Visitors

The complete program for the meeting of the Seventh district Federation of Women's clubs, which convenes in Pampa next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, has been announced by Mrs. Wayne Boren of Snyder, district program chairman, and details of the entertainment of the 300 or more delegates have been completed by the local committees appointed by the Council of Clubs.

Mrs. J. T. Whitmore of Snyder, president of the Seventh district, will preside at the meeting, and will sound the convention theme in her address, "An Awakened Public Sentiment." Mrs. Tom E. Rose, president of the local Council of Clubs and general chairman for the convention, heads the 300 club women of the hostess city in welcoming and entertaining the visitors.

Delegates from other cities are to be lodged in the homes of Pampa citizens during their visit here. Mrs. Tom Clayton, chairman of reservations, with members of her group, is asking that a room and breakfast only be furnished by those who will entertain delegates in their homes. Transportation, luncheons, and dinners will be furnished by the council.

Have Many Activities
The program affords much of interest to the great body of club women of the Panhandle country, with their 75 distinct lines of organized activity, and the social courtesies for the three-day meeting provide welcome interludes in the routine of lectures, business sessions, and conferences.

All social functions of the convention will follow a spring time theme, variously interpreted in appointments planned by Mrs. W. A. Brattton and her committee. Menus arranged by Mrs. R. W. Mitchell and her committee, and in some cases, the costumes of those appearing on the programs, will repeat the favored scheme.

The executive board of the district, comprising 75 officers and departmental and divisional chairmen, will convene according to custom, before the formal opening of the convention. A luncheon will be given in honor of the board at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler. This function will be given by courtesy of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Todd to Preside
Mrs. James Todd will preside as hostess, and will extend greetings to the board members. The invocation will be voiced by Mrs. I. B. Hughey, who is a member of the district executive body. The program, arranged by Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, local chairman, and her committee, will include two selections by the Lioneos trio Mrs. Albert Thomas, Mrs. C. C. Boles, and Mrs. W. A. Brattton; "Spring Fancies," an interpretive dance by the younger pupils of the Batail School of Dancing; a pianologue by Mrs. T. F. Morton; and a violin solo by Mrs. Ray Chambers. Mrs. Tom W. Brabham will play the accompaniment for Mrs. Morton's numbers; Mrs. Tom Rose, for the trio; Miss Madeline Tarpley, for the dance; and Mrs. Thomas Fannell, for the violin solo.

The flowers for this occasion will be joinquils, and the joinquil motif will be featured in the details. The color notes of green and yellow

Elopes Despite Mother's Protests

He bought a new roadster . . . it was spring . . . and there you are." That's how a friend explained the reported elopement of Preston Sturges, young playwright, with Eleanor Post Hutton, above right, at New York. The pretty debutante was said to have been married despite the objections of her mother, Mrs. Edward F. Hutton, prominent society woman, shown with her here. Sturges is the author of the current Broadway play success, "Strictly Dishonorable." The bride, 20, was one of eight American women who were presented to King George and Queen Mary of England in 1928.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION HAS ONLY POSTPONED ACTION ON OILFIELD ROAD DESIGNATION, REID LEARNS

Designation of the oil field highway from the Oklahoma line thru Pampa to Dalhart was not refused by the state highway commission, according to a conversation Monday between Judge Ely of Abilene, member of the commission, and F. P. Reid, president of the oil field highway association.

Further proof that the designation was not denied is contained in a letter from the state highway commission, received by Mr. Reid this morning. After listing reasons for the action, the commission wrote: "The commission is forced to postpone for the present further consideration of the highway along the general route proposed."

In a letter received by Mr. Reid last Saturday from Representative Dewey Young, Gibb Gilchrist, highway engineer, was quoted by Mr. Young as saying that the request for designation had been refused because of the nearness of the proposed highway to other designated roads. Mr. Gilchrist stated that the road would be parallel to Highway No. 66 from Shamrock to Amarillo.

Judge Ely informed Mr. Reid at Abilene that the commission had not yet taken definite action on the matter, but that the request for designation would be passed on in at least six weeks, or as soon as the commission met after returning from an inspection of highways near Dalhart in another month.

The commission likely will inspect the oil field highway when they visit the Panhandle next month, it was said.

Mr. Reid, with S. P. Cox, postmaster of Mobeetie, visited friends and relatives at Abilene Sweetwater and other towns in West Texas, including San Angelo, last week-end.

The communication from the state highway commission follows:

"The commission has considered an application for a designation of a state highway from Pampa in Gray county through Carson, Hutchinson, Moore, Hartley and Dallam counties to state highway No. 5 at Dalhart to the Oklahoma line. The commission recognizes the justness of this request and would like to grant it but at this time, except in Carson and Potter counties, and from Stimmet south to the Carson county line in Hutchinson county there is no improved road whatever north of Amarillo. But on the other hand, we have state highway No. 5, No. 4, No. 33-A, No. 117, and No. 54 which must be improved. Funds of the state highway department do not at this time justify an extensive designation of this kind. The commission is forced to postpone for the present further consideration of the highway along the general route proposed."

The letter was a certified copy of the minutes passed by the state highway commission Feb. 26, 1930, the same appearing in the official records of the State Highway Department, Austin.

Bristow Plans to Return to Mexico to Claim Mine

SAN ANGELO, April 17. (P)—Undismayed despite his kidnapping by bandits who held him for ransom for a month, J. E. Bristow, San Angelo oil and mining man, expects to return to Nayarit, Mexico, scene of his imprisonment, to perfect his claim to a zinc, lead and silver mine.

While crowds cheered and cameras clicked, Bristow completed the last lap of his return from captivity here yesterday. Hundreds of friends greeted the veteran prospector and his son, Gordon Orie Bristow, who ransomed the older man for $1,500, on their return home.

Although he said he expected to return to Mexico Mr. Bristow does not expect to do so immediately. He planned today to go to Big Springs "on business" and for a new pair of glasses." He said he lost his old ones soon after his capture.

The official welcoming party here composed of Mrs. Bristow and her daughter, Mrs. W. E. N. Phillips, and Miss Estelle Hutto of Big Spring, friend of the family.

Indian Regrets Use of Violence in Disobedience

NAVSARI, Bombay, India, April 17. (P)—Mahatma Gandhi, Indian Nationalist leader, today deplored rioting at Calcutta and Karachi by his followers in the civil disobedience campaign by which he hoped to win Indian independence from Great Britain.

"Be the violence ever so little," he said, "I have no doubt but that it will harm our struggle. At the same time the struggle must go on unchecked."

KARACHI, India, April 17. (P)—This city was quiet today after bitter fighting yesterday in which British troops fired on a mob of thousands gathered outside the courthouse in protest against arrest and trial of six of the civil disobedience campaign leaders.

A check today showed that one was killed in the fighting, eleven seriously injured and 46 others injured so as to seek treatment at the hospitals. These included 17 police. The dead man was an Indian civilian.

The government health laboratory with apparatus valued at thousands of pounds was destroyed. The treasury office and another government office were seriously damaged.

Considerable criticism of government handling of the mob was heard. It was said the impending demonstration was a matter of common knowledge, but the authorities, in pursuance of the government's conciliatory policy, did nothing to forestall possible trouble. Opponents of the government policy were indignant at the mob was allowed to gather said said sensible handling of the situation would have prevented the outbreak.

Reports were that Calcutta was quiet yesterday, after sanguinary rioting Tuesday. Poona also was quiet. Anxiety, however, continued that troops soon may have to be employed in earnest.

At Madras, Prakasan, former member of the legislative assembly, and Nageswara Rao, editor of a local newspaper, broke the salt law. Both were fined for breach of law, but refused to pay the fine. Their automobiles were then seized and auctioned. They said they intended to break the law again Friday.

LeFors Woman Takes Poison by Mistake and Dies

"I believe I'll take a dose of salts," said Mrs. T. M. Fisher yesterday morning about 10 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. A. Davis at LeFors.

Then she measured into a glass two spoonfuls of white powder taken from a box that looked like it contained salts, poured water into the tumbler and drank the contents. She grew ill immediately. Mrs. Davis immediately discovered that her mother had taken sodium fluoride instead of salts. She was rushed to the office of Dr. R. C. Rutherford where she died in less than an hour.

Sodium fluoride, which lacks the crystal appearance of salts, is used to kill cockroaches, lice on chickens, and other insects.

Mrs. Fisher was 53 years of age. She and her husband had been visiting her daughter for the last month. She is a native of Missouri. She is survived by her husband, five daughters, and one son who live in Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas. Funeral announcements are being held up pending their arrival.

The Hero

By Fred's Studio.
The real hero of "The Valiant," of course, was Doyle Roundtree, who gave a moving, almost masterful interpretation of "The Valiant". At the production of the one-act play here a week ago, Roundtree fulfilled every requirement of the role in manner, speech, acting and spirit. After having seen him in the play, one comes away with the feeling that he fitted the part in looks, personality and expression. It is doubted if there ever will be a more effective "Valiant" than Mr. Roundtree. He deserved the individual honors which he was awarded at the Conyon tournament where the play won first place.

Actor

By Fred's Studio.
Charles Barrett looks youthful enough in this picture, and gay too, but the make-up he effected during a recent presentation of "The Valiant" here transformed him into an iron-gray-haired, stern, but kind and sympathetic warden. He keenly expressed in a vibrant, moving voice the anxiety and grief that he felt before the execution of the "Valiant". His performance was exceptional. The play will be taken to Abilene this week-end. Other members of the cast are Leroy Price, prison chaplain, Curtis Stark, the jailor, and Wade Smith, the attendant.

Wheat Is Weaker
CHICAGO, April 17. (P)—Wheat prices underwent a material setback after a show of firmness at the start.

Starting unchanged to 5-8 higher, wheat afterward dropped below yesterday's finish. Corn and oats weakened also, with corn opening 1-4 off to 1-4 up, and subsequently showing a general sag. Provisions tended upward.

AMERICAN CAPTURED AND BEATEN BY MEXICANS
WASHINGTON, April 17. (P)—The state department announced today that Leonard B. Cassidy, Boston, Mass., United Fruit company employee, was captured April 15 by discharged laborers at El Huile Oaxaca, Mexico.

The report was sent the department by Leonard G. Dawson, American consul at Vera Cruz. Dawson said Mexican military authorities were conducting a widespread search with various units of the army.

Goodyear offers a new heavy duty Balloon

ABEAU BRUMMELL
for Looks

A HUSKY
for Wear

Here's a new tire by Goodyear for the heavy car, the fast driver, the tough and rocky road—for any service that's arduous in the extreme!

It steps apart from other Heavy Duty balloons not only by its greater strength and improved construction, but also by its strikingly handsome appearance.

It's a big, stout, massively proportioned tire, armored with an extra-thick and extra-safe All-Weather Tread, and around its sleek black side-wall runs a single identifying stripe of silver.

New and original is the way in which the outer rows of All-Weather blocks are faceted down into the side-wall, a touch as smart as anything in modern sculpture.

You may be willing to pay a little more for a tire which gives you extra immunity against puncture, extra protection against blowout, extra mileage even in hard continuous service.

Prayer meetings will be held at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mel Davis, Christine street, with Mrs. Bessie Martin as leader, and at the home of Mrs. Roy McMillen, 44 North Houston, with Mrs. J. W. Hutchins as leader.

Services will be held at the home of Mrs. W. N. Craven at 1:30 p.m. The entire congregation is invited.

The Order of the Eastern Star will hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m.

The Mothers Primary club will meet at 2:30 p.m. at the First Methodist church in a business meeting. A short program by the children will be given.

Brotherhood Class
Members and Wives
Are Entertained

The "Blues" of the Brotherhood class of the First Methodist Sunday school paid the obligation they incurred in losing the second period of an attendance and membership contest by entertaining the winning "Reds" and their wives informally Tuesday evening in the church basement.

Cleverly planned contests and games were enjoyed by a large crowd, and ice cream cones were served as refreshments.

The following attended the delightful affair: Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bourland, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boston, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Boston, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Mullinax, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Baer, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Neely, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sackett, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hessey, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gee.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Noel, Mr. and Mrs. Z. H. Mundy, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Loftus, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cary, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Evans.

Bridge Luncheon Is Given Tuesday for
Kongenial Kard Klub

A bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Carl S. Boston on Tuesday, honoring the Kongenial Kard Klub, was one of the week's prettiest affairs. Bright hued tulips centered the three quartet tables where a three course luncheon was served, and decorated the entertaining suite. Place cards and tallies were in the tulip motif, and trophies awarded at the conclusion of the game were wax tulips in pots.

Miss Helen Smith of Tulsa, house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lang, was a special guest, as was Mrs. Jerry Boston. Club members present were the following: Mrs. Lang, Mrs. R. A. Webb, Mrs. Ralph Trimbie, Mrs. F. M. Culberson, Mrs. A. F. Clark, Mrs. Floyd McConnell, Mrs. Roger McConnell, Mrs. Lloyd Bennett, Mrs. Jim White, and Mrs. Jack Mason. Mrs. Jerry Boston scored high for visitors, and Mrs. Lang for club members. Mrs. Craig made top cut.

When his home burst into flames recently, J. M. Wolf of Dodge City, Kan., nonchalantly had his breakfast as firemen started battling the fire.

Mrs. George Walstad
Hostess to Members of Amusu Bridge Club

Amusu bridge club was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. George Walstad, who arranged two tables for the game, effectively employing the Easter motif in details of her party.

Mrs. Clifford Braly and Mrs. Tom E. Rose were special guests. Club members present were: Mrs. W. W. Merien, Mrs. J. M. Dodson, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mrs. Dick Walker, Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mrs. L. N. McCullough, and Mrs. Alex Schneider.

High scores were made by Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. Braly. A delicious plate luncheon was served at the end of the playing.

Drafting Program

GALVESTON, April 17. (P)—A tentative program for the delinquency section of the Texas conference of social welfare work, to be held in Galveston May 1-3, has been drawn up by J. W. Mills, Harris county probation officers.

All probation officers in the state are expected to attend the parley.

League Meet to Begin Tomorrow

CANYON, April 17. (Special)—The first district Texas Interscholastic League meet will bring a large number of school administrators to Canyon on Friday and Saturday, as W. E. Lockhart, director general of the district depends upon outside help for many of the events.

Superintendent H. A. Finch of Dalhart will direct the declamation contest for city schools. E. L. Hunter, grade school principal of Amarillo, will have charge of declamation for rural schools. C. R. E. Weaver, superintendent of schools at Silverton, will direct the extemporaneous speaking contests.

T. L. Hull of the Amarillo high school faculty will direct the boys tennis tournaments.

The remainder of the directors are chosen from the faculty of the West Texas State Teachers college. They include F. E. Savage, R. H. Jennings, T. B. McCarter, T. M. Moore, F. J. Byer, S. D. Burton, Miss Ada V. Clark, Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, and Miss Ruth Cross.

LeRoy Landers and C. W. West, members of the senior class of the Teachers college will help with the boys' tennis tournament and the general information booth respectively. West is one of the scoutmasters at Canyon, and the Boy Scouts will act as pages for the meet.

R. Q. Lee Again
Is Near Death

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—Anxious over the condition of Representative R. Q. Lee of Texas was felt again with the announcement that his illness, brought on by a stroke a month ago, was again serious.

For several days after the stroke Lee's physicians held little hope for his recovery, but the Texan rallied, and he was declared on the road to recovery. Last night, however, physicians announced his condition had taken a turn for the worse, and they doubted he would recover.

Lee was elected representative in 1928, succeeding Thomas L. Blanton. Lee formerly was president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Moody to Attend Big Oil Session

FORT WORTH, April 17.—Governor Dan Moody of Texas has accepted the invitation extended by Tom E. Crainfill, president of the Independent Petroleum association of Texas to attend the meeting of Independent oil men here next Saturday.

He will be one of the honor guests at the banquet Saturday night. This meeting is being held under the auspices of the Independent Petroleum association of America. United States senators from Texas and Oklahoma were invited to attend both by the National organization and the state association, but none will be able to be here.

Plans are being completed for the directors' meetings of the various state associations of the national organization. All of these meetings will be held Friday. Saturday's affair will be a mass meeting of independent operators from all parts of the United States. Delegations are expected to begin arriving Thursday afternoon. Wirt Franklin, president of the American association, will be among the early arrivals. Fred E. Tucker of Ardmore, executive secretary, is also expected here Thursday. From information received at the offices of the Independent Petroleum association of Texas practically every oil producing state will be represented.

In addition to Wirt Franklin's speech on the question of an oil tariff, which will be delivered Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, the banquet Saturday evening will be another program feature. This will begin at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening in the ball room of the Texas hotel. Several hundred requests for reservations have already been received and local oil men are expecting this to be one of the largest attended banquets ever held in Fort Worth.

Old Oil Man Tells of Thrills

BEAUMONT, April 17. (AP)—His marriage, conversion to Christianity, and the coming in of the Spindle Top oil field 30 years ago are the three greatest thrills experienced by a man here who recently celebrated his seventh-fifth birthday.

He is George W. Carroll, who has been active in church and prohibition work here all his life and who has been a candidate for vice president of the United States and Governor of Texas.

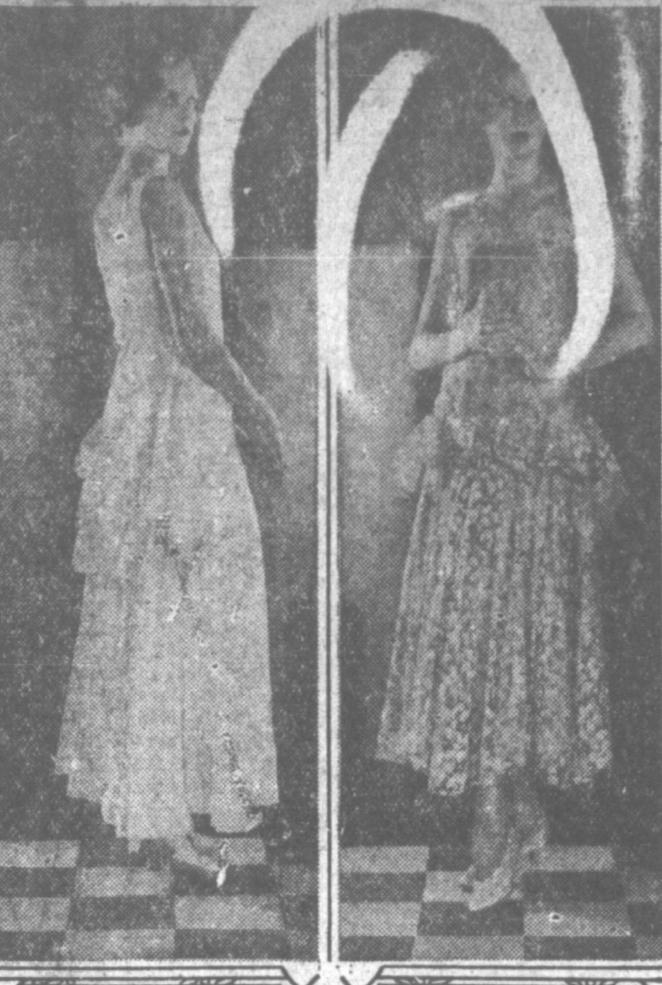

Once wealthy as a result of his activities in the lumber business, he gave his entire fortune to the Baptist church and educational institutions in Texas.

Many years ago when Carroll was mayor of Beaumont he found it difficult to get his police force to take action against gambling houses. He wore a long beard at the time, one night he shaved it off and went smooth faced to one of the leading gambling houses of the city where he "sat in" the game, unrecognized, all evening, getting first hand information.

To Recognize Racing
GALVESTON, April 17. (AP)—For the first time in the history of gulf coast outboard motorboat racing, speed records made in the two-day regatta to be held at Clear Lake, Easter Sunday morning will have official sanction and will be recognized in all parts of the country.

The regatta will be staged by the Gulf Coast Outboard Motorboat association. The long entry list includes professionals and amateurs from all parts of the South.

Pinks Popular in Fashions Now

It is smart to be pretty this season, and to make it easy, fashions are never lovelier. The constant emphasis on beauty, quaintness and charm is felt in every direction. The silhouette is feminine and well-proportioned, fabrics offer a wide range in material and weave, and colors are soft and flattering.

Illustrated are examples of the two leading shades of pinks shown at the J. C. Penny company buying convention at Tulsa, Okla. R. L. Champion, manager of the local store attended last week. The dusty pink dance frock at the right is developed in lace, outstanding fabric for formal wear. Following the newest evening silhouette the full skirt falls in a moderate flare from the hips. The peplum, caplet sleeves and youthful neckline are favorite details of this season's "pretty fashions."

The pink opaline chiffon gown at the left, which is slightly more formal in treatment, has a narrow belt placed "at the curve," the ankle length skirt is transparent below the slip and the three tiers of ruffles, reminiscent of the bustle, dip slightly on one side. Adv.

Junior Department of Sunday School to Have Easter Egg Hunt

Teachers and officers of the Junior department of the Baptist Sunday school will give an Easter party and egg hunt for the 140 pupils of the department on Saturday afternoon.

The party will assemble at the church at 2 o'clock, and from there will go to the site selected by the hostesses. Mrs. W. B. Henry is superintendent of the department.

DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—Business and unemployment conditions are better in the Southwest than in any other section of the United States, Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of the department of commerce, said here today. He made the comment in connection with a discussion of general business conditions as a result of President Hoover's program which followed the market crash of last fall.

The regatta will be staged by the Gulf Coast Outboard Motorboat association. The long entry list includes professionals and amateurs from all parts of the South.

Demonstrators to Meet at Canyon

CANYON, April 17. (Special)—Of twenty-four home demonstration agents in Texas districts Nos. 1 and 2, given are graduates or ex-students of the West Texas State Teachers college and received their special training in the Home Economics department of that college.

Those who belong in this list are Miss Myrtle Miller of Pampa, Miss Doris Leggett of Vernon, Miss Margie Lyon of Panhandle, Miss Ruth Bloodworth of Matador, Miss Viola Jones of Wheeler, Miss Jennie Osborne of Spur, and Mrs. Julia Kelly of Plainview.

Women's Home Demonstration clubs of twenty-four counties will meet in Canyon April 22 for a short course conducted by the co-operation of the West Texas State Teachers college and Texas A. & M. college. An attendance of 500 is expected.

Air Safety Demonstrated
LOS ANGELES, Cal. (AP)—Flying more than 1,000,000 miles between Seattle, Wash., and Los Angeles with mail and passengers, four mechanical landings have been made by Pacific Air Transport pilots. They were not forced landings, officials say, but were made at regular emergency fields.

WON'T STOP PRIMARY

"Vitamin D" to Prevent Disease

PHILADELPHIA, April 17. (AP)—Dr. Weston A. Price, Cleveland scientist, told an audience of Philadelphia physicians last night that after years of research he had found in "vitamin D" a preventive, and in some cases a cure, for the so-called degenerative diseases—cancer, heart disease, influenza and pneumonia.

In some instances he said he had cured cases of these diseases by the introduction of the vitamin in capsule form, or in less advanced stages by changing the patient's diet to include quantities of spring butter containing a high percentage of the curative element. He did not mention cancer specifically among these cases.

Dr. Price spoke in the auditorium of the county medical society before members of the society and of the academy of stomatology. With conclusions drawn from spectral analysis of the sun's ray, he presented the theory that light is composed of those elements which sustain the spring season and are absorbed by grass-eating animals. Hence, he said, milk at this season of the year is abnormally rich in vitamins, particularly vitamin D.

IASE PLANS LAY TO BEAT JOE KOPECKY

Chase has it all figured out. He is going to throw Joe Kopecky, the man who brags about his picking records, this evening at the Pia-Mor. He has seen lanky Joe in action and he believes he knows just what is needed to put the champion's shoulders the mat.

What he is going to do, that is, plan will employ to make Kopecky put the mat, is not for publication, but he did authorize the state to state that it will be an eye an eye tomorrow night if the on-picker gets rough. God's Voice Is Revival Subject Last Evening

Using as a text Hebrews 3:7, "Today if ye will hear His voice; harden not your hearts," Evangelist Malley, who is conducting revival services at the Christian church, reached last night one of the strongest sermons of the present series presenting the most impressive and urgent reasons for immediate surrender of heart and life to Jesus Christ the Son of God. The speaker said in part:

"Salvation is ready. The old ones and ceremonial and all the old laws were taken out of the way, nailed to the cross, like a canceled account in oriental lands in ancient time. Christ made the great sacrifice, and now men may come in trusting faith knowing that full atonement is provided. All are included in the great invitation to partake of the benefits of gospel blessings, for the Spirit, through the Bible invites; the Bride, the church, its services, invites, and God as if to appeal to every soul sovengly pleads, 'Whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely.' Every hearer is authorized the say 'Come.' So that there is full and free salvation if men will be saved;" after all is arranged and all gospel declared, a man's salvation depends upon his own will, to decide and act according to the New Testament requirements.

The need of salvation was urged as being a need for forgiveness of past sins, a new and higher plan for life, leading to worthy character; a need for strength "u need of strength for life's burdens, and temptations, and the sorrows that inevitably come; the need for a perfect guide and model, Christ being the perfect one to imitate and follow.

By illustration and earnest appeal the preacher urged immediate decision for Christ, showing that God's time for every important act was "Now, today." He spoke of the brevity of life, how uncertain the time of each one, the utter hopelessness of any change or correction of conditions after death, and warned against the hardening of the heart by delay or indecision. He also urged that the influence, the active service of every man should be given to God and His kingdom right now, and all thru life, perfecting one's own character, lifting up others, making human fit for the exaltation to glory.

Repeatedly the preacher emphasized that the Christian religion is not a scheme for those who hardened their hearts against God all through the years to slip into heaven at the last. God wants life and service through all the years and character—that which will endure for eternity, is not moulded in a dying moment, but is the masterpiece of God's process of sanctification through the agency of his church, and takes all the years each man may have on earth.

Several persons obeyed the New Testament ordinance of Christian immersion at the close of the service. Others will arrange to so honor the Lord and dedicate their

BRUSHING UP SPORTS

Missouri's Milers Invade Kansas Relays

BY J. H. ANDERSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

LAWRENCE, Kans. (AP)—America's outstanding amateur track and field athletes will compete here April 18 and 19 in the eighth annual University of Kansas relays.

With the possible exception of the Atlantic seaboard and the old South, all sections of the nation will be represented with the preponderance of entrants from the middle west.

Outstanding among the entrants so far is the University of Missouri's crack mile relay team, Big Six indoor champions this year. The relay team will attempt to shatter the record of 3 minutes and 20 seconds which has stood as a Kansas games mark since the University of Iowa established it four years ago.

Tom Warne, Northwestern university pole vaulter who jointly holds the Kansas Relays record and who has performed brilliantly this season, will strive to clear the bar at 14 feet. Cy Leland, the sprinting sensation of Texas Christian university, also is entered.

The decathlon, first held on the Kansas program in 1928 as training for prospective Olympic contestants, will be held again this year.

For the last five years the University of Kansas has endeavored to add a novel touch to the program. First it was the Tarhoo to add a novel touch to the program. Then school boy athletes from Punahoa academy, Hawaii, took part in the games.

This year it will be a rodeo held under the footlights in the stadium Friday night. Barbecued buffalo meat will be served.

Kid Psychology to Aid Phillies

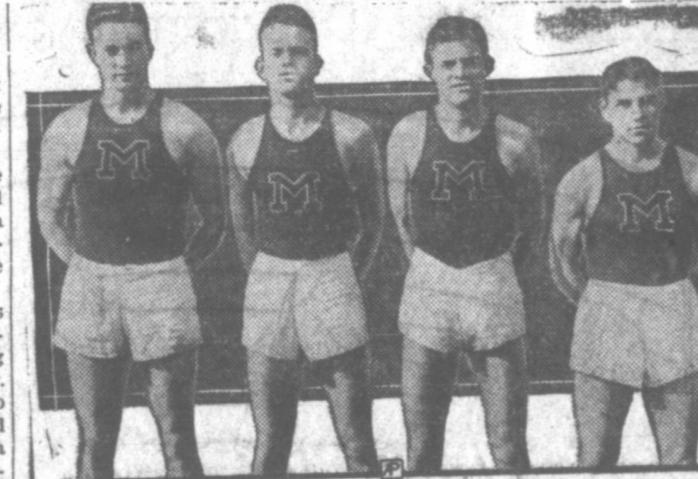

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Burt Shotton thinks he has one player on his team not on the payroll but destined to play an important part in the season's campaign. Kid psychology is the extra man for the Phillips.

"Winning that first game from Brooklyn 1 to 0 will do us a lot of good," said Manager Shotton. "The psychology of that is great. It will be worth much more to us than if we had won 10 to 8, or some such score."

"Why here we are sized up by everybody as a team of sluggers with no pitchers. When the forecasts were being made the experts said, 'The Phillips would be dangerous if they had some pitchers.' And then we step out the opening day and show the best pitching performance in either league; and mind you it's a game where we have to hit almost perfect pitching to win."

In the American league, Washington's Senators became the first team to win two games by nosing out Boston 5 to 4, on the strength of two home runs in early innings. Sam West, the first man up, got one; then Ossie Bluege cracked out another with two on base. After the third inning, Milton Gaston gave the Senators two hits, but Bump Hadley kept the Sox in check by allowing them only six altogether.

WEATHER HITS BASEBALL IN BIG CIRCUITS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Old man weather has delivered his first severe blow of the baseball year.

Mr. Weather, in the form of rain and cold, wiped off five games from yesterday's major league program, leaving but two in the National League and one in the American.

And the Chicago White Sox and to stage their opening at Chicago, Cleveland Indians still are trying hopeful of getting it done before the Indians have to move on.

It might have been better for the national league champions, the Chicago Cubs, if the rainy area had extended as far as St. Louis. Playing their second game there, the Cubs took a 13 to 3 beating from the rampant Cardinals. Starting in the first inning, the Cards collected 20 hits, six of them doubles and one home run by Jim Bottomly. George Fisher, slugger recently won for the second time the Gran Primo Nacional of Argentina, 800-mile road race, has also announced his intention of seeking American laurels.

Restoration of the two-seated racer for the Indianapolis race, according to Captain Rickenbacker, has stimulated competitive interest and the prospects of a record smashing event.

The other National league game gave Cincinnati an even break in two games against Pittsburgh with a 3 to 1 triumph. Pete Donohue of Cincinnati engaged in a duel of right handers against Ervin Braine and came out ahead because of support he received. Donohue kept ten hits scattered, and Critz Ford, and Kelly put a quick stop to Pirate threats by completing three double plays. The Reds bunched a pair of their seven hits off Braine for two runs and Walker made all messages to and from the pit along the track.

"While we hit Clark harder than Brooklyn hit Sweetland, we didn't do what you would call hard hitting all afternoon, but we did score one run we needed to win the game when we bunched a couple of hits."

"If that doesn't put psychology on our side, why not? Brooklyn can hit, too, which makes it all the more remarkable performance by our pitcher, Sweetland."

Argentina Car Imports Rise
BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's imports of American passenger automobiles increased 21 per cent in 1929 over 1928. Rising popularity of cars quoted under $700 was noted in the fact that 76 per cent of the imports were in the low-price class.

FOUR TEAMS HOPE TO PLAY AGAIN TODAY

By The Associated Press
After a day's enforced idleness for four of the eight teams, the Texas league race was resumed today with the Beaumont Exporters still comfortably in the lead.

Beaumont's closest adversaries, Wichita Falls and Dallas, fight it out on the Spudder diamond, the Steers hoping to climb back into a tie for second place lost yesterday when they lost to the Fort Worth Cats at Fort Worth. Wichita Falls, idle yesterday profited by the Dallas loss without an effort.

The league leaders, rained out yesterday in a game scheduled with the San Antonio Indians on the Beaumont field, journeyed to the Indian Camp today. Shreveport whose game with the Spudders likewise was called, were hosts to the Fort Worth Cats who broke their losing streak by the 4 to 1 victory over Dallas at Fort Worth. It was the second victory of the season for the Panthers.

Waco, fighting to get out of the cellar, and Houston, fighting to stay out, play a return engagement at Houston, their meeting at Waco ending with a 10 to 3 victory for the Buffs.

Wind Prevents Baseball Game

The unusually high wind which developed into a norther last night resulted in the postponement of the baseball game which was scheduled to be played yesterday afternoon between the Jemcos of Jones-Everett Machine company and the Gulf Gunners.

The game will be played this afternoon at five o'clock on the Jemco diamond east of the shop. The Jemcos report several new players in their line-up. Rusty Cahill is the new captain. He is playing third base. The Gulf Gunners are rated as the best team in this community. Thus far they have won from the Jemcos, Shell, Coltex and Clarendon.

H. L. Case, Courthouse Builder, Is Native Son-Tries to Construct Work of Art and Lasting Service

Since the new courthouse was to be used for county citizens and to be paid for by them, when the time came for the commissioners to let the building contract, it was awarded to a native of Gray county, a man who was reared in Pampa and who has lived here most of his life—H. L. Case.

"Casey," as he is known to the county commissioners, some of whom were his boyhood friends, established the H. L. Case Construction company in Pampa in June, 1926. Among the construction projects he has completed are the additions to the high school and the First National bank. He has also built many fine residences here.

However, he considers the courthouse his most important achievement. "There has been some comment regarding the length of time that was required to finish the courthouse," Mr. Case said, "and I would like to explain my side of the case, now that the courthouse is finished and occupied. In the first place, it would be criminal to try to complete a building like it in six months. Even to build it in less than nine months would practically amount to a sacrifice of artistic standards. In erecting a fine courthouse that must stand for many years, a construction engineer cannot employ the same methods that he uses in building a store, or an office building. It takes time to create something beautiful and something durable, and the more beautiful and lasting it is, the more time is required. Not many citizens know that the decorations in the district court room alone required 350 hours with a half dozen men working steadily."

"It took time for the steel to set, for the foundation to adjust itself, for the concrete to settle. The prevalent custom of building in a hurry is the bane of American architecture at present. I took my time in building the Gray county courthouse because I wanted to build a beautiful, strong structure and not a cheap affair."

Mr. Case pointed out that there were some unavoidable delays. The ground for the building was broken in January, 1929. During the first two months of 1929, the excavation work was completed. Then there was a long wait for the steel. The foundation was completed in the early summer, but it was the last of August before the steel frame had been erected. Workmen were busy on the building from the first of September until its completion. In all, about 10 months were required to build it. There were two delays in shipping besides the steel, the sand and gravel held up work several weeks and the T. M. B. flooring arrived two weeks late.

Despite other discoveries of larger areas on the Antarctic continent by exploring groups under American auspices, no effort has been made to claim the territory for the United States. Many geographers hold that the question of what constitutes sovereignty in the Antarctic has never been decided. Some believe that mere discovery without actual settlement does not permit a claim.

Charles Evans Hughes, then secretary of state, said in 1924 that "it is the opinion of the department of state that the discovery of lands unknown to civilization, even when coupled with a formal taking of possession, does not support a valid claim of sovereignty unless the discovery is followed by an actual settlement of the discovered country."

No country, geographers say, has a permanent population anywhere in the antarctic.

"Fast Life," now thrilling and chilling the cash customers and even the passers-by like the writer, at the Crescent theatre, is the picture referred to. Loretta Young, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Chester Morris are the youngsters who not only each new individual heights by their performances, but set a mark that their rival of all ages must shoot at.

So if you want good acting, don't omit "Fast Life" from your schedule this week. Some very fine performances are registered, also by others in what might truly be called an "all star" cast, if stardom goes by ability. Ray Hallor, James Ford, William Holden, John St. Polis, Farnell, Pratt and Frank Sheridan are some of the well-known stage and screen folk whose performances are striking in this newest First National Vitaphone special.

Before I forget, too, I must mention a bit played by the famous negro baritone, James B. Jones, who is said to possess one of the best baritone voices ever heard. Jones sings a negro folk song from the death cell at Sing-Sing in one highly dramatic sequence of the picture.

FIREFPROOF PLYWOOD MAY RETURN TO PLANE MARKET

SEATTLE, (AP)—Discovery of a fireproofing method for plywood may aid the Pacific Northwest product to compete with other airplane materials.

E. A. Harris, a senior in the college of forestry, University of Washington, who discovered while doing research work that a borax solution makes plywood fireproof, and Prof. Bro. L. Grondal of the college faculty, insist that it will. Both are enthusiastic about the discovery and the success they predict for it.

Plywood construction, stronger and more durable than other forms of wood, rivals metal for adaptability to airplane bodies," Grondal said. "It's combustible nature has curtailed its use. Fireproofing compositions have been tested on plywood before, but they always have deteriorated the glue in the material.

"Harris has determined completely that the borax solution acts as a perfect non-combustible protection without affecting the glue."

Hoover Likely to Allow Building of 3 Cruisers

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—Representative French of Idaho, chairman of the important naval appropriations sub-committee, said today that President Hoover was expected to permit the laying down of three of the first five cruisers in the 15-cruiser program within 30 and 60 days.

The Idahoan, who has been in frequent touch with the president on naval affairs, outlined a plan of his under which the laying down of the second five cruisers would be delayed until late in the next fiscal year. He intends to propose the plan to his committee, which is engaged in drafting the navy appropriations bill.

Under the London naval conference agreement, French explained, the third five cruisers of the three year program are not to be constructed.

With the eight new 10,000 ton cruisers now being completed, and ten of the 15 cruiser program, he said, the United States navy would have the 18 vessels of that class as agreed to at London in the three-power pact.

Curran Charges Pro Killing Is Misrepresented

24—CURRAN CHARGES

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—Henry H. Curran, president of the Association against the prohibition amendment, charged today before the senate lobby committee that some of the reports by government agents of prohibition slayings did not fully represent the facts.

He added the agents reported to "say their own skins" and said Assistant Secretary Loman, in charge of prohibition enforcement for the treasury, accepted the reports.

Appearing for the second day, Curran said the principal activity of his association was assembling and distribution of prohibition information.

Questioned by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, he testified there was "no concealment of facts that come to our knowledge."

Walsh asked if the association compiled statistics concerning the number of persons killed by prohibition agents.

"We do, and it seems to us a considerable number," Curran replied.

Youngsters in Crescent Movie

Youth will be served. Perhaps that is why three of the outstanding historic performances of the year, in this critic's opinion, are by mere youngsters. Moreover, they're all in one picture.

GOAT SAVED FROM HAWKS MADE MASCOT OF AIRPORT

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—A young goat that was saved from a pair of hawks by two aviators has been made the mascot at the Jefferson City airport.

The two airmen were flying low near here when they saw the hawks attacking the goat which was lost in a field. The birds were diving repeatedly at the bleating animal as it ran about distractedly, unable to escape its tormentors.

In the field, the fliers went to the goat's rescue and drove off the hawks. The frightened animal was taken aboard the plane and brought here, where airport attaches made a pet of it and named it "O-X-4."

Novelty Flights Decrease

DALLAS, (AP)—The novelty hop is almost a thing of the past in this section of the country, airport records show. A few years back many passengers paid $1 a minute for a 10-minute flights. Today the charge is one-fourth as much, but business is extremely light except during week-ends.

CONVENTION—

will be repeated in the menu. Several Pampa women, who are members of the board, will be among the honored guests.

Brief Board Session

Following the luncheon, there will be a preconvention board session at the First Methodist church, headquarters for the meeting. This will be brief. At 2:30 o'clock, delegates and visitors who have arrived in the city will be taken on a tour of the oil fields. Business men and members of men's service clubs will co-operate with Mrs. Ivy Duncan, transportation chairman, and her committee, in extending this courtesy. It is expected that the majority of the delegates from all parts of the Panhandle will have arrived in time to enjoy this feature of the entertainment and the tea to follow.

An Oriental tea, one of the most elaborate social affairs of the meeting, will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Hughey on Wednesday, between 5 and 6:30 o'clock. Those who will appear on the fine arts program of Wednesday evening, both out-of-town visitors and talented local people, will be the complimented guests at the tea. All women of the city and the community are invited to attend. Mrs. G. T. Hunkspiller will be official hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robert Montgomery, Mrs. Eddie Cobb, and Mrs. T. R. Martin. In the receiving line with Mrs. Hughey and Mrs. Tom E. Rose, general chairman of the convention, will be state and district federation officers.

An Oriental Motif

The Oriental motif will be developed chiefly in the costumes of those presenting the program and in the selections, themselves. Mrs. Ray Chambers, in Turkish costume, will play a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Fannell. The Japanese number will be a vocal solo by Mrs. Robert Chafin. The older pupils of Miss Marie Batai's class will execute a Chinese dance. An Egyptian costume will be worn by Mrs. A. H. Doucette who will sing. Miss Madeline Tarpley will play a Rachmaninoff prelude, wearing Russian costume.

The fine arts department, of which Mrs. R. B. Masterson, Jr., of Amarillo is the chairman, will present its program Wednesday evening at the high school auditorium. Annually one of the outstanding occasions of the district meeting, the fine arts program to be presented here gives promise of surpassing interest those of the last several years. Texas folk lore is the colorful theme to be followed throughout, with an historical pageant, "Under Six Flags," the climax and grand finale. Talent from several Panhandle cities will appear.

Mrs. Charles F. Smith of Amarillo, a singer of note in the southwest, and a recognized master of the negro dialect, will sing negro spirituals in character. Others on the program will appear in costume. The Rotary Ann quartet of Pampa, which includes Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. J. M. Dodson, Mrs. F. L. Elliott, and Mrs. Thomas Brabham, will sing Indian numbers.

Cowboy ballads will be sung by a young man from West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon. A Spanish dance and a Mexican fan-dango will be given by Amarillo talent. Thus, while historical sequence will not be observed in the early part of the program, the single numbers will represent in succession the several folk who have figured in the history of the state.

Will Have Pageant

"Under Six Flags" is a pageant by Mrs. L. A. Wells of Amarillo, written originally for competition in the state federation's contest in pageantry. Mrs. E. P. Gipson of Amarillo, director of the one former private presentation of the pageant, will direct an Amarillo cast in the public performance here. A brilliant setting and impressive tablaux will enhance the effect of the dramatic production.

The fine arts program will be open to the public and free of charge. It is scheduled to begin at 8:30 o'clock. It will, perhaps, hold more of interest to the general public than any other convention program. Local club leaders urge the attendance of everyone.

The convention, proper, will open Thursday morning at the Methodist church, with registration of delegates at 8 o'clock. The opening session will be held at 8 o'clock, featuring welcome addresses from City Manager F. M. Gwin, who will speak for the business men of the city, and Mrs. W. Purvisance, speaking for the women. Assembly singing at this and other sessions will be led by Mrs. W. A. Wilson of this city.

College Dean Coming

Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women in West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, will deliver the first convention address during the morning session, speaking on "The Place of a Dean of Girls in a High School." In view of the stress being given the encouragement of the movement for high school deans in the district federation's bi-annual program of work, this address probably will be one of the most attractive of the convention to club women.

In addition to the address, the session will include reports from special convention committees, the introduction of officers, and the reports of the president and three vice-presidents. A memorial service will be conducted by Mrs. E. C. Seaman of Amarillo, tribute to those whose death has removed from the ranks since the 1929 spring meeting.

Mrs. Meharg to Preside

The department of education will be in charge of the Thursday luncheon, which will be held in the basement of the Methodist church at 12 o'clock. Mrs. S. A. Hurst will be the local hostess, while Mrs. C. M. Ballinger of Lubbock, chairman of the department, will be the presiding district officer. Mrs. S. W. Meharg of Plainview is to be toastmistress. The address of the occasion will be given by Mrs. William Dingus of the Texas Technological college faculty, who will speak on "The Value of Higher Education for Women."

Mrs. Harry Lyman will sing at the luncheon, giving the only local number on the program. A variety of spring blossoms will decorate the tables, and the floral motif will be followed.

The feature of the afternoon session will be an address by Senator C. C. Small of Wellington, on "Law Observance". The American home department, headed by Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon, will make its report, each of the four divisional chairmen speaking briefly. Summaries from the individual clubs of the district will be given in alphabetical order, from A to H, inclusive. Miss Capitol Gerlach of Canadian, chairman of the department of international relations; Mrs. J. V. Connor, chairman of the department of legislation; and Mrs. C. R. Buchanan, chairman of publicity, will speak.

Dinner for President

The annual dinner honoring the district president will be given on Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock. The church basement will be transformed for the occasion into a bower of almost life-size apple trees in full blossom, and every detail of the dinner will repeat the motif and color scheme of the setting.

Mrs. W. A. Bratton will be local hostess, with Mrs. C. M. Holt of Amarillo as toastmistress. The program, arranged in harmony with the decorative theme of the evening, will include music by the high school orchestra; a pantomime, "When It's Apple Blossom Time in Normandy", by Audrey Noel and Charles Thomas; addresses by Mrs. S. W. Meharg of Plainview; Mrs. R. F. Lindsay of Mount Pleasant; state federation president; and R. H. Fisher of this city; the president's response by Mrs. Whitmore; a selection by the Lions club octet; a piano duo by Miss Ruth Anne Mitchell and Miss Dorothy Pollard; and a reading by Mrs. Wm. T. Fraser. The floral tribute to the honoree will be presented by Mrs. H. H. Hicks.

Reservations on Sale

Mrs. Charles Thut, vice-chairman of the convention, is in charge of the reservations for the president's dinner, and will have them on sale until noon next Tuesday to local persons wishing to attend. It is expected there will be more than 250 guests, including the out-of-town visitors.

"President's evening" will follow the dinner honoring Mrs. Whitmore. On that occasion the district president will deliver her convention address on "An Awakened Public Sentiment", and the state federation president will extend greetings to the Seventh district.

Mrs. Tillman Jones of Post, first vice-president of the district, will preside.

Greetings from the hostess city will be given by Mrs. Tom E. Rose. J. W. Hale of Littlefield, prominent in the educational field of the Panhandle, will speak on "Home and Education". Entertainment features of the program will be selections by the local choral club, directed by Thomas Fannell, a violin solo by Roy Tinsley, and an organ piano duo by Mrs. F. L. Elliott and Mrs. Tom W. Brabham. A large audience of Pampa citizens, in addition to the convention body is expected to be interested in this luncheon program.

Reports on Friday

Friday morning's session, opening at 8:30 o'clock, will be occupied with reports of two of the most important departments of the district: the department of education, of which Mrs. C. M. Ballinger of Lubbock is chairman; and the department of public welfare, of which Mrs. T. V. Reeves of Canyon is chairman; round tables and conferences with the state president, Mrs. R. F. Lindsay; further reports from individual clubs of the district; and presentation of the department of citizenship. The girls' glee club of Central high school, directed by Thomas Fannell, will sing at the beginning of the program.

The department of public welfare will be in charge of the luncheon at 12 o'clock Friday in the church basement. Mrs. Grace Higgins will act as local hostess, and Mrs. Q. S. Barrett of Childress will be the presiding district officer. Mrs. T. V. Reeves as chairman of the department will be director of the program. Mrs. George Briggs of Pampa, by invitation of the district program committee, will be the speaker of the occasion. Her address will be on the subject, "Welfare Problems Confronting Texas".

The departmental chairman and her divisional chairmen will be presented. A vocal solo by Thomas Fannell, with accompaniment by Mrs. Fannell; and a violin solo by LaVerne Twiford, with piano accompaniment by his mother, Mrs. H. G. Twiford, will complete the luncheon program.Will Close Friday

Friday afternoon will see the close of the convention and the selection of the site for next year's meeting. Memphis will invite the district for the coming year, and, in the event of competition, will put up a strong rivalry for the honor according to club leaders of that city. Mrs. R. B. Masterson, Jr., and the divisional chairman of the fine arts department, will make their reports at that session.

Outstanding, however, in the final session, will be the annual singing contest, which will be directed by Mrs. Charles F. Smith of Amarillo, chairman of the folk music division. The greatest number of choral clubs ever to compete in the district meet is expected to take part. Pampa, for the first time, will be represented by a choral club, and will compete for the handsome loving cup.

An art exhibit by leading Panhandle artists, both men and women, will be on display at the Methodist church throughout the three-day meeting, and will attract the interest of both local and visiting persons. Oils, etchings, and decorated china will be on display under the supervision of Mrs. C. E. Palmer of Amarillo and Mrs. Tom Eller, local exhibit chairman.

ROBBERY—

said he then went to a Crump street address where he "got two negroes and took them to Fifteenth and Commerce."

Boyt said he told the negroes, both of whom had guns, to rent a service car, and go to Polytechnic Terrell.

At about 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning (the day of the robbery), Boyt said he was in the lobby of the Texas hotel when one of his companions came after him. The "ring-leader" was in the car. The three talked, Boyt said, and he and his companion wanted to withdraw, but the "ring-leader" called them "a couple of kill joys."

That night, Boyt said, he again saw the "ring-leader," who told him (Boyt) the robbery hadn't gone through. Boyt said he and another of his companions went to 303 Crump street, where they saw the "one-eyed negro who later was killed."

Boyt declared one of the negroes was not armed and both had been drinking.

He said that last Monday the "ring-leader" called him by telephone and that I "didn't know him no time no where."

In the hold-up plans, one of which was alleged to have taken the two negroes to Polytechnic on the day of the robbery.

They also arrested a negro, following Boyd's statement.

One of the men under arrest, when informed of Boyt's statement,

ORGANIZATION OF COUNTY IS TRACED BACK TO 1902, WHEN IT WAS DETACHED FROM ROBERTS

Gray county as an organized institution is a product of this century, having its inception in the summer of 1902, when it was detached from the jurisdiction in which Miami was governmental headquarters.

The commissioners' minutes of Gray county, Vol. 1, Page 1, contain this entry:

"Be it remembered that on Monday the 30th day of June, A. D. 1902, there came and was held a called meeting of the Hon. Com. court of Gray county, Texas, at the temporary courthouse at LeFors of said county."

The county's first officers were: Hon. G. H. Saunders, county judge; J. M. Jackson, commissioner precinct 1; H. B. Lovett, commissioner precinct 2; P. E. Johnson, commissioner precinct 3; S. B. Owens, commissioner precinct 4; Silas Faulkner, county clerk; J. T. Crawford, sheriff; Henry Thut, ex-treasurer. In the following August the court appointed S. E. Boyett to act as county attorney until the November election.

The second meeting of the commissioners was held July 1, 1902. At that time the bid of G. P. Barnard & company, amounting to $2,457.50, for a complete set of books and miscellaneous stationery for the county was accepted. At this session the court entered the following statement of the county's organization:

First Election Held

"Whereas, the county of Gray in the State of Texas, having obtained an order for organization from the parent county of Roberts, State of Texas, setting May 27, 1902, as the date of election for voting for the county seat and county officers of said Gray county, and whereas said election was held on said date and all officers elected at said election qualified according to law; the first term of said court arched roof, and a guarantee

Advertisements for bids on a suitable vault were placed in the Miami Chief and the Clarence Banner-Stockman. George W. Nickel got the vault contract August 12 for $985. The vault plans called for a structure 8 by 10 feet, with a brick to law; the first term of said court arched roof, and a guarantee against cracking for one year.

Coal Stoves Bought

Only July 19, 1902, the commissioners approved the bid and awarded the contract for the first courthouse to H. E. Weckesser at a cost of $2,208.50. The agreement specified completion in 90 days with the "best of art and skill" and that the building be "well and sufficiently nailed." It was 46 by 40 feet in size of five rooms, and was given two coats of paint inside and out.

After the county seat was moved to Pampa in 1928, the county began to study locations for a new courthouse site. Finally, on April 17, the commissioners purchased the south half of block 22, Pampa, for $13,000, and the adjoining south half of block 22 for $10,000. At a special session October 4, 1928, the contracts for the new courthouse were let as follows:

General—H. L. Case, $213,354, with alternates which later raised this figure.

Electric—Broome Electric company, $8,580.

Use Old Church

Meanwhile, until the present time, the county headquarters were in the old Baptist church, with offices in the basement and the courtroom in the main auditorium.

The original county seat election had been held May 27, 1902, by the following polls officials: J. R. Henry, B. F. Tally, D. C. Davis, Perry Craig, J. W. Tally, J. E. Rider, Bud Stephens, Sam Davy, Henry Gragg, John Frazier, J. A. Hopkins, S. T. Morgan, Joe Cudahy, P. E. Johnson, Claud Cox Sam Slaven, W. L. Oliver, Howard Simpkins and Will Cudahy. LeFors won the honor easily.

A county seat election was held again March 17, 1908, but no contesting town got a two-thirds vote and the government stayed at LeFors again until 1919, when a petition was presented by S. E. Boyett and 325 other voters to move the county seat to Pampa. The attempt failed of the necessary majority. Pampa getting 497 votes and LeFors 312. Moreover, the commissioners found irregularities and declared the election void, when the returns were canvassed.

Vote Again in 1925

Another similar election likewise was held on March 19, 1925, when Pampa got 1221 votes and 775 votes were cast against removal. The next and successful move came after oil development. On March 9, 1928, 3,672 persons cast their votes "for removal to Pampa," and 1,286 balloted "for remaining at LeFors." The petition for this election was presented January 30, 1928, by F. A. Shackleton and 200 others.

Soon after the election, the county records were hauled in trucks to Pampa and placed under guard at the old Baptist church building. A temporary vault was rushed to completion. Thereafter followed an injunction and a district court hearing to invalidate the election, but these efforts failed and the matter was dropped.

was nearly 1,000, and she had become a wheat center of the North Plains. Came the discovery of oil. In 1926 her population jumped to 7,000, to 10,000 in 1927 and 1928, and to more than 12,000 by the present time.

One of the recognized needs of the county is a paved or all-weather road north and south across the broken central portion, so that the county seat may be more accessible to all portions of the country.

Will Have Hearing

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Efforts will be made in the near future to obtain a hearing on the temporary injunction recently granted by Federal Judge Duvall West of San Antonio preventing the state of Texas from interfering with the shipment of citrus nursery stock from Florida by a certain company.

The law barring the shipment of citrus nursery stock from Florida into Texas was passed last summer at a special session of the legislature but one company enjoined enforcement of its provisions in the federal district court at San Antonio.

Officials of the department of agriculture pointed out that the restraining order was granted against the state without a hearing and applies to the one concern alone. Since obtaining the injunction this company has been shipping large stocks of plants into the state while other concerns have been barred, it was said.

Constitutionality of the law was questioned at the time the injunction was granted. Representatives of the attorney general's office were expected to take the matter up with the court in the near future with a view of obtaining an early decision on the law.

The constitutionality of the act will be argued upon by a court of three federal judges.

Murry Freundlich has been appointed manager of Levine's store here following the consolidation of the K. C. Store and Levine's. Mr. Freundlich was manager of the K. C. store until it vacated the storefront at the corner of Foster and Cuyler streets when the new Gordon-Denebeim building was started.

Sid Weiss is assistant manager of the store. Other employees and their departments are: Mrs. Ed W. Jones, and Mrs. W. R. Barnett, piece goods; Mrs. Murry Freundlich, Mrs. Jack Griggs, and Mrs. Jordan, ladies' ready-to-wear; Mrs. William Stone, hosiery; Raymond Whitlock and Abner Harper, gents' furnishings. Mr. Weiss is in charge of the shoe department.

EDINBURG, April 17. (AP)—Residents of Texas have earned the right to be dubbed "constantly inaccurate."

When tennis courts were laid out at a college here four hills of vicious red ants were covered with a tightly packed caliche base, a layer of tar, then especially prepared rock and finally a layer of water proof surfacing.

Highway Body Is in Dilemma

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—The forty-second legislature probably will be asked to relieve the state highway department of the dilemma in which it now finds itself as the result of a tangle involving the administration of the motor vehicle license law.

Recently the highway department placed into effect, under an opinion of the attorney general, a ruling whereby all passenger automobiles must be operated under a commercial license if they are used regularly in the transportation of merchandise or other goods. The attorney general held they were business vehicles.

Now, however, attention of the department has been called to several arists by sheriff and constables in which salesmen were charged with operating passenger cars under a commercial license, arresting officers claiming that at the time the arrests were made the cars were not being used for business purposes.

The highway department is expected to ask the legislature at its next session to define more clearly the difference between a commercial and passenger vehicle and make provision to car for this sort of a situation.

It is believed likely the legislature will be asked to authorize the highway department to issue a combination private and commercial license so that operators of vehicles that are used partially for business and partly for pleasure may not be subjected to penalties on account of the ambiguity of the law.

NOTICE

TO ALL OWNING OR CLAIMING ANY PROPERTY ABUTTING UPON THE HEREINBELLOW MENTIONED PORTIONS OF STREETS IN THE CITY OF PAMPA, TEXAS, AND TO ALL OWNING OR CLAIMING ANY INTEREST IN ANY SUCH PROPERTY:

The Governing Body of the City of Pampa, Texas, has ordered that the hereinbelow mentioned streets be improved, as herein shown, and contract has been entered into for the making of such improvements with Stuckey Construction Company. The improvements to be constructed on said portions of streets are as follows:

On Unit No. 59, raising, grading and filling and installing concrete curbs and gutters, and paving with 5 Inch Vibrothitic Pavement, with incidentals and appurtenances, the improvements on said Unit to be 50 feet in width; On Unit No. 69 raising, grading and filling, installing concrete curbs and gutters and paving with 5 Inch Vibrothitic Pavement, with incidentals and appurtenances, the improvements on said Unit to be 36 feet in width.

New estimates of the cost of such improvements for each portion of street have been prepared.

The portions of streets or highways so to be improved, together with the estimated cost of the improvements for each such portion of street or highway, and the amount or amounts per front foot proposed to be assessed against abutting property and the owners thereof on each such portion, are as follows; to-wit:

On Foster Avenue, from its intersection with the East property line of Gillispie Street to its intersection with the East property line of Starkweather Street, known and designated as Unit or District No. 58; estimated cost of improvements is $14522.62, the estimated amount per front foot to be assessed against abutting property and the owners thereof for curb is $0.475; the estimated amount per front foot to be assessed against abutting property and the owners thereof for improvements exclusive of curb is $10.45; total estimated amount per front foot to be assessed against abutting property and the owners thereof is $10.925.

On Foster Avenue, from its intersection with the East property line of Starkweather Street to its intersection with the East property line of Warren street, known and designated as Unit or District No. 69; estimated cost of improvements is $10679.66; the estimated amount per front foot to be assessed against abutting property and the owners thereof for curb is $0.475; the estimated amount per front foot to be assessed against abutting property and the owners thereof for improvements exclusive of curb is $7.00; total estimated amount per front foot to be assessed against abutting property and the owners thereof is $7.475.

A new hearing will be given and held by and before the Governing Body of the City of Pampa, Texas, on the 29th day of April 1930, at 2 o'clock p.m. in the City Hall, in the City of Pampa, Texas, to all owning or claiming any property abutting upon said portions of streets and highways, and to all owning or claiming any interest in any such property. At said time and place all owning or claiming any such abutting property, or any interest therein, shall be and appear, and will be fully heard concerning said improvements, the cost thereof, the amounts to be assessed therefor, the benefits to the respective parcels of abutting property by means of the improvements on the portion of street or highways upon which the property abuts, and concerning the regularity, validity, and sufficiency of the contract for, and all proceedings relating to, such improvements and proposed assessments therefor, and concerning any matter as to which they are entitled to hearing under the law in force in the city and under the proceedings of the City with reference to said matters. Following such hearing assessments will be levied against abutting property and the owners thereof, and such assessments, when levied, shall be a personal liability of the owners of such property, and a first and prior lien upon the property as provided by the law in force in the city and under which the proceedings are taken, being the Act passed at the First Called Session of the 40th Legislature of the State of Texas, known as Senate Bill No. 68, now shown as Article 1105-b of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas.

The improvements on each said portion of street or highway constitutes an entirely separate and distinct unit of improvement, all to the same extent as if entirely separate and distinct proceedings had been taken with reference to the improvements and assessments therefor in connection with improvements on each such portion of street or highway, and the assessments against the property abutting upon any unit shall be and are in no wise affected by any fact or circumstance relating to or connected with the improvements in other units.

Of all said matters and things, all owning or claiming any such property, or any interest therein, as well as all others in anywise interested or affected, will take notice.

Done by order of the Board of Commissioners of the City of Pampa, Texas, this the 15th day of March, 1930.

Big Dipping Task

ORANGE, April 17. (P)—Dipping Texas steers in anti-tick solution is no work for weaklings. But Orange county officials have found something requiring even more stamina.

Christ Brothers circus arrived a few days ago, just starting out on its season's tour. Orange being the last stop before the circus left the state it fell to this county to dip the animals.

Twelve camels, 114 horses, two zebras, six elk, two sacred cows, elephants, bear and the like had to be splashed into the dipping vat. The circus was required to miss one engagement as a result of the delay.

Picking the major league pennant winners is an annual spring habit that possesses a strange, irresistible fascination for the experts. It is like a game of tag, played blindfold, with the outcome in doubt for six months. A good many of the experts are just as well satisfied if no one remembers in October what they predicted in April but that does not curb the rush of predictions now coming to hand from way-stations along the southern exhibitions routes.

Perhaps the most striking manifestation in the returns that have come to hand in the annual Associated Press poll is the wide range of opinion in placing such National league clubs as the Giants, Cardinals, Phillies, Cincinnati, and Brooklyn. The Cardinals for example, are rated all the way from pennant winners to occupants of seventh place. Brooklyn ranges from second to eighth place in the forecasts and so to the furious Phillies.

The explanation of this extraordinary divergence seems to be that the National league clubs this year are better balanced than in years, almost all of them with sufficient strength and prospects to back up at least first-division candidates, if not actual pennant contenders. Consequently the experts are "going out on a limb" so far as their favorites are concerned, in the hope that they will assume prophetic stature if their guesses prove correct; otherwise, that they will be forgotten.

From Minneapolis comes word that Interlachen, scene of the 1930 National Open golf championship, will be as tough to tackle as Oakmont, calling for a greater variety of shots even if it does not quite boast the backbreaking distances of the famous Pittsburgh layout. All of which will be of no particularly good cheer to the professional stars or even to Bobby Jones, who found Oakmont his one real Waterloo in open competition of the last ten years.

Jimmy Johnston, the present national amateur king who led the Open field at Oakmont in 1927 for two rounds, knows Interlachen as well as any other golfer. Recently he told Chandler Fornian of the Minneapolis Tribune he figured 293 or 294 would be good enough to win there. He added,

"If the golfer who wins the open averages par for the four rounds I will be surprised. Interlachen is as tough as any course I have ever played on. It is a stroke stiffer than Pebble Beach and I think that Olympic Fields are all easier."

A score of 293 is good enough to win most National open tournaments. It would have won at Oakmont, Olympic Fields or Winged Foot in the last three championships, where ties have been played off after totals of 301, 294 and 294.

Followers of the New York Giants, it seems, will be put to a severe test. The call has gone out to the "Loyal Giants Rooters" for a testimonial tribute to John McGraw's baseball men at $10 per plate.

Library Association Hopes to Make Substantial Profits Thru Its Concessions at Court House

Assured that the greater part of the income of their "concession" at the courthouse opening Saturday will be clear profit, members of the Pampa Library association are looking forward to raising enough money to maintain the library for several months.

Generous gifts from business establishments of the city and offers of materials at cost will add greatly to the profit of the undertaking, according to Mrs. George H. Wallace, chairman of the ways and means committee, under whose direction the concession will be operated.

From the time the expected crowd begins pouring through the beautiful new building, the members of the library association will have ice cream, candy, and cold drinks on sale at some convenient room inside the courthouse. The members will work in relays, with the ways and means committee in charge.

Donations received thus far have been announced as follows by Mrs. Wallace: From the Nehi, the Coca-Cola, and the Dr. Pepper bottling companies, each $16.80 worth of assorted drinks; from the Nehi company: $16.80 additional, in either beverages or cash; and from all three, the privilege of buying as much additional at cost as the library association members wish to sell; from the Pampa Ice Manufacturing company, all the ice needed during the day, free of cost; from the Hamlett-Mitchell wholesale company, all the candy and cream cones needed at cost; from the Gray County creamery, all the ice cream desired at cost, and from the Southwestern Public Service company, the use of a large refrigerator.

dairy, free of charge; Mrs. V. E. Fatherree also donated two gallons of ice cream or the price of it, as the committee chose to use it.

Each of the companies donating and lending to the benefit offered also to deliver goods at any time during the day, and to furnish tubs, chests, and containers.

The privilege of operating the concession in the courthouse at the opening day celebrations was granted the executive board of the library association by the County Commission. The library, creditably equipped with books and fixtures, has been faced for several months with a serious financial problem. Mrs. Wallace and members of the ways and means committee feel that large patronage of the concession will assure the association of funds for maintaining the institution until some permanent source of support is secured.

PROXIMITY PROMOTES ACCURACY
The last business condition map issued by Nation's business showed only one tiny white spot, or "good" portion, in the Texas Panhandle. It was difficult to say just where the spot was—Dalhart perhaps had the best claim to it.

Anyone knowing Panhandle conditions, and particularly those in the oil belt, would realize that such a marking would be inaccurate and therefore unfair. A more accurate picture is presented by Bervard Nichols of the Texas University bureau of business research, in Texas Commercial News for March.

Mr. Nichols shows the entire upper Panhandle in the white or good business area. The only other white spots in Texas surround San Angelo and El Paso. Most of Texas is described as "fair". Being nearer to his subject, the Texas university man is able to present a more accurate picture. Concerning conditions, he said:

"Many constructive forces are making an appearance in the business picture, but it will be some time before all the unfavorable influences are entirely eliminated. Agriculture continues depressed and the livestock industry is far from prosperous . . . In many ways, the improvement in the credit situation is the most important development over the month. Interest rates declined slightly and banks were able to reduce their borrowing from Federal Reserve banks . . . Employment conditions in the state are fairly good, although fewer workers were employed in February than in January."

The Panhandle is more fortunate than it knows. With the wheat crop in fine condition generally and the oil situation improving, the Plains in general and the Pampa area in particular are bright spots in Texas business.

It costs the Graf Zeppelin $5,000 to land in New Jersey. But many a comedown from the heights costs more than that.

Saturday, it appears, will be general opening day in Pampa. There is no indication, however, an old resident remarks, that the city will be "wide open". Come to Pampa Saturday.

Gray County Paving Project to Be in Next Commission Lettings

AUSTIN, April 17.—The State highway Commission is scheduled to let approximately $3,500,000 worth of construction work when it meets April 22 and 23. About 270 miles of new construction and 153 miles of maintenance in the form of resurfacing will be contracted, and eight bridge projects had been advertised or letting.

Included in the bridges will be the one across Lavaca Bay on Highway 57 in Calhoun county, a little over three miles long and estimated to cost $400,000, and the steel and concrete free bridge across Red river between Gainesville, Texas and Marietta, Okla., to cost approximately $120,000.

PLAN 33-MILE BOULEVARD ON ISLAND OF MONTREAL

MONTREAL, April 17. (P)—Construction of a super-boulevard to stretch for 33 miles over the center of Montreal Island will be undertaken in the spring.

The highway will be 200 feet wide with two 40-foot traffic lanes. Two years will be required to finish it. The total estimated cost is $6,000,000, of which $4,500,000 will be borne by Montreal.

Huge Still Seized

SWEETWATER, April 16. (P)—Three men were under arrest here today in connection with the discovery of a 500-gallon whiskey still seven miles east of here yesterday. Officers said it was one of the largest stills confiscated in West Texas in several months. A negro escaped.

School Papers in Big Contest

AUSTIN, April 17.—High school newspapers winning the right to enter the journalism contest at the Interscholastic League Press Conference to convene in Austin May 2 and 3 have been announced by D. C. Reddick, instructor in journalism at the University of Texas, manager of the contest, as follows:

Northwest: Class A, Abilene High Battery and Amarillo Sandstorm; Class B, the Crane, Crane High school, and the Round-Up, Coleman high school; Class C, the Trall, Hamilton high school, and the Tumbleweed, Pecos high school.

Southwest: Class A, the Brackenridge Times, San Antonio, and the Main Avenue Huisache, San Antonio; Class B, the Laredo High Journal and the Trojan, Beeville high school; Class C, the Shorthorn, Marfa high school, and the Eagle News, Sanderson high school.

Southeast: Class A, the Maroon, Austin high school, and the Aegis, Sam Houston Senior high school of Houston; Class B, the Belton Tiger, and the Cotton Bell, Taylor high school; Class C, the Tatler, Yorktown high school, and the Bugler, Copperas Cove high school.

Northeast: Class A, Denison Hi Buzz, and the Huacoan, Waco high school; Class B, the Chatter, Palestine high school, and the Bonhi Weekly, Bonham high school; Class C, Kangaroo Tales, Killean high school.

There are 67 newspapers enrolled in the conference. Many well-edited papers belonging to the Conference were not considered for entrance into the contest because of the rule which provides that only those papers published once every two weeks or oftener may participate, Mr. Reddick pointed out. A program has been carefully planned for the meeting to give instruction and entertainment to those who do not enter the contest as well as to those who do. Each contesting school may send two delegates to the conference.

Tulsa Rotarian Is Speaker Today

Expressing surprise at the rapid growth of Pampa within the last few years and predicting a continued expansion, Bob Wood, Rotarian of Tulsa made a short talk before the Rotary club at its regular luncheon yesterday. He told of the changes since his last visit here and complimented Pampa and Gray county citizens on the business development.

Other visitors who made short talks were Dr. F. S. Coeien, Skellytown; W. J. Kelly, Borger. John Stader and R. L. Champion. Tom Ross was in charge of the program.

Neal McCullough, newly elected president of the club, presided.

Using Steel Bows
AUSTIN, April 17.—Steel bows are the latest innovation in the archery classes for women at the University of Texas. Four metal bows have been added to the equipment making a total of 20. A variety of sizes are available, so that the strongest and weakest members of the class may find a bow comparable to her strength, according to Miss Thelma Dillingham, instructor in the course. A total of 100 girls are taking archery during the spring term.

Superintendent Marrs Favors Keeping Schools Always Open year be divided into three terms of 17 weeks each and permit students to attend the two terms found the most convenient for them.

Marrs, however, stated the ideal plan would be to divide the school year into four terms of three months each with one-fourth of the pupils out each term.

The adoption of the 12-month school year was given serious consideration in Texas several years ago and is being tried out in several other states at the present time. According to Ellis there are many inequalities suffered by the various classes under the present system that would be relieved by a 12-month school year. Taxpayers would be saved much money in operating costs in bond issues for new buildings if the present plants were operated throughout the year, he said.

Ellis proposed that the school

Marrs said that serious consideration of the plan was being given by several educators and that perhaps in the future a workable scheme would be perfected that would enable the schools to remain open the full year.

Motion in Love Hearing Now Up for Arguments

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—Arguments on the motion to dismiss the application of Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas for mandamus to compel the state Democratic executive committee to place his name on the 1930 primary ballots were taken up first before the supreme court when the case was submitted.

Judge F. A. Williams of Galveston, former member of the court, opened the arguments for D. W. Wilcox, former P. Wilcox of Georgetown, chairman and members of the state committee, whom Love would mandamus. He contended the court was without jurisdiction to entertain the application, attacking constitutionality of the law giving the supreme court and court of civil appeals jurisdiction in such cases. He was answered by J. W. Hassell of Dallas and Senator Love. The law was passed by the fifth special session of the 41st legislature, and was written by Senator Love. Therefore, it was necessary to institute such litigation in a district court.

It was agreed each side would be allowed two and one-half hours argument, half of it to be presented today and half tomorrow.

The supreme court room, usually empty when the court meets, did not have enough chairs to accommodate the crowd that came to listen in on the arguments.

After the motion to dismiss is disposed of, the application proper will be argued.

The state committee had gone on record denying all persons who failed to support the Democratic presidential electors in 1928 the right to participate as candidates in the 1930 primary. In filing his application for a place on the ballots, Love declared he had not supported former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York for the presidency.

Spirituality Is Baptist Keynote in Austin Sessions

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—Having taken its keynote, "spiritually trained leadership," the annual Baptist Sunday school convention swung into its third day with a series of departmental conferences and general meetings scheduled.

Several speakers of prominence in the church appeared on the program yesterday, including Dr. W. Marshall Craig of Dallas, president of the convention; T. C. Gardner of Dallas, secretary of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union; J. N. Barnett of Nashville, Tenn., member of the Baptist Sunday school board; Dr. R. C. Campbell of Lubbock; G. S. Hopkins of Dallas; William P. Phillips of Nashville, and Dr. W. R. White of Dallas, secretary of the Baptist General convention.

Means of increasing the usefulness of the Sunday school urged were: Better trained teachers; use of modern methods to meet the demands of the times; stricter censorship of moving pictures and talking pictures; a deeper realization of the responsibility of the church; banishment of pessimism by Sunday school workers and a better spirit of cooperation between pastors, Sunday school superintendents and workers.

Dr. White declared there was too much timidity in the church. He asserted an effort should be made to break down this wall of conservatism through a program moulded around "adventure, achievement and character." He urged that a spirit of daring prevail in the Sunday school. He contended against many of the record breaking efforts that now are being made, asserting they were being attempted merely from a spirit of braggadocio.

Production Has Drop in March

BIG SPRING, April 17. (P)—Potential production from wells in the 2,200 feet pay horizon in Howard and Glasscock counties gained approximately 4,000 barrels during March, but the 3,000 feet pay dropped approximately 1,000 barrels to partially offset the gain, according to figures compiled and released by E. E. Andrews, proration umpire.

Despite the fact that total potential output of two prorated pay levels in Howard and Glasscock counties revealed an increase of approximately 3,000 barrels, the allowed output was entailed from 25,330 barrels daily to 24,063 barrels daily. This cut was occasioned by major pipeline concerns electing to handle a maximum of 25,150 barrels of oil during the month of April as compared with a limit of 27,000 barrels daily during March.

According to gauges made of wells prior to April 1, the 3,000 feet pay in Howard and Glasscock counties rates to total potential output of 16,716 barrels daily as compared with 17,140 barrels daily from the same horizon March 1. In the 2,200 feet pay, a total potential of 41,586 barrels daily is reflected by gauges made, a gain of 3,802 barrels over the potential of 37,784 barrels registered on March 1.

More Walking For Cops
HOUSTON, April 17. (P)—A little extra walking is to be done by the police here on the order of Superintendent C. W. McPhail.

The policemen will be put through an hour's military drill twice every week, the superintendent believing it will "dress them up" and make them "more polite and efficient."

The city auditorium and Sam Houston hall, where the Democratic national convention was held two summers ago, will be available for the drilling.

Mr. McPhail went to New York recently to observe the police department there and the marching order is the second result of that trip. Previously, he had established a special homicide squad.

Wheeler to Widen Her Highway No. 4

SHAMROCK, April 17. (P)—Purchase of property required to widen the right of way on Highway No. 4 to 100 feet has been started by the Wheeler county commissioners' court.

Contract for paving the highway from the south county line north through Shamrock to the county seat, Wheeler, will be let April 23 at Austin.

This project is 20 miles long and the road from the county seat to the north county line will be paved as soon as a route can be decided on.

Members of the resident highway engineer's force here are rapidly completing surveys and plans on Highway No. 33-A. from the Gray-Wheeler county line to Wheeler. It is considered probable these plans will be sent to Austin for final approval the latter part of the month.

The Acme company has been located in Pampa for three and one-half years. L. A. Siegel is manager.

Texas Creek Has No Gulf Outlet

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—Announcement by the state highway department that a bridge would be constructed across Wild Horse creek in Guileson county, brought to light some interesting facts concerning the stream, said to be the only one in the southwest whose waters enter neither the Gulf of Mexico nor the Pacific ocean.

Beginning near Marfa, the creek runs northwardly for about 100 miles and then disappears into the desert without a trace. It has attracted the attention of scientists and a few surveys have been made in an effort to verify a theory that the stream disappears as a subterranean river. The theory has never been proven.

Wild Horse creek starts as a watershed near Marfa and during rainy seasons is a sizeable body of water. Even in dry spells it usually contains water to a depth of several feet. It flows into a lake and disappears. Only during heavy rainfall is there any water in the lake and this vanishes within a few weeks. Some residents of the region attribute disappearance of the creek and lake water to evaporation, due to the hot and arid climate. A large portion of the water is also believed to be absorbed by surrounding land.

It first gained general attention by the fact that it runs in a north-westerly direction, being claimed to be the only stream below the Mason-Dixon line to pursue such a course.

The bridge, to cost about $25,000, will be on highway Number 1 and will replace a wooden structure erected several years ago.

MOTORISTS KNOW THEIR CONOCO

The universal acceptance accorded Conoco Products is convincing proof that motorists do indeed "Know Their Conoco".

They know that every Conoco Product must conform to the most rigid specifications.

They know the resources, facilities and experience of the Continental Oil Company are absolute guarantees of the high quality of Conoco Products.

They know that if it's Conoco, it's right.

This is the simple story of the new oil that is now enjoying such remarkable acceptance: Conoco Germ-Processed . . . In the first place, this new oil is an extraordinarily fine paraffine-base lubricant. And then . . . under exclusive Conoco patents, this oil is endowed with the unusual faculty of penetrating and combining with metal surfaces. This faculty, we call "Penetrative Lubricity". The Germ Process, by adding a precious oily-essence lacking in all other oils, does this . . . And so provides constant unfailing lubrication for your motor under any conceivable strenuousness of motor operation. Germ Process is the first fundamental improvement in refining methods in the last quarter century.

Basement Fires
Point Need for Firesafe Floor

Among the commonest and most dangerous forms of fire is the first that starts below stairs, unseen and unsuspected, and works its way upward through inflammable floors to destroy the whole house and endanger the lives of the occupants.

The basement fire may have any one of several sources. It may begin in piles of rags, paper and other waste, stored in the basement to await the coming of the rag man. Spontaneous combustion may easily take place among oily rags; other materials need only small encouragement to break into flame. In winter, fires often start in the vicinity of the furnace itself or either as a result of over-heating in the furnace itself or as a consequence of careless handling of fresh ashes.

If a basement fire can be kept in the basement it can be fought with relative ease and with small damage. But, ordinarily, there is little to prevent its progress upward through the floor and the walls.

Probably the most effective means of keeping the hazard of basement fire at a minimum is the construction or transmit fire. With this in mind, many builders and modernizers specify concrete first floors. Such floors are entirely firesafe and in addition offer opportunities for unusual decoration, at a cost which is only slightly more than the cost of an ordinary floor.

A concrete floor may be built in any one of several structural styles, each of which can be depended on for satisfaction. It may be constructed as a simple, reinforced concrete slab or it may be cast over lines of metal pans or masonry tile to produce a kind of integral joist construction. Reliable contractors may be relied on to produce a structurally satisfactory floor.

It is in the finish of a concrete floor that opportunities occur for novel attractive decoration. The concrete itself may be given a topping of colored concrete, i.e., concrete containing mineral pigments, which is later waxed, polished or otherwise treated to produce a warm, mellow and satisfying floor. Or the concrete topping may contain chips of marble or other distinctive aggregates. Machine grinding of the surface then results in a terrazzo finish of great beauty.

Conventional flooring, such as wood, tile, linoleum or cork, may easily be placed over the concrete, with complete satisfaction and freedom from warping and other troubles. Incidentally, a concrete floor is no colder than the air above and below it.

New Idea Will
Be Attempted in Texas Colleges

SHERMAN, April 17. (AP)—A new departure in higher education in Texas is to be tried beginning with the next school year by Austin college, Southern Presbyterian college, and by Kidd-Key college and conservatory, Southern Methodist controlled junior college and fine arts school under a cooperative agreement entered into this spring. Duplication in courses excepting that in religious education is to be eliminated and the experiment here is being watched by educators all over the southwest.

These two old institutions are to maintain their identity and separate faculties. Austin is the second oldest college in Texas, having been established in 1849 at Huntsville and moved to Sherman in 1876. With the new school year, the consolidation of the three senior colleges of the Presbyterian church in the state is to become effective, with Austin as the nucleus. Kidd-Key was established here in 1871 as the North Texas Female college and the name changed to its present form in 1919.

Until 1918 when the World war reduced its student body, Austin was a boys' school. Under a cooperative plan, all of the girl students of Austin will be housed in the dormitories of Kidd-Key, but they will be enrolled as Austin students. For students of both colleges, academic work will be done at Austin and fine arts work at Kidd-Key, regular busses carrying students from one school to the other. Student publications and certain student organizations, will function for both schools.

"These two institutions will bid for patronage from the same territory," Dr. T. S. Clyce, president of Austin for thirty years, declared. "Yet this plan of cooperation which we have entered into will serve to strengthen each institution financially because of a saving of overhead, thus reducing somewhat the cost of operation for each. Austin will be enabled to make its academic

"Austin will have the advantages of Kidd-Key's fine conservatory and Austin students may take these courses at Kidd-Key," Edwin Key, president of the Kidd-Key, pointed out. "On the other hand, Kidd-Key will benefit by the senior college courses offered at Austin.

Confidence in Business Seen

HOUSTON, April 17. (AP)—Substantial grounds for maintaining a magnificent outlook are afforded by the well-known factors by which we estimate the economic condition of a country give substantial grounds for maintaining confident outlook. In trade matters especially, the long view must be taken since the reorganization which set in at the beginning of the year, Lindsay Crawford of the National Foreign Trade Council said in an address at the second annual Southwest Foreign Trade convention here.

"As compared with the corresponding period of last year, our aggregate foreign trade for January and February showed a falling off of approximately $167,000,000," he said. "Exports declined by nearly 18 per cent and imports by 27 per cent compared with the first two months of 1929."

"Crude materials and foodstuffs accounted for a great portion of this decrease, both in imports and exports. The decline in exports following the deflation of 1920-21 are reflected in the vast addition to the national income—from a total of $65,949,000,000 in 1919 to a total of $89,419,000,000 at the end of 1928. This was a period marked by a magnitude and rapidity of growth in our foreign commerce which in point of duration was the longest continuous cycle of national prosperity experienced in the United States."

Millions of Fish Eggs Are Expected

SAN ANGELO, April 17. (AP)—Within a few days more than 2,000,000 bass eggs will be deposited at the state fish hatchery here, according to Ed Mosel, superintendent.

The average five-pound bass will lay about 10,000 eggs every season, and there are 275 bass in the hatchery here which will whip out nests and lay this spring, Mr. Mosel said.

Out of these eggs, hundreds will be eaten by other bass, hundreds will be unfertilized and thousands will hatch. The tiny creatures then will go through the "survival of the fittest," devouring each other, being devoured in gulping mouthfuls by their own parents and other bass, and being killed by equally small water animalcules.

Fish born only a few hours before will be large enough to enjoy making a meal from the latest arrivals and from the moment the little fish are hatched they must dart among the minute fronds of moss on the bottom of the pond guarding against dangers which give them only a hundred-to-one chance for life.

When the fish spawn, the female will whip out an area about 15 inches in diameter on the bottom of the ponds to make the "nest." Then she will hang poised only an inch or two above the nest. The male swims up and fertilizes the eggs as they fall.

As soon as the young fish are large enough they are placed in rearing ponds and fed upon water animals which are raised for them. The hatchery will be closed to the public until hatching season is over since the presence of persons about the tank frightens the fish away from their nests, Mr. Mosel said.

AUSTIN, April 17.—Miss Dolly Scholl of Galveston and Mrs. Sarah Penn Harris of Austin have been chosen student assistants in the department of physical training for women at the University of Texas for the spring term, according to Miss Thelma Dillingham, instructor. Miss Scholl is assisting in tennis and Mrs. Harris in swimming. Miss Margaret Cunningham of Paris, assistant in the department of physical education, is also conducting a number of classes in swimming.

Texas U. Has Hard Schedule

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Buoyed up by expectations of a championship football squad during the next two years, the University of Texas has undertaken during 1930 and 1931, the most ambitious schedule ever carded at the Longhorn school.

The schedule for 1930 is complete while only one open date remains on the 1931 program. This is the opening date, Sept. 26.

The only out-of-state school that will be met in the 1930 grid season is the University of Oklahoma. This game is scheduled at Dallas, October 18.

In 1931, however, three foreign schools will be met. On October 3 the University of Missouri, always one of the contenders for honors in the Big Six, will be played at Austin. The Longhorns will make their first long trip east to engage the Harvard eleven at Cambridge, Mass., on Oct. 24.

Sandwiched between these two tilts will be a game with the University of Oklahoma at Dallas.

The 1930 schedule includes: Texas College of Mines at Austin, Sept. 27; Centenary College at Austin, Oct. 4; Howard Payne at Austin, Oct. 11; Oklahoma University at Dallas, Oct. 17; Rice Institute at Houston, Oct. 25; Southern Methodist University at Austin, Nov. 1; Baylor University at Waco, Nov. 8; Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, Nov. 15; Texas A. and M. College at Austin, Thanksgiving day.

The following teams appear on the 1931 schedule: Sept. 26, open; University of Missouri at Austin, Oct. 3; Rice Institute at Austin, Oct. 10; University of Oklahoma at Dallas, Oct. 17; Harvard at Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 24; Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Oct. 31; Baylor University at Austin, Nov. 7; Texas Christian University at Austin, Nov. 14; Texas A. and M. College at College Station, Thanksgiving day.

He Ought to Be Old Enough

ITALY, April 17. (AP)—Standing on his record of seventy-eight years in Texas, 75 years in Ellis county and more than 50 years a peace officer, "Uncle Frank" Hughes, 84, is a candidate to succeed himself as constable here.

"Uncle Frank" has held that office so long that the younger generation thinks he rules by "divine right" or something of the kind. But the old man does not permit himself to become autocratic. Every two years he submits his candidacy subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

The veteran officer was born in Mississippi in 1845. A few years later his parents brought him to Texas where his father became manager of the plantation of General Tarrant on Chambers creek, just north of Italy.

"Uncle Frank" grew to manhood on that farm. He remembers especially a visit of General Sam Houston, who pitched his tent on the banks of the little stream which flows through what is now the north part of Italy. From that time the stream has been known as Houston creek.

American Held by Bandits Freed

HANKOW, April 17. (AP)—Miss Nina E. Gemmell, an American missionary formerly of Girard, Kans., and Tacoma, Wash., arrived here today from a bandits' camp in Kiangsi province mountains where she had been held for ransom.

As a result of her experiences since she was kidnaped March 27 in a raid upon Yuanchow, Kiangsi, Miss. Gemmell is confined to bed. It is understood, however, that the bandits released her hoping to persuade the mission officials to pay the ransom of $60,000 Mexican ($30,000 gold).

The Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Porteous, English missionaries, kidnaped at the same time, are reported to have been moved farther into the mountains by bandits to evade provincial troops.

Panhandle Lumber Company, One of Pioneer Local Institutions, Will Open New Plant Saturday

Adding much to the appearance of its vicinity, the Panhandle Lumber company has completed its new plant at 420 West Foster avenue and will hold its formal opening Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m.

There will be souvenirs for the ladies and children, and the force will welcome all the visitors, according to L. N. McCullough, manager. D. E. Robinson is assistant manager to Mr. McCullough. Other members of the staff are Harold Miller, J. D. Sackett, Harvey Todd, Alfred Hodges, and E. S. Westerfield.

J. E. Hill of Amarillo, vice president and general manager, and E. H. Petty, secretary, will be here for the opening, as will also managers of yards in neighboring cities.

The Panhandle Lumber company has been a Pampa institution since 1907 when it was located at Tyng and Cuylar, across the tracks. Then it moved to 319 North Cuylar in 1922 and was located there until recently.

The plant occupies half a block at its present location. The well designed brick office building has a neat appearance entirely unlike the average lumber yard, and it fits well into the developing brick-lined street. Commenting on the new plant, Mr. McCullough stated that the firm had built in keeping with both the present and for the future seen for Pampa. Without confidence in the bright prospects for this city, no such project could have been attempted.

The local yard carries a complete line of materials for the home, the farm, and for industrial uses, and in addition renders a full plan and building service. Materials for many of Pampa's finest business houses and residences have been furnished by the firm during its long service here.

Mr. McCullough has been in this section since 1908, and is well known throughout the territory. He has been manager here since 1924. J. E. Hill, general manager of the company, is an outstanding Panhandle resident. Among other high positions he holds that of member of the board of regents for the Texas Teachers college.

Hundreds Enter State Contests

COLLEGE STATION, April 17.—More than 350 teams from throughout Texas have already registered in advance by their coaches for participation in the thirteenth annual Smith-Hughes day contests to be held at the A. & M. College of Texas April 21. Since each of these teams, comprised of vocational agricultural student in Texas high schools, includes several boys, total individual participation in the contests will run high.

Advance registration for entry in the six events by teams is as follows: Livestock judging 57, dairy cattle judging 90, poultry and egg judging 80, plant production contest 55, entomology 32, farm shop contest 40.

In order to facilitate the task of completing in one day the check of individual records of the hundreds of boys who will participate in the contests, tabulating machines similar to those used by the government in tabulating census returns will be employed, E. R. Alexander, professor of agricultural education at A. & M. who is supervising arrangements for the contests, has announced. These machines, electrically operated, will be set up in the electrical engineering building at the college and will be operated by six experts of the company that has tendered them for use. Approximately 15,000 record cards will go through these machines in one day. All records will be tabulated and checked in time to announce the various winners in the evening of the day of the contests.

Special entertainment feature for the contests this year has been disclosed in the announcement that the French harp band of fifteen pieces from Floydada, O. T. Williams, vocational teacher in charge, will perform at the closing assembly when the winners will be announced. J. P. Dewald, vocational teacher at Maryland, is also expected to present. Future Farmers band from that school at the session here. Another feature will be the appearance of vocational students from the Luther Burbank school, Houston, J. H. Seward, vocational teacher, in presentation of "Hiram's Hired Hands," a playlet.

Teachers and coaches of the students will accompany the teams and attendance this year is expected to break all previous records. All contests will be completed, records checked and trophies awarded in the one day.

Utilities to Be Press Subject

PARIS, April 17. (P)—Relations between public utilities and the press will be discussed at the spring meeting of the Northeast Texas Press Association here April 25.

Beeman Fisher and W. C. Grant, of Dallas, representatives of utility companies, will be on the program, as will Gibbons Potet of Roxton and J. J. Taylor, State Press of the Dallas News.

Blues forces will be under command of Brigadier General Halstead Dorey, and will consist of troops of the Second Division stationed at San Antonio, a platoon of armored cars from El Paso, 12 attack planes from Galveston, and a company of engineers from Laredo.

White forces will be under command of Brigadier General Hamilton S. Hawkins. They will consist of a brigade of cavalry, composed of troops from Forts Clark, Ringgold and Brown, reinforced by a battalion of field artillery from San Antonio, a platoon of armored cars from El Paso, six observation planes from Kelly Field, 12 attack planes from Galveston, and a company of engineers from Laredo.

General headquarters, to be established in the field, first at Fowlerton, will exercise general direction of the maneuvers. General Lassiter, as commander-in-chief of both forces, will have a special staff of assistants. Brigadier General Robert McCleave will be Chief of Staff and Umpire-in-chief.

Among other lessons, the announcement said the operations would illustrate these points:

The difficulty of supplying cavalry by motor, wagon and pack transport over 35 miles of poor road and 30 miles of fair road; and of infantry by motor and wagon transport over 35 miles of poor road; the difficulty of night movements except on main roads, in mesquite and cactus covered country, and the difficulty of communication over such country.

Women's Sports Are Organized at Texas University

AUSTIN, April 17.—Organization of spring sports for women at the University of Texas is about completed, with more than 1,000 girls enrolled, according to Miss Thelma Dillingham, instructor in the department of physical training for women.

Due to the regulation requiring that all girls who cannot take care of themselves in water register for swimming classes, the enrollment in this course takes the lead over all others. There are approximately 350 girls taking either pool swimming in the Women's building or Deep Eddy, a local outdoor pool. As usual, however, tennis and golf vie for second honors, with 250 registered for the former and 150 for the latter. Archery is perhaps the next most popular sport, with 100 enrolled.

Courses offered during the spring are chiefly outdoor sports, an effort being made both in fall and spring to have the girls take as much outdoor exercise as possible. Horseback riding, dancing, fencing, tennis, archery, golf, tennis, swimming and corrective exercises are given.

This is the last season swimming classes will be held at Deep Eddy, Miss Dillingham pointed out, since the new women's gymnasium and swimming pool will be completed and ready for occupancy at least by the time spring sports begin next year.

DALLAS, April 17. Bishop John M. Moore of Dallas and Bishop S. R. Hay of Houston will head the delegation.

Other Texans who are expected to attend the board of missions meeting are: W. Erskine Williams of Fort Worth; W. B. Hamilton, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Nat G. Rollins, Abilene; Mrs. J. W. Mills, Beaumont, and M. A. Chidlers of San Antonio.

An annual expenditure of $2,500,000 is required to finance the missionary causes of the board, which is the oldest and largest of the connectional boards of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. The church's general and Woman's missionary work includes twelve countries and the United States.

INCREASED AIR PRESTIGE IS SOUGHT BY ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, April 17. (P)—Increased prestige as an aviation center is the goal of St. Louis this year.

To attain this end the air board of the Chamber of Commerce has mapped an extensive program for the remainder of 1930.

Activities will include a study of the present airmail service to devise ways of extending the mail routes both east and southwest from this city; a concerted movement to develop plans for a downtown airport; a campaign in the public schools to create greater interest in aviation; and a drive to obtain new aviation industries.

OLD LETTERS PRESERVED

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—Original copies of controversial letters from John H. Reagan, member of the first Texas congress, and others have been given to the University of Texas library by Lyman T. Bailey of Austin, according to Mrs. Mattie Austin Hatcher, archivist.

The letters concern an article, "Lincoln and the South," written by Walter B. Hill, counselor of the University of Georgia. It appeared in 1905 in the February issue of the Youth's Companion and presented a discussion of Abraham Lincoln's attitude toward the Civil War and the breach between the North and the South.

War on Animals of Texas Urged

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—The 10-year program of predatory animal extermination which has been advanced by a number of western states, including Texas, probably will receive the support of congress at the next session, according to word received here from Senator Tom Connally.

An approximation of $1,378,000 a year for the next 10 years is expected to be approved, it was said. Fourteen western states will participate in this total with Texas receiving $49,400 per year. These appropriations were expected to be supplemented by appropriations in the various states. It was pointed out that funds then would be sufficient to carry on a successful campaign against predatory animals.

Loss of Texas cattle and poultry producers from predatory animals annually totals thousands of dollars and while some progress has been made in the past to exterminate these pests, lack of funds has seriously handicapped the program, which has been carried out principally through individual enterprise.

are in the university library. Copies of all Reagan papers have been secured, and additional data about the Texas patriot are being collected now by Benjamin Hervey Good of Austin, graduate student in the university, who is writing his thesis for the master of arts degree on John H. Reagan.

The Minneapolis-Moline Implements and the Gray County Court House are in a class to themselves.

REYNOLDS BROTHERS

The Court House is More Than Brick and Concrete

The new Court House is not merely a pile of builder's material, and those who see only the splendid architecture and workmanship fail utterly in their vision.

We stand in its corridors with bared heads because we see in this noble structure the expression of approval of the majesty of the law by the men and women of Pampa and Gray county. We realize as never before that a courthouse is a temple of justice, and is symbolic of all those better impulses in the human heart that long for Peace on Earth, goodwill to men.

For the man who respects the rights of his fellowman as he does his own, the courthouse is a pleasant retreat. For him who would live for self alone; who would reap where he has not sown; who would trample under foot the souls of other men, the courts of the country have little charm.

We congratulate the commissioners on supplying the furnishings that are in keeping with the dignity of the respective offices, without which the magnificent structure would fail in commanding that respect for law intended by those who by their votes authorized the building. Lack of office accessories is a handicap in an efficient administration of the duties of any office, public or private, and a reflection upon the executive in charge.

Our business is to serve those who serve others efficiently.

Gray county's new courthouse, bright, new, and shining, and offering luxuries never before known by the official family, awaits the inspection and admiration of the citizenship and visitors next Saturday. Erected at a cost of $360,000, it is one of the most beautiful public buildings in West Texas.

A few of the county officers may not entirely like the arrangement and location of their offices in the new courthouse but most of them are well-pleased. For instance, Charlie Thut, whose office occupies most of the south end of the second floor, is very happy. His office also extends about 25 feet on the side.

Sheriff E. S. Graves believes that the office of the county sheriff is too small, especially the waiting room which is about six feet square. He is satisfied with the inner office and the vaults, though he thinks the latter should have been larger, but the waiting room is decidedly too small," he declares. "More people visit the sheriff's office than all of the others combined, and I can't see why the waiting room was built so small," Sheriff Graves declared.

Sheriff Has 3 Rooms

The sheriff's department, which must provide space for three deputies, includes three rooms. The sheriff's office is located at the second door to the right at the east entrance. The office of county Superintendent John B. Hessey is the first door to the right at the east entrance.

Just across the hall from the county sheriff are the offices of tax collector and tax assessor, which occupies the southeast quarter of the first floor of the building. They are very large, afford ample space to accommodate the records and filing cabinets of the two offices.

Office of Justice of Peace C. E. Cary is located in the northeast corner of the first floor. A unique feature of the sheriff's department is an elevator from the first floor office to the county jail on the fourth floor. The elevator is divided into compartments in which the prisoners may be separated to prevent resistance.

The office of Miss Myrtle Miller, county home demonstration agent, is located in the northwest corner of the first floor. It comprises two rooms, one an office and the other a reception room. Adjoining it on the south is the ladies' rest room which contains a bath, toilet, two lavatories and a waiting room. Toilets for negroes are located under the stairway landing leading to the second floor.

Oak benches are attached to the walls in the halls on the first three floors. Drinking fountains may also be found in the halls of all four floors. The men's toilet is located at the first door to the left of the stairway landing leading to the first floor.

Abstracter Has Office

The office of Silas Faulkner, first clerk of Gray county and now abstracter, is located at the first door to the left at the south entrance. Adjoining his office on the south is the morgue for dead records of the office of the county clerk.

In the center of the east half of the second floor is the county court room. This has a seating capacity of about 400 persons. Benches are of golden oak, also the dais of the judge and the jury. Adjoining the county courtroom on the northeast corner is the office of the county judge. The county library room will be housed in the first room west of the judge's office. Next to the library on the west is the office of county attorney. In the northwest corner is the office

GEORGIAN ARCHITECTURE OF NEW COURTHOUSE IS AMERICAN AND IS FAVORITE OF ARCHITECT KAUFMAN

The Georgian type of architecture in which the new courthouse is built is thoroughly American. It originated in the United States before 1800 during the reign of King George III, from whom the name was derived. The style is the favorite of W. R. Kaufman, architect.

"Stylists can rave about Spanish, Italian Renaissance and sky-scraper types of architecture all they want to, but Georgian is the only established American type," he said.

The big difference in the construction of the courthouse and real Georgian is that the inner capital is fire-proof and is built on a steel frame. Light-colored brick was used. The base of the building is of Indiana limestone. Figured terra-cotta panels spaced regularly on the exterior walls break the monotony of windows and brick. Because the building is rectangular in shape, the exterior can stand a great deal of decoration. The top of the courthouse is rather elaborate decorated with urns and bas-relief but the architectural type demands some ornaments.

The white terra-cotta contrasts favorably with the rough-finished mingled-colored brick. On sunshiny days, very little electricity will be needed for light because at least three-fourths of the wall-space is taken up with windows. The halls, lighting fixtures and all interior decorations are done in the Georgian motif. The district court room is the most beautiful room in the building.

Wainscoating panels in the halls and foyers are of dark-red marble. These are five feet in height. The color scheme of the entire building is amber, white and cream. The plaster walls are painted a light cream color; shields on pillars and decorations on the ceilings are stained a rich amber while these decorations are accented by pure white lines or plaster of Paris. Each step of the three main stairways is a dark red, unpolished marble slab.

Every piece of lumber in the building is of the highest quality of oak. The winding stairways leading from the morgue of the county clerk to the clerk's main office is of iron. All furniture in the county courtroom, the district courtroom, the commissioners court room and in the halls is of solid oak. Office furniture is made of a fire-proof material. The flooring in the offices is a mastic material known as T. M. B. while the flooring in the halls is terrazzo, or, marble chips set in fine cement.

Town Rises and Falls Quickly

BAKERFIELD, April 17. (AP)—The town that rose from a bare spot on an alkali flat hemmed in by hills with a population of 1,200 in two weeks has declined with almost equal rapidity. Trucks hauling houses to other booming oil fields have been a part of the picture in this vast country in the last month.

Only a general store remains, situated on the wide street. The many restaurants that were established here within the course of ten days have thinned to one and a garage that was moved bodily a distance of more than 100 miles has trekked across the desolation to another boom, this time in Ector county.

Some of the hotels have departed with their guests on the solid frames of 10-ton trucks.

Bakersfield was built quicker than any town that ever was assembled in Texas. When the heavy drilling campaign, in the Taylor-link field slackened and it became a firm belief that the field was not to become another Yates field, the oil field merchants packed up. Six months ago Bakersfield was founded. It is the second town to be established on lands of the University of Texas and the University got a share of the profits.

R. L. Bobbitt Is Native Texan and State Official

Robert Lee Bobbitt, who will speak here at the courthouse dedication, was appointed attorney general of Texas September 25, 1929. He was born January 24, 1888, on a farm six miles south of Hillsboro in Hill county, where he lived continuously twenty-four years. He attended the country schools of Hill county, spent a year in the old Carlisle academy at Arlington, two years in the North Texas State Teachers college at Denton, and four years in the University of Texas.

Leaving Austin in 1916, he entered the practice of law at Laredo and was for twelve years member of the law firm of Hicks, Hicks, Dickson & Bobbitt, with offices in the Hicks Building, San Antonio, and Valls Building, Laredo. He served in the military forces of the United States during the world war having entered as a private and being discharged as a Captain of Field Artillery. Six years were spent as a member of the state legislature, last two as speaker of the House of Representatives of the forty-first, having been elected to that position without opposition.

He was serving as district attorney of the forty-ninth judicial district at the time of his appointment as attorney general.

Wealth Back of Scholastics Told by Supt. Marrs

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—The per capita wealth supporting each scholastic in Texas is $2,380, S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction, has determined. He deduced it in a simple mathematical computation dividing the scholastic population of 1,399,791 into $3,961,426,097, the taxable property value.

Superintendent Marrs obtained the same information by counties, it revealing that Somerville county represents one extreme with only $401 per scholastic, while Loving county, sparsely settled, showed $92,262 per scholastic.

"If public education is a state function and if the state gives equal opportunity to all the children, it is clearly shown that an equal distribution of state available school funds on a per capita basis makes an unjust discrimination against those children who happen to live in that portion of the state that does not have high taxable values," Superintendent Marrs said. "This is the fundamental principle underlying the appropriation for rural aid."

He pointed out that there was a fringe of coast counties above the state average, due largely to oil and sulphur increasing the valuation of property. The northwestern part of the Panhandle and the region including Wichita, Archer and Young counties were also above the average, due to oil and gas.

Nothing Free

A business-like man stepped into a butcher's shop. "A piece of meat for roasting!" he ordered briskly. The meat, mostly bones, was thrown on the scales.

"Look here!" remonstrated the man. "You're giving me a big piece of bone!"

"Oh, no I ain't," said the butcher, blandly, "you are paying for it."—Belfast Telegraph.

PAMPA POST OF LEGION IS VERY ACTIVE

Organization Aids in All Worthwhile Efforts

BAND TO BE UNIFORMED

City Benefited Much by Veterans' Work

"So the people may know" some of the things that the American Legion is doing and has done, at this time Kerley-Crossman Post No. 334, Pampa, Texas, submits the following activities now in effect:

1. Emergency Relief Committee, of which W. H. Lang is chairman. This committee is composed of an organized and trained force of not less than 25 men, who would be in a position to come to the aid of city and county officials immediately, in case of some disaster, such as fire, hurricane, floods etc. Such committees are now functioning in many of the cities and towns of the U. S. For example the posts situated along the flooded area of the Mississippi river were able to save hundreds of lives and do much good in various ways during the trying times of the flood in that district last year.

2. Promoting of education, awarding of school medals, a lowing cup to the high school, and five other awards of honor to different ward schools, entertaining the graduating class of the junior high school with a banquet, at which a nationally known educator will be principal speaker, are other activities. This banquet will be held on May 2. Further announcements are to be made later.

3. Activities of boys' work. The post assumed the responsibility of promoting the Boy Scout program for the entire city of Pampa, and recently conducted a training school for Scoutmasters. It plans to organize a troop of boys who are not connected with any church organization and who would not be reached by churches sponsoring Boy Scout troops.

4. The volunteer organization, Legion Service club, holds luncheons weekly, for the purpose of cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce, Board of City Development, Lions club, and Rotary club, exchanging visiting members each week.

5. Enforcement of existing immigration laws is sought. The club is in readiness awaiting the advice of department headquarters.

6. The rehabilitating service is as near perfect as is possible for any post to maintain.

7. Cooperating with the county judge, the club has adopted a 16-year-old delinquent boy, who had been sentenced to the reform school, but who is now back in public school, fully clothed and properly fed, and is showing his appreciation by proper and obedient manners.

8. This post is the only organization in the county sponsoring the C. M. T. C.

9. An official American Legion band of thirty pieces is now under the management and control of Kerley-Crossman post, will be in uniform by April 19, and will participate in the dedication ceremonies and convention parades of that date.

10. The post sponsored last year the champion baseball team of entire Northwest Texas, and will also sponsor a club this year. There were 21,000 teams sponsored by the American Legion last year. This year an even greater number may be formed.

11. The Legion was especially commended for its tremendous lead over all other organizations in the Community Welfare drive.

12. The post reorganized McLean and Shamrock posts.

13. It is sponsoring an unofficial district convention, to be held in Pampa April 19 and 20. Dr. R. A. Webb is assistant district committeeman, and to him much credit is given for promoting this convention.

Governor's Race Unusually Slow Oldtimers Say

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—"Oldtimers" in the political game claim there is more lethargy in the governor's campaign than former similar marathons at this season of the year. They ascribe this to the situation created by the controversy created over the uncertainty of Senator Thomas B. Love getting his name on the Democratic primary ballots and indecision of Governor Moody as to his intentions.

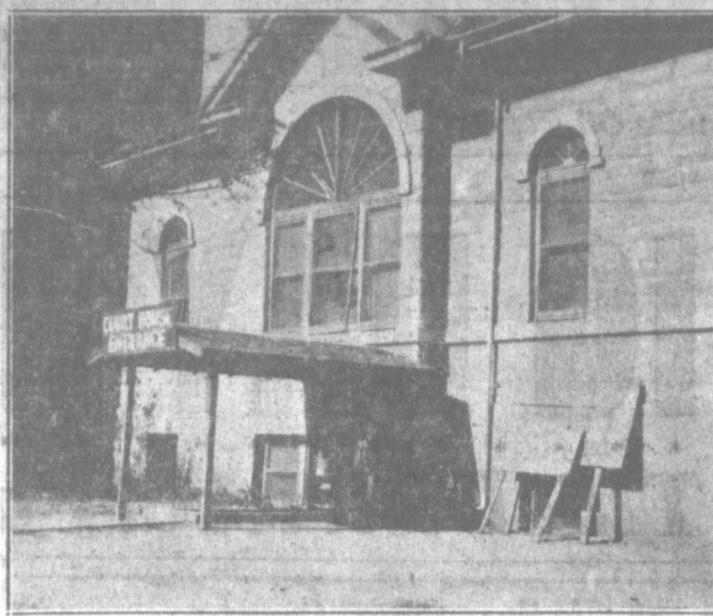

Senator Love has taken his case to the supreme court for adjudication, claiming the Democratic state executive committee had no right to bar his candidacy because he failed to support the 1928 presidential nominees, and Governor Moody still has under consideration his candidacy for a third term.

Senator A. J. Wirtz of Seguin has definitely decided to retire from politics to devote his entire time to his growing law practice, and Representative W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales had announced for the place. Senator Wirtz served in four sessions, having been a member of the 38th, 39th, and 41st legislatures. He was one of the most active members of the senate and will be missed in debate, always having been aggressive on one side of every question. Hopkins got his first legislative experience in the 41st legislature.

Representative S. E. Barnett and Senator Joe M. Moore, both of Greenville, are contending for Moore's seat. Moore has had 10 years experience, serving in the house through the 37th and 38th legislatures and in the upper house through the 39th, 40th and 41st. Barnett was a member of the Houston, the 40th and 41st legislatures. Theirs is the 10th senatorial district composed of the counties of Hunt, Collin, and Rains and Rockwall.

Just over the fence, in the adjoining senatorial district another warm fight was brewing. Olin Van Zandt of Tiago, blind member of the house, would succeed Senator Ed Westbrook of Sherman, one of the veterans of the legislature. They would contend for the seat allotted to the ninth senatorial district made up of Cook, Grayson and Fannin counties. Van Zandt was a member of the 40th and 41st legislatures, while Senator Westbrook has 16 years legislative experience to his credit and still is a young man. Westbrook was a member of the house in the 31st legislature, then dropped out for a session, returning as a senator in the 33rd legislature and serving continuously since.

Entrance Suggestive of Old Times

Many of the members of Gray county's official family remember the "dug-out" days of this territory. Going down into the basement of the temporary courthouse was in some ways similar. The above picture shows the entrance to the basement of the old Baptist church, occupied since 1928, when the county seat was moved to Pampa.

Mayor's Name Is Written on Ballots

GREENVILLE, April 17. (P)—Joseph F. Nichols has been assured of another term as mayor of this city, thanks to the pencil writing prodigies of his supporters.

Nichols' election climaxed perhaps the longest and most stubbornly fought city political contest in Greenville's history.

In the Democratic runoff primary, it was announced that Nichols received one more vote than his opponent, C. P. Nevill. The latter contested and after a recount was declared the winner by four votes. His name was printed on the general election ballot.

Nichols did not give up. Instead he urged his followers to scratch Nevill's name and insert his. Seventy-five more of them than were necessary did that. Seventy voters wrote in Nichols' name but did not scratch that of his opponent, hence those votes were thrown out.

The vote in the general election was 2542, 337 more than had been cast in the runoff and within a few hundred of the city's voting strength. A light rain on the date of the general election did not deter the voters.

Free Gasoline Is Produced by This Gas Well

BEEVILLE, April 17. (P)—The recital price of gasoline is of no interest to a number of persons residing in Western Garza county, where a capricious gas well has evolved into a free filling station.

When F. P. Zoch of San Antonio completed his No. 1 Kaufman at 4,232 feet last December, he had drilled a wildcat test which made a quantity of gas but no oil. An odor of gasoline emanated from the well, but there was no liquid.

Recently an oil scout opened the Kaufman well to see if it still was making gas. It was. The well also apparently had gone into the refinery business, for the aroma of gasoline had turned liquid, to the tune of three barrels of pure gasoline daily. Oil men say that if the gas from the well were run through a condenser the daily production of gasoline would run about 100 barrels.

Meanwhile, enterprising car owners drive in with tanks empty. The freak well does its stuff, and the gas no longer sloshes in partly filled gas tanks when the owners drive away with that satisfied look on their faces.

And so Mr. Zoch has paid $26,700 for 1-32 royalty on the Periera 2,670-acre tract which adjoins the Kaufman on the east and will drill within 90 days—perhaps another free filling station.

Refuses Million
WILLS POINT, April 17. (P)—After farming for more than half a century near the Van Zandt-Smith county line and finding it required both industry and economy to live, R. L. Wells, 70, refused $1,000,000 cash for his holdings in the Van oil field. Mr. Wells has five children and says he does not wish to sell until they are satisfied with the trade.

HOLLYWOOD—Flickerville is over the city of contrasts. While many an actor paws his watch, turns in his automobile, or merely pulls in his belt another notch, there are few who are playing in two or even three pictures at the same time.

Betty Compson has done it, and so has Noah Beery. Bernice Claire, the new singing scatologist, is doing the same, in a musical comedy in an operetta, and in a straight drama in which she sings not a note.

EFFICIENCY PLUS

The following yarn, told as true at a recent banquet, may or may not be exaggerated, but it aptly illustrates one form of movie "efficiency."

He was playing in an orchestra, writing songs on the side, and making about $80 a week. A movie executive called him in one day and offered him a song-writing contract, which was accepted.

"Now about salary," he said, "what do you think?"

"I don't know," was the answer, "suppose you suggest."

"How about $250?"

The musician looked crest-fallen. Eighty a week was more than $250 a month.

"Well," hastily and apologetically, "suppose we make it $400 a week to start?"

The song writer only quipped,

PIANO-HOUSING PROBLEM

The next day someone took him in charge and asked where he'd like to go.

The composer idled while they built him a stucco bungalow. When finished, it was a beauty.

At last the song-writer set to work. Then one day he met on the lot the executive who had signed him.

"Hello!" said the chief. "Where've you been all this time?"

"Waiting for them to build this office."

"What! An office way over here? That'll never do! I want you near mine, so we can talk things over now and then."

The song-writer was moved again—piano and all!

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood's champion plunger, without a doubt, is Zelma O'Neal, who has been "plugging" literally and consistently since she was a child in her early 'teens.

The little eccentric dancing, singing comedienne—it was she who actually originated the Varsity Drag

When Courthouse Ground Was Broken

The above photograph shows the breaking of the ground for the new Gray county courthouse more than a year ago. Since the day was too cold for comfort, little more than the sod turning was done at the time.

of "Good News" fame—went to work in a Chicago pattern factory when she was 13, plugging away for $6 a week.

Before long she had taught herself how to type and was plugging at the keyboard for a few dollars more.

Then she learned how to operate a telephone switchboard, and progressed to the "plugging in" of long distance calls in the Chicago exchange.

Later, after she had gone on the stage, she alternated uncertain vaudeville engagements with "plugging" songs in a music store with her sister Bernice.

Ready-Made Plot

Now she is plugging for success in her first talkie, in the role she played in the stage musical, "Follow Thru."

Of the real children of the stage is Zelma. Careers like hers have been the inspiration already for dozens of the erstwhile popular backstage talkies. She is short, plump, peppy as a jazz drummer, and "cute."

With those qualities, and a voice to match, it was inevitable she should develop a yen for the stage.

She gratified it by a night course in a cheap dramatic school when she was 13, plugging away for $6 a week.

Zelma got in the chorus, but before the show opened, in a small town near Chicago, she was a principal. The show folded, of course, but Zelma stuck to the footlights game.

Schooling

There followed ventures in small-time vaudeville with her sister, sometimes heartbreaking, sometimes encouraging, always yielding experience. Eventually, when their act was near enough to New York, they struck out for the city—with $12.

Jobs were hard to find, but they found them.

Neighborhood theatres, small presentation houses in Jersey, one thing and another, but they got along.

Then came Zelma's big break—the "Good News" role.

Talks To Parents

IT TAKES TIME
BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE

Dora's mother was disappointed because, having moved for the child's benefit to an environment as nearly ideal as possible, she did not at once show physical improvement or any indication that she was benefiting by the new situation.

From a crowded city apartment Dora had been taken to live in a cottage on the sea shore. The house was simple and roomy, with only as much furnishing as was necessary for comfort. Along the beach there was a broad, square causeway, which might have been made expressly for the joy of the children who raced their tricycles and express wagons up and down. There was a beach—a broad, sunny stretch of clean sand. Sea gulls ran along the water's edge and the surf curled white under a blue sky.

What more could any child want?

But for nearly a month after they came to live there Dora dogged her mother's footsteps in the house and was most unhappy when compelled to go outdoors to play.

Strange as it may seem it would have been most surprising if she had not done just this. Children, like the rest of us, are creatures of habit. No matter how perfect the new situation to which a child is introduced it usually takes time for him to take advantage of it. This is especially true of the emotional child who lives much within himself.

Our cue at such times is to be patient, and to give the environment time to take its effect. With the especially dependent, emotional child it helps him to make friends with a situation if his mother temporarily becomes his playmate for a little while each day. The association of mother and the sense of security with the new scene is thereby made, and the child feels himself at home in it more quickly.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—Doctors, dentists, chaplains and veterinarians in the United States army are commissioned officers.

Band leaders are assistants to line officers and have no commission.

This situation is exceedingly irksome to that master band leader—John Philip Sousa.

For a number of years Sousa has been endeavoring to get congress to pass a bill commissioning all band leaders in the army and navy. Himself a leader of the U. S. Marine band for 12 years, and later a lieutenant commander at the Great Lakes naval training station, this question lies very close to the old master's heart.

Steadfastly opposed to the idea is the war department. And for several reasons.

First, such a change would add about 90 commissioned officers to the army. Such an increase would cost $86,500. Band leaders would be commissioned majors, captains, first and second lieutenants.

IDEA OPPOSED

Then the war department holds that musicians, as a class, are not accustomed to exercise the func-

for the acquirement of the military knowledge necessary—"

And lastly, the war department believes the various territorial and tactical commanders "are fully competent to administer the needs of the bands pertaining to their commands."

To which objections Sousa snorts in disgust. He has represented himself to members of congress as speaking for the many thousands of professional musicians in the United States who feel that official recognition by the government of the profession of music has been too long delayed.

Sousa's Ideas

Says Sousa: "I don't see that the chief of chaplains, the chief surgeon, or the chief of infantry has ever been competent to interfere with the duties of territorial or tactical commanders. Then why should a chief bandmaster?"

At a congressional hearing not so long ago when this bill was up for discussion Sousa expressed himself in no uncertain terms.

"If you find the men who occupy positions as band leaders in the service now," he told the committee on military affairs, "are not up to the standard of gentlemen according to the military and naval standards, then for God's sake get gentlemen!"

"But," the old master added, "you are not going to get them unless you give them command over that which they teach."

Mexicans Afraid of Census; Fear It Means Deportation

LAREDO, April 17. (AP)—A census problem peculiar to Laredo and other Mexican border points is that of convincing Mexican nationals that the information obtained from them by the enumerators cannot be used as evidence for their deportation.

During the last decennial census many Mexicans in this country were imbued with the belief. The feeling is more pronounced during this census in view of the heavy deportations last year.

A concerted movement is under way to dissuade the Mexicans from this view. Enumerators and Laredo residents are assuring the Mexican nationals in this district that the information given the census enumerators is held in absolute secrecy, known to the census bureau only, and that no information is furnished the immigration or other departments of the United States government.

Such a Sacrifice!

Siler Faulkner Helped to Form County in 1902

To most of the members of the official family of Gray county and to most of the oldtimers of the Panhandle, it seems entirely fitting that Siler Faulkner, abstractor, should have an office in the new courthouse.

Mr. Faulkner helped organize the county in 1902 and was the first county clerk. He held the office for a number of terms. Mr. Faulkner, though not a county officer now, has a three-year lease on offices on the first floor of the new courthouse. Kelly M. Patterson is Mr. Faulkner's assistance.

The county officer who is actually a native of Gray county is Charles Thut, county clerk. Mr. Thut was born and reared at LeFors. He lived there until the courthouse was moved to Pampa. His assistants are Miss Louise Miller, deputy county and district clerk, and Miss Ola Gregory. Mr. Thut's acquaintance with Panhandle attorneys is about 100 per cent. Although LeFors is a rather isolated town, soon or later most Panhandle lawyers went to LeFors and when they went they stayed at the Thut hotel. Mr. Thut's father was one of the first settlers in Gray county.

Ambulance planes are being used in the Sahara desert for invalids.

"We are now passing the most famous brewery in Berlin," explains the guide.

"We are not," replied the American tourist, as he hopped off the motor coach.—Hummel, Hamburg.

Oldtimers predominate almost exclusively in the personnel of the county family. There is Sheriff E. S. Graves, who has been here something like 15 years; John Hessey, who has lived most of his life in the county; three commissioners, Tom Kirby, John White, and M. M. Newman, may be classed as oldtimers. Commissioner Lewis O. Cox is a product of the New Pampa.

Judge Ivy E. Duncan lived here when the town had a population far below that of Miami. County Attorney John Studer a native of the Panhandle, came to Gray county several years ago from Canada, but his family was well-known here before he moved to Pampa.

Sheriff Graves has been the high sheriff of Gray county for almost ten years. He declined to be a candidate for the office again. His chief deputy for three years is C. E. "Tiny" Pipes, who probably weighs more than any other man in the county, and, for that matter, more than any other peace officer in Texas. Other deputies are Herman Wachtendorf, jailor and deputy, Weldon Wilson and Jeff Guthrie. Guthrie and Wachtendorf came here since the oil play started, but Wilson grew up in the county.

Although Justice of Peace C. E. Cary covered much land and much water between the U. S. and Manila and various Chinese ports in his youth, he was reared in Gray county and when he had finished school, he traveled back here.

Constable G. H. Parish has been sharing an office with Judge Cary in the Rose building.

The tax collector of Gray county is Sheriff Graves but his two deputies, T. W. Barnes and Jack Back, keep the office and do all of the tax collecting.

R. C. Wilson, county auditor, brother of Weldon Wilson, is the first auditor of the county. He was also reared here. His first county job was that of deputy sheriff. Mr. Hessey is also the first county school superintendent. He is an appointee of the county board of education. Mr. Hessey taught at McLean and at other schools in the county before he moved to Pampa as superintendent. He grew up on the farms and ranches of Gray county. He has demonstrated the value of a superintendent to the county in many ways since he assumed office.

When Pampa consisted of a section house, a saloon, a store building on Cuylar street, and the White Deer land building, A. H. Doucette, engineer and county surveyor, had already been here several years. The saying, "he grew up with the country," is wholly applicable to Mr. Doucette.

EMPIRE CAFE, WHICH WILL BE FIRST CHINESE RESTAURANT FOR CITY, TO OPEN NEXT SATURDAY

Pampa's only Chinese restaurant, the Empire cafe, will open next Saturday at 115 South Cuyler street, where Bonney's formerly was in business.

The building has been undergoing complete remodeling, and will open in Oriental splendor to feature all Chinese and American dishes, according to Jim Wing, president of the Empire cafe organization. Harry Gee will be manager and Gee Chang the chief cook.

The cafe has been decorated at great cost in order to make it a show place as well as a good place to eat. The Empire will cater to private parties. Although catering to those who like Chinese dishes, the cafe will have skilled chefs and will serve a large variety of American dishes, Wing said. Tables and booths have been installed, and with their Chinese decorations form an ideal place for after-theatre parties, he pointed out.

Chinese lanterns have prominent places in the establishment, and the walls have been hand-painted by interior decorators. The oriental motif prevails throughout. Chop Suey, the favorite Chinese dish, will be the featured article on the menu, and many mandarin delicacies, made from official receipts, will be served. Wing stated that the cafe staff would be pleased to assist those uninterested in mandarin cookery in selecting a delectable dish.

"The public will be assured of courteous service and we hope to make the Empire distinctive in every way," Wing said. "Only those well versed in oriental manners and dishes will have a part in arranging the various foods."

An added touch of oriental atmosphere will be provided near the front entrance, where Chinese novelties of all kinds will be sold.

Old Railroader Dies

FORT WORTH, April 15. (AP)—Funeral services were set for today for T. P. Fenelon, 68, division passenger agent of the Santa Fe railway and junior state president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, who died here at his home last night.

Mr. Fenelon was born in Ireland, and lived in Wichita Falls and Gainesville before coming to Fort Worth in 1900. He had worked for the railroad 32 years.

steers which he said belonged to him and were unencumbered.

Then, the bank alleged, it was discovered that the four had entered an alleged conspiracy to borrow the money and that it was divided among them. It was charged that when the bank's inspector examined the cattle, Peeler and Jackson were present and represented that the 142 steers belonged to Miller. Now, the petition charged, they claim that the steers belonged to them and never were Miller's property. It was also charged that they had given Miller permission to mortgage them as part of the plan for securing the $10,000. The cattle are in Atascosa county.

Spider Webs on Telephone Wires Cause Trouble

DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—Spider webs, birds and woodpeckers came in for discussion by T. F. Whiteside of the Dallas office of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, in explaining causes of line trouble involving automatic telegraph printers which carry Associated Press news to the Mexican border.

"I worked in the territory around Harlingen and Corpus Christi for six years," he said, "and one of the worst, recurring causes of wire trouble was spider webs."

"Giant spiders build webs from wire to wire in dry weather. The webs are unnoticed. Then comes a rain and the webs conduct the water from one wire to another, causing a short circuit."

"Even worse than spiders in that area, are the woodpeckers in Mexico. In some districts it is impossible to keep a wooden pole standing much more than 24 hours. The woodpeckers attack them in swarms and peck them down."

"At times wooden poles are replaced by iron poles, and it is not uncommon to find a woodpecker who has committed suicide by pecking hard at the iron."

"Flocks of birds sometimes cause short circuits and line trouble when they alight in large numbers on the wires."

Quarantine Lifted

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Quarantine restrictions of Arkansas against sweet potatoes grown in Texas has been lifted, J. M. Del Curto, chief entomologist of the Texas department of agriculture has announced. Lifting of the ban will permit the shipments of sweet potatoes from the pest free area of Texas immediately.

EWING—

be back in a few minutes. It was the last day of court. The petit jury had been discharged but the grand jury had not been.

Slayer Self

In a few minutes, Judge Grever and Henry Thru were seen walking toward the hotel. Hume stepped behind a porch pillar. When Judge Grever saw him he extended his hand in greeting and Hume drew his gun. Judge Grever turned and ran and Hume shot him in the back five times. The judge died that night. Hume ran to the barn where he shot himself through the head.

It was the opinion of those who knew him that Hume that he was slightly insane at the time of the shooting. "That was the first time I ever saw the mob impulse exercise itself," Judge Ewing said. "Almost as soon as Judge Grever had been carried into the house, the men present started after Hume. Before they got to the barn he had killed himself."

Upon the death of Grever, Governor Hobby appointed the late Frank Willis, brother of Judge Newton P. Willis, to fill out the unexpired term. Grever had been appointed judge by Governor Tom Campbell in 1909.

Judge Ewing was elected in 1917 and he has never had an opponent since that time. He defeated Judge Grever as district attorney in 1908.

The first court held in Gray county opened in Dec., 1902. The first case was a land suit filed by a man at Alanreed, Judge Ewing said. When Judge Ewing came to the Panhandle 37 years ago, Frank Willis, Sr., father of Newton P. Willis and Frank Willis, Jr., of Canadian was judge. His court had jurisdiction over all the Panhandle and over Greer county, Oklahoma, which was then a part of Texas. After Judge Willis came Judge B. M. Baker, father of Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal of East Ward school here. He held the office for 16 years.

Court at Parnell

In the early days before Gray and Hutchinson counties were organized, court was held at Parnell, 25 miles north of Miami on the forks of Indian creek and the Canadian river. When people went to court they rode horses or drove in buggies and wagons from Gray and Hutchinson counties to Parnell.

The successor of Judge Baker was Judge H. G. Hendricks who served from 1906 until 1909. When Judge Ewing came to Canadian, L. D. Miller was district attorney. He was succeeded by E. C. Gray of Higgins. The next bid to hold the office was the late Cleve Coffee who died recently in Hutchinson county. Next came Ben H. Kelly now of San Antonio. W. D. Fisher of Canadian was the next prosecutor. He was followed by Judge Ewing. In 1917, E. J. Pickens defeated the late Johnnie Holmes for the office. During the world war, Pickens resigned and entered the service, and Holmes was appointed in his stead. When Pickens returned, Holmes signed in his former opponents' favor. In the next election, Holmes defeated Pickens and held the office until 1927, when he resigned to enter private practice at Borger. Judge Clifford Braly of the 114th district court held the office until last week.

Was Court Reporter

Judge Ewing was the first official court reporter of the 31st district. Whether it indicates that a law-abiding citizenship has always lived in the Panhandle or whether it means that there had been good lawyers and easy juries, Judge Ewing does not know, but he does point with pride to the fact that the 31st judicial court has never inflicted the death penalty. Away back in the early '90's, a case originated in Panhandle in which the defendant, a Methodist preacher by the name of Morrison, who was living at Panhandle at the time, was given the death penalty. The trial was held at Vernon.

With the possible exception of the Robert Blake trial, the Morrison trial was the most sensational ever held in the Panhandle, Judge Ewing said. Morrison was found guilty of poisoning his wife and was hanged in the death house at Huntsville. He was charged with placing poison in some canned peaches which she ate after they had returned home from church, where he had preached a revival sermon. She died in agonies and the neighbors grew suspicious. After she was buried, she was disinterred and an autopsy performed. Poison was found in her stomach. Letters were introduced to show that he had been engaged to a woman in Kansas while his wife was living.

Until about 1910, Judge Ewing said, most of the civil suits involved land and most of the criminal cases were based on charges of horse and cattle theft and murder. Cases involving criminal assault or statutory offenses were unknown until 1900, and a rarity in the first ten years of the century. Although Gray county as most every other Panhandle county dry long before the Eighteenth amendment, very few persons were tried for bootlegging before the world war. Then people could ship in their liquor even though local option was in effect. Hijacking and hold-up cases were also practically unknown before 1910.

of county surveyor in three rooms, the drafting room, public waiting room, and private office. The drafting room is equipped with built-in cabinets. Directly across the hall from the county courtroom is the commissioner's courtroom. When delegations appear before the commissioners, court will be held in the courtroom. The justice of the peace's office is large enough to accommodate an audience of 75 persons.

The office of Auditor R. C. Wilson and Miss Mabel Davis, county treasurer, is located in the southwest corner of the second floor adjoining the office of the clerk.

Courtroom Beautiful

On the third floor, occupying the same location as the county courtroom, is the district courtroom. Architect Kaufman has made if the most beautiful room in the building. It is a dignified contrast in golden oak, amber shields and decorations, cream-colored walls, and white plaster of Paris pillars and trimmings. The ceiling is reminiscent of some colonial ballroom of ante-bellum days. The courtroom has a seating capacity of about 600, although benches and seats are provided for only 400. The balcony on the fourth floor is equipped with open seats while the main floor of the district courtroom is furnished with golden oaken benches.

"Just like the court room in the movies," one spectator exclaimed when she saw the judge's elevated throne, "the high-carved-oak panels that extend across the width of the courtroom at the back of the judge's large high-backed chair."

The panel is about 12 feet high and is carved in the Georgian type of architecture. The comfortable, leather-bottomed chairs in the jury box are also located on a platform and are of oak. Back of the panel is the consultation room. In the northeast corner of the third floor is located the suite which the district judge will occupy. It consists of a bath, bed-room, office, and living room. Adjoining the judge's offices in the north end of the third floor are those of the grand jury and district attorney, the office of the latter being in the northwest corner.

In the northwest quarter of the third floor are located the bailiff's room and the witnesses' waiting room. In the southwest corner of the third floor are the jury rooms, which are equipped with toilets and lavatories. In the southeast corner, leading into the district courtroom is the office of district clerk. This is equipped with a large vault for district court records.

The fourth floor contains sleeping rooms for the juries. These have bath rooms and closets. A private stairway leads from the courtroom to the jury rooms. One of the sleeping rooms in the southeast corner and the other is in the southwest corner. In between are two rooms which have not been assigned.

The whole north end of the fourth floor contains the Pauly jail and the Pauly jail and the jailor's suite of rooms. The latter comprise a dining room, kitchen, bath, living room and bedroom. They are located in the northwest corner of the fourth floor. The jail has six compartments each of which will accommodate six prisoners. Each compartment contains a bunk cell, lavatory and toilet and a dining room.

The lighting fixtures throughout the building conform to the general color scheme of amber, white and cream. The globes and light shades are decorated in the Georgian manner.

Judge W. R. Ewing said that the Gray county courthouse is now the most magnificent in the district. His bedroom is a little bit too small, but he declares he is the proudest man in Gray county because of the courtroom. He admires the court room fixtures, especially the judge's throne, the high oak panel at the rear of his seat, and the decorations on the walls and ceilings more than those of any courtroom he has ever seen.

The Texas capitol is recognized as one of the outstanding statehouses in the country. It was constructed in the late 80's and is in a remarkable state of preservation.

Built entirely of Texas red granite the structure appears practically as it did when new with the exception of the interior which has depreciated materially.

Judge W. R. Ewing said that the Gray county courthouse is now the most magnificent in the district. His bedroom is a little bit too small, but he declares he is the proudest man in Gray county because of the courtroom. He admires the court room fixtures, especially the judge's throne, the high oak panel at the rear of his seat, and the decorations on the walls and ceilings more than those of any courtroom he has ever seen.

The major improvements would consist of revision of the plumbing system and decoration and remodeling of the house and senate chambers and offices.

It also has been proposed to remodel the interior along modern lines so as to afford more space for office room. It was recognized, however, that execution of this plan would involve large expenditures of money and would require considerable time while at the same time it would afford adequate relief.

An alternative to this plan probably will be offered at the next session of the legislature in the form of a proposal to purchase land adjacent to the rear of the capitol and there to construct a building to be known as the "Little Capitol." This would relieve the over-crowded conditions now existing in many of the departments and at the same time material improvements have been made in the past few years in the grounds surrounding the building but only emergency improvements have been made within the walls. The capitol park is reputed to be one of the finest in the nation, be would preserve the present building magic pencil.

Fire Drills in Schools Urged

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Regular fire drills in the public schools of the state are being urged by J. W. DeWeese, fire insurance commissioner, as a means of cutting down the loss of life and injuries resulting from fires in public educational institutions. DeWeese cited a recent occasion where the effectiveness of fire drills was demonstrated in the burning of a grade school in Fort Worth.

A total of 475 pupils escaped from the building unharmed although the passage of students on the second floor was blocked by fire and smoke, the pupils being forced to use the fire slides to flee the flames. It took slightly more than one minute to empty the building although the fire was of a serious nature and the building gutted by flames.

DeWeese stated that this efficiency spoke well of the fire drill as it enabled the pupils to escape with the minimum of panic which usually attends school fires. Through fire drills the children are taught exactly where to go and what to do and usually carry out instructions when an emergency arises, DeWeese stated.

"The importance of the school fire drills cannot be over-estimated," DeWeese stated, "and for this reason fire drills have been made a part of the course of study of schools in accordance with the rulings of the fire insurance department." The importance of having workable fire escapes and slides also cannot be over-estimated, he said.

Cooperation Now Gilchrist Idea

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Better cooperation between county officials and the state highway department is being sought by Gibs Gilchrist, state highway engineer, in an effort to facilitate the working of the state highway commission relative to hearing the petitions of delegations from various counties.

In a letter mailed recently to county officials over the state, Gilchrist urged that an application for a hearing be made at least 10 days before the date set for the meeting of the highway commission. He pointed out that failure of the delegation to schedule a hearing impedes the work of the commission. The highway commission also urges delegations to file all available information concerning the project to be discussed.

Failure to do this often results in the commission spending considerable time in obtaining information that should have been in its hands before the meeting.

Georgia has approximately 1,500,000 hogs.

Planes to Have Radio Sets for The Passengers

FORT WORTH, April 17. (AP)—Radio receiving sets are being installed by the Southern Air Transport division of the American Airways, Inc., in planes operated on the Dallas-Fort Worth leg of the Dallas-Gulfport passenger line.

Upon the successful completion of sets now under construction, the planes over the entire system will be equipped.

The receiving sets will enable the pilot to receive a weather report every thirty minutes and a continuous directional signal. The continuous signal is broadcast from the government radio stations placed every 200 miles over established airways and enables pilots to fly through fog or night without swerving from their course.

Dean Is Re-Elected

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Dean V. I. Moore, dean of men and student life at the University of Texas, has been re-elected president of the Texas Association of Deans of Men. The Association is composed of deans of men from the senior colleges of Texas.

Walker Gangster Draws 2 Years

TAHOKA, April 17. (AP)—Jim "Blackie" Wheelus, alleged former member of the notorious "Whitney" Walker outlaw gang, has been sentenced to two years imprisonment here on a plea of guilty to burglary of a drug store. He was arrested at Tombstone, Ariz.

Mrs. "Whitney" Walker, whose husband is in the Oklahoma penitentiary, was given a five-year suspended sentence here last fall for participation in the drug store burglary.

Lloyd Fulton, another alleged participant, is under arrest at Midland awaiting trial for another case. He already is under a two-year sentence at Odessa.

Reducing Cotton Acreage

SAN AUGUSTINE, April 17. (AP)—Cotton acreage will be reduced in this county 20 per cent this year, according to merchants who have kept records of the farmers during the last month. Much of the land formerly planted in cotton has been turned to corn and other feed stuffs.

Man Acquitted of Possessing Deer

LLANO, April 17. (AP)—Lee Gardenshire, Llano ranchman, charged with possession of two doe deer has been acquitted by a jury in county court here.

In a previous trial in justice court he was fined $50 and costs for both killing and possessing the deer. In county court the charge was amended to possession only.

Stockholders To Meet

DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—Annual meeting of the directors and stockholders of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company of Texas—the Cotton Belt Route—will be held May 3 at Tyler, and directors and stockholders of the Dallas Terminal railway and Union Depot company probably will meet in Dallas on May 4 or 5.

Daniel Upthegrove, St. Louis, president of the Cotton Belt, is also head of the terminal and union depot company, a subsidiary of the Cotton Belt.

Major General to Visit Texas

DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—Major General William G. Everson, chief of the militia bureau and commanding officer of the National Guard, will pay Texas as flying visit this month.

General Everson will be in Houston April 23, and will fly from there to Austin and then to Waco to spend that night. He will fly toward Dallas April 24, being met halfway between Dallas and Waco by a group of the 366th observation squadron.

He will review Dallas R. O. T. C. groups and visit several National Guard posts during his one-day stay here.

Will Save House

TEPIC, April 17. (AP)—The house here where Amado Nervo, noted Mexican poet was born, is to be converted into a museum of Nervo's works. Governor Ledon, himself a writer, is responsible for this decision.

Mortgage Bankers to Convene Soon

DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—A meeting of the Texas Mortgage Bankers' association to discuss matters of vital interest to all Dallas, Ketcham president, said the association was engaged in strenuous activity to safeguard legislative interests of mortgage bankers.

Ketcham called attention to the large number of mortgage foreclosures on both city and farm property of the past few years. Mortgage bankers, he said, must take action to meet the situation. He said action also was necessary to prevent unwise legislation in that regard.

Arch Supports Have Saw Edge

BEAUMONT, April 17. (AP)—Arch supports are designed to aid in walking—but not walking from jail.

A prisoner brought here from Port Arthur had his arches well braced. The fly in the ointment was that the arch supports had a saw edge and were intended to cut bars of the jail. They are now in custody of the county jailer.

Many Schools Join League

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—An increase of 459 in the number of schools belonging to the Texas Interscholastic league has been noted by Roy Bedichek of Austin, chief of the league bureau. Membership is 5,727 compared with 5,268 last year.

The member schools are located in more than 200 counties. The league has grown in the number of counties organized and in the number of events scheduled, Bedichek said.

District meets in the various events are being held with the finale set for the last of the month in Austin when approximately 3,000 school children are expected to compete.

Play Contests Are Scheduled For This Week

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—Four regional tournaments to determine the schools that will participate in the finals of the Texas Interscholastic league one-act play contest are being held this month. The finals will be held here May 2 with four casts participating as a part of the interscholastic meet.

The first regional tourney was held April 11 at the College of Industrial Arts at Denton when the following schools were entered: Terrell, Longview, Bonham, Highland Park of Dallas, Corsicana Woodrow Wilson of Dallas and Fort Worth Central.

Simmons University at Abilene will be the scene of regional tourney number two April 18 and 19, with Byers, Crowell, Abilene, San Angelo, Strawn, Toya, Pampa, Tulla, and Comanche competing.

In regional tourney number three which will be held at Southwest Texas State Teachers college at San Marcos, April 26 and 27, the following schools will participate: Austin, Kingsville, Harlandale, Temple, Carrizo Springs, San Benito and Yoakum.

The fourth regional tourney will be held April 29 at Sam Houston State Teachers college, Huntsville, with West Columbia, Beaumont, Brenham, Hempstead and San Jacinto of Houston competing.

In addition to the play contests, the finals in all other lines of activity sponsored by the league will be run off during the three-day meet.

A special committee now is at work canvassing the capital in an effort to obtain lodgings for the delegates to the tournament. Arrangements already have been made for housing the majority of the tourney participants, officials of the meet stated.

Will Drill Well on School Ground

WILLS POINT, April 17. (P)—A legend exists among oil men that church lots and school grounds are lucky drilling sites. Will Thompson of Corsicana is playing this for production on the Owl's Green school lot less than two miles south from the proven field at Van.

With barely enough acreage for one well and surrounded by leases belonging to the major companies Mr. Thompson is taking the gamble and plans to begin drilling soon. While it is a "wild cat" proposition there have been no dry holes drilled between this and the producing field and Thompson has a strong faith in the "school house luck."

PARIS MODELS DINNER GOWN ON ANCIENT GRECIAN ROBE

PARIS (P)—High powered styles which accentuate individuality and provide personalities for people who haven't are the latest specialty of Paris dressmakers.

Slim young things, both maid and matrons, have gone Greek.

Other slim young things dramatize the Directoire with waistlines slipped up under their armpits, pleated or gathered, transparent skirts, long and clinging.

The Japanese influence is also at work. One notably original woman designer has dinner dresses with long Japanese sleeves. Mannequins wear the model with black satin sandals of open-toe type.

At one of the most important houses neo-Greek evening gowns of blue tulle and chiffon are combined with Victorian decollets which expose arms and shoulders in a chemise-top decolleté with almost invisible shoulder straps.

Hope to Keep Campaign Posters From Highways

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—The season of candidates' posters and placards in full swing once more, the highway department is planning to start its biennial campaign to keep such advertising matter from the highways, and especially to keep road markers free of them.

Gibb Gilchrist, state engineer, has sent notice to division engineers and other employees that campaign posters are prohibited from the highways.

Photographs of candidates for office have often been found covering signs that point the way to travel.

Art Association Will Meet Soon

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—The 18th annual meeting of the Texas Fine Arts association will be held in Austin May 2 and 3. Oscar Brouse Jacobson, head of the department of art of the University of Oklahoma, will be the guest speaker.

A special exhibit of the work of Texas artists is scheduled during the two-day session at the Elizabet Ney Museum.

The purpose of the association is to promote the art interest of Texans as by assembling the work of Texas artists and by encouraging high school students, who are artistically inclined, through cooperation with the Texas Interscholastic league.

Judge James W. McClelland of Austin is president of the group while the board of directors is composed of Dr. William J. Battle, Raymond Everett and Miss Fanny Andrews of Austin; Mrs. Alex Adams and Mrs. Walter Nolté of San Antonio; Mrs. A. H. Bailey of Dallas; Mrs. Ada Waller of El Paso; Mrs. G. R. Greathouse of Fort Worth; Mrs. Lutcher Stark of Orange, and Mrs. E. Richardson Cherry, Miss Stell Shurtliff and Will C. Hogg of Houston.

Vice presidents are Mrs. Ben H. Powell of Austin; Mrs. H. B. Fall and Mrs. James Chillum Jr., of Houston; Judge Joseph B. Dibrell of Seguin. Mrs. H. P. Drought of San Antonio; Mrs. Charles Scheuer of Fort Worth; Mrs. Robert Potts of Waco and Mrs. Frederick N. Burton of Galveston. Mrs. Roger C. Roberdeau and Malcolm H. Reed of Austin are secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Dallas Gets Meeting

DALLAS, April 17. (P)—Dallas has been designated 1931 convention city of the Texas Hardware and Implement club. Z. E. Black, convention manager of the Chamber of Commerce, has been informed in a letter from Dan Scoates of College Station, secretary of the association. The gathering will take place on Jan. 20, 21, and 22.

Conventions of the association were held here for a number of years. This year the meeting was held in Houston. T. C. Thompson of Canyon is president of the association.

Co-Operative for Marketing Wool, Mohair Is Formed

SAN ANGELO, April 17. (P)—Fifty-seven sheep and goat men of this section have formed the Lone Star Wool-Mohair corporation of San Angelo, the largest co-operative in the state, and steps have been taken to obtain affiliation with the Federal Farm Board. The organization was formed at a meeting here at which 1,500,000 pounds of wool and mohair for delivery this season pledged. By-laws were adopted and a board of directors and officers were elected.

Officers are: E. S. Mayer, chairman of the board; Roy Hudspeth and J. E. Henderson, vice-presidents; and Sol Mayer, treasurer. Officers and J. T. Baker comprise the executive committee.

Will Teach Nursing

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—Courses in nursing education will be offered at the University of Texas summer school with Miss Elsie M. Maurer, director of nursing at St. Mark's hospital, New York City, as instructor. This will be the first time a course of this nature has been offered at the summer session. It will be open only to graduate nurses.

Chamber Meeting Will Take Form of Conference

LONGVIEW, April 17. (P)—The fourth annual convention of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in Port Arthur, May 11, 12 and 13, will be in the nature of a great regional business conference, with the economic welfare of Eastern Texas as its theme. Eminent speakers will address the convention upon pertinent subjects and entertainment will be provided by the convention city; but deliberations of the section-wide business conference, looking to the further development of the territory, will be the core of the convention.

The convention will inaugurate a "stock-taking" year for East Texas, of which the recent establishment by the regional commercial organization, of a statistical department, was prophetic.

In the new statistical department, studies on the economics of the territory already have begun. A list of manufacturers in the territory served by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce has been compiled. Separate lists have been compiled for the various classes of manufacturers, including metal-working, textiles, clothing, furniture, cotton seed products, compresses, fertilizers, dairy products, grain milling, other food products, paint and varnish, timber products, and miscellaneous. A study of the comparative increase in farm values in East Texas from 1920 to 1925 has been begun. Statistics on other phases of the economics of Eastern Texas will be gathered, tabulated, correlated and analyzed as rapidly as possible.

Fur Production Is Texas Industry of Much Value

AUSTIN, April 17. (P)—Texas, the largest state in the Union, leader in the production of cattle and the wealthiest in point of natural resources, now in laying claim to another title, that of the greatest fur producing state in the nation. In fur production Texas is exceeded only by Louisiana.

These statements were made recently by Sen. W. E. Thomason of Nacogdoches during argument on a bill effecting the taxing of pelts of fur bearing animals. According to Thomason, Texas produces more fur than the Dominion of Canada. Louisiana, he stated, produces more fur than the Dominion of Canada and Alaska combined.

The fur industry in Eastern Texas has developed rapidly in the past few years and is commonly regarded as one of the best paying pursuits in the state. The furs consist mostly of the pelts of muskrats and similar animals.

The bill gave the trappers the right to keep pelts after the season had been closed provided they had been rendered for taxes and marketed. Under the old law, trappers were required to dispose of the furs within 10 days after the close of the season. This caused buyers of the pelts to force the prices down, leaving the trappers little opportunity to dispose of their catches at good quotations. The bill gave them the opportunity to hold them as long as they wished so that now they may take advantage of any increase in prices which usually results after the close of the trapping season.

Delegates Will Have Part When Chamber Meets

ABILENE, April 17. (P)—When the twelfth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce opens here, May 29, for three days, a plan new to meetings of the regional organization will be in effect. That plan provides that every member of the organizations to be given an opportunity to participate in the business of the body. Heretofore matters of importance have been discussed and decided by various appointed committees and conference groups.

An educational parade is being arranged for one afternoon and a delegation parade for the member cities will be held. Both will be conducted at a minimum of expense to the participants.

Texas Professor Going to China

FORT WORTH, April 17. (AP)—Dr. Robert M. Duncan, assistant professor in government at Texas Christian university, will spend the next three years in Peiping, China, as professor of political science in Yenching university.

Dr. Duncan will work through the Princeton-Yenching school of public affairs, which is associated with the Princeton University School of public and international affairs.

Dr. Duncan has been a member of the T. C. U. faculty for the past two years. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Princeton in 1926.

Has Huge Brooder

SNYDER, April 17. (AP)—A new 36,000 capacity battery brooder has been placed in operation by Giles Garner, who has started one of the largest poultry projects in West Texas. Mr. Garner purchased 2,000 brooded pullets last August and since October of last year has averaged more than a thousand dollars profit every month. He is now building eight more model poultry houses and will have 10,000 laying hens by fall.

Huge Election Project Studied

LLANO, April 17. (AP)—Continued investigation of engineers for the Emery, Peck and Rockwood Development company of Chicago, which contemplates the erection of a large hydro-electric dam on the Colorado river near Llano as a part of a six-dam power project, and the amount of many being paid for flowage rights along the Colorado river, indicate that the huge project will be consummated.

Several real estate deals have been effected in Llano recently by representatives of the power company. The sale of some 1,300 acres of land belonging to T. J. Casner, W. J. Parks, and R. H. Hereford was closed unconditionally.

An option contract was executed between the company and Albert Murchison embracing water rights in which deal a substantial cash payment was made. The main dam of the proposed power project is to be constructed on the land acquired from Murchison.

Chicago Meet of Much Worth

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—Prospects are there will not be another national high school basketball tournament at Chicago. It is to be regretted, at least by schools of this section.

The annual schoolboy meet probably has done more to improve the brand of basketball played in the Southwest than any other factor. It has taken ten years for Texas schools to reach the point where they can compete with the speedy quintets from the north and east.

Now that they have attained their goal the classic is to be abandoned.

Back in 1921 El Paso sent the first Texas champions to Chicago. The Tigers, with such lads as Andy Cohen, Sandi Esquivel, and "Dog" Dawson in their line-up, had what was regarded as a wonder team, but they didn't get to first base in the national meet. Every year since then the Texas champions have attended the Stagg tournament, each time making a little better showing, but it was not until last April that the Athens Hornets crashed through to give Texas its first national title.

The point is, that had there been no big test, where champions of the Lone Star state could meet and see in action the greatest teams of the country, the class of basketball played in this section probably would have shown no appreciable improvement in the last decade. They had to go to Chicago to learn the finer points.

With all due respects to those great El Paso, Lindsals and Oak Cliff teams of 1921 to 1924, the present Denton and Athens quintets could have trimmed them with ease.

Franchise Vote Set

SNYDER, April 17. (AP)—Citizens of Snyder will vote May 5 on whether a light and power franchise will be granted to the Citizens Electric Service company of which Glenn Sample is manager. Sample said that his company contemplated building a $175,000 plant. The Texas Electric Service company now has a plant in operation here. The stipulations of the proposed franchise to the Citizens Electric Service company include an agreement that at any time within a ten year period the city may purchase the plant at a price already determined in the franchise, Sample said.

Houston Man Is Awarded Medal for Heroic Rescue of Seaman

HOUSTON, April 17. (AP)—A bronze Carnegie medal just awarded Alfred Holzapfel of Houston symbolized the heroic rescue of a Newport, R. I., pilot from a black sea on Nov. 18, 1927.

Holzapfel, now chief officer of the S. S. Ayrax, Texan company, marine service tanker, dragged his school-day friend, Dennis A. Mungan, from the threshold of Davy Jones' locker.

For more than half an hour the chief officer fought the mad freezing waters, overtaking Mungan, who had fallen overboard, only after the two had been carried nearly four miles by the strong current. They were taken aboard a small gasoline launch.

Father O'Rouke, president of the St. Thomas college here, which both young seamen attended, persuaded Holzapfel to tell the story because he wanted to "let the world know that a St. Thomas college student has won a Carnegie medal."

The officer wanted the reporters to "leave his name out of it," but they insisted and he told the story:

"My ship, the Alabama, was tied up in Newport. Mungan just had brought us into port and was climbing from our ship to his little high speed launch. The weather was icy cold and a near gale was blowing. The water was rough, heaving the tanker up and down and around.

"As Mungan attempted to climb from the Alabama to his launch the ship heaved and he fell into the water. The strong current was carrying him swiftly out to sea. His aide, at the wheel of the launch, pursued, attempted to haul him overboard, but failed. All he could do was to take care of the launch in the rough water.

"So I dived overboard and assisted in saving him."

"Give us the details," Father O'Rouke insisted. "How did you help rescue him?"

Mungan and the launch were being carried out to sea at a fast rate," Holzapfel continued. "I had a hard time catching up with them. Finally I overtook Mungan."

Cotton Burr Is New Fertilizer

WELLINGTON, April 17. (AP)—The lowly cotton burr, once regarded solely as a farm waste, has been made a source of income to F. O. Masten of Wellington, former tenant farmer who has an experimental nature.

Masten discovered that by placing cotton burrs on his farm as fertilizer, the soil was greatly enriched and his yield accordingly increased. He found that the waste products, which the gins usually pay to have hauled away, were worth $19 a ton in first-year returns.

During the past five years, Masten has averaged a bale of cotton to the acre on land treated with burrs. Last year he made 150 bales of cotton on 80 acres, almost two bales to the acre on land that formerly has been producing one-fourth of a bale.

At 21, Masten was a tenant farmer and started on the road to owning his land by systematic improvement of the soil through the use of fertilizer.

Statistics kept by Masten showed it cost approximately $6 per acre to buy, haul and spread the fertilizer.

He already has made more than $100,000 which he credited to the adoption of the waste product to soil building.

Likes Stamp Collecting

FORT WORTH, April 17. (AP)—Dr. J. Laurence Whitman, professor of chemistry at Texas Christian university, began collecting American stamps when he was eight years old. He collects foreign stamps also, but his chief interest is in his United States collection. He has a specimen of every stamp issued by the government since 1900, and some of his stamps date back to 1851, the year Uncle Sam began using stamps. He values his collection at $1,000.

Texas Nurses to Meet in Beaumont

BEAUMONT, April 17. (AP)—Miss Mary Kennedy, of Houston will preside at the state convention of nurses to be held here May 6-9. Ray Gill secretary of the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce will welcome the delegates, with responses by Miss Clara Hoffman, Red Cross Public health nurse of Jefferson county and Miss Sue Nickerson, of the state department of health, at Austin.

The private duty nurses section will open at 7:30 a. m., May 7, and the convention proper at 9:30.

A memorial service for nurses who have died within the year will be conducted during the convention.

Mexican Highway Plans Announced

EL PASO, April 17. (AP)—A new international highway, to extend from Parral, Chihuahua, Mexico, to Ensenada, Lower California, Mexico, opposite El Paso, has been announced by the Mexican government.

The highway will cross Mexico at a point where that nation is alive with scenic wealth.

Workmen are already busy constructing a surfaced highway from Juarez south 60 miles, the first unit of the new system.

Fossils Shown At University

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—A collection of fossils, gathered in the first geological survey conducted by the University of Texas and later scattered over the state, has been recovered and is being placed on display in the permanent museum of the bureau of economic geology. The recoveries were made by W. S. Atkins, university geologist.

The first expedition sent out by the university was the Dumble survey, 1880-1894, and a large number of fossils was collected. No effort had been made to keep the collection intact, and it soon was scattered. The fossils include a type of starfish, said to be the only specimens of the kind ever discovered.

They were taken from a branch of Bouldin Creek at the bottom of what is known as the Austin chalk formation. Found in a slab of float weighing about 1200 pounds, the fish was named Austinaster. An interesting fact about the Austinaster is that they occur only in thin layers of yellowish substance.

The theory has been advanced that the yellow substance is volcanic ash erupted by a prehistoric volcano which settled into the ocean and smothered the starfish.

Another specimen of unusual interest, a perfect fossil of starfish of unknown species, was found on the Pecos river near Pandale. It is preserved in a fine boulder.

FORT WORTH, April 17. (AP)—An unofficial list of candidates for graduation in June at Texas Christian university, contains 148 names. Candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree number 94; Bachelor of Science, 14; Bachelor of Education, 6; Bachelor of Business Administration, 21; Bachelor of Music, 11; Bachelor of Science in Home Economics, 2.

English is the most popular field of major study. Thirty-three of the 148 candidates for graduation have made English their chief college subject.

Business administration comes next, 21 selecting it as their chief interest. Other branches of study which have been favorites with the T. C. U. seniors are Bible, sociology, government, Spanish, history and biology.

The list shows two students who will finish in journalism, the first graduates T. C. U. will have turned out in this field. The journalism department was established in the fall of 1927.

The Iowa penitentiary at Fort Madison has the largest number of prisoners in its history, according to Warden Hollowell.

Easter Greetings

Add splendor and beauty to this Spring Gala Day send Flowers to Sweetheart or Friend. They need not mean the heart would convey. Cut flowers here are fresh and lovely.

After viewing the new court house come one-half block east and get flowers for the ladies.

Federal Tires are as well constructed as the Gray County Courthouse.

A LARGE AIR CHAMBER

Due to advanced structural features, Federal engineers have produced a large air chamber in this new type balloon tire. This enlarged chamber holds a greater volume of air under lower pressure. The result is an improved cushioning effect—the riding comfort for which the balloon tire was originally designed. This increased air cushion combined with the larger, more flexible, yet more durable side wall and the new rimwide tread are what makes the new-type Federal Balloon tire an outstanding advancement for comfortable, economical balloon tire service.

"We'll work for / prosperity! That's Why... We Furnished

The Lumber, Lime, Plaster and Cement for This

NEW BUILDING

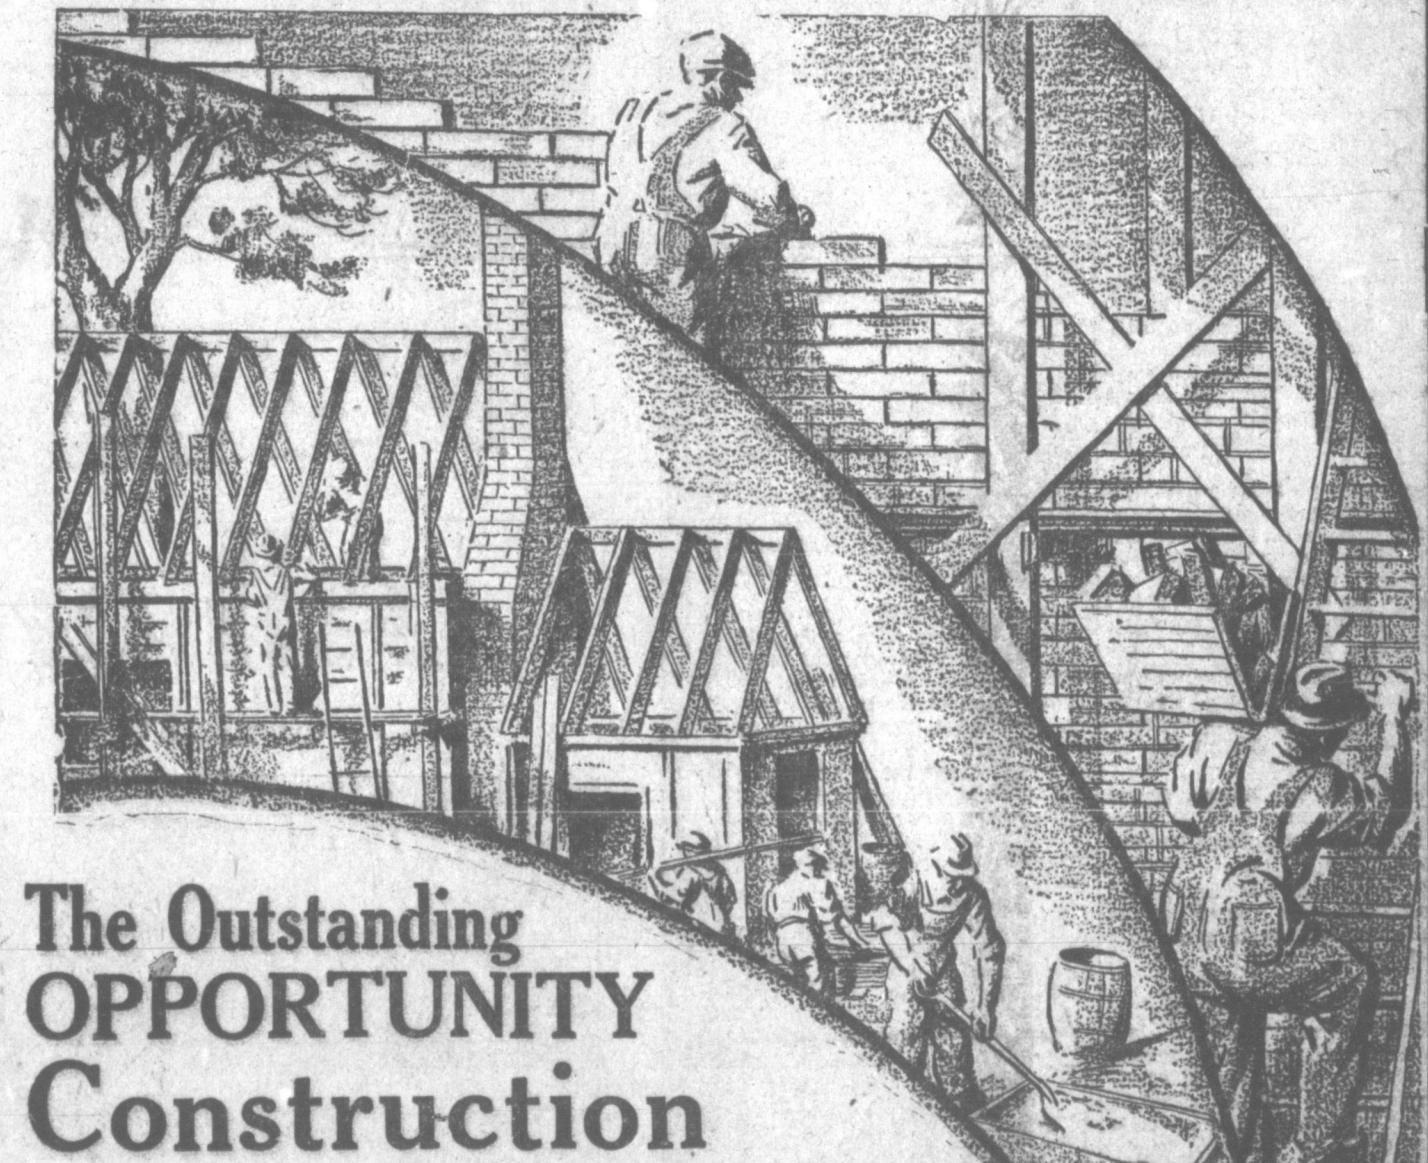

We wish to congratulate Pampa on her new Court House. We are proud that we were chosen to furnish the Lumber, Lime, Cement, and Plaster on this wonderful new Structure. When you inspect the Court House Saturday you will find only the best of material and workmanship. Visit our yard while in Pampa.

PROSPERITY'S the word. We pass it on, one to another. We believe far more in determination. And as we roll our sleeves a proud muscle higher, and take a firmer grip on our tools, we know that something wonderful's in the air. We know, because we're workers!

We builders of houses, of roads and ships and skyscrapers; we miners of coal and iron and copper;; we stone-cutters and tenders of blast-furnaces; we tillers of the soil; we cotton-pickers and stevedores; we men of endless factories, mills, yards, shops and offices:—we are the nation, and we can make of it what we will.

Pioneer's blood races through our veins. All great peoples are fused in us. We have inherited strong bodies and noble, adventurous minds. Where is the obstacle high enough to stop us? When we take a massive step, the earth shakes. Now we begin our march. Hear the clamor of axes falling, of saws pulling, of riveting and cogs grinding and wheels turning. We're on our joyful way to Prosperity; abundance for every man, woman and child among us.

The Outstanding OPPORTUNITY Construction

With the prices of materials and property at low level, building is the most judicious of investments. Every rule of economics points, at such a period as the present, to the wisdom of putting surplus capital to work; for the individual, in the form of a new home; for the industrial institution, in the form of a new plant.
