. This will necessitate a special election to fill the senatorial post to be vacated within the coming month.

Representative Clyde Warwick, Canyon editor, is mentioned prominently to succeed Senator Small for the unexpired term, and it is not unlikely that Mr. Warwick will make his announcement shortly after Mr. Small resigns.

"Now it is said that State Sen. Clint Small of Wellington and Amarillo, way out in the northwest Panhandle, has yielded to the entreaties of his friends and admirers and will make the race for the democratic congressional nomination in his district.

"This is notice that Rep. Marvin Jones has a dangerous rival and real opposition this year. Sen. Small made history at the opening session of the 41st legislature. He put over a land validating bill, concerning ownership of rivers and small streams, that made his colleagues sit up and think.

"Gov. Moody vetoed the bill. Small bowed his neck and the governor lost. House and senate turned down the veto, and Small emerged a winner. It was a remarkable performance for a new senator, a stranger under the big dome, to win his spurs very early in the game of legislation.

"Now the Small land bill is before the higher courts of the commonwealth. Rep. Clyde Warwick of Canyon, the successful editor and publisher of a very influential weekly newspaper, according to political crossers, is slated to succeed Clint Small in the senate and is an avowed candidate for the position.

"Is the West in the saddle? Yes—it is a new West. Later along there may be new faces in the political picture of the new West. Small and Warwick are young men. They have made enviable records under the big dome as lawmakers.

"If a reader of the political stars in the heavens has read the aforesaid stars correctly, many old faces will be punched out of the picture at the primary election this year, and many new faces pushed in."

TWINKLES

The weather man seems to be cooperating with Mr. Groundhog, at least if Sunday had been Monday Mr. Hog would have had trouble seeing his neighbor, not to speak of himself.

Mr. McCloskey probably doesn't feel so badly about turning over his office to Mr. Wurzbach, having had it for a goodly portion of the term.

With harems being turned into girls' schools, the emancipation of women must be about complete—just as they go back to the old styles in clothing.

The explosion in a Texas university chemical laboratory reminds us again of the fact that we used to wonder why students did not get hurt more often. Our own experiments included some things not in the textbooks, and on a few occasions the equipment showed tendencies to seek the ceiling.

The necessity for always practicing in looks and results what they preach must be an awful strain on beauty lecturers.

Supt. McIntosh up at Amarillo asked and received permission to play the Yannigans against the weaker District 1 football teams next year. If he meant us, he had better have the Sandies close around.

In Congress

(By the Associated Press) Tuesday: Senate resumes consideration of tariff bill.

House: Takes up private calendar. May vote on oleomargarine bill.

Immigration committee continues hearing on western hemisphere immigration.

Rules committee to consider Panama cotton seed bill.

Committee on election of the president and vice-president to hold first meeting under the new section of congress.

Single-Track Minds at Double-Track Crossings

On the first anniversary of a grade crossing collision at Bellevue (Ohio), in which 21 bus passengers were killed; and on the third anniversary of the Round Rock (Texas) crash which cost the lives of 10 Baylor University athletes, nine school children and a bus driver met death at a crossing near Berea (Ohio).

This series of tragic coincidences again calls to public attention the peril lurking where a highway and railroad meet. Though some circumstances surrounding the latest slaughter are peculiar, on the whole it is the oft repeated story.

Rather strangely, a dispatch relates that the driver, with the cargo of laughing, chattering, playing children, approached the crossing "with his usual care." The vehicle was stopped for a train to pass. Then the driver started it—and got onto the track just as the fast mail train reached the spot.

The locomotive struck the bus squarely in the center, and scattered the wreckage and driver's and children's bodies for 500 feet.

His attention centered on one train, the man at the wheel did not see the other, faster train approaching in the opposite direction, though the view was unobstructed for three miles. The coroner reports "wanton carelessness and negligence." Obviously, it was an instance of human fallibility—but such as cannot be allowed in the motorist, and certainly not in the driver who has lives in his keeping.

Many a time before, the single track mind at the double track crossing has led to disaster. How shall these accidents be prevented? More rigid tests for such drivers, to determine the vitally important reaction-time, might be helpful.

Considering the hazards attending the double track crossing, should not all such spots be protected by gates or other equally effective device? Trains must pass each other somewhere, and they may happen to pass at or near a highway intersection.

Four official investigations of the Berea accident at once were set in motion. Too, Governor Cooper directed the immediate opening of a campaign for controlling school buses in the interests of safety.

For years Ohio has been plagued with such disasters; only a few weeks ago seven high school athletes were killed at Shreve. Not many years since, an Ohio driver stopped his bus and then drove it in front of a fast train, as happened at Berea.

Ohio is a pioneer in the transportation of pupils and should solve this safety problem. As the Governor asserts, that can be done.—San Antonio Express.

COMPETITION

BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE There are many children whose abilities show only in an atmosphere of competition.

The same, teamwork, school spirit, rankings, awards and prizes, mean everything to them. Under the stimulus of competition they are able to concentrate beautifully and to put forth prodigious effort toward whatever goal is set before them.

Such a child, unless he is properly stimulated, is likely to degenerate into a braggart and a bluff, for his standards are governed not so much by his own ideals as by the reputation he has among his fellows.

A big frog in a little pond, he is likely to amount to little when placed in circumstances which would demand real effort.

For him the winning a place on a team and the attainment of honors are an important part of his preparation for the life which he is naturally fitted to lead. He needs the stimulus of victory, but it should be necessary for him always to put forth real effort to win the distinction he desires.

He is most happily placed in the large school and in the large summer camp, both of which usually lag great stress on competition in all its phases.

Smaller groups with their greater emphasis upon the work of the individual are apt to produce in him boredom and idleness and all the mischief that Satan is so quick to find for idle hands to do.

To prepare him for a scholarly or a professional career is to run against the current of his energy.

He is born for the business world and he needs only so much knowledge and technical equipment as will provide him a springboard from which he may leap into the stream of competitive struggle.

Brother of Local Deputy Shot by Seminole Negro

Declaring that "white men are too independent," C. B. Keller, Seminole negro, on Sunday night shot and seriously wounded Claude Guthrie, brother of Deputy Sheriff Jeff Guthrie of Pampa.

Keller was one of three negroes who attacked a casing crew near Seminole, according to information received here. One of the bullets fired by the negro entered Guthrie's left leg and the other the left side of the chin, coming out just below the jaw bone under the right ear. The assailant was said to have been intoxicated.

Keller was formerly deputy sheriff in the negro section of Seminole. Officers said the negro was intoxicated. Keller was immediately arrested and charged with assault with intent to kill. He was denied bond. One of the other negroes was charged with the same offense and released on a $2,000 bond.

The car in which Guthrie and his casing crew were riding was stalled when the car driven by the negroes crashed into it. Other members of the crew said Keller cursed Guthrie and the shot him. Guthrie then attacked Keller with a crank case, and soon had him under control. The three negroes were placed in the city jail.

Miss Fannie May spent the week-end in Dallas.

Crossing the knees while sitting is said to be an early factor in the forming of varicose veins.

Club Studies Party System in Interesting Program Discussions

The Study club of the local branch of American Association of University Women and College club, which formerly held its semi-monthly meetings in the parlor of the First Methodist church, yesterday adopted the custom of meeting in the homes of members, when the group met as guests of Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, president of the A. A. U. W. and College club, and honorary member of the Study club. A number of special guests also enjoyed the program and the social meeting following. "The Party System" was the theme of the study of the day, developed in two excellent papers. Mrs. W. E. Campbell gave the history of the Republican and Democratic parties. Party organizations and methods were discussed by Miss Fannie Florence Sims, guest of the club. A brief business session was held, presided over by Mrs. W. T. Fraser. Tentative plans were made for an open meeting which the club will hold in the near future, and the following committee on arrangements was appointed by the president: Mrs. Hal Peck, chairman; Mrs. F. M. Culberson, Mrs. W. F. Campbell, Mrs. Clyde Fatheree, and Mrs. H. H. Hicks. Assignments of meeting places for the remainder of the year were read by Mrs. H. P. MORE REVENUE NECESSARY TO SUPPORT COLLEGES

AUSTIN, Feb. 4. (AP)—With approximately $3,000,000 in emergency and deficiency appropriations to be asked of the legislature, Governor Moody will be forced to submit revenue measures in order to raise the money, he told a delegation of presidents of State Teachers colleges and other institutions yesterday. The presidents filed a request for appropriations for summer schools, salaries and maintenance totaling $883,033 for the year ending next September and $886,000 for the succeeding year of the biennium. NOTICE TO PARENTS All students in high school who are absent twice without making prior arrangements must re-enter school in the presence of their parents or guardians. Please take note of this announcement. L. L. SONE, Principal W. H. Lang of this city, general manager of the Tulsa Rig and Reel company, is recuperating after a serious illness of three weeks.

Baptist Troop to Be Re-Organized

Plans for the reorganization of the Baptist Boy Scout troop, which formerly was one of the most active in the Adobe Walls council, were recently perfected at a meeting of local Scout leaders and men of the Baptist congregation who planned to give active assistance in carrying forward the renewed work. The Rev. Tom Brabnam, member of the board of directors and finance chairman of the Adobe Walls council, spoke to the group of twelve men in attendance, outlining the nature and purpose of scouting and giving details of organization methods. He made a strong appeal to the men of the church, particularly the fathers, to stand behind the movement and make it a success in Pampa. He urged that as many as could take the leadership training course, soon to be statistics. Mr. Brabnam told his audience, there were 450 boys of scouting age in Pampa, and of that number only 30 were enrolled. With the reorganization of the Baptist troop, J. A. Meek will resume the position of Scoutmaster, and O. J. McAllister, that of assistant, according to plans of the group in session at the Baptist church.

Maniac Sought As Slayer of Soldier

DET. RIO, Feb. 4. (AP)—Believing a maniac armed with a shotgun responsible, officers of Uvalde, Kinney, and Uterde counties today sought to solve the shooting of Private Hays, stationed at Fort Clark, Sunday and the firing of a gun at several other persons during Saturday and Sunday. Hays, who enlisted four days ago and whose first name and previous address were unknown here, died yesterday of wounds inflicted with a shotgun. He was shot at a dumping ground of the military reservation where he had taken a load of refuse. Corporal Reed, also stationed at the Fort, was in a hospital suffering from wounds in the arm. He was shot from a sniper's position Saturday night as he was going from Bracketville to the fort. Two automobiles were reported to have been fired upon as they traversed highways in the vicinity of the reservation. A dozen officers, including two rangers, were in the vicinity seeking the slayer. Bloodhounds were taken to the fort, but were unable to pick up a trail.

GIRLS SEEKING OPPONENT FOR FRIDAY GAME

Girls of Central high school must furnish the athletic program if there is any here this week. With the Harvesters planning a short road trip to end the week, the girls are trying to match a game here for Friday evening. They have played and defeated most of the feminine squads of this territory and getting new opposition is not as easy as formerly. The girls are pointing their practices toward the Miami tournament to be held February 21 and 22. This event will furnish the hardest kind of opposition, and includes some teams that the Pampa team has not met. Plans also are under way for a one-day tournament for girls here March 1. About eight teams will be invited, according to present plans.

Lindbergh Lands Safely When His Glider Is Faulty

LEBEC, Cal., Feb. 4. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh observed his 28th birthday anniversary today by planning another flight in the glider which he piloted yesterday to a safe landing near here after it had lost an aileron in midair. The flying colonel, having safely landed the frail, crippled craft in a mountain valley, was highly pleased, rather than dismayed, at the incident which had brought the hearts of his watchers into their throats.

Lindbergh was launched into the air in a test flight preparatory to an attempt planned by Hawley Bowles, the sailplane's builder, to establish a new world gliding record, and had reached an altitude of 300 feet when the aileron on the left wing broke and fluttered to the ground.

The colonel's head jerked sharply to the side as the aileron, as an essential part of the control apparatus, broke free, and hoarse shouts from the little throng of mechanics, newspapermen and photographers were not necessary to warn him of his danger.

He attempted no immediate landing, however, but sailed serenely on, dipping gracefully over the hilltops, finally to disappear into a valley. Whether he had fallen, or landed safely, the anxious group of watchers could not tell.

When observers reached him after running frantically to the spot of his landing, the colonel was standing beside the undamaged craft on a little hill, laughing heartily.

The colonel said he had "a little difficulty landing" and that "it was an uncomfortable feeling when I saw it fall," but added he was not alarmed because he had confidence in construction of the craft.

Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble Quickly Respond to Action of New Medicine

MR. JAMES F. SIMPSON
"Although seventy-nine years of age I found quick relief in Konjola," said Mr. James F. Simpson, 1800 North Sixth street, Ft. Smith, Ark. "For five years I suffered with rheumatism of the worst sort. The pains settled in my back, at times driving me nearly mad. Three years ago my stomach began troubling me and I grew steadily weaker from this ailment. Infense distress followed the simplest meals and food never tempted me.
"In desperation I turned to Konjola, or I knew many whom it had helped. Almost from the beginning of the treatment with this medicine, my health improved. The ills of rheumatism grew less and finally all pain from this ailment had ceased. My stomach yielding no less promptly and I soon began eating hearty meals without distress of any sort. My appetite improved and my general health is better than it had been in years."
Konjola is sold in Pampa at the City drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. Adv.

LOYOLA FIVE WINS 34 STRAIGHT

These are the key men of the Loyola University (Chicago) basketball team which won 34 straight, stopping such quintets as Butler, Arkansas, Montana State and Vanderbilt.

BY WALTER BROWN
(AP Feature Service Writer)
CHICAGO (AP)—Thirty-four teams in a row have fallen before the Loyola University basketball team. Not since the middle of 1928 season has the Chicago quintet lost a game. Butler University—the giant killer of the hardwood sport, was one of the latest, and one of the most important of the Loyola victims. Butler was beaten 22-14 at Indianapolis. Butler also was the last to win from Loyola, taking the Chicagoans in February, 1928. Loyola's unmarred record of last year was discounted because the opposition scarcely was of major college caliber. This season it began taking on the big fellows. Butler University of Indianapolis, the giant killer of the hardwoods, was the 34th victim. Others included Montana State, Vanderbilt, Detroit University, North Dakota, South Dakota, Arkansas and St. Xavier. Leonard Sachs coaches the Chicago team. And around a rugged youngster, "Stretch" Murphy (same name as that of the Purdue center), the has built a smooth working court machine. Murphy, 6 feet 3 1/2 inches tall, is fast and has a fine-eye for the hoop. He is the main cog, both defensively and offensively. The two guards, Schuhmann and Butzen, sophomores, alternate in dashing down the floor for baskets. Sachs employs the zone style of defense.

SPORT SLANTS Alan J. Gould
All-America teams have never been put to the actual test through action, although a number of all-star football aggregations furnished many a thrill last New Year's Day. An All-America league baseball outfit, however, once demonstrated what it could do on the field by trouncing the Philadelphia Athletics, world's champions (then in 1910) as now, in four straight games. The details, now almost old enough to be news again, are recalled by Norman Kid Elberfeld, manager of the Springfield (Mo.) Western Association club, in the Springfield Daily News:
"In 1919 the American League closed its schedule ten days earlier than the National League," says Elberfeld, famous in the majors as the "Tabasco Kid" at the time. "The Athletics had won the pennant and did not want to lay off for those ten days and grow stale. I suggested to Jimmy McAleer, manager of the Washington club, that we get up a team to play the A's a series just to keep them in trim for the Cubs."
"Everyone was agreeable so McAleer, acting as manager, got together a club composed of Walter Johnson of Washington, Doc White and Ed Walsh of the White Sox, pitchers; Gabby Street, Johnson's battery-mate, catcher; Jake Stahl of Boston, first base; myself, second base; George McBride of Washington, short-stop; Harry Lord of Boston, third base; and in the outfield three of the game's greatest—the mighty Ty Cobb of Detroit; 'Tis Speaker, then with Boston; and Clyde Milan of Washington."

"McAleer just warmed the bench and laughed up his sleeve as we grabbed off four straight games from the Athletics, although Connie Mack used a new pitcher every three innings, including Plank, Bender, Coombs and Dygert."
The Athletics then took four out of five from Frank Chance's Cubs to win the world's series, the same margin by which the championship was decided last year between the same clubs.
Babe Ruth's 345-yard tee shot at Miami, easily twice the distance he ever hit a home run, recalls the story of a driving contest he had last winter with Dazy Vance, the famous Brooklyn strike-out king, at Clearwater.
Prior to a friendly game, the Babe and Dazy became embroiled in an argument about how far they could drive. A box of cigars was wagered on the result and they went to the first tee at Clearwater to settle the debate. The hole measured 376 yards. Dazy took one shot and over-drove the green.
"Go collect the cigars," roared Babe as he refused even to take his turn."

Evidence has cropped up in many parts of the country to show that the whistle blown by the Carnegie Foundation's famous report on college athletics has been heard and heeded. In connection with his proposal for an All-Virginia college conference, Dr. H. B. Handy of the University of Richmond makes these suggestions, as published by the Richmond News-Leader:
1—Football season to be shortened to six weeks.
2—Football practice not to begin until one week after matriculation of students.
3—No games to be scheduled after Thanksgiving.
4—Freshman competition to be abolished; class and intra-mural foot-

Be Settled By K. M. Landis

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (AP)—National league club owners had a few hours to perform today before allowing players to take over the baseball ring for 1930.

The leagues spring meeting generally is devoted to adoption of the schedule for the coming season and advance indications were there was little else to be done at the current get-together.

There was a possibility, however, that efforts would be made to settle once and for all the internal dissension that has torn the Brooklyn club for several years. Suggestions were made that K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner might act as mediator in the long battle between Wilbert Robinson, president-manager of the club, and S. W. McKeever, stockholder. Robinson's contract as manager has expired, and strictly speaking, the Dodgers are without any pilot to guide them from the bench. Robinson has the support of the Ebbets heirs and has managed to defeat all of McKeever's efforts to oust him.

Babe Ruth's threat to quit baseball unless he was given a three-year contract at $85,000 annually gave baseball men something to talk about, but there was no disposition on the part of anyone to take the slugger's statement too seriously. Most observers felt that by the time the season opens, or before, Ruth will have adjusted his difficulties with the New York Yankees probably on a contract that will be a compromise between his demands and the club's offer of $75,000 per year for two years.

Benefit Picture at Rex to Have Six Song Hits

Six new song hits from the pens and pianos of popular composers make their debut from the talking screen in "Marianne," which is slated for an opening tomorrow at the Rex theater.

In this new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical talkie, in which Marion Davies is starred, tuneful melodies play an important part, having been written as an integral part of the dialogue and plot motivation.

These numbers are "Just You—Just Me"—the love ballad—and "Hang On To Me," written by Greer and Klages; "Sugar" and "Oo La La La!" by Turk and Ahlert who also wrote the theme song, "Marianne," and "Blondy" by Brown and Freed.

Greer and Klages will be remembered for "Once in a Lifetime," "Flapperette" and other musical comedy song hits. Turk and Ahlert wrote "Mean to Me" and "I'll Get By" among their successes and Brown and Freed were responsible for "Cool Dance," "Wedding of the Painted Doll," "You Were Meant for Me," and the recent song hit, "Singing in the Rain."

Miss Davies sings "Just You—Just Me" in French as well as English in the picture and Lawrence Gray, who plays opposite her, voices it as his love song in the tender moments of the picture. "Marianne" also is sung by Miss Davies and Gray. Cliff (Ukelele Ike) Edwards sings "Sugar" and "Hang On to Me," and "Blondy" and "Oo La La La" is used to advantage in novelty scenes.

With sufficient interest of its own, this first talking feature of Miss Davies will have another attraction when it is shown here Wednesday and Thursday even for those who are not usually termed movie fans.
By a generous concession of the management of the Rex, the Pampa Public Library, which is sadly in need of funds, is to benefit by the showing of the picture at the Rex. Fifty per cent of the proceeds of all tickets sold by members of the library association or the sales committee will go into the maintenance funds of the public institution. A committee of twenty women, headed by Mrs. James Todd, is selling tickets and asking support of the benefit.

Sam Penberg will return tomorrow from Des Moines, Ia., where he and Mrs. Penberg have spent the last three weeks with relatives. Mrs. Penberg will remain there another week.

ball to be emphasized:
5—All subsidization of athletics to be stopped—voluntarily by a joint, coaches and college officials.
6—Football coaches and athletic directors not to be allowed on the playing field. All directors' team by captain or his representative.

There is now an easy way to end it by a gland food. It is used the world over by doctors and others who know. Since its discovery excess fat has largely disappeared.
That modern way is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets and people have used it for 22 years—millions of boxes of it. In almost every circle there are users who show the amazing results. Marmola is not secret. Each box contains the formula and reasons for all good effects. It has brought to multitudes new joy, new vim, new beauty. Go try it, watch results. Be slender like your envied friends, without starving. Go ask your druggist for a $1 box of Marmola, and read the book in its box.

AWTHORN TO BE COACH AT TECH COLLEGE

LUBBOCK, Feb. 4. (AP)—Pete W. Cawthorn, former director of athletics at Austin College at Sherman, has been selected director of athletics and head football coach of Texas Technological college, Dr. Paul W. Horn, president, announced last night.

Although Cawthorn is not expected to begin his new duties until the opening of school next fall, he probably will conduct spring football training in April.

Status of E. Y. Freeland and other present members of the coaching staff will not be determined until Cawthorn and the college athletic council meet with the board of directors to complete details of reorganization, President P. W. Horn said today.

Whether Freeland will be retained will be announced, he said, as soon as a decision is reached.

Purse in Carnera Fight Held Back

CHICAGO, Feb. 4. (AP)—With the presence of one of the principals, Primo Carnera himself, unavailable, investigation into the circumstances leading up to and surrounding the fight of Elzear Rieux at the Chicago stadium last Friday night was before the Illinois state athletic commission today.

Primo spoke his piece before the commission at a special meeting of the commission last Saturday, but was not on hand for rebuttal—if any—today, as he was in the east preparing for his meeting with James "Fattling" Owen, at Newark, N. J., Thursday night.

The investigation was ordered by Frederick Gardner, member of the commission, after Rieux, French-Canadian heavyweight, failed to survive the first round in his share of Primo's Chicago debut. The purses of both fighters, around $16,000 for Carnera and $3,000 for Rieux, were held in order of the commission.

Members of the commission made no flat charges that anything was wrong, but the more than 17,000 spectators at the fight seemed to hold the opinion that Rieux had been too eager to remain on the canvas.

Frank Hunter Is Indoor Favorite to Win Tennis Title

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (AP)—The survivors field was narrowed to 15 survivors in the national indoor tennis championships today. Frank Hunter, heavily favored to win the singles crown he held in 1929, was matched against Frank Bonneau, New York.

Other matches included: Herris Coggeshall of Des Moines, Ia., vs. Sidney Seligson of New York university. Perrine Rockefeller vs. Bob Conside of Washington, public parks star.

Doubles play starts today. Hunter and his friend and comrade, Bill Tilden, now in France, won the doubles title last year.

Tyler Joins New League TYLER, Feb. 4. (AP)—Baseball fans of this city voted in favor of going into the proposed Class D league sponsored by the Texas league club owners at a meeting here last night attended by Joe Mathes, organizer. A committee was appointed to form an organization to raise the $3,000 required for entrance into the proposed loop.

NEW RULING ANNOUNCED Regarding absences without permission or arrangement as serious interference with school work, officials of Central high have announced a new rule concerning this question.

Principal L. L. Sone today said that students having two unexplained or unsatisfactory absences would be required to re-enter school in the presence of their parents or guardians.

Miss Pauline Mitchell, employe of the Culberson-Smalling Chevrolet company, has returned after spending three weeks in Portland, Indiana, with her mother.

"Pest" Welch Is Freshman Coach at Washington U.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 4. (AP)—Ralph "Pest" Welch, fullback of Purdue's 1929 Big Ten football champions, was employed as University of Washington freshman coach by the student body of control here today.

Welch's contract begins immediately and extends to June, 1931. He replaces Tubby Graves on the new coaching staff being formed by Jimmy Phelan, former Purdue mentor who recently became head coach here. Graves will continue as varsity baseball coach.

Welch was reported to have left Lafayette, Ind., for Seattle with Chester "Cotton" Wilcox, former Purdue freshman coach, who will tutor the Washington backfield.

Friends of Judge Brady. We know the John Brady on trial here is not the John Brady we know. The John Brady we know would not be here today charged with this offense—the John Brady in possession of his mental faculties.

Curtis answered Holler's accusation that the defense had been "unfair" by saying that this was the first case he ever participated in where "the defense was denied opportunity to talk to witnesses—denied by the state."

The lawyer turned to face Brady once or twice during the argument, but Brady was looking down.

Curtis declared Brady had drunk bottles of whiskey until he had "fallen from his high estate; until he was a shattered wreck of himself on the night of the homicide."

He sketched the defense evidence and insisted its insanity plea was sound, that the testimony of the defense witnesses must be believed.

Brady still sat looking downward. A. C. B. Highsmith, father of the girl, was a few feet away, looking downward, too.

Brady came in a little after 9 o'clock, looking a bit white, and the judge then instructed the audience that quiet must be maintained. "Mr. Sheriff, bring in the jury," he concluded.

Judge J. D. Moore began reading the charge. It went in part:

Malice aforethought includes all these states of mind under which the killing of a person takes place, without any cause which will, in law, justify or excuse or extenuate the homicide.

It is a condition of the mind which shows a heart regardless of social duty and fatally bent on mischief, the evidence of which is inferred from acts done or words spoken.

Murder, as defined herein before, may be committed either with or without malice aforethought.

When murder is committed with malice aforethought, the punishment for such murder shall be death, or confinement in the penitentiary for life or imprisonment in the penitentiary for any term not less than two years.

Defines Murder in Law

When murder is committed, but not upon malice aforethought, the punishment for such murder is confinement in the penitentiary for not less than two nor more than five years.

In this case evidence has been introduced in behalf of the defendant to show that at the time of the commission of the offense he was in a state of drunkenness or intoxication, produced by the recent use of ardent spirits or intoxicating liquor; and as the phase of the case you are instructed that neither intoxication nor temporary insanity of the mind, produced by the voluntary recent use of ardent spirits or intoxicating liquor constitutes in this state any excuse for the commission of a crime, nor does intoxication mitigate the degree if the offense alleged to have been committed, but evidence of temporary insanity, produced by such recent use of ardent spirits or intoxicating liquor, may be considered in mitigation of the penalty attached to the offense for which the defendant is on trial.

The defendant pleads insanity as a defense in this case, and you are charged, that no person can be punished for an act committed while insane. However, every person is presumed to be sane until the contrary appears from the evidence. He is presumed to entertain, until this appears, a sufficient degree of reason to be responsible for his acts.

Could Suspend Sentence

The defendant in this case has filed with the court an affidavit, stating, among other things, that he has never been convicted of a felony in this state or in any other state. Now, if you find the defendant guilty of murder and the punishment assessed by you is for not more than five years, and you further find that he has never been convicted of a felony in this state or in any other state, you may, in your discretion, cause the sentence to be suspended; and in case you desire to suspend the sentence of the defendant, let your verdict show that you find the defendant has never been convicted of a felony in this state or in any other state, and further show that you recommend the suspension of the sentence.

Assistant County Attorney Hardy Holler began the argument.

GRACEY'S COURT

Gracey's court today heard the case of the state against the defendant, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty to the charge of murder.

The judge then sentenced the defendant to the penitentiary for a term of years.

The jury heard the testimony of several witnesses, and after a deliberation of several hours, returned their verdict.

The defendant was then taken to the penitentiary to begin his term.

The court today also heard several other cases, including a case of assault and battery.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty to the charge of assault and battery.

The judge then sentenced the defendant to the penitentiary for a term of months.

The court also heard a case of larceny, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The judge then sentenced the defendant to the penitentiary for a term of months.

The court today also heard a case of breach of contract.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty to the charge of breach of contract.

The judge then awarded damages to the plaintiff.

The court also heard a case of negligence, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The judge then awarded damages to the plaintiff.

hands until other attendants could bring a straight-backed chair into which he was eased. Then the chair was picked up by three men who lowered it gently to the station platform.

Several times the former chief justice reached out with weakened hands to take hold of the supports above the steps of the car. Finally Dr. Hagner, who was standing on the train platform with Mrs. Taft, grasped the two hands of his patient and thus guided him into a wheel chair which had been rolled up for him.

As the former president settled into the chair Dr. Hagner said:

"That's rather a tight fit, but it won't be long."

A trace of the famous Taft smile lighted the former chief justice's pale and drawn face for an instant, and his eyes seemed almost to twinkle, but the lids drooped again. With apparent effort, Mr. Taft opened his eyes to look about, but he spoke to none of those who gathered to meet him.

hundred thousand dollars per month from the incomes on oil produced in Gray county alone, of which the royalty owners lose their part.

"The tariff being sought on this foreign oil will mean millions of dollars every month in increased incomes, which would benefit not only the producers and royalty owners, but would provide employment for thousands of additional working men and would benefit every business house and merchant."

"Last year the oil interests paid 75 per cent of Gray county's taxes. This year these same interests will pay probably not less than 85 per cent of the taxes. Additional values in oil, and further development will increase the taxable value of Gray county's oil holdings and benefit every taxpayer in the county."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (P)—Asserting the oil industry had carried the highest tax burden of any in the country, Wirt Franklin, spokesman for a delegation of 300 independent oil operators, today presented the plea of the group for a tariff of $1 a barrel on oil and 50 cents a barrel on refined petroleum products at a conference of a number of senators and representatives from oil producing states.

Franklin said oil imports were 79,583,000 barrels in 1929 with refined products in excess of 12,000,000 barrels and added that imports in 1929 exceeded 109,000,000 barrels. He said the oil industry had borne a heavy post-war deflation burden and "has not tried to pass it on."

The group included operators from Colorado, Wyoming, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Montana, Louisiana and New Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (P)—Because a number of its members wished to attend a meeting of oil men here, the house elections committee which is preparing a report on the Wurzbach-McCloskey election contest over the seat from the fourteenth Texas district, adjourned today after a brief meeting.

Appointment of Hughes to Replace Taft Is Surprise, But No Obje to New Chief Justice in Pro.

BY RICHARD L. TURNER

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (P)—Charles Evans Hughes, one of the foremost of the nation's jurists and statesmen, is to be the next chief justice of the United States.

He will succeed William Howard Taft, who, broken in health by years in the public service, has been forced to resign and devote his entire attention to the betterment of his physical condition.

In spite of Mr. Hughes' acknowledged talents, all Washington was surprised last night to learn of his appointment. His nomination was sent to the senate by President Hoover just as dusk was falling. A few hours previously, Mr. Taft's resignation had been announced and the interim had been filled with speculation as to his successor in the course of which Mr. Hughes' name went almost unmentioned.

Hughes Much Pleased

But in the meanwhile, the president had been busy with the long distance telephone. He reached Mr. Hughes in New York, offered him the appointment and obtained an immediate acceptance. With a radiant smile, the appointee later told newspapermen he would accept the post as the greatest opportunity for service that had come his way.

While Mr. Taft is the only man in history to serve as president and chief justice, Hughes missed the former by a narrow margin. Opposing Woodrow Wilson in the campaign of 1916, he failed of election by 23 electoral votes. So close was the balloting that the outcome was in doubt for days.

Taft brought to the supreme bench his cheerful philosophies and his famous chuckle. His studious nature and industrious habits were hidden behind his jovial manner. Frequently he relieved the tedium of protracted legal disputes with one of his characteristic witticisms.

With Hughes, the student of affairs and the austerity of intellect are predominant. The public knows him as a stern, industrious, gifted statesman and jurist, always impeccably groomed, the "perfect picture of a statesman." His close associates know this side of the man, too, but they know him, as well as genial in his daily contacts.

Formerly Governor

Hughes' career began in New York, where his legal abilities brought early prominence and an opportunity for the Republican mayoralty nomination in 1905. This, he declined. Two years later he became governor of the state, and in 1909 he began a second term, but resigned in 1910 to accept appointment as an associate justice of the supreme court. This came from Taft, then president.

The Republican national convention at Chicago nominated him for the presidency on June 10, 1916, and he signed from the supreme bench on the same day. After his defeat, he returned to private practice, but again entered public service in 1921 to become secretary of state in the Harding cabinet.

In this capacity he was the principal American delegate to the naval arms conference of 1921. He continued in the cabinet after Harding's death and withdrew at the beginning of President Coolidge's second term in 1925.

His international prominence brought him appointment to the arbitration court of The Hague, by Coolidge in 1926, and two years later election by the council and assembly of the League of Nations to an associate justiceship on the permanent court of international justice. In addition, he served as chairman of the American delegation to the sixth Pan-American conference in Havana in 1928.

Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., plans to resign as solicitor general when his father becomes the chief justice. His duties carry him frequently before the supreme court, and he feels it would be an impropriety to plead government cases before a tribunal of which his father is the presiding officer.

Little Miss Shirley Anne Akers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Akers, arrived home Sunday, after spending eight weeks at Miami, Okla., with her grandparents. She was accompanied by Mrs. Akers' brother, Earl Isley of Miami.

Gratitude To Sargon Is Beyond Words

MRS. WM. N. COCHRAN

"Ever since I was a comparatively young woman I suffered from stomach trouble and nervousness. I was terribly constipated, bilious, rundown and miserable. The way Sargon ended my troubles seems little less than a miracle.

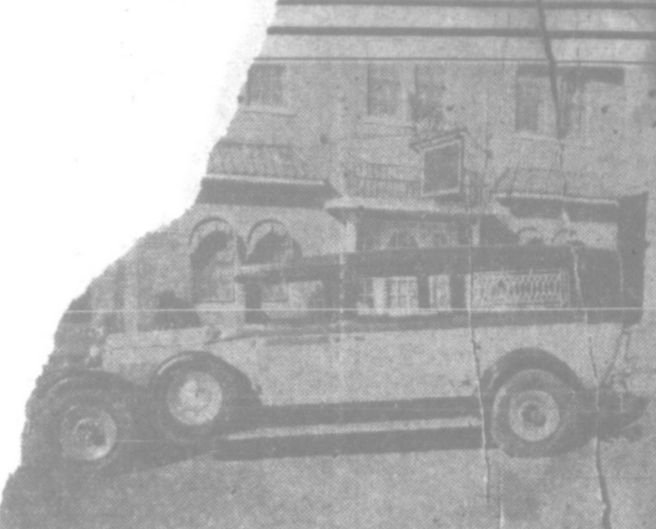

"The first normal bowel movement I have had in years I owe to Sargon Soft Mass Pills. My gratitude to the Sargon treatment is beyond words."—Mrs. Wm. N. Cochran, 1147 Harrison St., Portland, Ore.

Sargon's fame is based on actual results—not empty promises. Millions use it—millions praise it!
