Uncashed Checks Left Behind By Masked Pair

Threatening to shoot the first victim that lowered his hands an inch, two masked bandits robbed ten Coltexo gasoline plant employees of about $300 last night at the company bunk house near LeFors.

One of the hi-jackers stood at the door with leveled pistol, while the other held a pistol in one hand and searched the Coltexo men with the other.

As yesterday was pay day at the plant, the hold-up men had evidently expected to make a bigger haul, but a number of the men had not cashed their checks, none of which was taken. All the cash and currency taken were in the pockets of the victims.

A group of men were held up and robbed in the same bunk house in a similar manner last spring. Some of those held up last night were victims of the first robbery, and they believe the two hi-jackers who robbed them before are the same as those who visited them last night. The plant is located three miles east of LeFors. The men live in the bunkhouse. Local officers, both city and county, said they had not been notified of the robbery.

Orchestra Will Broadcast Soon at Amarillo Station

Students and organizations of the music department of the Pampa public schools will give a radio program Thursday evening, broadcasting from the studios of the Amarillo college of music, over station WDAG at the Capitol hotel. Their music will be on the air between 9 and 10 o'clock.

The program will consist of selections by the high school orchestra, the girls' quartet, vocal solos, and piano duos, arranged for the most part from numbers other than those used in the ensemble concert of last Friday evening. Thomas Fannell, head of the department, will be in charge. The broadcast will be on a wavelength of 212.6 meters.

Dr. C. J. Connor made an airplane trip from Hobbs, New Mexico, to Pampa this morning.

ATTENDANCE OF SCHOOLS NEAR SAME MARK

Attendance reports show that the percentages of attendance in each of the six different city schools of Pampa are practically the same. The last six weeks percentage for the entire system is 94.84, showing a decrease of 2.73 in comparison with 97.57 for the first six weeks.

The superintendent, principals, supervisors and individual teachers are all putting forth extra effort to keep the attendance high. The similarity of attendance figures in the schools shows the cooperation given.

Decrease in the attendance for the last six weeks is due to prevalent illness in the community, bad weather, and interruptions of the regular schedule of work. To East ward goes the distinction of having the least amount of tardiness and absences since the beginning of school in September. The highest per cent of attendance reported is that of West Ward, with 98.31 for the first six weeks.

Table with columns: Total Pupils Tardy, Total Absences, Per Cent of Attendance. Rows include East ward, West ward, Lamar, Baker, Junior high, Senior high, and Total.

Many Friends Honor Memory of Local Resident

Hundreds of friends and acquaintances of W. A. Taylor, former Gray county commissioner who died Monday, crowded the First Baptist church this afternoon for the funeral services which began at 3 o'clock. The Odd Fellows lodge was to have charge of the services at the grave.

pallbearers are W. J. Carruth, Lee Ledrick, C. L. Thomas, G. T. Montgomery, T. H. Lane, and B. E. Finley. Flower women are Mrs. Lee Ledrick, Mrs. John Tate, Mrs. James Todd, Jr., Mrs. C. A. Duenkel, Miss Fannie Hogan, Mrs. Tom Clayton, Mrs. Gilbert Behringer and Mrs. C. M. Bryson.

Large shipments of flowers, received today, indicated the high esteem in which Mr. Taylor was held by his friends. Flowers from scores of people continued to arrive throughout the day.

Rev. James Todd, Jr., chaplain of the G. C. Malone funeral home, assisted by Rev. F. W. O'Malley and Rev. D. H. Truhitte were to have charge of the funeral services. Mr. Taylor was a deacon in the First Christian church, of which Rev. Todd was pastor for four years.

LOYAL FACTION OF DEMOCRATS IS SOLICITED

Believe This Would Block Plans of Radicals

LOVE-MILLER SCRAP LOOMING

Bolters Ask Decision in Regard to Ouster Proposal

BY R. W. BARRY Associated Press Staff Writer AUSTIN, Dec. 11. (AP)—Announcement of former Congressman James Young of Kaufman for governor was expected by Austin politicians but it was believed he would not formally enter the race until after the new year.

The "dope" is that a movement is on foot to obtain for him the endorsement of this faction of the Democratic party that remained loyal during the 1928 presidential campaign when one wing bolted and carried the state for the Republican nominee.

Certain leaders of the "loyalists" believe that Young has all the peculiar qualifications to make the best fight in the struggle that seems certain to come, with the elements that went to Hoover insisting that no one be elected who is "tainted" with Tammany hall. They think it wise to get under the banner of a man against whom can not be raised the "religious issue." They believe that Young's candidacy will forestall any attempt of the anti-Smith group to bear down on that issue.

Expect Tammany Issue But, irrespective of the effort of those who want to eliminate the so-called religious issue, political prognosticators have it doped that Senator Tom Love of Dallas will press the "Tammany" situation within the party and bear down on his well-known views about "Taskobism" and the management of Democratic party affairs in the nation to the extent it will be a fight to the finish between the factions created by the nomination of former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York to carry the banner against the Republicans.

They reason that if this should develop to be the case, the whole thing will simmer down to a choice between Love and Lieut. Governor Barry Miller of Dallas. Senator Love threw down the gauntlet to Miller more than once during the legislative sessions and spent considerable time in the senate taking "pot shots" at what he called the "wet Tammanyites." Miller has borne the brunt of Love's shafts.

If Love should remain in the race, the political observers have it figured out that the campaign will wind up in a show-down between the "loyalists," supporting Miller, and the "independents," beating the bushes for Love, and in taking this view of it they are trying not to be partisans eliminating the other seven or more candidates.

Will Divide Attention They believe that Love and his following are irreconcilables and that they will not be satisfied with anything short of a show-down on the "Tammany" issue. They reason that Love and his followers will pick Miller as the logical candidate on whom to train their guns and that in so doing they will force the issue and divide the voters as between Love and Miller.

There is a large portion of the "loyalists" favorable to action by the State Democratic executive committee barring as candidates those who bolted the party presidential nominee. On the other hand there are a large number who believe this action may be considered too drastic by some of the voters, and that it would force Love and his followers to organize an independent party.

The opinion of an English court in a case technically known as Jolly v. Rees, 15 C. B. N. S. 628, was cited by the Maryland tribunal. In thorough British fashion that particular case was revived and the principle affirmed in the house of lords. The British court laid down the law like this: "The husband sustains the liability for all debts; he should, therefore have the power to regulate the expenditure for which he is responsible, by his own discretion according to his own means." New Legal Ruling Protects Husbands

Justice Charles H. Robb (left) has decreed that Rep. George Huddleston of Alabama (right) is not liable for a debt of $245 incurred by his wife.

Battle Over Fur Coat Is Decided in Man's Favor

By L. A. BROPHY (AP Feature Service Writer) WASHINGTON, (AP)—Another legal precedent has been established, upholding a husband as the captain of his credit so far as his wife is concerned.

To a long line of English and American court opinions giving a break to the man who shuffles a sheaf of bad news the first of most months, the District of Columbia court of appeals has added its affirmative voice.

The opinion was rendered by Justice Charles H. Robb, and he cleared Rep. George Huddleston of Alabama of liability for a debt of $245 for a fur coat Mrs. Huddleston purchased.

Mr. Huddleston set forth that he gave his wife $75 a month in cash for clothing and told her not to purchase on his credit. He asserted he knew nothing of the fur coat purchase, until it was legally brought to his attention.

The crux of the case, said the court, was this: "No evidence of acts or conduct on the part of Mr. Huddleston conferring upon his wife an apparent authority to pledge his credit."

Down through the years, the opinion cited the decisions of other courts, in England and in America, which held substantially, that when a husband has once performed his duty to provide for his wife he may not be compelled in a court of law to do so again.

Justice Robb said, furthermore, "It does not require the discernment of a Solomon to appreciate that the unauthorized purchase of goods by a wife whose husband has adequately provided for her inevitably will have a tendency to disturb and possibly disrupt their conjugal relations."

It was as long ago as 1898 that a Maryland court set up a bar to the wifely remark, "Charge it, please." That in legal terminology, was the case of Jones v. Gutman.

The court held when husband and wife are living together and she is properly maintained she has no implied authority in law to pledge her husband's credit. Whether she has actual authority depends on the facts of the particular case.

National Champs of Basketball Will Play Harvesters

The National high school basketball champions of Athens, Texas, will play the Pampa Harvesters here on January 2 and 3, it was definitely decided today.

In answer to Odus Mitchell's telegram of invitation, Coach Jimmie Kitts of Athens high replied that he would bring his team if Pampa had a good gymnasium. Given this assurance, he readily consented to come while in this section to play at Amarillo and Panhandle.

The largest crowds ever in Central gymnasium are expected when the national champions, who won their laurels at Chicago last year, take the floor against the Harvesters.

PRINCIPAL KEEPER IS KILLED BY REVOLTERS BUT WARDEN AND SEVEN GUARDS ARE RESCUED

Auburn Rioters Threaten to Slay Several of State Employees Unless Granted Freedom at Gates

GOVERNOR ANSWERS QUICKLY WITH TEAR GAS BOMB RAID

Troops and Police From Many Places Joined by Armed Citizens Surround Walls Ready for Battle

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 11.—(AP)—For the second time within six months a desperate group of long term convicts in the Auburn state prison mutinied today and spread death and terror throughout the prison, shooting down the principal keeper and seizing the warden and seven guards whom they held as hostages for their safe conduct to freedom.

Within four hours, Warden Edgar B. Jennings and all seven guards had been snatched to safety by state troopers operating behind a barrage of tear gas, and three convicts, including the spokesman for the mutineers, had been slain, while remaining members of the little group of desperadoes remained barricaded in the back hall of the prison, surrounded by hundreds of state troopers, National Guardsmen, and city police.

The known dead were Principal Keeper George A. Durnford, slain at the outbreak of the mutiny, and Henry Sullivan, convicted in Erie county of robbery. Sullivan was serving an original sentence of 20 to 21 years, later lengthened after he had escaped from Auburn prison early this year. Two slain convicts were not identified immediately.

Rescue of the warden and four prison guards was made under cover of a tear gas attack. A detail of troops hurled tear gas bombs through the inner gate into the main hall and waiting until the gas had taken effect, flung the gates open.

Warden Jennings and the four men rushed through, followed by a volley of revolver shots.

Guard George E. Atkins was shot through the neck, Guard J. F. Van Housen tumbled through the opening with his eye gouged out. The two remaining to escape, as well as Warden Jennings were suffering temporarily from the gas attack. The two, Claude Dempsey and Milton Riker, were sent to the hospitals with Jennings, Atkins and Van Housen. Riker was wounded in the outbreak of last summer.

A hasty check after the escape of the group revealed that three or four guards remained in the hands of the convicts. Henry Sullivan, spokesman for the mutineers and two other convicts not yet identified, were killed during the attack by state troops.

Robbed of their last means of purchasing safe conduct from the prison, convicts prepared to make a last desperate stand in the main hall, while troopers and National Guardsmen, armed with tear gas and machine bombs, prepared to rush the barricades in the few hours remaining before darkness would throw the entire prison into pandemonium.

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 11. (AP)—A riot, said to be comparable in seriousness to that of last July in which four guards were shot and two convicts killed, broke out in Auburn state prison today.

A prison guard who escaped from the prison at the beginning of the outbreak said Warden Edgar B. Jennings had been seized and held as a hostage by the convicts and had ordered the release of twelve convicts as the price of his life.

State troopers from the Oneida barracks lined the walls and were said to have been given orders to shoot to kill as the twelve convicts left the prison.

All state police on duty throughout this section were rushed to Auburn and concentrated about the prison. Forty-five state troopers from the Oneida barracks were rushed to the prison in automobiles and on motorcycles.

Carry Tear Bombs Thirty men from the Syracuse police force were dispatched to Auburn in charge of Deputy Chief George S. Peacock. They were armed with riot guns and tear bombs.

With the walls entirely surrounded by National Guard soldiers, with loaded guns, city officials ordered the front gate of the prison opened at noon and sent word to the convicts to file out. More than 1,000 armed men, including guardsmen, troopers, police and private citizens, formed a hollow square in front of the gates at the foot of Wall street, prepared to stage a pitched battle if the convicts obeyed order but attempted to get away. All traffic was stopped for a mile on either side of the prison, and the prison area was literally filled with armed men. Virtually every citizen of Auburn who owned a gun joined one of the posses. Because of fear that Warden Jennings and the 12 guards would be killed the authorities hesitated to attack. At noon the interior of the prison was quiet. No convicts had made their appearance within the view of those gathered outside at that time. Death Is Threatened Shortly after 12 o'clock, the convicts, through a spokesman named Sullivan sent word out to the authorities: "We have guns trained on Jennings and the twelve guards. If you don't give us a free passage out in 15 minutes, we will kill them all." Warden Jennings sent a message through a trusty to the police urging: "For God's sake, give them what they want." Lieut. Solvay Perry, of troop G, commanding the troopers got into communication with Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb at Albany by telephone. "If they come out, shoot," Kieb ordered. (See PRISON, page 6.)

CONSIDERING THAT DURING THE LAST YEAR A LONG AND THOROUGH CAMPAIGN TO BACK THE FORT WORTH & DENVER'S RAILROAD APPLICATION HAS BEEN MAINTAINED, AND INTENSIVE WORK DONE TO PROTECT LAND OWNERS OF THE COUNTY, IT IS NO LITTLE ACHIEVEMENT OF THE B. C. D. IN PREVENTING A DEFICIT.

The fact that the limited budget was kept virtually intact despite unusual demands is testimony to the fine cooperation that the community at large gave during 1929. It also justifies the confidence of the voters in making the commercial organization tax-supported. This was the first year under the B. C. D. plan.

Chambers supported by general campaigns and donations place the burden upon small groups, who work for the benefit of the whole. Under the B. C. D. plan the whole contributes and no one assists as much as the average would under any other plan.

The city charter provides that a 20-cent levy may be made for B. C. D. support. During the last year a 15-cent levy was the basis. Experience of this year showed that the 15-cent, or 1 1/2-mill tax was somewhat too small.

The B. C. D. is divided into committees with chairman from the Board and members from the city at large. These committees lay out definite programs in their particular spheres. But without funds they find they can accomplish much less than planned.

Take, for example, the publicity committee. Without funds for postage, mimeographing, photographs, and the like this group cannot obtain the results desired.

Under these conditions, it appears that the 2-mill tax would be the logical one to fix for next year. The levy may be changed each year. It would be better to have a small surplus than to cut activities for lack of funds or to solicit money from those who have already contributed through their taxes.

SOUTH TEXAS AND BORDER NEWSPAPERS HAVE LIKENED THE COMING OF PRESIDENT-ELECT RUBIO OF MEXICO AS A VISIT OF A NEIGHBOR RATHER THAN A RULER.

Sr. Rubio speaks the Texas language, figuratively speaking, for his translated message smacks of Chamber of Commerce-ism. "With frankness," said the Houston Chronicle, "Rubio expressed the yearning that a spirit of civil progress, rather than of military thinking, should come to pervade his people. It is his wish that they grow to such individual betterment and come to such a degree of progress that the south side of the Rio Grande will no longer, in backwardness, furnish a contrast to the north side of that dividing line..."

At the same time, Rubio's chief opponent in the recent presidential campaign charges that the election did not give the president-elect the votes claimed, but that the office was stolen in the most high-handed fashion. This charge, repeated up and down the Mexican border, is a decidedly disturbing influence.

Vasconcelos is either a martyr run out of his own country or the arch enemy of Mexican progress. There may be some truth in what he claims, but evidently the United States government, through its observers, have found it possible to give Rubio full recognition as the rightful president-elect.

A NEW MILK MARKET

The milk plant proposition that has been submitted to the citizens of Plainview by a committee of the Board of City Development is the fruition of three years of endeavor. Primarily interest of that group centers on the creation of a new market for dairy products in the territory for many miles around Plainview.

Expansion of dairying and the creation of a new market to insure that expansion is the activating motive. We have many dairy cattle in this section. Such a plant as is proposed will insure a continued increase in dairy cattle.

We have learned well the lesson that balanced farming pays best. We have learned well that dairying is one of the greatest factors in an even flow of income for those engaged in agriculture and a great stabilizing influence on business in general.

Such a plant is not local in its good effects, for it will draw products from a large territory.

A whole milk plant will open a new market in the Plains country. It will stimulate the dairy industry and will naturally increase the amount of dairy products. No existing dairy should suffer from its creation. In the long run all will be benefited.

All must help to put it over and make it a success, not only in the initial stages of financing the local participation, but financed by means of issue of local stock that are purchased. To note improvements in this section which attach to real estate you would find that practically all of such have been secured for this section through local capital.

Low rate loans on our real estate have released much of our capital that has heretofore been tied up in vendors' lien notes of the first issue. Our capital is growing. We might as well invest it locally and help build up this section of the country.

There are few avenues for the small local investor of funds to take. There are few local enterprises that are not adequately financed and few indeed issues of local stock that are purchasable.

Investigate this new proposition as a source of INVESTMENT. Let the business man figure the returns probably from his capital earnings and the returns possible from business from more people on our farms, smaller farmed acreages, day in and day out revenue from the sale of the products of the farm.—Plainview Herald.

TWINKLES

The mechanic of this department has a strong ally in this scribbling about mice. Our little friend Joyce Marie Turner, 5, recently resorted to tears and other feminine devices to save the life of what she feared might be Percy, the office mouse. For what we, and Percy too, are very grateful.

A local enthusiast says he weighs 140 B. G. The initials, he divulges, stand for "before golfing".

Borah and Johnson are against the world court. And they would be greatly disappointed if asked to take what they consider the right steps to get us in by the international fireside.

Prices of women's hose are coming down hereabout, but we mere men will have to ignore the opportunity unless we go back to colonial styles.

An enthusiastic Texan is one who thinks the defaulting Mr. Crouch ought to be glad to be back in this state even if he has to go to jail to stay here.

When we Democrats learn to accuse the G. O. P. with as much enthusiasm and eloquence as the defeated Mexicans, perhaps we can start a little political revolution too.

One can lazily stretch his arms aloft, costless, if he chooses on fine Panhandle winter days, but a good stiff norther is calculated to dissipate signs of spring fever in short order.

W. M. U. of Baptist Church Observes Week of Prayer in All-Day Meet

A special mission program, beginning at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and lasting until 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, was given at the First Baptist church by the Women's Missionary union, in observance of a week of prayer for foreign missions. At the conclusion of the program the members packed a Christmas box of clothing and bedding, valued at $62, for Buckner's Orphan's home at Dallas. They enjoyed a buffet luncheon at noon.

Mrs. C. L. McKinney was in charge of the program, which opened with a devotional. The first topic, "The Purpose and Plans for the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering," was presented by Mrs. W. B. Barson, who said the first $32,000 would be used as salaries for the forty missionaries who were returned to their fields in the 1927 Lottie Moon offering; the next $72,000, set aside to return 60 missionaries and pay their first year's salaries; the next $100,000, applied on the foreign mission debt; and all above $204,000 used in supplementing native missionary work.

The second division of the study was on "How Pamphlets Speed the Message," given by several members. Mrs. G. C. Stark spoke on "Speeding the Message Through Missions." Mrs. Ray R. Hingate's topic was "Speeding the Message Through Natives." "Speeding the Message Through the Agencies of Schools, Hospitals, and Publicity," was discussed by Mrs. W. E. Cobb. "Speeding the Message Through Prayer and Stewardship" was given by Mrs. McKinney. "How Shall We Speed the Message" was a discussion by Mrs. T. H. Barnard. A vocal duet by Mrs. Van Carter and Mrs. Wilson Hatcher was a pleasant supplement to the program. Mrs. Price played the piano accompaniment.

Members present, in addition to those appearing on the program, were: Mrs. D. H. Truhitte, Mrs. O. H. Gilstrap, Mrs. S. L. Anderson, Mrs. J. C. Barnard, Mrs. T. W. Jamison, Mrs. H. M. Stokes, Mrs. Paul Link, Mrs. G. D. Holmes, Mrs. Will Brown.

Carl Sandburg's Work Studied by Twentieth Century Club Tuesday

The work of Carl Sandburg was studied by members of Twentieth Century club at their meeting yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Paul Kasahka. Mrs. Clifford Braly, program director, opened discussion with a talk on Sandburg as a typical local color poet and a biographical sketch.

Sandburg's "Abraham Lincoln" was summarized by Mrs. F. M. Culberson. Mrs. A. H. Doucette gave a study on the poet's imaginative work. "To a Contemporary Bunk Shooter," the writer's satirical thrust at Billy Sunday, was read by Mrs. Raymond Harral.

Whether Carl Sandburg's work is coarse realism or tender idealism was discussed by Mrs. Floyd Smith, who inclined rather to the first definition. Mrs. Porter Malone told what socialistic tendencies are found in Sandburg's work.

During a brief business session Mrs. R. W. Mitchell was elected club representative to the Council of Clubs, succeeding Mrs. H. D. Lewis, resigned. Mrs. W. T. Fraser read a letter written by Mrs. L. B. Hughey, chairman of literacy for the Seventh district Federation of Women's clubs, to each federated club of the area. Mrs. Tom E. Rose presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. A. Bratton.

Guests were Mrs. H. I. Garber of Rudolph, Ohio, and Mrs. L. Nicholson of Dallas. Members present, in addition to those taking part on the program, were: Mrs. W. T. Fraser, Mrs. I. B. Hughey, Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, Mrs. Tom E. Rose, Mrs. J. D. Sugg, Mrs. H. G. Twiford, and Mrs. Edwin Vicars.

Eagle's Nest

It's in a five-room apartment in the building pictured here, in New York, that the Lindbergh's are going to house-keeping. The famed aviator and his bride will have a large living room with a log-burning fireplace, a foyer, two bedrooms and a bath, and a small combination kitchenette-dinette. Their annual rental, it was reported, will be $3200.

Troop School to Meet Wednesday

The third session of a troop school for reserve officers of Pampa and the vicinity will be held at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the offices of Willis Studer and Studer, with Lieut. Alden E. Spees in charge. Map reading will be the study, it was announced.

In calling the meeting, Lieut. Spees said credits for previous schools would be distributed to officers in attendance. He is of the opinion that in addition to the eighteen who have reported to the school, there are a number who have recently moved into the vicinity, and it is his wish that they take advantage of the opportunities of the school.

Officers of Local Pythian Sisters Lodge Are Elected Tuesday

SPEAKS ON TEACHING

Dr. B. A. Hodges of Waxahachie delivered his second address to the teachers of the First Presbyterian church last night.

He spoke on the subject, "What a Teacher Should Know." Dr. Hodges said someone has given this as the real test of an education: "Can you do what you ought to do when you ought to do it, whether you want to do it or not?"

"The teacher must first know God," said Dr. Hodges, "know him by experience as well as historically, and the teacher must know the Bible."

At 7:30 this evening Dr. Hodges will use this subject, "What the Teacher Should Know About the Pupil."

The pastor extends to the public an invitation to hear this closing address of this expert in Sunday school work. A. A. HYDE, Minister

NO DRAW WILL SATISFY PUG'S DAD-MANAGER

Newspapers have been asked by E. B. Grubbs, Pug's manager-father, to give no draw decision when Pug, 121, of Berger, meets K. O. Kitchens, 131, of Pampa in the 8-round semi-final event at the Pla-Mor Thursday night. No one is expecting a draw or a decision on the main event of the evening between Lether Platter and Cyclone Bonds; everybody is expecting a knockout. However, there are no stipulations if neither of them kiss the carpet before the end of the tenth round.

As you know, wrote Manager Grubbs to Jack C. Rogers, promoter, "we were dissatisfied with a draw decision last time and Pug and myself are asking that in case the bout goes eight rounds and the papers can't see that Kitchens has been beaten fairly, we will ask them to give Kitchens a decision, but not under any circumstances would we be satisfied for it to be called a draw, as this always leaves a bad taste in the fans' mouths. If we can't win fairly and cleanly to the satisfaction of every one present, Kitchens included, we will be glad to see him get a decision."

Pug and K. O. fought to what newspapers called a draw and the referee Sam Penberg said was a decision for Grubbs at Pampa two weeks ago. However, both The News and The Pampa Daily Herald, loath to give either Grubbs or Kitchens a decision, gave Kitchens a minute edge over Grubbs.

The "revenge" card has aroused much interest in surrounding towns. The Berger Herald says: "It is expected that if no Pampa fans attend the match Thursday night, the Pla-Mor auditorium would be filled with Berger friends of the two local boys." Promoter Rogers said that the Platter-Bonds bout was the talk of White Deer and Panhandle when he was over there yesterday.

Trainers announced today that both Bonds and Platter are in the pink of

Rare Degree

Marking the first time in history, the University of Mexico, oldest university in the western hemisphere and founded in 1551, will confer its honorary degree on an American, Reginald Dean Root, A. B., of New York, above, in recognition of his character building influence as coach of the University of Mexico football squad. Root found the problem of teaching abstinence from alcohol and tobacco a difficult one, but it finally was overcome among his players. He was forced to employ an interpreter in his work and, in addition, had to serve as financial adviser to the university in the matter of sports.

condition. Bonds went 10 rounds yesterday afternoon, as he has done for the last week, and was ready for ten more. Platter says he's ready. Over 100 persons saw Bonds work out at the Pla-Mor yesterday.

All ring-side seats have been sold and the others are going fast. Rogers is expecting a record crowd.

AMARILLO PEP SQUAD CALLED BEST IN TEXAS

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

They take their high school football very seriously out in West Texas. Anyone who thinks he has seen the ultimate in color and sheer enthusiasm at a football game should make it a point to attend Saturday's state semi-final struggle between the Breckenridge Buckaroos and Waco Tigers at Breckenridge. Possibly the Denton-Port Arthur fray at Port Arthur will be equally spectacular, but the scene at Buckaroo bowl, or whatever they call it, last Saturday happens to be fresh in mind. It was a revelation. It made any number of games played in the Southwest conference this season seem almost prosaic by comparison.

The Amarillo Golden Sandstorm, after sweeping clean everything in its path in the Panhandle, was stopped and thrown back by the wiry Breckenridge eleven, but the Sandies took all honors when it came to a cheering section. Some 200 girls, as alike as so many peas in their orange and black costumes, and a 40-piece band, elaborately trapped, accompanied the big Amarillo squad on the trip. Their massed cheering was perfect and almost continuous, even after the Sandstorm was hopelessly behind. It would be difficult to imagine a more intense school spirit. Five minutes after the game ended there was not a dry eye in the group. After seeing the squad of huskies coached by Dutch Smith and the support of its student body, it is easy to understand why the Sandies annually clean out their district.

Southern Methodist has only ten games scheduled next year, including those with Notre Dame, Navy and Indiana, but Jordan, an alumnus of the school, predicts they will book at least two more. "Rice has gone out and scheduled twelve," he said by way of explanation, "and you know that Dr. Blackwell won't sleep a wink until he has matched it." The Mustangs business manager is becoming noted for his match-making proclivities. He believes in keeping a good football team busy. Gaylord Johnson, business manager at Rice, believes a heavy schedule is what next year's young team will need. "They will require a lot of seasoning," he said, "and I'm going to give it to them in one big dose."

The Southwest conference has just gone through its annual meeting without even a rumor that another team would be added to the circuit or one dropped. There appears slight likelihood of the roster being changed for many years now. Before last year's meeting it was freely predicted Arkansas would be banished and Centenary given its berth. So far as could be learned, the question was not even brought up at Monday's meeting. The Razorbacks are in more solidly than ever. Coach Thomsen booked four conference games and could have gotten another had he chosen to bring his squad to Texas the second week of the season. He explained his big boys rounded into shape too slowly for that. Although not in the conference, Centenary has a game scheduled next year with every member except S. M. U.

ALEXANDER TRADED

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (AP)—The Evening World today said that Grover Cleveland Alexander, famed old pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, had been traded to the Philadelphia Nationals, the team where he made his big league bow almost a quarter of a century ago. He and Harry McCurdy, former White Sox catcher, the World says, have been sent to the Phillies in exchange for outfielder Peel and Pitcher Bob McGraw.

Stranger Lewis Wins

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 11. (AP)—"Stranger" Lewis won a wrestling bout with George Hill of Rockford, Ill., last night in straight falls, getting the first on a headlock in 31 minutes, and the second in two minutes after Hill missed a flying tackle and alighted upon his head on the floor.

GRUBBS WILL BE IN ELEVEN OF DIXIE GAME

DALLAS, Dec. 11. (AP)—Coach Ray Morrison, mentor of the Southwest's team in the Dixie classic grid contest here New Year's day, has a field general for his team ranked as the best in the conference—Howard Grubbs, quarterback of the champion Horned Frogs of Texas Christian university.

Grubbs wired his acceptance yesterday, and at the same time it became probable the Southwest team would have the services of "Choc" Sanders, captain of the undefeated S. M. U. team this year, when Sanders received a wire cancelling his invitation to play in the East-West game at San Francisco. The invitation was cancelled because Sanders hadn't answered it; but he hadn't answered because he had never received an official invitation.

At Purdue, Coach Jimmy Phelan of the Big Ten aggregation which will meet the Southwest's best, had acceptances from Art Phamer and Les P. Arabek, halfback and guard respectively on the University of Minnesota team.

SCRIMMAGE IS HEAVY FOR S. C. FOOTBALL MEN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11. (AP)—Scrimmage was on the practice program for the University of Southern California football team today in preparation for its game with Carnegie Tech here Saturday.

Coach Howard Jones has emphasized his men must not consider the game merely as a warmup for the East-West classic between the Trojans and the Panthers of Pittsburgh at the Pasadena rose bowl New Year's day.

The Carnegie team is expected to arrive Friday.

Penney President Says Merger Not Being Completed

The executives of the J. C. Penney company have not discussed the basis of a merger with any Chicago mail order house, according to E. C. Sams, president.

"Sometime ago a committee was chosen from our executives to study the economic advantages that might grow out of the merging of our organization with one of the other of the large mail order houses," he recently said.

"There are many unworked problems in the field of distribution. Mass production has outstripped the facilities of distribution. Wherever possible, improvement is being made in the economics of merchandising in order to provide a better service for the consumer as well as generate a greater enthusiasm among the workers.

"The initial study now being made by our organization to determine what benefits might be secured through a combination of mail-order and over-the-counter service will be completed in the near future.

"No step further than this has been made nor will it be made unless the facts resulting from the initial survey warrant further negotiations leading toward a merger."

Youth Tells How He Killed Family

WAXAHACHIE, Dec. 11. (AP)—A purported statement from Herman Riley, 19, telling how he shot and killed his father while he slept, shot his mother to death when she fled and attempted to kill his younger brother when he was in the hands of officials today.

Authorities claim Riley made and signed the statement in the presence of County Attorney A. D. Emerson, his father and newspapermen. In it two motives were advanced for the slaying—anger between father and son and a desire of the son to obtain the family's meagre goods.

Prior to the night of the shooting the elder Riley reprimanded Herman for bending a plowshare against a stump.

"I got mad at my daddy in the field," the statement said, "because he got mad at me. My folks go along—had was one reason I wanted to kill them."

NEGRO COUPLE HELD IN DEATH OF PRO OFFICER

CUSHING, Okla., Dec. 11. (AP)—County officials prepared to act swiftly today against John Young, negro, and his wife, accused of slaying Otto Butler, federal prohibition agent of Enid, and wounding George Danhour, another federal agent, during a liquor raid here last night.

M. J. Bradley, Payne county sheriff, said murder charges would be filed against both Young and his wife at Stillwater, and other officials indicated plans already had been made to put the case before the courts speedily.

Butler and Danhour, accompanied by Dave Humphrey, deputy sheriff, went to Young's home. Humphrey, fearing he might be recognized, left the house, and a short time after his departure, Danhour said, the federal agents asked to purchase a pint of whiskey.

When the negro produced the liquor, Danhour continued, he was served with a warrant for his arrest. Young, he said, snatched at the bottle in an effort to destroy it, and during the scuffle between Danhour and the negro, Butler entered another room, where he found Young's wife. He heard a shot, Danhour said, and a moment later Butler fell to the floor near the doorway, where he died almost instantly.

Young also fired, Danhour said, and the federal man fell to his knees. After he had been shot, Danhour said he attempted to draw his own gun, when the woman came to the door of the room and fired at him.

Cushing officers, hearing the firing, arrested the negro and his wife under

Flood Sufferers Battle Over Plan to Drain Villages

BRIDGEWATER, Somersetshire, England, Dec. 11. (AP)—A desperate fight to save this town lying low on the plain of Somerset from inundation was being waged today by gangs of men and women.

Their conflict was not only with the elements, which have threatened increasingly each day, but with residents of surrounding villages, who thought protective barriers by the Bridgewater residents was preventing water from running off their own submerged lands and houses.

The townsfolk professed sympathy with the villagers, who had suffered great losses and misery. But they refused steadily to remove their sandbag protections, maintaining it was necessary to confine the floodwaters to the present area and that nothing would be gained from allowing the town also to be swamped.

There were several attempts of the villagers to damage the town's flood defense.

John Gilbert in Famous Play at Rex Theatre Now

Daring sophisticated John Gilbert's latest talking triumph, "His Glorious Night," a filmization of Molnar's famous stage play, "Olympia," comes to the screen as the most delightful out-loud bit of romantic comedy seen or heard in many a season.

Gilbert, saucily reminiscent of "The Merry Widow," magnificently handles his role from the very first scene and opening sentence in Willard Mack's dialogue to the last, and completely dispels whatever fears his fans may have held for his future in the talkies.

Indeed, it is difficult to withstand the temptation to credit this as the finest performance of Gilbert's career, even with the poignant recollections of "The Big Parade" before us. Not that this sprightly characterization has anything in common with that doughy role, but Gilbert's splendid beyond the pale of adjectives.

It was a very pleasant happening that Lionel Barrymore was given the directorial reins in this talkie picture version of the Pereno Molnar play. Barrymore proved with "Lionel" that he is way ahead of the field as a dialogue director and his new accomplishment amply justifies the critical acclaim that greeted his first venture behind the camera.

The picture which opens today at the Rex theatre, shows a rare discernment on the part of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in providing so scintillating a

Two Street Cars Damaged by Bombs

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 11. (AP)—Dynamiting of two street cars after a month of quiet today brought about an investigation in which police said suspects would be charged with violating both the state law providing the death penalty for such violence and a federal injunction protecting the trolleys.

Since the beginning of a street car strike in July numerous trolleys have been bombed.

The two cars were dynamited last night in the residential section of the city. Two negroes were injured. All policemen on vacations were ordered to return to duty to reinforce the patrol system.

The explosions took place only a few minutes apart. In the first car the blast tore up the floor, broke a front truck and drive wheel and smashed almost every glass in the windows, but injured no one. In the same section shortly afterward another car was bombed with 20 passengers aboard, all except the two negroes escaped injury.

Further instructions to police head quarters.

"Bring that Magnus chap in, Boyle!" Dundee heard him instruct the patrolman from the doorway, a few minutes later. Coming into the room, he growled to Dundee, who had again taken his place behind the screen: "We're wasting time here, boy, but I suppose I've got to see the rest of these people on the off-chance they saw or heard something."

"Good night! Good night!" a hoarse voice croaked sleepily. Strawn whirled, then remembered the parrot and chuckled. "You sleepy, too, Cap'n? Well, it won't be long now, old top! . . . Come in! . . . You're Magnus?"

Bert Magnus, clad in a cheap Terry-cloth bathrobe over cotton pajamas, stood blinking in the blaze of light as if he had been aroused from sleep.

"Herbert S. Magnus," he answered the detective.

"How did you spend the evening, Magnus, from dinner time until you were told of Mrs. Hogarth's murder?"

"I accompanied Miss Cora Barker to the Little Queen Theater, where she plays the piano," Magnus answered. "I left the theater about nine o'clock, and returned to my room. I read over the manuscript of a scenario I am working on, and then began to revise it. I became so absorbed in the work that I neglected to keep an appointment with Miss Barker to meet her after the closing of the theater. In fact, I did not realize what time it was until too late to keep the appointment, so I kept on with my work."

"How late did you work?"

"Till about 12:30, I believe. Last Saturday night I obtained permission from Mrs. Rhodes to type until 12 o'clock, though on other nights she has asked me not to type after 11, for fear of disturbing others. I had intended to quit promptly at 12, as she had requested, but when I looked at my watch, a few minutes after Mr. Styles had spoken to me, I found it was a quarter past 12. I finished the page I had in the machine, and stopped. I was just getting into bed when I was told the tragic news."

"Did you hear or see anyone or anything out of the ordinary during that time, Mr. Magnus?"

"Why, no. I was pretty much absorbed in my writing. As I said, Walter Styles, the young man who has the room next to mine, spoke to me from the porch. But otherwise I saw and spoke to no one, nor was I conscious of hearing anything unusual. Oh, yes! A new boarder, a Mr. Dundee, interrupted me earlier in the evening—probably about 11, though I did not notice the time, or realize then that it was so late, or I should have gone to keep my appointment with Miss Barker."

"How long have you boarded here, Mr. Magnus?"

"I came to Hamilton on June 5, from Philadelphia. I was employed there for a year as a bookkeeper, with the Acme Paper Company. I am originally from Riverside, California—"

"A knock on the door interrupted, and Detective Green, who had earlier brought in Dr. Weeks, plunged into the room.

"A real clue, chief! A hot one!" he exulted, offering a disreputable old tweed cap.

Strawn stretched out a hand for the cap, but Green warned him excitedly: "Careful, chief! Or the green feather will fall out!"

The Avenging Parrot Service, Inc. Anne Austin, author of "The Black Pigeon," "Rival Wives," etc. Further instructions to police head quarters. "Bring that Magnus chap in, Boyle!" Dundee heard him instruct the patrolman from the doorway, a few minutes later. Coming into the room, he growled to Dundee, who had again taken his place behind the screen: "We're wasting time here, boy, but I suppose I've got to see the rest of these people on the off-chance they saw or heard something." "Good night! Good night!" a hoarse voice croaked sleepily. Strawn whirled, then remembered the parrot and chuckled. "You sleepy, too, Cap'n? Well, it won't be long now, old top! . . . Come in! . . . You're Magnus?" Bert Magnus, clad in a cheap Terry-cloth bathrobe over cotton pajamas, stood blinking in the blaze of light as if he had been aroused from sleep. "Herbert S. Magnus," he answered the detective. "How did you spend the evening, Magnus, from dinner time until you were told of Mrs. Hogarth's murder?" "I accompanied Miss Cora Barker to the Little Queen Theater, where she plays the piano," Magnus answered. "I left the theater about nine o'clock, and returned to my room. I read over the manuscript of a scenario I am working on, and then began to revise it. I became so absorbed in the work that I neglected to keep an appointment with Miss Barker to meet her after the closing of the theater. In fact, I did not realize what time it was until too late to keep the appointment, so I kept on with my work." "How late did you work?" "Till about 12:30, I believe. Last Saturday night I obtained permission from Mrs. Rhodes to type until 12 o'clock, though on other nights she has asked me not to type after 11, for fear of disturbing others. I had intended to quit promptly at 12, as she had requested, but when I looked at my watch, a few minutes after Mr. Styles had spoken to me, I found it was a quarter past 12. I finished the page I had in the machine, and stopped. I was just getting into bed when I was told the tragic news." "Did you hear or see anyone or anything out of the ordinary during that time, Mr. Magnus?" "Why, no. I was pretty much absorbed in my writing. As I said, Walter Styles, the young man who has the room next to mine, spoke to me from the porch. But otherwise I saw and spoke to no one, nor was I conscious of hearing anything unusual. Oh, yes! A new boarder, a Mr. Dundee, interrupted me earlier in the evening—probably about 11, though I did not notice the time, or realize then that it was so late, or I should have gone to keep my appointment with Miss Barker." "How long have you boarded here, Mr. Magnus?" "I came to Hamilton on June 5, from Philadelphia. I was employed there for a year as a bookkeeper, with the Acme Paper Company. Three Raids Are Made by Sheriff

Three liquor raids made by the sheriff's department last night netted six arrests and four gallons of whiskey. Of the six persons, three were women. Four are being held in jail. One of the arrests was of a negro who had a gallon of "Borger whiskey," as it was described by the officers. The rest was "Oklahoma whiskey." One of the raids was made in West Pampa and the two others in South Pampa.

GOVERNOR—

(Continued from page 1.) dependent ticket which would be pitted against the Democratic nominees in the general election. Many believe that should an independent ticket be organized, the regular Republicans would support it in an effort to further create discord within the State Democratic party.

Want Early Decision Much depends on action of the committee with respect to this ruling. Leaders of the bolters have asked for an early decision so they could shape their plans accordingly, but it seems probable action will not be taken for some time yet.

Should the party managers decide to bar candidates who bolted such action would put a different phase on the election. The executive committee would go even further and refuse to permit party members who voted for Hoover to participate in the primary. Barring of candidates or voters, or both, would likely add to the bitterness of the fight between the factions within the party and passage a campaign that would attract the interest of the entire country for its warmth.

PRISON—

Ferry returned to his command, drew up his men in a firing line in front of the open gate, and declared: "The warden will have to take his chances. If they come out, we will mow them down. If they don't come out before a load of tear gas we have ordered gets here, we will go in any way, and we will go in shooting."

Telephone Wires Cut State troopers from the Oneida barracks, Auburn city police and firemen, and members of the local units of the New York National Guard were summoned at the outset to help in quelling the riot.

Discovery of the mutiny was made by a guard named Winney as he walked through a main doorway, a convict pulled a gun and ordered him to throw up his hands.

Instead Winney threw himself down behind a post and then broke through the door. The convict fired at him but missed, and Winney reached the main office of the prison, where he spread the alarm.

Telephone wires within the prison walls were found to have been cut, severing communications between the office and the warden and keepers who were in the main hall at the time the outbreak started. Telephone wires outside the walls were found to be intact, however, and were used to summon aid which arrived within half an hour.

Meanwhile, whipping guns from beneath their uniforms, the long term prisoners herded the warden and his staff into a corner of the hall and laid down their terms. Mrs. Jennings, wife of the warden, was barricaded within her house, inside the walls, but was well protected by armed civilian employees.

Also Rioted July 29 The last riot at Auburn prison occurred on Sunday, July 29. Fifty long term convicts led 1,700 inmates in the revolt, captured the prison arsenal, stormed the main gates and burned prison shops valued at $500,000.

Two convicts were killed, a third was seriously wounded, four guards were wounded by gun fire, and four convicts escaped. One was killed later while resisting recapture.

It being Sunday afternoon, the force of guards had been reduced to one third strength, but a mere handful of guards held the convicts at bay until the remainder of the staff and supporting state troopers arrived on the scene.

This outbreak was the second of a series of four major prison uprisings which occurred in various parts of the country within a period of four months. The first occurred at Clinton prison, Dannemora, N. Y., on July 22. Known as "Siberia" to the underworld, Clinton prison houses only the most desperate criminals. Thirteen hundred of them rushed the guards in a daring attempt to escape.

Three of the convicts were killed and the uprising finally subdued by guards and troops from the state militia camp at Plattsburg.

Rebelle Over Food Convicts at the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kans., rebelled over the quality of their food and the discipline system on August 1. One prisoner was killed and three injured.

The most serious of the four outbreaks was at the Colorado state prison at Canyon City on October 3. Seven guards and five convicts lost their lives in the Colorado mutiny. The riot ended after 24 hours of furious fighting when the ringleaders committed suicide. The guards killed were seized as hostages by the prisoners and murdered one by one and their bodies thrown out of the cell house windows when authorities refused to grant the convicts demands for freedom.

No. 2 Morse Flows 250 Barrels Daily

McGahey, Osborne and Adams' No. 2 Morse in section 1, block 26, struck pay yesterday at 2,531 feet and is now flowing 250 barrels daily with no decrease in the initial daily production. The well is an offset to Dancier Oil and Refining company's No. 4 Morse. The Adams Oil company's No. 4 Morse in section 3, block 26, has struck oil at 2,465 feet but has not yet been completed.

Disagreement in Situation in Haiti Has Developed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. (AP)—Many attorneys of Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, have signed a statement charging that the deployment of armed American forces has thrown the city into a condition of agitation and asserting that they will refrain from pleading in the island courts until "a new order" has been instituted.

This was reported to the state department last night by Brigadier General John H. Russell, American high commissioner, who simultaneously made a vigorous denial of the charges of the lawyers.

He said that quiet prevailed, with indications of an improved condition throughout the island, and he quoted prominent residents of Cape Haitien as saying they would "welcome a firm, orderly government" whether administered by Americans or by their own people.

Naval officers here are of the opinion that if quiet continues to prevail in Haiti, the 500 marines ordered there and more recently directed to await developments at Guantanamo, Cuba, will be returned to the United States within a fortnight. Orders went forward yesterday to the U. S. S. Wright, which is transporting the force, to put in at Guantanamo and await orders.

Furneaux Well Gets Attention of Major Companies

Interest of oil companies is again centered in Southeast Gray county where Dillard No. 1 Wilson on the Furneaux land was deepened and made 72 barrels of oil flowing and swabbed in 24 hours.

Three weeks ago the well topped the pay and sprayed seven barrels in one day. It was then shut down by operators until certain acreages were leased. Many companies have been leasing in the territory since the first oil was struck.

The total depth of the hole at this time is 3,173, or 102 feet above sea level, but as soon as storage tanks can be built the well will probably be deepened more.

It is located in the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 202, block B-2, H&GN survey. There is no production within five or six miles of the new producer. The well is seven miles northeast of Groom. It opens up an entirely new territory.

Faulty Indictment Causes New Trial

AUSTIN, Dec. 11. (AP)—Because the indictment stated the defendant had "voluntarily" killed the deceased, instead of using the term "with malice and aforethought," John Swilley, under life sentence from Liberty county for the murder of H. J. Hendrix, was granted a new trial by the court of criminal appeals today.

Obbie Davis, Jr., given fifteen years by a Harrison county jury for the murder of Chapman Jarrell, won a reversal. The killing occurred in Panola county on September 19, 1928.

Three States Are Enveloped in Fog

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 11. (AP)—A large part of three states, Missouri, Kansas, and Arkansas, struggled this morning to keep traffic moving through a dense fog which dropped over hundreds of square miles soon after dark last night. Air routes have been paralyzed since Sunday, and motor traffic moved today at snail's pace.

Streets here resounded throughout the night to the din of motor car horns. In many low spots drivers could not even see the radiators of their own cars, more than a score of traffic accidents were reported in Kansas City alone, but because of the generally slow speed of traffic none of them was serious.

Railroads maintained schedules from the West and Southwest, in most instances, but many trains lost as much as an hour in moving through the train yards to the union station. Block signals and the lanterns of switchmen were invisible a car's length distant. Officials of air routes operating to the Southwest from Kansas City said no planes had left here since Sunday morning.

Lobby Inquiry Now on Market Efforts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. (AP)—Senator Caraway's lobby inquiry committee is to look into reports that commission grain dealers have attempted to interfere with the federal farm board in its effort to establish a grain-marketing organization owned and controlled by the farmers.

Charges that Barnes had intervened with the president in opposition to the farm board's plans were vigorously denied late yesterday at the White House, and it was also asserted there was no difference of opinion between the board and the chief executive.

Resolutions of Respect:

I. O. O. F., Pampa Lodge No. 934. To the officers and members of Pampa Lodge I. O. O. F. No. 934, We, your committee on resolutions, beg to submit the following: Whereas, on December 9, 1929, the hand of God, removed from our midst and from the scenes of his earthly labors, our beloved Brother, W. A. Taylor.

Whereas, we acknowledge the wisdom, love and mercy of Almighty God, by whose kind providence he lived to love and care for a devoted family, blessed our community and promoted Christianity, and was faithful to his order.

Be it therefore resolved, the will of Almighty God be done and that we invoke the blessings of His comforting spirit upon the bereaved family. Be it further resolved, that through his death the town has lost a dear and loving citizen, the family a loving companion and father, and Pampa Lodge I. O. O. F. No. 934, a loyal and faithful member.

We grieve, yet a greater one than he, said, "Come up higher," so let us bow our heads in humble submission and say, "All is well" for, "In our Fathers house are many mansions," and tomorrow we too will join that innumerable throng that moves steadily on to the great beyond.

Be it further resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our lodge, a copy tendered the family of our deceased Brother, and a copy furnished our local paper. (Signed)

Interurban Cars Jump Track But No Persons Killed

DALLAS, Dec. 11. (AP)—Believed to have struck some metallic object on the track, a two-car interurban train, bound from Fort Worth to Dallas jumped the rails two miles west of Dallas last night. Twenty people were injured, four seriously.

Nineteen of the injured were brought to hospitals in Dallas by ambulances rushed to the scene. One woman returned to Fort Worth, only slightly injured.

Belief that the train was thrown from the tracks by some object on the tracks was expressed by Motorman J. S. Joyce of Handley. The front car changed ends and rolled down an embankment, while the rear car plowed for nearly fifty yards further, finally tipping over against the embankment. The tracks were badly torn, the cross ties being almost severed in some places.

At an early hour today, repairs had not been made, and traffic over the line was tied up. Buses were substituted soon after the wreck, but stopped running late last night.

Most of those injured were Dallas people. Those from outside Dallas were: Ralph N. Smith, Muskogee, Okla.; R. S. McAllister, Greenville, P. J. Turner, Detroit, Texas; Edmund Silverbrand, Detroit, Mich.; Charles F. Pykes, New Orleans.

Mrs. Victor P. Arnold of Dallas held an infant baby in her arms. The baby was uninjured while the mother suffered a bruised back.

Two men were motoring nearby and saw and reported the wreck. They said the train was traveling at a high rate of speed when it jumped the tracks. They immediately went to the nearest telephone and summoned ambulances.

Dangerous broken wires, the darkness, and long lines of curious motorists hampered the rescue work. Within a half hour after the crash, motorists found it impossible to drive within a mile of Irwindell, near where the train was wrecked. One ambulance
