STATE 'OUT OF RED' AND WILL REMAIN SO REST OF HIS TERM, HATCHER SAYS

Tax Collectors Are Urged to Make Remittances on Last Days of November and December This Year

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (AP)—W. Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer, announced today that the state was again on a cash basis and would remain on a cash basis until the expiration of his term. The state has been operating on a deficiency for several months.

Hatcher said no warrant would be paid until its due date, as shown on the face of the warrant, this provision being taken because neither the treasurer or any bank were authorized by law to pay a warrant before it became due.

Hatcher explained he had requested tax collectors to make remittances of November and December taxes on the last days of these months, instead of waiting until the following month, as the law permitted them to do, and that he had been assured by collectors in some of the largest counties that this would be done.

He said he also had made agreements with some of the depositor banks to assist him in advancing funds to keep the state on a cash basis, if the amounts needed were not too large.

MOUNT VERNON WOMAN BURNED

MOUNT VERNON, Nov. 28. (AP)—Rescued from her burning home by two sons after the roof had fallen in, Mrs. L. S. Byrd was in a serious condition today of burns. One ear was almost buried off and it was believed the sight of one eye was lost.

Mrs. Byrd was working in the yard to the rear of her home, four miles west of here, when she heard a roaring noise in the house. She rushed in and found it in flames. She had made several trips in and out of the burning building in an effort to save personal effects before she felt exhausted in the hallway, where she was found by her sons who had been working in a field nearby a mile away. The roof had fallen in before they discovered the fire.

How Police Fought Reds in New York

It was the hardest fought battle yet waged between New York police and communist demonstrators when, for the fifth time in two months, reds clashed with officers in front of a cafeteria which has been unionized by the A. F. of L., arch enemy of communism. An NEA-News Post photographer here recorded one of the many personal encounters as 100 police repulsed about 1000 marching, singing, fighting reds. Several policemen were injured in the battle, but the one shown here seems to have the situation well in hand.

Whole Family Is Stabbed to Death

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 28. (AP)—A family of four, residing on a farm near Stanfordville, was found stabbed to death today. Police were without a clue to the assailant and unable to establish a motive for the murders.

The bodies of the farmer, his wife, daughter and son were found by an employee of a creamery who went to the farm to find why cream had not been delivered at the plant.

The dead: James Eustad Germond, 47. Mrs. Mabel Gregory Germond, 47. Bernice, 18. Raymond, 10.

The time of the slayings was fixed by authorities as late afternoon or evening of Wednesday.

Each of the four had been stabbed over the heart with a blade apparently an inch broad. The knife was not found. Authorities, reconstructing the scene, believed the assailant had rapped at the kitchen door of the farm house and stabbed Mrs. Germond as she opened the door. Mrs. Germond fell and the slayer apparently had stepped into the room, and pursuing the daughter into a corner, stabbed her.

Bob Delhotel and family are spending the Thanksgiving holidays in Kansas.

DEPUTY HELD AFTER SHOOTING

SAPULPA, Okla., Nov. 28. (AP)—A. A. Thompson, 60, Creek county deputy sheriff, was held in jail here today while authorities investigated the fatal shooting of Charles Russell, 35, an oil field worker, in a restaurant at Manford last night.

CHURCH IS DAMAGED

HAT BOX IS IDENTIFIED AS BEING HERS

Lamesa Sheriff Has Sent Query About Reward

FORT MORGAN, Colo., Nov. 28. (AP)—Discovery of her suitcase in an irrigation ditch 10 miles east of Fort Morgan stimulated efforts of officers today in their search for Miss Enid Marriott, missing Wiggins, Colo., school teacher.

The suitcase, picked up yesterday by two boys on a hunting expedition, was identified by articles of clothing and an insurance policy.

Sheriff R. A. Johnson said finding of the suitcase further convinced him the teacher had been kidnaped and slain. A sheriff's posse planned a search of the irrigation ditch.

Miss Marriott disappeared two weeks ago shortly after alighting from a train from Denver.

From Lamesa, Texas, came a telegram signed by A. N. Bennett, deputy sheriff, asking: "Is there any reward offered for information of whereabouts of Miss Marriott?"

The sheriff's office here replied a reward of $100 had been posted. No answer had been received from Bennett at noon.

Meanwhile, at the point where the irrigation ditch, which yesterday yielded Miss Marriott's combination hat box and suitcase, crosses under the Fort Moran-Greeley highway, a nail file identified by one of the woman's pupils as belonging to her was found on a ledge under the bridge. Apparently it had fallen there from the bridge banister.

On the bed of the ice-crustured water in the ditch was found an automatic lead pencil, supposedly also property of the missing school teacher. Down stream a half mile the hat box was found yesterday, and still further down stream today searchers came upon a handkerchief, a powder puff and some pupils' examination papers, all identified as belonging to Miss Marriott.

Fred Young, Denver private airplane pilot, flew his machine to a point near Fort Morgan today, and carried Deputy Sheriff Homer A. McMullen aloft to search irrigation reservoirs and irrigation ditch with a spyglass for possible traces of the school teacher's body.

Hundreds of persons with pick axes and crowbars dug at the ice of the irrigation ditch, in which were found the teacher's personal effects.

Evanston's Honor Saved; Prisoners Given Turkeys

—Evanston's honor has been saved. It happened after a platter of steaming "hot dogs" was sent in the Evanston jail yesterday for their Thanksgiving dinner.

"Make it turkey," the spokesman for the prisoners said, "or we won't eat and the next time we'll go to jail in Chicago, where they feed men right."

Capt. Charles C. C. Paasch thought about it for a while, concluded that "Evanston's honor" was at stake and took up a collection with which turkey dinners were provided.

DEFENDANT IN DENIAL CITES GRIM DETAILS

Says Companion Had to Fight in Own Defense

Emmett Thompson killed Hester Crabtree by striking him over the head with a four-foot iron rod while the two cattlemen were struggling for possession of Thompson's rifle, Carl Hefner, on trial for murder, testified this morning in his own defense.

In his sensational story, Hefner not only denied that he had anything to do with Crabtree's death, but left the impression that Thompson was forced to kill his ranching partner in self-defense. The defendant gave his version of the slaying in less than 30 minutes, but remained on the stand one and one-half hours longer while Fred Weeks, special prosecutor, subjected him to a rigid examination that left portions of Hefner's testimony unexplained.

Quotes Thompson

"He accused me of stealing cattle and tried to shoot me with my own gun," were Thompson's first words to Hefner when the latter arrived after a struggle between the slain man and Thompson, the defendant testified. Hefner said he was trying to catch the horse Crabtree had been riding while Crabtree and Thompson were fighting.

Hemphill Now Out Under Bond

AMARILLO, Nov. 28. (AP)—W. R. Hemphill, reputedly treasurer of the J. A. Land and Cattle company, whose affairs are under investigation by Colorado authorities, was released here yesterday under a $500 fugitive bond. He said he would not waive extradition until he learned more about the Colorado charges of violating the state securities act.

Three other officials of the company, including S. J. McCorkle of Amarillo, were named in the complaints. Charges were filed last Saturday after officers raided temporary headquarters of the company in Denver.

Woman to Seek Missing Husband

ABILENE, Nov. 28. (AP)—From a farm home more than 800 miles away, Mrs. William H. Peterson, Jewell, Iowa, is coming here to see if an aged man—a lost memory case—is her missing husband.

The man has been staying at the Abilene police station since Wednesday. He is about 60 years old, and although in good health, cannot recall his name, the place of his residence, or his recent travels. Discovery of a return stub of a railway ticket from Des Moines to Kansas City via Chicago and Great Western led police here to get in touch with Des Moines authorities. Investigation developed that William H. Peterson, of Jewell, is missing. His wife, talking with Abilene police today, gave a description of her husband that tallied, and she said she would come here at once.

MOODY GETS "POISON PEN" LETTER ON CHICAGO CASE

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (AP)—Governor Moody's controversy with Chicago over the crime situation in the Illinois city drew a "poison pen" letter today.

The letter, postmarked Houston, unsigned, and scrawled with a carbon pencil, apparently was a carbon guess that the original went to Governor-Elect Sterling, who was denounced equally with Moody.

The writer advised Moody to turn his attention to Texas, and ended with "it would be a great pleasure to meet you on some lonely spot."

Governor Moody said he did not contemplate turning it over to postal authorities.

Two Dinners—Death

CHICAGO, Nov. 28. (AP)—Two Thanksgiving dinners were eaten by Leon Brown, negro, before he was placed in the electric chair at the county jail and executed early today for his part in the murder of Martin French, bank guard slain in an attempted bank robbery in 1928. A goose dinner on the holiday noon was followed by a turkey dinner just before midnight. Two companions, Leonard Shadow and Laton Fisher, negroes, were executed for the same crime several weeks ago.

Floyd Walker and L. B. Autry spent Thanksgiving in Amarillo. They returned here last night.

BOTH SIDES REST

Both state and defense rested their cases at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge W. E. Ewing announced that the lengthy and highly technical charge might be completed by 4 o'clock this afternoon. If it is, he announced, arguments will start at that time. If the charge is completed by 4 o'clock, arguments will start this evening beginning at 9 o'clock. If the charge is not completed by 6 o'clock this afternoon, delivering of arguments will be postponed until morning. The case will go to the jury for deliberation following completion of arguments. Testimony introduced this afternoon by the defense included photographs of the LeFors country, made and explained by Fred Moss. T. C. Clark was a rebuttal witness placed on the stand by the state.

When I Arrived at the Place

where Crabtree was lying, I said to Thompson, 'he's in a bad condition; we'd better take him to a doctor.' I then raised his head and placed it on my arm and knee so he could breathe better," Hefner said.

The defendant testified that he and Thompson had started back to the ranch camp 3 miles from LeFors when they met Crabtree in the road. Crabtree stopped and got off the horse he was riding, Hefner said, and at the same time Thompson stopped the car in which he and Hefner were riding.

Tells of Conversation

"How're you getting along growing (ranch term for rounding up cattle)?" Hefner said Thompson asked Crabtree.

"Crabtree answered, 'all right,' and then I said to Homer, 'that's a fine horse you're riding,'" the defendant continued. It was previously brought out in the case that Crabtree was using Hefner's horse while riding the range.

"This is the sorriest horse I ever rode," Hefner testified Crabtree answered him.

"If you don't like him, you ought to turn him loose," Hefner said he replied.

"Turn him loose yourself," the de-

Pampa Is An Ideal Place For Holiday Shopping Tours

Almost every merchant looks to his holiday trade to build up his annual profits and to close the year on the better side of the ledger. He will be happy at Christmas and at the beginning of the new year if the home folks do their shopping with him.

The News wishes to call the attention of its readers to the fact that Pampa is an ideal city in which to shop. There is no city in West Texas with better stores, more desirable merchandise, and more reasonable prices. The stocks are large, making variety a salient point in favor of trading in Pampa.

Every year there are many citizens who make journeys to distant points to trade. It should not be so this season. There is no cause for the practice, and there are many reasons against doing so.

The Community Chest drive will be held next week. The merchants will be asked to give large sums to the cause. They will do so, of course. They are repeatedly solicited for such purposes. Is it not reasonable to assume that the people of Pampa will stand back of these merchants by trading with them instead of at ### Amarillo, Dallas, Fort Worth, or other cities?

And in addition to trading in Pampa, citizens should invite their friends to do likewise in those instances in which people of this territory usually go to some large place to shop. In other words, Pampa as a city offers trading opportunities which make it a commercial center. If the municipality is to grow as it should, it must be boosted as the metropolis of its own area.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 26. (AP)—With a shoe lace drawn around his neck, the body of R. E. Donnell, 63, president of the closed Liberty Bank and Trust company, an institution which he organized, was found in a hotel room here early today.

Search for Mr. Donnell had been made for several hours before it was learned that he had registered at the hotel. Repeated telephone calls to the room went unanswered and the door was opened. M. D. Johnson, assistant cashier of the bank, identified the body.

An envelope on which was written "to Ridley E. Donnell, Jr., from daddy" and containing his watch and chain, was found in his vest pocket. The lace from his left shoe had been removed and tied around his neck over a handker-

NO ONE IN PAMPA GOES HUNGRY ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Hundred Fifteen Baskets As Well As Dinners Given

Thanksgiving day is also a day of friendliness, when all society attempts to see that no member of it is in need, or at least that no member goes hungry. So no one in Pampa went without plenty of Thanksgiving dinner yesterday, if any of the churches or the Salvation Army could find out about the need.

More than 150 baskets, which, containing chicken and all the fixings, were valued at about $5 each, were packed by the women of the various churches and the Salvation Army, while in addition the Salvation Army fed 110 persons in the hall at 212 E. Foster, and gave 183 others sufficient food to take home with them to prepare a lovely dinner.

Merchants Cooperate
Much food for the baskets packed by the church women was donated by August Gordon, local dry goods merchant, while that distributed at the Salvation Army hall was given by I. Baum, grocer. Dilly bakers furnished the bread, Tex Kelly donated $20, and a number of other merchants contributed vegetables. This was done in spite of the fact that no drive was made.

Every church in the city had a part in the preparing and distributing of the baskets, which was sponsored by the First Methodist church, and children of the various Sunday schools brought donations last Sunday. A committee of women from each church worked beginning Sunday and continuing all day Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

The Methodist church also furnished tables, dishes, and other items necessary to the success of the food given at the Salvation Army hall. News boys, transients, and a few families were served from 11:30 a. m. to 2 p. m. There was a lovely chicken dinner, together with plenty of fruit, candy, and nuts for all the children to take home. Six converts were reported by the Salvation Army for Thanksgiving night.

"Cooperation given by the people of Pampa in the Thanksgiving work was remarkable," said Captain Mildred Cameron of the Salvation Army.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY HOLLYVE SELLERS

Thanksgiving's over and the kiddies have only 18 more shopping days 'til Christmas!

For the grown-ups there is more time, but the chief interest of Santa Claus is the children, and he must have a few days to look around and pick out the very best of the toys he can find for each boy and girl.

Now, kiddies, here's a little secret just for you. Santa Claus is much too busy to see each of you personally and find out what you would like best, so, knowing that the folks at the Pampa News-Post were in the habit of reporting and that they liked to have a part in making the girls and boys happy, he asked them to investigate the wants of all the children and let him know what they found out. Now here's the way the plan will work. You are to decide just what you would like best, write a letter to old Santa himself and address it to Santa Claus, Pampa News-Post. You may send your letter now or at any time before noon on Friday, Dec. 19, and they will be delivered to Santa in plenty of time for him to select your gifts. In addition the letters will be published in the following Sunday's paper, and you may spend a pleasant hour before breakfast reading about what all the other children want Santa to bring them.

Now, children, if I were you I wouldn't write a letter to Santa without thinking about it quite a bit beforehand. Why not arrange to go to town with mother some afternoon and look at the new toys at all the stores? You'd be surprised at how many have arrived already. After visiting all the stores, try to pick out a few things that you like best. That's going to be pretty hard because everything will look so pretty you will surely like most everything you see, but remember that Santa has lots of boys and girls to provide for and try not to ask him for too much. We don't want any one to be left out this Christmas. In order that every boy and girl may have something, no one must ask for more than his or her share.

When you have made your choice, it is time to write the letter, and do be careful with the letter. Sometimes boys and girls in writing to

Thanksgiving Is Occasion of Much Coming, Going

Coming as it does on Thursday, Thanksgiving is the occasion for many out of town visits for Pampa people, especially local teachers. The teachers have a vacation from Thursday through Sunday, thus giving them ample time to visit their homes in some cases several hundred miles from this city.

Frank G. Wright, Jr., assistant manager of Pampa Brownbilt Shoe store, spent Thanksgiving day with his parents in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. August A. Gordon went to El Paso for Thanksgiving.

James Stone went to Oklahoma for the holidays. He was accompanied by his mother.

Milton Clayman was in El Paso on Thanksgiving day.

Miss Ila Poole, a teacher in junior high school, is at her home for the holidays.

Miss Jewel Montague, teacher in Sam Houston school, is spending the holidays at her home in Lockney.

Miss Mildred Smith, teacher in Merten school, is visiting her aunt and grandmother in Miami.

Jean Solon of the Western Supply company is in the city for a few days. He is from Tulsa.

Talks To Parents

A CHANGE OF SCENE
By Alice Judson Peale

There is perhaps no experience more refreshing to the adolescent boy or girl than to get away from home now and then—either by spending a year at boarding school, a summer away at camp or through making a visit at the home of a congenial relative.

Such periods of absence from home bring more than one advantage. In the first place they help in the process of psychological weaning from home and family which is so essential a part of the business of growing up. Secondly, they give the child a chance to measure himself in terms of his ability to get on in a more or less impersonal environment.

They help him to learn his shortcomings and to correct his faults of social adjustment before they become too fixed to admit of modification. They facilitate in every way the development of the technique of personal relationships as he will encounter them through life.

Thirdly, if he has had difficulties at school or in his social life at home they give him a fresh start. He perhaps has become discouraged through failures and adverse criticisms, a new scene gives him the opportunity to see himself with unprejudiced eyes.

His old faults become less a part of him and he is able to separate them from his own image of himself and perhaps actually stuff them off altogether in the new friendly atmosphere.

CANADIAN FRENCHMAN WILL MEET JACK ROSE TONIGHT

DE VORA HAS APPEARANCE OF IRON MAN

If Jack Rose isn't all but intruded tonight at the Pampa arena there will be almost as many irate fans as there were recently when Rose defeated Otis Clingman by the soda pop route.

Rose may not be singing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" when he arrives tonight, but it is certain that he will not be carrying a worried countenance. He thinks the local fans were excited and that they held no real grudge against him.

Nor does Rose take Napoleon DeVora's opinion tonight, as seriously as all fans who have seen the mighty Frenchman. Otis (Baby Face) Clingman says he is glad that it is Rose who is meeting DeVora, and Clingman is not given to dodging tough hombres. DeVora looks the part of a steam roller in strength and he is said to be fast as well.

If DeVora cannot deal Rose all the misery the fans wish, there is no one in this section who can.

In the semi-finals, "Swede" Larson will appear with an unnamed opponent. Unless a suitable adversary can be found, Clingman may be persuaded to go the time limit, or less, with the Swede.

Wrestlers seem to be on Clingman's trail. Today The News received this letter from Eugene, Ore. Sports Editor.

Pampa Daily News,
Pampa, Texas.
Dear Sir:

I understand that Otis Clingman is wrestling in your country. I have been trying for three years to get him on the mat but have had no success in landing a bout with him. There must be a reason why he refuses to meet me. He might have been champion of the navy for three years but I never saw anything that came from the navy yet that was very hot. In fact, I have wrung more salt water out of my socks than Clingman ever saw.

I wish to issue a personal challenge through your columns to Otis Clingman to meet him any time and at any place. On my previous trip east I wrestled in Amarillo and El Paso, and my ability is known down there.

I am only asking for fair play and think I deserve a chance to meet Clingman. Yours for good clean sportsmanship.

GEORGE (Wildcat) PETE.
P. S.—I will be coming through Texas in the near future, and will check in with you to see if my challenge is accepted.

Boy Flier Is Youngest to Leave Plane in 'Chute

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 23. (AP)—Instead of holding a new junior transcontinental flight record, Gerald Nettleton, 20-year-old Toledo, Ohio, aviator, was enrolled today as the youngest member of the famed "Caterpillar club."

Nettleton made a 10,000-foot parachute drop to escape from a blinding rain and snow storm which enveloped his plane near here yesterday as he was within less than an hour of finishing his transcontinental flight.

He drifted gently to earth near a ranch house as his abandoned plane crashed a mile away. Except for being rained and extremely cold, Nettleton was unhurt. He made his way to a ranch house and topped off his adventure with a big Thanksgiving dinner.

The weather was "sloppy"—rain, fog and snow," said Nettleton. "I couldn't see 10 feet. The instruments froze and since I couldn't see, there was only one thing to do and that was to jump."

"I fought the weather as long as I dared. I failed to leap but that was my only alternative." So I leveled the plane off, cut the switch, closed the throttle and rolled out the rope.

"The last I saw of the plane it was floating gently. I had fallen for several minutes and did not see the earth until less than 200 feet from it. That's how bad the weather was."

At the time Nettleton leaped he had about 40 miles to go in his attempt to break the 24-hour, three-minute record held by Stanley Boynton, 18, of Rockland, Maine.

PILOT IS MISSING

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23. (AP)—Fear that William S. Griffin, Cleveland airplane pilot, may have perished in storm while flying Tuesday from Hamilton, Ontario, to Buffalo, N. Y., was expressed at the Cleveland airport today when his wife reported him missing.

Griffin, employed by Wing's, Inc., was flying a small cabin monoplane alone.

LA BARBA IS FAVORITE FOR BOUT TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. (AP)—Another two in one shot goes to the post in Madison Square Garden tonight and those who back their opinions with cold cash are hoping that Fidel La Barba has better luck than recent favorites have had in the Garden. La Barba, former world's flyweight champion, meets Bud Taylor, body-punching featherweight from Terre Haute, Ind., in the main go.

La Barba was the cause of one of these upsets for he whipped Chocolate when the Cuban negro was a three to one choice. Largely because of his showing in that bout, La Barba has been established a well-defined choice tonight against Taylor but the middle westerner is nobody's set-up.

The winner has been promised a match with the survivor of the Chocolate-Bat Battalino, featherweight title bout to be held Dec. 12.

MOST FLAGS WELL CINCHED BY ELEVENS

BY HERBERT W. BARKER.
NEW ORK, Nov. 23. (AP)—Thanksgiving day's football sited decided three more conference championships and left only the east, among the major groups, lacking a generally recognized leader.

In a day conspicuous by a decided absence of form reversals, the Southwestern, Big Six and Southern conferences wound up their seasons yesterday insofar as titular play goes. A few games remain to be played but they cannot affect the championship situation.

In the Southwest, the Texas Longhorns supplanted Texas Christian as title-holders by whipping the hapless Texas Aggies, 26-0. In the Big Six, Kansas walked into the title without a struggle when the Oklahoma-Somers were held to a scoreless tie by Missouri's inexperienced outfit. In the Southern conference, the situation is not so cut and dried, for both Alabama and Tulane finished their conference seasons unbeaten and untied. Alabama registered its eighth straight conference triumph by whipping Georgia after a bitter battle, 13-3. Tulane also found plenty of trouble with Louisiana's State but finally eked out a 12-7 victory.

In the east, yesterday's standout game saw Cornell's eleven outplay Penn and win, 13-7, for the first time since 1923. Colgate added further to its sectional title claims by whipping Brown, 27-0. The Maroons' beaten only by Michigan State, look like one of the section's really powerful elevens but there are other formidable candidates such as Army, Dartmouth and Fordham.

The South had a heavy holiday schedule but only the Tulane and Alabama games had any hearing on the title. Auburn thalkeed up its first conference victory in four years by trouncing South Carolina, 25-7, and Florida for the first time succeeded in beating Georgia Tech and did it thoroughly, 55-7.

In the Big Six, the Kansas Aggies, who never had gotten better than a tie with Nebraska, beat the Cornhuskers, 10-9. At Chicago the Oregon Aggies concentrated their attack in the third period to whip West Virginia, 12-0.

Utah, which clinched the Rocky Mountain title some time ago, closed another unbeaten season with a 41-0 triumph over the Utah Aggies. In the Pacific Coast conference, already won by Washington State, Southern California whipped Washington, 32-0. In the big game of the day, St. Mary's of Oakland noosed out Oregon in a non-conference game, 7-6.

TEXAS TEAM GIVES AGGIES BAD BEATING

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
AUSTIN, Nov. 23. (AP)—They were a group of misfits in September, but today are champions of the Southwest conference football realm.

The University of Texas eleven that stomped over the Texas Aggies, 26 to 0, in Memorial stadium here yesterday to win its second title in three years was given little chance by critics before the campaign began, and even less after it had played a game or two. Then something clicked in the mechanism and it became almost overnight one of the most powerful units ever banded together in this section.

Coach Clyde Littlefield was jubilant over his team's impressive victory yesterday. The present potency of the Longhorns is something of a surprise even to him.

"They learned to play football since September," was the way he summed it up.

He could be assured of receiving no argument either from the Aggies or from the 40,000 customers who watched the big orange and white juggernaut crash and bank its way to four touchdowns, one in each period, here yesterday. The Farmers lived up to every tradition of the annual tussle by fighting to the last ditch, but they never had a chance of halting the Longhorns. It was seldom they even could slow them down.

The issue was settled within seven minutes, to be exact. It took the Steers just that long to plow and pass down the field 66 yards for a touchdown after getting possession of the ball. Their three other scores were superfluous, as the Aggies could do almost nothing against the staunch Texas defense. Their only real threat was an aerial march to the victors' 15-yard line, where they were stopped in their tracks.

Big Dexter Shelley, Longhorn captain, closed his grid career with one of his greatest performances, both on offense and defense, but he scarcely shone more brilliantly than his two backfield mates, Ernest Koy and Harrison Stafford. The three huskies ripped the Aggie line to shreds with their off-tackle charges and Koy and Shelley gave the crowd a glimpse of some dead eye passing. The Longhorn line had the Farmer forwards on their heels all afternoon, time and again opening up holes that a truck could have gone through. They tackled viciously.

As a result of their easy triumph, the Longhorns closed their conference schedule with four wins, and one defeat. Their only loss all season was a 6 to 0 setback from the Rice Owls, who caught them before they found their strength. They were assured of the championship, no matter what the results of the Baylor-Rice and Southern Methodist-Texas Christian tilts tomorrow at Waco and Dallas, respectively.

There was some talk of a post-season game between the Longhorns and some outstanding sectional team—Alabama, for instance—but there had been no official move in that direction.

Aviation Needs Less Duplication Along Coast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. (AP)—Slow promotion in the army air corps and a shortage of aircraft were cited today by F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aeronautics, as "stumbling blocks" to progress.

The promotion problem in the corps continues "to cast its shadow over the service," Davison said in his annual report. To meet the shortage in aircraft, he recommended eventual procurement of sufficient planes to keep full active strength while some are withdrawn for major repairs.

The assistant secretary went at length into the "controversy" over duplications in the aerial coast defense between army and navy, describing it as "serious."

He recommended speedy action on the subject not only for economy and efficiency but to eliminate friction between the services.

Human error, he said, was responsible for 55 per cent of air corps accidents which resulted in 52 deaths during the year. Engines and structural failures caused about 29 per cent; 13 per cent were caused by poor landing fields and bad weather, while the remaining three per cent were listed as of doubtful cause.

The previous year death had wanted to get a job in organized baseball as a catcher. Shibe was miles flown as compared for one impressed by the young man's death in every 625,000 miles this eagerness, took his name and asked Tom Currier, president of the Portland club, to give the former quinquennial.

Miss Clarice Fuller, Baker school teacher, a tryout. Pannino made teacher, is at her home in Clarendon with Portland, and now is to have his chance with the A's.

Michigan's Midget

Walker to Fight Akron Ring Heavy

CHICAGO, Nov. 23. (AP)—Mickey Walker, king of the world's middleweights, will make his second raid into the heavyweight division tonight, with tough Meyer "K. O." Christner of Akron as his opponent in a 10-round bout at the coliseum.

Walker, who, with his manager, Jack Kearns, believes he has outgrown the competition in his own class, aspires to go places as a heavyweight and already has the scalp of Johnny Risko of Cleveland, in his possession. Christner, a good puncher, will outweigh the Toy Bulldog by at least 30 pounds and is regarded as a serious test.

Charity Game at Pittsburgh Delayed

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23. (AP)—Postponement of the football game scheduled for the stadium Saturday between Carnegie Tech and Washington and Jefferson college, was announced today by Clarence Averend, graduate manager of athletics at Carnegie. The game, which is to be for charity, will be played a week from tomorrow.

The contest was postponed because of the continued cold weather.

Stanford Cardinals Perk Up A Bit After Poor Showing Against Trojans

STANFORD UNIV., Cal. Nov. 23. (AP)—The Stanford Cardinals expect to wind up an unimpressive football year with a decisive victory over Dartmouth's "green-jerseyed warriors" here November 29.

Potentially one of the strongest teams in the coast conference, Stanford's dismal showing in a scoreless tie with Minnesota and a 41-12 drubbing by Southern California, caused spectators almost to lose faith.

Even Coach "Pop" Warner, who lines, was puzzled over the letdown has spent 37 years along the sidelines of his team.

After the Southern California debacle Warner sidetracked a time-honored rule—never to discuss the short-comings of his players and said, "something is wrong, somewhere."

When Stanford later lined up against Washington, the team suddenly came to life. Trick reverses and fake reverses functioned, and passes started by Simpkins and Robert alternate fullbacks, connected. The result was a 23-7 victory.

But in their new enthusiasm the

POST-SEASON GAME WITH RANGER BULLDOGS REMAINS ON PAMPA GRID SCHEDULE

One week from today, Pampa's Harvesters will be hosts to the Ranger Bulldogs in a post-season classic which should draw spectators from the entire Panhandle and beyond. Both teams are ably capable of representing their sections.

The December 5 clash will be a severe test for the locals, financially and athletically. It will require a large crowd to pay the Bulldogs to make the long trip.

Yesterday the Harvesters closed their first Class A season with an .875 average and second place by defeating the Quanah Indians, 59 to 20.

Pampa's mighty eleven bowed in defeat only once, and that was in an unconvincing affair which Amarillo won 2-0 in the mud on October 11. The Harvesters amassed the astonishing total of 368 points to 61 for their opponents in eight games. Most of the scoring done against them was with the reserves on the field.

The season's scoring:
Pampa 12, Lubbock 9.
Pampa 0, Amarillo 2.
Pampa 77, Plainview 0.
Pampa 32, Vernon 0.
Pampa 47, Electra 13.
Pampa 71, Childress 0.
Pampa 71, Wichita Falls 7.
Pampa 58, Quanah 20.

Totals: Pampa 368, Opponents 51.

Quanah brought a well-balanced eleven and her fighting Indians gave the locals a number of anxious moments. Hulah Hall, her quarterback and captain, hurled passes and carried the ball in exceptional fashion, and he was ably seconded by Horne and Lovell. Norman, left wing man, used an end around performance to gain many yards. Two of Quanah's touchdowns came on passes hurled to Faircloth and Norman, respectively, and the last one on gains by Hall with the reserves as opposition.

Pampa's offensive had to click well to keep the visitors under control. But this was easy with Captain Don Saulebury scoring the first four touchdowns and Lard and Martindale speeding away for long gains the latter once 85 yards on a return kickoff. Chastain and Kahl starred on shorter plunges. The Pampa line, with Poe, Schmidt, and Moore doing better than ever and others making individual brilliant tackles at times, held well in most instances. Pampa's defense against passing was as not usually is the case, rather weak yesterday.

Score by periods:
Quanah 0 6 7 7—30
Pampa 13 19 19 7—58

Starting Lineups:
Quanah Pos. Pampa
Norman LE Moore
Harrell LT Schmidt
Hurt LG Ayres
Rogers RG Poe
O'Hair C Pafford
Richardson ET Freeman
Horne TE Kennedy
Lovell LH Martindale
Faircloth RH Chastain
Hall (C) QB Lard
Shields FB Saulebury (C)
Substitutions: Brazil, Blue, Cox, Campbell, and Davis of Quanah; for Pampa, Reno, Burch, Freeman, Camp, Kahl, James, Poole, Lowie, Ledrick, Powell, Hewitt, and L. Saulebury.

Summary: Touchdowns, for Pampa, Saulebury 4, Martindale 2, Chastain 2, Lard; for Quanah: Faircloth, Norman, Hall. Points after touchdown, Quanah, Hall 2; for Pampa, Saulebury 2, Chastain, Lard; first downs, Pampa 18; Quanah 9; yards gained from scrimmage, Pampa 462, Quanah 244. Passes completed, Pampa 7 for total of 68 yards; Pampa intercepted 2 and Quanah 1. Pampa punted 3 times for average of 36 yards; Quanah 7 times for average of 30 yards. Penalties, Pampa 3 for total of 35 yards; Quanah 3 times for total of 35 yards.

Officials: Referee, Wicht, Tulane; Umpire, Johnson, S. M. U.; head linesman, Henry, Oklahoma Aggies. (Note: The play-by-play account of the Quanah-Pampa game appeared in this morning's Post.)

Investigation of Veteran's Death Will Be Made

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23. (AP)—Reginald Dean, guardian of Otto Mill Smith, 35, a world war veteran, shot and fatally wounded Wednesday night by Patrolman Charles Duncan; today sought a full investigation of the cause. Smith died yesterday.

Duncan sought to search Smith after a restaurant had reported the veteran "acted queerly" in the place. Smith grabbed at the officer's gun, later telling hospital authorities, "I fought with him because I didn't want to be shot."

Dean, a street car operator, who had been Smith's guardian since May 27, 1928, said Smith often became mentally unbalanced. He said his purpose in asking a full investigation was "to see that Smith is given justice."

Colgate Star Is Near 150 Points for This Season

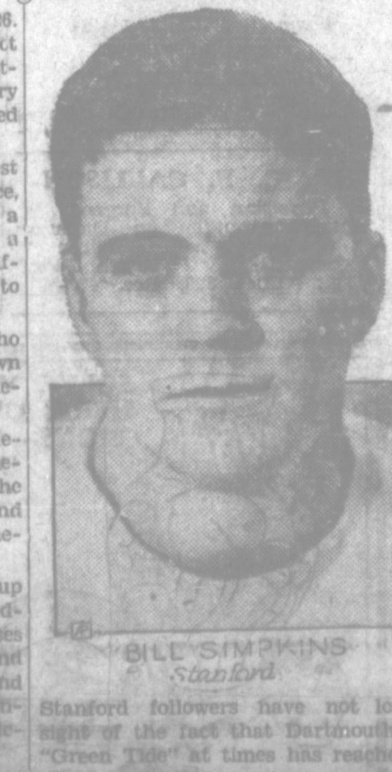

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. (AP)—Lem Macaluso, Colgate's battering-ram fullback, needs only one more touchdown to boost his total points scored to 150. The Maroon star scored one touchdown and kicked three goals after touchdown against Brown yesterday to send his season's point total to 144, by far the country's best among major college players. He will have one more chance to increase this figure when the Maroons meet New York University here Dec. 6.

Pioneer Physician Dies

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 23. (AP)—Dr. B. E. Wildt, 61, prominent San Antonio physician and native of Shelby, Texas, died in a hospital here yesterday. Funeral services were expected to be held Saturday.

Elderly Man Killed

PLANO, Nov. 23. (AP)—Lawrence Bowen, 65, of Howe, was thrown through the windshield of an automobile and fatally injured yesterday, when the car in which he was riding crashed into the rear of another machine parked at the roadside. He died en route to a hospital.

Stanford followers have not lost sight of the fact that Dartmouth's "Green Tide" at times has reached flood proportions.

Soviet Engineers Facing Death

MOSCOW, Nov. 28. (AP)—Within less than a week eight soviet engineer defendants, who have pleaded guilty to high treason, will know the punishment to be meted by the proletarian for the highest of all crimes in the soviet, counter-revolutionary activity.

On its face, it appears the four judges who have been making the verdicts and listening to the eight defendants condemn themselves with "confessions" of having plotted sabotage and foreign intervention can do nothing else than pass sentence of death.

Justice Vishinsky yesterday informed a defendant, M. Kuprianchik, the first of the engineers to take the stand, that no direct charges involving "friendly foreign governments" could be made in open court, but would be heard later in a closed session.

POOL TO SEE HOSPITAL BEFORE TAKING OFFICE

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (AP)—Inspection of the state hospital at Galveston, with a view of expanding facilities for the care of crippled children, will be made tomorrow by Adrian Pool, recently appointed to the board of control.

Pool will go to Galveston this afternoon as a member of the board of the Court of Criminal Appeals, or control by Judge F. L. Hawkins now undergoing treatment at Galveston.

INDIAN IS CONVICTED

WEWOKA, Okla., Nov. 28. (AP)—A jury here today convicted Wyetka Harjo, an Indian, of murder and recommended a 15-year prison sentence.

Harjo, accused of the club slaying of Arthur Johnson, also an Indian, last March, does not understand English. He was taken to jail uninformed of his fate.

Cuba topped the list of countries delivering imports to the port of New Orleans last year with 1,185,850 long tons.

CHURCHES

WHAT AILS THE CHURCH?

What ails the church was the topic of the sermon at the Central Baptist church last night by Evangelist Geo. W. McCall. He said in part: "The church is suffering from the paralysis of unbelief and the surfeiting of selfishness. The church never had such fine buildings and equipment, so many educated preachers, so much wealth and culture, so much social prestige as it has today. Saint Thomas Aquinas, the great Catholic theologian, was being shown through the treasury of the Vatican by the Pope, who remarked, 'You see Peter can no longer say, 'Silver and gold have I none.' 'Yes,' replied the great scholar, 'and Peter can no more say to the lame man, 'Rise up and walk.' 'The one supreme need of the church is a broken heart for sinners.' We need to have what Paul had when he wrote, 'I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart for them' and 'my heart's desire and prayer to God is for them that they might be saved.'

Dr. McCall will speak tonight on "The Greatest Gift You Ever Knew." The meeting grows in interest and attendance.

CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL

Evangelist McGaughey last night discussed "Jesus at the Door" and a large number enjoyed this wonderful message. The Scripture reading was found in Rev. 3:20. The speaker said these words were to those who had become Christians, but had crowded Christ out of their lives.

This saying is also applicable to those who have never let Christ find a place in their life. Mr. McGaughey said "We should consider who is at our door." It is he who is spoken of as being the Ruler of Heaven, the Lily of the Valley, the Bright and Morning Star, the First and the Last Alpha, and the Omega, the Son of God, the Savior of the world, who holds the keys of death and life.

"Friends, why is He at the door," the evangelist asked. "He is there because He is the Good Shepherd, and the Shepherd seeks his sheep who are lost. He is there to take away sin. He is there because He is the light of the world, and He wants to dispel the darkness, gloom, and misery of this life. The speaker stated that sin is the thing that keeps Jesus out of your life. Isa. 6:10: Behold the Lord's hand is shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear; but your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear."

The evangelist said, "I do not know the nature of your sin, it may be unbelief, self-righteousness, or it may be procrastination." Some sin has said "procrastination is the thief of time," but I only wish you procrastination in a heart of souls. Tonight the church will be "What shall I do with Jesus Who is calling me?" Come and enjoy this good message with the Church of Christ.—Contributed.

NO CHARITY GAME

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (AP)—The University of Texas, which yesterday won the Southwest conference football championship, will not engage in a post-season game for charity. Coach Clyde Littlefield said today. Littlefield said the faculty in the past has expressed strong disapproval of post-season games and he believed it likely an extra game would be voted down.

MANY FRIDAYS NOW

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 28. (AP)—Juan Fernandez Island, where Robinson Crusoe and his man Friday lived, now has 298 inhabitants, the national census recently completed has disclosed.

WIND SOUNDS LOUD IN "MIKE"

An ordinary wind which whistles vaguely through the air sounds like a roaring inferno with a weird quality, when heard through the medium of the sensitive talking picture microphone.

Richard Thorpe, directing Rex Lease in "The Utah Kid" with Dorothy Sebastian, Thomas Santschi, Boris Karloff, Walter Miller and others, had occasion to test the differing qualities and audible force of wind when shooting location scenes for the picture.

On one day the wind at Chatsworth, on the opposite end of the San Fernando Valley from Hollywood, grew from a faint breeze to a near relative of a cyclone during the day.

Owing to the peculiar shape of hundreds of great rocks in the section, the wind became an unnatural roar to the engineers in the sound trucks.

"The Utah Kid" playing at the Rex theatre now, is the first of a series of western pictures to star Lease, and will feature the scenic advantages of live or six different locations.

SUIT BEING HEARD

HEFNER

Defendant quoted Crabtree as rejoicing. "I then got out of the car and took the saddle off the horse and Crabtree removed the bridle and the bits hung and the horse jerked his head. I can unsaddle any horse I'm riding," Crabtree said to me, and he ran at me with a stick in his hand. The club struck me on the right hand with which I warded off the blow. I then wrenched the stick away from him and he went down in his pocket for his knife. When he came up he again, I hit him in the nose," Hefner stated.

Hefner testified that he did not know whether the two blows he struck in Crabtree's face produced any fractures or were sufficient to cause death.

Went After Horse "I knocked him down the second lick and as he lay on the ground he said, 'Carl, if you'll leave me alone, I'll take back everything I said,'" the defendant continued. "I hit him because he called me a sucker. Homer then told us to take him some place where he could wash his face. I took the bridle and traveled south about 250 yards after the horse. I reached a little rise and saw the horse about a quarter of a mile away, and started after him, without looking back to see where the car had gone."

ms like they were trying to push each other out of the car. I commenced running back toward them and went down in a little draw. On the next rise, I saw Thompson, holding the gun in one hand, hit Crabtree with a rod over the head with the other hand. That's the way it happened as near as I could tell. When I got there Crabtree was lying on the ground where I saw him fall when Thompson struck him with the rod. Thompson was taking the gun away from him when I arrived."

Denies Participation "I said, 'Thompson, what in the world is going on here?' and Thompson answered, 'he accused me of stealing cattle and tried to shoot me with my own gun.' I said to Thompson, 'He's in a bad condition. We'd better get him to a doctor.'"

In direct examination, Hefner denied that he stomped or kicked Crabtree. He said blood was spouting out of Crabtree's temple when he raised his head and placed it on his arm and knee. "After Thompson left, I got up to see if anybody was coming," he stated. "I waved to a woman on the hill to come down. I meant for her to stay with him while I got some water."

The defendant declared that the testimony of Constable Bob Wall, Ed Hammond, and Joe Doby was correct. They preceded him to the witness stand. "I never had any malice against Crabtree. We were good friends. I never planned to kill him, and never touched him with anything."

The defendant said that Crabtree's mouth and nose were bleeding profusely when he got in the car to "go some place to wash."

Hefner said he had known Crabtree for 26 years. "He was the first boy I got acquainted with in Gray county. He had a charge account at my butcher shop when he died."

Members were guests of the Weslaco Rotary club for breakfast. Addresses were made by C. C. Hudson of Iowa Park, H. D. Meister of Yorkum and Col. F. L. Downs of Temple.

Recalls Trouble In cross-examination, Hefner testified that he and Crabtree were partners in the cattle business at one time. He said he had "no malice to speak of" against Crabtree. Asked to explain what he meant by that remark, Hefner said, "the only time I got real sore at him was when he went out to my lake on a party and kicked the fence down and wouldn't pay for, nor fix it. I filed a complaint against him and he paid a fine."

Maple Goes to Chair for Murder HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 23. (AP)—Jess J. Maple, who killed two Houston policemen after helping rob a furniture store, died in the state prison electric chair early today. Walking slowly to the death house, holding a letter he had written his wife, Maple who had said he wanted to be executed for his crime, asked sardonically of the chaplain: "What return address can I put?" The chaplain did not answer. In the chamber, Maple, given the opportunity to make a statement, replied only that the officials "might" send his love to his wife and child. Maple twice was made ready to die before the mandate was carried out. Ten days ago, a reprieve, sought by his counsel, had come from Governor Moody hardly more than an hour before the sentence would have been executed. Given that brief time, the lawyers redoubled their unavailing efforts, twice asking the Houston district court where Maple was convicted to order an insanity hearing and twice petitioning the court of criminal appeals at Austin; the first time for a mandamus, the next for an habeas corpus writ. Meanwhile, Maple, who pleaded guilty, admitting that he had not given his victims, motorcycle officers W. B. Phares and Edward Fitzgerald, "a chance," kept insisting that he wanted the death chair or freedom—that he would not be satisfied with ameliorated punishment. Miss Sarah Moyer, teacher at Sam Houston school, is in Claude visiting relatives during Thanksgiving and the week-end.

Brownbilt Store Host to Eskimos The Arctic waste has been moved bodily into the windows of The Pampa Brownbilt Store, 123 North Cuyler. There is an igloo, a totem pole, an aurora, and everything necessary for a real Arctic setting. Buster Brown and Tige are out to capture a great walrus resting on the edge of the ice—but it seems that Buster doesn't know his walrus. Each time 'tote' Buster throws his spear at the walrus the icy old tank disappears into the wise water through a crevasse in the ice. Joe has promised the children who crowd about his store to look at the display each day, that he will have other displays just as interesting to show in his windows shortly. ### MENU FOR THE FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

After the hunting season opens, many women are confronted with the task of cooking game of some sort. Game birds especially are in keeping for Thanksgiving time, and several of them have a season in most states and are available in the markets.

Rabbits and squirrels are common game foods and can be cooked in many ways. Fricassee, stew, pie and roasts all are popular, and easy to prepare.

Venison, properly cooked, is one of the most delicious of the wild meats. It is very easily digested and a particularly suitable food for the convalescent.

Venison Should "Ripen"

Newly-killed deer is quite tough, though it has a sweet flavor. If allowed to hang from one to two weeks before cutting into joints and steaks it "ripens" and becomes more tender. The saddle or loin is considered the choicest cut, and plenty of fat is an indication of good quality.

The saddle is usually roasted and should be cooked rare. The haunch also is often roasted, but is usually liked well done. Steak should be cut about half an inch thick and is cooked like beef steak—broiled, pan-broiled or fried. It is preferred rare.

Any cut of venison is improved if allowed to stand in a marinade of oil and vinegar for several hours or over night.

Currant jelly is traditional with venison. It is often used for basting a roast and is added to delicious sauce to serve with steak.

Either a saddle or haunch should be larded or rubbed with melted butter before putting in the oven. After it has been in the oven about half an hour the heat should be reduced and the time calculated from this point. Allow 20 minutes to the pound. Thus a four-pound roast would need one hour and 50 minutes for roasting.

Game birds are delicious cooked in a number of ways. The smaller-sized ones are broiled, either whole or in halves, and served on toast. The larger ones are roasted like young chickens and served in much the same way. Any size can be cut in halves or disjointed and cooked in casserole.

Stuffing Game Birds
The usual savory stuffing used for domestic fowls is not liked in game birds. An onion, apple, a few uncooked cranberries, celery and butter—any of these materials is dropped inside the birds before roasting, to give flavor and richness. The onion or apple or whatever is used is not eaten, but is removed before serving.

Guinea hen, although not a game bird, has a "gamey" flavor and is roasted like pheasant. An onion, a few stalks of celery and two or three tablespoons butter dropped inside either guinea hen or pheasant before roasting gives a delicious flavor. The stuffing is not served.

The slightly fishy taste common to wild ducks can be overcome by rubbing them with a cut onion and putting a few uncooked cranberries in each duck when roasting.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.
Adventure entered into the life of CELIA MITCHELL, 17, when she learns the father she has supposed dead is alive and wealthy. She leaves her unpretentious home in Baltimore to live in New York with her father, JOHN MITCHELL, and her aristocratic grandmother.

MARGARET ROGERS, Celia's mother, is now a widow, having divorced Mitchell and remarried later. BARNEY SHIELDS, young newspaper photographer, is in love with the girl and before she leaves Baltimore Celia promised to be loyal to his love.

Mitchell asks EVELYN PARSONS beautiful widow, to introduce the girl to young people. Mrs. Parsons agrees, considering Celia a means to win Mitchell's affections though she is jealous and at once begins scheming to get rid of the girl. She introduces Celia to TOD JORDAN, fascinating but of dubious character, and does all she can to encourage the match.

LIST DUNCAN socially prominent becomes Celia's loyal friend. Mitchell learns Jordan is paying his daughter attentions and forbids her to see him. Celia offends her grandmother and the elderly Mrs. Mitchell feigns illness and departs for a rest. The girl goes to Mrs. Parsons' Long Island home for a lengthy visit. Jordan calls her frequently. Mrs. Parsons lunches with Mitchell and he tells her he has investigated Jordan's past and that the young man is a gambler. She does not pass this news on to Celia.

Next day Celia, Lia and Jordan attend the races and there Celia encounters Barney Shields. Shields is employed by a New York picture service. She meets him next day and they have dinner together. Shields asks her if she still cares for him. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIX Barney Shields' firm gaze held the girl's. She could not look away. In the depths of Barney's gray eyes Celia could read intensity and a challenge that was frightening. She could not evade. It would hurt, but there was no other way. She had to tell Barney the truth.

had caused suffering and could do nothing to relieve it.
"I'm sorry," she said in a low voice, "but I had to be honest with you."

He was looking at her now. The table seemed to have widened. Barney's manner was composed, but the laughing light in his eyes had faded.
"Well—that's that. Thank you for telling me, Celia."

A waiter placed food before them. Celia felt as though she could not swallow a mouthful. It was soup, thick with vegetables and savory. She took a spoonful and found it appetizing.

"Are you engaged?" Shields asked steadily.
"No. That is—not really. You see father doesn't approve of Tod. I mean he doesn't really know him. He'll feel differently just as soon as sure of that."

"I see."
A rush of compassion swept over Celia.

"Barney, I can't stand it to have you talk like that. We've been friends so long! Oh, I've felt miserable because I promised to wait for you and then—well, you see you didn't write and I met Tod."

"There's something about him. I don't know. At first I tried to pretend I didn't like him. Then I went swimming and he saved me from drowning. He's been wonderful. I still like you a lot, Barney, but Tod's different. Do you see how it is?"

"I see all right!"
The mocking quality in the words was unconcealed.

"Don't talk like that! I can't stand it. Promise we'll always be friends. Good friends!"

The young man's eyes were averted.
"If that's the way you feel about it you can count on me," he said. "Who is this—Tod, if I may inquire?"

"Tod Jordan's his full name."
"Got lots of dough."
"No. That is, well, I supposed so. He doesn't have an office or anything like that."

"Just does parlor tricks, huh?"
"Barney, do you think that's nice?"

The young man smiled a twisted smile. "Sorry," he said. "No, I guess it wasn't very. Of course, all that stuff's out of my class."
"If you're trying to hurt my feelings—!"
"Oh, see here, Celia, you know I didn't mean anything like that! Don't take it that way. Honestly, I'm sorry!"

"All right, then."
Neither had done more than taste the soup. It was removed and followed by a huge mound of spaghetti with sauce and bowl of cheese.

"You're supposed to do it this way," Shields explained, wrapping the spaghetti about his fork. This diversion interrupted the conversation. Presently the young man asked:

"You care a lot for this fellow Jordan, do you?" His voice was low, almost husky.

Celia nodded her head.
"Yes, Barney," she said.

There was no more talk on the subject. Celia asked about her mother, but Barney had little news to give. He had seen Mrs. Rogers a couple of times after the girl's departure. He had called to say goodbye before coming to New York, but there had been no answer to his knock. When Celia inquired about her mother's health he answered that Mrs. Rogers looked "about the same as usual."

It was not altogether satisfactory.
"I wish I could see her," the girl said. "You know how she is. If anything was the matter she'd never let anyone know."

Shields tried to be comforting. He inquired about the places Celia went and how she spent her time.

"Ritzy, all right," he concluded. "Well, you won't have much time to waste on a guy like me."
"Don't say that, Barney. I want to see you often."

"Oh, it's probably just as well if you don't. I expect you're pretty busy with this fellow Jordan taking you to parties and teas. Anyway, it'll take me a while to—well, sort of work things out."

"They had dessert and black coffee, and after they had finished Shields took the girl in a cab to the station. It was early, but she was anxious to reach Larchwood before there was any possibility that Mrs. Parsons would be there."

"When am I going to see you again?" she asked as they stood together on the train platform.

"Hard to tell. We have rather irregular schedules, you know. I'll be out at the races the rest of this week, I guess." The young man's indifference was a pose obvious even to Celia.

"You might telephone."
"Thanks, I'll try to."
She said goodbye, thanked him for the dinner and entered the car. By the time she had found a seat and looked out of the window Shields had vanished. Celia rode to her station feeling that she had done the cruellest act of her life. It hurt her to remember Barney's face with his mouth such a straight, firm line and the smile gone from his eyes. Barney wasn't like that. She got off the train, signaled a cab, and arrived at Larchwood before eight o'clock. Mrs. Parsons was still absent.

Celia went upstairs to her room, changed her dress for one of roseose made with the outfit puff sleeves and full skirt that gave her an old-fashioned charm. She put on her mother's locket because it made Margaret Rogers seem nearer to her. After that she went down to wait for Evelyn.

She moved the radio dials until the syncopated revelry of a night club orchestra floated into the room. That was better! Life—action—thrill laughter! That was what she needed. Celia wished Tod Jordan would come and take her somewhere. She wanted to dance, to hear Jordan make love to her and forget that down deep in her heart something was hurting. It couldn't be that she loved Barney, of course. Barney had never affected her with that hypnotic spell she felt when Jordan took her in his arms. She had been a child without the faintest notion of what love meant when she promised to wait for Barney Shields to make his fortune.

Jordan telephoned at nine o'clock and at the sound of his voice Celia forgot that she had been unhappy. He had met friends and was unable to get away for the evening, he said, but would come to take her driving the next afternoon. Jordan added something that made the girl's cheeks flush. As she put down the telephone she was singing softly.

A little later, Evelyn arrived home. She made hasty apologies. The bridge tournament had been a disappointment because she and her partner had lost. Mrs. Parsons was

Ex-Dry Urges Legal Beer

C. C. Crabbe, above, former attorney general of Ohio, and author of Ohio's state prohibition enforcement act, has branded the statute which bears his name a failure and is advocating modification to permit the sale of light wines and beer. He says he will go before the next Ohio legislature to urge the enactment of a law "which the people of Ohio will respect."

an expert player and unable to accept losses at cards with good grace.

"Was there any message from your father?" she asked Celia.
"Not while I've been here."
"Hm! I thought he might drive down for dinner tomorrow evening. Perhaps we'll hear from him in the morning."

Mitchell did not call or arrive at Larchwood next evening. Two days later Mrs. Parsons made an announcement at the luncheon table.
"I think I'll close the house early this season," she said. "The intense heat is over, and really until all these legal affairs are arranged it would be much more convenient to be in town."

Celia looked up, startled.
"You mean you're going to leave Larchwood?"
"Yes, next Monday. That's the fourth of September. Time to be realizing that fall is almost here."
The girl's face was downcast.
"Then I suppose I'm to go back to Grammercy Square," she said slowly.

"Nothing of the sort! Your grandmother won't be in town for a month. It wouldn't do at all for you to go back there. Besides, I've plenty of room in the apartment. I thought you'd like it. You'll see a great deal more of your father I should think."

"Oh, that makes everything all right!"
"Sweet child! You didn't want to leave me, did you?"
"No, I didn't."

Mrs. Parsons looked pleased. She took care to repeat this incident the next time she met John Mitchell. And Mitchell, hearing it, seemed impressed.

"Celia's awfully fond of you, Evelyn," he said. "I've noticed that myself. And why shouldn't she be? You're almost a mother to her."

Evelyn eyed him from under her lowered lids.
"I only wish I could do more," she said quietly.

The following week saw Mrs. Parsons and Celia installed in the uptown apartment. The girl dreaded leaving Larchwood, but after she was back in the city she found life far different than in her grandmother's dreary mansion.

Mrs. Parsons had many engagements. Celia was allowed to entertain herself as she chose, and there was no dearth of amusements. Tod Jordan became even more attentive. He took Celia on long drives, stopping usually at some country place for dinner. Evenings they saw plays or danced.

Mrs. Parsons began ordering her fall wardrobe. Early selection, she said, was important. At Mitchell's request she took Celia shopping and helped the girl select several costumes.

During the first week in the city Celia sent a note to Barney Shields giving him her new address, and asking him to call. She received no answer.

Celia was melancholy for a day or two and then determined to pit Barney out of her mind. She was hurrying along Madison avenue one afternoon only a few blocks from Evelyn Parsons' apartment when she recognized a twined suit ahead. The young man wearing the suit was buying a newspaper.

The girl paused beside him.
"How do you do, Mr. Shields?"
"Celia! The broad grin was like old times with Barney."

"I've been wanting to see you," she said. "Won't you walk home with me?"
"Glad to."

They had gone half a block and were talking eagerly when suddenly Celia noticed a man coming toward them. It was Tod Jordan.

Look These New FEDERAL TIRES OVER

THEY WILL STAND YOUR INSPECTION

Men, here's a tire that is a tire. You ought to ride on them always—just as smooth as sitting in the old rocking chair. Do you know why? Well, I'll tell you. Federal engineers decided that just plain bulk never made any tire ride easy—that the air counted. So they designed the new Federal with a 12% larger cushion of air. Boy! What a difference it makes. You just float along over the rough spots, as if they weren't there at all. If you think this is too good to be true, just read the guaranty the maker backs me up with:

Guarantee
"If after 30 days' use you are not fully convinced that these new type Federal Tires give you more luxurious, air-cushioned riding comfort better acceleration, easier steering, firmer braking and the assurance of maximum mileage, return them and your money will be refunded."
