

Debenture Plan is Incorporated in Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The tariff bill which began to take form as far back as last January and has been a foremost talking point in and out of congress ever since will be shelved by a nerve-wracked senate tonight until the second or third week in the regular December session.

Having voted 44 to 26 late yesterday to increase the raw clothing wool duty from 31 to 34 cents a pound of clean content, the tired tariff warriors today faced only a few more hours' work on proposed woolen goods rates before retreating to their homes for a rest.

Contrasted with the measure passed by the house on May 28, last, the bill in the form presented today by the senate could hardly be called a likeness in any particular but one. While both acceded to the cries of farm groups for higher agricultural tariffs, the two measures are far apart respecting industrial rates and much rate-cutting is still anticipated by the coalition in power.

The house bill carried hundreds of industrial rate increases despite the fact that President Hoover recommended to the special session a limited revision with primary attention given to farm levies and a stepping up of a few of the duties on products of lagging manufacturing industries.

Tackling the task of rewriting the bill in mid-summer, the senate finance committee Republicans slashed scores of industrial rates, but left many as proposed by the house and the coalition of Democrats and Republican independents was far from satisfied.

The day to day victories of this combination opposition since the tariff was taken up by the senate Sept. 9 have virtually remade the bill to its liking. The group is prepared to carry on its rate-slashing with the crack of the gavel calling the tariff up again next month.

Republican leaders are not so worried over the rate reductions accomplished by the coalition as they are over the incorporation in the bill by group of the export debenture plan granting a federal bounty to exporters of farm commodities and the repeal of the seven year old policy permitting the president to raise or lower duties in emergencies. Only in a few instances have duties been lowered below existing law.

President Hoover is opposed to the debenture plan and also wishes to retain executive power over rates between general revisions by congress. The house is believed to be overwhelmingly for retention of the present flexible provision and already has voted against the debenture.

Moody Issues 1929 Thanksgiving Edict

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (AP)—Saying "we as a people have been richly blessed during the past year," Governor Dan Moody today issued the annual governor's Thanksgiving proclamation.

"Not only have we benefited in industry and commerce," the proclamation said. "We have enjoyed many spiritual and social blessings. No war nor national disturbance has marred our peace and tranquility.

"We should on November 28 especially take stock of our manifold blessings and render thanks as a nation to Almighty God, the giver of all perfect gifts."

Good Laid to Rest at Iowa Birthplace

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 22. (AP)—The community which gave him to the nation for a life of public service joined today with representatives of the government and the army in laying to rest James W. Good, late secretary of war.

In contrast with the state funeral accorded Mr. Good at the White House in Washington Wednesday, relatives and friends here planned a brief informal service at the First Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. at the last rites at the cemetery military honors were added to the church ritual.

Will Run Again

RARITAN, N. J., Nov. 22. (AP)—Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, former U. S. senator, today announced his candidacy for the Republican senatorial nomination. His announcement forecast a battle at the 1930 primaries with David Baird, Jr., who yesterday was appointed by Governor Morgan F. Larson to succeed Senator Walter Edge, appointed ambassador to France.

OKLAHOMA PRORATED

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 22. (AP)—A pro-ration plan designed to cut production of the Oklahoma City oil field to 50 percent of its potential capacity during December was approved by operators of the field at a meeting here yesterday.

Under the plan for December, the wells will retain the "A" and "B" classifications which they have carried under the November forty percent curtailment agreement.

The additional 10 percent curtailment will be obtained next month by allowing no simultaneous open flow periods for both classes of wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Larsh, and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ferguson returned late yesterday, after a hunting trip to the Davis mountains.

26 Lives Lost In Tidal Wave on Canada Coast

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 22. (AP)—Toll of a tidal wave which washed an isolated section of the south coast of Burin peninsula, after an earthquake last Monday, was variously estimated here today at 26 to 27 lives and property loss of great extent in fishing villages.

With land communication severed for three days by a severe storm preceding the earthquake and tidal wave, first word of the destruction was wireless from steamers which had put into Burin.

A message from the Burin telegraph station listed the names of 26 men, women and children as dead. The list conflicted with a statement by Premier Richard A. Squires that 36 or more had perished.

The premier reported the wall of water had killed 18 at Lord's Cove and Lamaline, nine at Burin, mostly women and children, seven at Kelly's Cove and two at Stepside. Property damage was reported great, with many families homeless and in need of aid.

A relief steamer left for the stricken area with provisions, medical supplies, doctors and nurses. The minister of Marine and fisheries was in charge of relief operations.

The Burin peninsula, fringed with high cliffs, sticks to the southwest from the mainland of Newfoundland and is located 350 miles from where scientists estimate the submarine disturbance centered in the gulf of St. Lawrence. The tidal wave, 15 feet or more high, struck along the coast for a distance of 30 miles.

Burin, largest town affected, has a population of 1230, and is located on a narrow inlet. Reports said the wave reached a height of 40 feet there and swept away all property on the waterfront. Lamaline has a population of 426, and Fort Aux Bras, 295. Numerous smaller fisheries dot the coast, but reports from many of them have not been received.

The earthquake Monday was felt along the North Atlantic coast, with some damage done to chimneys and windows in Nova Scotia and buildings shaken in New England. Several trans-Atlantic cables in the vicinity of Newfoundland were broken and various ships felt the shock severely. The Burin operator listed the deaths as follows: Lamaline, one; Point August, eight; Kelly's Cove, two, and Fort Aux Bras, seven.

Church of Christ

Doing what you think to be right, or letting your conscience be your guide, is not right every time, especially when your conscience has not been educated. Some seem to prize their feelings above the guide of life, which is the Bible, and their feelings were not produced from the proper source. One's believing a thing that is wrong effect one the same way as if it were the truth. For example, notice the case of Jacob. He thought that his son, Joseph, was dead, and that he would not see him again while on this earth. Jacob grieved about this just as much as if his son had been really dead.

Saul of Tarsus was a religious man and thought that he was doing right while he persecuted Christians and destroyed the church of God. Acts 23:1: "And Paul looking steadfastly on the council, said, Brethren, I have lived before God in all good conscience until this day." Although Paul lived in good conscience, he was chief among sinners. It is possible for you to live in good conscience and be a sinner. Therefore, we ought to give more earnest heed to the things that we have heard make our calling and election sure.

Quarterly Reports of Baptist W. M. U. Heard at Wednesday Meeting

Reports on work, attendance, and finance of the four circles of the Baptist Women's Missionary union were heard Wednesday afternoon at a monthly general session. In each instance an excellent account was given on all three phases of activity. Reports were given by the secretaries of the circles, Mrs. E. Bass Clay reporting for Circle 1; Mrs. Clyde Garner, for Circle 2; Mrs. D. L. Lunsford, for Circle 3; and Mrs. W. J. Turpin, for Circle 4.

An interesting letter from J. Walton Moore, state board missionary to China, described his own work and that of a native Chinese missionary whom the local W. M. U. entirely supports was read. Afterward the union voted to support the missionary for another year, providing funds for all work and expense, as one of the major projects for the year.

The first Wednesday in December, which is the fourth day of the month, was designated for an all-day program in observation of a special week of prayer for foreign missions. The meeting will be held at the church.

Plans were made for personal service in caring for the needy and spreading cheer at Christmas time. Mrs. O. H. Gilstrap, personal service chairman of the W. M. U., will be in charge of an extension program of activities.

A program on the theme, "The Changeless Task in a Changing World," was presented under the direction of Mrs. R. R. Hunter. Topics were presented by Mrs. Mary Binford, Mrs. S. L. Anderson, Mrs. T. H. Barnard, and Mrs. T. B. Solomon.

Members present, in addition to those already named, were as follows: Mrs. Lennis Anderson, Mrs. L. H. Greene, Mrs. John McKamey, Mrs. J. C. Barnard, Mrs. J. I. Simmons, Mrs. E. F. Brake, Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Mrs. Wm. Brown, Mrs. Wm. McAllister, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Ernest Fletcher, Mrs. J. P. Griffin, Mrs. H. M. Stokes, Mrs. D. H. Truhitte, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. G. D. Holmes, Mrs. W. B. Murphy, and Mrs. G. C. Stark.

Mrs. Frank Keim and Mrs. H. G. Myers Give Bridge Tea Thursday

A color theme of pink and yellow was developed with charming effect in details of a bridge tea given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Frank Keim and Mrs. Howard G. Myers at the former's attractive home. Chrysanthemums in the two colors decorated the rooms where eight tables were arranged, and accessories for game repeated the theme.

Score favors were given Mrs. A. B. Zahn, high, and Mrs. Jack Mason, low. Top cut was made by Mrs. Floyd Hollenbeck, and low, by Mrs. Charles Thomas. Dainty refreshments featuring the pink and yellow combination were served at the tea hour.

Guests, in addition to those named, were: Mrs. Dan Gribbon, Mrs. Roy Bourland, Mrs. C. B. McCallister, Mrs. J. Farrell, Mrs. W. C. Mitchell, Mrs. J. H. Lutz, Mrs. Emmett Dwyer, Mrs. George E. Wolfe, Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. H. W. Hickman, Mrs. George Kahala, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mrs. H. P. Elliott, Mrs. Frank Allison.

Bert Isbell Honored with Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Bert Isbell entertained yesterday at dinner, honoring her husband on his birthday anniversary. A turkey dinner typical of the Thanksgiving season was served, with covers laid for the following:

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kinzer and son James, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kinzer, Foster and Barnes Kinzer, Miss Gladys Hickman, little Ila Fay Hardcastle, John Henry Hinkle, Mr. and Mrs. Isbell and sons, Bert, Jr., and Joe.

KERRVILLE, Nov. 22. (AP)—Tom Frayne, 24-year-old Kerrville merchant, found injured in his store after an attack Monday night, died today without regaining consciousness. Guion Files Are Presented Texas U.

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (Special)—Through the efforts of Mrs. Lella M. Johnston of Coleman, a file of songs and compositions written by David W. Guion, Texas composer, has been presented to the archives of the University of Texas. The file includes 44 titles, and the compositions range in nature from the simple "Little Pickin' Kid" and the dashing "Bold Vaquero" to the weird "Hopi Indian Cradle Song" and the beautiful and deeply moving sacred songs, represented by "Prayer," "Mary Alone" and "Resurrection."

The music was presented to the university through Mrs. Johnston by the three publishing companies issuing Mr. Guion's compositions, G. Schirmer and Sons, M. Witmark and Sons and Boosey and company, all of New York.

Mr. Guion is a native Texan, having been born in Ballinger. His musical talent manifested itself early and after preliminary training in Texas, he went abroad to study with famous music masters. He returned to Texas and headed the school of music at Daniel Baker college, Brownwood, for a while, later going to New York to devote all his time to composition. After a short time, he again returned to his native state, establishing a studio at Dallas, where he taught music in

Methodist Missionary Society Finishes Study on The New Africa

Featured by an address by Dr. J. C. McKean, prominent local surgeon who once served as a physician in Africa, the final program of the Methodist Women's Missionary society on "The New Africa," a missionary study, was given Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church under the direction of Mrs. S. A. Hurst.

Dr. McKean told of the progress that had been effected in Africa through Christianity and medical science. His interesting talk was followed by a discussion by Mrs. J. E. Ward on "Education for Life." "Problems of Contact with the Africans" was a topic given by Mrs. Tom W. Brabham. Mrs. W. Purviance, president of the society, closed the discussions with a discourse on "Christ the Key" after which Mrs. R. C. Campbell told of current events of Africa. Thirty members heard the program.

The meeting marked the close of a contest in which Circles 1 and 3 competed with Circles 2 and 4 for attendance at the regular meetings. Circles 1 and 3 were winners, and will be entertained by the losers on the second Wednesday in December with a Christmas party and covered dish luncheon.

Southern Methodist university for a new year. He is now devoting his time almost entirely to creative work.

State-wide, national and international recognition has been accorded Mr. Guion for his transcription of the negro, cowboy and other southern folk songs. It has been said that his dark-eyed spirituals cannot be improved upon, and that his work in perpetuating these and plaintive melodies with their characteristic texts constitutes a valuable contribution to the future as well as to the present. One critic said: "Mr. Guion's setting of 'Turkey in the Straw' combines the strong racial and local characteristics with formal and polyphonic subtleties of workmanship comparable with those of the Bach Gigue, Gavottes and Bourées."

Mr. Guion was the first composer to transcribe the cowboy songs that have since become so famous a part of Texas culture. There are few musical programs rendered in the south or of southern music that do not include one or more of Mr. Guion's compositions, and no recital or concert portraying the life of the range or of the folk-customs of the south is complete without his cowboy songs or his negro spirituals.

Mrs. Johnson, who collected the Guion music for the university library, is a sister of Mrs. H. J. O'Hair of Coleman, former university regent.

Mrs. Hai Peck will spend the week-end in Amarillo with her parents.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH SCHOOL

Episcopal church school will be held at 9:45 o'clock Sunday in the music cottage on Central high school campus. Each week sees growth in the membership in this organization. Last Sunday morning there were 27 persons in the classes for children and adults.

All members of the Episcopal faith are particularly urged to attend church school, and all others with no Sunday school affiliations are cordially invited to attend and join. H. C. Sowder is superintendent.

HARVESTERS IN MEMPHIS FOR GAME TODAY

Severe cold today faced the Pampa Harvesters and Memphis Cyclone as the two teams prepared to go into battle this afternoon in Hall county. The Pampa eleven drove to Memphis yesterday afternoon.

On the eve of the game, discussion hinged chiefly around sensational statements by the Clarendon Leader, which charged that unfair tactics had been used on the Clarendon team.

"It is generally understood that Memphis could beat Notre Dame on their home field," shouted The Leader after the game which Clarendon forfeited. "In speaking of the football game at Memphis, said the Bronchos had about as much chance of winning as a tallow-legged rabbit would have when chased through hell by an asbestos dog."

These charges were vigorously denied by the Memphis Democrat, which said: "The Democrat will match the Cyclone with any football team in the world for fair play. But every Cyclone player is morally pledged to give every ounce of his energy for Memphis high school, and when he doesn't he's soon dropped from the squad."

The school page in The Democrat stated that rumor was out that Pampa players planned to "knock out" several Memphis stars. This report was to be denied at a conference of local school officials, Memphis officials, and referee, and complete understandings were to be arrived at before the game started.

Platter Fights Bobbitt Instead of Cyclone Bonds

Due to the death of Cyclone Bonds sister at Las Cruces, N. M., he will not fight Luther Platter tonight at the Pla-Mor auditorium. Instead, Platter will take on an even tougher fighter than Bonds—Bob Bobbitt of San Angelo. Bobbitt recently knocked out Dobe Osborne of San Angelo who whipped the stuffin' out of Red Matlock at Borger and Matlock fought Platter to a draw here.

The Bonds-Platter fight will take place here at the next boxing-wrestling program. Despite the inclement weather and the snow-covered ground, all the roads leading into Pampa are passable, and Promoter Jack Rogers believes that a good house will be out to see the fights.

Pampa Girls' Team Defeats Mobeetie

Central high school girls' basketball team defeated the Mobeetie quintet Wednesday afternoon, 21 to 19, in a practice game in the local gymnasium. The visiting team, which last year played one of the season's most formidable games against the Pampa team, found itself confronted with an opponent much more difficult to handle, when it ran against the 1929 squad. Fifteen girls are out for places on the Pampa team, with some of the new material showing talent that threatens the positions of last year's players. All of them were used against Mobeetie. Coaches see large possibilities in the group that is reporting daily for practice. The first matched game of the season will be played with Mobeetie on Dec. 6.

GRAY COUNTY GINNINGS

There were 2,375 bales of cotton ginned prior to Nov. 1, 1929, in Gray county as compared with 2,853 bales to the same date in 1928, according to E. L. Webb, special agent for the bureau of the census.

Studer, Miss Panhandle (Walter Coffey—now Walter!), Miss Amarillo (Clyde Fatheree), and Clara Bow (L. L. Sone) without spectacles, but you ought to lamp J. L. Peake, Harry Hoare—but why more of this?

Wonderful adding by the black face cast in the Royal Order o'Ducks probably proves the Einstein theory. The school boys present got some new ideas on how to work toward the right answers. Tom Brabham's the Chief Oeder or whatever they call it.

Hollywood came to town when John Gilbert (Porter Malone) started introducing such notables as Mary Pickford, Glida Gray, Tom Mix, Gloria Swanson, Charlie Chaplin, and Greta Garbo. Charlie, Glida, and Tom are especially lifelike, if you ask Phil Pond, Bert Howell, and Bob Sowder, and all the theatre addicts big enough to talk recognized the other too.

Some of the town dignitaries in the cast are already supersensitive about their roles, and this discourse probably had better close before it disrupts the show. Exorcism has its limits, even though the profits will go to buy cats and toys for Pampa's poor children at Christmas. And anyhow, this critic has pains from having laughed too much with and at both performance and audience, and even finger movement is painful. By the time this is in print the writer will probably be in Memphis, which may be fortunate. There ought to be a law against darn-phoolishness, but as long as town-folk will pay good money to see it, who are we to criticize the taste of our fellow citizens?

Bank Official Is Free on Bond After Shooting Hunter

KERRVILLE, Nov. 22. (P)—Charged with murder in connection with the death of Hugo F. Day, whose body was found in a tree near here Tuesday, H. S. Cherry, Jr., of Dallas was free on $2,000 bond today. His case will probably not come before the grand jury until March. Cherry, hunting in the vicinity with two women and another man, admitted shooting at a turkey in the vicinity in which Day's body was found, but denied shooting into a tree. An empty shell of the same calibre as Cherry's was found sixty yards from the tree.

DALLAS, Nov. 22. (P)—H. S. Cherry, Jr., charged with murder in connection with the death of Hugo F. Day, shot while hunting near Kerrville Tuesday, is manager of the service department of the federal reserve bank here. He left Dallas about a week ago for Kerrville on a vacation trip, accompanied by several other Dallas men. Relatives expected him to return home today.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic:—The Higher Patriotism.

Scripture Lesson:—Jonah 1:1-3; 3:1-9; 4:1-11.

Jonah 1:1. Now the word of Jehovah came unto Jonah the son of Amittai, saying:

2. Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness is come up before Me.

3. But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of Jehovah; and he went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish; so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence of Jehovah.

Jonah 3:1. And the word of Jehovah came unto Jonah the second time, saying:

2. Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it, the preaching that I bid thee.

3. So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of Jehovah. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city, of three days' journey.

4. And Jonah began to enter into the city a days' journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.

5. And the people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

Jonah 4:5. Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shade till he might see what would become of the city.

6. And Jehovah, God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head, to deliver him from his evil case. So Jonah was exceeding glad because of the gourd.

7. But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

8. And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

9. And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry, even unto death.

10. And Jehovah said, Thou hast had regard for the gourd, for which thou hast not labored, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night.

11. And should not I have regard for Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than six-score thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

Golden Text:—He made of one every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth.—Acts 17:26.

Time:—Reign of Jeroboam II, when Jonah lived, B. C. 832 to B. C. 792.

The Great Fish

Now comes the single sentence which is all that most persons seem to know or think about in all this glorious little book: "And Jehovah prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights." The objections to the Book center around this single incident, and are urged by those that do not believe in miracles; they are not felt at all by those that believe in miracles. Of course, we may urge that it is nowhere said that the animal that swallowed Jonah was a whale, that a number of sea animals are able to swallow men, and that man so swallowed may remain alive for the day and a little more preceding and following it, which would be reckoned three full days by any Jew. These arguments, however, are unnecessary if one believes in miracles. The miracles in the Book of Jonah are no more remarkable than the miracles in the life of Christ, such as the summoning of the great schools of fishes, the calming of the tempest, the walking on the waves, the multiplication of the loaves and the fishes, the increase of the wine at Cana, the healing of leprosy, and the raising of Lazarus from the dead. We have no more reason for denying the one set of miracles than the other.

A Second Chance

"And the word of Jehovah came unto Jonah the second time." It is always God's way to give men second chances; and indeed not only a second chance, but a second chance is often renewed. It is God's way not only to accept us at the first and to make us his servants, but to continue to us also the privilege of service even when we seem to have sinned away our first chance, misused our endowments, and have by our very failure embarrassed His plans."

Jonah's Preaching

Jonah had learned his lesson. He could not get away from God, who was on the sea as well as on the land. Again the message comes, "Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee." After a long, hard journey of some eight hundred miles he reached the city and began to proclaim his message of doom, "Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown." The effect was tremendous. Terror seized the hearts of the people. They repented of their sins, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth as a sign of their humiliation and grief. "And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil ways; and God repented of the evil which he said he would do unto them; and he did it not."

Jonah Rebuked

But Jonah was displeased and angry. He did not want Nineveh saved. This was the outcome that he had feared when he was first commanded to carry God's message to Nineveh. It is true that the message was a declaration of doom, but it came from a God of mercy, and Jonah feared that he would be merciful to the Ninevites. Angriely he remonstrated, "Wasn't this just what I said at first?" Then he went out to a hill near the city and

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing, or reputation of any individual, firm, concern, or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Pampa Daily News will be gladly corrected when called to the attention of the editor.

THE POSTAL REGULATION BARRING FROM THE MAILS ANY MATTER PERTAINING TO "AN ELEMENT OF CHANCE" IS UNDERSTOOD BY FEW PERSONS, INCLUDING PUBLISHERS, AND GENERAL IGNORANCE OF THE LAW HAS BEEN VERY APPARENT OF LATE IN PAMPA.

Lee A. Richmond, writing in Newspaper Advertising magazine, has this to say on the subject:

"But everybody else is doing it," argues the merchant, when he is told that Uncle Sam, who is so tolerant of sundry other vices of his people, will not permit news of any form of lottery to go through the mail.

Ye editor hates like fury to have to turn down one full-page display on account of Sections 473 and 474, P. L. & R., 1924, which rulings were made to stop the use of the mails for the handling of lottery enterprises, but he believes in life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, and does not like to picture himself in a Leavenworth sanctum sanctorum, nor paying into the public coffers a thousand dollars of cold, hard-to-get cash; so he attempts to explain Uncle Sam's watchful care to the merchant who would fain give away a brand new Ford to the holder of the lucky number of his sale.

Strictly speaking, under the postal regulations a merchant may advertise that he is giving away something, whether with a purchase or not, providing there is no "element of chance" in his plan.

To many this may seem like another "believe it or not" story, but not so. Even your own postmaster cannot give you an opinion on the subject. He must bar from the mails anything that looks like a violation of the laws mentioned above.

office department for instructions."

So that's that, legally speaking. And, furthermore, here is the very restrictive Section 473, entitled "Lottery, Gift Enterprise, Etc., Matter Not Mailable":

Section 473. No letter, postcard, postal card, or circular containing any lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance; and no lottery ticket, or any part thereof, or paper, certificate, or instrument purporting to be or to represent a ticket, chance, share, or interest in or dependent upon the event of a lottery, gift enterprise or similar scheme offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance; and no check, draft, bill, money, postal note, or money order, for the purchase of any ticket or part thereof, or of any share or chance in any such lottery, gift enterprise, or scheme; and NO NEWSPAPER, CIRCULAR, PAMPHLET, OR PUBLICATION OF ANY KIND CONTAINING ANY ADVERTISEMENT OF ANY LOTTERY, GIFT ENTERPRISE, OR SCHEME OF ANY KIND OFFERING PRIZES DEPENDENT IN WHOLE OR IN PART UPON LOT OR CHANCE, or containing any list of the prizes drawn or awarded by means of any such lottery, gift enterprise or scheme, whether said list contains any part or all of such prizes, SHALL BE DEPOSITED IN OR CARRIED BY THE MAILS OF THE UNITED STATES, nor be delivered by any postmaster or letter carrier.

The reader will note that the postmaster who follows his postal regulations can only bar from the mails any newspaper edition containing any sort of scheme of chance, even if only to name the winner.

The punishment of the offending publisher is given also in Section 473:

Whoever shall deposit or knowingly cause to be deposited, or shall knowingly deliver or cause to be sent, anything to be conveyed or delivered by mail in violation of the provisions of this section, or knowingly shall deliver or cause to be delivered by mail, SHALL BE FINED NOT MORE THAN ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS, OR IMPRISONED NOT MORE THAN TWO YEARS OR BOTH; and for any subsequent offense shall be imprisoned not more than five years. Any person violating any provision of this section may be tried and punished either in the district in which the unlawful matter was carried by mail for delivery according to the direction thereon, or in which it was delivered to the person to whom it was addressed.

No publisher is desirous of following Harry F. Sinclair behind the bars, and most publishers wish to obey the laws as long as they are in effect. And the report that the law is not being enforced in this section is false. True, many newspapers are violating the law, but they are apt to be caught any day. Two papers not many miles from her had entire issues suppressed a short time ago. At least one other paid a $500 fine. The local postmaster desires to do his duty, and has said that he will comply with the regulations. This newspaper, therefore, will apply the postal regulations quoted above in determining what news and advertising matter it shall leave off. There is no other sensible plan.

FROGS GLUM AS TIME NEAR FOR BEAR TILT

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Nov. 22. (P)—Spurred on by "ideal football weather," four Southwest conference squads faced final workouts today in preparation for tomorrow's semi-final melees. The winner's first light snowfall and a skidding mercury promised snappy going for players and fans alike in the two contests scheduled.

Inclement weather failed to cheer up the undefeated Texas Christian university Frogs on the eve of their tilt with the Baylor Bears at Waco. Three of their number, Buck Barr, Leo Buckley and Kenneth "Football" Moore, were down with influenza, and several others were ailing.

Further, a slippery gridiron did not figure to help the speedy Frogs against the Bruins. Uncertain footing would slow down the streaking Cy Leland and his brilliant backfield mate, Howard Grubbs. None of these factors, however, prevented the Christians continuing slight favorites.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs, who will grapple with the Frogs a week hence at Fort Worth in a struggle to decide the conference championship, faced what is promised to be an easy conquest of the Rice Institute Owls in the only other bout scheduled tomorrow. They meet at Owsby stadium here and, barring an extreme upset, the Ponies will polish off their home schedule with a rousing victory.

That constituted the crop for the week. Texas university and the Aggies both out of the title race, saved up for their annual turkey day attraction at College Station. The Arkansas university Razorbacks primed for their final fray with the Oklahoma Aggies on Thanksgiving day at Stillwater.

Although the Frogs were certain finalists, no matter what the outcome of their argument with Baylor tomorrow, they prepared for the game determined to win. In the first place, they have a natural desire to finish the season not only with the Southwest gridiron crown in their possession, but with an unbroken string of victories behind them. The Christians have never turned either trick since they were admitted to the conference seven years ago.

A triumph over the Bears would enhance the Frogs' chances at the tiara. They then could obtain no better than a draw with the Mustangs in their closing tilt and finish on top. In that event the Frogs would finish with a mark of .900. The Mustangs, by winning from Rice and tying the Frogs, would have a percentage of .800.

Taking a lesson from the Mustangs, who last week passed their way to a 25 to 6 victory over Baylor, the Frogs planned to fill the air with footballs and depend less upon their great running attack than in previous games.

Texas and Aggie Teams Will Face Each Other 36th Time Thanksgiving

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 22. (Special)—When the Texas Aggies of Coach Matty Bell and the Texas Longhorns of Coach Clyde Littlefield line up on Kyle field Thanksgiving day for the kickoff of what has become the football classic of the Southwest, these ancient foes will be facing each other on the gridiron for the thirty-sixth time. So long has the Aggie-Longhorn feud existed and so keen is the rivalry shown in these annual battles, that today the game is recognized as the greatest drawing card of the season and holds the spotlight as a fitting climax to the Southwest Conference grid season regardless of the standings of the two teams in the conference race.

The Aggie-Longhorn grid rivalry dates back to 1894, almost as far back as does football in the Southwest, and since that time there have been only two interruptions in the continuity of games between the two teams. The first break followed the initial game in 1894 and lasted until 1898, after which there was not another break until 1911, when the two teams severed relations until the season of 1915. From 1898 until 1911, however, the two teams met at least once a year and often twice in the same year so that even though there have been several years in which there were no games, the number of contests now equals the number of years that have passed since hostilities started.

This year, in recognition of the place the Aggie-Longhorn fray has attained in the Southwest, no other conference of this tradition that the Aggies were playing in 1927 when the swept the Steers off their feet to dedicate officially the west section of the stadium. Before all football games, predictions are made based on a comparison of records of the teams, and though this will be done for the Aggie-Longhorn game also, a history of the battles between the two teams in the past shows that on Thanksgiving Day "dope" means nothing.

Christmas Seal Sale Will Begin Thanksgiving Day

Annual Christmas seal sale sponsored by the National Tuberculosis association will be started Thanksgiving day throughout the state of Texas, according to announcement of Texas Public Health association, which is directing the campaign in Texas.

The Texas quota this year is 32,000,000 seals which will be distributed to the public through campaigns sponsored by 28 local associations and volunteer chairmen in 80 other Texas counties where local associations have not been established.

In other counties of the state, letters containing an allotment of seals will be sent out from headquarters of the Texas Public Health association to 60,000 persons.

The Christmas seal campaign will be conducted from Thanksgiving day to Christmas and all proceeds are to be used for the prevention and relief of tuberculosis.

The Christmas seal campaign has no official connection with the Red Cross roll call which began Armistice day of the Red Cross roll call.

The seal sale will begin with the closing of the Red Cross roll call on Thanksgiving day.

Adjutant Mary Magdalene Bennett will assist in the Christmas activities, it was stated.

Snook Denied New Trial by Appeals Court

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22. (AP)—Dr. James Howard Snook, convicted murderer of Miss Theora K. Hix, today was denied a new trial by the second Ohio District Court of Appeals. Snook, sentenced to be electrocuted the night of Nov. 29, was expected to carry his case to the state Supreme Court.

Snook claimed he was not given a fair trial or sufficient time in which to prepare his case. The appeals court affirmed the lower court's finding and sentence of death.

Gov. Young Leaves Mooney's Fate Up to Parole Board

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 22. (AP)—The fate of Thomas J. Mooney, who for years has protested from a prison cell that he is innocent of the 1916 preparedness day bombing in San Francisco which killed ten persons and injured many others, rested almost entirely today in the hands of the state parole board.

Gov. C. C. Young indicated he would let the decision of the parole board be the final word in the case when he requested yesterday that it investigate Mooney's pardon appeal.

Governor Young said he had been blocked in a personal investigation by the unwillingness of witnesses to give information and also said he had been unable to form an opinion after months of study.

The Innocent Cheat

THIS HAS HAPPENED HELEN PAGE thinks she is in love with her guardian, LEONARD BRENT, who changes his plans for her future after meeting a young man named NELLIE.

When Bob came she was trembling with mental agony. He came straight across the room to her and took her in his arms.

He could not get the story of what had happened from her. Someone else in the apartment told him of Brent's tragic death.

Helen clung to him while he listened. To lose him now! Suddenly she went limp in his arms.

She carried her to the divan and put her gently down. She opened her eyes and waved away those who gathered round to help her.

Still he hesitated and Helen told him he must go to his sister. Presently he came back, with Eva leaning against him dragging her self along with halting steps.

He found Helen waiting, with her hat and coat on. The superintendent went down with them, helping Helen to her car.

Nothing touching on the accident was said during the drive to Yonkers. For the most part Eva lay quiet against Helen.

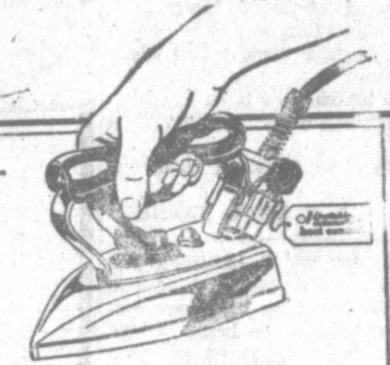

Helen said nothing about the locket to Eva, nor to Bob when he came. Before his arrival she had seen clearly that it was a clue to the real heiress. And she was frightened.

Suppose she told them the truth—that she was an imposter, a cheat, the daughter of a criminal? The thought aroused all the horror she had lived through since Brent had told her that she was not the granddaughter of Cyril Cunningham.

She felt herself caught again in an agony of indecision. To keep silent, to go on—without fear, happily, with Bob; this was her temptation. She could do so much good with the money, as much good as anyone.

But the real heiress! What about her? Did she exist? Could she be found? Would Mrs. Ennis know where she was? But then, why hadn't she revealed the girl's identity? Why had she remained silent?

These questions were millstones that weighed Helen's hopes to earth. Before her lay a golden future—could she only destroy the one thing that stood between it and her—her conscience; could she only

MRS. ENNIS leaned nearer. "But there could be two lockets. Just alike," she said quaveringly, almost fearfully, it seemed to Helen. "Yes, there could be," the girl agreed; "but the locket Eva lost contains a picture of Charles Nellin."

LESSON

waited for the outcome. A tiger could not have waited for his prey with greedier eyes. But the destruction came not. While he waited, a gourd grew up and shaded him, and then it was killed by a worm, and left him unprotected from the hot sun. When he became angry at the death of the gourd God rebuked him. "And God said to Jonah, Dost thou well to be angry for the gourd?" Jehovah repeats his searching question of verse 4, particularizing it. We should ask ourselves the same question whenever we are angry or piqued or worried or jealous: "Dost thou well?" "And he said, I do well to be angry, even unto death." So angry that it will kill me,—the expression of a peevish and self-centered man.

The Book ends abruptly, but its object is accomplished. Jonah learns the lesson that God would have all men saved, and that that narrow-mindedness which would exclude heathen from his kingdom is displeasing to him and alien from his design.

Special Lessons
The university of the religion of Israel is the substance of the message sent by Jonah, and it is sent through him to all nations and all times. The God who cares for Nineveh is the God who cares for the world.—Prof. R. A. Redford.

What Israel's duty was to one nation, Nineveh, on a far larger scale is the Christian's duty to every nation.—John E. Whitley.

War is not dead. War is a spirit. War is a mode of thought. The thought life of ages must be changed; the human attitude must be altered; men must learn to think in terms of internationalism and humanity.—Tell A. Turner.

The task before us, therefore, is to widen the area of good will so that law and orderly government may transcend national boundaries and include all humanity. Some call this a dream, at men in other days called national unity a dream. But as men dream, so they achieve.—Kirby Page.

He prayeth well, who loveth well
Both man and bird and beast.
He prayeth best, who loveth best

All things both great and small;
For the dear God who loveth us,
He made and loveth all."
—Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Picture, if you can, a darker scene than that displayed by parents who desert their child in time of peril. Whether the danger threatened the child's mental, moral or physical life, the parents would be just as cowardly in failing to protect their own. Just as in all past ages, the home needs intelligent, clean, brave mothers and fathers in our day.

The sermon at the Presbyterian church Sunday night will deal with problems the American home has to meet today.

All the usual services Sunday: Sunday school, 10 a. m. Sermon, "Neither Poverty Nor Riches," 11 a. m. Christian Endeavor, 4 p. m. Sermon, "Cowardly Parents," 7:30 p. m.

You are invited to attend all of our services.
