PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 3, 1930.

HIS ADDRESS NOW CERTAIN

Plainview Minister Has Confessed Making Schemes

AMARILLO, Oct. 3. (AP)—The Potter county jail was the most definite address claimed by C. B. Hankins, former Plainview minister, in the last two months.

He disappeared Aug. 20 after sending a letter to his mother from Amarillo. Two days later a blood-stained automobile was found near Erick, Okla. A note in the car indicated the former minister had been slain and his body hidden. Search failed to discover him.

Last week, on Thursday, Hankins was arrested at a Lubbock hotel after his wife received an anonymous telephone call at Levelland.

He confessed Saturday that he forged the name of Dr. J. E. Nunn of Amarillo to a check for $200, using the name of Fred Short, bought a wedding ring with a down payment, giving the name of B. E. Ferguson, then sold the ring for $25. He was brought here Wednesday from Lubbock and charged with forgery.

In a statement, he traced his movements, after his disappearance, to Farwell, N. M., then to Elk City, Okla., and said he wrote the note found in the automobile, but the stains on the car, then deserted it. There he returned to Amarillo, journeyed to Lubbock, then to Levelland, Slanson, and back to Lubbock where he was arrested.

Hankins formerly was an inmate of the state hospital at Wichita Falls, officers said.

Kelley Not To Put Case Before U. S. Attorneys

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—Ralph S. Kelley, former head of the land office at Denver, who has charged maladministration of Colorado oil shale lands, declined today to lay his case before the department of justice.

The North Dakotan had conferred more than an hour today with Kelley.

He expressed hope the department of justice would take full and speedy action on the charges.

The former official's explanation convinced Nye that Secretary Wilbur was not responsible for the alleged improper handling of the oil lands, he said, but someone was responsible and should be questioned.

"Kelley's charges do not go to the door of Secretary Wilbur," the senator said. "There is a door to which his objections lead, however, and this door should be opened."

War Veterans Close Sessions

DALLAS, Oct. 3. (AP)—Boys of 'sixty-one, still wearing the gray uniform of the "lost cause," in spirit at least shook off the weight of years last night and stepped the cotillon and square dance with partners in their 'teens, as the 38th annual reunion of the Texas Division, united confederate veterans, concluded with the grand ball of the sons of veterans.

The veterans elevated Brigadier General M. J. Bonner of Fort Worth to the rank of major general and elected him commander, succeeding General J. H. Summers of Nacogdoches. Fort Worth was chosen as the 1931 convention city. O. E. Clifton of Houston was elected commander of the Texas Division, sons of Confederate veterans, succeeding C. B. Woods, Wichita Falls.

Attending Convention

Charlie Thut, county clerk, and Louis Miller, district clerk, are attending the Panhandle clerk's convention at Memphis today.

To Head Bankers

Rome C. Stephenson, of South Bend, Ind., is slated to be the next president of the American Bankers' Association, first meeting at Cleveland. Stephenson, now vice president of the organization during the past year, is vice-president of the St. Joseph County Savings Bank at South Bend.

STORES WILL NOT CLOSE IN GAME PLANS

No attempt to have the Harvest-Sandle game played Friday instead of Saturday will be made by Pampa merchants, it was decided at a meeting at the chamber of commerce this morning. The men met to consider a suggestion to close up their stores if arrangements could be made to have the game played on Friday. Merchants present declared that they would allow some of their employees the afternoon off to attend the game.

They stated that whether the game was played on either Friday or Saturday, the volume of business would not justify closing up the stores. It was agreed that cessation of business would not be fair to those who would not attend the game.

Supt. R. B. Fisher and Geo. W. Briggs of the chamber of commerce are negotiating with Amarillo school officials to have a section of the bleachers reserved for Pampa fans.

Big Divorce Settlement

FORT WORTH, Oct. 3. (AP)—Mrs. Beryl Turman was granted a divorce from L. C. Turman, oil man, in seventeenth district court Thursday afternoon. She charged cruelty. Turman did not appear to contest the suit.

As property settlement, the court awarded Mrs. Turman $250,000 cash, a 16-cylinder automobile and one-half the royalties received by Turman. Two children, Robert Thomas and L. C. Turman, Jr., were awarded to the mother.

Leasing of University Land for Grazing Said to Be Irregular

AUSTIN, Oct. 3. (AP)—Irregularities in the leasing of lands of the University of Texas for grazing purposes, which resulted in the cancellation of several leases by the university's board of regents, were brought out here today at a meeting of the house investigation committee.

The investigation brought out that in several instances land had been leased from the university and then released at prices considerably in excess of the original lease price. One of these leases involved the subleasing of 104,800 acres of land by W. B. Sillman to R. S. Sterling, C. W. Hemphill, F. L. Childress and R. A. Evans. This lease was made with the permission of the board of regents, but E. J. Compton, university land agent, testified that this land later was leased for 60

HUNGRY, HE ROBS STORE

But No Excuse Is Seen For the Theft of Many Cigarettes

It was a hungry man who robbed the Piggly Wiggly grocery, No. 2, on South Cuyler street last night, the police department decided this morning.

Besides $4 in money, here's what he took: three pounds of pork, three pounds of steak, two bottles of cream, six pounds of bacon, two pounds of butter. All this, in addition to what he ate in the store, and signs of gourmandizing were many.

However, even a hungry man wouldn't steal 20 cartons of cigarettes just because the wolf was at the door. Police expect to find him.

Truck Stolen
A Chevrolet truck owned by the Operators Royalty and Producers company was stolen from where it was parked in the business section last night.

Pampa Banks Show Growth in Their Deposits

While many banks throughout the nation are closing their doors and are going into bankruptcy, the two Pampa banks are showing a steady increase in deposits, as revealed by reports of the condition of the banks at the end of September which were released today.

The quarterly report shows combined deposits of $3,997,086.25, as compared with $3,115,526.44 of the same last year. Deposits usually reach their peak about the end of harvest, but this year has been slightly different from preceding ones in that the deposits did not decline after harvest.

The statement of the First National bank shows an increase in deposits of approximately $300,000 over the March, 1930, total. This is an unprecedented gain. The deposits, Sept. 24, exceeded those of 1929 for the same period by $100,000.

Pampa Broadcast Is Very Popular

Fifty telephone calls and telegrams were received by KGRS at Amarillo Wednesday evening during the broadcast by Pampa entertainers.

The program was by Cecil, Glad, and Nat Lumbford, who played the violin, steel guitar, and banjo in varying combinations. The trio also sang the choruses to many popular songs.

The Amarillo station's new 5,000-watt transmitter is being completed and will be in operation in about two weeks. A Pampa remote control studio will be established soon at a location to be selected.

Dan Vetoes Special Session

DECISION IS MADE KNOWN TO FARMERS

But Governor Will Seek Acreage Reduction

AUSTIN, Oct. 3. (AP)—Declining to call a special session of the Texas legislature for cotton acreage reduction without assurance that other cotton states would join in, Governor Dan Moody consented today to confer with other southern governors on a south-wide reduction program.

The governor's promise was passed at a meeting with a committee headed by J. E. McDonald, democratic nominee for commissioner of agriculture and sponsor of the cotton acreage reduction bill in the last legislature.

After the meeting, McDonald said he had not given up hope for a special session and did not regard the governor's statements as a refusal. He said he was certain that if a conference of the cotton states governors could be arranged, all would agree to call their legislatures into special session for the purpose of enacting acreage limitation laws.

The governor promised to communicate with southern governors immediately asking if they would attend a conference to discuss the entire program.

AUSTIN, Oct. 3. (AP)—Armed with a sheaf of communications from members of the legislature, favoring or opposing the project, a group of Lancaster and Ellis county farmers and legislators waited upon Governor Moody today with a request that he call a special session of the legislature to enact cotton acreage reduction laws.

The committee planned two requests of the governor: to convene the Texas legislature in special session by October 20, and to petition governors of all southern states to take similar action, for the purpose of obtaining a south-wide program of cotton acreage curtailment.

Returns had been received from approximately ninety members of the legislature. These had not been accurately tabulated, but the returns were said to be three to one in favor of the session.

Legislators who favored the session merely signed their names to a card sent out by the committee, for the most part, some of them adding the comment they were for "anything to help the farmer," or they would vote for the acreage reduction bill if convinced it were constitutional.

Hoover Returns to Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—President Hoover returned to Washington today from Cleveland where he addressed the American Bankers' association last night.

The trip to Cleveland completed the first leg of a 3,000 mile swing through the midwest, east and south during which the president will speak in three widely scattered states.

He will remain here until Sunday night when he leaves for Boston for two speeches on Monday, one before the American Legion and the other before the American Federation of Labor. Immediately after the second speech he will go to Kings Mountain battlefield in South Carolina for the fourth address on Tuesday afternoon.

G. O. P. Nominee Is Opening Campaign

DALLAS, Oct. 3. (AP)—Outlining his program as one "not of Republicans or personalities but for the people of Texas," Col. W. E. Talbot of Dallas, Republican nominee for governor, opened his campaign with an address here last night.

The candidate stressed a plea that the people of Texas "wake up from the lethargy they have fallen into under 85 years of Democratic rule."

He appealed to voters to give some thought to protection of the state's natural resources and "stop making us the laughing stock of the north; to promote campaign to use Texas products in Texas, and teach diversification of crops.

"Farmers of Texas are almost peons today," said Col. Talbot, but you can't legislate prosperity. Wealth is being taken away rapidly by pipe lines and soil is becoming poorer each year."

WORM IS EATING NEWLY SOWN WHEAT

His etymological name is not known to County Agent Ralph R. Thomas and he doesn't even rate mention, dishonorable or otherwise, in the bulletins sent out by the Department of Agriculture, but he's playing havoc with Gray county wheat. That is, the wheat that was planted this fall.

Old timers call him the false wire worm, and that name suits him pretty well because he has a wiry bill that goes into the grain of wheat as soon as it's planted. If the grain sprouts and shoots up through the soil crust, Mr. Wire Worm cuts it down with one fell swoop.

He has invaded practically every field of wheat in the community. Mr. Thomas has been able to find only one where he has not made depredations. The wheat fields are fairly "working" with the squirming, creeping creatures.

The condition has become so serious that Mr. Thomas made arrangements for Texas A. & M. College's best etymologists to come to Pampa to analyze the situation and offer suggestions. The noted "bugologists" will begin investigating the devastating little insect next Monday.

Mr. Thomas says the worm made his appearance in Gray county as early as last July, and that he is a lineal descendant of the black beetles which infested the pampas this summer.

Speaker To Tell of Chinese War In Talk Tonight

Rev. Wilmot D. Boone, Presbyterian missionary to China, who speaks at the First Presbyterian church, this evening at 8 o'clock, has seen many years of service in this foreign land.

During recent military maneuvers in Shantung province, which included the occupation of Tsinan by the Japanese troops for a time, Rev. Boone stayed in that city. For a considerable period he was the only missionary of the Tsinan Station in the city, with the exception of members of the Shantung Christian university faculty across the city.

His long familiarity with China enables him to present the present situation in a sympathetic and constructive manner.

The public is invited to hear this splendid message.

Protest Made To Court Because Of Dismissal

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 3. (AP)—The attorney general's office filed an answer today in Oklahoma Supreme court, registering a strenuous protest against the court permitting dismissal of the C. C. Julian Oil and Royalty company suit which attacked constitutionality of the state oil conservation laws.

John Head, attorney for the Julian company, sought the dismissal in a motion filed Tuesday on the grounds that the evidence first should be heard by the corporation commission.

The attorney general took the position that since the case is before the court and probably has been considered, the court should issue a decision.

The court was in conference today, and was believed to be considering the Julian case.

The attorney general said that dismissal now "would not only be an abuse of discretion, but would also cause confusion in the administration of the oil conservation laws as well as great inconvenience and loss of time in settling questions which must be settled at an early date."

"It is apparent from the statement of complaint, given to the press, that complainant intends to continue its efforts toward having the oil conservation law declared illegal and thus produce its oil as it pleases," the petition continued.

Holiday Is Set

AUSTIN, Oct. 3. (AP)—October 13 will be officially observed as a state holiday, the board of control announced today, in commemoration of Columbus day which falls on Sunday, Oct. 12. The board is unofficially "fixing" of holiday dates when the regular holiday falls on Sunday.

As Hoover Threw First Ball

Between speeches aimed at the depression, President Hoover stopped in Philadelphia long enough to see the Athletics defeat the Cardinals in the first game of the world's series. He is shown tossing out the ball to start the contest.

DANCIGER FAILS TO SEE HOW PRORATION IS HELP TO INDEPENDENT GROUP

Proration has helped the independent operator in disposing of his oil Joe Danciger of the Danciger Oil and Refining company who is in Pampa this week, has not been able to find any evidence of it, he declared this morning.

Proponents of proration, that is, the major companies, promised that the schedule would afford connections for wells which have been without pipeline outlet, and would require common purchasers to take an equitable amount of oil from wells which have connections, but those promises have not been fulfilled, according to Mr. Danciger.

"This proration has not helped any independent. It's just an excuse for the big companies to buy less oil," he said. "I don't know of any operator who didn't have a connection before proration but has one now."

Last week, Mr. Danciger obtained a temporary injunction restraining the railroad commission from enforcing the schedule on his properties in the Panhandle. "I am under contract to furnish the Bell refinery with a certain amount of oil from my wells, and I'm going to fulfill that contract. For the state to attempt to stop me would be nothing less than suppression of a private business."

DOUBLE SHOOTING
MANGUM, Okla., Oct. 3. (AP)—An opinion that Bill Chandler, farmer of the Hester community eight miles southeast of here, had killed his wife and committed suicide, was expressed today by Greer county officers who investigated a double shooting that resulted in the deaths of the couple. No official inquest was held.

A panther weighing 160 pounds was killed by James Allen, 18, near Frio, Texas.

BRITAIN STIRRED BY NEWS OF KILLING OF MISSIONARY WOMEN BY COMMUNIST BAND IN CHINA

PEIPING, China, Oct. 3. (AP)—Messages reaching the British consul at Poochow today said that Miss Edith Nettleton and Miss Eleanor June Harrison, British missionaries who were captured last July by Communists at Chungang, Northern Fankien province, had been shot.

Their execution followed failure of protracted negotiations for their release, in the course of which the bandits cut off one of Miss Nettleton's fingers and sent it to British consular authorities as a dire reminder of their death threats if ransom money of $100,000 was not paid.

The two women, who were associated with the church missionary society, were traveling from Chungang to Kienningfu when they were captured.

It was understood here that British authorities here would await all the details before taking further action.

THUGS WANT ALCOCK OUT OF HIS JOB

Racketeering Is Not So Easy Under Regime

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—The Herald and Examiner hears that organized crime in Chicago is raising a million dollar fund to be dedicated to the purpose of putting Police Commissioner John Alcock out of office.

The newspaper quotes an undesignated official source:

"We know the fund is being raised. We know it is intended to be one of the biggest underworld lobby funds ever collected in Chicago—and a million dollars is not the limit, either. The purpose is to collect 'as much as necessary.' And the money is to be used 'discreetly.'"

The need for "discretion" is taken to indicate that the gang powers are anxious to avoid any "rough stuff" that might stir public indignation.

The newspaper was unable to say today how gangland intended to use the fund to effect removal of the police commissioner. The reason Alcock is wanted out of the way, the paper explained is because of his activity in arresting gangsters and in breaking up their system of "rises."

The eighth "public enemy" to be arrested was James (Pur) Sammons, who was held in jail today on a vagrancy warrant in lieu of $50,000 bond. Sammons has a long police record, dating back to 1900 when he was sentenced for robbery. He once was sentenced to be hanged for murder but was reprieved.

ST. LOUIS EXPECTS RUM RUNNING WAR

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3. (AP)—St. Louis police today regarded as a mere "curtain raiser" the slaying of two men and the wounding of two others in a machine gun attack on a bootlegger's shack in Southern Illinois yesterday.

Detectives said they had been expecting "fireworks" between rival gangs of St. Louis gunmen for months. Alcohol distribution was believed the chief motive for the slayings, but police said extortion and piracy also played important roles.

One detective said he expected "about a dozen" or more murders in the next few months. Peter McGuire, 22, one of the slain men, was known to police to have a strong following.

Three men were under arrest at Waterloo, Ill., today for questioning in the double slaying.

Oil Worker Is Held in Shooting

DUNCAN, Okla., Oct. 3. (AP)—Mrs. Jim Greenaway, 20, wife of an employee of the Prairie Pipeline company at Temple, was in a serious condition at a local hospital today, a bullet wound in her head, and Bert Jones, a Prairie employee, was held in the Cotton county jail at Walters, awaiting outcome of her wounds.

C. S. McCuliston, Cotton county attorney, said he had been informed Jones went on a shooting rampage when refused admittance to the home of another Prairie employee at Temple, where a beer party was being held last night.

Jones shot through the windows of the house, McCuliston said he had been told, and Mrs. Greenaway was struck as she huddled in a rear room trying to hide.

American Is Deported

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3. (AP)—Frank A. Nixon, American citizen and ten-year resident of Tampico, left here last night under guard for Laredo, Nixon explained that he was being deported as a consequence of differences, unspecified, with authorities of Tampico. He said he would go to San Antonio, and that he had relatives in Texas.

ANOTHER UNNECESSARY LYNCING

Wednesday morning you read of a negro in Georgia being lynched by a band of men. The colored man was charged with the murder of the chief of police in Cartersville, and was to be given a speedy trial.

A mob stormed the jail and extracted the man from the hands of the law, spirited him away and strung the negro up on a telephone pole.

Is not the thirst for blood ever to be quenched? Will people never let the law take its course instead of wanting to take it into their own unclean, prejudiced hands?

The negro was being taken before the bar of justice to answer for his misdeed, so why smear blood on more hands and bring stench and disgrace upon the community by staging a lynching? Mob blood is hot—like that of a mad beast.

The following dispatch is pertinent:

ATLANTA—A group of prominent clerical and lay members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in a statement issued for publication today, ascribed the persistence of lynching to the neglect of religious leaders to impress the people with the "solemn warnings of the church on this subject" and weakness and complicity on the part of public officials.

The statement urged that measures be taken "to bring such recreant officials to account in the courts of justice and at the bar of outraged public opinion."

The statement also said "the situation, as we see it, is serious in the extreme and challenges every religious leader, public official and christian citizen to determined and unrelenting war upon this blighting survival of barbarism."

Japan has ratified the London Naval treaty. Perhaps they have seen a loophole in it.

Exiles have come back into fashion. Ex-President Irigoyen will take his punishment by making his abode in Spain. And all expenses paid.

Hard Winter in New York Seen

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 3. (AP)—Governor Roosevelt and public welfare commissioners from all over the state believe New York faces the hardest winter in many years.

At a conference here yesterday they warned that unemployment was increasing; that cities must increase their welfare appropriations as present relief funds were almost exhausted; and that all private, municipal, and state welfare agencies must be knit into one statewide unit the better to alleviate the general distress.

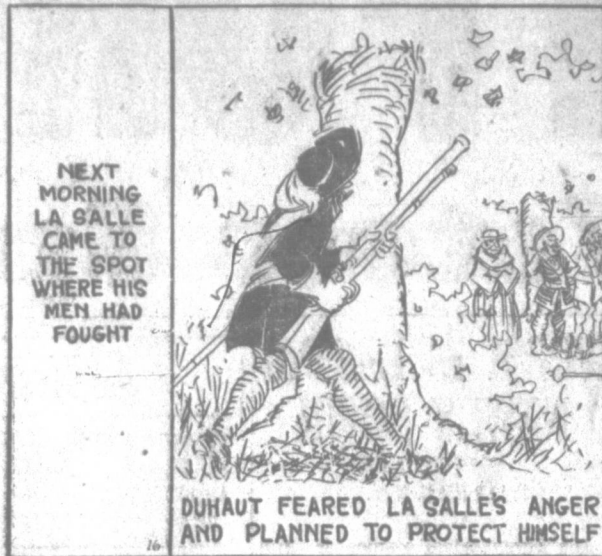

loans to needy persons.

"The finger points to the hardest winter our citizenry has known in many years," he said. "There is great distress coming, experts told me today in Albany. It is essential to plan to meet it. We are facing hard times and we might as well be frank about it. The business brains of the state should be able to devise a means to tide over the unemployment, but there wouldn't be any unemployed if all who could afford it would employ one or more men or women. That would solve the whole problem."

Hoover Hits at Two Classes of Bitter Critics

Hoover Special Train En Route to Washington, Oct. 3. (AP)—President Hoover was on record today as taking sharp issue with both critics of his administration who, he says, dwell only on the "unhappy features" of the current business depression and those who believe American standards of living should be lowered.

Personally replying to opposition campaign declarations for the first time, Mr. Hoover asserted before the American Bankers' association in Cleveland last night there were "several folks in the political world who resent the notion that things will ever get better and who wish to enjoy our temporary misery."

Just before going to the auditorium to deliver his speech the president made a last minute addition to his text in which he took vigorous exception to remarks of a banker delegate who was quoted as saying American standards of living should be on a lower plane.

"To that I emphatically disagree," the president asserted amid applause, and added: "Any retreat from our American philosophy of constantly increasing standards of living becomes a retreat into, perpetual unemployment and the acceptance of a cesspool of poverty for some large part of our people."

Cannon Replies to Pro Statement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., said today a declaration by prohibition director Amos W. W. Woodcock that homemade, home consumed wine and beer were immune to federal interference "cannot change the law" and "merely indicates the policy of the government in enforcement."

The chairman of the board of temperance and social service of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, commented: "Colonel Woodcock can merely indicate the policies the government in enforcement, and outline difficulties which the government may have in enforcing the law."

Woodcock had explained that it was impossible for federal enforcement officers to reach home brews because they could not search a private dwelling without a warrant. When the liquor is made and consumed without sale or transportation, officers cannot apprehend the victors, he said.

"All I can say," Bishop Cannon observed, "is that there is no question of the meaning of the prohibition amendment—I was one of seven who wrote it."

Robbers Try on Shoes in Store

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—Three rough persons, engaged in robbing a store, took time out to be fitted to footwear last night.

Having taken what cash they could find—a trifling sum, for business had been poor—the robbers paused to look over the place.

"Yes, sir," said Santello. "You might show me something in a low shoe, tan, size 10," said the robber. "And fit my gentlemen friends, too."

So the three robbers were fitted with footwear. Finally, satisfied, they thanked the clerk and complimented him on the merchandise.

Then they went away.

Oklahomans Vote for Oil Proration

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 3. (AP)—Unanimous approval of the oil proration program proposed for Oklahoma fields for the final quarter of the year was voted at a meeting here today of more than 100 of the state's producers, exclusive of operators in the Oklahoma City field.

The program calls for limiting the state's daily average output to 550,000 barrels in October, 545,000 barrels in November and 535,000 barrels in December.

Iowa's total assessed valuation for 1930 is $3,250,852,998, according to the state board of review.

"Keep Out" Says City of Detroit

DETROIT, Oct. 3. (AP)—The city of Detroit today was engaged, figuratively speaking, in posting huge "keep out" signs at the city's gateways, directing to those who come here looking for jobs.

The inflow of jobless has increased materially, city officials found, since the systematic program of Mayor Frank Murphy and industrial leaders interested in unemployment has been placed in operation. Those in charge of this program pointed out that some 80,000 jobless Detroiters have been registered, and that the most hopeful estimate of immediate employment contemplates relief for not more than a third of this number.

Profits from the city water and light plant are providing a new $20,000 "white way" for McPherson, Kans.

LARGE GROUPS ATTEND P-T.A. GATHERINGS THURSDAY

Sixty Visitors and All Teachers of Junior High School Are Present for Initial Meeting; Officers Selected

The program for the coming year as outlined and vacancies in office were filled at the initial meeting of the year for the junior high school Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the school. Mrs. Joe M. Smith presided for the meeting and 60 visitors, as well as all teachers of the school, were present.

Plans were made for an active membership drive, and Mrs. Smith in outlining the work of the year expressed the desire that parents of every child in the school become active members and aid in making the association—the youngest of the seven local associations—one of the "biggest and best."

Principal Speaks
R. A. Selby, principal of the school, in an interesting talk explained to the association some of the things being introduced into the schools this year, tendered the cooperation of the entire faculty to the association, and asked in return the cooperation of patrons in making the school better this year than ever before.

New officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Joe M. Smith; vice president, Miss Byrd Whiteley; secretary, Mrs. E. Bass Clay; treasurer, Mrs. J. M. Saunders; historian, Mrs. Guy Farrington; chairman of membership, Mrs. T. W. Sweetman; chairman of publicity, Mrs. F. G. Browne.

Those Becoming Members
Those becoming members at Thursday's meeting were as follows: Mrs. J. L. Lester, Mrs. B. E. Finley, Mrs. F. C. Browne, Mrs. J. D. Lawson, Mrs. M. D. Ellis, Mrs. J. J. FEMININE FANCIES

BY HOLLYCE SELLERS

Talk about women being fastidious! If that's true, then men are ultra-fastidious. Just listen to this opinion expressed by a local beauty parlor operator:

"We don't care to do work for men. They are so much more particular than women. Everything done for a man must be just so. His manicule must be perfect."

The operator didn't know she was talking to a newspaper reporter, and she didn't know her opinion was merely stating a few of her opinions while busily engaged in giving a finger wave.

But perhaps the parlors catering to women's work will not have to be bothered with the scattered male intruders much longer, for there comes a forecast from Julia Blanshard, well known NEA service writer, that beauty parlors for big business men and other members of the male species are only a matter of time.

"Men really want to beautify," the writer says. "Just look at them in the barber shop! But they hesitate to take actively to beauty aids because public opinion is against it, and they themselves are naturally conservative and timid about going counter to this. However, if they were given proper encouragement, they would soon blossom out in new complexions, shaped eyebrows and other enhancing improvements."

The Genteel Age

She quotes as her authority, Dr. Maurice Aisen, well-known chemist, who says, "Get Professor Dewey to write a treatise on the value in character that would accrue if men braved the public and went in for beauty. Get former Pres. Coolidge to point out the value of more masculine beauty in politics. Get Colonel Lindbergh to give a short radio talk on the way your spirits would fly upward if you took care of your looks. Get Herbert Hoover to be pictured having a facial. In no time propaganda for masculine beautifying would spread like wild fire!"

Perhaps the doctor is right. If Professor Dewey, former President Coolidge, Colonel Lindbergh, and Herbert Hoover took their stand for beauty aids, the rest of the male species might follow. But the big problem is getting them to do it. They, mind you, are among the few real men in the world and are not going to be bothered with such details as arched eyebrows. Besides, what would Mrs. Lindbergh, for instance, say if in answer to her query as to why her husband wifs an hour late coming it, she met with the calm words, "Just stopped by for a marcel, dear. Stop, Junior, mustn't rumple daddy's hair." What do we care about a genteel age, or about an age of beauty for both sexes?

Another School Is Moved to Lease

Supt. R. B. Fisher has announced the moving of another two-room school to the Merten lease, four miles south of the city. With the two-room school which was previously at this location, it will be possible to offer the first, second and third grades and possibly some fourth grade work as well, Supt. Fisher said.

Child Psychology Class Is To Be Sponsored Here

One of the most ambitious projects of the year's work was begun by the East Ward P-T.A. in regular session Thursday afternoon when plans were made to begin a class in child psychology.

A committee composed of Mrs. John V. McCallister, Mrs. J. Frank Murry, Miss Mary Nail and Mrs. J. B. Townsend with the assistance of Superintendent R. B. Fisher, are outlining a program for this course. The course will be taught at a series of monthly evening meetings during the year, and programs and round table discussions relating to child life will be held.

All Parents Invited
The desire was expressed that all fathers and mothers of the school attend these sessions.

An interesting program was presented under the direction of Miss Kathleen Beatty in which the following pupils took part: Max Long, Ray and Fay Dyer, Lillian Rice, Joyce Turner, and Waldeen McCallister.

After discussion various names suggested for East Ward school, it was voted to submit to the school board the following in the order of preference: Betsy Ross, Wilson, and Browning.

Albuquerque Man Here
Rev. F. W. O'Malley, pastor of the First Christian church, has as his guest his brother, Dean H. R. O'Malley, of Albuquerque.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ward of Berger attended the Comus club dance Thursday night.

Way to Keep up With Daughter Will Be Presented By Grace Bull Here

A golden opportunity for mother to keep up with daughter is to be offered in the Pampa Daily News and Morning Post cooking school to be conducted by Grace Bull, opening Oct. 14 in the basement of the First Methodist church.

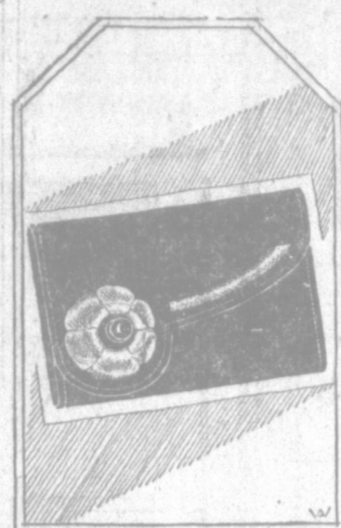

For the "flapper daughter" knows much more about the science of cookery and home economics than many of her circumspect elders, leading educators declare.

It is the belief of Grace Bull that "this business of being a woman" should in truth be treated as a business. It is Miss Bull's mission in life to teach women the fundamentals in home making and point out to them the new and more scientific ways of preparing foods into tempting dishes.

Food Biggest Factor
"The biggest single factor in health and happiness is food," says Miss Bull. "Beginning in the seventh grade and continuing through high school and college, girls are taught the scientific planning of meals, perfectly balanced and attractive to the eye. This is done with the thought that such training is essential to these girls who expect to make a success of their home management."

The five day school of cookery will give to the women of Pampa and vicinity an opportunity of receiving first hand information from a recognized expert along these lines. Economy will be stressed in these lectures by Miss Bull, for she feels that the woman who can excel in the art of cookery and at the same time save something from the family budget is after all, the true artist.

The lectures will be free and all women are invited to hear this series of illuminating talks.

THE UNUSUAL applied trimming of this dark brown suede envelope is of tortoise shell. The center of the flower motif is a round brown button and buttonhole.

Girls' Chorus Is Formed Thursday

Organization of the girls' chorus at the Pampa high school was perfected at a meeting Thursday afternoon after school. Sixty girls reported at the meeting, and 30 others have announced their intention of becoming members.

The following officers were elected: President, Yvonne Thomas; secretary, Jewel Binford; treasurer, Day Meadow; reporter, Ester Stark.

Miss Iva June Willis is sponsoring the group.

Office Vacancies Filled Thursday By Baker Group

Vacancies in office were filled at a meeting of the Baker P. T. A. Thursday afternoon at the school. Seventeen mothers and 17 teachers attended the meeting.

A letter of resignation was received from Mrs. H. T. Cox, treasurer, and Mrs. H. G. Myers was elected to fill her place. Mrs. Helen Anderson was chosen historian; Mrs. Art Jaynes, head of the child welfare work, to be assisted by Mrs. R. K. Douglas and Mrs. A. L. Jaynes. Mrs. S. G. Atwood, representative to the city council.

The group presented a first aid gift to the school, and a program on fire prevention was given by several of the mothers and teachers.

Several new members were added to the P-T. A.

Grain Body to Assist Farmers

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—The farmers' national grain corporation, sponsored by the federal farm-board, has advised its member cooperatives it is prepared to extend assistance on margin loans to prevent forced sale of farmers' grain holdings.

Treasurer Walter I. Bean of the corporation said the action was taken because of the apprehension among grain growers on the low prices of wheat.

"It should be clearly understood," said Bean, "that such financial aid as may be extended to protect grain loans does not even suggest a fixed price or peg loan policies."

CHICAGO GRAIN
 CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—Wheat: No. 1 hard 81 to 82; No. 2 yellow hard 82; No. 1 northern spring 82 1-4; No. 1 mixed 81 1-2.
 Corn: No. 1 mixed 90 1-4 to 1-3; No. 1 yellow 89 3/4 to 91 1-4; No. 2 white 95 1-2 to 96.
 Oats: No. 1 white 38 1-2; No. 2 white 38 1-2.

Wheat Slow
 CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—Forecasts of rain in Australia, where wheat crops have been injured by drought led to early downturns today in grain values here. Offerings, however, both of wheat and corn on the price setbacks were readily absorbed and quick rallies ensued.

Opening unchanged to 1-1/4 lower, wheat afterward recovered to above yesterday's finish. Corn started 3-8 to 1-1/8 off, but soon reversed.

Cotton Is Weak
 NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady at a decline of 13 to 19 points in response to lower Liverpool cables than due.

There were no large selling orders, apparently, and the market was fairly active on the decline, which carried new December off to 10.50 and March to 10.75 or about 18 to 22 points net lower the first few minutes.

Scattered covering and trade buying absorbed offerings at these figures, and the market was a few points up from the lowest at the end of the first half hour.

From Chicago

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3. (AP)—Announcing they were Chicago gangsters and would shoot to kill if resistance was offered, two men held up an outlying branch of the Bank of Italy today, obtaining approximately $9,000.

Fourteen marriage licenses were issued in San Antonio, Texas, in 1837, first year records were kept, and there were no divorces.

"Tagged" Persons Surprise Officer With Courtesy

Officer J. J. Simmons tells one that should qualify for "Believe It or Not."

Thursday night about 7 o'clock he was patrolling the block on West Foster in which the Canary Sandwich shop is located, when he noticed a Chevrolet cabriolet parked in the alley nearby. A man and woman were in the car, talking to a friend who was standing alongside. He smilingly told them that he believed an alley was a rather peculiar place to park and after dropping this hint, continued his work of checking cars for parking time.

When he returned to the place, the car was still there, and he speedily gave them a ticket, still continuing to be pleasant. The occupants of the car said that he had been more than fair, and complimented him for his fairness and politeness. The persons lived in the field near Pampa, but the car had an Oklahoma license. The man who had been talking to the persons whose car was tagged also complimented the officer on his courtesy. The car was just being driven out when Simmons gave the sign to halt.

Simmons said that he had been bawled out many times when he wrote out tickets, but this was the first time he had ever been complimented and treated without anger by the tagged individuals.

Missouri Bank Robbed
 CLINTON, Mo., Oct. 3. (AP)—The bank of Calhoun, ten miles from here, was held up today by two masked men who escaped with approximately $2,500.

The money was taken while Leonard George, cashier, was alone in the bank.

CARDINALS EXPECT TO DO BETTER ON HOME DIAMOND

SERIES WILL BE RESUMED ON SATURDAY

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
St. Louis, Oct. 3. (AP)—Confident that a change in environment will help them, the St. Louis Cardinals speeded westward today to resume their world's series quarrel with the Philadelphia Athletics at Sportsman's park, St. Louis, tomorrow.

The Athletics, transformed by the schedule from the home club to the visitors, also went west today, but the American league can do no better in the National league city than they did at home. If the do as well the series will be over Sunday.

The world's champions made it two in a row at Shibe park by giving big George Earnshaw an early lead, six runs in four innings in clusters of two, then suspended their hitting and scoring activities. As the big Swarthmore hurler was in excellent form, any one of the two run innings would have been enough to win. The only Cardinal run was a long home run over the right field wall by George Watkins, who plays right field for the Cards when the opposition sends in a righthander to pitch.

Although they never were, "in the ball game" in the second contest of the series, the National leaguers showed no disposition to give up the baseball ghost and their supporters did not hesitate to say that once at their own homes and franchises they would give a good account of themselves.

In the first two games Manager Connie Mack led his two aces and each took tricks. Bob Grove's victory in the opener was followed by an even more impressive pitching performance by his colleague in the second.

Running true to his schedule mapped out in advance, Manager Gabby Street sent Flint Rhem in to pitch the second game. The lad with the big curve was forced into retirement in the fourth inning after he had been nicked for six runs, four earned and the other two made possible through an error.

Jim Lindsey and Sylvester Johnson, two big right-hander pitchers, perfectly filled relief roles, neither permitting the A's a safe hit, but when they came in the Athletics, too, were "in".

American league players say that when Earnshaw has control he is practically unbeatable. There was nothing wrong with his control in the second game of the series. He forced eight Cardinals to miss third strikes, showed a world of stuff the few times he was menaced and after the second inning, gave up but two hits.

As the contesting teams devoted a day to travel, speculation was rife as to the probable pitchers for the opening game at St. Louis tomorrow. Manager Street said he would summon his star southpaw, "Wild Bill" Hallahan, to the mound.

Hallahan is another pitcher who is almost unbeatable when his control is working. He shut out the Brooklyn Robins 1 to 0 in 10 innings in the important opening game of a series practically deciding the National league pennant.

In this game Hallahan allowed only five hits, retiring the first 20 men in order. The crack lefthander, however, can be wild at times and his bases on balls for the season lead the league.

Connie Mack, as usual, kept his own counsel. There were numerous suggestions that he would give Grove and Earnshaw each a chance to repeat. Should he consider this course impracticable, the names mentioned frequently in connection with the pitching assignment for tomorrow were Bill Shores, a youngster, and Eddie Rommel, a veteran.

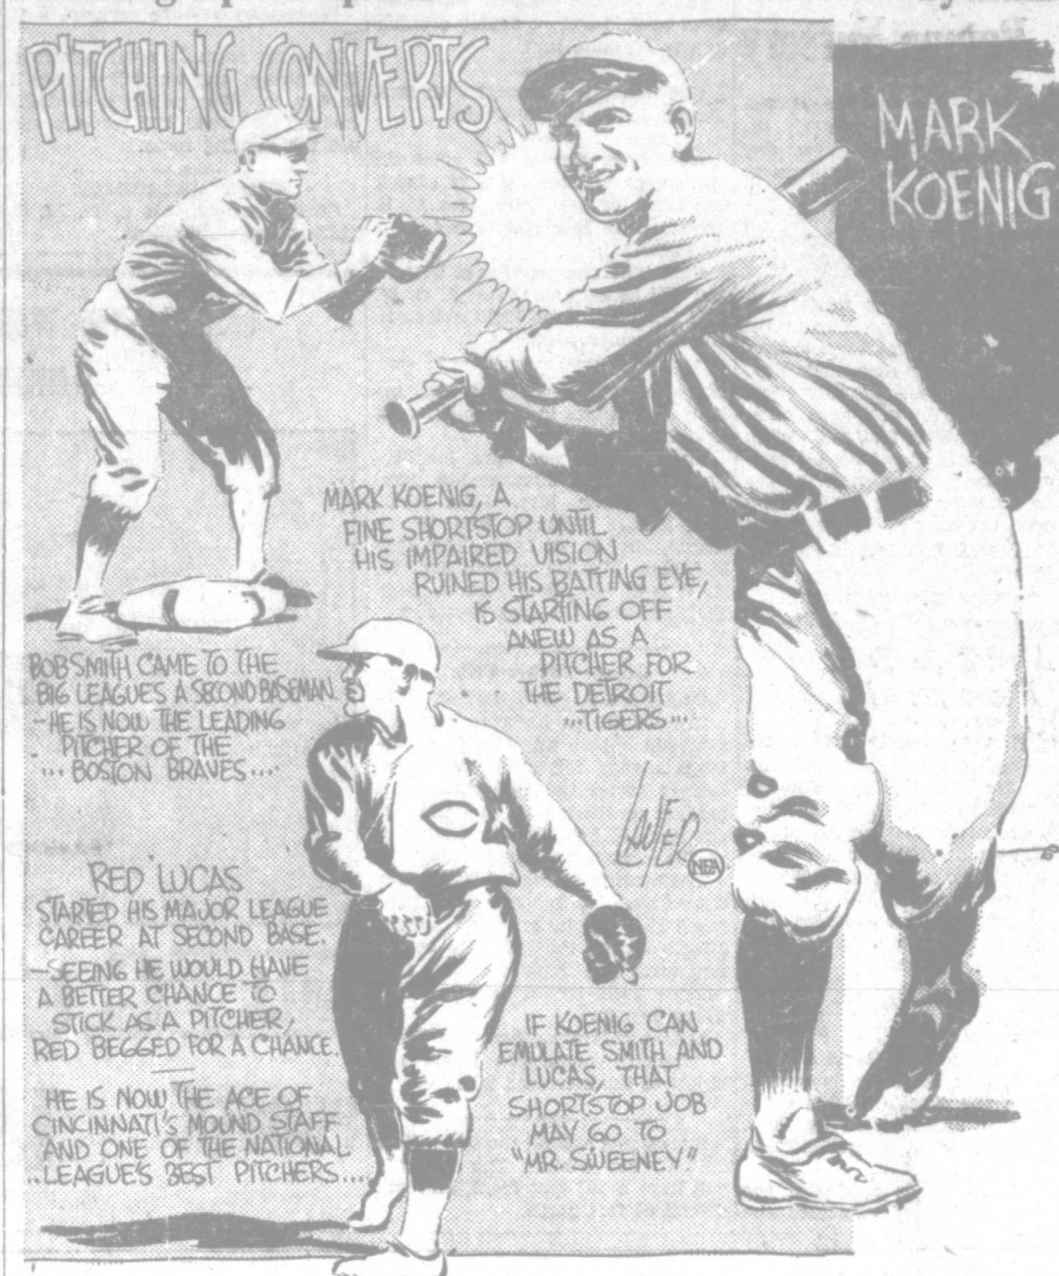

The second game of the series brought a new record when Frankie Frisch, in his first time at bat, drove a double to left field. This was Frisch's 43rd hit in six world series, passing the mark of Eddie Collins, made in six series, the last in 1919.

Oil Production Plans Studied

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 3. (AP)—Improved oil production methods were given attention today by the petroleum division, American institute of mining and metallurgical engineers, meeting here prior to the opening of the seventh annual international petroleum exposition and congress tomorrow.

How to make the most use of natural water flooding in efficient recovery of oil discussed in a paper by H. H. Wright of the Cuysey Oil company, Tulsa. He said the possibilities of making the greatest use of natural water flooding contained in such fields as Seminole, where the recovery of oil appears to be greatly influenced by water even in the flush stage of production.

WESTERNERS DOMINATING NET TOURNEY

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 3. (AP)—Three westerners and one easterner were in the Pacific Coast men's singles championship here today as play reached the semi-final round.

All four swept through to straight set victories in yesterday's matches. George Lott, Chicago Davis Cup star, seeded number one among the visitors, led the advance by downing Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, 6-3, 6-3. Cranston Holman, of San Francisco, who defeated young Sidney Wood, Jr., of New York is the only obstacle between Lott and the finals.

The California contingent was led by Edward G. Chandler, state champion, and top seeded western player. Chandler swept through Bob Sells, defending coast champion, in yesterday's quarter-final, 6-2, 6-0 and today meets Keith Gledhill of Santa Barbara.

In the women's singles event Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, world's champion, meets Edith Cross, San Francisco Wightman cup star, in a semi-final match.

Pair of Records Are Made By Series Teams

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3. (AP)—Baseball record books today revealed that the world's series contenders shared an extraordinary fielding feat in the second game.

The St. Louis Cardinals, by making only four assists, broke the world's series record for the fewest number of assists in a single game, and the Philadelphia Athletics, with only five, tied the previous mark.

The Cardinals actually should have gone through the game with only three assists, for one of the four was due to a dropped third strike that forced Mancuso to make a throw to first base for a putout. Adams, Frisch and Gelbert had the other assists.

The record in this feature of defensive play was set in 1921 by the New York Yankees and equaled by the same club in 1907, the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1927 and the Athletics in Gledhill of Santa Barbara.

The low total on nine assists for the clubs yesterday bettered the two club mark of 10 established by the Yankees and Pirates on October 6, 1927.

ARGENTINE ATTRACTION THIS EVENING

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (AP)—A 10-round bout between Justo Suarez, Argentine sensation, and Ray Miller, Chicago lightweight, tops the opening indoor card at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Suarez, perhaps because of a decided advantage in weight, rules a favorite at odds as high as 2 to 1, but this hardly seems to paint a true picture. Miller, on the basis of his record, looks like a much better bet than the odds would indicate.

The boys who make the odds in New York apparently have not yet forgiven Miller for his poor showing against Jimmy McLarnin here. Miller had stopped McLarnin's biggest crowds that ever jammed the Garden was on hand for the return bout.

McLarnin gained the decision after 10 slow rounds in which both exercised the utmost caution.

Stares has been undefeated in this country, beating among others Bruce Flowers, Joe Glick and Herman Perlick, but Miller looks like a more formidable foe than any of these. He hits with paralyzing force with his left hand and is a smart and experienced battler. The Argentine probably will scale about 140 pounds while Miller's natural fighting weight is 132 pounds.

Jockey Slaps His Employer

SEGUIN, Oct. 3. (AP)—John S. Ware, of Austin, a race horse owner, was fatally shot at his stalls in the Guadalupe county fair grounds today. Two bullets took effect.

Pat Humphreys, jockey and trainer employed by Ware, was arrested in Austin and brought back to Seguin in connection with the shooting.

Ware was a well-known figure on the Southwest Texas racing circuit.

Al Singer Will Fight October 14

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—Al Singer, new lightweight champion of the world, will battle Eddie Mack, the Denver boxer-lawyer, in his first Chicago appearance, in the stadium October 14.

On the same card King Levinsky, who surprised everyone including himself, by knocking out Leo Lomski last month, will meet Tom Kirby, Boston heavyweight.

CLINGMAN IS VICTOR OVER HIS OPPONENT

Otis Clingman was seriously threatened by the speed, skill and punches of Jack Rose last night, but he kept his head clear and won the last two falls in the three-fall match.

The first went 14 minutes with Rose winning by body slams. Almost from the first the visitor resorted to roughness which angered the crowd as well as Clingman. Rose, somewhat heavier than the local man and wonderfully conditioned, proved to be dangerous with his headlocks and slams.

Clingman relied on his punishing drop toe-hold to take the second fall in five minutes. Rose almost had Clingman out several times in the third period, but the latter came out of splits and toe holds and eventually won with a step over toe-hold.

In the semi-final event, Oscar Dotson and Arthur Saxon went 15 minutes to a draw. The strong man knew little wrestling but his strength made up for this deficiency.

Too Much Gas Presents Problem

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 3. (AP)—A survey showing the country's present stocks of gasoline are approximately 10,000,000 barrels in excess of the minimum working stocks needed for satisfactory operation of refineries, compiled from a questionnaire sent to refiners by the American Petroleum institute, was before the institute's board of directors for consideration here today.

The general committee of the institute's division of refining approved the report yesterday and urged its members to attempt to reach the minimum level and maintain it during the rest of 1930.

The report showed the required stocks at refineries for the rest of the year were 4,696,000 barrels for the east coast district; 888,000 barrels for the Appalachian region; 3,925,000 for Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky; 1,914,000 for Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri; 4,319,000 barrels for Texas; 1,250,000 for Louisiana and Arkansas; 1,173,000 for the Rocky Mountain area; 10,819,000 for California; 3,501,000 for the Texas gulf coast, and 1,112,000 barrels for the Louisiana gulf coast.

Austin Man Killed

AUSTIN, Oct. 3. (AP)—John Ware, Austin race horse owner, was shot to death at midnight at the Seguin fair grounds, according to meagre information received here. A suspect was lodged in jail here today but the sheriff's department had very little information as to the shooting.

Battling Nelson Dies With Gloves On During Semi-Final Ring Bout

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Oct. 3. (AP)—Battling Nelson of Waterloo, Ia., fighting the semi-windup to the Mandel-Myers match last night, died with his gloves on.

He collapsed at the end of the fifth round and a towel was tossed in the ring. None of the crowd knew it, but Nelson was dying.

His opponent, Kid Leonard of East Moline, Ill., was ordered held for the inquest today. He is 17 years old and was fighting his 19th professional bout. Nelson, whose full name was Hildreth C. Nelson, was 27 years old, married, and the father of four children. He had been fighting professionally for five years and was a welterweight.

Three physicians, including Carver R. A. Vorpahl, were at the ringside and sought unsuccessfully to revive Nelson. Their unofficial expressions were that death was accidental, being due either to paralysis of the heart of over-exertion, rather than as a result of a blow. The county attorney, however, asked that Kid Leonard and Leonard Vandeville is his real name—be held for the inquest.

The fight card went on uninterrupted, with Sammy Mandell, former lightweight champion, taking an easy 10-round decision from Pug Myers, Pocattello and Chicago welter.

Cannon Certain To Be Tried by Church Group

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—An investigation of the charges brought against Bishop Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, by four ministers of the denomination appeared certain today following a conference last night between Cannon and Bishop W. N. Ainsworth.

Reliable authority had it that Bishop Ainsworth, with whom the charges were filed, had decided to appoint a committee of twelve ministers to conduct an inquiry. This step is provided under church discipline to determine whether a church trial is necessary.

Bishop Ainsworth left Washington immediately after his talk with the accused churchman, and today was on his way to Birmingham. Bishop Cannon would not comment on the conference. Speculation turned on whether he would make any public reply to the charges at this time.

These have not been made public and since his return from Brazil a few days ago the Bishop has said he would have nothing to say until he had seen the accusations. It was believed their nature was the subject of discussion at the conference between the two bishops.

Pooh! Pooh! Say Scientists About Oklahoma Toads

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—Scientists at the Museum of Natural History, who say "pooh! pooh!" to the claim that three toads found in Oklahoma have lived 300 years, will pass up the invitation of J. B. Thoburn, curator of the Oklahoma Historical society, to come and see for themselves.

Reiterating their skepticism, Dr. Remington A. Kellogg and Miss Bevis Cochrane today cited their fellow museum worker, Dr. Oliver P. Hay, retired veteran on the Pleistocene front.

Dr. Hay went to Frederick, Okla., two years ago and studied the formation where some of the clay ball toads were found.

A clay ball toad, alive, was sent to his headquarters here.

But with Dr. Hay, seeing was not believing the thousand year, or even the three hundred year longevity theory.

"An animal doesn't live forever, or even half of forever," he said today.

He credited the Indian mound and clay ball toads with the usual season of hibernation, about one winter.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

500 East Kingsmill Avenue
Rally day in the Bible school next Sunday means for every member of church or Sunday school to be present and to bring others who have not been attending any Sunday school. Talk it, invite, persuade, go after them—but any way bring them.

The communion service every Lord's Day is the center of the worship in Christian churches. To omit it is not merely an oversight; God declares it to be willful sin. An earnest Bible message follows: not sensational, silly jokes, or worldly notions, but God's pure word is preached. If your soul is hungry for God's truth, come.

The young people will meet at 8:30 from this time on, as the gospel meeting at night is moved up to 7:30.

Fine attendance at the night services is greatly encouraging the pastor and all the earnest workers. Excellent music is a feature also. Everybody welcome.

Oppose Higher Tolls

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 3. (AP)—The Oklahoma highway commission will oppose an attempt to restore higher toll rates on three bridges across the Red river at a hearing on the matter in Dallas on October 15, Lew Wentz, chairman of the commission, said today.

The hearing was called by the war department, it having been proposed that the higher rates remain effective until the privately owned structures are replaced by free bridges built by Oklahoma and Texas jointly.

It was understood here the Texas highway commission would not object to the increased tolls.

Ornaments around the top will be cubical, but plain. The building will have a 100-foot front, and will extend 60 feet north.

ONE will always stand out!

IT IS the "just right" combination that makes for style in the gown — and good taste in a cigarette.

Nothing can take the place of the right use of the right tobaccos. Chesterfield's long-tested methods of mellowing and blending the choicest cigarette tobaccos have no counterpart. Thus Chesterfield stands out for—

MILDNESS—the entirely natural mildness of tobaccos that are without harshness or bitterness.

BETTER TASTE—such as only a cigarette of wholesome purity and better tobaccos can have.

They Satisfy —that's Why!

The Hollywood Story

by NEA SERVICE Inc. by ERNEST LYNN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DAN RORIMER, former New York newspaper man and now a scenario writer in Hollywood, is in love with ANNE WINTER, who, beginning as an extra, has progressed rapidly and is now under contract to Grand United, one of the largest of the motion picture studios.

Dan formerly was under contract at Continental Pictures, but he was unable to get along with the studio executive there and he is now free lancing.

PAUL COLLIER, who writes a daily column of movie comment for a string of newspapers, shares Dan's apartment with him. He has great faith in Dan's ability, despite the latter's lack of success as a free lance. Dan has become discouraged over this, and over his apparently hopeless regard for Anne Winter, whose every step upward seems to remove her all the farther from him.

Anne lives with two other girls, MONA MORRISON and EVA HARRLEY. Mona and Eva are extras, but Mona works only occasionally and Eva but rarely. She is bitter over this, and over a tragic love experience. Finally she leaves Hollywood, leaving behind a brokenhearted note for Mona and Anne.

While in New York Dan had written a play for the legitimate stage. His agent, unable to place it, finally sends it back to him, and Anne Winter and Paul Collier, when they read it, are enthusiastic about it. They think it would make a great picture and urge Dan to revise it for the movies. Anne declares that she would like nothing better than to play the chief girl character. Dan follows their advice, and submits it to Grand United.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXIII
 Another week slipped by. Paul Collier had gone to Seattle to spend his vacation.

"Think of me my boy, on Mount Rainier, when the thermometer begins to sizzle."

He had asked Dan to wire him if Grand United took his play, so he would have an opportunity to celebrate. Only Paul had not said "if," he had said "when."

Dan began to think the studio's silence was unreasonable, and once or twice he had half angrily been tempted to call, believing that Grand United should be told there were other studios in Hollywood to whom he might submit his play.

And then one day Phillips' secretary called him and asked him to come over to the office. She said, with a smile in her voice: "It's good news, Mr. Rorimer, and I'm very glad."

"That's mighty nice of you," he told her, feeling that the world suddenly had become a much brighter place. "I'll be right over."

Phillips welcomed him with a broad smile and a hearty hand-clasp. "Think we were never going to decide, Rorimer? Well, it wasn't my fault—nobody's fault in particular; we've been sort of up in the air and things have to take their turn, you know."

"The boss wants to see you," he told Rorimer. "Now that he's sold, he's sold hard. He's been asking a lot of questions about you and some of them I couldn't answer. You'll have to talk to him. Just between the two of us, he's pretty much interested in you. If he makes you any kind of proposition I hope you'll think it over, Rorimer."

Dan nodded and murmured something. Everything, he reflected, came in bunches. Not only had Grand United bought his play, but now Phillips talked as if they meant to offer him a job. And he thought of Paul Collier up in Seattle. That would be something to wire Paul, all right, if Johnson was going to make him an offer.

While they waited for his secretary to report, Phillips confided that "Traitor" would make a great story for Lester Moore.

"We've been looking for a story for Moore, and this is made to order."

Dan could not repress a smile at this, and at the other's look of inquiry he confessed that he had been waiting to hear that very thing said. "I had Moore in mind when I wrote that treatment. I was hoping you'd see it."

There was a muted sound on Phillips' desk, and he picked up the receiver and spoke with his secretary. He rose then. "He's in, Rorimer; let's go."

Mr. Johnson was very agreeable. He said, after shaking hands warmly and offering Rorimer a chair: "I've been inquiring about you. There's some great stuff in that play of yours; I like it very much. I understand you were over at Continental for a while. You were under contract there, weren't you?"

"Yes, I was."

"Why did you leave? Mind my asking? Did they fail to exercise their option?" He asked, smiling: "You see, I want to find out all about you."

Dan hesitated. "It wasn't exactly that," he said. "Since you ask me, I'll have to confess that I didn't get along very well with Adamson over there. I thought he was intolerable. I tore up my contract quite a while ago, and when they reorganized, Adamson fired me."

He grinned then, recalling his last interview with Adamson. "He said I was dead timber," he told Mr. Johnson.

"The Grand United executive thought that was very funny. "I see. Well, we might be willing sometime to take a chance on some dead timber. That's great dialogue in that play of yours; good, authentic stuff. You were a newspaper man weren't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"I don't think you'd find us very unreasonable around here," Johnson said. "Do you Phillips?"

And Phillips smiled. "There aren't any Adamsons over here," he said. "I know him, Rorimer."

"We thought it would be a good idea," Mr. Johnson resumed, "if you did the scenario for us; and we'd like to have you around to help out on it when production starts. There'll be changes, of course, here and there. You know all about that, though."

"I'll be tickled to death," Dan assured him. "And I know you've got to please your director and your actors, so I understand perfectly about the changes. I've made plenty of script changes right on the sets at Continental."

Mr. Johnson looked rather pleased. "Phillips will find an office for you to work in. I'm rather hoping you'll want to stay; I think we can use you. When you've finished the scenario, come in and see me, and we may have a contract to offer you."

He rested a hand on the manuscript that lay before him on the desk. "I think Lester Moore will be tickled with this story," he said to Phillips. "He just got back in town this morning, and I was talking with him a little while ago. He's coming over later on to read it."

Phillips nodded, and he suddenly thought of something. "By the way Rorimer, you told me if we took your play you'd tell me why you were so keen to sell it to Grand United." He laughed. "I told you I had a terrible curiosity. What was the reason?"

Rorimer smiled, and hesitated awkwardly. He said, "That's so! I did say that, didn't I?" and turned red.

Mr. Johnson looked inquiringly from one to the other. "What's all this?" he asked.

Now or never, Dan thought. "I'll tell you," he said. "Remember, Mr. Phillips, that I told you I had Lester Moore in mind for the part of Michael? Well, I had someone in mind for the part of Jenny, too.

Maybe if I was right once, he suggested with a weak grin. "I might be right again. You never can tell."

"Stranger things have happened I guess," Phillips admitted cheerfully. "Who was it? It wasn't hard to spot Moore, because that the kind of stuff he eats up; but—"

"I doubt if you could guess," Dan looked apologetically at Mr. Johnson. "She's pretty new," he explained, "but she's under contract here. She's Anne Winter."

And Johnson frowned. "Anne Winter? But she's an ingenue type. This is pretty heavy stuff for her, isn't it?" He turned to Phillips for corroboration, and Phillips nodded his head in agreement.

"Her spot is musical comedy or revues. She's got a peach of a voice."

"I think," Dan said, "you'll find that Anne Winter can do just about anything you ask her to do."

Johnson's eyes twinkled. "You do? That's a pretty large order, isn't it?"

"I know it, but she played dramatic roles in the stage, you know, and that's her real ambition. But she's never had a chance to show what she could do. She never had any idea of singing or dancing in pictures when she came to Hollywood, but that's what they spotted her for."

"I guess," he continued earnestly, "that's one of the funny things about the motion picture business. Mr. Johnson; little accidental things get people started off on an entirely different track sometimes. Anne Winter never had a vocal lesson in her life, and yet it was her voice, more than anything else, that caused you to give her a contract. She can sing, all right, but she can act, too."

The twinkle had not left Mr. Johnson's eyes. "Is she a friend of yours?" he asked. "You seem to be pleading her cause rather well. In fact, I'd say you were pretty enthusiastic."

"She is, yes," Dan smiled. He said boldly, "And I am." He had been prepared to encounter some annoyance on the part of the studio executive; Johnson's pleasant skepticism troubled him not at all.

Postal Receipts at Local Office Have Steady Rise

One of the reasons why Pampa continues to remain in the center of the good business "white spot" of the Panhandle was submitted in the shape of impressive figures by O. K. Gaylor, assistant postmaster, yesterday.

The Pampa postoffice is one of the few in the country which has shown a steady increase in postal receipts since the international business depression began with the crash of the stock market, Mr. Gaylor said. During the quarter ending September 3, receipts totaled $14,807.22, an increase of $1400 over the same quarter of last year. Receipts for the quarter ending June 30 totaled $14,097.59.

In July of this year, receipts reached the second highest point in the history of the postoffice when the aggregate sum of $6,015.56 was spent by local citizens for stamps and postage. The all-time high figure was $6,497.34, reached in December, 1929. Receipts are always highest at Christmas time.

The 1930 receipts follow: January, $5,220.24; February, $4,613.03; March, $4,396.37; April, $5,347.72; May, $4,386.68; June, $4,329.59; July, $6,105.56; August, $4,419.81; September, $4,372.85.

Postoffice revenue has continued to climb month by month for the last four years, and although receipts for one month is sometimes higher than the following 30-day period, the total for the year has always exceeded that of the preceding year.

In the last year, Uncle Sam was often referred to as "one of them chain guys," but Mr. Gaylor has figures to show that the gentleman who wears the striped pants and the star-spotted cutaway spends practically all he collects at the local postoffice in Pampa. For instance, out of the $14,807.22 earned here in the last quarter, about $12,000 went to employees, and this amount does not include salaries of the carriers. It's about like that every month, Mr. Gaylor said.

Canyon Rotary Club Creates Student Fund

CANYON, Oct. 3.—(Special)—The Canyon Rotary Club of which D. A. Shirley is president, has established a student loan fund which will be used to help outstanding students to stay in college.

The committee in charge of the loan fund consists of W. A. Warren, T. H. Knighton, and Irby Carruth. The loan fund is planned after that of the San Antonio Rotary Club which has been very successful. Although the fund is only a few weeks old, two loans have already been made.

The fund is open to both men and women, but those who receive benefit from it must show evidence of high scholarship and character. Members of the Rotary Club expect to increase the fund soon.

Umbarger Farmer Lay Away Crops For Winter Days

CANYON, Oct. 3.—(Special)—A shortage in farm crops and low prices will mean little hardship to the family of P. Friemel, successful Umbarger farmer.

During the summer the Friemel family has sold peaches, plums, pears, and combs cherries from their orchard, and at present they have over-bearing strawberries which are yielding abundantly.

In the Friemel garden are carrots, peanuts, cabbage, turnips, onions, and other vegetables.

Stored in their cellar for winter use are nearly two hundred cans of meat, fruit and vegetables, together with bins of dried onions, garlic and potatoes. Chickens, turkeys, dairy cows and hogs will assure an income, and an abundance of wholesome food throughout the winter months.

Mr. Friemel believes in diversification and intensive cultivation.

About New York

By RICHARD MASSOCK
NEW YORK.—They are talking of tearing down the Sixth avenue "L" before the new subway is dug, or leaving it up; the matter at this writing was undecided.

Now our interest is a natural one. Being only an occasional rider, we go for the intimate peeps we get into the home life of tenement people as the rickety cars rattle past unwashed windows.

That view is about the same from any elevated railroad line in town. One can hardly avoid speculating on the life that lies behind the dingy brick fronts, with the zig-zag fire escapes that seem almost to touch the rumbling structure of the "L."

It must be a rather dingy life, like the buildings. In summer the families lean out the windows in cow-like contemplation of the traffic, the kids playing noisily in the street and the neighbors on the other side.

On Sundays the windows of the humble homes bulge with the bulk of brawny fathers, stripped in comfort to their undershirts, pipes in their mouths.

But it must be old "stuff" to the housewives, who always seem to be looking, with tired faces, on the never-changing row of tracks, under which flows the ugly stream of taxicabs and trucks.

Downtown the buildings become lofts, in which women sitting around long tables piece together artificial flowers or other women at sewing machines make overalls or aprons or garments that look like that.

It isn't a pretty sight along the "L." We wouldn't want to see it every day.

JOBLESS AVENUE
Now about this depression, unemployment and so forth—

A survey of Sixth avenue, where most of the employment agencies post their meagre announcements of jobs available, revealed these bits:

"Panhandlers are more numerous, the oddest of the lot being a man with a child in his arms and his wife, we suppose, at his elbow.

He asks, without the mumbling humility of most, "Can you spare me a little money, sir? I have been out of work all summer." Few are untouched by it.

The sandwich men are carrying signs that advertise, instead of the usual place where one can match his good coat with an extra pair of pants, the names and addresses of pawn brokers.

And a restaurant has in its window this sign:
"If you are out of work we want to help you."

Between the hours of 9 and 12 or 2 and 5 its prices are reduced. A 40-cent plate of food then is offered for 19 cents, a cup of coffee is four cents and a piece of pie six.

SIGNS OF HOPE

The above observations sound discouraging.

Yet a fashionable Fifth Avenue hotel reports that its September business has been better than a year ago and its bookings for October and November are heavier than for the corresponding months of last year.

It is a very snooty hotel, where prices are fancy, so that its note indicates that people haven't reduced their expenditures for luxury.

Perhaps better times really are just around the corner.

Fierce Family Makes Home In Pampa Now

Pampa is now the temporary home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Fierce, both of whom are known wherever "dog men" gather in the south or southwest. Bird dogs has been the hobby of Mr. and Mrs. Fierce for a decade. Their home is at Bartlesville, Okla. They are now living at the Schneider hotel.

In the recent trials at Wheeler, Mr. Fierce's Ripsaw won third in the all-age. One of his dogs was awarded the championship trophy at Wheeler three years ago. Mrs. Fierce, an accomplished horsewoman, is also a familiar figure at trials held yearly in the fall throughout the south and southwest. She is always given the best horse to ride because, as one admirer said, "nobody can ride a truly good horse like Mrs. Fierce."

The Fierces have one of their dogs with them here. Another enthusiastic lover of fine dogs and horses is Raymond Allred, district attorney, who is attending court at Pampa. Mr. Allred is an experienced handler, and has been a regular attendant and handler at the Wheeler county trials for several years. He also owns a clever, dependable dog.

Expurgates Bible

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—Frank R. Chandler celebrated his 90th birthday anniversary yesterday and commented upon his "twentieth century Bible," recently published.

"In it," he said, "I have expurgated all immoralities, indelicacies and irrelevances.

For instance, in the Bible it says Noah got drunk. Why do we need to say that? As the Bible stands now I would not want a daughter of mine to read it. But expurgated, as I have made it, it is fine literature."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 3. (AP)—Shot from ambush the night of Sept. 23, E. Garcia of Shreveport, La., show musician, died here today.

Ray H. Dunnett of Tulsa, president of the Operators Royalty and Producers company, was here on business Wednesday.

R. W. "Dutch" Bartgis piloted the Cree and Hoover Ryan B-7 plane to Amarillo Wednesday with Dick Graham, Geo. B. Cree and Dr. A. McClary as passengers. The ship returned the same day.

John R. Roby returned from a business trip to Dallas yesterday.

J. Ross Williams, representing the Pedigo-Lake Shoe company, was a business visitor in Pampa Thursday. W. S. Taylor of Amarillo, salesman for the Central Shoe company was in Pampa Thursday.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for October 5, 1930.

General Topic: Zacharias and Elizabeth: Life in a Pious Home.

Scripture Lesson: Luke 1:5, 6, 57, 66, 76-80.

5. There was in the days of Herod, king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abijah; and he had a wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

6. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7. Now Elizabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son.

8. And her neighbors and kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified his mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her.

9. And it came to pass on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him a Zacharias, after the name of his father.

10. And his mother answered and said, Not so; but he shall be called John.

11. And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.

12. And they made signs to his father, what he would have him called.

13. And he asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all.

14. And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, blessing God.

15. And fear came on all that dwelt round about them; and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judaea.

16. And all that heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For the hand of the Lord was with him.

17. Yea, and thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Most High. For thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to make ready His ways:

18. To give knowledge of salvation unto His people in the remission of their sins.

19. Because of the tender mercy of our God, whereby the day spring from on high shall visit us.

20. And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his showing unto Israel.

Golden Text:—And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.—Luke 1:6.

Time:—John the Baptist was born in June, B. C. 5, six months before the birth of Jesus.

Place:—He was born in same town in the hill country of Judaea.

Introduction:—Some of the noblest characters of the Old Testament, such as Hezekiah, the son of Aham, and Josiah, the son of Amon, were the children of wicked fathers; but usually good children are born of good parents, and this was notably true of our Lord Jesus Christ and his great herald, John the Baptist. Let us see what the New Testament says about Zacharias and Elizabeth.

This beautiful and noble pair had no children, a sad misfortune in Hebrew eyes, for children were looked upon as a token of divine favor; moreover both of them were so old to have children in the ordinary course of nature. But as Zacharias was at the height of what was the greatest moment of his life, having been assigned by lot to the duty of offering incense on the altar of incense in the Holy Place of the sanctuary or inner building of the temple, the great archangel Gabriel appeared to him and told him that he should become the father of a son, whose name was to be John. This son was to be a Nazirite, a man of great holiness and spiritual power, a second Elijah preparing the way of the long-expected Messiah. Because Zacharias did not believe the angel and asked for a sign, he was made dumb, and had to communicate with the wondering people, waiting outside for the usual blessing, by means of signs.

In the sixth month after these events, the same archangel Gabriel, announced to Mary of Nazareth in Galilee, a kinswoman of Elizabeth, that she should give birth supernaturally, though a virgin, to the Messiah prophesied in the Old Testament, Jesus, the Son of God.

Parental Influence:—John was the man he was in large part because Zacharias was the man he was and Elizabeth the woman she was. He breathed in the atmosphere of devotion from infancy. He was surrounded in his home by righteousness. His parents taught him the fear of God. They had a sense of true values, and so he grew up rating riches and worldly power and luxury as the little things they are and obedience to God and likeness to God as the greatest things they are. He saw in the love of his father and mother and their reverence before the Lord the image and example of all that is best in mortal life, and that vision never left him.

Family Worship:—John's recollections in after years would be of the constant personal by his father of the sacred books, and of his patient teaching of their contents to him. To no ordinance of the Lord was the devout Hebrew parent more faithful than to that which enjoined the careful catechizing of his children in the first principles of their faith and first records of their history. Family worship is also a strong and sacred power.

"Happy is he or she who has such a father or mother, and whose childhood is nurtured in such a home. Out of such homes have come the men who have been the reformative and regenerative forces of the world. The influence of the mother is especially noteworthy; nearly all men who have been conspicuously great and good have owed much to their mothers. In this narrative the mother is less prominent than the father; but enough is told to show of what manner of spirit she was."—James Hastings.

"His Name Is John." v. 63

"And they made signs to his father, what he would have him called." It would appear that Zacharias had become deaf as well as dumb. "And he asked for a writing tablet, and wrote saying, his name is John." The tablets in common use at this time throughout the Roman Empire were commonly of wood, covered with a thin coat of wax, on which men wrote with the sharp point which has left its traces in our language, in the word "style," in its literal and figurative sense. "And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed." There was no gradual return of the faculty of speech, but it returned as suddenly and miraculously as it was lost. "And he spake, blessing God." Probably in the words of the hymn given in verses 68-70, which begins "Blessed be the Lord," the hymn which had been forming in his mind during the long period of silence and deafness. "And fear came on all that dwelt round about them." The word translated "fear" does not mean terror, but rather reverential awe. "And all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judea." The "hill country" is a mass of low, rounded hills lying between the Jordan valley and the low region along the coast of the Mediterranean,—the backbone of Palestine. "These sayings" means the account of these supernatural happenings,—what was done as well as what was said. "And all that heard" (See LESSON, Page 14)

Operators Will Fight For Tariff

By BENNETT WOLFE
Associated Press Staff Writer.
TULSA, Okla., Oct. 3.—Having helped to reduce the country's output of crude oil to the lowest level in more than two years without achieving desired stabilization, the ranks of independent producers are embarking a second time in quest of a tariff on petroleum imports.

The present economic ills of the American oil industry are diagnosed by the independents as resulting from increased imports of foreign oils and gasoline, especially the latter, and they propose the imposition of a duty on imports of crude oil and refined products as offering their only hope of relief.

Accepted estimates placed the daily average production of crude oil in the United States for last week at 2,382,217 barrels, the lowest figure since the first week in July, 1928. The decline from the preceding week, 37,527 barrels, was attributed to new proration programs in California and Texas and a general tightening of restrictions in other fields.

But the independent forces, statements of their leaders would indicate, have reached a point where they perhaps question conservation movements have accomplished much toward stabilization of the industry.

Expecting another cut to be made soon in the price of crude oil and pointing out that consumption has increased while production has been limited, independent chieftains contend the curtailed operations have availed them little.

"To what purpose have we cut production of crude oil and refinery runs, with consumption gaining, if we are worse off now than when we started?" argued Pat Malloy of Tulsa, one of the leaders of the new tariff movement.

Wirt Franklin of Oklahoma City and Ardmore, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, who led the unsuccessful tariff campaign to Washington at the last session of congress, declared statistics showing an "amazing" increase in the importation of gasoline were sufficient evidence of the need for a duty.

He said that while the total imports for this year, including both crude oil and refined products, would amount to approximately 103,000,000 barrels or 5,000,000 barrels less than those of 1929, an analysis showed the imports represented a much larger volume of gasoline.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

October brings to the housewife a wealth of food offerings. The harvest of the year furnishes great variety in fruits and vegetables.

The root vegetables are at their best. Beets, carrots and turnips are tender and sweet when freshly gathered and vastly superior to those which have been stored and must be used during the winter months.

The hard-shelled, full-flavored squash comes into market.

Sweet potatoes are plentiful and cheap and the first frosts improve the flavor of celery and cabbage.

The late fruits, grapes, pears and peaches are still in the markets. Apples are abundant. Cider and nuts add variety to menus.

With a little thought these vegetables can be served over and over again in different ways and combinations.

Carrots can be served raw, cut in neat, slender sticks, grated in shredded cabbage, sliced in jellied cabbage or diced in vegetable salad. Cooked, they can appear buttered, creamed, browned with meat or combined with any other vegetable of contrasting color.

Squash This Tasty Role
Squash takes its place in the main course or dessert. Squash pie, squash custard or squash pudding, squash, baked, squash, nut and squash croquettes, squash soufflé and cream of squash soup are appetizing ways of using this vegetable.

Cider usually is associated with Hallowe'en frolics and its possibilities as a part of the daily menu overlooked. A small glass of chilled sweet cider will prove a welcome change from the usual orange juice for breakfast. Cider frappe or sherbet makes a delicious frozen dessert. Stiffened with gelatine, it makes a delectable salad combined with shredded cabbage and nuts and served with mayonnaise. If jelly and nuts are molded in the jelly and the whole served with whipped cream an attractive dessert can be made.

Grapes are always popular as a breakfast fruit and can be used for luncheon or dinner as the dessert. The juice can be used in sherbet or frappe, in "whips" or sponges or jellied desserts. It is less satisfactory in salads for it lacks the piquancy found in cider.

The late pears are particularly good baked. They do not become mushy and shapeless and do retain their flavor. Served plain with sugar and cream they are an excellent breakfast fruit. Served with whipped cream they make a simple inviting dessert.

Crime Is Unsolved
BASTROP, Oct. 3. (AP)—Lack of clues continued to baffle officers today in their search for the slayer of John Lackey, 37, believed to have been the victim of burglars, whose body was found yesterday in the grocery store of his sister, Mrs. A. L. Miller. Lackey had been shot through the heart.

Minister's Wife Killed
HOUSTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—Mrs. T. R. Elder, 27, wife of a Houston minister, was fatally injured last night in an automobile collision here. She died soon afterward in a hospital. Rev. T. R. Elder, pastor of a Presbyterian church here and driver of the car, was only slightly injured.

Sheppard Says Land Amendment Very Necessary

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 3. (AP)—"Every consideration of justice, equality, and fairness calls for adoption of the University land tax amendment," declared Senator Morris Sheppard in a message to Rep. Penrose B. Metcalfe, of San Angelo, sponsor of the amendment in the legislature. The message today expressed the hope that the land amendment will be overwhelmingly adopted by the people of Texas, and adds "it will relieve the people of seventeen Texas counties from the burden of unequal taxation which they have borne so long."

Asking Texas to Honor Easterwood

SNYDER, Oct. 3. (AP)—The state of Texas has been asked to extend an official welcome to Col. W. E. Easterwood, Jr., donor of a $25,000 award to Cleudonne Coste and Maurice Belonte, French aviators, upon Easterwood's return to his Dallas home, it was announced today by Geo. F. (Jimmy) Smith of this city.

Smith, Snyder newspaper publisher, was Easterwood's personal representative, extending the chewing gum manufacturer's greetings to Coste and Belonte when they landed their ocean-girdling sesque-plane

"Question Mark" at Dallas. Citizens of Dallas are planning a great reception for Easterwood, and Smith announces he has asked Governor Moody to have the state take some formal cognizance of Easterwood's return, tentatively set for Oct. 22, five days after presentation of the $25,000 check to the Frenchmen in New York.

Planes to Abilene
ABILENE, Oct. 3. (AP)—Forty army planes, bearing 50 officers and men from Brooks field, San Antonio, began arriving here this morning for a stay of several hours. The cadets were making their commencement flight from San Antonio, and were under orders to proceed to Dallas for the night.

There are about 230,000 Sunday schools in the United States.

(Continued from Page 13) them laid them up in their heart. —As matter to ponder over and to trace results from in the coming days. "Saying, what then shall this child be? Considering the wonders which accompanied his birth, great things were to be expected of the boy."

The "Benedictus" of Zacharias.

vs. 67-69

"Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people." The song of Zacharias is called, from the first word of the Latin translation, the Benedictus. It is a hymn of thanksgiving to God for the salvation which Zacharias, in prophetic vision, saw that God was about to send to earth in the person of the Messiah, of whom his own son was to be the herald. "And so the Benedictus, while retaining the form and the very language of the old, breathes the spirit of the New Dispensation. It is a fragrant breeze, blowing off from the shores of a new, and now near world, a world already seen and possessed by Zacharias in the anticipations of faith."—Rev. Henry Burton, D. D.

Training Of A Jewish Child

Of course the first training of a child was the work of his mother, but "the early education of a child devolved upon the father. If the father were not capable of elementary teaching, a stranger would be employed. In the days of Christ, home teaching ordinarily began when the child was about three years old. There is reason for believing that, even before this, that careful training of the memory commenced which has ever since been one of the mental characteristics of the Jewish nation. Verses of scripture, benedictions, wise sayings, etc., were impressed on the child, and mnemonic rules devised to facilitate the retention of what was so acquired. . . . At five years of age the Hebrew Bible was to be begun; commencing, however, not with the Book of Genesis, but with that of Leviticus. The history of Israel would probably have been long before imparted orally. . . . At six years of age he would be sent to school. The grand object of the teacher was moral as well as intellectual training.

"Young people were brought up to work. It was a father's duty not only to have his son taught the Law, but also to find him a calling. To neglect this was as bad as it would be to make a brigand of him."—Rev. J. Brough. "It is to be especially noted that the education of a Jewish child consisted almost entirely of the Bible. With it he was taught to read and write, and through its wisdom he was made ready for life. In this way were reared the greatest characters the world has known."

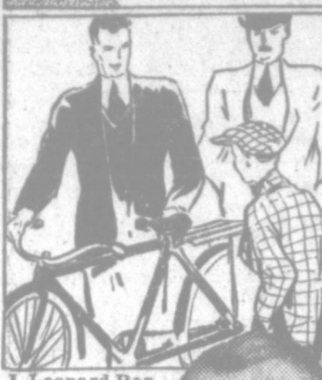

Responsibilities Of Parenthood

"If I had to answer in a single sentence, What manner of child shall this be? I would say, He or she will be the manner of child that you, the parents, make him or her."—Rev. Hugh Black, D. D.

"God desires the flower of life and not the stalk, the kernel and not the shell, the living foliage and not the fallen leaf, fresh youth and not falling age."—Sabine Baring-Gould.

"There are three pillars which should hold up the roof-tree; unselfishness, purity, and love. Where those three pillars stand the thatch may be straw, but it will be a home. Let us grant that the father is one that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection, 'with all gravity,' as Paul puts it; let us grant that the mother is, as he says

ONCE UPON A TIME-

J. Leonard Reptogle, wealthy steel manufacturer and war-time $1-a-year man, was a clerk in a steel mill at $60 a month, when he was 17, but he was earning $400 monthly selling bicycles in his spare time.

In another place, a woman who knows how to stay in the house; and let us grant also that the children have been taught to love and serve one another, to seek each the other's good—there you have a home. Very simple; But the best thing on earth is a home so made."—James Hastings.

"When the patter of falling rain Drips from the eaves and trembles the leaves And rattles the window pane, Holy and scared the voice of home It steals to our hearts again." Beatrice Clayton.

Lesson Is Taught By Mrs. Hurst
