Fire marshal: 'We need some wet stuff'

By NANCY YOUNG Managing Editor

Fire danger in the area is extremely high due to the recent record high temperatures and lack of rain.

"It's bad out there. The fire danger is extremely high out there," said Pampa Fire Marshal Gary Stevens.

"People really need to pay attention to what they are doing," said Stevens. He emphasized a discarded cigarette in the extremely dry vegetation can start a major blaze.

Fire danger increases; burn ban considered

"As dry as it is, it doesn't take much to get a fire started," he said.

A fire which damaged a storage building Saturday was begun by a grass fire, he said. "We don't really know how it began," he said.

Stevens said he received reports that children had been playing in the alley near the building prior to the fire report. "It could have been anything that started the grassfire," he said.

He said the damage could have been much worse as the fire only burned the back part of the building off.

"We really could use some of that wet stuff that comes out of the sky. I think they call it rain," said Stevens. "These fire received moisture in so long." Numerous grass fires have been reported throughout the area and the Panhandle in recent weeks.

Catalytic converters underneath vehicles have been reported as a cause of grass fires in areas where vegetation is dried out.

Parents are encouraged to instruct their children to be cautious with any flammable materials because of the increased fire danger in the area.

Storm plows into Florida, Alabama Flooding is biggest concern

By GARRY MITCHELL Associated Press Writer

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Iropical Storm Barry plowed across the Florida Panhandle and into Alabama on Monday, rapidly weakening as it lashed the region with heavy rain and wind that knocked out power and blocked roads with fallen trees.

Barry was downgraded to a tropical depression after it moved inland and all hurricane and tropical storm warnings were dropped.

"The main thing we're conmeteorologist with the National way before daybreak, said

"We have power lines and trees down. Some very large trees down, and a lot of debris," Caton said.

While some visitors fled the coast, others thought the storm was entertaining.

"The whole place was just rocking," Frank Kennedy of Jacksonville, Ark., said at -Grayton Beach, Fla. 'It was fun watching garbage cans rip through the streets."

The storm blacked out more than 37,000 of Gult Power Co.'s 182,000 Florida customers as tree cerned with now is the flood- limbs downed feeder lines, but ing," said Trisha Wallace, a restoration work was well under

Officials predict more than $40 million in tax savings

AUSTIN (AP) — After a weekend of furious shopping spurred by the state's sales tax holiday, officials said Monday the savings could come in even higher than the estimated $40 million predicted earlier.

"Retail sales were up everywhere," said Mark Sanders, spokesman for Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander. "We had some people reporting a 45 percent increase. It was phenomenal.' Final figures won't be available for a couple of weeks, Sanders said. The state's third tax-free holiday weekend was designed to give shoppers a break on clothing and footwear as their children return to school. The law exempted most clothing and footwear priced under $100 from sales Aug. 3-5. Without sales taxes, every $100 purchase meant a savings of about $8.

For 25 years until today. Pampa Garden Club members have maintained the garden in front of the Post Office as a service project. Unable to continue the garden's upkeep, club members spent the morning removing their plants that have decorated the post office for a quarter of a century. The plants will be sold in the club's annual plant sale this September and a low-maintenance ground cover will be planted in front of the Post Office.

By late morning, Barry's maximum sustained wind speed had dropped from near 65 mph to 30 mph, below the minimum for a tropical storm, and it was expected to continue weakening.

No major damage was reported in Alabama as the core of the storm blew into the state, but residents were warned of the possibility of flooding and tornadoes.

"We're hoping this system will keep moving," said Scott Adcock, a spokesman for the Alabama Emergency Management Agency. He said fallen tree limbs had closed many roads on the Florida state line were in effect for parts of southeastern Alabama, southwestern and 'south-central Georgia and the Florida Panhandle, the National Weather Service said. The main threat now is the rainfall," National Hurricane Center director Max Mayfield said in Miami. 'It should continthe moving through Alabama, so we've really got to focus now more on Alabama, northern Mississippi and beyond here as it moves inland with the rainfall potential."

Mayfield said 6 to 8 inches of rain was likely with some isolated higher amounts.

Redistricting fallout rains down on AG Cornyn

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — At least two Republican voted against the plans. benefactors have canceled or postponed political fundraisers for Texas Attorney General John Cornyn after complaints that he and fellow members of a state board broke up communities in odd and unreasonable ways while redrawing state House and Senate districts.

With the next round of redistricting playing out in court, the Republican who chaired the Legislative Redistricting Board will continue to be in the spotlight.

The board's July 24 remap has spurred more than a dozen lawsuits and denouncements within and outside the Republican Party. Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander and Land Commissioner David Dewhurst, both Republicans, sided with Cornyn. Acting Lt. Gov. Bill Ratliff, a Republican, and House Speaker Pete Laney, a Democrat, — minority residents into two House districts.

Calling the issue "very personal for state legislators," Cornyn spokeswoman Jane Dees Shepperd said, "I know General Cornyn is respectful of their feelings. But General Cornyn has long said that politics was not his primary guiding star in this process.

In Lubbock, real estate developer Delbert McDougal told the San Antonio Express-News in Sunday editions that he urged Cornyn to postpone plans to hold a political fund-raiser in the city intended for later this month.

"The timing could not be worse," McDougal said, because residents are riled about the pairing of two veteran Republican legislators in the same district, the placement of Laney in a district that extends far south of his hometown of Hale Center and the division of local

"The feeling is that rural Texas has not been included in the loop," McDougal said.

Betty Lovell of Amarillo said she decided not to host a fund-raiser for Cornyn in November after the board's map of Senate districts gave her son, Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, a district encompassing Midland-Odessa and Amarillo.

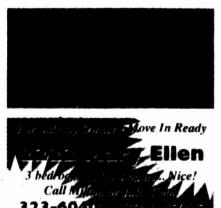

Describing ber reasoning, Lovell said: "It he were going to favor the Permian Basin over the Panhandle. we'd let them help him" raise money.

Cornyn's "plan has created all the problems," said Laney, D-Hale Center, who has been through redistricting twice before. "This is the first I've ever seen the public actually get concerned. Most of the time it's just the people directly affected, legislators and the people mak-

County Commission to consider West Texas insurance settlement offer Aug. 9

Landscape & Irrigation Residential & Commercial 669-0158 mobile 663-1277

Budget discussions and a settlement offer by West Texas Rural County Association will be considered during a special meeting of the Gray County Commissioners at 9 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 9.

Commissioners will begin budget hearings Wednesday by reviewing each departments proposed budget for the 2002 calendar year.

WTRCA was insurance carrier for county employees' medical insurance until January, 2000. The commission had numerous complaints from employees about WTRCA not paying medical providers. Another company, IMS, is now medical insurance carrier for the county employees.

Ken Fields, local attorney, met with the commission in executive session Wednesday, Aug. 1, for approximately 35 minutes to discuss the WTRCA matter. County Auditor Elaine Morris also was in the closed door session.

No action was taken following the meeting.

The meeting will be held in the temporary Gray County Courtroom, 316 N. Ballard, Pampa.

Public meeting to discuss formation of local ACCORD group set Tuesday

Local citizens concerned about the proposed swine facility east of Pampa are inviting Pampa and area residents to a public meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 7, at M.K. Brown to hear Donnie R. Dendy of Perryton speak regarding the industry.

Dendy is president of Active Citizens Concerned Over Resource Development in Agriculture, Inc. (ACCORD, Inc.) He will tell about Ochiltree County's experience with hog farms which located in that county in the mid-1990s. A question-and-answer period will follow. Dr. Louis Haydon said the purpose of the meeting is to inform people and to provide resources for people to inform themselves.

"It is not intended to be negative," he said. "It people decide they want this industry, that's fine. We just want them to be informed of the effects Dendy spoke to a group Monday, July 30, in Pampa. Several citizens expressed concern about the possibility of the lagoons on the pig tarms leaking into the Ogallala Aquiter and contaminating the water supply along with other environmental effects.

Havdon encourages all local and area citizens interested to attend the meeting.

He said immediately following the meeting, a second meeting will be held to organize a Pampa chapter of ACCORD, Inc.

Journeyman quarterback looks sharp for Steelers

By The Associated Press

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Tommv Maddox heard all the jokes that went with being the MVP of the defunct XFL. Now, he might get the last laugh.

Less than four months after leading the Los Angeles Xtreme to the XFL championship, Maddox made a successful return to the NFL — albeit in a preseason game.

The 29-year-old journeyman quarterback completed six of 10 passes for 78 yards and a touchdown Friday, helping the Pittsburgh Steelers rally past Michael Vick, the No. 1 pick in NFL draft, and the Åtlanta Falcons 17-16.

After starting quarterback Kordell Stewart and Kent Graham led the Steelers to a combined total of 50 yards and zero points, Maddox made an immediate impact when he entered the game in the third quarter. He led the Steelers to a touchdown and a field goal in his only series.

"I know how it goes," said Maddox, who signed with the Steelers on June 12. "It's 'What have you done for me lately?' So I'm just going to continue to try to get better and better and play well. "I'm excited about going out and playing well, but now I'm just looking forward to the next game.' Maddox, who spent time with the Denver Broncos, Los Angeles Rams, Atlanta Falcons and New York Giants, struggled early in Pittsburgh's training camp, but became more comfortable with the Steelers' offense in the days leading up to the preseason open-

"The middle of last week I started feeling a lot more comfortable with the offense. I knew where everyone was going," he said. "Once you get to that point, you can start reading defenses and doing things like that unexcused absence," really good year." SMITHFIELD, R.I. (AP) -New England Patriots wide receiver Terry Glenn, suspended for the team's first four regularseason games for violating the NFL's substance abuse policy, did James said the team did not know Glenn's whereabouts on Sunday. He refused to comment on the consequences Glenn could face for missing practice.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Tennessee Titans' big plans for rookie cornerback Andre Dyson will have to wait.

Dyson, the Titans' first pick in the April draft, selected 60th overall, broke a big toe in a scrimmage against the Indianapolis Colts on Saturday and is expected to miss 4-to-6 weeks.

Dyson already figured into the Titans' nickel and dime defenses featuring extra cornerbacks and was in the running to become the new starter at left cornerback opposite All-Pro Samari Rolle.

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) -The Baltimore Ravens will have to wait to see if Leon Searcy was worth the investment.

Searcy, who signed a $31.5 million, six-year contract with Baltimore in the offseason, will miss up to three months with a torn tendon in his left arm.

DEAR · ABBY: Please urge "Wants Freedom From the Apron Strings," the 34-year-old woman who lives with her controlling parents, to run - not walk - to get her own apartment. It is the only way she will ever have a life of her own.

Forty years ago, I, too, wanted my freedom from my mother's apron strings. I was 18 and had dated "Tom" for three years. After our high school graduation, Tom invited me to visit him in Tennessee where he was working. I had always been intimidated by my mother. She told me I couldn't go unless I took someone with me. I told Tom what she had said, and he replied, "If I wanted to date the baby sitter, I would invite the baby sitter." I never made it to Tennessee.

Abby, Tom treated me with respect and was always good to me. I knew he loved me. I loved him, and I felt we could have a bright future together.

Every day of my life I regret I did not stand up to my mother. I have feel the same way.

Twenty years ago, I was diagnosed with depression. The doctor advised me that if I did not leave my mother's house I would have a nervous breakdown. I finally got an apartment of my own. I still live in the same town. My relationship

DEAR CONTROLLED AND TRAPPED: I'm sorry you didn't write to me decades ago, because my advice would have been the same. You have many good years ahead of you. Counseling may help you to let go of the resentment you feel for your mother, while helping you to avoid feeling trapped. Only then will you really be free to be your own person.

DEAR ABBY: I thought you might enjoy a true story about grandparents as role models. It honors the unsung heroes in our lives:

wisdom was boundless.

teacher in an inner-city school and was doubting my "calling" to teach difficult students.

Grandpa Herb told me to look at my hands. "See," he said, "there are 10 fingers. They are all different and useful. But you don't remember the nine good fingers when you have a sore thumb!"

His "sore thumb" analogy helped me to see past problems and focus on the nine "good fingers" in my classroom. I've been teaching for more than 20 years now, and L thank heaven for my wise grandfather who taught me to focus on what's really important.

ISADORE "IZZY" SORCE, GREENFIELD, WIS.

P.S. Grandpa Herb is now 95!

DEAR IZZY: Only 95? Thumbs up for Grandfather Herb. He's wise beyond his years.
