Senate Refuses Tariff On Oil Fifth Time by Single Vote Margin

SENATOR PINE SPONSORS BILL IN 38-37 VOTE

Arizona Is Criticized in Turn for His Severity

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—After the senate today had refused for the fifth time a tariff on oil...

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—For the fifth time the senate today refused to place a tariff on oil and gasoline...

The vote was on a proposal by Senator Pine, Republican, Oklahoma, to levy a duty of 40 cents a barrel on crude oil...

The same amendment was defeated, 32 to 28 Wednesday night and again last night without a record vote.

Amendments by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, for rates of $1 and 50 per cent, respectively, on oil and by products, were defeated by more decisive votes previously.

It was the closest advocates came to getting their tariff.

Nine Democrats voted with 28 Republicans for the duty, while 17 Republicans and 21 Democrats opposed it.

The fifth attempt for the oil duty brought an attack from Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, on its sponsors. The Arizona in return was admonished by Vice President Curtis for using severe language.

Before the roll was taken Ashurst protested against the sudden revival of the attempt for the oil tariff last night by Senator Pine.

"When I was at the bar," Ashurst said, "tactics such as have been employed here on oil would have been severely denounced."

Jury to Receive Doheny Case Some Time Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Justice William H. Hays announced today the case of Edward L. Doheny, charged with bribing Albert B. Fall, former cabinet officer, would go to the jury tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Continuing his fervent plea to the jury that Edward L. Doheny be freed of a charge of bribery, Frank Hogan, chief of defense counsel, began his arguments today with an explanation of the Pearl Harbor Hawaii naval oil storage contract.

The Pearl Harbor contract gave a Doheny company preference to the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil lease subject to certain conditions. This preference was regarded as mandatory.

The government charges that Doheny gave Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, a bribe of $100,000 to influence his award of the Elk Hills oil lands to Doheny interests and that the Pearl Harbor contract was arranged so that the man on trial would get the valuable properties in California.

'HARDBOILED' MAN HAS ESCAPED JAIL

AMARILLO, March 21. (AP)—Jack Green and L. B. (Hard-boiled) Smith, who escaped from the Potter county jail yesterday, were recaptured at Signal Hill, deserted oil town four miles east of Stinnett, shortly after midnight and returned to jail here today.

The men were arrested in the town's only building, and a man that resided in it was placed in jail at Stinnett on a charge of aiding and abetting the prisoners in their escape.

The escape of "Hardboiled" Smith from the Potter county jail at Amarillo yesterday put local police officers on their guard because Smith has written threatening letters to members of the force.

Smith was arrested last August in a raid on a South Pampa rooming house conducted by police officers, headed by I. P. Collier. He was charged with the possession and sale of narcotics and removed to the Amarillo jail by a U. S. deputy marshal. In the raid police also seized a check-raising machine and a quantity of drugs.

Smith made bond in Amarillo and was released from jail, but was arrested and placed in jail again because he left the state. He failed to make bond again and was kept with another prisoner in a remote and isolated cell. Jailors said the two men were their "toughest prisoners."

The arrest of Smith last summer marked the break-up of an alleged "dope ring." More than 25 drug addicts were forced to leave after Smith and others were arrested and turned over to the federal authorities.

Local police have in their possession letters from Smith in which he threatened their lives "if ever gets out of jail." While in the local jail, police said that he failed in many ruses to break out, and finally offered bribes.

WACO WOMAN DIES IN BLAZE AT HER HOUSE

WACO, March 21. (AP)—Mrs. Cecil Smith, 21, lost her life and Mrs. Frank Ledwell was burned critically in a fire that destroyed the Smith home here early today.

Mrs. Smith died in a hospital a few hours after she was taken from her burning home. Little hope was held for the recovery of Mrs. Ledwell.

The women were alone in the house when the fire was discovered by neighbors who heard their screams. They hurried to their rescue, but were held back some time by the flames.

Men Arrested for Theft of Autos Taken to Amarillo

SEMINOLE, Okla., March 21. (AP)—L. D. Coyle and W. D. Adams, arrested here by chief of police Jake Sims, last night were taken to Amarillo, Texas, where police said they were wanted on charges of stealing a motor car and forgery.

Seminole police tonight said the men had confessed to crimes lodged against them in Oklahoma and Texas. The car they are charged with stealing was found at Granbury, Texas, where they told police they had abandoned it, Chief Sims said.

Baptist Men Will Assemble Tonight

There will be a mass meeting of men of the First Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock, it was announced by the Rev. John Lee Harris, acting pastor.

The meeting scheduled to be held one week ago was postponed on account of the rain. A full representation of the men of the church is desired at the church, parlor tonight.

TWO DIE IN PLANE CRASH SUGAR CITY, Colo., March 21

Two men were burned to death near here today when their airplane crashed in landing and caught fire.

The plane was piloted by H. Ray Sinden, 35, and carried Harry Abel, 45. Both were burned to death before assistance could reach them.

Mrs. Blake to Quit Boarding House

BY GILBERT SWAN NEA Service Writer NEW YORK, March 21.—There will be no more boarding house cares and worries in the life of Mrs. Ella Blake.

This gentle, white-haired woman of 60, whose life has been one long routine of labor to keep a family of nine afloat, can take down the "board and room" sign when she gets back to her Texas town.

Bitterly ironic though it may seem, her deliverance has come out of harrowing tragedy. From beyond the grave her boy, Robert Blake, has provided the opportunities for comfort and rest that he did not give her in life. It is as though, in those hours when death stalked the corridors of the bleak Texas prison cell in which he waited the executioner, Robert had been inspired into the creation of a legacy which would, in some slight measure, compensate for the pain his violent end would bring to those who had loved him most.

He penned a remarkable human document, "The Law Takes Its Toll," which found its way into a magazine and which caused John Wesley to write the grim death house play, "The Last Mile," now an outstanding success in New York.

And so the motherly Mrs. Blake let her boarding house go for a while and came one day to mingle with the casual crowds of Broadway; came to sit with the crowds in the theater and watch other men tell the story of what had happened to her boy before he marched to the electric chair; came to collect her share of the legacy her son had left.

All these things she has done, and now she can go back. Now that her mission has ended and she has sat face to face with the brutal pantomime of the death house, she feels that some lesson may be learned by the world.

"I only hope that the people who sit in the theater night after night will learn what a terrible thing it is to kill a boy in the electric chair."

On the night when she quietly made her way to her seat in the darkened theater, no one in the crowd knew that a drama was going on within a drama: a scene which few dramatists would be capable of properly setting down.

The settlement of her share of the royalties, by the way, will amount to $25,000. It is estimated quite enough to make it possible for her to close up her boarding house in Amarillo, Texas.

FREESTONE COUNTY STIRRED BY DEVELOPMENTS AS RANGERS PROBE ATTEMPT TO BURN YOUNG WOMAN

FAIRFIELD, March 21. (AP)—Freestone county, which had not fully regained its equilibrium since 20 of its citizens were indicted on liquor conspiracy charges, today found its peace officers, aided by Texas Rangers, investigating an occurrence which promised to be more than unusual.

The occurrence was the alleged attempt to burn to death Miss Wilma Jones, slight 23-year-old brunette, in a hotel room here. Her whereabouts today were known only to officers. G. S. Moore, prominent business man of Oakwood, 25 miles south of here, was at liberty under $1,000 bail on charges of assault to murder and arson in connection with the attack.

State Rangers, who go where perplexities are most numerous, were working on the case today. Sergeant J. B. Whetsley and Ranger B. M. Gault were up at dawn and lost no time in swinging into action. They had in fact, gone to see Miss Jones immediately upon their arrival late last night.

The young woman clung to the story she related shortly after her experience. She had been asleep in her room in the Cook hotel, she said. When she awoke about midnight, her feet were bound and tied to the footpost of her bed and her hands were covered with a towel, she related.

"I awoke as some one was pressing his left hand on my chest and stuffing one of my stockings into my mouth," she said. "The stocking had stopped my voice before I could scream. I could not see who was in the room, but I am sure there were two of them. I do not have any idea who they were. I heard a noise as of matches being struck. Then I smelled smoke. I managed to roll off the bed and lay on the floor until rescued.

The woman said she had known Moore for several years. She claimed the check on which the forgery charge was based was made in payment for an operation she had undergone several weeks ago.

Farm Board Is Denounced for Its Cotton Program

GALVESTON, Mar. 21. (AP)—Branding the federal agriculture marketing act as socialism, John K. Dorrance, president of the Texas Cotton association, condemned it as an attempt of the government to better one class of people at the expense of the other classes, in his address before the nineteenth annual convention here today.

Dorrance declared the farm board had ignored officers of expert cotton men and charged it had made false and misleading statements which have confused marketers and caused depression instead of stability in the industry and had failed to announce any definite policy of procedure.

Strange Death of Post Man Is Probed by Jury

LUBBOCK, March 21. (AP)—A Garza county grand jury today began an investigation of the strange death of J. T. Henson, 60, found with his neck broken in the rear seat of an automobile in Post last night.

W. S. Sawyer, 35, and Walter Julian, 28, mill workers, said they, in company with Henson, had taken an automobile ride and upon returning to their homes climbed from the front seat of the car, but noticed Henson did not move.

Henson has resided in Garza county for a number of years. He was survived by two children.

Texas Company Employe Succumbs

I. E. Lamb, 30, an employe of the Texas company, died at a local hospital at 10:45 o'clock last night, after an illness of only a few hours. He had walked into the hospital about noon yesterday for treatment.

The body is at the G. C. Malone Funeral home, whence it will be sent tomorrow to Lamb's former home at Oblong, Ill. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Evaline Lamb of Oblong, but nothing is known here of other relatives.

SULPHUR TAX FINALLY GOES TO GOVERNOR

Moody Will Cut Bills to Conform With Revenues

SCHOOLS ARE GRANTED FUNDS

Peddlers Must Pay to State Part of Earnings

AUSTIN, March 21. (AP)—The senate finally beat the house down to 55 cents on a sulphur tax, and the fifth special session of the legislature wound up by appropriating $1,234,174 for emergency needs of summer schools, eleemosynary institutions, departments, and the penitentiary system.

Governor Moody was left with the responsibility after all of paring appropriations to meet available revenues. The legislature, after 204 days of intermittent service, quit early today. Sine die adjournment was voted at 1:42 a. m.

The appropriation bill as passed would never be recognized in comparison with the bills proposed by the house and the senate. The senate measure appropriated approximately $5,000,000, while the house pared this amount to approximately $2,000,000. This amount was further cut by a meeting in the afternoon and later reduced to its present figure.

All of the appropriations were slashed approximately one-half with the exception of the funds allotted to Eleemosynary institutions which were left intact.

Report Not Accepted

With the session fast waning, the conference committees on the sulphur bill finally agreed to a tax of 55 cents per long ton on sulphur. At one time, just about an hour before the time set for adjournment, the senate conferees reported to the senate they were unable to agree, but the report was not accepted, and the committee continued its discussion.

The franchise tax committee agreed comparatively early in the evening on a bill, but spent several hours in re-drafting the measure. As passed it placed utility corporations in a separate class from other corporations. Under the bill the utilities will pay on the basis of net assets. They will pay a tax of 65 cents per $1,000 on the first $1,000,000; 45 cents per $1,000 on the next $1,000,000, and 30 cents per $1,000 on each $1,000,000 over this amount.

Other corporations will pay on the basis of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits and will pay 60 cents per $1,000 on the first $1,000,000, and 30 cents per $1,000 for each million thereafter.

The tax is expected to yield approximately $400,000 more than the present franchise measure. The 55-cent tax on sulphur is expected to yield approximately $800,000 additional revenue.

Peddlers Taxed

Another bill placing a tax on itinerant peddlers was passed a few minutes before the end of the session in the senate. It previously had been passed in the house. This measure was expected to raise approximately $50,000 in revenue.

The free conference committee reported (See SULPHUR, Page 6)

Law and Order League Announces Another Meeting

Another meeting to further what is advertised as the Law and Order League ticket will be held this evening, it was announced today. Tonight's session will be held at the First Christian church.

It was stated that the candidates, R. C. Campbell for mayor and J. G. Gantz and Chas. Kentling for commissioners, would speak, and that Judge G. S. Wortman would make an address.

The purpose of the effort, spokesmen asserted, is to run the criminal bootlegger out of local politics.

AMARILLO TEAMS WIN DEBATES HERE

Both boys' and girls' debating teams of Amarillo high school defeated the Pampa high school squads in a practice debate at Central auditorium last night.

The decision was given by Seth Rollins, critic-judge, a student of West Texas State Teachers college. Mr. Rollins outlined the faults and mentioned the good points made by the speakers in their arguments. He said that Warren Woods of the Amarillo team was the best high school debater he had ever heard.

Although arguments, delivery and usage of the Pampa boys' team drew criticism from him, he said the boys were potentially good debaters. He also cited chief points which the negative, Pampa, failed to weaken. Similar criticism was made of the Pampa girls' team. Mr. Rollins said chief weaknesses of the Pampa teams were in their delivery and their failure to overcome affirmative arguments.

The Amarillo teams included: girls, Lola Pascoe and Frances McNeil; boys, Warren Woods and Jack Roach. The Pampa teams were: girls, Ruth Wakeman and Vivian Vickers; boys, Sam Kieth and Charles Frost.

Convict Wounds Two Guards and Effects Escape

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 21. (AP)—Four hours after Thomas Barnes and Lee Hudgens shot and wounded two guards and escaped from Speigner prison early today, Barnes' body was left by Hudgens at the home of H. C. Swearingen here.

A bullet had pierced Barnes' heart, but the manner in which he was shot was a mystery to officers. Swearingen said that after dumping the body on the floor of the kitchen, Hudgens drove off in an automobile without explanation. Fearing Hudgens was armed, Swearingen said he made no effort to molest him. Hudgens' family resides but a block from Swearingen.

The pistol with which Barnes shot B. F. Baltzer and J. D. Richardson, guards at the prison, was believed to be in possession of Hudgens, together with a quantity of ammunition.

First reports reaching the county jail here were that Barnes had escaped county officers, headed by Sheriff John L. Scogin, in a pistol battle, but pending return of the officers this could not be verified.

HIGGINS' LIONS CLUB IS NEWEST

Pampa Lions will send a delegation to Higgins March 27 to attend the presentation of a charter to a new club there.

The Higgins club is the youngest in the Panhandle, and is sponsored by the Shattuck organization.

The local luncheon program yesterday comprised two speeches. The first was by Lion Sam Fenberg, who gave an instructive talk on diamonds—their discovery, mining, cutting, marketing, and imperishable value. The second talk was by Chas. C. Cook, who gave a summary of the efforts to obtain a new railroad, climaxed by the recent hearing in Washington.

Visitors yesterday were Mr. Cook, Bill Holmes, and Frank Lowther.

Brown was represented by Douglas and Ledbetter.

The civil suit of the First National bank to foreclose on a note held by Miss Beulah Allred was set for a hearing Monday.

Restoration Bill Passes WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The French resolution to provide $300,000 to complete restoration of the old Iriate Constitution was adopted unanimously today by the house.

C. V. TERRELL CHAIRMAN OF SESSION HERE

Danciger Asserts Plan Opposed by the Independents

OIL SCOUT SAYS WASTE EXISTS

Jack Davis Points Out Earthen Storage Expensive

Evidence intended to prove that there is enough waste of oil and gas in the flush areas of Gray, Carson and Hutchinson counties to justify the state railroad commission in placing a proration order in effect was submitted this morning by major oil companies at a hearing being held in the Rose building.

After delay, the hearing finally got under way at 11 o'clock with approximately 500 operators, producers and royalty owners, most of whom were independents, in attendance. C. Vernon Terrell is presiding at the meeting, and is the only member of the commission present. He was accompanied by R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division.

The expected opposition to any sort of proration plan was voiced at the beginning of the meeting by Joe Danciger, who declared that the action of the major companies in asking for the hearing was protested by the independents. He said that those he represented did not believe there was any waste present in the Panhandle, and that they were opposed to any proration plan. He then delivered a sharp attack on what he termed as the "faithlessness" of the major companies.

Wants No Demonstrations Commissioner Terrell asked the operators to "desist in demonstrations and enthusiasm" when Danciger was loudly cheered after his speech. Mr. Terrell then announced that no one would be allowed to make extemporaneous speeches, and that the hearing testimony would be placed in the hands of the attorneys for the majors and independents.

R. A. Underwood of Amarillo announced that the firm of Underwood Johnson, Dooley, and Simpson would represent about 40 independents. A. C. Smith, attorney for The Texas company, said that he was representing the major oil companies. About 20 witnesses representing both sides were sworn in. Following legal procedure, Judge Terrell informed Mr. Smith that he was ready to hear testimony.

The first witness called to the stand to show that waste exists in the flush areas of the Panhandle was Jack Davis, scout for the Humble Oil and Refining company.

Davis Cites Statistics Mr. Davis testified that if the 122 wells now drilling in Gray, Carson and Hutchinson counties are completed on schedule time, that is around May 2, the production of those counties will jump to 150,000 barrels by May 2. There are now 12 wells in Carson, nine in Gray, and three in Hutchinson that have been drilled into the pay and cannot be completed due to lack of pipe line connections, he stated.

Carson county has two wells on top of the pay and Gray has seven. Davis said, and all are shut down due to lack of pipeline connections. In Mr. Davis' opinion, no field tankage can be leased in the Panhandle at this time.

In the matter of drilling wells, Mr. Davis said that Carson has 25, Gray 72, Hutchinson 31. Of the drilling wells in Gray county, 32 are in the Marland-Finley area, 14 are in the Pan-Tex area of Hutchinson county, and three are in the Empire-Fields area of Carson county. The total production of these wells if brought in would be, based on production of offset wells, 60,000 barrels, with 50,000 barrels in the Marland-Finley area, 3,000 in the Empire-Fields area and 7,000 in the Pan-Tex area.

Big Potential Production Mr. Davis testified that present potential production of the three counties is 113,000 barrels, and that if the

FOR A CHANGE

Texas will likely not have to watch legislators for a while, but the 42nd legislature will convene next January. It has been demonstrated that a state governing body of three main parts—house, senate and governor can have so many checks that little progress is made.

Under the present system, the legislature meets biennially for an indefinite time. During the first 60 days in session the pay of the legislators is $5 per day, and thereafter the per diem remuneration is $2. When meeting under special calls of the governor, however, the pay is $5 daily. The average cost of a special session is about $100,000. It has cost the state much under the Moody regime to learn that the legislators could not agree on most major problems.

On next November 4, at the general election, Texans will vote on a constitutional amendment which would revise the schedule of the legislature and the pay of the legislators. The legislature would meet every two years, but the regular session would last 120 days and the pay per day would be $10. For longer sessions the daily stipend would drop to $5.

The amendment, moreover, would considerably revise the schedule of work. The first thirty days would be devoted to introduction of bills and resolutions, acting on emergency appropriations, passing on recess appointments of the governor, and such other topics as the governor might submit in special messages. This period would be one in which to initiate plans and to attend to necessary preliminary work. The second thirty days would be given to committee meetings on bills and resolutions introduced, and the latter 60 days would be devoted to consideration of bills and resolutions.

The amendment's chance to pass will depend much upon the attitude of the legislative leaders, some of whom are much in favor of the plan. It is regarded as a step in the right direction, although some observers believe that the two houses are too large. Growth of the state will make the membership of the houses seem smaller in the next decade. As now constituted, service in the legislative branches is a sacrifice. The solons should be paid enough to meet ordinary expenses. The recurring special sessions have proved costly upon many legislators, particularly because many of them have campaign expenses looming ahead.

In legislative matters, as in other things, you usually get what you pay for. Under the present faulty organization, however, we have been paying steadily and getting little in return. Moody is a progressive governor, but he has amply demonstrated that a state executive must be able to get along with the legislature and must have leadership through himself and trusted spokesmen to get anywhere. No administration ever started more auspiciously, and few have been more hopelessly at odds than the present one. The spectacle of a member of the house proposing a resolution denouncing the senate, and in such bitter terms that the resolution was finally expunged from the record, brought down the curtain on a session that produced more ultimatums than measures.

TWINKLES

The legislature will not be in session for several months, but we will manage to get along. The state institutions, however may have a tough summer.

Mrs. Houdini says she has failed in trying to communicate with her dead husband. Someone is always taking the joy out of life for spiritualists.

Business conditions are improving. Everyone has been wondering if the cycle of "hard times" had not arrived. The cattle men are optimistic; the wheat farmers are smiling; the oil is still in the ground; and Pampa is growing. Spring brings many things—lets look for evidences of better business rather than for the opposite.

Our Mr. Hobart, it was remarked at the Cattle Raisers' convention, didn't look like a movie cowboy, and he didn't wear boots. And he did not, we may add look and act as if he had just arrived from "an oil town". The modern ranchman is essentially a business man.

P. (Pure) Hokum, candidate, takes a paternalistic and advisory attitude toward other office seekers not his opponents but it is noticeable that he is greatly worried about his own campaign.

So many are in the race that Mr. Moody's running for a third term would hardly trouble the waters. If there are not enough issues to go around, two or three or them can dig up the "vindication" gag.

The News' big press is in the hands of the railroads between here and the factory, and what we say about railroads in the near future is going to depend a great deal on the speed with which the big machine is delivered. The foundation awaits, and so does the staff.

Clinic Hospital Is Opened Here by Dr. C. V. McCallister

Dr. C. V. McCallister, who came to Pampa four months ago, directly from the General Health clinic of Chicago, has announced the opening of the Mineral Wells clinic, of which he is owner.

The clinic specializes in all forms of mineral baths, electro-therapy, chiropractic treatment, and x-ray. The establishment occupies eleven rooms on the second floor of the Cook building, South Cuyler street, all space being used for examination and treatment, with laboratories and waiting rooms. Equipment representing an investment of $2,300 was described by Dr. McCallister and the most complete in this section of the country for entirely drugless treatment.

Dr. McCallister was a member of the examining board of the General Health clinic of Chicago for three years and a half, acquiring experience which he believes fitted him to operate his own clinic with outstanding service to his patrons.

Two-Year Term in Forgery Case

Bud Youkum was given a two-year term in the state penitentiary yesterday by a jury in the 31st district court. He was charged with forging three 500 checks.

Since there were three indictments pending against him, he could not ask for a suspended sentence. Judge Ben Baldwin who was appointed by the court to defend the youth, asked for acquittal. The jury was out four hours.

Ten Pampa Firms Have Entered Big Spring Festival and Style Revue

The entry of Jarret's Fashion shop and Montgomery Ward and company today brought to ten the number of business houses which will exhibit merchandise in the spring festival and style revue to be held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings under the auspices of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's club. Other houses to be represented are: Gordon's stores, Diamond C. Murfee's Incorporated, L. T. Hill company, Hayter Brothers, Mitchell's, Pampa Style Shoppe, and the French Shoppe.

Other business houses are co-operating enthusiastically with the Business and Professional Women's club in making the 1930 fashion show a success. The Diamond Shop, of which Sam Penberg is owner, is to furnish jewelry and accessories. The Alladin Beauty shop, operated by Mrs. E. E. Bechtelheimer, will dress the hair of the models. Other establishments will contribute to the stage decorations or co-operate with the sponsor club on a special newspaper section.

The event is to be held at the Crescent theatre, in conjunction with a specially arranged program and the theatre's scheduled picture for the evenings. An overall chorus trained by Miss Marie Batai, a ballet number by Miss Batai, and special music will be featured in the spring festival entertainment. Alex Rainouard is to act as master of ceremonies.

Advance fashions for men, women, and children are to be shown in a cleverly planned revue. Correct and practical costumes for every hour of the day and every occasion will be shown in merchandise, not previously exhibited by the merchants. Models are being selected from the roster of the Business and Professional Women's clubs, from the staffs of several of the stores, and from friends of the sponsors.

A rehearsal of the program and the revue will be held at 8 o'clock Sunday evening at the theatre, when the models will go through their paces for the first time. Miss Marie Batai, a professional dancing teacher, will coach them. A second rehearsal will be held on Monday.

WACO COCKY OVER BEATING ORIOLES NINE

(By the Associated Press)
Seeing so many of the boys going homeward wagging the 11' satchel apparently had worked its results today with many a squad in the Texas league, and old-time fence sitters predicted the balls will fly clear over the fence into the cotton patch when the Texas leaguers start cracking bats in the pennant race.

The Waco Cubs were considerably chesty today, having notched the old bit with two victories over the Baltimore Orioles, the last a 11 to 10 shaver yesterday.

La Grave field in Fort Worth today was the scene for an exhibition tussle between Skipper Snyder's Cats and the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs. The Frogs were hustling to make as good a showing as possible against their professional brethren.

The Houston Buffs tightened their belts today and had the consolation that Bob Morrow, Ray Lingrel, Gus Felix and Carlisle Littlejohn would be with them tomorrow and Sunday to face the Kansas City Blues. These four last fall were members of the Rochester club that lost the little world series championship to Kansas City in a series that required an extra game or two to settle.

Manager Jackie Ats's Dallas Steers had their final game ahead today against the Southern Methodist university Mustangs in a three-game series from which proceeds were dedicated to buying equipment for high school nines in Dallas. The Steers humbled the Mustangs, 8 to 3 yesterday.

The Wichita Falls Spudgers faced the world today without George Horton, right-handed hurler from Port Arthur, who was cast loose. The Oilier Yannis came their nearest to winning a ball game yesterday when they scored five runs against the regulars seven.

Three players released by the New York Giants were in the fold of the San Antonio Indians today. They were Franklin McCullough, infielder; Omer Tucker, outfielder; and Bill Richardson, pitcher.

Tulsa Lady, 78, Finds Health in New Konjola

"O, What a Blessing This New and Different Medicine Meant to Me", She Ex-Claims

What joy that comes with health has Konjola, the modern compound of 32 ingredients, brought into this world of pain and suffering. Take, as a typical example of Konjola at work, the happy experience of Mrs. M. J. Light, 78, 6001 Admiral street, Tulsa, Okla. Read her grateful words:

"O, what a blessing this new and different medicine meant to me. I suffered for years with kidney and liver troubles, and as nothing helped me I feared that, at my age, I might never be any better. But I had reckoned without Konjola, for this wonderful remedy proved to be the very one I needed. In just three weeks Konjola put an absolute end to all my misery. I am feeling years younger. It is amazing that three bottles of any medicine could do what Konjola did for me, and never shall I cease to tell of the powers of Konjola. No wonder this is known as the medicine with more than a million friends." Konjola is sold in Pampa at City Drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

CLINGMAN DEFEATS CHASE IN THREE-FALL MATCH—LONDOS IS BARELY ABLE TO BEAT LINDSAY

Otis Clingman, youthful local wrestler, length proved the master last night of the veteran Leo Chase, long-time local favorite who put up a terrific battle and took the second fall of the three-fall match.

While admitting the defeat, Chase continued the argument as to what constitutes real wrestling by claiming, after he had regained his wind, that roughness was not "dirty" and that the local fans had not been "educated" to rough grappling. The fans, however, unmistakably favored the Clingman system of wrestling in the middle of the ring and relaying rough tactics to the preliminaries.

There was no time to spare in the match of Red Lindsay vs Billy Londos. In this Lindsay accepted Londos' fierce reputation and proceeded to try for a better one for himself. The terrible Chicago Greek, or Turk, or whatever he is, spent an unusually large amount of his time crawling back through the ropes, although he ultimately slammed the red-top in a submission in slightly less than the 30-minute time limit. Up to a certain point Lindsay looked great, then Londos suddenly fanned the mat with him.

In the main event, both Clingman and Chase worked enthusiastically and as scientifically as they knew. The younger man, always a generous, frequently found himself in difficulties as the wily Chase tried him into arm locks, arm bars, headlocks, and toe holds. The better two holds almost proved Clingman's undoing, but he toughed it out. Clingman also clamped on many toe-holds and short arm scissors, but his favorite hold last night was the belly split, often combined with a leg scissor. This gave Chase much grief and added the temptation to resort to roughness which the crowd wanted loudly.

Chase had Clingman groggy with headlocks and toe slams when the slammed. The end came in the typical Clingman style, with Chase first dizzied by half a dozen whirled, dropped, and pinned. The veteran Leo asked another chance, saying that he was still unconvinced that, in the best of condition, he would not be the better man. Sam Fenberg was referee, sky and the thermometer tomorrow.

It was announced that Carl Farley next Thursday night at the Pla-Mor would wrestle Eddie Walsh, contender for the middle-weight title.

Those who participated in the program were J. A. King, manager, Mrs. Ethel Pauley, Haskell Potter, Mrs. Andy Andrews, Vern Springer, Robert Poole, Evelyn Zimmerman, and Ruth Noel from Pampa, and Harold White of Amarillo. Mr. White, formerly of this city, gave a reading.

Broadcasters Get Out-of-State Calls

Many telephone calls and telegrams were received by the Pampa Broadcasters last night when they gave an hour's program over station KQRS at Amarillo. One telegram was received from Birmingham, Ala., and another from Arkansas.

House Gets Pro Plan

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—With modifications, the entire program of the law enforcement commission to strengthen dry law enforcement has been laid before the full house judiciary committee by a sub-committee for action next Thursday.

COLD WEATHER THREATENS TO POSTPONE TRACK MEET—WHITE DEER TO ENTER TWELVE MEN

Continued cold weather may cause cancellation or postponement of the Pampa invitation track meet scheduled to be held tomorrow. Coach Odus Mitchell, however, will not take any such action until he glances at the sky and the thermometer tomorrow.

White Deer Has Entered the Meet

White Deer has entered the meet, with the promise of entering twelve men. Memphis and Panhandle had previously entered. The meet is to begin at 1:30 p. m. Saturday and to include all of the interscholastic league track events.

Baby Division of the Methodist Missionary Society Is Organized

The baby, or cradle roll, division of the Methodist Missionary Society was organized yesterday afternoon as the final unit of four young people's missionary branches or training groups.

Mrs. Lee Harrah, chairman of the division under the Women's Missionary Society, was in charge of the organization meeting at her home. She outlined the program of the baby division, and explained to the mothers in attendance that the three-fold purpose of the organization was, first, to enroll children from infancy to six years of age on the church roster; second, to begin actual training in missionary service; and third, to aid financially in the kindergarten work under home missions and in the nine foreign fields in which the Methodist church maintains missions.

According to the program outlined by the W. M. S., the children of the division, together with their mothers, would meet once each quarter in a social gathering. Mrs. J. V. Kidwell was introduced as Mrs. Harrah's associate in the work of the division. Children brought to the meeting by their mothers and enrolled as charter members were: Jean and Jerry Barber, Kenneth Gilbert, Jerry Moore, Bonnie Nell Mc-Bee, Martha Frances, Sybil, and Patsy Ann Pierson, Evelyn Kidwell, and James Wesley Harrah.

Young people's divisions previously organized by the special department of the W. M. S., under the general superintendency of Mrs. C. T. Hunkapiller, were: The Primary division for children between six and nine years of age, which, like the Cradle Roll group, was entirely under the control of the W. M. S.; the Epworth Junior division for girls and boys between nine and thirteen years of age; the Hi-League for the thirteen-year-old to sixteen-year-old group, both under the joint sponsorship of the W. M. S. and the Epworth League.

The last three named organizations meet every Sunday evening at the church. Forty children are now enrolled in the Primary division, under the leadership of Mrs. J. D. Sackett. Sixty girls and boys are participating in the varied program of the Junior group, which is training a junior choir as one of its major projects. Leaders and directors of the group are: Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mrs. J. G. Stroup, Mrs. Tom W. Brabham, and Mrs. Joe Shelton, with Miss Stewart as choir leader. Mrs. J. H. Kelly and Mrs. R. C. Campbell direct the work of the thirty high school girls and boys who make up the Hi-League membership.

Episcopal Auxiliary Holds Lenten Study and Business Meeting

Members of the Woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal church held their weekly Lenten meeting of Wednesday at Mrs. L. N. McCullough's home, where a devotional service, a lesson program, and a business session were held.

Mrs. Wm. M. Craven, president of the auxiliary, led the devotional, assisted by the Rev. John Leacher, pastor of the local mission. Mrs. S. G. Surratt, superintendent of the Lenten studies, conducted a lesson from "Roads That Lead to the City of God." The Rev. Leacher contributed to the interesting discussions.

According to plans made in the business session, the auxiliary will hold a corporate communion service at the home of Mrs. Wm. M. Craven, next Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. John Leacher in charge. On the same occasion, the thank offering boxes kept by the members throughout the entire year will be collected and the collective offering sent to the United Thank Offering treasury.

A large consignment of bottles and small boxes, suitable for holding medicines, will be sent immediately to the dispensary of the Episcopal mission for Indians at San Juan, N. M.

As their principal social service project in April, the members of the auxiliary will prepare a box for the Little House of Fellowship, social center maintained by the Episcopal church at West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon. Jams, sandwich spreads, tea wafers, and other pantry supplies will be sent the popular student center.

Members and guests attending the meeting at Mrs. McCullough's home were as follows: Mrs. Henry Thut, Sr., Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. M. K. Brown, Mrs. L. M. Williams, Mrs. S. G. Surratt, Mrs. John L. Peake, Mrs. A. D. Johnston, Mrs. Wm. M. Craven, Mrs. Martini, who became a member, and the Rev. John Leacher.

In spite of all jokes, figures prove that Englishmen are more saving than Scots.

drilling wells are completed the production will be 150,000 barrels. He stated that 92,400 barrels of oil produced daily in the three counties is being marketed.

Mr. Davis cited three instances where companies were forced to store oil in earthen tanks. When Magnolia Petroleum company completed its No. 4 in section 63, block B-2, on May 28, 1926, the company was forced to store 5,000 barrels in the ground. He said the initial production of the well was 8,700 barrels. Shamrock Oil and Gas company was forced to store 40,000 barrels of oil in ground tanks when No. 2 Lincoln-Saunders, section 3, block 1, was completed Nov. 10, 1929, for an initial production of 3,700 barrels. It was his opinion, he said, that all the steel tanks in the Panhandle are now full, and that operators will have to resort to open storage if any more wells are completed.

The loss in volume when oil is stored in ground tanks is from 30 to 50 per cent, he said. The character of the soil in the Panhandle is not suitable to open storage because its porosity is so great, he testified.

Answering a question of Commissioner Terrell, Mr. Davis said that with the exception of the Shamrock well, oil in the three instances cited had been removed from the ground.

In closing his testimony, Mr. Davis said that the present production of the Marland-Finley area is 23,262 barrels, the amount now being run, and that 18,000 barrels are being shut in. The potential production of the pool now, he said, is 40,000 barrels.

Has Ten Witnesses
Mr. Smith, attorney for the major companies, stated that about 10 witnesses will give testimony purporting to show that waste exists in the Panhandle area.

In opening the meeting Mr. Terrell said he hoped the pipeline law recently passed by the legislature would be of great benefit to the majority of operators. He then explained that the railroad commission has jurisdiction in prorating production of oil and gas only because the commission is in charge of the conservation of oil and gas.

He stated that the hearing must be completed today, as he had business in Amarillo tomorrow and Mr. Parker would have to hold another hearing in Dallas. Despite this announcement, operators were wondering how testimony of the 20 witnesses could be completed today.

Following Mr. Terrell's brief statement, Mr. Smith reviewed the operation of the proration plan and drilling curtailment agreement that have been in effect in Gray county. He then said he was willing to withdraw the proration plan that was adopted March 14 in favor of any that might be submitted by the independents.

Senator Farnell of Wichita Falls, is representing the Shamrock Oil and Gas company at the hearing.

Consul Will Try to Release American

EL PASO, March 21.—(AP)—Gordon Oble Bristol remained here today awaiting word of his father from E. W. Eaton, American vice consul at Mazatlan, Mexico, who went to Tepic, Nayarit, to attempt negotiations with bandits holding J. E. Bristol, 60, San Angelo oil man, for ransom.

The American and Mexican governments, meanwhile, were seeking the elder Bristol's release. Although reports were received here to that effect, it was not definitely known whether Mexican troops had been sent to Tepic. Dispatches from Mexico City pointed out that in the past this proved hazardous, since bandits sometimes killed their captives when too closely pressed.

MEXICO CITY, March 21.—(AP)—Inasmuch as he customarily arrived home intoxicated, and inasmuch as his wife customarily scolded him for his condition, Julio Martinez adopted the idea of sticking his head into a deep pool nearby before entering the house, to "clear his thoughts."

ROBIN HERE TODAY
When DICK BERKELEY, his former classmate at Yale, invites DETECTIVE BONNIE DUNDEE to spend the week-end at the home of his millionaire parents, the detective accepts, because SEYMOUR CROSBY is also a house guest. And he tucks his detective badge into his suitcase.

Dinner that Friday night is not a pleasant affair. GEORGE BERKELEY is brooding angrily over his daughter's engagement to Crosby. CLORINDA herself is obviously not in love with her fiancé. Mrs. Berkeley flares out at her social secretary, MRS. LETITIA LAMBERT, former society leader of New York and a friend of Crosby's. GIGI, the 15-year-old daughter, frankly criticizes her family; Dick and his mother drink too much champagne. It is not a pleasant household, though Dundee feels much drawn to frank, vivacious Gigs.

In an interval between dancing after dinner Seymour Crosby presents Mrs. Berkeley with a large crystal flask of expensive perfume, which Mrs. Berkeley accepts with cries of delight. Gigs, after a strange exclamation of horror, snatches the perfume from her mother and dashes madly from guest to guest, sprinkling them all. At this waste, Mrs. Berkeley is so incensed that she slaps Gigs' face. George Berkeley reproaches his wife sternly; Gigs stumbles from the room, and Dick hunches drunkenly after her.

Dundee, dazed, remembers that he wants to telephone police headquarters about Seymour Crosby.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IV

The wide front hall of the Berkeley mansion extended beyond the immense circular staircase of white marble, which wound upward to the third floor, with a broad landing on the second. A few feet behind the staircase the hall ended in a wall, with an ordinary-sized door opening into what Dundee knew must be the mysterious regions of "backstairs," devoted to the butler's pantry, back hall, servants' sitting and dining rooms and kitchen.

Now the door stood slightly ajar. And from it came sounds which caused Dundee to abandon, temporarily, his search for the library and its telephone.

"Please, Mr. Dick! Let me go! I'll your mother saw us—No, no! I shan't dance with you!"

"It was a girl's voice, high, sweet, flurried, unmistakably British. And the only answer to that frantic plea was a tippy, exultant laugh.

"Oh, Lord! Dick up to his old tricks!" Dundee shrugged disgustedly, and, on impulse, jerked open the door and plunged into the narrow backstairs hall.

The detective's first impression of the girl was that she was fairly small and slight and blond. Pale-gold hair curled about her delicately flushed face; and was knotted in a shining bun on the nape of her slender neck. Her dark-blue eyes were wide with genuine fear as her black-clad body strained to release itself from the embrace of the drunken son of her mistress. But Dick, his reddish-brown hair falling in dank wisps across his sweat-beaded forehead, snatched the girl closer and forced her to follow his shambling dance steps. The languorous notes of "The Pagan Love Song" from the radio penetrated sufficiently to animate his groggy legs.

"Say you'll meet me when that beastly crew in there's gone to bed, and I'll let you go—"

"Hello, Dick! Dundee sang out from the threshold, as he pulled the door to. "Sorry to intrude, but will you tell me where I can find a telephone?"

"Sure! Butler's pantry. First door on your left," Dick Berkeley answered, his feet halting but his arms holding the straining girl more closely against his breast. "Just a minute, old man! Wait! You'll meet prettiest girl in Hamilton—Miss Doris Matthews, ladies' maid to Abbie and Clorinda. Aa' funny, ain't it? Ladies' maid—"

"You're drunk, Dick, and you'd better go to bed." Dundee interrupted quietly. "If you'll let Miss Matthews show me where the telephone is—"

"Not on your life! I'm on to your game! Wanta date up my sweetie yourself, don't you? Listen, Doris! Don't fall for my old pal, Dundee. He's a heart-breaker—at's what he is—"

"Please let me go, Mr. Dick!" Doris pleaded, her little hands pressing frantically against his breast.

"If you'll promise to meet me when and where I said," Dick bargained with tippy solemnity.

"Very well!" the girl capitulated suddenly, but the blue eyes shot a glance at Dundee, which told him that she had no intention of keeping the promise.

"Oh!" she wailed softly, as young Berkeley released her. "Look! You've quite spoiled my apron!" And, she cried, instinctively, to smooth the wrinkles from the crushed scrap of lace and lawn. "The telephone's right in here—Oh! Mr. Wickett!" she gasped; the lovely little face going almost as white as the crumpled apron, before she turned and fled up the backstairs.

"Listening in, Wickett? Good show, wasn't it? But listen, Blondie, you'd better mind your own business—see?" And Dick Berkeley hunched toward the butler who stood in the door of his pantry.

"Yes, sir," Wickett answered, but his eyes spoke so black a hate that a shudder rippled along Dundee's already overwrought nerves. "You wish to use the telephone, Mr. Dundee? I'll show you to the library, sir."

"Thank you, Wickett," and the detective rather sheepishly followed the butler from the backstairs hall to the library, a fair-sized room overlooking the west lawn, and directly opposite the wide arched doorway leading into the drawing room.

Rather to his surprise, Dundee found the library remarkably well stocked with books of all kinds, most of which looked as if they had been read. Which of the Berkeleys was a bookworm, he wondered. Gigs? Probably. But the shabbiest books were not the sort to appeal to a 15-year-old girl. George Berkeley? Most likely. Rather curiously Dundee selected a novel by Henry James, and found peered on its flyleaf an impression from a wood-block bookplate—"Ex libris: George Berkeley"—and below it, in faded ink, a date of 10 years before. And the book had been read not once but many times.

"I knew I liked George Berkeley," he grinned to himself, as he lifted the receiver from the book of the telephone on the broad desk in the middle of the room.

A minute later: "Captain Strawn, please. Dundee speaking. Hello, chief. Dundee reporting."

"Hello, boy!" came back Captain Strawn's heavy voice. "Having a good time with the swells?"

"A good time? That rates a laugh!" Dundee retorted, and obliged with a curt bark that did not sound at all amused. "Listen, chief! Can you send one of the boys over to The Morning News and get me a complete resume of the Crosby case? Although it happened in London, I rather imagine every city in the United States carried a leased wire report of the affair and the inquest, the Crosbys being who they were. About 18 months ago, I believe. Thanks, chief. And have it mailed to me in a plain envelope."

"What's up, boy?" Strawn asked curiously, after the request had been granted.

"Probably nothing, but—I've got a funny prickling of the scalp. If I were a woman, I'd say I had a premonition. Night, sir."

When he returned to the drawing room, where the air was heavy with the perfume Gigs had so foolishly wasted, he found that Dick had not rejoined the party. A new tune, something about "Tiptoeing through the tulips," was throbbing from the radio cabinet, and, Clorinda and her fiancé, Seymour Crosby, were dancing alone, with grave perfection. With almost sick distaste but obedient to his promise to the absent and disgraced Gigs, Dundee crossed the big room to where Mrs. Berkeley sat on a couch beside Mrs. Lambert.

"All right! I promise! Though I must say—Oh, there you are, dear Mr. Dundee!" Mrs. Berkeley broke off a sulkily indignant remark to Mrs. Lambert to care gushingly at Dundee. With her henna-dyed head cocked cozily, she listened to the young man's request for a dance. "Thank you so much, you dear man! But I'm saving all my energies for the big party tomorrow night. And the music is just stopping, too. Tomorrow night, remember! . . . George, darling, turn off the radio. My sweet girl mustn't get herself all tired out, must she, Mr. Crosby?"

"Rather not!" Seymour Crosby agreed stiffly. The fine fabric of his tuxedo was wearing a bit thin, obviously.

"What is the matter, darling?" Mrs. Berkeley demanded of her daughter with intense solicitude. "I pray you are not going to be ill—"

"Just a headache," Clorinda answered curtly. "That ghastly perfume which Gigs sprinkled all over us."

"Why, I adore it!" Mrs. Berkeley hastened to declare, fearful that Crosby's feelings might be ruffled. "Of course some people are very sensitive to heavy scents. My maid, Doris, for instance, positively gets a sick headache if she so much as catches a whiff of perfume, which makes it ridiculously awkward—"

"Doris?" Crosby interrupted eagerly. "Surely you don't mean little Doris Matthews?" and he turned toward

Mrs. Lambert, a queer expression quivering across his thin, aristocratic face. "Didn't I write you that I had had (See STORY, Page 8)

Doris came on to be with Mrs. Berkeley and Glorinda? Mrs. Lambert replied: "But I'm quite sure I did, Seymour. I hope you don't mind, but she was looking for a place—came to see me when I stopped off in New York on my return from France—" She hesitated, and Dundee was sure that there was real anxiety in her lovely, soft voice.

"Mind?" Crosby echoed. "I shall be delighted to see Doris again. How is she?"

"Still adorably pretty," Mrs. Lambert smiled, "and quite happy. She has just become engaged to the chauffeur, Eugene Arnold. A splendid young man, I believe."

"I'm going to bed," Glorinda announced abruptly. "Good night, everyone."

"Why, it's not 11 yet, darling," Mrs. Berkeley protested, but as her daughter left the room without replying she added: "I'm really glad the dear child is being sensible. Tomorrow will be such a heavy day."

"We'd better be going too, Ben," Mrs. Smith twittered. "I wonder if we may borrow your car and chauffeur, Abbie. Our car's out of order, and we came out by taxi."

"Certainly," Mrs. Berkeley replied, but she frowned slightly. "Oh, George! Have Wickett telephone to the garage for Arnold to bring the car around immediately."

But it was fully 10 minutes before Wickett announced the car to the waiting Benjamin Smiths, who had already said their good-nights twice around.

"I'd like to talk with you in the library before you go upstairs, Abbie," George Berkeley halted his wife, as she, Mrs. Lambert and Seymour Crosby were moving toward the marble staircase. Dundee, who had already reached the second-floor landing of the stairs, heard the stern but low-spoken words very clearly, and again his scalp had that odd, premonitory prickling. (To Be Continued)

CHURCHES

TO HAVE ALL-DAY DINNER

The Pampa Church of the Brethren (Dunker) will hold an all-day dinner and council meeting on the fifth Sunday in March, the 30th.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"Five Spiritual Senses" will be the theme of the message at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. There is no reason to believe that we in our immortal, eternal life shall be any less able to enjoy life than we are in this present existence. Though we learn to live the "abundant life" here we will live it more abundantly hereafter. Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the Rev. W. A. Erwin, pastor of the Presbyterian church at McLean, will give the message.

His choir will furnish special music for the occasion.

You are welcome to our services. Sunday school, 10 a. m., sermon at 11 a. m. Junior Endeavor 3 p. m. Intermediate Endeavor at 4 p. m. Rev. W. A. Erwin and his choir at 7:30 p. m.

A. A. HYDE, Minister.

METHODIST CHURCH

Three great services have been planned for the Methodist church Sunday, March 22. Sunday school starts promptly at 9:45 o'clock. Good programs have been planned for the school. Will you join us in making our school the largest in the entire district?

The pastor will speak at both services Sunday. Morning theme, "Strength For Our Burden." A consecration service will be held at the close of the morning hour. Every member of the church urged to be present. Evening theme: "Peter's Downward Step." This message will be of interest to all who hear.

All leagues will meet 6:15 o'clock. Mrs. Russell Smith will sing at the morning hour. Mrs. P. L. Elliott will be at the organ for all services. In the name of the master we welcome you to all services of our church.

Mrs. George Walstad and Mrs. B. E. Finley visited in Amarillo yesterday.

LESSON

her. Her view was much the same with that of the prodigal when he came to himself, and in the midst of his misery began to remember his father's house, and to think that there was in it bread enough and to spare."
—James McCash. The woman's attitude may well be ours as we approach our Saviour's table.

Woman's Faith Rewarded
Then Jesus answered and said unto her, "He answered those wonderful words—perhaps the most pathetic words in the Bible—so full of humility, or reverence, and yet with a certain archness, almost playfulness. In them, as it were, turning our Lord's words against him."—Charles Kingsley. "Our Lord had a very quick eye for spying faith. If the jewel was lying in the mire His eye caught its glitter. Faith has a strong attraction for the Lord Jesus."—C. H. Spurgeon. The woman had proved the greatness of her faith, by her persistence in the face of great obstacles, by her humility, her alertness, her unselfishness, her overmastering love. Above all, her faith was great in its object, being fixed on the Saviour. "Be it done unto thee even as thou wilt." "She wanted only the crumbs—she is invited to sit up as a banqueter."—T. De Witt Talmage. "And her daughter was healed from that hour." She went straight to her house (Mark 7:30), acting on her faith, and found her daughter cured.

To us who know the sequel, and who know better than the woman did, perhaps better than the Twelve, the heart of Jesus and His ways His putting off the woman's request presents not great problem; any more than does His delay in answering the call of the Bethany sisters in their desperate anxiety (John 11:6). Such a severe case of mental sickness as this could be cured only by an extraordinary healing wonder; and that would need to be supported by extraordinary faith. Strange as it may seem, we are repeatedly told that Jesus' healing power was absolutely conditioned by faith somewhere, in somebody. Maybe our Lord saw that the woman's faith needed to be cultivated, made stronger. The delay and our desperation often effect that. If I do not find my Lord's hand as I reach out in the dark, I much prefer still faster. Hopelessness compels larger hope. This same lesson is taught in Jacob's wrestling in the night, at the ford of the Jabbok (Gen. 32:23-32).

Peter's Faltering Faith
One reason why Peter is so great a favorite among the New Testament characters is because he was so much like the most of us. He was a man of ups and downs, and in no scene did he show this wave-like characteristic more strikingly than in that storm on the Sea of Galilee when, in the uncertain light of early dawn, after a night of great peril, Jesus was seen approaching their little boat, walking on the water from the eastern side of the sea, where they had left him for a period of solitary prayer. As soon as Peter was sure that the approaching figure was Jesus, he was seized with a sudden ambition himself to walk on the water, and shouted to the Lord, "Bid me come unto Thee upon the waters." Christ simply answered, "Come." The confident disciple started out finely, but the rising and falling of the waves soon made his heart sink, and his courage all left him. Down he went in the sea, crying, "Lord, save me," so that Jesus had to take hold of him and lift him up, addressing to him the pointed question, "O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?"

"The believer's hope does not rest in any degree on the greatness of his faith, but in the greatness of Him Who is its object."—Thomas Guthrie.
"Prayer an answer will obtain, Though the Lord will delay; None shall seek his face in vain, None be empty sent away."
—John Newton.

Scripture Lesson: Matt. 15:21-31. Matt. 15:21. And Jesus went out thence, and withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon.

22. And behold, a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, for my daughter is grievously vexed with a demon.

23. But He answered her not a word. And His disciples came and began to urge Him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us.

24. But He answered and said, I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25. But she came and worshipped Him, saying, Lord, help me.

26. And He answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs.

27. But she said, Yes, Lord; for even the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith; be it done unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was healed from that hour.

29. And Jesus departed thence, and came again unto the sea of Galilee; and He went up into the mountain, and sat there.

30. And there came unto Him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others; and they cast them down at His feet; and He healed them;

31. Inasmuch that the multitude wondered when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed whole, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing; and they glorified the God of Israel.

Golden Text: Ask and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. Matt. 7:7-8.

Time: Sunday, A. D. 29, in the third year of Christ's ministry.

Place: The region of Tyre and Sidon, Capernaum, The Sea of Galilee.

Introduction: The test of life are to make, not to break us. —Mastie Babcock.

"We have a beautiful hymn, beginning, 'O Love, that will not let us go.' We want another, beginning, 'O Faith that will not let Him go.'" —G. H. Morrison.

"O woman! great is thy faith!" were the words that Phillip Brooks selected to be inscribed on the tombstone of his saintly mother.

It was not wise for our Lord to remain in Galilee at this time, unless He wanted to bring matters to a premature crisis. There would be the continued hatred of Herod (14:1, 10); the increasing hostility of the Pharisees (12:14, 15:1); and the attempts of the fanatic populace to put Him at the head of a revolutionary uprising (John 6:15).

"Tyre and Sidon" — "And Jesus went out thence" — Because of the attack of the scribes and Pharisees from Jerusalem, Matt. 15:1-20. He knew that such attacks would lead to His death, and He had yet much to do in training His disciples and founding His church. His time had not yet come. "And withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon." These were the principal cities of Phoenicia. Tyre being about thirty-five miles and Sidon fifty-five miles from the sea of Galilee where Jesus was. "Parts" implies that our Lord did not go even so far as Tyre, but merely journeyed northward into the hilly country south of the Phoenician plain where today the richer people of the country have summer homes. Jesus was now in a heathen land. He was never outside of Palestine any other time.

"But He answered and said, I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." That is, our Lord's first mission was to the Jews, the Israelites. "Jesus coveted the heathen but had method in His purpose. He would give Himself to the Jews that they in turn might be the saviors of the heathen." —Rev. F. W. Norwood, D. D. "Christ anticipated a ministry that should be wider than these Jewish limits, as wide as the whole world. There is the saying, 'I will draw all men unto Me.' There is that beautiful word, 'Other sheep I have which are not of this fold.' There is that utterance at Simon's table, when the woman broke the alabaster box, 'Whosoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, this that she hath done shall be told of her.'" —Rev. George H. Morrison, D. D.

Woman's Faith Tested — "And He answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs." "In the East, the dog is not the friend and companion of man. He is not the faithful dog, the intelligent and affectionate dog. He is looked upon as a mean, treacherous brute, suffered to run wild in the streets of a town for the service he may do as a public scavenger." —Leonard Wesley Bacon. Christ used a proverbial saying, but softened it by adding, "Let the children first be fed" (Matt. 7:27), implying that the Gentiles' turn would come, but after the Jews'... This answer, was the answer to her side: "For even the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table." The woman argues from the very abundance of Christ's grace that there would be enough for

Japanese Cherry Blossoms Soon to Bloom in Capital

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(P)—The Japanese cherry blossoms, which yearly lure thousands of visitors to Washington, soon will be flaunting their banners of spring time.

By April 1, more than 800 single flowering trees on west Potomac park, probably will be in full bloom, Charles Henlock, chief of the horticultural division of public buildings and grounds, said today. Barring too much wind, they would last two weeks.

In November, 1909, during the administration of William Howard Taft, the municipality of Tokyo, Japan, presented to the city of Washington 2,000 cherry trees as a token of the high esteem held by the people of Tokyo for the people of the United States. Upon condemnation of these soon after arrival because of their being infected, another group was sent in 1911 to replace them. They prospered on alien soil.

MUCH BEER SEIZED

NEWARK, N. J., March 21.—(P)—Federal prohibition agents, working out of Albany, N. Y., believed today they had cut off a source of supply for upstate New York cities by raiding a brewery and loading station here and seizing 7,000 barrels of beer.

MAY FORM CONFERENCE

SWEETWATER, March 21.—(P)—Representatives from several West Texas and New Mexico colleges were expected here tomorrow for the purpose of organizing a Staked Plains Athletic conference. W. L. Stangel of Texas Tech was to preside at the conference.

Many Weddings in Sight

When some girls are already thinking of the wedding ring their health fails, they become nervous, high-strung, irritable, and through this loss of control many a young woman loses her future happiness. As a tonic at this time, and in motherhood or in middle life, there is nothing to equal Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"I was suffering with my back and severe pain in my side and with headache and nervousness, but by the time I had taken two bottles of the 'Prescription' I felt a thousand times better."—Mrs. B. W. Cummings, 514 Bryant Ave., Fort Worth, Texas. (Dealers) Write Dr. Pierce's Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y., for medical advice, free.

WANTS SENATORSHIP

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 21.—(P)—William C. Deming, Cheyenne newspaper publisher, who resigned in January as a member of the United States civil service commission, today said he would make formal announcement for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Wyoming tomorrow.

THEATRE IS DAMAGED

MARSHALL, March 21.—(P)—More than 200 persons today probably owed their lives to their orderly exit from last night from Marshall's only theater, after fire, believed due to an explosion of films, wrecked the projection room. Two persons were slightly injured. Damage to the theater was estimated at $5,000.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS' PENSIONS ARE INCREASED

AUSTIN, March 21.—(P)—The legislature late last night adopted a free conference committee report providing for the payment of a pension of $50 per month to each married Confederate veteran of the Civil War who has been living with his wife continuously since 1900. Unmarried veterans and widows will receive $25 per month under the bill. The measure contains a provision for the transfer of money from the general fund to the revenue fund to care for the increase in the pensions.

TEXAS MANUFACTURER DIES

LAREDO, March 21.—(P)—George M. Briggs, 50, president of the Texas Harvest Hat company, Laredo, Dallas Harvest Hat company, Dallas, and United Hat company, St. Louis, died suddenly at his home here last night. He was stricken with acute indigestion while attending a wrestling match at Fort McIntosh.

CHINESE OUTLAWS REFUSED

SHANGHAI, March 21.—(P)—Lawless soldiery between Hankow and Ichang today attempted to pirate a Standard Oil company of New York steamer which was nearing Iiu, midway between the two towns.

Due to the combined efforts of the United States naval guard aboard the steamer and the guard aboard another American ship which was nearby, the marauders were repulsed.

ZEPPELIN TRIP PLANNED

NATURAL RELIEF FOR MOST PREVALENT DISEASE

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Eaten by Millions Daily to Prevent Constipation and Anemia

Constipation has been truly described as the curse of modern life. Its poisons cause countless ills—headaches, listlessness, indigestion—often serious disease.

Yet it can be relieved and prevented in an easy, pleasant, natural way. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, eaten daily, is guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. It adds thoroughage to your diet that sweeps the system clean of all waste and insures regular elimination.

This delicious ready-to-eat cereal also helps prevent and relieve anemia. Scientific research shows that it is rich in iron—nearly all of which is absorbed, building red blood and bringing the glorious color of health to the complexion.

Isn't it much wiser to relieve constipation with this healthful cereal than to take pills and drugs that only give temporary help and are often dangerous?

Be sure to add Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to any reducing diet. Doctors recommend it.

If you wish to bid goodbye forever to constipation and its companion physical troubles, just begin eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Your grocer has it. It is served everywhere—in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. With cream or milk is one popular way to eat it. When sprinkled over cereals or soups, it adds flavor, as in cooked foods. Soak it in fruit juice. Whatever the style of eating, it is equally effective. In the red-and-green package—made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
