

WALL OF WATER DROWNS GIRL

BATTLE FOR CLINT SMALL VOTES IS STILL CONTINUING

CONSPIRACY TO ASSASSINATE FLORIDA GOVERNOR IS CHARGED

In rejoicing over the new railroad, which we believe time will show to be entirely justified, we must not lose sight of the fact that Pampa is located on one of the nation's best systems—the Santa Fe. Old John Santa Fe has served well, and he has spent more than six million dollars in providing for east-west traffic. This includes four million for double tracking to Canyon and two millions for the Clinton & Oklahoma Western.

As the I. C. C. decision said, public necessity demands for this territory a more direct route to Gulf ports. The Burlington system wished to provide such a route, and it was unthinkable that a far-off Washington group would long deny the needs of this territory. The Denver was supported by Pampa, Childress, Wichita Falls, and the Texas Railroad Commission. The Texas commission should receive the gratitude of the people who sought the Denver road, for the support of Pat Neff and his department was extremely vital at the hearing. D. W. Lawrence, an assistant attorney general of this state, represented the commission in Washington.

The favorable decision should be an answer to those who said that arguments against the Burlington would not be availed, and who believed everything was "rotten in Denmark" with regard to the application. Not every man who decides against you is "bought off." He may only be unconvinced of your claims. Persistence wears down misconceptions and lack of understanding.

George Briggs, B. C. D. manager, should complete his vacation trip in utter pleasure. At the home office, Mrs. Chas. I. Hughes has had a hard time controlling her ecstasy.

What galls in this gubernatorial race is that we Texans, proud of our traditions, have to choose between candidates who are reviled in terms that not even Judas, the betrayer, suffered. Oh Democracy, what lies are told in thy name. If Clint Small today were the opponent of Mrs. Ferguson, the pardon clan would be busy concocting dirty tales about him. If the efforts of Texas Republicans mean anything, Ma will run a mighty race. When the G. O. P. openly works for a Democratic candidate, it is high time to figure out what kind of a person they wish to see in the general election. Few, however, should be fooled by the affection the G. O. P. is showing for Ma and the interests of the Democratic party of this state.

Who have the most sincere interest in the Democratic party, the senators and representatives of West Texas, including Clint Small, or the Republicans who are predicting so confidently that Mrs. Ferguson should and will be the next governor? If you have the answer, you will vote against every government.

This is a dry country, speaking of the weather. Some rain would be welcome, but not too much. No people would be more disgruntled and chagrined than we if the rainfall should be doubted or tripled. Paving enthusiasts, we must argue against dust, bumps, and nails more than mud. It rained on the Pampa quite often when he was vacationing. In fact, when he got out into the open range country where gates are gates, it rained everywhere he had to get out and struggle with barbed wire. And it would quit about the time the pecky

PUBLISHER IS ONE OF THREE MEN ACCUSED

Politics Involved in Arrests; Many Denials

PENALTY ONLY YEAR MAXIMUM

Law Suits Filed to Embarrass Editor

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 18. (P)—Fred O. Eberhardt, publisher of Tallahassee; Frank Ralls, a former political worker, and Henry Halsema, a real estate operator of Jacksonville, were formally charged with a conspiracy to procure the assassination of Gov. Doyle E. Carlton in warrants issued here today.

They were arrested here Saturday night. Each has denied knowledge of any plot against the governor. Sheriff Cahoon, who made the arrests, has declined to give details of the alleged conspiracy.

The warrants were sworn out by C. E. Hooka, a deputy sheriff. J. C. Madison, a justice of the peace, set bond at $500 each which was made immediately by attorneys for the accused men.

The justice of the peace explained that under Florida law, the charge is a misdemeanor. He said the maximum punishment upon conviction would be imprisonment for one year.

Eberhardt, interviewed in his cell just before he made bond said his arrest was part of "a political plot," and branded the charges of conspiracy against the life of the governor as "just a cheap bid for publicity."

"I am not in the least worried about the charge," the publisher said.

"Because of the activity of my newspaper, I have been harassed for the past year. Law suits have been filed against me repeatedly in an effort to embarrass me. This is just part of the political plot."

"I was not told of the charge by officers that arrested me. I did not know what I was arrested for until yesterday when some one other than an officer told me. Nobody has seen me."

"Eberhardt said he knew nothing of any plot to kill the governor. The first I knew of it was when I was told of it here," he said. "The thing is absurd."

Ralls said today that he had no statement, advising that newspapermen see his lawyers.

"I think this thing is aimed at Eberhardt," he declared.

Halsema made no statement.

ONE DIES, TWO HURT AS CIRCUS PLANE CRASHES

GRAND SALINA, Aug. 18. (AP)—Two men were near death today and one man was dead as the result of an airplane crash at the airport here yesterday during an air circus.

Jewell Phillips, 21, of Grand Salina, died soon after the crash. R. B. Kuteman, 31, pilot from Love field Dallas, suffered a crushed chest, and Polk Dickerson, 19, of Grand Salina, was injured internally. Phillips and Dickerson were passengers in the open cockpit biplane which onlookers said suddenly nose-dived from a height of 300 feet.

Crashed, Slays Wife DEQUEN, Ark., Aug. 18. (P)—Believed temporarily crazed because of unemployment and because his estranged wife would not return to him, Ernest Arnold, 28, shot her twice with a shotgun and killed her grandfather, John Smith, 75, with the same weapon at the Smith home here early today, according to officers.

Motorists Eat This Feathered Pedestrian

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 18. (P)—A game cock, whose master was serving three months in jail, was annoyed by the continuous passing of automobiles past his home.

The cock ruffled his feathers suddenly yesterday and flew directly at William Bailey's car. He went through the windshield, shattering it, bumped against the back of the sedan, and came to rest in the lap of one of the occupants of the back seat, unharmed.

Wilfred Bailey, 16, and his brother Freddy, age three, were sitting with their father in the front seat. They were cut severely by flying glass. Mr. Bailey was unharmed.

The bird served as a dinner for the ruffled motorist.

Bonds Are Set For Men Arrested On Theft Charges

Bonds totaling $23,000 were set this morning for two Santa Fe switchmen and one employe of the Phillips Petroleum company, who are charged in connection with the theft of 12 tank cars of gasoline from the Phillips company. They were arraigned before C. E. Osby, justice of peace.

Preliminary hearing and reading of the charge was waived by each through Judge Will Saunders, their counsel. All are being held in the county jail, pending posting of the bonds.

Seven charges of theft were lodged against H. J. Spadwick, switchman/engineer. Five of these were filed Saturday and he was released on a $5,000 bond yesterday morning following an arraignment before Judge Cary. He was arrested again last night on two more charges, and this morning bond for each of these was set at $2,000. The total amount of his bond was $9,000.

Bond for A. C. Dale, also a Santa Fe switchman, was set at $6,000. Three charges were filed against him. Dale was arrested Saturday.

Four charges were filed against Walter Moon, clerk at the Phillips plant, when he was arrested last night at 11:30 o'clock. His bond was set at $8,000, or $2,000 the case.

The complaints state that witnesses are operators of various filling stations at Pampa, White Deer, Kingsmill and other places in the Pampa territory.

Phillips officials said today that although the company has had about 40 tank cars of gasoline missing in the last three months, evidence they have collected thus far involves only 12 cars.

The loss was placed at amounts ranging from $10,000 to $40,000.

Warrants were issued today for the arrest of others in connection with the theft. In addition to Santa Fe and Phillips officials who are investigating the case, Supt. J. B. Briscoe of the Santa Fe was here today assisting.

Reports Differ On Why Endurance Plane Landed

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18. (P)—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien were back to earth today after completing the longest sustained flight in history. Conflicting versions of what brought the sturdy monoplane, Greater St. Louis, back to ground were given by the fliers and their manager.

The pilots said they landed because of a break in the crankcase of the motor.

Williams Pickens, manager of Jackson and O'Brien, said they landed because of lack of financial returns.

Mrs. A. J. Edwards of Salina, Okla., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Morgan.

SPEAKERS TO BE HEARD IN MANY PLACES

But Candidates Move to Other Parts of State

MOODY ASSAILS JIM FERGUSON

Predicts Defeat Will Be Worst Ever Received

(By the Associated Press) Denunciation and campaign appeals flared forth again today as forces aligned with Ross Sterling of Houston and James E. Ferguson prepared to do battle in the final week of campaigning before Saturday's run-off election to decide the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

West Texas, which went almost solidly for Senator Clint C. Small in the first primary, was their battleground last week as Sterling and Ferguson, the latter speaking for the candidacy of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, tried to enlist the votes which observers presumably agreed would decide the nomination. And both Sterling and Ferguson were leaving Lieutenants in the West Texas field this week to continue the fight.

Sterling supporters declared today they would carry the campaign into every town of more than 500 population in West Texas and into many rural sections.

Ferguson to Fort Arthur Ferguson turned from West Texas yesterday after an address Saturday night at Breckenridge and planned to speak tonight at Fort Arthur, journeying northward thereafter for a closing speech Friday at Marlin.

His line of offensive moved in an opposite course northward to that of Sterling, who expected to speak today at Gainesville and Paris, moving southward during the week and closing Friday night at Galveston. Sterling reentered yesterday at Ft. Worth.

Ferguson's campaign embodied a defense of his wife's pardon record, denunciation of Sterling, former Governor W. P. Hobby and Governor Dan Moody, and a declaration that as "one of the tribe of Judah" he would "lead the people out of bondage," with verbal artillery particularly directed at Sterling's highway financing plan.

Governor Moody continued in the field as a speaker against Ferguson, planning addresses today at Nacogdoches and Lufkin, Tuesday at Dallas, Wednesday at San Angelo, Thursday at Houston and Friday at Austin.

Moody is optimistic In a statement issued yesterday at Dallas, where he rested during the day, the Governor declared "the people are rallying to the defense

Fine Comedy Will Be Presented As Chautauqua's First Program

"Other People's Business," a three act comedy, is the title of the play to be presented at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the tent theater located on the vacant lot across the street from the First Methodist church by the Redpath Chautauqua, under the auspices of the Pampa Library association. The Pampa Legion band will play preceding the performance, it was announced.

Reserved seats for the Chautauqua, which will present nine programs here, are on sale at the Pampa Drug No. 1.

Beginning Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock a Junior Chautauqua for the children will be held each morning, continuing through Friday.

Bishop's Philippine Collegians, a five piece orchestra, will be a feature of Tuesday's matinee. Each member of this organization has attended an American college or university, and they will play their native island music and popular American numbers. They will give a brief concert again in the evening as a prelude to the main program, "The Potter and the Clay."

A trained and expert supervisor will arrange the programs of the Junior Chautauqua. The children themselves will take part in these programs. The work will be both educational and recreational and will include entertaining numbers by the supervisor. Matinee performances will begin at 3:30 o'clock, and the evening programs at 8:30 o'clock.

Harold Vessels of the Gulf Refining company has been transferred to Borger.

James Lane and Tye Jones returned today from a trip to Oklahoma City.

IN WAR AGAINST REDS IN CHINA

FORTY PAMPA SCOUTS AND SIX SCOUTMASTERS LEAVE FOR TEN-DAY ENCAMPMENT

Abilene's Rail Project Is Denied Building Right

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. (AP)—The Abilene & Southern railway, a subsidiary of the Missouri Pacific system, was denied permission today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to build a thirty-nine mile extension of line from Ballinger to San Angelo, both points in Texas.

The Abilene extension was opposed by the Santa Fe system, which, through its recent purchase of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient has secured entrance to the San Angelo territory.

While the Missouri Pacific stressed the possible introduction of railroad competition into West Texas which would result from the Abilene construction, the commission held the Santa Fe was rendering adequate service. It added the Santa Fe purchase of the Orient had preserved the existence of a struggling railroad.

Chairman McManamy dissented and proposed that the Missouri Pacific be allowed to build into San Angelo, or the Santa Fe be required to give traffic rights over the Orient line into that town for the Missouri Pacific.

Ceta canyon today was the destination of Boy Scouts from various cities of the Adobe Walls country.

The annual camp will be opened tonight for a 10-day duration at the Baptist encampment grounds southeast of Canyon.

President Tom W. Brabham of the council said that camp arrangements had been completed by Executive C. A. Clark and Camp Director Scott Barcus. Each troop will be in charge of an adult leader. A full adult personnel, including emergency hospital staff, had been assembled.

The Pampa Scouts, who left this morning in cars and a school bus, were as follows:

Troop No. 3, J. A. Meek, scoutmaster, and A. J. Erwin, assistant scoutmasters—Virgil Potts, Marion Fotts, LaVerne, Vicars, Lafon McKenzie, Revista Harvey, Floyd Orger.

Troop No. 4, J. W. Hutchins, scoutmaster; H. B. Taylor, Jr., Earl Johnson, Orvil Haskill, Odell Walker.

Troop No. 15, John I. Bradley, scoutmaster—Charlie Clark, Chester Clark, John Martin, Smith Wise, Harlan Martin, Robert Talley, Harold Martin, Jack Price, Victor Wade and Jackson Underwood.

Troop No. 90, J. D. Sackett, scoutmaster—Clarence Coffin, assistant scoutmaster—Jack Bynum, Clinton Evans, Howard Zimmerman, Herbert Davis, Buck Mundy, Paul Schneider, Tom Sweetman, Melvin Qualls, Regal Brown, Berton Doucette, W. J. Brown, Pierce Gross, Roy Webb, Jr., Joe Hineman, Travis Gee, Claude Sullins, Wilks Chapman, Russell Spearman, Sonny McMertry.

Construction of New Road Will Begin January 1

The belief was expressed here today that steps toward beginning work on Pampa's new rail project would be started within a month.

Actual construction must start by next Jan. 1, and much preliminary work, surveying, and obtaining of right-of-way must be done before the contract can be let.

The Burlington system has already formed a Texas corporation, the Fort Worth & Denver Northern, to finance and build the line from Childress to Pampa. An additional corporation will probably be formed to build jointly and operate the trackage between Wellington and Shamrock, where the Denver and Rock Island will share the expense.

While it is understood that the Santa Fe's permit for the spur line from Heaton to LeFors has not been rescinded, it is not certain that this road will be constructed.

All projects must be completed by Dec. 31, 1932.

The Burlington officials estimate that their line will handle 12,463 5,560 cars of incoming traffic and carloads of outbound traffic and first year of operation and that freight revenues over this period will be $633,960. The I. C. C. ruling included the belief that these figures were somewhat "optimistic," although the need for the new road was recognized.

Women Fliers Moving SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 18. (P)—Six women entrants in the air derby from Long Beach to Chicago hopped off here shortly after 10 a. m. for Calexico, the second leg of the flight. After a brief stop at Calexico the women fliers leave for Phoenix, Ariz., where they are to spend the night.

Oil Man Succumbs MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 18. (P)—Press B. Lowrance of Ponca City, Okla., prominently identified in the oil industry and other business and banking interests in Texas and Oklahoma, died in a Memphis hospital today.

TWO OTHERS ARE RESCUED AT QUITAQUE

Party Was Wading in Creek in Kent Community

WARNING GIVEN BUT TOO LATE

Lightning Hits and Damages Farm House

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 18. (P)—A six-foot wall of flood water swept unexpectedly down upon a party wading in a small creek in the Kent neighborhood five miles from Quitaque yesterday and drowned Miss Stella Adams.

Crowned Miss Alvie Roach, 18, and nearly cost the lives of Miss Stella Adams and her father, John Adams.

Adams saw the onrushing wall of water and shouted a warning but a high wind prevented his voice being heard. Miss Roach was swept into a wire fence, in which her body became entangled. Miss Adams was swept over the fence and, with her father, who had raced to the rescue, was rescued unconscious from an island in the swollen creek.

There was an inch and a half of rain at Quitaque and generally over Floyd county, but no rain fell at Plainview.

Two miles south of Quitaque the home of Henry Brunnett was struck by lightning and slightly damaged. Three girls resting on a feather bed were shocked slightly.

In Quitaque Jack Hartnett's home was struck by lightning and damaged slightly. None was injured.

COL. OWSLEY IS TO SPEAK HERE THIS EVENING

Col. Alvin Owsley, former national commander of the American Legion will speak in the interest of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's candidacy for governor at 8 o'clock at the court house tonight. The American Legion band will play preceding the address.

Paul D. Hill, commander of the local American Legion post will introduce the speaker. Mr. Owsley will be guest of local Legionnaires while in Pampa.

The former national Legion head was invited to speak in Pampa by local supporters of the Ferguson. He is making a speaking tour of the Panhandle and West Texas, and delivered an address at Amarillo last week-end. The public is invited to hear him tonight.

According to local friends of the Ferguson, Mr. Owsley will tell why he is supporting Mrs. Ferguson for governor in the second primary, in stead of Ross S. Sterling. Mr. Owsley was said to have campaigned for the Houston candidate during the first primary.

Wayside club will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hutchins.

THE MINORITY RULES

If it were announced that one-fifth of the people in America were going to have the privilege of choosing our candidates and deciding on all measures at the primaries, there would be a cry of protest that would echo from Wall Street to Hollywood. People would refuse to vote on a ticket chosen for them by others when the election rolled around in November.

They would cry out that a grand old American privilege had been taken away. That they had as much right to vote at the primaries as at the regular election. Oh, yes, we would hear from them in a babel of tongues.

But those same people are sitting by now, perfectly satisfied to let one-fifth of the nation choose the candidates on which they will vote eventually. They just don't trouble to help their party make out a good ticket. Yet they think that it should be strong and able to carry when the final election comes around. They complain bitterly if it doesn't suit them. But they refuse to help in the primaries as evidenced by the vote in those just held.

Human nature is queer, specially when judged by a political gauge. It is much more important to choose wisely at the primaries and have a worth-while ticket to present in the end than to fight to see which men and issues will predominate when only two are competing.

The people of the United States are given the privilege of choosing their own men and measures. They like to think that they have a voice in the government. But they get hoarse or are stricken dumb along about time for the primaries.

The primary is the real testing ground. The November elections are based entirely on this preliminary material.

Human nature, as we said before, is strange. That closes, letting them get a little musty and moth eaten, is why it leaves its political interests hanging in the and then can't understand when someone suggests that only people who appreciate and use their ballots should have them.

We seem to demand privileges. But we calmly add that whether we use them or not is our affair. And meanwhile one-fifth of the nation decides the fate of the other four-fifths.—NEA.

THE OTHER SIDE

The charge is made with some basis of truth, that the political campaign so far has consisted of a sort of duel between Fergusonism and Moodyism. Mr. Sterling may well wonder where he comes in, and Mrs. Ferguson would hardly guess from the newspapers that she and not her husband is the candidate.

Presumably the reason for this neglect is that past experience would seem to indicate that, if Mrs. Ferguson should be elected, Pa and not Ma would be the real governor, ruling by proxy. Thus the discussion centers round about Jim as the actual candidate, even though by impeachment decision he can not hold office. Whether or not the action of the senate and the supreme court is to be indorsed or repudiated depends on the votes that will be cast Aug. 23.

Mr. Sterling is practically unknown in the political field, except for his excellent record as chairman of the highway commission. Heretofore he has chiefly concerned himself with his business interests, ignoring politics. Like many other business men, he has risen from poverty to riches, partly by accident, but also through business sagacity and foresight. His education has been chiefly in the school of hard knocks and experience, but out of it all he has gained a fund of common sense and an appreciation of financial problems.

As a rule, lawyers monopolize the offices of government through their knowledge of law and of politics. It is rare that a business man offers himself as a candidate because of his lack of experience in governmental problems. Yet it seems obvious that what a government needs above all else is trained business men to problems of finance, of profits and losses, of balanced budgets and of efficiency in expenditures. Texas is at the present sadly in need of financial experts in business administration to recommend improvements in expenditures and budgeting, so as to reduce taxes, or at least to get for the taxpayers full value for their money. Mr. Sterling is that sort of business man, and it is his chief qualification.

Why not try an experiment in the government of Texas? Let the voters elect a business man to the governor's chair. Then instruct him to pull Texas out of the mud of indebtedness, and to establish an efficient administrative organization that will make other states sit up and take notice. It would be far better publicity than another dose of Fergusonism, and would encourage other business men to offer their services to the state.—Dallas News.

DANCING JUDITH

By CORALIE STANTON and HEATH HOSKEN
COPYRIGHT 1930 BY CHELSEA HOUSE

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JUDITH GRANT, artist's model loves ALAN STEYNE, painter, who is also loved by CHUMMY MOR-LEY, Judith's best friend. Chummy had loved Steyne years ago, and had lost her memory when he went away; so, although Steyne loves Judith, Judith insists it is his duty
to marry Chummy, whose memory
comes back when she sees him again. Judith studies dancing and makes a sensation in a musical show
backed by RICHARD WYON. Chum-
my, on the eve of her marriage,
learns that Judith and Steyne love
each other and breaks her engagement; but Judith refuses to marry Seyne, insisting he belongs to Chum-
my. Then Judith learns that Alan is really the son of rich BRUCE GIDEON, a financier who has been pursuing her with his attentions for some time. She vows to save money and repay Gideon so that people will not think she is under obligations to him. BASTIEN, DU-MONT, an artist, also in love with Judith, tells her Gideon's intentions are not honorable.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXV
Bastien was thrown into a fever
pitch of excitement, the next day,
by receiving an invitation to lunch
with Judy, who was staying at a mid-town hotel.
"Oh, Bastien! Oh, Bastien!" she cried, when he was shown into one of the public rooms.
She was the same Judy. These months of intoxicating success had not changed her. The glitter of Paris, the warmth and scents of the Riviera, the glamour of Rome, the insidious sweetness of Naples—nothing had changed her.
And she was so glad to see him!
Her Bastien, her dear, dear Bastien, her best friend, her oldest friend, the one person in the world
on whom she could always rely!
She smiled her flashing smile, and her pansy eyes glowed at him, misty
with emotion like wet purple flowers. Her lovely mouth laughed and laughed, and her little hands
drummed on the tablecloth in excitement.
Dumont was translated into heaven. He revelled in happiness for more than an hour, and then common sense forced him down to earth again with a thump.
"Judy, everybody is dying to see you," he said. "We must have an evening."
"Yes, of course we must, Bastien." Then her face fell. "Do you know that I have been here for a week, and I have called on Chummy
three times and she has never been here? I left word each time, but she's never been near me. Oh, Bastien, I do feel it so! I've written to her—sent her a lot of cards while I was away; only you know I'm pretty bad at writing."
"Her housekeeper's a stupid creature,"
he said. "Probably she didn't receive your messages."
"You said Chummy was well."
Judy went on eagerly; "but you haven't told me anything about her.
Do tell me everything! I must get hold of her today. I'll simply go and camp on her staircase. Of course
she might not have got my messages." Her voice sank, and she looked at him a little fearfully.
"Bastien, has she heard from Mr.
Seyne?"
"Oh, yes, she sees a great deal
of him," Dumont replied.
"He's back, then?"
"Oh, yes, he's back."
"Bastien"—Judy's voice trembled
—"have they—do you think—"
"You mean, have they made it up, Judy?" he asked. "Well, there's nothing he said that I know of,
but certainly they're always together. I know you always thought it was a squabble."
"It happened so," said Judy steadily.
"So he really has come back, and
she's seen how silly she was! Oh, I'm so glad—I'm so glad!"
"I tell you, Judy, there's nothing said about it. They may only be friends."
"Oh, no, Bastien—I'm sure it's all right! I always knew it would be!"
Judy and Dumont went off together. It was strange and unreal to see the waiters and the manager
bowing before the great dancer—
all those men in their black and white, with their dark heads and pale foreign faces, bowing deferentially
before little Judy Grant.
"Let's walk, Bastien," she said.
"I do love walking in New York.
And it's such a lovely day!"
He walked as close to her as he dared. Sometimes her shoulder touched his arm, and the touch gave him a thrill of pain like a knife. He loved her so—and she would never, never love him.
Yes, indeed, she did love him—
she loved him with a wonderful
love; but it was not what he wanted.
Still, he must not be ungrateful.
Like her, he was humble of heart,
and he felt that he could never have been worthy of her.
They found Chummy at work in
her studio.
The two girls clasped each other
in their arms.
"Judy—little Judy!" said Chummy's beautiful deep voice. "You're back! Oh, how wonderful!"
"Chummy, I've been back a week,
and I've called three times, and
each time I've left a message."
"I never got any, Judy dear, how splendid you look! And what a wonderful person you are!"
"And you, Chummy—you're lov-erlier even than I remembered!"
Judy kissed her friend again. She thought Chummy had changed in some way—in some delightful way.
She seemed younger and more
lighthearted, as if she took things more easily. She laughed and joked more. She had evidently been going about a great deal. When Alan's name was introduced, she spoke of him so naturally and with such a radiant smile that Judy was sure
it must be all right between them
once more.

and Judy and Bastien stayed.
Judy greeted Alan cordially. He was just a little more distant than he used to be. The difference was barely perceptible, and might have been put down to his absence in a distant country and to her increasing fame.
They talked. Judy asked after everybody. She planned a dinner party and an evening together, with all the boys and Clara Jenks. They would dine at Gino's and end up
at the Cafe Turc.
Bastien, her faithful attendant,
left with her when she went. She shook hands with Alan. Just for a second their eyes met. Hers were smiling bravely, consciously. His were dark with something that looked like ineffable reproach.
Quickly she ran down the stairs,
as if from danger. She knew that Alan still loved her but he was behaving as he ought to. He had returned to Chummy. Evidently he saw that it was his duty. It was all coming out right. All that Judy had to do was to keep it up until Chummy and Alan had finally come together and were married.
Afterward—well, no need to think about that.
"Judy, why are you friends with Gideon again?" asked Bastien, as they walked back to her hotel.
"Oh!" she said airily. "I changed my mind. After all, he did it out of kindness. And I'm paying him back, every penny."
"People say you are going to marry him," he went on.
"Do they?" she asked scoffingly.
"People always know such a lot,
don't they, Bastien?"
"Oh, Judy!" he said, with his eyes fixed on her face in a burning appeal. "I do wish—"
But she held up her little gloved
hand and stopped his further speech.
"Dear Bastien," she said, "I love you very much indeed. You are my dearest friend, but I can't let you interfere with my life, or—let me
with my other friends."
After that he could say no more.
He had never seen Judy so serious.
There was something implacable
about her. She almost frightened him.
Madame de Toros and Judy stood together in a large and sumptuously
furnished spare bedroom in Bruce Gideon's apartment. It was about half past 11 on the night of the same day. They had removed their wraps and were pottering their faces and tidying their hair.
Gideon's sister, immaculately neat
and severely smart, was in gala.
She wore a big, pearl-tipped crown and ropes of pearls, and looked very ugly and distinguished. It had been a great night at the opera,
with many notable men about women present. Judy and Gideon had been to see a new ballet done by a troupe of mixed nationalities, which had turned out a dead failure.
Judy's warm heart had bled for their disappointment, and she had tried to make up for the chill of the audience by vigorous applause
which had rendered her very conspicuous and made Gideon laugh unkindly. She could not bear to see anybody fall.
Now they had met for supper,
and Judy was telling Madame de Toros all about the poor discredi-
tated ballet troupe.
"You have a kind heart," said Gideon's sister, with her rather hard smile. "But you see, the world
hates failure and will have nothing to do with it. By the way, Miss Grant, I want to ask you a question. Why did my brother break off his engagement with Luna Coit?"
"Can't say, I'm sure," Judy replied, giving her bright head an extra toss. "Why do you ask me?"
"Because I have an idea that you know."
"Why don't you ask your brother?"
"I have asked him, but he won't tell me. Of course I know that officially Luna broke it off. She hasn't sued him for breach of promise; but—I just wonder. Everybody knows she hasn't a penny, and her father is on the brink of bankruptcy."
"That is too bad," said Judy de-murely.
Madame de Toros smiled pleasantly.
"You are very amusing, Miss Grant," she said frankly. There was something very nice about her frankness. "You see, I am Bruce's sister, and I am fond of him. I've heard so much about you. I've heard that he's been your shadow
during the last three months."
"He's turned up at the places
where I've been dancing," said Judy.
"He's given me so me very nice times. In Naples he hired a small yacht. It was great fun. You see,
he takes an interest in my career."
"You are delightful," retorted Gideon's sister, with unaffected enjoyment; "but I have heard other things. I have heard that you are going to marry him."
"Oh, have you?"
Madame de Toros' dark eyes
were a little malicious.
"I have heard that if you don't marry him, you ought to."
A flame leaped into Judy's eyes.
"Where did you hear that, please?"
"Only tonight, from a perfect

Kansas politics by winning the Republican nomination for state representative at Emporia. Though stranger—somebody who was talking about you and Bruce in the next box at the opera."

"Thanks for telling me!"
"You are angry?"
Judy shifted the shoulder strap
of her gown.
"Oh, no," she said. "I suppose
one gets talked about."
"It's the penalty of fame, Miss Grant."
"I suppose so."
"But I thought perhaps you would tell me."
"There's nothing to tell that I know of. I'm ready—are you?"
The elder woman accepted the offhand question that she might easily have taken amiss.
"Quite ready," she said.

Crew of Steamer Saved by Rescue Vessel's Dash

WELLINGTON, New Zealand,
Aug. 18. (AP)—Passengers and crew of the British steamer Tahiti, totalling 317 persons, abandoned ship
before dawn today, and were taken safely aboard the American steamer Ventura, which rushed from many miles away to answer the Tahiti's
distress signals.
The Tahiti, filling rapidly with water from a leak where one of the propellers was torn away, did not remain afloat long. Passengers aboard the vessel upon its departure from Wellington numbered 175, crew
and officers 142.
Passengers were disembarked from the vessel first, five boats being launched safely with them despite a heavy swell and an approaching storm and the crew and officers were taken off later. The Penybryn, Norwegian freighter bound for Auckland from Cuba, stood by to be of any possible aid in the disembarking.
The Tahiti was bound from Sydney
and Wellington for San Francisco.
The Ventura is proceeding to Pago
where the Tahiti's island passengers and crew will be disembarked. The Ventura then will proceed to San Francisco where American and European passengers will be landed.

Much Terracing of Randall Lands

CANYON, Aug. 18. (Special)—W.
H. Upchurch, County Agricultural Agent of Randall county, states that during the past few days more than 2300 acres of land in Randall county has been terraced. Numerous Randall county farmers have shown
much interest in the preservation of moisture in their land by terracing during the past year, according to Mr. Upchurch, and much interest is shown along the same line at the present time.
The running of proper terrace
lines on farms recognized ordinarily as good, smooth farms, has proven their worth many times, compared with the amount of labor necessary
to run the terrace lines, according to the county agent. Preservation of moisture in this section is a thing that all farmers are interested in
and the benefits obtained in preserving the moisture is evident during the present dry summer.
Most of the terraced land will be put in wheat, during the coming year, and it is essential that the moisture be preserved.
Randall county farmers who have been terracing their land during the past several days are R. B. Oist,
P. H. Baber, H. M. Walker, and C.
C. Stewart. Others who have been doing terracing during the past several months are J. B. Fox, H. B.
Hales, George R. Cox, James Lovel,
O. F. Thomas, A. R. Adcock and Len Helsler.
Mrs. O. W. Ferguson left this afternoon for McLeansboro, Ill.,
upon receiving a message telling of the death of her mother, Mrs. Harriet Shaffer, who died Sunday, Aug.
17. Mrs. Ferguson's mother was 85
years old.
Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ridings, Mr.
and Mrs. Gibb Ridings, and Mrs.
Joe Miller, all of Amarillo, were in Pampa Sunday.

Slister of Local Resident Marries California Artist

Miss Ira Crouch of Wortham, Tex., sister of Mrs. Elsie Gormillon of this city, and Mr. Arthur Haddock of Stockton, Calif., were married yesterday in Santa Fe, N. M., according to an announcement made this morning. Mrs. Haddock visited her sister here during the last week.
Mrs. Haddock is a graduate in music at Texas Tech class of 1928.
Her husband is a well-known artist of Stockton. They will spend their honeymoon in New Mexico, where Mr. Stockton plans to begin a number of paintings. The couple will make their home at Stockton.

Marshall Field III Is Married to London Widow

LONDON, Aug. 18. (AP)—A religious ceremony marrying Marshall
Field III, grandson of the noted
Chicago merchant, and Mrs. Dudley Coats, London society woman,
was performed at the Church of St. Ethelburga the Virgin, here today.
The civil service previously had been held at a registry office.
Field arrived in England last Thursday from New York. His finances met him at the dock.
"Our wedding trip will be passed on the continent," he said at that time. "If weather permits we will make it an aerial trip, using a plane
which I sent over last week."
Mrs. Evelyn Marshall Field III,
daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Marshall of New York and London, obtained a divorce from Field at Reno Aug. 4, after filing a petition only a few hours before.
The two were married Feb. 6,
1915, and have three children, Marshall J., Barbara, and Bernice.
Mrs. Coats was considered one of the most beautiful debutantes of her year. She is the former Miss Audrey James, daughter of Mrs.
Willie James, a popular London
hostess.
Her husband, Captain Coats, an officer of the Scots guards, died
at Cannes in 1927 at the age of 22,
his death occurring largely from wounds received during the World War. She has been a frequent visitor to the United States and is a friend of the Prince of Wales.

Mrs. A. M. Harvey and daughter, Miss Leona Leedom, left today
on a two-week vacation trip to the Ozarks. They will return home by way of Lincoln, Neb., where they will be guests in the home of Mrs.
Harvey's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Parker, 605
East Kingsmill, are spending their vacation touring in Colorado and New Mexico. Mr. Parker is auditor for the Osborne Brothers Implement company here. They are expected to return to Pampa the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bratton were called to Fort Worth Saturday evening by the serious illness of Mr. Bratton's father.

Wade Duncan and Herman E.
Kreiger are building a restaurant
on Kingsmill avenue, beside the postoffice.

Christian Science Churches
"Soul" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Aug. 17.
The golden text was from Psalms
63:5. "My soul shall be satisfied
as with marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips."
Included in the citations comprising the lesson-sermon was the following passage from the Bible:
"And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed,
and many others, and cast them
down at Jesus' feet; and he healed
them."—(Matthew 15:30).

The service also embraced the following citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,"
by Mary Baker Eddy: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man,
the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine mind on human beings
and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation." (page 210).

onstration agent of Houston county, and her mother, Mrs. W. H. Roberts, of Mobeelie, are the guests
today of Miss Myrtle Miller, Gray

Hotel Annex Is Being Considered By Alex Schneider

Plans for building an annex to the New Schneider hotel are being considered by Alex Schneider, Jr.,
the hotel owner said this morning.
"When I heard that the Interstate Commerce Commission had granted the Denver permission to build the railroad from Childrens to Pampa, I began laying my plans to keep in step with the Pampa of the future—the greater city that is to be," Mr. Schneider said.
The new annex would contain 40
rooms and would be completed by next spring, according to Mr.
Schneider's plans. It will be built west of the present hotel.
A number of local business men who have been planning to erect buildings in Pampa for several months announced this morning that they are completing plans to begin construction of the projects
in the near future.

J. L. Cummings, Liberal, Kans.,
was a visitor here Sunday.

Ashcans or BUYERS— where is YOUR Advertising GOING?

You give an Air Mail Special Delivery letter preference over all other mail, not because of the carrier investment involved, (you, the recipient, pay NOTHING for it) but because its manner of delivery has CONVINCED you of the importance of its contents . . . The self same message, carelessly tossed into your front yard, to snarl the blades of your lawn mower or spoil the yards tidy appearance, would probably gain your attention also, but it would be attention not calculated to put you in a mood to buy the product advertised . . . EVEN IF YOU READ THE MESSAGE.

YOUR ADVERTISING MESSAGE TO BE WHOLLY CONVINCING MUST BE DELIVERED CONVINCINGLY

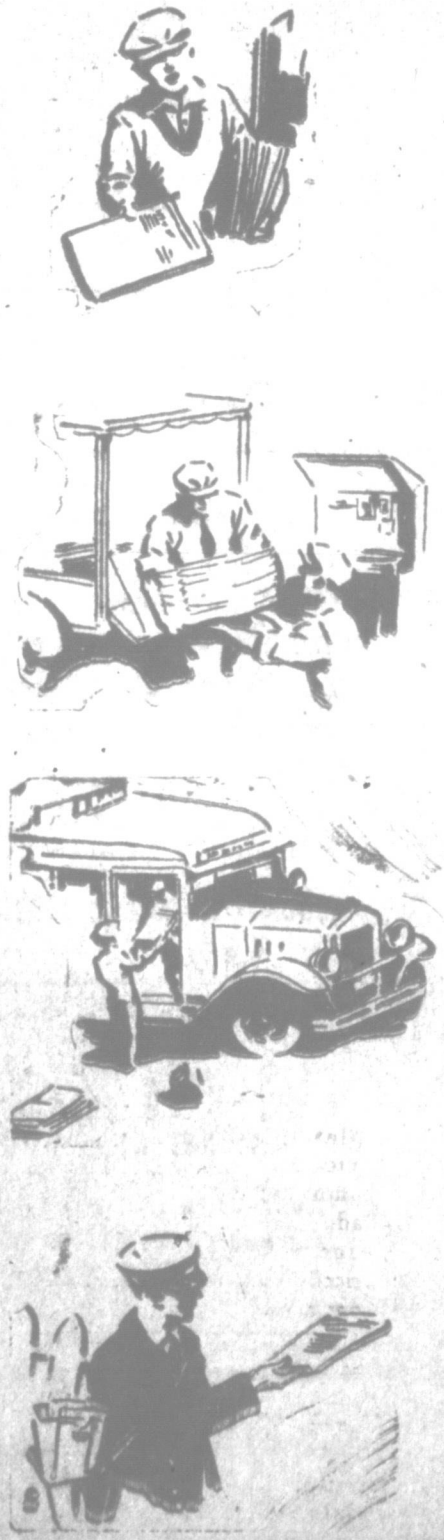

You may force your advertising message in to the hands of a prospective buyer, with countless schemes and methods of delivery, but you CANNOT force him to read the message . . . The prospect must be PERSUADED to read your message by first placing it before him in a manner that CONVINCES him that YOU, the advertiser, believe sufficiently in its importance to, at least, GUARANTEE delivery . . . Unobtrusive delivery, in no sense forced, delivery that gains his attention by persuasion, delivery that gives him his news the way he wants to receive it . . . THAT is newspaper advertising.

AND AS FOR THE INVESTMENT

Let's look the facts squarely in the face . . . the guaranteed daily circulation of the Daily News is 3,800, giving you 17,100 readers of your message every day. (This figure is obtained by multiplying the circulation by 4½, the average number of people to the family.) Experienced sales promoters estimate that only 75 per cent of circulars are read and those by less than half the members of the family. They estimate that their message in the newspaper is read by 90 per cent of those to whom it goes. The Daily is WELCOMED into the homes of your prospective customers who are INTERESTED READERS. Your message is delivered CONVINCINGLY—AND THE DELIVERY GUARANTEED.

FOOTBALL MEN ARE TO DISCUSS CAMP THIS EVENING

ALL ATHLETES ASKED TO BE AT SESSION

Football's debut is so near that lovers of the sport are forsaking talk of politics and baseball. Gridiron topics will be discussed tonight at Central high school in a gathering of all the lads who are eligible for competition under Harvard colors. The pow-wow will begin at 8 o'clock this evening at Central high school.

Coch Mitchell emphasizes that the noisiness of the training camp makes it imperative that all boys who expect to try for places on the squad attend tonight's meeting.

Spur high school will play the opening game here September 6—a fact that makes immediate training vital.

The coach tonight will issue instructions concerning the training camp, which will open at the Davis ranche near LeFors Wednesday.

STEERS FAIL TO MOVE UP THO WINNING

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR. Associated Press Sports Writer
Back in 1922 it was the Wichita Falls Spudders set a modern Texas league winning record of 16 straight victories at the far end of the season, yet they did not win a pennant. The Fort Worth Cats stayed right along with them, capturing 23 straight and the hunting.

All of which is just so much history except that the 1930 Dallas Steers appear to be in much the same predicament as the 1922 Spuds. By sweeping a doubleheader with Beaumont yesterday, to 3 and 4 to 1, the Steers registered their tenth in a row, tying the season's record, yet today found them only two notches above the position they occupied at the start of their great drive and still four full games off the top. The difficulty seems to be that the Spudders and Cats go right along winning on their own account, paying no attention to the Steers' spurt.

A suddenly rejuvenated pitching staff continued to deliver as the Aizman hung to Nos. 9 and 10. Walt Tauscher, young righthander, limited the Exporters to four blows in the first bout and would have scored a shutout but for a pair of homers by Jerry Mallett, a pitcher substituting in the Shipper outfield.

Mallett's second punch in the ninth found a mate aboard. Tesmer led the Mav attack on Jimmy Walkup with two doubles and a single. Homers by Taitt and Gene Moore, the latter's with one on, put the Steers across in the nightcap. Murray relieved Kinney in the second to get credit for the win, holding the Exporters in check despite four errors behind him.

Hog-tied by Dizzy Dean, who allowed eight hits and struck out 12, the Spudders succumbed to Houston, 7 to 4, and fell back into a deadlock with the Cats for leadership. While the Buffs rookie sensation kept the first half champs away from the plate, his mates blasted 15 hits off Steengrafe and Caldwell, including circuit wallops by Morrow and Holm. The Buffs were only two and a half contests from the top.

Dick McCabe hurled the Panthers to a 5-2 victory over San Antonio, keeping six hits well scattered. Les Mallon, whom the Kittens value at a mere $20,000 and probably will get it, left an 11-hit assault on Bill Hargrove with a pair of singles and a double.

The Waco Cubs fell back into their losing ways and, incidentally, into sixth place, as the Sports squared their series at Shreveport, 9 to 6. It marked the Cublet's eighth setback in their last nine starts on the road. A fortnight ago they were leading the parade. A big first inning, in which they scored six runs on four hits, gave the Sports a lead last night that was never overcome. Estrada whiffed seven Cubs.

R. F. Stout, 49, El Reno, Okla., died in El Reno Aug. 14. Burial occurred Saturday in the cemetery in that city. He is survived by five children, three of whom reside in Pampa. They are Lawrence, Lysle, and Glenn of Pampa, Guy of Dallas; and Mrs. Gay Johnson of El Reno.

Mr. and Mrs. Osman Stephens of Dallas were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stephens and family Sunday.

Frank Adkisson, Amarillo, of the Adkisson and Gunn Tire company, was in Pampa yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal G. Berwick and son are in Colorado on a vacation here.

COOPER WINS BIG VICTORY AT ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, Aug. 18. (AP)—Once again "Light Horse" Harry Cooper, comet of the fairways, has definitely established himself as a power to be reckoned with in the realm of golf.

The diminutive Chicago professional, one of the game's great stars of yesterday, stepped up another rung on the comeback ladder yesterday by conquering a brilliant field with par shattering golf to win St. Paul's first $10,000 open championship over the wind-tossed Keller County course.

To accomplish his triumph, Cooper toured the 72-hole stretch in 280 strokes, eight under par, and three strokes better than his closest rival, Tony Manero of New York. It was one of the smartest cards the game has ever known.

The foreign players, none of whom are seeded, number seven. They include Marcel Rainville, Canadian Davis cup player, and Felayo Arcia Olaj of Spain.

The nine seeded players after Tilden were: George M. Lott, Chicago; Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas; Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, N. Y.; John Doeg, Santa Monica, Calif.; Sidney Wood, New York; Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J.; John Van Eyn, Orange, N. J.; Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, and Berkeley Bell, Dallas, Texas.

Young Corbet Still Hunts Title

YOUNG JACK THOMPSON JACKIE FIELDS

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The gong clangs out its notice that the tenth round is over.

The referee raises the hand of the southpaw fighter. Several thousand Italian countrymen of Young Corbett III follow into the sky.

And so it has gone on here for years. From an obscure preliminary boy, Young Corbett of Fresno has punched his way to the title of "unworried welterweight champion of the world."

The 24-year-old Italian has climaxed a brilliant career by handing Young Jack Thompson, Oakland negro welterweight king, a fearful beating in 10 rounds. Thompson saved his crown by the technicality of forcing Corbett to come in a pound and a half overweight.

Less than five months before, also in a San Francisco ring, Corbett won a 10-round decision over Jackie Fields, then ruler of the 147-pound division. It, too, was an overweight match.

The Fresno southpaw's record is one of the remarkable of the boxing game. He started at the age of 17 years and in 103 bouts, scored 43 knockouts. Since 1925 he lost

ARGENTINE TO FIGHT THIRD TIME TUESDAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (AP)—Justo Suarez, 21-year-old Argentine boxer, will make his third appearance in the United States at the Queensboro stadium, New York, tomorrow night. If his native country gets as excited as it did on the two previous occasions, then sports writers will have a busy evening trying to satisfy the thousands of fans in Buenos Aires and other South American cities. He will meet Bruce Flowers at 10 rounds.

Bat Battalino, featherweight champion from Hartford, Conn., who keeps the honey rolling in by mixing in non-titular affairs, goes up tonight against Bud Taylor, still the Terre Haute Terror but somewhat tamer than in former years. They meet in Hartford with the title not at stake.

Midget Wiegand of Philadelphia generally recognized as the flyweight king, takes on Newsboy Brown for 10 rounds out in Los Angeles tomorrow.

No Favorite In Women's Singles As Tourney Opens

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (AP)—For the first time in a decade, the National Women's Tennis singles championship will be without an outstanding favorite when play opens on the Forest Hill courts today.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, winner of six of the last seven championships, and Miss Helen Jacobs, No. 2 on the national list, are not competing and the tournament is considered wide open.

Miss Betty Nuthall, youthful English star, back for her third attempt at the American title, who was seeded No. 1 among her foreign contingent, has been given the place of honor on the opening day's card. She appears in the feature match with Miss Louise McFarland, Pasadena, Calif., on the stadium court at 5:30 p. m. (EDT). Three other matches will be decided on the stadium court while the 21 other contests will be decided on the outer courts.

After his last victory over Thompson, his handlers put up $80,000 as a guarantee to the negro if he would defend his title.

Ray Alvis, manager of Thompson, told the would-be promoter that he was not interested, inasmuch as he felt Corbett would win and that the title was worth more money than offered.

For a topnotcher, Corbett's purses have been dribbling compared to those of contemporaries. For fields feasting the two champions, Fields and Thompson, he received $10,000 and $8,000 respectively. Fields' share was $26,000 and Thompson carried off $20,000.

Corbett's consolation is that as he walks down the street people point him out and say: "He licked two champions."

Jack Whitson and Warden Thompson of Spearman were business visitors here Friday.

Fred Wewerka was a visitor in Clarendon Sunday.

Kansas City Star: "Fergusonism made Texas affairs a scandal in the eyes of the nation. Does Texas want to try it again? It is hard to believe."

of their state against Fergusonism. The enthusiasm and the ardor of these citizens spells the defeat of Jim Ferguson and Fergusonism in Texas next Saturday worse than Fergusonism was defeated before.

"While the people know the meaning of Fergusonism, I wish that old Jim would withdraw the threat which he hangs over the head of the newspapers to sue them for damages and let them print his record and my comments on it.

"I have told them they can't print anything he said about me and that I will waive all claims to damages. He wants to keep as much as possible of what I say out of the papers by his threat to bring suits for damages. I do not blame the press; the papers are willing to give both sides but they have something else to do besides meet the expense of suits filed by Ferguson. It strikes me that a man who wants the public trust, even by proxy, ought to be willing for the people to have the facts and ought not to try to hamstring the press with threats of damage suits."

James V. Allred of Wichita Falls, candidate for attorney general, expected to speak today at Meiland and Waco; Tuesday at Gainesville and Fort Worth; Wednesday, at Lubbock, Luling and San Antonio; Thursday in Rockwall and Greenville; and Friday at Sherman and Dallas. He spent Sunday in Dallas.

Several Killed And Injured When Planes Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 16 (AP)—Two students of the advanced flying school, Kelly field, lost their lives in an aerial collision during attack maneuvers at a 200-foot altitude near Von Ormy today.

They were Donald DeWitt Campbell, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Campbell of Anadarko, Okla., and Cadet Robert Lee Scott, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Scott, of Bethany, Ill.

Each of the fliers was piloting an A-3 attack ship in a nine-ship formation. According to other members of the flight, the fleet was executing a difficult maneuver known to air-men as the "crossover turn," when one flyer, in attempting to shift position with his "element" of the formation, lost altitude and crashed into the lead ship in another "element."

Both ships plunged to the ground and were demolished. The airman were killed instantly.

The formation was flying low over brush as a regular part of ground attack training.

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 16 (AP)—Burton L. Walker, 26, instructor, was injured probably fatally and Leo Voss, 18, student, slightly injured today when the biplane in which Voss was receiving instructions crashed at the municipal airport.

The ship went into a tailspin and nosed into the ground when the vertical fin on the rudder dropped out of place while they were flying at about 1,000 feet, according to witnesses.

Walker has been here several years having been chief pilot for the Lone Star Aviation company and for a number of oil companies. Prior to that he piloted mail and passenger planes between San Antonio and Mexico City.

DALLAS, Aug. 16 (AP)—Injured late Saturday afternoon at Grand Saline, when he heroically sought to prevent his airplane, alighting, from crashing with one just taking the air, Roy B. Kuttman, 31, Dallas flyer, died in a hospital here today.

Julian Gusher Is Finally Shut In

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 16 (AP)—The C. C. Julian Number Two Houser gusher in the South Oklahoma City field was shut in today with cement after running wild for 25 hours and endangering homes and business houses.

The flow was shut off from the bottom when cement was pumped into the hole under high pressure. The casing will be cemented again to prevent a second blowout when the well finally is completed.

Blowing out between the six and nine inch casings, the Houser went wild through the cellar yesterday morning.

Filling Station Has New Owner

Paul Crossman, new owner of the filling station at 201 East Kingsmill, has announced its opening under the name of Crossman's One-Stop Service. Mr. Crossman recently purchased the interests of George Crossman and Chas. Franklin.

BUSINESS AND ART COMBINED IN CLEVER COMEDY

To win the favor of the girl he loves a young sales engineer haunts the libraries in studying art. He finds he cannot keep business entirely out of his love affairs and so combines the two. Some clever ideas in developing an appreciation of art is brought out by one of the characters in "The Big Pond," the feature play at Chautauqua this season.

Many Teachers Are to Attend Institute Soon

CANYON, Aug. 16 (Special)—Institute for teachers of the major portion of the Panhandle will be held at the West Texas State Teachers college Sept. 1, 2 and 3, according to announcement made by F. E. Savage, superintendent of the training school at the college, and who has charge of plans for the institute. An attendance of between 800 and 1,000 is expected.

Members of the college and training school faculties will have charge of the work in various departments. Miss Routh Lowes, who recently received her Master's Degree from Columbia university, will have charge of the elementary education section.

Dr. Albert Barnett, professor of education, will direct activities in the rural education section. A special feature of the institute will be the physical education section in charge of Miss Ruth Cross, head of the department of physical education for women at the college. The coming year will find public school complying with the new state law requiring the teaching of physical education, so it is expected that Miss Cross' section will be of particular interest to those attending.

There will be given a number of practical demonstrations of the subject as well as numerous lectures. R. N. Sandlin, state supervisor of health and physical education, will be present and will give a series of lectures. A. M. Blackman, member of the state department of education, Miss Catherine Henderson, Miss Ella Monday, supervisors in various departments of the state department of education, will also give lectures in the physical education section.

Invitations have been extended other people of state and national importance. Miss Nancy Gertrude Milligan, instructor in the department of education, Leland Stanford university, whose regular position is supervisor of elementary education in the city schools of Pasadena, Calif., will be in Canyon for a series of lectures in the department of intermediate education.

Other lectures in this section include A. L. Crabb of Peabody college of public schools, Fort Worth, and lege, M. H. Moore, superintendent Dr. B. P. Fronbarger, instructor in the State Teachers college at Denton.

Many entertainment features are being arranged for the three days.
