BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—Either Uncle Sam is a fine boss or else a lot of people are easily satisfied. Periodically one opens one's eyes in more or less astonishment here as the civil service transfers a few old federal employes to the retired list and one discovers men who have been on the same job or almost the same job for half a century or more.

Although the government's pay is comparatively low, its jobs are seldom arduous, and in most cases they are much more secure than the general run of jobs to be found elsewhere. That's one reason men and women stay in the federal service for so many decades.

But the government service also breeds an interesting type of worker who takes a deep personal pride in the fact that he is part of the government. He takes immense pride in the performance of his own job and acquires, with long service and assured security, a sense of vested property right in it which is seldom felt by employes of private business.

Mr. James Ware has just been retired at the age of 61, the oldest government employe on the books. For 57 years he has been superintendent of construction and repair work at Forts Monroe and Wool, at the entrance of Chesapeake Bay.

Ware has been in the government service, amazing as it seems, for 69 years. He went to work for the Army Ordnance service in 1861 and was transferred to his present post in 1873.

Jacob Frech, now being retired from a chief clerkship in the War Department, is only 87, but he, too, has been with the department for 69 years.

Out with Ware and Frech go a dozen more other War Department employes all beyond the age of 74, which means that each has had at least two if not more two-year extensions of service beyond the retirement age.

Henry Lewis Bryan, editor of Statutes at Large of whose work your correspondent wrote recently, is retired from the State Department after serving successively in the Army, War Department since 1871. It will take a long time to train a man to replace him, and his time undoubtedly would have been extended had his health not been failing.

A SYMPTOM OF DEFEAT

Newspaper headlines are occasionally humorous without meaning to be.

A Chicago newspaper, for instance, recently carried the proud frontpage headline: "Two gangsters jailed under vagrancy act." There is a laugh in that headline, somehow; but the thoughts it excites are not, after all, very funny, if you stop to consider them long enough.

The story under this headline related how two Chicago gangsters had been picked up by the police and lodged in cells. Unable to think of any other charge to put against them, the police finally lodged vagrancy charges against them, and the men were sentenced to six months imprisonment apiece.

Now all of that, good material for a humorous columnist, is nevertheless rather dismaying. For what it amounts to is a confession of defeat on the part of a great American city—a confession that it is only by resorting to runabout, funny-sounding modes of procedure that the police can take any satisfactory action against two very dangerous hoodlums.

The gangsters of Chicago are notorious the world over. Any newspaperman, any police officer, any well-informed citizen can name for you the leaders in the city's crime rings and can give you a fair idea of the murders and illegal business deals they have been involved in. But can Chicago arrest any of these men for any of these crimes and make the charges stick? Chicago cannot—and hence, with unconscious humor, it puts two hoodlums behind the bars as vagrants.

In reality, this is an ominous symptom as American municipal government has displayed in years. It comes close to being a confession of utter helplessness. When a great American city can proceed against its crooks only by having the law on them for vagrancy, its administration of criminal justice has all but broken down.—NEA.

HARVESTERS TO USE REVAMPED BACKFIELD NEXT FRIDAY

INJURIES ARE COMING FAST IN BIG SQUAD

Backfield injuries of the first game of the season have shifted the interest from some of the Harvester stars to other players who will have to carry the ball in the coming two games.

Albert Lard, quarterback and broken field runner de luxe, has three cracked ribs—one back and two front. He will not likely break into the line-up before the Lubbock game. Meantime, his mates must play the Perryton Rangers Friday and Hollis, Okla., the following week.

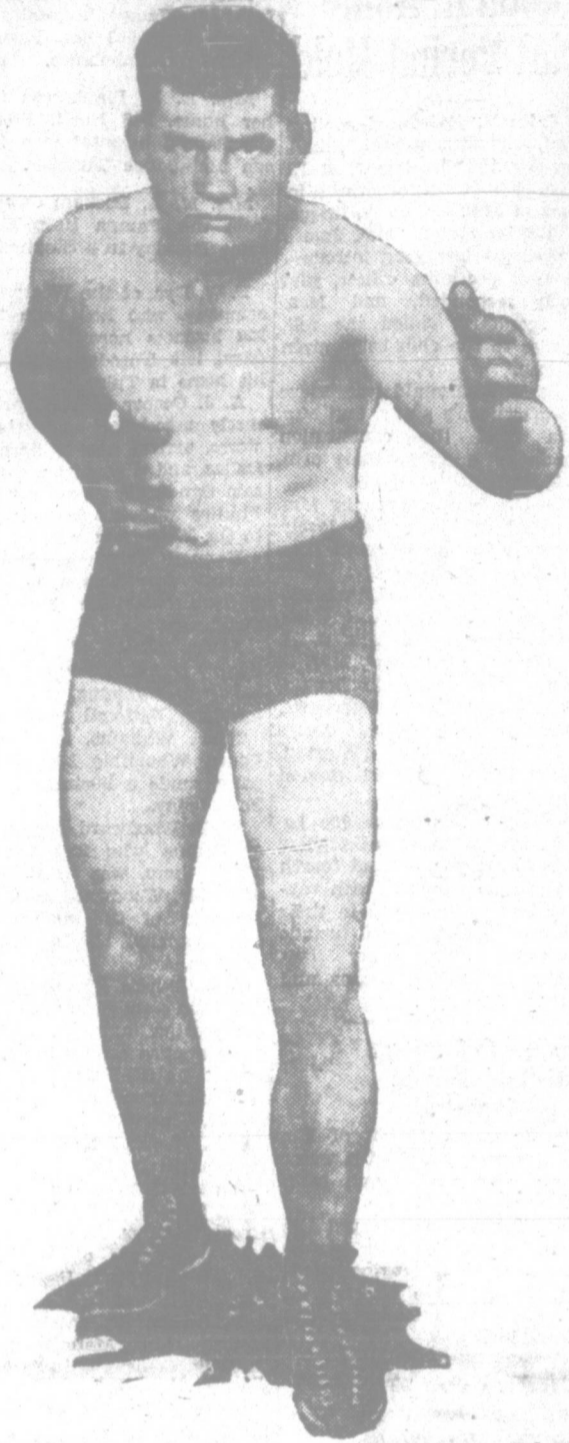

But Lard is not the only ailing Harvester at this moment. Durwood Martindale, who showed a lot of stuff last Friday, has a strained ligament and his doctor ordered him to rest for a few days. Joe Freeman, who looks like a coming player, has a knee injury. Big Burch has a bruised hip.

In the backfield, young Joe Kahl, tough little Bill Barnett, and Don Tate, twister of the squad, are showing up well in the absence of the regulars. Captain Don Saulsbury and Halfback Ray Chastain are going great guns, of course. Charles James, he of the hardwood floors, is rather puzzled by this game of football but is going to be a valuable threat before the season is over. Dick Beaton, taken from end, is going strong at half.

Defensive tactics are claiming much attention this week, although Coach Mitchell has found it necessary to go right down the line in giving the team new plays. The Harvesters' play against Perryton will be more versatile than that exhibited in the opener.

Blocking and trying out formations was the diet yesterday, with a short, hard scrimmage at the end. A number of the boys will carry black eyes and shins as the result of that set-to. Friday's game against Perryton will start at 3 o'clock. The Rangers are reported to be light, but lightning fast in the backfield.

Within 2 Pounds of Weight Limit

Otis Clingman weighed 160 pounds today. Silent Rattan, his grappling opponent of Thursday evening at the Pla-Mor, has agreed to allow the local man one pound over the 157-pound limit, or 158 pounds. Clingman will weigh in tomorrow at 1 p. m., in the presence of newspaper folk. He plans to eat a hearty meal immediately thereafter, and his ringside weight will probably be about 160 pounds. Red Michaels and Tommy Thomas will meet in the semi-finals, 30-minute limit or one fall, and the preliminaries will include a 15-minute match between K. O. Kitchens of Miami and Curley Lewis of this city.

The league leading Philadelphia Athletics had their troubles in Detroit and came out on the long end of a 3 to 1 score only through the efforts of their slugging recruit outfielder, Jim Moore, who broke up the struggle between Lefty Grove and Earl Whitehill with his second home run in two weeks or less he has been with the A's. The homer provided the margin that enabled Grove to win his 26th game of the season.

The Chicago White Sox combined the day's biggest collection of hits, 19, with a five-hit pitching job by Pat Caraway to defeat the Boston Red Sox, 10 to 1.

Chicago—Edgar Norman, Chicago, knocked out Bert Julian, Honolulu, 1.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Tracy Cox, Indianapolis, outpointed Henry Falgano, Des Moines, 10.

FOUR HUNDRED GRIDDERS ARE WORKING OUT

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (AP)—More than 400 athletes, drawn from every section of the state and nation, were sweating today as seven Southwest conference football squads piled into the annual period of intensive training preceding the championship race. The barrier dropped last midnight and by 9 o'clock today, footballs were flying through the air.

For the next week it will be a real grind, every mentor having announced a "three-a-day" program—a two-hour workout morning and afternoon and "skull practice" at night. The Rice Owls and Texas Christian university had only eight working days in which to prepare for their opening tussles. The five other members had an additional week.

Frogs Still Strong
A wide-open race, with the champion Texas Christian Horned Frogs and Southern Methodist Mustangs slight favorites over the field, was forecast as the preliminary program began. Returning the bulk of the great machine that went through a schedule of nine games last year with only a tie to mar its record, and with the best schedule of any team in the conference, the Frogs were conceded a good chance to retain their crown.

Reporting to Coach Francis Schmidt today were three backs—Leland, Hinton and Green—who started against the Mustangs in that memorable 7-7 final game that decided the 1929 title. Howard Grubbs, great field general, was the only back of the 1929 team missing, and there were some stellar performers from whom to choose his successor. Such stars as Captain Brumbeow, Hander, Walker, Moore and Barr were taken from the champion's line by graduation, but Schmidt was expected to build another strong forward wall around Noble Adkins, captain and all-conference center. There was a galaxy of material romping about the Frogs' practice field today.

More than 70 huskies, including 13 lettermen, reported to Coach Ray Morrison as he opened his ninth season at Southern Methodist. It was an imposing array, probably numbering more former outstanding high school greats than any conference squad in history. The backfield of "Speedy" Mason, Ira Hopper, Bruce Kattman and Bob Gilbert that carried the Ponies to second place in the last conference race was intact, and only two regulars of the 1929 line were missing. They were "Choc" Sanders, big guard, and Captain-elect Marion Hammon, who failed to make the scholastic grade and will be missed at tackle. A regular last year was ready to scrap all opposition for every other place on the Mustang line.

Baylor Is Strong
A third coach with a splendid legacy of lettermen was Morley Jennings at Baylor university. Potter, an end, was the only regular missing from the 1929 line-up. The same outfit failed to click last year in its important games. By all rights, it should do better this season.

Led by Captain Dexter Shelley, big all-conference halfback, Coach Clyde Littlefield's University of Texas Longhorns rounded out the quartet that promised to battle for the championship. Graduation hit the Steers hard, taking such outstanding backs as Nona Rees, Teddie Beular and Jim Beard from the 1929 unit and tearing the line pretty well apart, but the state school, as usual, has a great array of talent to fill up the chinks. Littlefield's biggest problem appeared to be in finding a successor to Rees as quarterback and filling Mac Burnett's shoes at center.

Coach Matty Bell at Texas A. & M. faced the task of building a new backfield around J. G. "Bull" Floyd, fullback, the only returning regular from last year's ground gaining corps. Mills, brilliant quarterback, and Conover and Dorsey, halfbacks, were lost by graduation, and Zaranofets failed in his studies.

Loss of seven regulars from last year, including Geis and Miller, backs, and Crabaugh, Gardner, Van Sickle, Moore and Schoonover from the line, left Fred Thomson, youthful Arkansas mentor, pretty well up against it. Eleven lettermen returned, however, and Thomson is not without hope.

The Rice Institute Owls, with Jack Meagher at the helm for his second year, were halting the dawn of a new era today. According to advices from the Houston school, they really expect to go somewhere this year. The consensus was, however, that it would be 1931 before the Owls reached the contender class. Meagher had one of the biggest squads to report today, including a nice collection of lettermen headed by Captain-elect Bill Morrison.

Experienced Coach Now in Charge of "Ingagis"—Weatherred to Take Over Boys' Work in Junior High

New coaches are in charge of the Gorillas and the Junior high school team this year.

The new mentor of the "Ingagis," as they delight to call themselves lately, is W. O. Workman, former East Texas Teachers college star at Commerce. Three years ago he was assistant coach at Paris high school. For the last two terms he has been doing graduate work at Texas Tech.

The Ingagis have a small but enthusiastic group, and recruits are expected to swell the squad when school opens.

W. B. "Red" Weatherred, who has been Gulf Gun outfield star all summer, will be in charge of the Junior high school athletes. Weatherred attended Clarendon college and Canyon Teachers college.

An attempt is being made to encourage every boy to report for some kind of athletic training. A full staff of instructors has been designated.

The usual number of onlookers has contributed to the collective sports brains. Yesterday afternoon Henry Ayres, former Harvester star, was doing his bit by refereeing the main squads' scrimmage.

Singer Gains in Odds But Still Behind McLarnin

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Their intensive preparations completed, Al Singer and Jimmy McLarnin turned their thoughts toward Broadway today and their ten round duel at the Yankee stadium tomorrow night.

A decisive swing in sentiment toward Singer caused the betting odds to drop from 2 to 1 to 7 to 5 with McLarnin still on the long end. Prospects were that the battler from Vancouver would be only a little better than an even choice against the lightweight champion at ring time.

Kiwanians to Challenge Lions to Bowling Match

Pampa Kiwanians will likely challenge the Lions bowling team in the near future.

The Kiwanians say they have become convinced that the Rotarians are not going to let the Lions down off their lofty throne, and that the K's are going to accomplish the feat.

Meantime, bowling interest in the return match of the Amarillo All-Stars with the local Diamond Shop five. Winners in the first of the three-match series at Amarillo, the locals will defend their home alleys Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Payne Insurance Will Be Contested

AMARILLO, Sept. 10. (AP)—The Lincoln National Life Insurance company took steps yesterday which gave promise of a heated court fight, when its attorneys filed suit in the United States district court here seeking to cancel two insurance policies, one on the life of A. D. Payne and the other on his wife, whom he killed June 27 with a dynamite explosion which demolished the Payne family automobile.

B. O'Hara, a statement of its sales record for the first seven months of 1930.

Ladies Lead in Economy Contest

Are women more economical drivers than men? Do women get more miles per gallon on gasoline than men? And if so why. With the leaders in the Chevrolet economy tests both women, the men drivers are entering their cars thick and fast in order to prove their gasoline mileage greater than that of the women.

Other high ranking drivers were S. C. Moten, 24.4; E. R. Chittwood, 23.4; Curtis Douglas, 23.3; Tom Eiler, 23. The average mileage of all cars this morning was better than 22.
