Six Leaders Arrested in Fight With Police

NEW YORK IS VERY ORDERLY

Officials Over World Prepare For Any Trouble

DETROIT, Mar. 6. (AP)—Twelve persons were injured and 17 others were arrested in the vicinity of Cadillac Square and the Campus Martius this afternoon during a 90-minute battle with police who were attempting to disperse a demonstration of unemployed.

Minor disorders flared in today's observance of "international unemployment day" in the United States and Europe. Demonstrators were arrested in a number of cities after clashes with the police, notably in Washington, London and Berlin.

These men were used by Washington police to disperse a gathering of unemployed "day demonstrators" in front of the White House. Six leaders in a fight with the police were arrested.

Previously President Hoover had instructed the police to allow the demonstrators to carry out their program as long as they were orderly and did not trespass on Federal park land.

Demonstrations were held in other American cities. Police in Waterbury, Conn., broke up a demonstration and arrested four including a woman. In Rochester, Mass., five alleged Communists were arrested.

Capitalism Denounced Demonstration estimated by police at 20,000, gathered in Union square, New York, sang the "Internationale" and listened to denunciations of capitalism America.

There were numerous demonstrations in Europe, and some clashes between police and Communists most of which ended with the arrest of leaders.

Five men were injured in a skirmish with police in London after an effort to interview the lord mayor. Four Communist leaders were arrested in Dublin.

In Berlin, police and unemployed clashed at municipal employment offices where 3,000 unemployed were gathered. Riots also were reported at Hamburg, Breslau and Kiel.

Former President of Yale Is Dead

KOBE, Japan, Mar. 6. (AP)—Dr. Arthur T. Hadley, 73, president emeritus of Yale university, died here today aboard the round the world tourist ship Empress of Australia.

The Empress of Australia, which Dr. Hadley boarded in New York last December 2 for a world cruise, docked yesterday from China.

Pneumonia was given as the cause of death. Mrs. Hadley was accompanying the educator on the tour.

WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Fair, colder tonight; Friday fair, colder in southeast portion.

DETROIT (AP)—G. Cecil Covill, bachelor, who won a $20,000 ideal home at a real estate exhibition, intends that a flood of letters from unmarried ladies shall cease. Therefore he desires it known that he is engaged to Miss Margaret Graham, a Scotch lassie of St. Thomas, Ont.

Beauty

MISS AUDREY NOEL

Audrey Noel, senior, was elected the most beautiful girl in Central high school, and Ray McNeill, sophomore, the handsomest boy, in a contest which closed yesterday afternoon. Bobbie Jean Robinson, also a senior, and Lloyd Moore were eliminated in the last two-week period of the race.

Sponsored by the staff of "The Harvester," high school year-book, with tickets on sale to all students and their friends, the race was hotly contested throughout the three-week preliminary and the two-week finals. All classes were represented at the opening of the race.

With the selection of the most beautiful girl and the handsomest boy, the "school favorite" section of "The Harvester" was completed, the other students whose portraits were to appear in that section of the book have been chosen in previous contests. Full-page portraits of Miss Noel, May McNeill, and other favorites will appear in the annual, which shortly will be ready for the press.

Outstanding students previously selected by the student body or the faculty were as follows: Delbert Larab, senior holding the highest scholastic record for the four high school years, up to the close of the first semester this year; Albert Lard, selected by two coaches and the principal as the best all-round athlete; LeFors Doucette, senior, selected by the faculty and class members from the upper two fifths of the class, as the best all-round senior; from the standpoint of student activities; and Marjorie Buckler, Harvester queen.

Stenographer to Stimson Falls to Her Death Today

LONDON, March 6. (AP)—A fall from the sixth floor window of the Mayfair hotel today proved fatal to Mrs. Pearl DeMaret, stenographer to Secretary of State Stimson. Authorities said the fall was accidental.

The last person to see Mrs. DeMaret before she fell was Mrs. Hurley Fisk with whom she roomed.

Mrs. Fisk said Mrs. DeMaret was examining a bouquet of flowers sent her by Mrs. Stimson as a bon voyage gift, the stenographer intending to return to the United States on the seamer President Harding today.

Authorities added marks on the window sill indicated the unfortunate woman had clutched it in trying to save herself.

SMITH FINDS LITTLE NEED FOR HIKE NOW

District to Ballot on Saturday to Aid Schools

CONGESTION NOW REAL PROBLEM

New Rooms Must Be Ready for Next Term

For the purpose of relieving congested conditions in all Pampa schools, a $200,000 bond election will be held here Saturday.

If the bonds carry Saturday, it is the plan of the board of education to enlarge the system as follows:

- 1. Add six new class rooms to the Baker school building in South Pampa. 2. Add two new rooms to the East ward school. 3. Add two rooms to the West Ward school. 4. Make a 10 or 12-room addition to Central high school building to be used by high and Junior high departments. 5. Build a new ward school building of not less than ten rooms in the north part of the city.

The funds to be voted would also be used to purchase additional grounds as needed and to completely equip the new rooms. It is believed these additions would adequately house the school system for several years under normal conditions.

The Pampa Independent school district voted and issued $150,000 in bonds for building purposes in 1927, and another issue was approved ($125,000) in 1928 for a similar purpose. These issues were made without raising either the tax rate or the district valuations.

The growth of the local schools has again reached the point where additional buildings are necessary. The age limit for school attendance has been lowered from 7 to 6 years, which means that ten new primary rooms will be required next year for the 6-year-old pupils. Many of the present rooms are overcrowded. The usual steady increase will make additional space imperative next fall.

Joe M. Smith, who handles the taxes for the district, is of the opinion that the normal increase in property values, occasioned by the addition of new buildings since last year's revaluation, will bring the total valuation to a point that the $200,000 bond issue to be voted upon Saturday could be cared for by the trustees without raising the valuations or the rate. There is little probability that valuations will have to be raised, and if they should be the increase would be at most not more than 10 per cent for 1930.

The election will be held at the Board of City Development auditorium.

Gang Master Is Killed—Statement of Riv. Recalled

CHICAGO, Mar. 6. (AP)—John (Dingbat) Oberta, beau brummel of gangland who vainly courted politics "back of the yards," was felled out by his enemies last night, and slain.

Sam (The Shadow) Molega, Oberta's bodyguard and chauffeur, was also taken on the ride that removed "The Dingbat" from the South Side beer business.

Police recalled that, hardly more than a week ago, Frank McElrane, "The Tough One," cried out: "The war is on."

McElrane had just been attacked by gangsters as he lay already wounded on a hospital bed.

FIRST PICTURE OF REBEL ARMY ENTERING BATTLE RIDDEN SANTO DOMINGO

The advance contingent of the uniformless, untrained "revolutionary army" which was able to capture Santo Domingo, capital of the Dominican Republic, almost without opposition, is pictured above as it arrived within the city gates of the island metropolis to be hailed by the populace. Only one fortress, manned by federal forces, held out against the rebel troops, who marched southward across the island to occupy the capital city and demand the resignation of President Horacio Vasquez. Many of the invaders, as this Pampa Daily News and NEA Service photo shows, were unarmed.

Pro Agents In Raids

Arrested Persons Will Be Arraigned in Amarillo

Eighteen federal prohibition agents gathered from various parts of Texas and headed by Victor J. Butthof of Fort Worth, deputy prohibition administrator, made a series of raids on nearly a score of drug stores and rooming houses here yesterday afternoon.

Twenty-one prisoners were immediately taken by bus to Amarillo for arraignment before the federal commissioner today. Those arrested gave their names as J. E. Hurchee, Ruth Brandaway, Grover F. Anglin, William M. Smith, Mrs. Rose Rogers, C. T. Harris, Jimmie Harries, John Clugey, C. E. Summers, Bert Long, Edward Esham, Marie Shuffield, Billy Bass, Roy Robbins, N. C. Keener, Tom Sheern, Gerald Meroney, Bill Jackson, Mrs. J. L. Wade, and Josephine Hurd, Mrs. Murph Smith.

Small quantities of whiskey were seized, but the prevalence of "jake" was the most outstanding factor in the raids, according to the agents. Charges involving "jake" do not concern the amount possessed, Mr. Butthof pointed out, but whether the concoction has been sold for beverage instead of medicinal purposes. He said that about 2,000 bottles of the "medicine" were found.

Search warrants based on previous under-cover work were carried by the federal operatives. The arrests were made at the places raided. The agents were frankly disappointed that their net did not catch certain persons previously "spotted," and in a few instances intended arrests were not made because suspects disclaimed ownership of the places raided.

Sheriff Issues Statement About Liquor Raid

The raid of the federal officers in South Pampa yesterday was plenty of proof that Pampa is as dry as a bone as far as liquor is concerned, Sheriff E. B. Graves declared in a statement this morning.

"That raid turned out just about as I expected. The officers got plenty of 'jake' and parts of three parts of it."

Petition Made Up to Encourage City Candidates

In securing the candidacies of D. W. Osborne for mayor and Clyde Fatheree and Lynn Boyd for commissioners, many endorsements were secured by J. N. Duncan.

The petition read as follows when completed:

We, the undersigned qualified voters of the City of Pampa hereby request that the name of D. W. Osborne be placed on the official ballot for mayor in the coming election for city officers to be held on the 1st day of April, 1930; that the name of Clyde F. Fatheree be placed on said ballot for commissioner number one and that the name of Lynn Boyd be placed on said ballot for commissioner number two, and we endorse each said candidates for such office:

HEAVY FIRING TAKES PLACE AT EL PASO

Border Patrolmen Are Unhurt in Battle Early Today

ONE RUNNER IS SHOT TO DEATH

Another Is Believed to Have Bad Bullet Wound

EL PASO, March 6. (AP)—One Mexican was killed and another wounded today as rum runners renewed their assault upon the American boundary. The skirmish occurred in the shadow of St. Ann's Episcopal mission on South Piedras street. None of the United States border patrolmen who engaged in the fight was reported wounded although firing was heavy.

The fight was one of many in recent weeks resulting from efforts of rum smugglers to cross the American boundary. Last night border patrol officers were advised smugglers would attempt to transport a large quantity of liquor across Cordova island. Immediately the entire early morning watch of border patrolmen was ordered to report for duty and accrete themselves in the Piedras street sector.

At daybreak inspectors saw several men approaching from the direction of the international line. The patrolmen started toward the group, and as they neared the men heard the "plunk" of sacks and cans striking the ground. G. W. Linnenkohl, acting chief patrol inspector, said:

Firing is said to have been started by the smugglers as the officers came toward them. The patrolmen ducked to cover and answered the shots, one Mexican dropping and another lurching away indicating he had been wounded.

Brady Re-Trial Is Set for April 14

AUSTIN, Mar. 6. (AP)—Retrial of the murder case against John W. Brady, former judge of the court of civil appeals, was set today to begin April 14. A special venire of 500 men was ordered, the return to be made April 11.

The case will be called again in Judge J. D. Moore's court, where a jury recently was discharged after failing to agree on a verdict as to Brady's guilt in the killing of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, stenographer. Brady was in court with Mrs. Brady.

Wilcox Well Is Allowed to Flow Full Capacity

Proration restrictions were abandoned yesterday in at least one well by Wilcox Oil and Gas company when No. 10 Wilcox-Coombs, section 35, block 3, was opened up after it had been shut down for two months.

The well is now flowing 80 barrels an hour. Its initial production was 2,000 barrels daily when it was brought in. Opening up of the well will compel Gulf and Sun companies to drill an offset each.

Wilcox No. 6 Coombs, section 35, block 3, was deepened and cleaned out and is now producing 30 barrels an hour instead of ten.

Approximately 30 locations have been made in the Pecos and Marland-Pineau areas of Gray county in the last month.

PRISON BILL BY BECK PASSED IN SENATE

AUSTIN, March 6. (AP)—The senate today finally passed the administration penitentiary centralization bill. The Beck bill was substituted for the Graves house bill.

The procedure will be for the house to refuse to concur in the amendment. This action would put the penitentiary legislation in conference, where it died during the fourth called session.

The bill was finally passed 17 to 11 with one par.

The senate began consideration of the bill of independent producers to further regulate crude oil pipelines and storage facilities after an attempt to re-refer it to the committee was voted down.

CHARGED!

AMARILLO, Mar. 6. —Twenty-four persons, arrested in raids yesterday on more than a dozen drug stores and soft drink stands at Pampa, were charged in federal court here today with sale and possession of intoxicating liquor. Seven of those charged were women. Hearings for bond making was scheduled this afternoon before a deputy United States commissioner. Bonds were set at $1,000 each.

PAMPA BAND IS LIKELY TO PLAY IN BORGER SOON

It is probable that the Pampa American Legion band will take part in Borger's fourth birthday celebration Saturday.

Members of the Borger Legion, which has charged of the observation, were here yesterday to invite the local post to participate. Commander Paul Hill of the local post told the visitors that the Pampa band would be taken if the musicians could have their work.

The Pampa Board of City Development will be represented, and many citizens will drive to the neighboring city.

THE OPINION IS WIDESPREAD THAT THE ACTION OF THE STATE PRISON COMMISSION IN ACCEPTING NO MORE PRISONERS AT PRESENT WAS A MOODY POLITICAL MOVE.

If so, the political wisdom of the act was rather ill born. No legislature likes to work under a "big stick", and the net result of such attempts is usually a legislative balk.

There is not much doubt, however, that the prison board had and still has ample reason for the action. Few legislators who viewed the prison and farms on the recent "junketing" trip did not agree that the prison system was in a terribly run down, if not disgraceful, condition.

The main point seems to be whether there was any more ground for the board's action than there was six months or a year ago. In other words, was the announcement timely from an actual or a political standpoint? There is a saying that "there is always room for one more." Warden Harrel is quoted as saying that the prison is not as full as it was a short time ago.

The people of Texas know, however, that something should be done about the prison system. They are going to blame someone if the recurring special sessions do not take remedial action. Rioting in prisons of many states has become a national disgrace. Auburn prison has just accounted for another principal keeper, or warden, through a brutal stabbing. The modern prisoner is not as stoical as the type of a quarter of a century ago. He is younger in years. Hope has not died within him. He knows that the world outside abounds in thrills of living. His actions, when he becomes desperate, are fearful.

Considering the conditions which are admittedly existent, Texas has been lucky in not having more trouble than escaping men afford. The history of penology shows that neglected prison conditions breed violence. Texas will reap tragedy from her neglect unless something is done. The hundreds of counties cannot keep on sending men to Huntsville indefinitely.

Despite the injustice of making counties care for and feed state prisoners, the prison board can hardly be blamed for refusing to place two men where but one should be. With summer approaching, the dangers from epidemics will be greater. The prison issue is one of the liveliest in Texas. Jim Ferguson, astute campaigner that he is, recognizes this fact and plans to make much of it. Governor Moody has not helped his ambition, whatever it is, by insisting upon placing the prison at "Austin or nowhere".

TEN THOUSAND MANILA STUDENTS REVOLTED AND RIOTED OVER AN INCIDENT MINOR IN REALITY BUT GREAT IN POTENTIALITY.

An American school teacher caused trouble when she, it is said, made disparaging remarks about the Filipino race. The first protest was against the teacher, who subsequently was dismissed. The "strike" continued to force the reinstatement of four student leaders who were expelled. The very students, doubtless encouraged by many parents, have caused something of an international problem.

Miss Grummitt, the dismissed teacher, was formerly of Valparaiso, Ind. She defended her action, saying that she had only reprimanded an unruly student and had told him that he "acted like an imbecile or a rig driver". She probably had ample reason for anger, but her remarks fired a political movement which doubtless will prove embarrassing to this government and will cause strained relations for a considerable time. Many American teachers will be affected.

Racial prejudice is a very dangerous thing, and he who stirs it up knows little of what may result.

the spot where great treaties have been signed and great personages have assembled. The average American prefers his accustomed warmth to tradition.

The evidence is that the pajama fad is obsolete. At least one would think so after reading that Governor Long of Louisiana apologized for receiving a visit of a German captain while thus attired.

Aerial weddings are illegal in Paris. And if a marriage goes up in the air, it is easy to declare it illegal, too.

A number of writers are condemning the American stop-and-go signals because of the delay involved. They probably are the type who enjoy disorder, and would like to be caught in traffic jams. Some folks hate orderliness—they are simply constituted that way.

Stimson Issues Surprise Message on Naval Tonnage

LONDON, March 6. (AP)—Statement by Secretary Stimson that the United States is willing to reduce its sea armaments by more than 200,000 tons—if the fleets of the other naval powers are reduced also—was the principal topic of discussion in naval conference circles today.

In a surprise announcement, Colonel Stimson said: "There seems to be an impression that the work of the American delegation at this conference is likely to result in an increase, instead of a reduction, in the tonnage of the navies of the world. The surest way to answer that is to give such results as seem to be within reach up-to-date."

"A plan which in its essentials appears to be acceptable to America and Great Britain provides for net reduction in tonnage of the American fleet in capital ships, cruisers, destroyers and submarines, building, or appropriated for, of over 200,000 tons, and an even larger reduction on the part of the British fleet."

"If the vessels authorized, but not commenced, were concluded in existing fleets, the amount of reduction would be much greater. Of course, these reductions are contingent upon some reductions being made in the fleets of the other powers."

French Floods Very Damaging

TOULOUSE, France, March 6. (AP)—Straight across Southern France from Beziers and Narbonne almost to the mouth of the Garonne flood waters today slowly receded, leaving behind them a spectacle of ruin and desolation that seldom has been equalled in French history.

The dead were estimated at more than 300, with between ten and twelve thousand others homeless, many of them with their entire possessions swept away. Property damage ran into billions of francs. Hundreds of towns and villages have been ravaged, thousands of houses destroyed, factories razed and vineyards and farms covered with a thick black slime of mud.

Why Few Are Fat

Excess fat has been disappearing fast in late years. So fast that excess fat is the exception now. You see that in every circle.

That change is largely due to the discovery that excess fat is largely the result of a gland weakness. A gland whose secretion helps turn food to fuel. So modern physicians, in treating obesity, seek to combat this cause.

Their method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Now almost everyone has slender friends to show them the results.

Go do what they do—try Marmola. All druggists supply it at $1 a box, and a book in each box tells you how and why it acts.

GRID BANQUET IS GOAL FOR SPRING WORK

Forty boys, most of whom are relatively inexperienced in football technique, are training daily under the direction of Assistant Coach A. M. Fox. Spring practice will continue for several weeks. Coach Odus Mitchell expects to give some time to it as soon as his track squad is able to practice unassisted. Serious study of football fundamentals is being carried out on the theory that the Class A Harvesters of the future will largely come from the lads who are training now. The boys are enthusiastic, and many of them hope to attain the stature and ability necessary to break into the first or second squads next fall.

Within a short time the big squad will be divided, and the two groups will practice for a spring game to which spectators will be admitted for a small charge. At the end of the spring training period it is expected that a banquet will be held for all the boys.

Coaches Mitchell and Fox hope to instill the value of keeping in good condition during summer months. With a stiff Class A schedule awaiting the Harvesters next fall, every step calculated to place a well conditioned team in the race must be taken. The season will open at Lubbock September 27 at Lubbock, and the Westerner will probably be one of the hardest opponents of the year.

Bartley Madden Killed by Fall

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6. (AP)—A fall of 20 feet from the steps of the treasury building during a sightseeing trip here brought to an end the career of Bartley Madden, 41-year-old Irish heavyweight who became famous for his staying qualities against championship contenders.

Madden died in a hospital here last night, a few hours after he had accidentally stepped off the incline. He had stopped for a day in the capital on his way to New York from Miami, where he had attended the Sharkey-Scott fight.

Prior to 1917, there were few Americans in his weight who could knock Madden down, and in later years he has stood up against all the heavyweight aspirants at one time or another.

Sonnenbeg Wins El Paso Match

EL PASO, March 6. (AP)—Gus Sonnenberg retained his title as heavyweight wrestling champion of the world today after defeating John (Doc) Spellman of Providence, R. I., here last night in straight falls. Spellman was the aggressor in the first fall and had Sonnenberg stumbling about the ring at one time, but the champion came back and butted and tackled his opponent into submission.

Moody Declares Drinking Is Going "Out of Style"

AUSTIN, Mar. 6. (AP)—Governor Moody is still the same staunch prohibitionist of yore, he has let it be known in answering a questionnaire sent to him by a New York newspaper.

He said prohibition had been a decided success in Texas and that there was by far less drinking now than ten years ago. Also, he declared drinking "is going out of style."

When the newspaper asked him for his solution of what is termed "the present prohibition tangle," he replied: "I do not recognize that there is any such thing as 'the present prohibition tangle.' There are some people who are opposed to prohibition and they would like to have these laws modified or altered."

He said the campaign to break down the prohibition laws was being waged by a small minority and that "the vast majority are not in sympathy with this campaign."

"The business of drinking liquor is fast going out of style in this country," he said, adding: "The great majority of the people believe that prohibition is a fixed and established policy of this country and they want it to continue as the established policy of the state and nation."

Simmons Will Ask Championship of Texas Loop

ABILENE, March 6. (AP)—Simmons university today awaited the meeting of Texas conference basketball officials in May to present its claim to a clear title as conference champion. All hope of deciding the championship by an extra play-off game was abandoned last night when the coaches of Simmons university and Southwestern university in a long distance telephone conversation failed to agree on a date and place for the proposed playoff game. The race for the title ended in a tie last week between Simmons and Southwestern.

THIS is the time of year when you need under you the best tires that money can buy.

You need the extra grip of clean-cut unworn new treads on icy streets and slippery roads; you need protection against the delays and annoyance of tire trouble in the cold.

You can have the extra safety and extra comfort you want now, and still have new-tire serviceability left for next summer, if you buy Goodyear Double Eagle Tires.

Their deep-cut sure-footed All-Weather Tread is almost double-thick; their extra-strong Supertwist Cord body is almost trouble proof—they are built, regardless of cost, to be the finest tires the world has ever seen.

Goodyear Double Eagle Tires cost of course a little more to buy; but tire prices are so low now that the little more they cost is more than offset by the extra security and extra mileage they give.

If you want a new experience in tire performance and tire satisfaction, just visit the nearest Goodyear Dealer and have him put Double Eagles on your car.

Goodyear can give you greater tire values because Goodyear builds more than $\frac{1}{4}$ of all the tires sold in America, the remainder being divided among some fifty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

Christian Missionary Society Holds Business Session and Program

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Christian church held an exceptionally interesting session yesterday afternoon, dividing the meeting period between business and study. Mrs. Bessie Martin, vice-president, was in the chair. She extended a gracious welcome to new members of the society, and visitors at the meeting.

Mrs. B. C. Fahy, chairman of a visiting committee reported that her three groups had called on 23 prospective members since the last meeting of the society.

The purpose and scope of a pre-Easter campaign of evangelistic nature to be conducted by the First Christian church were discussed by the Rev. F. W. O'Malley, pastor, and plans for the women's work in carrying on visits and a week of prayer services were perfected by the members. Mrs. B. C. Fahy was named as the society's representative to confer with the Young Matrons' Missionary society on plans for the week.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Martin of the approaching visit of Mrs. Belle McMasters, Fort Worth, state secretary of the W. M. S.

Mrs. C. M. Bryson was director of the program on "Witnesses to His Ministry." Mrs. Martin read the Scripture lessons, John 5:30 and 15:1-5, in which were revealed the sources of Jesus' power.

Mrs. H. D. Lewis spoke on the work of the church in the Congo, in a paper entitled "The Emerging Church." Mrs. Fahy reviewed in the missionary work in the Philippines. "The Church Board and its Problems" was the leader's topic. Mrs. W. A. Wilson sang a solo, "Teach Me Thy Will O Lord," which with hymns and prayers completed the program.

New members received at the meeting were: Mrs. Mel Davis, Mrs. Howard Cornelius, Mrs. D. C. Hawk, Mrs. L. P. Porter, and Mrs. F. W. O'Malley. Several visitors and a large group of the members were present.

Mrs. De Lea Vicars and Mrs. Charles Thomas were co-hostesses for the occasion, holding the meeting in Mrs. Vicars' home. They served dainty refreshments at the conclusion of the program.

All Day Quilting Meeting Held Monday by Cradle Roll Club

Mrs. L. W. Hardcastle was hostess to members of the Cradle Roll club and other friends at an all-day meeting Monday. The day was spent in making quilts, and at noon a covered dish luncheon was served, each member contributing a dish.

Club members and special guests were: Mrs. M. M. Rutherford, Mrs. Val Smith, Mrs. George Berlin, Mrs. O. J. McAlister, Mrs. W. L. McAlister, Mrs. A. Groening, Mrs. O. H. Gilstrap, Mrs. L. Anderson, Mrs. S. L. Anderson, Mrs. L. P. Norwood, Mrs. J. C. Bernard, Mrs. A. H. Gibson, Mrs. W. P. Prather, Mrs. A. Douglas Evans, Mrs. S. H. Goodman, and Miss Kate Anderson.

Wayside Club Hears Lecture by the Home Demonstration Agent

Miss Myrtle Miller, Gray county home demonstration agent, gave a lecture on poultry raising and marketing at the Tuesday meeting of Wayside club, advancing many suggestions to the members.

The meeting was held at Mrs. Tom Clayton's home, followed by a business session. Arrangements were made for an all-day meeting of Wayside, Coterie, and Laketon clubs at the home of Mrs. E. A. Shackleton, on March 17, where a buffet luncheon will be served and three programs presented. A food sale for next Saturday was planned as a benefit to the federation convention fund.

Mrs. Robert Montgomery was received as a member of the Wayside club. Mrs. Clayton was hostess to the group for a social hour, during which she served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jamison, their daughter, Lillian, and son, Carl, are to leave today for Waco, where they will visit the eldest son, Merle, who is a student in Baylor university. En route home they will visit in Fort Worth and Dallas. They expect to return Tuesday.

Episcopal Auxiliary Opens Weekly Lenten Meetings Wednesday

The first of a series of weekly Lenten meetings of the Woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Wm. M. Craven.

Mrs. S. G. Surratt opened the study of Basil Matthew's "The Road to the City of God," which she will direct through the season. The devotional was conducted by the Rev. John Leacher, pastor of the local Episcopal mission.

Mrs. J. W. Chenault of Fort Worth, a prominent worker in the Woman's auxiliary, gave a talk on mission work. Mrs. L. N. McCullough, Mrs. Chenault and the Rev. Leacher were the special guests at the meeting. Nine members were present.

An observance of the world day of prayer will be held in a service at Mrs. Craven's home at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with the Rev. Leacher in charge.

Poems and Drama of Edna St. Vincent Millay Topic of Club Program

One of the most interesting programs in the course on contemporary American literature being followed this year by the study group of the A. A. U. W. and College club was that on the work of Edna St. Vincent Millay, given Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. Campbell.

Mrs. H. P. Elliott opened the study with a biographical sketch and a review of writer's work. A detailed discussion of Miss Millay's plays was given by Mrs. E. Damon, followed by a synopsis of three of her best-known dramatic successes—"The Lamp and the Bell," "The King's Henchmen," and "Aria Da Capo." Quotations from these and other plays made her talk most enjoyable.

An illuminating sketch of the character of the poet's mother was given by Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, who also told of the environment in which Miss Millay and two famous sisters grew up.

Mrs. Paul F. Faw and Mrs. Curtis were received as new members of the club. Mrs. L. L. Sone was a visitor at the meeting. Mrs. Wm. T. Fraser presided during a brief business session.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Daniel of Portvenir are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mitchell. Mrs. Daniel is Mrs. Mitchell's sister. Little Miss Jane Daniel is spending the school term here with her aunt, attending East Ward school.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Henry of Paloduro are visiting Mrs. Henry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Pope, and Mr. Henry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Henry.

Two B. & P. W. Club Members Give Benefit for Building Fund

A bridge benefit for the building fund of the Business and Professional Women's club was given last evening by Mrs. Frank C. Allison and Mrs. F. P. McSkimming at the Canary Sandwich shop.

Each of the hostesses invested the half-dollar recently given her from the club treasury in refreshments and novelty favors, and sold tickets to her friends for the party.

Patrons of the benefit affair were: Mr. and Mrs. John L. Peake, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cates, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Scheig, Miss Ruth Anne Mitchell, Miss Wilma Behrends, Harry E. Hoare, F. P. Kennedy, Mr. Allison and Mr. McSkimming.

Miss Mitchell and Mr. Scheig made high scores and received small favors. Light refreshments were served at the close of the games.

Young Matrons of Christian Church Are Hostesses at Social

The Young Matrons' Missionary society of the First Christian church entertained last evening with a program and social gathering at the home of Judge and Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan, with husbands of the members as guests.

Mrs. Homer Kees was in charge of the worship service, and Mrs. P. D. Hill conducted the program. The following numbers were given.

"Discussion—"A Grain of Wheat," by Mrs. C. W. Stowell.

Paper—"The Future of Missionary Work in China," by Mrs. W. G. Kinzer.

Sketch—"Following a Missionary Doctor in China," by Mrs. J. W. Hutchins.

Poem—"Service," read by Mrs. Robert Gilchrist.

Hymn—by assembly.

Vocal duet—by Mrs. Robert Thomas and Miss Josephine Thomas.

Members and guests in attendance were the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kinzer, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kastahke, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Kees, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stowell, Mr. and Mrs. A. Blackley, Mrs. Ernest Sanders, Mrs. J. W. Hutchins, and Mrs. Robert Gilchrist.

"And O'er His Heart A SHADOW FELL,"
(Edgar Allan Poe, 1809-1849)

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*
By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper form, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

'It's toasted'
Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Admiral Tirpitz, Former Chieftain of German Navy, Dies

EBENHAUSEN, Bavaria, Mar. 6. (AP)—Admiral Albert Van Tirpitz, lord high admiral of the German navy during the war and father of Germany's submarine warfare, died in a sanatorium here today after a brief attack of bronchitis. He would have been 81 years old March 19.

The aged warrior, who sometimes was termed a German Odin, or war god of the seas, was in good health until about a week ago when the bronchial ailment took him down. He seemed to recover, but when his heart attack became weak he was brought from his home at Feldafing, on the banks of Starnberger lake, to this place, a suburb of Munich.

At Feldafing he has been leading the life of a retired soldier, occasionally lifting his voice in defense of the German republic. In 1925, while a deputy in the Reichstag, he went to Hanover and persuaded Field Marshal Paul von Hindenburg to accept the candidacy the German presidency.

From the time he was twenty until he broke with the Kaiser in 1916, Admiral Von Tirpitz' life was one of most intimate association with the German navy. He and Wilhelm were said to have come to the parting of the ways on the very submarine warfare which afterward led the United States into the war and probably contributed greatly to Germany's eventual defeat. Wilhelm was for a less vigorous and more offensive than Von Tirpitz.

Coalition Will Fight to Prevent Further Defeats

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6. (AP)—Jolted by a reversal on the sugar tariff, the senate coalition of Democrats and Republican Independents was jiriding itself today to protect its other victories in the grueling tariff controversy.

All of the high spots in the voluminous tariff bill are coming up for final votes in the closing hours of the six months debate. On the first of these final roll calls yesterday, the senate agreed to increase the tariff on Cuban sugar from 1.76 cents a pound to two cents.

The sugar increase was voted, 47 to 39. Previously the senate had voted 48 to 38 against an increase to 2.20 cents a pound. There were charges of a "trade" among senators interested in sugar, lumber and oil duties, but this was stoutly denied.

Second roll calls are to come on the attempts to take lumber and cement off the free list; to retain the duty on brick; to give a tariff to hides, leather and shoes, and on a multitude of other controversial rates. Most of these were settled by narrow margins before.

Rash Romance by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEG! HERE TODAY

JUDITH CAMERON, New York typist, marries ARTHUR KNIGHT, executive of the publishing house in which she is employed. Knight is a widower with a daughter, TONY, 18, and a son, JUNIOR, 16. When Tony returns from Paris she denounces Judith as a gold digger. Her father makes her apologize. When Junior comes home for Christmas holidays he is equally unfriendly.

ANDY CRAIG, a young man whom Knight has aided, takes a position with the publishing house. He is in love with Tony and calls on her frequently. Tony tries to convince her father that Judith and Andy are carrying on an affair. She tricks the pair into a compromising situation.

Tony is carrying on a flirtation with MICKEY MORTIMER, wealthy and married. This is revealed when they are arrested at 3 a. m. for reckless driving. Tony and her father quarrel over this but finally the girl is forgiven. Knight contracts pneumonia and is dangerously ill for a long while. Junior comes home and before he leaves he admits to Judith he has misjudged her. Knight's recuperation is slow and Judith is resentful because he seems to prefer Tony's company to hers.

A letter for Judith arrives at the house and Tony takes it. Later she follows Judith on a trip into the city and sees her meet a young man. Next day Tony threatens to tell her father of the affair. Judith, believing the girl knows more than she does, promises to do anything Tony asks to prevent this.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIX

Judith drew back instinctively. "Go away?" she repeated. "You mean—GO AWAY?"

Tony's voice continued coolly and tranquilly.

"Yes," she said. "Go away for two weeks. That would be long enough. You can find some excuse easily. But you'll have to leave tonight!"

"I can't!" Judith protested. "What would Arthur think? Besides, I don't see what difference two weeks could make."

The other girl shrugged indifferently.

shoulders. "Just as you like," she answered. "Remember you said you'd do anything I asked. Two weeks will suit my purposes, providing they begin at once. Otherwise, it will probably be quite a blow to father when he hears—that I have to tell him."

The effect of this was as desired. Judith's fingers had gone icy. She clasped and released them. Panic showed in her face as well as in her voice. For one unbelieving instant she stared. Then she said barely above a whisper: "I'll do it!"

"That's settled then. And you'll go away tonight?"

Judith shot the younger girl a quick glance.

"Have I your promise," she asked tremblingly, "that if I do this you will not tell your father one single word of what you know?"

Judith Knight, like most of the rest of the whole world, made the mistake of judging others by her own standards. Because a promise given was sacred to her she assumed it would be sacred to Arthur's daughter. This was her share of the ill-conceived bargain. She waited now for Tony's answer.

It came unqualifiedly.

"Certainly. You have money. I suppose? If not, I'll be able to arrange that. How much do you think you'll want?"

"I shall not want money," Judith said, with a relic of her spent pride. Money—going away—details of this sudden banishment jumbled before her eyes. Dollar bills, her purse and unfolding railroad tickets all began a grotesque, maddening dance. They leered at her. Somewhere in the distance behind them was Arthur Knight watching gravely and accusingly.

"Take me home!" Judith cried in a voice touched with hysteria.

Without a word Tony started the car. The roadster turned and began the drive homeward.

Several times the younger girl cast quick, sidelong glances at her companion. She wondered what Judith was thinking. The situation was unsatisfying. Tony wanted to hear Judith break forth in angry phrases as she herself would have been done. There would have been triumph in bringing about an exhibit of wrath.

Judith Knight's face had become inscrutable. Tony stirred uncomfortably. She could not even be sure Judith was sorry to go. Was it possible—hateful thought—that what she had done was not going to wound Judith?

Tony could not bear uncertainty.

"If you want me to help you pack or anything I'll be glad to," she said sweetly.

Judith turned. It was as though she had forgotten she was not alone.

"Thank you," she said. "It's quite unnecessary."

And not another word could Tony Knight get from her during the 20-minute drive. The roadster halted at the side of the house and both girls stepped out. Tony mumbled something about using the car later. She hurried did not wait to hear. She hurried up the steps and into the house.

"There was a call for you, Ma'am," Harriet came forward as she heard the door open. "A Miss Carter, she said it was."

"Miss Carter? Oh yes, of course. About the new drapes she had ordered for Arthur's bedroom."

Judith shook her head.

"Never mind about it now, Harriet. I'll talk to her tomorrow morning."

The maid withdrew. Judith went up the stairway. She did not turn back to glance at Tony.

Another falsehood on her conscience. Of course she was not going to talk to Miss Carter or anyone else tomorrow morning about details of Arthur Knight's home. But it was only a little falsehood. It couldn't hurt anyone. That was not like the big falsehood, the one she herself had been living!

Judith opened the door of her lovely blue and ivory boudoir and stepped inside. She closed the door softly behind her and then leaned against it weakly.

Tonight! How could she possibly go away tonight?

The whirlpool that had been surging in Judith's brain leaped and beat madly.

Tonight—going away—Arthur must not know!—quick, at once—so much to do—Tony—hurry, hurry!

The girl put one hand to her head, vaguely trying to shut out the hateful images. There was no use. The images persisted.

Sunlight glinted through the creamy glass curtains and played on the warm taupe surface of the rug. It made a pool of pure gold just the size of the square space between the sill and the half-pulled shade. There was a bowl of frezias, pale and fragrant, standing on the bedside table beside the small lamp with its pleated taffeta shade. Judith's eyes turned toward that silken shade. She had loved its ruddy raspberry hue from the first minute she saw it. Now she stared at the silken tulle.

Wearily the girl drew away from the door and sank into the chair which was nearest her.

"It's all been a lie—all of it!" she sobbed, hiding her face in her hands.

Several seconds passed. Judith's moving shoulders were the only sign of her grief. She did not cry out. When she raised her head her eyes were red-rimmed but the tears had ceased. She did not weep again that afternoon.

"I'll go now!" Judith told herself in a sudden frenzy of energy. There was no time to plan or think. The quicker the ordeal was over the better. "Not tonight—now!"

She knew that she could not endure another evening at that dinner table downstairs, another period of sitting in the same room with Arthur, listening to him talk, seeing him, and feeling so far, far removed from the happiness they had once known.

Frantically Judith attacked dresser drawers and the closet in which her clothes hung. She was not packing sensibly. She was answering a primitive call which demanded action as surcease of pain. Her hands moved clumsily, and garments which she did not want fell from their hangers. The frock she was reaching for hung at the farthest end of the closet.

Clothes! She had not realized before how many gowns and coats and hats she owned. All of them were very elegant, smartly made, of excellent materials. They were expensive, and only a part of the wealth Arthur Knight had lavished on her. Judith repaid him with a lie!

She tumbled in the clothes closet until at last she brought forth the dress she was looking for. It was a bluishgray jersey made with a skirt and blouse in one piece. Judith held the dress to the light.

It was worn and the pleats in its skirt were skimpy and out of press. It was a forlorn little frock to be found in such an assemblage of finery. Judith had worn it during the days when she was working in Arthur Knight's office.

There was a coat there, too—a black coat which had seemed quite respectable with its fur collar and simple, conservative lines in the days when it had been Judith's only wrap. Now it looked exactly what it was—a coat from the $65 rack, after six months wear.

The ugliness of the garments seemed to please Judith. She clutched them to her, bore them to the bed and dumped them upon it. Then hastily she began to undress.

Even the hand-made, gossamer lingerie came off, and in its place Judith donned her plainest, silk knit underthings. They were not, truthfully, a part of the wardrobe Judith had owned before her marriage. They were simple, though, and not a reminder of Arthur Knight's wealth.

She chose a pair of black pumps with sensible walking heels, slipped them on her feet and then pulled the jersey dress over her head.

There was a small black traveling bag which had made the trip to Bermuda. Into this Judith stuffed additional lingerie, pajamas, and hose. She dashed into the bath room and came back with cold cream, powder, a tooth brush and one or two other supplies.

Her entire preparations had taken less than a half-hour. Judith was quite dry-eyed now. Working had taken her mind from herself.

Mechanically, answering the demands of habit, she went to the clothes closet and straightened the garments which in haste she had twisted away. She gathered up the shoes she had kicked off and placed them on the rack. When the closet was in order Judith shut the door and turned the latch.

The hands on her wrist watch pointed herself and drew out writing material. There was no time to lose and yet there was one thing which Judith knew she must do. She went to the desk, seated herself and drew wout writing materials. She lifted out the metal box which contained her letters, carried it to her traveling bag and dropped it inside. Then she came back to the desk and staked up a pen.

"Dear Arthur," she wrote.

Judith hesitated. For several moments she was as far as she could get. Then she began to write rapidly:

"Something has happened very unexpectedly which is taking me away for a short time. I am sorry I cannot even say goodby. Please do not worry about me. I shall be quite all right, though, I will be worried over whether or not you are taking your medicine and doing all the doctor says."

"It is hard to go away but I know it is best. What I am doing I am sure will make both of us happier. Please believe me."

Devotedly, JUDITH

She read the note through, folded it and slid it into an envelope. On this she wrote, "Mr. Arthur Knight."

Judith did not notice the single tear drop which fell on the envelope, playing the "v" in "Knight" into a vague ink mark. She pulled on her coat and the little felt hat she had worn with it.

The little survey in the mirror. Judith Knight walked out of the room looking exactly like Judith Cameron five months earlier.

She walked very cautiously. The sound of her footsteps on the stairs could have been heard (though she tried so hard to move softly) but there was no one about to hear. Knight was still dictating to Miss Tupper.

Judith laid the envelope addressed to her husband upon a table in the hall. It would be impossible for him to miss it there. Then, quietly, she opened the front hall door and stepped out.

Fifteen minutes later a train, with Judith aboard, pulled out of the station.

TANLAC FREES JOHN BURKHARDT OF STOMACH TROUBLES

Flat on Back, Sleepy Medicine Puts Him Back on Job

In a few days quicker than you ever thought possible—that super medicine—Tanlac—restores its merit. And amazing though it may seem, the more stubborn and unyielding the case may be, the more remarkable is the work that Tanlac does in strengthening out weak disordered stomachs. It's a real medicine formulated according to modern medical science—that's why—not just a "patent medicine" that makes a lot of ridiculous claims to cure everything. Tanlac was prepared for the specific purpose of strengthening the ailing organs of digestion and because every ingredient in it is designed for helping the good work along, it has won easy victories where everything else has failed. And remember this, when stomach troubles are ended you'll be absolutely amazed at the way bowel troubles, constipation, dizziness, headaches, and even rheumatism usually disappear completely. Tanlac has brought glorious new health to hundreds right here in this town. Among the recent cases is Mr. John Burkhardt who says: "I was flat on my back when I started taking Tanlac. A few doses began to improve my appetite, my digestion grew better and I was soon back on the job." Every mail brings enthusiastic letters of testimonial—52,000,000 bottles have been sold. Guaranteed by all the druggists so accept no substitute.

INVITATION TRACK MEET WILL BE HELD HERE MARCH 22, WHEN MANY SCHOOLS WILL COMPETE

Central high school track men are training hard in the expectation of participating in an invitation meet to be held here March 22.

Coach Mitchell said last night that he would issue invitations to Amarillo, Panhandle, Borger, Miami, Clarendon, Memphis, and probably other schools. A new track is being built at the athletic park. The invitation meet will precede by one week the Gray county meet that is to be held here.

Daily practices are being held by the track squad. Weedman is training for the mile and half, and Charles James is specializing in the half-mile effort. Jim Ayres, Lard, Martindale, Don Saulsbury, and James have their eyes on the quarter mile. The relay team probably will be chosen from this group.

The dash men are Lard, Martindale, Jim Ayres, Doucette, Keith, and Leo Saulsbury. Jim Ayres, Lard, Braly, and Martindale will try the hurdles. In the high jump will be Henry Ayres, Martindale, Jim Ayres, and Moore.

The weight events will be entered by Don Saulsbury, Henry Ayres, Carl English, and Tom Braly. Milton and Twiford are showing up well in the pole vault, and Jim Ayres is trying this among other events.

The track squad will be joined by other men now in spring football practice. Places on the track line-up are not clinched, and preliminary work has been with the idea of letting each man find the events to which he is best suited.

Club Mayfair Members and Others Are Guests of Mrs. R. G. Hughes

Mrs. R. G. Hughes entertained Club Mayfair members and other guests at bridge yesterday afternoon, having three tables in play at her home.

A shamrock motif and suggestions of St. Patrick's day were developed attractively in details of the party. Tiny spring bouquets, tied with tulle and showered with shamrocks, were plate favors.

Mrs. C. E. Pollard made top cut at the close of the games, when favors were presented Mrs. Clyde Fatheree and Mrs. E. Damon for high and low scores, respectively.

Players, other than those named, were: Mrs. Arthur Swanson, Mrs. T. R. Martin, Mrs. George Gill, Mrs. Biggs Horn of Amarillo, Mrs. W. E. Coffee, Mrs. Clinton Henry of Paloduro, Mrs. J. M. Dodson, Miss Ruth Anne Mitchell and Miss Dorothy Pollard.

Watkins Wrestles Clingman Tonight

When Tex Watkins (above) was the wrestling championship of the navy in 1928 and 1929, he was known not only for his ferocity but for his amazing technique and speed. The Navy Magazine says that in the finals his was the easiest won victory in the history of navy wrestling. "There has never been and doubtless never will be a champion like Tex Watkins," the article says.

Tonight will be the second match between Watkins and Clingman. Once they wrestled for an hour and twenty minutes without either obtaining a fall. "I was so sore for three days I could hardly move a muscle," Clingman says. Unnecessary roughness will be barred tonight.

In the time limit match, Tarzan Knight the Tumbler will take on Tiger Taylor, who wrestled Clingman last Thursday night.

Small differences between business men can start big differences which will prevent those men from ever working together again in harmony.

Home Loyalty Is Called Vital to New Industry

"The loyalty that people of Pampa and this trade territory show toward home-town merchants now is an important determining factor in the location of jobbing houses, wholesale houses and factories in Pampa," said F. M. Gwin in a talk to the Rotary club yesterday noon. One of the first things the factory man of jobber looks for is the loyalty of the people to home industries," he continued.

Instances were cited of thousands of dollars going out of Pampa for products which were available in Pampa. Until Pampa people support local businesses more completely it will be hard to interest outside capital to invest in Pampa.

George W. Briggs, who followed Mr. Gwin, emphasized the importance of proper co-operation in the working of every organization or movement. "Pampa is in the most critical period of its existence now," said Mr. Briggs. "We must not do anything which will hinder the growth and advancement. He pointed out the ease with which

Markets

Wheat Is Weak
CHICAGO, March 6. (P)—Affected by downturns at Liverpool and Buenos Aires, wheat here averaged lower early today, with rye out doing previous bottom price records for the season. Opening unchanged to 1 1-2 off, Chicago wheat futures afterward pursued an irregular downward course. Corn, oats and provisions were also weaker, with corn starting 1-4-7-8 off and subsequently declining more. Wheat closed unsettled 3-8 to 1c net higher, corn 1-4 to 1 1-8c down, oats at a shade decline to 1-4c gain, and provisions showing 5 to 15c drop.

Charged Man Kills Self
WACO, March 6. (P)—Otto Hardin, held on a complaint of a Waco mother who alleged he had kidnaped her 15-year-old daughter, was found dead in the county jail here today. Justice Aubrey Morris held death was caused by a poison. At the time of Hardin's arrest, the girl denied she had been kidnaped.

SHERIFF—

whiskey, as far as I can learn," the sheriff stated. "The partly-full pint bottles of whiskey were found on two men that the officers did not arrest. The man that made the raid over-estimated the amount of whiskey he got by fourteen and one-half gallons when he said he seized fifteen gallons of whiskey."

"I have ample proof that he got only three pint bottles of whiskey and two of them were only half full and the other was not full. As far as the 'jake' is concerned, well, every drug store in town is allowed to handle 'jake,' just as all drug stores are allowed to sell it for medicinal purposes. He says he got 2,000 bottles of 'jake.' That doesn't mean anything as far as violating the prohibition law is concerned."

"The arrests and search warrants showed that there were under-cover men here about a month ago. Those 23 persons were arrested on evidence obtained by the federal agents here at that time. "But the point in this raid is that they unexpectedly searched 18 places in Pampa and never got a gallon of whiskey, according to the investigation I've made. They found no whiskey being sold in any of the places. I'll bet Mr. Butthod could search one hotel in Amarillo or Fort Worth and find a hundred times as much whiskey."
