

YOUNG ROBBER IS SLAIN

City's Alleys to Be Patrolled FIRST BROADCAST IS TONIGHT

NEW STUDIO TO BE OPENED THIS EVENING

Remote Control Plan to Be Carried
Into Effect

Pampa will go "on the air" tonight from 7 to 12 o'clock when a remote control station operating through KQRS of Amarillo will be formally opened with business men and city officials assisting.

KQRS broadcasts on 1410 kilocycles and has stepped up to its new 1,000-watt rating.

Sam Fenberg, chairman of the arrangements committee, is the official announcer. Finishing touches are being given the studio, which is located in the first floor of the new city hall. Jack Poston, commercial manager of KQRS, is supervising installation of equipment and will remain through tonight's program, which will inaugurate a weekly broadcast each Wednesday from 7 to 12 p. m.

While the program for tonight has not been reduced to a formal announcement, it will include well known local talent. Prof. Otto Schick and his students will be heard in violin numbers. Mrs. May Foreman Carr of the Pampa College of Music will play piano solos. F. C. Conzulus will sing tenor solos.

Of particular interest will be the selections by Verne Springer and his novelty entertainers, who are to be heard on a large number of instruments.

Other numbers probably will include those by the American Legion quartet, violin solos by Miss Friedman with Mrs. F. O. Clayman as accompanist, and several others.

The broadcasting is made possible by Pampa business firms who bought "time" on the air under a year's contract.

Listeners are urged to telephone their requests and messages to the number which will be given by the announcer.

Dale Released On $1900 Bond

A. C. Dale, former Santa Fe switchman, under indictment in connection with the theft of gasoline from the Phillips Petroleum company, was released from the county jail this morning on a $1,900 bond.

His bond was reduced last Saturday from $5,000 to $1,900 by agreement of the state's attorneys. When placed in jail last August his bond was set at $10,000. The present grand jury returned five joint indictments against Dale, Walter Moon and H. J. Shadwick, charging Dale and Shadwick as principals and Moon as an accomplice in the theft of 28,000 gallons of gasoline.

Dale's trial was set for Nov. 19, last week by Judge W. R. Ewing. Shadwick was given a two-year sentence last Thursday by a jury in district court. Last Saturday, he submitted a motion for a new trial, contending that the evidence against him was not sufficient to warrant his conviction as a principal. The court has not yet passed on the motion.

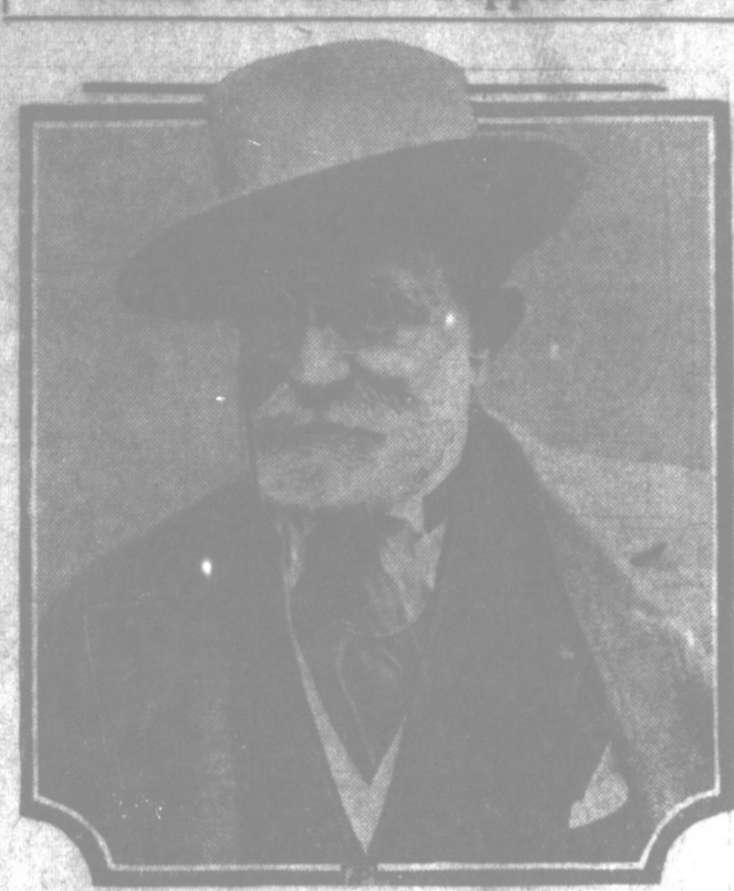

Moon was released from jail last Saturday on a $1,900 bond.

Hawley Youth Is Accidentally Killed

ABILENE, Nov. 12. (AP)—An evening of frolic, ending in the accidental discharge of a shotgun, brought death early this morning to Aubrey Dodson, 14-year-old Hawley youth. Injured at 7 o'clock at his home, the boy was brought to a hospital here where doctors amputated his right arm just below the shoulder. He died at 1 this morning.

The gun was discharged as several children were playing in a room of the Dodson home. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Dodson.

J. Ham Lewis Still Dapper at 67

James Hamilton Lewis, still spry at 67, appears as dapper now as he did a dozen years ago, when he was Democratic whip in the United States senate.

CHICAGO. (AP)—When the Chief of President Wilson's wartime Democratic family, James Hamilton Lewis, goes back to the United States senate he will find few of that clan still wearing the toga.

Those who served under his whip in the glamorous years will find him grayer now. Some of the sting is gone from his tongue, and some of the fire from his leadership.

But he is the same stylish dresser, the same courteous individual, and his voice still carries the silver, honeyed tones of old.

Lewis, the democrat, in defeating Ruth Hanna McCormick, the republican, for the Illinois senate seat closed a cycle of campaigns and personages begun 12 years ago. Then he was defeated by Medill McCormick, husband of his opponent this year.

Charles S. Deneen eliminated McCormick in the primary six years later, and last spring Mrs. McCormick won over Deneen.

A roll call of those whom Lewis knew when he was the democratic whip—political friends and foes—would bring fit and responsive.

"Woodrow Wilson—Oscar W. Underwood—Henry Cabot Lodge—Warren G. Harding, Boise Penrose—Robert M. LaFollette—Charles Oudberson—Hoke Smith—A. J. Clegg.

There are a few of the old-timers to greet "J. Ham," however—James Watson, George Norris, Key Pittman, Lee Overman, Charles McNary.

Lewis, a Virginian by birth, now is 67 years old. He grew up in Georgia—motherless, as she died at his birth. His father was a Confederate veteran.

James Hamilton went about as far west as possible—Washington—to seek his fortune. He worked as a dock laborer to study law. When he returned to Georgia to marry Miss Rose Lawton Douglas he carried a bag of gold coins to pay off creditors.

Lewis served in the Washington legislature and went to congress.

Education Week Theme in Schools

Observance of National Education week continued today with special chapel programs in Senior and Junior high schools.

Today was Know-Your-School day, and parents were visiting the various wards and observing the work done by their children.

PATROLMAN TO QUERY ALL OF PROWLERS

Burglaries Will Be Halted, Assert Officials.

Special attention will be given henceforth to alleys in the business district by night patrol men of the police guard, according to Chief J. I. Downs, who yesterday transferred J. J. Simmons from the day to the night force. Another night policeman will be added soon, it was announced. Mr. Simmons will not only patrol the alleys, but will inspect the doors, windows and skylights of business buildings. He will spend all of his time in the business district.

Any persons discovered in alleys after 11 o'clock will be detained at the police station for investigation unless they are able to give a satisfactory explanation, it was said.

"We are going to stop the annual store burglaries," City Manager F. M. Gwin said this morning. "We stopped them last year by putting on more night policemen, and we're going to stop them this year before they get a good start on us."

Robbery of Murfee's store early Sunday morning was the first burglary in the business district this year. Over $1,500 worth of merchandise was taken. The burglars entered the store through the skylight by means of a rope ladder.

The night police force now includes Bud Cottrell, desk sergeant, and patrol men, Claude Roger, Mr. Simmons and Harvey Butler. Chief Downs assigns most of the night assisting the patrolmen.

Chief Downs credits the coming winter to be the best for the policeman's standpoint in recent years. Thieves, robbery and hold-ups have been numerous in towns throughout the southwest since early fall. Sheriff E. S. Graves said yesterday that burglaries and hold-ups in Amarillo have averaged from six to a dozen every night for several weeks.

Houston Man in Jail For Murder

HOUSTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—P. C. McLemore Jr., 30, was in the city jail facing a murder charge today after a shooting last night, in which P. E. (Buddy Boy) Wilson, 26, was killed.

The shooting took place at Tom Greenwood's home, where a penny dice game had been in progress. McLemore, in a signed statement, admitted the shooting, but said the pistol discharged accidentally when struck at Wilson with it during a fight.

GALVESTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—John W. Adams, elderly former deputy sheriff, went to trial in district court here today on a charge of murdering Mrs. Marie Doherty. Mrs. Doherty was shot to death on the porch of her home last spring.

OFFICER OF SUNKEN LUMBER STEAMER TELLS OF SURVIVAL FOR 70 HOURS ON WRECKAGE

EUREKA, Calif., Nov. 12. (AP)—Jorgen M. Greve, first officer of the lumber schooner Brooklyn, which sank off Humboldt Bay Saturday with all hands, lived today to tell how he drifted more than 70 hours on a bit of wreckage in a gale-maddened sea.

He was rescued yesterday by the crew of the fishing boat Two Sisters five miles from shore slightly north of the place where the Brooklyn sank. Greve was clinging grimly to wreckage and his semi-conscious, bleeding from numerous cuts inflicted by the constant battering of angry seas and with his clothes in tatters.

General Brookfield, formerly a colonel of the 11th infantry, served overseas with the 28th division. He is professor of military strategy at Clark college and an inspector in mathematics at central high school, this city.

COFFEYVILLE, Kans., Nov. 12. (AP)—William Edward Ziegler, 71, prominent lawyer and business man and Montgomery county attorney from 1892 to 1897, died at his home here last night after an illness of more than a year.

Bartlesville Man Robbed

Utility Company Official Is Held Up on His Way to Bank

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Nov. 12. (AP)—A robber today held up O. E. Kinko, cashier of the Bartlesville Gas and Electric company while the cashier was on his way to a bank and escaped with $7,017.52.

The holdup occurred in the heart of the Bartlesville business district between the gas company's office and the Union National bank, less than a block apart.

Of the total taken, $2,483.22 was in cash.

Few spectators saw the highwayman draw a revolver and order Kinko to "stick 'em up." Officers had discovered no clue to the robber's identity this afternoon.

The money taken represented part of the gas company's monthly collections.

Samuel Insull Never Drinks, He Tells Reporters

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. (AP)—To all outward appearances Samuel Insull, head of the three billion dollar Insull utilities group, but his friends knew that it was his 71st birthday anniversary.

Arriving at his office at 7:45 a. m., with a brisk step, he finished his mail at 9, held conferences until noon, took an hour for lunch, worked all afternoon and spent the night until 11:30 o'clock going over programs and financial details of the civic opera, of which he is a principal sponsor.

"Rules of life?" he queried. "None, especially. I don't take outdoor exercise at this time of the year. Neither are my hours particularly regular. My only rule is that I never take a drink."

Mixes Designation

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 12. (AP)—If Northwestern football players move about as Wisconsin's scouts have reported, the Badgers should be able to keep track of them Saturday.

Coach Glenn Thibault has dressed his freshmen team up in white jerseys with "Bruiser," "Hank," "Baker," etc. on the front, and the numbers of the Wildcat players on the back for use in scrimmage against his varsity.

Miss Fuller, state inspector, is visiting Central high school today.

INDIAN SHOT AT MARLAND, OKLA., TODAY

Officers Get Tip on Raid and Wait for Pair

MARLAND, Okla., Nov. 12. (AP)—Two youthful bank robbers ran into a hail of officers' bullets today as they left the Marland State bank with $2,000. One, Jimmie Jackson, 25-year-old Indian of Pawhusks, was almost instantly killed, and the other, Carter Camp, 18, also of Pawhusks, was wounded and captured.

Six officers, informed in advance of the robbery, lay in wait and opened fire as the youths entered their automobile after emerging from the bank. Jackson was shot through the heart and in the right arm and died almost instantly. Camp was struck by four bullets, but it was believed he would recover.

The money, which was all of the bank's available cash, was recovered.

Camp told officers he and Jackson, while drunk, had been persuaded by another man to stage the robbery.

The officers had hidden in two stores overlooking the bank and had the robbers covered from two different directions. In the group were A. Redman, Ponca City chief of police; Elmer Cole, Ponca City chief of detectives; Ivan Webb, Ponca City policeman; Clint Means and Claude Tyler, operatives of the state bureau of criminal identification, and Henry Eham, sheriff of Noble county.

Frank Muskrat, Cherokee Indian reporter for the Ponca City News, was in the ambushing party and an eye witness.

The robbery was accomplished in a manner that has become routine for Oklahoma bank raids. J. C. Roberts, cashier, was forced to open the vault and then lie on the floor while the young outlaws collected the money.

BIDS ON WORLEY BUILDING WILL BE OPENED MONDAY— CONTRACT TO BE AWARDED

Contractors' bids for the construction of the Worley building are scheduled to be opened Monday, John R. Roby, in charge of the building program said today. It is expected that the contract will be let on that date.

Plans and specifications completed recently by Architect W. R. Kaufman have been issued to ten bidders, and competition for erection of the structure, which will be Pampa's largest and tallest, is already keen.

Contractors will submit bids on a four-story and a five-story building. When the bids are tabulated, the builders will decide whether the edifice shall contain four or five floors.

According to specifications submitted to contractors, the first floor will have six store spaces, and two lobbies, one at the south and one at the west entrance. Each of the other floors will contain 21 suites. Some of the suites will have two rooms and some will have three rooms each.

Light-colored brick of dark grey texture will be used in construction of the building. Samples of the brick on display in Mr. Roby's office show that its shade of gray has not been used in this city. The building will have a terra-cotta trim, a John Manville 20-year-roof, cement floors, steel frame. Excavation for the basement was completed the first of the week.

The builders are Mrs. Phoebe A. Worley and Albert B. Combs, Gray county ranchers.

MAGNOLIA WELL ON WEST OF CITY STRIKES GAS AT 2830 FEET THIS MORNING

Of the half dozen tests now drilling in the vicinity of the Graham-Cree-Hoover gusher, the most interesting one this morning was Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1 Latham, section 153, block 3, which struck nine million feet of gas at 2,830 feet. The gas came in with a menacing roar yesterday and truck drivers were instructed to park their machines a safe distance from the well. Oil pay in the Graham well was encountered at 2,990 feet.

Operators regarded Empire Gas and Fuel company's No. 1 Sullivan, section 136, block 3, with a great deal of pessimism this morning. It was drilling at a total depth of 3,064 feet. A fishing job was completed about 6 o'clock this morning, and drilling is going ahead. A gas flow of a million cubic feet struck between 2,600 and 2,700 feet has not increased. Pay was expected from $611 to $900 feet.

Although the well is already 50 or more feet below the Graham well, operators are still hopeful of bringing in a producer. Geologists and scouts in this area predicted that the Graham gusher was a "freak" and was not a sure indication that the oil came from a newly-discovered pool.

Magnolia's No. 2 Latham is drilling at 2,475 feet. The same company's No. 2 Hetholt is drilling at 1,940 feet.

Skelly Oil company's No. 2 Vicars, section 127, block 3, was drilled to a total depth of 3,280 feet and had an initial production of 600 barrels.

British-American-Shell's No. 3 Phillips, section 127, block 3, has 600 feet of oil in the hole at 3,285 feet, and will be shot today. Pay was struck at 3,185 feet, and increases were noted at 3,225-25 feet, 3,230-35 feet.

Shamrock Oil and Gas company's No. 1 Reynolds, section 84, block 3, is drilling at 2,830 feet and has had several small showings of oil. There is now several hundred feet of oil in the hole.

Texas company's No. 5 Harrah has 1,500 feet of oil in the hole at 2,948 feet. It is due to be brought in within two or three days.

Mid-West Exploration company's No. 1-B Taylor, section 7, block H, is standdrilling at 2,450 feet.

MOVIE FANS HAVE REALISTIC FILM FINALE

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12. (AP)—The movie audience held its breath. At last the heroic young ranch foreman had come face to face with the scheming villain who had foreclosed "the papers" and had driven the fair Gloria and her sickly father from their home.

"You cur-r-r-r-r!" hissed the villain.

Down in the front row there was a flash of fire—Bang!

In an instant, the audience, or most of it, was in the aisles, while the back rows were emptying into the street.

Two minutes later two husky policemen were hustling Paul Drescher out of the theatre. Paul was clutching a pistol.

Today he did some explaining: "Why didn't you give your correct name when you were arrested?" demanded the sergeant.

"That's the name of the kid next door and when he got pinched last year he gave mine," Paul replied.

"Why did you have that gun?" "Armistice day."

"Why did you shoot?" No answer, but that's the one he'll tell in juvenile court tomorrow.

Wets and Dries Are Clashing in Many States

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—President Hoover's law enforcement commission convened today to continue work on its prohibition report as republican wets and dries came to grips on the liquor question as a possible issue in the 1932 presidential race.

As usual, the meeting of the enforcement commissioners was executive, and Chairman Wickham stood on his announcement of a few days ago that all reports speculating on the commission's findings were "guesses."

With Former Senator Wadsworth of New York and Representative Britten of Illinois republican anti-prohibitionists, in dispute with Senator Fess, republican prohibitionist from Ohio, as to the latter's assertion the party would split if it favored repeal, Representative Eddy, republican, Maine, came out in favor of making prohibition an issue in the 1932 elections.

"I believe," the Maine member said, "that the matter of prohibition should be thoroughly discussed in the 1932 campaign and that it would be much better if the people of the country would have the right to voice their opinions."

Eddy is an ardent prohibitionist and has opposed on the floor of the house repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Eddy said he thought it advisable to settle the prohibition question in the next general election and that it would be a "helpful thing for everybody concerned."

Replying to Fess, Wadsworth said: "We want our party to be right on the only fundamental constitutional issue that has arisen since the days of the Civil war and we will fight to make it right, split or no split."

Britten urged a new chairman be selected for the Republican National committee, if Fess "is so blind or so intolerant he cannot analyze the desires of millions of voters in the progressive northern states."

Missouri Editor Tells Charming Lady Why He Can't Use Article

Editors are constantly confronted with the fact that people still believe it is "hard to fill up the paper." Recently a charming lady visitor called on George Olds, editor of the Springfield, Mo., Leader and offered to help him fill up his paper. Her article was about leaves which fall prettily from the trees at this season. The editor's classic answer was as follows, in part: "Lady, you are laboring under a popular delusion, not to mention a hallucination. Let me tell you what has come to our attention—for purposes of publication—during the past 48 hours. "The mayor of this fair city has been convicted of foul connivance with low bootleggers for purpose circumventing prohibition law. Bootleggers and deputy sheriff also were convicted. . . One Jake Fleagle, popularly known as 'Wolf of West,' who has been caught from reek-ribbed coast Maine to sun-kissed strands California, for numbers of killings and lesser crimes, has been shot and captured almost upon this city's doorstep and even now is still plunging in death through void eternity. "A beautiful heiress-brid, soon to be crowned with motherhood, has been dragged from home of a millionaire father, held captive overnight in tangled woods at mercy of strangely morose kidnaper, and only now has been returned to father's home, while he leads vengeful possemen in quest of fleeing fiend, empty of $30,000 to $50,000 crudely demanded. "A pretty teacher music, perhaps, simply overcome by beauty of world, has been taken, cold in death, from a creek into which she jumped from bridge that shadowed her home. . . Just before you entered our comfy quarters on this beautiful afternoon, a man of 80 years, who had come town to help grandchildren do shopping, fell downstairs furniture store and suffered fractured skull. "The treasurer of this commonwealth, man whose home is close to our great metropolis, has just been suspended from office by governor and repercussions of that action still repercussions. . . A farmer has just been hit by falling tree and rescued, although mortally wounded, by two fair daughters. . . The vice president of this great nation is coming here within day or two to discuss price of rice and cosmic situation, and great is demand for stories thereof. . . There have been a thousand different leads to follow, a million photographs to gather, a billion telephone calls to answer. All newspapers in Christendom have been looking to us for their biggest news. What we couldn't use we divided up between newspapers from Maine to California. There are 27 revolutions and counter-revolutions going on. "I hope I have made it clear that just at present we are not in market for items for paper. I also regret that I have only one front page to give to my countrymen."

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Along with the Democrats and the wets, organized labor and the candidates it endorsed came out on top of the heap in the congressional elections.

Senators and representatives whom the labor organizations considered inimical to them were driven out in large numbers during the nominating primaries, while labor's friends were nominated and retained. The same tendency continued in the election. Among outstanding defeats of candidates who had formal labor support were those of Senator McMaster in South Dakota, Senator Robinson in Kentucky and former Senator Gerry of Rhode Island. All had been supported on the strength of their senatorial records but the defeat of McMaster and Robinson appears to have been attributable to the Democratic landslide and labor leaders believe their successors are likely to prove as acceptable as the incumbents. None had been among labor's foremost champions. On the other hand, labor spokesmen point to the election of nearly a score senatorial candidates who had labor support and to the retirement or primary or election defeat of as many who could be depended upon to have little sympathy for legislation which labor supports.

Labor supplied the extra push which has terminated the senatorial career of Henry J. Allen of Kansas, President Hoover's close friend and senatorial adviser, who will be succeeded by a Democrat named George J. McGill. Allen fathered the famous Kansas Industrial Court, which labor hated and bitterly fought. Another of labor's pet hates was ex-Senator William M. Butler, who lost to Marcus A. Coolidge in Massachusetts. At the top of the list stood Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, who as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee has been helpful and sympathetic to such labor-sponsored measures as the anti-injunction legislation as well as to other progressive and humanitarian measures. Norris defeated his Democratic opponent, former Senator Hitchcock, by a large majority. The others who won out were Senator Sheppard in Texas, Senator Borah in Idaho, Edward P. Costigan in Colorado, Senator Couzens in Michigan, Secretary of Labor Davis in Pennsylvania, Governor Huey P. Long in Louisiana, Senator McNary in Oregon, Senator Walsh in Montana, Senator Gapper in Kansas, former Senator M. M. Neely in West Virginia, Congressman Cordell Hull in Tennessee, former Congressman James J. Byrnes in South Carolina—who with labor support defeated Senator Blease in the primary; Senator Bratton in New Mexico, and Senator Harris of Georgia, whom labor aided in his primary fight.

The more important of the successful labor endorsements happen to be dry—Norris, Borah, Costigan, Walsh, Hull and Neely. In fact, only three or four of the whole 19 were wet. In no case, however, did the dry records of these candidates have anything to do with their endorsements.

AMERICAN HOME STUDIED BY EL PROGRESSO MEMBERS Official Colors and Flower Chosen By Business and Professional Women

MRS. T. D. HOBART DESCRIBES COLONIAL HOMESTEAD; MODERN CONVENIENCES ARE DISCUSSED

Home making hints were given in answer to roll call at a meeting of El Progreso club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. L. Ledrick. The program, based on the subject "American Homes" was given under the direction of Mrs. T. D. Hobart, assisted by Mrs. Charles Thut, and Mrs. John V. Andrews presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Hobart gave an outline of the American home, its establishment by colonists and Pilgrims, and its influences and condition. She gave a clear word-picture of the colonial homestead of her grandmother. The lovely brick home, located in the east, still is in good repair.

She took her listeners through the hall, with its clock and beautiful cherry-wood stair-rail into the parlor, with its horsehair sofa, and thence into the bedroom with its four-poster bed, now in Mr. Hobart's possession.

Kitchen Described
The large kitchen, Mrs. Hobart explained, has an immense fireplace, flanked on one side by a large brick oven, and on the other by a shining array of such articles as bed-warmers and foot-stoves, which the early Americans carried with them to church on winter days.

Culminating the description, little Miss Ann Sweetman, frocked as a wee colonial dame, came into the room and set by the chimney side with her knitting while Mrs. Hobart read an appropriate account of the home fireside taken from Whitler's "Snow-Bound."

Tells of Modern Home
Mrs. Thut then discussed "The Modern American Home, Its Equipment." Through skilled handling of the subject, she brought to the group the opportunities of the modern home, what its environment might and might not mean to those living within, its relation to character and citizenship, and how modern equipment is helping the homemaker in conserving time and energy to meet new needs and demands.

The two speakers emphasized the opinion that the home is the strongest influence in American life, both of yesterday and today.

Society Calendar
WEDNESDAY:
Women of the Mooseheart legion will hold an initiation service at their meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

THURSDAY:
Friendship class, First Methodist church, will hold a business and social meeting Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the classroom at the church.

FRIDAY:
Queen of Clubs will be entertained at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. O. H. Booth, 607 North Nelson.

Members and prospective members of the Zear class, First Baptist church, are asked to attend a regular meeting Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church.

Wedding Announced
Announcement was made yesterday of the marriage of Bert Howell and Mrs. Ora McNamara of Graham. The wedding was solemnized more than a month ago.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Harbaugh and children, of Childress, attended the football game yesterday and visited Judge and Mrs. Clifford Brady and Mr. and Mrs. C. Herbert Walker.

Royal Neighbors To Hold District Convention Here

Amarillo, Berger, Whittenberg, Wellington, Booker, and Perryton are to be represented at the district meeting of the Royal Neighbors of America to be held in Pampa Monday.

Prairie Camp No. 4917 of Pampa will act as hostess to the visiting camps at the business sessions which will be held in the afternoon and evening. A banquet will be held at 6:30 p. m. in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Special officers who will attend the convention are: Mrs. Edna E. Walsh, Independence, Kan., chairman of the board of supreme managers; Mrs. Eva Husky, Greenville, state supervising deputy, and Mrs. Emma J. Brannen of Denison, district deputy.

Mrs. Twiford Is Leader of Program on Human Motives

With Mrs. H. G. Twiford as leader, an interesting program on "Human Motives" was given at a meeting of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. W. Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell, who is president of the group, also presided for a brief business session.

The program opened with a discussion by Mrs. Twiford of Valentine's opinion that habit is the key to personality.

Mrs. William T. Fraser compared the discussions on habit given by Valentine and Thomson, and Mrs. A. H. Doucette read a paper on "Instincts and Emotions as Motives."

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. W. A. Bratton, Mrs. R. C. Campbell, Mrs. A. H. Doucette, Mrs. Ivy Duncan, Mrs. William T. Fraser, Mrs. H. H. Hicks, Mrs. I. B. Hughey, Mrs. Paul Kashiak, Mrs. Otto Studer, Mrs. J. D. Stug, Mrs. H. G. Twiford, Mrs. Edwin S. Vicars and the hostess.

Dr. Scarborough Speaks at Baptist State Convention

AMARILLO, Nov. 12. (P)—Dr. L. R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, re-elected president of the General Baptist convention of Texas for his second term when the 46th annual session met here today, appealed to the messengers for a "world wide missionary vision" in approaching the tasks confronting them.

Dr. D. B. South of San Antonio, veteran secretary of the convention, reported 805 messengers in attendance and all were seated without a ripple of dissension. Leaders predicted the convention would be harmonious throughout.

There are about 4,000 co-operating churches, representing a membership of 600,000 Baptists in the convention, comprising the largest body of the church boasted by a single state convention in the entire nation.

Dr. Scarborough who is president of the Southwestern Baptist Seminary was chosen as the head of Texas Baptist to succeed former

FEMININE FANCIES

BY HOLLYCE SELLERS
Reports at the convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs yesterday recommended that the organization take a stand against "buried" theatre advertising and that it officially abhor lynching.

Society is hungry for right thinking, eager to have a part in character education, quick to take stands for what it believes to be right in the hope that some influence for better living may result.

It was probably such a desire which prompted the recommendations at the state Federation meeting, yet to pass resolutions without some definite means of enforcing them is a mistake. Not only is it a waste of time, but it weakens the organization in the opinion of others.

We all complain about the evil of too many laws, and rightfully so. A Texas city not long ago passed an ordinance against "flirting." One girl and several men were arrested for violation of the ordinance, but in a few weeks the procedure was forgotten, just as scores of other laws are forgotten, and serves only to fill a space in the vault of the city secretary. In such cases, however, there is at least the power to enforce a law, while in a resolution passed by an organization of clubs, not even the power exists, much less the actual improving of the situation.

It is true that "the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," but do members of the federated clubs rock the cradles of future lynchings? I think not. They belong to a different class of people from those who will be found in a mob scene, and their opinions as a body likely will not touch the other class of people.

Such action would not be inappropriate for the Texas or National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, for the opinions of this group would come nearer influencing educational practices in the schools, thus definitely establishing a sentiment among boys and girls against mob violence or other undesirable practices, but with the Federation of Women's clubs there is little or no practical influence to be had regarding a practice such as lynching.

Another recommendation read yesterday, however, was much more appropriate for such a group. It suggested that the women's clubs of the state sponsor in the legislature a bill to give counties power to levy a tax to support county libraries.

Most of the Federated clubs are study groups. Therefore it is much more practical for them to devote their attention to the improving of their study programs, to the writing of better literature, to the painting of lovely pictures, and to the composing of beautiful music, by encouragement which they can give by sponsoring contests and offering suggestions than it is for them to attempt to suppress mob violence by passing resolutions. It is more appropriate for them to enlarge libraries and to award scholarships to worthy students than it is for them to attempt to change methods of theatre advertising. True, the Federation devotes a great deal of its time to these activities within its own field, but it also wastes valuable minutes by taking official stands which it cannot follow up with action.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ralsky are entertaining out-of-town guests who will be here until after the Thanksgiving holidays. They are Mrs. Ralsky's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Manry, and Miss Marguerite Beaker, all of Bradford, Pa., and another sister-in-law, Mrs. Dewey Manry, and her son Dick, of Holdenville, Okla.

Gov. Pat M. Neff at the Beaumont convention last year.

Vice presidents chosen for the new year were Dr. J. E. Nunn of Amarillo; Dr. W. W. Chancellor of Mineral Wells; and Dr. Harlan J. Matthews of Marshall. Dr. Nunn being a layman and the others pastors of the First Baptist church of their respective home cities.

Dr. South and Rev. J. L. Truett of Whitehouse were re-elected secretaries and Dr. J. H. Pace of Beaumont, pastor of the First church there, was re-chosen secretary of the corporation.

PROGRAM GIVE AT MEETING ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Green and gold, in keeping with the national club emblem, were chosen as official colors, and the chrysanthemum was selected as the flower for the local Business and Professional Women's club at a meeting Tuesday evening in the Pampa Drug Tea Room.

In keeping with Armistice day, the meeting was opened with the singing of America, followed by the pledge to the United States flag. Roll call was answered with clever health quotations.

Business Session Held
During the business session, minutes of the last meeting of the executive board were read by the secretary, Miss Gladys Payne, and 14 new members who had been accepted by the executive board were voted upon.

It was voted to invite the Amarillo club to the next meeting which will be an initiatory ceremony.

Reports Given
Chairmen of all standing committees reported their activities, including plans for a carnival bazaar to be held the early part of December under the direction of the finance committee.

Miss Aurelia Miller gave an interesting report of a bank which is being organized in New York by women for business and professional women.

Mrs. M. P. Downs gave an interesting health talk, from which the following sketches were taken: "Business and Professional Women are more interested in Public Health than any other women for they know what it means to be in bad health and lose time from their work."

"Not much was done along the line of Public Health until about the time of the world war. Florence Nightingale was one of the first sponsors. Various industries are most interested in this line and employ nurses who cooperate with the health officers and great advancement has been achieved. Eight rules for good health were given:

The emblem committee plans a fund whereby the girls may pay for their pins.

The meeting was dismissed by singing the club benediction song. The following members were present: Mrs. W. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Frank Allison, Mrs. R. J. Kiser, Mrs. Artie Shepard, Mrs. Nina McSkimming, Mrs. Mabel Gee, Mrs. Lillian McNutt, Mrs. M. P. Downs, Mrs. F. L. Lard, Miss Bernice Chisholm, Miss Aurelia Miller, Miss Gladys Payne.

A quality you would want if you knew all of the facts . . .

Lemon. Schilling Lemon Extract contains 3 times the amount of lemon oil required by the United States Government Pure Food Laws—3 times as much! And more than most any other you can buy. That is why it goes further—why it imparts a richer lemon flavor.

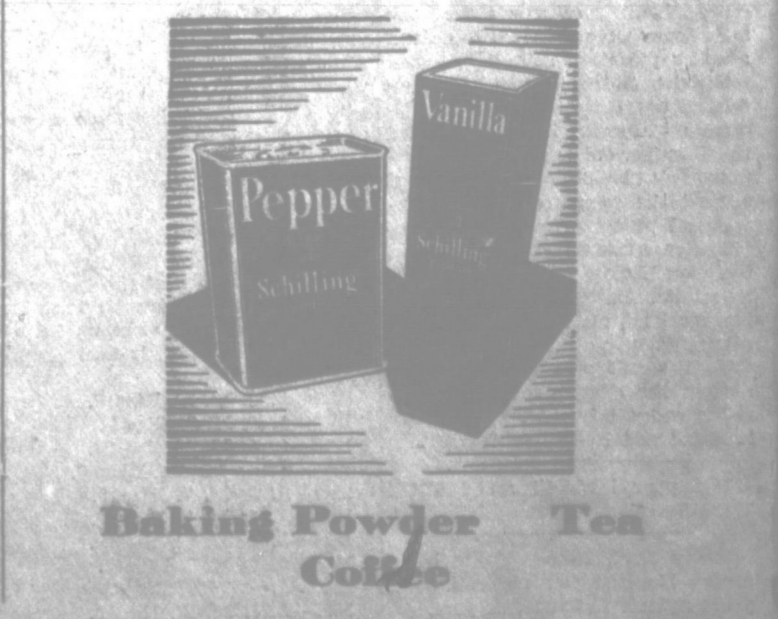

Mustard. Place a teaspoonful of Schilling Mustard in a teacup, and a teaspoonful of any other in a second cup. Add sufficient water to form a very thin paste. Stir each of them thoroughly, then smell the aroma from both. The difference in strength and richness will be marked, especially if you let it stand for a few minutes. Here is the reason for what you have just tested. A mustard seed contains two oils. One is the flavor oil. The other is absolutely flavorless—a "natural adulterant"—which offsets much of the richness of the flavor oil. But this flat oil is pressed out and removed from Schilling Mustard so far as possible, so that practically nothing is left but the flavor oil. That is why Schilling's has more flavor—more "bite"—and why you use less of it.

Celery Salt. Celery Salt is a blend of fine table salt and ground celery seed. Compare a bottle of Schilling's with any other. Note its darker color. That is because it contains more celery seed—more flavor—three times as much as many others. Also, Schilling's contains no celery stalk, which is comparatively flavorless. You can plainly see these shreds in other brands, but never in Schilling's. There's all the difference in the world in the flavor.

Cinnamon. Mix 1 part of Schilling Cinnamon to 10 parts of hot water. Do likewise with any other cinnamon. Dip a cube of sugar in each of these solutions, and place on the tongue. Then YOU decide which has the finer flavor! The comparison is unmistakable, because Schilling's is made from the finest Saigon cinnamon bark—undiluted with cheaper grades.

Vanilla. Schilling is one extract maker for whom importers select a special kind of first grade vanilla beans. The pods are fairly bursting with Vanilla essence—so much so that it forms in crystals on the outer surface. Cheaper grades (some of them almost dry) and cuts (defective) are never used by Schilling. You can tell the difference by a very simple test. Pour a few drops of Schilling Vanilla into a half glass of milk. Do the same with some other Vanilla. Schilling's has a delicate, delightful flavor. Some others have a slight medicinal taste. Schilling flavor is not so "flashy" as others—but it will never bake out nor freeze out. It has the delicacy and permanency of all good things.

HARVESTERS AND EAGLES OF ABILENE MAY BATTLE HERE

POST SEASON GAMES NOW BEING ASKED

Having yesterday run over the Children's Hobcats to win by the lopsided score of 71 to 0, the Pampa Harvesters today counted cripples and broken but nervous-looking about for a possible game with a strong Class B outfit on the coming Saturday.

Coach Olin Mitchell sent telegrams to Hereford and Dalhart in hopes of getting a game for the reserves.

At the same time, he announced that the Wichita Falls game would be played here Nov. 20, instead of 21 as the schedule is fixed. This change will give the Harvesters more time for their Thanksgiving game with Quanah and will give the Wichitans desired rest before their tilt with the Amarillo Sandies on the holiday. The Wichita Falls outfit has had a bad season.

Albert Lard, Pampa star quarterback, suffered an injury to his knee yesterday and today was unable to be in school. It is an old hurt, and the result of the strain will not be known for several days. Captain Salsbury has a sprained wrist and Birch a sprained ankle.

Children's fans, after watching their team's best efforts completely smothered, declared that the Pampa eleven was incomparably stronger than anything the Hobcats had met, including Amarillo, which won over Children's by a 52-13 score.

Coach Mitchell has opened negotiations for a game here with Abilene after the season closes, and he hopes that Amarillo may be played the following week if that team is out of the state race by that time.

The Abilene game would furnish an excellent index of the comparative strength of the teams of the North Plains and the Oil Belt of Central Texas.

It Hits Pampans From the Cradle To The Grave

As a footnote to the rumor current in Amarillo that Pampa citizens are so desirous of reaping revenge on the gridiron that "football" is the first word they are teaching likely youngsters to say, observe the effort of the current pigskin season on Charles O. Duenkel Jr., aged 20 months.

The other night Junior was saying, "Now I say me down to sleep I pay the 'Ord my soul to keep . . . God bless mama, God bless papa."

"And make Junior a good . . ." his mother, prompting him, started to say "good boy" but Junior who had told his father many a time what he was going to be when he grew up, cut in, "and make Junior a good halback."

Pampans, the Amarillons say, are looking 15 years ahead. It must be so.

Greyhounds in Kansas Ready for National Derby

GIBARD, Kans., Nov. 12. (AP) — Two score of speedy greyhounds were groomed today for the second round of the national derby, the highest stake event of the National Coursing association meet being held here.

The first round yesterday ended in tragedy for Fuddy May Fly, a hound owned by E. M. Kellogg of Arnold's Park, Iowa. The hound was leading in the chase when he struck a post and was killed. Two favorites who survived yesterday's test were Jule Andrew, owned by John Essex, wrestler of Havensville, Neb., and Dutch Chum, a Callaghan kennel entry from Joliet, Ill.

Another Suit in Proration Contest Being Prepared

AUSTIN, Nov. 12. (AP) — Having lost the first tilt in their fight to sustain right of the state to curtail oil production, attorneys for the state today were prepared to defend another proration suit.

District Judge George Cathoun denied the state's motion to dissolve a temporary injunction issued the Danciger Oil and Refining company, restraining enforcement against the company of the state-wide oil proration order.

The case was not ended, however, the case having yet to be tried on its merits. Early date will be fixed for the trial, after a conference of attorneys.

Today's suit was on a protest against the Danciger field proration order, brought by the Louisiana Oil and Refining company.

Putt! And Sherman Beats Grant

AGGIES LOST HOME GAME WITH OWLS

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 12. (AP) — Closing their schedule of home games for the year, Coach Madison Bell's Texas Aggie gridsters will meet the Rice-Owls of Coach Jack Meagher on Kyle Field Saturday afternoon. The game will be the next to last of the season for the A. & M. gridsters, the Thanksgiving day classic with the Texas Longhorns at Austin being the final.

The A. & M.-Rice game this year presents an unusual situation for games between the two teams in that the feathered tribe has been favored to down the Aggie eleven. In past years the Owls have always been considered the underdogs, or the games have been considered toss-ups.

This year, with the scalp of the Texas Longhorn eleven, second position holders in the title race at present, as a trophy, the Owls will enter the game slight favorites to triumph. The victory over the Longhorns, who since then have downed the S. M. U. Mustangs and the Baylor Bears, is the only conference win of the season for the Owls while the Aggies have yet to break into the win column of the percentage table.

A comparison of scores against teams both elevens have met shows the two teams to be of about equal strength. Both teams have been trounced by the title-pointed T. C. U. Horned Frogs and the Arkansas Razorbacks. That the Frogs barely eked out a 3-0 victory over the Aggies and decisively defeated the Owls 20-0, while the Porkers trounced the Aggies 13-0 and barely nosed out the Owls 7-6 makes guessing at the comparative strengths of the two teams even less certain.

In the 14 games that the Aggies and Owls have played since 1914 the Owls have won three and tied one with the remainder of the contests going to A. & M. — It is interesting to note that in most instances the games were won by small margins, even in the years when the Aggies were rated with the best in the country and the Owls considered poor. Such was the case in 1921, when the A. & M. team which later trounced the Centre College Praying Colonels was able to get only a 7-7 tie with the Owls. Again in 1927 the Owls proved that against the Aggies they play the hardest by holding the team which is still considered by many to be the strongest in the history of the southwest to a 14-0 victory, the Aggies' smallest score of the year except that of the game with T. C. U. which resulted in a scoreless tie.

Results of the Aggie-Owl games of the past follow:

1914—A. & M. 22, Rice 7.
 1915—A. & M. 0, Rice 7.
 1916—A. & M. 0, Rice 20.
 1917—A. & M. 10, Rice 0.
 1920—A. & M. 7, Rice 0.
 1921—A. & M. 7, Rice 7.
 1922—A. & M. 24, Rice 0.
 1923—A. & M. 0, Rice 7.
 1924—A. & M. 13, Rice 6.
 1925—A. & M. 17, Rice 0.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. (AP) — Jim "Hippo" Vaughn, one time Cub southpaw, has regained his standing in organized baseball, apparently to become a member of the army of unemployed.

Vaughn, who deserted organized baseball in 1923 because of salary differences, still is the property of the Cubs, but President William L. Veeck yesterday said it was likely that vaivlers would be asked on the 43-year-old hurler.

Vaughn came to the Cubs in 1913 and remained for 10 years. In 1919 he was one of the most effective southpaws in the National league.

Has your husband an OFFICE WIFE?

In the seven times they have met Wofford college has never scored against a Duke university football team.

Jack Rose, who will wrestle, fight, or otherwise engage Otis Clingman in a match at the Pla-Mor Thursday night, has a great interest in the future of the local man.

In fact, Rose wants to put Clingman into retirement. He declares Otis is too smart to stay in the mat game and that he would have a brighter future as a tire merchant or something like that. And if the Pampa grappler isn't satisfied with this arrangement, Rose recommends that Otis find a nice hole and pull the top of it in after him. Rose does not seem to like Clingman, as some fans deduced a few weeks ago when the pair met in an alleged wrestling contest.

Rose says that he will positively stop Clingman's career before it goes any further. "Gobs are softies," said Jack, "and Otis should retire before 'he gets that Baby Face marked up any worse."

It is not often that local matches are wrestled Amarillo fashion—that is, with slugging, kicking, and several kinds of jungle torture thrown in. The coming bout, however, promises to make the fight fans forget that boxing is barred in this state.

The ring will be moved somewhat this week to give the grapplers plenty of room and the fans a better view.

Rob Roy and Bobby Samson will clash in the semi-final event.

De Kuh Gets Many Offers

ATLANTA, Nov. 12. (AP)—Lew Diamond, manager of Arthur De Kuh, New York Italian, who stayed 10 rounds with "Young" Stripling yesterday before the Georgian gained a referee's decision, today said he had received a series of offers for De Kuh's services.

Diamond said Damon Runyan of New York had suggested De Kuh as an opponent for either Jack Sharkey or Max Baer in a bout in that city. Diamond also reported messages from Frank Bruen, former manager of Madison Square Garden, G. R. K. Carter and Ed Douglas for a return Stripling match in Miami during the winter season.

Diamond said he had cabled Jeff Jackson, European promoter, that De Kuh had as good a claim on the Italian heavyweight title as Primo Carnera and that De Kuh was ready to meet Carnera.

LONGHORNS TRAIN HARD FOR CHAMPS

AUSTIN, Nov. 12. — Starting the week of preparation for the T. C. U. Horned Frogs with a drive, Coach Clyde Littlefield of the Texas Longhorns did away with the usual rest period on Monday for the Longhorns' regulars, and sent them through a workout that was as stiff and fast as any of the season.

Steers have all but two few days to make ready for the championships, and every minute of every season this week will be utilized in a desperate effort to be ready for the game that will in all probability decide the championship of the southwest. The Longhorns are working with a vengeance, and their demeanor on the field resembles that of the week preceding the Texas-S. M. U. game. Last year, it was the Horned Frogs who put the Steers out of the conference running with a 16-12 defeat, and this, combined with the fact that the Horned Frogs can sustain a defeat by Texas and still win the championship, seems to infuriate the Texas team every time it is mentioned.

The long string of Horned Frog victories extending back to the Texas game of 1928, is a pretty record to shoot out, and the Longhorns vow they are out to smash it.

Against Baylor, the Longhorns did not play the inspired ball that they did against the Mustangs, but their fundamental fight and football finally gave them the touchdown that meant victory. This was regarded as a hopeful sign by the Longhorn followers, for it left a clear field for another "inspired game" that might spell victory over the Frogs. Longhorn coaches admitted Monday, that psychology would be their best weapon, and that it would have to be used to best advantage to be able to meet the powerful T. C. U. team on even terms.

The game Saturday will be the third "home-coming" game for Texas as this year, for against the Owls and the Bears, the home teams were playing for the "old grads." While this looks good for the gate receipts, it is hardly a desirable situation for the invading coach.

This year, Texas and T. C. U. will be playing for the sixteenth time, in a series of games that is one of the oldest in the southwest. The period of play in reality dates back to 1897, when the former was known as Add Ran college and was located at Waco. Texas won that year, 18-0, and in 1898 won two more games, 16-0 and 20-0. That was the end of relations, until 1904, when a five year series was started between the Modern T. C. U. and Texas. After 1909, games were played only in 1912, 1915, 1918, and 1924. In 1927 T. C. U. gained its first tie game with Texas, when the two teams remained scoreless for 60 minutes, and since then there has been a game every year.

In the number of games won, Texas has a virtual monopoly, with 13 wins, one tie, and one loss. The first T. C. U. team to turn in a win over Texas was the 1928 championship outfit, which beat the Longhorns 15-12, in a thrilling game that put Texas out of the flag chase.

In the 14 games played, Texas has scored 323 points as against 41 by the Frogs.

Scores of Texas-T. C. U. games: 1897 Texas 18, Add Ran 0. 1898 Texas 16, Add Ran 0. 1899 Texas 29, Add Ran 0. 1904 Texas 40, TCU 0. 1905 Texas 11, TCU 0. 1906 Texas 22, TCU 0. 1908 Texas 11, TCU 0. 1909 Texas 24, TCU 0. 1915 Texas 30, TCU 10. 1916 Texas 72, TCU 0. 1918 Texas 19, TCU 0. 1924 Texas 13, TCU 0. 1927 Texas 0, TCU 0. 1928 Texas 6, TCU 0. 1929 Texas 15, TCU 15. Adventure enters the life of CELIA MITCHELL, 17, when she learns the father she has supposed dead is alive and wealthy. She leaves her unpretentious home in Baltimore for a home in New York with her father, JOHN MITCHELL, and her aristocratic grandmother.

MARGARET ROGERS, her mother, divorced Mitchell and remarried and is now a widow. BARNY SHIELDS, young newspaper photographer, is in love with the girl and before leaving Baltimore Celia promised to be loyal to his love. She is lonely in her new home.

Mitchell asks EVELYN PARSONS, beautiful widow, to introduce the girl to young people. Mrs. Parsons considers Celia a means to win Mitchell's affections and agrees. She invites the girl to her Long Island home for a week-end.

TOP DIBSON, fascinating but with a dubious reputation, is attracted to Celia and Mrs. Parsons conceals the match. When the other guests leave Celia confides her visit.

LISI DUNCAN, socially prominent, invites her to attend a swimming party. Celia narrowly escapes drowning and is rescued by Jordan. Her father hears of the affair and insists the girl must return home. The same evening Jordan calls and in a romantic scene tells Celia he loves her. She returns to New York next day and receives a telephone call.

CHAPTER XXV

"Who is it?" Celia demanded eagerly. She held the French telephone close to her ear.

"The gentleman at the other end of the line was a butler explaining that Miss Lisi Duncan wished to speak to Miss Mitchell. A moment after Celia heard Lisi's gay voice.

"That you, Celia?" she asked. "Evelyn told me you'd gone home. I telephone her a few minutes ago. Listen, how're you feeling today?"

"Oh, I'm all right!" Celia hopped. "Oh, I'm all right!" Surely, Celia thought to herself, she must have said that a thousand times in the last 24 hours.

"Fine! Honey, I want you to have lunch with me tomorrow. I'm going to drive in and I'll pick you up about 1:30. That O. K.?"

Celia thought it would be. It cheered her immensely to think Lisi wanted to be friendly. She promised to be ready.

"That's settled then. S-b-y, honey!"

After Celia put down the telephone she wondered if her grandmother could object. It would be horrible to have to call off the engagement. She decided to wait until her father arrived home before mentioning the luncheon party.

He came shortly after four, asking immediately for his daughter. The girl was reading.

"Home again!" Mitchell called as he entered the library. "Well, Celia, let's hear all about this casualty of yours."

"Oh, father, I can't understand how it happened. One minute I was swimming alone and the next the wave came over me and I thought I was sinking—"

Mitchell sat down beside her, asked questions. He wanted to know the name of the young man who had saved her, Celia, with trembling eagerness, told him. She explained she had met Jordan at Evelyn Parsons'.

"Oh, yes? Well, I wouldn't stand on a little point of etiquette if I were drowning!" he said dryly.

Celia laughed. She explained she wasn't referring to social proprieties, but thought Mitchell might remember seeing Jordan.

Her father shook his head.

"Can't say I do," he said. Then he wrote down the name. "Well, I'll look after this young man—"

"But I'm sure he wouldn't—I mean I don't think he'd accept money or anything like that!" she protested.

Mitchell put the memorandum back into his pocket.

"Never mind about that," he said. "Celia, I had a pretty uncomfortable half hour last night before I knew you were safe." There was emotion in his voice that surprised the girl. Mitchell put out a hand and took Celia's, and for a moment there was understanding silence between them.

"I must run upstairs and dress," the girl said, rising. She was afraid to show how deeply she had been touched. Before she reached the door Celia remembered Lisi and the luncheon engagement. She told her father about it.

"That's all right," he said. "I want you to have plenty of young friends. I'll speak to your grandmother."

She thanked him and went on out of the room.

There was a letter from Celia's mother next morning. It was not the first the girl had received from Mrs. Rogers since arriving in New York, but coming at this particular time, its effect was profound. Celia was at her dressing table lazily polishing her nails when Martha knocked at the door and gave her the letter.

The girl greeted the familiar handwriting with delight. Then she ran to the chair, longed, sank down and tore open the envelope.

"My darling child," was the salutation. Celia read on quickly. There was little news. Mrs. Rogers wrote that she was feeling well and very busy. It was the vacation season and two of the fitness at Margot's were away. Of course it was the slack season but still she and Fille Dennison had their hands full. It had been very warm, but today they were having a cool spell. Margaret Rogers said that Barney had come to see her. He was working hard. The people next door in the apartment had a new radio. There was nothing of importance in the letter, but Celia read it all eagerly. This was news from home.

"I hope you are very happy with your new friends," the last paragraph read, "but remember, above all else, take care of yourself. Write soon. Oh, my darling, how I love you. Your Mother."

After the girl had finished reading it she sat for a long time looking down at the letter. It brought back sharply everything in the life she had left. Mother, Barney—she saw them through different eyes. She was glad she had written both of them Monday. She should have done so earlier. Somehow there seemed little time to write. There was so much to do. Her precious mother! Celia thought of her mother going to work, bending over her sewing through hot days. Was she really well? A wave of revulsion swept over the girl as she thought of Margaret Rogers' long toil and privations and the luxury with which she herself was surrounded.

Finally she folded the letter and put it under a pile of lingerie in a drawer of the dressing table.

Lisi was late. It was nearly two o'clock when she drove up to the Mitchell home and sounded the French horn of her coupe. Celia hurried out of the house to stop the upper before it reached her grandmother's ears.

"Hallo!" Lisi greeted her brightly. "Am I late? It's the precious traffic. Red lights all the way! I swear, crossing the bridge—"

She babbled on as Celia stepped into the car. Then they circled the square and headed up-town.

Lisi was looking particularly well in a green and white printed frock and small green hat that seemed to minimize her freckles.

"How's my hat?" she demanded. "It's Kate's, and she'd have 47 cat fits if she knew I had it. Have I got it on right?"

Celia said the hat looked very well.

"We're going to ——" the other girl said, naming a small, fashionable restaurant. "Dicky's going to meet us there. It's all right. He knows I'm always late."

"Who's Dicky?" Celia asked.

Lisi grinned. "The plot thickens," she said. "Haven't had time to explain why I really called you yesterday. Dicky's my big thrill. He's an actor—a good one, too! Going to open in a wonderful show next month. But you see I can't have him out at the house or meet him at the club because of Kate. Every time a man I like sees Kate they forget me like that!" Lisi's fingers snapped. "She goes after them on purpose. Kate's mean as the dickens that way. Ask her little sister if you want to learn all. I fished up this excuse for lunching with you so I could get into town without a row. Anyhow, I didn't think you'd mind."

It was impossible to hold resentment against Lisi. Celia was a little uncomfortable about lunching with this strange man but her companion waved aside her scruples.

"Dicky's a love!" she declared. "Wait till you see him."

The man who rose when they entered the foyer of the restaurant was not, to Celia's way of thinking, "a love." He was too blond, too conscious of his regular features, and too eager to talk about himself.

A waiter led them to a corner table which had been reserved.

She offered her palm to the aged eyes. "Can you see anything there?" Celia asked as she sat down.

The old woman studied the hand several moments.

"Sweethearts," she muttered. "Two of them. One handsome! I see—"

The girl's sharp eyes darted upward and her voice rose. "I see—Danger!"

APPEALS COURT

AUSTIN, Nov. 12. (AP)—Proceedings in the court of criminal appeals today:

Affirmed: Claude Vaughn, Johnson; Arthur Stolle, Jim Wells; O. Reeves, Colorado; Albert Vandorff, Wheeler; A. A. Loftin, alias Shorty Loftin, Mitchell, Sewell Lipscomb, Harris; Lucy Branch, Brazoria; Theodore Langerhans, Gillespie; Clyde Barnes, Kaufman; J. W. Graham, Kendall; C. E. Weimer, Madison; Calvin (Betsey) Jones, Walker; Ben Brawley, Bowie; Cecil McCleary, Fanning; William E. Fowler, El Paso; Emil Brunello, Palo Pinto; Ardel Thomas, Wood; Charley Miles, Travis; Clifford Hamilton

At 3:30 they left the restaurant. Dicky was to report at the theater at four. They all climbed into the coupe and Lisi drove toward Broadway. Celia dared not admit it was her first view of that famous thoroughfare. Her father and grandmother apparently had little interest in the theater.

In the afternoon sun she thought the great electric signs looked hideous and the street had a cheap, dismal air. It was very hot, curious looking men and women passed, Caruthers left them in front of a theater which to Celia was one of the ugliest.

All the way to Grammercy Park Lisi chattered of the young man's attractions.

"You know," she said impulsively, "I like you, Celia. I knew I could depend on you. You're on the level!"

Celia replied that she liked Lisi too. It was agreed they should meet again soon. Then Lisi departed and Celia entered the house.

The next day was dreary but on Saturday Mrs. Mitchell and Celia drove to Westchester to attend a society fair for the benefit of charity. It was one of the charities of which Mrs. Mitchell served as a board member.

Celia was not interested until she visited the fortune teller's tent. Her grandmother, by an odd quirk of character, had the greatest faith in seers.

"Ask her to read your future!" Mrs. Mitchell urged and the girl went into the brightly festooned booth.

She offered her palm to the aged eyes. "Can you see anything there?" Celia asked as she sat down.

The old woman studied the hand several moments.

Postal Chief May Help in Atlanta Case

ATLANTA, Nov. 12. (AP)—The United States attorney for the northern district of Georgia has said he anticipates assistance from Postmaster-General Brown as a witness in prosecuting John B. Dove on charges of soliciting and receiving funds in behalf of federal job seekers.

District Attorney Clint W. Hager said a subpoena will be issued for the postmaster-general to come here at his convenience for Dove's trial and deny statements made by Dove. The latter was described himself as a "former member of the executive committee of the J. W. Arnold Republican faction" in Georgia.

Dove is accused in an indictment and warrant of obtaining $500 to influence appointment of Ernest Brown as postmaster at College Park, Ga., and $1,000 to assist E. C. Chiropractors' Case Reversed On Their Appeal

AUSTIN, Nov. 12. (AP)—An opinion which apparently sustains the right of chiropractors to follow their professions without interference so long as they do not publicly profess to be doctors or surgeons was handed down by the State Court of Criminal Appeals today.

The opinion was in the appeal by E. E. Guy, Dallas county chiropractor, convicted of practicing medicine without a license and fined and given a small jail sentence. Reversing and remanding the case the court declined to pass upon questions presented by Guy's attorney involving the validity of the medical practice act, but declared the state failed to show that Guy had "publicly professed" to be a physician or surgeon.

The failure, the court held, was enough to sustain a reversal, without discussion of the constitutional questions. Because the lower court failed to include in the jury charge proper definition of the law of self-defense as related to the facts in the case, the court reversed and remanded the 99-year sentence assessed Bruce Adkinson, Jefferson county, who shot and killed F. Aleman.

According to the testimony, Adkinson suspected Aleman of having taken a watch, and went to Aleman for the watch. Adkinson said when he asked Aleman for the watch, Aleman "approached him in such a manner" as to cause him to believe Aleman intended to stab him.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 12. (AP) Frank Nevins, 46, an insurance salesman, and his wife, 36, were found shot to death today in their home, and police began working on a theory that Nevins killed his wife and then himself. They believed the tragedies occurred yesterday morning.

San Antonio Is Rocked by Blast

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 12. (AP)—A mysterious explosion which rocked an entire neighborhood, completely destroyed the interior of the Van Ness drug store and brought terror to hundreds of persons, was under investigation by fire officials today.

The blast reduced the interior of the drug store to a mass of twisted, charred wreckage, hurled fixtures, bottles and magazines 35 feet from the building and brought severe burns to H. T. Pinson, owner of the establishment, when he rushed to investigate the explosion.

Pinson, who is 29 years old and lives in a seven-room dwelling at the rear of the pharmacy, sustained serious burns about the body and head when he opened a connecting window between his living quarters and the interior of the drug store. Flames burst through the window and seared his body before he could leap backward to safety.
