TAFT RECEIVES HIGHEST HONORS BESTOWED BY AMERICA

LAST EARTHLY JOURNEY NOW BEING MADE

Ceremonies Start at Early Hour at Capital
STREETS LINED BY HIS FRIENDS
Military Aspect Lent to Last Rites of Statesman

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—At 2:30 p. m., the Taft funeral procession started from All Souls' church for Arlington cemetery.

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—William Howard Taft received today the high honors which a nation reserves for those who have reached the loftiest pinnacles of its service. It was his own day in the heart of a great people that esteemed him for his statesmanship and loved him for his humanity and to whose welfare all the years of his manhood were given. From dawn until a western sun dipped steeply above the calm hills of Arlington National cemetery, where it was his wish to sleep for all eternity, every pulse of the government beat in rhythm to the tribute heaped upon his memory. At last, it was left to the thunder of guns and the soft notes of the bugle, chanting a soldierly requiem to a fallen commander, to voice the message that Taft of Ohio had gone to his long rest where only those who in life served the flag faithfully and well may gather in the fellowship of death.

Services Begin Early
The funeral ceremonies began almost as soon as the city was astir, reached their climactic peak of popular tribute before noon, as thousands filed by his bier in the rotunda of the capitol, and were set to end in late afternoon with military burial at Arlington.

Borne on a rumbling artillery caisson from the house on Wyoming avenue where he spent his last days, the flag draped casket was placed in state in the capitol rotunda shortly before 10 a. m. long lines of those who loved him already waiting under sodden skies outside. Inside, great floral pieces transformed the gloomy recesses under the high arching dome, and the long lines passed by the bier in tribute. All along the funeral way from Wyoming avenue to the capitol, thin lines had stood with bowed heads to see the cortege pass. As the caisson rolled past the White House, President and Mrs. Hoover viewed it from beneath the North portico.

At the capitol, soldier bodybearers lifted their burden tenderly up the steep steps from the plaza, and set it in the center of the rotunda, on a catafalque where Lincoln had lain in death. A picked guard of sailors, soldiers and marines took station above the casket, and then the waiting crowd was admitted, to move slowly past. They came from every class of that citizenry with whose destiny the life of the departed had been so closely interwoven for four decades. They were of the springtime and winter of life, of the mountaintop of attainment and the valley of obscurity.

While his fellow citizens thus claimed him for a time the church in which he worshipped waited to minister to

Proposed Clubhouse for Country Club

A SKETCH FOR THE PAMPA COUNTRY CLUB
THE ARCHITECTURE, PAMPA, TEXAS

Pictured above is the architect's conception of the clubhouse for the Pampa Country club, funds for which have been subscribed, according to H. Otto Studer, president. The capital stock of the club will be increased to cover cost of construction, which likely will be begun soon. The estimated cost of the clubhouse is $15,000. The club's present property is worth about the same amount.

Proration Is Studied

Two plans for prorating the Panhandle area were discussed but none was adopted by thirteen representatives of oil companies at a meeting in the Schnelder hotel this morning. It was expected that the committee, assigned March 4 to draft an equitable plan, would consider other plans in the session this afternoon.

Ed Daly, proration umpire, was instructed by the committee to go to Austin immediately to submit a request for a hearing by the railroad commission. An attorney chosen by the operators will accompany him. This action followed the selection of a committee which was instructed to draft a petition to the commission this evening, asking that the railroad body take charge of proration in the Panhandle area.

The petition for the hearing will contain an allegation that there is waste of oil, gas or petroleum products in this area. At the hearing it will be the purpose of the operators to show evidence that waste is present. Mr. Daly will request the commission to hold the hearing here as soon after March 14 as would be possible.

Operators of the affected areas will meet here Friday morning to consider the plan. The commission requires that all operators agree to the plan that is submitted to it for approval and enforcement.

One of the proration measures discussed this morning was described as a "unit plan." Under this scheme, the potential production and the acreage would be considered. One well would be allowed to each 40-acre lease. The other plan proposed proration of all wells brought in after March 15, without curtailing the production of any wells brought in before that time.

Carbon Black Tax Hearing Postponed

Hearing on the proposed quarter-cent-per pound occupation tax on carbon black was postponed from last night to Thursday night in Austin. The delay was asked by attorneys for the manufacturers. According to Representative Dewey Young, the measure has little chance for consideration in the short time remaining in this special session.

RAIL HEARING IS SET
WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—Oral arguments on application of the Panhandle and Santa Fe, the Elkhart and Santa Fe, and the Dodge City and Cimarron Valley railroads, for construction of connecting lines between Las Animas, Colo., and Amarillo, Tex., was set today for March 23 before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

CAMPBELL IS IN RACE FOR PAMPA MAYOR

Gantz and Kentling in Field for Commissioners
LIQUOR IN MAIN PLATFORM ITEM
Cheaper Water Urged by Candidates of New Slate

Another full ticket was in the field for city offices today as three men filed applications to place their names on the ballots. R. C. Campbell, former superintendent of schools here, is out for mayor, and J. G. Gantz and Charles Kentling for commissioners. The ticket is sponsored by the Law & Order League, the activities of which recently have made it a political factor in city county affairs.

The application follows, respectively, R. C. Campbell for mayor, J. G. Gantz for commissioner No. 1, and Charles Kentling for commissioner No. 2, for the city offices in the City of Pampa to be filed by election April 1, 1930, hereby petition you and make application to you to have our names printed upon the official ballot in said election. We are each qualified voters in said City of Pampa, Texas; that we have consented to run as said candidates for said offices indicated, and upon a platform that has been promulgated and circulated over the city as the Law Order League platform, a copy of which is made an exhibit herewith. A petition of more than 5 per cent of the legal voters of Pampa, as based upon the vote cast at the last general election, requesting us to make the race as such candidates on the independent ticket, is filed in connection with this application.

The platform pledges the candidates to "A Clean Pampa," with particular reference to enforcement of prohibition laws, and to progressive economy in city administration. Lower water rates are also made an item of the platform.

NOEL IN STATEMENT

Concerning the city political situation, J. L. Noel, president of the Law and Order League, today issued the following statement: "The Law & Order League has not endorsed any ticket or individual to run for city offices in the coming municipal election. Neither has it officially adopted any platform upon which a candidate can base his campaign. (Signed) EXECUTIVE BOARD, By J. L. NOEL, President.

New Revenue Bill Passed by House

AUSTIN, March 11. (AP)—The senate had a new revenue bill today, sent it by the house yesterday when it voted to place a tax on chain stores of one per cent of gross receipts. The tax would apply against any group of more than five stores engaged in any business as follows: General merchandise, drugs, groceries, sporting goods, shoes, ladies ready to wear, jewelry, millinery, men's clothing or furnishings, fruit stores, beauty shops, undertaking, tailoring, pressing, meat markets, cab service, shoe parlors, drive-yourself automobiles and automobile storage systems. Wholesale businesses, lumber yards, paint

Vare Withdraws
PHILADELPHIA, March 11. (AP)—William S. Vare today announced his withdrawal as a candidate for the United States senate and asked his friends to support Secretary of Labor James J. Davis for the nomination. Mrs. Annabelle Line of Oklahoma City is visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. B. Solomon.

JAMES ALLRED IS DUE TO SPEAK TONIGHT

All Pampa residents, particularly the women, are urged by the Merchant Minute Men to hear James Allred in his address at the Central auditorium here this evening, according to Wade Duncan, president. Mr. Allred, who will speak under the auspices of the Minute Men, will be introduced by Judge Newton P. Willis. The speaking is to begin at 8 p. m., with a band concert by the American Legion band to start a short time earlier. Mr. Allred is candidate for attorney general of Texas.

County Library Is Being Asked by City Association

Asking the county commissioners to consider appropriating funds for the establishment of a county library, representatives of the Pampa Library association announced yesterday they would circulate a petition among the tax-paying voters of the county to secure the library if the county board failed to act. The association representatives were Mrs. B. E. Finley, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, and Mrs. Grace Higgins. Mrs. Hunkapillar in explaining the need for the proposed library said that although it would be located at Pampa, branches would be established at McLean and Alameda. She briefly outlined the state law which compels the county court to establish a county library when a petition for it has been signed by 50 per cent of the taxpaying voters. The commissioners said they favored a county library and promised to consider appropriating funds for its establishment.

Commissioners Hear Lambright Tell His Story

The county commissioners said yesterday afternoon they would be satisfied with the grand jury's investigation of Edward Lambright's case. This decision was announced at a meeting of the body after members had heard from Lambright his own story of his arrest and how he sustained the head injuries that have kept him confined in Pampa hospital for the last ten days. The commissioners interviewed Lambright at the hospital after several citizens had asked the court to investigate. Lambright suffered a concussion of the brain when struck on the head while county officers were searching Lambright's room for stolen articles. Lambright was charged with theft and released on a $1,000 bond. The grand jury was investigating the case yesterday.

CYCLE SPEEDER IS KILLED

TEXARKANA, Ark., March 11.—(AP)—Authorities here today awaited word from Winston Salem, N. C., regarding disposal of the body of J. R. Bollins, about 30, fatally injured yesterday when his motorcycle overturned near Nashville, Ark. A letter addressed to the mayor of San Francisco, found in his clothes, led to the belief he was attempting a cross country speed record.

HYDE WILL SPEAK

WACO, Texas, March 11.—(AP)—Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, will deliver the dedicatory address at the opening of the new Baylor university auditorium, $450,000 gift of citizens of Waco, here May 27.

WILL DEDICATE COURTHOUSE IN BIG CEREMONY

Opening Date Is Fixed as April 19 by Commission
MAYFIELD MAY ALSO BE HERE
Forty and Eight Will Have "Wreck" on Same Day

The new courthouse will be dedicated Saturday, April 19 by Robert Lee Bobbitt, attorney general of Texas, according to plans made yesterday by the county commissioners.

The opening of the $350,000 building will also be the occasion of the annual "wreck" celebration of the Forty and Eight. The "wreck," which comprises initiatory ceremonies, was postponed from April 5 to April 19 in order that the courthouse opening and the Forty and Eight might be held on the same day as a joint celebration. Mr. Bobbitt, who will be the principal speaker at the Forty and Eight services, was secured to dedicate the courthouse by J. A. Pearson, grand chief de gar of Texas. Mr. Pearson said that he talked with Mr. Bobbitt Sunday and the attorney general said he would be glad to make the dedication speech. He said he would either be here or "in the hospital or in his grave" at that time. Commissioner John White suggested that former U. S. Senator Earle B. Mayfield be invited to speak at the courthouse opening, in addition to Mr. Bobbitt. Paul Hill, commanded of the local American Legion post, who also appeared before the commissioners, said that the Legion is planning to decorate the streets and have the McLean band here for the joint event. Commissioner Tom Kirby announced that every county commissioner in West Texas and the Panhandle would be invited to the opening. Mr. Kirby said that he will be host to the visiting commissioners at a barbecue. He said he will furnish the beef himself. After George Briggs, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, had appeared before the Commissioners with the information that it would cost $5,000 to provide a barbecue for the visitors here on the opening day, the board decided to dispense with all plans for a barbecue. Judge Ivy Duncan said the county could not afford to spend $5,000 for a barbecue. During the inspection hours at the building, refreshments will be served in the lobbies. The courthouse will be ready for occupancy just one year after main construction of it began. Exact date of completion was not announced. It may be finished before April 19 and it may not be, the commissioners said, but they felt sure it would be ready for occupancy on that date.

Mr. Spees will make a report Wednesday evening at the regular troop school for reserve officers. The class will meet at the new Chevrolet building at 8 p. m. WHEN A MAN APPLIES TO AN INSURANCE COMPANY FOR A POLICY, HE IS ASKED QUESTIONS WHICH TEND TO SHOW HIS HABITS AND WHAT HIS REMAINING LIFE SPAN IS APT TO BE.

Insurance tables are worked out accurately, and premiums are based upon studies which have cost millions of dollars and touched hundreds of thousands of instances.

Nothing comparable is often done in criminology. The law says that a convicted man must spend a given term in prison, and when that is finished he is a free man, even though he may within a week go out and repeat the crime, or commit a worse one.

Dr. Sheldon Glueck and his wife, who is a scholarly woman, have completed studies which they believe enable them to forecast a criminal's future, or at least to indicate a workable average. The value of this new study would be chiefly in administering the power of pardon and parole, which is notoriously misused.

Dr. Glueck makes the startling statement that 80 per cent of those imprisoned continue their lives of crime. He cites that more than 2,000 officially known felons were committed in five years by 500 criminals whose careers were checked. This, certainly, is an indictment of the system of herding as many men as possible together in crowded, foul-smelling prisons for terms of definite length. Reformatories do not reform. Punishment is not a crime deterrent for many of those who receive it, and uncertainty of detection and sentence encourages those freed to believe they can "beat the rap."

There are lawyers, and it is to the shame of that great profession, who deliberately and knowingly assist criminals in avoiding punishment. Many of these are retained before the criminals are arrested—not after. When a Chicago racketeer is arrested, his lawyers swarm into the court rooms even before they have been summoned. A newspaper "extra" announcing an arrest is sufficient. Factors in American jurisprudence which tend to reform and to deter are all too few.

The study made by the Harvard man tells how a subject devotes his time, as to recreation, and of his environment with regard to parental status, community environment, associates, and work. It gives data on his habits, personality traits, delinquencies, mental traits, and chief likes and dislikes. It may appear that no such study could be made of all criminals. The answer is that no study of any kind is necessary under the present system.

The criminal should never be beyond the power of the state until his reformation has been accomplished and demonstrated by useful living. His career should be checked for a period of several years. Too expensive, many will remark. Nothing could be more costly than the present system, which is allowing crime to become a profitable business in this country—one for smart men, one for professionals to contrast with ordinary pursuits.

Judge W. R. Ewing of the 31st district court gave a full recitation of the outstanding defects in the present legal system. Recognition of the evils are widespread, but legislators and others who could take remedial steps yield to the cry against change and do nothing. Justice is a relative term, and becoming more relative.

TWINKLES

Circumstantial evidence is annoying, to say the least. Lyman Robbins of the Memphis Democrat destroyed a chain letter and soon thereafter was hit by a fire truck. We did the same thing and the flu bugs bit us. Still, neither of us is ready to admit the doggoned letter had anything to do in either case.

One person in every 200 in this country is said to be deaf. These talkies are a greater menace than we had imagined. But the deaf folks don't have to listen to all the human talkies, which is certainly a compensation.

Better Homes Week is fine, but why not also a "Stay at Home" week to enjoy the former.

Snakes can digest most anything except feathers—and probably some of the stuff imbibed in the hope of intoxication.

If we are any judge of news, the date when the legislature will adjourn is not news.

They are using our carbon black to make auto tires last longer. They should have done that several years ago when we had no paving and tire life was very uncertain. However, only a relatively small number of our bumps have disappeared.

We hereby go on record in favor of earlier revivals this spring. The revival brought rains of last spring would have done more good had they been advanced a month.

Judge W. R. Ewing should get a few applause for the fine, straight forward charge he made to the Gray county grand jury. If every office holder took his work as seriously, and studied existing faults as diligently, many of the antiquated methods used in this state would be abandoned.

The Communists may paint the country red, but what we are interested in right now is in seeing the Panhandle back in the white, or good business, portion of the business condition map.

Among the factories that are said to be over-producing in some places are the American hens. Congress probably will not take it up with the barnyard population, for the question is said not to be serious.

Final Selection in One-Act Play Contest Is Made

The contest in which members of six casts competed for places in the cast to represent Central high school in the Interscholastic League one-act play contest at the district meet closed Saturday night, after the six casts had presented "The Valiant" before three judges from Amarillo and after the final cast had been chosen from among the group of 35 students.

A second cast, composed of those receiving second places in the judges' ballot, was named in order to have alternates or under-studies for the first group.

Competition in the contest was among the individual students, rather than among the several casts, the student in one role being compared with the other five students playing the same role.

The first cast was as follows: Doyle Roundtree for the title role; Dorothy Doucette, sister of the "Valiant"; Jones Seitz, the warden; Curtis Stark, the jailer; LeRoy Price, the chaplain; and Harold Dudley, the attendant.

Those receiving places on the second or alternate cast were: Jack Wilson, title character; Frances Campbell, the sister; Charles Barrett, the warden; Gene Fatheree, the chaplain; Max Marbaugh, the jailer; and Wade Smith, the attendant.

The six groups of players were coached for the contest by five teachers of the high school, who were: Miss Velora Reed, director general; Miss Grace Fern Latimer, Miss Arless O'Keefe, Miss Mary Shell, and Miss Lucille Hill.

The contest was in nowise a competition among the teachers, L. L. Soren, high school principal explained, but was conducted in accordance with Interscholastic League rules, devised to encourage and secure wider participation among the students, and thus increase the benefits of high school dramatics.

The winners of the six places, in both first and second casts, were from several different casts as follows: Doyle Roundtree, Jones Seitz, and LeRoy Price, from the cast coached by Miss O'Keefe; Dorothy Doucette, Curtis Stark, Jack Wilson, Frances Campbell, Gene Fatheree, and Wade Smith, from two casts coached by Miss Reed; Harold Dudley and Charles Barrett, from the cast coached by Miss Hill; and Max

Case Status Altered and Man Released

After spending 48 days in the county jail without trial, R. N. Chandler, charged with theft of a bunk house valued at $100, was released yesterday by Judge Ivy Duncan.

The county judge's action came as a result of an investigation into Mr. Chandler's case by the grand jury yesterday. When Clifford Bralys, district attorney, and the grand jurors probed into the case yesterday, they valued the lumber which Chandler was alleged to have stolen at $20. They also found that Chandler's young wife and infant child have been living on charity since he was placed in jail.

Because the value of the allegedly stolen lumber was less than $50, District Attorney Bralys ruled the case was not a felony and placed it in the county court. Judge Duncan sentenced Chandler to 48 days in jail, dating from the time he entered last September.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shepherd entertained the Twin Six bridge club last evening at an attractively appointed party where three tables were in play.

The St. Patrick's day theme was developed in minute detail with accessories for the games, gift packages and refreshments featuring a green and white color scheme.

The guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gribbon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Allison, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Peake. High scores were made by Mrs. Peake and Mr. Allison.

One of the most enjoyable of the recent large social affairs was a banquet held at the Presbyterian church last evening in observance of "church night." One hundred and twenty members and their friends were gathered at the tables to enjoy the delicious menu prepared and served by the women of the church and an exceptionally interesting program.

The program of the evening included talks by officers and leaders on the work and achievements of the various departments and on various phases of church life. The Rev. A. A. Hyde, pastor, presided, and spoke on the church membership. The charter roll of 72 members, completed Dec. 5, 1926, was the foundation for the present membership of 175, he told his audience. For the three years of the church life, he said, the increase had been as follows: 25 per cent the first year; 32 per cent the second year; and 34 per cent the third year.

George W. Briggs told of the progress and the present needs of the Sunday school. Mrs. Briggs outlined the work of the Woman's auxiliary. The program of the Junior Christian Endeavor society was presented by Mrs. A. A. Hyde. Rev. Hyde talked on the work of the Junior Endeavor society.

B. E. Finley spoke on church budgets, past and present. He congratulated the women of the church on their large contribution to the success of the church, and said: "There is no finer group anywhere." Tithing was the subject of a talk by H. R. Campbell. F. C. Workman, speaking immediately afterward, urged the organization of a tithing band. He related an incident which occurred during his residence in England, in which he told a member of parliament that America could raise millions for charity because she trained her children to give in Sunday school.

Loyalty to the church was the theme of an inspiring talk by D. W. Canfield, who said: "Personally, I would as soon fall to go to my business as to fail to go to church, unless prevented by illness." C. Herbert Walker made the closing speech. He praised the work the church was doing, urged full support of the budget to be adopted April 1, and said he felt proud that the congregation would cease operating under the mission board at the end of March.

The program, included, in addition to the addresses, a vocal solo by Mrs. A. R. Doucette and a piano solo by Hugh McKimling. Each responded to applause with an encore.

Junior - Soph Combination Wins Over Frosh-Senior

The combined forces of the sophomore and junior classes of Central high school defeated the freshman-senior combination in a Good English contest which closed Friday afternoon.

A freshman or a senior hearing a sophomore or a junior make an error in grammar or construction was privileged to write down the sentence containing the error and have his opponent sign it. The sophomores and juniors had the same privilege, of course, regarding the freshmen and seniors. The cards on which the incorrect sentences were written then were dropped in the high school ballot box.

The winning combination was that which had the lowest score piled up against. The sophomores and juniors together had 864 errors scored against them, while the freshmen and seniors had 1,009 scored against them.

Miami Pleased by Her Trades Day

MIAMI, March 11. (Special)—Miami's first trades day was held recently with outstanding success from the standpoint of the size of the crowd attracted here by the event and the entertainment afforded the visitors.

The Lions club was host to 100 farmers of the Greenlake community at its weekly luncheon. Diversified farming was the theme of talks made by members and guests.

A Jersey cow was given away by the merchants and business men as a first of a series of prizes planned to stimulate interest in trades day, and at the same time encourage diversified farming. Mrs. Boots Weckesser was the winner. A greased pig race, in which Lee Morrison was the winner, furnished amusement to a large crowd in the afternoon.

Insurance Men Seeking Division of County Business

A petition said to have been signed by all the insurance companies in the county except one, asking the county commissioners to divide equally the insurance on the new courthouse among them, was not acted upon yesterday. The petition was signed by insurance companies of McLean, Pampa and Alamed.

Action on a motion made by Commissioner Lewis Cox to grant the petition was also deferred until the courthouse has been accepted by the county. A local insurance company wrote all the builders' risk insurance for the structure. This will stay in force until the building is completed, when new insurance will be taken out.

At the meeting A. H. Doucette, county surveyor, was authorized to make maps of McLean and its additions and to make 50 maps of Gray county.

"FIRST A SHADOW, then a sorrow"
(Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1807-1882)

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the liche, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"
Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

him a simple service at 2 p. m., just preceding the burial across the Potomac at Arlington.

Fifteen showers of rain, cold and penetrating, began early in the day, dimming somewhat the military glories of the cortege prepared by the government the man served so long, but softening the affectionate outpourings of the public whom he loved and who loved him.

Early in the morning two policemen who have known the former president and chief justice for years, and who have been guarding his home during his illness, were permitted to enter the stand and stand for a few minutes by the side of the flag draped, flower laden coffin.

Throughout the city flags stood at half staff. The embassies and legations of foreign nations had joined with American government in displaying their standards.

Cavalry at Attention

Two troops of cavalry from the third regiment of Fort Myer drew up at attention before the Taft home at 8:48 a.m.

The dun colored cavalry horses were perfectly matched. The black calson was drawn by white artillery horses with red saddle blankets. The two troops filled the half block in front of the house.

The calvarymen back against the far side of the curb, drew their sabres to present, waiting the appearance of the casket from the home. In front of them were the artillerymen.

At 8:56 the military pallbearers, 8 enlisted men of the army, navy, marines entered the front door of the home. A crowd of perhaps 500 people lined the street. Two minutes later, while a bugle called, the casket was borne down the steps of the home to the caisson, while the cavalry men sat with their sabres at salute.

The casket was draped with an American flag which covered its burnished black surface completely. The blue field was at the rear of the coffin over the face of Mr. Taft. When the coffin had been placed in position two black straps were fastened over the flag, holding it securely in place.

As soon as this had been secured the calvary at an order of "four right" moved off down Wyoming avenue toward the capitol, and William Howard Taft had begun his last journey.

EWING—

be a good citizen; but one cannot be opposed to the enforcement of the prohibition law or any other law and be a good citizen. Good or bad, so long as it is the law it should be enforced. The best way to bring about the repeal of a bad law is by its strict enforcement.

We read and hear much about the non-enforcement of the prohibition law. Some declare it a farce, and a rank failure.

According to newspaper reports, and most of the big dailies are dripping wet and spread all the propaganda they can to bring the law into disrepute, one must be convinced that in New York, Chicago and other large cities in the East, prohibition is a rank failure, and on the verge of creating civil war and should be repealed.

The law against murder, racketeer-

Rough

Billy Londos (above) who loves hatred and bores and hisses, is planning new forms of torture for the Bulgarian Demon whom he will wrestle at the Pla-Mor Thursday night. Undoubtedly, this will be one of the most thrilling matches ever held here. The Demon is important in wrestling circles and the fans flock to see Londos secretly. Billy knows they get much enjoyment out of his rough stuff. Leo Chase just stepped out of the News office muttering the threat, "That Tiger Taylor will look like a sick kitten when I get through with him." Leo and Tiger will grapple in the 20-minute affair.

ing, and hijacking is a woeful failure in Chicago, but do we hear of anyone advocating the repeal of the law against those crimes.

The prohibition law may be a farce in the large cities in the East where a foreign element is in control, an element that is not only opposed to the prohibition law, and its enforcement, but opposed to the Government and its institutions, and would overthrow it today if they had the power to do so.

I noticed in a Pampa paper some time ago personal interviews with a number of Pampa citizens, wherein they expressed their opinions as to the enforcement of the liquor law. Some declared the law was not enforced, and is a farce and a failure. If one means by "enforced" absolute prohibition, totally stamping out, why, of course, it is not enforced; nor is any other law enforced. We have laws against murder, arson, rape, burglary, theft, and numerous other offenses and some of them are being violated every day, but we never hear anyone say they are a farce and a failure and should be repealed. No law absolutely prohibits.

The prohibition law may not be enforced in Gray county as strictly as it might be; but it is not a farce. The extent to which it is enforced, has a great deterrent influence. If there was no effort whatever made to enforce the law, we would have open liquor dives right here in the shadow of the courthouse; and the bootlegger would flaunt his wares openly and unmolessted; and the fact that this is not the case makes it evident that the officers are at least making some effort to enforce the law.

There is no excuse for known liquor dives; but alley rats, hip pocket and transient bootleggers are irrepresible. We have had them ever since the days of prohibition, and always will have them to contend with. The officers may be ever diligent, and catch one occasionally, but they will not be able to stop this class of bootlegging; the best they can do is to suppress their activities and keep them on the run.

What is intoxicating liquor? The question is often asked. Any potable liquor, that is, one that is capable of being used as a beverage, regardless of its name, and is capable of producing intoxication when taken into the stomach in reasonable quantities, is, in law, intoxicating liquor; and any liquor that contains in excess of one per cent of alcohol by volume, whether in fact intoxicating or not comes within the same class as intoxicating liquor.

I noticed in a local paper the officers claimed that most of the drunkenness in Pampa is due to "jake." It is just as much against the law to sell "jake" as it is whiskey, and it makes no difference whether it is sold in two ounce bottles or two gallon jugs; and any druggist or other person who sells for beverage purposes "jake," extracts of any kind, or any concoction that is capable of being used as a beverage and will produce intoxication is guilty of violating the law, the same as the most notorious bootlegger, and this class of offender should receive attention and investigation at your hands.

Bootlegging is not confined alone to that class of people commonly called bootleggers. You frequently find high powered bootleggers among the medical profession, so called reputable doctors. It may have been a wise provision of the law which authorized physicians to prescribe intoxicating liquor; but the many other laws granting license and privilege it is unmercifully abused. From what I hear, anyone can go to some doctors, and if he has three dollars, can get a whiskey prescription, without the doctor in any way complying with the law. He has no regard for professional ethics or the law of the land; and masquerading behind a permit that the State of Texas, based upon his integrity and professional standing has granted him, he not only perpetrates a fraud against the law, but brings into disrepute the fair name of the high and noble profession to which he belongs. Such a man deserves the severest condemnation. He is a greater menace to society than a common bootlegger, and should be dealt with more severely. The law provides that every physician who issues a prescription for ethyl alcohol, or any alcoholic liquor, shall first secure a permit from the comptroller, and shall keep a record alphabetically arranged in a separate book provided by the comptroller, which shall show: Date, amount, to whom issued, directions for use (stating the amount and frequency of dose), and the druggist to whom addressed. Such physician shall send a copy of such record to the comptroller, not later than the fifth day of the month for the quarter preceding. Any physician who issues prescriptions must be in active practice, in good standing with his profession, not addicted to the use of narcotic drug, and have a permit as provided herein for issuing prescriptions. Such physician before issuing any prescriptions must make a careful personal, physical examination of the person to whom the alcohol is prescribed, and in no case issue such prescription to any person whom he has reason to believe will use alcohol for beverage purposes, nor prescribe more than a pint of alcohol to any person at a time. Nor shall such prescriptions be filled at any pharmacy or drug store in which the physician has any financial interest.

You will note that the law requires that the physician prescribing intoxicating liquor, shall keep a record alphabetically arranged showing to whom the prescription was issued, date, amount, directions for use, and the druggist to whom issued. This law should be strictly enforced, and if you should inquire into it, you will no doubt be surprised to know the amount of sickness that is prevalent. You will probably find that men you see on the street every day, and whom you never suspected of having anything wrong with them, are suffering from awful and continuing maladies.

WHEN WILL YOU BEGIN USING THIS NEW OIL?
It is being rumored (and truthfully) that no other American motor oil has been so speedily accepted by motorists. Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil has smashed all precedents by its amazing reception... And this oil is as unusual as its introduction. Its superiorities are so apparent, that even before its announcement was well under way, literally thousands of new users were appearing at Red Triangle stations.

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED PARAFFIN BASE MOTOR OIL
Its name seems to intrigue motorists and much conversation has dwelt on the Germ Process, and the whys and wherefores... the story is this: Under exclusive Conoco-owned patent rights, a precious oily essence is added to a superbly fine paraffin base oil. This essence is lacking in all other oils, including the one you are now using. The Germ Process makes possible the metal-penetrating safety factor that we call "penetrative lubricity." And this oil, of all on the market, provides a safer, more positive motor protection, from the time you start the motor until you turn off the ignition.
So... when will you begin using this new oil? ... at the sign of the Red Triangle.
