NEW SCHOOL ELECTION IS NEEDED

OIL OUTLOOK IS BETTER AS HUMBLE WITHDRAWS ORDER SHERIFF PHILLIPS OF BECKHAM COUNTY, OKLA. IS MURDERED

"That's gold in these here prairies."

Pampa fact: The Pampa (Central high) Harvesters will enter Class A athletics next fall for the first time because the high school enrollment has exceeded the 500-mark.

A county-wide bond election has been called for August 2. It is proposed to vote $3,500,000. The petition for this election was prepared and filed with the county commissioners by some county residents who oppose the $2,000,000 bond issue proposed for precincts 1, 2 and 3.

It is apparent now that both elections will be held. The first, on August 2, will be defeated. Few of those whose names were on the petition will support the issue they have put forward. The Pampa Board of City Development attempted to interest many of these same individuals in a county-wide bond issue. The invitation to participate in the movement was declined with the statement that Precinct 4 did not have valuations sufficient to justify more paving there. In other words, the bigger bond issue is apparently proposed in an attempt to muddy the water and to defeat the three-precinct issue. There will be no disappointment when the big issue loses.

North county people wish more paving, and the heavy valuations are in this precinct. The $2,000,000 bond issue would be upon the basis of about $28,000,000 valuations, while the $3,500,000 issue would have only about $2,000,000 of additional value behind it. In other words, the bigger issue would demand a high tax, while the smaller issue would be based on almost as heavy a valuation and would require not nearly so large a tax.

Unless conditions change, the logical thing seems to be this: 1. Defeat the bigger issue on August 2, and (2) vote the $2,000,000 in an election to be held somewhat later. The county-wide plan would be better if the taxes could be held down and if those advocating it were really sincere, but there seem to be only two camps, one in fact proposing the bigger issue but trying to defeat both elections and the other attempting to pave the roads with the smallest possible tax through the $2,000,000 issue.

Probably no greater shock and disappointment could be imagined than that the proponents of the $3,500,000 bond issue would get through the election carry. They were invited to help plan means of solving the county's road problems, and spokesmen for McLean and Albrecht plainly stated that they appreciated the invitation but felt they did not have enough valuations to justify more paving now.

The election of August 2 has all the earmarks of political horse-play. The paving enthusiasts who have been working with the state highway department in an earnest effort to arrive at a workable plan would urge the voters to "kill and forget" the $3,500,000 bond issue, which has no real bearing on the matter.

SIX WOUNDS ARE INFLICTED BY ASSASSIN

Body Is Found by Deputy Last Night

NO REASON IS GIVEN; NO CLUE

Officer Had Been in Aggressive Pro Campaign

SAYRE, Okla., June 21. (P)—The body of T. C. Phillips, 45, sheriff of Beckham county showing several bullet wounds, was found in his office here tonight.

The body was found by M. L. Ingram, under-sheriff, who said he could not describe any reason for the slaying. Indications were, Ingram said, that Phillips was called to the door of his office, and that when he opened it, his assassin fired. Six shots took effect.

Phillips was finishing his first term as sheriff and was a candidate for re-election. He had been active in enforcement of prohibition. Phillips' gun was in his holster when his body was found, and one thumb was caught in a vest arm-hole. The firing had been done at close range. One bullet entered the neck just below the chin, and another his cheek.

The town was crowded with the usual Saturday night crowd but only two persons were found who said they heard the shots. They were Ingram and a youth working at a filling station near the court house. They rushed to the sheriff's office but found no clue. They said they believed they saw persons running from the court house but were not sure.

Officers sent for bloodhounds from the state reformatory at Granite to take up the trail. They were expected to arrive within a few hours.

Some officials expressed the belief that Phillips' fight against bootleggers in the county were directly responsible for his death. He captured a large still yesterday and another today.

Phillips lived in a suite of rooms in the court house.

Temple with 103 degrees, was the state's "hottest," with Paris following close with 101 degrees surpassing its previous record temperature this year of 96. At Dallas, the temperature was 95 at 2 p. m. Waco reported a maximum temperature of 94. San Antonio of 91, and Fort Worth, 96.

One Dead, Another Hurt in Wreck

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 21. (P)—One person was killed and a number of others injured, at least one seriously, when the engine and one coach of The Sportsman, crack Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train enroute from Newport News to Detroit, left the rails tonight at Hawk's Nest, 60 miles from here. The engine and a combination baggage and passenger coach overturned and two other passenger coaches were derailed.

Homer Haskell of Huntington, W. Va., the engineer, was killed and the fireman was seriously injured. Information from railroad sources here was that several passengers and the express messenger also were injured.

Lyle Beavers of Chelsea, Okla., is visiting his brother, Merle Beavers.

Ma's Arm Hurt by Hand Shaking

WAXAHACHIE, June 21. (P)—A swollen arm, caused by too much hand-shaking, has prevented Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, candidate for governor, from making several speeches, former Gov. James E. Ferguson, her husband, said here today.

Mrs. Ferguson wore a heavy gold band ring on her right hand the day she opened her campaign at Belton, Gov. Ferguson said, and the constant pressing of friends' hand clasps injured the fingers, causing swelling to go up her arm. However she will be back on the stump in a few days, he said. In the meantime, Mr. Ferguson is doing the family speaking.

MORE STATEMENTS TO AFFECT NEW HOSPITAL

WASHINGTON, June 21. (P)—Director Hines of the veterans bureau announced tonight that the federal hospitalization board had informed President Hoover of a hearing today on protests against location of the new Texas veterans' neuropsychiatric hospital at Waco, but said no final recommendation had been made because the matter had not yet been settled. Hines said the board had withheld final decision because of requests for more time in which to file additional statements. Following their receipt, he said, final recommendations would be made to Mr. Hoover, the location at Waco would be confirmed or the matter would be re-opened.

Wilcox Brings in Its Combs-Worley Test As Gusher

Just after the announcement was made that Humble Oil and Refining company had decided to rescind its intention of withdrawing as a crude purchaser in Gray and five other North Texas Oil and Gas company counties, Wilcox Oil and Gas company brought in a 6,000-barrel well in section 35, block 3, and Gray county operators announced that the decrease in daily production for the last week was only 360 barrels compared with a daily loss of 5,000 last week.

The rescinding order had been anticipated for a week. Humble officials, members of the Independent Petroleum association of Texas, representatives of the Texas railroad commission were in session at Houston most of last week discussing problems relative to the disposal of Panhandle oil. The withdrawal order had been hanging like a threatening cloud over the oil fields for the last two weeks. Production began to decline as soon as the order was announced, although it failed to stop an orgy of drilling and leasing activities in the Pampa field southwest of town.

This statement will appear in the News in connection with the placing of his name in the political column in this paper. DRUG STORE IS ROBBED BY MAN FRIDAY NIGHT

An unidentified and unapprehended man Friday night robbed the safe at Father's Drug Store No. 2 of approximately $52.

He entered the store by the rear door, opened the safe, which was closed, but not locked, and took the metal money box without being seen by patrons and clerks of the store.

He was seen opening the box at the side of the new city hall. Two men sitting in a car nearby became curious, and at their approach the man fled, leaving the money box and a number of "cold" checks, but taking the $52.

Big Williamson Well

TAYLOR, June 21. (P)—The biggest well of the new Williamson county oil field blew in shortly before midnight Friday when Andy Anderson's cameran No. 3 on the M. V. Lawrence tract came in as a gusher with a measure 15,000-barrel production. It is located west of the discovery well and 14 miles south of Taylor. Anderson has brought in three gushers on this 20 acre tract out of three wells drilled.

Paul McFarland and Jack Hardy have taken employment with the J. M. Radford Grocery company.

When First 1930 Wheat Sold

R. A. Smith (left, above) and Clarence Barrett smiled as they looked over the first load of 1930 wheat delivered here. Mr. Smith marketed the load June 14 at the Pampa Grain company elevator, where Mr. Barrett paid $1 per bushel because it was the first new grain. The test Mr. Barrett is seen holding showed that the wheat was moist but of good quality and weighing 59 pounds. It was raised a mile southwest of the city.

ROY ALBRITTON HELD UNDER $20,000 BOND, WHICH HAD NOT BEEN MADE LATE YESTERDAY

At 6 o'clock last night, Roy Albritton, charged with possession and sale of intoxicating liquor and conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition act, had failed to make a $20,000 bail bond which would secure his release from jail. He was in custody of federal officers at Amarillo.

The bond was set at a hearing before the United States commissioner Saturday morning. Albritton pleaded not guilty to all the charges filed against him. One man who appeared to sign his bond, failed to qualify. Another, J. E. Wright, was accepted as a bondsman.

Bond of H. A. Cornett, who was arrested with Albritton by six federal officers, in a raid at the Quaker drug store No. 2 Friday night, was set at $2,500. He also pleaded not guilty.

Officers seized 141 pints of whiskey, gin and rum, $5,900 in gold of which it cannot at this time dispose of and will therefore be forced to store for an indefinite period. The Humble company, however, is willing to carry the loss incident to storage of such unneeded.

Auxiliary Gives Money to Army

A check for $15, donated by the Eight and Forty salon, and marked "for rehabilitation work," was given Ensign Edgar King, following his return from Dallas, where he and Mrs. King spent several days attending the annual young people's conference.

Upon accepting the check, Ensign King said that the Salvation Army has many calls for assistance from needy ex-service men, but that the greatest number of requests are from transients, whose cases are investigated by the local American Legion post before their claims of being veterans are credited. One local veteran and the family of another who died as a result of gas and shell shock are on the permanent list of those whom the Army aids, Mr. King said.

Shortly before receiving the check from the Eight and Forty, which was sent through the office of The Daily News, Mr. King had interviewed a veteran at the Army headquarters. The Salvation Army could make excellent use of the $15 check within the stipulations of the women's organization, according to the officer.

SMALL BOND ISSUE TO BE ASKED SOON

Additions to Require $25,000 More Funds

ENROLLMENT IS MUCH HIGHER

Trustees Show How Current Money Spent

That a supplemental school bond issue of $25,000 will be needed to complete the building additions and to provide facilities for an enrollment increase of 872 pupils has been determined by the trustees of the Pampa Independent district. An election to vote this amount will be called soon, it was decided.

The recent $200,000 bond issue for new buildings was called and the amount agreed upon before the annual scholastic census was taken. At that time it was estimated that the schools next year would show an increase of 400 pupils. But the census taken during March proved a surprise in that it showed an increase of 872 pupils. This unexpected increase made it necessary to enlarge upon the proposed building program after the bonds had been voted, by adding more rooms to both the new North Ward school and the West Ward buildings.

Further investigation by the board members and the architects disclosed the fact that the present heating systems would then be inadequate for the enlarged buildings, and in two instances entirely new systems will be necessary.

Much New Paving The school has, and still is, being called upon to put in much paving, and this has now reached a total for this year of over $8,500. As liens or mortgages are not permissible on school properties, it is necessary to pay cash for all paving. However, this method is a saving, as 5 per cent cash discount is received, and the 8 per cent interest saved.

Below is a list of the expenditures which will be required from the $200,000 issue, showing that approximately $20,000 additional must be had. If $25,000 in bonds is voted, only enough of these bonds will be sold to complete the work as outlined, and it is believed by the board that this amount of bonds can be sold to local investors.

The list:

- Building contracts already let, $143,838.
- Plumbing and heating contract in effect, $29,200.
- Architect's fees on above buildings, $8,650.
- Land purchased for sites, $9,750.
- Street paving (estimated), $8,500.
- Moving and remodeling buildings for garage, $1,500.
- Building brick veneer, room and remodeling old garage into vocational agriculture dept., $3,000.
- Remodeling and making fireproof the boiler room in high school building, $3,000.
- Furniture and equipment for new buildings, $10,000.
- Moving two more frame cottages and purchasing sites for same, $2,000.
- Grading grounds and filling in around new buildings, $1,000.
- Total proposed expenditures, $220,598.

It is probable that one additional new truck will be necessary, and possibly two. In this event, the entire $25,000 bond issue will be needed.

MAY BAR BOLTERS FROM SENATE VOTE

The party pledge in Texas, cause of much dissension and lately a Supreme Court decision which tends to lessen its effects, is not the only regulation governing action of the voters at the polls.

A little known statute in the Texas election laws is the following: "No person shall vote for any candidate for the nomination for United States senator who does not belong to the same political party with which the voter affiliates and when any voter attempts to vote for any person as a candidate for the nomination for United States senator and is challenged he shall, before being permitted to vote, make an affidavit that he is a bona fide member of said party and if he voted in the preceding general election held for the election of state officials, he voted for the nominees of the party whose ticket he desires to vote."

While this law will probably be overlooked in most instances, it is applicable insofar as the vote for U. S. senators is concerned. The day is not in sight, however, when strict registration along party lines will be invoked to keep the sheep from the goats, politically speaking.

THE RAIL COMMISSION BARS BOOZE

Austin dispatches tell of a stringent ruling against liquor just passed by the state railroad commission.

The order bans drinking of liquor during office hours or not, as the case may be. It also states that making home brew or being around when and where liquor is being made would constitute grounds for dismissal from service of the state.

As long as Texas has a liquor law, her servants should not be permitted to violate it and still keep their jobs. The dignity of public office breaks down and the stability of government is threatened when laws are openly disregarded by public officials and employes.

The state railroad commission is composed of Pat Neff, C. V. Terrell, and Lon A. Smith.

PHILLIPS AND GULF FIGHT IT OUT TODAY; MAGNOLIAS PLAY TEAMS WILL SETTLE THEIR BIG ARGUMENT

TEAMS WILL SETTLE THEIR BIG ARGUMENT

Baseball games scheduled for this afternoon at 3 o'clock:

Gulf Guns vs. Phillips "66" at Gun Park, five miles south of Pampa at Gulf camp.

Magnolia Oilers vs. Amarillo Smelters at Magnolia park, end of East Kingsmill avenue.

The Phillips-Gulf game has received the most publicity and has excited the most interest locally, but the clash between the Magnolias and the Smelters is certain to be good since the participants represent what is called the best team in Amarillo and one of the best local teams. All four teams are among the best in the Panhandle and it is not unlikely that the winner of the Amarillo tournament will be one of them.

The "66"-Gun battle will bring to Gun Park practically every employe of the two companies in Gray and Hutchinson counties, and in addition hundreds of local baseball fans who have become intensely interested in what members of both clubs declare will be "a battle for supremacy." Tickets have been on sale for four days and Managers Moon of the Phillips and Terrell of the Guns report that a crowd of 1,000 is practically assured.

The present vehement rivalry between the two clubs began last Monday afternoon when both teams claimed a victory after an eight and one-half inning baseball game. The Guns argued they won the game 5 to 4 which was the score when the teams quit playing. Phillips claimed the game because they did not play but half of their part of the eight innings. Yesterday Phillips said their last word relative to the disputed game. They quoted a letter from Glenn S. Hall of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram who referred them to Rule No. 25 of the guide book. Briefly this rule holds that when a full inning is not played the score of the previous inning is counted. This would give Phillips the game. The Guns last word was: "Let 'em have the game; we'll beat them tomorrow. Anyway, it's not to their credit to quit a game in the middle of an inning in order not to get beat."

The Magnolias have several new men in their lineups. One of these is Darnell of Dallas who will toss to the Smelters tomorrow. The other is Kazelski, left-handed first baseman, also from Dallas. Darnell is ballyhooed to be the best pitcher in these parts. Monday, C. Robinson of the Rotan Yellowhammers will report for practice. McKnight will be absent from his first base position tomorrow. He is on his vacation.

The Magnolias want to make it clear that they won a nine-inning game from the Phillips team and can win another one by as big a score if they get the chance. They further aver that the Gulf is scared of them and has never given them a game. Said Manager Ward of the Magnolias, "We think we have it over both teams and we are eager to prove it. Our record shows we're the strongest team in this section. We're ready to play either the Gulf or Phillips at a moments notice."

The Smelters of the American Smelting and Refining company recently gave the Amarillo Cats a hoisting and are considered as a leading contender for the Panhandle championship. The following Magnolias will be lined-up against the Smelters: Jimmie Baldwin 2b, Mitchell ss, Foy 3b, Shriver lf, Lister cf, Ward rf, Darnell p, Kazelski 1b, Homer Blankenship, and Guy Edwards, fielder.

Manager Moon of the Phillips reported the following roster for the game today: Forrester lf, Kirkpatrick cf, Carter rf, Beeson 1b, Locke 2b, Wight ss, Keith 3b, Browning c, Rains p.

Manager Terrell of the Guns retallied by listing his crew: Edelen and Coop, pitchers, Sullivan c, Munds 2b, Davis 1b, Reynolds rf, Hickey ss, Morgan lf, Khunke 3b, and Pape cf. Both line-ups are subject to change, the managers carefully stated, implying that they are not announcing the identity of the pitchers and batters they have recruited for the event.

Many Pampa Fans See Clingman in Victory Over Unpopular Kopecky

Several hundred howling Pampa fans saw Otis Clingman, local favorite, defeat Joe Kopecky in the main preliminary to the Farley-Reynolds wrestling event at Amarillo Friday night.

Clingman, meeting the Bohemian cotton picker for the fourth time, won his first victory from the tough and terrible showman. The Pampa boy took the aggressive from the start and chased Kopecky all over the ring before downing him with an airplane spin in 27 minutes. As usual, Kopecky was very rough, but Clingman went through the fists and downed his man. The crowd was Clingman's.

In the other preliminary, Roy Rob won over Lee Meyers. Roy was groggy and holding to the ropes at the end of 22 minutes. With Meyers pulling him off the ropes, Roy suddenly turned loose and fell on his opponent, knocking him out.

To many it seemed as if Cal Farley was within an inch of the world welterweight championship as he flipped the title holder with headlocks and flying mares after both had obtained one fall. Jack Reynolds, the champ, rested limply on the ropes while Referee Harry Meyers counted nine. Farley rushed in, but Reynolds grabbed him around the waist, let his hands slip down, and applied an excruciating leg split which ended Cal's challenge. The last fall was won in 10 minutes.

Farley made the champ look bad in many of the 71 minutes that the first fall went. The champ, however, suddenly applied a Japanese toe hold which the challenger could not break.
Farley won the second fall in 13

The Husband Hunter

1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC. BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY Natalie Converse, jealous of her husband, quarrels over Bernadine Lamont. Alan seeks sympathy from his secretary, Phillipa West, who successfully schemes to arouse Natalie's suspicions, and she leaves Alan. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation, and Alan turns to Phillipa, who plays her part so cleverly that they soon become engaged.

Natalie writes Alan, informing him of her return. Phillipa, fearful of losing Alan, leaves home and takes an apartment, and he agrees to pay for the furnishings. Alan's meeting with Natalie, who brings her young sister, Florence, with her, leaves Alan hopeful, but baffled as to her intentions.

Now and then she glanced appraisingly at him, as she hurried back and forth between her tiny kitchenette and the combination dining and living room. His air of utter dejection pleased her.

She spoke to him and Alan absently-mindedly reached out a hand for a glass of tomato cocktail. He shivered slightly, for she had opened the windows to free the room of cooking smoke.

Phillipa waited, tense and fearful. She realized clearly his anger with Natalie was too sudden and too passionate to be trusted. She doubted it would endure as he seemed to believe it would.

Phillipa uttered a little sound of pity, but she refrained from saying: "I told you so."

While he had talked, lost in his own interests, Phillipa had been doing a little thinking of her own. "So," she caustically commented to herself, "he really was going to throw me over and go back to his wife—just going to let me fade out gracefully, licked by discouragement."

"Black, please," he answered. She brought the dessert, baker's chocolate russe, without asking if he cared for it, and was rather thankful he left it untouched.

Phillipa left Alan to his thoughts while she prepared dinner. She knew well enough that they were bitter thoughts, the kind she wished him to have.

regarded her scrutinizingly. Natalie left her gaze uncomfortably. "He isn't here," Phillipa said shortly, and Natalie supposed she treated her so because of sympathy for Alan.

She had been afraid all night that she had betrayed her jealousy of Bernadine Lamont to Alan's secretary. Now she was certain of it. A dull red flush stained her cheeks and hope withdrew a little farther from her.

"Oh, yes, he was here," Phillipa answered coldly. She knew she was being reckless, but she did not care, or rather her irritation was routing her better judgment.

What Natalie did in Alan's office Phillipa did not know, but she grew more convinced as the time passed that she had acted foolishly toward Natalie. Suppose the quarrel should blow over, and things were to go on as they were now?

Sufferings of 15 Years Ended by New Konjola

Victim of Stomach and Kidney Ailments Found in Modern Medicine First And Only Relief

MR. T. A. WILKINSON
"For the past 15 years I suffered from stomach and kidney troubles," said Mr. T. A. Wilkinson, 1109 Johnson street, Amarillo. "The weakened condition of my kidneys caused me to get up several times during the night. Thus my rest and sleep was broken, and I always felt tired and worn-out. I could not eat solid foods at all. If I did, I was sure to suffer afterward with cramping pains in my stomach. I lost weight, became very nervous, and was greatly worried over my condition."

"Now, since taking the Konjola treatment, I am like a different man. My appetite is keen, and food digests better than it ever did. My kidneys have been strengthened and have regained their normal functioning. I am gaining in weight and sleep soundly all night, every night. I certainly wish I had found this wonderful Konjola years ago."

Many express amazement at the speed with which Konjola works. It does, but a course of from six to eight bottles is strongly recommended.

Konjola is sold in Pampa at the City Drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

High scores were made by Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Braly. Each received a favor, and Mrs. Bratton was consoled for low.

Flowers from the hostess' garden gave the keynote for a yellow and blue color theme, which was featured in the gift packages and dainty refreshments.

Retail Prices Adjusted to New Lower Levels

INDIVIDUAL CUSTOMER GETS IMMEDIATE BENEFITS SAYS EARL C. SAMS, PRESIDENT OF THE J. C. PENNEY COMPANY

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 21.—Material reductions in the base prices of a wide variety of articles have resulted in a general re-pricing of these items by our 1450 stores, with the new levels representing a substantial increase in the customer's buying power according to a statement released here today by Earl C. Sams, president of J. C. Penney company.

"Commodity prices, particularly in staple lines, have been declining for some time past," Mr. Sams states, and orders now being delivered to our stores are on a lower basis enabling us to pass on the consequent savings to our customers.

"There have been notable reductions so far in silk piece goods, silk hosiery and other items which have been affected by the general decline in the price of raw silk. Among these are flat crepes, georgettes, satin crepes and other silks which show very substantial reductions. Some of our own well known brands of silk hosiery are today priced lower than at any time since the War. "In men's and boy's work clothes equivalent reductions have been made by the manufacturers and these reductions are today reflected in the price tags on these items in our stores.

"A trend towards lower prices has been indicated by leaders in other industries and has been given considerable attention in trade and business magazines during the past month.

"In making these new low retail prices we feel we are bridging the gap between the new lower wholesale prices and the prices to the consuming public and are therefore contributing directly to the re-establishment of greater confidence both by the manufacturer and by the buying public.

"We are making these new prices available immediately.

"As a result of generally lowered prices on raw materials, we have been able either to reduce the selling price on much staple merchandise or to give to our customers better articles at the same prices.

"This readjustment in prices throughout our stores is a direct result of savings passed on from the mills and manufacturers, and now made available to our customers throughout the country."—Adv.

The Humble official states that his company will continue to purchase oil, "pending the result of the prorating effort now being made" by the independent operators to more equalize the supply of crude with the demand. Humble purchases about 11,000 barrels in the Panhandle daily.
Area Production Grows
Despite the decrease in Gray county, there was an increase in the Panhandle area of 1,391 barrels. The total daily production for the five oil producing counties of the Panhandle was 107,110 barrels.

American Guarded at Juarez Jail

EL PASO, June 21. (AP)—Soldiers with fixed bayonets walked the jail walls in Juarez today under specific orders to guard J. W. (Jeff) Meers, charged with the murder of Antonio Visconte, bartender, who was shot to death Wednesday night.

Other than to describe it as a "precautionary measure," police officials declined to explain the assignment of infantrymen to augment the regular jail personnel.

The union of bartenders, waiters and hotel workers were demanding justice be done their fellow-worker in Juarez courts. Meers said he took Visconte for Manuel Villareal, who, he claimed, killed his father.

The plant now runs 4,000 barrels of crude oil daily from the Dora Roberts pool in Howard county.

'Hold Everything' Comes to Rex

The advent of motion pictures photographed entirely in natural colors has introduced into the film industry far-reaching changes that are little realized, but which have entirely altered many of the factors that enter into production. It is not simply a case of bringing a color camera into the studio instead of the old-time black and white camera.

For one thing, the degree of illumination has been vastly increased, since twice as much light as formerly must be used on a set. Banks of great incandescent searchlights, mounted for the most part on platforms above the settings, are now placed together so it is possible to place them, and often two or three rows are used, one superimposed above the other.

The underlying reason for this is that the Technicolor cameras operate at twice the speed of the black and white cameras. At the normal speed established in late years, twenty-four pictures per second have been made of the action going on before the camera, but now the standard speed for color cameras involves the making of forty-eight separate photographs each second.

The make-up of the players has also been changed entirely, and "Technicolor makeup" bears little resemblance to that which has been in use since the beginning of the screen art.

Warner Bros. pioneers of Vitaphone, have pioneered in the making of all-color pictures, and the experts of the company, overcoming many difficulties of a highly technical nature, have succeeded in bringing to the screen the true value of colors. As a result pictures which have recently been made according to this new process are exceptionally beautiful.

The latest of these, and the most successful from the standpoint of actual results obtained, is "Hold Everything," the riotous musical comedy which comes to the Rex theatre today. This uproarious Vitaphone comedy is not only reproduced entirely in natural colors, but is all-talking and all-singing, and takes its place as one of the most interesting productions of the season.

NEGRO IS SHOT BY LARGE MOB AFTER OFFENSE

UNION, S. C., June 21. (AP)—Dan Jenkins of Beaufort, N. C., negro, was shot to death by a mob here this afternoon after he had been identified by two young white women as the man who attacked them earlier in the day.

A mob of about a thousand men had been searching for the negro since this morning, when the young women reported the attack.

Those who viewed Jenkins' body said it was "shot all to pieces." It was taken to Maple Ridge church, negro, where an inquest was called. The two women said they were walking together when Jenkins accosted them with a pistol. The younger woman tore her dress jerking away from the man, but he held the married woman at the point of his gun.

The younger woman told officers she then ran to spread the alarm and attracted the attention of one of her brothers. The youth attempted to come to the aid of his elder sister, she said, but the negro fired at him.

The boy, unarmed, fell, she said, and feigned death until the negro became frightened and left, giving him an opportunity to spread the

A mob quickly gathered with shot guns and pistols. County officers and rural policemen assisted in the search which was begun this morning and lasted until 3:30 p. m., when the negro was found.

Jenkins was taken before the two women and identified by them as their attacker. The mob, according to information from witnesses, then emptied valley after valley into the negro's body.

Governor John G. Richards was advised this morning of the attack and activity of the mob and immediately dispatched J. Austin Latimer, his private secretary, here to mobilize the local National Guard unit. Before the Guardsmen could be called out, the lynching occurred.

Christine Street Is One of Most Beautiful of City—Pretty Lawns and Fine Houses Are Show Place

(BY ARCHER FULLINGIM)

Mockingbirds sing in the apple, mulberry and elm trees and in Lombardy populars out on Christine street in the Cook-Adams addition, and they have good reason to warble. For between the north wall of Judge Ivy E. Duncan's yard and the south line of Clyde Fathere's yard are some of the loveliest and most pleasant lawns and gardens in Pampa.

In his inspection of Christine street yards, the writer began with Judge Duncan's at the top of the hill and walked south, noting each yard. However, when he left Dr. A. Cole's colorful yard, he had enough to write a column. So, this week, lack of space prevents the writer from doing more than mention the attractive yards of Clyde Fathere and Chas. C. Cook. These will receive proper consideration in the near future.

The Cook-Adams addition is the show-place of Pampa as far as fine, large houses and beautiful yards are concerned. The only things to mar the landscape are the sunflowers and weed patches that bound the addition on the north and east. The continuity of the smooth, velvety lawns is rudely interrupted on Christine street by a weed-grown lot between Dr. Cole's and Mr. Cook's. The sunflowers in the north part of the addition on the vacant lots will be more unsightly in August than they are now if they aren't cut—besides providing curtains.

The Duncan Yard

Of course, all the yards, as well as the houses, on this street are new, and their present excellence can only indicate their future loveliness. One's first impression of Mrs. Duncan's yard is that it is superbly landscaped. Much can be made of it. The shrubbery arrangement at the front is clearly etched with shapely cedars and one or two spruce trees. A walk of large red rocks, the edges of which are hidden by grass and clover, is much more attractive than a cement slab would have been. Other shrubbery around the house and adjoining the porte cocheres includes bride wreath barberry and aristocratic rose bushes. The lawn is mixed clover and grass. The back yard is spacious, level and green, and is dotted with Lombardy populars. Mrs. Duncan has many chrysanthemums that should bloom in the fall. A rose garden now in its infancy shows promise of developing into a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Nasturtiums, larkspur and other blooming flowers flank the garden walls. C. L. Todd has a wide and level green lawn. Young trees separate it from the street. Near the front and well to the back of the house, tall poppies in bloom, canvas and sweet peas are noticeable. Spruce and cedars and other shrubbery are appropriately placed. The Todd lawn is one of the largest in town.

Mel Davis' Place

The lawn of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Culbertson is all grass. Their elm

C. C. Dodd has returned from a trip to Abilene.

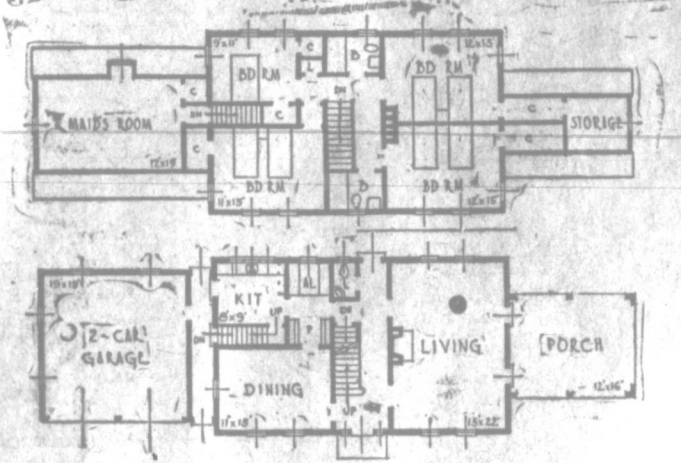

A HOME THAT CAN RISE ON THE UNIT PLAN

This charming Connecticut home in a revised design, instead of the usual "salt-box" type, may be built in units or in its entirety.

If the builder desires less space at first, the dining room and kitchen on the first floor, and two bedrooms with bath on the second, could be effected. The dining room would then be used, of course, for a living room, as the dining alcove is ample for a small home. The living room, garage and porch units could be added later, either singly or together.

In the complete plan, four master bed rooms and a maid's room over the garage, with a rear stairway connecting, are provided. Cross ventilation and unusual storage and closet space are attractive features. Brick is suggested for the first floor exterior, clapboards or shingles for the second and a white shingle roof. A front door in green with a plant box on each side of the entrance adds the desired touch of color. Blinds should not be used with this design.

Estimates of construction costs in the larger cities range from $18,000 to $20,000.

trees sentinelled around the yard are growing well. The front lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Davis is also all grass. Spruce and cedar were favored by the Davis' for front-yard shrubbery. The trees are elms. Pinks and other blooming flowers at the front attract the attention. A path on the north side of the house, connecting the front yard with the rear is flanked by a long row of violets and bride wreath hedge. A domed fish pond at the back, built of colorful rocks, petrified wood and flint, from the Mel Davis ranch, at once draws the eyes. Twenty different varieties of blooming flowers are growing among the rocks. The south wall of the fish pond is of plate glass through which the goldfish are visible. A little garden tucked demurely in a corner of the back yard has squash, beets and parsley growing lustily in it. Catalpas and spruce feature among the growing things at the south side of the house. A basement hot house for pot plants is a convenience of the Davis home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sugg have a smooth, thick-set lawn of grass and clover. They have beds of flowers at the rear which should bloom in profusion later on. C. N. Barrett has a nice lawn and graceful catalpas the reaction to which is always pleasant.

A Swimming Pool

Across the street at this point is the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mason. Here, as far as the writer knows, are the only mulberry trees in town. Their existence is justified if no other reason than that they attract mockingbirds. The Mason house is just the right background for hollyhocks which are now heavy with blossoms, chrysanthemums, peonies. The clover lawn is luxurious and green. Popular and pear trees are at the rear of the house. But more inviting is a swimming pool, deep and blue. A small sandy beach fronting it appeals to the loafing instincts.

The yards and gardens surrounding the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Saunders contain 50 varieties of shrubbery and 100 kinds of flowers, and the landscape gardener contrived to avoid a congested effect. An old-fashioned garden, profuse with many of the old-fashioned flowers, is separated from the main back yard. Mrs. Saunders' yards, forward and aft, were laid out with abandon—a rose garden here—a catalpa arbor there—beds of dah-ADD bldg page—Christine street. lilas, verbenas, panates, gladiolus, marigolds. The lawn in the back is as thick and smooth as the front yard lawn.

Mrs. Cole's Flowers

The most colorful bed of flowers in town at present flanks the driveway at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. A. Cole, whose lawn, gardens and flowers are meticulously kept. Most of the flowers in this bed are in full bloom now. There are poppies, a mass of orange and yellow flowers, the names of which we don't know, candy tuft, red, white, purple and orchid, larkspur, pinks, Canterbury bells, daisies. Around the wall of the back yard are sweet williams, asters, fox, all hardy perennials. Mrs. Cole is also developing an old-fashioned garden. The lawn at the back of the house is sufficiently spacious and is framed with golden glow, peonies, which bloomed well in the spring, snap dragons, Martha Washington geraniums and rose geraniums, sweet peas, hardy carnations, marigolds, hollyhocks, pink and white pansies. The lawn is grass and clover. A bed of pansies look at the sun on the south side of the house, also an iris hedge. Among the shrubbery at the front and side is bride wreath and crepe myrtle. The Coles preferred American and Chinese elms. The front lawn is a pleasant thing to see and pleasanter to feel.

Fierro Thrills Mexico When He Completes Trip

VALBUENA FIELD, Mexico, June 21. (P)—Colonel Roberto Fierro completed his non-stop flight from New York to Mexico here at 5:05 p. m., C. S. T.

The Mexican army ace, who had left Roosevelt field early this morning, made the distance in about 16 hours and 35 minutes, about half an hour over the 16-hour limit he had hoped to set. The distance was about 2,200 miles and apparently covered without a hitch. He arrived at the field alone, splashing down into the mud but making a clean landing. Colonel Fierro missed an escort of planes sent out from Valubena to meet him. The departure of this escort was indirectly the cause of some confusion about the colonel's landing, for one of the pilots, returning to the field before the colonel had been sighted, and arriving almost at the dot of the hour he was expected, caused everyone to believe that it was Fierro himself circling overhead. It proved not to be, and the colonel arrived about half an hour later.

A refreshing note is added to your home with bright, new paint and cheerful, tasteful wallpaper. Small cost but a big improvement. Ask us about costs.

required 27 hours and 10 minutes from Bolling field to Mexico City. Secretary of War Amaro and a number of high army officers arrived at Valubena just before Fierro landed.

A non-stop flight from New York to Mexico had never before been achieved, and the crowd at the air field went wild over the man who, since the deaths of Captain Emilio Carranza at the outset of a similar attempt and of Colonel Fabio Sidac more recently, has been looked to by his countrymen to carry Mexico's aviation to new triumphs in the air. Colonel Fierro was accompanied by a mechanic, Arnulfo Cortes.

The Mexican ace's record run was made in clockwork fashion, from Roosevelt field he followed a route by Montgomery, Ala., New Orleans, Brownsville, Texas, and Tampico, Mexico. Between the last two places he successfully dodged a severe electrical storm sweeping in from the Gulf of Mexico.

NEW HOMES FOR OLD

We commend the local campaign of home modernization, because it will increase the value of property affected and improve the general appearance of the entire community.

Those who have been employing systematic thrift are again reminded of the value of a bank account. Should they desire to make home improvements at this time they already have money available for this purpose, thereby reducing or eliminating altogether the cost of borrowed money, which would otherwise be necessary.

Similar opportunities are constantly presenting themselves to the satisfied customers who are BUILDING UP BANK BALANCES with the

MODERNIZE BRING YOUR HOME UP-TO-DATE

TIME and weather are not to be denied. The old homestead, once an object of pardonable pride, has now become a bit unsightly, obsolete in its fixtures, buffeted by the elements and the decades. Yet you are loathe to abandon that friendly old house, that has meant so much in the affairs of you and your family.

INSIDE

and OUT

A SOLUTION: Have it modernized. Without great expenditure you can transform the old homestead into a splendid, modern home, renewing that family pride in your residence, restoring your home to its former glory. Your home was once the pride of your family and the object of envy of the entire country-side. Consult any Pampa lumberman; he will be glad to help you solve the problem of modernizing.

The above illustration shows an old home modernized by putting on shingles over the old siding, putting in new windows and shutters, a flower box under the window and a new front porch. The floor and roof plans are not changed, but are made ne wby this transformation. This house was modernized for $550.

PAMPA is a city that has passed the stage of speculation as to whether it will remain a leading business center of the Panhandle. There is no longer any doubt as to Pampa's future. Evidence of a steady substantial growth are sufficient to establish confidence in the minds of everyone.

ANYONE will tell you that Pampa is a substantial city, not a town of the mushroom type that wilts over night. Many industrial concerns are now located here and others are preparing to locate here, which will materially increase payrolls and add to the permanency of the city.

MONEY is needed to carry on. Millions of dollars have been withdrawn from the money market due to recent fluctuations in values in the north and east and thus Pampa has been deprived of the privilege of using loan companies money. None of this is due to lack of confidence in Pampa, but because eastern money is tight.

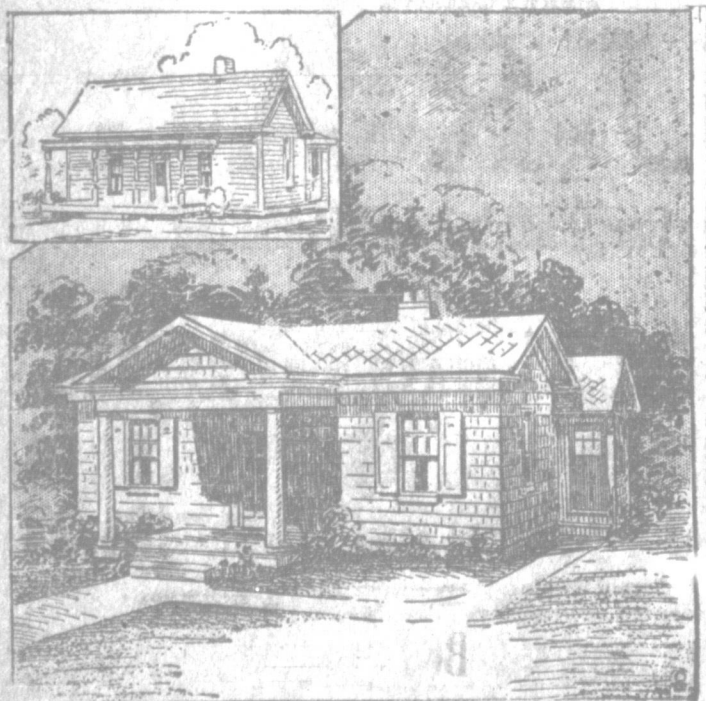

PAMPA capitalists, who have become millionaires through investments in Pampa and Gray county real estate, should come forward and help the city to grow by making their money available for improving and building homes. People who would locate in Pampa are forced to locate elsewhere due to insufficient living quarters.

AS many as five hundred people here have almost enough money to build the kind of home they want, yet cannot build because of lack of sufficient money. There is no better security than first mortgages on well improved Pampa property. We appeal to those who have made their money on Gray county investments to use a part of their money to finance choice risks. File your name with our president, Mr. Carl Taylor, care of Fox Rig and Lumber Co. Your name will not be revealed to anyone seeking a loan, and you will be given the names of those whom we consider worthy of your backing. Our reason for appealing to Pampa capitalists is because we know that the capitalists of Pampa are public spirited and want to see Pampa made more attractive. At the same time from their past experience they know that Pampa and Gray county investments are sound.

The house shown in the above illustration was modernized by putting on shingles over the old siding, putting in a dormer window, new modern windows and shutters and a neat front porch. Modern built-in features such as ironing board, cabinets, china closets, linen closets. This house was modernized for $700.

The illustration shown below was modernized by putting on a new front porch, putting on shingles over the old siding, new windows, shutters and a closed in back porch, also several built in features inside. This house was modernized for $450.

MODERNIZE

Pampa is largely a city of new houses, yet there are hundreds of homes which could profitably be altered advantageously. Some of these are the older structures, while others are newer buildings which could profitably be modernized in some particulars.

The magic of sidewalks, exterior changes such as brick veneering and the like, and interior decoration awaits those who take advantage of latest services of Pampa citizens and lumber dealers. Many persons do not realize the surprising improvements that can be accomplished with a few hundred dollars.

It is not necessary to build a new house to have an attractive residence. Many of the fine old houses of the country, some of them 75 years old, are being modernized. Whether of two rooms or the mammoth Colonial type, they can be made attractive. The carpenter, the mason, the painter, and the interior decorator are making new homes out of old. Prettier cities are the result.

Value and comfort are not expensive, but are within reach of all. Do not be satisfied with scarred floors, twisted doors, crumbling foundations, and unsightly roofs. Consult your lumber dealer about modernization. The possibilities will surprise and delight you.
