PAMPA—CITY OF OIL AND WHEAT—CITY OF GOOD HOMES

PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, MONDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 10, 1930.

Small In Murder Case Here

Trial of Ranchmen Is Set for November 24—No
Bonds Asked

Senator Clint C. Small, who missed the governor's chair by a few thousand votes in the primary, has been retained by Mrs. W. R. Orr of Wellington, sister of the late Homer L. Crabtree, to prosecute Carl Hefner and Emmett Thompson, recently indicted for murder in connection with the death of her brother Wednesday. This fact became known this morning when Senator Small attended the arraignment of the two men before Judge W. R. Ewing in district court.

Both Hefner and Thompson pleaded not guilty to the indictment soon after it was read by District Attorney C. G. Englewood. Judge Ewing set their trials for Nov. 24. As neither of the defendants asked for bond, they were taken back to the county jail. It is understood they will not attempt to make bond. A special venire of 200 men from which to pick a jury will be summoned, the writ returnable Nov. 19.

Asks Postponement
W. M. Lewright, one of the defense attorneys, asked the court to postpone the trial until the week of Nov. 31. "Due to the nature of the case," he said, "we ask to be given an opportunity to prepare to work up the case. It will require much investigation."

In answering the defense's proposal, Judge Ewing said that "anticipating the usual methods employed by the defense to delay a murder trial, the state announces that it will oppose any attempt to set the trial at a later date than Nov. 24."

R. E. Underwood, of the firm of Underwood, Johnson, Dooley and Simpson, which is also representing the defendants, suggested that the case be postponed until Nov. 31 because "only one of the cases would be tried in this county, anyway."

"It will be impossible to find two juries in this county," Mr. Underwood declared.

"Oh, I don't know about that,"

Rev. Brabham and Delegates Leave For Big Meeting

The Rev. Tom W. Brabham, Mrs. Brabham, and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Campbell left this afternoon to attend the Methodist conference which will open tomorrow night in Sweetwater.

They will stop in Plainview, where tonight Rev. Brabham will be principal speaker at a meeting of the American Legion. Tomorrow Rev. Brabham will meet at 2 p. m. with the trustees of McMurry college, who will plan activities of the institution for the next year and will consider the resignation of President J. W. Hunt. At 4 p. m. he will meet as a member of the board of education of the conference.

The First Methodist church closed its conference year last night, and it was announced that the body had raised for all purposes a total of $48,860. Indications are that the local report will lead the conference.

ANSON BANKS MERGED TODAY

ANSON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Anson State bank was merged today with the First National, announcement being made in a joint statement of officers of both institutions.

E. W. Harrell, president, and Aubrey Duawood and E. M. Harrell, assistant cashiers, will be connected with the consolidated bank, which is to be called the First National. J. J. Steele is president.

The First National was organized in 1902 and the other was chartered as a state institution in 1911 after having taken over an unincorporated bank founded in 1883 by J. S. Morrow.

PARENTS OF STUDENTS WILL EAT AS WELL AS INSPECT ON TOUR OF SCHOOL THIS EVENING

A practical application of the principles of food preparation and service which they learned in their regular classwork will be shown by the pupils of domestic science when they serve refreshments this evening to parents of high school pupils.

Parents are invited to go to the Central high school's plant at 7:30 o'clock. An abbreviated class schedule, allotting about 10 minutes to each recitation, will be followed to show the parents what the pupils do during each day. However, instead of having regular class work, the teachers will explain the function of the class and outline the year's schedule of work.

The type of demonstration has proved of much interest and profit elsewhere. It is one of a number of features planned in observance of American Education week.

Roberts County Getting Ready to Grade and Drain Highway No. 33

Location for Federal highway No. 60 in Roberts county, a continuation of Gray county's highway No. 33, is scheduled to be approved today by the Roberts county commissioners, according to Judge E. F. Richey of Miami. Word was received at Miami Saturday from the state highway department and the attorney general that the location through Roberts county and the bond record of $300,000 had been granted.

Arrangements for securing the right-of-way will be outlined today. The grading and drainage work will be started in the near future. An agreement between Roberts county commissioners and the highway department made recently provides that Roberts county will pay cost of grading and drainage work now, and the state will pay its share later. The department made the same agreement with Lipscomb and Hemphill commissioners. It is estimated that not only will it be road be located but that the grading and drainage work will be completed in the three counties by next summer.

Judge Richey pointed out that when the projects are completed in Roberts, Lipscomb and Hemphill counties, the only unimproved portion of the road between Amarillo and the Oklahoma line will be 16 miles in Gray county. He suggested that Gray county acquire necessary right-of-way for location of the road, and emulate the example set by commissioners of Roberts, Lipscomb and Hemphill counties.

Federal highway No. 60 extends from Virginia Beach, Va., to the coast.

Captain Ammel On Long Flight

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Thwarted by adverse weather in his plans to fly across the Atlantic, Captain Rey W. Ammel, Chicago broker, was on a non-stop flight to the Panama Canal zone today.

He hopped from Floyd Bennett airport, the new municipal airport on Barren Island, at 2:10 p. m. yesterday and hoped to reach France field, Panama, in 21 or 22 hours. He had 703 gallons of gasoline and 34 gallons of oil, which he calculated was sufficient for the 2,270-mile trip.

His plane is a low-winged monoplane, equipped with a 500-horsepower motor and has a cruising speed of 135 miles an hour.

No School to Be Held Tuesday

Tomorrow will be observed as a national holiday by all schools of the district.

Supt. E. B. Fisher said today that many patrons had asked if all schools would be closed, and his answer was in the affirmative.

Students are planning special activities for the Pampa-Childress football game, and there will be no official school.

Watchman Falls Dead
GALVESTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Julius Koch, 72, a night watchman, dropped dead on the sidewalk here today. Death from natural causes was the coroner's verdict.

Burglary Raid Here Costly

MURFEE'S IS HEAVY LOSER ON WEEK-END Much Merchandise Is Taken—Money Is Overlooked

Burglars transferred the scene of their operations from out-lying cafes and filling stations to the downtown business district where three or four of them robbed Murfee's store store of merchandise valued at $1,000 after midnight Sunday morning.

Thieves smashed a rear window in Minnie's cafe on North Cuyler and took $20.53 in cash and a $2 check on Riley Scott from the cash drawer on the same night.

The burglars at Murfee's were also safe-cracking experts. They knocked off knobs of two safes, badly wrecking them, but failing to open the inner door in one did not get $900 in cash in it. It is believed that the thieves felt they were in danger of being discovered and in their haste to escape did not see the cash. They also left a chisel behind them. The safe knobs were wrapped with cloth to deaden sound of the blows. A sledge hammer was apparently used.

Entrance into the store was gained by smashing the panes in the skylight. It is believed they descended to the floor by means of a rope ladder. They left the store in the same manner in which they entered as neither the front or rear door were opened when the burglary was discovered Sunday morning. Police said this morning they believed that at least four men did the job. City and county officers are working on the case.

The "island" display window at the entrance of Murfee's store was robbed of $115 worth of merchandise a month ago by thieves who used the door.

Merchandise taken included overcoats, wool shirts, dress shirts, four Gladstone bags, ladies' rayon silk underwear, men's underwear, men's socks, neckties, garters.

Thieves were also busy looting cars in the business and residential sections of the city. Tires were taken off three cars last night. An overcoat was stolen from an automobile Saturday night. Police Chief this morning reiterated a warning for motorists to never leave their cars unless they are locked.

Bartgis Flies Fine Airplane to City on Sunday

One of the finest and prettiest planes ever seen on the local landing field was brought to Pampa yesterday by R. W. "Dutch" Bartgis from Fort Worth.

The ship is an orange and black Lockheed Sirius, a duplicate of the ship in which Lindbergh broke the transatlantic record. Mr. Bartgis made the trip from Fort Worth to Pampa yesterday afternoon in two hours, cruising at an average of 140 miles per hour. The ship is a low wing monoplane. The engine of the Cree and Hoover plane of which Mr. Bartgis is pilot, is now being overhauled at Fort Worth. Mr. Bartgis was due to return to Fort Worth this morning.

Gains in Lineage

DALLAS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Gains in lineage during the year were reported yesterday by 45 member papers at the annual meeting here of the Texas Daily Press League. S. W. Papert, Dallas, president, was in charge of the meeting. Seven directors of the league were re-elected unanimously: Wilbur Hawk, Amarillo; D. M. Warren, Pampa; Hal Winsborough, Marshall; G. H. Wilcox, Sherman; Walter Murray, Ranger; Bernard Hanks, Abilene, and Mr. Papert.

Escaped Man Hunted

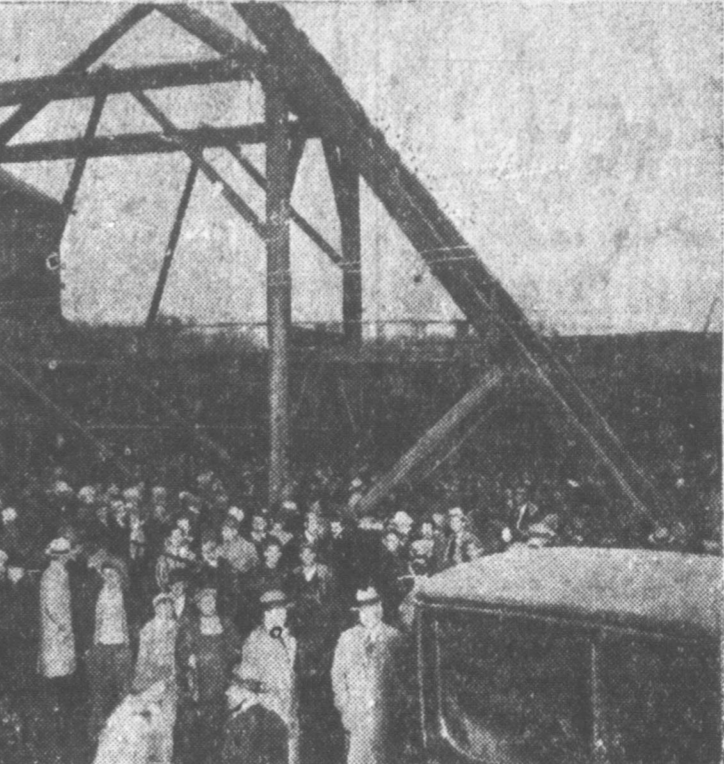

PRYOR, Okla., Nov. 10. (AP)—Officers were searching the hills near here and Locust Grove today for Fred Moore, alias Jesse Biggs, who after escaping jail at Chandler Saturday, forced Jack Hileman, pipe line welder, to take a 115-mile ride minus most of his clothes.

In the break, Jim Haggood was shot and killed by Sheriff Ted Means of Lincoln county. Two others, Bill Moore and Herman Cheyres, were recaptured shortly after they left the jail.

Heroic efforts of rescue workers failed to save the lives of men trapped in the shaft of Sunday Creek Coal Mine No. 6 at Millfield, Ohio, when a terrific explosion swept through the mine galleries. Among the bodies that were brought to the surface was that of W. E. Tytus (inset), president of the company, who was inspecting the mine when the blast occurred. Proration Plan Under Fire

Use of Police Power by State Is Argued at Austin

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—Basing their entire argument on the contention that the state railroad commission is vested with police power to enforce the conservation of natural resources, attorneys for the state today presented in district court arguments on a motion to dissolve a temporary injunction issued by the commission's statewide oil proration order.

A squabble over a technicality threatened to consume most of the hearing, the plaintiffs, the Dancier Oil company, contending that the state's answer to their petition for temporary injunction was improperly verified. The answer had been signed by R. D. Parker, oil and gas supervisor for the commission, while the Dancier attorney claimed it should have been verified by members of the railroad commission and all other defendants.

At times the quarrel threatened to be a personal issue between Dewey Lawrence, assistant attorney general, and Charles Black, Dancier's attorney, as Lawrence commented upon the "resort to a technicality."

Heinz Baker, Humble Oil company attorney, assisted Lawrence in presenting the state's case. Baker declared that any losses Dancier as an individual might suffer were immaterial, since private interests always must give way to public welfare, and the conservation of oil and gas was a matter of grave public concern. The Dancier company

Robert Mackie Dies Suddenly at His Farm Home

Robert A. Mackie, 32, prominent wheat grower and for 10 years a resident of Gray county, succumbed to a heart attack at his home 14 miles south of Pampa at 8:30 o'clock last night. Shortly after he retired, his wife heard him groan. By the time she had lighted a lamp he was dead. Mr. Mackie had been bothered with heart trouble for some time.

The body will remain at the Mackie home in the Hopkins community, pending funeral arrangements which will be announced as soon as members of the family hear from relatives in North Carolina. However, funeral services will be held at the First Methodist church here, and burial will be made in Pampa cemetery.

Mr. Mackie is survived by his wife, five sons, Edward, Doc, Hazel, Russell and John, all of Pampa; three daughters, Mrs. R. E. Lee of Groom, Mrs. Jack Bird, Pampa, and Mrs. M. G. Husted of Pampa; his mother, Mrs. R. A. Mackie, Sr., of Lora, N. C.; three brothers, J. Mackie, Catawba, N. C.; W. L. Mackie, Spearman; J. S. Mackie, Pampa; three sisters, Mrs. John Isaac, Newton, N. C.; Mrs. A. B. Barker, Lora, N. C., and Mrs. G. A. Craig, Saw Mills, N. C.

Mr. Mackie was born in Catawba, N. C., and moved to Gray county 10 years ago. He was well known in this community and was active in the affairs of the county.

Duncan Proposes New Road Plan

J. N. Duncan, leader in the recent opposition movement in connection with the road bond issues, today proposed a new plan before the commissioners' court and proposed a new plan which he believed would pass.

He suggested that precincts 1 and 2 be made into a special road district and that a smaller bond issue than those previously proposed be voted upon. Such a project, he predicted, would carry without difficulty.

His proposition was under discussion at press time.

Conspiracy is Charged in Tunney Suit by Lawyer

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Gene Tunney's attorney charged in court today that Timothy J. Mara, suing for $500,000, and Billy Gibson, Tunney's former manager, had conspired to victimize the former heavyweight boxing champion.

Emory R. Ruckner made the charge in submitting up Tunney's case in the breach of contract suit, which was to go to the jury this afternoon. Gibson, originally a co-defendant with Tunney, was freed of liability last week. The one-time Tunney manager recently was judged incompetent.

"It was the old game," Buckner said, "the old racket, of making a sucker out of a man. It is perfectly apparent that Gibson and Mara were equally anxious to make Gene Tunney sign those contracts."

The contracts to which the defense attorney referred were three documents which Gibson sent to Tunney for signature in May, 1926, when the latter was in Hollywood. Tunney signed only one of them, whereby Mara was to receive 10 per cent of his purse in his fight with Dempsey. Tunney testified he signed with the understanding that Mara was to receive payment only in the event the fight was brought to New York.

Tunney did not sign a second contract which was to give Mara 25 per cent of Tunney's earnings as champion. Nor did he sign the third, whereby Gibson was to get 33 1-3 per cent of Tunney's purse in the Dempsey fight.

Paul Killian was in Amarillo on business Monday.

ROCK ISLAND REHEARING IS NOT GRANTED

Early Construction of Pampa Line Likely

Before the first snow flies, construction will likely be started by the Fort Worth and Denver Northern railroad, a Burlington subsidiary, on the Pampa-Childress line of 110 miles.

From Washington by Associated Press today came telegraph dispatches to The News telling of the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission to refuse to disturb its ruling authorizing the Burlington to construct the extension so much desired here.

An application of the Chicago, Rock Island, and Gulf for a rehearing, based on an objection to the joint use of that segment of the line between Shamrock and Wellington, was dismissed without comment. The Rock Island had sought to keep the Burlington out of Wellington and Shamrock, fearing division of tonnage.

Rumors that the Rock Island, rather than join the Denver in the joint trackage arrangement, would withdraw its project have been current for several weeks, but nothing official has developed. The roads must begin the projects in January, but the Denver has massed materials at Childress, where an engineering force is located, and an official of that road told The News last week that construction could be started within a few weeks after the permit became available.

Had the re-hearing been granted, much of the ground formerly covered in the litigation would have been reviewed, but the action announced today is believed to have closed the case unless the Rock Island should decide not to build the Pampa-Childress branch. In the latter event, the Denver would build the Pampa-Childress line without assistance.

Watchman Held For Shooting of Wildorado Man

AMARILLO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Devret West, 22, night watchman at an elevator of the Wildorado Grain and Mercantile company at Everett Switch, near here, was at liberty under bond today on murder charges in connection with the fatal shooting of Donald J. Williams, 26, Deaf Smith county farmer.

Williams was shot to death Friday night at the elevator. A rifle lay beside his body when he was found. A lock on the elevator door had been cut and the door knocked in. A truck was parked nearby.

Company officials reported to officers that the watchman had been stationed at the elevator after about 700 bushels of wheat had been stolen, while the building was closed for repairs.

Optimism Feels

DETROIT, Nov. 10. (AP)—An optimistic view of the business outlook was expressed today by William J. McAnery, president and general manager of the Hudson Motor Car company, as 1,000 additional employees were called back to work at the company's plant.

WHY NOT A WHEAT EXPERIMENT STATION FOR GRAY COUNTY?

Considerable agitation has developed for an experiment station located somewhere upon the Plains. While the state already has many departments, schools and miscellaneous bureaus, its area is so great that many are needed to spread the benefits of taxation uniformly among the various sections. The wheat belt of the Panhandle is as large as are some states, and it is not without reason that an experiment station devoted to study of wheat chiefly as being urged.

Recently the false wire worm has been playing havoc with wheat in this territory. There is no station which can make the kind of study and experiments that the problem demands. It is true that investigators have come from A. & M. college to make a survey, but this is no substitute for a station making an intensive study of wheat culture.

But the station would study other Panhandle crops as well and would gather exhaustive data regarding methods, rainfall, acreage, production, and the like. The average farmer is in no position to experiment, but farmers all over the nation have profited from the findings of experts.

And if a station is to be established, why not locate it near Pampa, "Wheat City of the Plains?"

WASHINGTON.—Repeated assertions that our own depression is only part of a worldwide depression continue to be amply supported by reports from foreign representatives of the Department of Commerce and other government agencies.

Virtually without exception, our best customers among the nations are suffering. England, Canada, Germany, Cuba and Latin America all find business very dull or worse. Naturally, American exports are unlikely to increase to any great extent until those countries begin to get back to their economic feet.

Exports for the first nine months of this year amounted in value to $2,958,509,000 as compared with $3,843,676,000 in the first nine months of 1929. Imports declined from $3,860,017,000 to $2,401,838,000. Exports in September were $318,000,000 as compared with $487,163,000 in September, 1929.

Serious as was the decline, Director William L. Cooper of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce has just pointed out that in the first six months of the year our exports decreased only 13 per cent in value, while Great Britain's fell off 16 per cent, Japan's 19 per cent, Canada's 21 per cent and Australia's 32 per cent.

Recent reports indicate that even France, for a long time the conspicuous exception in the general picture of economic woe, is now beginning to suffer along with everyone else.

Anyone who can find any consolation in the individual troubles of other nations might well look over the latest sheaf of cablegrams from our commercial attaches in Latin-American capitals. The only countries from which even slight improvement is reported are Ecuador and Haiti.

Business in the Argentine continues quiet. The record depreciation of the peso exchange discouraged imports and Argentine exports dropped 37 per cent in value during the first nine months of the year. Farmers are still suffering from the adverse effects of last year's unfavorable crop.

In the last part of October industries in Brazil were reported at a standstill on account of the revolution and general business was "practically paralyzed" all through the month.

Unemployment has been increasing in Chile. Unfavorable weather has retarded an expected seasonal pickup in wholesale and retail sales. Shoe factories are turning out only 40 per cent of normal production, knitting mills 35 per cent and weaving mills 65 per cent. Further curtailment is expected. The number of forced repossessions of automobiles is increasing rapidly, and such repossessions are averaging 50 per cent of the cars sold in the northern sections.

Trade in Cuba continues to be dull, with a customary business lull in the pre-election period offsetting increased optimism in the sugar industry which followed acceptance of the Chadbourne rehabilitation plan by the industry itself and the government.

The depression which has blanketed Mexico grew worse in October. Unemployment continues to increase as mining and industrial enterprises steadily reduce their activities. The government is tightening up immigration regulations to keep out laborers and professional workers who compete with Mexican labor.

Depression continues in Uruguay, where an expected seasonal upturn failed to materialize.

P. T. A. HERE WILL AID HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS FINANCIALLY

Welfare Committee Is Appointed to Assign Odd Jobs as Well as to Find Places for Students to Earn Board

With the appointing of a welfare committee to work in cooperation with the high school Parent-Teacher association, an initial step was taken toward giving aid to boys and girls of high school age who are financially unable to attend school, according to announcement of Mrs. G. H. Wallace, president of the P. T. A.

The committee is composed of Principal L. L. Sone as chairman; George Rainouard, representing the Rotary club; Dr. J. H. Kelley, Lions club; R. L. Champion, Kiwanis club; John I. Bradley, American Legion; L. M. Downs, board of city development; Rev. A. A. Hyde, high school P. T. A.; Mrs. K. M. Butler; Mrs. Frank McNeil.

It is the purpose of the committee to keep boys and girls in school by assigning odd jobs which they can do before or after school hours and by trying to find places where they may work for board and room. The committee is asking that merchants, housewives, or others who have extra work, if only for an hour, telephone Mr. Sone at the high school. All boys and girls who need work also are to register with Mr. Sone.

The committee also stated that any help in clothing a needy high school pupil would be appreciated, and asked that any person who knows of a boy or girl unable to attend school because of lack of clothes or money to buy extra books communicate with any members of the committee.

Mrs. Wallace stated that one little girl whose family had suffered financial reverses was able to stay in school by doing odd jobs, such as caring for children and washing dishes.

Health Committee Named
The following health committee also has been appointed: Mrs. H. G. Twiford, chairman; Mrs. Carl Beck, Mrs. T. W. Jameson, and Miss Bess Kilgough.

Other members of the committee are to work with Miss Kilgough, health supervisor, in providing medical attention where necessary, and taking any other steps necessary for the health of the boys and girls in high school.

Fourth Grade of West Ward Gives Program

Chapel exercises at the West Ward school were being held this afternoon with the fourth grade pupils giving the program.

The Rev. D. H. Truhitte, pastor of the Central Baptist church, was to be in charge of the devotional service.

The program was to include the following: Our Armistice Day, Clerice Gillis; violin solo, H. C. Covington; reading, Oneta Smith; violin solo, Bobbie Childers; solo, with ukulele accompaniment, Imogene Ralls; play, Armistice Day, by pupils of fourth grade, of which Miss Violet Durrett is teacher.

Fifty Are Present at P-T-A Meeting

About 50 members of Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association attended a meeting for the observance of Founder's day last Thursday evening.

Mrs. G. C. Malone, president, brought a lovely cake, and candies were lighted for the national president, the state president, the district president, and the local council president, Mrs. V. E. Fetheress.

Superintendent R. B. Fisher addressed the group on "Schools of Tomorrow," and Mrs. A. L. Patrick read a paper on "Worthy Home Membership."

A piano solo and a reading were given by pupils of Miss Jewel Montague's room.

Twentieth Century to Meet in Mitchell Home

"Human Motives" will be studied under the direction of Mrs. H. G. Twiford at a meeting of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock in the home of Mrs. R. W. Mitchell.

CHORUS MEETS TONIGHT

A full attendance of members of the Pampa Choral club was urged today.

The chorus will meet at the Methodist church tonight in regular practice on "The Messiah," sacred oratorio by Handel. The work will be presented in December.

Miss Miller in McLean
Miss Myrtle Miller, Gray county home demonstration agent, is in McLean today attending the Gray county council of home demonstration clubs. On Tuesday and Wednesday she will be in Memphis, attending a meat curing and canning demonstration, and the recreation institute at Hedley. Thursday she will go to Alabaster, Friday to Alabaster and Eldridge and will complete the week's work at Pampa.

Mrs. Hoy Horn was admitted to the Worley hospital Saturday.

Laketon P. T. A. Is To Have Food Sale Here Soon

Plans for entertaining the winning side in the membership contest and for a food sale to be held in Pampa were discussed at the meeting of the Laketon P. T. A. held Friday afternoon at the school.

The membership contest party will take place Friday evening at the school, while the food sale, details for which will be announced later, will be held in Pampa on the 22nd. Proceeds will be used for the library which will also be benefited at the next regular meeting on the 21st. Each parent is asked to bring a child's book to the meeting.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Nov. 9.

Romans 5:18 furnished the golden text: "As by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one of the free gifts came upon all men unto justification of life."

The following passage from the Bible was included in the service: "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." I Corinthians 15:22.

The following citations from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, were also read: "As in Adam (error) all die, even so in Christ (Truth) shall all be made alive." The mortality of man is a myth, for man is immortal (pp. 545-546).

"The divine nature was best expressed in Christ Jesus, who threw upon mortals the truer reflection of God and lifted their lives higher than their poor thought-mould would allow,—thoughts which sent man as fallen, sick, sin, and dying" (p. 259).

and press each portion into a disc. Always work as quickly as possible, reducing both the time and the handling of the dough to a minimum.

Cold ingredients and utensils are other important factors in the making of tender, flaky pie crust.

The skilled baker can work the shortening into the flour with her fingers, for her touch is so light and quick that it does not melt the fat. The beginner will find that a pastry blender or two knives will help her not to overmix her dough.

The following rule is for plain pastry and has been worked out for one-eighth inch double crust pie. One and 3-4 cups pastry flour, 3-4 teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons solid shortening, about 4 tablespoons cold water.

Mix and sift flour and salt. Work in shortening, using tips of fingers or two knives. The flour and fat particles should be about the size of small peas. Add water, tossing the mixture with a fork until the dough clings together. Divide in two parts, making one part a little larger than the other. The lower crust requires more dough than the upper one.

Shape into a disc with the hands and roll on a lightly floured molding board. Roll out from the center of the dough, lifting pin at end of each stroke. Keep the shape round and make the crust about 1-8 inch thick. Fit into the pie pan. Do not stretch dough—rather, push it down into the pan to make it fit. Add filling and dampen edge of dough. Fit on upper crust which was rolled and cut as soon as under crust was fitted in pan.

Gashes must be cut in the upper crust to allow the steam to escape while baking. Run the rolling pin around the edge of the pan to press the upper and lower crusts firmly together. Trim off extra dough around the edge of the pan if necessary and press with a pastry jagger or roll between the thumb and forefinger of one hand over the forefinger of the other. Bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes to set the crust quickly. Then reduce the heat and bake in a moderate oven until both filling and crust are thoroughly cooked.

Members and prospective members of the Azar class of the First Baptist church will meet at the church at 3 o'clock.

Women of the Mooseheart Legion will hold a silver tea at the hall on West Francis from 2:30 to 5 o'clock.

Pythian Sisters will hold their annual roll-call meeting at I. O. O. F. hall at 7:30 p. m.

The regular business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the Pampa Drug tea room.

Chapel will be held at Sam Houston school Wednesday morning from 9 to 9:30 o'clock.

SUPERINTENDENT R. B. FISHER, SEVERAL TEACHERS IN OTHER SCHOOLS VISIT SAM HOUSTON

She Is to Marry James M. Cox, Jr.

Miss Helen Rumsey of New York, shown here, is soon to become the bride of James M. Cox, Jr., son of the 1929 democratic nominee for the presidency. The wedding will take place Nov. 21 in New York.

Mrs. W. M. Sartain was dismissed Saturday from the Worley hospital.

R. L. Hayes and W. T. Bridwell are being held in the city jail pending a satisfactory explanation of their possession of several hundred pennies which police took from them yesterday after they were arrested.

Recently A. L. Patrick, principal of the Sam Houston school, invited the superintendent of schools, R. B. Fisher, to make a visit to the school for inspection and supervision. Mr. Fisher accepted this invitation Friday and was furnished a personal schedule of 20 minutes to the class.

The results of this visit will be placed on a graph for teachers to study and discuss at teacher's meeting next week. The results from Mrs. J. L. Lester's recent visits will also be placed on graph for study and discussion.

Several teachers from other wards also attended. In about two or three weeks another such visit will be made and results checked again. Supervision is cooperatively working toward economical and effective learning. Hence the visit of the various teachers, supervisors and the superintendent.

Visiting teachers Friday were Miss Loma Groom, public school music teacher of West Ward; Mrs. Paul Poteet and Miss Mary Clark, primary teachers of West ward; Mrs. C. R. Cobb and Miss Violet Durrett, fourth grade teachers of West Ward.

Members of the So Jolly club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. S. Horner. Mrs. Otto Geppelt was a guest for the afternoon.

Members present were: Mrs. Warren Fox, Mrs. Ed Gilbert, Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Bob Oats, Mr. W. A. Webb and Mrs. Horner.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Strickland and Mr. and Mrs. George Artman of Amarillo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Oden Sunday.

MENU for the FAMILY

By SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

Real, honest-to-goodness homemade pie! There is nothing much nicer for dessert during the late fall and early winter months. Despite the general belief that pie is difficult to digest, nutrition specialists are rapidly proving that well-baked pie is as completely digested by the normal, healthy individual as any other form of baked stuff.

Pie fillings seldom give the inexperienced baker as much trouble as the crust itself. Good pastry is not just luck nor mere guess. Careful methods and accurate measuring are as essential for pie crust as for angel cake. Our mothers and grandmothers who baked dozens of pies a week had a very definite method and measured with great accuracy "by eye" and "feel" although it was impossible for them to formulate an exact rule.

The ideal pie crust is flaky and tender. In appearance it is a golden brown color around the edge, a somewhat lighter brown on the bottom and in the center of the top crust. Its surface is rough, almost blistered rather than smooth and firm. It should be crisp on the bottom as well as along the edges.

There are certain precautions, both "dos" and "don'ts" to be kept in mind regarding the method. The tendency to over-mix the ingredients is usually the beginner's worst fault. With the large proportion of fat used, it is only too easy for the novice to work the constantly warming and softening fat into the flour until a greasy mass is formed that cannot absorb enough water to make the pastry flaky.

The addition of the water is another ticklish point. Too much water makes a heavy, tough dough in spite of correct proportions of fat and flour. Water must be added in such a way that it is distributed evenly among all the little flour-coated particles of fat. Toss the mixture lightly, using no pressure and adding water a little at a time, until all the particles are dampened. Then press the dampened edges lightly to see if they will stick together. If they remain apart, sprinkle a few more drops of water through the mixture. When the mixture will hold together divide into portions as necessary and roll on a lightly floured molding board. Roll out from the center of the dough, lifting pin at end of each stroke. Keep the shape round and make the crust about 1-8 inch thick. Fit into the pie pan. Do not stretch dough—rather, push it down into the pan to make it fit. Add filling and dampen edge of dough. Fit on upper crust which was rolled and cut as soon as under crust was fitted in pan.

Gashes must be cut in the upper crust to allow the steam to escape while baking. Run the rolling pin around the edge of the pan to press the upper and lower crusts firmly together. Trim off extra dough around the edge of the pan if necessary and press with a pastry jagger or roll between the thumb and forefinger of one hand over the forefinger of the other. Bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes to set the crust quickly. Then reduce the heat and bake in a moderate oven until both filling and crust are thoroughly cooked.

TEXAS MUST BEAT HORNEFROGS TO STAY IN GRID RUNNING

Powerful Offensive To Be Pampa's Forward Pass Defense Tomorrow

SHOW-DOWN IS DUE WHEN TEAMS MEET

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Nov. 10. (AP)—A show-down is scheduled in Southwest conference football circles this week when the University of Texas Longhorns and Texas Christian university Horned Frogs, two of the section's leading lights, clash at Fort Worth.

The tilt will offer the Frogs a grand opportunity to take a straight hold on their second straight title. Should Coach Francis Schmidt's proteges down the Longhorns, they would need to win only one of their remaining conflicts with Baylor and Southern Methodist to clinch the flag. Possibly they could drop both of those final games and still finish on top, so well is the current race scrambled around. Texas will have to stop the Frogs to remain in the running.

It promises to be an epic struggle, with the champions holding an advantage in playing on home terrain. Likewise, the titleholders will enter the fray bolstered by a fine confidence, the result of not having sustained defeat since mid-season of '28.

Both elevens scored impressive victories over opponents two days ago, the Frogs knocking any real ambitions out of the Rice Owls, 20 to 0, and Texas mauling Baylor, 14 to 0.

A second major battle in which a Southwest conference team will participate is scheduled far from Texas, the Southern Methodist Mustangs trouncing to Baltimore to engage the Navy. Except as a spectacle, the contest will bear no particular significance, both teams having been well licked in their own sectors. The Mustangs, however, can be counted upon to entertain the Baltimoreans with some aerial glides.

Just to prove they were not absolutely dependent upon their overhead, the Mustangs employed a running attack to score their first conference victory over the Texas Aggies, 13 to 7, Saturday.

A pair of casualties from the past week-end, Arkansas and Baylor, will tie up in a conference melee at Fayetteville. Arkansas, crushed by the Oklahoma Aggies, 26 to 0, will complete its championship schedule this week. A victory over Baylor would enable the Razorbacks to finish with a .750 standing and place them mighty close to the top in the final reckoning.

Rice and the Texas Aggies, also listed among beaten units of last week, square off at College Station, with the Farmers still trying to get on the right side of the conference ledger.

Conference standing:
Texas Christian—won 3, lost 0, tied 0, pct. 1.000.
Texas—won 2, lost 1, tied 0, pct. .667.
Arkansas—won 2, lost 1, tied 0, pct. .667.
Southern Methodist—won 1, lost 1, tied 0, pct. .500.
Rice—won 1, lost 2, tied 0, pct. .333.
Baylor—won 0, lost 1, tied 1, pct. .250.
Texas Aggies—won 0, lost 3, tied 0, pct. .000.

Coach to Wed His Recent Wife Another Time

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 10. (AP)—Charles Brookins, former track star whose marital difficulties led to his recent dismissal as an assistant track coach at the University of Iowa, planned to marry his latest wife today for the second time.

At Nevada, Ia., Saturday Brookins' second wife, Mrs. Ethel Held Brookins, obtained a divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. She and Brookins were married at Alledo, Ill., Sept. 4, last. Two months later the track athlete married Miss Dorothy Goby of Okalocosa, Ia., saying when arrested on charges of bigamy that he believed that his second wife had obtained a divorce at Midland, S. D. He waived the grand jury and was released on $1,500 bond.

Before his recent matrimonial ventures, Brookins was married once before. His first wife was granted a divorce three years ago.

Ranchman Killed
AMARILLO, Nov. 10. (AP)—W. W. Sweeney, 36, ranchman of Bard, N. M., was killed yesterday when his automobile overturned near Ashland, Tex. He was en route to Elk City, Okla., to visit a brother, Charles Sweeney, who was preparing to undergo an operation.

Horned Frogs To Be United in Big Homecoming

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10. —Plans are being completed for a reunion of the 1910 Horned Frog team, the first to play football in Fort Worth under the T. C. U. colors, for Homecoming Day, when the present Horned Frog team, Southwest conference champions of 1929, meet the University of Texas Longhorns here Saturday.

The team of 1910 won only two games out of nine scheduled. The present team has not lost a game since 1928. However this record of the 1910 team is not so bad, considering that the team was handicapped by the fact that they were in a new town and had lost all their equipment the previous year when the school burned in Waco. The team only averaged 153 pounds, while the opponents averaged 180.

J. F. Boatman, manager of the 1910 team, and present secretary of the State Association of the T. C. U. Alumni and Ex-Students Association, ranks some of the players of that team with the best that T. C. U. has ever turned out. Bill Masie, captain and center, is ranked along with "Three Point" Washmon and Noble Atkins at center. "Blue" Patton is classed in the hall of fame along with "Rags" Matthews and Charlie Fields, a lineman, was capable of making any team that T. C. U. ever turned out.

Aggie Cagers to Be Captained by Lengthy Center

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 10.—Early practice finds Shiro Hoke, tall center and captain of the 1930 Texas Aggie Cagers, showing excellent form on the basketball court. Hoke, who is slightly over six feet tall and of almost perfect athletic build, went through the entire season as pivot man for the Aggies last year and was never outjumped by an opponent. In addition to his work at center, he is a clever ball handler and a crack shot at the basket. He was the Aggies' leading scorer last year and the mainstay of the powerful offense which enabled the A. and M. quintet to close its season so brilliantly.

A mistake in the press box during the Texas Aggie-Centenary grid contest robbed Pete Hewitt, flashy back who shared honors with Harry Stitzler in the game, of credit for winning the game for the Aggies. Hewitt kicked the goal for the extra point after touchdown while Stitzler held the ball, and Stitzler was given credit for it. Hewitt, who hails from Groesbeck, the home of Tommie Mills, blackhaired ace of the 1929 A. and M. eleven, turned in an excellent game against the Centes, carrying the ball around end and over tackle for consistent gains as well as being on the receiving end of several passes. The point after touchdown scored by him later proved to be the deciding factor of the Aggies' 7-6 victory over Centenary.

A trio of sophomores, P. T. McClendon, Dothan, Ala.; Salvador Marquez, Yorktown; and Edward Obergefell, San Antonio, have featured the competitions of Coach Frank Anderson's Texas Aggie cross country team this fall. McClendon, who has been consistently leading the A. and M. harriers in competition, is considered one of the most promising distance men seen at A. and M. in several years. In addition to the sophomores, the cross country squad is composed of Capt. Dick Winder, Houston, cross country champion of the Southwest in 1928; Malcolm Perkins, letterman from Mt. Pleasant; Melton Smith, Sulphur Springs, another letterman; and Ira Hahn, Houston, squadman last year.

Lecture Two Days
CANYON, Nov. 10. (Special) — Professor S. H. Condon and Miss Anna L. Hibberts of the West Texas State Teachers college faculty returned today from Memphis, where they had lectured for two days at the Hill County Teachers Institute. During the two days Mr. Condon addressed two luncheon clubs, two general meetings and three meetings of Intermediate grade teachers.

Georgia's Go-Getter

FORDHAM IS EAST LEADER IN GRID RACE

(By The Associated Press)
EAST—Saturday's inter-sectional struggle left Fordham as the sectional leader with seven victories to its credit. Western Maryland also is unbeaten and untied while Army and Dartmouth still have not lost a game. Fordham faces a big test this week, meeting St. Mary's of California. Dartmouth tackles Cornell.

Big Ten—Triumphant over the Indiana jinx while its rivals were engaged in inter-sectional and non-conference games, Northwestern is only one game short of a perfect conference season. Wisconsin is next on the Northwestern schedule, while Michigan, the only other conference team which has not been beaten, meets Minnesota. Two more inter-sectional clashes are scheduled, Ohio State playing Pittsburgh and Iowa meeting Penn State.

Southern Conference—Alabama again rides at the head of the procession with six straight conference victories after Saturday's 20-0 triumph over Florida. Tulane and Georgia, both unbeaten but the latter tied, meet in this week's leading game while Alabama plays Louisiana State preparatory to the deciding clash with Georgia, which scored brilliantly over New York university.

Big Six—Oklahoma is left alone at the top of the Big Six standing as Nebraska defeated Kansas by a decisive 16-0 score. This week's Oklahoma-Kansas game may bring another change in the standing. "made" Michigan's attack this year. Barry Wood of Harvard and Albie Booth of Yale are pretty well known. Marshall Duffield and Orville Mohler of Southern California are both sensational field generals. So is Dartmouth's Morton.

Great as any or all of these may be, it is doubtful if any one has surpassed the superlative work of lanky Bobby Dodd of Tennessee, directing a team that has been pretty well shot to pieces by injuries to star players this fall.

Rocky Mountain—The season's decisive clash between Utah, undefeated leader of the conference, and Colorado heads this week's schedule with the winner almost certain to win the title. Each had an easy victory last Saturday, Utah beating Colorado College 41-6 and Colorado downing Colorado Teachers 27-7.

SPORT SLANTS

It has been suggested that Gene Tunney, if he is seriously tapped in the region of the bankroll, may decide to return to the ring and recoup the Tunney finances.

I have even heard the far-fetched idea of planning at this late date a return match between Tunney and the man with whom he made ring history, none other than Old Man Dempsey.

So far as Tunney's fistic capabilities are concerned, after a two-year layoff, it is the somewhat widespread belief that if given a few weeks of training, he could wade through the present crop of heavyweights collectively or at the expense of a selected individual. Gene himself, upon entering court in New York, remarked with some pride that he was within a pound of the weight he scaled for his last title defense against Tom Heeney.

However, it is the notion in this corner that it would require a very drastic turn in Tunney's personal affairs and a radical switch of mind to bring him back to the arena. In fact all the well known oolong in China might be wagered against the chance of his trying a come-back, much as such an eventuality would be welcomed now by promoters and experts alike who have squandered no affection upon the literary man of the ring.

This happens to be a season of good quarterbacks in college football. Frank Cardozo of Notre Dame, the 1929 All-American selection, is compared by experts to Harry Stuhldreher, head man of the famous Four Horsemen. Harry Newman, a sophomore, seems to have "made" Michigan's attack this year. Barry Wood of Harvard and Albie Booth of Yale are pretty well known. Marshall Duffield and Orville Mohler of Southern California are both sensational field generals. So is Dartmouth's Morton.

Great as any or all of these may be, it is doubtful if any one has surpassed the superlative work of lanky Bobby Dodd of Tennessee, directing a team that has been pretty well shot to pieces by injuries to star players this fall.

Harry M. Watson of Knoxville calls attention to the enthusiastic things that have been said about Dodd's generalship this year, his last with the Volunteers. For instance, Mack Tharpe writes in Atlanta Journal, not only rates beating Rice 23-6, but rates three successive hard games. Texas Christian-Texas heads this week's card while Southern Methodist goes east to play Navy.

Clingman Will Make Tour of State Soon—Yaqui Joe to Wrestle Here

OTIS Clingman, local grappler, is going places. He will have one more, or possibly two more local matches before embarking on a barnstorming tour of the state.

He said today that he was making up an itinerary to include Dallas, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Austin, and other points. The trip will require two or three weeks.

Clingman will meet Jack Rose in a blood and thunder battle here Thursday night, and if he is not in jail for murder he will resume training for his tour on Friday.

The winner of the coming match will meet the famous Indian warrior, Yaqui Joe of Old Mexico, here on the following match. The Indian is expected to draw the biggest crowd of the season.

Four small boys received the scare of their young lives yesterday afternoon when they were taken to police headquarters and informed that they had violated a city ordinance by exploding Armistice day fireworks on the streets. They were released after promising not to shoot any more firecrackers.

Jack Thompson Out With Boils

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Young Jack Thompson, former welterweight champion of the world, will have no opportunity to win back the title until after the first of the year.

The Oakland, Calif., negro will be unable to box until that time due to an attack of boils.

Consequently, his proposed return match with Tommy Freeman, the titleholder, must be set back. They had agreed to box in Cleveland the latter part of this month.

"There are marked men on the pro teams as well as the college elevens; but they know the hard knocks of the game," says Joe. "And it's seldom you ever hear of a pro player being even seriously hurt, despite the hard-fought character of the games."

Ohio State's young sophomore backfield star, Hinchman, is the son of Bill Hinchman, oldtime baseball star, now a scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Y. M. C. A. Contest Dates Announced

WACO, Nov. 10. (AP)—The state physical education committee, governing body of Young Men's Christian association athletics in Texas, set dates yesterday for the annual tournaments next spring.

It raised the entrance fee for all Y. M. C. A. state athletic tournaments from $10 to $25, to provide a fund to send winning teams to national tournaments, limited the cost of trophies to $10 and added wrestling to the list of state tournaments.

Tournament assignments were as follows:
Basketball: Houston, fourth Saturday in February; Sunday school basketball, San Antonio, second Saturday in March; volley ball, San Antonio, fourth Saturday in March; hand ball, Dallas, first Saturday in February; wrestling, Dallas, third Saturday in March.

BOBCATS ARE TO USE HEAVY LINE TUESDAY

With schools and business closed, Pampa will give much attention on Armistice day to honoring the hundreds of children's people who will come here to witness the Harvesters' Bobcat clash.

The Bobcats are to arrive tonight and take a look at Harvesters' party where the gridiron baring rain will be exceptionally hard and fast.

Advance advices from Childress indicate the following starting lineup: Preston, re; Thomas, rt; Smith, rg; Bradshaw, c; Franer, lg; Sikes, lt; Bybee, le; B. Davis, half; Barkley, half; R. Davis, p; Groce, t.

Childress has a line which will compare very favorably in weight with that of Pampa, and while her backfield is lighter, she has a passing attack which proved very effective against the Amarillo Sandies.

Coach Mitchell expects a severe test of his men's ability to stop an air attack. He has been drilling them on a defense for a couple of weeks. He believes, however, that the best defense against a light, passing team is to hold the ball most of the time through powerful, scoring offense.

It is likely that the Harvesters will be scored upon once, and possibly two or three times. There is little belief except in Childress circles that the Harvesters can be stopped short of 50 points. True, they played a fast brand of ball only last Friday, and will be without their customary week's rest, but they are in good condition in every department and should show the best local play of the season.

Completion of two new units of bleachers will be of particular interest to the fans. The weather forecast indicates cloudiness, but probably no rain.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Adventure enters the life of CELIA MITCHELL, 17, when she learns the father she has supposed dead is alive and wealthy. She leaves her unpretentious home in Baltimore for a home in New York with her father, JOHN MITCHELL, and her aristocratic grandmother, MARGARET JOHNSON, her mother, divorced Mitchell and remarried and is now a widow, BARNEY SHIELDS, young newspaper photographer, is in love with the girl, and before leaving Baltimore Celia promised to be loyal to his love.

She is lonely in her new home. Mitchell asks EVELYN PARSONS, beautiful widow, to introduce the girl to young people. Mrs. Parsons considers Celia a means to win Mitchell's affections and agrees. She invites the girl to her Long Island home for a week-end.

TOD JORDAN, fascinating but with a dubious reputation, is attentive to Celia, and Mrs. Parsons encourages the match. When the other guests leave, Celia continues her visit. LISI DUNCAN, socially prominent, invites Celia to attend a swimming party. At the party Celia snubs Jordan. She swims out beyond her depth and calls for help. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIII

The bright orange cap bobbed on the water for an instant, then a wave splashed over it. The second distress call was more feeble than the first.

Some of the other bathers turned at the cry, but Celia had struck off for herself straight out to sea. Most of the party were shouting and splashing in the surf. Others, diving from a raft, evidently could not hear the girl's shout.

Jordan had plunged after her. His long, fast strokes cutting the water caught attention from the group on the shore.

"Look—someone's drowning!"

Kate Duncan's hysterical soprano rose to a scream. The boys on the raft turned. Two of them dived into the waves and started swimming toward that spot far out, where a bit of orange cap and a girl's arm, raised and struggling, could be seen.

Jordan was ahead of them. He had nearly reached the spot. Suddenly the orange cap sank from view.

There were tumultuous cries from the shore: "She's gone under!" "Who is it?" "Somebody get a boat!" "Oh, why doesn't he hurry!"

A lifeguard came racing down the beach. His absence had been against rules. With the aid of the frantic spectators he launched the lifeboat. Lisi Duncan and one of the men got into the boat with him. There was one pair of oars. The lifeguard pulled on them manfully.

"It's Celia," Lisi was stammering. "Celia Mitchell! Oh, hurry, hurry!" Lisi was crying and wringing her hands.

The crowd on the shore watched as though hypnotized.

"He's got her!"

It was a youth standing on the raft who first saw Tod Jordan's arm emerge clutching at a figure which hung to him tightly.

"He's got her!" the cry rang louder, taken up by those on the shore.

Now the two other swimmers had reached Jordan and Celia. They were trying to help him fight off the girl's grasping hold which left him powerless.

"Keep her afloat," one of the pair shouted. "The boat's nearly here."

Jordan struggled to quiet the girl. The lifeboat reached them. It was a matter of several desperate seconds to raise the half-unconscious Celia from the water into the boat. Strong arms reached out and pulled Jordan in. He fell heavily against the seat, exhausted.

Lisi and the lifeguard attended the girl while the other youth rowed. It seemed a long time before they reached the shore. Then the guard picked up Celia and carried her up the beach. He laid her down, began to work over her.

"She's all right," he told Lisi. "See—she's come too. Want to get rid of some of that water she swallowed. Get back, everybody! Get back and give us room!"

His methods were effective. In five minutes Celia was able to stand and, with assistance, walk to the club house. Jordan and the guard led her away. They wrapped her in a bathrobe and let her lie back in a comfortable deck chair.

"I'm—all right," Celia insisted brokenly. She tried to smile, but the effect was not convincing.

"Darling, just be quiet now and rest. You'll feel better in a few minutes," Lisi said solicitously.

The lifeguard handed Celia something to drink. It was very hot and bitter, but she swallowed it. Then she leaned her head back and closed her eyes.

When she opened them again Tod Jordan was beside her. He was watching her face intently.

"Celia smiled. There was a glow of color in her cheeks now.

"You did it!" she said. "You saved my life! How can I ever thank you?"

"There's nothing to be thanked for. Forget it. Feeling stronger?"

She said that she was. There was nothing whatever wrong with her now, but she owed this entirely to his bravery.

Jordan was modest. Anyone would have done what he did. He just happened to see her first. It was nothing at all.

Lisi appeared and asked Celia how she felt. The two girls went to the dressing room, where Celia changed from the bathing suit to her tennis dress. Someone supplied a flannel jacket and, thus wrapped warmly, Celia came back to the veranda.

"What am I going to do?" Lisi asked Jordan. "She says she won't go home. She doesn't want to spoil the party."

"Nonsense! Of course she's going home." The young man was wearing street clothes. "I'm going to drive her there."

Celia shook her head.

"But it's nonsense. I'm perfectly all right, and I won't spoil Lisi's nice party. I've behaved badly enough as it is!"

"The car's waiting," Jordan indicated a black roadster with a wave of his hand. "Come on. We're leaving right away."

"You must!" Lisi told her. "It's sweet of you to want to stay, Celia, but what you need to do is get into bed and stay there until the shock's worn away. You don't realize it, but honestly you look terrible!"

Protesting, Celia was led to the waiting roadster. She knew she was weak. That terrible, terrible moment when she had found herself helpless still rose up before her—frightful and unforgettable.

Lisi waved farewell as they pulled away down the drive. Celia dry, warm and comfortable, smiled at the man beside her.

"I've ruined your afternoon," she said.

"I wouldn't say that."

There was a pause and then Celia spoke slowly:

"I'm sorry that I—was rude—when I met you today."

"You mean you wouldn't want to run away from me now?"

"Of course not. Why, I feel I owe you everything."

Jordan took one hand from the wheel long enough to pat her arm.

"Don't say any more about that little—adventure," he told her. "If it's made you change your opinion of me I can't even regret that you were frightened."

Something in his voice made Celia Mitchell blush deeply. Her eyes met his. She quickly looked away.

"I don't really understand how it happened," she said, changing the subject. "I've known how to swim all my life. It's the one sport I was ever any good at. Mother taught me when I was five or six years old. And this afternoon I was swimming along not the least bit tired or anything. Before I realized anything was wrong the water was over my head. I couldn't manage my arms or get my breath—"

"You were out a long way," Jordan said. "Probably didn't realize how far you'd gone, and those waves are tricky. It might have been an undertow. Did it feel as though something was pulling you down?"

Celia shook her head.

"I can't say how it felt. It was terrible! All I remember is trying to fight and going down and having water all over me and—oh, please let's not talk about it!"

The girl shivered.

"That's right," Jordan agreed. "Try to forget it happened. You'll be home in 10 minutes now. How much longer are you staying at Mrs. Parsons'?"

He managed to divert her attention until the car turned into the drive at Larchwood. Jordan helped Celia from the car and a maid opened the door for them.

Evelyn appeared on the stairway.

"Why, Celia," she exclaimed, "I wasn't expecting you home so soon! She hurried down to meet them.

Jordan explained what had happened. At once Mrs. Parsons bustled the girl to her room. With the maid's assistance she quickly had Celia tucked into bed and the shades of the room lowered to create a restful atmosphere. Hilda brought a glass of hot milk with instructions for Celia to drink it.

It was pleasant to be shown so much attention. Celia had really been terrified, and the shock remained. Reaction now caused her to sink into a deep sleep.

She awoke refreshed. It was nearly 6 o'clock. Celia bathed and dressed for dinner. She found Mrs. Parsons in the living room.

"My dear child—did you have a good nap?"

Celia laughed. "Oh, yes. I'm entirely myself now. Mrs. Parsons, don't you think it was wonderful of Tod Jordan to risk his life to save me?"

"Indeed I do!"

They heard a telephone ring. In a moment Hilda appeared.

"Mr. Mitchell is calling, ma'am," the maid said.

"Mr. Mitchell?" Evelyn Parsons rose. "I'll take the call in the library, Hilda."

When the connection had been made, Evelyn's soft voice answered: "Yes, John. What is it?"

The man's voice was agitated.

"What's this about Celia nearly drowning at the boat club this afternoon?" he demanded. "Is she all right? Newspapers have been calling me. Where's Celia now?"

"Celia's here," Mrs. Parsons assured him. "She's—well, I'll have her speak to you." She turned and called: "Your father wants to speak to you, Celia."

The girl took the telephone.

"Hello, father! Yes, of course I'm all right. No—nothing happened. It was a swimming party and I got out too deep. I'm terribly ashamed! One of the men—Tod Jordan—swam out and got me, and then the lifeguard brought us in a boat. What? Oh, I rested after I got home, and that's all there is to tell. Come home? Oh—do I have to?"

She turned, dismayed, to the old woman. Mrs. Parsons took the telephone and talked for several minutes. There was no dissuading John Mitchell. He said firmly that Celia was to return the next morning. Thompson, the chauffeur, would arrive for her at 10 o'clock. Mitchell said that of course he did not blame Evelyn for what had happened, but he wanted his daughter home. He had first learned of the accident by newspapers calling for Celia's photograph. That incident still seemed to distress him.

The dinner that followed was a quiet meal. Evelyn Parsons was busy with her thoughts, and Celia mournful at the prospect of returning to the city. After they arose from the table Celia wandered out on the porch. Tonight the moon was veiled behind clouds, but the stars were bright.

She turned as she heard a man's voice.

Gen. Bliss Dies Sunday Morning

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—General Tasker Howard Bliss, war time chief of staff, is dead, ending more than half a century of service to his country.

The soldier-statesman succumbed early Sunday to an intestinal illness, several days after physicians at Walter Reed hospital had given up hope of saving him. He was within six weeks of his seventy-seventh birthday.

He will be buried Wednesday at Arlington, escorted to the grave by a group of distinguished soldiers and sailors whose names with his were on every lip during the world war.

General John J. Pershing, Admiral W. S. Benson, Admiral Hugh Rodman, Major Generals Hugh L. Scott, William Crozier and Brigadier General Stanley D. Embrick together with Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and Colonel E. M. House, will be his honorary pallbearers.

Funeral services probably will be held at the Washington cathedral and plans were being made to give him the final tribute of an impressive ceremony, including a military cortege of more than one thousand men.

General Bliss served in four campaigns and performed important civilian duties for the government both at home and abroad. Among them was his post on the supreme war council and on the American peace commission as personal representative of President Wilson. His death leaves Colonel House the only American survivor of the war council.

Bliss began his military career by walking barefoot 10 miles to obtain from his representative in congress an appointment to West Point. He was 17 and wanted to save his new shoes to "look nice." He got the appointment, entering West Point in 1871. His career took him through the Spanish-American war, the Porto Rican campaign, the Philippines disorders and the Mexican expedition.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Eleanor Emma Bliss, a son, Colonel Edward Goring Bliss, and a daughter, Mrs. Adolph Knopf of New Haven, Conn. He was born Dec. 31, 1863, at Lewisburg, Penn., the son of George R. and Mary Raymond Bliss.

HOW NATION VOTED IN GENERAL ELECTION

Democrats and Republicans fared in Tuesday's elections, all races—for Senate, governor and congress—being considered. Shaded states are those in which Democrats made gains over their present status, all races considered, though not triumphing completely. States in black are those in which Democrats won both governor and senatorships or other important state offices. States in white are those in which Republicans won all or most of the offices to be filled. Shaded states are those in which Democrats made gains over their present status, all races considered, though not triumphing completely. Maine held its election in September.

Surplus Fruits Distributed for Needy in Winter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (AP)—Surplus peach, prune and fig crops of the west coast are to be used to help feed the nation's poor this winter.

The Economic Conservation Committee of America plans to distribute butters and jams at cost among charitable institutions, civic organizations and needy individuals. "Children who need fruit during the period of growth and never would get it otherwise, and thousands of hungry adults will benefit by this kind of conservation campaign," said Dr. Francis I. Jones, director-general of the federal employment service.

"Thousands of tons of peaches and other fruit which would rot in the orchards of California because of excess supply will be available in butters and jams at price about one-fourth as high as would ordinarily be paid."

Dr. Jones says that under the committee's plan there will be no competition with the fruit canning industry, since the products will go mostly to a class of consumers which would not be able to obtain fruit otherwise. Purchasers of peach butter must agree in writing not to resell it at a profit or use it except for charitable purposes.

Receivers Appointed
WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 10. (AP) George L. Ransom, of Tulsa, Okla., and E. E. Berl, of Wilmington, were today appointed receivers for the Monarch Royalties corporation, Tulsa. The proceedings were brought by Charles J. Rogers of Kansas City, Mo. The corporation contested action, stating that its assets exceeded liabilities but that it lacked cash.

Road With Iron Base to be Tested By Winter Traffic, Spring Thaws

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 8. (AP)—Spring thaws will test the world's first metal base highway.

If it withstands "soft" weather after the winter freezeup, highway experts will believe they have found a cheaper and quicker way of building brick pavements.

The highway is a 150-foot section of a regular brick pavement outside Springfield—but based on iron plates instead of concrete.

It was opened to traffic in October and will undergo service tests until after the spring thaws to determine its durability.

Outwardly, the experimental section looks the same as the rest of the brick pavement, but it is claimed to have greater flexibility to withstand shocks of heavy traffic and stresses of heat and cold.

The base was made of large sections of sheet iron, two thirds being corrugated and the remainder flat plates. They were laid directly on the subgrade soil. Over them was spread a cushion of sand before the bricks were set.

Its builders expect the new type of construction to save time and money because the concrete base is eliminated, doing away with the necessity of excavating and of waiting for a cement layer to set.

If spring thaws are weathered by the section, they believe "portable" roads may be manufactured, with the iron base, cushion and brick-laying done in plants and merely assembled on the site of construction. The experiment is a co-operative venture between the Illinois state highway department, Sangamon county highway superintendent and board of supervisors, and manufacturers of the materials used.

Former Convict in Double Killing

WILDER, Kans., Nov. 10. (AP)—Edward Maddox, 29, an ex-convict of Marshalltown, Iowa, shot and fatally wounded his 10-year-old step-son and then killed himself near here yesterday while resisting efforts of Kansas City, Kans., police and county officers to capture him.

Maddox, whom officers sought to arrest on statutory charges involving his 14-year-old stepdaughter, had barricaded himself in the home of a relative, Mrs. Richard Perkins. Previously he had taken his step-son to the home of a neighbor where he forced him to borrow a shotgun and some ammunition and evicted Mrs. Perkins from her dwelling.

Officers believed Maddox was crazed with rage against his wife, Mrs. Nellie Maddox, who had refused to return with him to Iowa. She was working as a waitress and it was her custom on Sunday to visit her son, whom she had placed with the Perkins family so he could attend school.

Rare Wild Gourd Found.
AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—A rare wild gourd believed to be the parent stock of the cultivated North American pumpkin has been discovered near Cuero, Tex. The plant is being used in experiments at the University of Texas and Cornell university.

Poultry Show Will Be Popular
Interest in the annual Pampa poultry show is increasing with entries being made from Conway, Groom, and Panhandle. Entries from Conway will be made by Melvin Callihan, Marvin Callihan, Clyde Thomas, D. B. Thomas, C. V. Hudson, Orville Counselman, E. W. Stevens Jr., and Broadbush Young.

S. G. Bobbit of Panhandle will enter white leghorns in the show and George P. Groust of the same city will show barred rocks.

Gus Davis and R. J. Bohr, both of Groom, will exhibit their buff orpingtons and white leghorns, respectively.

The agriculture 1 class of the Panhandle high school and the second year students of vocational agriculture will have entries of white leghorns, buff orpingtons, barred rocks, Rhode Island reds, and white minors. Sixteen boys of the agriculture 1 class will have entries at the show and six boys of the second year vocational agriculture class will also have exhibits at the show.

Students Will Observe Holiday

CANYON, Nov. 10. (Special)—Students of the West Texas State Teachers college are making preparations today for their first holiday since the opening of the college on Sept. 18.

A large number will attend the American Legion regional celebration which will be held at Amarillo, while others will spend the day in their home towns or in outings of various sorts.

The Palo Post of the American Legion and the Palo Post Ladies auxiliary were guests at a special church service held in the auditorium of the West Texas State Teachers college Sunday night. Rev. Arthur Long, evangelist of the Christian church with headquarters at Fort Worth, preached the sermon with "The Reserves of Victory" as his subject. Music was furnished by the combined choirs of the churches of Canyon.

Oil Industry Is Urged to Curtail Stocks of Crude

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—The petroleum industry was urged in a report prepared for the eleventh annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute opening today, to adjust supply to demand by curtailment applied on a percentage basis to all sources of gasoline.

The report, prepared by Dr. Joseph E. Pogue, New York, chairman of the committee on petroleum economics of the federal oil conservation board, predicted demand for petroleum products particularly gasoline would range from, 4 per cent below to 4 per cent above normal in the next few months. The lower figure was held to be the more likely. It estimated necessary gasoline inventories for the spring at 45,000,000 barrels with a necessary curtailment indicated at present of about 7 per cent.

Boiled Cottonseed Fed to Mules in Georgia
CARRLTON, Ga., Nov. 8. (AP)—It remained for a negro tenant on the plantation of Col. Sid Holderness here to make a discovery valued at $10,000,000 to Georgia cotton farmers.

Henry Parks discovered mules would eat boiled cottonseed and liked it. Henry boils seed for his mules because it "lays the lint" left on them at the gin and adds a pinch of salt.

Colonel Holderness estimates the saving to Georgia farmers this year alone would amount to $10,000,000 if they fed their cottonseed to work animals rather than sell it at the prevailing price of 27 cents a bushel and buy corn at $1.25 a bushel.

Washington, Nov. 8. (AP)—There is an average annual production of 3,000,000,000 pickles in the United States. The crop is produced on about 74,000 acres, yields 4,000,000 bushels of cucumbers and returns more than $4,000,000 to the growers.

Savoldi Admits He Is Married

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 10. (AP) Joe Savoldi, Notre Dame football star, today admitted he was a married man but insisted he had not lived with his wife, the former Audrey Koshler of South Bend.

"It was a mistake I realized as soon as the marriage ceremony was performed," Savoldi said, "and I will get the marriage annulled as soon as possible."

The marriage ceremony was performed by a justice of peace April 3, 1929.

What effect the marriage will have on Savoldi's status as a student at Notre Dame was undetermined today although the general opinion was that the university authorities would look upon it as a mistake of an impetuous youth and be lenient in view of Savoldi's statement that he would seek an annulment.

"Savoldi is just a big, good natured kid and made a mistake," Coach Knute Rockne said. "He told me he had not seen Miss Koshler since they were married."

COVERED WAGON IS SHOWN IN LONDON

LONDON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A covered wagon, used by British pioneers in the United States a century ago, was one of the most picturesque features of today's Lord Mayor's show inaugurating Sir Phene Neill. A band of Indians escorted the relic of the plains through the streets of London.

There were other American touches, too, including a figure of Benjamin Franklin and reminders of the historic Mayflower and 17th century explorations.

There was a brilliant sunshine and tens of thousands of spectators for hours watched the age old pageant with its new trimmings which included a pageant of the empire to synchronize with the imperial conference.

By common consent today's show was one of the most gorgeous in many years.

Moody Names Two To Prison Board Personnel

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—Dr. Holman Taylor of Fort Worth and Mrs. Florence Floore of Cleburne were appointed to the prison board today by Gov. Dan Moody. Dr. Taylor is a colonel in the 36th division and is secretary of the Texas Medical society. Mrs. Floore is past president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs and former chairman of the women's legislative council.

The appointments are effective immediately. The two will succeed Rabbi Henry Cohen of Galveston and Dr. A. C. Scott of Temple, resigned.

Capone Ally Is Under Arrest on Vagrancy Charge

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Sam Hunt, reputed member of the gang of Alphonse Capone, and one of more than a score of men named in vagrancy warrants, was arrested by detectives last night as he stood in a South Side drug store, sipping a soda.

Hunt, once suspected, police said, of trying to slay Leo McGonovon, bodyguard for George (Bugs) Moran, North Side gang leader and foe of Capone, refused to explain his presence on the far South Side except to say he had gone to a moving picture show. He was taken to the detective bureau for questioning today.

Legion Post To Perfect Plans For Armistice

Kerley-Crossman post 334 of the American Legion will have a call meeting tonight to perfect plans for the local post's part in the Armistice day celebration in Amarillo Tuesday. Arrangements are being made for the transportation of the Pampa Legion band to Amarillo for the parade on Tuesday morning and for the return to Pampa of several of the members of the band who must be here in time for the Pampa-Childers football game.

The Pampa Legionnaires will be honored guests of the Amarillo post, as the local post with its band will lead the parade. One hundred was one of the most picturesque features of today's Lord Mayor's show inaugurating Sir Phene Neill. A band of Indians escorted the relic of the plains through the streets of London.

Over-Stuffed Star in Rex Movie Is World Traveler

An actor who has appeared in every country of the world where the English language is spoken, portrays "Hives," genial over-stuffed butler in "Animal Crackers," talk-comedy filmed with the Marx Brothers in their cyclonic stage success, and beginning today at the Rex theatre.

He is Robert Greig, 250 pounds of roly-poly fun, who was born in Melbourne, Australia, and whose travels have carried him through a 20-year theatrical career in India, China, Java, Burma, South Africa, England, America and his native land.

Greig began his career in spite of the protests of his "governor" when L'Aiglon was produced in Melbourne. His next part was in the Australian production of "The Squaw Man."

"After that he loses track of the innumerable shows in which he had a part until he comes to such recent productions as "The Night Out," "Wallington," "The Student Prince," "Countess Maritza," the stage production of "Animal Crackers" and the current Broadway success, "Berkeley Square."

At first Greig played juveniles and straight leads, but as his girth increased he turned to comedy where he has scored his great successes. He has tried his hand at directing, his most successful effort in this line being the Australian production of "Chu Chin Chow." He prefers to appear before the footlights.

Greig has a brother who is a sugar planter in South Africa and he hopes to go there too if he ever works up enough courage to retire. "South Africa is a wonderful country," he sighed. "The climate is perfect and its wealth almost untouchable. But I fear I shall go on 'acting to the end of my days. To me it would be too utterly lonely out there on the veldt where I could only see a show by going to Capetown, and where I would never get another chance to appear on the stage or screen with those intimate clowns, the Four Marx Brothers."

Wurzbach Will Remain "Regular"

SEGUIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—The commanding position in which Harry M. Wurzbach, Texas' only republican congressman, finds himself as a result of the congressional gains made by the democratic party will not be used by him in "political jockeying."

Congressman Wurzbach made this statement to the Associated Press when asked whether, as a native Texan, he would help elect Congressman John M. Garner of Texas speaker of the house of congress should Garner have a chance for the place.

There were 216 democrats and 218 republicans elected. Wurzbach's vote would have made it a tie, had he chosen to throw it to Garner. Fought by the Texas republican and democratic organizations alike, Wurzbach disclaimed any sense of allegiance to either organization, but declared he always had and always would be a "regular" republican.

He said a friend had proposed that he announce, before the election, that he favored Garner for the speakership, but that he had declined to desert his party even for the democratic votes that the move might have gained him.

Veteran Magician Marries

GREAT BEND, Kans., Nov. 10. (AP)—Charles Andrew, 78, veteran magician and circus man, and Miss Virginia Pritchard, 26, of Great Bend, were married here today.

Andrew, a resident of Great Bend, served with the executive staff of Ringling Brothers circus and later with Barnum and Bailey.

Amelia Earhart To Wed Publisher

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Miss Amelia Earhart, first woman to fly the Atlantic, and George Palmer Putnam, publisher and explorer, have obtained a license to wed but whether the ceremony has been performed was a mystery to their friends today.

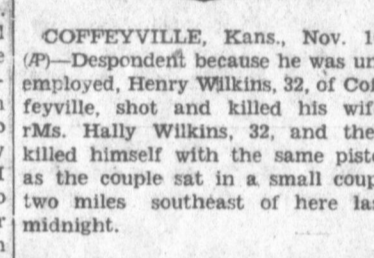

Henry P. Bailey, town clerk of Naamk, Conn., and Probate Judge Arthur P. Anderson concurred in statements that a license had been issued to the couple and Judge Anderson said he had waived the five-day notice of intention required by Connecticut law. Bailey said the license was issued Saturday.

Miss Earhart, who was in Washington home of Mrs. Frances Palmer and Palmer were at the summer home of Mrs. Frances Palmer, the publisher's mother, at Naamk, Saturday. They left together in an automobile after inquiring concerning train schedules from New London, Conn. Miss Earhart later flew to Washington. She said Putnam had not accompanied her nor could he be located at his apartment in Sutton Place, New York.

She said she went Naamk frequently but insisted she knew nothing of a marriage license being issued there to her and Putnam. "Sometime in the next 50 years I may be married," she said. Business in connection with her position as vice-president of the New York, Philadelphia and Washington Airway corporation took her to Washington, she said.

Absentee Vote In Kansas Awaited

TOPEKA, Kans., Nov. 10. (AP)—With the race for governorship still not definitely decided, counting of figures from last Tuesday's general election was halted today to await the absentee vote, a part of which will be available tomorrow. After the official census figures from every precinct in Kansas had been entered on the tabulation sheets Saturday, Harry H. Woodring, democrat, was leading Frank Hauke, republican, by 646 votes.

The standing was Woodring 216,138; Hauke 215,492, and John R. Brinkley, independent, 165,258. Some 3,500 ballots remained to be counted. About 2,500 of these, which were cast by Kansans outside their home precincts but within the state, will be made public tomorrow. Later the secretary of state will compile the vote of slightly more than 1,000 persons who were outside the state on election day. He is expected officially to announce the winner on Dec. 1.

Harley Gall, Jr., is the name chosen for a son born to Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Smith on Nov. 5.

STEEL ORDERS INCREASE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation increased 57,425 tons in October to a total of 3,481 tons Oct. 31. In September a decrease of 155,866 tons was shown.

Receivers were appointed on suit by the Merritt Drilling company, the Soeden company admitted its inability to pay current debts, although having ample assets. Total assets were listed at $12,812,000 and liabilities, exclusive of corporate stock, $4,330,000; current assets $2,159,000, and current liabilities, $1,787,000.

The receivers named were Federal Judge Hugh M. Morris, of Wilmington, and George N. Moore, of Fort Worth, Texas.

PRORATION

had set up expenditures for erection of a refinery near Pampa, and a contract with Continental Oil company, as bars to its reducing production in the Panhandle field.

"There is more at stake in this suit," Baker said, "than the mere selfish interests of the plaintiff."

He argued that gas and oil was best conserved under ground; that with the present condition of over-production there was no market for the product; and that the commission had issued its orders with these facts in mind, to prevent needless storage above ground with resultant waste and fire hazard.

But, he continued, unless all operators in a field were subject to the same restrictions, unequal withdrawals of oil would result, and from this condition would come waste of gas and water pressure and ultimate waste of oil underground.

The Danciger petition had claimed there was no physical waste in producing oil; that the commission was without legislative authority to issue any such order; and that had the legislature issued the order, it had exceeded its own authority in delegating a legislative duty to a commission.

Baker and Lawrence cited the amendment to the constitution of 1917 giving the legislature the right to conserve natural resources and subsequent acts of the legislature delegating not only the authority but the duty to prevent waste to the commission.

"The situation is analogous to our traffic lights," Baker said. "As an individual I may suffer some inconvenience by being forced to wait for the go signal, but the signals were designed for the good of the public."

Judge Ewing returned. "There're lots of people in this county, I think we can easily get two juries. At any rate I'm going to set the first trial for Nov. 24. Of course, sickness or something else as uncontrollable might require postponement of the case another week after Nov. 24."

Changed Appearance
 Hefner and Thompson presented entirely different appearances as they walked into court this morning from their appearances when they were placed in the Gray county jail. Both men had shaved and were dressed in dark suits.

The blood-stained boots of the men are being held as evidence by the state. The arraignment required only a few minutes this morning. Hefner's voice could be heard throughout the courtroom as he answered, "not guilty," to the court's question, "do you plead guilty or not guilty to the charge in the indictment?" Thompson's voice was barely audible as he said, "not guilty."

Both Thompson and Hefner are tall men. Each is well over six feet. Hefner is slightly bald, while Thompson is bald. Although not as heavy as Thompson, Hefner looks the stronger of the two men.

ple out of house and home, after they've lived on the land for 30 years more or less, and give the property to land-grabbers, of which there are too many in Texas, is preposterous," Mr. Small declared. The strip is now a part of the Panhandle and the interests of its residents will be protected, Mr. Small said.

The spokesman for West Texas and the Panhandle outlined the venue bill which he declared "we expect to pass during the coming session of the legislature." The bill would necessitate the trying of land cases in the counties where they originate instead of at Austin, as has been the custom in the past.

Mr. Small also has in mind a "scrap-land" bill, the provisions of which would prevent what he termed as the "vacancy-hunter" no chance to acquire scraps of land belonging to the state.

When oil was discovered on the Whittenburg ranch in Hutchinson county, "vacancy-hunters" immediately found a few bits of scrap land and sought to acquire.

Mr. Small believes that the laws governing the sale and transfer of school land in West Texas should be strengthened and revised.

Corn Crop Estimated
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The preliminary estimate of this year's corn crop was placed today at 2,094,481,000 bushels by the department of agriculture. A month ago 2,046,716,000 bushels were forecast. Last year production totaled 1,614,307,000 bushels.

Stock Market Has Weak Close

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The stock market closed weak today, with numerous losses of 1 to 4 and some 5 to 10 points. Selling was in large volume for time, the day's sales aggregating 4,500,000 shares, but trading quieted down in the afternoon, when prominent industrials were well supported. U. S. Steel, Westinghouse Electric, American Can and General Electric, after declining about two points, recovered a little. North American, Atchison, Union Pacific, American Tobacco B, and St. Louis Southwestern dropped about seven to 10. National Biscuit, Pennsylvania, and Baltimore and Ohio lost three or more.

ALABAMA'S PEANUT CROP TOPS THREE MILLION MARK

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 8. (AP)—The lowly peanut has developed a three-million-dollar industry in Alabama.

The crop this year is growing alone on 277,000 acres, with thousands of other acres planted with corn. Based on current prices and a promised yield of 65,787 tons, the peanut crop will yield a return of $3,552,000.

This acreage, said F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician, will yield a by-product of 138,000 tons of hay from the picker, which usually sells for around $10 a ton. This will bring the crop's total value to about $4,124,000.

Steers Cooperate

OTTAWA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Four steers, hitched into a mechanical record contrivance, cooperated today in an experiment in the interests of juicier steaks.

The experimenters are working out a theory of balanced diet for cattle in the hope of producing Canadian beef that will command a premium in world markets.

Barber Is Held

COMMERCE, Nov. 10. (AP)—A Commerce barber was held in jail at Greenville today after he made a statement with reference to the robbery of nine diamond rings from a show window of the Gus White jewelry store here Sept. 14.

The rings, seven of which have been recovered, were valued at $1,100.

The barber was identified from a photograph as the party who sold seven of the rings to a pawn broker in Dallas.

Feeding Much Wheat

TOPEKA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Wheat, selling at about the lowest prices in 24 years, was reported today by the Federal department and state board of agriculture as being fed in large volume to all kinds of livestock throughout Kansas.

Use of the grain as feed has been advocated by state and Federal authorities in view of prevailing low prices and wheat surpluses.

Lepedeza As Fertilizer

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—J. T. Yarbrough produced 22.3 bushels of corn to the acre where no Lepedeza was plowed under, 32.5 bushels where it was turned under after a year's growth and 47.1 bushels where it was plowed under after two years' growth.

Jack Quinn Released

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10. (AP)—The unconditional release of Jack Quinn, the veteran pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, and Wally Schang, veteran catcher, was announced today by Connie Mack.

At the same time Mack announced that Nicholas Borrelli, third baseman, had been "sent outright" to the Dallas club of the Texas league.

Misg Car Found

ATHENS, Nov. 10. (AP)—The automobile belonging to Tucker Glenn, Larue banker, which was driven away by five masked men Friday night after they were unsuccessful in an attempt to force him to open the vault of his bank, was found 12 miles east of Larue. Officers' only clue was a small sugar sack left in the bank by the men. Evidently they intended to carry away their loot in the sack.

Death of Two Men Is Believed Due to Accident

STUTTGART, Ark., Nov. 10. (AP)—A lighted match which ignited spilled gasoline about their wrecked automobile was ascribed today by officers as the cause of the burning to death of two men 10 miles north of here 1 1/2 night.

E. C. Gray, 43, unemployed railroad brakeman, and his companion, Henry Ross, both of Little Rock, were the victims. Both died soon after the accident.

A negro living near the scene of the accident told officers he left the two men standing beside the road to get mules to pull their car from a ditch. While he was gone the fire started and he arrived in time to pull Gray the driver's seat. Ross was found about 75 yards from the car.

Officers said available information led them to believe the men went back to the car while waiting for the negro to return and that one of them struck a match.

Flood Body Formed

DURANT, Okla., Nov. 10. (AP)—The Oklahoma Red River Flood Control association, an organization which plans to co-operate with federal agencies to secure improvement of the stream which forms this state's southern boundary, was formed here today.

Water Commission Meets in Juarez

EL PASO, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Lower Rio Grande and Lower Colorado river flood control and water distribution problems were taken up today at the first meeting of the newly-organized International Water commission a Juarez, Mexico.

Vasquez Schaffino, Mexican undersecretary of foreign affairs, was in attendance. Wednesday the undersecretary and all members of the commission will leave for Yuma, Ariz., then go to Calisno, Mexico and other points in lower Colorado territory. Members said the two big problems were flood control and the equitable distribution of waters along the Rio Grande for 500 miles below Presidio, and the lower Colorado, including the Yuma and Imperial valley projects.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL
 Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
