PAMPA—CITY OF OIL AND WHEAT—CITY OF GOOD HOMES

PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, TUESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 21, 1930

Election Plans Completed

Ballot Supplies Are Given Out to Judges

Final preparations for holding the election Saturday to determine whether bonds in the amount of $2,121,000 shall be issued to pave roads in road district No. 5, were completed today when election judges were issued ballots and tally sheets.

Judges, as appointed by the commissioners court, are as follows:

LeFors, E. Bachus; South Pampa, T. H. Lane; Grandview, Willard McAdams; Locketon, Walter Jones; Farrington, Jess Goad, Hopkins, Ernest Vanderburg; Northeast Pampa, P. C. Ledrick; courthouse box, J. M. Dodson; Kingsmill, J. G. Frasher.

The voting place in the South Pampa box will be at the Church of God on South Cuyler. In previous elections this year the voting box in that precinct was in a brick business building on South Cuyler. Voting boxes in all the rural districts will be at the schoolhouses. The election at Kingsmill will be held at one of the elevators. Voting place for northeast Pampa, or precinct No. 9, will be held at the rear of the First National bank.

Judge Baldwin Happy To Help Boys in Trouble

If Judge Ben Baldwin, who has practiced law longer than any other member of the Pampa bar, is not appointed to represent penniless defendants in 31st district court, he usually volunteers his services. However, most of the persons, especially boys, who cannot afford to pay an attorney's fee, end for Judge Baldwin soon after they are placed in jail.

Judge Baldwin considers that he has been lucky this term of court. He has won four suspended sentences and two acquittals. Two men charged with theft of chickens were given suspended sentences after pleas of guilty. J. L. Warren was acquitted of robbery with firearms yesterday. R. L. Hughes was acquitted on the same charge. The two Grossman brothers charged with forgery were given suspended sentences after pleas of guilty.

The judge has lost only one of the cases in which he was appointed to represent the defendant. John Kennedy was given three years for forgery.

The judge likes youth and he likes the suspended sentence law as much as the district attorneys and the court dislike it. When the judge is appointed to defend a man, the ensuing proceedings is no cut and dried affair. One would think the judge gets an enormous fee, by the way he works at the case.

BLAST CAUSES BEING PROBED

PALESTINE, Oct. 21. (AP)—An investigation was launched today into the mysterious explosion which wrecked two business buildings and injured five persons, one seriously.

Miss Marie Moser, 19, was the most seriously hurt. Others injured were her father, M. A. Moser, an insurance man, Jewett Lamier, T. A. Fitzgerald and H. T. Fotopoulos.

Belief was expressed that the blast yesterday was centered in the rear of the Moser office, but opinion differed as to whether a high explosive or some natural agent such as accumulated gas, caused it. The Ash and the Trice buildings were wrecked.

A Jersey steer caught ravaging yards in the city is on a heavy diet at the city pound. He is being advertised and will be sold if he is not claimed.

Payne Hollingshead and Mrs. Pauline Thurman, postal clerks, are ill at their home of lagrippe.

Hundred Miners Die In Explosion—Many Trapped

ALSDORF, Germany, Oct. 21. (AP)—At least 100 coal miners and surface workers perished today in a terrific explosion of a store of dynamite in the number two shaft of the Anna coal mine.

The explosion ignited a gasoline tank underneath the office building of the Eschweiler Mining company.

The fate of 200 men on a level lower than where the explosion occurred was still uncertain late this afternoon, but it was hoped to save those trapped as the effect of the blast was more severe upward than in a downward direction.

GRAY COUNTY GIRLS AT CAMP OF 4-H CLUBS

Four Gray county 4-H club girls are attending the girls encampment at the Texas State fair in Dallas this week. They are Alta Davis, Laketon, Ruby Lee Jones of Grandview, and Ruby Lee Clemmons and Lucile Cox, both of Eldridge. The group is chaperoned by Mrs. W. S. Greenlee.

Each of these girls has qualified for the trip by making a uniform cap and apron, a linen dresser scarf, all of high quality, and because of their interest in club work.

Poultry is also a project of Ruby Lee Jones and Alta Davis. Miss Davis raised 11 chickens, valued at $6.22 with an expenditure of $1.93. The other two girls carried out garden demonstrations, with the exception of Miss Davis, the girls did work in food preparation, canning, and table service. They have kept a record of their work.

Lucile Cox won first prize on her dresser scarf at the Amarillo Tri-State exposition, and she also won fifth place on uniform cap.

Miss Clemmons won second at the Amarillo Tri-State exposition on her dresser scarf.

Donations that make the trip possible were given by the following: Rose Motor company $3; Pampa News-Post and Office Supply department $5; the Grandview community $10, the proceeds of a pie supper, American National bank of McLean $5; Hope and Lynch gin of McLean $5; C. A. Strandberg of Puckett's Cash store at McLean $2.50; Hamilton-Doolin Hardware store of McLean and the C. M. Stone store $4. McLean contributions were solicited by Mrs. Scott Johnston.

Miss Myrtle Miller, Gray county home demonstration agent, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Thomas and family left Tuesday morning for San Angelo, where home demonstration agents and county agents from five districts, covering half the state will meet Oct. 23-24-25.

Federal Terms Given Several

Six Pampa citizens were given jail sentences by Judge Wilson in federal court at Amarillo yesterday.

Mr. Fred Myers drew a 30-day term in the Gray county jail on a charge of violating prohibition laws. Mrs. Irene Mathis was given a like sentence for a similar offense.

Mr. and Mrs. Murr Smith entered pleas of guilty on charges of possession of liquor for the purpose of sale and were given 18 months each in separate institutions.

C. W. Triplett testified that he made his first and last liquor sale in Pampa. He was also sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Jack Evans drew 30 days in jail on a charge of transporting liquor. White Burke is to be tried later on a charge of sale of liquor.

Coming Back

Mary Garden will return to Texas soon for three concerts, the cities chosen being Amarillo, Dallas, and Waco. She will sing in Amarillo at the auditorium on the evening of Nov. 3. On account of previous criticisms made of her there, she is expected to draw a tremendous crowd, according to Wilbur C. Hawk of the Globe-News and Tri-State fair, who is in charge of ticket sales.

FIFTH STORY IS CONSIDERED

Coombs and Worley Are Likely to Enlarge Plans

A proposal to add a fifth story to the Coombs-Worley building, the basement for which is now being excavated at the corner of Kingsmill and Russell, is being considered by the builders.

The additional floor may not be included in the plans which have not yet been completed by Architect W. R. Kaufman, and decision to build the fifth story may be made after actual construction of the building has been started.

It was originally planned to erect a four-story building, and additional floors later if needed. Estimated cost of the structure is $120,000. The building contract will be let as soon after the plans are completed as possible.

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 21. (AP)—R. H. Smith, Greenville manager of the state telephone company, was found dead in his automobile near Carlsbad last night. Smith's body was slumped over the steering wheel and the lights of the automobile were burning. Death was attributed to heart trouble.

J. M. Dodson was duck hunting today.

Hayward Thompson Is to Be Thoroughly Examined

"About 12 o'clock Friday I'll eat a light lunch. That's the last bite I'll have until I have completed my blindfold drive through the streets of Pampa Saturday afternoon."

So stated Hayward Thompson, par-optic wizard, who has thrilled the masses of virtually every large city in this country with his blindfold automobile driving through streets jammed with traffic and lined with people clamoring to glimpse him as he has rolled past.

Kirby Hurls Challenge on Bonds

WILL REPLY TO CIRCULAR ABOUT ISSUE

Statements Are Not Accurate, Asserts Commissioner

Commissioner Thos. O. Kirby announced today in a statement to the Daily News that on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the district court room, he will publicly reply to arguments contained in a circular entitled, "Too much bonds, too much road," which was circulated in Gray county yesterday. He also challenged any of the persons who signed the circular to an open debate upon the contents of it and the issuance of road bonds.

A statement in the circular which says that Gray county proposes to take over approximately 10 miles of road on Highway No. 66, lying in Donley county, was characterized as "unfair, and, in part, untrue," by Mr. Kirby.

Mr. Kirby's statement follows: "My attention has been called to a circular being distributed in Gray county by J. N. Duncan and numerous others opposing the road bond issue for precinct No. 5 which will be voted on Oct. 25. This circular contains a statement that Gray county proposes to take over approximately 10 miles of road on Highway 66 which the circular says lies in Donley county. This circular contains other statements unfair and, in part, untrue in their nature, and I now ask that you publish the following challenge made by me, as a citizen, a tax-payer and county commissioner of Gray county, viz: "That on Thursday evening, Oct. 23, at 8 o'clock, in the district court room in the courthouse, I will publicly reply to the statements contained in the circular above mentioned, before an open mass meeting to be held by the voters of Precinct No. 5, and challenge any person whose name was signed to the circular to meet me at said meeting in open debate, upon the matters contained in said circular and proposed issuance of bonds."

Crude Total for Week Is Larger

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 21. (AP)—Daily average production of crude oil in the United States for the week ended Oct. 18 is estimated by the Oil and Gas Journal at 2,368,561 barrels, an increase of 6,904 over the preceding week's figure.

West Texas and Rocky Mountains led in the upward movement, West Texas having an increase of 10,176 barrels to place its production at 282,965 and a gain of 7,062 barrels placing the Rocky Mountain area's output at 108,012.

The total for the Midcontinent region, including both light and heavy gravity oils, was 1,285,820 barrels, an increase of 7,001. The West Texas shift accounted largely for the gain. Oklahoma production, estimated at 544,510 was down 3,315 barrels, and Kansas' production declined 3,005 to 112,615 barrels.

Eastern production was placed at 113,000 barrels, a drop of 1,000 while California production including both light and heavy, was down 2,000 barrels, the light oil output being 502,000, a decline of 1,000 barrels, and the heavy oil output 87,000 barrels, likewise a drop of 1,000.

Exhaust Noise Held Excessive

Exhaust noise from engines of the Gray County creamery was held to be excessive by Judge W. R. Ewing in 31st district court this afternoon. The court allowed the defendant, Henry Gerhard, 15 days in which to reduce the noise to such an extent that it would not prevent J. E. Williams and his tenants from sleeping.

Williams was the plaintiff in a petition for an injunction which would restrain the creamery from operating engines which the plaintiff alleged produced excessive noises, interfering with the sleep and peace of mind of his tenants and himself. Testimony was heard last week in a lengthy hearing. A dozen "specialists" on noises from various engines of the community testified.

Curtis Douglass represented the defendant, while Judge S. D. Steunis represented the plaintiff.

Wisconsin Postal Employee Wipes Out Family and Kills Himself

WASHBURN, Wis., Oct. 21. (AP)—A family of six was wiped out today when George Froese, assistant postmaster here many years, killed his wife and four children with a hammer and then slashed his throat at his home here.

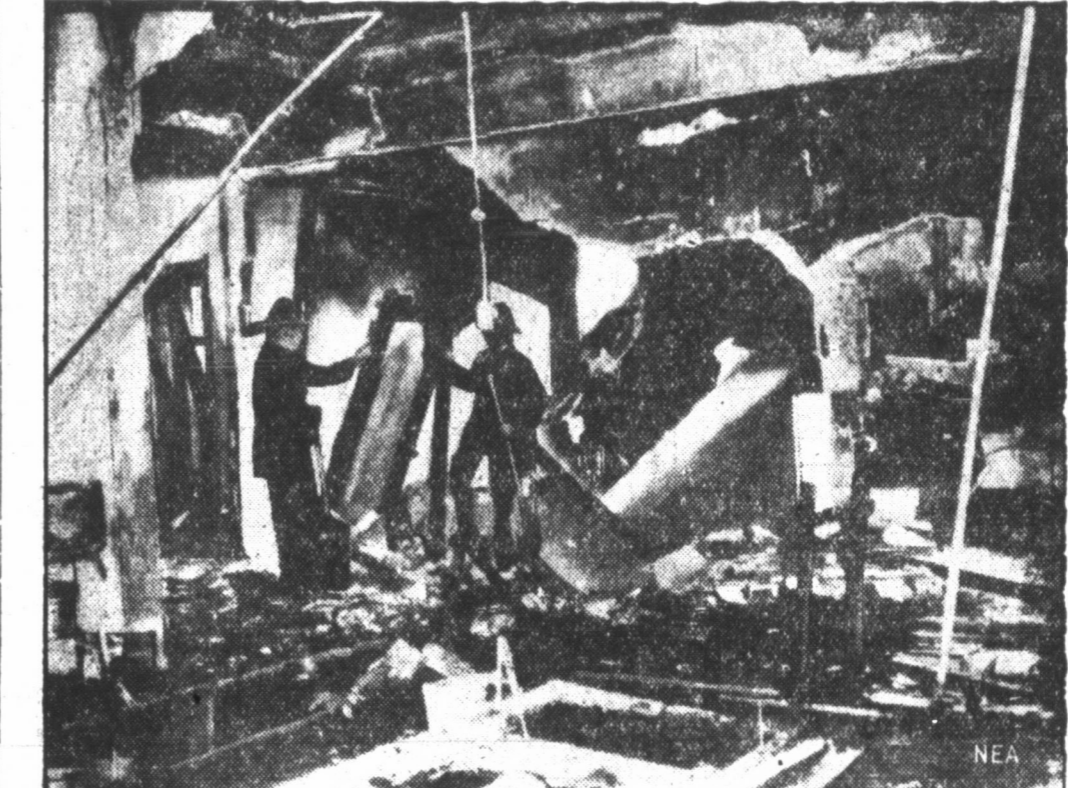

The dead in addition to Mr. Froese, 60 years old, are: Mrs. Froese, 45; Nell, 10; George and William, twins, 9; and Adelaide, 5.

When Robert Thoreson, a youngster, came to school this morning he told his teacher, Mrs. E. W. Olson, he thought "the Froese kids would not be at school."

The youngster, questioned by the teacher, said he went to the Froese home to return a book to one of the boys, and as he entered the back door, which was open, he saw Mrs. Froese on the floor and "blood all around her."

The child said he became frightened when he saw the woman's body and did not stop to see whether the Froese boys were home. He went directly to school and did not tell any one until he saw the teacher.

What The Los Angeles Explosion Did

This striking telephoto shows the interior of a room in the 11-story Garment Capital building in Los Angeles, following a fire and explosion that practically destroyed the building, caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damage, shook the heart of the city's industrial district and injured at least 40 people. The force of the explosion can be seen by noting the demolished steel stairway back of the firemen.

City Valuations Climbing

A. W. Pollard Is Pneumonia Victim

A. W. Pollard, 57, proprietor of the Economy Bldg Works, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia last night at a local hospital.

Funeral services were to be held today at 1:30 o'clock at the G. C. Malone funeral home with the Rev. A. A. Hyde, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in charge. The body will be sent this afternoon to Parkersburg, W. Va., for burial.

Chickens Stolen From Hendricks Farm Monday

Thieves made a second visit last night to the poultry house of Otis Hendricks who lives eight miles southwest of Pampa. This time Otis did not hear them, therefore did not get in his car and run them down as he did a month ago when they attempted a raid.

This morning, Otis counted his flock of white leghorns and found 90 missing. He is bitter against chicken thieves and resents the fact that there is a suspended sentence law.

When two men visited his poultry house a month ago, Otis saw them just as they were driving away. He jumped into his car and overtook them a mile down the road. They entered pleas of guilty and were given suspended sentences last week.

G. O. P. Unity Is Urged at Meeting

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21. (AP)—A plea for unity in an effort to elect a Republican governor of Texas was before Republicans of the state today after a meeting of party workers here.

Captain J. F. Lucy of Dallas, campaign manager for Col. W. E. Talbot of Dallas, gubernatorial candidate, told the meeting yesterday a Republican governor could be elected by the expenditure of $50,000 in legitimate channels. Capt. Lucy asserted President Hoover was faced with more determined opposition than any other president except those of war periods and called upon Republicans to stand firmly behind him. Other speakers were Colonel Talbot and R. B. Creager of Brownsville, national committeeman.

PAR-OPTIC WIZARD TO FAST

Beer Runner Is Likely Drowned

DETROIT, Oct. 21. (AP)—A lugger said to be running beer from River-ville, Ont., struck and overturned a duck boat in Detroit river at 4:30 a. m. today, and one of the two occupants of the latter craft apparently was drowned.

The second man in the duck boat, Oscar Lafret of Riverside, was picked up by a second lugger, which he said also was a beer carrier. He was taken to the Canadian shore and made his way to the police station, whence he was taken home. He said his companion was William Blockson of Detroit.

GOVERNOR IS SEEN BY BIG DELEGATION

Moody Finds Little Reason to Call Legislators

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (AP)—Without definitely refusing, Governor Dan Moody today reiterated his strong reluctance to call a special session of the legislature to appropriate drought relief funds.

He outlined his reasons to a committee of West Texas bankers, representing some 15 counties who had reached the conclusion that state aid was the only hope for destitute farmers in about 54 West Texas counties.

His objections were: Extreme doubt that a quorum could be obtained of the 41st legislature, which goes out of existence with the election of the new legislature in November; some doubt as to whether the legislature, if assembled, would pass such a measure; a special session which could only authorize the state to loan money, would considerably jeopardize the chance of getting a federal appropriation, which would not have to be repaid; and finally, the fact that the state, as usual at this time of the year, has insufficient money in the treasury to furnish drought relief funds.

The governor said he had talked to many members of the 41st legislature, and that the sentiment was overwhelmingly against another special session.

After nearly three hours of discussion, the committee decided to return to West Texas, and call another conference of business men and bankers, and see whether the governor's suggestion of utilizing the resources of federal land banks, through credit corporations, could be effected. They also planned to poll members of the legislature and to confer with Ross S. Sterling, Democratic nominee for governor, regarding his attitude toward drought relief.

If, at this subsequent meeting, it is again decided that state aid is the only possible aid, the governor will be again approached.

It was suggested by Moody that credit corporations be set up with county warrants, issued for that purpose, to comprise the capital necessary for these organizations; and that loans be made to farmers through these corporations, with a mortgage on next year's crop as security.

Many objections were voiced to the plan, but it was decided to discuss the proposition further.

Picturing conditions in the drought area, members of the committee predicted a possible widespread outbreak of lawlessness.

W. E. Lowe, De Leon banker, declared that he had lived in West Texas 53 years and that conditions were worse than they had been since the drought of 1886-87.

Rapid Growth Will Be Reflected in Total

Without any definite goal in mind except to equalize tax assessments and to take advantage of the city's growth, the city equalization board today had reached a total of $6,855,519 with the prospect of going considerably higher in the remaining week of work.

The city valuations last year reached $5,630,000. The new assessments will reflect for the first time in several years the sensational growth of the city, and the tax total will be similarly higher.

Additional revenue will be greatly needed on account of the expanding departments. The fire, water, and street departments are growing in scope and necessarily in expense. The cost of keeping up the new city hall and grounds and the fire station grounds will be larger than in the past.

That the valuations are not high is shown by the fact that renditions are consistently below 75 per cent. In many older cities, it is pointed out, valuations usually average one million dollars for each one thousand and population. The budget for the coming year is being drawn by City Manager F. M. Gwin, and the new tax rate will be set in the near future.

Football Team Is Crippled By Ineligibilities

With five Harvesters falling in their studies during the current week, one incapacitated by a boil on the knee, and three suspended for breaking training, Coach Odus Mitchell today faced the prospect of sending a second string eleven against the Plainview Bulldogs Saturday.

Albert Lard, quarterback, may recover from his knee infection in time to play, and with Captain Saulsbury, Chastain, Kahl, Ledrick, Barnett and James will compose the backfield squad.

Hard work may enable the "flunked" players to play in the later games, but the school board will have to approve of the reinstatement of the three suspended men, who are accused of drinking.

"I don't blame the boys as much as some of the adult citizens who have been encouraging the players to waste their time and, in a number of instances, to take drinks," Coach Mitchell told The News.

The players' grades are examined each week, and the boys are declared eligible or ineligible as the case may be on a weekly basis.

The boys suspended said that they took drinks of beer, but that it was the first time this year. They had broken training. They were broken-hearted today when called before school officials and the grand jury. They predicted that the rest of the year would show a model team.

BUILDING UP OF PAMPA

The opening of the Worley Hospital marks another step in the advancement of Pampa toward a neater and modern city. It is a building of beauty and is modernly equipped to care for the sick.

Along with the construction of public buildings, many new homes are being built in the city. This last week permits were issued for the construction of a number of homes.

A city is known by its homes. Visitors driving thru here will notice that new homes are being completed and they will be impressed by the fact and will tell others in distant places how nice the city appears.

There is a shortage of modern homes in the city. We need more of them to provide proper dwellings for families here and those who are coming every day.

Civic pride begins with the home. A citizen takes great pride in the fact if he has a beautiful home with a lawn in order and a sprinkling of flowers. This citizen has a right to be proud.

NONE TOO OLD TO LEARN

Often one hears an uneducated man bewail his lot, complaining that he never had a chance to acquire an education. Usually such a man is one who actually labors not more than eight hours a day. He overlooks the fact that he could easily devote three or four hours daily to profitable reading and study, whereby he might overcome the handicap of which he complains.

Too many get the idea that unless they acquire an education in early life they must remain in ignorance. No greater mistake can be made. It is not when one begins to learn, but when one stops, that counts.

The trouble with the man or woman who goes through life in ignorance is usually nothing but sheer laziness. Think of Lincoln, getting an education at night from borrowed books, studied by the light from a fire-place. Or of Andrew Johnson, who only learned to write after he was married, and received an elementary education through his wife's instruction. Yet both rose to the office of President of the United States.

How great the opportunities of even the humblest, today, in comparison with those of Lincoln and Johnson. Books, magazines and newspapers are within the reach of all. Machinery has given everyone greater leisure of self-improvement, if such is really desired.

No one need remain uneducated unless he deliberately chooses to remain so.—Wellington Leader.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Oct. 19.

The golden text was from I John 2:12. "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous; and He is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world."

Included in the service was the passage from the Bible (John 14:6). "Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me."

There was also read this citation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scripture," by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 18): "Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage. His mission was both individual and collective. He did life's work aright not only in justice to himself, but in mercy to morals—to show them how to do theirs, but not to do it for them nor to relieve them of a single responsibility."

FEMININE FANCIES

BY HOLLYCE SELLERS

How refreshing to meet some one who is really charming! Every one is attractive at times, but occasionally we see one of a striking unusual type of person who is attractive at all times, and whose charm seems to be a second nature. Yet in nine cases out of 10, the charm is not second nature. It is studied just the same as grammar is studied, although few realize this fact as does the Young Women's Christian Association at Texas Technological college.

The Tech Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring a charm school for freshman girls. A series of lectures has been arranged by this organization, and a demonstration follows each lecture, in order that the girls may have the opportunity to put into practice that which is being discussed.

The first of the lecture series, held last week at the home of Dr. Paul W. Horn, Tech president, concerned "Etiquette of the Dance," and was given by the physical education instructor for women.

Upon entering, guests were met by a receiving line, and were directed to a register. During the evening they held informal conversations with partners and were served punch by members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. About 80 girls were present.

The girl is fortunate who is able to attend such classes. In most schools and colleges, the students learn physics and dramatics and business administration, but they must work out their own salvation so far as charm is concerned.

A wise girl, however, will study a charm lesson just as she studies a physics lesson, even though she may not be able to actually attend a class. The world about her is her laboratory. She may use it as she will. She may be gracious, and neat, and pleasant, and will find the road to success and happiness much easier than would be possible without these qualities.

Hundred Forty-Two Girls Are Making Use of New Home Economics Rooms; Modern Equipment Used Thruout

The latest addition to the Central department has been surprisingly large during the past few years. At the beginning of the year 1928-29 there were 80 pupils, last year there were 110, and this year the number has increased to 152. The subject is elective, and may be counted as a science.

Each room has hardwood floors, several large windows and several ceiling lights.

The clothing room is equipped with a show case, two built-in ironing boards, and six machines, two of which are electric. Twelve clothing tables, a sink, and bent wood chairs are yet to be installed. The clothing room opens into a fitting room, where ample hanging space and cabinet drawers are provided.

Combination Room
Of particular interest is the combination room, 21x14 feet, which may be used as a bedroom, a living room and a dining room. In this room is a handsome fireplace of imitation stone, bracket lights, and a closet for a roll-away bed, and French doors lead into an entrance hall 10x8 feet.

In the combination room are to be placed a refractory table, occasional chairs, a floor lamp, a mirror and a settee. A floor lamp and a mirror are to be among the hall furnishings.

Green and Ivory Used
Green and ivory are two colors featured in the unusually attractive foods laboratory. The walls are ivory colored, and the seven stoves, the storage cabinet, the 13 Hoosier cabinets and stools are of the two favored colors. There are six large windows and six ceiling lights in this room, and it is also equipped with an automatic heater and blackboards.

Princess to Wed Bulgarian King in Upper Church

ASSISI, Italy, Oct. 21. (AP)—Last minute change in the program of the wedding Saturday of Princess Giovanna and King Boris of Bulgaria transferred the ceremony from the lower church of St. Francis to the larger upper church.

The marriage and benediction, with a low mass, will be celebrated before the high altar. After this the bridal couple with the other members of the royal families and their followers, will proceed to the lower church, to pay their respects to the tomb of the venerable Maria of Savoia, one of Giovanni's ancestors.

The wedding party will then go by automobile to the city hall where the matrimonial act will be signed. President Federzoni of the senate acting as notary of the crown.

The upper church, completed in 1253, is a more cheerful edifice than the lower, and considered the more suitable for the wedding.

A quality you would want if you knew all of the facts

Fact No. 15. The hand that makes a cheap thing falters, if ever so slightly, when it attempts to make a fine thing. The finest things invariably come from those who make only fine things. Schilling is the one coffee roaster who produces one grade of coffee only. There are no 2nd or 3rd grade Schilling coffees—no cheap blends—no dual standards of quality. Heart Hungry

CHAPTER VI

It was Wednesday night that Margaret Rogers wrote the letter. Two days later a man, middle-aged, well-dressed and obviously prosperous, paced up and down a room in the Belvedere Hotel. Once he stopped, snapped his fingers impatiently and then strode on again. He paused before the telephone.

"This is Mitchell in room 716," he said sharply. "Have there been any calls for me?"

"No, Mr. Mitchell."

"You're sure, are you?"

The feminine voice assured him she was quite sure. Why shouldn't she be? It was the third time in half an hour that the guest in room 716 had put the same inquiry.

John Mitchell replaced the telephone. Then he glanced at a wrist watch, seated himself in a large overstuffed chair and began drumming his fingers on the chair arm.

According to the watch there were still 10 minutes to wait.

Nonsense to be so upset over this interview he told himself once more. Relax! That was what he needed to do—just relax!

The plan didn't seem to work. Three minutes later he was again pacing the floor.

John Mitchell was a large man, tall, with a figure that was well filled out but not stout. He looked like a golfer who also enjoyed his meals. His hair had been dark once—nearly black. Now there was more than a sprinkling of gray in it though, from his face one would have placed the man's age at about 50. As a matter of fact, John Mitchell knew how to drive a bargain. Indeed he knew how to turn the color in his cheeks indicated an excellent digestion and the man looked in splendid health. His tailoring (he wore a suit of dark gray) was the sort to be expected of a man of taste who ordered the best casually and thought no more of it.

Stuffed away in a pocket of that suit was the letter Margaret Rogers had written. It was a brief note. It read:

"Dear John: I can not give you an answer immediately. There are so many things to be considered. Perhaps if you could come here so that we can talk matters over and come to a clear understanding it could be settled more easily. I want to do what is right. That is all that I can say now. Very sincerely, Margaret."

Mitchell had sent two telegrams on receipt of that letter. He was waiting now for Margaret Rogers' arrival.

The telephone buzzed insistently. "Hello—yes!" the man answered. Then his voice changed entirely. "Oh—you've come? I'll be down immediately."

He looked at his watch as he stepped out of the room, noting his visitor was just five minutes late. Mitchell was frowning a few seconds later when he emerged from the elevator into the hotel lobby. He also was making a tremendous effort not to appear selfconsciously. Slowly he surveyed the big room. His frown deepened. He was turning when a low voice spoke at his elbow.

"You're John Mitchell, aren't you?"

"Yes. My name's Mitchell."

The pair stared at each other. Mitchell's eyes were stony, unbelieving. Margaret answered his gaze unflinchingly.

"It's Margaret," he said simply.

She wore a black crepe frock (her best one) with touches of white lace at the neck. It had been remade more than once by her clever fingers, but it was becoming. Her close-fitting turban emphasized the lustre of those really beautiful brown eyes. When her eyes spoke no one thought much about Margaret Rogers' other features, which were not particularly good though neither were they particularly irregular. She was pale and there was a fervor about her manner in contrast to the man's cool aloofness.

"Margaret!" he exclaimed. Then the high color in his cheeks darkened. "Yes—yes, of course. You've changed," he added.

"Shall we find somewhere to talk?" the woman asked.

He led the way into a lounge adjoining the lobby. It was deserted except for a young woman reading a newspaper. Mitchell pointed out two chairs in the distant corner. They moved over to them and sat down.

"This will do," Margaret agreed. "Yes, I've changed. You have changed too, John."

"No doubt! Well, it's been a long time—" he seemed embarrassed, dropped the sentence and hurried on. "I'm fatter. Don't get as much golf as I used to. Ought to have more exercise. But I feel pretty well just the same."

"You look well!"

"Think so?" John Mitchell eyed his companion closely. "I wouldn't have known you, Margaret."

"I'm not surprised. I didn't expect you to."

"Wouldn't have known you?" Mitchell repeated as though trying to convince himself of a surprising truth.

"Haven't we better—get at what you came to talk about?"

The man nodded. The mask-like expression settled over his face again.

"I want Celia," he said abruptly. He said it as a man accustomed to taking the things he desired.

Margaret Rogers' lips quivered but with an effort she kept them firm. "I don't know—" she began. Mitchell broke in ruthlessly. "It's the only thing for the child," he insisted. You ought to see that.

"What can you give her? What future have you planned for her here? She's finished high school. Seventeen—almost a young woman. What's she going to do now?"

Margaret was swift in her own defense.

"Celia's been happy," she defied him.

He scoffed.

"She's a child. Now she needs to learn the world. Is she talented? I'll give her training in the finest school in this country or in Europe. If she wants society I'll take care of that, too. I can do it. I can give her everything in the world she needs! Margaret, don't you see—?"

"Schools and money aren't everything," the woman countered. "I want her to have a chance for happiness. I want her to be safe!"

She put her hand to her face but John Mitchell did not notice the quick motion. "He did not notice that when Margaret's hand dropped the fingers were wet with tears.

"It can all be arranged very easily," Mitchell was saying. "I'm in New York now. Moved there two months ago." He mentioned the name of an immensely respected legal firm which he was affiliated. "Of course I still have interests in Chicago but this new connection means I'll spend most of my time in New York."

"But what about Celia?"

"I've arranged everything," Mitchell insisted. "She'll stay with my mother in the old Grammercy Square place. I'm there too. Mother may be getting old but no one could launch a girl socially better than she can. Mother knows everyone. She'll introduce her to the right people. In the fall I'll send Celia to Europe."

The whirlwind of plans was too much for Margaret Rogers.

"But I don't know—" she faltered. "I haven't said—"

"You haven't said you'll let her come but you'll do it. Great heavens! What can you offer to compare with this?"

"I can't offer anything," said Margaret through firm lips, "except what I've given her all her life. I'm willing to work for her. I'm willing to anything to make her happy."

"Then that's the answer!" the man said elated.

"Is it?" the woman asked gravely. "Are you so sure?"

John Mitchell's cheeks darkened.

"Celia is mine," Margaret Rogers reminded him firmly. "I don't have to give her up!"

"No!" The man's voice rose sharply. "You don't have to give her up. My God, Margaret, you've robbed me of every happiness! You took her away. Do you want to ruin my whole life?"

He had forgotten where they were and so had Margaret. She was in the past again. Scenes forgotten for years flashed crystal clear through her mind.

"Don't—don't say that, John!" Margaret gasped.

Mitchell was on his feet.

"Where is she? When can I see her?" he asked.

Margaret Rogers was very pale. "You can see her," she said. "She's—lovely, John. She's—beautiful! Celia doesn't know anything about all this. She thinks she's going to be a stenographer and earn $20 a week. Oh, I'm so proud of her. I want her to have the very best."

The man's gaze was far away.

"Does she look like you?" he wanted to know.

Margaret shook her head negatively.

"Not very much. Around the eyes maybe. Her hair curls—it's light brown. Big eyes and she's usually laughing. She taller than I am. Slim but not skinny like so many young girls. Celia will be 10 next month."

"I know."

Both of them were silent for a time. Mitchell's eyes were downcast. It was a moment of crisis and Margaret Rogers was making a tremendous effort.

"John," her words came finally in tortured rushes, "I'm trying—trying so hard not to be selfish. You can take her if you'll agree to my terms. You'll have to promise!"

"What are the conditions?" Mitchell asked harshly.

Margaret leaned forward, her face close to his.

"Promise," she said tensely, "that Celia shall never—know!"

MANY COLLEGES OF T. I. A. A. ARE TO MEET THIS WEEK

BAYLOR GAVE EXHIBITION IN GRID SPIRIT

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Oct. 21.—It will be some time before the Southwest conference sees a "fighting" exhibition than that put on by the Baylor Bears Saturday, when they came from behind to score two touchdowns and tie Southern Methodist's famed aerial circus, 14 to 14.

There might have been a time, no later than last year, when the critics were justified in questioning the Bruins' fighting spirit. There were times when the 1929 Bear machine—excepting the ever-flaming Jake Wilson—seemed not to care particularly whether it won or not. But there can be no doubt after Saturday's battle that the 1930 Bears are made of different stuff. They carried an air of grim determination that fairly struck out from the ancient they trotted on Carroll field.

The fact is likely to mean a lot before the current campaign is over. With their present fiery attitude, the Baptists are a very dangerous set of young men, capable of defeating any team that tackles them in the playful spirit the Mustangs did. It never seemed to occur to the rolling Methodists that they were poking at a hornet's hacienda until they were badly stung. But for several tough breaks, such as Pierce dropping a pass in his arms across the goal line, the Bears might have won by a decisive margin.

The game at Waco, proved, among other things, that Wilson still is the Southwest's greatest ball carrier in an open field, and that Southern Methodist has just another football team when "Speedy" Mason, half-back, and Malcolm Powell, center, are on the sidelines.

Wilson was as elusive as a greased pig on punt returns, usually dodging or shaking off three or four tacklers before he was brought down. His 20-yard run in the final period that enabled Baylor to score its first touchdown was a marvel. It started some 15 yards behind the line of scrimmage, after Jake had been unable to spot a pass receiver. At least six Mustangs had their hands on the Baylor mite as he twisted and danced up the field before two of them finally stopped him on the five-yard line.

It is difficult to say which the Mustangs missed most, Mason or Powell. Their backfield lacked the polish and punch it has with "Speedy" in there. Their running attack was less sharp, and their passing at times pathetic, both of the long and short variety. Mason, there can be little doubt now, is the dynamo of the Methodists' backfield. Powell's great work in backing up the line on defense was sorely missed, and a bad pass from his understudy at center cost the methodics one bright opportunity to score after they had driven to the 10-yard zone.

While Wilson was playing one of his best games for Baylor, two other all-conference backs of last year were having next to no luck at all. The Aggies had Cy Leland shackled all afternoon at College Station, the Frog Flash seldom getting away for more than a yard from scrimmage and being stopped dead on punt returns. Cy can count on being a well marked man in every conference game.

Dexter Shelley suffered a similar fate against the Oklahoma Sooners here. The Longhorn captain, who ripped the Sooners wide open a year ago, had two men on his back in every play, detailed to stop him at all costs. They did just that, rattling him so badly that he finally was pulled by Coach Littlefield. Fortunately, however, the Steers had in Roy and Stafford a couple of huskies to go places when Shelley couldn't.

Light Heavy Class Is Low On Good Men

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Maxie Rosenbloom's defense of his light heavyweight championship against Able Bain of Newark in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night serves as an excellent proof of the scarcity of first-class 175-pounders. Bain is a fair workman but he does not appear to have a chance against Rosenbloom, a canny veteran who has slapped and roughed his way to victory over most of the good light heavyweights in the last two or three years.

Only a year ago the division was filled with first-class fighting men such as Tommy Loughran, Jimmy Slattery, Leo Lomski, Larry Johnson, Tuffy Griffiths, Jimmy Braddock, Rosenbloom and a host of others. Most of these abandoned the 175-pound class to go after bigger game, but none of them with conspicuous success.

Negro Boxer Is Under Charge As Opponent Dies

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Warren Hogan, New York negro light heavyweight, was under arrest on a technical charge of homicide today in connection with the death of Carl Baldus, German boxer. Baldus collapsed and died in the ring of the New Lenox sporting club last night.

Baldus and Hogan were matched in one of the four-round preliminaries and had put up an even battle for two rounds. In the third, Hogan landed a hard right to the heart that hurt the German although he was able to raise his gloves in defense. Before another exchange of blows, however, Baldus slumped to the canvas and was counted out by the referee, Mike Hylas. Unconscious, he was carried to a dressing room and the club physician summoned. After an examination he was pronounced dead. An autopsy will be held to determine the cause of death.

Baldus, who was 25 years old, came to this country three years ago but had never fought professionally until last night.

Angels Crippled For Big Series

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—The Los Angeles Angels will go into the coast playoff here tomorrow against the Hollywood Stars with a crippled infield.

Frank Sigafos, hard hitting second baseman, was said to be suffering water on the knee and definitely out of the series. Fred Haney, clouting third baseman, pulled a tendon in his leg and may not play.

The only Hollywood casualty was Mickey Heath, first sacker, whose foot was hit by a foul tip off his own bat.

WEST TEXAS TEACHERS TO MEET BILLIES

CANYON, Oct. 21. (Special)—This week will find at least eight other of the T. I. A. A. schools pitted against each other. Three of these, Denton Teachers, Sam Houston, and Daniel Baker, will be playing their first conference tilts. Daniel Baker has not fared quite so well. But Daniel Baker has seen against such competition as Simmons university of Abilene and Loyola university of New Orleans, and they may prove to have plenty of stuff, when they meet conference competition.

The West Texas Teachers will meet Daniel Baker at Brownwood Thursday night of this week, and although they will be playing away from home and will be in somewhat crippled condition, the Buffs are favored to win from the Billies.

The Buffs have been pointing to this game and are expected to play a better brand of football than they have displayed so far this year.

The Daniel Baker Hillbillies are expected to be a tougher outfit than the Buffs have encountered in conference competition this year.

Friday night the Denton Teachers will pay a visit to the Abilene Christian college Wildcats at Abilene. The Cats started the conference season strong by knocking over the McMurry Indians 24 to 0, but lost the next week to the West Texas Buffs 16 to 7 and a week later tied the San Marcos Bobcats at 6 all.

Denton has not played a conference game but has made a good showing against Southwest conference schools, and has defeated two Texas conference aggregations. Denton should win from A. C. C. but the Abilene boys are excellent at upsetting the old dope bucket.

At San Marcos an average T. I. A. A. team will be seen against an average Texas conference team Friday afternoon, when the Bobcats line up against the Southwestern university Pirates.

Southwestern should win this game since they have more old men reporting this year than the Bobcats. Last year's score was 12 to 9 in favor of the Teachers, but San

San Francisco Gets Pitchers in Baseball Deal

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Acquisition of two right handed pitchers from the New York Yankees, in connection with the deal that will send Frankie Crosetti, Seal shortstop, to the Yanks in 1932, was announced today by Secretary George A. Putnam of the San Francisco club. The twirlers are Bill Henderson, who finished the season with Oakland, and Sam Gibson, who played with Toronto of the International league this year.

Putnam said the seals had one more player coming in the deal for Crosetti which involved approximately $100,000 in players and cash.

Marcos was last year's T. I. A. A. champs.

On Saturday afternoon, Sam Houston Teachers will pay a call to the East Texas Lions at Commerce and should down the Lions by at least two touchdowns. Sam Houston, in Coe and Hite, have two of the outstanding backs in the entire Southwest.

Another Saturday afternoon party for the benefit of the T. I. A. A. fans will be held at Abilene, when McMurry college will entertain the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks. McMurry was won one and lost one conference tilt, while the Lumberjacks have lost two in as many conference starts.

RESERVES TO GET CALL IN NEXT GAME

Harvester reserves are likely to play a very important part in the game with the Plainview Bulldogs here next Saturday afternoon.

In several early season games, particularly that with Perryton, the reserves showed up almost as well as the regulars, and the Canyon Eagles were unable to tell one from the other.

Added to the casualty suffered when Albert Lard went lame with a boil on the right knee is the suspension of three regulars for breaking training. These are Durwood Martindale, Ralph Poe, and Lloyd Moore, whose reinstatement to good scholastic and athletic standing rests with the school board.

The Harvesters still face a grueling schedule. After the Plainview game they must invade Vernon and Electra, then defend the home goal against Childress, Wichita Falls, and Quanah. That is no small assignment, especially since the teams south of here are showing steady improvement.

Chuck Wiggins Is Arrested For Heavy Training

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21.—Charles (Chuck) Wiggins, local heavyweight boxer whose pugilistic ability has brought him fame and at times misfortune, sat in solitary confinement in the city jail today as the result of "a little training."

He was arrested late last night after he was alleged to have "cleaned out" a restaurant, chasing patrons into the street. Police said he gave them no trouble although on a previous occasion he soundly drubbed three officers who attempted to arrest him in a northside hotel lobby.

"Just getting a little training, that's all," Wiggins remarked after he climbed into the patrol wagon. After he had fought three prisoners in the city jail, he was removed to solitary confinement.

YOUNG KOPECKY WILL BE SEEN AGAIN THURSDAY—CLINGMAN NEARLY WELL

Rob Roy will tackle Young Ernest Kopecky in the preliminary bout at the Pla-Mor wrestling program Thursday evening. Rob Roy is well known for his nerve in taking on bigger men than himself.

Kopecky is a slower pupil of the mat art but with the sideline coaching of Brother Joe he is a dangerous adversary. It is likely that Joe will be here again in the role of coach when his kid brother meets Roy.

The main interest, however, will be in the Rose-Waters piling match. Rose, ordinarily plentiful with his punches, was out-slugged last week and he has not forgotten how near he came to being removed from the Pampa wrestling throne. If he loses Thursday, it is his next move for the management will cease booking him when he is beaten.

Waters has one hope—to beat Rose and wipe out the beating he suffered at the Shreveporter's hands last week. It will be a win-at-any-cost match for both men, with the ego of each at stake.

A nervous and watchful spectator will be Otis Clingman, who has been out of the competition several weeks with an eye injury suffered while inflating a truck tire. Clingman is bearing normalcy and his doctor has promised that he will be able to wrestle by Nov. 6.

Otis has one bad cut over the eye, and must wait for it to heal. The wound was re-opened this week through contact with a skillet. The astonishing story Clingman tells is that he hit himself while whirling the utensil as he dried it. Mrs. Clingman has not yet been interrogated on this version.

A CROSS-SECTION OF CURRENT CONVERSATIONS IN CONOCOLAND

"LET ME TELL YOU: I CAN NOTICE A REAL DIFFERENCE SINCE I STARTED USING THIS GERM-PROCESSED OIL"

... and so it goes. At home, on the golf course, around the bridge table, people are talking about the new CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil. Their comments are invariably friendly, and should you take a stand on some other lubricant, you will soon find a tinge of evangelism in the arguments that face you. For how can the use of any other oil be justified?

Conoco Germ-Processed oil is the first really new oil of this century. The first oil conceived to overcome the failings of all mineral oils. The first regular stock motor oil, under the Supervision of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, to prove its superiority in the Pike's Peak Tests against three other nationally known oils. And again, in the Indianapolis and Altoona Races first to "place" in the money where no other stock oil had previously placed, at speeds of from 92 to 120 miles per hour ... and the only motor lubricant that provides "penetrative lubricity" for your motor.

Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil will serve you better, protect your motor more surely, and save you money withal. So why use a feebler lubricant, when this test-proven, sturdiest of all motor oils awaits you ... at the Sign of the Red Triangle?

POINT NO. 6
 "That using the subject oil and during each test, greater gasoline mileage for economy was obtained than during the use of the comparables."

alone at the wheel of his automobile. He's to make his Pampa exhibition Saturday afternoon, the drive commencing in front of The News-Post building.

Questions Thompson
I questioned Thompson in regards to his Chrysler 8.

"I could drive any other car just as well," he stated, "and that will be demonstrated to the skeptics when I am called upon to drive some used car make Saturday around the block, after finishing my drive at the Clauson Motor company. But I like a Chrysler because they are dependable and easy to handle."

He also went further to state that his car will be groomed by the Clauson Motor company and that those who wish to inspect the car will have an opportunity to do so when it is parked before The News-Post office next Saturday afternoon.

Takes Short Fast

I couldn't get the idea of the 24-hour fast before attempting his feat. Pointedly I asked for his explanation. He claims that his normal mental operations are suspended while he is making this miracle drive. His further claim is that he is endowed with another sense of some sort during the period which permits him to perform the seemingly impossible. What connection is there then between the digestive operation and that uncanny mental convulsion.

This questioning occurred in the Pampa Brown-bilt Shoe Store, 123 North Cuyler, where Thompson had entered to purchase a pair of Brown-bilt shoes and Joe Lazarus, owner, was plying Thompson with queries.

The Pirates have captured the window of Brown-bilt Shoe store, 123 North Cuyler street, this week. There seem to be hundreds of them—and their mission is obvious. They have come to buy treasure. All day long they walk through the wooded paths, carrying chests of gold and jewels, only to return again for more.

Joe Lazarus says that soon after the last treasure chest has been hidden in the secret cave, and the pirates have sailed away on their ship, which is now rocking lazily at anchor far out at sea, he will show another of these interesting displays in his window. There will be a demonstration here.

"I don't know," said Hayward Thompson as frankly as you please. "All that I do know is that if I have eaten a meal within 24 hours of making this drive I don't make it. I know, too, that if I should wear a pair of gloves I couldn't make it. There ought to be some scientific explanation for this condition. But there isn't."

At Close Range
I was having my first close-up of Thompson. I had heard of him a year or two back—but his drive in San Francisco—through the downtown streets with his eyes covered. I know there is no such thing as magic, but just the same magicians have always enthralled me.

After hearing of Thompson perform his feat, I was simply interested in him as a skilled legerdemain artist, who by some trickery had accomplished the impossible.

The Diamond Shop, "credit jewelers," operated by Sam A. Fenberg, is going to play an important role in the exhibition Saturday. I was in the beautiful store with Mr. Thompson and was as much surprised at the demonstration offered and to be given by Thompson, as I was at the complete stock of nationally advertised American made watches and the galaxy of blue white diamonds on display. These, I understand, can be purchased on a dignified credit arrangement and, to cap the climax, I found Sam handling the new Majestic refrigerators and radios. The demonstration to take place at this store can not be revealed at this writing but folks... when Sam A. Fenberg goes into anything you may rest assured it will be worth while seeing. Bulova watches, and 1847 Rogers Community silver will play a part... I know that.

The physical examination of Thompson interests me and I am going to try and be on hand tomorrow morning in the offices of the Mineral Wells clinic, 113 1-2

Comes Back Strong

After the World War, John G. Lutz of 1110 Waverly Ave., in San Antonio, came back home with a stomach which kept him in misery. "I couldn't find a thing to help me very much until a friend suggested I try Herbine," says Mr. Lutz, who is a service officer of Alamo Post No. 2, American Legion. "I can't say too much for Herbine since it fixed me up so I can eat again, and the pains I had in my back stopped. I never felt better in my life." Herbine helps the stomach and bowels to take care of the food you eat, so you do not suffer from the gas which causes indigestion, biliousness, sick headache and constipation. Wheat Advances

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Influenced by unlooked for sharp advances in Liverpool wheat quotations, all grain values here went higher early today. Statements credited to Chairman Lege of the federal farm board that agricultural commodity prices had reached bottom, attracted much notice and so likewise did Liverpool reports that Russian offerings of wheat abroad were fewer and at higher prices.

Opening 1-2 to 1 1-4c up. Chicago wheat future delivery contracts held near afterward to the initial range. Corn started unchanged to 1 1-8 rise and subsequently continued firm.

J. H. Thomas, 21-year-old youth was given a four-year suspended sentence on a charge of stealing an automobile. Woman Held In Shooting

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—C. Arnold Tiller of Fort Worth, wounded in a shooting last night, was in a critical condition today and hospital attendants said he probably would die. When taken to the hospital he gave two names, Clarence A. Arnold and C. A. Tiller. Police arrested a woman after the shooting.

South Cuyler, when Thompson is submitted to a complete physical examination by C. V. McCallister, chiropractor, and his medical attendants. I think the findings in the case will reveal some interesting details to the public as to the true condition of Thompson and his remarkable faculties. You will hear from me later.

Kingsford-Smith Nears His Goal

BRISBANE, Queensland, Australia, Oct. 21. (AP)—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith handed his "Southern Cross Jr." here at 4:05 p. m. today and came within 450 miles of the side of his fiancée, Miss Mary Powell, who lies ill at Sydney.

News of her indisposition was communicated to the airman, who has flown here from England in 12 days, breaking existing records. He seemed worried but was relieved by assurances that her condition was not serious and that she hoped to greet him at the landing field tomorrow.

Kingsford-Smith came here in an 850 mile flight today from Clon-curry, also in Queensland, where he stopped after departure Monday at dawn from Port Darwin, Northern Territory. He landed at Port Darwin Sunday to complete a record-breaking flight of nine days, 23 hours from England to Australia.

He will take off here at dawn tomorrow for Sydney, arriving in about five hours at the Mascot air-drome where a host of admirers are expected to greet him. His fiancée, to whom he expects to be married the last week in November, has come here from Melbourne, her home, for the occasion.

Texas Slayer To Await Chair

HOSTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—Outwardly nonchalant and smiling, Jess J. Maple, confessed robber and slayer, condemned to death for the murder of Motorcycle Officer Edward Fitzgerald, was taken to the state prison at Huntsville today to await execution November 18.

He pleaded guilty in his trial, declined to help his lawyers and would not consent to the filing of an insanity plea in his behalf.

Meanwhile, the paper-hanger's counsel plan to try to get the case before the Court of Criminal Appeals. He asked the district judge to refuse any attempt to appeal, though his lawyers insisted that one be taken.

Maple shot Fitzgerald and a fellow officer, W. B. Phares, to death on the night of September 20 after the robbery of the Touchy Furniture company by Maple and E. F. Grimes, who is under two life time sentences.

Winter Holds Its Grasp On Mountain Area

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21. (AP)—Premature winter retained a chilly grasp today on a wide area from the Rocky mountain region southeastward to Tennessee.

As additional territory to the south and east was added to sections previously invaded by frost and snow, there were indication of moderation elsewhere.

Although still below freezing, temperatures were reported slowly rising in Montana last night. Snow accompanied a rise in temperatures, still below freezing, in Wyoming. Colorado faced threats of additional snow with temperatures close to freezing.

After several days of shivering in unseasonable cold, Utah enjoyed normal temperatures again today.

Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri have been added to the states where snow has fallen and frosts were felt in Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Disrupted airmail service over the northern Rocky mountain route, wild fowling southwestward, heavy calls for help to charitable organizations, and unthreshed wheat on the prairies of Southern Canada are fruits of the widespread visitation of cold weather.
