SECRET SESSION IN ELECTION CONTEST NOW ABANDONED GIANT FOOTBALL RALLY WILL BE HELD HERE THIS EVENING

"Go to school if you cannot find a job." This is the advice of industrial leaders. Idleness can be converted into something worthwhile. It is better to starve working than to starve with one's head buried in his hands in despair. But the man in desperate plight cannot concentrate very well on abstract facts not related to any given work. Yet there are many now working who could and should go to school. This would release jobs to others, even though temporarily in many instances. Hard times often encourage college enrollments. The men who are most incalculable to their firms are not "laid off" and the untrained man is rarely vital in any business.

It is conceded everywhere that there is plenty of money were it put into circulation by wise investments and expenditures. They are too many "talents" which are being hidden in the ground, or in the banks. One way to bring back prosperity is to advertise and to boost sales to the limit. And did you ever think of how advertising money cost is largely salary cost, and wages stays right at home. Salaries are spent where they are made. Spend a dollar for most anything else and all but the dealer's profit is apt to go to the factories and middle men, but the advertising dollar goes into salaries for ad men, linotype operators, make-up men, pressmen, and circulation employees.

Dr. Julius Klein, assistant Secretary of Commerce, starts his readers with the statement that Wall Street in the past has not furnished the capital for many big American expansion projects. Europe in past decades had faith in America, and at the end of 1929 European capitalists had seven and one-half billions of dollars invested over here. For instance, in the Pennsylvania railroad, the silk industry, and thousands of other projects. Europeans, too, have big businesses. Some of their industries are subsidized. American business must be on a big scale to compete in the world markets. Business should be regulated, but not too much shopped into little bits with no influence. Otherwise this government will have to turn Socialistic to protect our interests abroad.

The North Canadian river has been showing a diminishing flow of water for 25 years. The reason is not clear. The latest explanation is that as the farms are broken out the water is caught by the blotter-like fields and kept from draining pell-mell from the water sheds. That is plausible. It may mean also that a low river is no sign of a drought. It might be the reverse. Certainly breaking out of lands tends to prevent floods. But cutting and burning of timber and underbrush has the opposite effect.

Read in the papers: That a Chicago man was fined $5 for taking off his shoes in public. Maybe he was a westerner and didn't want to die with his boots on.

Going to Lubbock by train would be an enterprise of adult importance. The students are really members of a juvenile Chamber of Commerce, and the team's members are directors who take whatever action is deemed possible and expedient. The grown-ups have the privilege and responsibility of contributing wisely, and effectively to the work the youngsters are going to Lubbock to perform.

Player's Father Dies
AMARILLO, Sept. 24. (AP)—John E. Mallon, 49, father of Leslie Mallon, second baseman for the Fort Worth club of the Texas league, died here last night.

CITIZENS ARE REQUESTED TO SHOW SPIRIT

Combined Bands Are to Play For Occasion

GREEN JACKETS HOLD ELECTION

Harvesters to Leave for Lubbock Tomorrow

Pampa, a fighting, aggressive city, tonight is asked to show her support of her fighting football team.

A gigantic rally is announced for 7:30 p. m.

The first block on East Foster, just beyond the main intersection, will be roped off for the brief event, which will end at 8 p. m.

The combined American Legion and Central high school bands, probably not less than sixty musicians, will play according to "Pop"

TRAIN IS ASSURED
Although all the necessary 200 ticket orders had not been placed, the goal was in sight this afternoon and George Briggs, manager of the Board of City Development, said that the football train to Lubbock Friday was assured.

The train will leave at 9 a. m. Friday and will reach Lubbock before noon. It will start back to Pampa about 7:30 p. m., arriving here shortly before midnight. The game will be at 3:30 p. m.

The Harvesters will leave here tomorrow morning on the 4 o'clock train, using a special coach provided for the purpose. The boys will have a work-out at Tech field at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow.

Frazier. There will be brief—very brief—speeches by prominent citizens.

The Green Jacket club of 150 girls will lead the cheering. Yell leaders for this year elected this week, are Susie Bell Hickman, Virginia Rose, and Susie Campbell, with Adelle Stone as alternate.

All boosters for the Harvesters are asked to spend this half hour in generating the proper spirit for the crucial game—Pampa's initial performance in Class A. football.

It is expected that enough tickets orders will be in hand at that time to announce the chartering of the special football train to Lubbock Friday.

The Harvesters are practicing long and hard and in addition are having skill practices in an effort to make a powerful bid for top Class A standing. Tomorrow they will leave for Lubbock in order to have a work-out on the Tech field where the game will be played.

Tonight will be the last time before the game to give evidence of public enthusiasm in the local boys.

Objections Are Made to Calling Of Bond Election

Stating that he represented "two or three hundred people to Pampa" Henry L. Jordan, local abstractor, and attorney, appeared before the commissioners court this morning and offered objections to a proposal to pave and improve highways in Road District No. 5 at a cost of $2,121,000. One of his clients, John G. Math, also protested to the calling of a road bond election on the ground that the amount was excessive and that the proposed highway was not properly routed through Pampa.

ONE BANK AT PRAGUE, OKLA. IS ROBBED WHILE OFFICERS GUARD ANOTHER AFTER TIP

PRAGUE, Okla., Sept. 24. (AP)—While county and city officers guarded the First National bank here on confidential information that robbery had been planned, two men looted the unguarded First State bank of about $1,500 shortly after it opened today, and escaped in a small light coupe with a third man as driver.

The county sheriff's force and all available constables and city officers were at the national bank. Robbery of the First State bank was the second in two years. In the other robbery, James L. Urban, cashier, was kidnapped and taken fourteen miles into the country before being released.

Today's robbers were described as about 30 years old and well dressed.

The robbers were reported to have passed Wilzetta, a small town northwest of here, a few minutes after the robbery. The holdup was accomplished in orthodox fashion. L. P. Wilson, cashier, and Howard Tope and Paul Wilson, bookkeepers were made to lie on the floor while the outlaws looted the tills, then were locked in the vault. The robbers jerked out wires of a telephone in the vault, but the imprisoned men released themselves a minute after the men had left the bank.

One of the robbers was described as large and blond, the other as of medium stature and dark.

VINITA, Okla., Sept. 24. (AP)—A robber who obtained approximately $1,500 from the bank of Big Cabin, 10 miles southwest of here, in a holdup just before closing time yesterday, appeared today to have eluded all attempts to trace him.

T. P. Parks, assistant cashier, who was locked in the vault with J. H. Watson, agent for the Missouri-Kansas Texas railroad, said the robber was driving a small coupe.

PALESTINE, Texas, Sept. 24. (AP)—Three men robbed the Neches State bank, 14 miles east of here of $3,500 and escaped about noon today.

NEW HOSPITAL SCHEDULED TO OPEN OCT. 10

Opening of the new Worley hospital was set yesterday for Oct. 10 by Dr. J. C. McKean. Since there may be some unexpected delay in the completion of the building, the opening may be postponed or moved up several days, but according to present plans it will be on or about that date.

The opening will include a reception to the general public. The interior of the new hospital will be colorful with flowers. Employees and friends of the hospital will greet all visitors and show them thru the building.

Patients now in the McKean & Connor hospital will be moved into their new quarters on the day following the opening.

Bomb in Car Fails to Explode
STUART, Neb., Sept. 24. (AP)—A dynamite bomb wired to the spark plugs was found last night under the seat of Jay Wefso's automobile. It had failed to explode because the bomber had not grounded the wires properly.

A garage mechanic, to whom Wefso had taken the car when the starter failed to function, found the bomb—two sticks of dynamite wired together.

Wefso, who had driven the car at least twice with the bomb under the seat, said he knew of no one who might wish to seek his life. He said, however, that a young woman of his acquaintance had told him of receiving an unsigned letter warning her of danger that threatened Wefso.

NOT EVERY BALLOT WILL BE DIVULGED

Challenge Required Before Vote Is Inspected

ACTUAL HEARING NOT IN SIGHT

Present Procedure to Last Through Friday

A plan to inspect and challenge votes cast in the contested sheriff's election behind closed doors was abandoned this morning when Judge W. R. Ewing announced that not only would the secret sessions be abolished, but that none except challenged ballots might be opened.

"There was no necessity for opening every ballot," Judge Ewing said. The present procedure being used by attorneys for the contestant, Jno. V. Andrews, and the contestee, Lon L. Blanscet, was characterized as "a fishing expedition," by the judge in announcing his decision to terminate the practice begun yesterday morning of finding and recording how every person in the county voted. "The ballot should be kept secret unless it is challenged," he declared.

This morning clerks were instructed to record only the challenged votes. Yesterday they not only kept a list of the ballots questioned by each candidate but lists of the persons who voted for Andrews and Blanscet. All the doors to the courtroom were unlocked when the hearing began this morning. The room quickly filled as word spread that the secret session had ended.

Ballots are being taken out of the various boxes by W. M. Lewright, attorney for Mr. Andrews, and R. E. Underwood, one of the lawyers representing Mr. Blanscet. They are required to challenge the ballot before opening it, and if its legality is not questioned the vote is not opened. Most of the challenged votes were cast by persons who, the contestant and contestee declare, did not get proper poll tax receipts, or did not pay any poll tax at all. The attorneys have lists of all such voters.

When one of these ballots is taken out of the box, one of the attorneys "temporarily challenges" the vote. The ballot is then opened. If counsel finds that the vote was cast for his client he withdraws his challenge and the other party to the hearing questions the legality of the vote. By using this method, both contestant and contestee are careful not to challenge their own votes, but those of each other. The challenged votes had not been tabulated today.

Inspection of the entire vote of the county is expected to be completed by Friday. The actual hearing will not start until the challenging process, or "fishing expedition" has been finished. The contestant and contestee will then base their pleadings on the facts and challenges made during the present inspection. Both sides will introduce testimony regarding the legality or illegality of the ballot validity of the vote.

All votes cast in the LeFors box and part of the ballots cast in voting precinct No. 2 were examined yesterday. The attorneys hope to inspect about 1,000 votes per day.

Stocks in Slide
NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (AP)—Stock prices melted away rapidly today in a renewal of heavy selling that carried many prominent stocks to the lowest levels of the current decline. Losses of $4 to $9 a share were numerous.

There were unconfirmed reports that federal reserve member banks were being urged to liquidate their loans. The total of security borrowings now amounts to around $8,000,000,000, an increase of more than $750,000,000 over a year ago.

Amarillo Chosen
DALLAS, Sept. 24. (AP)—Amarillo was chosen for the 1931 convention of the Texas Tax Collectors' association at the closing session of the annual meeting here today. Roy Law of Cameron was elected president to succeed Neil Campbell of San Antonio.

Morrow Ends Regime in Mexico

REPUBLICAN STANDARD BEARER WILL BE WILLIAM E. TALBOT, WELL KNOWN DALLAS CITIZEN

DALLAS, Sept. 24. (AP)—William E. Talbot of Dallas today was selected as the Republican nominee for governor. Talbot was chosen by the State Republican committee to take the place of Dr. George C. Butte of Austin and Washington, nominee of the primary, whose resignation was received yesterday by the committee.

Republican leaders said Talbot's nomination would be formally made at a meeting of the executive committee here Saturday. The delay was necessary because Dr. Butte's declination had not been officially received by the secretary of state, they said.

Talbot is widely known in political and business circles. He was supervisor of the 1930 census for this district. He will oppose Ross S. Sterling of Houston, the Democratic nominee. Texas has not gone Republican in a gubernatorial race since the reconstruction era.

AMARILLO, Sept. 24. (AP)—Bobby Ann Kinsey, 17-months-old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kinsey of Dalhart, was killed last night today after nine holes of their second round match in the National Amateur golf championship.

Support For Day Nursery Is Asked Of Citizens—Several Gifts Made

Pressing needs of the day nursery now being established on Brown street by the welfare board were outlined today by Mrs. DeLea Vicars, treasurer of the nursery committee, who said that the estimated cost of operation will be about $185 per month, and that the board urges and expects local institutions and citizens to contribute to the upkeep of the nursery.

This amount is based on the expense of caring for about 10 children daily. Mrs. Vicars stated. Applications to place this number of little tots in the nursery have already been received.

Contributions may be made monthly, Mrs. Vicars said. Although the board urges that citizens pledge to give a stipulated amount every month for a year or a six-month period. If such an amount is paid at once, a sum drawn from it will be used each month.

However, the most urgent need of the nursery at present is children's beds. The state law requires that such beds be used in all day nurseries. A number of children's beds and bedding is needed at once. These as well as all contributions may be brought to Mrs. Vicars' residence at the northwest corner of Frost street and Francis avenue.

The services of a carpenter and plumber for a half-day would be appreciated, it was said. It is necessary to install a lavatory in the nursery and to vent two gas stoves. Division five of the council of women of the First Christian church is donating two baby beds, complete with bedding. The altar society of the Holy Souls Catholic church made a like donation. The gas company has agreed to furnish gas, a local ice company will furnish ice. The light company will give reduced rates on electricity and the city will furnish the water for the nursery.

WIDOW FIRES UPON SEVERAL DURING TRIAL

Bullet Intended For Judge Misses Him

"PERSECUTION" HER ALLEGATION

Mrs. Dolly Douthitt Held Following Affair

ENID, Okla., Sept. 24. (AP)—An eccentric 60-year-old widow acquitted a quarter-century ago of the murder of her husband, ran amuck in the Garfield County District Court room here today shooting and severely wounding H. Z. Wedgwood, United States commissioner, firing at, but missing District Judge Arthur G. Sutton of Alva, and attempting to shoot an attorney.

F. G. Sturgis, veteran Enid attorney, recalled today that he prosecuted Mrs. Douthitt in 1904 for the murder of her husband, W. T. Douthitt in a trial that resulted in her acquittal.

ENID, Okla., Sept. 24. (AP)—Mrs. Dolly Douthitt, eccentric sixty-year-old widow, during trial of damage suits in which she was involved today shot and seriously wounded H. Z. Wedgwood, a United States commissioner, and fired another shot at Judge Arthur G. Sutton of Alva. The second shot did not take effect.

Wedgwood, a pistol wound in his groin, was taken to a hospital. Mrs. Douthitt was taken into custody and placed in the county jail.

The wounded commissioner, also an Enid attorney, was defendant in one of seven cases in which Mrs. Douthitt was involved as either plaintiff or defendant. The suit, in which Mrs. Douthitt sought damages from Wedgwood, just had been dismissed by Judge Sutton.

Mrs. Douthitt also attempted to fire at Roy Elam, a young attorney but was disarmed by Elam, court bailiff and Harry Kirkendall, another attorney.

The 30-odd court attaches, attorneys and spectators were thrown into a panic when Mrs. Douthitt, who had been acting as her own attorney, arose from the counsel table, whipped a pistol from her dress and fired.

The seven cases were being heard on a special docket by Judge Sutton of the nineteenth district. He was sitting after the local judge has disqualified. One of the twentieth district judges, O. C. Hillbrandt, was defendant, and a suit brought by Mrs. Douthitt for $200,000 damages. She had claimed the local court was prejudiced against her.

Mrs. Douthitt is the owner of valuable property here and several of the cases arose out of her alleged failure to pay taxes. She had long been involved in litigation arising from her financial affairs.

In her damage suit against Wedgwood, Mrs. Douthitt claimed the commissioner had "persecuted" her.

—AND A SMILE

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Thomas Darlington, a sachem of Tammany, who is 72 years old today, expects to live to be 120. Here is how: "If people want to live to be 120, as I plan to do, they must brush their teeth seven times a day, wear loose collars or none at all, take air and sun baths and go to church. They should not worry. Worry has killed more men than whiskey ever will."

WASHINGTON.—This is not exactly one of the Anti-Saloon league's best years. Without waiting for the November elections, it can already be said now that the primaries are over that the dries have not made any appreciable political gains and have suffered considerable loss.

The league still will hold large majorities in Congress after the election but apparently there is going to be real reduction of those majorities for the first time since Congress enacted prohibition. Increasing aggressiveness of the wets is reflecting itself both in the attitude of candidates for office and in the actions of the voters.

All this synchronizes with realization in Washington that the league has lost much of its political might in dealing with the federal government. The administration is going ahead under its own steam in the attempt to enforce prohibition, rather than under the league's lash.

And the wets claim to find encouragement in the way things have gone in Illinois, New Jersey, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Montana, California, Washington, Alabama, Michigan and Nebraska. Which is a fine assortment of states, whether or not all the glee is justified.

The worst thing the dries have to worry about is that they find themselves on the outside looking in more frequently than they like. With the increase of wet strength in the Republican party, instances have begun to appear in some states where both parties and their candidates are wet and the dries have no chance to back a winner.

The next Illinois senator is sure to be no friend of the dries because the league has turned against Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick since she agreed to heed the state referendum result and is supporting a third candidate who has no chance of victory. The best the dries hope to get out of the situation is the defeat of Mrs. McCormick, who has always been dry, by James Hamilton Lewis, the Democrat, who is wringing wet.

New Jersey likewise has two wet senatorial candidates opposing each other—Dwight Morrow and Alexander Simpson, Republican and Democrat. The dry candidate in the Republican primaries, Franklin Fort, was badly licked.

The Republican party in Massachusetts, through nominating William M. Butler as its senatorial candidate has remained dry only by the barest margin. The chances are that Marcus Coolidge, the wet Democratic nominee, will defeat the dry Mr. Butler in November.

All eyes at this writing are on New York. As in Illinois and New Jersey, there are many Republicans there who don't believe they can elect governors and senators as long as they continue to be the dry party. The resignation of U. S. District Attorney Tuttle of New York with a declaration for repeal put the issue squarely up to the G. O. P. and if it nominates Tuttle and goes wet the dries will have taken one more hard shock.

The dries held their own in New York's Republican congressional primaries except for the defeat of Congressman Wallace Dempsey by a wet.

"Hell's Island" At Rex Theatre Is "Different"

"And here one may not hope ever to be different." It is in this way that a forgotten political poet prison or summed up in one sentence the utter despair of the poor devils sentenced to penal servitude on "Hell's Island," the infamous island off the Ciliana coast which serves as the locale, and which also provides the title of the new Columbia dramatic offering booked to play at the Rex theatre for two days beginning Thursday.

The scenes depicting the existence of the luckless men condemned to this dreaded spot, known in the vernacular as the "dry guillotine," are not results of the imagination, but are accurate reconstructions to the minutest detail of a place which few people have ever been to and returned to tell the tale. A fact that is little known is that a soldier in the French Foreign Legion has the choice of serving out the last two years of his enlistment as a prison guard in the penal colony. He is also allowed to take his wife with him. This forms an important situation in the structure of the story, "Hell's Island." Ralph Graves is seen as an American, serving in the French Foreign Legion. He is court-martialed and sent to Guliana. Dorothy Sebastian, as Ralph's sweetheart, marries her lover's rival played by Jack Holt, and persuades him to become a prison guard in order to further her plan to effect her sweetheart's escape.

The actual escape from "Hell's Island" through the deadly jungles and shark-infested waters that surround the prison is one of the thrilling highlights of the film.

Leading up to the prison scenes Foreign Legion in action against the Arabs, night life in an Arabian oasis, and the stern discipline of a French military court-martial.

In addition to the three stars, Jack Holt, Ralph Graves and Dorothy Sebastian, the cast includes Richard Cramer, Harry Allen and Lionel Belmore. Edward Sloman, who recently turned out the successful "Puttin' On the Ritz," directed the production.

Joe Hardy, Wellington drug store proprietor, was a business visitor in Pampa yesterday.

THE FUTURE

of a light and power company, or, in fact, of any public utility, is tied up with the future of the area in which it operates. It must grow if the community is to grow, and the community must grow if the light and power company is to grow. Unlike ordinary enterprises, a public utility cannot stand still.

As a matter of fact, the public utility grows at a greater rate than the community, for a larger and larger proportion of the people use its service and become dependent upon it. Those who are using the service are making constantly increasing demands upon it.

High quality electric light and power service, rendered at reasonable rates, attracts business and industry to a community, and new business and new industries bring increased population and prosperity for the entire community, including the public utility.

This is why we are constantly striving to improve our service and reduce our rates. It may sound selfish, but it's true. It's just good business.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Dan Rorimer, a scenario writer in Hollywood, is in love with Anne Winter, who, beginning as an extra has progressed rapidly and has been offered a contract by Grand United, one of the largest of the studios.

Anne lives with two extra girls, Mona Morrison and Eva Harley, Eva at times is very bitter. She works only rarely, and she is despondent over a tragic love experience.

Paul Collier, who writes a daily movie column for a string of newspapers, and Johnny Riddle, free lance movie press agent, both advise Anne not to sign the contract. Dan does likewise. They argue that it is not enough money, and it will tie her up for three years at a small salary.

Anne takes their advice to heart. She also calls up her parents in Tulsa, Okla., to ask the advice of her father, who is an attorney.

Anne turns the contract down. Dan, who is under contract at CONTINENTAL PICTURES, has had a row with the studio manager and wants to leave. He gets a two weeks layoff and decides to spend the time in San Francisco.

He is a little dissatisfied with himself and is downhearted because Anne refuses to let his friendship become more than that.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXV

Dan left the following night for San Francisco. In Chinatown he bought a red Happi coat for Anne and had it mailed to her. It was a gay looking, of heavy figured silk, and Anne wired him her profuse thanks. He wrote to her:

"Why shouldn't I have sent it? I can't wear it, can I?—and I couldn't help buying it. You can't go through those shops without wanting to buy everything you see."

"I've been living the life of Riley—sightseeing like a rubber-neck tourist, golfing, horseback riding along a bridle path that skirts the ocean, and eating at little out-of-the-way restaurants where the food is something to talk about. We've never been riding together, Anne. Can't we do something about that?"

And to Paul Collier he wrote: "There's a fellow on the News—an Irishman—who has the swell-est line of Japanese stories you ever heard. Remind me when I get back, to tell you the one about the chap who broke his leg. It's a knockout. I wish I could send you a nice lungful of S. F. fog. Has Continental blown up yet? You might give my love to Adamson."

He returned to Los Angeles on a Monday morning and was met by Collier, who drove him out to the Continental lot.

"Well, old-timer, what's new?" "Oh, not much," Paul told him. "I understand, though, that Adamson is going to stick."

"That's sure too bad," Dan said. "Well, I had a bunch."

"He won't last long. The Lawsons are not that dumb."

"That forenoon Adamson sent word to Rorimer that he wanted to see him in his office. Dan was half expecting some such message.

He thought, on his way in: "Well, here goes."

Adamson glanced up and said, "Oh, hello, Rorimer," without removing his cigar from his mouth.

"Hello, Mr. Adamson."

Dan waited for an invitation to sit down, and Adamson, with only the slightest movement of his head indicated a chair.

"Well, have a nice time on your vacation, Rorimer?"

Dan said, "Yes, thanks," not liking the other's way of saying "vacation."

Adamson's cigar shifted from one side of his mouth to the other. "I wanted to talk to you. You got kind of hot-headed a while back and tore up your contract. I could have taken advantage of you if I had wanted to, and let you go."

"I fall to see," Rorimer said coolly "where letting me go would have been taking advantage of me. I rather invited it, didn't I?"

"Still high and mighty, aren't you?" Adamson sneered, and Dan ignored the remark.

The studio manager continued: "Well, we're reorganizing around here—getting rid of some of the dead timber and—"

"And naturally that lets me out," Dan finished for him, determined that Adamson should not have a chance to be insulting. "I haven't changed my mind about not wanting to work for you. My contract was the only thing that kept me here."

The other's smile was unpleasant. "Well, it won't keep you any longer. You're through—right away." His voice rose gratefully. The interview had not been as gratifying as he had expected.

Dan got up. "That suits me fine," he said. "Goodbye."

But Adamson did not answer him, and Dan grinned at him and left.

"I think I spoiled his enjoyment," he told Collier that evening. "I let him think he was doing me a great big favor."

"Well, I hope he was," said Collier. "Are you going to see what Martin Collins can do for you?"

But Dan told him no. "Not right away. I've got a few ideas I'd like to peddle around first, after I get them in shape."

Paul had expected some such answer. He thought he knew Dan pretty well—he knew he was not one to ask a favor of a friend, or pin him down to a casual promise. And Paul grumbled a bit, and swore at him, but he ended up by grinning and taking an affectionate punch at him.

Later that evening Dan drove out to the bungalow, and Anne and Winter were greatly concerned at his news.

"What will you do now, Dan?" He smiled into her troubled eyes. "Why, Anne, you look worried!"

He teased, and she shook her head in impatient protest at his banter.

"What are you going to do?" "He won't last long. Keep trying. I suppose, and see if I can write word to Rorimer that he wants to see him in his office. Dan was half expecting some such message."

and take up where I left off."

Anne said quickly, "Oh, I hope not, Dan," and he wanted to know why not.

"Would it make any difference to you if I left?"

She was half angry at the question. "Now you're being 'school-boyish,'" she told him, color rising in her cheeks. "You know better than to ask that."

So Dan said he was sorry. "Question's withdrawn!" And he spoke conciliatingly and changed the subject, talked of interesting things he had done on his trip north.

Mona and Eva came in while they were talking, and Mona immediately sat down and demanded to know "all the scandal."

And when Dan laughingly informed her that he was not "unattached," she cried out: "Well, if you two aren't a pair! Anne refuses to sign a contract and you tear one up! Some people don't know when they're lucky—do they, Eva?"

But Eva merely smiled and offered no comment.

There had, Anne explained to Rorimer, been nothing more said at Grand United on the subject of her contract.

"Not one word. I guess Mr. Johnson really meant take it or leave it."

"He's just playing poker, Anne. Is the picture finished yet?"

"Almost."

Fred Hurley, she said, had been very kind. "He made me promise to work for him in his next picture. But of course," she added, "that's just his way. He may not have meant it."

But Mona said, "Of course he meant it! The girl's good, Dan, and she won't admit it; she's always looking for an out when somebody says something nice. If Hurley told me that, I'd sure give him credit for meaning it. Huh! I wouldn't give him a chance to forget it!"

And Anne laughed. Mona, she said, was her staunchest supporter.

Two weeks later Anne called Rorimer with exciting news.

"Everything has happened at once, Dan."

"One thing at a time," he said. "First, did you get a new contract?"

"Yes."

"Good! Now go on with the story."

Anne told it with an eager rush of words. Paul Collier's story about her had brought numerous newspaper clippings to the Grand United publicity department, and Martin Collins had asked her to try out for a part in a forthcoming picture at Amalgamated.

"Do you suppose Mr. Johnson is psychic or something, Dan? He sent for me right after I finished talking to Collins."

"Not a psychic, Anne," he laughed. "Just a good guesser. That's why he has that job."

"At any rate," Anne went on, "he offered me a new contract—a much more attractive one—and I signed it. And I had already promised Mr. Collins I would try out for the part he talked about, so Mr. Johnson is going to lend me to Amalgamated if they want me."

Dan said that didn't prove that Mr. Johnson was big-hearted. "He'll charge Amalgamated more than Grand United's paying you. . . . But it's great news, Anne; I'll have to tell Johnny Riddle."

"Please do. Oh, I feel so happy about it I can hardly talk! Don't you think I ought to become one of Johnny Riddle's clients?"

"Well, Johnny's advice was O. K., wasn't it? I approve on one condition—that you don't permit him to get sentimental. If you won't let me, I certainly won't stand for Johnny."

Her joyous laugh was still echoing in his ear as he hung up and moved over to a window, to stand there, hands jammed deep in his pockets, thinking.

It was a hot afternoon. Heat rose enervatingly from the baked pavements, shimmered dizzily before hot eyes along the street, invaded his retreat. Dan's shirt had been discarded. He stood there by the window in undershirt, trousers and house slippers, and behind him was his typewriter; beside it, sheets of paper.

He thought back to the night that he had met Anne Winter, and he could go help smiling a little ironically at the strange reversal in their positions that a few short months had brought about—Anne from extra girl with only one day of experience, to contract player with the most important of the Hollywood picture companies; himself from staff writer at Continental, with a contract calling for more money than he had ever been paid before, to a free lance who had toiled for two weeks without producing a thing that satisfied him.

He was more than a little dismal. He remembered that he had told Anne half jokingly that he might go back to New York and take up where he had left off. He did not want to, certainly; it would mean defeat, and it would mean leaving Anne, and neither would be pleasant.

He turned dispiritedly back to the typewriter which had never looked so cheerless as it did on this hot afternoon. He had been struggling with an idea for a picture. At first it had seemed a wonderful idea, but that was before he had begun to set his thoughts down on paper. Now the more he wrote the more dissatisfied he became; sheet after sheet had emerged from his typewriter only to be flung disgustedly away after the colmer and more critical reading the next morning.

Paul Collier still thought it was a great idea; Collier was encouraging.

"You've got the stuff, my boy. Go ahead and lick 'em."

But Paul, Dan told himself as he frowned at the page before him, did not have a girl on his mind. It was one thing to write when nothing troubled you, and quite another when your thoughts were always getting scrambled up with Anne Winter.

Disgustedly he got up and trudged to the kitchen for a drink of water. And when he sat down once more and lit his pipe—which was his device during periods of mental stress to keep from smoking abnormal quantities of cigars—and tried to think about his story, tried to banish the dismal thought that he was just a piker in love with a girl who was destined to do things.

Easy to look at

IT'S AS EASY and natural to enjoy the fragrant mildness of a Camel Cigarette as it is to admire beauty when you see it. Camels are made, and always have been made, for discriminating smokers—the people whose keen judgment unerringly selects the best. But that doesn't mean you have to be an expert to enjoy Camels! The delicate, mellow fragrance of those choice sun-ripened tobaccos is something that anybody can appreciate. Camels are naturally smooth and mild—never parched nor insipid. Why is there such a swing to Camels? Because more and more smokers are learning the difference between true mildness and mere flatness. Give yourself the luxury of a cigarette that's always pleasant smoking.

CAMELS Easy to smoke. Includes an image of a Camel cigarette pack and the brand name in large stylized letters.

Lubbock Expects Defense To Be Powerful

WESTERNERS HOPE TO STAY IN TITLE RACE

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Sports Editor
Avalanche Journal

LUBBOCK, Sept. 24. (Special)—The eyes of Texas high school football fans will be turned on Lubbock Friday when the Westerners take the field to defend their touted strength and potential winning ability against the Pampa Harvesters in the first conference game for either of the District 1 contenders.

Coach Henry Franks of the Westerners initiated a series of work-outs Monday which will carry the husky weavers of the black and gold through Thursday, with the guns trained on the Panhandle team and loaded for big game. Rated as two of the most powerful teams in the district, if not in the state, Lubbock and Pampa clash here in what should prove to be one of the most interesting games of the season.

Their First Meeting

Aside from being the first league game of the current season for either club, the contest here Friday will be the first meeting of the teams of all time, for it was not until this year that Pampa was made a member of the Class A circle. Last season, playing under Class B colors, the Harvesters became popular almost overnight when they stepped up to snatch a victory or two from Class A teams of the circuit. It is an established fact that any other team ambitious of winning the District 1 title must beat Pampa.

A Pampa team consisting of almost an entire lineup seeded veterans, letter men of last year, will oppose a Lubbock team less experienced and with fewer letter men, but apparently none the less able to win. The Westerners opened their playing season last Friday against the Colorado Wolves, sending that team down to a merciful 45 to 0 defeat, whereas Pampa played their third game last week, defeating the Hollis, Okla., team by a much more decisive score. In two previous games they piled up a large score over opposing eleven.

Strong Defensive

Although he has a veteran backfield with which to work, Coach Franks' forward wall was the unit which drew the most complimentary notes in the first game. The line is without the services of five letter men of last season, but the Westerners have built up a defensive wall that bids fair to stopping the most relentless attacks, and if they can constitute a pass-defense in the backfield the fortifications will be complete.

He has not announced his starting lineup for Friday, but the Westerner skipper probably will start the game with an eleven conforming to last Friday's lineup. If that is the case, Watson and Martin will start at the wing positions; McCasland and Brawley at the tackle posts; McGehee and Grigg at guard stations, and Scoggins at center. The backfield will be made up of Co. Captain Dub Lawson as quarter, Co-Captain Mina Watkins and Johnson, halfbacks, and Ovie Teal, full back.

Hornsby Likely Will Do Some Thoro Changing

CHICAGO, Spt. 24. (P)—What will Rogers Hornsby do with the Cubs? Owner William Wrigley's announcement that the Rajah will replace Joe McCarthy in 1931 brought down the biggest rumor flying around for more than a week, but it also generated others.

It was reported that Hornsby would insist upon a thorough overhauling of the club personnel—and that some of the boys might be in other uniforms next season. No names were mentioned, however.

It also was reported that Hornsby would assume charge of the team in the final series of the season which opens tomorrow at Wrigley field, with the pestiferous Cincinnati Reds. Hornsby, himself, had nothing to say about anything. When the Cubs arrived from Boston last night—minus Manager McCarthy who had stopped off at his home in Buffalo—no one would say anything about the change. Hornsby smilingly reiterated that "It's all news to me," when he was questioned about the appointment.

Tod Morgan Wins

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 24. (P)—Santiago Zorillo of Panama is the most recent victim of the come-back campaign of Tod Morgan, Seattle, former junior lightweight champion.

Morgan won a close decision over Zorillo in an eight-round fight here last night. Zorillo took an early lead by baffling the former champion with a fast, two-handed attack. Morgan made a slugging comeback in the last rounds to gain the decision.

Gorillas Are Defeated in Game With Panhandle

Pampa's Gorillas lost a game to the Panhandle eleven at Panhandle yesterday afternoon, 20 to 0.

Score by periods

Panhandle	7	0	6	7	20

This was the first time the Gorillas had been defeated this season, they having previously defeated Mobeetie by a score of 7 to 0 and LeFors 25 to 0. A stiff wind, causing the pitcher to be difficult to handle, and many fumbles proved disastrous to the Gorillas. Substitutions were plentiful at twenty-two players were used trying to stop the Panhandle team. The line-up at the start of the game: Clarke, left end; Bartgis, left tackle; McNeil, left guard; J. D. Wright, right guard; Green, center; Powell, right tackle; Gill, right end; Robinson, right half; Benton left half; Stevens, quarterback; Brown fullback. Substitutions: Brumley, Kencheleoe, Howard, Frost, Vaught, Pribble, Rodgers Keith, Langdon, Turner, and Ragsdale.

Ragsdale proved to be most consistent of the Pampa eleven going thru the Panhandle (line several times for gains of from 6 to 10 yards. Robinson and Keith went around the Panhandle ends several times for gains of from 12 to 25 yards.

Determined to wipe out this defeat, plans are being made for a game at Pampa with the Panhandle team in the middle of October. Other games being negotiated include one with Happy, probably in that place, on October 17.

The fame of the Gorillas is becoming known. A letter has been received here from Rev. James L. Daly of Price Memorial college, who stated that he had heard that the "Gorillas" were doing some good work, and he desired to match a game with them. If such a game is matched, it will be played on October 24, possibly at Pampa.

CUBS FIGHT CARDS TO END OF BIG RACE

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the American league title firmly settled in the hands of the Philadelphia Athletics, the National league has eliminated the last surviving eastern contender, leaving the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs to battle it out for the championship.

The Brooklyn Robins dropped out of the race yesterday as they took an 8 to 2 beating from the New York Giants while the league leading Cardinals again triumphed over the last place Phillies by a 19 to 16 count.

This final touch of the season's Intersectional play gave the western clubs 189 victories to 163 for the east. In the American league, the Cubs from the Atlantic seaboard came out with 202 victories and 180 defeats.

Just as the Athletics surpassed their American league rivals, the Cardinals now appear to be the dominating team of the elder circuit. Yesterday's victory in the slugfest which produced 26 hits for the winners and 16 for the defeated Phils put them three full games ahead of the idle Cubs and brought the record of their climb up to 29 victories in 36 games.

The Giants gained a virtual tie with Brooklyn for third place and today the four clubs stand as follows:

St. Louis—won 89; lost 61; pct. .593.
Chicago—won 86; lost 64; pct. .573; games behind 3; games to play 4.
Brooklyn—won 84; lost 66; pct. .560; games behind 5; games to play 4.
New York—won 85; lost 67; pct. .559; games behind 5; games to play 2.

As the American league had a day of idleness, the Athletics spent

DUTCH MANTELL, WHO WILL WRESTLE HERE TOMORROW, HAS 32 YEARS ON MAT

Dutch Mantell, grizzled veteran of thousands of mat battles, will arrive today to complete work-outs for his match with Sailor Tex Watkins at the Pla-Mor Thursday night.

Dutch began wrestling when he was 17 years old. He is 49 now. If those 32 years have not taught him enough tricks to beat Watkins, a youngster of only 5 years of continuous wrestling, the noted Dutchman scoffs at the idea of his losing to the sailor.

But the fans would not be surprised to see Watkins, with superior stamina and several pounds additional weight, defeat the old man in the afternoon watching the antics of their prospective rivals and the last-place Phils. Off to an 11-0 lead in four innings, the Cards romped through the last of the game. The losers furnished the game's feature, one a homer with the bases full by Tony Rens, the other an unexpected show of fielding which produced two neat double plays.

Brooklyn sent Dazy Vance against the Giants. But Fred Fitzsimmons had the better of the dazler, who fell before a five-hit assault in the fifth inning which produced four runs and a victory. Fitz allowed only six hits and two homers scored the only Brooklyn runs. The Cincinnati Reds stepped out of their characteristic as consistent losers to take a double header from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Jackie May gave the Pirates only three hits in the first contest to gain an 8 to 0 shutout. The Reds won the second 5 to 2.

CHUCK KLEIN, WHO WILL WRESTLE HERE TOMORROW, HAS 32 YEARS ON MAT

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (P)—Chuck Klein, young Philadelphia outfielder who is noted principally for his slugging ability, has shown that he is a brilliant fielder as well.

Klein has 42 assists to his credit, setting a new major league record for an outfielder. The old mark of 39 was held jointly by Harry Niles of the St. Louis Browns and Michael Mitchell of Cincinnati. Klein also has set a new National league record for two base hits as a cleanup of the official figures brought his total for the season to 59, three above the record set by Ed Delahanty of Philadelphia in 1899.

Mantell met Cal Farley four times and records do not show that Cal had the best of it. The police stopped several matches.

Garden Ready To Stand Loss On Sharkey Bout

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (P)—Officials of Madison Square Garden are hoping for the best, but are fully prepared to take a big loss on the 15-round bout they are promoting between Jack Sharkey and Victorio Campolo at the Yankee stadium tomorrow night.

All efforts to arouse a long-suffering boxing public to the merits, whatever they may be, of the bout have failed and indications are the gates will not exceed the $100,000 guaranteed Sharkey.

The Boston sailor, despite a lethargic training campaign, rules a two to one favorite to beat back the big Argentine. Campolo can hit with his right hand and no one has doubted his courage, but he seems too awkward and too slow to hold Sharkey on anything approaching easy terms. His only chance for victory, in short, appears to lie in the landing of one of those devastating right hands.

Chuck Klein Capable Fielder

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (P)—Chuck Klein, young Philadelphia outfielder who is noted principally for his slugging ability, has shown that he is a brilliant fielder as well.

School Teacher Recovering After Period in Coma

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 24. (P)—Miss Mariah Slight, 26, a school teacher, who lay unconscious at a hospital for 47 days from injuries suffered in an automobile accident, was recovering at her home here today.

Her injuries included a fractured skull, a dislocated vertebra in the neck—and Ivy poisoning. She was thrown in a growth of poison ivy when her car got out of control and left the road.

For a month and a half she lay in a coma, kept alive by receiving nourishment through tubes. She would automatically respond to orders to touch her face or raise her hands, but showed no signs of consciousness or understanding, physicians said. Then came a delirium, which was followed by complete consciousness.

Paul D. Hill went to Amarillo yesterday where he saw the TriState exposition.

BOBBY JONES TAKING LEAD OVER RIVALS

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 24. (P)—Bobby Jones, playing sub par golf gained a commanding lead of 4 up over Ross Somerville, Canadian champion, today after the nine holes of their first round match in the United States amateur championship. Jones was out in 33, three under par.

The card:
Jones—out 443 554 439—33.
Somerville—out 444 554 443—37.
Bobby reached the turn with three successive birdies to turn what started out as a close match into a near rout. The Georgian's famous putter, "calmly Jane" rattled 'em in from distances of 80 feet on the 7th, 12 feet on the 8th and 12 feet on the 9th. Somerville's per golf on these three holes was just a wasted effort.

BUSINESS WOMEN DISCUSS SUMMER EUROPEAN TOURS

Mrs. Grace Higgins Shows Articles Brought From Abroad at Dinner For B. and P. W. Club Tuesday Evening

Highlights on their summer trips abroad were given in interesting talks by Mrs. Grace Higgins and Mrs. H. H. Hicks at a dinner for the Pampa Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday evening in the Pampa Drug tea room.

Roses and other garden flowers were used as table decorations and pastel shades were favored in all details.

The president, Mrs. W. C. Mitchell, was toastmistress, and roll call was answered with "Why I chose my vocation." Mrs. Mitchell then gave a short talk relating to the work of the club for the coming year, and introduced Mrs. Hicks, who gave an account of her European trip.

Mrs. Higgins Speaks

Mrs. Higgins, the first president of the local club, then told of her good-will tour of Europe this summer with a large group of business and professional women. She described the entertainments held for the group, including the tea at the home of Lady Astor. One interesting feature of English social functions, she explained, was that the guests never smoked before a toast was given to the king. She said that smoking among English women was common.

Mrs. Higgins then displayed a number of articles purchased in Europe and presented a gown to the club, a Venetian linen luncheon set to Mrs. Harry Hoare, a recent bride, and pearl-handled paring knives to Mrs. Benjamin Williams, also recently married.

Those Attending

Those attending the dinner were Mrs. Madeline Tarpley, Mrs. Sedler, Miss Edna Clemens, Mrs. R. J. The formal opening will be from 10 to 6 p. m. on the two days.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY HOLLYCE SELLERS

Speaking of interesting occupations for women—word comes from Paris that Mile. Viana Mabine, who has been working since she was 13 years old, is the first feminine iron worker in France. Attired in a workman's smock, she is to be seen on the building of a Paris newspaper at work as a riveter. Mile Mabine likes to sing at her work and is a great favorite among her fellow men workers. She obtained her early training during the war, she explains, and, liking the work, continued with it until she became an expert structural worker.

Did you notice anything in the above paragraph that might account in part for Mile. Mabine's success in her chosen work? Of course you did. She likes her work and works with a song. Such an attitude is one of the main secrets of success of any woman who really gets ahead—or man either, for that matter.

The first essential for the woman who wishes to succeed is that she enjoys doing the thing that she has chosen as her occupation. Without this enjoyment, the tasks will be little more than routine drudgery.

At a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club last evening, each member and guest was required to answer roll call with "Why I Chose My Vocation." Some were following their particular work merely because they drifted into it. It "just happened that way." But a few chose their vocation because they enjoyed that type of work. And the best bet is that the woman who enjoys the work is the one who will overlook the small handicaps and petty criticisms and will demand the respect of her associates in spite of them. It is this woman who will really succeed.

A desire to "make a living" is a good reason to be in occupation, but not to be in any one occupation. The woman who thinks she cannot do the things she likes to do is not doing herself justice. But there is no perfect job. Once the woman has chosen the thing she likes best she must force herself to overlook criticisms and like even the bad points if there is no way to improve them and if she would be successful. A song will help—and a smile.

No matter what your occupation is, you are going to come in contact with people who are critical of both you and your work and you will tend to become discouraged, but then, "Does it really, really matter, if the neighbors raise a clatter, and cast about for horrid things to say? If they shout and point the finger while their lashes sting and linger, Can't you still keep smiling on your way? Every dart which strikes your face, Means an added day of grace If you smile upon your undeserved care.

When the day of life is done, And you count the victory won, Will it matter what they said, or when, or where?" William Faulks of Amarillo, representing the Roberts, Johnson & Rand shot company, transacted business in Pampa today.

The wooden awning over the front of the Clouston Motor company has been repaired, and a small railing has been erected on top of the awning.

Budgets Discussed At Gathering Of El Progreso Members On Tuesday

"My Favorite Economy Stunt," was given in answer to roll call when members of El Progreso club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charlie Thut. The program was based on "Budgets," and Mrs. Walter Purviance was leader for the afternoon.

Are Principal Speakers Mrs. Purviance, using as her subject "Are Budgets Practical?" and Mrs. George W. Briggs, discussing "The Money plan for the Family," were principal speakers.

Mrs. Briggs stressed the importance of home furnishings, stating that the home should be made comfortable, yet not "too nice to live in" the family should have the best foods, she said, and should have books and magazines. "Skimping" she explained, "should not be practiced on these articles."

Must Plan Carefully Mrs. Purviance said in part: "Those who wish to succeed in life must plan their spending systematically, giving each department of household or personal expenditure such careful consideration that they may be sure they have resisted the temptation to spend for those things which are merely attractive in themselves without adding to the real values of life."

"The family budget is increasing," taking the place of the allowance for household expenses, for it secures the cooperation of the entire family, including the children, in the best use of the family income. There is nothing so fascinating as saving money, once it is begun.

"Living by a budget makes one consider values, not in terms of money but in terms of permanent enjoyment. Too many people live according to the conventional standards of their social set without consciously defining their own standards, without counting the cost of maintaining these standards and balancing the cost with the return in the durable satisfactions of life." A budget brings us face to face with this problem. Almost everyone has more desires than can be gratified within his income; some choice must be made, and in making these choices deliberately we discover what are, to us, the really worthwhile things of life.

These Present Those attending the meeting were Mrs. John V. Andrews, Mrs. George W. Briggs, Mrs. C. M. Bryson, Mrs. William M. Craven, Mrs. E. L. Ledrick, Mrs. P. C. Ledrick, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mrs. Dave Pope, Mrs. W. Purviance, Mrs. Charlie Thut, Mrs. James Todd, Mrs. W. A. Wilson and Mrs. Carson Loftus.

Thomas Y. Pickett, of the firm of Pickett and company, Dallas, accountants, is transacting business in Pampa today.

Mrs. A. Gordon Wood returned this morning to her home in Dallas. Mrs. Wood is a sister of Dr. W. Thurman.

Four Hundred Fifty Persons Attend Social Gathering Held At East Ward Tuesday; Superintendent Is Speaker

About 450 persons, a crowd filling the auditorium and corridors of East Ward school, gathered Tuesday evening for an informal get-acquainted meeting. Informality was the key-note of the occasion, and fathers and mothers with their children met the teachers and officials of the school, and chatted of problems pertaining to school activities.

A sing-song was conducted by Mrs. Katherine Wilkerson and Miss Kathleen Beatty.

President Speaks Mrs. J. E. Townsend, president of the East Ward P. T. A., after welcoming the group, outlined the plan of the association for the year, sketching the accomplishments in the past, and extended an invitation to all patrons of the school to cooperate in the work of the organization during this year. She introduced Mrs. V. E. Rathene, president of the P. T. A. council of the city, who made an interesting talk on the operation of the council.

Mrs. F. L. Hill, teacher of dramatic art, gave two delightful readings.

Superintendent R. B. Fisher spoke at length, emphasizing the importance of P. T. A. activities and expressing the appreciation of the school officials and teachers for the interest and enthusiasm shown by the patrons of East Ward.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

A real "made in Gray county" product is on exhibit at the Amarillo Tri-State exposition. It is a cereal, made of whole wheat, put up in cans, ready to serve with cream and sugar. The cereal is the result of the cooperative efforts of Mrs. S. C. Jones, member of the Grandview home demonstration club, and Miss Lee Hayden, A. & M. college specialist in home industries, who has been in this county the past week, working out problems in her specialty, one of which was the utilization of wheat.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson attended the Tri-State exposition in Amarillo today.

D. W. Thurman, who underwent an appendicitis operation at the Pampa hospital one week ago, was dismissed from the hospital this morning.

County agent Ralph R. Thomas attended the Tri-State exposition at Amarillo today.

Jack Carroll made a business trip to Amarillo, Laketon and Shamrock today.

Grover Morris attended the Tri-State exposition in Amarillo yesterday.

R. E. Underwood, Amarillo attorney, transacted business in Pampa yesterday.

Thomas L. Wade made a business trip to Amarillo yesterday.

Walter Fincher, manager of the Cal Farley Tire shop is among local citizens who are attending the exposition in Amarillo today. Sugar is the big seller in the local wholesale grocery market, according to A. S. Beavers, manager of J. M. Radford Grocery company. The demand is good. Yesterday the Radford company received a carload of Imperial sugar from Sugarland.

Myra Oliver Dougan Is Seriously Ill; Grace Bull To Lecture Here

Because of the serious illness of Myra Oliver Dougan, she will be unable to conduct the cooking school to be sponsored by the Pampa Daily News Oct. 14-17, inclusive, and Grace Bull, who has been conducting schools on the Pacific coast, has been chosen to fill the engagement. The school will be held in the basement of the Methodist church.

Grace Bull is one of the nation's experts in home economics and cookery, and brings with her an amazing background based on laboratory experience of the inherent and relative values of foods, stressing vegetable dishes. She will preside in a modern kitchen in which she will demonstrate the actual preparation and cooking of vegetable items, and explain in detail the values to be obtained from each. Thousands of public appearances in her chosen life work have lent to Grace Bull an extremely attractive stage presence. While she deals with what might be otherwise a dry subject from a highly practical standpoint, her personality so colors her incidental remarks that she holds her listeners spell bound, while at the same time bringing to them the very latest findings of the world's greatest food laboratories in the preparation and selection of balanced food rations without losing, but rather, gaining in the general palatability of the menus prepared.

Has Many "Tricks" Information hitherto considered unattainable forms a regular portion of her discourse—the little tricks and short cuts of cookery that can make all the difference in the world between drudgery and skilled endeavor, are graphically portrayed by Grace Bull as she works in her own kitchen before the eye of those assembled. Tremendous throngs of women are greeting her at her every public appearance, and it is believed that Pampa housewives will turn out en masse for all of her five lessons.

The News wishes to remind its readers that these lectures are entirely free of charge and without obligation. It is suggested that every housewife should be checking on the incidental data published in The News from day to day regarding the cooking school and should make plans immediately to attend not only one lecture, but all of them, carrying her notebook with her in order that she may obtain the maximum amount of advantage. Lectures will begin at 2:30 promptly on Oct. 14 and will continue for four consecutive days.

Making Search for Two Men Who Slew Circus Negro

DALLAS, Sept. 24. (AP)—Search continued today for two men described as the slayers of Frank Sutton, 33, negro, of Chicago, employe of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum and Bailey circus, who was shot and killed and his body thrown from the train as the circus left here early yesterday for Fort Worth.

The negro's body was found late yesterday beside a railroad track in the southern outskirts of Dallas.

Four youths held in Fort Worth as material witnesses told police that two robbers climbed aboard a flat car of the circus train, on which a group of circus employes were riding, and after robbing the group of small amounts of money, shot the negro when he argued with them. They dropped from the train and disappeared in the darkness.

Miss Marye Yoder has taken employment as stenographer in the office of J. M. Radford Grocery company.

R. F. Williams made a business trip to White Deer and LeFors today.

Claud Wild Says Independents Are Trying to Survive

MIDLAND, Sept. 24. (P)—Claud C. Wild, executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Producers' association of Texas, told a meeting of 50 Midland independent operators last night that the independent operators must present a "united front" if they hope to survive "present methods of major oil companies" in production, transportation, refining, distribution, and marketing.

He said his organization was working for legislation that would allow the independent royalty and land owners to survive and said it was not a militant movement but one of education.

Lee Satterwhite of Odessa, recently elected to the legislature, where he previously served as member and speaker of the house, told the meeting he favored a measure that would aid not only the independent and major royalty and land owners but all consumers as well.

Plane Mystery Is Still Unsolved

SHAWNEE, Okla., Sept. 24. (P)—Although a fine of $25 assessed against him for carrying concealed weapons had been paid, George F. Hazelton still was in the county jail here today in connection with the "mystery" plane which for several days had used a cow pasture south-east of here for a landing field.

Placed in jail Monday when he refused to pay the fine, Hazelton was denied his freedom last night although the money was paid by an uncle, A. J. Henson of Tulsa. Officers said he would be held pending an investigation into the plane by officials of the department of commerce. If the investigation is not made today Hazelton will be released, Charles Lidell, under-sheriff, said.

Wheat Collapses
CHICAGO, Sept. 24. (P)—Big selling to stop losses of eastern holders who had bought at 10 cents a bushel higher prices carried wheat down to fresh low records late today. September delivery of wheat here dropped to 76 3/8 cent, the bottom-most level reached since January, 1907, a fall outdoing the severe tumble which culminated in July, 1914, and was followed by war market advances to as high as $2.49 3/4.

Wheat rallied abruptly about 2 3/4 cent just before the final gong, and closed feverish, varying from 1-4 cent lower than yesterday's finish to 1-2 cent net advance. Corn recovered, too, closing 18 to 5-8 cent up, with oats at 14c off to 18 cent gain, and provisions unchanged to setback of 25 cents.

Chicago Grain
CHICAGO, Sept. 24. (P)—Wheat: No actual sales reported.
Corn: No. 2 mixed 87 1-2 to 88; No. 1 yellow 87 1-2 to 89.
Oats: No. 2 white 35 1-2 to 36 1-4; No. 3 white 35 1-4 to 1-2.

Wheat Is Reacting
CHICAGO, Sept. 24. (P)—Wheat and corn values scored early advances here today after March and May deliveries of wheat had touched new low price records. Initial declines in Chicago were largely a reflection of downturns in quotations at Liverpool, where Russian and Canadian grain was reported pressing for an outlet. On the other hand, future delivery offerings of wheat in Chicago lacked volume on price setbacks, and it was pointed out that Russian exports of even as much as 50,000,000 bushels would not satisfy European importers' requirements for one month.

Opening at 3-4 cent off to 1-8 cent up, Chicago wheat afterward sagged a little more, and then rose all around to above yesterday's finish. Corn started 1-4 to 1-2 cent lower, but subsequently advanced.

Student of Communism Is Tared and Feathered by Band of Florida Men

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 24. (P)—Chief of Detectives L. O. Scarborough said today that David Weinberg, who was tarred and feathered by unidentified men last night, had been removed from a hospital to Dade county jail "for his own good."

Scarborough declined to amplify his statement, but said he did not fear violence.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 24. (P)—Tared and feathered, bound, gagged and wrapped in a white hooded garment, David Weinberg, 44, a tailor, was hauled from an automobile in the downtown district here last night.

Police attributed the attack to displeasure with communistic beliefs said by Weinberg's acquaintances frequently to have been his subject of conversation. He was thrown from the automobile in a neighborhood where he was well known.

Authorities said his condition was not critical.

Weinberg said he was kidnaped from his home about 8 p. m., by three unidentified men, one of whom displayed a badge. He was handcuffed and ordered into an automobile. He told police that he was driven about for some time and then transferred from a coupe into a touring car and was blindfolded, gagged and beaten. He said he was asked questions concerning his ideas of communism and literature which he had in his home.

While blindfolded, he said, they rode for probably two hours and then the automobile stopped. He believed the other car was nearby. After being taken from the car he said the handcuffs were unlocked, his ankles and arms bound and his clothing removed. He was ordered to lie down and the coat of tar and feathers were applied. Then he was placed in one of the automobiles and again taken for a long ride before being thrown out.
