LOVE BILL GOVERNING NAMES ON BALLOTS IS APPROVED

BITTER DEBATE ON BILL RAGES THIS MORNING

But Measure Passes by Overwhelming
24-1 Vote

FEE SYSTEM IS HOUSE SUBJECT

Prison Legislation to Reach the Free
Conference

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (P)—The senate today passed the bill of Senator Thomas B. Love providing for writs of mandamus to compel members of the executive committees of a political party and election officials to place the name of a candidate on the ballot after Love had succeeded in withdrawing from the measure his amendment requiring the courts to act prior to the time set for the committee and officials to act under the law. The bill would give original jurisdiction to courts of civil appeals and the supreme court.

The bill was passed by a 24 to 1 vote, Senator A. J. Wirts of Sequim voting in the negative while two senators paired.

An amendment by Senator Deberry confining the suit to the civil court of appeals in the district in which the controversy arises was incorporated in the bill.

The state Democratic executive committee recently instructed itself at a special session here to bar from the 1630 primary ballots names of candidates who bolted the 1928 party presidential nominees when it meets to make up the ballot on the second Saturday in June. Senator Love, who admitted he refused to vote for the Smith electors, had announced his candidacy for governor subject to the primaries.

While the senate spent its time considering the Love bill, which stirred bitter debate with Senator A. J. Wirts of Sequim pounding away at the measure, the house was setting as special order for this afternoon the bill which would revamp the fee system.

The first skirmish in the fight to limit fees of county and state officials occurred in the house when a bill by Rep. Jack Keller of Dallas, equalizing fees received by constables in civil process suits with those of sheriffs, passed first reading by a vote of 56 to 42.

Keller's bill raised the fee of 70 cents for each process which constables have been receiving to $1, the fee paid sheriffs.

The house compromise penitentiary rehabilitation bill was sent to the senate, and the senate committee on penitentiaries reported it out with recommendations that it pass. The committee had been unfavorable to the Austin-site measure endorsed by the senate as a committee of the whole and later passed to engrossment.

Senator Edgar Witt of Waco, sponsor of the Austin-site measure, said he would move to substitute his bill for the house draft, and should the senate concur the bill would go back to the house. The house would likely refuse to concur, thus placing penitentiary centralization in a free conference committee.

Baker Team Is Again Victorious

The girls' playground ball team of Baker school won its second victory over the East Ward team Friday afternoon, taking the big end of a 28 to 2 score on its home field. In the first contest between the two teams, Baker won 6 to 5 in a game at the East Ward field.

Before the visitors returned to their school, the host team served heart-shaped sandwiches and hot chocolate. Miss Helen Anderson of Baker and Miss Mildred Stewart of East Ward are coaches of the rival teams. Much interest in the sport is current at both schools.

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD PAMPA WOMAN TOLD

FORT WORTH, Feb. 11. (P)—Mrs. W. A. Taylor, acquaintance of A. C. Killian and Minnie G. Martin in Oklahoma City, testified today in the "love conspiracy case" in United States court that the pair had informed her of fleeing Mrs. Maggie Hopkins, wealthy Pampa widow, of a sum of money by spurious marriage offers and had invited her to aid in a similar scheme against John Hopkins, son of the ranchwoman.

The government added Mrs. Taylor's testimony in their case against the four on trial for mail fraud—Killian, Mrs. Martin, Hattie Maye Killian, and Oscar R. Fowler, Tulsa attorney. It is charged their deception resulted in obtaining $25,000 from the ranch woman.

MANY PARRISH BILLS FAVORED IN SENATE HEARING

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (P)—Approval of a bill which would bar tax collectors from instituting suit against a county for fees erroneously paid into the treasury was given last night at a meeting of the state affairs committee of the senate. The bill was introduced by Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock.

Argument on the bill was intense with representatives of the tax collectors and of the various counties present, the former holding to the contention that debts of this nature were legal and ought to be paid and the latter stating that many of the suits were for such enormous sums that county treasuries in many instances would be depleted if judgment were rendered.

In supporting the bill, Senator Tom Deberry of Red River stated the legislature had done a great wrong in ever enacting a bill giving the tax collectors the right to sue. The Parrish bill would reestablish the statute of limitations as the defense of the county against tax collectors suits.

Lennie Skaggs of Panhandle was a visitor in Pampa today.

One of the biggest celebrations ever held in this county is being planned for the opening of the courthouse March 1 by the county commissioners.

As an inducement for every citizen of Gray county to attend the big celebration, the county is planning to barbecue 25 beeves and provide other forms of food for the visitors.

The commissioners in their regular meeting yesterday discussed plans to make the day a gala one for the entire county. Various forms of entertainments are being considered. It is planned to bring some well-known speakers here.

Commissioners were advised again yesterday that the courthouse will be completed and ready for occupancy March 1.

Phillips Plant in Gray County Will Be Largest

When enlarging of Phillips gasoline plant three miles west of LeFors is completed its production of 120,000 gallons per day will be larger than any other gasoline plant in the U. S. A.

This information was made public today by officials of the company who announced that the nine units being added to the plant will be completed in 15 days. The plant will then comprise 30 units. The first 21 units were built about six months ago. Ben Williams is superintendent of the plant.

The largest gasoline plant in the Panhandle at present is the Phillips plant at Borger. It has 30 units but its production capacity will not be as large as the LeFors plant.

Eighteen Hundred Gallons of Booze Destroyed Today

... and the whiskey came trickling through the channels of the rock," was the literal truth this afternoon when the old dumping ground ran red with whiskey and wine as Sheriff E. S. Graves and his deputies emptied 1,800 gallons of bootleg liquor.

In emptying the illicit liquor, Sheriff Graves obeyed the orders issued last November by Judge W. R. Ewing at the close of the court term. All the liquor was seized by officers of the sheriff's department in raids during the last year. The 1,800 gallons, based on the current price of $3 a pint, was valued at $43,200.

Approximately 300 gallons left in the store room of the sheriff's department in the courthouse will be used as evidence in the 100 liquor cases on the docket that are scheduled to be tried in the next term of court.

The liquor was hauled to the dumping grounds in a large truck. Weights of the intoxicants and the jars, kegs, and bottles was approximately 27,000 pounds. The truck was piled high with the fruit jars, bottles and kegs, the red whiskey and wine glistening and sending out beams in the sun. A large crowd congregated around the courthouse as the liquor was being transferred from the storeroom to the truck.

Said Sheriff Graves as he pointed to the truck: "That's an answer to my critics as to whether I have attempted to enforce the prohibition law!"

Mrs. M. A. Crofts, a member of the East Ward faculty, visited her sister, Mrs. C. A. Barker, also of Pampa, at St. Anthony's hospital Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Barker, a teacher in the local schools for several years, recently underwent an operation at the Amarillo hospital, and her sister took up her work as teacher.

Commissioner M. M. Newman of McLean was a business visitor here today.

'GOOD PEOPLE' GIVEN BLAME

State Must Step in if Citizens Fail,
He Says

Playing corruption in public office and sharply denouncing citizens who fail to use the ballot box to produce clean government, Clem Calhoun, prosecuting attorney of the 84th judicial district, last night in an address here declared that when a community permits criminals to get control the state government must take a hand.

Speaking at the request of the Law and Order League in a crowded district courtroom, the man whom Gov. Moody sent to clean up Borger last fall asserted that it was a "sad, sad day when criminals, thugs and bootleggers can bribe officers so as to take charge of the government."

"When I first went to Borger," Calhoun said, "the officers hoped that these bootleggers, but much later was being sold, yet during the clean-up we found that whiskey was being sold in 42 joints on main street. Now, whenever you see a condition like that existing you can just be certain that the officers are either crooked or dumb; they're either mean or ignorant, and one is just as bad as the other."

"When there are wide-open joints selling liquor in a town, there are either a bunch of crooked officers or they are too dumb to be in office."

Mr. Calhoun said that once an officer took money from a bootlegger, he was lost. "After that there's no use trying to enforce the prohibition laws; the bootleggers have him. Violation of the prohibition law is followed by theft, hijacking, and then murder. If officers overlook violations of prohibition laws, they'll soon be overlooking violations of all laws."

The district attorney urged all voters to "quit bending the knee to crooked officers and criminals." He said no citizen ought to vote for an officer that drinks liquor. "When you vote," he said, "take into consideration a man's courage, honesty, and integrity before anything else."

He blamed the present non-enforcement of laws on the indifference of the "good people who are not on the job."

The speaker said that when he first went to Borger during Martial law, nobody would talk; grand juries and petit juries were intimidated. The good people of the town were afraid of being pistol-whipped by the officers if they told what they knew about the bootleg ring.

He said there were 350,000 criminals in the United States at present, and 300 murders every year to each million inhabitants. "There are more murders in Texas in one year than there are in England in 50 years. In Canada there are five murders to every million inhabitants and 95 murders to every million in Italy," he stated. In Germany, he asserted, 95 per cent of the criminals are convicted and made to suffer the penalty, while in Texas only 2 per cent are convicted and half of that two per cent never suffer the penalty.

Describing Americans as "God's chosen people," he said that America as the true democracy owes a lot to the people of the earth in that it should be a model nation. "It is useless to talk about repealing the 18th Amendment," he declared. "The mothers—the praying mothers and church-going wives and sisters would never permit its repeal. The trouble is the good people are not on the job."

Referring to his experiences at Borger Calhoun said, "they'd tell you over there that the governor ought not to

Pampa Men Feel Encouraged in Fight for Tariff on Oil

Five Pampans who returned from Washington last night report that more progress has been made toward securing the oil tariff than its most enthusiastic adherents believed would be made in this session of congress. After spending 10 days in the national capital, Siler Faulkner, C. T. Hunkapillar, Lynn Boyd, C. P. Buckler, and C. C. Alexander arrived home last night. Mel Davis and Ed Dunigan remained in Washington to continue the fight with 100 other oil operators and royalty owners.

Encouraged to remain by Rep. Marvin Jones, Senators W. B. Pine and Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, Senator Capper of Kansas, and Borah of Idaho, the independent operators believe that if their efforts in the next ten weeks are as successful as in the last ten days, congress will approve a tariff on oil.

The leader of the independent operators is Wirt Franklin, C. P. Buckler said. In his speech before the Ways and Means committee at the hearing, Mr. Franklin explained that most of the cheap foreign oil is being shipped from Venezuela in South America by major oil companies. Rep. John Garner of Uvalde, a member of the Ways and Means committee, was said to favor the tariff.

Bond Is Made in Liquor Case

Leonard Brown was arrested on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale by Deputy Sheriff Herman Wachtendorf and Jeff Guthrie at a drug store in South Pampa Sunday night.

He was released on a $1,000 bond yesterday pending action of the March grand jury.

Officers seized two pints of whiskey in making the raid.

have interfered with local self-government, but when a community begins thinking that it can harbor a criminal ring of its own it's time for the governor to step in."

Ref. A. A. Hyde introduced the speaker, J. L. Noel, chairman of the Law and Order League, in opening the meeting stating that the purpose of the League is to center its efforts on law enforcement, particularly the enforcement of the prohibition law.

COSTLY CARGO IS LOST TODAY

Explosions of Shellac Cause Loss of Big Boat

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (P)—The North German Lloyd liner Muenchen burned and sank at her pier in the Hudson river today a short time after she had docked at the end of a voyage from Bremen.

The fire was accompanied by a series of explosions of shellac in one of the holds. Firemen pouring water into the hold were thrown from their feet as the blasts shook the whole ship and the pier. There were four explosions. Mrs. Josephine Gehrie, 50, a stewardess, was knocked down by the fourth explosion and slightly injured.

The 263 passengers had left the ship before the explosions had occurred. Many of them still were on the pier, however, having their baggage examined by customs men. They were ordered off the pier as the flames spread and the ship was cleared of its cargo. The flames spread quickly after the explosions, and in a short time the liner sank.

The Lackawanna railroad tug Newton, which had drawn up alongside the liner as the fire was discovered, was badly damaged in the first explosion. Despite the damage, the tug's crew continued to use the fire fighting apparatus with which she was equipped.

The Muenchen listed heavily to port as she sank, and the flames continued to sweep along her top deck.

Some of the crew just before the ship went down tried to go back after their belongings, but they were barred by firemen, who, operating from the river, continued to shoot water at her top decks as she rested on the bottom.

The explosions on the ship tore away nearly all her aft railing, smashed all her windows, and littered her aft decks with wreckage.

In shipping circles, the value of the liner was placed at between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 without cargo. No estimate could be made of the value of her cargo.

Moody Likely to Submit Oil Topic

FORT WORTH, Feb. 11. (P)—Belief that Governor Moody will submit a measure permitting cooperative development of oil pools where the railroad commission finds it in the interest of the industry and the public, was expressed by J. D. Collett, chairman of the Texas oil producers advisory committee here today.

Collett had returned from Austin where members of the committee conferred briefly with the governor despite the fact he was confined to the executive mansion on physician's orders as a result of threatened influenza.

Jack Sharkey and Phil Scott will split 50 per cent of the gross gate at the Miami boxing show, February 21.

WITH A WEEK TO ACT UPON MORE THAN A SCORE OF IMPORTANT MEASURES AND MANY LOCAL ONES, IT IS APPARENT THAT THE CURRENT SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE IS TOO BRIEF.

The penitentiary problem, postponed as to settlement for decades, cannot be solved in a month. The tax problem, involving support of state institutions, is too big for two special sessions.

To repeat what has been said in this column, the Texas legislature should be smaller and should be in almost continuous session, at least when there is need for continued study. The average legislator is primarily a business man. His salary for official service is not sufficient to make him financially independent. He needs to study the state problems over a sustained period of time.

The new legislator finds himself involved in scores of disputes, committee meetings, public debates, investigations, and lobbies. No wonder is it that he so often votes "no" for fear of making a mistake by positive action. Legislative work cannot be successful by merely electing a man and sending him to Austin. The ballot box confers authority but not ability and experience. A man in his official seat in the capitol is little better informed than before he went to Austin. He must study, and that takes more time than usually is allowed. The legislator's work is not done when he leaves the capitol building after a day's session.

The business of the state of Texas is great in its many ramifications. It demands more sustained study and expert guidance than is commonly supposed. And there is too great a tendency to dodge problems when the remedy is not at hand.

IN APPOINTING A CITY PLANNING COMMISSION PAMPA WAS NOT TAKING A NEW OR RADICAL STEP.

A survey recently completed by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce shows the growing interest in city planning and its widespread development in this country. A tabulation made from returns to questionnaires sent to various cities, towns, and villages shows that at least 691 of these municipalities have official planning boards or commissions. Of this number, 208 are cities having in 1920 populations of more than 25,000, comprising more than two-thirds of all the cities in that population group. The other 483 vary in size down to villages of less than 1,000, and several of the smallest of these have less than 500 inhabitants. They are in all parts of the nation.

"Cities having planning commissions are believed to be more apt than others to exercise foresight and true economy in controlling the laying out and improvement of streets, the location of parks, playgrounds, and public works, the development of transit and transportation, provision for street traffic, and in the equitable regulation of private use of land through zoning ordinances."

City planning work is not spectacular, but it is monumental when carried out over a period of years.

TWINKLES

Notice how windy it was Sunday? No, well, ask any golfer.

Maybe they call them liquor "tricks" because the operators are not on the square.

Tariff means G. O. P. to many people. Senator Small got his oil-tariff resolution past the senate committee, but lost in the upper house as a whole. A press dispatch said "charges that it would definitely commit the Democratic Texas senate to the party principles of the G. O. P., and counter charges that if a protective tariff were placed on oil the independent producers of Texas would be forced into bankruptcy, were the high points in the controversy."

It was good news for the teachers, and to most of the children that the rural school fund was released from the injunction which threatened to close the schools. The rural children know that vacation means work, and studies are more cheerful than cotton rows to many children.

Our taxes may have seemed high, but remember: we have no street tax and the oil companies pay between 75 and 85 per cent of the taxes we do have.

We suppose we'll get used to these long styles, but they make the ladies seem formal and ready for the ball room when they are merely ready for home or office.

With the boys being fed and prised by the Betelgeuses, Lions, and Father and Son groups, wonder if the girls are not wondering when they will get a break?

The Abilene Reporter says that more intelligently cast ballots, not more of them, are needed. Yeah, but there is safety in numbers, especially where issues are strong and line-ups likewise. We are for democracy with the little "d".

We are asked how we can square free trade with an oil tariff. We deny that free trade exists, and is therefore to be considered. Every item purchased and used in oil activities is protected; why not the oil too? Balancing of market advantages is essential in economics, regardless of what system you use.

As much as we desire to see a conviction in the Brady case, we object to the judge's arbitrarily making the jury stay out 95 hours. We believe we could make our mind in less than a day, and any further lock-up would be mere punishment as we were concerned. Justice is not furthered by punishing a jury, or coercing in an effort to force a judgment.

How They Grew Thin

You will be surprised, if you look around at how many people have grown thin in late years. It is evident that some new method has come into very wide use. It has been found that a weak gland is a great cause of obesity. So modern physicians have been fighting that cause, without starvation diets. This right method is embodied in Marmola's prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Now in almost every circle the delightful results are apparent. A book in each box of Marmola tells you how and why it acts. The formula is given. Go try this remarkable, this natural means. Ask your druggist today for a $1 box of Marmola. Elaborate decorations in the valentine theme transformed the basement recreation room of the First Methodist church into a gay and attractive setting.

Various cleverly planned games appropriate to the occasion were played, with Mrs. Grady Morton and Miss Ila Pool directing.

Mrs. Hughey entertained Saturday afternoon at a bridge-tee for 32 guests, and again Saturday evening with Mr. Hughey at a party of nine tables.

On both occasions the house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of red sweet peas, red carnations, and

H. G. Twiford played her son's accompaniment.

The following attended the pleasant affair: The Rev. and Mrs. Tom W. Brabham, Mrs. H. G. Twiford, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Morton, Mr. and Mrs. John Shannon, Miss Hortense Allison, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Jewell Newman, Miss Ila Pool, Miss Audrey Noel, Miss Blanche Seigel, Miss Mary Yoder, Mrs. Esther Plank, Miss Katherine Roberts, Miss Florence Baer, Miss Geneva Harper, Walter D. Hardin, Harold Hamilton, Earl Smith, V. O. Blankenship, LeRoy Price, Clarence Coffin, Ralph Irwin, R. A. Selby, Lawrence Myers, and Harold White.

Parties in Hughey Home Among the Most Attractive of Season

Among the attractive social functions inspired by the approach of St. Valentine's day were two delightful events at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Hughey, which lent interest to the week end.

Mrs. Hughey entertained Saturday afternoon at a bridge-tee for 32 guests, and again Saturday evening with Mr. Hughey at a party of nine tables.

On both occasions the house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of red sweet peas, red carnations, and other cut flowers. Card table appointments developed the heart motif, with an effective color theme of red and green.

At the conclusion of the playing, each table was laid with a paper cover ornamented with valentines, and centered with a red taper.

Mrs. Mary R. Ikard made high score at the first party; Mrs. John Andrews made low; and Mrs. P. C. Bedrick cut high.

Hi-League Organized With Large Membership at Methodist Church

Four types of church and social service work make up the program of the Hi-League, Epworth organization for girls and boys 14 high school age, which was formed Sunday evening at an enthusiastic meeting attended by 27 future members.

Each will be carried on under the direction of a sponsor and a chairman, the former chosen from the adult leaders of the church, and the latter, from the Hi-League membership.

The officers elected were: President, Frances Campbell; vice-president, Howard Lane; secretary, Frances Hodges; treasurer, Bob Wallace; librarian, Josephine Lane.

Departmental chairmen were chosen as follows: Spiritual, Isabelle Baer; missionary, Dorothy Jane Adams; social service, Bernice Moss; recreation and culture, Louise Walstad.

Elvin Jonas of Hammond, Ind., is a guest in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Holmes.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW***

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper figure, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

JIM SLATTERY ACCEPTED AS NEW CHAMPION

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 11. (AP)—Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo was at the top of the light heavyweights today, a champion in the eyes of the New York state athletic commission at least, and his reign was certain to last for a few days. At the end of that time he must defend the crown against Maxey Renshaw, Harlequin of Harlem.

But for a round or two last night it seemed as though graceful Jimmy, whose third trial was successful, would have no worries as to title burden for some time to come. In order to whittle Lou Scozza, home town rival nominated by the commission to determine a successor to the retired Tommy Loughran, Jimmy had to do things within the squared circle he never has been able to accomplish before.

Jimmy with a mile long lead at the end of the twelfth round, had to pry himself off the ropes in the thirteenth session of the fifteen round battle. He had been hung there like a canvas dummy on a fence by the Italian youngster's final desperate bid for victory. He muscled himself off, the middle strand, eyes glassy, arms dangling helpless, legs devoid of their snap and speed. Only the fact that Scozza's frantic rally came late in the session and that the youngster became over and anxious when Slattery reached before him saved the day for the veteran.

When the battle was over, and Slattery had survived the stormy thirteenth session, to come back in the last round and beat Scozza all over the ring, the decision and the plaudits of a crowd of 11,000, one of the largest in Buffalo's history, greeted the new champion.

Top Notch Wrestlers to Grapple

Here is Sailor Watkins of El Paso, champion of the Navy in 1928 and 1929, who will wrestle Billy Londos, the Greek, for one fall, time limit, at the Pla-Mor Thursday night. A change in the card resulted in the substitution of Londos for Dutch Betke, who was first matched with Watkins. Those who have seen Londos in the main event at Amarillo and larger towns are enthusiastic in pronouncing it to be a change for the better.

As the picture indicates, Watkins' home on the rolling main was the S. S. California (she's a bear) shown in the insert. Girdled about the tough go's torso are his belts and trophies.

In the main event, Sailor Clingman of Pampa, champion wrestler of the navy in 1925, 1926, and 1927, will grapple with Rob Roy of Salt Lake City for three falls, no time limit.

The airplane spin and a paralyzing head-lock happens to be specialties of Watkins, who learned them from the famed wrestler, Ira Durn of Salt Lake City. Watkins and Clingman wrestled for an hour and a half recently without either obtaining a fall. Both Londos and Roy are top-notchers in the wrestling game.

Fifth Called Session in Prospect as Legislature Makes Little Progress in Fourth—Important Subjects in Waiting

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Feb. 10. (AP)—The crucial week of the fourth called session of the legislature has begun. Prison reform and changes in the fee law, subjects submitted by Governor Moody in his call were far from accomplished.

There remained little hope that the two branches could agree on prison legislation that would meet with the chief executive's approval. The senate favored Governor Moody's plan of building a modern, industrialized central plant within a short distance of Austin, while the house was apparently uncompromisingly opposed to such procedure.

The house had indicated it believed the best thing to do would be to rehabilitate properties of the system, rebuilding and enlarging the present walls at Huntsville and improving living conditions on the farms.

Proponents of the governor's idea that a new start should be attempted, with gradual disposition of the approximately 77,000 acres in farms on which convicts are now worked, claimed the house's attitude meant a useless expenditure of funds in "patchwork" on an antiquated system.

Whether Governor Moody would approve such a compromise bill in the event it were agreed to by the houses in conference committee was problematical. It was pointed out he had been thoroughly sold on the proposition that the present system should be abandoned.

The fee legislation had been barely touched. The house had accepted a compromise measure by Representative R. M. Hubbard of New Boston to the bill advocated by Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock. Senator Parrish had his measure written to correct discrepancies in the existing statute, after he and a committee held hearings in various sections of the state. Representative Hubbard's substitute would make few changes in the existing law governing retention of fees by county and district officers.

Other important matters unattended to, such as emergency appropriations asked by state schools and colleges, eleemosynary institutions and departments, and definite action on Oklahoma's proposed compact under which it would be permitted to retain approximately 26,300 acres of land heretofore considered a part of that state, indicated the governor might feel it his duty to reconvene the legislature in a fifth called session.

Severe Proration Reduces Oklahoma Oil Production

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 11. (AP)—Struggling forward under the severest of proration programs, Oklahoma's daily average production of light and heavy gravity oils during the week ending February 8, added 19,430 barrels. Of this amount 12,510 barrels were added by the Oklahoma City pool, the area under the most severe curtailment percentage.

According to the current report of the Oil and Gas Journal the average production for the state during the week named was 630,985 barrels as compared to 611,555 for the preceding week.

The whole United States forged ahead approximately 33,144 barrels, totaling 2,618,761 as a daily average in comparison to 2,585,617 for the preceding week. A total of 27,133 barrels of the total increase was added in the Mid-Continent area, the eastern Rocky Mountain and Oklahoma areas from 1,000 to 3,000 barrels each.

In Oklahoma the Seminole area added 12,085 barrels and the southern fields 1,010 while the northern areas dropped approximately 5,000 barrels. West Texas added approximately 1,000 barrels, Texas Panhandle 3,736 and Arkansas heavy oil 1,535 barrels. Kansas remained constant.

The Gulf Coast heavy gravity oil continued to climb in production, adding $339 during the past week. California's chief loss was in the Santa Fe Springs area, which dropped behind 5,000 barrels. Heavy oil in that state also dropped 500 barrels.

The light oil increase for the entire country was 21,707 barrels.

LIONS AND ROTARIANS SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER—LAST GAME IS SPECTACLE, OF MANY ERRORS

Pampa's two civic clubs divided honors last night when the Rotarians took the first game, 19 to 15, but the Lions won the main "spectacle" 5 to 2 in basketball.

The opening encounter, which the Lions said was the preliminary event, but the Rotary cheering section argued was the main show, featured Coach Odus Mitchell in the role of throwing 12 of the Rotary points.

Mitchell, with his aide the Great R. G. Hughes, Rotary mentor, more than offset a generally more proficient and well rounded Lions five. For the Men of the Jungle, Sone was chief scorer with Barrett runner-up.

In the pursuit of comedy, the Rotary five took the lead when Saulsbury looped a counter, but the Lions defense swung into action and blanketed the wheel crew for the rest of the game.

Frantic substitutions of "worse" players marked the big pageant of errors as some men would show signs of awakening ability. Every good play was a signal to jerk the budding star lest he repeat the performance. Starting by rule, the contest became disorderly as the has-been athletes "ran down." Doucette turned his work into a race track, as also did Campbell, but Referee Albert Lard assessed fouls for "running."

Several players complained of getting scratched, bumped, and otherwise mistreated, but nothing in civic club rules could be found to bar such procedure.

Bruce Caldwell gets another chance to make the Cleveland team this season.

Babe Herman, Brooklyn's big slugger, says he will hold out for $20,000 this year.

Tulsa Western League Club Is Moved to Topeka

TOPEKA, Kans., Feb. 11. (AP)—Inability of the Tulsa, Okla., club of the western baseball league to obtain a park today had resulted in transfer of its franchise to Topeka for the 1930 season.

Dale Gear, president of the circuit, who announced the change here yesterday, said removal of the franchise from Tulsa would leave the city without professional baseball this season. He added the city still was western league territory and there was no possibility of the city entering the Texas League.

CLARENDON TO BE OPPOSITION ON WEDNESDAY

Coach Odus Mitchell last night announced that the Harvesters would swing into action here this week against Clarendon high school.

The game will begin in Central gymnasium at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. The Clarendon five is believed to be strong enough to give the Harvesters a very hard game.

It will be a warming-up encounter preparatory to entering the Miami boys' tournament Friday. Just what the opposition is likely to be at Miami is not yet known, but the list of entries and drawing for opposition will probably be released tonight.

John Kahn and Autrey Holmes spent the week-end visiting in Big Springs, Lamesa, and Wink.

O. H. Gilstrap and G. G. Fraser are to spend tomorrow in Amarillo, transacting business.

CHICAGO GETS ARMY-RAMBLER GRID CLASSIC

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (AP)—The 1930 renewal of that classic of the gridiron—the Army-Notre Dame football game—becomes Chicago's gain and New York's loss.

For scholastic reasons, the Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, president of Notre Dame, asked that the game be transferred from the Yankee stadium, New York, to Soldier Field, Chicago. After a long conference yesterday, Army officials reluctantly agreed. The contest is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 29.

Father O'Donnell pointed out that under Notre Dame's original schedule the Ramblers would play the Army in New York Nov. 29 and then travel to the west coast to meet Southern California at Los Angeles Dec. 6. Under this arrangement the Notre Dame players would have lost more than two weeks from their studies. Under the new schedule, with the Army game in Chicago, no study time at all will be lost for the Army game.

JOHN GILBERT KNOCKED DOWN BY JIM TULLY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11. (AP)—John Gilbert, film star, and Jim Tully, writer today admitted having exchanged blows in a Hollywood cafe several nights ago.

"I don't care to talk about it," said Gilbert, who with his wife, Ina Claire, actress, is spending a week at Palm Springs. "I did only what any man would have done under the circumstances."

"I did what you or anybody else would have done if a man had come charging across a room at you," Tully declared. "I got up and knocked him down."

Rash Romance by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JUDITH CAMERON, typist in a New York publishing house, marries ARTHUR KNIGHT, executive of the department in which she works.

A blissful honeymoon in Bermuda is interrupted by a cablegram that Tony is on her way to America.

Judith is uncomfortable until the key returns to school. A letter comes from AUNT HELENE, who had chaperoned Tony in Europe.

ANDY CRAIG, a young man Knight has helped through college, calls on Tony. Craig is to be employed in the legal department of publishing house.

Instantly she was regretful. Arthur Knight had done everything in the world for her and here she was completely unprepared.

"Oh, it was a silly thing to do!" she told him. "I didn't mean to be so late. I meant to get here before you did.

When they were at the table a little later Arthur brought up the subject of redecorating the house.

"I thought you were going to fix this place up a bit," Judith he reminded her. "Hadin't you better be getting that job started? You'll find it takes the workmen long enough, once they get a house torn up.

"Well, I guess I can manage that all right. We want the place fixed up in first-class shape—don't we, Tony? Want to show we're up to date?"

"Andy doesn't come here to see me at all father. He comes here to see Judith."

next day, Judith knew exactly what she wanted for her home. The exterior of the house was colonial and she admired early American furniture and fabrics.

To achieve this required many conferences with professional decorators. The old walnut furniture which stood in Judith's own room was to be stored in safe, dry quarters over the garage.

There was never a young man more persistent in his courtship, Judith Knight assured herself.

Then came the night in early February when Andy broached the subject of the dog show. It was the classic event of its kind for the year.

"A dog show!" wailed Tony. "What on earth makes you think I'd like to see a thousand howling hounds all cooped up in little pens?"

"Oh, but they're such beauties!" put in Judith. "I should think you'd enjoy it immensely, Tony I would."

Tony glanced at her father from under lowered brows. "I'd rather," she said testily, "than hang around a dirty old dog show!"

which was a new acquisition. She looked very chic. "I would defy even such dangers, Madam."

The goodbyes were said quickly. Judith assured herself that she and Andy would be home before he finished the reading which he turned to almost every evening.

"But it's not—like this, Father!" she insisted. "I like to have you alone to myself."

She reached up soft fingers and touched his cheek. "Nonsense! You know you'd rather be frisking around with young folks. That makes me think, Tony. You know there's something in particular I wanted to talk to you about tonight. I don't like the way you're mistreating young Andy Craig!"

"Mistreating him? How?" "Well, he comes over here every night after night when you go on other engagements or make fun of everything he says. Andy's a fine boy. I want to tell you. Any girl he pays attention to can consider herself lucky. You ought not to treat him the way you do, Tony."

The girl hung her head. For some time there was silence between them. Then Tony looked up slyly, looked away and then back at her father.

"I didn't want to tell you," she said in a strained voice. "I wasn't going to—but maybe you'd better know. Andy doesn't come here to see me at all, father. He comes to see Judith."

Dog-Catcher Has No Sympathy—His Aim Is Unerring

Pleading, faltering eyes, and wagging tails did not stay the bullets that killed 10 dogs at the city pound last week-end after they had been kept the three day limit. Six more dogs found on the streets are now in the pound, waiting for death on tomorrow.

Chief J. I. Downs urges those who have lost dogs to inspect those at the pound at once. They may be the ones that are lost.

The dog catcher caught 16 dogs last week, and as there are approximately 100 privately owned dogs in the town still untagged, he expects to be busier this week.

He says the most elusive dog in town is an air-dale that hangs around the post office. The dog threatens to bite him but he is working on a plan to catch the animal. Of the dogs shot last Saturday, one was a greyhound, two were bull dogs, three were collies.

"The dogs I've got in the pound now are a fine lot, some thoroughbreds among them—but they won't be long," he said.
