STRIKERS DEFEY BACK-TO-WORK STEEL GROUPS

PICKET LINES GROW THINNER AT JOHNSTOWN

CLEVELAND, June 18 (AP)—CIO shouted "Carry on!" to its striking steel workers today to counteract a "back-to-work" chorus from non-striking who want to go back to work.

Hundreds of men gathered at Johnstown, Pa., last night and raised caloused hands in a united pledge to continue the strike against the Bethlehem plant there "for weeks and weeks," if necessary, to win a signed contract.

But the Johnstown picket lines were thinner; and plant officials reported work was going on "much better."

A Chicago mass meeting heard speakers lambast the four strike-affected steel corporations, and then sang the strike theme song, "Sign On the Dotted Line."

Cleveland, however, became the focal point of interest in the federal government's mediation efforts took form. The first meeting of a three man mediation board which Secretary of Labor Perkins named yesterday, was called for tomorrow by its chairman, Charles P. Felt II, the other mediators are Lloyd K. Garrison of the University of Wisconsin and the veteran trouble shooter, Edward F. McGrady of the labor department.

The board has no power of compulsion, and there was no indication today that the steel companies or the CIO were ready to rest the fate of the strike in the hands of such a board.

"We will cooperate," was as far as either side was willing to go. The possibility that the steel strike, which is costing workmen about $750,000 a day, might spread to the railroads was suggested today in a statement by Alexander F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. He said:

"I told our fellows at Youngstown, Warren, and Canton, O., and in one or two places in Pennsylvania, that they were not required to subject themselves to danger. Under unusual circumstances it is up to us to men to decide whether movement of cars is dangerous.

The back-to-work chorus was heard on several sectors. At Johnstown a citizens committee, organized to preserve order, adopted a resolution insisting that there be "no compromise with the right to work."

The tone was different on the ros-

CONTRACTS MUST BE SIGNED SAYS WAGNER

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Senator Robert F. Wagner (D-NY) author of the National Labor Relations act, declared today refusal of employers to sign collective bargaining may be a violation of the law through "bad faith."

He made his statement in a letter to the New York Times, which was published on the editorial page of that newspaper. In it he criticized the "two-tier" industrial policy of employers who refused to sign contracts, adding:

"Anti-union employers have long refused to enter into written contracts with unions as a token of their adamant determination not to accord to the properly selected representatives of their workers the same dignity and standing with which they accord to others with whom they do business."

Senator Wagner asserted that "this practice must be crushed before we can have industrial peace."

2 Men Fined In Liquor Cases After Three Boys Here Turn Detectives

Three 16-year-old youths stepped out of the Sherlock Holmes fiction yesterday and became the living, breathing detectives who brought two Pampa men to justice and placed a third in the position of fighting a charge that he violated the law.

The youths — Leonard Hall and Vernon Dickinson, both of Pampa, and J. O. Hargraves, Jr., visiting here from Lubbock, today were set as splendid examples of good citizenship who have set a mark for adults to shoot at in the matter of cooperation with law enforcement officials.

As a result of their activities A. W. Honsinger and Thomas Sheeran, of Pampa, each was fined $100 and costs by County Judge Sherman White on charges of illegal possession of liquor for sale. J. A. Swanner, also of Pampa, entered a plea of not guilty to a similar charge and is awaiting trial under $700 bond. Honsinger paid his fine and Sheeran and Swanner still were in Gray county jail shortly after noon today.

While Mother Waits, Son Dies En Route To Pampa

While his mother fondly made his bed and prepared his room for his homecoming here, a young lad en route to Pampa died yesterday at Mineral Wells. The boy, Bill Bue, former high school student, was on his way home to see his mother, Mrs. T. J. Wilson, when he was stricken with malarial fever while stopping over in Mineral Wells.

The youngster was only 16 years old last April 30, and had just recently graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School in San Antonio. He was a member of the senior class here, and was well-known in Pampa schools. He went from here to San Antonio, where he finished only 10 days ago his high school career. After graduation, he was coming back to Pampa and his friends when he was taken ill in Mineral Wells while visiting relatives there, and was rushed to a hospital where he died at 3 p. m. yesterday. Interment will be in Highland cemetery, Stamford, tomorrow at 10.

DURBIN GIVEN JUDGMENT OF $6,937 HERE

A judgment for $6,937.30 was issued in Gray county district court by Judge W. R. Ewing in favor of Bill Durbin, defendant in a compensation suit filed by the Traders & General Insurance Co.

The court order set forth that the insurance company pay the sum to Durbin at the rate of $1730 a week for 401 weeks, dating from the time of his injury on December 18, 1935. Motion for a new trial was filed by attorneys for the insurance company.

DUST BOWL PAINTINGS PROTESTED BY C. OF C.

DALLAS, June 18 (AP)—Alexander Hogue, artist whose magazine paintings of Texas Panhandle scenes have been protested by the president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said today "that's just what I expected from a chamber of commerce."

Milburn McCarty, the chamber head, deplored the appearance in the magazine "Life" of pictures he said were "definitely a reflection upon the 'vast and rich section,' portraying it as desert.

Hogue, who said he was reared in the area and "know what I'm talking about," snapped: "That country would be a lot better off if the chambers of commerce would quit interfering with what the government is trying to do."

Informed McCarty complained the scenes were not typical; it made it appear the Panhandle was one vast desert, he said:

"That's what it will be if they don't let the government do its work."

Hogue said he formerly lived near Dalhart and has spent parts of the past several summers in the region. McCarty said "the scenes, . . . if they ever did exist, are very isolated instances. They are not typical and anyone that knows West Texas knows they are not."

Another Johnstown flood—of Labor Turmoil

Johnstown, Pa., scene of flood disasters, was in the national spotlight again as pickets battled non-striking men with fists and clubs, upper photo, and turned over a loyal worker's car, lower photo, which they said struck a small boy when the workers tried to trash lines at the Johnstown Bethlehem plant.

Snooty Yakimas Threaten Sitdown For Higher Wage

YAKIMA, Wash., June 18 (AP)—The Yakima Indian tribe went on the warpath today for $2 a day wages, free tobacco and a 10 per cent "cut" on all souvenir postcard sales during Yakima's pioneer days celebration July 3-5.

The youngsters once one of Washington's most warlike tribes, staged a sit-down strike during a Seattle Polatch celebration two summers ago because they didn't get fresh hamburger for breakfast.

Clark, veteran hotel man in charge of celebration publicity said "the trouble with these Yakimas is that most of them have been to college and speak English like a radio announcer," said Clark. "Half of them haven't even got Indian suits."

EDMONTON, Alta., June 18 (AP)—Soviet aviators took off from Moscow at 2 a. m. Greenwich time today on a non-stop flight to San Francisco. Major J. E. Genet, officer in charge of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals station in Edmonton, said he had been informed.

Russia Condemns Railway Wreckers

MOSCOW, June 18 (AP)—An undisclosed number of supposed counter-revolutionary wreckers have been arrested and condemned at Tashkent, in Asiatic Russia, it was disclosed today.

Seven officials of the Middle Asian Railway shops have been convicted on charges of sabotage. Reports also referred to others but were not clear as to the extent of the roundup of alleged saboteurs. Neither were they clear about what had become of the prisoners.

The railway newspaper, Gudok, charged the shops at Tashkent, an important city on the middle Asian line, "were overcrowded with criminal elements" who succeeded in paralyzing dozens of locomotives by impeding repairs.

An official named Nered, said to be the director in charge of the shops, was held responsible even to the extent of shielding known wreckers after they had been exposed.

JAP DECISION HOLDS.

TOKYO, June 18 (AP)—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota formally informed United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew today that Japan was unable to change her decision against limiting the size of naval guns to 14 inches. The foreign minister spoke with the approval of Emperor Hirohito. His statement was in reply to a proposal by President Roosevelt.

GRETA GARBO SETTLES SUIT OUT OF COURT

LOS ANGELES, June 18 (AP)—Again the silent, elusive Greta Garbo has thwarted an interested public, curious to see her on the witness stand.

She settled out of court a suit for $150,000 brought by David Stratton, former Berlin film producer, who claimed the amount was due on a loan made her in Europe in 1924 as she was just getting started in pictures.

Basques Make Final Stand

(By The Associated Press) Basque defenders of Bilbao, their government already gone from the city, retired today to rear-guard positions to the west as the besieging insurgents fought to close the only avenue of escape from the refuge-jammed capital.

In the full flush of his Bilbao successes, Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco asked Great Britain for belligerent rights which would give him a standing under international law and permit him to attempt a recognized blockade of his government foes.

The government of the semi-autonomous Basque provinces, allied with the central Madrid-Vaencia regime was said to have left Franco's officers reported the movement to complete Bilbao's encirclement was in full swing west of the city. There the Basques were massing "last stand" troops.

To the north of Bilbao, the conquering insurgents held the wealthy suburban town of Las Arenas. Three government snipers, who remained hidden when their fellows fled, were subdued after hours of shooting.

Valencia authorities pushed an inquiry into the death of 18 government sailors and the wounding of 100 others in a mysterious internal explosion on the battleship Jaime I at Cartagena.

At Lisbon, Portugal, 633 Irish volunteers who had been fighting for Franco embarked for home, after serving their six-months enlistment period.

The government-held Mediterranean port of Tarragona cleaned up following an insurgent air raid which left one dead and more than 30 wounded.

MINES BUREAU OIL ESTIMATE SHOWS GAINS

AUSTIN, June 18 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Mines estimated today demand for Texas crude oil in July would be 1,375,000 barrels daily, an increase of 26,700 over its estimate for June.

Announced at the monthly oil and gas prorating hearings of the railroad commission, agency which administers state conservation laws, the figure compared with a basic allowable for June of 1,350,262 barrels and authorized production of 1,407,562 on June 17.

Nominations by purchasing companies totaled 1,623,636 barrels daily for July, a decrease of 22,180 from their anticipated requirements for the present month.

Commission engineers reported that in the 30-day period ending June 12 bottomhole pressure declined 15 pounds per square inch in the East Texas field, showing an average of 1,163,326 on that date. In the period allowable production was 14,336,368 barrels, an average of 462,644 barrels daily.

In the last month, 653 new wells were completed.

None of the commissioners attended the hearings, held preliminary to issuing an order fixing production allowables for July.

C. V. Terrell, chairman, was in Washington and Ernest O. Thompson in Europe. Lon Smith, the third member, also was out of town.

Reports on condition in basic oil fields were received and a number of operators asked increases in allowables.

51 Arrested In Oil Tax 'Steal'

SHREVEPORT, La., June 18 (AP)—Fifty-one persons in five states were ordered arrested in what Federal District Attorney Harvey G. Fields termed a vast fraud and conspiracy in the shipment of oil from Shreveport.

Fields, filing complaints against the men, said the case was "the largest piece of fraud perpetrated in recent years since the most colossal steel since the famous Teapot Dome affair."

It was charged that the defendants shipped to five southern states, tank cars of gasoline labeled as refined oil and distillate, with intent to defraud the states out of gasoline taxes; that they made false bills of lading on the cars; that they failed to mark the cars containing explosives, in violation of federal statute; and that they conspired against the laws of the United States in violation of the criminal code.

He said he would present the charges to the grand jury at a special session of district court Monday. A number of those charged have already been arrested and bonded.

Defendants are from states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, and Tennessee and include owners, managers, operators and employees of both bulk and retail oil stations.

The total amount of tax evasion was estimated at about $100,000 but it was believed railroads lost about $18,000 in freight charges because of the improper billing. Fields said that violations still undetected would probably raise the total of evaded taxes to approximately $250,000.

WADING POOL AT PARK TO BE FILLED SUNDAY

The wading pool at Central park will be filled Sunday for the first time this year. The pool was erected two years ago by the Pampa Rotary club.

Park employees painted the pool last week, green and orange with cream interior.

Children 8 years of age and under will be allowed in the pool. Children are instructed not to take dogs or to allow dogs in the pool.

OIL OPERATOR DIES.

HOUSTON, June 18 (AP)—Dr. P. S. Griffith, wealthy independent oil operator and business man, died at his home today. Dr. Griffith, Tennessee native who started in the oil business in the famous spindlefoot field in 1902, had lived in Houston since 1904. He gave up the medical profession and devoted his time to commercial activities.

FARM TENANCY ACT EXPLAINED

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—What is the objection of farm tenancy legislation pending in Congress? Promotion of farm ownership by tenants, sharecroppers and farm laborers.

How many tenants are there in the United States? Federal census reports show 2,865,000 or 42 per cent of the farm population in 1935. Reports say tenancy has been increasing at the rate of about 40,000 annually.

How would legislation help tenants acquire farm homes? A bill approved by the House agriculture committee would authorize loans to approved tenants for purchase of farms. Tenants would be allowed 30 years to retire the loan at 3 per cent interest. A Senate bill would authorize the secretary of agriculture to purchase farms and resell them to tenants.

Would the loan carry restrictions? Yes, under the House bill the tenant could not sell the farm without the consent of the secretary before he paid the loan in full. He would be required to maintain the farm in repair and follow soil conservation practices.

Who would select tenants for loans? Local county committees composed of spies, munitions, and "the importation of thugs and gunmen."

Guarantieri acknowledged in reply to questions of committee members that the Warren and Niles postal officials acted under the advice of the United States district attorney at Cleveland, and that "regular" mail was being delivered to the plant.

In reply to queries by chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) Guarantieri testified that he had never tried to mail food into the plants before, and that there was "no occasion" for anyone else to do so.

W. W. Ows, first assistant postmaster general, told the committee last week that the postoffice had "complied with the law" in refusing

Probers Hear Steel Lawyer

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Louis L. Guarantieri, attorney for the Republic Steel Corporation, told Senate investigators today that postoffice officials at Warren and Niles, Ohio, had refused to accept four packages of food from him for delivery to Republic plants on grounds that they were "irregular mail."

The young lawyer testified before the Senate postoffice committee that the Niles postoffice had delivered a bottle of medicine to a non-striking worker in the Republic plant there, after two union officials had "consented" to its delivery.

A few minutes earlier Philip Murray, leader of the striking workers, had demanded that the committee subpoena records of four companies affected by the shut down in order to discover how much they had paid

THOUSANDS IN TAXES AVOIDED CLAIMS AGENT

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) Elmer L. Irey, treasury tax investigator, told Congressional investigators today that he had "effected substantial reductions" in taxes by turning over his Hollywood earnings to a British corporation.

A short time before the treasury investigator laid before the committee the names of a group of prominent capitalists who, he asserted, escaped American taxes by forming foreign corporations. Irey said Laughton, described as an English citizen, set up a holding company in England and contracted with it to pay him a $20,000 salary in 1935.

At the same time, he said, Laughton handed over to the company all his earnings for that year from American moving picture activities. These totaled, he said, $190,280.

He added that the entire arrangement "may be perfectly legal." But it is just another illustration, he said, of methods to get around American tax laws.

Westinghouse Accused Roswell Magill, undersecretary of the treasury, remarked while committee members were asking about more names that George Westinghouse, Jr., had established a corporation in the Bahamas, capitalized at $3,000,000.

He said one year Westinghouse bringing numerous questions from Newfoundland, another from British Columbia, and third from Jamaica.

"There is no catching up with him," Magill said, adding that he could name a dozen similar instances.

Senator Harrison (D-Miss.) asked if Westinghouse could be identified.

"It's hard to identify him," Magill replied, "because he jumps around like a bug."

At the conclusion of today's hearing, the committee, in closed session, authorized Chairman Doughton (D-NC.) to ask the house appropriations committee for legislation for $50,000 for expenses.

Vice-chairman Harrison said the inquiry "may last a good bit."

Formed Foreign Companies Irey outlined legislation which American levies may be avoided through forming personal holding companies abroad.

He interlaced his testimony with details of specific transactions, bringing numerous questions from committee members as he listed individual names.

Irey said these men had formed foreign companies:

Philip Deronde, associated with several New York financial institutions, and a participant in various citizenship financing operations.

Julius S. Bahe, whom Irey described as "a prominent New York capitalist."

Jacob Schick, a former army colonel and now a citizen of Canada.

Fercy K. Hudson, a former member of the New York stock exchange.

Schick Also Involved Committee members leaned forward as Irey brought in the name of Schick, whom he described as a manufacturer of electric razors.

The name of Wallace Groves, New York financier also was brought in.

Bahe, Irey said, apparently acted on the "honest conviction that he was within his rights."

Colonel Schick had served his country with distinction, Irey said. "He once drew a pension as a retired army officer."

"In 1935 he became a Canadian citizen."

"As a manufacturer of electric razors, he had a business which proved very profitable. These profits, under American laws, naturally were taxable."

Former President Of France, Gaston Doumergue, Dies

AIQUESS-VIVES, France, June 18 (AP)—Gaston Doumergue, 73, former president and twice premier of France, died today in his native village.

The elderly statesman had lived in retirement among the vineyards of his countryside since he slipped quietly out of Paris Nov. 15, 1934, at the end of his second term as prime minister.

"Papa" Doumergue, as he was known throughout France, was elected to the presidency in 1924, the first Protestant to hold that office under the third republic.

Despite his nickname, Doumergue was a bachelor until he was 67. He was married to Madame Jeanne Grave, a widow, just 12 days before he left the Elysee palace at the end of his presidential term in 1931.

In February, 1934, after the bloody "Stavisky" riots, the aging statesman was called to the service of his country once again to weld all parties except socialists and communists into a national government.

In November of the same year, however, he resigned the premiership when the cabinet split over his demands for more power.

Doumergue died suddenly shortly before 9 a. m., apparently from a heart attack.

RA TO MOVE 26 TENANT FARMERS TO 101 RANCH

PONCA CITY, Okla., June 18 (AP)—A new empire for poverty-stricken tenant farmers was rising today from the dismembered domain of historic 101 ranch.

"Titles have been examined, loans are being approved to build houses and barns, and 26 families will be ready to move in by autumn," said Paul V. Maris, Dallas, acting regional rural resettlement director.

"Tracts of the tenant farmers will be in the famed ranch white house and its one-acre grounds, which Col. Zack Miller, last of the cattleman Miller Brothers, still hopes to salvage from his wrecked empire.

The rolling ranch—which once sprawled over 110,000 acres—has passed into hands of creditors or has reverted to the Ponca and Otee Indians who leased it years ago to the Millers.

From an insurance company, creditor of the Millers, the RA bought the 3,600-acre tract on which it will transplant tenant farmers from sub-marginal, stubborn soil near Stillwater, Okla.

The RA is preparing to lend these far tenants not to exceed $2,700 each, Maris said, to build barns, homes, and drill water wells.

Construction of the first houses, which will cost between $1,200 and $1,500, will begin in July. With credits tendered by the RA, Maris hopes the tenants some day can pay back what they borrowed and become land holders.

SLAYER OF DAUGHTER ASSESSED 13 YEARS

RIVERHEAD N. Y. June 18 (AP)—Blonde Mrs. Ellen Tierman sat in a Suffolk county jail cell today, sometimes laughing, sometimes tearful, doomed to spend at least 13 years in prison for the slaying of her seven-year-old daughter.

She brought her trial to an abrupt end last night when she pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree.

Under the law, Mrs. Tierman faces imprisonment of from 20 years to life, with the possibility of freedom after 13 years and four months for good behavior. She will be sentenced Monday.

The plea was entered soon after the reading of a document in which the 28-year old defendant was quoted as admitting to police that she deliberately plotted to kill her daughter Helen and her four year old son Jimmy because they stood in the way of her contemplated marriage to George Christodulus, Manhattan restaurant worker.

ITALIANS AND BASQUES FIGHT BITTERLY BUT NO BABIES DIE

By EDWARD J. NEIL.
LAS ARENAS, on the Bilbao Estuary, June 18 (AP)—A gray, bent, old doctor hobbled in pitch darkness from crib to crib, touching sleeping babies, crying babies.

Nurses in stiff white uniforms stood by in the cellar maternity hospital of a three-storied stucco villa in Las Arenas, wealthy suburb of besieged Bilbao.

Outside, in the beautiful "Street of Villas," the whining bullets of snipers clipped leaves from the great shade trees.

"The people will have babies, and they must be cared for, war or no war," said the doctor, Carlos Mendoza Tomas.

"This was yesterday.

"Today, Las Arenas was quiet. The Basques didn't go without a fight. There was heavy street battling for a while; then the government soldiers retreated and the Italian "Black Arrow" brigade, one of the insurgents' crack units, swept through the town.

In the improvised maternity hospital, Dr. Mendoza Tomas and his 20 nurses listened to the sound of the firing.

He was glad the struggle for Arenas was all over.

"Babies need lots of sunlight and milk," he said. "They can get it now."

"We've been very lucky. We haven't lost a baby in the last three months. The babies aren't so lucky, I'm afraid. Some of them probably have lost their fathers."

There are about 100 babies there. For three months the mothers have not left the building. Boxes fashioned into makeshift cribs line the walls of the big, low-roofed room which contains cots for the mothers, nurses and doctors.

Those in the cellar lived by the flickering light of candles set in the necks of bottles, tense lest bullets, bombs or shells bring death. Now they can go out into the sunlight.

GRAND JURY WILL NOT INVESTIGATE CHARGES

LOS ANGELES, June 18 (AP)—The county grand jury will not investigate further the charges of Patricia Douglas, 20, Hollywood extra, that she was beaten and attacked at a film salesman's party last May 5. Foreman John E. Bauer, said today.

The jury declined to indict David Ross, Chicago film salesman, identified by Miss Douglas as her ravisher, after he had made a general denial yesterday.

Ross told the jury he danced with Miss Douglas a time or two and had her introduce him to Roland Young, screen actor, but "took one of the first buses back to town."

Miss Douglas had said she was attacked about 12:30 a. m. in an automobile at a ranch near Hollywood, where the "B'ers" party was held.

Two parking lot attendants, Asa Carter and Clement Soth, testified they saw a man follow her to the automobile, but said Ross was not the man.

SAN ANTONIO, July 18 (AP)—Seven Boy Scouts were injured, two critically, late yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding overturned 40 miles from San Antonio, between Bulverde and Spring Branch. Most seriously injured was Otto Boeniger, 14.

Miss Mable Davis is back at her desk in the city manager's office. She received serious injuries in an automobile accident near Mexico City D. P., two weeks ago.

R. I. Graves of Amarillo spent today with his nephew, Bud Harrell, Texas Christian university halfback, who is working in the Pampa oil field during the summer months.

Bud Pollard and Bob Jordan, Texas Christian university students, are visiting friends in Pampa for a few days.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Ray H. Williams and Miss Leslie Irene Reames and to C. V. Burnett and Miss Verda Brett-hauer.

Mrs. Myrtle Martin, of Fort Worth, is visiting at the home of her sister, Miss Ola Gregory, in the Houck-apts.

Ray Mundy, KPND announcer, returned last night from a three-day trip to the Pan-American exposition in Dallas.

Lincoln Ekern left late yesterday evening for Okla. City where he will spend several days with his parents, W. Hyron Hays.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Brinkman are leaving soon for Dumas, where they will make their home.

Mrs. W. A. Stratton and Mrs. Mabelle Braly spent yesterday in Amarillo.

Jack Gregory is spending the summer with his aunt, Mrs. Dick Walker, in Pampa.

Mrs. C. E. Ball was called to the bedside of her father, E. B. Smith, Wheeler. He formerly lived in Pampa and was connected with the Rex Electric shop.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ernst are the parents of a daughter, born yesterday at Pampa-Jarratt hospital.

Mrs. W. D. Norton underwent a major operation at Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

W. M. Vann was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday.

Cliff Chambers arrived in Pampa yesterday from Brownsville to promote wrestling in Pampa. He is constructing a large arena at the corner of Wynne and Alchison streets.

Troops Corner Moro Chieftan And Followers

MANILA, June 18 (AP)—A revolting Moro chieftan, reported to have entrenched himself and his followers in a jungle fort, today faced surrender and punishment, or battle with a pursuing government force.

Advice from Davao, on the southern Philippine island of Mindanao, said Amal Millon announced his rebellion in the market place of Bacolod village, then sped to the fort, which sits on a high peak surrounded by jungles.

Authorities gave Amal Millon until today to surrender or face the consequences—relentless pursuit by constabularymen, many of whom are familiar with the jungle terrain as the rebellious chieftan.

TRAIN KILLS YOUTH SLEEPING ON TRACK

OSAGE CITY, Kas., June 18 (AP)—Zack (Bud) Sigler, 23, of Morrilton, Ark., was instantly killed near Loma, Kas., early today when a Missouri Pacific train struck him as he lay along the track.

Dale Sigler, his brother, said they and three other men had been put off a freight train earlier in the night and had gone to sleep near the

Public Must Eat More Turkey, Say Federal Experts

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—A group of government experts decided today that either the public must eat more turkey or farmers must raise fewer of the festive birds.

Although consumption of turkeys last Thanksgiving and Christmas set an all-time high, they said, more turkeys were carried over into cold storage than ever before.

Suggestions by the committee for increasing turkey consumption included:

- Raising smaller turkeys. A market survey showed most families want a bird weighing from 9 to 14 pounds.
- Teaching the public through advertising that turkeys are good food all year.
- Cutting off the head and feet of the gobblers before marketing.
- Selling turkeys in parts, frozen and ready to cook.
- Canning turkeys.

Post office committee resumes study of foreign airmail legislation.

Yesterday:
Senate debated relief bill; House, District of Columbia tax bill.

Mining Operator Hunted in Desert

NEEDLES, Calif., June 18 (AP)—Vanished into the desert, Ernest A. Moross, wealthy Michigan mining operator, was hunted by baffled sheriff's deputies today.

Mrs. Moross, her husband's companion during years of prospecting in the west, said he drove away at dawn yesterday from their luxurious motorized camp 14 miles east of Topoc, on the Colorado river.

He had $200 in cash and two diamond rings, but no motive for leaving, Mrs. Moross told authorities.

She expressed belief her husband had suffered an attack of amnesia, induced by the strain of recent negotiations in a mining venture with Cleveland capitalists.

ADMIRATION - TRIPLE-SEALED IN "CELLOPHANE"

Decision GOES TO THE Bag . . . ON POINTS

The first three rounds were a draw between the two favorites: Coffee-in-Bags and Coffee-in-Other-Containers. In the first round, the quality of the two was the same. In the second, both had the same oven-freshness. In the third, fragrance and flavor were uniform in both. But in the fourth . . .

Coffee-in-Bags won the decision on price!

When the housewife finds that Admission Coffee in the moisture-proof Cellophane bags is the same fresh, fragrant, delicious coffee as that packed by other methods, she will certainly choose the bag at about 4c the pound less. Methods of packaging, plus Admission's fast truck delivery service, assure her of an equally good coffee at a more economical price.

Buy it in the bag and save the difference.

Admission Coffee comes packed three ways: vacuum glass jars, slip-covered tin cans, and in triple-sealed Cellophane bags.

Classic of the Year Midget Auto Pie Race!

Never in the annals of racing history have drivers dared their lives for a more precious reward. Each lap the drivers stop their midget cars and run to the judges stand and eat a fourth of a DILLEY pie at a time. The driver who eats his four pieces of pie and crosses the line first will be the one case where he can eat his pie and have it too.

It is the same everywhere—There is always a mad scramble for DILLEY'S DELICIOUS PIES. Here is hoping they don't drop any of those pies on the track and gum up the races in that delicious meringue.

OILERS WILL GET ANOTHER CHANCE TO LICK HUBER AT PARK TONIGHT

HUTTON WILL TAKE MOUND FOR PAMPANS

The Huber Blackaces of Berger, nemesis of the Pampa Oilers in four meetings this season, will be in town tonight for another crack at the Oilers who are determined to break the Huber jinx. Game time will be 8:30 o'clock with admission 40 cents.

It is expected that Manager Fred Beckell will send Harvey Hutton, fireball righthander, to the mound in an effort to break into the win column against the Blackaces. Hutton has been showing the best form of the season and has been training hard. He has developed a change of pace with his fast ball which is expected to carry him to many victories this season. Other hurlers have had their chance against the Blackaces.

Should Hutton not get the call, it is expected that Mills will get another chance to show whether he can live up to his reputation. The elongated chunker from Portland in the Pacific Coast league, has been unable to get going in this high altitude.

With Sealing out of the lineup because of injuries, Benson will likely play right field. Benson got his eye on the ball Wednesday night in Berger when he hit Phillips pitching for a perfect average for the night.

Sam Dalley, Oiler pitcher who had not gotten on base since joining the team, got three hits Wednesday night to prove that the Oilers were in a hitting mood again. Dalley stopped and patted each base on his first time on.

Back from a disastrous road trip on which they lost two games to the Halliburton Cementers in Duncan, Okla., one game to Seminole and two games to Eason Oilers in Enid, and a win and tie in Arkansas City, the Carboners will come to Pampa loaded for bear. Chody Carthers and Young will all be ready for mound duty.

Races Discontinued As Owners Remove Horses

Following announcement yesterday that the Texas Racing Commission had refused applications of major Texas plants to hold summer meets, horsemen at Pampa Downs track started an immediate exodus to other states. As a result, Secretary Steve Brodie was unable to fill a card that would justify continuation of the high class racing presented in Pampa and Pampa Downs officials announced that no more races would be run at this meet.

"There were not enough good horses entered today to fill out a balanced card and rather than present an uneven race, we have decided to discontinue racing in Pampa for the present," officials of Pampa Downs announced.

"It would not have been fair to the public to give unbalanced races where contending would be possible," the officials said. "We are sorry to call off the last two days of the meet but we feel that we are doing the right thing in stopping the meet at this time."

Yesterday Jockey E. Rossall and his mount, Rafter Wee, were ruled off the track when the jockey pulled the horse on the stretch. Stewards took the action last night after Rafter Wee placed second in the last race of the afternoon.

The highlight of yesterday's races were the maiden ride of Jockey P. W. Banks and the third consecutive victory of Ben Bernie on the Pampa track.

Young Banks, a 16-year-old Seeling, Okla., youngster, rode Home Worth for third money in what was probably the outstanding performance of the afternoon. Although pocketed two or three times by veterans, the youngster clung to the position and wove his way in and out of trouble to pull up in third position a few feet back of Bob's Bit.

The apprentice weighs only 73 pounds and it was necessary to weigh him scale to give his mount the 101 pounds assigned. Young Banks showed promise of following in the footsteps of his father, B. H. Banks and his grandfather of the same name, both of whom were well known jockeys in their day.

Jockey W. Bonner rode Glenn J to victory in the opening race of the afternoon to defeat Miss Title who had to battle all the way down the stretch to beat out Just Sissy by a nose. Our Hero was an easy winner in the second race to give holders of the daily double tickets on the two horses $26.60. Going Through was second with Buddy H a close third.

Jockey R. Conner broke Scooter in front and was never headed in the third race of the afternoon. Mead Girl ran in the second position the full distance with Jesse James the third horse. Fred W. threw Jockey D. Frazier at the gate but he was not injured and started the race in fourth position.

Ben D won with a driving finish from Sis Pace in the fourth event with Eagle Feathers a close third. Eagle Feathers was first out of the gate but gave way to Ben D at the furlongs. Sis Pace passed the tiring Eagle Feathers on the stretch.

The surprise horse of the race meet, Ben Bernie, won his third straight victory in the fifth race, over five and one-half furlongs. The maestro broke in front and led all the way. Carter Boy challenged on the stretch but failed to reach the winner who won going away.

Van Law was third.

Empress Pelota had no opposition in winning the mile race when she finished about 10 lengths ahead of Mild Manners who was able to beat Nigrescent under the wire by only a nose. Empress Pelota was third from the gate, roared into second place at the end of three furlongs and then had things her own way.

Simple Honors and Rafter Wee staged a duel in the last race of the day when Simple Honors pulled away from Rafter Wee on the stretch. Billy Kahn was third, in which position he ran all the way. Good prices were paid on all races.

Girl to Drive Midget Auto Here

Pictured here is Miss Nita Morgan, America's only feminine race track driver, with the midget auto which she will drive in the Midget Auto Races and stunt performance which will be presented at Roadrunner park Saturday night at 8 p. m. and Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p. m.

GET IN THE SWIM!

By JACK FORBES
 Noted Swimming Instructor

One of the best features of swimming is that it takes you into the outdoors where the beautiful rays of the sun can be soaked into your body.

Sunlight is life—This is easily observed in the diminished growth and yellowish look of house plants when denied the sun.

You should expose yourself to these life-giving rays. But not too much. Try to get accustomed to the sun's rays gradually. Otherwise too much of the sun will result in a severe burn and, possibly, serious illness.

Twenty minutes' exposure should be enough for the first time. You can increase this gradually.

It is also safe to spread a light coat of olive oil on the exposed parts of the body before and after.

Exercises
 Today the hand crawl will be practiced in chest-deep water. Observe the illustration carefully and allow the arm to bend at the elbow when it is coming out of the water. Roll shoulders slightly as upper arm comes down and goes into the water. Do NOT turn head too much.

Count 1—Stand in waist chest-deep, lean forward from the hips, raise both hands overhead, come down with left hand. Follow through until the hand comes to a position even with thigh.

Count 2—As left hand comes out of water start down with right hand and follow same movements you have just completed with left hand. Repeat movements of two hands alternately, in windmill fashion—first the left hand, then the right hand.

NEXT: Balanced diet and breathing.

MIDGET AUTO RACES TO BE RUN SATURDAY NIGHT AND SUNDAY P. M.

Cars and drivers have arrived in Pampa and everything is in readiness for the staging of the Midget auto races at Roadrunner ball park Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. It was announced today by officials of the racing association.

A new feature has been added to the program during the week. Two tiny midget cars which are even smaller than the regular racing midgets have been imported for the afternoon and will be driven by two local boys. Donald Wilburn, aged 12, and Lyle Wilburn, aged 10. These junior drivers will participate in a matched race.

The junior midgets are powered with miniature one-cylinder motors and are said to have a top speed of 40 miles per hour as against 65 on the regular midgets.

Featured in the show is Miss Nita Morgan, 19-year-old girl from Missouri. Miss Morgan will attempt to take the honors from Art Hamilton in a special challenge race. Hamilton is well known throughout the west for his past records on the track with standard-sized race cars. Along with numerous racing events will be two thrillers which are destined to make weak hearts weaker. Art Hamilton will crash his midget car through a solid one-inch wall while Rocky Moran attempts to make a similar crash with a speeding motorcycle.

The two-hour program of daring and spectacular racing and stunt attractions will start promptly at 8 p. m. on Saturday and 3:30 p. m. on Sunday.

Enrollment in both urban and rural elementary schools of America is declining.

BEAUMONT AND MISSIONS LOSE

(By The Associated Press.)
TODAY'S GAMES:
 Houston at Beaumont (day),
 Tulsa at Fort Worth (night),
 Galveston at San Antonio (night),
 Oklahoma City at Dallas (night).

It looks like Beaumont and San Antonio will have to take direct action against each other to see who should be undisputed holder of the Texas league's No. 2 position.

For the last four days the clubs have been locked in a dead heat for the runner-up position, each losing or winning when the other does. Last night they followed that pattern, San Antonio bowing to Galveston 3 to 2 and Beaumont taking a 7 to 2 thumping from Houston's tallenteds.

Godickel of the Houston pitching staff, who has been poison to the Beaumonters all year, ran his season's strikeouts to 99 and won against the Shippers going away.

The Missions came closer to victory but wound up on the short end against Orville Armbrust's five-hit hurling.

The ambitious plans of the Dallas Steers went to pieces like a jigsaw puzzle in an earthquake when they confronted Oklahoma City in a doubleheader. The Indians won 5 to 3 and 4 to 2. The league-leaders' victories were traceable to four-hit performances in both contests and some spectacular fielding.

Tulsa's Clyde Lahn went seven innings against Fort Worth without granting a hit and kept the Gate well enough under control after that to win 6 to 2.

BRADDOCK STILL CONFIDENT HE'LL WHIP BROWN BOMBER

CHICAGO, June 18 (AP)—Principals and promoters marked time today in their preparations for the world's heavyweight title battle Tuesday night between Champion James J. Braddock and Challenger Joe Louis.

Both fighters rested at their respective camps. Braddock, who scaled 198 after a workout yesterday in which he belted his sparmates mercilessly, indicated he would spend the day quietly, even foregoing golf. Louis was expected to take in a motion picture at Kenosha, Wis.

Braddock will box six rounds tomorrow and four or five Sunday in his training windup. Louis also will go through drills on both those days before packing to await his shot at the championship.

On the promotional end, practically all arrangements have been completed. The 22-foot ring in which Louis lost to Max Schmeling in New York has been set up directly over second base on the White Sox playing field in Comiskey park.

Mike Jacobs, associated with Joe Feley in promoting the contest, was confident the fight will sell out all 80,000 seats.

Braddock remained calmly confident he will win, remarking that "if he knocks me down I'll get up." The betting odds remained at 3 to 1 on Louis.

The weighing-in ceremonies will be held Tuesday noon at a downtown hotel.

The seven secondary bouts, in which all contestants are heavyweights, includes:
 Four rounds—Max Roesch, Dallas, Texas, vs. Steve Carr, Meriden, Conn.
 The first bout will start at 7:30.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

George Selkirk, Yankees: Hit homer and three singles and drove in two runs in 9-7 win over Indians.
 Jack Wilson and Ben Chapman, Red Sox: Wilson stopped White Sox with five hits for 5-2 win in doubleheader opener; Chapman's single in tenth inning drove in winning run for 3-2 nightcap victory.
 Herschel Martin, Phillies: His four singles drove in three runs in 13-7 victory over Cardinals.

Said Kennedy: "No power on earth can stop industrial unionism (CIO) under the guidance of that great outstanding American (Lewis) who is leading organized labor to the point where it will compel collective bargaining in every industry in this nation."

Van A. Bittinger, a CIO organizer, told the Chicago mass meeting: "We've just begun to fight. The steel companies are going to sign or go on the rocks. We've just got our third team in the game. When we have our first team in there, the steel companies won't even know who has the ball."

Officers obtained a search warrant and confiscated three gallons of corn whiskey in a carton in the warehouse. Deputy Mannion arrested two of the men at the store and picked the third one up later yesterday afternoon.

Complaints against each of the men were signed by Deputy Mannion. The three boys went to the county attorney's office and related their complete story to County Attorney Joe Gordon.

Two of the men, Mr. Gordon stated today, admitted to being the bootleg liquor from a source in Berger, paying $2 a gallon for it.

"If we could get the same kind of corporation from adults in clearing up law violations as we have from these boys," Mr. Gordon said, "there would not be nearly so many law violations of that kind."

"These boys really have shown the marks of good citizenship and they are to be highly commended for their action."

IGNORANT OF FLIGHT. SAN FRANCISCO, June 18. (AP)—Gregory I. Sheriff Ralph E. Elser, of Mahoning county, Ohio, denied today that special strike deputies in Youngstown were "thugs" or were paid by the Republic steel company.

In a telegram to Senator Bridges (R-NH) of the postoffice committee, Sheriff Elser entered "unqualified denial" of charges made to the committee yesterday by Murray.

Chairman LaFollette (Prog-Wis) announced today the Senate civil liberties committee would at the proper time show publicly the news reel film of the Memorial Day clash between steel strikers and police in Chicago, it has been withheld from publication.

LaFollette said his committee, conducting an inquiry into the clash, would show the film when it was ready to proceed with public hearings.

"Apparently not satisfied with this saving," the investigator continued, "Colonel Schick in December, 1935, formed three other Bahamas corporations to which he transferred 37,791 shares of Schick dry shaver corporation stock. This was practically all the stock outstanding."

The transfer was made possible, Irey said, because Schick previously had become a Canadian citizen. Elmer L. Irey, chief of the intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau, said DeRonde, former president of the Hibernian Trust Company of New York, owed the government $33,000 in unpaid taxes and interest.

He testified Bache, whom he termed "a prominent New York capitalist," had formed personal holding corporations in Canada and transferred to one of them $13,000,000 in assets.

CATCHING HISTORIC TARANTULAS HAS BECOME A SPORT AT CROSBY

CROSBY, June 18 (AP)—Folk around Crosby are having a lot of fun with tarantulas and the bumble-bees don't care.

Catching tarantulas and the study of their habits have become a sport in the community. Bill Shimek holds the championship, having snared nearly 300. His method of catching the big spiders is simpler than that used by others. He inserts a small stick in holes where they live and when a tarantula gets a grip on the stick, Shimek withdraws it and takes another prisoner.

Mrs. G. Coker, who has made a long-time study of tarantulas, says the hairy spiders are lovers of music, usually played on a straw. She says they respond to soothing music.

Music seems to play a large part in the history of the tarantula, says Mrs. Coker. "The name comes from the town of Taranto, Italy, where the dance known as tarantella originated. In the middle ages dancing the tarantella was thought to cure a form of insanity induced by the bite of the large European spiders. Tarantism, the disease caused by the bite, creates a hysterical affection which begins in a state of lethargy and depression. Music was said to be the old remedy for tarantism and special tunes were believed to speed relief."

Some spider catchers at Crosby adopted the method of making the tarantula fight its way into capture. Hot water is poured into the hole to make the spider come near the surface. Then the hunter places a mirror over the hole and the tarantula springs at its reflection.

Still another way is to tie a bumble-bee on a stick and insert it in the spider's hole.

Says Mrs. Coker: "The home of the tarantula looks like a hole in which a crawfish lives. It is round at the surface, the opening extending straight downward about one foot. Then it turns obliquely for about 18 inches before turning downward again. A spider is usually found on sentry duty at the turn of his hole."

"The tarantula is found in nearly all parts of the United States, Central and South American and Europe."

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, June 18 (AP)—If President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner should come to Austin and want admittance to the floors of the Texas House and Senate, they would not be stopped by the doorkeepers.

The rules always include the President and the Vice President of the United States among those entitled to privileges of the floor when House and Senate are in session. The same courtesy is extended also to members of Congress and the governors of other states.

Others who may come and go in both houses are the governor and his private secretary, judges of the Supreme Court and the Courts of Criminal Appeals, the lieutenant-governor, and accredited newspaper reporters.

There are several peculiarities and differences as between the houses concerning admittances for each legislative branch makes its own rules.

The House, for example, has a rule admitting employees of both House and Senate, but the latter requires they be on "official business." While, technically, members of the lieutenant-governor's family could not go on the floor of the House, in the Senate they could walk right in, the lieutenant-governor being president and presiding officer.

The House rules give floor privileges to contestants in election cases pending their contests in the House but there is no mention of this in the Senate rules.

Both houses attempt to exclude persons who are not bona fide correspondents for newspapers and press services and who might otherwise attempt to gain the floor thru representations they were news reporters. Rules also are aimed against lobbyists who might pose as reporters.

A House rule requires as a prerequisite to admittance that a reporter must file with the speaker a written statement showing the paper or press service he represents and certifying that no part of his salary or compensation is paid from another source. It bans any person who has appeared before a committee for or against legislation.

Senate rules in this connection go a little farther but the effect is intended to be about the same. Credentials must be filed with the secretary of the Senate to show one works for publications regularly engaged in reporting news of state affairs, receives no compensation other than from his journalistic employment and is not engaged in lobbying. The Senate does not give floor privileges to persons reporting for sporting for house organs, fraternal newspapers, society magazines, trade organs, weekly school newspapers, and monthly or quarterly publications.

The permission to go on the floors is extremely helpful to reporters for it enables them to "cover" proceedings more accurately and develop stories more quickly.

There's no place like home for the rules. Members often bring persons on the floor instead of receiving them in the reception rooms just outside the halls. In general, however, the regulations are to expedite work of all persons who have a legitimate purpose for being on the floors and are complied with.

WE FIND AN INTEREST IN OUR FELLOW MAN

One of those minor anniversaries that mean more than some of the big ones mean comes on Saturday of this week. The day is the 50th anniversary of the founding of the first municipal playground for children.

When the New York city government voted, back in 1887, to set aside land for children of the slums to play on, it drew plenty of criticism down on itself.

These mutterings slowly died away, and as time passed, people began to see that money for playgrounds was money well spent, even from the strictly materialistic point of view.

Other cities copied the idea, as the taxpayer awakened to the fact that the playground was a fine municipal investment. Today the playground idea is so firmly established all across the land that no one dreams of questioning its worth.

So the anniversary of the playground is worth a bit of notice—not only for its own sake, but because it is one more landmark in that awakening of a sense of civic responsibility which is one of the brightest spots in our recent history.

It is good for us to reflect that only a few decades ago we took refuge in Cain's answer—"An I my brother's keeper"—when the dark places in our society were called to our attention.

The failure to provide play spots for children was only a sample. The same attitude prevailed all down the line. If depressions cut thousands of men off the payroll and reduced them to destitution, society as a whole failed to recognize any responsibility in the matter.

If sudden shifts in the economic tides left agriculture high and dry, so that farmers went broke by the thousands and foodstuffs sold for less than it cost to produce them—well, that was too bad for the farmer, of course, but the city man didn't need to bother his head about it.

We have got past all those notions in the last few decades, just as we have got past the notion that society need not provide places for children to play. We have begun to realize, in other words, that we are our brothers' keepers, after all, whether we like to be or not; that society is a unit, and that a decent regard for one another's misfortunes is the price of progress.

As a landmark in that change, this playground anniversary is worth a little thought.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Standing on the afterdeck of a customs cutter the other morning as she raced toward the lower harbor, I glanced up suddenly and gasped from the thrill that always accompanies a sight of the New York skyline.

That is one of the most over-emphasized and written-about features of New York, yet, like recurrent electrical shocks, it never fails to impress and hold you.

Forty minutes or so later, having transferred to an incoming liner from the Argentine, I was prowling through the ship looking for an American rancher who was coming home after 20 years in the South American Pampa country.

"That's a noble bird, isn't it?" I broke in, introducing myself. "Yes, it is," he said. "You'd never think anything could be quite like it."

"Where's the old Platiron building?" he wanted to know. "There it is—it used to be one of the seven wonders, but it's almost dwarfed now, isn't it?"

"Tell me, after 20 years in the Argentine, how does it seem to come up the harbor and catch a glimpse of something like this?"

He swung around and regarded me with amazement. "Twenty years in the Argentine? You've got me mixed up. I live in New York. I haven't been away from my office in the Platiron building more than a month at a time in 15 years."

So They Say: America's prime problem must be solved before we can claim to have developed a satisfactory system of government.

People You Know

For sheer daring and precipitous beauty, the imagination of a small child has no equal, and if a child has no imagination and cannot tell impossible stories based on the vaguest, meagerest facts, he may be as unfortunate as the adult who has no sense of humor. Here is a story told by Darrel Husted after he came home from the religious school at the Catholic church one day this week:

Darrel said that a bird flew into the church through the open door (and that much of the story really happened) and lit on the shoulder of the sister who was teaching the children.

The kind-faced sister regarded the friendly bird as if they were old-time friends, and they seemed to converse silently before the sister said, "Sing for me little bird!"

How's Your Health?

A MAJOR PLAGUE One hundred and one years ago the French physician, Jean Baptiste Bouillaud, announced what he termed the "law of coincidence." According to this law, serious heart disease frequently develops in individuals who have suffered acute inflammation of the joints.

What Bouillaud considered coincidental has since been shown to be the common manifestations of one disease—rheumatic fever. In the century that has passed since he first identified the disease, we have learned much about its prevalence and its various manifestations.

It is estimated that approximately a million individuals are suffering from rheumatic heart disease in the United States today. Among the chronic infectious diseases, it ranks third as a cause of death, being surpassed only by tuberculosis and syphilis.

Rheumatic fever is a disease of the young—its onset is commonly between the ages of 5 and 12. The average age at death of those affected who die of rheumatic fever is 30. Rheumatic fever is a major plague.

The specific causes of rheumatic fever remain unknown. However, statistical, social and economic studies suggest that economic status and environment have an important bearing on the disease. Rheumatic fever appears to be essentially an affliction of the poorer classes.

From these observations we derive one suggestion for its prevention. As Dr. Mark U. Schultz of the U. S. public health service recently said: "There is indeed reason to believe that this disease would prevent a much less formidable problem if adequate food, clothing and housing were available for children."

Rheumatic fever is an insidious disease. It may do irreparable damage before its existence is even suspected. To overcome this hazard, all children should be given thorough examinations, with special attention to the heart. This precaution is especially indicated for the children of "rheumatic families," for such children are more than twice as likely to develop rheumatic heart disease, as are those of non-rheumatic families.

Although the cause of rheumatic fever remains unknown and we lack a specific remedy, the disease has declined substantially in recent years.

Q. Which is the most valuable horse racing in America this year? B. S.

A. War Admiral is said to be. This is not entirely because of his past performances on the track, but also because of future racing and his possibilities as a potential sire after his racing days are over.

Q. For what country did the United States coin money last year? A. E. S.

A. For Cuba, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Venezuela, Costa Rica, Columbia, and San Salvador. This coinage totaled 72,180,449 pieces.

Q. How many states have laws against hitch-hiking? C. N.

A. Fifteen states and the District of Columbia. In addition, 24 states have laws releasing drivers from financial responsibility for such passengers in case of injury, except when willfully inflicted.

Q. How much money is spent in a year for medical care in the United States? S. T.

A. Dr. Alexis Carrel estimates the sum at $3,500,000,000.

Q. What kind of animal is an okapi? W. M.

A. This is the native African name for a recently discovered animal of the giraffe family (Oceapia johnstoni). The first complete skin sent to Europe was received in England from Sir H. H. Johnston in 1901.

Q. What is the name of Archibald MacLachlan's poetic drama that was given on the radio with Burgess Meredith in the cast? H. W.

A. It is entitled The Fall of the City and is now available in book form.

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK

The other day I listened to a very able speech delivered by a young man whose ideas of war were good and effectively expressed. One statement he made caused us to wonder if the munition makers were organized during the World War.

The speaker also made clear the fact that while we were fighting to make the world safe for democracy, there were more democracies at the time of the war than there are today. When we review the issues of that great struggle, not a single cause for which we went to battle is as sound as today.

BOOK A DAY

By BRUCE CATTON The typical American drug store carries 1,940 different packaged medicines and 1,651 different toilet preparations—56 brands of tooth paste, for instance, 312 laxatives, 111 cold creams, 132 antiseptics and 77 cough syrups.

How is the innocent customer ever to know which of these preparations will really be good for him and which will not? He can go to the state university, of course, and enroll for the full course in the College of Pharmacy.

Mr. Ephraim takes the point that if you know how your body functions, what the various symptoms of ill-health mean and what drugs and cosmetics can and cannot do for you, you can shop much more intelligently. So he sets out to provide that information.

First of all, he says, understand the limits of self-medication. Select a competent and honest doctor, see him once a year, and confine your use of home remedies to the simplest of ailments. In case of doubt, see your doctor.

The bulk of his book consists of a description of the parts of the body for which we usually attempt home treatment—like hair, the teeth, the feet, the skin, and so on. He discusses indigestion, constipation, reducing diets, antiseptics and the like, and tells you what you can and cannot do about the common cold.

Mr. Ephraim is not a debunker and he doesn't try to "expose" anyone. He is simply handing out a large dose of common sense, and his book strikes me as sensible and highly valuable.

A Barrier to Dangerous Driving

California's most recent experiment in safe highways is examined by a curious motorist, above, on the arterial between Los Angeles and Pomona. The continuous center barrier consists of oiled gravel, rounded to a height of four inches. Rougher than the pavement, it separates two 10 and 11-foot lanes on each side.

JOSEPH'S KINDNESS TO HIS KIN
Text: Genesis 46:1-7, 28-30; 50:24-26
By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D.
Editor of Advance

The story of Joseph reaches a further stage, and a beginning of tragedy in years to come that neither the old patriarch, Jacob, nor his successful and powerful son in Egypt, could foresee.

How closely success and tragedy are associated in history in the lives of individuals and families. Here was Jacob, going down in his old age, carried by his sons with their little ones and their wives in the wagons which Pharaoh had sent, to a great welcome and preferment in Egypt, under the influence and power of the flourishing Joseph, a power in the land even greater than Pharaoh, his master.

There is a great pageant in the picture of Joseph making ready his chariot and going up to Goshen to meet his father; and nothing could surpass the simple words of the story that describe the meeting as Joseph, presenting himself to his father, "fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while."

Jacob himself was experiencing emotion too deep for utterance. All that he could say to Joseph was, "Now let me die, since I have seen thy face, that thou art yet alive."

Yet it was not many years, as the eras of history go, until this colorful and emotional descent into Egypt had become the first step in tragedy, as a ruler arose who "knew not Joseph" and the children of Israel fell under the bondage of a hard and grievous taskmaster.

Cut into 1-4 inch cubes. Combine with mayonnaise whitened with lemon juice. Use a large bowl lined with lettuce leaves. Place the chicken and mayonnaise mixture in the center. Then the fun begins. MODERN MENUS

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Service Staff Writer

Out in Hollywood, the movie stars keep down their figures by exercise and run them up by fancy eating. This version of a simple salad for luncheon might explain their taste for foods with a touch of difference.

Ham Bowl Salad
(4 to 6 servings)

Hearts of lettuce, hearts of celery, 1 bunch watercress and chicory, 1 cup diced baked ham, 3 tomatoes, 2 hard cooked eggs.

In a large bowl toss 1-2 head lettuce torn into good sized pieces. Chop the celery, watercress and some chicory together and mix with diced ham. Add tomatoes, quartered, and serve with this dressing: juice 1 lemon, 1-2 cup Italian olive oil, garlic. Rub a small bowl with garlic. Pour in both lemon juice and oil. Beat with egg beater until slightly thickened and season to taste. Pour this over salad and mix well. Then garnish salad with chopped parsley and sliced hard cooked eggs.

That's what Mary Brian eats when she goes to the Brown Derby in Hollywood. Irene Dunne goes there for a chicken salad.

Chicken Salad Derby
(4 to 6 servings)

Five pound fat hen, 2 cups tender celery, 2 cups mayonnaise, lemon juice.

Simmer hen until tender. Use meat only from breast and second joints.

SUFFERED 40 YEARS FROM CONSTIPATION

"For 40 years, I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its evils. Finally, I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since that time (nearly 10 years ago), I have not taken any medicine. I have been well and entirely free from constipation."—Mrs. I. H. Kendig, R. F. D. No. 2, Lancaster, Penna.

Don't let common constipation ruin your life. You can end it safely, without using drugs that soon lose their effectiveness.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—with every meal in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or fruit, or cook into appetizing recipes. ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water and gently clears away the wastes that cause headaches, tiredness and serious illness.

The vitamin B in ALL-BRAN helps tone up the entire intestinal tract. Buy ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Charging Strikers Halted Mail

Demanding a senatorial investigation of alleged "deliberate tampering" with and stopping of the mails on the part of steel strikers, Senator H. Styles Bridges (Rep., N. H.), is pictured at left as he appeared before the Postoffice Committee with a bundle of evidence. With him stand First Assistant Postmaster General William H. Howes, center, and Senator Kenneth McKellar (Dem., Tenn.), committee chairman.

On Capitol Hill

By HARRILL E. LEE. AUSTIN, June 18 (AP)—The rumor that Governor Allred would resign next month to accept the proposed new federal judgeship in South Texas would be definitely spiked if the United States Senate adopts the amendment put on by Rep. Martin Dies of Jasper. The amendment required the judge to be a resident of the district, thereby eliminating Allred, whose home is Wichita Falls. It previously had been considered probably a resident of the district would be selected because of precedent but some believed an exception might be made.

Allred's name was not mentioned in debate on the amendment on the floor of the national house. "Certainly no one ought to be in favor of importing some parliamentarian and making him a federal judge in a district in which he never lived," Dies said, "when there are plenty of lawyers capable of filling the position in the district to be served."

The report that Allred would relinquish the governor's office received a setback several weeks ago when he indicated he would not call a tax session of the legislature until fall. Those who know Allred believe that if he contemplated resigning he would hold the lawgivers in session almost continuously until they acted on his tax program.

The governor has said all along he was not an applicant for the federal judgeship. There was a noticeable letdown at the special session of the legislature. After passage of the bill repealing certificate betting on horse races.

The track betting controversy had stirred the state for years, and after the lawmakers put that behind them fire was lacking in the other anti-gambling moves.

Wounds made during the repeal fight continued to smart through the succeeding days of the session. Some advocates of repeal were resentful because a sub-committee appointed to study bills aimed at gambling other than that at race tracks contained a majority of anti-repealists.

House members drew lots to determine the order of introduction of bills proposing repeal of track betting and later repeated the process on bills strengthening the laws against other forms of wagering. The use of the method at an anti-gambling session led to much "wise-cracking" on the House floor.

BLIGHT ENDANGERS A BILLION ELM TREES WASHINGTON (AP)—The Dutch elm disease is threatening elm shade trees valued in the millions of dollars.

The American Forestry association officials say that destruction of a billion trees is imminent unless prompt steps are taken to eradicate the disease. The blight already has made much progress in the east.

HEROES ARE MADE - NOT BORN

'Ought' Legislation To Be Pushed By President

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—"Ought" legislation means the same thing in the administration lexicon as "must" legislation meant in previous years. But someone thought it might be easier to get "ought" bills passed than "must" bills because the word didn't sound so dictatorial. So they changed the name and continued to use the same old methods at Capitol Hill.

The long lull in Congress has tended to obscure the fact that if Roosevelt gets the "ought" stuff passed in compromised form, this so-called "sitdown" Congress will have done more to rejigger the federal system than any previous one.

Odds still are that the administration will get a relatively large job of what it wants. Congress has a way of passing a boatload of vital legislation almost in the twinkling of an eye, after which it sometimes takes the country weeks to figure out exactly what it did and didn't do.

The outstanding items on the "ought" list are the court plan, the wages and hours bill, the government reorganization program and the Norris bill to create seven regional planning developments corresponding more or less to TVA.

At Least Two More. The wage-hour bill is expected to pass. The Norris bill is likely to go over until next session.

The word "compromise" in respect to the court plan should be used in quotation marks. The minimum which Roosevelt could accept without taking a licking would be a plan which would give him the appointment of two new justices in addition to the filling of the vacancy left by Justice Van Devanter. He still is grimly determined not to take a licking, and if he makes good his private threats he will either get at least those three new appointments or carry the court issue into the 1938 congressional campaign.

At the moment there is no certainty that he can get such a compromise out of the Senate or that he will accept it if he can.

Outstanding feature of the administration-sponsored compromise on reorganization is elimination of the section which would have given the President control over functions of the independent agencies such as the Federal Trade, Interstate Commerce, Maritime, Federal Power, Federal Communications and other commissions. Congress would also be given a 60-day period in which it could veto any transfer, abolition or consolidation of a federal bureau.

But the general accounting office and the post controller general would be abolished in favor of a new set-up which would eliminate the situation which enabled John McCarr to veto expenditures in the executive branch. Congress would have post-audit privileges.

The proposed new Department of Public Works would be eliminated from the program, but a new Department of Public Welfare with a

Co-Ed Wife

Chapter IX: When Coral awoke on the morning following the prom, she reviewed the events of the night before with a kind of wonder that so much could have occurred in such a short period of time.

"Don't get so excited," Donna said warily. "I didn't say he was going to tell anyone here, though I wouldn't be surprised if he did. But he kept making noises about some money your father owed him and a lot of things like that."

"Well," Coral said slowly, "you may as well know the truth. I guess my father does owe Hoyt's dad a considerable sum of money and Hoyt has always said that if I didn't marry him he'd make his father call in that loan. I'll admit he had me badly frightened, but to tell you the truth, the more I think about it the harder it is for me to believe that Mr. Marquis would be influenced in such a matter by his son's selfish desire for revenge."

Donna yawned. "Maybe you're right. Time will tell. But didn't Hoyt say anything to you last night about anything which Hoyt is planning to do with my marriage and cause Hoyt to do some rash thing to hurt us all. I can't make up my mind whether you're telling the truth about all this business or just talking to get me excited. What is it?"

Donna sat up very straight. "I'm telling the truth all right. I wouldn't bother to make up things to see you squirm when I have so much fact at my fingertips."

Coral walked across the room to the bed and put her hands on Donna's shoulders. "I'm sorry I lost my temper, Donna. But can't you see the strain I'm under? If you know anything which Hoyt is planning to do which he hasn't told me, please tell me now. Can't you see what it means to me? My whole lifetime of happiness is at stake. I'm begging you, Donna! Tell me what you know."

Donna pulled away from her. Her eyes narrowed, jaw clenched. "I'll tell you nothing."

"Donna, please!" Coral was near to tears.

Her roommate shifted uneasily. "Forget it, Coral. I was just teasing you."

"Are you sure, Donna? Don't lie to me."

"Of course I'm sure. Stop fussing about it. I just wanted to have a little fun. I like Hoyt, and I think you've been pretty mean to him. I was silly to tell you such a line. Pretend I never said it."

Coral relaxed. "I hope you're not fooling me, Donna. I couldn't stand it, if this situation got more complex than it is right now." She was too tired to notice Donna's calculating look or the sly smile which flickered on her lips for an instant.

They were silent for a moment till Donna said, "Did you see the papers this morning?"

"No, why?"

"They riddled the Crossroads Tavern last night. Somebody got into a fight and reported it to the police. Hoyt told me you left just when the fight started."

Coral took a deep breath. "Am I glad we got out of there. We..."

A voice called from the corridor. "Coral, you're wanted on the phone."

She left the room and ran down the stairs. It was David, she knew. He had promised to call her this morning. She picked up the receiver. "Hello, Coral?" David speaking. Listen, darling..."

She interrupted him. "David, I knew it was you. Can you come over? I've no classes till two, and a lot of things to tell you."

"I'll be over all right. Coral, you must listen to me. Something awful has happened..."

"David," she cried, "what is it? What's the matter?"

"Hang on tight, sweetheart. The process, Maxwell's Bendorff's and mine has been stolen! They think I look it to sell. Don't say a word to anyone until you've talked to me. We're both in this..."

WOMAN DEVISES WAY TO CAN MILK AT HOME

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. B. F. Johnson, Choctaw, Oklahoma, club woman, has devised a method of canning milk to use on the farm when pasture grasses are dead and "Bossy" goes dry.

By thoroughly cooling whole sweet milk, putting it in jars and processing it at 15 pounds pressure for 45 minutes, she obtains canned milk that can be used for cooking. Although the milk turns pink when processed, Mrs. Johnson says the color in no way affects the value of the product.

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

PRIEST WHO EXPLORED THE MISSISSIPPI

THE Mississippi river, which Ferdinand de Soto discovered in 1541, was a mystery to white men until Pere Jacques Marquette, young Jesuit priest, ventured down the stream in 1673, with Louis Joliet and a party of five white followers.

Father Marquette, born in 1637, had gained the affection of the Indians around Lake Michigan and now sought to pacify the tribes to the south, while locating the mouth of the "Father of Waters."

In two birchbark canoes, the seven explorers set sail. First the Illinois Indians, then other tribes, were made friends, while the explorers dared the dangerous currents of the river. Finally, learning from the Indians where the water flowed to, and that hostile Spaniards awaited them, they turned back. Before they reached their destination, Marquette died of malaria.

This event marks the first of the series of stamps which the United States issued in 1898, on the occasion of the Trans-Mississippi Exposition in Omaha.

Texas to Launch Concerted Drive Against Diseases

AUSTIN, June 18 (AP)—Texas soon will launch a concerted attack on venereal and other diseases.

The program will be part of a campaign aimed principally at syphilis, tuberculosis and malaria.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, is making a survey for the location of six district health offices which will constitute control points in the war against these diseases.

The Legislature appropriated funds to establish the offices, which will be manned by a medical director, a sanitary engineer, a drug and food inspector, a nurse and a stenographer.

A major function of district headquarters will be education of the public in disease prevention. They will cooperate with county and city health units in distributing information on approved methods of sanitation and hygiene.

The district offices also will provide a means for locating potential health hazards in the cities. They will cooperate with county and city health units in distributing information on approved methods of sanitation and hygiene.
