Seventy-Two Children Are Trampled to Death in Theatre Blaze

PANIC DRIVES YOUNGSTERS IN FRENZY TODAY

Few of Victims Killed by Fire Starting in Booth

INJURIES FOUND TO BE INTERNAL

Little Bodies Piled 6 Deep at Every Exit

PAISLEY, Scotland, Dec. 31. (AP)—At least 72 persons, most of them children, between the ages of 5 and 14, perished today in a panic started by a fire which broke out in a motion picture theatre here sending the crowded house in a wild dash for the exits.

Most of the victims were children who were suffocated or trampled to death in a mad rush to safety, and many died at the foot of two main staircases leading from a balcony where the bodies of boys and girls were piled six deep.

At the hospital to which the dead and dying were rushed as speedily as they could be dragged from the stricken theatre, 69 and the number of children treated for minor burns or injuries 150.

The theatre was filled to capacity, and the film had unwound about half of the story of "The Crowd" when a sheet of flame shot out of the projection box. The sudden ending of the show turned all eyes to the operator's quarters, and there was an immediate cry of "fire" from all sections of the house.

A wild rush started for the exits; the aisles were filled with struggling boys and girls who fought to reach the doors.

The doorways were also quickly jammed. As those in front went down under the crushing pressure from the crowd in the rear, the victims piled themselves into heaps.

Parents Interfere
It was this condition which confronted the firemen and constables when they reached the place. The rescuers fought grimly to disentangle the children and clear the way for those still held in the theatre. The task was made the more difficult by the crowding forward of parents who rushed to the scene as the alarm spread rapidly through the murky mill town.

Fortunately the fire itself did not spread to the theatre, and after the place had been cleared, it showed little trace of damage. Had the flames taken hold of the structure the death list would have mounted into the hundreds because none of those imprisoned behind the jammed doorways could have escaped asphyxiation.

The theatre seats 750 persons. As today's performance was billed as a special holiday matinee for children, the house was fully occupied by youngsters of from 5 to 14 years of age.

From Working Classes
Virtually all of these children came from working class homes where parents and elder brothers and sisters provide a somewhat precarious living from wages earned during intermittent operation of the mills and factories of Paisley.

Despite the size of the disaster and the grief which seized bereaved households, relief work was quickly organized and carried out in an orderly manner. But the best efforts of firemen and police could not assuage the tragedy of the scenes at the theatre and the hospital.

Mothers crowded around the amusement place and cried in agony for news of the fate of their little ones. At the infirmary where the dead were laid out, broken-hearted parents stumbled blindly past the still forms identifying the victims.

SELF DEFENSE IS PLEADED IN CANADIAN TRIAL OF EARL SCOTT, WHO SHOT BORGER WOMAN APRIL 15

CANADIAN, Dec. 31. (AP)—Pleading self-defense, Earl C. Scott went on trial for murder today in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Bonnie Turner at Borger last April 15.

While the state awaited arrival of witnesses, first testimony for the defense was offered when Mrs. Scott was placed on the stand. Similar charges against her were dismissed yesterday. She told the court she had been subjected to "numerous insults" from Mrs. Turner, and Mrs. Turner had threatened the lives of both Mrs. Scott and her husband. As he listened to the story, the defendant frequently wiped tears from his eyes.

Scott told police, when he surrendered immediately after the shooting, that Mrs. Turner had accused Mrs. Scott of "being in company with Mr. Turner."

The case was brought here on a change of venue.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 31. (AP)—Governor Holloway today declined to honor a Texas requisition for R. Paul Conroy, who faced a swindling charge at Borger, Texas, in connection with the purchase of $400 worth of oil pipe. It was alleged he gave a worthless check in the deal.

CITIZENS AND BANDITS FIGHT DURING ALARM

Attempt to Loot Bank Is Frustrated in Dayton

CASHIER ESCAPES FROM CAPTORS

Two Robbers Sought in Woods to Which They Flee

DAYTON, Ohio, Dec. 31. (AP)—Five bank robbers engaged in a gun fight with citizens and officers at Phillipsburg, Ohio, near here today, after they had kidnaped Ralph Davenport, cashier, in a fruitless effort to loot the Phillipsburg state bank.

Davenport escaped from the robbers in the confusion. A posse of deputy sheriffs and 20 armed citizens at once pursued two of the bandits into a woods near the town.

Davenport was snuffed at his home last night. While several members of the gang stood as lookouts, two of them bound and held him prisoner. Mrs. Davenport fainted when they brought the cashier inside. They prepared coffee for her and remained until 6 a. m. Davenport had told them, when he recovered, that the bank's time clock would not open until then.

At 5:30 a. m. Floyd Davenport, the cashier, 14-year-old son, returning home after spending the night with friends. He turned a flashlight on a rear door and saw one of the robbers pointing a machine gun at him. The boy fled before the gunman could shoot or capture him.

Floyd gave the alarm at a filling station, but meanwhile two of the robbers had entered the bank with Davenport. The filling station employes set the town's fire siren screaming, and bullets commenced to fly.

Scores of armed citizen quickly collected in the streets, exchanging fusillades with the bandits' car as the driver endeavored to collect his partners and escape. Once he turned a machine gun on the siren, but was unable to silence it.

Three bandits finally got in the car and escaped, though pursued hotly for many miles by citizens and officers. The other two members of the gang fled into woods and fields near the town where search for them was started.

Mahan Buys Store in Bridgeport, Neb.

Arthur L. Mahan, manager of the City Drug store the last three years, has announced the purchase of a drug store in Bridgeport, Neb., and his resignation of the local management.

He will immediately take charge of his own business, which, formerly known as Young's Pharmacy, will in the future be called Mahan's Drug store. Mr. and Mrs. Mahan and their sons, Wayne and William, will leave for Bridgeport tomorrow morning.

Warren Cretney of Plainview, a former manager of the City Drug store there will succeed Mr. Mahan as manager of the local store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bratton and sons, Billy and Marquis, returned Sunday night from Fort Worth and Dallas, where they had spent ten days with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Mart Gould of Chicago are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Boyd.

Chicago Cops Kill 3 in Gang War

Adopting new methods in their war on gangsters, Chicago police lay in ambush in the offices of the Tire Workers' and Vulcanizers' Union and dealt summary justice to three racketeers who attempted to "muscle in" and gain control of the organization, killing all three in the furious gun battle that resulted. The racketeers called with sawed off shotguns and other weapons and demanded $10,000, whereupon five detectives stepped from their hiding places and began firing. These pictures show the office where the shooting took place and the three slain gangsters on the floor after the smoke cleared away. They were William (Hump) Quan, ex-convict; John Ryan, booze gangster, and William Wilson, notorious racketeer. One detective was wounded in the hand.

FEDERAL INSPECTOR ARRIVES TO INVESTIGATE AMARILLO AIRPLANE CRASH, ON WHICH OPINIONS VARY

AMARILLO, Dec. 31. (AP)—R. O. Dulaney of Dallas, district inspector with the U. S. department of commerce, arrived here today to investigate an airplane crash at the Hillcrest country club in which five persons were killed.

Dulaney was accompanied by C. R. Smith, general manager of the Southern Air Transport, Atlanta, and Jerry Marshall, operations manager of the company, Fort Worth.

Although funeral arrangements were not completed, it was expected all five would be buried here.

Lieut. Robert H. Gray, pilot of the "Miss Amarillo," was a native of New Zealand, but had made his home in the Southwest since 1922. He spent several months in Fort Worth as an official of the Southern Air Transport, returning to take over the management of the municipal airport here a month ago.

His wife, Mrs. Evelyn Gray, came here from Alabama about four years ago. They had been married two years.

The other three victims, C. N. Dillon, Ray Allison and Robert M. Moore were Amarillo business men.

A broken elevator control or a motor stalling were advanced as plausible reasons for the accident by Amarillo aviators. The craft righted itself after it went into the spin, but too late to gain altitude before it struck the ground.

The monoplane, christened "Miss Amarillo," was comparatively new, having the latest type of motors and equipment. So far as could be learned at the airport, it had no defective parts and had not been repaired lately.

RACE QUESTION BEFORE JUDGE FOR DECISION

Henry Bishop Grants Injunction Late Monday

WRIT PREVENTS POLICE ACTION

Negroes' Occupancy of Apartments Is Issue

A temporary writ of injunction restraining police Chief J. J. Downs and C. O. Bushy, acting for the city of Pampa, from interfering with T. M. Tullis, negro, "in his right to own, possess and use and rent to negroes" the Myrtle May apartments on lot 9, block 7, of the South Side addition to the city of Pampa, was granted by Judge Henry S. Bishop of the 47th district court at Amarillo yesterday. The injunction also restrains the police from attempting to enforce the city segregation ordinance.

Charles C. Cook, city attorney, announced that an application to dissolve the injunction would be filed this afternoon, and that a hearing for tomorrow at Amarillo will be asked.

Tullis was arrested Dec. 24 for violating a city ordinance and living in a white community. He was released on $200 bond. The apartment house owned by Tullis consist of 15 two-room apartments.

Petition for the injunction was presented by Judge S. D. Stennis, attorney for Tullis. In granting the petition, Judge Bishop held that the segregation ordinance "is null and void and of no effect in that it contravenes section 1 of article 14 of the Federal constitution, which reads: "... nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

The injunction was sought on the ground that the segregation ordinance is null and void. Judge Stennis' petition alleges that the ordinance was passed under the provisions of an act of the legislature in 1927, and that this act was itself a contravention of the same constitutional provisions, and is therefore null and void. The 1927 legislation act gave cities the right to pass segregation ordinances.

Tullis moved into the apartment house Dec. 23. Block 7 was set aside by the city ordinance as a part of the white community.

Both Tullis and his wife were held in jail until released on bond. Tullis had rented two of the apartments to negro families when he was arrested. The petition for an injunction states that the property owned by the negroes is worth in excess of $10,000.

The petition was presented to Judge Bishop because Judge W. R. Ewing is ill in an Oklahoma City hospital.

Investigation showed that a permit for the building was issued by the city to J. H. Spoonmore, white resident, for $3,800. The building was occupied by white persons for a time.

Following failure to appear for a city hearing this morning, Tullis and his wife were arrested, and were in jail early this afternoon.

HENRY FORD STARTED A LAUDABLE TREND WHEN HE RAISED THE WAGE SCALE IN RESPONSE TO THE DEMAND FOR STEPS TO ASSURE PROSPERITY IN THE NATION. HE IS CREDITED WITH CAUSING OTHER EXECUTIVES TO FOLLOW HIS EXAMPLE.

Wages cannot be hiked beyond a certain point without costing too much in relation to manufactured products, but they can be so low as to affect seriously the normal demand for goods.

Sweat-shop conditions are often more the result of competition than of acute economic demand. Women are worked at starvation wages in garment factories in order that we may buy the finished product more cheaply than is necessary.

Wage earners should not insist upon ever and ever cheaper prices for products of human hands. Cheap production does not make prosperity certain.

Mr. Ford well knows that better wages throughout America would increase the effective demand and demand without ability to pay is impotent for his product.

THE PROPOSAL FOR A NATIONAL RADIO UNIVERSITY, FOUNDED BY THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT IS SURE TO DRAW MUCH COMMENDATION AND CRITICISM.

Theoretically, the possibility of spreading knowledge and culture by way of the ether is stimulating to think upon. Many hundreds of thousands sit down to time in as regularly as they unfold their daily newspaper.

Objections will receive relatively more attention than discussion of benefits. Even the suggestion to establish a federal educational secretary in the president's cabinet has long drawn fire.

might even cause a volcanic eruption of public opinion.

Education in all forms is of course within the province of the national government. The advisability of operating a national air university is, however, rather doubtful.

Football's Doubtful Glory
Well, the football season ended in a blaze of glory, didn't it? More fans paid more money to crowd more stadiums to see more football teams fight for the fame of more alma maters than ever before, didn't they?

Frankly, we are a little less convinced. American intercollegiate football, once a game for eager, sport-loving youth, has become a spectacle of highly drilled specialists.

And now at the close of a tridiron season which has not been unmarked by moments of approbrium is the proper time for the college authorities to give the whole football system, using this phrase advisedly, a close and candid examination.

The trend to date has been to develop a system which has placed a premium upon victory, which has confined the benefits of the game to the highly trained few and which has forced most of the universities into the position of being the country's biggest promoters of athletic exhibitions.

There are those who would in all seriousness make college athletics frankly professional and end the hypocrisy of athletic scholarships and secret emoluments by paying the athletes an open and honest salary.

of Michigan, remarked: "If Joe Gembris's toe can win the Harvard game for Michigan and bring extra spectators by the thousand to the next game, isn't he entitled to a bonus of $10,000 or $15,000 for raising the gate receipts?"

If colleges must win football victories to win prestige, and if colleges must win athletic prestige to insure the support of their alumni and the continuance of their endowments, then they might as well hire their terms openly and go into the public athletic business in a big way.

Such recommendations as these aim, we believe, in the right direction, and when the colleges begin the administration of football in the interests of the students instead of the fans, and in the interests of sport instead of revenue, the evils of professionalism and proselyting will be naturally sloughed off and football will recede into its normal position in the academic picture.

Laredo Is Asking Valls' Resignation or His Removal

LAREDO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Business leaders seeking the resignation of John A. Valls, district attorney, as a solution to the recent closing of the Mexican consulate here, today sought more signatures to a petition approved by a mass meeting of a large number of Laredoans last night before sending it to Gov. Dan Moody, through whom action would be taken.

been laboring the past few days, believing everything would adjust itself, but instead, he said, Laredo was facing a commercial crisis that would "sap its life."

The following petition was signed by approximately 400 persons: "Hon. Dan Moody, Governor of Texas, Austin, Texas.

"We, the undersigned citizens of Laredo, Webb county, Texas, in public mass meeting assembled in the city of Laredo, Monday, December 30, 1929, most respectfully represent to you that there is a condition now existing in Laredo that is bringing great financial loss and distress to the people of this community.

The situation is occasioned by certain acts of our District Attorney, Hon. John A. Valls, and while we deplore the public statements of the consul general of Mexico requesting his resignation and believe that it is an unwarranted interference in the affairs of this state, we believe that the only immediate solution or settlement of this question is that Mr. Valls resign his office or that he be removed and that we, the undersigned citizens of Laredo, and Webb county, Texas, most respectfully petition you to request Mr. Valls resignation and in the event it is not tendered you remove him from his present office."

Visitors at the Duke of York's home have seen a new radio set which he built from a blueprint.

The girl said she resisted him, and he then drove about town, finally releasing her several blocks from her home. She said she could not describe the man, as he broke the dashboard lights in Grover's car to prevent her from seeing his face.

A general police hunt for Miss Willett was begun when Grover reported the girl had been kidnaped by an armed man.

Adaman Club to Climb Pike's Peak in Annual Stunt

Murder Charge Is Filed When Poison Found in Body

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Dec. 31. (AP)—Chemical analysis of the body of Mrs. Maggie Rhodes Kolb, recently exhumed, showed death was caused by poison, according to reports received from Indianapolis today.
She was the second wife of George Kolb, a farmer near here. At the time of death April 28, 1928, heart disease was ascribed as the cause. Exhumation was ordered as a result of an investigation into the sudden death in October this year of Edna Dagler Kolb, third wife, who, according to a recent verdict of a coroner, died of poison.

He didn't arrive in Belton until this morning. But as soon as the description of Griffin came in, I phoned you. . . . Anything from your end?"
"Nothing of importance," Dundee confessed. "I've been going over the house with a fine tooth comb but haven't found a trace of the $10,000 yet."
"Wily about you?" Sergeant Turner chuckled maliciously. "Sevier's got it—wherever he is!"
"Probably you're right," Dundee conceded without resentment.

"Probably you're right," Dundee conceded without resentment.

TOWARD the bottom of the big bag he found three or four sheets of what seemed to be one of the discarded volumes of Bert Magnus' scenario. "More To Be Pitied"—an across twice. Poor devil! He said revised that draft till he was gray-haired old man, and still it could be fit only for the wastebasket, Dundee reflected.
"Believe I'll help him make a snarl out of this case, if I ever live it," he grinned. "It ought to be a swell fistic-kick with Cap's in a title role."
On the very bottom of the bag Dundee found half a dozen crumpled sets of the yellow typing paper, he smoothed one his next aged, and involuntarily he raised a paper to his lips. For it was slim, white little fingers which blunderingly bit the keys to record the lines with which the set was half filled. There was hardly name, comically misspelled, that she became "Norman Elizabeth Plinge."
With the fourth line of practice, never, Norma had become quite sufficient. Three times she got it autolithically correct—Norma Elizabeth Plinge. And then she had saved a new practice line, not quite successfully, for she had written: "Mrs. Walter Havretford vick." Possibly it was disgust at writing so that she had turned to me that had made the girl tear a sheet from the machine and discard it.
Of the remaining crumpled sets two were doubtless Norma's. Bert's, for Dundee recognized old typed paragraphs from the scenario. But the ownership of the rest sheet was problematical. There was nothing on it but a string of s then, half-way down the sheet several spaces toward the center, a q struck over so many times that the paper had been almost cut through.
"Machine out of order," Dundee guessed, and made vague plans for fixing to Norma that he was really good at fixing things. If it was her typewriter that was "acting up" he might have the inestimable pleasure of repairing it for her.
He was about to stuff the mass of trash back into the bag when his exploring fingers touched something hard and cold, and he brought out into the light a broken piece of lens. The glass had snapped at the edge where the nosepiece had gripped it. Without thinking much about it, Dundee added the broken lens to his small collection.

WILL ENLARGE COLISEUM
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31. (AP)—The city council has approved a contract for enlargement of the Los Angeles coliseum to more than 100,000 seats in preparation for the 1932 Olympic games. The coliseum is the scene of the University of Southern California football games.

THIS WAS GREAT SPORTS YEAR, BUT 1930 PROMISES EVEN MORE COMPETITION AND MORE THRILLS

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—The old year with all its thrills in sport fades today before the new, with the promise that 1930 will furnish greater international rivalry, keener competition for the ruling champions, larger crowds, and bigger and better arguments.

At the outset, one of the main debates left over from 1929 for settlement is the east-west gridiron feud, the finishing thrusts of which will take place at San Francisco and Pasadena tomorrow. The unbeaten University of Pittsburgh team and the Eastern all-stars will seek to reverse the scales already turned in the West's favor by Stanford's conquest of Army.

Other unfinished business, bequeathed by the old year to the new, is the case of Iowa, outcast of the western conference, and the selection of a world's heavyweight boxing champion. The betting seems to be in favor of Iowa's reinstatement and the elevation of the Boston sailor, Jack Sharkey, to the post vacated in the summer of 1928 by Gene Tunney.

The first 1930 test for Sharkey is slated in Miami, Feb. 27, with Tuffy Griffith as a likely opponent. The final test, for the winner of this engagement, probably will be against Max Schmeling in June or September, but there is still some fear the eliminations again may eliminate all the contenders.

By far the most spectacular outlook for the New Year centers about the revival of international classics in golf, polo, yacht-racing and horse racing, in addition to such hardy annuals as the Davis cup contest.

In picturesque touches, the challenge of the famous Irish sportsman, Sir Thomas Minto, for the America's cup tops the list. This million-dollar venture will find Lipton's Shamrock V seeking the classic for the first time in ten years in races against the American defender of Newport, starting Sept. 13. In competitive interest, the invasion of Britain's links by Bobby Jones will be one of the year's high spots. Besides leading the American Walker cup team, Jones will campaign all along the English golfing front, seeking to repeat his triumphs of 1926 and 1927 in the British open as well as to win the British amateur for the first time. At home, the great Georgian will defend the national open and try to regain the amateur title now held by "Jimmy" Johnston.

America's youthful polo forces will be rallied under the leadership of Tommy Hitchcock to meet the challenge of Great Britain after a three-year lapse. In addition, Argentina is sending a team of riders who will start their invasion on the Pacific Coast. Horse-racing has the prospect of a $100,000 international spectacle at Arlington park, Chicago.

The Davis cup war, so far as the United States is concerned will be fought without Big Bill Tilden for the first time in ten years. Tilden's retirement leaves to youth the battle against France's well-fortified tennis ramparts. The French won without Lacoste in 1929, and they figure to keep the historic trophy for at least another year.

Helen Wills Moody, American queen of the world's courts, is expected to continue her tournament career, and Tilden, even though out of team play, will be a factor once more in the mens' championships of France, England and the United States.

Connie Mack's athletics, having crashed through to the world's championship of baseball after a long wait, figure to stick around the top in 1930. The Mackmen have the talent and equipment for a prolonged term at the peak, but the New York Yankees will be primed for a come-back under their new manager, Bob Shawkey. In the National league, the Chicago Cubs face formidable challenges for the pennant from Pittsburgh and New York.

Trial Is Delayed Today by Illness of Judge Duncan

Woodrow Shaw, 16, and Sherman Shaw, 14, who yesterday gave their last name as "Shawn" when they were placed in jail on a charge of transporting and possessing liquor, will not be tried for delinquency in juvenile court until tomorrow.

Judge Ivy E. Duncan, who is at his home ill with the flu, said it would be necessary to postpone the trial until tomorrow morning. The boys were scheduled to appear in juvenile court this morning.

The father of the boys, a tank-builder, told Sheriff E. S. Graves their name is Shaw instead of Shawn. Mr. Shaw said he thought the youngest son was in school yesterday. He says the other has been working until recently. "I had no idea that the boys ever had any liquor, and it puzzles me to know where they got it," the father said. The boys are alleged to have had two pints of whiskey in their possession when arrested.

Mr. Shaw and his two sons moved from Berger to Pampa about two months ago, but he says their real home is in Wichita Falls, where his wife lives. "I did not know what had become of the boys when I got home from work last night," Mr. Shaw said. "I went out to look for them and the officers told me they were in the county jail."

Woodrow, the eldest is being held in the old jail, and Sherman in the new jail next to the courthouse.

Sherman, who is 14 years old, was sobbing with his face in the pillow when his father came to the jail last night. Mr. Shaw said he would fight, any attempt to send the boys to the state reform school. The boys said they found the whiskey in an alley and denied they intended to sell it.

New Land Found in Antarctic Zone

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 31. (AP)—First fruits of Captain Sir George Hubert Wilkin's exploration flights over Antarctica were revealed here today with advices he had discovered previously unknown land in his last venture over the polar ice cap.

The government radio service announced receipt of a message to this effect from the steamer Melville, which carried the explorer to Deception island, which he uses as a base.

Since Deception isle, one of the South Shetland group, is in the so-called Weddell quadrant of Antarctica, it is believed probable the new territory is somewhere in the vicinity, or south of Tierra del Fuego and the Argentine.

About a third of the way round the world in nearly the same latitude, Rear Admiral Byrd and his party recently have made important south polar explorations, discovering new land to the east of the Ross quadrant of Antarctica.

Nearly another third of the way round the world, to the east of Deception isle, the Norwegians, Captain Riiser Larsen and Lieutenant Leutzw Holm radioed early this week they had discovered new land in the Enderby quadrant, midway between Coats land and Enderby land.

With the exception of discoveries of Rear Admiral Byrd the new lands are believed to be along the fringe of Antarctica.

Mexican Team to Have Long Tour

WINFIELD, Kans., Dec. 31. (AP)—The fast basketball team of Mexico City, defeated here last night by Southwestern college, 36 to 26, will play 26 more games in the United States. Miguel Cortiza, manager of the team, announced a schedule which will take the good will team on a tour through Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas. The tour will end February 8, with a game at Pineville, La., with Louisiana college.

Harvesters Will Make Big Effort to Beat Athens—Sandies in Failure

It looks like hard sledding for the Harvesters when they meet the Men of Athens, national basketball champions, here Thursday and Friday evenings.

The Athens, Texas, five defeated the Amarillo Sandies at Amarillo last night, 29 to 16, and the Sandies out-classed the Harvesters here a few weeks ago.

The high school champs of 1928 played easily, taking the lead and never being passed, although the Amarilloans threatened several times to tie the score. The best Sandstone effort was in the last period, when it scored 7 points to 5 for the visitors.

The Harvesters are improving with practice, and by plenty of hustling may give the down-state boys stronger competition than indicated by previous showings. The games here will start at 7:30 o'clock in Central gymnasium. Big crowds are going to be necessary to pay the champions the guarantee they demanded for playing here.

White House Awaits Repairs

The upper photo shows the first job that awaits the repair crew at the White House, following the Christmas Eve fire that swept the wing housing President Hoover's offices. The damaged roof of the office building, which will be repaired first, is shown, with the main body of the White House in the background. Below is a picture taken while firemen were working to get the blaze under control.

CHAMPS OF THIS AND THAT TELL WHAT THEY HOPE WILL COME TO PASS IN NEXT YEAR

(By the Associated Press)
Champions and leaders in the world of sport, at the request of the Associated Press, today set forth their views as to what the new year holds in prospect. Without exception they look forward to unusually keen competition, especially in international rivalry, during 1930. Their statements follow.

Bobby Jones, national open golf champion—"The only thing worthy of comment in 1929 was the fact that there were no new arrivals in championship golf. I think 1930 will see much action in international competition, particularly in the amateur field. The United States should be able to send a fine team over for the Walker cup matches, and it is safe to say the British side will be stronger than it was two years ago."

Connie Mack, manager of the world's champion Athletics—"I believe 1930 will be a fine year in sports. Sports of all kinds are constantly being placed on a higher plane, and I think they will be bigger and greater than ever before in the year at hand. The Athletics had a wonderful season in 1929, but I have strong hope that they will even surpass this record in 1930."

Tommy Hitchcock, Jr., captain of American polo "Bog Four"—"1930 will be a big international year in polo, and the United States enters it with as fine a supply of material as the country has ever had."

Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion—"As far as I am concerned my retirement is official, but I have no thought that I have taken the future of boxing into retirement with me. Out of the chaos of the moment, order will emerge. During the near year a heavyweight champion will be established."

Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach—"We lose nine first class football players by graduation and face a stiff ten-game schedule in 1930, but don't feel too sorry for us. We'll have a fair team and be scoring a few touchdowns."

Arthur (The Great) Shires, White Sox first baseman—"What I'm going to do to American league pitchers in 1930 is nobody's business, and what I'm going to do to some of these baseball players who think they can fight is plenty. My goal is to get $250,000 and then settle down in some little town. I expect to get a hunk of that in 1930, even if they do call me a fool."

Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion—"Boxing will crown a heavyweight champion in 1930 and with him will come new interest and activity in all divisions."

Henri Cochet, world's tennis champion—"Our French team has just concluded its around-the-world trip with great success as I cable this from

PASADENA IS GRID CAPITAL FOR PRESENT

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 31. (AP)—College football's capital, shifted to the far southwestern section of the country, hummed with activity today as the undefeated Pittsburgh Panthers and Southern California Trojans romped through final workouts preliminary to the inter-sectional classic on New Year's day.

Not since 1924, when Stanford and Notre Dame shared the annual Tournament of Roses plum, has a forthcoming contest so caught the fancy of the football faithful. The Rose Bowl, seating about 70,000 persons, has been sold out.

Pittsburgh smashed its way through the regular season to be ranked as the greatest team in the East. Southern California lost two games, to Notre Dame and California, but finished in a four-way tie for the Pacific Coast conference championship.

All-Star Ready for Dallas Clash New Year's Day

DALLAS, Dec. 31. (AP)—Final limbering up exercises were had here today by all-star football teams of the Southwest and Midwest which clash tomorrow in the second Dixie classic. Both teams were in splendid condition.

Ray Morrison, coach of the Southwest crew, announced he would put his charges through a light drill, consisting principally of a rehearsal of signals and a final practice on punting, kicking off and booting extra points. He had not reached a definite decision on a starting line-up.

A similar workout was arranged for the Midwest team.

Cairo. I hope we shall have equal success in keeping the Davis cup against the challenge of youthful Americans."

William T. Tilden, American tennis champion—"Here's hoping that Davis cup returns to America in 1930 in most successful year tennis has ever known. The fact that I am through with Davis cup competition makes my wishes all the more sincere."

Washington Will Be Frivolous on New Year's Eve

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Washington will see the New year in tonight with all the frivolity and merry-making usually associated with that event.

In spite of a dignified example set by President and Mrs. Hoover, who plan a quiet evening at home, hotels and night clubs prepared for a maximum of patronage and the police department made ready to supervise throngs of New Year's eve revelers.

Although their new year's eve observance will be of a quiet nature, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will make up for it tomorrow with the traditional White House reception.
