LAWMAKERS HAVE THEIR PROBLEMS.

East and South Texas legislators are advocating a tax on natural gas. The tax will of course be opposed in certain portions of West Texas, although such a tax is just a logical as the one which may be placed on sulphur—another natural resource. West Texans in the legislature will probably lose several nights sleep trying to make up their minds if the question comes up soon.

In Washington, the Democrats have been making "raids" to lower certain tariffs. For example, they succeeded in lowering the tariff on fine steel, such as is used in making tools used in the oil business. If such reductions were carried out throughout the list of commodities used in the oil industry, prices of tools would be considerably lower and cost of drilling would be somewhat less.

The demand for a tariff on oil grew up at the same time that the "raids" were being made, hence the Democratic solons were sorely perplexed by the inconsistency they feared to assume. They neglected, apparently—some of them did, at least—to study the oil dilemma far enough to see wherein they could logically vote for the tariff yet be consistent. Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard have been slow to come to the rescue of Southwest independent producers. Yesterday The News received these letters in reply to telegrams sent some time ago:

"I have your telegram urging a tariff on petroleum. In reply, beg to say that I am giving this matter careful study and attention and am pleased to have the benefit of your views."
TOM CONNALLY.

"Your telegram with reference to a duty on crude oil has been received and is having my most careful study. I hope to reach a decision in this matter in a day or two."
MORRIS SHEPPARD.

It will be remembered that Congressman Marvin Jones of this district wired immediately assurance of his support of the oil tariff. His political ideas apparently are more flexible in relation to the needs of his constituents.

BUILDING A CITY OF MODERN ADVANTAGES IN THREE OR FOUR YEARS IS A TASK OF HUGE PROPORTIONS.

Pampa has done well, keeping progress in mind yet preventing reckless expenditures. Major projects—paving, water, schools, city hall—have been carried forward, while some lesser matters have necessarily been delayed.

One of Pampa's present

need is for more street lights, particularly in the residential sections. Not everything needed can be provided at once, but better lighting is one of the most needed improvements. There are still plenty of projects to claim the attention of the next administration, which likely will find some new faces at the city hall.

TWINKLES

Gasoline is cheaper in Kansas City; crude oil is cheaper out here. Who said there was equal opportunity in America? Our car is panting for some of that cheaper gas.

The city commission is arguing over whether it should lower water rates or leave the matter for the next administration. If there is no action now, the question will be a campaign issue, and there is no doubt about it. Hundreds of families want cheaper water to enable them to have lawns and flowers, and they are voters, too.

Jim Ferguson is coming out for governor, and when Jim does that it is quite a coming-out party. And next we may hear from Dan in the same tone.

With the Smithites, Hoovercrats, bolters, Ferguson followers, prison reformers, and Republicans making political noises, the farmyard choruses are going to be insignificant in comparison.

P. (Pure) Bunk, local politician, says that his candidate is for America first, his party second, and himself last, but the opposition is mean enough to charge that Mr. Bunk secretly wants to make a name for his wife, who might write her name Mrs. P. Bunk, instead of Mrs. Amelia Bunk, if he were "somebody."

It has gotten so in this county that it is assumed one is running for tax collector unless otherwise specified.

Hemphill county will vote soon on road paving bonds, but probably not on an out-of-the-mud argument. Anyone who has lived along the Canadian river knows that dry sand has its bad points, and almost as many as mud.

Well, now that Ford is going to spend a hundred millions for schools, some of us would be willing to be re-educated if he is willing to pay the bills to prove we are wrongly trained.

American Guards Fire on Chinese

SHANGHAI, Feb. 18 (AP)—American naval guards unlimbered their machine guns and silenced a group of bandits yesterday when the latter fired upon two steamers belonging to the Standard Oil company of New York. The encounter took place on the Yangtze river about 150 miles above Ichang.

News of the encounter, which reached here today, said the number of casualties was not known. The bandits opened fire on the steamers, and the naval guards, who had been placed aboard the ships, went into action.

Debaters to Have Many Opponents

CANYON, Feb. 18 (Special)—Ambitious debaters of the West Texas State Teachers college here will meet their wits against debaters representing 11 other Texas and Oklahoma colleges between this date and the last of April, according to Professor P. J. Byers, debate coach.

The subject decided for their debate this year is: Resolved, That the nations should accept a plan of complete disarmament excepting such forces as are needed for police purposes.

The itinerary of West Texas Teachers college debaters includes, Simmons University, McMurry college, Texas Technological college, East Texas State Teachers college, Eastern Oklahoma State Teachers college, Texas Christian university, Wayland college, North Texas State Teachers college and a group of Texas and Oklahoma colleges which will hold a Tri-State tournament at Durant, Oklahoma.

In about one-half of the debates, the Canyon boys will defend the affirmative and about one-half the negative side of the question.

Haley Is Collecting Political Newspapers

AUSTIN, Feb. 18—Copies of the Corpus Christi Dog, a political sheet of 1892, have been deposited in the University of Texas library by J. CLINGMAN TO GET ROUGH IF LONDOS DOES

The last time Billy Londos wrestled in El Paso he was so rough that the infuriated fans threw pop bottles at him and when he left the ring a cord of police escorted him to his hotel to keep the crowd from giving him the bum's rush. Londos said Sunday that what he did to that wrestler in El Paso is not half what he will do to Otis Clingman at the Pia-Mor Thursday night.

The last time Londos wrestled in Wichita Falls he and his opponent just quit wrestling altogether and tried to disable each other. They finally rolled off the mat and under the platform where Londos got his finger in the other's eye. It took eight policemen to pull the two of them apart.

If Londos gets rough Thursday night—and he likely will—Otis says he's going to get rougher. "I can get rough when I want to. I'm not going to let that potato-peelin, can-opener put anything over me," averred Otis.

In the semi-final event, Leo Chase is likely to have his hands full handling Rob Roy. Londos won a match in 12 minutes from Roy the other night in Amarillo by jumping up and down on him when Roy fell to the floor.

Just because Londos is rough is no sign that he does not know the wrestling game thoroughly. "He is master of enough holds to make the evening miserable for the average jump ear," it has been said. But Clingman is not an average jump ear. For one thing he was middleweight champion of the U. S. Navy for three years.

Boxing fans who attended last Thursday night's wrestling card declared that the matches had everything a boxing bout has to offer, in addition to the wrestling. A bigger crowd is expected next time.

Keeler, Expert in Golf, Talks Game

When Gene Sarazen was bulletined across the United States as the winner of the largest money golf tournament ever played—the $25,000 open at Agua Caliente—a number of more or less oldtimers nodded their heads sagely and remarked that Gene was up to his old tricks.

Gene, you see, had done astonishingly well in his first three rounds over that long and tough layout with cards of 75-73-79. Gene was three strokes back of those two sterling combatants, Horton Smith and Al Espinosa, who had got to the three-quarter pole in 224 strokes. Sarazen had used 227.

Then Gene, who had a tough time making up his mind to take the long jaunt from his Florida club to the Mexico headquarters of Leo Diegel, proceeded to justify his ultimate decision with a card of 68 in Round 4, and, as Messrs. Smith and Espinosa continued to be Siamese Twins at 73, he went out in front at the most important stage for that operation—at the finish.

I was one of the oldtimers who nodded sagely. I remembered another fourth round by the Hon. Sarazen in '08, which knocked my young friend, Bobby Jones, and my old friend, John Black, out of a tie for the national open championship of 1922, at Skokie.

History repeated itself in a bewilderingly accurate manner, at Agua Caliente. For at Skokie, nearly eight years before, Sarazen had not done so well in the first three rounds, with 72-72-75—220, and Bobby Jones, bringing his score down with an astonishing symmetry, was leading the field with 74-72-70—216, and the venerable John Black was pushing him hard, at 71-71-75—217.

And then Sarazen loosed the wraps, and, attended by his playing companion, their caddies, and approximately 25 spectators, reeled off a 68, finished with a total of 288, and left Bobby Jones and John Black, playing an hour and a half behind him, a mark to shoot at that neither could quite hit. They finished a stroke behind, tied for second place, as Horton Smith and Espinosa tied for second place to that 68 at Agua Caliente.

This performance at Skokie may or may not have extended its influence seven years to the last round in the 1929 national open championship at Winged Foot. But it is a fact that when Bobby was walking from the seventh green to the eighth tee of that fourth round, it was about Gene Sarazen's score he asked me, and not Espinosa's. They both were playing ahead of him, and it appeared he was thinking more about Gene. But it was Al who so nearly got him.

DONIE BUSH IS BUSINESSLIKE AS PRACTICE BEGINS

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 18. (AP)—The first day for Donie Bush on the practice field showed that he meant business as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

First, he refused to allow his team to practice on the field prepared by St. Mary's college; then, he promptly arranged with the New York Giants to share with them on the San Antonio club grounds for the remainder of the week.

On Monday, the unlimbering will take place in Van Dale park.

While it wasn't so long, the first day's practice was plenty brisk, and many a pound was left somewhere in the park. Bill Cissell and Irving Jeffries, shortstops, came in for some special attention.

In refusing the St. Mary's college practice field, Bush said the grounds were too rough.

Fastest Human Beaten to Line

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Jimmy Daley of Holy Cross stole the honors of the eastern debut of the "fastest human," George Simpson of Ohio State, at the New York A. C. indoor track meet.

Simpson trailed Daley by over a yard at the finish of the 60-yard dash. The time was 6-3-5, two-fifths of a second behind the record and just what Simpson made in winning his heat.

Stanislaw Felkiewicz of Poland, beaten over the two-mile route at the Millrose meet, came back to defeat his conqueror, Paul Rekers of Penn State, by five yards in the 5,000-meter race.

Northwestern's slight vaulting star, Tommy Warne, kept on going right up after Fred Sturdy of Yale and the Los Angeles A. C., and Barney Berlinger of Pennsylvania, rivals for indoor honors for two years, had stopped. Warne cleared 15 feet 6 inches and barely failed in an attempt to go four inches higher.

Houston Tourney Opens Qualifying

HOUSTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—A well-conditioned course at the Houston Country club was ready today for the two-day qualifying test in the club's annual invitation tourney. Nearly 100 aces were here for opening rounds.

Including leading golfers from the Midwest and Southwest, the starting field was said to be the largest, as well as the fastest field ever seen in the tourney.

Among golfing notables scheduled to start were Johnnie Dawson, Guards Novotny, Don Armstrong and Frank Justin of Chicago, Edwin McClure of Shreveport, S. E. Sharwood of New Orleans, and Logan Van Zandt, runner-up at the San Antonio Country club tourney.

EAST TEXANS NEAR TITLE IN BASKETBALL

COMMERCER, Feb. 18. (AP)—Flushed with an easy victory last night, the East Texas State Teachers cagers today looked forward to the two games that stand between them and A. T. I. A. A. conference crown.

The Commerce squad won the initial round of their two-game series with Sam Houston without difficulty, 33 to 29. They anticipated as little trouble in the return match tonight, and considered that only the game with North Texas here Friday stood in the way of a championship.

The Teachers, counting last night's victory, have eight wins and one conference defeat. Their only opponent is West Texas Teachers with 9 wins and one defeat. West Texas, however, has completed its schedule, making it necessary for Commerce to take both games with not even the possibility of a tie should one be dropped.

The other two games in the conference last night did little to the standings, the Abilene Christians prevailing.

Bancroft Learns to Know Giants

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 18. (AP)—The first practice of the year for the New York Giants consisted chiefly of a get-acquainted session. Dave Bancroft, assistant manager, in charge of the initial workout yesterday spent most of the day finding out who was who. Most of the boys were total strangers to Dave.

A little light practice found Sam Leslie at first base, Eddie Marshall at second, Lou Allen at short and Will McWilliams at third.

CARNERA HAS ANOTHER MAN LESS TO MEET

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—Primo Carnera, biggest boxer of them all, crawled out of his sixth American boxing ring here last night with another two-round knockout victory dangling from his belt.

Behind him he left John O. "Man Mountain" Erickson, Chicago Swede, a victim after one minute and 45 seconds of the second round of what the promoters optimistically had scheduled as a ten-round bout. The Swede seemed willing to mix things, but a stinging right that landed on Carnera's jaw and a short jab to the stomach aroused Primo's ire. He tore in with cool anger, tumbling the big Chicagoan twice in rapid succession before the final count was tolled.

Mrs. Jesse Stalls and baby and Mrs. Robert Chafin and little son, Billie Eob, returned home Saturday evening after a week's visit in Amarillo with Mrs. D. B. Tackington, a former resident of this city.

Favorite Mark Twain Classic to Be Shown in Marionette Event

A great treat is in store for all those who attend the presentation here on Friday, Feb. 21, at Central auditorium of Mark Twain's best-known story, "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," (Tom Sawyer's comrade). A recent report from the libraries of the United States showed that among the favorite books of the majority of readers, both juvenile and adult, two of Mark Twain's led by a wide margin, i.e., "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn."

The French Marionettes are to present a special matinee for the children, "Uncle Wiggly at the Circus." What an announcement for the children and their parents! The famous Rabbit Gentlemen is to bring Nurse Jane, Mrs. Twisty Tail, Uncle Butter, Mrs. Wibble Wobble, Puss in Boots, his renowned rabbit orchestra of eight rabbit musicians, and countless others, for a performance to begin at 2:30 o'clock.

Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer is a complete play in seven scenes with beautiful lighting effects. It has been written to please the adults particularly and of course the Huck Finn story is a favorite with people of all ages. The play contains every trick that it is possible to do with Marionettes, employing over one thousand strings to accomplish the effects of realism attained. About forty of the well known characters of the story appear interpreting the laugh provoking humor of Mark Twain that is famous wherever the English language is spoken.

Mark Twain's masterpiece "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" enables the Marionettes to display the tricks they can possibly do, and that to the tune of the most delightful music ever written. The presentation is for adults but the wealth of boyhood material involved makes it a most attractive and instructive performance for children. At last we have a creditable performance that parents can escort their children to and know that the evening is a worthwhile one.

The second half of the evening show will introduce the unique illuminated Marionette ballet in four Acts of Pables a brilliant spectacle. The first American tour of Mr. Gross' illuminated Marionette ballet is under way, and is being acclaimed all over the country as one of the cleverest novelties of recent years. Mr. Gross has taken the ancient art of black magic, applied it to the marionette theatre, he has revolutionized the marionette by making the figures transparent and installing within the bodies complete lighting systems, thus causing the figures to glow in a sea of black, in beautiful colors.

The operation of the figures as worked out by the artists is so complicated that weeks of rehearsals were necessary to set the routing of the plots. A special sound and music device was necessary to produce the varying volume necessary to create an illusion for the voices. The instrument which is even more sensitive than those used by the talking pictures, was put together only after the most careful research had been made for instruments that would meet the demands of the Marionette equipment and the conditions encountered on the road.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18. (AP)—Attacks on taxicabs continued here today while efforts were made to have Mayor Charles H. Kline ban the operation of cabs in the city until the strike of cab drivers was settled.

ENGAGEMENT OF PRINCESS ILEANA CALLED UNWISE

BICHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 18. (AP)—There is general expectation that an announcement will be made annulling the Princess Ileana to Count Hochberg after Queen Marie and her daughter return from their Oriental tour.

Nothing is available in official quarters with regard to the rupture of the engagement, but in aristocratic circles it was heard the engagement had been made too hurriedly with insufficient investigation of the Hochberg antecedents. It was regarded as an unwise step.

go ahead with pending legislation, including bills carrying out the president's prohibition recommendations and measures for railroad consolidation and for strengthening the banking laws.

Watson also had a gloomy report for the president. The coalition is frankly in charge of the situation in the senate, and the regular Republicans are virtually helpless so far as expediting the tariff debate is concerned. The coalition has practically rewritten the tariff bill that came from the house. It has eliminated almost all increases except those on agricultural commodities, made extensive changes in the administrative provisions and provided work for conference committees that may keep them busy for two months. After it has sent the tariff to conference, there are indications that the senate will become involved in an extended debate on prohibition.

Called to the White House by the president, the Republican chiefs were urged to speed action on this long pending question. But they replied they were "at the mercy of the coalition."

Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, told Mr. Hoover the tariff bill was in the hands of the Republican - Independent - Democratic coalition now engaged in paring down some existing tariff rates.

Watson said there were innumerable additional amendments yet to be acted upon.

"We have not the votes in the senate," the Republican leader said after the meeting. "We are at the mercy of the coalition, and I don't think we can get the tariff bill passed before March 10."

Mr. and Mrs. George Rainour are in Tulsa this week. Mr. Rainour is transacting business there.
