PAMPA—CITY OF OIL AND WHEAT—CITY OF GOOD HOMES

PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 10, 1930.

Young Fliers Begin Return

MANUEL HERRICK, COLORFUL FORMER CONGRESSMAN, GIVEN 6-MONTH TERM IN PRO CASE

BALTIMORE, Oct. 10. (AP)—Manuel Herrick, former Oklahoma congressman, arrested in August while working at a liquor still in Southern Maryland, was sentenced today in federal district court to six months in jail for the manufacture and possession of liquor.

Two men arrested with him also were sentenced by Judge Morris A. Soper. Williams Fairley was given six months and Pius B. Ennels, the latter a negro, three months. The sentences are to be served in the city jail here.

Herrick was arrested August 8 while working at a 500-gallon still in St. Mary's county. Prohibition agents testified at his trial here Wednesday that, dressed in overalls, he was firing a boiler, and ran with the others when the officers appeared.

Herrick testified he took the job at $15 a week to obtain evidence for which he hoped to be paid by the prohibition department at Washington. J. F. Jones, a prohibition official said he had discussed a proposal with Herrick for the latter to act as informer, but denied he had been commissioned to or promised immunity.

Herrick, 53 years old, represented the eighth Oklahoma district in congress from 1921 to 1923, and was a picturesque figure, his interest in aviation earning him the sobriquet of "the flying congressman." He was sued for $50,000 by the guardian of a New York girl, and later sued his Oklahoma stenographer for breach of promise.

His term over, Herrick's fortunes went downward. He testified he had worked for $2 a day cutting wood, living in a shack, before he took the job at the still.

Kills Salesman And Then Self

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10. (AP)—Edward Sprankle, salesman for Carstairs and company, investment brokers, was shot to death by Adam Yakas, of Upper Darby, Pa., in the front entrance of the company office today. Yakas then shot himself and died in a hospital.

The shooting created much excitement and many wild reports in the financial district. The Carstairs offices are on the ground floor of the building in which the Philadelphia stock exchange is located. Police believed the shooting was caused by differences over investments.

Sprankle and Yakas were seen talking together. Later they were observed to be arguing and then Yakas was seen drawing a pistol. There was a struggle between the two men, a shot rang out and Sprankle fell. Then Yakas, witnesses said, fired a bullet into his own head.

Western Union Clocks Stopped

Business men worked hard and fast this morning—until they noticed that their Western Union clocks were out of order. Most of them stopped at 7 o'clock due to a defect in one of the clocks.

The Western Union had out a crew fixing and setting clocks all morning.

Man Is Indicted
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 10. (AP)—George Sherman Myers, 40, was indicted today for the murder of 8-year-old Marverine Appel who was attacked and killed here several weeks ago.

LOSES RIGHT ARM AFTER AN ACCIDENT

The right arm of Clarence Qualls was amputated just above the elbow at McKean and Connor hospital shortly after it was badly mangled in a conveying screw at the Texas Elf carbon plant yesterday afternoon. The youth was cleaning out the screw when his hand was caught in the machine.

He was rushed to the hospital in a company car shortly after he had calmly displayed his mangled arm to plant employees. Attendants at the hospital marvelled at the fortitude of the young man before he reached the operating room.

Girl Frustrates Bank Robbery
NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—A 12-year-old girl, who didn't know what it was all about when a bank robber waved a gun in her face, frustrated a holdup of a National City bank branch in Brooklyn today.

Edward Ling, night watchman, was alone in the place at 7 o'clock when a messenger pounded on the door and waved a telegram. When Ling let him in another man crowded through the door too, and the watchman was covered by two pistols.

An hour later clerks and customers drifting in singly were lined up against a wall by the intruders. The robbers handcuffed eight clerks and depositors, then concealed themselves by the door to await the manager who knew how to open the vaults.

When Minnie Saronetti, a neighbor's child who knows some of the tellers, wandered in alone, one gunman pointed his revolver at her and reached for her arm. Minnie burst into tears and ran to a fire hose a block away and told firemen there a man was after her.

When the firemen reached the bank the robbers had decamped, leaving their bag of handcuffs behind.

Blames Employers For Hard Times

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 10. (AP)—United States Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York in an address today before the convention of American Federation of Labor placed responsibility for unemployment at the door of business and government leaders who neglect in prosperous times to prepare for periods of depression.

He also assailed use of the injunction, the sole utility of which, he said, "is to harass the union, to hamper its work and to render inoperative the very function the trade organization was designed to exercise."

"Where," he asked, discussing unemployment, "is the worker who has not run the gauntlet of loss of work because of seasonal slack, of periodic depression, of foreign competition, of change in fashion, of machine substitution?"

"Having experienced those, now the unemployed worker must ironically smile when he reads the well meaning advice extended him that if only he would resume his normal purchases prosperity would resume its uninterrupted course. I wonder what his emotion is when he reads the official assurance that our fundamental national assets are undiminished. He knows only two well that he lives in a land of plenty which he had in the past shared in the making. These facts only aggravate the rancor in his heart that he must nevertheless go without work and without wages."

Miss Laura Ingalls and Buck Take Off

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10. (AP)—Two young transcontinental fliers took off early today for return flights to the Atlantic seaboard. Miss Laura Ingalls, flying a D-H Moth biplane, left the Glendale airport, bound for Kingman, Ariz., at 6:13 a. m. Robert Buck, 16-year-old flier departed at 7:11 a. m. for the same destination.

Buck, who had made plans for his takeoff early this morning delayed his start because of foggy conditions reported over Cajon Pass. Miss Ingalls changed her route and flew by way of San Geronimo Pass to the southward. She had nearly an hour's start over Buck.

Buck recently broke the junior transcontinental record between the Atlantic and Pacific, establishing a mark of 28 hours 33 minutes. The best previous time for the juniors had been held by Eddie Schneider of Jersey City, 29 hours 41 minutes. On the west-east flight Buck must make somewhat better time to reduce the present mark of 27 hours 19 minutes, also made by Schneider.

Miss Ingalls terminated her east-west flight here last Wednesday, her time being 30 hours 27 minutes actual flying time.

At Kingman, Ariz., the young fliers will receive reports on weather conditions farther east.

Two-Year Term Is Given Youth

Peck Lewis, local youth, was given a two-year sentence in the penitentiary on a charge of attempting to criminally attack a woman by a jury in 31st district court this morning. The youth pleaded guilty to the charge. He drew the minimum sentence.

Testimony in the case was short. The prosecuting witness testified that the defendant stopped her one night as she was returning home. She said she fought him for some time and that "he was not man enough" to overpower her.

Jury Dismissed in Theft Case

A jury that failed to agree on a verdict in the case of R. L. Hughes, charged with robbery with firearms, was dismissed after they had deliberated 20 hours, by the court this morning. Nine stood for conviction and three for acquittal. The 18-year-old youth will be tried again next week.

New Oklahoma Gusher

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10. (AP)—Jack Shaffer and associates completed a big producer today in the big gusher area in the north end of the Oklahoma City pool at No. 1 Vinita Park nw sw 2-11-3w.

After flowing for an hour and 15 minutes, sand cut connections and the well had to be shut in. It produced 620 barrels, while carrying 500 pounds back pressure. This well is located near the Minnehoma No. 1 Pugh, one of the largest wells in the field.

Oklahoma City's Field Is Menace

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10. (AP)—Production of the Oklahoma City field alone, estimated at 2,800,000 barrels daily, would be sufficient, were the field allowed to flow open, to supply the entire domestic and export demand of the United States, Ray M. Collins, umpire for the corporation commission, testified before the commission today. Collins was chief witness for oil operators who seek an order to limit production in Oklahoma to 500,000 barrels daily for October; to 445,000 for November and 335,000 for December. The hearing began after commis-

'Columbia' Plane Ends Hop

BUT LANDING IS ON ISLAND OFF COAST

Captain Boyd Not to Go to London
at Once

LONDON, Oct. 10. (AP)—The air ministry tonight was informed that the monoplane Columbia had landed at Tresco in the Scilly Islands, completing her second trans-Atlantic voyage.

It was understood that the Columbia would not proceed to Crodon tonight.

Tresco is near St. Mary's in the Scilly Islands and is off the coast of Cornwall. It is one of the most outlying spots off the southwest coast of England.

No details of the plane's landing were received, but apparently Captain Errol Boyd, Canadian airman, and his companion, Lieut. Harry P. Connor, American flier and navigator, were safe.

The message to the air ministry did not explain the mystery of why the Columbia landed on Tresco Island. Only five of the rocky Scilly Islands are inhabited and Tresco is one of them.

The island lies 25 miles off Land's End, which is the southwestern tip of the British main land.

The only word previously received of the fliers had come from the steamer Virginia which reported sighting the Columbia at 2:39 p. m. (9:35 a. m. EST) about 200 miles off Land's End.

They took off from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, yesterday at 11:20 a. m. (EST). At 12:10 p. m., they were seen heading out to sea over St. Johns, N. F., and less than an hour later were sighted 100 miles off the coast by the steamship Quaker City. The liner Lancaster reported sighting the plane at 5:40 p. m., about 400 miles due east of Harbor Grace.

Dr. James H. Kiroball, weather bureau meteorologist, said weather reports indicated the fliers would have following winds for nearly the entire course but their path would be beset by fog and rain squalls.

Clouds Hang Low
Weather reports from Cobb, Irish Free State, said low-hanging clouds along the Irish coast made local flying conditions precarious. By their calculations the fliers were due to sight the Irish coast shortly after daylight. They estimated the trip would require 24 hours.

The Columbia, which at one time held the non-refueling endurance

Oil Flowing at Record Depth

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 10. (AP)—Cranfill Brothers Oil company and Gulf Production company's No. 1 J. B. Tubbs west central Crane county wildcat well, which topped the pay Monday at 4,295 feet, a record depth in the permian line, was flowing an average of 40 barrels hourly today, after having been drilled to 4,300 feet.

The well's performance was heralded as the most important oil development in West Texas since Group No. 1 Oil corporation's No. 1-B University in Reagan county obtained production at 8,525 feet. When the well was first opened up last Tuesday it flowed a solid six-inch stream of oil for five minutes.

Pro Committee Remains Silent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. (AP)—President Hoover's law enforcement commission after a three day discussion of prohibition adjourned this afternoon until next Wednesday when work will be continued on the dry law report promised for December.

None of the members would discuss the evidence obtained.

Foreign countries

Collins testified that under the proposed schedule 10,000 wells in Oklahoma, each with production of five barrels or more, would be curtailed under the proposed order for the first time and that pipeline companies would take from the Oklahoma City field the amount curtailed from wells in other pools.

The umpire presented a dark picture of economic conditions in the oil industry and declared unless production be continued oil would be wasted.

Sunshine Breaks Into Wall Street's Gloom

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—The blackest cloud of gloom Wall Street has experienced since last November suddenly broke away to let in the sunlight today, as a dizzy decline in share prices was suddenly reversed just before 1 o'clock.

Selling poured into the market in enormous volume during the early hours of the session, but it was well shaken until around midday, when sharp declines in stocks identified with the Harley Clarke interests caused widespread alarm. These shares suddenly met strong and effective support, however, and rallied spectacularly.

Sailor Well Is Among Important New Completions

Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1 Sailor in the area just west of Pampa was completed this week for an initial production of 210 barrels on the swab. Total depth of the hole was 3,225 feet. Pay was topped at 3,172 feet.

The well is 990 feet south and 330 feet west of the east half of the northeast quarter of section 138, block 3.

The same company's No. 2 Sailor is drilling close by.

Danciger Oil and Refining company's No. 1 McLaughlin, section 33, block B-2, is swabbing 200 barrels per day. Pay was topped at 2,861 feet.

The same company's No. 6 Morse is ready to be shot. Total depth is 2,702 feet.

Girl Brides Among Students Quitting Studies

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—One little girl of 12 and another of 13 were among 483 New York children who left school to get married last year, the annual report of the superintendent revealed today.

At the age of 14 twenty boys and girls were dropped from the rolls because they were married. Eighty-three of the brides and bridegrooms were only 15. The rest of the 484 were 16-year-olds.

The report does not reveal the identities of the children and tells nothing about them save the age at which they were married. Something of their social background is revealed, however, by the fact that 385 of the 483 were students in the continuation school, which is operated for boys and girls who leave school and go to work before they are 17 years old.

Train Wrecking Attempt Fails

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 10. (AP)—An attempt, nearly successful, to wreck the Sunset Limited No. 101, crack Southern Pacific passenger train, was revealed in corporation court here today when 23 vagrant train riders were hauled into court.

Lives of the crew and scores of sleeping passengers possibly were saved when the engineer, seeing a stack of railway ties on the track a short distance ahead of the racing locomotive, jammed on the emergency brakes and slowed the train down sufficiently to prevent derailing.

The engine struck the stack of ties, but without sufficient force to do more than jolt and awaken passengers.

This was revealed by Wayne Carver, special detective for the Southern Pacific lines, who had rounded up 23 vagrants caught riding trains. Most of them were nabbed in the east yards of the Southern Pacific here.

Shoots at His Wife But Misses

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 10. (AP)—Inasmuch as William Sutton failed to hit his wife with any of the three shots he fired at her, Mrs. Sutton sees nothing to get excited about.

Her first reaction was to have him arrested for assault with a deadly weapon, assault with intent to kill, and attempted murder. Neighbors, much annoyed by the roar of the Sutton shotgun, had him arrested. Police found shotgun slugs in the wall, but Mrs. Sutton herself was intact.

When the case against Sutton was called before Magistrate Porter yesterday Mrs. Sutton declined to prosecute. If her husband wanted to shoot at her, she said, that was his business.

They departed from the court seemingly very happy.

Police kept the shotgun.

Among the Clarke stocks, identified in Wall Street with Pynchon and company, Fox Film dropped nine points, and regained its loss. Loews tumbled 10, and regained most of the decline. United Light A dropped nine points to 20, but soon got back to 26. General Theaters equipment tumbled nearly eight points to 14 1/2 before rallying. Industrial Rayon, which has been known as a Durant stock, tumbled 34 points to 31.

Elsewhere in the list, losses of 2 to 5 points were numerous, but were sharply reduced.

The day's business news was dominated by the unfilled tonnage report for U. S. Steel as of Sept. 30. While the report showed a drop of 155,866 tons to the lowest level in three years, the decline was moderate indeed in contrast to the drop of 441,851 in August, and although some optimistic observers had looked for little change, it was apparently small enough to discredit the loudest of the calamity howlers, for speculative spirits were immediately buoyed up. This helped to lay the foundation for the rally in the stock market an hour later.

MAJOR BATTLE IN BRAZIL IS BEGUN—GAINS CLAIMED BY INSURGENTS DISPUTED

By The Associated Press
Brazilian revolutionary cavalry, skirmishing with federal forces near Castro, Parana, were believed today to have begun what is expected to be a major battle between the insurgents and government troops near the border of Sao Paulo.

Revolutionary leaders claimed general gains in Parana, both toward Sao Paulo, and toward the Santa Catharina cities of Florianopolis and Joinville held by the federals, and stated that troops from Minas Geraes had invaded the states of Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, and Espirito Santo, cutting the railway line between Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo.

In Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo government strongholds, federal gains had been negligible. The principal federal offensive was directed toward capture of Minas Geraes, and its capital, Belo Horizonte. Some advances toward the interior of Minas Geraes were reported.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 10. (AP)—The government today claimed successes in two insurgent states in its campaign to put down the revolution.

Several towns in Southern Santa Catharina which had been occupied by rebels under Trifunio Correa have been recaptured by federal troops acting out of Florianopolis and Joinville.

In Minas Geraes federal troops have re-established the railroad line as far as Juiz de Fora, and were said to be preparing for an attack on Barbacena so as to permit re-

Missing Hunters Are Not Found

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 10. (AP)—Search was pressed today for two deer hunters, lost in the forested mountains north of here.

Hunt for R. H. Robertson of Boise went into the fifth day as the deer hunter continued lost in the mountains about 17 miles from here. Along with the search for Robertson, went a parallel hunt for Jimmy Mills of Emmett, Idaho, reported lost in the Indian Creek section out from Cascade. Rangers and woodsmen were conducting a search for him.

Talley Well Is Looking Better

Continental Oil company's No. 1 Brown in the southwest corner of the Talley addition had 2,500 feet of oil in the hole this morning. Swabbing of the well is scheduled to begin this afternoon. It shows prospects of being the best producer in that vicinity.

Van Gusher Is One of Largest

VAN, Oct. 10. (AP)—Estimated at between 60,000 and 75,000 barrels of oil daily, the George B. Anderson No. 1 W. A. York oil well blew in early today on the York 80-acre tract in the Van pool. Van Zandt county. It was the first independent well within the unified area in the pool and one of the pool's largest.

After running for 30 minutes for cleaning, the well was turned into storage tanks. When it first came in, it spewed oil 500 feet through a six-inch pipe. The location makes it possible to drill offsets.

LONG TRAIN WILL CARRY PAMPA FANS

Fifteen Coaches to Be Sent For Purpose

Pampa football fans will be transported to the Harvester-Sandstorm game in Amarillo tomorrow by a Santa Fe special train of fifteen coaches, baggage car, and engine, it was announced this morning by George Briggs, manager of the Board of City Development, and L. W. Klein, local agent.

More than 200 tickets had been sold at the Board of City Development and the demand was increasing hourly. Tickets also were on sale at the station.

The train will leave Pampa at 1 p. m. Saturday and will reach Amarillo at 2:20 p. m. The special will be stopped near the Great West elevator, slightly more than a block from Butler field. The train will start back to Pampa at 6:30 p. m. and will reach this city at 7:50. It will be in charge of P. N. Montgomery, traveling passenger agent.

General admission tickets are on sale at the B. C. D. and at the office of Joe Smith, business manager of the Pampa Independent school district, at the courthouse.

While many fans will drive to Amarillo, the popularity of the train was growing rapidly today. The game is scheduled to begin at 3 p. m., according to Pampa school officials.

Cloudy weather is forecast, with rain a probability.

Football dominated conversation here today. It was difficult to discuss any other subject. Business laggard and dyed-in-the-wool fans professed to hope that customers would be few and football prophets many.

Eighty Mexican Peasants Killed In Church Fire

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 10. (AP)—The newspaper La Prensa said today that 80 peasants died in a church at San Carlos, state of Tabasco, when the edifice was set afire by religious enemies.

The newspaper added that those who were not burned to death were shot as they tried to escape.

While the peasants were attending early morning mass, the dispatch says, their enemies poured gasoline around the outside of the building and touched it off, meanwhile locking the door to prevent escapes.

The frantic victims finally managed to batter down the door but as they ran out were shot down.

Two priests barely escaped to take refuge on a nearby ranch. Later they returned to the church for some images and other articles which were not destroyed and took them to the ranch house.

When the assailants learned of this they killed the two ranch owners, but the priests again escaped and fled.

COMMUNISM IN THE UNITED STATES

Activities of the Third International, the Soviet organization created to make a world-wide revolution, can be seen cropping out from time to time in various parts of the world. In many cases its doings can be noted within the confines of our own nation.

The "Profintern," another name for the organization, hinges its labors upon the working classes of people in the larger cities of the world. Within this class, they find those who are unsatisfied with the lot in life and proceed to influence them and create strikes, unrest, and hatred toward their employers.

Comrade Lozovsky was president of the Profintern congress, and he admitted in addressing his fellows that the Profintern has suffered quite a few defeats, and he is quoted in Pravda as having said:

"Thousands, and even scores of thousands, of dead bodies cover the road which we have been following in these 10 years of the Profintern's existence. There is no country in the world where the blood of our best comrades has not been flowing.

"Yes, in spite of this and in spite of the fact that thousands and thousands of our comrades are suffering in capitalistic prisons and exile, the revolutionary movement is growing, and no efforts of the United capitalists, bourgeois governments, moderate Socialists, and Fascists will be able to stop its growth.

"In many countries exist scores of millions of unorganized workmen. In the United States up to 90 per cent of workmen belong to no unions. So we have a very wide field of activity before us."

In this is shown clearly that the Soviet intends to undermine the foundation of our government. But will it succeed?

The Reds in China have created civil war that has cost many lives and it will cost more before it is finished. They have organized strikes in Germany, France and many other nations of the world. So far their ultimate aim has been defeated.

In our own country, which is richer per capita than any other nation of the world, they come up against many obstacles that they do not meet in the other places.

Society is more organized here. The common business man or the class laborer belongs to lodges, civic clubs, churches and other organizations that have in their creeds reverence and respect for the federal government. Our school children are taught to regard the federal government as a most sacred thing. It protects us from the onslaught of the other doctrines.

The United States is undoubtedly the leading industrial nation of the world and so why should our good citizens want to destroy this distinction and join in the throngs of bloodthirsty beings that are affiliated with the Third International? The American workman is better off with his wages than he would be if he were working on the same position in another country.

A congressional committee is now investigating the activities of the Communists in this country. What they find will be reported within a short time. Americans are aware of the attempts of these Soviets but we do not think they will make much headway in this country, at least at the present time.

Miss America Of 1921 Now Is An Evangelist

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP)—A former "Miss America" is conducting a revival at the Gospel tabernacle in Granite City.

Mrs. Edith Mae Patterson Pennington, then Edith Mae Patterson, Pine Bluff, Ark., school-teacher, won a sectional beauty contest in 1921 and went on to win the national title against sectional winners of other territories.

The immediate results of her triumph were numerous movie and stage offers and 3,500 marriage proposals. Some of the stage offers she accepted and she made a tour of the country and even appeared in Europe. Then she went to Hollywood and had a part in a movie in which Poli Negri and Antonio Moreno starred.

After the picture had been made she dropped in one night on an evangelistic meeting and was converted. It was then she decided to trade a budding movie career for the pulpit; to swap the stage for the sawdust trail.

Since then she has been an evangelist. She is married to her former business manager.

HARVESTERS LEAVE FOR WORK-OUT ON AMARILLO FIELD

TEAM HOPES RAIN IS NOT TO DEVELOP

Twenty-eight Harvesters left in two buses this morning for Butler field, Amarillo, where they worked out before going to the Herring hotel.

They were in good condition to the last man, at least in the opinion of the boys. Harley Kennedy, who hurt a shoulder yesterday afternoon while rolling on the ground, told The News this morning that he was feeling all right.

"You can rest assured that I will be ready to start the game," Harley declared.

He was carrying a heating unit which had been used to warm up the lame shoulder.

The main worry before the team was the likelihood of rain before or during the big game with the Sandies at Amarillo Saturday. The crisis cross plays the team uses repeatedly are best adapted to dry turf. The speed of the Harvester backs is most effective with good underfooting. The result of slippery footing was clearly shown in the Lubbock game. There the interference was slowed down for two quarters or more because the boys slipped about on the long grass.

If Butler field is muddy, the Sandies would be able to put a heavier squad on the grid, and to depend upon Bufkin's terrific plunges and Fowler's long punts.

But the Harvesters do not figure that they will be seriously handicapped in the mud. On more than one occasion they have proved to be good mudders. Captain Don Salsbury is just what the team needs to plow through the opposition in the mire. The other backs have shown ability to move quickly despite the mud.

In short, the Harvesters hope it will be dry, but are prepared for a mud battle.

Houston Boys Win Game At Wilson School

A horde of sturdy urchins from the Sam Houston school walloped the football proteges of Miss Eufala Barker, Pampa's only female coach, at the Woodrow Wilson school yesterday 12 to 2. The Rev. Tom W. Brabham, an ex-footballer, refereed the game.

Miss Barker pointed out that the Sam Houston school was several weeks ahead of the Woodrow Wilson boys in practice. Her boys expect to avenge the defeat in a couple of weeks.

Bishop Cannon Remains Silent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, has decided to make his defense against accusations brought by four ministers, before an investigating committee of his church.

The bishop announced in a statement last night that although new acquainted with the nature of the charges he would refrain from making a public refutation. He asked public suspension of judgment until the case is settled.

"The inclination is strong," he said, "to make new a clear full sweeping denial of these complaints. This, however, is not a case to be tried in the newspapers out must be tried by the regular procedure prescribed by the law of the church."

INDIANS STAGE DANCES ON EVE OF FOOTBALL GAME, WITH BRAVES GATHERED FROM AFAR

LAWRENCE, Kans., Oct. 10. (AP)—Pale, beef-scented smoke from Indian campfires curled skyward today about the tepees of 2,000 Aborigines assembled here to see their braves take the warpath which lies between the chalklines of a gridiron.

For a college football game was the magic which brought together in a common village once hostile tribesmen from widely separated reservations. Present were the denizens of the painted desert, the Dakotas' Prairies, woodlands of the northwest, Montana's rugged peaks and desolate Osage hills of Oklahoma.

The braves of Haskell Institute, government Indian school, faced a University of Kansas football team for the first time in 24 years. In keeping with tribal tradition, the copper-hued warriors were inspired on the eve of the combat by a war dance. It was staged by more than a hundred braves from a score of tribes.

Pettawatcmle, Cheyenne, Sioux Arapahoe, each danced the ancient war dance of his tribe in a modern school stadium, illuminated by a silver moon—and football floodlights.

It was a scene of barbaric splendor—half naked, twisting, writhing, wheeling bodies daubed with war paint; throbbing kettle drums and shrill war chants quavered apparently with savage sincerity; war bonnets gorgeous with eagle feathers, beads, wampum, elk's teeth and tinkling bells.

Going through the ritualistic steps which once presaged bloodshed were moccasined feet which, Haskell authorities said, had spied along the trail of human foemen. There were elders brandishing tomahawks who had sent quivering arrows into hairy bison.

When the programmed dance was concluded, the old braves including former Chief Bacon Rind of the Osages and Chief Magpie of Cheyenne, Wyo., credited with fighting at Custer's last stand, repaired to their village pitched on the school's grounds.

In a few moments, however, the drums again throbbed their monotone across the prairies. Blood had been spilled. An impromptu dance was on. Above it all sounded the high notes of a chant, which may have been the Indian equivalent of "hold that line."

Athletics Will Do Barnstorming

CHICAGO, Oct. 10. (AP)—Baseball laborers of five members of the world champion Athletics are not yet done for the season.

Robert Moses Grove and Rube Walberg, southpaw pitchers, Wallie Schang, catcher, and Bing Miller and Homer Summa, outfielders, were in Chicago today to join Earl Mack's all-stars who will barnstorm the middlewest. Nick Altrock, the Washington Senator's comedian and coach, also joined the aggregation.

Kid Berg To Meet Petrolle For Ten Rounds

Wisconsin End

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—Jack (Kid) Berg, busy leather-swinging from England, battles an old rival, Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., in the headline 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Berg has several old scores to settle with Petrolle. The Fargo puncher gave the Briton the only real trouncing of his career, stopping him in five rounds at Chicago several years ago. Later they fought to a draw.

Both of these bouts, however, were waged before Berg reached his present eminence among the lightweights. He stands now as an outstanding challenger for Al Singer's 135-pound title. His impressive performances in the last year or so have made him an 8 to 5 favorite over Petrolle, expert opinion holding that the middle westerner can hope to win only by a knockout in an early round.

Petrolle's stablemate, Spud Murphy, meets Patsy Buffalo, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., in the opening 10.

Rose Defeats Anderson Here

Jack Rose was a more popular wrestler today following his victory over Roy Anderson last night at the Pla-Mor.

Rose took the first fall in 20 minutes with a head scissors and arm lock. Anderson won the second with a cleverly executed cradle lock scissors, preceded by a dozen rabbit punches. The deciding fall went to Rose in short order with a drop toe hold.

The preliminary event was almost as interesting as the main show. Young Ernest Kopecky and Roy Rose wrestled 15 minutes without a decision, while the Kopecky had had the ringside coaching of his older brother, Joe.

Otto Von Porat to Fight Tonight

CHICAGO, Oct. 10. (AP)—Otto Von Porat, stately Norwegian heavyweight, returns to the pugilistic wars tonight, engaging in his first contest since he was knocked out in one round by Young Stribling four months ago.

The tall Norseman will meet Angus Snyder, Dodge City, Kans., in an eight round bout at the coliseum. It will be a comeback trial for Von Porat, who hopes to convincingly demonstrate he still belongs to the heavyweight traffic despite Stribling's sudden knockout victory.

Pantages was convicted of assault upon Eunice Pringle, ex-dancer.

"MOST VALUABLE" TITLE IS GIVEN JOE CRONIN OF WASHINGTON'S SENATORS

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—Joe Cronin, sensational young shortstop of the Washington Senators, today was proclaimed the American league's "most valuable player" for 1930 by a special committee of members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The writers, representing each American league city, cast their votes at the request of the Associated Press for the second successive year since the league abandoned its custom of making an official selection.

Cronin, although playing only his second year as a major league regular, merited sufficient votes to beat out Al Simmons of the Athletics, the league batting champion, and Lou Gehrig, slugging first baseman of the Yankees, in a close contest. Cronin, selected as Washington's most valuable performer by every one of the eight experts, led with a total of 48 points out of a possible maximum of 64.

Simmons and Gehrig were tied for second place with 39 points each. Charley Gehring, Detroit's second baseman, was fourth with 36, Ted Lyons of the White Sox, fifth with 26, and Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland's sensational young pitcher, sixth with 25 points.

Simmons was the choice of most of the experts for first ranking, being put at the top of the list by four of the eight critics, but his chances of winning the honor were reduced by the nomination of Lefty Grove and Mickey Cochrane by other experts as the representatives of the world's champions.

Cronin, on the other hand, was given top ranking by only one writ-

Mustangs Will Use Best Men Against Austin

DALLAS, Oct. 10. (AP)—Southern Methodist university will take the field with its strongest available line-up against the Austin College Kangaroos at Ownby stadium here today, coach Ray Morrison announced. The only regulars missing were Weldon Mason, halfback, and Fowler, center, who received knee injuries in the Notre Dame game. Their posts were to be filled by Sprague and DeCambré, respectively. Austin College, coached by the veteran Cecil Griggs, has one of its stoutest teams in years and is expected to put up a hard fight against the Mustangs.

The weather, cool and cloudy, was perfect for football.

An orchestra of 14 pieces has been formed at Sam Houston school under the direction of Mrs. Sam Irwin, assisted by Mrs. J. I. Bradley. There is also a harmonic club of 43 members formed under the direction of Mrs. Irwin.

Members of the orchestra and the instruments which they play are as follows: Violins, Charles Shelton, Clarence Cunningham, Junior McKay, Freeman Sullivan, Howard Hoover, Carroll Haines, Julia Callison, Helen Poolas, Charles Hickman; saxophones, Junior Barrett, Ralph West; trumpet, Harley Rieback; drums, Jack Allison; Charles Boyd.

The clubs are causing the pupils to take a new interest in their public school music work and they plan to entertain their schoolmates, parents and friends in chapel before the school year ends.

Phonographs and Pictures Given For School Use

Several new pictures have been placed in Sam Houston school. Mrs. G. C. Malone presented the office with "The Dance of the Nymphs" and the library with "Moonlight of Sonora," while the fourth and fifth grade teachers have secured the following pictures: "Boy and Rabbit," "Spring Song," "Boy Blue," and "Monarch of the Glen." In Mrs. Sam Irwin's music room there is a picture of "The Bluebonnet Field of Texas."

The Parent-Teacher association has helped to place to phonographs in the school, one to be used by the primary children, and the other to be used in the upper grades. Teachers stated that they hoped to secure some records for teaching music memory.

Parents' Night Will Be Observed

All mothers and fathers of pupils in Sam Houston school are invited to call at the school next Thursday. The classrooms will be open for inspection and all of the teachers will be present.

Aims, Plans of Physical Education Department Are Explained by Miss Arless O'Keefe At P.-T. A. Meeting

About 50 persons heard the aims of physical education in the high school and plans for this year's program outlined by Miss Arless O'Keefe, head of the physical education department and dean of girls, Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the high school Parent-Teacher association. Several other educators also had part on the program, and the president, Mrs. George Wallace, presided for a brief business session.

Following are the aims of physical education explained by Miss O'Keefe: (1) Development of neuromuscular control and organic power through big muscle activity; (2) Acquiring of skill in games and love for recreation which may provide a means for worthy use of leisure time; (3) Correction of physical defects and the establishing of health habits which tend toward physical fitness; (4) Establishing of moral and social habits which lead to character building and good citizenship through development of abilities in leadership, fellowship and fellowship.

Variety is Needed
Different interests make it advisable to have a variety in physical and social activities, Miss O'Keefe explained. She stated that mass physical activity is a fairly recent idea, but that the purpose now was extensive training for the many rather than intensive training for the few.

Miss O'Keefe stated that among athletic games for the year would be basketball, indoor baseball, soccer, tennis, volley ball and field hockey, while other physical activities would include floor work, stunts, folk games and hiking. She expressed the hope that a Girls Athletic association, to aid in health habits and provide wholesome social activity, might be organized.

Program Is Varied
The remainder of the program includes music by a violin quartet, Dorothy Mae Meers, Eleanor Frey, Bob Wallace and La Verne Twiford, under the direction of Prof. Otto Schick; "Extra-Curricular Activities," Principal L. L. Sone; selected reading, Mrs. Helen Turner; talk by the health director, Miss Bess Kilgough; talk on the object of the city P.-T. A. council, Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, council president.

Teaching of Reading Is Discussed By Teachers of First, Second And Third Grades At Meeting Thursday

First, second, and third grade teachers in the Pampa public schools gathered at Sam Houston school Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to hear a program on "Teaching Reading in the First Three Grades," arranged by Mrs. J. L. Lester, primary supervisor, and the principals of the various schools. The visiting teachers also were shown over the new building, which was made unusually attractive through the use of Halloween decorations.

A. L. Patrick superintendent of Sam Houston school gave a few words of welcome, and Mrs. Lester took charge of the meeting. She told of the importance of the school's new name, "Sam Houston," and explained what it meant to live up to the standards implied in the name. Mrs. Lester received praise in Sam Houston school, gave a few at Huntsville, Sam Houston's old home.

Program Is Given
The following topics were discussed on the program: "Teaching Reading in the First Grade," Mrs. J. I. Mrs. Lester then conducted a round table discussion, and many problems and their solutions were passed from one to the other. It was voted to hold similar meetings at the end of each six weeks' period during the remainder of the school year. Each grade is to meet separately, and the subject "Teaching Number Work" was selected for the next meetings.

Miss Josephine Thomas, principal, and teachers extended an invitation to the first grade group to meet at West Ward for the next session; J. A. Meek, principal, and his teachers invited the second grade group to meet at Baker school; and Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal, and her teachers invited the third grade teachers to meet at Woodrow Wilson school.

Mrs. Lester and the following teachers attended Thursday's meeting: Baker school: Miss Clarice Fuller, Mrs. John G. Gantz, Miss Martha Wulfman, Miss Julia Shackleford, Miss Opal Snodgrass, Miss Eurlitha Henry, Miss DeLoris Vinson, Miss Ada Dabney, Miss Wilenna May, Miss Gwendolyn Spradley, and Miss Cleo Snodgrass.

Good Conditions at Merten Ward Are Announced

Mrs. J. L. Lester, primary supervisor in the public schools of Pampa, after visiting Merten school stated that she found the school measuring up in its various activities to every other school in the city. She stated that painting was being done at the school, that shelves were being constructed, and that curtains were being hung. She also said that the children had decorated the rooms in keeping with the Halloween season.

Corn closed 3-4 to 1 3-8c up, oats at 3-8 to 1c gain and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 25c.

Wheat Is Steady
 CHICAGO, Oct. 10. (AP)—Fluctuating nervously without any decided trend, and with transactions of only moderate volume, grain values early today kept near to yesterday's finish. Opening 1-8 to 3-4c off, Chicago wheat future deliveries showed afterward numerous but only fractional alterations. Corn started at 5-8 decline to 3-8 gain, and subsequently varied but little.

Steel Orders Decline
 NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation decreased 155,866 tons in September to a total of 3,424,338 tons Sept. 30. In August a decrease of 441,851 tons was shown. The back log of Aug. 31 was 3,580,204 tons. On July 31 unfilled orders aggregated 4,022,055 tons. On June 30 the total unfilled tonnage was 3,968,964, and on Sept. 30, 1929, unfilled orders amounted to 3,902,581.

Cotton Is Steady
 NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 6 to 10 points under southern and local or commission house selling promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables, small domestic consumption figures and reports or increased hedging. New December sold off to 10.21 at the start and March to 10.52, but the initial offerings were absorbed at these figures and prices steadied up a few points from the lowest on trade buying and covering. At the end of the first half hour the more active positions were about 2 and 3 points net lower. A few additional notices were reported against the new October contract and that delivery sold off to 10.03, during the early trading or 3 points net lower.

 opening of the line up to Bello Horizonte, state capital. There was possibility that the federals would go around Barbacena and make a rapid march on the capital of the state, which was said yesterday to have been demoralized and ready to surrender after raids by airplanes with bombs. Sao Paulo troops also have been active in Southern Minas Geraes and were reported today to be near the important junction point of Pousa Alegre, where the rebel leader, Waldemar Paschoal, was said to have been killed in an attack. Aviation forces of both, the federal government and the state of Sao Paulo, have been active. Sao Paulo reports said that General Neupmuceno Da Costa, with troops at Florianopolis and Joinville, was preparing to march on Curitiba capital of Parana, but was delaying with expectations of an answer to a proclamation addressed to troops of the Parana.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Oct. 10.
 (AP)—Brazilian revolutionary cavalry, skirmishing with a defending federal army vanguard from Sao Paulo, in the neighbor hood of Castro, state of Parana, has begun an engagement which may develop into the decisive battle of the southern insurgent campaign.

Messages from revolutionary quarters today said the advance guard of the column commanded by General Miguel Costa was near Castro, about 75 miles from Sao Paulo border, and that a major engagement with the Sao Paulo forces was only a few hours away. General Costa hoped to effect a union of his troops, numbering 8,000 with a Parana state army of 5,000 men head by Colonel Souza Filho. Revolutionary troops now in Parana number at least 40,000, not all of whom will be engaged in the present engagement, unless its major phases are somewhat delayed.

The insurgent forces have considerable at stake in the battle, since a victory will open the way into the wealthy region of Sao Paulo and to the city of Sao Paulo itself. Traveling as they are with few supplies and forage scanty, the rebels will welcome fighting in an area as rich in food and supplies as the great coffee growing sections which lies just ahead. A victory will leave them in a better position to face an attack at their rear from General Neupmuceno da Costa, commanding federal forces at Desterro, or Florianopolis and Joinville.

record and the long-distance flight record, is equipped with the same motor and wooden propeller with which C. A. Berlin Jr., Levine flew to Germany. It carries no radio.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 10. (AP)—A father and mother, a wife and four young daughters of Captain Erroll Boyd today awaited with fortitude and confidence word from Croydon, England, that the veteran pilot and Lieut. Harry P. Connor, his companion on a flight from Harbor Grace to England, had completed their dangerous voyage.

For most of his 38 years, said Mrs. K. T. Boyd, the flier's mother, Erroll has flown under a "lucky star" which brought him through more than one narrow escape in an adventurous career. In a bombing raid during the war enemy craft scored a direct hit on Boyd's plane over Zeebrugge, the German naval stronghold. The cylinders of his engine were punctured and one wing showed five bullet holes. He crashed after a dizzy fall from 12,000 feet, but landed just inside the Holland border and tumbled from his plane unhurt.

Two years ago, as a commercial flyer, he cracked up on a New York field soon after a takeoff, and his ship fell 300 feet. Veteran pilots who hurried to his assistance were amazed when he crawled out of the wreckage without a scratch.

Some time before that, while he was carrying payroll funds by air in Mexico for an American company, he was attacked by bandits from the air and from the ground. His ship was riddled by bullets, but he reached his destination unharmed.

It is not generally known that Captain Boyd is also a composer. Twelve years ago, a New York publishing house sponsored his patriotic song, "For Land and Liberty."

Educator Found Dead
 AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 10. (AP)—John McIntosh, president of the Auburn board of education and an officer in several industries, was found dead in his garage today. The doors were locked and the motor of his automobile was running. Friends said he was a heavy loser in the recent stock market slump.

Wants Pro Changes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. (AP)—Dr. James M. Doran, chief of the treasury's alcohol bureau in a debate on prohibition here last night said he believed it possible congress would make changes in the dry enforcement act to make it "at least mentally honest."

"There is nothing sacrosanct," he said, "about always holding more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol content is illegal. It may be that congress will change the enforcement act in some parts and give one that is at least mentally honest. In my opinion, however, the Eighteenth amendment will continue."

Rains Come at Fortunate Time For Cattle Raisers

AUSTIN, Oct. 10. (AP)—Recent rains breaking a summer-long drought came at a time when the condition of Texas cattle raisers was "becoming critical," the crop reporting service of the United States department of agriculture here said today.

A good season, the report said, is in the ground now and if frost holds off until late, winter weeds and grasses will get a good start and make considerable feed.

Cattle were reported as having held up well considering the dry summer, with some cattle fat; but shipments to market were light except in extremely dry localities.

The range condition was reported on Oct. 1 as unchanged at 67 per cent of normal. In Eastern Texas rains during September gave grass an excellent start and conditions were improved. South Texas showed a slightly reduction, but in much of the southern area there was an abundance of dry grass and the moisture conditions in the early part of the year were favorable.

Cattle condition improved over the east section, but for the state as a whole, the condition declined three points to 5 per cent during September. While the condition was rated low, cattle were reported to be strong and in much better condition than might be expected, and should mend rapidly with a late fall and other favorable weather conditions. Sheep and goat ranges declined slightly during the month.

Pola Negri Is Out For Divorce From Prince

PARIS, Oct. 10. (AP)—Pola Negri, motion picture actress, filed suit for divorce here today from her husband, Prince Serge Mdivani.

The screen star went personally to the palace of justice accompanied by two attorneys, and made her request for legal separation from the prince before the president of the Seine tribunal.

The reconciliation meeting, at which under French law the judge attempts to reunite estranged couples, will be held toward the end of the month.

The grounds upon which Pola asked for a divorce were not made public.

Pola Negri filed action for divorce in June, 1929. She and the prince, to whom she was married in May, 1927, were reunited in Paris last December, on a Friday, the 13th, which she declared was her "lucky day."

Pola was born in Poland. She made her theatrical debut in a play of Sudermann and after a few years won a leading role in Max Reinhardt's "Sumurun."

Under Ernest Lubitsch she played opposite Emil Jannings in "Passion," a success that swept her into fame in Hollywood. Meanwhile she had married Count Dombeki, a Polish nobleman, but divorced him after a year. In Hollywood she was reported engaged to Charles Chaplin but her marriage to Prince Mdivani put an end to that report.

R-101 Dead Are Viewed by Many

LONDON, Oct. 10. (AP)—Under brilliant moonlight of calm early morning—in contrast to the storm and rain which drove them to their doom—48 bodies of the R-101 dead were removed today from the mortuary, where they have lain since their arrival in London, to Westminster hall, where thousands of fellow Britons paid them homage.

Notwithstanding the hour a large crowd watched reverently as men of the royal air force brought out coffin after coffin and laid them on tenders which transported them to Westminster hall, where bodies of kings have lain in state. Uniformed airmen escorted the cortege.

Big Ben, the clock on the houses of parliament boomed 1:30 as the first tender reached the hall. Some women cloakiers wept and one shook with sobs. A poorly clad man recited aloud the Latin prayers of the Catholic church for repose of the souls of the dead.

One after another the 48 coffins, borne on the shoulders of airmen, were carried to the purple covered dais in the center of the hall, where they were placed in double line. A Union-Jack was draped over each and numerous wreaths were arranged about them.

There were floral tributes of all kinds and sizes from costly hot house emblems from sovereigns and heads of the states of the world to humble wreaths and familiar garden flowers. "To Daddy from us all," was the pathetic inscription on one anonymous wreath. Another bore the legend: "Sincere sympathy from a flower girl." There was a large floral offering from Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, and the Graf's crew.

Long before the opening of the hall people began to arrive, police shepherded them into line.

Burglars Take Safe
"OLNEY, Oct. 9. (AP)—Burglars removed the safe from the Gilbert grocery and hauled it away in a "borrowed" truck here last night. The safe contained only a small amount of cash and checks. The hauling job ever, the truck was returned to the home of its owner, but the switch was left on and the battery was dead.

"Dry Up" Boston Is Order Given To U. S. Agents

BOSTON, Oct. 10. (AP)—Orders were today to "dry up" Boston as wets and drags engaged in bitter debates to fix responsibility for liquor conditions during the American Legion convention which resulted in the deaths of four and necessitated the treatment of 358 persons in Boston hospitals.

Jonathan Lewis, federal prohibition administrator for New England, issued orders for a clean-up by his agents after Paul E. Leary, Little Falls, N. Y., Legionnaire, had been fined $250 in Federal court for bootlegging. Leary, agents said, had in his possession 10 quarts of liquor. Search of his hotel room revealed liquor price lists and letters and telegrams concerning the delivery of liquor from Miami, Fla.

Scores of cases of temporary blindness and paralysis were reported at City hospital, the Legion hospital in the Cadet armory and the Haymarket Relief station. Hundreds of cases, hospital officials said, had been treated in their out-patient departments. It was believed that the total treated since last Saturday night would run close to 600 persons.

Lewis denied having a "hands off" policy for the Legion convention and said the arrest of intoxicated persons was purely a local police function. He was explicit in not blaming conditions on the Legion, stating that it was apparent that there had been an effort on the part of liquor peddlers to capitalize the big celebration.

"It would have been impossible," he said, "for us to have attempted to police a crowd of 2,500,000 people. That is for others."

Physicians at hospitals said two of the four deaths could be attributed to excessive use of solidified alcohol used for heating and added that they believed the majority of those treated were not Legionnaires.

Two victims of solidified alcohol were Charles Henry, 48-year-old disabled veteran, and his wife, Mildred, medical examiner George B. MacGrath said.

Radio Lab Is Now In Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. (AP)—The fifth traveling radio laboratory of the commerce department has been put in service out of Dallas, and will function for territory including Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and New Mexico.

W. D. Terrell, director of the radio supervision plant, estimated the auto truck with its mounted equipment represented an investment of about $14,000.

Like its predecessors, it will move about checking the operation of broadcasting stations and the location of non-licensed radio enterprises.

Agreement Made in Port Cities

GALVESTON, Oct. 10. (AP)—An agreement covering a scale of wages and working conditions for the coming year was reached today at a final conference of Longshoremen and master stevedores.

Longshoremen will receive 18 cents per bale for handling cotton, 30 cents per hour for grain work and 80 cent for general cargo. Workers will receive time and one-half for time on Sundays and holidays. Under the old scale they received 20 cents per bale for cotton, $1 for grain, 80 cents for general cargo and double time for Sunday work.

The new agreement will become effective Sunday and covers the ports of Galveston, Houston, Texas City and Corpus Christi.

The longshoremen contended for a continuation of the old scale and a series of conferences were held before an agreement was reached.

G. O. P. Revolt in Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10. (AP)—Following the resignation of General J. W. Atterbury, president of Pennsylvania railroad, as Republican national committeeman for Pennsylvania, the revolt in Republican ranks against Gifford Pinchot, nominee of that party for governor, continues to grow.

Three more Republican party ward leaders have announced they will support John M. Hemphill, Democratic and Liberal party gubernatorial candidate. Reports were that Councilman William W. Roper, independent factor, was prepared to make a similar announcement today.

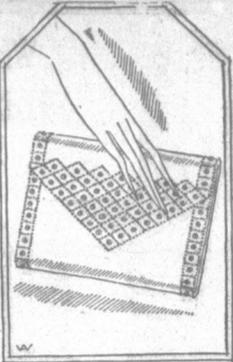

Prison Congestion Remedy Suggested

AUSTIN, Oct. 10. (AP)—Overcrowded conditions found at state institutions by a committee from the legislature on a recent partial survey would be remedied if budget recommendations of the board of control to the next legislature are followed, members of the board said today.

This statement was made in commenting on a report made by Mrs. Helen V. Moore, chairman of the survey committee.

R. B. Walthall and Roy Tennant, board members, said that building recommendations would be made to amply take care of overcrowded conditions found by Mrs. Moore and her committee. Walthall, who accompanied the committee, readily admitted that conditions were as bad as she pictured them.

Tale of Slugging and Kidnaping Is Told by Witnesses

HOUSTON, Oct. 10. (AP)—Two women told police they saw a man and a woman kidnaped yesterday by two men who drove up in a sedan, stopped and slugged the man into unconsciousness, then put them into the car and forced his woman companion to accompany them.

The women said the car bore an Oklahoma license number. Police were searching for the car. Miss Mabel McMahon, one of the women who saw the attack, said the man who was slugged appeared to be about 25 and the girl about 18 years old. Her story was corroborated by another witness, Mrs. B. K. Blankenship.

War Hero Is Killed in Plane

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10. (AP)—Benjamin F. Taylor, 37, wealthy real estate operator and world war hero, and his friend, Robert McDonald, 32, were killed when the airplane in which they had gone for a pleasure spin at dusk failed to come out of a power dive and crashed near Van Nuys, a suburb, last night.

Taylor enlisted in the English Royal Air forces during the World war and joined the American Marine Corps when the United States entered the war. He was cited for bravery twice. Since the war he flew only for pleasure.

Mother Dies in Colorado Blaze

BRIGHTON, Colo., Oct. 10. (AP)—A mother is dead, her life apparently sacrificed in a futile effort to save her three-year-old son from flames about his crib.

The body of Mrs. Grover Quick and son, Herbert, were found in a room adjoining the bedroom. Authorities believe the mother removed the child from the blazing room, returned to extinguish the blaze, was trapped later by a spread of the blaze when she returned for the baby.

Postal System Barometer Showing Business Trends, Making Gains

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. (AP)—The United States postal system in its role of business barometer, is now beginning to show the revival prophesied a month ago by assistant postmaster general Arch Coleman. On the theory that postal history over a period of 60 years had shown the volume of third and fourth class mail rising and falling in direct ratio to the general briskness of business, Coleman anticipated postal return toward normal by feeling the business pulse.

He checked with mailers in large cities with regard to when they intended to resume distribution. As a result of that survey, he announced August had seen the worst of the slump and heavy mailings would be resumed about the middle of September, increasing in proportion through October and November. September reports from 50 of the largest cities showed a marked improvement over August. In August, 1930, receipts in those cities had been 11.54 per cent less than in August, 1929, an unusual drop. But September, 1930 receipts were only 7.94 per cent less than September, 1929.

Where in August only three of the fifty cities, Hartford, Conn., Nashville, Tenn., and Houston, Texas, did as large a postal business as in the same month the year before, September brought back to normal Los Angeles, Brooklyn, Newark, N. J., Rochester, N. Y.; Columbus, O.; New Haven, Conn.; Springfield and Worcester, Mass., and Jacksonville, Fla.

New York's postal receipts in September were $6,093,878, as compared with $4,999,145 in August and $5,322,055 in July. August's receipts in New York were 14.5 per cent less than those of August, 1929, while September's were but 5.66 per cent less than September, 1929.

Threats Result in Close Watch

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—Fifty detectives and policemen spent all last night patrolling the financial district in the vicinity of the stock exchange and the J. P. Morgan bank at Broad and Wall streets as a result of a threatening letter received by stock exchange officials.

Police refused to disclose its contents, but said the letter was so illegible as to require some time for its deciphering. It was believed to have been written by a demented person.

The Hollywood Story

COPYRIGHT 1930 by NEA SERVICE Inc.

by ERNEST LYNN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beginning as an extra ANNE WINTER has progressed rapidly and is now under contract to Grand United, one of the largest of the Hollywood studios. Anne has been living with two other extras, MONA MORRISON and EVA HARLEY. The latter, because of a tragic love experience, and failure to get work, returns to her home in New Orleans.

DAN RORIMER, former New York newspaper man, now a scenario writer, is in love with Anne. He is free lancing and not meeting with much success.

PAUL COLLIER, who writes a daily movie column for a string of newspapers, shares Dan's apartment with him. He has great faith in Dan's ability, despite the latter's discouragement. A play that he had written for the stage while in New York is returned to Dan, unaccepted, and Anne and Collier read it and are enthusiastic. They urge him to revise it for the movies.

This he does. Eventually it is accepted. Knowing that Anne would like to play a dramatic role, Rorimer suggests to studio executives that she be given a test for the leading feminine part. GARRY SLOAN is to direct the picture. He gives her a test and she wins the role. Sloan is the biggest director in Hollywood and Anne is elated over her opportunity.

She and Dan go out that evening to "celebrate." He proposes to her but she is forced to tell him that she doesn't know whether she loves him. Following this, Garry Sloan shows some interest in her and begins to take her out. Production of the picture is begun, and Dan has the opportunity of watching the great Sloan at work. He advises the cast relentlessly. Dan thinks Anne is beginning to look tired. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIX

That night he took her home. The day had been a trying one; there had been a series of aggravating delays—a couple of fuses blown at the most inopportune moments, someone's costume had been wrong, Sloan had made them go through one scene nearly a dozen times.

Sloan had been different. Anne was beginning to feel a bit doubtful of herself; she was beginning to question whether she would be able to measure up to his requirements. But she said nothing to Dan about it.

They talked about everyone but themselves. Dan told her about a new picture that Amalgamated had given to Martin Collins, his most ambitious bit of work, thus far. "Paul Collier told me about it. Maybe Mona could get something in it; they'll need a lot of extras. Is she busy these days?"

Anne told him Mona had not worked for two weeks. "But she never complains."

Dan said, "That's tough. I'd like to see somebody do something for Mona; she ought to get a break sometime." He said he would get in touch with Collins. "Maybe he can find a bit for her, even."

"That's nice of you, Dan. You're always doing something for somebody, aren't you?"

And Dan grinned. "You don't have to say anything to Mona about it."

Eva Harley, she informed him had written them a letter. Eva was modeling in a New Orleans department store.

"She seemed cheerful enough," Anne said, "but I'm afraid she's not. I know she's not. She wanted to be remembered to you, Dan. Eva said you deserved a lot of luck."

"Poor kid," he said. "Send her my best when you write, will you?"

For Eva's own sake he was glad she was home again. Yesterday he had been talking to Harvey Bell, the casting director, and Bell had spun a few tales about extras he had known and tried to help. Minor tragedies of Hollywood.

"But there's nothing you can do, really," Bell said. "If a few thousand of them would quit and leave, somebody might solve the problem. It's certainly an impossible one now."

Dan left Anne Winter at her door and went home. She looked very tired, he thought, and he would have said more about it if it had not become difficult of late to say certain things to Anne. It was unnatural, this diffidence; it bothered him.

But he was not unhappy. He was glad that he finally had declared himself, even though the answer had not been what he had hoped for. This was better—far better—than the unspoken longing he had known during those dreary weeks when discouragement had prevented him from telling her what was on his mind.

Dan was meeting a new crowd now. Others in the scenario department at Grand United invited him to their homes and he found these new associations pleasant. Most of the men were married, some of them to screen actresses, and for the most part they were a congenial lot. Harvey Bell, too, was friendly. He played a good game of golf—he could play about even with Paul Collier—and Dan and Johnny Riddle and these two composed a frequent foursome.

Maris Farrell and her mother were back again after a trip to Hawaii, and Maris seemed pleased to see him again. With Maris he went horseback riding the Sunday morning following her return and later on in the week he took her to the theater.

She had a hundred questions. She thrived on gossip, she said. How was Anne Winter doing? And Paul Collier? And what did he think of Garry Sloan?

And when he told her of his respect for Sloan's knowledge of his craft she reminded him that he once had laughed at her for calling the man an artist.

"Remember?" Dan laughed and said he owed her an apology.

She took him to a tea one afternoon, given by a Hollywood publicity woman who was announcing something-or-other; Dan never did learn just what it was. He hated teas—even when there was no tea, as in the case of this one—but Maris wanted him to go. She said he would meet some interesting people.

"And I've some friends I want to show you off to."

"What am I," Dan complained, "Exhibit Z?"

Maris laughed. "You're a lot farther up the alphabet than that."

There were a number of picture people there, and a few newspaper and fan magazine writers. Louise Watkins was present. Louise said,

"I understand you're to be congratulated," and referred, with her queer twisted smile, to his picture and to the contract he recently had signed with Grand United.

He had been summoned by Mr. Johnson, just back from a transcontinental trip, and told that they wanted him to stay. The contract he offered was satisfactory in every way, especially so, Dan thought, when he found that it did not contain the usual six-month cancellation clause. Grand United was willing to gamble on him for two years, and Rorimer was more than satisfied.

Louise said, "Let me know when you tear this one up, won't you Dan?"

He laughed. "I promise not to tell another soul but you."

Louise, he thought, had looked at him rather curiously. Something told him that she would have liked to ask a question. But she merely chatted for a minute or two and then left him.

The room, he gathered after looking around, served as office and living room for the hostess. It was crowded and there was a din of talk and he was impatient to be gone. But presently someone in a group just behind him mentioned Garry Sloan's name, and before he moved away he heard another low remark that angered him.

It was made by some girl he had not met—most of those at the tea were just faces to him, anyway.

Sloan, she said, was interested in a girl who was playing a lead in his latest picture—a girl named Anne Winter—and she and Garry... Dan walked deliberately away and sought Maris.

"Why, what's the matter?" she asked, noticing his expression. And Dan managed a smile. "Nothing at all. Why?"

"I'm afraid you're not enjoying yourself."

He denied this. "You're here, aren't you?"

Maris laughed joyously. "Always the gentleman."

They left soon afterward, though, and Dan drove her home. He had a new car now, a sleek looking sport model of yellow and black, acquired that week. Maris admitted it.

"Drive me up and down the Boulevard, Dan, so I can be seen. It's gorgeous looking."

He grinned. "Like it?" and Maris nodded emphatically.

"You'll have to help me break it in, then. How about going for a little ride this evening? Like to?"

But Maris was busy that evening. "I'm sorry, really; it's a date I'd love to break."

"How about calling him up and telling him you've got a studio call?"

Maris shook her head, and she smiled. "I'm afraid he's wiser than that."

"I'm sure he'd believe it if Maris told him."

"Yes, he would!" Maris scoffed. "Well, tomorrow evening, then?" he proposed, and she agreed.

They went for a long ride along the meandering hill roads about Hollywood. It was a perfect night; a round moon watched over it, and up in the hills it was very quiet.

"A night," Maris said, "for poets and eight-cylinder roadsters."

"I didn't know poets rode in eight-cylinder roadsters."

"If they write bad enough poetry then do, don't they?"

"Does that apply to scenario writers too?" Dan asked.

"I should say not," Maris laughed. "You might make me walk home."

He smiled and swung the car around a sharp turn. For some moments driving required his careful attention. The road swirled a cliff, and at the right it dropped into abrupt nothingness. Presently, though, they came upon safer roadway, and below them in the valley the moon shone back in the water of a reservoir.

"Grand!" Maris murmured. Rorimer brought the car to a smooth halt at the road's edge, and they gazed down and across the valley at the beauty of moonlight on the imprisoned lake.

He said, "It's a night for poets, all right."

"I love it," said Maris. "And for Romeo, Maris."

"Are you getting romantic?"

Dan smiled and put his arm around her. "I could," he said, "without any trouble at all. Have you got any objections?"

Maris laughed and looked away. She said, "May I have a cigaret, please?"

To reach them Dan had to withdraw his arm. "You knew I carried them in my right-hand pocket, didn't you?" he accused.

"I'm not that close an observer, really."

He held a light for her cigaret then lit one himself and put his arm back again with a defiant grin.

Maris leaned her head back and looked at the sky.

Dan said, "Can't we have a little poem, Maris?"

"I can only remember the short ones," she replied with a faraway look.

"Me too—like 'Roses are red, violets are—'"

Maris kicked his foot and he stopped. "I like that one," he said, "of Edna Millay's about the candle. Remember it?"

Maris nodded. She recited the lines in a muted voice:

"My candle burns at both ends; It will not last the night; But ah, my foes, and oh, my friends It gives a lovely light!"

Wagering Heavy on Game; Practice Deplored Here

Amarillo men have invaded Pampa every day this week leaving plenty of money in their wake, according to various stake-holders. All of it was wagered that the Golden Sandstorm snuffs out the Harvesters at Amarillo Saturday.

Tales of Amarilloans who brought sums totaling $3,000, $2,000 and similar amounts are going the rounds. There are Pampans who say that they have left plenty of coin in Amarillo, wagered on Pampa.

Three confident Sandstorm fans from the Potter county capital put up a sizeable sum in Pampa Tuesday, giving the Harvester fans seven points. Odds of 100 to 80 were also reported.

The Amarillo men "got their money covered before they went two blocks," according to a confidential source.

School officials protested against wagering, and an unconfirmed rumor was current that the grand jury was investigating.

Bear Hug Is Worth $72, Says Judge to Lady

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 10. (P)—A fellow who hugs with rib-crushing ardor should hardly be punished, Municipal Judge Levi Hall holds, when the embrace results in two broken ribs.

Miss Anna Mitlow was suing Edward Hensley yesterday for $75 damages because he hugged her with such enthusiasm as to crack two ribs. She paid a doctor $3 to repair the damage.

"I'll give you a judgment for the $3 doctor bill," Judge Hall said. "But for the other $72—well, a good squeeze like that is worth $72."

Viola Dana Will Marry Golf Pro

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10. (P)—Viola Dana, once one of the best known stars in motion pictures, has announced she will leave here Monday for Colorado Springs where, on Wednesday, she will wed Jimmy Thompson, professional golfer of the Broadmoor Country club of the Colorado city.

"I am going to try to be happy," she said. "I have had so many bad breaks I think my luck ought to change."

Miss Dana, whose real name is Flugarth, has been married twice before. Her first husband, John

Collins, film director, died during the 1919 influenza epidemic. Several years later she married Maurice "Lefty" Flynn, former Yale football player. The marriage was dissolved by divorce February 15, 1929.

FIRE
because he was always tired

IN EVERY WALK of life you meet the "Drowsy Bills" . . . men and women who are losing out because they are always tired. They try hard enough . . . but most often the poisons from constipation sap energy and strength—and bring illness, defeat and old age prematurely.

What a pity, when eating a delicious cereal could prevent it all! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation! Two tablespoons daily—at every meal, in severe cases.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings relief in a natural, healthful way, by sweeping the intestines of all poisonous wastes.

Eaten regularly, it helps keep the system healthfully clean. Isn't this far better than taking pills and drugs that are often habit-forming and may become ineffective?

ALL-BRAN also adds iron to the blood. It is a delicious cereal with milk or cream. Use it in cooking too. Recipes on the package. At your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
