Bill Fritts Is Assessed Death

SLAYS WIFE THEN HIMSELF

MAN FATALLY WOUNDS HIS CHILD ALSO

Andrew E. Hart of Houston Wipes Out Family

HOUSTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Andrew E. Hart, 38-year-old refrigerator salesman, early today shot and killed his 35-year-old wife, Helen, as she slept; mortally wounded his 13-year-old daughter, Vivian, and then turned the same gun on himself, taking his own life. The inquest verdict was murder and suicide.

The daughter died at 8:30 in an infirmary.

Hart, said to be the son of a wealthy Chicago real estate operator, had been in Houston since 1926.

According to authorities who sought to reconstruct the killing, Hart got up about five o'clock, dressed, and with a pistol he had borrowed yesterday from A. L. Atwood, shot his wife as she lay asleep in bed, shot his daughter twice as she lay sleeping and then killed himself.

The time of the shooting was placed at 5:45 a. m. both by Mrs. William Rosenthal, living on the second floor of the residence occupied by the Harts, and by Mrs. R. Setton, living next door.

Mr. Rosenthal told of being awakened by his wife, who said she had heard a noise; a sort of tapping downstairs.

Mr. Atwood identified the pistol found by Hart's side as his own.

"Mr. Hart," said Atwood, "told me yesterday when he borrowed it, that he wanted to 'do some pistol practice with a doctor.' I thought nothing of it at the time."

Mrs. Hart had told Mrs. Rosenthal that the family had been "up against it" financially.

Moon Will Try Habeas Corpus to Gain Freedom

In a habeas corpus hearing scheduled for tonight, Walter Moon, former employe of the Phillips Petroleum company, will seek release from jail on the ground that there are actually no charges against him, his attorney, Judge Will Saunders, said last night at the close of a hearing in which Judge W. R. Ewing, on motion of District Attorney C. C. Engledow, reduced the bonds of Moon, A. C. Dale and H. J. Shadwick to $1,000 per case.

Moon alleges that he has not been legally indicted by the grand jury, and that the five indictments returned against him merely name him as an accomplice.

Bonds of the three men totaled $24,000, or $2,000 per case. There are six cases against Shadwick, six against Dale and five against Moon. At 1,000 per case, their bonds now total $17,000.

It is understood that the three men will attempt to make bond this week. They are charged with theft of 38,000 gallons of gasoline from the Phillips Petroleum company and the Shell Refining company. Dale and Shadwick are former Santa Fe switchmen, and Moon is a former employe of the Phillips Petroleum company.

Fish Traffic Signals Needed

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 30. (AP)—In a campaign against submarine traffic accidents, the United States bureau of fisheries is installing traffic signals to guide inland coast streams to the ocean.

Entirely but fatal byways—irrigation ditches and shallow creeks—are being marked with traffic signs even a fish will understand.

The traffic signals are electrically charged nets across the entrance-way to the dangerous byways. These nets have a powerful way of telling the young salmon he is getting into dangerous waters.

Jerry Stroup, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stroup, was taken home Wednesday after undergoing a minor operation in the Pampa hospital. He is doing nicely today.

SUPREME COURT TO REVIEW SMALL LAND BILL ON APPEAL OF STATE IN GRAY CONTEST

River Bed Litigation Once More Has Attention of State

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—The state supreme court yesterday decided to review the Small land bill, passed by the 41st legislature over the veto of Gov. Moody, which designed to fix title to dry river and creek beds in owners of the land they traversed.

The court granted a writ of error in the case brought by the state against C. W. Bradford and several hundred other land owners along the north fork of the Red river bed in Gray county and Wheeler counties. The state was joined in the suit by W. T. Caswell and M. H. Reed of Austin, who claimed oil rights in the disputed area.

The third court of civil appeals had held that under the Small bill owners of the land thru which the river bed ran were entitled to it. The state attacked the constitutionality of the Small bill and Governor Moody's veto was based on an opinion from the attorney general holding it unconstitutional. It was contended the law was in contravention to the provision that beds of navigable streams belonged to the state.

The bill was written by Senator Clint Small of Wellington, and when the governor disapproved it a large delegation of land owners from West Texas came to Austin to advocate its passage over the executive's veto. Both houses enacted it with more than the two-thirds majority needed in each house to make it law without the governor's approval.

Kidnapers Are Rounded Up By Vigilante Squad

KEWANEE, Ill., Oct. 30. (AP)—Two men were in custody today and vigilantes were closing in on two confederates alleged to have kidnaped the wealthy Galva, Ill., banker, Earl O. Yocum last Saturday and held him for ransom for three days.

Orville Whiskers was held in the county jail at Cambridge, accused of plotting the extortion scheme with three other Henry county men. Verne Algreen, son-in-law of Whiskers, and a mechanic at Galva, was captured while hiding in a farmhouse on Lone Tree road, not far from the scene of a gun battle between the fugitives and a band of vigilantes early today.

Algreen was said to have been recognized by townsfolk as he leaped from the automobile and escaped into the open fields.

Two others were hunted by a hastily organized posse, while an airplane hovered overhead to spot them. These two, police said, also were known, implicated by the statement of Ed McKee, a farmer that he was offered $100 a day by Algreen for the use of his farm as a hideout for Yocum's kidnapers. The suspects are Harry Whiskers, brother of the man held at Cambridge, and Lloyd Winslow, an ex-convict. All are from Galva.

GYPSIES ARE BEING HUNTED

Woman Accuses Quartet of Taking Purse From Her Car

Officers are combing this section of the Panhandle today for four gypsies who are alleged to have stolen $1,200 in cash from Mrs. W. T. Wells, manager of a boarding house at the Phillips Gray gasoline plant, when they stopped her between here and LeFors this morning, begging for gasoline.

Mrs. Wells said she had a large purse in the seat with her and that the money was in a side flap. She did not miss the money until she parked her coupe in front of the Western Union and started into the First National bank to deposit it. Mrs. Wells acquired the money this week when boarders and roomers at her boarding house paid their monthly bills.

The gypsies, two women and two men, stopped their car in the middle of the road just before Mrs. Wells drove up, she said. One of the women had a baby in her arms, and Mrs. Wells believes that this member of the party was the one who took the money. One of the men kept insisting that she give them gasoline and managed to attract her

Earthquake In Italy Takes 27 Lives And Does Much Damage in Wide Area

ANCONA, Italy, Oct. 30. (AP)—Twenty-seven persons were known to have lost their lives in heavy earthquakes; shocks in 13 towns in the provinces of Ancona, Pesaro and Macerata early today. There was great property damage throughout the area.

The earthquake struck Ancona, Borzaso, Fano and Senigallia, as well as other towns of the Marche province.

The quake was preceded by a frightful booming noise, much like that of a tremendous cannon.

FOURTH JURY NO EASIER ON TEXAS KILLER

Self Defense Plea Made Is Last Stand

CLAIREMONT, Oct. 30. (AP)—The death penalty was returned by a jury in the district court here today against Bill Fritts.

Fritts, farmer of Haskell county, was charged with the murder of D. W. Hamilton, who, with his young son, Earl, was shot and killed at their home near Rochester, Haskell county, Oct. 24, 1928.

The case was brought here on change of venue, going to the jury at 12:10 Wednesday afternoon. The verdict was returned at 8:15 this morning.

The courtroom of the small frame courthouse of Kent county was half filled when the jury came in. No demonstration followed and Fritts took the verdict stoically. He was immediately placed into an automobile and carried to Haskell by Sheriff R. R. Goodall of Kent county.

Fritts has been tried four times for the murder of the Hamiltons. The first trial, at Anson, for Earle Hamilton's death, brought the death sentence, the defendant attempting suicide while the jury was balloting on his fate. The case was reversed, however, because the indictment had omitted the words "with malice aforethought." On the second trial, in Eastland county, Fritts drew life imprisonment.

The D. W. Hamilton charge was first tried at Roby, a hung jury resulting, the jury dividing on the question of penalty. It was sent to Clairemont on change of venue.

Charles Dusard Is Thrown Into Windshield

An unknown road-hog was held responsible for the death of Charles Dusard, 22, at 10 o'clock last night by Clarence Hieronimus, who was driving the coupe in which the two young men were riding when it overturned in a ditch 10 miles north of McLean.

Dusard died in a McLean ambulance which was bringing the body to a Pampa hospital, one hour after the accident. Hieronimus was uninjured save for a bruise on one knee. Both are employes of Phillips Petroleum company. Dusard was a refractorator. He came here last June from Bedford, Ind., where he was born and raised.

The two young men were going to McLean to attend a musical. Three cars of Phillips employes had preceded them on the road, enroute to the same function. Going south, they had just passed a corner where the road turned east when a car approached from the east, traveling in the middle of the road, Hieronimus said. In attempting to pass the car on the right hand side of the road, the Phillips employe said his car was forced to the edge of the bar-pit. It turned over on its right side in the ditch which was about two feet deep.

The driver said they passed the sharp corner at an average rate of speed. The car went into the ditch 50 yards from the corner.

Dusard's head crashed against the window glass and then through the top of the car, crushing his skull, it was said. He was never conscious. A passing motorist telephoned to McLean funeral home and he was brought to the G. C. Malone funeral home here in a McLean ambulance. The young man expired just before the ambulance reached LeFors.

Dusard's body will be sent to Bedford, Ind., today. Dusard was a popular member of the social set in Pampa and made many friends and acquaintances during his short residence here. He was a skillful bowler and played on several teams representing Pampa and the oil industry. He was a schoolmate of Mr. Hieronimus at their Indiana home.

MCALISTER, Okla., Oct. 30. (AP)—The Wheatley Number Four coal mine on the state penitentiary farm near here where 28 men were trapped in a violent explosion Monday night today had given up the bodies of 27 of the victims and both the others had been located.

Coal damp in the 16th west entry delayed removal of the remaining bodies, known to be on that level.

As a large crowd remained around the mouth of the mine throughout the night, rescue crews brought mangled bodies of the victims to the surface where they were identified by brass discs which each miner carried on his person.

Funerals for most of the victims were to be held today. Two bodies, those of Tom Holt and Ernest fears, were buried yesterday.

TAHLEQUAH, Okla., Oct. 30. (AP)—Clasud Claxton, a farmer north of Hulbert, was killed last night in a gun fight with Grover Bishop, Cherokee county deputy sheriff, in which Bishop suffered a shot gun wound in the right hand.

Claxton previously had disarmed Fred Sly, another deputy and Bishop went to the Claxton home to serve a warrant sworn out by Sly.

Bishop said Claxton met him at the door and ordered him to put up his hands. Claxton then backed him up to a wire fence, the deputy said, and ordered him to unbutton his coat, saying:

ROBBER HITS PAMPA MAN

Hale Nichols Again Is Victim of Night Raid

Hale Nichols, operator of the Bungalow service station at 1250 South Barnes, is recovering today from the effects of a painful pistol-whipping he received last night at 11:15 o'clock from two hold-up men who robbed him of $35. They wore no masks.

A blow which landed on the top of his head severed an artery, and the resulting hemorrhage was stopped in a short while by a physician. He was unconscious for about 15 minutes.

Nichols was in a room at the rear of the station when the two hi-jackers entered at the front. He snatched his gun when they ordered him to "stick 'em up," and pulled the trigger three times but it failed to fire. They then began beating him over the head with their guns. The robbers, Nichols said, were middle-aged men. They fled before city officers arrived.

Both county and city officers are working on the case this morning. Two young men with sawed-off shotguns held up and robbed Nichols of $45 Wednesday night. Last night's robbery was the fourth to occur at the station this year.

Officers Will Discuss Handling Of Idle Persons

SWEETWATER, Oct. 30. (AP)—On the joint call of Ruck Sibley and N. B. Hall, police chiefs of Abilene and Sweetwater, peace officers of West Texas, in the territory from Mineral Wells to Odessa and from Plainview to San Angelo, will meet here November 6 to study a serious problem created by the movement of a transient army, jobless, descending on this territory, the southern trans-continental route.

From 25 to 75 transients move into Abilene daily, either "highwaying" or riding freight trains, Chief Sibley said today; while Chief Hall reported that 1,200 have been given official boosts out of Sweetwater in the last 30 days. The majority are found to be from New York, Los Angeles and Chicago, in the order named, and three-fourths of the group are youths under 20, out of work, penniless in most cases, and poorly clad. Approach of winter makes the problem acute, Sibley and Hall said, in calling the conference.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Fair, probably frost tonight; Friday fair, rising temperature.

EAST TEXAS: Fair, somewhat colder except in southeast portion, probably frost in interior tonight; Friday fair, not so cold in west portion light to moderate northerly to easterly winds on the coast.

OKLAHOMA: Fair, heavy to killing frost tonight; Friday, fair not so cold.

Flying weather forecast Texas and Oklahoma for today: Clear. Light to moderate northerly winds at surface; fresh to strong northerly winds up to 5,000 feet; and strong northerly to westerly winds at higher levels.

SUNRAY FIRM WINS MOTION TEMPORARILY

But Danciger Case Is to Control Suits

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—Enforcement of the statewide oil proration order against the Sunray Oil company of Tulsa, Okla., operating in Gray county, Texas, was restrained by a temporary injunction issued in district court today.

It was the third such injunction issued out of Travis county district court, the other temporary restraining orders being granted on petition of the Danciger Oil and Refining company and the Young Brothers and Alexander Oil company, also Panhandle and North Texas operators.

The Sunray petition followed in the main the allegations of the Danciger company. Dewey Lawrence, assistant attorney general, who represents the state railroad commission, said that the company would abide by the decision in the Danciger suit, since grounds for both suits are virtually identical.

Both companies claim the commission has not the authority to promulgate a proration order, nor the power to enforce such an order. Lawrence said the suits probably would stand or fall upon the court's decision regarding the exercise of police power by the railroad commission.

A state motion for dissolution of the Danciger injunction was set for hearing Nov. 10.

R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission, said that Sunray was one of the Panhandle operators which had been producing more oil than was allowed them under the proration schedule for that district.

The Sunray company has a daily production of about 1,000 barrels from wells on the Cook-Faulkner leases which were purchased last winter from Operators Royalty company. The company recently acquired holdings in Moore county, and it is understood that it is now making plans to use more oil. Whether the building of a refinery is contemplated by the company could not be learned from officials of the company.

POLITICANS AND POLITICS

We are always amused to a considerable extent when it comes time for the big party politicians to raise their forms to the speaker's platform and orate at great length what a rotten bunch the opposition is and how grand and noble their own party is.

Wednesday night Secretary Andrew Mellon gave a radio speech in which he lauded the Hoover administration to the skies and urged the people of "our great nation" to send a Republican congress to the capital. He said the Republicans were not responsible for the conditions of business and the market crash of last year. The secretary also added that the administration was doing all in its power to relieve the distressing conditions at the present time.

At the same time, Alfred E. Smith, in New York City, was raking the Republican administration for its failure and its shortcomings. The former governor of New York urged the people of the United States to send a Democratic congress to Washington and relieve these trying conditions.

That is the way in politics. Those in office are ballyhoing the public that they are doing everything for the good of the public; those outside promise miracles. So goes the game of politics and the public knows that the federal government is not so constituted that it can carry out all promises. But the alignment of a party is important and we Democrats expect to gain much ground November 4.—C. G.

TEXAS AND HER PORTS

From the Freeport FACTS:

The Galveston customs district, which includes the ports of Galveston, Houston, Freeport and Texas City, was second in the United States in total value of foreign commerce handled during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930, according to figures received here from the bureau of customs statistics at New York. The New Orleans district was third, while New York, as usual, occupied first place.

Total imports and exports through the ports in the district for the year amounted to $539,542,642. This compares with a total for New Orleans of $510,190,778. These totals were available with receipt of final statistics on commerce handled in June.

In heading the New Orleans customs district for second honors, the district, which includes Freeport, handled exports value at $511,115,240 and imports valued at $28,427,607. Business through the ports in the New Orleans district was more evenly divided, with inbound cargo being valued at $169,819,195 and exports at $340,378,583. The big preponderance in favor of exports in both districts is due chiefly to shipment of cotton, oil, sulphur, grain and grain products.

Customs collections through the various ports in the local district for the past 12 months will total approximately $6,767,000. This total, while a loss under the previous 12-month period, indicates the importance of Texas ports as revenue makers for the government.

Georgia's Next Governor Only 32

CELIA MITCHELL, 17, faces a new life when she leaves the home in Baltimore, where she has lived with her seamstress mother, MARGARET ROGERS, to join her father, JOHN MITCHELL, and her grandmother in a stately New York dwelling.

The girl had not even known her father was living. Until the day he came to the Baltimore apartment, Celia had supposed BOJ ROGERS, her mother's second husband, to be her father. Mitchell offered Celia a life of wealth and immediately everything changed. She left her mother, unaware that Margaret Rogers was seriously ill and she left BARNEY SHIELDS, the young newspaper photographer who swore that some day he and Celia would be married.

She is lonely and ill at ease the first day in her new home. Late in the morning MRS. THOMAS MITCHELL, her aristocratic grandmother, sends for her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV.
Mrs. Thomas Worthington Mitchell bent over a desk writing. She heard the light tap on the side of the open door, looked up and beckoned to Celia to enter. Then she continued to write.

Mrs. Mitchell's sitting room was at the front of the house on the second floor. It was much larger than Celia's room. The rug on the floor was from a Persian loom, and the furniture was elaborate in a style much admired in the last decades of the nineteenth century. A fireplace with marble mantle and a large mirror above centered one wall. At the left was a door which Celia decided led into Mrs. Mitchell's bedroom.

With a staccato flourish the woman laid aside her pen.

"Now, then," she said, in her sharp voice, "good morning, Celia. Come nearer and sit down."

Though the white-haired woman scorned glasses, it was evident her eyesight was impaired, for she had a way of leaning forward and narrowing her eyes when speaking.

"Good morning, grandmother," the girl answered primly. She arose, moving to a chair beside the large oak desk at which Mrs. Mitchell sat.

"Sleep well?" the woman asked.

"Oh, yes! I really didn't mean to stay in bed so late. I felt dreadfully to have missed breakfast!"

"Humph—it's no matter! Always have breakfast served in my room, and your father doesn't take anything except coffee. Aline has ordered to bring you breakfast at 9:30 each morning. That's a good sensible hour. Makes servants restless to be having meal times changed around."

She said it so sternly that Celia hastened to agree that a tray at 9:30 each morning would be entirely satisfactory.

Mrs. Mitchell sat back in her chair.

"Now that you're here," she said to the girl, "what are you going to do?"

"Why, I—that is—I—"

The elder woman nodded her head with an "I-told-you-so" expression.

"You don't know!" she said, emphasizing each word. "It's a great responsibility to have a young girl like you in the house. Do you realize that? I don't mind telling you I hesitated when your father first talked about bringing you here. But you're a Mitchell, and I hope I know my duty when I see it! Now, then, the question is—what are you going to do?"

Celia's eyes widened.

"Why, you see I haven't made any plans—"

"No? Well, never mind. I'll do the planning. In fact, I've already done it. Tell me something about yourself. What did you do in Baltimore?"

There was something vigorous and wholesome about the aged woman's brusqueness, but this quality was lost on Celia.

"Well, I've never done much of anything except go to school. I studied stenography."

"Augh—stenography!" Mrs. Mitchell's hands raised in horror. "That was, I suppose, in a public school?" she asked.

The girl nodded.

"As bad as I thought," the older woman sighed. "As bad as I thought!"

Mrs. Mitchell rested one arm on her desk and gapped her pencil disconsolately. Then she rose and paced back and forth across the room. After a moment she halted in front of Celia and looked at the girl intently.

"I really don't know if it can be done," she said solemnly. "I wonder—"

Her expression and her manner seemed to say clearly that Celia was a disgrace. Under this frowning displeasure the girl could almost feel herself shrinking smaller and smaller. She would have liked very much to know what was so dreadful.

"Is anything wrong?" she asked.

Instead of answering, Mrs. Mitchell sat down at her desk.

"My opinion is that the thing's impossible," she said firmly. "Still, I hope I know my duty." There was a pause and then she continued. "Your looks won't help you any. Oh! you're a pretty child. Too pretty. People are likely to guess from the start that you're from the wrong side of the family."

Now it was Celia's back which straightened.

"I don't know what all this means," she said, "but—if you're talking about my mother—"

The girl's cheeks were white.

"Hcity-totty, child. None of that! Who said anything about your mother? I didn't. Just telling you it's common to have a pretty face. And it is. None of the best families have pretty faces. None of them!"

Celia wanted to laugh. She controlled the impulse as she said demurely:

"Excuse me."

"Your father has, probably told you I've given up going to the country this summer on your account. I see now it was a wise plan. We have months of work ahead before you can possibly make a debut."

"Grandmother! You mean—a debutante?"

"Why, certainly! You're a Mitchell, aren't you? You'll have to take your place in society. Only, I can see now it's going to be a great task!"

Both of them were silent for a time. Then Celia said quietly, "Father didn't say anything about—society. What do you want me to do?"

The light of generalship returned to the elderly woman's eyes. "You must do as I tell you," she said imperiously. "In September we'll go abroad. Six months in the south of France will do more for you than years in boarding school. After that the future depends upon how promptly you can learn. I can do much, but I cannot work miracles."

The real responsibility rests with you!"

Mrs. Mitchell talked on about details of the household. Luncheon was at one o'clock each day and dinner at seven. She mentioned the servants and named them—Edward the butler, who had been employed 15 years; Martha, who had served Mrs. Mitchell even longer; Aline, the parlor maid; Hannah, the cook; and Jane, kitchen helper. There was also Thompson, who drove the cars.

Luncheon was announced before Mrs. Mitchell had finished. She had a way of abruptly turning from one subject to another while talking—often without the least hint that her mind had taken a different track. This made it difficult to follow, particularly for Celia, to whom almost everything the woman said was foreign.

It was remarkable the girl thought to hear another person use exactly the same words she herself used and make them sound so entirely like another language. Nevertheless, Celia listened attentively. Her social training had begun.

Luncheon was appetizing and Celia, having breakfast hurriedly ate heartily.

Once Mrs. Mitchell embarrassed her by pausing to remark:

"I'm glad to see you know how to eat. Your manners are very nice, but it would be better to begin to learn at once not to enjoy your food so much."

"But, grandmother, I didn't mean—I mean everything is really delicious."

"Certainly, but it is better for my dear, never to enjoy anything."

When they had finished, Celia waited to hear plans for the afternoon. Apparently there were none. Mrs. Mitchell spoke vaguely of an engagement and disappeared to dress. Celia went to her own room and wrote a long letter to her mother. She thought she was adroit in bringing in a casual reference to Barney Shields, but a child could have seen through the device. Then Celia put on her hat, took the letter and went out of the house to the corner of the block, where she found a mail box.

Returning, Celia met Edward in the hallway. He told her Mrs. Mitchell had gone out. There was nothing more to do but return upstairs and wait until it was time to dress for dinner.

The evening meal was quite formal. John Mitchell and his mother appeared in evening attire, but there was nothing for Celia to do but come downstairs in her long-sleeved brown silk traveling frock. It was her "best" dress.

"Going to take this young lady shopping, aren't you, mother?" Mitchell asked, apparently trying to lessen his daughter's discomfort.

"I've made an appointment with Charlotte for Monday," Mrs. Mitchell said. "Charlotte," she added, with a nod toward Celia, "makes all my kowns and I consider her shop the most satisfactory in town."

"Satisfactory" was not the word Celia would have used to describe her stately grandmother's black and white lace costume, but she lowered her eyes and, following the mid-day lesson, did her best not to appear to enjoy herself.

They withdrew to the drawing room and Edward brought the coffee. Mitchell was soon reading a newspaper and his mother began her nightly game of solitaire.

Celia found a volume which interested her and began reading. She forgot her surroundings until Mrs. Mitchell announced it was time to retire. The girl bade her father good night, kissed her grandmother dutifully and mounted the stairway.

The day on the whole had been dreary, but Celia was optimistic about the future. She was awed, but thrilled by the shadowy vision of her grandmother's plans. Imagining herself in beautiful gowns—going to parties—surrounded by admirers!

Nothing in the least glamorous happened during the next two days. The weather was very hot, and Mrs. Mitchell, in spite of her boasted good health, was indisposed. Celia wandered through the big house, watched the children playing in the park—and thought about home.

Thursday evening just before dinner was announced John Mitchell found his daughter alone in the library. Undoubtedly there were tears on her eyelashes.

"What's the matter?" he demanded.

"Nothing. Nothing at all!"

Mitchell had to accept this answer. How could he guess Celia was miserable because no letter had come from Barney Shields? Mitchell had never even heard of Barney.

To cover her confusion, Celia tried her utmost to be cheerful at the dinner table. Her father seemed unimpressed. As soon as possible he excused himself and disappeared into the room known as his study.

For some time John Mitchell sat at his desk with brows furrowed. Then he took up the telephone and gave a number.

"Evelyn?" John Mitchell said presently. "Evelyn, I want to see you tonight."

Mexican Tour By San Angelans To Begin Monday

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 30. (Special)—Having made more than 130 reservations for the Good Will Mexican tour, which will be made to Chihuahua and return Nov. 2 to 6 on a special train chartered by the San Angelo Board of City Development, Herbert O'Bannon, San Angelo banker and chairman of the tour, is now directing his attention toward enlarging all plans that have been made for the tour.

With reservations already on file in the office of the San Angelo Board of City Development approximating the capacity of the six-pullman train that was ordinarily ordered for the tour, Mr. O'Bannon quickened efforts of his committee in completing a canvas of the business section determining the number that will make the tour.

Communists to Have Rallies In State Capitals

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 30. (AP)—Plans to rally Communists for demonstration in all the state capitals and then march 100,000 men to Washington for a demonstration before President Hoover were announced here today by Mike Daniels of San Francisco, Red organizer of the Pacific coast.

The project was announced after Daniels had led several hundred of his followers to Sacramento, where they staged a demonstration at the city hall last night. There was no violence.

Daniels presented to the city council demands of his followers, which called for establishment of a sinking fund out of which each unemployed person would receive $25 a week, and $5 weekly for each dependent, in addition to free rent, fuel and food.

While the council laid plans for providing work for the unemployed speakers harangued the crowd outside.

New Uses For Helium Revealed

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Helium, the non-inflammable gas used in dirigibles, may also be used in the future for heating and cooling purposes, and to preserve food. Experiments indicating possibility of these uses have been reported to the American Chemical society by W. E. Snyder and R. R. Bottoms. Because of its high conductivity of heat, helium may be used as a medium for circulation in heating and refrigeration systems. Helium used as a preservative of food keeps other gases, which encourage decay, from reaching the food, their experiments show.

Palo Duro Day Will Draw Many to Canyon Sunday

CANYON, Oct. 30. (Special)—Palo Duro Canyon Day, November 2, promises to bring hundreds of people through Canyon according to L. N. George, secretary of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, who is in charge of the arrangements. Gates to the Lighthouse section of the great Canyon will be opened at noon Sunday and guards will be stationed along the way to direct strangers.

J. D. Gamble and other ranchmen have co-operated with the Chamber of Commerce by allowing cars to pass through their ranches, there being no public road which reaches the canyon brim.

Visitors who saw the canyons last summer declare that the autumn colors have never been more brilliant, and that this is the pleasantest time of the year to visit the canyon. Picnic parties will be allowed, but no fires are to be built, according to those in charge. 3000 people are expected as the weather and roads are better than when the summer Palo Duro Canyon Day was held.

Harvesters Are Expected to Trim Vernon Lions Tomorrow

LOCAL SQUAD READY TO GO—ALL ELIGIBLE

Expecting to return with their fourth conference victory, the Pampa Harvesters journeyed to Vernon today for their game with the Lions tomorrow.

Coach Mitchell took his entire squad of 39 men, and was prepared to throw all the power at his command into the game if necessary. It was expected that some first class tackling would be necessary to stop Williams and Lawrence, Vernon backfield stars.

Mitchell planned to start Moore and Kennedy at ends, Burch and Herio at tackles, Fafford and Schmidt as guards, Poe at center, and Saulsbury, Martindale, Lord, and Chastain in the backfield. This is considered the strongest combination. With all men scholastically eligible, only one casualty showed up yesterday. Benton has a bad cut over an eye, received in scrimmage, and it was badly swelled. He probably will not play unless needed.

The News learned from Vernon sources today that Beck Lawrence, stellar back, and Eugene Judd, end, were injured in the Vernon-Wichita Falls battle last week, which Vernon won. Lawrence pulled a leg muscle which may slow him somewhat in the Pampa contest. Judd hurt an old leg strain. Altogether, however, the Lions will be in the best condition of the season when they take the field tomorrow. They do not expect to win, but will be fighting to upset the dope and, incidentally, the Harvesters.

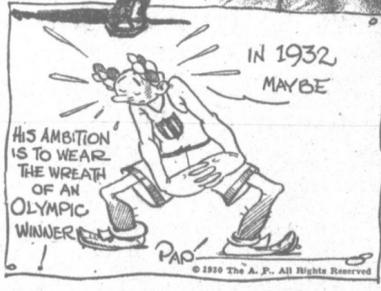

The week's Class A schedule includes Amarillo at Lubbock, Childress at Wichita Falls, Electra at Plainview, and Pampa at Vernon. The greatest attraction will be the Lubbock battle which with a Westerner victory could place Pampa, Amarillo, and Lubbock in a triple tie for first place. Childress is favored to defeat Wichita Falls and Electra to beat Plainview. A victory for Amarillo Saturday would virtually clinch the District 1 title for the Sandstorm.

Playing on their home field, the Westerners are generally rated as having an even chance to defeat Amarillo.

Improving With Age

BIG TEN IS PERPLEXED BY GRID RULING

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Big Ten football conference, its rule makers in particular, found itself hemmed in with attacks and threats today over its rule forbidding football teams from playing post-season games.

Requests for post-season games for the benefit of charity literally poured upon conference officials, but they refused to consider them.

Probably the most insistent demand for an exception of the conference post-season rule for charity's sake came from Michigan where attempts were being made to schedule a charity game between the University of Michigan and the University of Detroit on Thanksgiving day. The Detroit City council demanded the game and so did Governor Fred W. Green, who bitterly attacked the conference's stand.

Informed that Big Ten officials did not plan to make an exception of the rule, Governor Green said:

"If the rules that were not made in contemplation of present conditions are permitted to stand in the way of a post-season charity game between the Universities of Michigan and Detroit, it is most unfortunate for the unemployed, for the sport, and for the two educational institutions. There is such an appalling need at this time that no rule, which has merely for its objective the controlling of sport, should be allowed to stand in the way for a moment. I cannot believe that those in authority in the conference will permit their views to become so narrow that they will center them merely on what they deem the orderly conduct of a great sport to the detriment of the people of Michigan. No amount of explanation ever will put the University of Michigan back on the high pedestal it now occupies if it falls at this hour."

WILSON HAS LIKENESS TO ALBIE BOOTH

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR. Associated Press Sports Writer DALLAS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Yale adherents rose and expressed their feelings in no uncertain manner last Saturday when the El idol, Albie Booth, was tackled viciously by Army players and sent injured to the sideline the first time he tried to carry the ball.

They thought the cadets were unduly severe in the way they halted Booth's forward progress. Army's supporters thought otherwise, pointing out that Booth is unusually wiry and tricky, given to wiggling loose from tacklers and continuing on his way after he apparently is stopped. That being the case, they declared, it was necessary to tackle him with finality and much gusto.

Unable to agree with the minors on the draft, the majors warned that on and after December 1, all relations between non-draft leagues and the major leagues would be severed.

There is a player in the southwest conference, Jake Wilson of Baylor, who is likely to be the principal in a Boothian episode before the season ends.

Wilson, like Booth, is little but loud. It is doubtful that Albie has a thing on Jake when it comes to campering around with a football. And Jake, like Albie dislikes to be interrupted. When he once gets started it takes two or three tacklers to get him stopped. The only difference is that Jake, so far, has been able to stand the gaff and come back for another dose.

In the recent Baylor-S. M. U. scuffle it appeared several times that the little Bruin quarterback surely had been crushed beyond recognition as 200-pound Ira Hopper and a playmate or two slammed him to the grass. But each time Jake would slowly pull himself together, jerk a few joints back in place and be ready to do it all over again.

Perhaps Wilson will get through this, his final season, without being hurt. He seems hard as pig iron. If he does not get bunged up, however, it will be just a little difficult to place the blame. Opposing teams knew he is hard to handle and they are taking no chances.

Highest Prize Will Be Given To Some Hound

CRAB ORCHARD, Ky., Oct. 30. (AP)—Ninety-six hounds were entered in the all-age stake of the National Fox Hunters' association, of which the all-age stake goes the title of National field champion, the highest honor a hound can attain.

The second and third casts will be made tomorrow and Saturday, the closing days of the association meeting here. The stake carries no purse, but trophies are awarded owners of the leaders.

Danger's Fancy, owned by the Golden Valley kennels, Forest City, N. C., was adjudged winner of the $1,000 chase trophy yesterday. The puppy is by little Danger out of Susan Moore. Dogs owned by Kentuckians captured second, third and fourth places.

Yesterday's chase, the final cast of the future, was the best of the meeting. Three foxes were jumped, giving all who followed the hounds an opportunity to see a fox.

BROKEN BACK FAILS TO STOP GRID PLAYER

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30. (AP)—Edward J. Duffy, Loyola college tackle, played the entire game here last Saturday with a broken back, it was revealed today with the results of an x-ray examination known.

Duffy, an 185 pounder, was injured in the opening kickoff but concealed his hurts. The x-ray revealed a fracture of the third lumbar vertebra and Duffy will be placed in a cast. Three weeks will be required for recovery, his physician estimated.

Loyola lost the game 40 to 7. Duffy, 21, is a park swimming pool lifeguard in the summer and is credited with saving 18 lives.

WATERS WILL USE SCIENCE IF ALLOWED

Eddie Challenger and Teddy Waters, having worked and waited all week, will meet tonight in the main wrestling event at the Pla-Mor auditorium.

It promises to be a scientific match, providing Challenger will leave off the rough stuff. Waters prefers to use his marvelous assortment of holds, although he carries in reserve one of the most devastating rabbit punches ever seen here. On the other hand, Challenger says that he "will be in there to win with whatever it takes to do it."

Waters persists in his deadly calm, and after two losses to Jack Rose he figures that all the fans wish out of him is action.

Tulsa's Flash and Tommy Thomas will furnish the preliminary fireworks in a grudge match, and it is likely that Andy Gump will yield to popular demand for another mixed bout.

Wrestler Badly Hurt In Match

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Jack Wagner of Providence, R. I., a heavy-weight wrestler, today was in a Chicago hospital with a punctured liver, suffered in a match with Joe Malcewicz of Utica, N. Y., last night. Malcewicz threw Wagner to the mat, falling on him, fracturing a rib which punctured the liver. Wagner got up and within a few seconds won the only fall of the match but was forced to forfeit when he collapsed after he left the ring.

LONGHORNS VERY SERIOUS AFTER LOSS

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—Still mad at themselves for the licking taken at the hands of Rice last Saturday, the University of Texas Longhorns continued today the process of sharpening their horns for the fray Saturday with S. M. U. at Memorial stadium.

All Steer workouts this week have been of the strictly private variety and only a chosen few have been given the privilege of sitting in the stands while the gridsters were going through their paces.

Information gleaned from the coaching staff, however, indicates the Longhorns have taken steps to safeguard against any surprises which Coach Ray Morrison's proteges might have to offer. Their preparation for the game has been both extensive and intensive and no pains have been spared by the coaches in grooming the team for the fray.

The game Saturday will see two of the strongest proponents of their favored brand of football tangle. S. M. U. specializes in a brilliant and scintillating open attack, featuring shifty runners and a devastating overhead attack. Texas has clung mostly to plays that depend spring choices about 120 of the best talent.

The others play inter-hall football, and they tell me it's a tougher game between the halls than that which the varsity, first, second, third and fourth teams play against the outer enemy.

One of the reasons why Notre Dame has a good football team is because the whole school is playing football right with the men who actually appear on the gridiron.

NO ONE IS BARRED

When the call is issued for spring practice, no one is barred at Notre Dame. Every student who can walk on legs comes out for football. The sharp eye of Rockne looks for the work of the men of whom he has heard, as high school or prep school players. It takes only about two weeks to pick the 120 men of the varsity squad.

The squad is divided into groups. The men in each group understand that if they play good football, they will receive consideration at once for the main squad.

Actually the Notre Dame first team is a team selected by an elimination process from 600 students who are all wild to play football. The competition is intense. The best of the players thus are chosen.

Powerful Tulsa Squad to Battle George Washington on Saturday

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 30. (Special)—Gaining fresh momentum with the 25 to 0 victory over Phillips last week, the Tulsa university gridiron machine will participate in an inter-sectional battle at Skelly field Friday night at 8 o'clock against a powerful eleven from George Washington university at Washington, D. C.

Having won three successive victories already this year and having had the Tulsa goal line crossed only once, the Hurricane is favored to defeat the invaders in the nocturnal clash in Skelly stadium. The only possible thing that will prevent Tulsa from downing the big buff and blue squad, it is believed, is the loss of the backfield ace, Captain Chet Benefiel.

Benefiel received an injury in the Phillips tilt last Saturday. He has a week in which to recuperate, but Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson is planning the practices this week to enable his team to carry-on without his services.

The Tulsa line, which all season has turned in some dubious performances, showed a turn for the good and appeared to be one of the best forward walls in the state in the game against the Haymakers. With his vanguard well in trim, Henderson has few worries this season. His team is now tied with Oklahoma City university for the Big Four conference leadership and his machine is clicking to perfection.

The Washington eleven threatens to offer stiff opposition to the Golden Hurricane, but Henderson and line Coach Grapes are working this week on plays and formations that they hope will stop the powerful invaders. Washington thus far in the season has failed to play according to form, and the Pullman jaunt to Tulsa will not help them any. But reports from the east say that the buff and blue have the force, and that if it once starts clicking, there is enough power in the team to sweep any ordinary squad off its feet.

Gus expects to concentrate his efforts this week on the perfecting of his forward passing, with Pilkington and Green on the twirling end. His iron fullback, Pilkington, proved the star of the Phillips game and with him in the backfield it will be easy for the Tulsa pilot to hit upon a successful combination even without using his big shot, Benefiel.

Baseball War Disturbs Minors

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Something disturbed by the major league boycott threat, the American Association today attempted to call a conference of all minor baseball leagues to establish a definite policy in regard to the irksome draft controversy.

The decision was reached last night after an all-day conference by association officials. If held, the meeting probably will be called next month in Chicago.

Unable to agree with the minors on the draft, the majors warned that on and after December 1, all relations between non-draft leagues and the major leagues would be severed.

THE BIG PARADE

When I saw Notre Dame's football players dash onto the field for the game with Carnegie Tech, it was mindful of the old Seventh Regiment on the dog trot. They poured from the tunnel-like entrance to the field, by ones and twos, squads and platoons and army corps.

The parade seemed endless. It took 35 minutes to pass a given point. Yet there were only 120 men, shock troops, cavalry and all I was to learn, later that Carnegie was likewise considerably impressed.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Girl Is Held As Witness In Denver Murder

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 30. (AP)—Miss Carlo Alessandro, 21, was held incommunicado today by police seeking to learn whether she had witnessed the murder of 10-year-old Leona O'Loughlin, drowned in Berkeley Park lake.

A. T. Clark, police captain, said Miss Alessandro last night told officers she was sitting on the lake front in a parked automobile the night of Oct. 14, when a woman waded into the water and deposited a burden, which appeared to be the body of a child.

According to Miss Alessandro's story, the police captain said, the woman was accompanied on her grisly errand by a man. "I doubted the story of Miss Alessandro until I took her to Berkeley Lake and asked her to point out where she had seen these things," said Captain Clark. "Her story agreed in so many ways with what we already know of the killing, that I am determined to make a thorough check of this phase of the case."

Leona O'Loughlin, daughter of Leo O'Loughlin, city detective, was slain on the night of Tuesday, Oct. 14. Three days later her body was found on Berkeley Park lake. The next Sunday the slain girl's step-mother, Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin, was arrested. Repeated grillings have failed to shake her assertions of innocence. She is charged with murder in the case, as is Leona's uncle, Frank O'Loughlin.

BRUSH FIRES GIVE TROUBLE IN CALIFORNIA

VENTURA, Calif., Oct. 30. (AP)—Two brush fires continued to race uncontrolled on widely separated Ventura county watersheds today, one having burned over 12,000 acres of pasture and brush and the other 600 acres of brush and scrub oak. Two thousand men were recruited to fight the fires.

The more serious of the fires described by fire warden as the most devastating since in 1924, swept a large portion of Northeastern Ventura county, the upper reaches of Selmi valley and the Santa Clara river section on a 10-mile front.

This fire last night trapped William Brill, foreman of the Z. A. Zillbrand ranch, seriously burning him. Five Filipinos sent into a canyon to combat its advance were reported missing and possibly trapped by the flames. County fire officials said it had done damage in excess of $750,000 to winter pastures, grain and farm buildings.

The other blaze, in the Malibu mountains, started at noon yesterday and burned rapidly into rough country. The extent of its damage was not known, but no dwellings were reported in its path.

Moorpark and Simi, which escaped destruction by a brush fire Tuesday, fought a dramatic battle against the second blaze yesterday. Schools were dismissed, housewives played garden hoses on their homes upon which burning cinders fell, and the constable jailed the only man left in Moorpark for refusing to battle the fire. After several hours the flames were beaten back into the hills, from where they climbed rapidly to Coyote mountain, which stood out like a giant torch last night.

The buildings on the E. L. Doheny ranch were burned.

The oil fields north of the Simi valley fire for a time were threatened, but reports late last night indicated there was no immediate danger they would be burned.

Japanese Move on Head Hunters

TOKYO, Oct. 30. (AP)—An augmented force of Japanese troops today was sent against the uprising of head-hunting savages in Central Formosa.

Two additional infantry companies were ordered to the village of Musha, center of the disturbances in which the savage tribesmen killed at least 86 Japanese and then scattered into the surrounding area, spreading terror among the population of the district.

The ministry of overseas affairs at Tokyo was informed by the governor general of Formosa that the revolting tribesmen had severed and carried away the heads of many of their victims when they evacuated Musha yesterday.

Hallowe'en Party Attended by More Than 125 Boys, Girls Of Methodist Church; Given As Climax of Contest

Climaxing a membership contest held the early part of the fall between boys and girls of the Junior department of the First Methodist Sunday school, more than 125 children gathered at the church for a party Wednesday evening. The boys were successful in the contest.

The department has its own assembly hall with a separate classroom for each child, and 100 new song books, each song being adapted to child life.

The Junior church also is attracting considerable interest. Lively games were played throughout the evening, fortunes were told and refreshments of milk chocolate and individual Hallowe'en cakes were served.

Mrs. J. G. Stroup, superintendent, Miss Harriet Hunkapillar, secretary, and all teachers were present. The teachers and their classes are as follows: Mrs. Albert Wood, Daughters of Esther; Mrs. Berry, Daughters of Ruth; Miss Gracie Latimer, My Chum; Miss Warren, The Light House; Mrs. H. T. Hunkapillar, The Aviators; Miss Boudoin, The Lone Star; Mrs. Beck, Willing Workers; Mrs. Tom Brabham, Little Loyal Ladies.

Those in Charge Mrs. Albert Wood was in charge of decorations, Mrs. Tom Brabham, refreshments, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, entertainment, and Miss Warren, fortune telling.

Favors were presented each child. Attendance Is Large The average attendance of the department is 100, while the number sometimes reaches 150. Each classroom has been enlarged within the last two months to meet the needs of the rapid growth.

The two drawbacks in attendance have been successfully met by this department. In the first place, all of the children attend Sunday school in their school clothes to avoid embarrassment on the part of those who cannot dress as well as usually required for Sunday school.

Then, there are those who cannot afford to bring collection or donate money for parties. This is met thru the furnishing of party money by the Women's Missionary Society and requiring no donations from the children. Also, it is not counted against the children if they do not bring collection to Sunday school. A box is placed outside the room in order that any who wish to give may do so, but no child knows what another gives.

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar is general supervisor of all junior work in the church, and Mrs. W. R. Campbell, assisted by Mrs. J. G. Stroup, is superintendent of the junior church. Mrs. Stroup, assisted by Mrs. Campbell, is superintendent of recreation.

Sponsored by WMS The Junior church is sponsored solely by the W. M. S., which provides money for a monthly party. It is carried on in the same method as the church itself, with board of stewards, trustees, ushers, choir leader, and pianist, all selected among the children. A serenade, presented in language simple enough for the youngest child to understand, is presented each Sunday. The Junior church has its own monthly magazine and its own communion service, and, according to Mrs. Stroup, there is not one child who will not lead in voluntary prayer.

The Junior church meets on the third floor during the same hour as the adult church. It is making plans for the conference of next week, which will close the most successful year in the history of the Junior church.

Tax Plan of Garner Will Be Submitted Again

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A new drive to place tax refunds under adjudication of the court has been launched by Representative Garner of Texas, Democratic leader of the house.

Heartened by the prospect of Democratic gains in congress at the last night again called for a reelection, Garner in a statement grational in vestigation of the manner in which the treasury department has returned to corporations during the past eleven years a sum he placed at nearly $3,000,000,000.

In the past his proposals for such action, the minority leader pointed out, have been "promptly smothered by the republican majority."

"It is inconceivable that we should continue to grant these huge refunds except upon court decisions covering in full the various issues involved," he said. "With a decrease of $140,286,000 in collection of corporation and in individual income taxes during the first nine months of this year, and a decrease of more than $60,000,000 in customs receipts, it is obvious that the burden of these refunds will become increasingly heavy upon the taxpayer."

Frank Says Students May Choose Beliefs

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 30. (AP)—President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin replied today to criticism that he was "indifferent" to communism on the campus with a simple statement.

"Well, what of it? We are apt to have both communists and Presbyterians here and as I have said previously, a student has as much right to be a communist as he has to be a Presbyterian or Baptist. It is not the business of the university to dictate the political and religious beliefs of its students."

His answer was evoked by charges made before the D. A. R. convention at Bond Du Lac by Mrs. James F. Trotman. Mrs. Trotman said the university fostered "unAmerican ideas" and cited as a basis the case of a professor who had reputedly attempted to gain release of a communist student sentenced in Milwaukee for participation in a riot.

BY HOLLYCE SELLERS

Attention of Parent-Teacher associations throughout Texas is now turned to the 1930 convention of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association which will be held in San Angelo Nov. 17-21. A number of local members have expressed their desire that a delegation from Pampa attend the gathering, according to Mrs. V. E. Fathers, president of the city council, although none have stated definitely that they would be able to attend.

The convention will offer, says Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, president of the Texas Congress, and chairman of the program, a vital program of world-wide interest; an opportunity to give and to receive practical help through interchange of experiences, plans, and methods; a common meeting ground for educators, for specialists in the field of child welfare, and for parent-teacher workers; a finer concept of an age-old problem of supreme interest, the building of worthy homes.

Eminent speakers have been secured for addresses and conferences such as Dr. Ada Hart Arlitt, director of parent education, Cincinnati university, Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Garry C. Meyers, head of the division of parental education, Cleveland college, Western Reserve university; and Dr. George K. Pratt, national chairman of mental hygiene. Exhibits from the National Con-

WOMEN LESS FAITHFUL BEING LAWYER SAYS

LONDON, Oct. 30. (P)—"It may seem strange," Sir Ellis Hume Williams, eminent divorce court lawyer, says in his autobiography, published today, "but I think women are less faithful than men."

Other statements based, he says, on long experience include: "once a woman who has loved one man, has fallen out of love with him and into love with another there is no cruelty known to any created being, human or animal, to equal that which she will treat the first man."

He gives his own advice to women as to how to hold their husband's affections: "My experience is that a woman who is careful to preserve her physical attractions and will take a little trouble to understand and sympathize with her husband's work or pleasure can keep him just as long as she likes."

CITIES RALLY IN NEW PLAN

Public Work Will Be Rushed to Aid Unemployed

Money mobilized against employment:
PACIFIC COAST	$475,000,000
MIDDLE WEST	285,000,000
SOUTH	75,000,000
SOUTHWEST	74,000,000
EASTERN STATES	44,000,000
MOUNTAIN STATES	25,000,000
NORTHWEST	18,000,000
TOTAL	$996,000,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Drafted dollars—nearly a billion of them—constituted a restorative applied today bringing back the color of health to American prosperity.

Cities, states and the national itself are marshalling monies for wages and work, reports from all areas reveal. Great private industries have announced programs to create more jobs for more men.

Roughly estimated, funds totaling $996,000,000 have been mobilized—not for relief but for work—will additional projects taking shape rapidly.

All Sections Active

No single section has been more active than another in the determination to bend the line of employment upward, but the far west, with interests as diversified as cinema and citrus, leads with monies appropriated for specific projects. Approximately $475,000,000 is available there for enterprises that will give work to thousands of men.

The middle west ranks next with $285,000,000, while the south and southwest are in a virtual tie for third place in the recruiting of dollars to whip unemployment. In the eastern states employment plans are gaining momentum as civic leaders in New York, Massachusetts and other states analyze local conditions and take steps to meet them.

On the west coast public bodies have arranged numerous relief programs. Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles are cutting new traffic arteries and widening others, aiming to relieve congestion while providing work. Nearly all of America's large cities, where the concentration of great numbers of persons presents a problem of employment both in good times and in poor, have taken action to measure their local situations.

New York is conducting a systematic survey of her jobless. Twenty thousand names have been listed with emergency relief measures taken to meet immediate needs, but beyond this, the city has appropriated nearly $250,000 to pay additional labor in parks, giving work to 2,000 men three days a week. A Wall Street group is planning a pool of $150,000 a week to provide more jobs. The awarding of residential building contracts in New York city during October averaged $1,924,400 a day—$432,300 more a day than during last October.

Chicago's projects which are now and which are soon to be, include construction of two "century of progress" buildings, the expenditure of nearly $200,000,000 by the Inland (Public Utilities) companies for extensions and improvements, the widening of streets and construction of 1,000 miles of new ones, and extensive park work.

Indianapolis, the twin cities of Minnesota, Des Moines and Columbus, Ohio, are among cities in the middle west where unemployment, it is stated, has not reached a point of unusual concern, although these cities, as well as most every other one in the country, plan to push public works and private construction as palliatives.

Boston Starts Project
Boston has taken hold of the question of work with the commencement of school building and inauguration of a $25,000,000 three-year program to eliminate grade crossings.

The south has perhaps fewer organized unemployment relief programs than other sections. Virginia, however, has gone ahead, not only in state construction work but in a movement calculated to encourage business organizations to hasten any contemplated improvements.

Unemployment and drought are closely joined in relief measures in many areas of the south. In South Carolina, a $65,000,000 highway program is being started in the expectation it will go far toward giving work to Carolinians now unemployed.

Nashville, Tenn., claims the best record in America of cities in the hundred thousand population class. Census figures show that city to have one per cent unemployment.

Florida looks to its citrus fruit crop and to tourists to take up the unemployment slack there. Louisiana has only a nominal number of jobless; and Jackson, Miss., is experiencing a mild boom, due to oil. A $43,000,000 hydro-electric project in Arkansas awaits only Federal authorization before affording work for many hundreds.

The entire south is taking steps to prevent a winter influx of jobless from other parts of the country.

QUAKE—

and Senigallia. Senigallia was cut off entirely from the rest of the stricken area, but was reported to have suffered heavily.

Troops were sent from Ancona and Pesaro.

The earth shock extended far to the south along the Adriatic, Grottamare on the border of Abruzzi, reporting a heavy shock. In the north both Ravenna and Faenza were shaken slightly.

The authorities immediately sent motorcycles, police and army trucks. They had in mind the vulture report earthquake of July 23, when to the isolated villages and towns, the death toll, at first believed small, increased enormously with reports from small villages which had been cut off.

Five persons lost their lives in Ancona.

Twenty were killed in Senigallia and two others in the surrounding district.

Among the towns where damage was caused were Arezzo, Ravenna, Frabiano, Fano, Magera, Mondale, Morrozo, Grottamare, Faenza, and Borazzo.

Communication was restored with some of the quake-ridden towns this afternoon and military units rushed into the region have reached many of the affected places.

The earthquake area extends for many miles along the Adriatic coast and across the upper portion of the boot, through the Umbrin and Picennin hills, the middle northern range of the Apennines and far to the north of the disaster of last July.

Practically the whole of the Italian peninsula felt the shocks. The government before dawn had dispatched relief companies into the area.

Rescuers had not at mid-afternoon been able to convey any adequate report of the destruction.

Issues Challenge

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Captain J. F. Lucey, chairman of the Republican state campaign committee, today issued a challenge to Ross Sterling, Democratic nominee for governor, and United States Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard to debate with a Republican leader the achievements of the Hoover administration.

The proposal stipulated that the debate be held in either Fort Worth, Dallas or Houston at any time prior to Nov. 4.

"Pray Quick" Order Followed by Fussilade

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—An automobile with four men halted in front of a church in Brooklyn last night. Two men in the rear seat drew pistols and said to two men in front:

"Here's a church. Pray, and pray quick."

The slain man was identified as John Bugelo, 30, who police said was connected with the grade business, allied with New York's wine market. The wounded man said he was Joseph Dentice, a cousin of the slain man, and was visiting here from Milwaukee. He said the two men had halled his cousin and although there were introductions he did not recall the names. He said the first intimation he had that anything was wrong was when he was told to get out of the car and pray.

TIMETABLES TO BE ABOLISHED

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—There is, after all, a ray of hope for those folks who puzzle over the modern railway timetable and wonder what's what, and which is which.

It was held out by J. A. Droegge, vice president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, who told electrical engineers he hoped the time would come for the abolishment of that "most tantalizing of modern mysteries"—the timetable.

Shorter, faster and more frequent trains are coming with the development of electrified lines, and passengers in the future will just wait for them as they do now for street cars. Even Dr. Droegge, who has been in the railroad business for 25 years, admits that a timetable sometimes trips him.

Dynamite and Drink

WEBSTER CITY, Ia., Oct. 30. (AP)—There was dynamite in the case of Marinus Sorenson, accused of driving a motor car while intoxicated.

Someone told Judge H. E. Fry that there were 50 pounds of it in the rear seat of the automobile.

"Is that right?" gasped the judge.

"Guilty," said Sorenson.

"Thirty days and $500," said the judge.

Prisoner Will Return

SWEETWATER, Oct. 30. (AP)—R. O. Winn, under two-year prison sentence in a liquor case, absented himself without leave from the Nolan county jail last Saturday afternoon. Winn had a visitor and while Sheriff Jess Lambert was showing the visitor downstairs, leaving a door unlocked, Winn walked out of the jail, strolled over to a nearby drug store, telephoned friends to come after him in a car, and disappeared.

Yesterday Lambert received a letter from Winn. He is at his old home, Hillsboro, perfecting his $2,500 appeal bond, and promised the sheriff to return here Saturday. Lambert said he would leave the fugitive alone, depending on his promise to return.

STATE TO FIGHT FOR NEW DECISION IN HUMBLE SUIT

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—Efforts will be made by the state to reopen the suit by which it sought title to 237 acres of valuable land in the Humble oil field and a cash judgment of $1,263,705, Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt said today.

Application of the state for a writ of error to take the case to the supreme court was refused yesterday and Bobbitt said he would file a motion for a rehearing.

The suit was against R. L. Blaffer and others, who claimed title to the property, located in Harris county.

In refusing to grant the writ of error, the supreme court, in effect, upheld the decision of the appellate court which ruled against the state. The suit arose over the boundaries of certain surveys in the field.

At the start of the suit in 1924, the state asked a cash judgment of $50,000,000 in addition to recovery of the land.

Bobbitt indicated the state would make every effort to have the case reviewed by the high tribunal.

"Cheapness" is contagious

The finest things usually come from those who make fine things exclusively. Schilling makes only fine coffee—so can anyone else—but only Schilling does it.

Cheap coffee never enters nor leaves the Schilling roasting rooms, for Schilling believes that "cheapness" is contagious.

the quality you would insist upon if you knew all of the facts.

How I fry fish . . . without smoke

[and with an improvement in the flavor]

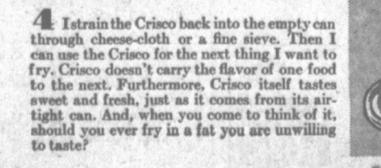

1 I prepare the fish. Then I put Crisco into a cold frying pan. To cook the fish without smoke or scorching I fry slowly. I use enough Crisco to partly cover it. It does not require the constant attention frying would if I were to use only a little fat.

2 I put the frying pan over low heat. As soon as Crisco is melted, I put in a small piece of bread.

3 As soon as the bread starts to brown, I put in the fish. Cook slowly until the fish is nearly done; then turn to brown the other side. With plenty of Crisco in the frying pan, I can turn the fish easily without breaking, if I wait until it is almost done.

4 I strain the Crisco back into the empty can through cheese-cloth or a fine sieve. Then I can use the Crisco for the next thing I want to fry. Crisco doesn't carry the flavor of one food to the next. Furthermore, Crisco itself tastes sweet and fresh, just as it comes from its airtight can. And, when you come to think of it, should you ever fry in a fat you are unwilling to taste?

COOKING SCHOOL NOTE BY MISS GRACE BULL

In the cooking school conducted under the auspices of the News-Post recently, I stressed modern methods of cooking. Naturally, then, I use and recommend CRISCO—for it's a modern shortening. —Miss Grace Bull
