OPERATORS' COMPANY SELLS OUT TO SUNRAY CORPORATION

MILLIONS ARE PAID FOR BIG OIL PROPERTY

Some Cash and Part Stock Given in Huge Deal

NEW FIRM NOW IN THIS FIELD

Tom Doswell Still to Be Manager of Operations

Entry of another major oil company into the Gray county field was announced yesterday by Tom Doswell, superintendent of Operators Oil company which was sold to Sunray Oil corporation for $2,000,000, part stock and part cash. Mr. Doswell will continue to have charge of operations in the Panhandle.

The Sunray corporation has been developed into a new major company by Dillon, Read, and Company of New York. The deal gives the Sunray more than 10,000 barrels daily production. The sale includes 20 wells in Gray county, producing about 6,000 barrels a day, and the Manford field in Oklahoma and over a score of shallow production wells in the Artesia field of New Mexico. The Sunray company recently bought control of the Homoka Oil company and the Anderson-Pritchard Oil corporation and is understood to have several deals pending.

Involved in the deal also were 17,000 acres of leases in South Texas and Kansas and three drilling wildcats, in addition to the production owned by Operators.

The climax of Operators' drilling successes came last week with the bringing in of its No. 8 Cook-Faulkner for a daily production of 8,640 barrels. It was an off-set to a small well. Less than a year ago, Operators received $1,200,000 for an 80-acre lease in the Bowers pool from Phillips Petroleum company. The company has brought in many gushers, achieving an enviable record.

The present officers of Operators, James G. Cloud, president; Ray M. Dunnett, secretary and treasurer, and Mr. Doswell, general manager, will retain their present positions, it is understood.

The negotiations were engineered by company officials and Sam Vanderweide, who has been principal wildcatter for Operators. The three officials and Mr. Vanderweide will continue in their independent wildcating but on a much larger scale now that the deal has been made, it is understood.

Mr. Doswell has had exceptional success as Operations manager of the original company.

Will Add Story

Arrangements are being made to build office space above the new Chevrolet building on North Ballard street, according to an announcement made today by T. F. Smalling. Another story will be added if there is a sufficient demand for offices in the new building.

Going to Meeting

Dr. Earl Thomason will go to Amarillo tomorrow to attend a meeting of the Bosworth Study club.

THE WEATHER VANE

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair except unsettled, possibly snow in Panhandle tonight and Friday, colder in Panhandle tonight and in north portion Friday.

—AND A SMILE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Shall women tamely submit? No, sir! A clarion call for housewives to arise in protest against being denoted in the census as of no occupation is sounded by Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, vice-chairman of the woman's party. She urges that the classification be homemakers, "one of the most important of all occupations."

Amendments Are Up for Action in Teachers' Meeting

DALLAS, Nov. 28. (AP)—Three proposed amendments to the state association's constitution, the most important of which provides for the financing and erection of a headquarters building in Fort Worth, were laid before the Texas State Teachers association at its 51st annual convention today.

The amendments were approved at a meeting of the executive committee on the eve of the convention. Other amendments provided for increase in the cost of a life membership in the association and for simplification of the method by which officers are elected.

The committee instructed the resolutions committee to delve into the question of the ever-growing high school fraternities and form resolutions for presentation to the convention. Criticism was voiced of the practice in smaller and rural schools of cutting the school week to four and one-half days by allowing Friday afternoon holidays for athletics events, and resolutions were ordered dealing with that subject.

A Thanksgiving service was the first item on today's program. The first general session was called for late today at Fair park auditorium, and the first night session at the same place.

Dallas Teachers, hosts to the state organization, expected fully half of the members to the association to attend the convention here through the Thanksgiving holidays, or an attendance of more than 10,000.

Argument Brings Tragedy to Mar Thanksgiving Day

CARRIER MILLS, Ill., Nov. 28. (AP)—Tragedy marred the holiday in two homes today — the aftermath of an argument over when to hold a school Thanksgiving program.

Leslie Lightfoot, 33, school district director and teacher, was dead, and Dwight Organ, 26, teacher, was in jail, charged with slaying Lightfoot.

Lightfoot and two other directors of the school decided the Thanksgiving program should be given Friday evening. Mrs. Lightfoot was asked to convey this decision to Organ.

Organ discredited the message from Lightfoot and called a meeting of the directors in a cafe Tuesday night. At the meeting, Lightfoot is said to have asked Organ why he questioned the message. An argument followed. Lightfoot struck Organ and was shot twice.

CAREFUL CASTING ALLOWS SPEED IN PRACTICE WORK

Careful casting by "Happy Doc" Holland of the talent assembled for the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters big minstrel show and many rehearsals of the three widely different parts have combined to bring the show to a degree of polish this early, with the show yet nearly a week ahead, according to persons who have watched recent practices.

The show will have two performances, the first on Tuesday evening, Dec. 3, and the other on the following evening. Much of the interest will center in the personnel of the cast, which is assembled in the following groups:

Minstrel circle; S. S. Gantz, Ernest Gee, T. G. Green, J. T. Cooper, R. R. Hunsate, C. C. Matheny, Sterling Williams, Cloyse Cloud, John Shannon, O. G. Smith, Roy Sullivan, T. G. MONROE FOUND INELIGIBLE FOR PLAY IN CITY

Harvester Right End Is Now Graduate, Claim

PERRYTON FILES AGAINST PLAYER

Athlete Used in Good Faith on Local Eleven

Incomplete scholastic records upon the school work of T. B. Monroe Pampa right end, which failed to reveal that he was graduated last year at Marietta, Okla., yesterday resulted in cancellation of the Harvester-Hereford Thanksgiving football game to have been played here.

Basing action upon purported proof by Supt. Irwin Perryton that Monroe was ineligible to play in the Perryton and Memphis games, Supt. I. B. Carruth of Canyon, eligibility chairman of district 1, and his interscholastic League committee ruled Pampa out of further competition this season. Perryton and Memphis are arranging to play Saturday, and the winner has been ordered to meet Hereford Tuesday for the championship.

Claimed From Muskogee

Concealment by Monroe of his last year's credits came about when he told local school authorities he came from Muskogee where a transcript of his credits might be had. Accordingly a letter asking for a record of his work was sent to Muskogee. The Muskogee transcript was made out and mailed last September 11. It showed that Monroe had done two years' work at Marietta and one at Muskogee, making him clearly eligible to play here. The record was approved by the state headquarters of the Interscholastic League and certified to Chairman Carruth at Canyon.

Acting upon this information Coach Odus Mitchell and Central high played Monroe in utmost good faith, they said yesterday. They knew that the youth had a Marietta football sweater, but accepted his explanation that he won it before going to Muskogee.

Perryton's protest was based upon the allegation that Monroe concealed the fact that he went to Marietta high school last year, where he was graduated. Interviewed, Monroe said that he may have been listed among the graduates, but that he did not think he had enough credits. He had played but two seasons of football as a regular prior to this year, and felt that he was due another year. He said he did not realize that his status, if disputed, would cause the entire team to be ruled out.

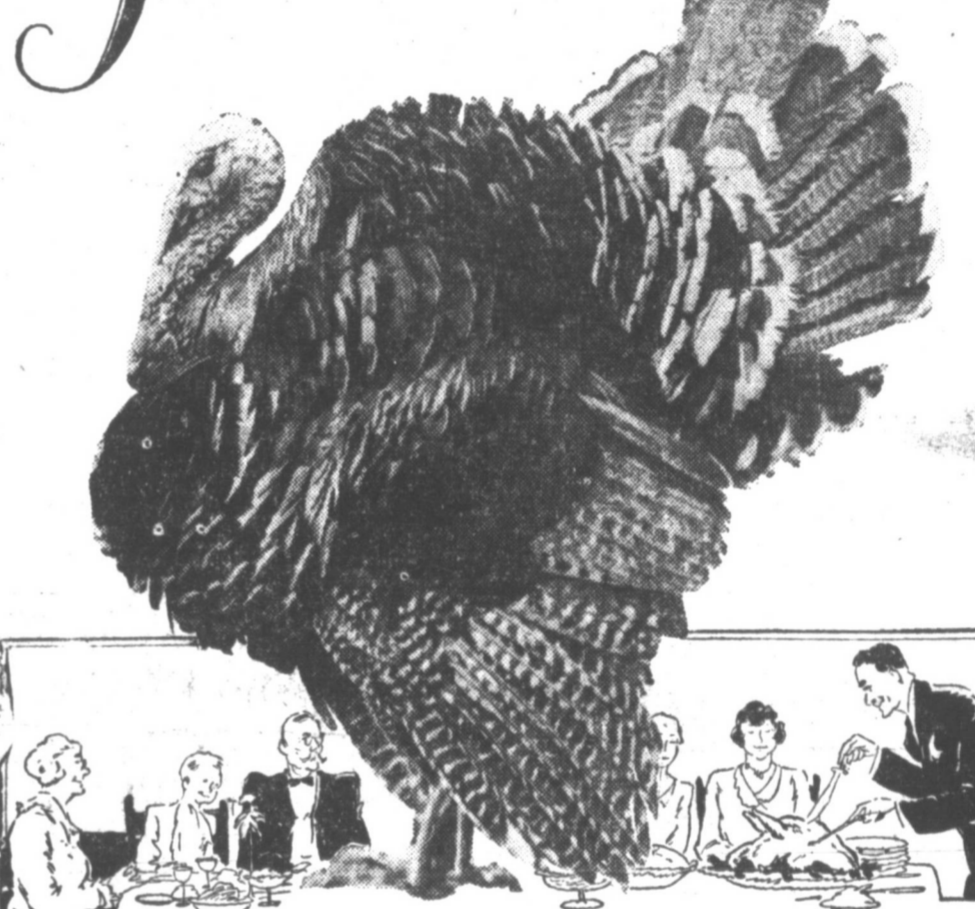

No Dates Specified

That the mix-up in credits existed here was largely due to the fact that Muskogee school authorities in making out Monroe's transcript, failed to give any dates as to when the credits were earned, and to indicate that the boy had gone to school elsewhere last year. The affair came as a great disappointment to local and Hereford people, especially the students, who had looked forward to the greatest day of the season. It marked the end of the Harvesters' greatest football drive in recent years. A green team had made great progress under the tutelage of Coach Odus Mitchell and Fox, and seemed well on the way to a District 1 championship.

The game was canceled when Hereford learned that the play-off for the district title would be early next week. Hereford school officials were anxious to play Pampa regardless of the protest, but decided it would be too hard on their team to play two games within a few days. A special train had been chartered at Hereford, and several hundred students and fans had purchased tickets.

Rumors persisted that protests were

Girls Seeking Record

First Day Aloft Now Near End For Fliers

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, Los Angeles, Nov. 28. (AP)—Bobby Trout of Los Angeles and Elinor Smith of New York, girl fliers who are attempting to break the endurance record for airplanes, refueled their biplane at dawn today.

Contact with the refueler was made at 6:30 a. m. when nearly 21 hours had been spent in the air, and 100 gallons of gasoline and four gallons of oil were transferred.

The fliers dropped a note saying they spent a good night and were planning to have a big Thanksgiving dinner. Their breakfast consisted of orange juice, toast and ham.

Giant Wolf Is Finally Caught in Trap by Canadians

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 28. (AP)—A large grey wolf, which for months has terrorized the large herds of deer which roam through Algonquin park, is dead. The manner in which he died won for him the admiration of the government foresters at the park who were formerly his bitterest enemies.

Traps had been set for the big marauder in vain. It appeared he would never be caught.

Jim Shields, chief park ranger, finally outwitted the wolf by placing a cunningly laid trap fastened to a four-inch pole. Visiting this snare one day Shields found the trap gone and evidences of a mighty struggle. The wolf had gnawed through the thick pole and taken the trap away with him. Shields and assistants then followed the trail and after 27 miles of tramping came upon the body of the wolf with the trap still clinging to his foreleg.

also pending against three Memphis players, but Chairman Carruth left last night to attend the State Teachers' association and could not be reached for a statement.

Three Editions Of News Issued In 24 Hours

This edition of The News is the third within the last 24 hours.

Shortly after yesterday afternoon's edition was off the press it became apparent that the Thanksgiving game might be cancelled. This came about in early evening when Hereford called off her special train in order to save her team for next week's elimination contest.

Shortly after having determined to print an "extra" to inform local people of the game cancellation, a Malone ambulance siren was heard and the accidental death of Samuel Farris, well known local business man, was learned. Simultaneously a search was started for little Marguerite Sullins, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sullins, who disappeared when she went to the home of a small chum, instead of going to her own home as directed by her mother, from downtown.

Slayer of Two Is Given Death Verdict

BEAUMONT, Nov. 28. (AP)—Luther Berwick, confessed slayer of another Port Arthur boy and girl during a fit of jealousy, must pay for his crime with his life, a jury here decided. Berwick was assessed the death penalty yesterday for the death of William Byrd, 21.

A few hours before the jury report, he described the crime graphically. When he saw his sweetheart, Belle Crow, 18, with Byrd, he was seized with insane jealousy. He fired at Byrd, he said, when he thought Byrd was about to attack him; and Miss Crow was accidentally struck by a bullet. The tragedy occurred in front of Miss Crow's home.

Notice of an appeal was filed.

MacDonald to Be Americans' Guest at Dinner Tonight

LONDON, Nov. 28. (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald will be guest of honor of the American Society this evening at its annual Thanksgiving dinner. Former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg and Ambassador Dawes also will be present. The American Legion, the American club and the English Speaking Union have joined in arranging the ball which will be held afterwards at the Savoy hotel.

"A typical American Thanksgiving dinner will be served," read the announcement of the party.

The American circle of the Lyceum club, a purely British women's club, continued its work of learning about America by having a Thanksgiving dinner early in the week when most of the prominent Americans in the city were guests.

The American Woman's club gave Thanksgiving tea this afternoon, for members and their guests.

The regular luncheon menu at the English-Speaking union, at the American Woman's club and the American club substituted turkey, cranberries, and pumpkin pie for the usual roast-beef, Yorkshire pudding and savory. Mr. Kellogg, who came to England for the banquet in his honor given by the Pilgrims' last week, remained to be the guest of innumerable private Thanksgiving dinners.

Given Long Sentence

DALLAS, Nov. 28. (AP)—Twice convicted of a Christmas eve department store holdup here, J. W. Meyers today for the second time within the year faced a sentence of 99 years in the penitentiary. The punishment was assessed against him last night by a jury which required only an hour and a half to deliberate.

BUSINESS MAN IS VICTIM OF ROAD MISHAP

Car Hits Casing Upon Truck Parked on Highway

DRIVER UNABLE TO AVOID CRASH

Funeral Plans Are Not Yet Made for Merchant

Funeral arrangements for Samuel Farris, who was killed at 6:30 o'clock last night in a fatal auto crash, are being delayed pending arrival of friends from Missouri, Oklahoma and various Texas towns. However, J. S. Safady of Lubbock, trustee of Farris' estate, who arrived here this morning, announced that funeral and burial services will be held tomorrow or Saturday and will be in charge of Shriners and Masons.

Identity of the driver whose truck the small coupe in which Farris was riding with O. H. Ingram crashed into has not yet been established. The truck and an attached trailer were parked almost in the middle of the road without lights, it was said. A rear tire was flat and it is thought the driver had gone for assistance in having it repaired.

Mr. Farris was born in Megdel-Shamis, Assyria, and came to the United States in 1910. From New York, he went to Hannibal, Mo., and soon after moved to Crane, Texas, then to Navarro, soon after to Richland where he became a member of the Masonic lodge. He moved to Pampa three years ago, and has been prominent in business circles, being owner of the Farris Dry Goods store. He attended the annual Khiva ceremonies in Amarillo and in returning to Pampa, missed the bus. He caught a ride to White Deer and hailed Mr. Ingram on the highway at White Deer.

The merchant is survived by an 18-year-old daughter, Miss Nannie Farris-Ajamy; a blind sister, Miss Zula Farris-Adjamy; and a brother, A. Farris-Ajamy, all of whom live in Megdel-Shamis, Assyria. Mr. Farris separated from his wife shortly before he left his native country.

In a will executed July 3, 1926, Mr. Safady was named administrator of his estate. Heirs named in the will are his daughter, brother, sister and Mr. Safady. When he applied for naturalization papers, Mr. Farris abandoned the last part of his name. He was a member of the twentieth generation of Druses, dwelling in the Lebanon mountains of Syria.

Mr. Ingram, a well-known farmer of this community, said he did not see the truck until he was almost upon it. He did not have time to steer his car completely around it and the right side of the coupe was demolished by the pipes. Mr. Ingram was uninjured.

Mrs. P. T. McNamara and Mrs. I. B. Hughey, who were returning from Amarillo, brought Mr. Farris to the G. C. Malone funeral home. Mr. Ingram said Farris died about a mile this side of Kingsmill.

Mr. Safady announced that the Farris Dry Goods store will be closed for several days before any definite decision regarding its future is announced. County Judge Ivey E. Duncan is conferring with Mr. Safady this morning regarding the appointment of an administrator.

Friends of Mr. Farris who arrived from different parts of Texas last night to attend the funeral services include: A. Hassan, O'Donnell; Ed Simons, Berger; Joe Haddy, Berger; Jim Salamy, Amarillo; Gabe Murf, Berger; Sam A. Rahhal, Berger; J. K. Aznan, Idalou; H. K. Aznan, Idalou; C. H. Cabool, O'Donnell; H. Ollie, Lubbock; E. D. Arjyan, Littlefield; Joe Schaded, Paducah.

Mrs. W. F. Jones of Wheeler is visiting her son, Harry Jones.

IT IS HARD TO GIVE THANKS WHEN YOU HAVE MUCH TO BE THANKFUL FOR. BUT HOW EASY IS IT FOR THOSE WHO HAVE EXPERIENCED DIFFICULTIES WHICH HAVE BEEN OVERCOME.

The original Thanksgiving was a genuine one, for a living had been hewn out of a frontier, and safety in the midst of dangers.

We think Thanksgiving should be linked more closely with Christmas. For how can we on the one hand offer thanks for the bountiful things we enjoy, without catching the spirit of Christmas and giving to those who have not?

So much of the world is drought stricken, war-burdened, and suffering that even the poorest American can offer thanks today.

So let us give thanks today, but resolve to spread much good cheer in the Christmas season soon to follow.

APPROACH OF WINTER HAS ALREADY BROUGHT TWO DEATHS IN PAMPA FROM CLOSED ROOMS IN WHICH GAS STOVES WERE BURNING.

These were preventable deaths. While in each case the cause of death was assigned to asphyxiation, the exact cause was probably ordinary suffocation.

The best safety factor is an open window, door, or transom. The air is full of oxygen, but in an effort to secure quick warmth too many people close all doors and windows.

to breathe air deficient in oxygen. Headaches give first warning of "starved" air.

Ordinary stoves do not give off carbon monoxide gas such as causes death when a person works in a tight garage where a car is running.

But ventilation removes all dangers.

Legion Auxiliary Sends Thanksgiving Cheer to Veterans

Among the Thanksgiving Day cheer baskets that were scheduled to reach the Veterans' Memorial hospital of Muskogee, Okla., to cheer the disabled World soldiers who are there, was one from the Pampa unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Members of the local unit met several days ago at Legion hall and packed a basket of fruit, candies, cigarettes, and cigars, sending it to the Muskogee hospital, where the disabled veterans from this locality have received attention in the past.

Clifford Taylor is the only Pampa man there as present. He and C. E. Cary said they shared a recent cheer box from Pampa with twenty-eight "buddies" in the hospital. The Thanksgiving box was of equally generous proportions.

Wrestling Program Now Main Thanksgiving Attraction

The Pampa-Herford game this afternoon has been a major Thanksgiving attraction. The fighting program tonight at the Plaza will see Cyclone Luther Platter, leading in this section, settle the matter in a scheduled 16-round bout. Looking at the two men, it is not surprising that the Las Cruces Cyclone is almost certain to stack up against the chance of fighting Luther. If Bonds knocks out Platter, he will have to stop the big man he has ever fought. There are many who believe that Smith is going to be the winner. The fight between the two kids is expected to be more interesting. Buster thinks that he will draw through six rounds. Hobart, Okla., a year ago, judges did not think so and Smith was given to Buster. He fought 18 bouts in two years. In that time he has lost two bouts. Smith's record is just as good as credit for knocking out two of the boys, George Harmon and Roy Smith, the first in round 4 and the second in round one, goes to morning, K. O. Kitchens, who is the special pride of Pampans, arrived in town from Miami. The boy is all set for his 6-round go with Sammy Squires, and despite the string of knockouts to that tuff boy's credit, K. O. assures his "dear public" that he will stop him plenty quick—or he may change his mind and slash him a ribbons, just to see him bleed. A finish wrestling match and interesting juvenile scraps are scheduled for the preliminaries. Jack Rogers, promoter, will not announce the names of the wrestlers until they step onto the mat, but he has a pleasurable surprise. The card has been heavily advertised in this section.

Mrs. F. M. Culberson, Mrs. Floyd Smith, Mrs. George Kahala, and Mrs. George Wolfe spent yesterday in Amarillo.

Mrs. Grace Higgins of the Stuckey Construction company and Miss Iva June Willis public school music instructor, left yesterday for Wichita Falls to spend the holidays. Mrs. Higgins formerly lived in that city, and Miss Willis' home is there.

Miss Mary Camuse of Weatherford, Okla., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. E. B. Emerson, and is visiting her aunt Mrs. Mary R. Ikard, and another cousin Mrs. Lynn Boyd. Miss Camuse spent last summer in Pampa, working as secretary to Judge S. D. Stennis. She is now head of the department of physical education for women at Southwestern Teachers college, Weatherford, Okla.

Ana Sadella McNamara, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. McNamara, is home from St. Mary's academy, Amarillo to spend the Thanksgiving holidays.

The Iowa team waited until shortly after noon to make the trip to Lincoln, having had their final light work at Omaha yesterday.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking, according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

TEXAS TEAMS MEET TODAY IN BIG GAME

Associated Press Sports Writer COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 28. (AP)—Southwest conference grid addicts forgot about the championship race today in order to pay homage to the section's traditional "big game." The Texas university Longhorns were here to battle their olden rivals, the Texas Aggies, and it was Thanksgiving's paramount attraction. Neither school had anything to gain except victory, but the mere fact that the orange and maroon were tangling for the thirty-fourth time was sufficient to draw some 30,000 fans from every corner of Texas. Time enough to work up a proper lather over the title struggle between T. C. U. and S. M. U. Saturday after the Steeg-Cadet clash.

Many state dignitaries, including Governor Dan Moody, planned to witness the colorful bout and to take part in dedicatory ceremonies to the Aggies' new stadium. After one of the most dismal seasons the Aggies experienced in years, their hope today was to christen their new structure with a triumph over the Orange. Coach Matity Bell's pupils planned to go into the air in an effort to overcome the apparently superior Longhorns. Captain Tommy Mills, playing his last game for the Aggies, led his team from the quarterback post. A brilliant duel loomed between him and Dexter Shelley, Texas' backfield ace.

A rainproof covering shrouded the playing field until a few minutes before game time. Both elevens entered the tilt at full strength, the Aggies for the first time this season. There was a possibility Coach Clyde Littlefield of Texas would send an almost all-senior team on the field at the start. Many of the brightest stars on both elevens played for the last time.

Although the Longhorns stood much higher in the conference for the year, comparative scores indicated they had very little on the Aggies. Both lost to Texas Christian by close margins. Texas fought Southern Methodist to a tie, while the Ma-Longs nosed out the Farmers by one touchdown. They

Fat Girls! Here's A Tip For You

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fall to win admiration. Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses. Every morning take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat"—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system. At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts at Patheer Drug Stores or any drug store (lasts 4 weeks) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back. (Adv.)

The Avenging Parrot

THIS HAS HAPPENED
BONNIE DUNDEE, young student of criminology, accepted the internship of her POLICE COMMISSIONER O'BRIEN, a job as "sub" detective in a case which had a JOE STRAWN of the homicide squad as suspect. In the meantime, RHODES, boarding house in order to hear a Mrs. EMMA HO GAUTH who was writing the police for protection, saying her life and money are in danger, as a result of suspicion on EMIL SEVIER, former boarder. Dundee's room is on the third floor near the office of JERRY SHEPHERD, saleswoman at TITUS' hardware. At this time Dundee meets Mr. and Mrs. STARBUCK FORBANKER, who are a local doctor and his wife. STEVENS, proprietor of a saloon, and HENRY DOWD, a newspaper editor.

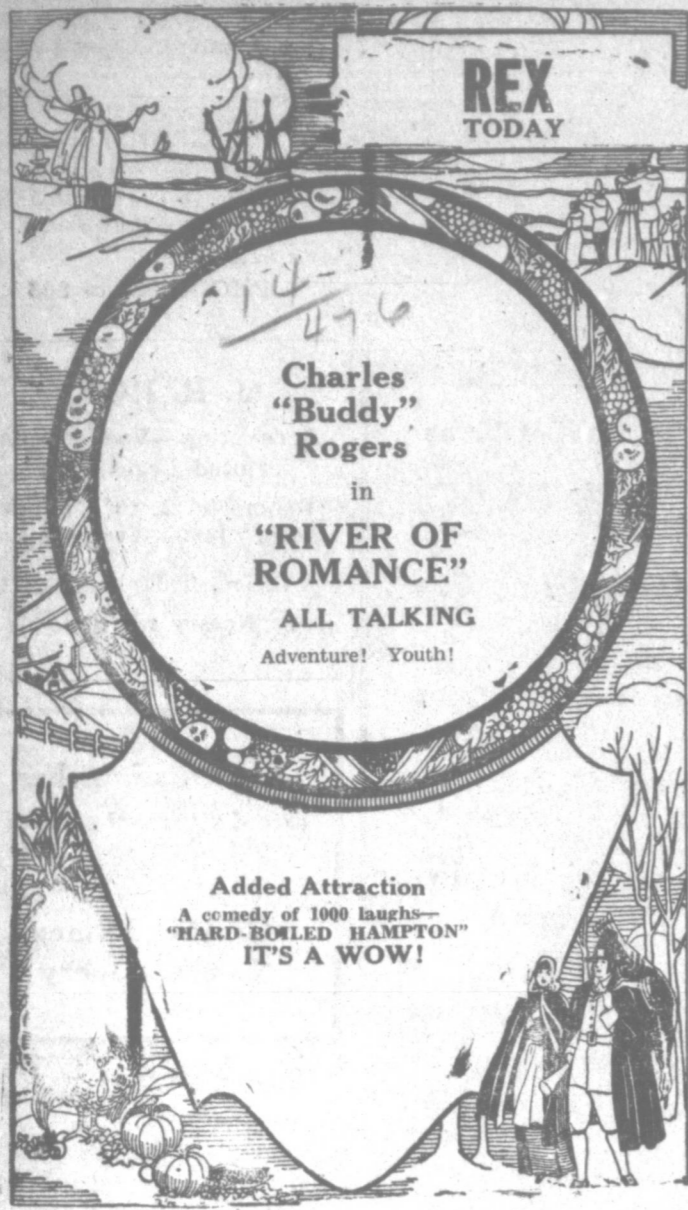

swivel chair, drinking from a straw plunged into a bottle of soda water. "Hotter! Hades, ain't it!" he growled, by way of greeting. "Want a bottle of pop? I'll send a flat-foot out for one—"
"No, thanks. . . Well, I've seen Mrs. Hogarth, but I had mighty little chance to get her story."
"Because she didn't have anything to tell, more'n likely," Strawn growled.
"I think she has." Dundee existed cheerfully, fanning his face with his hat. "The trouble was, no sooner had I been left alone with her and before I could state my official connection—grin, darn you!—than people began to drift in to pay the old lady a call. First came Daisy Shepherd—jolly fat girl, who looks a slyph beside Mrs. Hogarth. Then before Daisy had left, Mrs. Rhodes, our landlady, called to assure Mrs. Hogarth that her worthless husband, who goes by the appropriate name of 'Dusty' Rhodes, would surely get her reinforced screen in on Monday. And before she left, in came Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, who insisted on showing me snapshots of their adored son, Larry, who is working off a condition or two in State University this summer, so he can play on the sophomore football team this fall."
"Talk to the old dame alone at all?" Strawn asked.
"Only about five minutes."

CHAPTER IV
IT was nearly half past 8 that a fateful Saturday evening when Dundee, escorted by Norma Paige, arrived at the closed door of Mrs. Emma Horath's room on the second floor of the Rhodes House. As Norma lifted a hand to knock, a throaty voice with a peculiar trill in it could be heard distinctly: "Emma, you're an old fool!"
The words were followed by a loud, hair-raising laugh.
"That's Cap'n again—the name you know," Norma whispered smiling. She knocked, and two voices answered her, almost simultaneously: "Who is it?" It was hard for Dundee to distinguish between the two speakers, woman and bird. "It's Norma, Mrs. Hogarth," the girl called.
There was the sound of a vast grunt or groan, as if a tremendous body was lifting itself slowly. Then came the thudding taps of canes upon the thin summer rug.
"She always keeps her door locked, and asks who it is before she will admit anyone," Norma whispered. "Poor dear! It must be terrible to be old and nearly helpless, and to be suspicious of everyone, because you have a little money hidden away."
A key turned in the lock, and Norma Paige and Bonnie Dundee entered the room.
It was about 10 minutes to 11 when Dundee emerged from that room, alone. He hesitated outside the closed door for a moment, in indecision, and was aware that the key was being turned after him. A peculiar old woman, but not "queer"; he was sure of that. But he had a message to deliver. Mrs. Hogarth had told him the location of all his fellow-boarders' rooms. Here was the center front room, in the west side of the hall, in the order named, lived Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sharp, and Norma Paige, the women's bath being at the end of the hall next to Norma's room. On the east side of the hall with windows opening upon the side upstairs porch, lived Bert Magnus and Walter Styles, the men's bath being next to Styles' room.

And they sent me to protect her! ME!" he growled.
Bonnie Dundee stepped quietly to Bert Magnus's door and knocked. "Who is it?" The answer was decidedly irritable.
"Dundee, Magnus. I have a message for you."
Dundee glanced about the small room as Magnus retreated to permit him to enter. A large, old-fashioned roll-top desk, with an ancient typewriter, beside which lay sheets of yellow paper, indicated that Magnus was indeed busy.
"I see you're busy. Hope the story is going all right," Dundee said cheerfully. "I shouldn't have interrupted, but Mrs. Hogarth asked me to tell you that she'd like to meet you. She seems to be very much interested in your work."
"Wants to tell me the story of her life and get me to put it into a movie, I suppose." Magnus retorted, grinning wryly.
"I—don't think so," Dundee said. "I gathered, from her rather cryptic remarks, that she has a very personal communication to make to you."
Magnus looked annoyed. "God knows I've tried to keep from getting mixed up in boarding-house scandals. . . . Does she want to see me tonight?"
"Or tomorrow, I believe," Dundee answered. "Suit yourself, of course, or don't go at all, if you'd rather not; but I remembered you said you would like to meet her." He also remembered, suddenly, that Cora Barker had been in a fever of anxiety to prevent the meeting with Walter Styles—as if she were eager to get it over with and her sweetheart were reluctant.
The boy entered and Dundee strolled down the walk, whistling "Annie Laurie" very loudly. The lawn swings, which held two shadowy figures very close together, came to an abrupt stop. His signal, previously agreed upon between him and Norma Paige, had been recognized. He waved as the two figures—a man and a slim girl—descended toward the house, Norma slightly in advance, her hand dragging at Walter Styles—as if she were eager to get it over with and her sweetheart were reluctant.
Dundee knocked again, more loudly. When there was still no answer, a sweat not caused by the heat broke out on his face. Tentatively he tried the knob, sure, however, that the door was locked. To his surprise it yielded. He entered the room.

Two or three minutes later a white-faced young man staggered out of that room, lurched down the stairs like a drunken man.
"And they sent me to protect her! ME!" he growled.

About New York

By RICHARD MASSOCK
NEW YORK—Under a cone of hazy light in a large, smoky, barn-like room a flight of stairs above Eighth avenue, two gloved gladiators trade guarded blows.

Under the same cone of light but in another ring, a big-jawed lad, his striped body glistening with perspiration, jabs at airy phantoms.

Facing both rings on one side are rows of folding chairs, in which 200 men or more sit in silent observation. On the other side a couple of brawny fellows are rope-skipping. Another is bending in the postures of callisthenics, while a be-sweated trainer, watch in hand times his exercise.

MUSCLE FACTORY
It is some time between noon and 3 o'clock and the scene is one of three Manhattan gymnasiums where pugilists prepare for their bouts.

The spectators are the idle folk of Broadway, one block west, fight followers, bettors and maybe a few gangsters. Their clothes are natty, their faces hard. In there are quite a few tough guys among them.

But Lou Stillman, whose gymnasium it is, lets them know he's "the toughest guy on the west side." And so he keeps his place as decorous as a Forty-eighth street tea room.

Lou Stillman is a former cop, who first opened training quarters for fighters up in Harlem some 15 years ago. Those were the days before the present mayor of New York had brought about legalized boxing by means of the Walker law.

Training exhibitions then were sell-outs. Fight fans had to go to New Jersey to see the real thing, but at Stillman's they could see almost as much for 25 cents.

Before that a man named Brown had a gym down on Twenty-third street, but for years the fistic training quarters had been saloons, in the back rooms of which many a sparring partner bit the sawdust.

THE NEW PUG

Dempsey, Tunney, Carpenter, Dundee, Leonard and other notables of the ring have trained at Stillman's. Otto von Porat works out there, while Phil Scott, his opponent December 6 at Madison Square Garden, trains at the Pioneer gymnasium a few blocks away.

Acquainted as he is with the old days called good, Stillman deplora a lack of intestinal fortitude among the present crop of fighters. They don't slug any more. The game's effete.

"Why," he says, "I can take you out on Broadway and show you fighters that carry walking sticks. One mug even came in here wearing striped trousers, a black morning coat and spats." Lou spat derisively.

"But they're more intelligent now. You can carry on a conversation with them, that's how intelligent they are." Stillman naturally believes in city training quarters. Nevertheless another prominent training camp is Madame Bey's over at Summit, N. J.

Madame Bey formerly kept a boarding house. One day some one sent a fighter over to get the country air. Soon others came to work out in her backyard and presently Madame Bey's had become a boxers' boarding house, with the necessary equipment of a training camp. Max Schmelling and Andre Routsis are but a couple of Madame Bey's alumni.

Ku Klux Klan in Colorado Prison Blamed for Riot

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 28. (AP)—Dis-closure of the existence of an organized Ku Klux Klan group within the walls of the Colorado penitentiary, with both guard and convict members, presented a new angle today in the investigation of the mutiny at the penitentiary October 3 in which 13 lives were lost.

The revelation was made by Thomas J. Tynan, for 16 years warden of the prison, in testimony before Gov. William H. Adams' special commission investigating the riot. He testified plotting of the Klan against the prison administration had caused a collapse of discipline.

Lack of proper discipline, traceable to this organization, the warden said, was responsible for the outbreak of last month, during which a handfull of convicts barricaded in a cellhouse held the entire law enforcement machinery of the state at bay for more than 18 hours.

Tynan charged a former governor negotiated with Klan officials in an effort to oust Tynan as warden. He timed that attempt during the administration of Gov. William E. Sweet. In his testimony, however, he did not mention Sweet's name.

Tynan testified the late Rev. Fred G. Arnold, one time head of the Klan in Colorado, organized the branch of the order in the penitentiary. He further charged the organization of the Klan inside the penitentiary was a political maneuver and had a lasting effect in the administration of prison affairs.

Merriman Faces Death Tomorrow

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 28. (AP)—His last hope apparently gone, Lee Roy Merriman faced a bleak Thanksgiving day in the death cell at the state penitentiary, his electrocution set for early tomorrow.

Following Governor Dan Moody's refusal to intervene for Merriman, convicted in Dallas on criminal assault, only a court order could save the condemned man, and it was considered unlikely an order would be issued.

Yesterday, after his brother spent a fruitless day seeking Governor Moody to appeal for a short stay in which the young man's mental condition might be investigated, there was a report a court order would be asked in Dallas, but no substantiation of this report could be obtained.

Governor Moody's refusal to save Merriman was voiced at Wichita Falls where the executive attended a Masonic meeting. Pointing out Merriman's defense at his trial was insanity, he said he could not delay the execution for the purpose of again going over ground dealt with at the trial. Merriman's alleged partner in the crime, Ben Aldridge, whose execution has been set for Dec. 19, was awaited after Sheriff Hal Hood of Dallas announced he would bring him here today.

Farmers Guard Gladiola Bulbs Against Fire

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Nov. 28. (AP)—Determined farmers of Josephine county stood guard today over gladiolus bulbs valued at thousands of dollars while Sheriff E. H. Lister, heading a group of deputies, sought the leaders of an alleged gang of night riders which blazed a trail with torches through at least three communities.

In the wake of the night riders' asserted depredations lie the smouldering ruins of one barn which contained more than 1,000,000 choice bulbs and the blackened embers of another shed that held half that many bulbs. Of the third alleged raid little could be learned here. The buildings were burned yesterday.

One grower told Sheriff Lister several thousand bulbs apparently had been stolen from his barn before it was fired. Sheriff Lister declared he found in the other barn evidence which definitely connected the two fires.
