DALLAS CITY OFFICER WOUNDED

ELECTION FOR SCHOOL RELIEF WILL BE HELD

More Room for Pupils Badly Needed by System
VOTE TO BE ON NEXT MARCH 8
Every Ward Will Be Enlarged—One New Building

For the purpose of building one new ward school and erecting additions to each of the three ward schools and the Central building, the school board yesterday afternoon ordered an election for a $200,000 bond issue.
The election will be held March 8 in the Chamber of Commerce. The board ordered the election after a petition signed by M. K. Brown and 21 others had been submitted and approved. The bonds would mature serially between 1931 and 1960, bearing 5 per cent interest. Only qualified property tax-payers may vote.
If the issue should carry, it is proposed to move all the frame buildings from the central campus. It is planned to add six rooms to the Baker school, two to the East Ward school, two to the West Ward school and twelve rooms to the Central high school building. The new ward building, for which a site has not yet been chosen, will contain eight or ten rooms.
The election order states that the bond issue would provide for the building and equipping of public school buildings of brick, stone or concrete material, and for purchasing sites.
Crowded conditions existing in all of the schools made it necessary for additions to be made immediately. An instance of the congestion was cited in the Baker school, where the primary department is being moved this week to the Assembly of God church, located nearby. The building was simply too small to hold all the pupils. It was stated, while not so chronic, similar conditions exist in the other schools.
L. C. McMurtry was appointed to be judge of the election, with W. R. Campbell and P. B. Carlson as clerks.
The school board had planned to sell the bonds before the election but due to the condition of the bond market at present it was deemed advisable to hold the election first. Between the years of 1931 and 1950, the bonds will mature at the rate of $7,000 per year and $6,000 per year between 1951 and 1960. The 5 per cent interest will be payable semi-annually.

NEW GRAIN FIRM WILL DEAL IN FUTURES

A branch of the Henderson Grain company, with headquarters in Fort Worth, will open here Monday morning, it was announced today by Warren Jeffus, who will be manager.
The company will deal in grain and cotton futures, and will have private wires to all principal markets. The board is being erected today, and the operator will be here to test the wires tomorrow. While interest here is expected to be chiefly in grains, the office will handle cotton trades for other towns of this territory.
The company maintains offices in Fort Worth, Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo, and Sherman. Pampa was selected for a branch department after a lengthy study of cities of the Panhandle.

Eastland Man Dies in Attempt to Save Child

MINERAL WELLS, Feb. 14. (AP)—Futile attempts to avoid striking a four-year-old girl cost the life of Horace Butler, 37, brother of Major General Smedley Butler, and that of the girl near here last night and caused an automobile accident in which three other persons were dangerously injured.
The girl, Carrie Lee May, was instantly killed. The Butler car swerved when the child ran across the road and crashed into a car in which Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bertino and Mrs. Bertino's sister, Molly Gazola, were riding. All were critically injured.
Sam Butler, another brother, was the only other occupant of the Butler automobile. The brothers were en route to their home at Eastland.
EASTLAND, Feb. 14. (AP)—Horace Butler, killed yesterday in an automobile accident near Mineral Wells, was president of the Arab Gasoline Corporation here and had lived here nine years.
He was active in civic affairs and was a former president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce. He was a world war veteran.
Survivors are his wife and two small daughters of Eastland; his mother, Mrs. William Butler, Westchester, Pa.; two brothers, Sam, Eastland and Philadelphia; and Major General Smedley D. Butler.

Miss Lucille Keim and Miss Lucille Schaffner are visiting in Pampa today.

Tax Upon Sulphur Is Proposed as One Plan to Raise More Funds

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—The house today began its efforts to raise additional revenue as directed by Governor Moody by taking up the bill which would place a tax of $1 per ton on all sulphur produced in Texas.
Two amendments, one to make the tax 50 cents per ton, and the other to make it 35 cents per ton, were pending.
Several roll call votes indicated the $1 tax would be accepted by a large majority. However, the minority contended every step bitterly.
Both houses were handicapped by slim attendance. A tall had to be put on both branches, and the senate had only two above a quorum with every member's attendance forced.
Supporters of the sulphur bill contended the only chance to defeat it lay in failure to have a quorum present for the final vote, and to insure it they voted to lock all members in until the bill was finally disposed. Members were released for luncheon only on their personal pledges to return for the afternoon session.
Rep. Phil Sanders of Nacogdoches, author of the bill, explained that it would furnish from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 per year additional revenue for the next forty years.

Three Found Guilty

Extortion Trial Grew Out of a Local Affair

FORT WORTH, Feb. 14. (AP)—A. C. Killian, Oscar R. Fowler, and Minnie G. Martin were found guilty and Hattie May Killian was acquitted by a jury reporting in federal court today in the $25,000 "love conspiracy case."
Sealed verdict was returned at 9 o'clock last night after the jury had retired at 3 p. m. Judge Wilson opened the verdict this morning.
Judge Wilson granted a stay of two weeks to Fowler, who is a Tulsa attorney.
All but Minnie G. Martin pleaded not guilty.
The four persons were charged with a scheme to extort $25,000 from Mrs. Maggie Hopkins, Pampa ranch woman, by a threatened alienation of affections suit.
Sentence has not been passed.

Discovery Well Flowing Strong

Held down with back pressure, the new Empire well in section 13, block 7, Carson county, five miles northeast of Panhandle and five miles northwest of White Deer, produced 1,056 barrels during the 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning, or about 44 barrels per hour.
The well was allowed to attain a flow of 76 barrels per hour before it was plucked down. Its production will be curtailed until arrangements can be made to store the oil.
The company is planning to lay a pipeline to Cuyler and build a loading rack at that railroad stop which is equidistant between Panhandle and White Deer. The five 1600-barrel tanks that have been built on the location are rapidly filling. Company officials said today that the well will be pinched down more. The Humble company which has a line within 400 feet of the well announces it can't care for the oil.
The total depth of the hole is 178 feet above sea level. The bringing in of the gusher wrecked another pretty theory of the geologists who have contended there was no oil south of the "granite ridge." The well is the rankest of wildcats and it was unanimously predicted by the geologist that it would be a dry hole.

JURY IN SANITY TRIAL IS "HUNG"

EASTLAND, Feb. 14. (AP)—The jury in the E. V. Allen sanity trial reported in court here today it stood 9 to 3, but did not indicate whether it was in Allen's favor. It was sent back for further deliberation.
Allen was sentenced to death for participation in a bank robbery at Carleton, near here. A reprieve was granted him by Gov. Dan Moody after a motion for a sanity hearing was filed.

Local Man Reads Copy on Novel to Be Published Soon

Reading the copy of the fifth novel of Dr. Wm. C. Leonard, Amarillo geologist, has been completed by R. C. Campbell of this city.
Mr. Campbell was greatly pleased by the new book, which will be printed soon. It is called "Malinda of Marble Hall," and is a novel dealing with geological aspects and possibilities of the United States.
Mineralized zones having untouched sources are discussed in connection with a pleasing love theme which fits into the central idea of the book. Dr. Leonard has very definite ideas upon love and marriage, and makes much of his "love scales" idea.
He states that men and women have opposite magnetic qualities, and that armonious life together depends much upon the proper balancing of these life forces, irrespective of the love-at-first-sight factor.

Suffers Bad Injuries

MINERAL WELLS, Feb. 14. (AP)—Jack Williamson, prominent ranchman and automobile dealer of Eastland, today suffered severe injuries in an automobile accident two miles east of here. His car crashed into a concrete bridge banister.

School Heads Re-Elected—New Rules Are Made

Odus Mitchell was reelected coach of the Hoopsters for the 1930-1931 school year at a meeting of the school board yesterday.
At the same meeting, the following school officials were reelected: J. A. Meeks, principal of Baker school; R. A. Selby, principal of the Junior high school; Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of West Ward school; Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal of East Ward school; and Jack Woods, principal of Lamar school.
Mrs. J. H. Blythe was chosen scholastic census trustee for the board.
Beginning in the fall semester of 1930, the board will require that all high school teachers have a college degree in the major and minor subjects asked in teaching applications. Another requirement enacted yesterday is that all teachers, exclusive of high school teachers, must have a college degree or a permanent certificate. From now on no teacher under 20 years of age and none over 45 will be hired. A health certificate also will be required.

Supreme Court Bitterly Attacked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Undismayed by their failure to prevent the confirmation of Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice of the United States, posed him leveled an attack today on members of the senate group which opposed the supreme court and decisions which it has rendered.
Almost as soon as the senate convened, Bill Democrat, of Washington, was on his feet with the charge that the court had placed itself in politics. Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan, rushed to the defense of the court with the cry that he would not let such a challenge go unanswered.
Then the debate became general, drawing in Norris, Independent Republican, of Nebraska, leader of the anti-Hughes forces, and Walsh of Montana, acting Democratic leader, who voted against confirmation.
"This ghost will be like Banquo's and come back to plague until the people get absolute justice," shouted Norris.
The senate sat in tense silence. There was a hush in the galleries. The renewal of the discussion which has waged for days over the appointment of Mr. Hughes to succeed William Howard Taft, who had to give up his post because of ill health, was unexpected.

LOVE BILL IN EFFECT

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—Governor Dan Moody today signed and filed with the secretary of state the bill by Senator Thomas B. Visitors included Miss Barbara Dewey, Mrs. Boyd, C. A. Burton, and Frank E. Lowther of Pampa, and F. E. Murrell of Amarillo.

Presbyterian Union Apparently Nearer

DALLAS, Feb. 14. (AP)—Sentiment for union of the divergent branches of the Presbyterian church in the United States, the U. S. A., or "Northern" branch and the U. S. or "Southern," was considered strengthened here today after 100 Presbyterian ministers of the state heard Dr. Cleland B. McCreary, Chicago, moderator of the general assembly of the denomination make an appeal here last night for the union.
The movement for union was instigated in a resolution passed Wednesday at the Presbyterian Men's state-wide conference in Fort Worth, attended by more than 600 laymen and ministers.
Dr. McCreary declared in his address yesterday that "the longest step forward ever taken by the Presbyterian churches was in a convention at Pittsburgh recently when representatives of Presbyterian churches met and declared they believed the time had come for union."

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 14. (AP)—E. W. Goree was held today under $7,500 bond at Coleman, near here, charged with violation of the national motor vehicle theft act. He was arrested by Sheriff Frank Mills on request of federal agents.
Mills said federal agents had been working several months investigating automobile theft ring which operated through the southwest from Texas to California and that two other arrests had been made, W. E. Boswell at Abilene and Coleman Armstrong at Clovis, New Mexico. Mills said the ring maintained a string of stations across the Southwest, through which stolen cars were passed.

Allen and a deputy from Hays county left here today with Joe Newton, wanted in San Marcos on a charge of having participated in the robbery of the State Bank and Trust company there in 1924 when $42,000 in cash and securities were taken. WOMAN ASSERTS AN INSULT GIVEN
Roy Hannah, 27, Near Death—Wife Is Prostrated

DALLAS, Feb. 14. (AP)—Little hope for the recovery of Roy F. Hannah, 27, city traffic officer, shot twice in an altercation with Jasper Pope Pilliod, 23, police recruit, in front of the city hall today, was held by physicians at a hospital.
Mrs. Hannah was an eye witness to the shooting. She was prostrated and was under care of doctors and nurses at the hospital where her husband was fighting for his life. An insulting remark to Mrs. Hannah was said to have led to the shooting.
Pilliod was arrested immediately after the shooting and was held for investigation. He is married.
Hannah suffered wounds in the shoulders and arm.
Mrs. Hannah reported she was sitting in a automobile waiting for her husband to come off duty when the other policeman walked up, and she told her husband arrived, and said to her: "You're the woman who has been riding around with those hijackers, aren't you?" He then suggested the drive him home, she said.
As her husband approached the car, she told him she did not like the way the other policeman had spoken to her. Hannah resented the intrusion, and a fist fight followed. Then Hannah was struck in the stomach by a bullet and a second shot took effect in one arm.

Standard Oil Tankers Held for Ransom in China

CANTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—A gang of pirates operating in the West river delta south of here today seized a fleet of twelve vessels chartered by the Standard Oil company of New York and held them for ransom.
The vessels were Chinese junks and were carrying oil worth $50,000. The American consul here sent a protest to the Canton, military.
Seizure of the oil fleet climaxed an outbreak of lawlessness which has been worrying the authorities of Kwangtung province for some time. The Nationalist government, aroused by the extensive depredations, sent an expedition of troops and ordered five gunboats to proceed against the lawless element in the province.
Bandit armies, meanwhile, continued to roam through Hunan, Kiangsi, Hupei, Szechwan, Anhwei and Kiangsu provinces, pillaging towns, hampering shipping and making travel in the interior unsafe for foreigners.

"Denver" Smith Is Sentenced—Parole in Year Possibility

Decision to send Dayton "Denver" Smith to the juvenile training school at Gatesville was made yesterday afternoon by Judge Ivy E. Duncan following lengthy testimony given by "Denver" and several of his former employers.

The 15-year-old boy broke into unrestrained sobbing when he was told he would be sent to the reform school. He pleaded guilty to taking $25 in cash from the United Cigar store and $50 from Kraft's Mint Sunday night. He said that he sent a wrist watch he took from the cigar store to his twin sister in Missouri for a birthday present. His father lives in Missouri.

The boy was held in jail here once before for investigation. County Attorney John Studer and two former employers, Floyd Shaw and C. B. Akers, said the youth was "a willing worker but could not stick with his job." However they asked the judge to show leniency in sentencing him. Judge Duncan promised that if he made a good record at the school this year, he would recommend parole at the end of the year.

An acquaintance of Denver's father testified that the boy's mother died when he was a baby. He also said his father was now a deputy sheriff in Missouri, secretary of a masonic lodge, and had held various county offices for many years. He said further that the father had no control over the son.

Ford to Devote Rest of Life to Founding Schools

FORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 14. (AP)—Henry Ford has announced his intention to devote the rest of his life and $100,000,000 of his fortune to the founding of schools.

He said he had not yet decided on the number or location of the schools, but that some of them would be large institutions and that they would be situated in various parts of the country. A desire to do all in his power to help the young men of the country find their places in the world, he said, was the inspiration for his plan.

He said that society owes young people the opportunity to be educated for useful citizenship, and he intended to devote the rest of his active days to the establishment of trade schools teaching.

Having a definite plan, he said, he intended to invest his money in his own way and did not want suggestions from persons who never had made or saved a dollar on how he should spend a million.

Mr. Ford blamed much of the crime and racketeering on failure of schools to teach young men how to fit into the world. Racketeering, he described as a revolt against educational methods which he said were improper and ineffectual.

He expressed the belief that anyone should learn a trade and become sufficiently skilled in some line of work so that he could obtain employment. The schools which he plans, Mr. Ford said, would be self-supporting. Academic subjects would be taught in the lower grades and vocational subjects made available to students as soon as they were prepared for them.

Two Men Sign Statements That They Killed Boy

WOOSTER, Ohio, Feb. 14. (AP)—Assistant Prosecutor Walter J. Mougey announced today that Earl Conald, former railroad brakeman, and Charles Hanna, of Wooster, had signed statements blaming each other for slaying four-year-old Melvin Horst, missing from Orrville since Dec. 27, 1928.

Both declared the other choked and beat the child to death in Frey's garage about 5 o'clock in the afternoon the day he failed to return home for his evening meal, Mougey said.

Statements of Conald and Hanna followed the reputation by Junior, 10-year-old son of Charles Hanna, of his previous disappearance, and came as the climax to questioning which began Wednesday the prosecutor said.

Hanna said he and Conald went to the garage and had a drink and then Conald choked the boy.

The statement said Hanna was afraid to reveal what became of Melvin because Conald threatened Junior Hanna. He absolved Elias Arnold and his son, Arthur, of any connection with the affair. The Arnolds were acquitted of child stealing after a second trial.

Conald's version was that they were in the garage when Melvin came to the door. Hanna seized the child, dragged him to the automobile and was "doing something," his statement said.

Conald quoted Hanna as saying "My God, I believe I've killed him!" Conald said he heard a rumbling noise after that, but he had been "drinking too much to know what was going on," according to Mougey.

Chicago Robbers Killed by Officers

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. (AP)—Two robbers were killed last night, attesting the earnestness of the drive to clean out criminals.

Police killed one man as he was in the act of holding up a cab driver. A tradesman slew another who had entered the store with a gun in his hand.

It was a satisfactory ending, from the police standpoint, of the first five days of their city wide foray against criminals. During the day 872 persons were arrested, bringing the total for the five days to well over 3,000.

Charles E. Sutton, operating a motorcycle sales agency, shot and killed one man who attempted to hold up the store, and wounded another, who escaped.

The dead man was believed to be Manfred Allen Blunt of El Paso, Texas.

Bridal Shower Honors Mrs. Ollie E. White Thursday Afternoon

Mrs. Wilson Hatcher and Mrs. Van Carter were co-hostesses yesterday afternoon at the latter's home, 427 Yeager street, honoring Mrs. Ollie E. White, who was Mrs. Lucille Newcomb before her marriage on Wednesday evening.

Games were the principal diversion of the afternoon. All details of the party featured a rainbow color motif of seven pastel shades, with a shower of crepe paper ribbons extending from the ceiling as the central point of interest.

At the close of a series of games, the guests were told that at the end of one ribbon would be found a pot of gold. With others following their ribbons to various points in the room, the honoree found at the end of the lucky ribbon a tiny float decorated in the rainbow scheme, on which was a shower of lovely gifts from her friends. Refreshments were served after the packages had been opened.

The following were guests at the affair: Mrs. Paul Jensen, Mrs. Marion Chandler, Mrs. T. B. Solomon, Mrs. A. Paris, Mrs. T. H. Barnard, Mrs. Earl Phillips, Mrs. Jack Paris, Mrs. G. D. Parris, Mrs. L. D. Lunsford, Mrs. Ernest Fletcher, and the complimented guest, Mrs. White.

Miss Flo Elliott was hostess at one of the most enjoyable events of the week, a party for employes of the telephone company and their friends, which she gave at her home, 9156 Twiford street.

Miss Elliott was assisted by her aunt Mrs. George Coleman, and her cousin, Mrs. Albert Coleman, in entertaining. The guest list was as follows:

Mrs. Christine Smith, Mrs. Katherine Thomas, Mrs. Huletta Bartz, Mrs. Zell Harris, Miss Maxine Dinher, Miss Joyce Martin, Miss Ruby Hillard, Miss Frances Olsen, Miss Cora and Miss Nora Murray, Miss Irene Williams, Miss Estelle Nobles, Miss Opal Brown, Miss Sue McFarlane, Miss Agatha Malone, Miss Lucille Johnson.

Students Riot As Theatre Refuses to Admit Them Free

ALBION, Mich., Feb. 14. (AP)—Some 300 Albion college students went to their rooms early today after several hours of riotous celebration in the course of which they broke the doors off the city jail and forced police to accept a peace considerably less than a victory.

At least half the students were registered as police court defendants, their names having been taken by police who had failed in efforts to incarcerate them in the jail and in the back room of a theatre.

Dr. John L. Seaton, president of the college, told newspapermen the "poor sportsmanship" of a theatre owner in refusing to admit the students to his theatre should be blamed for the disturbances.

The students had stormed the theatre in celebrating a basketball victory of Albion college.

Battle Creek Food to Be Demonstrated

Miss Julia A. Bolt, representative of the Battle Creek Food company, will be in Pampa tomorrow to demonstrate foods made by her firm. She will spend most of the day at the C. & C. System store explaining and demonstrating Battle Creek Sanitarium health foods.

TEXAS BACKING PONIES IN TILT AT ARKANSAS

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Feb. 14. (AP)—Buoyed up by the old contention that there is hope until life becomes extinct, Texas members of the Southwest conference will rally 'round this week-end and give three rousing cheers for the Southern Methodist Mustangs as they invade Fayetteville for a brace of games with the Arkansas Razorbacks, perennial champions.

Ordinarily the Ponies are not that popular with their Texas colleagues. It is a case of an emergency making strange bed-fellows. Unless somebody stops the Porkers quick, the conference championship will leave Texas for the fifth straight year, and it is the Methodists' turn to try to save the day.

While the Razorbacks will be overwhelming favorites in the bouts tonight and tomorrow, there is a slim hope that the Mustangs will manage to split the series. Their surprise victory over Texas university last week revealed that they are capable of great basketball when they set their minds to it.

Coach St. Clair has drilled the Mustangs hard this week in an offense and defense calculated to upset the Razorbacks. While there is not an outstanding star in the Pony line-up, such as Arkansas boasts in Schoonover and Preitt, St. Clair has some capable dribblers in Reynolds, Brooks, Williams, Skeenters, Hammond and others. If the Mustangs get the jump on the champions, they likely will deal some misery with their super-stalling tactics.

While they will be vitally concerned in the outcome of the series at Fayetteville, the Texas Longhorns will be interested primarily in beating their old rivals, the Texas Aggies, tonight at Austin. The Aggie five, with only an even break in six games played, does not figure to extend the Steers, but Coach Walker's boys will take no chances. They realize they must win every one of their remaining five games if they are to stay in the running.

The Rice Owls, traveling fast since they broke their losing streak, countered Baylor five Saturday night at Waco. A victory would push Coach "Pug" Daugherty's speedsters up into third place in the conference standing, providing Southern Methodists and the Aggies lose, as scheduled. There is a fine possibility that the Owls will get plucked, however, as Baylor's young team looked powerful in thumping T. C. U. last Tuesday.

The standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Arkansas	5	1	.833
Texas	5	2	.714
Texas A. & M.	3	3	.500

Hughes Confirmed Despite Cries of "Big Business"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Safely past the barrier of senate approval, Charles Evans Hughes will take office Monday, Feb. 25, as the eleventh chief justice of the United States. A fiery, four-day denunciation of the distinguished statesman and jurist as the very personification of the spirit of "big business" ended last night in a vote of 52 to 26 for confirmation of his nomination. Opposition, steadily growing and recalling in its intensity the battle that developed in the senate when Andrew Jackson nominated Roger B. Taney, famed author of the Dred Scott decision, for the chief justiceship, proved numerically incapable of refusing confirmation. Frankly gratified, Mr. Hughes, in New York bespoke his appreciation of the high honor and vast responsibility that had come to him and added a public acknowledgment of his thanks for "the generous expressions" that he said he had received from all parts of the nation. "The ideals and principles relating to public service with which I entered public life twenty-five years ago and which I have tried to exemplify in public office," he said, "I hold unaltered."

HOOPER CARRIES FISHING INTO DISTANT WATERS

LONDON, Feb. 14. (AP)—With his return to Washington two days ahead of the scheduled time definitely determined, President Hoover today carried his fishing campaign into waters 25,000 miles away from his Key base. His desire to keep in more intimate touch with negotiations at the London naval conference was believed to be the president's chief reason for leaving here Saturday night for Washington. The decision was announced after Mr. Hoover was advised the French and Japanese programs had been announced.

Modest Art Will Be Teacher—Will Coach Texas Boy

DALLAS, Feb. 14. (AP)—Modest Art Shires, who wonders what a sphinx is good for, was quoted by the Dallas News today as saying he was going to wear his fists out this coming season making George Blackerby, home run slugger de luxe, make good with the Chisox.

Modest Art is the Chicago American league first baseman—when he is not under suspension and when his contract is signed—and Blackerby is a rookie outfielder from the Texas league who ambles all over the outfield and bats as well as Art talks.

Here is the way The Dallas News quotes Art as talking to George here in Dallas a few days ago: "The only difference between you and a lot of other fellows who are drawing major league salaries is that you are a better hitter than they are, but they have the confidence which you lack. You get the idea that the pitchers in the majors have an axe on you and consequently they have."

"If you were to have one day in which you slammed one of these pitchers for four out of five, they never would be able to get you out again. And you are going over this season, or I'll wear out my fists trying to make you."

Clark has knocked out within the past year Big Boy Peterson and Elzear Rioux, the first two victims of Carnera's American tour. Tyrrell said he made the match after a telephone talk with Leon See and Billy Duffy, Carnera's managers, who at Hot Springs, Ark.

CLINGMAN ADDS TO POPULARITY BY DEFEATING ROB ROY HANDILY

If Otis Clingman continues to wrestle like he did last night when he won 2 falls out of three from Rob Roy, the fans will be carrying him on their shoulders one of these Thursday nights. Clingman wrestled cleanly and skillfully every second last night while his opponent resorted to all the rough stuff he could think of—from rabbit punches to tongue-pulling.

And again, if rough play as exhibited by Tex Watkins and Leo Chase is repeated two or three times, there won't be standing room in the Pla-Mor. The fans showed they liked it for a change. The ex-gob and Chase tried harder to maim and cripple each other than they tried to win the fall. At the end of 20 minutes of biting, hair-pulling, mouth-stretching, eye-gouging, and toe-biting, the match ended right where it began—with Chase trying to pull off Watkins' ear and the sailor trying to scratch out Chase's adenoids.

The match brought the crowd to its feet. It was about the roughest match ever seen in the Pla-Mor. Watkins demonstrated last night how a sailor can get rough and it seemed that for once Chase has met his match.

Of course, Chase substituted for Billy Londos. Failure of at least one participant in the feature attraction seems to be getting to be a habit among athletes.

The crowd got their money's worth out of the Chase-Watkins bear-fight, all right, but they went to see Billy Londos. No explanation was made by the bone-crushing Greek. Roy Rob won the first fall from Clingman in 16 minutes and 20 seconds with a body slam, body scissors and arm lock, despite the fact that Clingman executed three times as many holds and had the rather slim El Paso boy in many embarrassing positions. Even in the first match Roy crawled to the ropes four times to extricate himself from holds he could not break.

The Pampa wrestler won the second fall in 10 minutes with a step-over toe-hold and an arm-hold. The third he won in 17 minutes with a series of body slams, finishing up with a body spin.

Roy demonstrated only two holds, two variations of arm holds and a toe hold. Clingman ran the whole gamut of his skill and pinned the visitor down in twenty different ways. Roy was rough in a very uncomfortable manner. He insisted on slapping Clingman at the side of the head until Referee Dotson threatened to disqualify him. Cyclone Bonds refereed the Watkins-Chase match.

Clingman delighted the fans by using the leg-split, leg scissors, the neck-snapping slam. Roy was writhing in the painful holds of Chase three-fourths of the time.

J. J. Demeibach announced from the ring that a wrestling card will be presented every Thursday night.

Program of Music and Educational Discourses Given Before P.-T.-A.

A program of outstanding interest was given yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher association in the music cottage on Central campus. Discussions of the program theme, "The Value of Music in the School and the Home," was augmented by a series of selections by pupils of the public school music department, presented under the direction of Thomas Fannell, head of the department. Piano, violin and wind instrument selections were given to demonstrate the three branches taught in the department, and pleasing numbers were sung by the girls' glee club of the high school.

Mrs. H. G. Twiford gave the principal paper of the afternoon. Mr. Fannell spoke briefly, but with point, of the need for cooperation between the citizenship and the public school music department, particularly in the early stages of the department's growth. Participation in public programs and association with older persons of musical ability would be very helpful to the young students of music, he said. He urged that the musical organizations of the school, as well as the individual pupils, be given the encouragement to be had from invitations to perform in public entertainments.

The meeting was attended by a large crowd of teachers and patrons. During a business session conducted by the president, Mrs. V. E. Fathere, the members voted the customary donation of $2.50 toward the state endowment fund of the P.-T.-A.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKamey and Mrs. H. L. Greene are business visitors in Amarillo today.

Six Tables in Play at Party Given by Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Simmons

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Simmons gave one of the most attractive of the parties of the week, when they entertained Wednesday evening with bridges for twenty-two guests. The valentine motif was developed in elaborate detail, with a red and white color theme. An exchange of valentines among the guests was a novel feature of the affair. Each person received a greeting, together with a heart-shaped box of candy, from a valentine theme.

Mrs. L. H. Rodgers, who made high score, and Mrs. R. W. Hskey, who made top cut, received heart-shaped red orandy tea aprons as favors. F. W. Byrd, scoring high for men, received a novel pencil holder. Mrs. F. W. Byrd and L. A. Dennison were consoled for low scores with large chocolate hearts. Mr. Dennison also made high cut for men, and received a pin on handkerchief.

The refreshments served at the conclusion of the games stressed the motif and the favored color scheme. Following is the list of players: Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Post, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dennison, Mr. and Mrs. De Lee Vicars, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Polard, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Byrd, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McNamara, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kasishke, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kiskey, Mrs. Paul Shepherd, and Miss Wilna Chapman.

Prison Measure Has Little Chance to Survive Now
 AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—Penitentiary legislation in conference, fee system bills on the way to conference and the investigati onof charges against Comptroller S. H. Terrell postponed until Monday, the two houses of the special session of the legislature were doubtful of quorums today.

The house and senate had disagreed over provisions of the bill changing the fee system statutes. The senate enacted a measure directing all officers to report their fees of office and placing a flat maximum of $12,500 on any one year's earnings regardless of population. The house turned this draft down, and submitted the idea of Rep. R. M. Hubbard of New Boston to place a graduated scale of maximums, according to population, into effect, limiting earnings of officers in counties of 150,000 or over to $12,500. The Hubbard version required all officers to account for their fees.

The bill of Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas giving courts of civil appeals or the supreme court jurisdiction in mandamus concerning actions of political party executive committees—state and county—had been sent to Governor Moody for his signature. Senator Love and the senate concurred in a house amendment requiring the application for mandamus to be filed in the appellate court district in which the committee man complained or resided.

The penitentiary legislation conference committee had agreed not to hold another meeting before tomorrow. The sessions they had held were not productive of a start towards dissolution of the deadlock between the houses. The senate rid itself of the appropriation bill making provisions for summer schools and meeting other emergencies of state institutions, there was a question if the house committee would consider it until the governor formally submitted the subject, and the legislature had his word he would not do this until some additional revenue had been created. The house was trying to do this through a tax on sulphur, other natural resources and chain stores, but little time remained to pass revenue raising measures and get them considered by the senate.

IT WOULD BE WORTH MUCH TO EVERY PARENT TO KNOW THAT THE BOY OF THE HOUSEHOLD PLAYED AND WORKED IN GOOD COMPANY.

It is a fact that the boy companions have as much or more to do with the formation of attitudes and habits than the parents, particularly of the busy business man who happens to be a father. Habits of life are formed very early, as any man will realize by thinking back over his own experiences.

Boys have more leisure now than in the old days. Groups of boys are larger. Opportunities for good or evil are more numerous. It would seem that boys would need little attention, but such is not the case. Criminal statistics show that crimes of today are mostly by young men—grown-up boys who did not have the right companionships.

The price of good environment for boys is not great. The Boy Scouts, properly fostered by adult leaders, offer one solution. Of the thousands of Boy Scouts who have attained Eagle Scout ranking very few, if any, have been convicted in the courts. The record speaks for itself. A son who is an upright, well-trained Scout is a joy to any parent.

Moreover, the Boy Scout movement is not failing to reach most boys because of the youths' lack of interest, but because adults are not giving the movement the needed attention. Boys' work should mean companionship of boys with real men—the most wholesome relationship known except that of a boy with his parents.

The appeal that Scouting holds is also demonstrated by the manifestation of interest on the part of the rural boys, who may not belong to troops in many cases. The Lone Scout organization, founded by the Chicago publisher who brought the Boy Scout movement to America from England, flowered as a separate organization and later was merged with the original body. At one time there were hundreds of Lone Scouts in the Panhandle. Of this latter organization the Tulsa Tribune, sponsor of boys' welfare, said recently:

"The Lone Scout—The Boy Scouts of America is a logical institution for the city boy. It takes him out into the country. It releases him from the congestion of city life. It unfolds for him the panorama of open spaces. It takes him back to nature. It has thrived in our cities because it is essentially a city enterprise. It requires a certain number of boys to make up a Scout unit. It is a ederation of youth. "But how about the country boy, the country boy who lives on an isolated farm, miles away from even a small country village? These farm boys, and much more the ranch boys, could not conveniently get together for the purpose of organizing a scout unit.

"Recognizing the worth of the Boy Scout plan and finding the idea succeeding so handsomely on American soil, Colonel Boyce carried his plan farther and conceived a complementary organization known as the Lone Scouts of America.

"The Lone Scouts of America appealed to the farm or ranch boy. He could have none of the joys of contact and fellowship with other Scouts, he could follow no Scout leader, he could receive none of the personal lessons and attentions from a Scout trainer. But he could teach himself.

"The Lone Scout movement, like the Boy Scout movement, has grown to enormous proportions. The Lone Scouts are organized nationally. Leaflet literature is mailed to its members which gives them instructions in woodcraft, natural history and all the tricks and training which the Boy Scouts receive from Scout leaders.

"To advance from one stage to another in the climb for honor and merit decorations, the Lone Scout examines himself, with the aid of lesson leaflets he marks his own examinations, grades himself and reports on his progress to his sectional master by mail.

"In describing this movement Colonel Boyce once said that he had been amazed and made happy by the revelation of the Lone Scout training. It was a training that depended solely upon honor, honesty to one's self. The Lone Scout was trained to believe that he cheated nobody but himself when he graded himself above his worth. He was taught to realize that it wasn't any fun to cheat yourself. You were not going to get anywhere by cheating yourself.

"After watching the process of the Lone Scout movement for several years, Colonel Boyce maintained that he did not believe that as much as half of one per cent of the Lone Scouts in America ever returned a false statement as to their accomplishment and the grades they earned on the examinations which they made for and of themselves. As a teacher of honesty, self-respect, self-analysis and self-encouragement the Lone Scout movement is probably without parallel in American educational agencies.

"The Boy Scouts of America may well celebrate their 20th anniversary. They have built a great record in the twenty years. Through their own activities and activities of their associate organization, the Lone Scouts, they have launched one of the greatest character building enterprises in our country, an institution which gives the future of America great assurance."

TWINKLES

A Maine man has worn the same coat and hat for 50 years. Is he, or not, a slave to fashion. Certainly he never succumbed to more than one style, but the recurrence of style cycles likely put him "in" a number of times in half a century.

Well, now the colleges are talking of limiting arms—Chicago and Princeton will not "scout" each other. Yeah, we can imagine the old grads of both institutions shutting their eyes to tricks of the opposition.

"They don't forget me soon," remarks a Romeo, displaying a pretty valentine.

Basketball is blamed for the measured movements of a number of business men who engaged in recent contests. Now we know why golf is the game for the "tired business man".

This is a great country, but there is also China, backward in many things, but with a record of not a single bank failure in more than 900 years.

A girl started sobbing the other day and nearly died because she couldn't quit. Husbands, give this as a warning to wife next time the sobs start, preparatory to that tale about the need of a new "creation".

Dallas' hot-dog mayor is quarreling with his commission. That ought to arouse plenty of expressions of "Hot Dog!"

"Wonderful Is Konjola", Says Sedalia Man

Suffered Twelve Years—Found First and Only Relief in New Medicine

MR. GEORGE H. ROBESON
 "Wonderful is Konjola," said Mr. George H. Robeson, 714 East Ninth street Sedalia. "I suffered for twelve years with illness of the stomach, liver and kidneys. I boasted frightfully after meals and became short of breath and dizzy. Bilious attacks frequently left me with headaches that lasted for days at a time. Frequent bladder actions and severe back pains made sleep impossible for any length of time. I was badly run down generally.
 "Imagine my surprise and delight when, after taking a few bottles of this great medicine, I began to improve rapidly. Today I never suffer from stomach disorder and eat heartily. My liver functions properly and I am no longer subject to bilious attacks or headaches. My kidneys responded to this treatment, and bladder actions are normal and the back pains have gone. I sleep well at night, my appetite is good and I am gaining in strength and weight."
 Konjola is sold in Pampa at the City Drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for February 16, 1933. General Topic: Jesus Healing and Helping.

Scripture Lesson. Matt. 9:1-13. Matt. 9:1. And He entered into a boat, and crossed over and came into His own city.

2. And behold, they brought to Him a sick man of the palsy, lying on a bed; and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, be of good cheer; thy sins are forgiven.

3. And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4. And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

5. For which is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and walk?

6. But that ye may know that the Son of man hath authority on earth to forgive sins (then saith He to the sick of the palsy), Arise, and take up thy bed, and go unto thy house.

7. And he arose, and departed to his house.

8. But when the multitudes saw it, they were afraid, and glorified God, who had given such authority unto men.

9. And as Jesus passed by from thence, He saw a man, called Matthew, sitting at the place of toll; and He saith unto him, Follow Me, and he arose, and followed Him.

10. And it came to pass, as He sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and His disciples.

11. And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto His disciples, Why eateth your Teacher with the publicans and sinners?

12. But when He heard it, He said, They that are whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick.

13. But go ye and learn what this meaneth, I desire mercy, and not sacrifice; for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

Golden Text: Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases. Matt. 8:17.

Introduction

In the beginning of the study of the miracles recorded in the gospel according to Matthew it needs to be recalled that Matthew is not a historical writing in chronological order. He is not a biographer giving consecutive incidents in the life of Christ. The ten miracles found in the eighth and ninth chapters of our Gospel are not grouped in chronological order, but are grouped in logical order, a logical order, the order of Matthew's thought and purpose. In the Sermon on the Mount Christ sketched the character of the person who is to be the result of His work. The miracle in the two chapters (8 and 9) are given to show Christ's ability to produce this character. They declare that Christ is Saviour by showing that He is able to do what He professes to do—save from sin. The effect of sin is threefold; sin excludes the sinner from the service of God, from fellowship with God, and from life with God, and ends in death. The removal of this threefold effect of sin is necessary to the salvation of men.

Ten Miracles

- 1. A leper healed.
- 2. The centurion's servant healed.
- 3. Peter's mother-in-law healed.
- 4. The tempest stilled.
- 5. The Gadarene demoniacs healed.
- 6. The woman that touched His garment healed.
- 7. The daughter of Jairus raised from the dead.
- 8. Two blind men healed.
- 9. A dumb demoniac healed.
- 10. The Palsied man healed.

Let us give especial attention to at least four of these miracles: The first, the fourth, the seventh, and the tenth.

A Leper Healed

The first of the miracles selected is the healing of a leper. In Matthew's purpose it heads the list because leprosy in Jewish ritual was the symbol of sin. The leper was unclean; he could not enter a dwelling, the tabernacle or temple; he was prohibited from engaging in public worship, from offering any sacrifice; he was compelled to dwell apart and was debarred from association with the people of God (cf. Lev. 13: Numbers 5:1-4). The leper was excluded from the service of Jehovah. The cleansing faith of the leper—"If thou wilt, thou canst"—is answered immediately by "I will, be cleansed." And straightway his leprosy was cleansed. The leper was commanded to obtain a certificate of purification by showing himself to the priests and offering the gift that Moses directed, and thus be restored to the privileges of service and a place with the servants of God.

The Tempest Stilled

This miracle is one of the few events which show our Lord's supremacy in the natural world which He had created with the Father. Seeking relief from the pressure of the multitude who were clamorous for healing, He was crossing, with His disciples to the eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee when one of the sudden, violent storms for which that low-lying body of water is famed struck their little boat, and the waves washed it so that the disciples, hardy fishermen as some of them were, perhaps the majority, were terrified. But Jesus was calmly sleeping with His head on the helmsman's cushion, unmindful of the fearful tempest; and when He awakened He rebuked His disciples for their little faith, since after such a day as they had witnessed they should have been moved themselves to see what faith would do in an emergency. Then with a few quiet words He calmed the wind and rested on a peaceful sea.

Raised From the Dead
Jairus was a ruler, a member of a committee of synagogue managers, and his dear little daughter was on her death-bed when in despair he sent for Jesus. Doubtless he was impatient enough at the slight delay caused by the cure of the woman who touched Christ in the throng, especially when news came that the little girl had died. But Jesus moved quietly on, entered Jairus' house and made His way to the dead body with only the girl's father and mother and His three most intimate disciples, Peter, James and John. Then He took the inanimate body by the hand and said, "Maiden, arise." And her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately.—Luke 8:54, 55.

This was the first miracle Jesus wrought upon the dead, and it stands forth the highest proof yet given of His divine power. His other miracles have left all earthly physicians at an infinite distance. He has accomplished by a word, a touch, a look, what all their skill and remedies through long years of treatment failed to do. But when He comes to stand in the presence of death and pluck the victim from the iron grasp of the skeleton himself, then Jesus absolutely stands alone. There is no rival who will attempt to measure power with Him here.

Palsied Man Healed
One of the most picturesque and instructive of Christ's miracles, was the tenth, contained in our two chapters, the healing of the palsied man at Capernaum. It is reported by the first three evangelists; see Mark 2:1-12; Luke 5:18-26. Externally, it is remarkable for the means by which the sick man was brought to Jesus; inferiorly, for the connection between the man's sin and his sickness which Jesus pointed out. "And He entered into a boat." The boat, perhaps Peter's, which had brought Him to the eastern shore of the lake. "And crossed over." To the western shore. "And came into His own city." Capernaum, His city by adoption since He was driven from Nazareth. Emphatically His own city, since the Gadarenes had urged Him to leave their country (Matt. 8:34). "And behold, they brought to Him a man sick of the palsy." Palsy (paralysis) is "a disease characterized by extreme loss of the power of motion dependent on some affection either of the motor centers of the brain or of the spinal cord. It is always serious, usually intractable, and generally sudden in onset." "Lying in bed." The usual palsy of this mattress, spread on the floor and rolled up and put away when not in use. The sick man was carried by four friends, each holding one corner of the pallet.

The Special Lesson
This is the lesson of the ten miracles. They were all worked out of love to the suffering, but when the further aim to prove to all mankind that Christ can forgive sin. "Christ alone can forgive sin. He can cure it—not discuss it, not rebuke and condemn and threaten it, but Christ can cure sin! That is why He is not forgotten, and why, as long as the heart can remember, Jesus will be loved—Christianity is the only religion with a gospel, the only religion that can cleanse the guilty stains from the soul."—Rev. James J. Vance, D. D., LL.D.

The Call of Matthew
"And as Jesus passed from thence, from the house where He had just healed the palsied man. "He saw a man, called Matthew." Levi was his other name. He had two names, like John Mark, Simon Peter, Saul Paul. "Sitting at the place of toll." He belonged to the class of publicans or tax-collectors, so bitterly hated by the Jews because they served their Roman masters and because of their frequent extortions. Matthew's customs booth would be near the lake, on the outskirts of Capernaum, on the important road running from Damascus down to Egypt. "And He saith unto him, Follow me." This was doubtless far from the beginning of Christ's acquaintance with him, the climax of many conversations. "And he arose, and followed Him." Matthew had a lucrative post, and he was a busy man, but he closed his books, locked up his money drawer, resigned his position, and proved the sincerity of his conversion by leaving all his worldly interests and following the Saviour. Thus simply and modestly, in a single verse, does Matthew record the greatest step in his life. He was in the habit of keeping accounts, and though we are not told that he won disciples or organized churches or worked or preached sermons, he served the Kingdom wonderfully when he wrote this Gospel which we are studying.

JUDITH CAMERON, typist in a New York publishing house, marries ARTHUR KNIGHT, executive of the department in which she works. Knight is a widower with a daughter, TONY, 18, and in Paris, and a son, JUNIOR, 16, at school. A blissful honeymoon in Bermuda is interrupted by a cablegram that Tony is on her way to America. Judith and Arthur call to meet her. When Knight brings his daughter to their Long Island home the girl ignores her stepmother. Later she tells Judith she must leave the house. Knight, overhearing, forces Tony to apologize. The girl spends much of her time with MICKEY MORTIMER, base amusement-seeker whom she met in Paris. As days pass a state of armed neutrality exists between Tony and Judith. Junior arrives home for the holidays and treats Judith with aloof politeness. Christmas proves to be a dismal day with both children away from home and all Knight's eager preparations are wasted. Judith is uncomfortable until the boy returns to school. A letter comes from AUNT HELENE, who had chaperoned Tony in Europe, telling Knight of the girl's affair with Mortimer. Tony easily persuades her father that her aunt has misjudged her. ANDY CRAIG, a young man Knight has helped through college, calls on Tony. Craig is to be employed in the legal department of publishing house. He has loved Tony for years—rather hopelessly. One afternoon Judith encounters Craig unexpectedly. She is annoyed at her embarrassment. Because time hangs heavily on her hands, Arthur suggests that Judith should have the house redecorated. Craig calls frequently and one evening when Tony refuses to accompany him to a dog show at Madison Square Garden, Judith goes. Tony, left alone with her father, tells him it is Judith and not herself whom Craig comes to the house to see. Knight denies this and Tony surprises Judith by asking her to have lunch with her in town next day. Judith keeps the appointment and is met by Andy Craig, who explains Tony asked him to meet her. The two are together when Tony arrives half an hour later with her father.

The two are together when Tony arrives half an hour later with her father.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXII
 It was one of those situations which seem so simple and easy to explain but which, in reality, often cause the most difficulty. She looked at him with surprise at sight of her husband brought the hot color to Judith's cheeks. Then, aware of the flush she became embarrassed. Andy Craig had risen, smiling. Andy looked as though he were trying to mend a bad situation. "Well," he said, "Tony—Mr. Knight, this is a surprise."
 "Yes, isn't it?" giggled Tony Knight. "And—my goodness! look at Judith's cheeks, will you! Don't tell me you haven't been up to secrets, you two. Oh, but it's becoming, Judith! Wasn't it sweet of father to leave his stuffy old office and come off to lunch with me? But I never dreamed of finding you two here!"
 Arthur Knight had not spoken. Before Judith could get in a quick word of defense against the younger girl's implications her husband said:
 "Hello, Judith. How're you, Craig? Tony and I seem to have interrupted a little party here! You—don't mind if we join you?"
 "Why, certainly not. Here, hadn't we all better move to a larger table?" Judith arose and the others followed. "So you got here at last," Craig said to Tony. "We were beginning to think you weren't coming!"
 "You thought I wasn't coming?" cooed Tony. "Don't be silly, dearie! You weren't thinking anything of the sort, Andy Craig. You were staring into Judith's eyes and I'll bet you were making love to her, too. Was he, Judith?" She turned sweetly toward her stepmother.
 Inwardly Judith was raging, but the pink flush had died in her cheeks and she had regained her composure. She was fuming at herself for having fallen such an easy victim to Tony Knight's scheming. Even now Judith did not understand the significance of the plot. She was angry at Arthur. For a moment his eyes had met hers and she had certainly read accusation in that glance.

Without allowing her a word of explanation Arthur seemed to have convicted her of coming to this place for lunch with Andy Craig. As though there were anything so very dreadful about that, even if she had done it! So she answered Tony sarcastically: "Oh, yes. Of course Andy was making love to me. He was beginning to quote the balcony scene from 'Romeo and Juliet.' Most unfortunate that you should have interrupted."
 Craig laughed shortly. He was uncomfortably aware of the unrest in the atmosphere.
 "Don't you believe her," he said, addressing himself to Arthur Knight. "I believe I've succeeded in making your daughter jealous at last. Hurray!"
 One of the blue-eyed waitresses (it was the pretty one whom Judith had been admiring) approached with menu cards. Tony immediately turned the conversation into a discussion of foods. She named an array of dishes, waited while the girl wrote them down, suddenly changed her mind and issued a new order. It was some time before the commotion ended.
 Then Tony leaned back in her chair and glanced from one face to another about the table.
 "Oh, you naughty, naughty dears, you!" she said, indicating Judith and Andy with a nod. "Did you think that you would just slip off by yourselves and have a quiet little lunch?"
 She laughed in sly, bantering tone. "I know what they'll tell us, father." she continued. "They're going to tell you, both of them, that they were waiting for me to come and join the party. A very nice alibi, my dears, but I've spoiled it for you by thinking of it first."
 Tony finished with a flourish of vindictive laughter.
 "Say, Tony, what is this—a frame-up?"
 Andy, who had spoken, was clearly disturbed. The girl was quick to soothe his ruffled feelings.
 "Now, now, Andy. Mustn't show temper. Must be nice, good little boy cause then Tony's going to let you take her to see the movies tonight."
 "But look here, Mr. Knight. You didn't think—!"
 "Oh, no. Of course not," Arthur calmed him. "I know Tony's only talking nonsense."
 Judith felt there was nothing she could contribute to this horrible luncheon. She wished it would be over quickly. Arthur was avoiding her eyes, glancing about the room in a nervous, uneasy way.
 The waitress brought soup and the dish of fruit which Judith had ordered. There was a long period of delay following this first course.
 Knight looked at his watch.
 "Great Scott! Nearly two o'clock. I can't waste all afternoon in this damned place," Tony! What on earth did you ever bring me here for? Listen—excuse me, will you, Judith. Andy? I'm going out and get some real food. Here—" she tossed a bill down on the table—"this ought to cover the check. Tell the waitress. I couldn't wait."

At length the luncheon was served and eaten. Tony babbled on constantly, very cheerful and gay. Andy Craig had little to say and Judith, of the three, was quietest.
 "Are you going to drive back with me, Tony?" she asked as the last dishes were being removed.
 "Like to," the girl responded carelessly, "but I've got my own car outside and I'm picking up Lois and Jamie at three o'clock. By the way, Andy, I'm having dinner in town tonight but you can call for me at the house at 8:30."
 Craig agreed to be there. He was agitated over the delay and already late to report to work. At last all three arose and walked toward the entrance.
 Bert was waiting at the curb in the big car.
 "Goodby," Judith called as she stepped into the limousine. Tony and Andy were to walk down the block. They turned, smiled and Tony even waved a gay signal or farewell. "You can drive me home, I guess," Judith told the driver.

 Two blocks distant they were retarded by the tides of traffic and the girl suddenly changed her mind. She had been a fool, she told herself, to let Tony succeed with her evil mischief making.
 Judith addressed Bert through the speaking tube. She asked him to drive to Hunter Brothers' headquarters.

When they reached the familiar granite structure the girl stepped out on the pavement and asked the chauffeur to wait. It would take no more than 15 or 20 minutes, she assured him, before she would be back.
 Judith went into the building, rode up to the tenth floor in the familiar elevator car and then approached Arthur Knight's office.
 It was the first time she had been in the Hunter building since her marriage. How exactly the same the place looked! And yet—how different! It was satisfying to know she was wearing her most becoming outfit.
 She walked directly to Kathryn Tupper's office, which was in front of Arthur Knight's private quarters.
 Mrs. Tupper looked up, started to speak and then checked her. "What time do you do, Miss Knight?" Judith asked quietly. "I have come to see my husband. Will you tell him Mrs. Knight is waiting, please?"
 For an instant it seemed Kathryn Tupper was going to remain in her seat. Then she arose slowly.
 "Yes, indeed, Mrs. Knight," the woman said. She placed on accent on the words, "Mrs. Knight," bringing them out unpleasantly.
 Mrs. Tupper left the room and Judith dropped into a chair while she waited. It was some time before the private secretary returned.
 "Mr. Knight is in conference," she said tartly. "He said he could see you in about 30 minutes, if you care 'to wait.'"
 "But, did you tell him—?" Judith began in a slightly bewildered voice.
 "Yes," said Mrs. Tupper decisively. "I told him Mrs. Knight was here."
 Judith arose.
 "You may tell Mr. Knight," she said, "that I have gone on." She was very pale and her chin was held high as she stepped into the car and directed Bert to drive her home.
 Judith had come to Arthur's office in a repentant mood. She wanted to tell him the whole story of the luncheon episode. She wanted to make it clear that she had not been seeking a private interview with Andy Craig. And his answer had been that he would "see her in about 30 minutes!"

 The young wife was more upset by this announcement than by the affair at The Rookery. That had been Tony's misdoing. This was a thrust from Arthur himself.

 Rebellious, feeling deeply abused, Judith rode home. She did not glance at the landscape as they passed along. At last they reached the house.
 Harriet opened the door for her and Judith entered. There were a few instructions to be given to the housekeeper. Then Judith Knight hurried up the stairs to her own room, closed the door behind her, locked it and threw off her hat and coat.
 With a little sob she sank to the bed and let the tears come.
 Twenty minutes later Judith had dried her eyes. She walked over to her writing desk, drew out notepaper, pen and ink.
 A long time she stared at the blank sheet. There was the old haunted look in Judith's eyes. Suddenly she began to write:
 The words which she set down were:

TRIED ALL KINDS OF LAXATIVES
 Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Gave Only Permanent Relief
 As everybody knows, the market is flooded with cathartics, pills and patent compounds for the relief of constipation. At best, whatever results are obtained are temporary. Besides, there is the danger in certain drugs: a bad habit-forming menace.
 Mr. P. M. Fisher, 517 Olive Street, Scranton, Pa., has something to say on this subject which will be interesting to all constipation sufferers. He says:
 "For many years I suffered from constipation and used for relief all kinds of laxatives. After a few days' treatment, I would only find my condition the same as before and at times worse."
 "Some time ago I started to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly, once a day as directed. Since doing this, I have found that I do not need any other medicine to procure the desired result, and it keeps me in a very healthful condition."
 Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded.
 In addition, it adds needed iron to the diet. You will like its delicious flavor. There are many delightful ways to eat it. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

When the Stock Exchange became overburdened with the transactions of its members and their customers—it shut down in order to catch up with the business.
 This is a simple and effective method of meeting the problems of excess demand.
 But the light and power company, faced with a similar problem of unusual demand, has no such solution. It must be ready, night and day, every day, to meet any and all demands.
 It cannot shut down temporarily in order to catch up with its business; on the contrary, it must always anticipate and be just a little bit ahead of it.
 That is why an ample supply of steady, dependable light and power for factory, store and home, is always available.

WASHINGTON
DAYBOOK

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—One of the most adept men in the senate chiding, although less generally known than some of the others, is the tall, sparsely haired Sam Shortridge of California.

Most of the time Shortridge is painfully dignified. But on these rare occasions when he steps out of character to razz one of his colleagues, there are few able to do the job more effectively.

Just before the senate adjourned for the holidays was one of these occasions and Brookhart of Iowa was the target.

Brookhart, who had been praising the success of cooperative banking systems abroad as compared to those in this country, was questioned by Shortridge as to why people of those countries were praying to come to America if they have been so successful and we such failures.

Iowa vs. California
 Brookhart replied that it was for the same reason Shortridge left Iowa and went to California.

"Things got too thick for him in Iowa, so he had to go out where there was more territory."

"Oh, no," said Shortridge, "everybody wants to go to California, and the desire of Hawkeyes to locate in the Golden state has almost depopulated Iowa."

"Iowans are coming back to Iowa now," Brookhart shot back, "because they can't get enough to live on any longer in California."

Shortridge's reply was softly persuasive:

"If Hawkeyes are returning to Iowa, it is because they have made enough money to return, pay off their mortgages and live happily ever after."

They would have kept this up indefinitely had not Walsh of Massachusetts implored:

"Let us not get into a discussion of the merits and demerits of California or we will be here all evening."

"I beg pardon of Massachusetts," said Senator Sam with a bow.

Heckling

He sat down, but at every opportunity during the remainder of Brookhart's speech he heckled. When the Iowa senator attacked the farm board policies and said part of the blame rested on the shoulders of Shortridge, the latter suggested:

"Let me share the blame with 95 other senators."

Then Shortridge wanted to know if Brookhart himself didn't vote for the farm bill, and, when answered in the affirmative, invited him to share the responsibility.

Brookhart wound up praising again the cooperative banking systems abroad, praising especially the small band of men who started the "little store in Toad Lane (Great Britain)" which has now grown into a large cooperative system.
