Machine Gun Robbers Loot Ohio Bank and Kill Grocer in Gun Fight

WHOLE CITY CHASES MEN AFTER ALARM

Piqua Citizens Watch As Seven Fugitives Leave.

LOOT TAKEN ABOUT $10,000

2 Pursuers Seriously Wounded; One May Die

PIQUA, Ohio, April 11. (AP)—Seven bank robbers armed with machine guns and repeating rifles killed one man and wounded two others in a running gun battle through city streets today after they had robbed the Citizens National Bank and Trust company of approximately $10,000 in currency.

Henry Matthews, 40, married, proprietor of a delicatessen store, was wounded fatally and Ray Alexander, manager of a loan company was wounded seriously. Nathan Lawrence, carpenter, was shot through the leg when the bandits turned on to the Dixie highway.

While four of the robbers were looting the cages in the bank, an employe stepped on a burglar alarm and aroused the city. Alexander opened fire on the robbers as they left the bank. More than 100 rounds of shots were fired through the loan company windows.

Matthews was standing in front of his store when the robbers opened fire. A bullet struck him in the breast, and he died a few minutes after entering a hospital.

Insane Killers Cannot Be Tried

Body of Texas' First Governor Will Be Returned

SAN ANTONIO, April 11. (AP)—Homer Edwards and Ernest Young, who recently escaped from the San Antonio state hospital for the insane, faced arraignment today in Boerne before a justice of the peace on murder charges, after the mutilated body of J. W. Bradshaw, bridegroom of a month, was recovered from the Guadalupe river, 40 miles northwest of San Antonio.

The attorney general's office yesterday ruled the two men could not be tried, because of their insanity status.

Bradshaw's body was found yesterday after Bradshaw's bride reported to officers she was forced to wait in an automobile near the river Wednesday night while Edwards and Young took her husband away. A short time later they returned to the car, saying, "We have given him the beating of his life."

Officers found Bradshaw's clothes rolled up in a clump of bushes. In the clear water of the stream, they discovered the body, the abdomen ripped open and filled with rocks, presumably to weight it down. The body also bore a bullet wound in the head.

Mrs. Bradshaw, sister of Young's wife, told officers she and her husband were kidnapped Wednesday and were driven to a place near the scene of the crime. She said the men had difficulties.

Edwards and Young were arrested here and later were taken to the Kendall county jail, but were returned last night to prevent possible violence after a group of about 25 men threatened to "ref a rope" when the two men were confronted with the body at the river.

The justice of the peace said he would remand them without bond on the strength of Edwards' statement that he had killed Bradshaw to self defense when Bradshaw drew a revolver on him in the wood.

Newspaper Losses
DALLAS, April 11. (AP)—The Austin American lost its first big battle today in the libel suit brought against it by Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, when District Judge Kline held that the liberalized libel statute of 1897 would not be applicable to the case, which was initiated in 1925.

JUDGE BRALY TO OPEN FIRST TERM OF NEWLY CREATED CIVIL DISTRICT COURT HERE APRIL 21

The first term of the 114th district court will open in Gray county at the new courthouse Monday morning, April 21, according to Judge Clifford Braly who returned this morning from Austin.

The first act of the new judge in the new court will be to call the docket on which are now more than 500 cases. Lawyers from all over the Panhandle are being summoned to be on hand to hear the setting of cases when the new court opens.

Judge Braly will open court in Stinnett this afternoon and hear cases there the rest of this week. He will hold court at Panhandle next week. This is the last week of court in Hutchinson county and the judge believes he can finish there this week. The new judicial district comprises the counties of Hutchinson, Gray and Carson.

The new district attorney of the 31st judicial district will be named by Governor Moody by Monday, perhaps today or tomorrow, Judge Braly believes. Those who are being mentioned prominently at the capital for the post are C. C. Englewood of Pampa, Clayton Heare of Shamrock and Ben Alfred of Pampa, Judge Braly said.

Last Tuesday Governor Moody summoned Mr. Braly to Austin to confer with him on conditions in the newly created district. Almost immediately announcement of his appointment as district judge was made. Judge Braly was first appointed prosecutor of this district by the governor, and in the 1923 election he was elected to the position by a big majority. He moved with his family from Panhandle to Pampa early in 1929, shortly after the 31st and 34th districts were divided. He will continue to live here.

Before his appointment as district attorney, the Bralys had lived at Dalhart for many years.

Opera at 19

Following in the footsteps of Marlon Talley, Thelma Kessler, 19-year-old lyric soprano of Kansas City, Mo., is on the road to operatic fame. Just out of a musical foundation school in New York, she is to sing the role of "Musetta" in the final of the series of Puccini radio-operas, "La Boheme," to be broadcast over an NBC hookup Saturday evening, April 19.

YEARLY DRIVE OF CHAMBER IS ANNOUNCED

Committees to Begin Big Drive at Once

ORGANIZATION IS NECESSARY

Funds Derived Used in Many Public Efforts

Groups of business and professional men are to commence at once the annual membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber is the membership body affiliated with the Board of City Development. While the Board is a small working group appointed and financed by the city commission, the Chamber is for the business and professional men at large.

The Chamber's finance plan is the $2 monthly dues, which includes the monthly luncheon at which outstanding civic problems are discussed. The Board of City Development cannot because of legal restrictions, spend its funds for many purposes, such as convention entertainment, advertising, and similar work. The Chamber makes up for this restriction and also interests a larger number of men in affairs of the city. Funds of the Chamber of Commerce have been used for many purposes in the last year. These included the campaigns for the proposed railroad and for the small land bill, and efforts in behalf of the oil tariff. Funds also were needed for the Poultry and Rabbit show, farmers' short course, and other projects.

The one and one-half mill tax for B. C. D. support is not large enough, under present valuations, to finance all of the activities essential to local public work.

Most Boards of City Development have affiliated Chambers regardless of the size of the cities served, because the small official boards cannot do all the work that should be done.

Twenty-Two Hindus Injured in Riots Against Salt Laws

BOMBAY, India, April 11. (AP)—Twenty-two persons were injured in rioting outside the courthouse here today when a number of Satyagrahis who yesterday offered passive resistance during a police raid on National Congress headquarters were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.

A large crowd attempted to get at some of the prisoners to hang garlands on them. The police fought them off, and the Indians replied with a shower of sandal and stones.

Ten police, of whom three were Europeans, were injured. The police charged the crowd with their lathis, or bludgeons, scattering it. There were 12 casualties among the Indians.

Senate To Probe Campaign Expenses

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—A special senate committee will investigate the campaign expenditures of all senatorial candidates in the coming elections.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, has been appointed chairman of the committee, and its members will be Goldsborough of Maryland, and Patterson of Missouri, Republicans, and Pittman of Nevada, and Wagner of New York, Democrats.

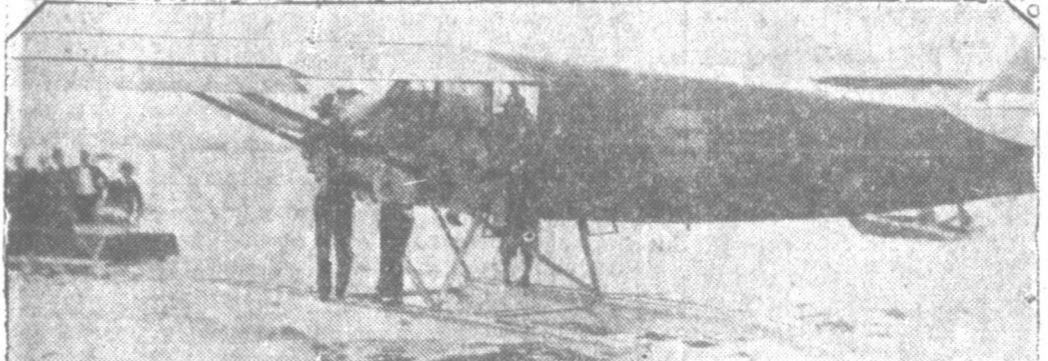

The senate yesterday adopted the Norris resolution to institute the investigation. Complaints of excessive expenditures have already been received from Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Norris' own state of Nebraska.

AIR ABOUT SPADE SAID TO HAVE SAVED LIFE OF MAN IN GRAVEL PIT COLLAPSE

The little air left around a spade buried under four feet of sand and gravel saved the life of John Fuller of Alanreed yesterday afternoon at a gravel pit near LeFors.

Mr. Fuller was loading from a chute in the side of a hill into a truck when the timbers of the chute collapsed and buried him under four feet of sand and gravel. He fell with his face pressed full into the spade.

After 15 minutes of frantic digging, near-by workers were able to rescue him. He was almost asphyxiated, but artificial respiration was applied and he was brought to consciousness in an hour. Attending physicians said that he never would have been able to stay alive for 15 minutes under the sand if he had not fallen with his face in the shovel. The man was working for the S. K. Bigham.

He was taken to McLean for medical treatment and then to his home at Alanreed in a G. C. Malone ambulance.

A month ago another man met his death at LeFors when a sand bank caved in. He was dead when his body was recovered 10 minutes later.

Body of Witness Found In Lake

WEWOKA, Okla., April 11. (AP)—Ernest Irby, former banker at Boswell and Wilson, Okla., did not appear in federal court at Okmulgee Monday to testify in a liquor conspiracy case against Tom Woods and Paul Cole, with whom he was jointly charged.

Irby's body, weighted with an iron pipe and rocks, was found yesterday in a lake near here. Louis A. Ledbetter, United States commissioner said that in his pocket was found a written statement, apparently prepared as a speech to make in court. The commissioner said Irby would have pleaded guilty.

College Head to Preach Here

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor A. T. Amrault, president Columbus college, S. A., is to conduct Lenten services this evening at Holy Souls church, and will deliver a sermon on the subject, "Heaven and Hell." The service will open at 7:30 o'clock.

Monsignor Amrault is spending a leave of absence from his duties as college president with Bishop Gerken of Amarillo, and during his stay in that city is acting in an advisory capacity at Price Memorial college. He has preached several times at Sacred Heart cathedral to large audiences.

The Rev. Joseph Wonderly, pastor of Holy Souls church, and members of his congregation invite the public to attend the service this evening, to hear the visiting churchman.

Bank Robbers Are Convicted

EADS, Colo., April 11. (AP)—Convicted of the murder of a deputy sheriff during their attempted escape following the robbery, March 14, of the Mantler, Kans., state bank, three men today faced a probable trip to the state prison death house, where three other bank robbers, similarly arrested and convicted, already await their fate.

Cornered in a shack on the Kansas prairie, the Mantler robbers, Claude Ray, Andrew Halliday, and John Walker, gave themselves up two days after the looting of the bank. Following their arrest they admitted slaying Carol A. Hickman, Eads deputy sheriff, who engaged them in a gun battle in Colorado.

Yesterday a jury found the trio guilty of the murder of the officer and recommended the death penalty. Nearly two years ago, a Lamar, Colo., bank was robbed, and during the robbery and pursuit, four men were slain. Ralph Fleagle, George Ashier, and Howard L. Royston, are under sentence to hang for the crimes.

BIG PICKWICK COACH BURNS AFTER CRASH

Isleta, New Mexico, Scene of Great Tragedy

MANY INJURED OF 27 ABOARD

Wreckage Strwn on Tracks For Half Mile

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 11. (AP)—The death list in the wreck of a Pickwick-Greyhound bus by a westbound Santa Fe train today was swelled to 20 Huff, eight years old, Oklahoma City, who died in a hospital four hours after the collision.

ISLETA, N. M., April 11. (AP)—Nineteen passengers of an east-bound Pickwick greyhound bus were killed, and eight were seriously injured, when the bus was struck by a westbound Santa Fe fast mail train near Isleta today. There were twenty-seven passengers on the bus so far as officials were able to ascertain.

The first body identified was that of a Mrs. Huff of Oklahoma City, who was a passenger, with her eight year old son, Kenneth. The boy was injured.

The speeding train sideswiped the bus, causing its gasoline tank to explode and burning much of the wreckage. Bodies were hurled from 50 to 200 feet along either side of the grade crossing and the right of way. Parts of the bus were carried along for a half mile, the engine traveling at such a speed that it was not brought to a stop for a mile and one-half.

Part of the train was derailed, but none of its crew or passengers was injured. F. D. Williams, driver of the bus, was among those killed.

George Irwin, conductor, said the exact time of the accident was 9:27 a. m. All the bodies were burned or mangled. The clothes were burned off many of the bodies.

The accident occurred seven miles south of Albuquerque. The bus was eastbound and the train westbound, reports said.

Every available ambulance from surrounding towns was sent to the scene. Details of the accident were not immediately available.

The bus was demolished and the wreckage burned. Parts were strewn along the track for half a mile. Many of the bodies of the dead were unrecognizable.

There were 27 persons on the bus. Eight were brought to a hospital here.

One passenger, who was only slightly injured and who refused to give his name to officers or go to a hospital, was put under arrest and brought to the sheriff's office here.

George Irwin, engineer of the train, said he saw the bus on the crossing and slowed down the speed of the train to 38 miles an hour, but said the accident was unavoidable.

LOS ANGELES, April 11. (AP)—Reports received from Albuquerque by Santa Fe officials here regarding the bus accident at Isleta, N. M., today said the motor car burst into flames and was demolished when struck by westbound train No. 7. Dispatches confirmed the report that fifteen persons were killed.

Train No. 7 is a fast mail train of ten cars.

Pickwick officials who received first word of the crash from the Associated Press said they had no list of passengers. It was explained the passengers after signing the tickets they purchased retained them so

SAVING THE PACIFIC FRONTIER

The Mountaineers is an organization in Washington state formed to save the last frontier in the Pacific Northwest from the inroads of commercialism.

The central idea is that motoring and camping will be prohibited in vast "wilderness areas". There will be no highways, no road signs, no filling stations, and no camps and settlements. To maintain sanctuaries inviolate from traffic is the purpose of The Mountaineers.

Development of "mountain consciousness" may not be easy, but that is no worry of the Mountaineers. They know that there will always be folks who like to hike for a day or a week, carrying all the equipment they need on their back or by pack mule. The real pleasure of an outing is in "roughing it". But there is nothing of the frontier atmosphere in hiking through tin cans, papers, and the usual trails of utensils left by campers who camp quickly and live more so.

Preserving nature inviolate from commercialism ordinarily is in the hands of the government, through the park division of the department of the interior. It appears that the government is not altogether blameless, permitting more concessions than are necessary in some instances and modernizing nature too much in others.

Carlsbad cavern has been so fully lighted that many of the thrills of seeing it have disappeared. While comfort has been added for the thousands who walk up and down the inclines, the lighting tends in some instances to cheapen the views and to reduce the effectiveness of the coloring. The spotlights in a dark cave arouse more appreciation than floodlight because they concentrate interest and attention. Too much light sometimes turns a pretty formation into a mound of earth.

When Jim White first saw Carlsbad cavern by the light of a rude torch, he probably looked with more appreciation than most of those who have since followed his trail. Atmosphere is an integral part of appreciation. The real nature student likes to carry his own lights for most purposes, even though they may burn his hands. A few hardships add to the zest of seeing nature at her best.

When a youth we once saw a house dance around in a twister, but we never dreamed that houses would sometimes have wings and would fly. These 32-passenger planes are nothing less than apartment houses that have unusual powers of locomotion.

We were disappointed in the census questions. There was nothing we feared to answer. The questions gave us no chance to outline our career. Frankly now, don't you think the census lacks quite a bit of learning just who we are, and why?

The Passion Play is coming back to the Panhandle, but we have been too busy to read our Bible since we saw the play the last time, we fear we will have to confine our interests to local pictures. And we suppose it would not be good form to risk a criticism of even Judas. We do not mean that it isn't a great play, nor one that should not be seen with the greatest of reverence.

By the time this is being read we expect to be in Canyon for the Historical Society banquet. We expect there will be a bigger crowd than ever from Pampa, and we will be glad to welcome them to our former home town. The Historical Society belongs to the Panhandle, and especially to the oldtimers, whom we all delight to honor.

They have real oil over near Dumas, Moore county, according to our friend Mr. Doswell. We suppose Amarillo will claim it as an "extension" of her "field", but as for us we will it to Dumas and Moore county with full congratulations.

Dalhart boasts that she polled 666 votes to Amarillo's 610 in a school election. We don't know whether the honors go one way or the other, for Pampa cast less than 100, but we won't contest Dalhart's claim to fame. As we see it, when everything is going all right, few will vote. When things are not so good, many people ought to vote, and Dalhart led the race in expressing her views in the matter.

Someone has asked us what we think of the marriage insurance now available on most any terms. Really, no agent for this kind of insurance has seen fit to call upon us. The Bachelor club has ignored us. We may appear as a bad risk. But we don't know why. When the Lions club was first organized, we were among a large group of unattached males in that organization while today only two or three of that group remain unattached. That ought to entitle us and a couple of others we could name a special premium but so far it hasn't.

More "Jake" Victims

TEXARKANA, April 11. (AP)—Ten or more residents of Atlanta, Texas, 23 miles south of here, were recovering from injuries caused by drinking a "manna drinker," health authorities reported. Three victims were in hospitals, two in hot Springs, Ark., and the third in a war veterans' hospital at Little Rock, Ark. Five were stricken at one time after a party in Atlanta. They were treated by Atlanta physicians and three of them later were sent to Arkansas hospitals.

Senate Due To Oppose Pact of Naval Parley

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—Cur tailment of the big-cruiser building program already approved by congress was foreseen today as the principal source of any opposition to the London naval agreement that might arise in the senate.

The accord reached at the British capital was interpreted as meaning that of the twenty-three vessels of this type the construction of which has been authorized, five would not be built. The big navy group of the senate has insisted that all twenty-three are essential to an adequate national defense.

With the approval of two-thirds of the senate necessary to ratification of the treaty to follow the agreement, the capital today kept an alert watch upon that branch of congress for indications of its reaction.

Word of the developments in London brought from acting secretary Cotton of the state department the assertion that a three-power naval pact apparently was assured. He was still hopeful, he said, that France and Italy eventually would add their signatures to the treaty.

In general the agreement was regarded as effecting a great saving in expenditures for capital ships and big cruisers, but necessitating a large outlay for small cruisers if parity with Great Britain is to be obtained in this category of war craft.

DON'T IGNORE WARNING SIGNALS

Headaches, Listlessness, Bad Breath, Backaches, Indigestion — Stop Them with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

This is a serious matter. You must conquer constipation! Stop it at once before its poisons get in their deadly work.

Nearly 90% of all sickness has its origin in irregular elimination. If you neglect the symptoms—constant fatigue, bad breath, headaches and coated tongue—you may be laying yourself open to permanent ill-health.

There's a natural, easy way to free yourself from this terrible scourge, once and forever. By eating regularly a delicious cereal—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Physicians recommend ALL-BRAN because its action is different from pills and drugs. Ordinary cathartics give only temporary relief, and are often habit-forming.

ALL-BRAN acts naturally, gently. Its roughage sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes and impurities.

And ALL-BRAN is a great aid to health in other ways. It contains abundant iron which enriches the blood, builds strength and the glowing color of health. With milk or cream—or in fruit juices—it brings important vitamins to the diet.

You'll find the flavor of ALL-BRAN delightful. A crisp, ready-to-eat cereal, with a nut-like flavor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to keep you free from both temporary and recurring constipation.

Ignoring constipation is like playing with dynamite. Start serving Kellogg's ALL-BRAN now. Sold by all grocers in the red-and-green package. It is served in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. Ask for it by name.

Round-Up Play Portrays History of University

AUSTIN, April 11. — From its conception to the spring of 1930, the history of the University of Texas will be completely outlined in song and dance for the Texas Round-Up, Saturday night, April 12. More than 200 students will take part in the gigantic play, "Through the Years at Texas," which will vividly bring to the mind of every ex-student of the university the days he spent on the Forty Acres.

The show, the scenario for which was written by James Parke, university instructor in English and himself an ex-student of the university, will be divided into three parts. The prologue will show the history of the institution from 1827 when it was first discussed by the Texas forefathers, through its actual establishment in 1883, to the building of the central part of the Main Building in 1889. ## As Shaun Golin Won the Grand National

It was a great day for "wearin' o' the green" at the classic Grand National Steeplechase in Aintree, England. For here you see valiant Shaun Golin, an Irish horse, ridden by Tim Cullinan, noted Irish jockey, as he thundered on to victory ahead of the field at a water jump. Of 41 runners, only five completed the course, and J. H. Whitney's American favorite, Sir Lindsay, finished third. Note the densely packed stands in the background, part of the crowd of 300,000 that witnessed the famous event.

Mrs. J. H. Blythe Re-Elected President of Baker P.-T. A.

Mrs. J. H. Blythe was re-elected yesterday to the presidency of the Baker Parent-Teacher association. Other officers elected were as follows: First vice-president, Mrs. Claude Lard; second vice-president, Mrs. A. L. Jones; third vice-president, Mrs. W. B. Murphy; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Roy Kilgore; treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Cox; recording secretary, Mrs. J. W. Crowder; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. L. Cottrill.

Reports on the recent annual convention of the Eighth district, Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, were given by Mrs. F. G. Browne and Mrs. Claude Lard, delegates.

Pupils of Mrs. Edna Underwood's room presented the program of the afternoon, and to their room was given the picture offered for the largest percentage of parents attending the meeting. Program numbers were as follows:

Song—"Good Advice," by the girls of the fourth grade.

Playlet—"Miss Mary's Garden," by the girls of the fifth grade.

Song—"The Race," by the boys of the fourth grade.

The picture, taken from a story by Philip Dunning, author of the stage hit, "Broadway," and Frances Dunning, concerns a night club hostess who finds herself involved in a "come-on" game which results in the murder of a millionaire gambler. The difficulties she has in getting away from the Broadway racket and into the arms of her policeman husband make up a film filled with exciting moments, human interest, and entertaining song and dance spectacles as features of the night club scenes.

Moore gives a delightful performance as the whimsical Irish cop and Miss Sweet is splendid as the girl who can't keep away from the Great White Way.

The juvenile leads are entrusted to Sally Starr and Robert Agnew, as two young night club entertainers. John Miljan plays the rascally gangster leader and night club proprietor. Comedy relief is injected by Tenen Holtz as his partner, and by Leo White, famous comedian of the two-reelers, as the French chef.

Richard Travers and Nita Martin have poignant roles as the man and woman gamblers, both meeting tragic fates, and the gangsters include Clinton Lyle, Tom London, Lew Kelly, Eugene Borden and John Byron.

Spectacular ballets and song numbers, including one by Miss Sweet, are featured, and a grim police battle with gangsters, a sensational rescue, and the dramatic police raid on a night club in full swing are among the dramatic highlights.

JESSE F. WISEMAN,
Jail Break Frustrated
VERNON, April 11. (AP)—Wrenching himself free from two of four prisoners who attacked him while he was passing out food and recovering his gun that had been knocked from its holster, J. D. Linton, jailer, put a stop to an attempt of the men to liberate themselves from the jail here last night.

Sunday, 11 a. m. Subject: "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"
Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.
Wednesday, 8 p. m.
The public is cordially invited to attend our services.

The regular Friday Lenten devotions will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock this evening at Holy Souls church by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor A. T. Amrault of Amarillo.

This arrangement has been made by Father Wonderly, who is incapacitated temporarily with a sprained ankle.

Monsignor Amrault is a guest of Bishop Gerken of Amarillo. For several years he has been the president of Columbus college at Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Impaired health necessitated a temporary cessation of his labors, and during his stay with Bishop Gerken he is acting on an advisory capacity of Price Memorial college.

Monsignor Amrault, during his stay at Amarillo, has established himself as a capable and interesting preacher, according to all who have heard him at the Sacred Heart cathedral.

His sermon this evening will be on the interesting and important subject: "Heaven and Hell." The regular question box feature will

Interpreter Is Accused of Plot in Bristow Case

TEPIC, Nayarit, Mexico, April 11. (P)—C. Fields, guide of Mexican-French extraction is accused by J. E. Bristow, San Angelo oil man, of having delivered him over to bandits, who after holding him captive for a month, released him Wednesday upon payment of 3,000 pesos (about $1,500) ransom.

In a report to Mexican military authorities, Bristow affirmed that Fields, accompanying him in quest of copper and zinc deposits in the wilds of Nayarit, plotted with the bandit gang headed by Cruz Delgado for his capture, and then tried to collect the ransom himself.

All Fields had to say was that Mr. Bristow was "un buen hombre" (a good man), that he hoped he would be freed without harm, but that he had washed his hands of the entire affair. Fields has lived in Mexico for 38 years. Police and military authorities know him well.

Bristow's story was that he had hired Fields as his interpreter while he made a trip to a prospective copper site in far Eastern Nayarit, where he worked for two days at copper prospecting, satisfying himself the deposits which he located were valuable. When he told Fields on March 9 he was ready to leave, the guide insisted on remaining another day saying he wished to get some lead samples for his employer.

The American said his guide was often absent for many hours at a time. He consented to remain another day, and just at dark while his party was sitting around the camp fire, six bandits with rifles surrounded them. Bristow dashed for a small hut where the party's rifles were kept, but they were missing.

The bandits disregarded others in the party, but came straight toward him, signifying that he should put up his hands. After conferring with Fields, who acted as an interpreter, they mounted him on a mule and made off up the mountainside, at the top of which they found Cruz Delgado, leader of the gang seated on a rock. Bristow recognized Cruz Delgado as a man he had seen two days before in the village of Santa Maria del Oro.

A ransom demand of 30,000 pesos was made, but Bristow offered 40 pesos which he had in his pocket. Fields argued with Feliciano Flores, second in command of the bandits, and then returned and said the bandits had agreed to accept 800 pesos, for which he would write a check which Fields would take to Tepic to have cashed.

Fields procured two blank checks, which Bristow was told to fill out, leaving blank the space for names and amounts. The oil man protested, but did not dare to refuse, accusing his guide, however. "All you want is to cash these checks for yourself and pocket the money. You will never return to get me out of this."

Fields promised he would return and left for Tepic where the German consular agent, Hildebrand, refused to honor the drafts. The authorities were notified, and the pursuit started, which culminated Wednesday with Bristow's release for 3,000 pesos ransom money. First one-tenth of what had been demanded.

Bristow did not appear much the worse for his experience with the bandits, who, he says, treated him kindly. He and his son, Obie Bristow who came from Oklabama with the ransom money will leave shortly for Mazatlan, from where they will return to the United States.

Warm Breezes in Middle West

CHICAGO, April 11. (P)—Baking breezes as from a furnace were up on the Middle West yesterday and today.

People who wore flannel underwear were caught unprepared. Earlier this week the temperatures had been around freezing, and 16 days ago Chicago had one of its worst snowstorms.

Readings in the nineties were numerous. Cedar Rapids, I., had a 94, St. Louis, Mo., a 93 and Peoria, Ill., a 92—all record temperatures for April 10. Chicago officially was two-tenths of a degree better than 90 degrees late yesterday and was headed back that way early today. Prospects of showers and clouds, however, augured more moderate temperatures.

Simultaneous with the heat wave occurred the first drowning of the season in the Chicago territory. Bruno Gtzona, swimming in lake Calumet, went down from cramps.

Kansas City, Omaha, Little Rock, and Des Moines were among cities having temperatures of 90 degrees or higher.

Wheat was reported damaged near Enid, Okla. S. D. Flora, state meteorologist for Kansas, said "the wind is hurting the wheat. It is taking what little moisture that is left out of the soil."

Cooler weather prevailed in Texas at Fort Worth the mercury reached 87 degrees. No crop damage was reported there.

Housewives throughout the section bore the brunt of the wind attack. Homes were filled with grime.

Governor Kohler Receives Invitation to Inspect Texas

MADISON, Wis., April 11. (P)—Governor Walter Kohler today considered an invitation from Governor Dan Moody of Texas to send a delegation of Wisconsin citizens to Texas to inspect lands which have been barred from sale in this state by the Wisconsin real estate board.

Governor Moody's letter was received yesterday. It asked Governor Kohler to concern himself with the situation after the Texas legislature proposed to boycott Wisconsin-made products in retaliation for the real estate board's action.

After circuit Judge A. C. Hoppman upheld the Wisconsin real estate board's refusal of a license to the Progresso development company of Texas, attorneys for the company indicated they would appeal to the state supreme court.

Mr. W. D. Kees returned to her home in Mobeetle this morning, after a visit of a few days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Anderson.

Lions to Attend Two Conventions

Two conventions within an approximate 500-mile radius are claiming the attention of Pampa Lions. The first, to be held May 12, 13, and 14, will be at Austin. This will be the state convention, to which the Pampa club is to send one official delegate and as many other Lions as care to attend. The official delegate will be named next week.

In July the international convention will be held at Denver. A large number of Lions will put their vacations in that month in order that they may attend the gigantic meeting in scenic Colorado.

"Konjola Gave My Daughter Back Health"

New Medicine Wins Wonderful Victory After Other Remedies and Treatments Fail

MISS ELIZABETH MITCHELL. "Konjola gave my daughter, Elizabeth, aged 13, back her health," said Mr. Mitchell, the child's father, who resides at 815 1-2 East Second street, Little Rock. "Elizabeth was suffering from kidney trouble, nervousness and a general run down condition. I tried many medicines and treatments and spent a great deal of money but nothing seemed to do any good until I tried Konjola. Ever since she entered school she had been losing weight, strength and vitality. Her weak kidneys caused frequent bladder actions and her nerves had become so badly shattered that she could not sleep."

"Konjola proved to be just what my daughter's system needed. Every one remarks about the improvement in her appearance. Her kidneys have become normal and her bladder actions as they should be. Her nerves have so improved that she sleeps at night. Her food digests and she is growing strong and healthy. She has gained weight, strength and energy. In fact my daughter is in better health than she has been in years and we owe it all to this great medicine, Konjola."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. And Konjola makes good, even in the most stubborn cases, when given a fair trial. Six to eight bottles is considered a fair trial.

Konjola is sold in Pampa at the City Drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—(Adv.)

Japan's Economic Status Troubling

TOKYO, April 11. (AP)—Japan's economic difficulties reached a critical stage here today with the suspension of trading on the Tokyo stock exchange.

The bear-ridden market opened well below yesterday's closing, and the resulting confusion caused the directors to announce a one-hour suspension, which later was extended. At 1 p. m., the exchange attempted to open again, but when a selling stampede was threatened it closed for the day.

Cabinet members interviewed on the subject asserted the condition of the market was due to manipulation in which the political position was concerned.

Art Exhibit Will Be One of Important Attractions of the Seventh District Convention

An exhibit in which the oil paintings, etchings, and china of Panhandle artists will be shown will be one of the most interesting features of the annual convention of the Seventh district of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs to be held in this city April 23, 24, and 25.

Mrs. C. E. Palmer of Amarillo, chairman of the fine arts division of the district, and herself an artist, is in charge of the collection. She is seeking entries from all noted talent from the 49 counties of the district, limiting each artist to two original works.

Among the painters who have accepted Mrs. Palmer's invitation to exhibit at the convention, Harold Hugbee of Clarendon is, perhaps, the most noted. His western landscapes, his scenes of the pioneer days, and his portraits have brought him fame not only in his own locale and the Taos colony, where he paints a part of each year but in Kansas City and Des Moines, where he holds annual one-man exhibits, and the East, where his pictures are shown with those of Dunton, the master of Taos painters.

Others who will show oils are as follows: Miss Isabel Robinson of West Texas State Teachers college of Canyon; Lloyd Albright of Dalhart; Sandy Back, Mrs. B. C. D. Bynum, Mrs. Jack Edwards, Mrs. Guy Saunders, Mrs. H. C. Hendrick, Sister Maria Socorra, and Mrs. C. E. Palmer of Amarillo; and Mrs. John V. Andrews of Pampa.

Etchings will be exhibited by Miss Margaret Seawall and Mrs. Darrell Jackson of Amarillo and Miss Robinson of Canyon. Mrs. W. T. Stanberry, Sister Maria Socorra, and Mrs. E. P. Laws, all of Amarillo, will display chinas. Others have been invited and probably will show.

Mrs. Tom Eller, local chairman of exhibits, and her committee will assist Mrs. Palmer in arranging the collection in a room at the First Methodist church, convention headquarters, where it will be open to the public during the entire three-day conference. Mrs. Floyd McConnell, Mrs. Jim Richardson, and Mrs. Marvin Lewis complete the local committee on exhibits.

Rowing Supremacy Is Now at Stake

SEATTLE, Wash., April 11. (AP)—The eyes of the rowing world were turned toward Lake Washington, at the northern edge of Seattle, where crews of the Universities of California and Washington were to battle for Pacific Coast supremacy for the twenty-second time.

Nearly 10,000 persons, the greatest crowd ever to witness an athletic event in the Pacific Northwest, was expected to watch one of the most dramatic spectacles in the West.

Night Baseball Uncertain Matter

CHICAGO, April 11. (AP)—Night baseball has piqued the curiosity of Ernest Barnard, president of the American league. While he sees no immediate need for night contests in either of the major leagues, President Barnard plans to attend the opening arc light game played by the Des Moines club of the Western League at Des Moines, Ia.

Second Century of Rowing Is to Start Saturday

PUTNEY-ON-THAMES, Eng., April 11. (AP)—Oxford and Cambridge will begin their second century of rowing tomorrow when their eight-oared crews meet for the eighty-second time in their classic 4-1-2 mile duel on the Thames from Putney to Mortlake.

The first race between the light blue and the dark blue took place in 1829. Since then they have rowed 81 races, each gaining 49 victories. The 1877 race was a dead heat.

PIRATES GAMBLE ON GUSSIE SUHR

If Gussie Suhr, Pittsburgh's recruit first baseman, has half as much confidence in himself as the Pirates have, he will easily make the big league grade.

BY JAY VESSELS

NEW YORK, (AP)—There's one sun-kissed rookie from California who won't have to worry about his big league job this year even though he is a first year man.

His name is Gussie Suhr and his home port is San Francisco. Yes sir, if Gussie gets insomnia it shouldn't be because of worry over his job.

For all he has to do is to get out there when April breezes begin to blow and play his usual game of baseball to be assured of the regular first base position with the Pirates.

You see Suhr's batting and fielding performance with the San Francisco Seals was so convincing to the Pirate scouts that they recommended his purchase at any reasonable sum.

Then when the opening came for the Pirates to dispose of Earl Sheely, the regular first baseman, the scouts unhesitatingly assured the Pittsburgh management that Gussie could be depended upon.

This won't be the first time that a busher has picked up a regular assignment but it will be one of the few times that a recruit shouldered great responsibility.

The statistics on the 1929 coast league season support the flowery reports forwarded by Pirate field men.

Playing his second full year with the Seals, Gussie batted .381 and fielded .989. He was up among the very leaders in batting and showed more than a mere wallop with the willow in checking in with 51 homers six triples and 62 doubles.

He made 299 hits, scored 169 runs and drove in 177 runs.

Shawnee Merchant Gets 5-Year Term

TECUMSEH, Okla., April 11. (AP)—Arthur L. Fauble, Shawnee wholesale dealer, faced with a five year penitentiary sentence today on a conviction of having sent a threatening letter to J. Frank Buck, Shawnee banker, last fall.

Fauble, regarded as an exemplary citizen before his arrest last fall after his alleged kidnaping by gangsters, who, he said forced him to write letters to Buck and other prominent Shawnee citizens, was found guilty of extortion by a district court jury yesterday.

Seven-Cent Duty Placed on Cotton

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—The senate duty of seven cents a pound on long staple cotton, now on the free list, was agreed upon today by the congressional conferees on the tariff bill.

The dispute over the cotton tariff which deadlocked the conferees yesterday, was settled after an argument which took up nearly the entire morning.

House republicans on the conference committee yielded, it was announced after a warm debate. The house bill retained long staple cotton on the free list.

MANY DALLAS FANS REFUSE TO ATTEND GAMES UNTIL BAN ON BROADCASTING IS LIFTED

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

If the powers that be in the Texas league really were anxious to get the public's reaction to the radio broadcast fan, they seem to have been accommodated in a hurry—at least by one part of their public.

The champion Dallas Steers had their official house warming yesterday before 9,100 paid admissions, the smallest crowd ever to witness an opening game in the North Texas metropolitan and some 6,000 less than saw the 1929 curtain-raiser.

This notwithstanding the fact the Bovines were entertaining their traditional enemies, the Fort Worth Cats.

Failure of the Steer fans to display the proper enthusiasm practically clinched the opening day attendance prize for Fort Worth, where over 16,000 turned out the previous afternoon.

Houston is the only city conceded a chance of matching the figure. Thousands of Dallas fans have in recent weeks declared they would not attend a game until the league lifted the broadcast embargo.

There was something strangely familiar about the league standing today, with the Steers and Wichita Falls Spudders occupying the top, right where they left off last year. Dallas was there by virtue of its second straight over the Cats, 5 to 1; Wichita by its second over Shreveport, 13 to 8. They were sharing the pinnacle, however, with a rank outsider, the Beaumont Exporters who took another from Del Pratt's Waco Cubs, 6 to 3.

George Burns' San Antonio Indians got an even break in their opening home series with Houston by grabbing a close decision, 8 to 7. They had a close scrape when the Buffs, trailing 8 to 4, jumped on Jim Chaplin for three runs and chased him in the ninth. The clubs hop to Houston for a three-game series starting today.

The second day's outstanding individual performance was chalked up by young Philip Hensick, a non-chaps righthander, who limited the Cats to four bingles and one run, it unlearned.

On the previous day Hensick had gone in to stop the Panthers dead in the ninth frame after Dr. Danforth had gotten himself in a peck of trouble.

For a club generally picked to beat the field, the Cats have been thoroughly unimpressive so far. Ferdie Schupp and Jimmy Walkup, regarded as their two best bets, have been sent to the showers on successive days.

The receptions received by the Shreveport nine at Wichita Falls doubtless have proved a shock to Manager Art Pheasant, as well as to a number of the league's best forecasters. The Spuds are a new outfit, but they apparently have con-

CLARENDON IS NEXT FOE OF GULF'S GUNS

Looming now as one of the strongest industrial baseball clubs in the oil fields of this section the Gulf Guns will play the Clarendon nine at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Gulf diamond three miles south of Pampa.

The Guns demonstrated their strength in a game Tuesday with the Jones-Everett Machinists, which they won by the score of 15 to 3. Last Sunday the Gummers smothered the Shell team of Skellytown.

The Clarendon team has an ambition this year to be a championship team. The club has been practicing for over a month.

The Gun battery staff will feature Dillon and Hayes.

Magnolia Team Being Organized

Organization of a baseball team among the local employees of the Magnolia Petroleum company was announced today, and the first work-out of the year was set for tonight, on the company's diamond on East Kingmill avenue.

The addition of several new players of promising talent makes the team optimistic. "We're open for challenges and games," the management said.

Members of the Hornet team, the Sunco Oilers of Dallas, three-time National Girls' A. A. U. champs, and the Terrill School Tigers of Dallas, winner of the national academy championship at Madison, Wis., were invited to be honor guests at a banquet.

Coach Jimmy Kirts and his basketballers, making their way home by automobile, were expected to arrive at 6 p. m.

Receiver Asks More Money to Develop Well

Decision on a petition by C. M. Lyon to issue $2,000 to further develop what is known as the W. B. Saulsbury well on the E. Bass Clay land was set for Monday by Judge W. R. Ewing in district court yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Lyon, who was appointed receiver of the well last fall as a result of a suit in which Mr. Clay is plaintiff and Mr. Saulsbury, defendant, reported to the court yesterday that if the water were plugged off, there would result a paying well which would probably yield a paying revenue.

In the hearing on the petition, Mr. Lyon said he believed he could plug it to keep out gas and water and make it produce 40 barrels of oil per day, but that he was not certain he could ever develop it into a paying well.

Mr. Saulsbury stated on the stand that he had spent six months after the well was brought in, following the same procedure outlined by Mr. Lyon. It was Mr. Saulsbury's opinion that the well can

Mississippi Man May Be Impeached

JACKSON, Miss., April 11.—The Mississippi House of Representatives early today voted to impeach Lester C. Franklin, chairman of the state tax commission.

The house adopted six of fourteen articles of impeachment brought against Franklin as the outgrowth of an investigation into a $10,000, 000 anti-trust suit which the state once contemplated against Warren E. Rutner, Boston paying firm, but never prosecuted. Franklin now faces trial in the Mississippi senate with a two-thirds vote required to remove him from office.

Asks Jury Investigation GREENVILLE, April 11.—The Hunt county grand jury was called by Judge Grover Sellers to reconvene today to investigate the shooting affray at Kingston, north of here, in which Pennington Mallow, 17, was slain and his father, A. B. Mallow was wounded. J. H. Curtis, charged with murder in connection with the shooting, was due to have an examining trial today. The elder Mallow has been in critical condition since the shooting Tuesday.

DENTON, April 11. (AP)—Mrs. J. L. Watson, Denton teachers college student, injured in an automobile accident Wednesday in which Mrs. Augustas Capps, student at the same school, was injured fatally, remained unconscious here today. She suffered a fractured skull.

HERE'S PROOF

THIS is to certify that I was diagnosed as having cancer of the stomach by three up-to-the-minute physicians, before I was brought to a chiropractor's office by Uncle Frank and Aunt Mary Cope. I was hardly able to sit up at that time, and had lost 47 pounds. I had a Radionic analysis which verified the diagnosis of the other doctors.

With the Copes' aid I purchased a card of Radionic Vibrations—that being Armistice Day, 1929. Today—March 15, 1930—I have gained 32 pounds, can work hard every day, and feel good all the time. I was too sore to be adjusted for the first few weeks, so I just took the Radionic alone for the first three weeks. I was dismissed today—and I can do a man's work and feel good all the time.

I can highly recommend the Radionic and Chiropractic. (signed), HARRY ANDERSON, 60x, 95, Pampa, Texas.

White Man Is Likely Connected With Robbery

FORT WORTH, April 11 (AP).—FORT WORTH'S most spectacular bank robbery attempt in several years, which resulted in the death of two negro hijackers and the serious injury of J. M. Fry, assistant cashier of the Polytechnic First State bank, today was under investigation.

Fry, struck in the head by stray lead fragments yesterday when City Detective H. E. Weatherford and John Alsup, bank guard, engaged the robbers in a battle within the bank, was in a serious condition.

One of the negroes was identified as Will Tate and the other as Geo. Terrell, both of Fort Worth. One dropped dead a short distance from the bank. The other died beside a church a block from the bank as he attempted to flee from Alsup.

Police said this was the first case they ever heard of where bank robbers were negroes. They walked into the bank just after noon yesterday and ordered Fry and other bank employees to "stick 'em up."

Officers today sought to trace the negro who first gave the tip several days ago that an attempt to rob the bank would be made. They also were investigating the report to school authorities of a girl pupil that said she saw a white man let two negroes out of an automobile near the bank 10 minutes before the robbery attempt.

The First State bank of Polytechnic was robbed of $9,000 by Cleve S. Owen and O. S. Murray in March of 1926. Later they were given ten year terms and Owen escaped. He later was killed in Louisiana.

A large rat so commandeered a house in Brooklyn that the owner sent for a policeman who shot it.

Naval "Big Five" Will Check Up on Completed Work

LONDON, April 11 (AP).—The "big five" delegates to the naval conference today decided to hold a plenary session on Monday for the purpose of receiving the completed work of the conference.

Another plenary session will be held Thursday for signing, if it is possible to prepare the prospective treaty by that time. Should it be impossible to get the treaty ready by Thursday the signing probably will be deferred until after Easter.

In an event, it is hoped the heads of all the delegations will be in London for the signing whenever it occurs.

The treaty will take the form of a three part five power agreement in which the backbone will be a complete agreement between the United States, Great Britain and Japan on the limitation and reduction of all categories of sea armaments and a supplementary agreement including France and Italy concerning matters upon which all the powers are in accord.

Celebrities Address Texa University's Annual Round-Up

AUSTIN, April 11 (AP).—The first annual round-up of the University of Texas got under way here today with Governor Dan Moody called upon to welcome the ex-students and parents of students to Austin.

The round-up, held today, tomorrow, and Sunday, was planned as part of the dedicatory services for the new $500,000 auditorium and gymnasium recently completed.

The program this morning included addresses by Governor Moody, Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the university; Judge R. L. Batts, chairman of the board of regents; W. T. Gregory, former U. S. attorney general and chairman of the university union which raised the funds for the new building; William L. McGill and John A. McCurdy, president and executive secretary of the ex-students association; John C. Ross of Austin, president of the dads and mothers association, and Virgil Tillery, president of the students association.

The round-up will supplant the annual reunion of the ex-students and the annual dads and mothers day at the university.

Oklahoma Jury Investigating Sale of Jamaica Ginger

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 11 (AP).—After making a partial report today to Judge Edgar S. Vaught, the federal grand jury here apparently was ready to begin investigation of Jamaica ginger sales allegedly responsible for more than 300 cases of partial paralysis in Oklahoma.

About a dozen obvious victims of the paralytic malady were waiting outside the grand jury room this morning. All of them walked with difficulty, using canes and crutches. One, apparently exhausted, went to sleep on the marble floor.

International Sunday School Lesson BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for April 13, 1930.

General Topic: The Child and the Kingdom.

Scripture Lesson: Matt. 18:1-6, 12-14; 19:13-15.

Matt. 18:1. In that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

2. And He called to Him a little child, and set him in the midst of them.

3. And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye turn, and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4. Whosoever shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5. And whosoever shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth Me.

6. But whoso shall cause one of these little ones that believe on Me to stumble, it is profitable for him that a great millstone be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depth of the sea.

12. Now think ye? If any man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and go unto the mountains, and seek that which goeth astray?

13. And if so be that he finds it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which have not gone astray.

14. Even so it is not the will of your Father who is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

Matt. 19:13. Then were there brought unto Him little children, that He should lay His hands on them, and pray, and the disciples rebuked them.

14. But Jesus said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto Me: for to such belongeth the kingdom of heaven.

15. And He laid His hands on them, and departed thence.

Golden Text: Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto Me: for to such belongeth the kingdom of heaven.—Matt. 19:14.

Time: The first blessing of children, summer of A. D. 29, the third year of Christ's ministry; of the second occasion, March, A. D., 30, a month before the crucifixion.

Place: The first event, Capernaum; the second, somewhere in Perea.

Introduction
Intervening between our last lesson on the Law of the Cross and that today on the Child in the Kingdom, were the incidents of the Transfiguration, followed by the healing of the demoniac boy at the base of the mountain, the return to Capernaum from Mount Vernon, the payment of the half-shekel by the miracle of the coin in the fish's mouth, and the controversy of the Twelve as to who among them should be the greatest. It was perhaps while on the return journey from Mount Hermon to Capernaum that the disciples privately discussed the question who among them would be the greatest in the Master's kingdom.

Our lesson begins with a sharp rebuke to the disciples for their dispute as to which of them was the greatest. Our Lord set a little child in the midst of them and said impressively, "Verily I say unto you, except ye turn, and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven."

Saviour and the Child
Our lesson relates an incident in the life of our Lord that occurred several months later. Some parents were bringing their little children to Jesus in order that he might lay His hands upon them. Among the Jews the blessing of a father or a prophet was highly esteemed. The conferring of such a blessing was usually a prayer. Hence the desire of those parents that Jesus "should lay His hands on them, and pray."

There is no suggestion here of the baptism of infants. These babes were brought by their parents to receive the blessing of Jesus, and as Luke tells us, "He took them in His arms, and blessed them, laying His hands upon them," thus doing just what their parents desired.

The pertinence of this passage to our present lesson lies in its revelation of the attitude of Jesus toward children. In contrast to that of His disciples, they rebuked the parents for bringing these children to Jesus and interrupting His discussion of an important question. Jesus thought very differently, and Luke tells us that "He was moved with indignation," a strong word in the Greek. "Suffer the little children," said He, "and forbid them not to come unto Me." The double command is very emphatic. It is a grave wrong to put any hindrance in the way of a child that is trying to come to Jesus.

Personal Responsibility
"But whoso shall cause one of these little ones that believe on Me to stumble." This is the opposite of receiving. It is placing before the humble Christian, old or young, some obstacle to the Christian life, giving him a bad example, causing him to doubt Christianity itself because he sees such a miserable specimen of it before his eyes. Such are proud church members, uncharitable church members, stingy church church members, worldly and selfish and quarrelsome church members, all who claim to be followers of the meek and lowly Saviour but are living lives inconsistent with their example. How many infidels they make!

Our modern times have produced many of these foes of childhood: those who set before the boys and girls the temptation to drink, who teach them to smoke, who plant infidelity in their minds, who sow in their souls the seeds of lust with unclean books and pictures, who make crimes of violence appear other ways lead them astray. Satan knows, if Christians do not always know, the infinite value of the early years of life, and every wicked cause sends its missionaries among the young.

Parental Responsibility
"Beware how you sin against your child! Parentage involves a tremendous trust. God puts into our hands the most susceptible and receptive creature on the globe when he entrusts to us a young immortal mind. No photographic plate takes impressions so readily or retains them so surely. In geological museums you may see stone slabs which show the prints of birds' feet or of leaves which were made in the stone when it was liquid pumice, centuries ago. In like manner we detect the fingermarks and footprints of parental influence upon the character of their adult children. Parents often corrupt their children by taking them to impure places of amusement. While the father is laughing at the play, the lad beside him is inflamed by the indecent costume of the actress, immoral innuendoes of the stage. It is bad enough to smutch your own soul; but, we beg you, do not sin against your child."—Cuyler.

Ministering Angels
"A multitude of good angels, who never disobey God, but who have always delighted to do His commandments are for us. The spirits of just men made perfect, who have sinned as we have sinned but have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb, these are for us. And they are not idle; it is written they are ministers of those who are heirs of salvation. They are helping us in ways that we cannot think of or dream of."—Frederick D. Maurice.

Seeking the Lord
The angels' care for God's children suggested to Jesus the lovely little parable of the lost sheep. "If any man have a hundred sheep," Christ is arguing from what a man would do to what God, Who made the man, would certainly do. Man would not be more thoughtful and brave and loving than His Creator. "And one of them be gone astray." Only one out of a hundred—a comparatively small matter, men might think; but not so God. "Doth he not leave the ninety and nine." "In the wilderness" is added in Luke 15:4. He does not wait to conduct the sheep back to the fold, but leaves them in the uninhabited wild pasture where they were feeding, of course, in charge of an undershepherd. "And go unto the mountains." Climbing up among the hills, a rough and perilous route for man, and so much the worse for sheep. "And seek that which goeth astray." Luke says that he seeks "until he finds it," with no intention of giving up the search until it is crowned with success.

"But all through the mountains, thunder-riven,

"And up from the rocky steep,

"There rose a glad cry to the gate of heaven,

"Rejoice! I have found my sheep!"

"And the angels echoed around the throne.

"Rejoice for the Lord brings back His own!"—R. C. Clephan.

Church Without Children
"I heard of a church that was characterized as 'rolling in wealth.' I forget how many millionaires it has in its membership. It gives vast sums to maintain its own services and equally as much for the work of the world. But it is an adult church. It has no children. It would not know what to do with them. The only children it has are in the mission which the church maintains. Not a minister or a missionary has come from that church within any man's memory. A church or a home without children is sad beyond words. It takes more than four feet on a fender to make a fireside. There must be the feet of little children on the fender even in the house of God. No matter how restless the feet are—or how much they disturb the fender. A table, even the table of the Lord, may be orderly and quiet, but it is not complete unless children are gathered about it."—Bishop William F. McDowell.

Blesses Little Children
"Then were there brought unto Him little children, that He should lay His hands on them, and pray." The mothers asked Jesus to pray for a blessing to come upon their children, all good things which mothers long for their children to have." It appears that it was customary for Jewish infants to be taken to the synagogue to be blessed by the rabbi."—Cambridge Bible.

"The childlike spirit is sincere, earnest, undivided, single-minded. That earnest, undivided spirit is the spirit of a little child at play, and the spirit of an apostle at work." "And He laid His hands on them, and departed thence." We learn from Mark 10:16, that He did more than this, "He took them in His arms, and blessed them." "The compound rendered 'blessed' occurs only here in the New Testament. It is stronger than the simple form, and expresses the earnestness of Christ's interest. Alfred renders 'fervently blessed.'"—Marvin R. Vincent. This passage alone, even if there were not hundreds of others, would be sufficient warrant for that blessed institution, the Sunday School. If the Christian home where children can best be brought to Jesus, is lacking, the Sunday school takes its place. Even when the Christian home is doing its blessed work, it is powerfully reinforced by the Sunday school. The purpose of the Sunday school is to bring to Jesus the young and the old.

Success, Yet Failure, Detailed by Evangelist

It was no mere play upon words as Evangelist O'Malley at the Christian church revival last night considered the subject of "The Successful Failure." Basing his sermon on the parable in Luke 12:16-21, he eulogized the proper planter who by industry and thrift, and careful intelligent attention to his affairs made a great success as judged by the standards of this world. Doubtless he was one of the foremost citizens of his community, honored and respected, and his family in the very highest social circles, and provided with the finer things of this life.

But the real lesson brought out was that which Jesus had emphasized, namely the folly of preferring his body to his soul, tins to eternity, the world rather than God.

In detail the preacher brought out vividly the terrible failure of a life devoted to self and personal comfort and luxury, to the neglect of all obligations to others. He spoke of the sin of a man retiring to indulge in ease and pleasure when at his most productive time in life, when the world needed him, and if he did not have need, there were masses whom he could have served and blessed. It was also pointed out as a mere failure that a man should think his soul could be satisfied with things. "As well expect a hungry body to be fed with diamonds or pearls, which, however costly, have no nourishment and are wholly useless where real food cannot be obtained.

But the great tremendous failure, was that the man was "not rich towards God."—he had left God out of the consideration entirely. All in reality belonged to God, but no reckoning was made with Him nor service rendered to Him.

Summing all up, what did this man leave as he suddenly was called by death? He left everything; none of the "things" could he take. But he did take regret, a sense of failure, the terrible realization that life had been wasted on the vanishing things of earth. This man, who would not waste time on the things of God, who would not waste his precious abundance to help the needy all around him, finds at last that he has wasted both time and all his possessions, for naked and poor he must face God, while the fruits of his life's labor go to others, nobody knows to whom.

The great lesson was taught that the one really great concern of life should be to be rich toward God; rich in faith and obedience; rich in aim and purpose; rich in holy living; rich in faithful, loyal service in God's church and kingdom. Industry, thrift, eternal investment of talents, powers and time should be made to "Tell on ages, tell for God." The sermon tonight at 8 o'clock will be "The Great Accounting." If one is not wholly hopeless this sermon will make him think.

SPANIARD IS NEWEST FIND AT BROOKLYN

NEW YORK, April 11. (AP)—In Alfonso Lopez, Spaniard catcher from Tampa, Fla., the Brooklyn Robins seem to have a real find. Lopez displayed his wares to Brooklyn fans for the first time yesterday at the Robins beat the Boston Red Sox. And all he did was get a timely single follow it with heady base running that took him to second, score one of Brooklyn's three runs, and nip two attempted steals of second with fine throws.

Mike Gonzales, veteran Cuban catcher, is going to Chicago to play baseball—but not for the Cubs. Gonzales, released by the Chicago Nationals last winter because of a weak arm, wants to vindicate himself and prove his arm is as strong as ever. He expects to catch on with a semi-pro team in Chicago for the summer.

The New York Giants may find a job without any delay for Walter Roettger, outfielder they got from the Cardinals yesterday. They were so short on players for yesterday's game at Fort Wayne that they had a draft of a pair of coaches, Irish Meusel and Dave Baneroff, for active service. Meusel played

At last Babe Ruth really has knocked a baseball clear out of sight, but he didn't get a home run when he did it. The Babe drove one off the top of Lookout mountain at Chattanooga yesterday, and no one saw how far it went. In the game against the Chattanooga Southern Association team, the best the Babe could do on his lame leg was to get one triple.

Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics is convinced he has a "pretty good" pitcher in Lee Roy Mahaffey, right hander obtained from the Portland (Ore.) club.

Pitching against the Phillies yesterday, Mahaffey was the first Athletics hurler to go the regulation distance of nine innings, and he performed to the entire satisfaction of Mack, shutting out the hard-hitting National leaguers with scattered hits.

There is no question but that the Pirates will return to Paso Robles, Calif., next spring to train. While the team was in Mobile, Ala., yesterday business men of the town invited the Pittsburghers to come to their city next year. Sam Dreyfuss, vice president of the club, thanked the Mobile folk for their invitation, but said it had been decided to return to the Almond city. Rogers Hornsby has advised the Cubs he will report again for duty tomorrow. The soreness in his heel and right ankle has disappeared, and the "Rajah," who has been loafing on his farm near St. Louis, is eager to get back into harness.

President Sam Breadon wants Burleigh Grimes as a member of the St. Louis Cardinals pitching staff and said so in no uncertain terms. "I don't know whether I can get Grimes, but I'm going after him."

With regulars for two positions still undecided, Manager Bill Killefer of his St. Louis Browns stopped at Springfield today for the final exhibition game before the annual spring series in St. Louis.

The Cincinnati Reds were back on their home lot today with nothing more than a practice session, scheduled. Marvin Gudat, pitcher, secured by draft from Dayton in 1928, will be sent to Peoria, Red farm, on option.

Wes Ferrell has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Cleveland Indians that he is ready to continue the hurling which made him one of the league's outstanding recruits last year. Ferrell had only one bad inning against the Birmingham Barons yesterday, allowing them five hits and as many runs in the fourth and went the route for the first time this year.

Mohammed Hussein, Cairo, Egypt, carried three guns to cure an inferiority complex.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS FOR STATE ROAD AND BRIDGE CONSTRUCTION

Sealed proposals addressed to the State Highway Engineer of Texas, for the improvement of that part of State Highway No. 33, covered by F. A. P. No. 421-G in Gray County, will be received at the office of the State Highway Engineer at Austin, Texas, until 10 o'clock a. m., April 22, 1930, and then publicly opened and read.

Work consists of constructing Grading and Drainage Structures. From the Carson County line to Pampa a distance of 7.286 miles.

A certified or cashier's check for $1,200.00 is required.

Detailed plans and specifications of the work may be seen for examination and information may be obtained at the office of W. C. Bushfield, Resident Engineer, at McLean, Texas, and at the office of the State Highway Department State Office Building, Austin, Texas.

The usual rights are reserved.

A Nebraska restaurant man will test the constitutionality of the law relative to the employment of female help after sunset.

The time required to travel between Chicago, Omaha, and Portland was reduced one hour and fifteen minutes by the addition of a new train.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DORIS Matthews, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night after 11:30 in a summerhouse on the Berkeley estate, by a blow with a heavy perfume flask, presented to MRS. BERKELEY by SEYMOUR CROSBY. The body, rock-weighted and tied with CLORINDA BERKELEY'S scarf, is taken from the lake Saturday morning by DETECTIVE BONNIE DUNDEE, who summons CAPTAIN STRAWN.

MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLD: (all under suspicion): Mr. and Mrs. George Berkeley, who have quarreled late Friday night over Clorinda's engagement to Crosby, close friend of the social secretary, MRS. LAMBERT; GIGI BERKELEY, who sprinkled all persons in drawing room Friday night with perfume from the "murder flask," later placed in Mrs. Berkeley's bathroom by WICKETT, butler; DICK BERKELEY, who after having been missing all night turns up while his mother is accusing EUGENE ARNOLD, chauffeur, engaged to Doris, of having murdered Doris and Dick out of jealousy.

Mrs. Berkeley is forced to admit she slapped Doris while the maid was dressing her for dinner because Doris said she used too much perfume; admits also she instructed Doris to wait up for her but says Doris was not in her rooms when she (Mrs. Berkeley) went up to bed at 11:40. Roused print of Doris's mouth on bathroom mirror proves girl was there and that a struggle took place.

Clorinda Berkeley, after lies, admits talking with Doris before 11; then stealing out of house for a walk. Insists she did not go near summerhouse, did not hear struggle or screams; cannot account for her scarf being used to bind up body. Says she was alone on walk. Strawn, searching her room, for clues, is sniffing her gold evening slippers for odor of perfume from murder flask broken in summerhouse.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXII

"You see, Miss Clorinda, one can't think of everything—every little thing!" Captain Strawn sympathized after he had sniffed the sole of each small golden slipper. "You remembered to wipe off telltale traces of dew and earth from these little shoes of yours, but your nose was so accustomed by that time to the odor of Fleur d'Amour—"

"Maybe you'd better translate it and call it 'Flower of Love'—your French is so bad," Gigi interrupted with hard flippancy, her eyes blazing like an angry cat's.

"—that you didn't smell it on the soles as you handled the shoes. But every criminal forgets something," Strawn went on, as if the child had not interrupted. "I don't know what you're talking about," Clorinda told him tonelessly, but her face was very pale.

"These little shoes tell me a secret, Miss Clorinda. They tell me that you were in the summerhouse, that you stepped into the spilled perfume."

"I've told you already that Gigi splashed the stuff all over us last night," Clorinda countered wearily. "But she didn't sprinkle the floor! A pretty keen eyewitness has already described that scene to me, young lady!"

"Our charming guest, no doubt!" Clorinda shrugged, and Dundee colored painfully. "Nevertheless, I was not in the summerhouse last night!" "Well, let's have a look at the dress and cape," Strawn said cheerfully. He lifted the long-skirted evening dress of wine-red chiffon velvet and passed the front of it slowly through his hands, held close to his nose, sniffing so ludicrously that Gigi giggled hysterically.

He found what he was looking for three times, but the spots were all on the bodice. The skirt yielded nothing until the hem itself was passing under his nose.

"Well I guess that settles it!" he grunted with satisfaction. "The hem of this skirt has been in the summerhouse, Miss, if you haven't! Now for the cape!"

His nose was unrewarded, however, and he was about to toss the gold metal cloth garment aside when Dundee sprang forward.

"I think you've overlooked something, Captain Strawn," he said quietly, pointing to a thin, dark brown, horizontal line halfway down the back of the cape.

Strawn uttered a sharp exclamation, then scratched at the dark streak with a fingernail.

"Blood!" he announced triumphantly, his gray eyes boring into the girl who had retreated until she was leaning weakly against the foot of her bed.

"Blood?" she whispered. "I swear I didn't see any blood—I never dreamed—"

"You thought you'd got rid of every trace of Doris Matthews' blood, eh?" Strawn asked grimly. "Pretty hard thing to destroy—blood!"

"Stop! You're going to make her faint!" Gigi commanded. "Clorinda didn't kill Doris! Why should she? You have to have a motive to kill people—Oh, darling! Don't look so sick! Lean on Gigi!"

"I'm all right," Clorinda said dully, but one of her beautiful white hands gripped her little sister's shoulder to steady herself. "Gigi is right. I didn't kill Doris—"

"Then maybe you'll tell us who did, since you were on the scene of the crime last night?" Strawn suggested. "Come now! Who was it? Your brother, Dick?"

"I saw no one kill Doris," Clorinda answered, her voice trembling. "I did not even know she had been killed until Gigi told me this morning—Oh, please give me time! I'll tell you what little I do know. I did go into the summerhouse last night, because I passed near enough to it to get a terribly strong whiff of Fleur d'Amour. At first I thought it was just the perfume on my dress, but another gust of wind brought the smell with such sickening force that I decided to investigate. I walked toward the summerhouse, since the smell seemed to come from there. It was light enough for me to see—"

"How?" Strawn interrupted.

"The lights that circled the lake concealed among the rocks, were on as usual," Clorinda explained, tiredly, not realizing that she was telling the detectives something they already knew. "I entered the summer house and saw a big irregular wet spot on the floor, near the circular bench. I stooped, to make sure, and found that a lot of perfume had been spilled there. I also saw that whoever had spilled it had tried to wash it up, for the surrounding floor had been swabbed with water, but that was almost dry. I wondered who on earth could have done it, then I thought mother had discovered my absence—"

"And had come looking for you with a flask of perfume in her hand?" Strawn interrupted, with a twisted smile of incredulity.

"Mother is so excitable," Clorinda went on wearily, "I thought it possible that she had gone to my room, carrying the perfume, perhaps for me to admire again Mr. Crosby's thoughtfulness, and had discovered my absence and had rushed out of the house to look for me about the grounds. I could imagine her stumbling in the summerhouse and breaking the flask. It was her perfume. I had heard her tell Wickett to take it to her rooms. Naturally I could think of no other explanation as to how the perfume got there."

Dundee and Strawn exchanged a long, questioning glance. Was it possible that Clorinda was telling the truth, that she had hit upon an explanation of the most puzzling factor of the case?

But another thought occurred to Dundee almost instantly. "Yet you went to your room, Miss Berkeley, without taking the trouble to go to your mother and reassure her?"

"Yes," she agreed, shrugging. "I don't expect you to believe me, but I simply could not bear the thought of talking with mother. I knew there would be a row—"

"Why?"

"Because I should have had to tell her that I had made up my mind to break my engagement with Mr. Crosby."

"Why?"

"My father objected violently. Isn't that enough?"

"But," Dundee reasoned with her gently, "your engagement had withstood his objections for some weeks, I gather, and your mother, at least, was wholeheartedly in favor of the marriage."

"My father did not object to the marriage until yesterday, when it was too late to cancel Mr. Crosby's invitation to visit us."

"And why did he change his mind so abruptly?" Dundee pressed her.

"Until yesterday he knew nothing about Mr. Crosby except what mother and Mrs. Lambert had told him. But he had, as a matter of precaution, asked his lawyer to get as complete a report on my fiance as possible. It arrived yesterday, and father immediately forbade the marriage."

"Do you know what was in that report, Miss Berkeley?"

"I—did not see it," she evaded.

"Look here! We're getting pretty far afield, it seems to me," Strawn interrupted ruthlessly. "Do you recall, young lady, that you've practically accused your mother of murdering her maid?"

"That's not true!" Clorinda flashed. "I have accused no one. I merely told you the truth, which included my own speculations when I found that the perfume had been spilled on the summerhouse floor."

"And pretty neat, too!" Strawn said, with mock admiration. "Now, Miss Clorinda, let's get down to brass tacks! You either committed that murder or saw it done. Let me do a little speculating! You knew, before you left your room, that the family limousine and chauffeur were taking your uncle and aunt home to Westview, for you were standing at your window and saw the car driving out of the grounds. Right?"

"No. I did not see the car," she answered wearily.

"And I say you did. That you knew Arnold could not keep his appointment with his sweetheart, Doris Matthews. That she had told you your brother had forced her to promise to meet him last night," Strawn went on relentlessly. "I say, further, that you knew, somehow, that Dick was not in his room. Probably you went up to find out, to beg him not to get into trouble with the girl. Right?"

"No! Not one word of it is true!"

"And I say it's all true!" Strawn corrected her sternly. "I say you stole out of this house to find your brother."

"You walked about the grounds looking for him, or for him and Doris together, wondering why neither appeared. You finally saw Doris go to the summerhouse to meet Arnold, and saw Dick running to join her. He had seen her from the tower window, you know. You crept up to the summerhouse, listened, heard Dick propose marriage to the girl, heard her accept him, went in and quarreled passionately with them both."

"While the quarrel was going on, your mother came looking for you, heard voices in the summerhouse, flung herself in upon you all, perfume flask in hand, and insulted the girl. The girl answered insolently, your mother—who had slapped this girl earlier in the evening for insolence, remember—retaliated by banging her over the head with the perfume bottle—"

Gigi interrupted the recital with a long, shrill peal of laughter.

Actual photograph of stalk of wilted celery before being placed in the Hydrator. This celery is tough, unpalatable, useless.

The same celery as it came from the Hydrator the following morning. The magic action of the Hydrator has restored the celery to its original state—fresh, crisp, delicious.

The vegetables you buy today can be served days later—still fresher than when you bought them! Easily, too. Just keep them in the new Frigidaire Hydrator.

The Hydrator is a moist air compartment that restores freshness to wilted vegetables and makes fresh vegetables crisper. It enables you to have a supply of lettuce, celery, radishes, tomatoes and other fresh vegetables always on hand—always ready for instant use.

Come in and let us demonstrate the Hydrator—now a feature of every household Frigidaire. Let us show you the famous "Frigidaire Cold Control" and tell you what it does. Let us show you the latest Frigidaire cabinets in Porcelain-steel inside and out—strikingly beautiful and easy to clean. Visit our show-rooms at your first opportunity.
