One way to get overdue books back

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Sweetwater librarians are ready to throw the book at patrons with overdue books.

The Nolan County-City Library has begun issuing arrest warrants for borrowers who have long forgotten the books they've checked out.

"Some people have the attitude: They don't need this book. They have a lot of books," said assistant librarian Patsy Boiles. But "if it's in someone's car or home, it's not accessible to the public."

Librarians began a system of sending four reminders to patrons with overdue items. If borrowers don't contact the library, the county attorney takes over, mailing them a fifth notice to return the books.

"Normally by then, we're pushing one year," said County Attorney Lisa Peterson. "They've been kicking the books around for a while. People don't think about it as theft..."

If Peterson still doesn't get a response, she issues an arrest warrant for theft of service, which carries a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $2,000 fine.

Overdue notices have fallen from 20 to five a month. Ninety-five percent of patrons return their outstanding books before the county attorney gets involved.

Referee sought to decide Roberts Co. water dispute

By DAVID BOWSER
Staff Writer

WHITE DEER — The manager of a local water district is looking for someone today to referee warring factions in a Roberts County ground water dispute.

The Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District board voted Thursday to have C.E. Williams, general manager of the district, find someone acceptable to all parties to preside over a hearing involving protests concerning T. Boone Pickens' plan to pump and sell water from Roberts County to cities downstate.

Pickens and eight of his neighbors in Roberts County applied to the district for high impact pumping permits in September, 2000.

Operating as Mesa Water, Inc., the Roberts County landowners said permits issued by the district to the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority and the City of Amarillo left them with little choice but to pump and sell water from beneath their land. Otherwise, they said, CRMWA and Amarillo could, under state law, suck the water from beneath their ranches, leaving the landowners dry.

Consequently, the ranchers united with the plan of selling their water downstate.

Pickens has in the past said he plans on selling water to El Paso, Dallas-Fort Worth or San Antonio and to cities along the way to one of the metropolitan areas.

The CRMWA holds water rights in Roberts and Hutchinson Counties to about 40,000 acres.

Amarillo holds water rights in Roberts County to about 70,000 acres.

Mesa has water rights to about 150,000 acres.

CRMWA will begin pumping water from their wells in Roberts County in September to mix with water from Lake Meredith to supply water to most of their 11 member cities, including Pampa.

Amarillo said it does not expect to begin pumping water from Roberts County for another 25 years.

In each case, their permits are for one acre-foot of water per year.

Water district officials said they approved the one acre-foot level based on what was available and the amount of pumping in Roberts County at the time.

When Mesa applied for permits, the water district commissioned another study of the Ogallala Aquifer in Roberts County and determined that with the increased pumping one acre-foot per year for all three entities, CRMWA, Amarillo and Mesa, would deplete the under ground water much more rapidly than initially thought.

Mesa, however, insisted on obtaining the same pumping rate, one acre-foot per year, as in the permits issued to CRMWA and Amarillo.

In February, the water district tabled Mesa's application because Mesa did not say where they intended to sell their water.

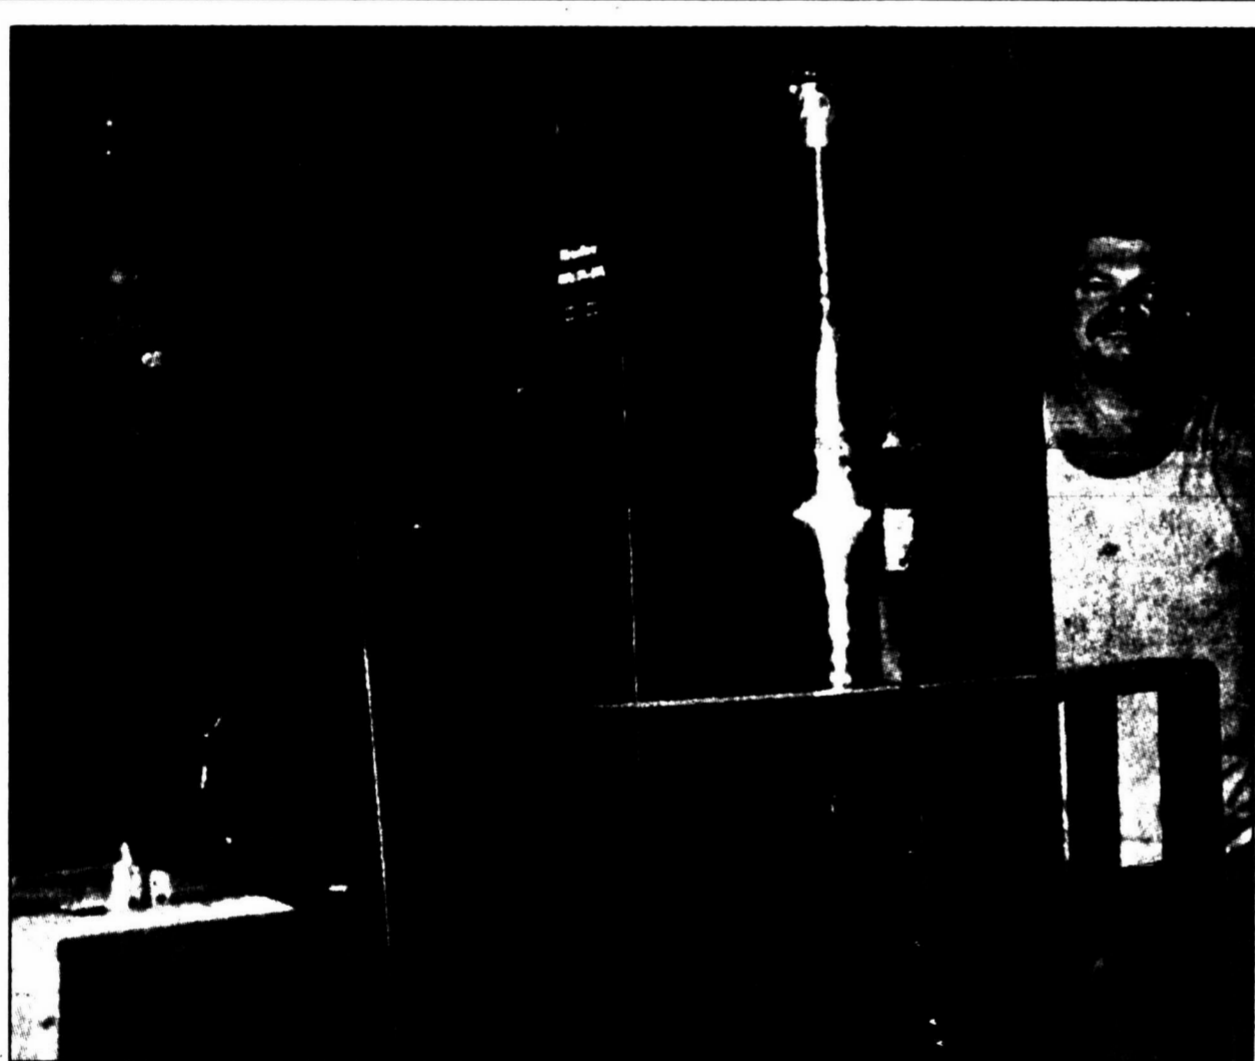

Pickens in a subsequent hearing before the water district board said he cannot sell the water until he gets a permit guaranteeing a buyer that Mesa can deliver the water.

The underground water district, working with Mesa attorneys, came up with a draft permit for Mesa essentially approving the one acre-foot per year production so long as Mesa does not take more than 50 percent of the water in the aquifer beneath their landowners ranch land in the next 50 years, a standard that water district officials said Amarillo and CRMWA must also meet.

Cool move means new equipment, new location

By DEE DEE LARAMORE

Pampa school employees have made a cool move, even though outdoor temperatures exceeded 100 degrees during the transition.

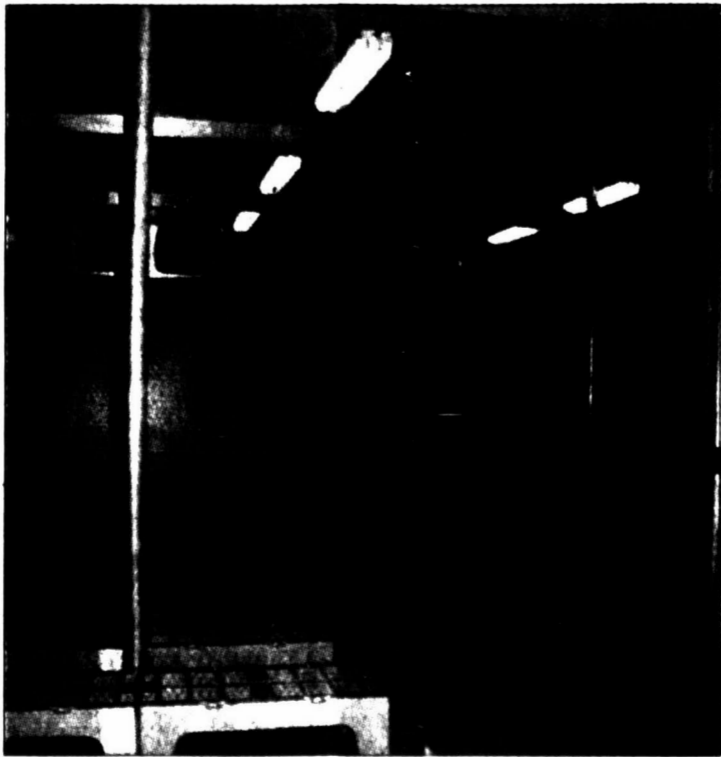

The local school district's food services department, headed by Cafeteria Manager Debbie Middleton, recently moved its office and warehouse from the Carver administration building on Albert Street to the Mann Support Center, 400 N. Faulkner, as part of a district-wide plan to centralize services and lower costs.

"This will be more cost-effective to the school district," explained Denver Bruner, facilities management. "You know we always have a summer project and this has been the big project for this summer."

Bruner said school employees spent three days moving the entire warehouse from the administration building to Mann. Items in the warehouse include "everything the district uses on a bulk scale, mainly food and custodial supplies," he said. Computers and computer equipment are also stored in the warehouse, he said.

Worker facts for NPD farm told to CofC

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Staffing expectations at the proposed National Pig Development hog operation east of Pampa will number approximately 45 employees, say NPD officials.

A payroll of $1.5 million, which includes benefits, a year has been estimated by the company.

The genetic research facility will have approximately 3,700 sows for the purpose of genetically perfecting a perfect sow to use as breeding stock, said Susan Triplehorn, executive director of the Pampa Economic Development Corporation.

She said NPD anticipates 40,000 pigs on the property when they are at full capacity as the sows will have their piglets.

"The permit will be written for 50,000 pigs because that is the formula that the Texas National Resource Conservation Commission uses when you use a base of 3,700 sows," she said during a Pampa Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

"NPD will genetically track each sow so that they have a whole life history of that animal. Then they will sell that sow to hog producers all over the country," said Triplehorn.

The following list of positions to be offered by NPD was furnished by Triplehorn. Listed are one complex manager, one administrative assistant, four site managers, five area supervisors, five management trainees, five breeding technicians, five farrowing technicians, eight nursery and test finishing technicians, three feed delivery drivers, three stock delivery drivers, two artificial insemination stud technicians, two quality control technicians and one general maintenance.

Fiber optic line cut kills phone service

Pampa, Borger, Canadian, Shamrock, McLean hit

Pampa and some other neighboring towns were once again without long distance service or emergency 9-1-1 availability Thursday afternoon after a contractor cut through a Southwestern Bell Telephone fiber optic line.

Amanda Ray, a spokesman for Southwestern Bell, said the line was cut one mile south of Skellytown along Highway 52 between Borger and Pampa.

Also affected were customers in the Canadian, Shamrock, Borger and McLean areas, Ray said. The outage was from about 3 p.m. until 7 p.m.

Emergency officials including police and sheriff's departments were notified of the interruption in service. In Pampa, KGRO-KOMX radio stations broadcast alternative numbers to 9-1-1.

Ray said the line was not cut by Southwestern Bell employees and another SWB spokesman said the company "does not typically identify" those responsible for such incidents.

OSHA investigating incident that killed two, injured five

BUFFALO (AP) — Investigators will look into what caused a natural gas well blowout that killed two workers, although there is no indication that poor training, or inattention to safety played any role in the tragedy.

The blast occurred Wednesday afternoon as a crew of 28 men from Halliburton Co. serviced a natural gas well owned by Scottish Oil Co.

Two critically injured men remained hospitalized Friday.

About a dozen Halliburton workers were servicing the line when highly pressurized air unexpectedly rushed through an above-ground 105-foot-long steel pipe, causing it to swing around and hit a group of men.

Killed were Jimmie Rex Miley Jr., 46, of Longview, and Patric Paul Pritchard, 54, of Kilgore, the Department of Public Safety said.

Ethnic enrollment gaps concern demographer

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Texas' top demographer says enrollment gaps between whites and minorities in the state's higher education will likely be larger than originally believed.

Steve Murdock, chief demographer for the Texas State Data Center at Texas A&M University, says that using current growth figures, minority graduation rates at universities would not reach parity with Anglo graduation rates until 2070.

Minorities already are underrepresented at the higher education level, posing a greater challenge in ensuring Texas has an adequately trained work force in the coming years, members of the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board were told in Austin on Thursday.

Based partly on 2000 census figures, Texas is poised to become a "minority-majority" state earlier than officials thought, Murdock said.

"The gap that needs to be closed is likely to be greater than we anticipated," Murdock told the board.

Three men plead guilty in tax returns scheme

HOUSTON (AP) — Three Houston men have pleaded guilty to conspiring to file false income tax returns in a scheme that netted more than $1.13 million in illegal refunds.

Vernard Wrotten, 50, owner of Westlight Financial Strategies, pleaded guilty in federal court Thursday to conspiracy to defraud the Internal Revenue Service.

Randolph Corbett, 44, and Doyle Smart, 33, both financial planners for Westlight, pleaded guilty to the same charge.

Prosecutors said the three were responsible for filings 530 false returns over two years beginning in 1994.

The company recruited clients by promising that it could get bigger refunds than other tax return preparers such as H&R Block. They falsely told clients that H&R Block works for the IRS, according to the indictment.

High-tech auction draws thousands looking for a good deal

AUSTIN (AP) — When times were good, Agillion Inc. looked like a million bucks.

Employee trips to Mexican resorts. A luxurious office building with tinted windows, curved walls and a game and workout room that represented the best of what the high-tech boom could offer: staggering venture capital, high salaries and a good-time atmosphere that seemed almost too good to be true.

But that recent high-flying past might as well have been a gillion years ago.

On Thursday, thousands of prospective buyers converged on the vacant 80,000-square-foot building to pick over the remains of what was left of another high-tech flameout.

They were in search of a good bargain on computers, phones, furniture — anything they could find — as auctioneers sold off the remnants of Austin-based Agillion and a handful of other high-tech companies that went out of business.

Olympic committee says Houston needs rail

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston must project itself as a truly international city — which likely would include a rail transit system — to have a shot at the 2012 Summer Games, the chairman of the U.S. Olympic Committee site evaluation team said Thursday.

"Europeans are used to railroads. Europeans, among others, are going to be voting (for the host city), and this is something you need to address," Charles Moore said after his task force concluded a three-day tour.

The Metropolitan Transit Authority is building a 2.1/2-mile light rail starter line from downtown to the Astrodome complex, home of two stadiums at the heart of the city's Olympic dream. Moore insinuated the nation's fourth-largest city needs to lay more track.

"You need to address how you're going to accommodate roughly a million and a quarter additional people in the city," Moore said.

Local bickering over rail has reached Washington, where Texas Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison supports federal funding while suburban Houston U.S. Rep. Tom DeLay, a fellow Republican, wants a public referendum first.

Names in the News ...

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — After being jeered at two separate events, Destiny's Child says they've learned a lesson — to go with their own instincts.

The Grammy-winning trio was first booed during last month's NBA Finals. Two members of the group wore Los Angeles Lakers outfits during a halftime performance before a Philadelphia 76ers' home crowd.

They were also jeered at recent concert sponsored by New York City radio station Hot 97.

Lead singer Beyonce Knowles blamed the jeers at the concert on the crowd, which she said was mainly hip-hop, noting that Destiny's Child was the only R&B act on the bill.

"Hot 97 asked us to do the show. We felt funny when we heard about the other people, but we still did it," she told The Associated Press.

As for the incident at the NBA Finals, Knowles said they should have gone with their first instinct — to wear their own clothes.

"The NBA asked us to wear the jerseys, but we felt funny about it. Michelle (Williams) actually made the comment before we went onstage, we felt uncomfortable, but we did it anyway. Now we know to go with our hearts."

Destiny's Child, which also includes Kelly Rowland, is the headlining act on MTV's "TRL Tour," which opened in Albany on Wednesday. The 40-plus city tour takes its name from the music network's teen-frenzied "Total Request Live."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Media-shy composer Stephen Sondheim was in town promoting the concert version of his musical "Sweeney Todd," being performed with the San Francisco Symphony this weekend.

The pared-down version premiered at New York's Lincoln Center in May 2000 with the New York Philharmonic. The musical thriller is semistaged and uses some props, but no costumes and no blood.

In the New York version, Todd cut his victims' throats on a raised stage in the middle of the orchestra. A red light hit them at the moment of murder, but there was no blood or chute for the bodies.

"Sweeney Todd" with no blood?

"It's the audience's imagination that's integral," Sondheim said at a news conference Thursday. "The story is enormously driving and absorbing."

George Hearn sings the part of Todd, a 19th-century barber driven mad when his wife and child are stolen away from him by an evil judge. Bent on revenge against society, he joins forces with barmaid Mrs. Lovett (Patti LuPone) to concoct a recipe for dubious meat pies. Soon, barber shop customers become missing and the meat pies become the talk of the town.

Neil Patrick Harris, from the TV series "Doogie Howser, M.D.," sings Tobias, the boy who offers to protect Mrs. Lovett with the song "Not While I'm Around."

The performances run Thursday through Saturday at Davies Symphony Hall.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota Gov. Jesse Ventura will visit New York Gov. George Pataki in Syracuse next month to pay up on a football bet.

The pair made the friendly wager on a Vikings-Giants playoff game in January.

If the Vikings won, Pataki would have accompanied Ventura on the governor's fishing opener May 12 at Breezy Point Resort.

Nearly 40,000 expected for Boy Scout Jamboree

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Nearly 40,000 Boy Scouts and adult leaders will arrive at a Virginia Army base Monday for the quadrennial National Scout Jamboree, a nine-day festival of camping, fishing, scuba diving and other activities.

Fort A.P. Hill has hosted the Jamboree every four years since 1981. Since 1937, nearly 600,000 Boy Scouts and leaders from throughout the nation have participated in the program, according to the Irving, Texas-based Boy Scouts of America.

"It's all part of the Boy Scouts' mission to help America help young people develop character and values and make good ethical choices over their lifetime," said Boy Scouts of America spokesman Gregg Shields.

A tent city will spring up at the base about 40 miles north of Richmond, and tons of food will be carted in to feed the largest Jamboree contingent since 1973, when 64,000 attended at dual sites in Idaho and Pennsylvania.

Setting up at the 12,000-acre site is a massive undertaking. The 1997 event required the use of 1,300 latrines, 500 bicycles, 500 fishing rods, 450 pay phones, 300 canoes and rafts and about 50,000 fish hooks.

President Bush is scheduled to speak to the Scouts the evening of July 29, Shields said. Singer Louise Mandrell will perform the same day.

Early morning temperatures

Friday ranged from 75 degrees at Conroe to 85 degrees at Sabine Pass.

Thursday was hot and dry for most of Texas, with the state high reaching 105 degrees in Cotulla. Some light rainfall fell on southeast Texas during the day.

Conditions were humid in North Texas as a weak trough of low pressure extended across far West Texas.

Predawn temperatures fell into the 70s and low 80s statewide. Winds were south to southeast at 5 to 15 miles per hour.

Mesa attorney Mike Powell said Thursday that Mesa had not yet accepted the proposed draft and that problems still existed with the draft permit that needed to be worked out. Mike Boswell, another attorney for Mesa, however, said Thursday that the problems still to be worked out were minor.

While water district officials said they thought they were close to an agreement with Pickens and his neighbors, CRMWA protested the permit for Mesa.

John Williams, general manager of CRMWA, said that while the water authority does not wish to deny Mesa a production permit, it does want a say in how the permit is fashioned in an effort to protect the water rights that CRMWA has in Roberts County.

Mesa, however, said that CRMWA's protest was vague.

"It like being accused of something and you don't know what you're being accused of," said Carl Kennedy, a former Gray County Judge and one of the landowners with commitments to Mesa.

The pre-hearing conference Thursday was an effort, water district officials said, to reach a settlement between Mesa and those protesting its appli-

An hour-and-a-half discussion behind closed doors Thursday morning, however, resulted only in setting a schedule for legal steps toward a hearing.

Charles Bowers, vice president of the water district board, was appointed by the water district's president, Frank Simms, as the hearing officer or judge to oversee the contested application.

Following the closed door conference, Michael Booth, an Austin attorney representing the water district, reported that the parties involved had been unable to reach an agreement and had requested that a judge be appointed to hear the case.

Retired Texas District Judge John Forbis was suggested, but the board authorized the manager, C.E. Williams, to find someone that all parties could accept.

"I think it's a good idea," Bowers said.

The conference did result in the parties agreeing to have all objections to the Mesa application filed by July 26 and that Aug. 6 would be the deadline for all those seeking party status in the case to file their motions. Aug. 13 was set as the deadline for responses to the objections.

"It looks like it's going to be a long, drawn out process to me," said John Williams with CRMWA. "I hope it can be resolved quickly."

COOL

the growing needs of the school district, a $120,496 walk-in freezer and cooler was built at Mann. To make room for the warehouse, school employees tore out the stage and a large overhead door was installed in the old elementary school's gymnasium, he said.

The freezer and cooler remained empty at the time of the interview, as officials slowly lowered the inside temperatures to the correct degree. Bruner said that if the temperatures were lowered too quickly, especially in the 100-degree weather, the new equipment would be damaged. Once the proper temperatures are reached, the freezer and cooler will be filled with frozen and refrigerated food items.

School officials decided to move the warehouse and food services department to Mann, Bruner said, because the building is more centrally located. As a result, warehouse items can be distributed throughout the school district more quickly and easily.

The computer department has also been located at Mann for the same reason, he said.

Two 'America's Most Wanted' actors arrested on sexual assault charges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two actors who appeared on "America's Most Wanted" were arrested on charges of having sex with a 14-year-old girl living at a shelter for abused children.

The alleged acts occurred in January after a film crew finished shooting in an alley next to the Children of the Night shelter.

Cristian Saliadarre, 28, surrendered to police Wednesday and Anthony Alvarez, 27, was arrested two weeks ago.

Both pleaded innocent to charges of sodomy and oral copulation with a person under 16, said Deputy District Attorney Melinda Murray. If convicted, the men face up to three years and eight months in prison.

Authorities said one of the men climbed through a window at the shelter, which helps sexually abused teens and former prostitutes, and had sex with the girl in her dormitory room. She later climbed out of the window and had sex with the other man in the alley, authorities said.

Defense attorneys said their clients did not know the girl was 14.

"My client is innocent," said Alvarez's lawyer, Gilbert Moret. "The girl in question ... misled my client into believing she was older."

The girl, now 15, said told the Los Angeles Times that she had consensual sex with both men.

A statement released by Fox Television, which distributes "America's Most Wanted," said the alleged incidents occurred after filming had ended and the crew and actors had gone home. The segment filmed that night won't air.

Saliadarre's attorney, Sammy Weiss, said his client appeared regularly on the show.

Nevitt Greene, the show's production manager, said the men had been recommended by a Los Angeles casting agency and doubted that either had worked on the show more than once.

DNA tests raise chance of freedom for death row inmate

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — After almost 20 years on death row, Charles Irvin Fain may be set free after new DNA testing cast a long shadow of doubt on his conviction.

The 52-year-old Fain was found guilty in 1983 of kidnapping, sexually assaulting and drowning 9-year-old Daralyn Johnson.

But after the DNA tests on pubic hairs, his conviction was set aside by a judge who gave prosecutors until Sept. 4 to file new charges or free Fain.

"He's an innocent man who has been in jail for 18 years for a crime he didn't commit. It has been a tremendously long battle," said Spencer McIntyre, one of Fain's lawyers.

Daralyn was abducted as she walked to school in 1982. Her body was found by fishermen a few days later along the Snake River.

Fain, a handyman, moved into Daralyn's neighborhood shortly after her death. His attorneys said he passed a lie-detector test but was arrested and charged with murder.

Among the evidence against Fain were statements from cellmates who said he admitted to the crime and a girl who saw the abduction from a distance. Prosecutors also said a partially washed-out footprint near Daralyn's body resembled the sole of a tennis shoe found at Fain's home.

But the key evidence came from an FBI forensic expert, who said pubic hairs found on the victim's clothing may have been Fain's.

Last year, U.S. District Judge B. Lynn Winmill authorized $18,000 for new forensic tests. And last month, a Virginia laboratory said that none of the three hairs — one found on Daralyn's sock, the others in her underpants — was Fain's.

Two weeks ago, the judge set aside Fain's conviction.

According to the Death Penalty Information Center in Washington, 10 death row inmates have been exonerated by DNA evidence since 1990.

Prosecutors have not said what they plan to do. But prosecutor David Young acknowledged that winning another conviction against Fain could be difficult.

"If we do have the wrong guy, it's our job to identify that and get him out of there," Young said.

The girl's mother, Deanna Johnson, did not return a call for comment.

Famed animal trainer dies of cancer

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Gunther Gebel-Williams, the circus trainer whose showmanship and uncanny rapport with animals delighted children of all ages with the Greatest Show on Earth, has died of cancer. He was 66.

The German-born Gebel-Williams, who died at his home Thursday, never missed a performance during his 21-year career in the ring with Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

"Tiger training is like race car driving, like boxing," he said when he announced his plans to retire. "You have to be really on top all the time. It's not possible to feel not so good one day..."

Let's Talk Real Estate

by Jim Davidson Realtor

IMPROVING PROSPECTS
There usually comes a time when homeowners outgrow their homes, forcing the decision whether to move or improve. While some may feel comfortable remaining in their present homes and expanding their living space, this course of action may not make the most financial sense in the long run. If owners over-improve, they may not recover the money put into the remodeling project. Even worse, over-improvement may put the house into a price category that far exceeds those of other homes in the immediate neighborhood, rendering the home exceedingly difficult to sell. These concerns should be carefully weighed in consultation with a real estate agent, who can examine the desired improvements and price them out in comparison with similarly equipped homes.

When it is time for you to deal in real estate, professional advice can be invaluable to the future of your investments. At CENTURY 21 - PAMPA REALTY INC., we're here to help you learn, and to share our knowledge with you. We are an independent, locally owned agency serving the people of the Pampa area and Gray County. ### Religious charities legislation back on track

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to give religious charities a bigger role in government social programs appears back on track in the House after a day's delay due to charges it would override state and local anti-discrimination laws.

"We feel like we have the votes to pass" the bill, Rep. J.C. Watts, R-Okla., said late Wednesday, after a day of closed-door maneuvering designed ease concerns raised by GOP critics about one of President Bush's top legislative priorities.

Republican officials later said the White House, the GOP leadership and concerned lawmakers were attempting to draft a scripted exchange of views to be read on the House floor that would say the controversy will be addressed in a final House-Senate compromise.

The bill is designed to redeem Bush's campaign pledge to "rally the armies of compassion" to attack the nation's social ills. It would allow religious charities to compete for billions of dollars in federal funds in an expanded list of federal programs, including housing, domestic violence and hunger relief.

Recipients of aid would not be required to attend worship services or religious instruction. The organizations themselves would be permitted to retain religious names, charters and symbols on building walls.

The measure also grants a series of small tax breaks — far more modest than Bush wanted — to encourage charitable giving. These included a provision that permits non-itemizers to deduct $25 in donations annually.

Supporters of the bill said concerns about separation of church and state led to numerous changes that have left the bill diluted to the point that it would prevent funds from reaching some of the religious groups that Bush often cites.

Even so, Democrats complained that the bill, as drafted, could erode federal protections that have been enacted in recent years to ban discrimination in hiring on the basis of race, national origin, gender and other factors.

Selling right along...

Some time ago now, Ted Endicott sold his 456th new car in 11 months. The last customer had been all set to purchase a luxury model with a price tag of over $35,000. Endicott took quite some time in discussion with the prospective buyer about the monthly payments and the length of time it would take to pay the car off. The outcome was that this super salesman talked his customer into something less expensive, which meant a smaller commission.

The exact figures have not been disclosed, but Ted Endicott has been generally thought of as being the top salesman for General Motors products. But the majority of his customers have not the faintest idea that Endicott was blind.

Endicott had been selling cars

Weekly Word

By Pastor Leland Lewis
First Assembly of God

for more than 27 years when he contracted an eye disease that left him totally blind. (He was not yet 50.) Consequently, he was forced to sell his own automobile dealership; he spent the next two years attempting to find a cure.

Now he can no longer drive a car, but he sure can sell them. He looked for a job for over two months, then landed a position with the Buick dealership in Casselberry, Fla. How did he do that? He called on the phone and the sales manager at this dealership was so impressed with Endicott's courage that he decided to hire him on the spot, over the phone. Talk about a good decision!

"That first day was rough," recalls Endicott. "I bumped into plenty of sideview mirrors." Even with his handicap he managed to find three browsers on the showroom floor and sell each of them a car. Blindness didn't affect his selling ability, but he had to make some adjustments, such as memorizing the showroom floor, where certain cars were located, having help with the paperwork, and sitting in the backseat when people took a test-drive. His wife also helped him send out hundreds of letters to prospects.

"Most customers don't even realize I'm blind until after the sale," says Endicott, who tries to keep it that way. "I sold cars because I'm a good salesman, not because I'm blind."

He has now been moved to a nearby Hyundai dealership where he trains salesmen. He averaged selling more than 40 cars a month. (The national average is 10.)

We sometimes excuse ourselves for our handicaps. I believe that we can overcome those handicaps and difficulties in life if we are determined to do so.

Peace remains elusive ...

Even as the threat of world communism recedes from memory and once-hostile nations reduce the size of their armed forces and the volume of their armaments, peace remains an elusive goal for many people today.

While the un-peace of war stalks places such as the former Yugoslav republics, the real lack of peace is seen today in lives tarnished by abuse and violence in their own homes and neighborhoods. Communities large and small are gripped by news accounts of family violence in which children kill parents and parents kill children and of scenes in which former co-worker take out their hatred for their former employers with guns aimed at anybody in sight.

Driving this abuse and violence are the "secret" sins of society that fuel the reservoirs of hate and despair which invade the homes of the rich and poor alike. Some statistics bear this out: 18 million alcoholics, including 4.5 million teenagers, live in the U.S. alone, affecting 76 million family members; one in four American girls and one in eight boys are sexually abused by age 18; incest reportedly touches one in five Americans.

Sadly, Christians are not immune to the spin-off from the breakdown of families and the deterioration of ethical standards in society in general. The consequences of divorce, AIDS, sexual abuse, alcoholism, drug abuse, mental illness, and all the other plagues on humankind have left deep scars on many Christians today. Some estimates say as many as 80 percent of all SBC pastors today grew up in homes that would be classified by even Christian psychologists as dysfunctional. Many continue to bear the scars of such difficulties as parental alcoholism, divorce, workaholicism, sexual abuse and verbal or physical abuse.

The situation has spawned a quest for peace in the hearts of millions upon millions of people.

The apostle Paul in Ephesians 2:14 reminds us that the peace we so desperately seek is found in Christ. "For He is our peace," Paul said. The "He" refers to Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior. In the context, Paul was speaking about how the shedding of Christ's blood has broken down the walls that separate Jews and Gentiles. Through Christ, the enmity that destroys peace is itself eradicated, reconciling Jew and Gentile through the Cross.

In the wider context, if we allow Him to do so, Christ is able to heal the scars in our hearts caused by a world that still lives in enmity with God. No matter what disquiets the heart, Christ truly is our Peace in every way. "And (He) came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh. For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father," said the apostle Paul in Ephesians 2:17-18.

day period isn't binding and she only needed to communicate with the vestry before the deadline, not make a decision.

Edwards opposes women as priests and bishops.

New book catalogs 60 Amish, Mennonite and other Anabaptist groups

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Horses and buggies clip-clopping along rural backdrops in some Amish communities are just quaint memories for other Amish and Mennonite groups, a new book says.

"Anabaptist World USA" catalogs 60 Amish and Mennonite religious bodies with a total of 540,000 members.

Believers in the Anabaptist category range from bearded, buggy-driving Old Order Amish who speak in German dialect to urban Mennonite blacks and Hispanics.

"The social diversity among these groups is stunning," said co-author Donald B. Kraybill, a sociologist at Messiah College in Grantham, Pa. "Often there is this monolithic idea of the Amish, but there are at least a dozen sub-affiliates."

Charges filed against bishop in widening Episcopal Church dispute

LANHAM, Md. (AP) — Leaders of a suburban Episcopal parish have filed charges in church court accusing acting Bishop Jane Holmes Dixon of Washington, D.C., of violating canon law by trying to block them from hiring a conservative priest.

The vestry of Christ Church in Accokeek, Md., filed ecclesiastical charges with Presiding Bishop Frank Griswold of New York, head of the Episcopal Church. The charges were signed by three of Dixon's fellow Episcopal bishops and several priests and lay members.

Last month, Dixon sued in federal court asking that the Rev. Samuel Edwards be ousted from Christ Church, and a hearing is set Aug. 23. Episcopal News Service reports that a group of area priests have also filed ecclesiastical charges against Edwards.

Christ Church claims canon law allowed Dixon only 30 days after Edwards' December appointment to object: Dixon told Edwards March 8 that she rejected his appointment. Dixon argues that the 30-

Teen in Foster Home Sees World Through New Eyes

DEAR ABBY: I am almost 14 and live in a foster home. Before I entered foster care, I didn't think much about other kids and teens in foster homes. Now that I'm the one with the title "foster kid," I see everything in a new light. Although foster homes are a blessing to most kids who live troubled lives, it's still very hard to endure. If there is one thing I hate about being a foster child, it is feeling different from others in my new neighborhood and school.

My message to your readers is: If there's a foster child you know, please reach out to him or her. We're not different from the rest of you.

Thank you for your time, Abby. Please share this with your readers.
NAMELESS IN OREGON

DEAR NAMELESS: I'm pleased to spread your message. If people are hesitant to reach out to foster children, it may be because they are confused about why the children are in foster care.

Children are placed in foster care not because they have done anything wrong, but because, for whatever reason, their parents have neglected them or cannot provide a safe, nurturing environment for them. It is not the fault of the children. Foster children deserve all the attention, affection and encouragement you can give them. It will be returned a thousandfold.

CRITERIA FOR NARCISSISTIC PERSONALITY DISORDER:
A pervasive pattern of grandiosity (in fantasy or behavior), need for admiration, and lack of empathy, beginning by early adulthood and present in a variety of contexts, as indicated by five (or more) of the following:

- 2) Preoccupied with fantasies of unlimited success, power, brilliance, beauty or ideal love.
- 3) Believes that he or she is "special" and unique and can only be understood by, or should associate with, other special or high-status people or institutions.
- 4) Requires excessive admiration.
- 5) A sense of entitlement — unreasonable expectations of especially favorable treatment or automatic compliance with his or her expectations.
- 6) Interpersonally exploitative — takes advantage of others to achieve his or her own ends.
- 7) Lacks empathy — is unwilling to recognize or identify with the feelings and needs of others.
- 8) Often envious of others or believes that others are envious of him or her.
- 9) Shows arrogant, haughty behaviors or attitudes.

GOLF

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Colin Montgomerie punctuated a triumphant opening round of 65 with a long birdie putt on the final hole, while Tiger Woods struggled to match par in his first defense at the British Open.

Trying to put a history of Open failures behind him, Montgomerie shot a 30 on the front nine before capping his round with a 40-foot birdie putt before a cheering, adoring crowd packed into bleachers at the 18th hole.

The 6-under-par round was three less than Brad Faxon and six ahead of Woods, who found both the deep rough and the sand at Royal Lytham & St. Annes before finishing with a par 71.

BASKETBALL

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Mavericks have formally offered two-time All-Star Michael Finley a seven-year, $102 million contract.

Finley's agent, Henry Thomas, told The Dallas Morning News that he had received the contract from the Mavericks and was reviewing it. He expected the contract to be signed within a few days.

"At the latest, Monday," Thomas said.

The deal is for the maximum length and amount allowed under the NBA's collective bargaining agreement.

Mavericks owner Mark Cuban isn't concerned about the delay.

"It's not a question of terms," Cuban said. "Just his people getting through the details."

FOOTBALL

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons are pushing Michael Vick up the depth chart.

The No. 1 pick in the NFL draft began his first training camp Thursday with the surprising news that he's already listed as the Falcons' backup quarterback.

Chris Chandler remains the starter, but Vick worked with the second team ahead of Eric Zeier and Doug Johnson.

"We've got to get Michael ready as quick as we can," coach Dan Reeves said. "The only way we're going to get him ready is to get him involved."

Zeier, the former Georgia quarterback who has started 12 games in a six-year career, was expected to come in as the backup to Chandler. Even Vick didn't realize that he's listed as No. 2.

"No, we haven't talked about it," he said. "As far as I know, things are still the same."

Vick did get a taste of being an NFL rookie. He had to carry a teammate's pads besides his own after practice. He knows he'll be called on to belt out a tune at one of the team dinners.

"I know a few songs," he said. "Maybe I'll try 'We Are The World.'"

Several hundred people showed up on a cloudy day at Furman University to watch his Falcons debut. In a testament to his popularity, the only jersey on sale at a concession stand above the practice field was No. 7 — Vick's number.

"I'm trying to keep myself humble," he said after the two-hour workout. "It's very important that I show people I'm no different than anyone else."

Pampa 9-10 team wins two contests at state tourney

ANDREWS — The Pampa Optimist 9-10 All-Stars placed fourth in the Cal Ripken Division of the State Baseball Tournament last week in Andrews.

Pampa started off slow against North Randall Blue, losing 12-1 in the first game.

Brett Powell and Gerardo Dominguez pitched for Pampa, giving up 10 hits, walking three and striking out three.

Pampa's defense struggled by committing five errors. Hayden Skinner had the lone hit for Pampa.

In the next game, Pampa played Levelland. Pampa's bats came to life in the first inning, scoring five runs. They added four more runs in the third inning to take a 9-3 victory.

Brett Powell and Madison Wilson led Pampa at the plate with three hits each.

Heath and Hayden Skinner each had two hits, and Jeremy Busse and Casey Trimble had one hit each.

Gerardo Dominguez, Brett Powell and Lane Douglas combined to pitch an outstanding game by giving up six hits while walking just two batters, striking out nine and giving up three runs.

Pampa was back on the field 45 minutes later taking on Tulia. With the score tied 1-1 going into the third inning, the Pampa All-Stars erupted for 15 runs and the game was called in the fourth inning due to the 10-run rule.

Heath and Hayden Skinner led Pampa at the plate with two hits each. Brett Powell and Lane Douglas had one hit each as Tulia made six errors in the third inning.

Brett Powell went the distance on the mound by giving up one hit while walking one, striking out six and giving up the lone run.

Pampa played Andrews the next night and won by the score of 10-4.

Gerardo Dominguez, Brett Powell and Lane Douglas pitched well for the All-Stars by giving up just four runs on three hits while striking out 11 and walking nine.

Heath Skinner, Hayden Skinner and Brett Powell led Pampa at the plate with two hits each. Casey Trimble, John Luke Covalt, Lane Douglas and Jeremy Busse each had one hit for Pampa.

It was a bitter victory as Pampa player Madison Wilson broke his leg on a collision with the pitcher on a popup from the second batter of the game. His teammates dedicated the win to Madison and gave him the game ball with all the players and coaches signatures on it.

In the fifth game, Pampa faced the same tough North Randall Blue.

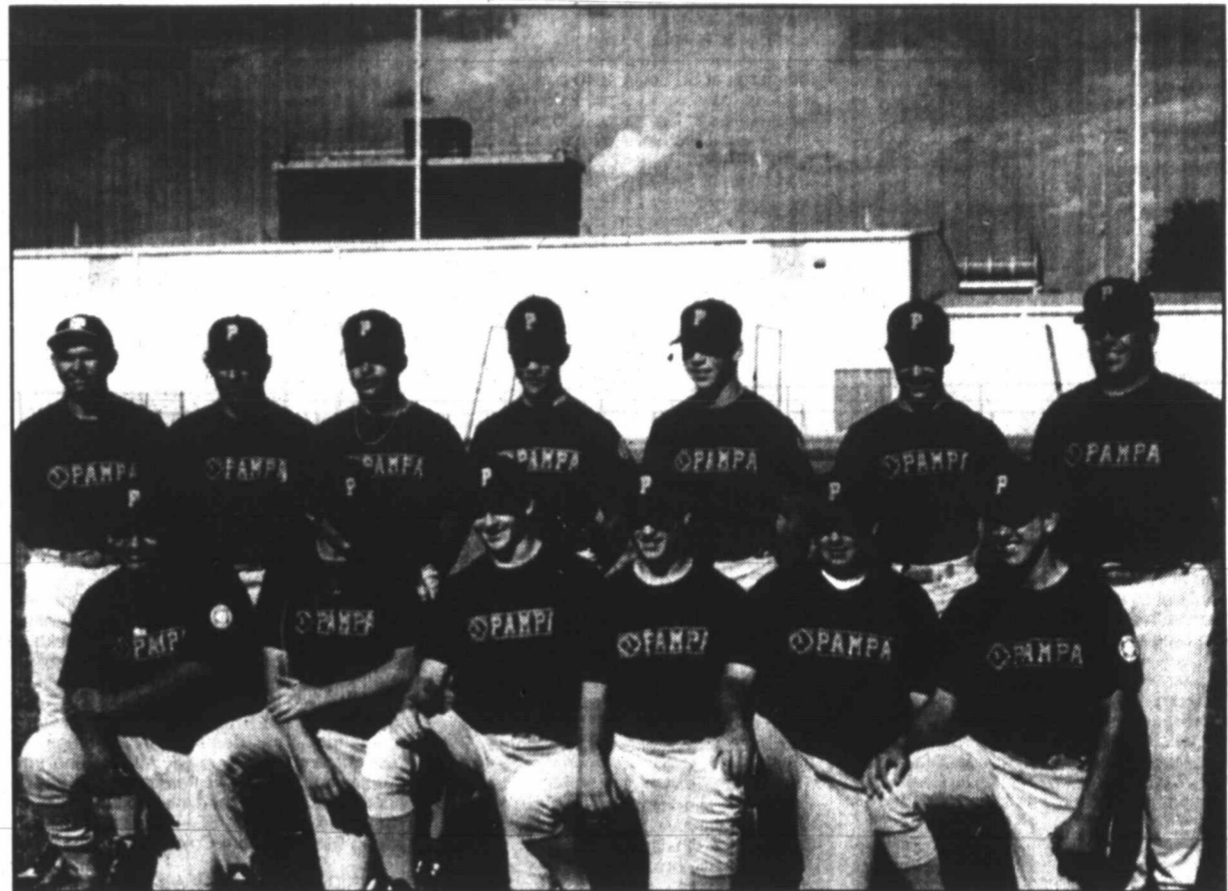

Pampa played an outstanding game and outthit Randall, but ended up losing 6-2. A pair of two-run homers sparked Randall.

Hayden Skinner led Pampa at the plate with a triple and double. Casey Trimble, Gerardo Dominguez and Jeremy Busse each had a hit.

Outstanding defensive plays were turned in by Lane Douglas in the outfield and John Luke Covalt at first base.

"The coaches (Jeff Skinner, Joe Skinner and Monte Covalt) would like to thank all the parents and kids for all their hard work this year," said Jeff Skinner. "Also, a big thanks to all the people and businesses who donated to the all-star program."

Local 11-12 girls rout Socorro

PAMPA — The Pampa 11-12 year-old girls All-Star softball team met Socorro in the second round of the Sectional Little League Softball Tournament Thursday night at Optimist Park.

Pampa came away with an impressive 20-4 victory. Pampa led off the game with eight consecutive hits, resulting in eight runs in the top of the first inning.

Cassie Tice was the starting pitcher in the bottom of the first, holding Socorro to no runs and two strikeouts. Britteni Rice pitched the next two innings for Pampa, holding Socorro to four runs.

Pampa scored six runs in both the third and fourth innings to complete the offensive attack.

Stephanie McVay then came in to pitch for Pampa in the bottom of the fourth.

She didn't allow a run. Pampa faces Azle at 6 tonight.

Both teams are unbeaten in the tournament. The second game tonight has Graham going against El Paso in the loser's bracket.

Pampa opened the tournament with a 12-11 win over Graham on Wednesday night.

The tournament winner in the Major Girls Division advances to the state tournament July 27 in Waco.

In the 14-15 girls Sectional Tournament, Pampa lost to Azle by identical 5-4 scores in the best two of three series at Optimist Park.

Tahoka was entered in the three-team tournament, but dropped out. That left Pampa and Azle to battle for the right to advance to the Senior Girls State Tournament.

Morris pitches Cards to win over Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Matt Morris made the All-Star team and is among the NL leaders in victories. That hasn't stopped the St. Louis Cardinals from being careful with him.

After Morris went eight innings and made 117 pitches in the Cardinals' 4-1 victory over the Houston Astros on Thursday, manager Tony La Russa didn't hesitate to take him out and let Mike Timlin finish the game.

Morris (12-5) allowed just one run and five hits, and he wanted to pitch the complete game. But after having Tommy John surgery on his right elbow in 1999 and spending 2000 in the bullpen, the Cards won't take any chances with him.

"He pitched really well," La Russa said. "He has three pitches and he uses his fastball more than one way and his curveball more than one way."

"That was the most pitches we've let him throw. But he's getting stronger every game."

Mark McGwire's three-run homer in the sixth inning, the 566th of his career, gave Morris all the runs he needed.

The 441-foot drive was the second-longest at Enron Field this year behind the Dodgers' Shawn Green, who hit one 449 feet on June 3. The longest was 458 feet by San Francisco's Barry Bonds last Sept. 13.

McGwire, who missed 36 games with right knee problems earlier this year, came into the two-game series hitting .193, but went 3-for-7 with two home runs to increase his average to .204.

Morris was 1-0 with a 1.74 ERA at Enron Field before Thursday. But he still wasn't overconfident entering the game. He and pitching coach Dave Duncan began talking about the game and looking at tape of the Astros at the start of the week.

"Dunc and I just talked about making good pitches and not giving in," Morris said. "I knew all week this would be a big series for us, and I'm glad we were able to get out with a split.

"The secret to pitching here is don't look at that left-field fence. I try to keep my sinker down. If I can keep it down and get ground balls, I know some will get through for hits. But if I keep it down, I'll probably be all right."

The Astros had no excuses after managing just five hits one day after they had 16 hits and 17 runs against the Cardinals.

"That shows you what a difference pitching makes," manager Larry Dierker said. "I can't fault our hitters. The guy was throwing hard and hitting his spots on both sides of the plate."

Pampa's Cameron playing for Texas team in national softball tournament

PAMPA — Stephanie Cameron of Pampa is a member of the Texas Twisters softball team, which left yesterday for Hawaii to compete in a national tournament.

Cameron, who graduated this year, plays shortstop for the Twisters, who begin pool play today. The team is made up of 16 to 18 year-old girls.

The regular tournament play will be Saturday and Sunday. Each team is guaranteed at least four games.

The Twisters will be coached by Borger coach Misty Shaklee. Area coaches selected their top players to the all-star team. The only requirement is that a player had to be an all-district selection.

Cameron was All-District 3-4A selection. Other 3-4A players on the Twisters are pitcher-outfielder Meghan King of Dumas, catcher Shayla Davis of Dumas, first baseman-pitcher Ashley Pool of Randall; first baseman Ashley Burke, outfielder Abby Flemming, catcher Ivy Fowler, second baseman Hailey Criswell and outfielder Casey McLellan, all of Borger.

The tournament is sponsored by World Class Sports.

Manager-DH leads 26-12 romp in Amarillo victory over visiting San Angelo

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Lonnie Maclin handed in the lineup card, then grabbed a bat and led the Amarillo Dillas to a record slugging performance.

The manager-DH had four hits and drove in three runs as the Dillas romped past the San Angelo Colts 26-12 Thursday night in the highest-scoring game in the history of the independent Texas-Louisiana League.

"It was a hit parade," the former St. Louis Cardinals outfielder said.

Malcolm Cepeda, the son of Hall of Famer Orlando Cepeda, added three of the Dillas' 29 hits and scored three runs. The teams combined for a league-record 45 hits.

San Angelo scored three times in the top of the first inning, but Amarillo struck back with seven runs in the bottom half — and the rout was on.

Colts pitcher Johnny Martinez was pulled after allowing 13 hits and 12 runs, facing 20 batters in just 1 2-3 innings.

The Dillas led 12-5 after two innings and scored six more runs in the third.

Of Amarillo's 29 hits, seven were for extra bases. Mike Hargde hit the Dillas' only home run.

Maclin, 34, leads the league in hitting. He was batting .412 before the slugfest.

A former rising star in the Cardinals' system, Maclin reached the majors at the tail end of the 1993 season. Playing for manager Joe Torre, he recorded one hit and one RBI.

New York City police torture case heats up

NEW YORK (AP) — An unnamed police officer has come forward to contradict a key witness used by prosecutors to convict a patrolman of helping torture a Haitian immigrant in a station house bathroom.

During a hearing Thursday on the appeal of Charles Schwarz, Appellate Court Judge Chester Straub suggested the statement, if true, would cast doubt on testimony by Officer Eric Turetzky. Turetzky identified Schwarz as the patrolman who led a handcuffed Abner Louima to the bathroom moments before the notorious 1997 attack in Brooklyn. Schwarz is serving a 15-year sentence for helping sodomize Louima with a broken broomstick.

The unnamed officer recently came forward to give an affidavit saying he had heard Turetzky "speak otherwise" about the incident, the judge said.

Because the sworn statement by the officer was filed under seal as part of Schwarz's appeal, its contents and the officer's identity were not made public.

Federal prosecutor Barbara Underwood told the judge that the statement was unreliable and argued that it came too late to affect Schwarz's appeal.

But Schwarz's attorney, Ronald Fischetti, said after the hearing that he would use it as the basis for a motion for a new trial.

"This is powerful evidence of Chuck Schwarz's innocence," he said.

Louima was among the spectators who packed the courtroom to hear the judges revisit one of the darkest chapters in New York Police Department history.

Keeping an Eye on Texas

Preventive Practices

The Auto Theft Prevention Authority's (ATPA) proactive measures have led to a 50 percent decrease in the overall auto theft rate in Texas, saving the state more than $470 million in losses from auto theft.

A car is stolen every five-and-a-half minutes in Texas. Guard against becoming a victim of auto theft by:

Watch Your Car

- parking in attended lots.
- closing car windows completely when parking.
- removing valuables inside your car from plain view.
- turning off your car, even if you'll only be away for a minute.

Environmental science scholarship to be established at West Texas A&M

CANYON — West Texas A&M University's youthful program in environmental science is set to become the beneficiary of an Amarillo company's longtime commitment to environmental awareness.

Cooper Crouse-Hinds of Amarillo will establish the Environmental Excellence Scholarship at WTAMU with $2,500 in proceeds from an environmental award of its own.

Cooper Crouse-Hinds, a division of Cooper Industries, has been selected to receive a 2001 Environmental Excellence Award from its international parent company. Crouse-Hinds intends to donate the monetary portion of its award to WTAMU during a brief ceremony at noon Wednesday, July 25 at its Amarillo location, 1901 Farmers Ave.

The donation will establish the first scholarship fund to be used specifically for WTAMU's environmental science program, which was begun at the University in 1992.

"I'm a firm believer that Amarillo is going to continue to grow," Ron Riley, Crouse-Hinds plant manager, said. "As this city gets more types of businesses, it will need more and more environmental specialists. The place to get them is out of our colleges."

"Since the University had no scholarships in place for environmental science, we felt it was in our best interest and in the best interest of the community to establish such a fund."

Dr. Jim Rogers, WTAMU assistant professor of environmental science, will be on hand to accept the donation from Cooper Crouse-Hinds.

"We are extremely grateful that Cooper Crouse-Hinds is taking the initiative to establish the first scholarship for our young program," Rogers said. "We hope it's the first of many, and we believe it will be because we have quality students, and our graduates have served industry well."

Cooper Crouse-Hinds is an Amarillo foundry that manufactures electrical devices. It opened in 1979 and employs more than 120 people. The foundry's environmentally successful "Green Lights" project recently caught the attention of Cooper Industries, which annually presents Environmental Excellence Awards to Cooper facilities that best demonstrate excellence in pollution prevention, product (design and conservation). Green Lights called for the replacement of the plant's original lighting system with an energy-saving fluorescent system that increased safety, conserved energy, reduced waste and improved working conditions.

Representatives from Cooper's corporate headquarters are scheduled to attend the July 25 ceremony in Amarillo to present the environmental award to Cooper Crouse-Hinds, which in turn will present the check to WTAMU.

Music series to showcase Wiley Jim

CANYON — From cowboy fiddle to Texas swing, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon will continue its monthly music series with July 22 with Wiley Jim. The series is offered at 2:30 p.m. once a month on the Balcony of the Harrington Petroleum Wing.

Wiley Jim will present a "theater of American music seen from the West," combining his personal experiences and observations, he moves naturally through diverse musical styles — from Duke Ellington to Delta blues, flamenco, and songs from the great trail drives. He might even throw in a yodel or two. As Wiley Jim says, "The range is as broad as and free as the Western sky and I don't try to fence it in."

Wiley has several recordings to his credit, including "The Original Swingabilly," Western-Swing from the late 1930s, and "Pfeiffer Brothers, Wah-hoo!," a collection of more 1930s swing along with songs from the Hollywood Singing Cowboy era. His most recent album, "Wiley Jim, Out of the West," consists of 10 original songs reflecting different styles of Western music — swing, Mexican, blues and country.
