TWINKLES

Senator Copeland, who is a well known physician, writes alarming things about the effects of the flu, and he has us all confused. Here we are, supposed to be all run down by the hard winter and our recent flu, and we don't know what to take to ward off spring complaints. We don't know whether to try poke salad or Tansac, lamb's quarter or Sargon, sulphur 'n molasses or Konjola. We were reared, for a few years, on Missouri home-made bitters. One of the reasons why we have never complained much about the scarcity of vegetation in the Panhandle is because we ate so much of Missouri's and found it too much like Black Draught. The concoctions made in the name of "bitters" by the oldtimers are legion, and uniformly terrible, as we remember them. We prefer to stay run down rather than be puckered up by home brew of cherry bark et cetera.

There are many tonics, bitters, brews, and cure-alls, but nothing effective has ever been done about spring fever and puppy love.

Well, the new infant of this newspaper organization—the new morning daily that will be printed by The News—has been named. It had to have a name, something short to go with News. So why not Post, a fine old American newspaper name? Thus it will be—The Pampa Morning Post. And on Sunday the combined morning and evening paper will be the Sunday News-Post. There are practically no other cities in the entire Southwest the size of Pampa with both morning and evening dailies, for the simple reason that dailies are exceedingly costly to operate. Not even Vernon, much larger than Pampa, has a 24-hour Associated Press franchise such as The News has secured. It takes a live town to support two dailies. Amarillo has been the newspaper "graveyard" of the Panhandle, and hundreds of thousands of dollars was lost by too optimistic publishers, who had to "kill" their papers to stop losses.

The inequities of commodity taxation are so flagrant that they should be avoided if possible, even though the state needs more money. To tax one thing, or industry, and not another is manifestly unfair, although to tax all alike would be to raise many millions more than necessary. The natural gas tax strikes home in West Texas, and would work untold harm on those least able to bear it. There are many instances in which a small gasser is the salvage of a well that was expected to become a gusher. It would take many years for the well to pay for itself, and a big state tax would probably delay that period beyond the productive life of the gasser, precluding making of an ultimate profit. The question of prior contracts is equally important. When a person rents a building for a stated period, or leases it, he does so in the expectation that that taxes upon the property not pass a certain maximum. Natural gas leases are similarly made. To place a tax which, in some cases, would amount to 20 per cent or more of the gross income of the wells, would be to change the aspect of the lease. In some instances it would mean ruin; in others, loss of profit. Representative Sanders, author of one of the bills proposing a gas tax, appears to have realized the dangers, and has said that the plan would be abandoned unless it can be worked out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Nature is a great old lady, but has no appreciation for art not of her own making. Her earthquakes annually level architectural masterpieces, and her untrained human children are not much more refined.

The great English language is giving prospective spelling contestants in the Interscholastic League great trouble. The words are pronounced aloud. Suppose the contest manager tells the children to spell "tax"—she has to explain that she does not mean "lacks". So it is with almost every simple English word. The lists sent out from Austin, moreover, contained a number of misspelled words. Ability to spell correctly, and to copy words without error, is more rare than generally believed. We know of English teachers who are not immune to written and spoken errors, and teachers and college graduates who majored in other subjects are not always better spellers than high school seniors. Many who declare English is over-emphasized in our schools contradict themselves through their own errors. To allow students to neglect their native language, whether in the interest of athletics or other school activities, is to handicap them for life. Facility with language is mastered later in life only with much difficulty.

"Washington was a typical American", says a headline. Yes, but thank heavens, not of this age's type.

Knowing school teachers and their salaries as we do, we are unable to believe the Lubbock Avalanche when it says that a Tech professor for 20 days forgot to call for his pay.

Politics in Texas may make strange bedfellows of Tom Love and Jim Ferguson. Remember when Jim bolted everything and formed the "American" ticket? If Tom is barred, Jim will be eligible for the same treatment, and the Democratic executive committee can hardly do otherwise than hue to the line. There would be plenty of folks and politicians who would be happier with both Tom and Jim out of the race.

Marriage to Be Y. M. C. A. Subject

PORT WORTH, Feb. 26.—How to be happy although married will be outlined to prospective husbands in a series of eight lectures on "Marriage, Its Problems and Responsibilities," to be given in Fort Worth under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Dean Colby, hall of Texas Christian university, will be general chairman of the course. The course is not being given to induce men to marry or to keep them from it, Dean Hall explains. "It does not emphasize unhappiness or the difficulties of married life. The aim of the series of lectures is to impart information to young men contemplating marriage and to those already married, with the idea of preventing mistakes rather than curing them afterwards." "Psychological Aspects of Marriage: How to Be Happy" will be the subject of one of the lectures, by Prof. E. M. McDiarmid, head of the T. C. U. philosophy department, on March 17. All but one of the speakers will be men. The exception is Mrs. Robert W. Fender, who will tell "The Woman's Side of It" April 7.

Tunnel Collapse Buries Three Men

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 26.—Two men lay buried today beneath tons of earth at the Cushman power tunnel here while a third man was rescued alive after a cave-in. The victims were Roy Ward, 41, of Union City, and O. Hallstrom, 40. L. L. Shaper of Tacoma, was dug from the debris by rescuers. The accident occurred at the face of the tunnel yesterday and was blamed on seepage of water through the ground.

Senators Receive Threats in Letters

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Lot of laughter and a little uneasiness make up the senate's response to a series of threatening letters recently received by several of its members. Most of the senators are inclined to regard the missives as the work of some harmless crank and scoff at the possibility of danger. One member, however, grew apprehensive at a letter threatening to toss bombs into the senate chamber and suggested that several buckets of water be kept on hand for this emergency.

Vice President Curtis, Republican leader Watson and Senator Copeland are among those who have received letters.

An Example for the Class!

TINY MISSES OF PAMPA PERPLEXED BY LONG DRESSES

Very little girls have an awful time about a lot of things, and, contrary to belief, dolls and doll buggies do not constitute their sole source of worry.

For one thing, they begin quite early to rack their brains about clothes, and they sometimes suffer as much on that score as their mothers and flapper sisters.

When skirts were short, they were forbidden to wear their own really short, on the excuse that they were "too little."

Now that skirts are long, some of the younger set, five years old or so, would like very much to have their dresses at least a few inches nearer their knees.

Shirley Anne Akers, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Akers, and shining light of a kindergarten class, tried unavailingly to persuade her mother that her new red and white check apron was entirely too short.

Members of Circle 2 of the Baptist Women's Missionary union met yesterday afternoon for their weekly lesson study and unit business session.

"Baptist Missions in Nigeria" was the subject of an interesting program directed by Mrs. B. L. Anderson.

Plans were completed for a mystery sale, scheduled to be the feature event of a combined business and social gathering next Wednesday afternoon.

The following answered roll call at yesterday's meeting: Mrs. G. D. Holmes, Mrs. G. J. Blackard, Mrs. W. M. Kretz, Mrs. D. L. Lamford, Mrs. M. D. Dwight, Mrs. L. H. Anderson, Mrs. E. L. Anderson, Mrs. I. P. Simmons, Mrs. W. B. Murphy, Mrs. L. E. Murray, Mrs. E. S. McGraw, Mrs. O. L. Bosty, Mrs. E. L. Billingsley, and the hostess, Mrs. W. B. Barton, president of the W. M. U., was a special guest.

Mrs. R. W. Mitchell Elected President of Twentieth Century

Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, vice president of Twentieth Century club this year and last, will be president of the organization next club year, according to the annual election, held last evening at Mrs. Porter Malone's home.

Other officers of Mrs. Mitchell's administration will be: Vice president, Mrs. Paul Kasishke; treasurer, Mrs. Porter Malone; secretary, Mrs. Wm. T. Fraser; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Tom E. Rose.

"The Music Dramas of Wagner," one of the most instructive programs ever presented before the club, and doubly enjoyable because of the excellent background provided in a recent study on the nationality of the opera and the distinguishing features of the various schools, was given during the evening session, under the leadership of Mrs. A. H. Doucette.

Sketch of the Life of Wagner—Mrs. Joe M. Smith.

Wagner's Conception of the Opera—Mrs. Paul Kasishke.

How Did He Secure Continuity of Melody?—Mrs. W. A. Bratton.

Members attending the meeting, in addition to those who appeared on the program, were the following: Mrs. E. M. Culbertson, Mrs. Wm. T. Fraser, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Mrs. H. D. Lewis, Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, Mrs. Floyd A. Smith, Mrs. J. D. Sugg, and Mrs. Edwin Vicars.

THREE IMPORTANT FACTORS ENTER INTO THE COST OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE

1. How much it costs to make the car
2. How much extra you pay the dealer
3. How much it costs for operation and up-keep

THE PURCHASE of an automobile involves a considerable amount of money and it should be carefully considered from all angles before a final decision is made.

The value of the car to you depends on the value built into it at the factory, how much extra you pay the dealer for distribution, selling, financing and accessories and what it will cost to operate and maintain the car after purchase. Each of these factors, as it relates to the Ford car, is frankly explained below.

Economy in production

THE FORD CAR is made economically because of the efficiency of Ford production methods. The money saved through this efficiency is put back into the car in improved quality of material and in greater care and accuracy in manufacturing. The constant effort is to eliminate waste and find ways to make each part better and better without increasing cost—frequently at lowered cost.

Because of Ford economies in large production and because the Ford organization operates on a low-profit margin, the price you pay for the car is much less than it would be under any other conditions. Yet it brings you many unusual features of construction and performance.

At least $75 extra value is represented alone by the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, the Rustless Steel, the four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, and the five steel-spoke wheels. The unusually large number of ball and roller bearings and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings are additional features that reflect the high quality built into every part of the car. Throughout, it is a value far above the price you pay.

Low dealer charges

THE SAME PRINCIPLES of efficiency and economy that characterize the manufacture of the Ford car are applied also to distribution. Obviously it would do the public little good to save in production if these savings were sacrificed later in excessive costs of selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, operates on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company, his discount or commission being the lowest of any automobile dealer. He does a good business because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

Low charges for time payments through the Universal Credit Company

Low up-keep costs

IT IS IMPORTANT to remember that the cost of your automobile is not the first cost only, but the total cost after months and years of service. Here again there is a decided saving when you buy a Ford.

The cost of operation and up-keep is lower because of simplicity of design, the high quality of material, and the reduction of friction and wear through unusual accuracy in manufacturing and assembling. The reliability and longer life of the car contribute to its low depreciation per year of use.

The intelligent, painstaking service rendered by Ford dealers is under close factory supervision and is a factor in the low up-keep cost of the Ford. All labor is billed at a flat rate and replacement parts are always available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the United States.

In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost of the car.

American May Reach Peace for Santo Domingo

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—John M. Cabot, 28-year-old secretary of the American legation in Santo Domingo today reported "good prospects" of an agreement between the Dominican government and the rebellious forces opposing it.

Charles E. Curtis, American minister, cabled that Cabot, who was sent on a mission of mediation, returned to the capital yesterday evening bearing proposals made by the leaders of the revolution.

Curtis said both the government and the opposition had shown every disposition to respect American lives and property.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, Feb. 26. (AP)—Insurgents entered the city this morning and took possession of public buildings and the fortress without loss of lives or bloodshed.

It was rumored that President Vasquez and Vice-President Alfonsea were refugees at the American legation.

WHEAT TENDS UPWARD CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (AP)—Active trading and higher prices formed the rule in the wheat market here today. Unlooked for sharp upturns in Liverpool wheat quotations were the chief new stimulating factor, but immediate North American export business appeared unpromising, and prices advances in Chicago met with increased selling pressure causing frequent moderate retractions.

Starting 1 to 2 1-2 up, Chicago wheat futures afterward receded temporarily in some cases to the same as yesterday's finish. Corn, oats and provisions were also firmer, with corn starting at 3-8 to 1 5-8 gain, and subsequently sagging somewhat.

School Faculty Resigns as Board Refuses to Act

WEST HELENA, Ark., Feb. 26. (AP)—Resignation of the entire public school faculty of 19 and the superintendent, a development arising from a quarrel among three girl students, today left West Helena without facilities for the instruction of 400 white school children.

Sheriff's deputies patrolled the streets as the school board sought reconsideration of the resignations, which the teachers said were prompted by the failure of authorities to take definite action regarding threats alleged to have been made against Superintendent George Cromwell by Lawrence Brown. Two daughters of Brown's were disciplined last week after a dispute with another girl.

Sheriff J. C. Barlow said he deemed it advisable to have his deputies on duty both to protect Brown against possible violence of the citizenry and to prevent Brown from carrying out his threats against Cromwell. Brown has killed two men.
