

RINGLING CANCELS SUNDAY SHOW

Many things come to those who fight for their rights and keep on fighting. Portales, N. M., is celebrating the letting of the first contract on her Teachers college. The school is the answer to the demand of that section of the state for a portion of the state appropriations.

West Texas unity is partly based upon similar demands. In fact, this consistent effort to return to West Texas some of the tax dollar, that leave this section has resulted in the charge in other parts of the state that the Panhandle's demands are unreasonable. This reaction was to be expected, and indeed merely shows that West Texas is winning recognition.

You've got to reckon with the odds of football players as well as the boys themselves when errors are made. A Tulsa U. writer by mistake included the name of Bob Kahl of Pampa in a story about former Amarillo Sandies on the Tulsa team. The error went through the Amarillo News and resulted in credit where none was due Amarillo. Joe Kahl wants it known that son Bob never went to Amarillo high, and that little Joe has not and never will.

Speaking of Amarillo, with her claim of staying in the "white spot" on good business conditions, the Borger Herald cleverly says that as long as the Potter city remains within 60 miles of Pampa and Borger it will always be in the white. Righto, and Dalhart should be included in the list, since we should not overlook that "suburb" of Amarillo.

Barber shops of the city are receiving much praise. Many of them are cutting free of charge the hair of needy children who are entering school. Committees of the churches, together with the Salvation Army, are investigating instances of underprivileged children, and are issuing order for the barber work. Large number of children have received the free service, to which the barbers gave their time liberally.

This is a fine example of public service. It matches the good work that the various church committees are doing. There still is a keen need for children's clothing, especially for boys, at opening of school. The Salvation Army will receive the garments at the headquarters across the street from the Methodist church, and the churches have committees which also receive clothing and prepare it for the youngsters.

There should be no child of school age who cannot enter because of lack of clothing. Free public education is a myth unless those eligible to receive it are enabled to attend the classes. The underprivileged child is often more fitted to receive and appreciate free schooling than many to whom it is no special boon. The world would have been much poorer in all ages were it not for the nearly penniless men and women who brushed aside difficulties in order to accomplish great purposes.

While we are on the subject of schools, we might as well announce that the Texas History Movies, a pictorial history of the state which will be keyed in with the school textbooks and will be of value to history teachers as well as interesting to the pupils and pupils generally.

If all the people who hold old things in order to win a scholarship this fall reach their purported goals, college enrollments will break all records.

DECLINE TO CONTINUE AT STEADY RATE

New Schedule Will Be Mailed on Tuesday

PAMPA FIELD HAS NEW TESTS

County Stands Bulk of Reduction in Crude

(BY ARCHER FULLINGIM)
The meaning of proration as interpreted by the Railroad Commission of Texas was made clear to Panhandle operators this week when daily production for the six counties declined 12,354 barrels. Gray county stood for 8,352 barrels of this loss.

In the seven-day period ending Sept. 11, the daily production decreased from 97,451 barrels to 85,097 barrels. As the daily output is still above the 80,000 figure which the commission says must be the maximum production for the Panhandle, another big decrease is due next week. It is apparent to every operator now that H. J. Corcoran, proration umpire and his assistants, will enforce the commission's order.

By working overtime, Mr. Corcoran and his assistants expect to have potentials of every well in the Panhandle, and a new proration schedule ready to mail out by next Tuesday. Proration under this new schedule will be absolutely fair, according to Mr. Corcoran.

Several Completions
During the week ending Sept. 11, there were two gas well completions in Carson county; eight oil well and two gas well completions in Gray, while one was dry and abandoned. Wheeler had one gas completion. Moore completed one oil well. Total number of completions was 15. The Panhandle counties had wells drilling below 2,000 feet as follows: Hutchinson 15; Carson 10; Gray 37; Roberts 1; Wheeler 2; and Potter 1; Total 70. Three locations were made in Hutchinson, seven in Gray, one in Wheeler, one in Moore. Total number of operations was 155.

All completions for the Panhandle during the week follow:
Carson—Red River Gas company's No. 4 Bivens, section 44, block M-20, total depth 2,697; pay, 2,562-2590; initial production 20 million feet of gas. Texas Interstate P. L. company's No. 1 (6) Bennett, section 6, block 5, total depth 2,854; gas pay, 2,875-2,820 feet; initial production (See DECLINE, Page 6)

Injured Oil Man Is Somewhat Better

OSWEGO, Kans., Sept. 13. (AP)—Physicians tonight said W. F. Forbes, Lewistown, Mont., independent oil operator, who was injured last night when his airplane crashed six miles north of here, was slightly improved.

He is suffering with fractures of the collarbone, broken ribs, a fractured wrist, a fractured ankle and a gash in his neck. At a local hospital, it was said he will recover. Mr. Forbes was en route to Amarillo, Texas, from St. Louis. His plane crashed when he attempted to land after his gasoline supply gave out. He said he had planned to pick up V. K. Baird, a business associate, at Amarillo, and then fly to Los Angeles. Mr. Baird was expected to arrive here tomorrow.

Will Boost for Road

BIG SPRING, Sept. 13. (AP)—All towns touched by the proposed new railroad of the Texas Pacific Northern will send representatives to Austin Monday to confer with the state railroad commission in the interest of the proposed road. The Big Spring committee also will confer with the highway commission and the pink boll worm commission while in Austin.

Truce in Louisiana Is Declared to Aid Bonds

Governor Long and Mayor Agree to Terms

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13. (AP)—The state of Louisiana, ripped and torn by factional Democratic politics for the last two years, has declared a political holiday.

Gov. Huey P. Long and Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley, titular heads of the two opposing factions, have sheathed their swords and agreed to work together for adoption of a $68,000,000 state bond issue to build state highways and public works in New Orleans and reduce the debt of the New Orleans city board.

Such a truce was indicated Tuesday night when Mayor Walmsley rushed to be the first to congratulate Governor Long on winning the Democratic nomination for the United States senate over Sen. Joseph E. Ransdell.

Man Is Sought In Torture Case

BEAUMONT, Sept. 13. (AP)—Search for Clarence Rogers, charged with criminal assault and assault to murder in connection with the torturing of Miss Edith Bozeman in a hotel here, turned toward northeast Texas today.

The 20-year-old girl was lured to a hotel room last Thursday night after a visit to a picture show with a man she had known only a few hours, was bound, attacked and for five hours deliberately burned in more than a hundred places on her body with lighted cigarettes.

Charges against Rogers were filed by police this morning before Justice of the peace R. A. McReynolds, and Capt. of Detectives L. B. Maddox went to Dallas on receiving reports. Rogers had been seen here previously. Rogers had been reported on a train between Nacogdoches and Dallas.

Police picked up the trail of the man who attacked the girl by means of a hat which he dropped when fired upon by officers as he ran from the hotel. Subsequently the man was seen twice, it was reported, and was drinking and bragging about "beating up a girl in Beaumont."

Noisy Gasser Is Heard in Pampa

A well presumed to be Dick Graham's No. 1 Sullivan, about three and one-half miles west of Pampa, blew in last night for a gas flow estimated to be 10,000,000 cubic feet or more.

The test was spraying a little oil, but in the darkness it was impossible to hazard a guess as to production. Shortly before midnight the noise of the gasser attracted attention within the city. The Sullivan well is located 792 feet north and west, section 136, block 3, H&GN survey. It recently was shut down at 2,263 feet.

METHODIST CHURCH PLANS TO PAY OFF INDEBTEDNESS ON ITS BUILDING IN 10 MINUTES TIME

At a unique service to be held at the First Methodist church this morning, the Rev. Tom W. Brabham intends to receive enough large and small subscriptions in 10 minutes to pay off the church building debt of $27,000. He proposes to raise, in addition, $1,750 to defray expenses already incurred.

Rev. Brabham will preach at 11 o'clock as usual. A large class of new members is scheduled to join the church at the service. Members of the church will bring a basket lunch which will be served in the basement immediately following the service. The entire membership is urged to be present with lunch.

The original cost of the church was $100,000. A loan of $33,000 was floated in order to finish and equip the building. The debt on the loan has been cut from $33,000 to $27,000 and Rev. Brabham declares that the building debt will be wiped out this morning.

Rev. Brabham is expecting gifts as follows:
Two, $5,000 gifts, $10,000; two,

Enrollment in Pampa District Is Up to Expectation; Baker Has Big Increase; New School In Oil Field

Pampa Independent School district enrollment late yesterday was near the 2,000 mark, with 352 students registered at Central high Saturday noon.

It was believed the enrollment would climb steadily during the next few weeks. The total in the high school will be 525 within a short time, with the prospect of its reaching nearly 600 before the term ends. Some of the students, however, as in other grades also, will enroll but leave the city before the school year is over.

In the high school, the students were distributed as follows: Freshmen, 48 girls, 59 boys, total 107; sophomores, 64 girls, 55 boys, or 99; juniors, 47 girls, 33 boys, or 80; seniors, 49 girls, 17 boys, or 66. Ninety of the pupils had transferred from other schools.

As expected, the Baker school enrollment was greatly increased. There were 508 pupils registered up to last night, nearly one hundred more than last year. Distribution was as follows: First grade, 175; second grade, 104; third grade, 101; fourth grade, 70; fifth grade, 58. There were 146 beginners, of whom 83 were six years old and eligible under the new law. The six new rooms were full, and at least one cottage will be used. There are seven-teen teachers, compared with thirteen last year. Prof. J. A. Meek is principal.

Furniture and Other Fixtures For New City Hall are Bought Friday

After many hours of comparing bids on varying types of equipment for the new city hall, the commissioners announced their awards late Friday.

Office chairs were purchased from Thompson Hardware company at a total of $1,885. The Bickley Bros. firm of Houston got the contract for opera chairs for the auditorium. There will be about eight hundred of these, bought at $5.95 each. They will be of spring cushion upholstery, with plain backs.

The same firm will furnish office desks and tables, costing $1,554.10.

The Bestwick-Goodell company of Norwalk, Ohio, received the order for Venetian blinds costing $1,825. Chase-Walker filling cases were purchased from the Office Supply department of the Pampa Daily News for $423.60.

In another transaction, the commission awarded to Stuckey Construction the task of taking 10 feet off the east and west sides of Albert square, with paving of the

City of Tacoma Now Well on Way to Goal

JAPANESE ARE MUCH THRILLED

Bromley and Gatty Are in Great Plane

TOKYO, Sept. 13. 14. (AP)—Radio messages intercepted here from the trans-Pacific plane "City of Tacoma" indicated pilot Harold Bromley and navigator Harold Gatty passed to seaward of Nemuro, at the eastern-most tip of Hokkaido Island, about 9 a.m. (4 p.m. Saturday P. S. T.)

Nemuro is about 350 miles northeast of Samishiro beach, starting point of the projected Japan to Tacoma flight, indicating the "City of Tacoma" averaged about 87 1/2 miles an hour between Samishiro and Nemuro.

After passing Nemuro, the plane's course lay along the Kuriles islands northeast of Hokkaido for about 200 miles.

Beyond the Kuriles lay the vast expanse of the Pacific.

Permit Total Is Cut by Failures To Report Costs

An estimated loss of approximately a quarter million dollars in building permits already this year because owners of new structures failed to take out permits for the full value of their buildings was reported yesterday by F. E. Townsend, city building inspector.

In most instances where permits were not issued for the total cost of the project, the general contractor was not to blame because it is right that he should not apply for a permit exceeding the amount of his contract. This is usually many thousand dollars less than the actual cost of the building. Mr. Townsend said, and does not include cost of lighting and plumbing fixtures. The owner of the building should always report the cost of the structure over and above the amount of the building contract price in order that the exact amount of Pampa building may be reflected in the building permits. Lighting and plumbing permits are not based on cost by the city when issuing them. Henceforth the city will require that the owner of the building take out a permit for all costs over the contract price.

Permits issued during the last week totaled $15,000, bringing the total for the year to $841,500. A $7,000 permit was issued to John T. Glover to construct the Holy Souls Catholic church rectory, while a permit in the amount of $6,000 was for building of the additions to the Santa Fe station.

Barke Is Blamed
PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 13. (AP)—The hunt for Fred Barke, notorious Chicago gangster, sought in connection with the St. Valentine's day massacre in 1929 and for crimes for half a dozen middle-west states, shifted to the east today as police saw his handiwork in the 1930 robbery of a South Paterson bank.

Dallas Man Is Slugged, Robbed

DALLAS, Sept. 13. (AP)—Slugged by a man who had posed as a customer, Garrett Glenn, co-proprietor of a furniture store here, was left lying unconscious today by a robber who took about 1,500 from the store safe.

Glenn suffered a brain concussion and was unconscious more than three hours. Physicians believed he had been struck with a sand bag or a similar weapon.

He was alone at the store at the time of the attack. The clerks having gone out for lunch.

When he recovered consciousness late today, Glenn related that his attacker entered the store, discussed purchasing some goods and asked for a drink of water. As he turned to get the man a drink, Glenn was struck across the head. He was found by clerks of the store when they returned.

The robber had failed to open the cash register the safe from which the $1,500 was taken had been left unlocked.

LEFORS SCHOOL IS HAVING FAST GROWTH

LEFORS, Sept. 13. (Special)—LeFors Public schools opened this week at a service in which the speakers were the Rev. Percy Harlison of the local First Baptist church and Dr. Earl Thomason of Pampa, first mayor of LeFors.

Under the direction of Supt. E. G. Sanders, the LeFors school system has enjoyed remarkable growth. The enrollment has increased from 399 to 630 in one year's time. At the beginning of school last year, twelve faculty members were employed. Today there are twenty-five. In one year after erection of a $175,000 building, the school has received first class rating and 5 1-2 units of affiliation.

This year, home economics, commercial work, physical education, and public speaking have been added. Expression and band work are available, together with other music courses.

The grade school faculty includes: First grade, Miss Lynette Franklin, Mrs. Amy Stewart, Miss Vera Carpenter, Miss Annabel Evans, Mrs. Mamie Sikes; second grade, Miss Mary Boatright, Miss Lillian Mullinax, Mrs. Clemie Mize; third grade, Miss Rosie Baggerman, Miss Anna Marie Ward; fourth grade, Miss Eleanor Miller, Mrs. Clara Brown, Miss Ruth Edda Darnell, English and art; Miss Charlotte N. Calvert, history; Miss Sinclair Rice, geography and music; Mrs. Bess White, penmanship and reading; Jordan A. Miller, principal.

The high school faculty: Miss Mary E. Gregory, mathematics and science; Miss Imogene Wood, history and Latin; Mrs. Josephine Sparks, home economics; Miss Ila Mae Hastings, English; Fredris L. Mize, principal and coach; Miss Lorene Reed, expression; Mrs. Land music and band; E. G. Sanders, superintendent.

Sheriff Recalls His Request For Rangers

PROTESTS ARISE IN CITIZENSHIP

Hutchinson Officer Is Ordered to Take Hand

SHAMROCK, Sept. 13. (AP)—The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus today cancelled its Sunday engagement here through Harry R. Overton, special representative, after Governor Moody had ordered state rangers here to prevent the exhibition.

Overton said the circus had no desire to show, in the face of the opposition, and that the circus train would not even stop here to feed and water the animals.

The request for rangers was made by Sheriff W. K. McLemore, ministers, and leading church members, who have made a determined fight on Sunday roads, under the auspices of the American Legion, since it was announced two weeks ago that the sheriff later telegraphed the planned.

The Sunday circus showing was governor that rangers were not needed. The governor's action was resented by Legion members, business men, and other citizens, and many telegrams and telephone calls were sent, asking him to rescind the order.

The governor responded that he would do so if the sheriff would assured not be allowed to show on Sunday. The sheriff positively that the circus Sunday.

Two Train Men Killed in Wreck

FORT WORTH, Sept. 13. (AP)—The death toll of the wreck here of two Rock Island freight trains stood at two tonight, and investigators believed no other bodies would be found.

F. M. Frey, fireman, and Ernest Fridge, engineer, lost their lives when a southbound cattle and freight train plunged into an oil train standing on a siding last night. Fears were expressed shortly after the collision that several itinerants believed to have been riding in one of the wrecked cars were killed.

The debris was virtually all removed during the day, the locomotives, which had overturned, were righted and traffic over the main railroad line, held up for several hours, was resumed.

Rock Island officials conducted an investigation.

MISTAKES OF THE WAR

The last year has seen the publication of an almost innumerable quantity of novels about the war. One and all they have pictured war as a horrible ghastly, mess, and their appearance has caused the hopes of pacifists to rise, in the belief that they will rob war of all glamour for a future generation.

Sometimes however facts make more effective propaganda than fiction; and it is quite possible that "The Real War: 1914 to 1918," by Captain Liddell Hart, just published by Little, Brown and Co., will be more of an argument for the haters of war than all of the novels together.

Captain Liddell Hart is a well-known British military expert. In his book he examines the strategy and tactics of the principal campaigns of the World War. His verdicts constitute an indictment of war more severe than anything the novelists have yet written.

For what Captain Liddell Hart does is demonstrate that war whatever else it may be, is chiefly a dreadfully wasteful and inefficient process.

He shows, for instance, that the two sides in the World War made blunder after blunder, sacrificing—literally—millions of lives to the mistakes of the generals.

He attacks nearly all of the famous generals on both sides. Hindenburg and Ludendorff lose their haloes of greatness and become ordinary men, dismayed and perplexed by the battles they designed. Foch shrinks to smaller proportions, Joffre appears as an opinionated bungler, Haig has to his discredit the dreadful battle of the Somme—and so on, all the way down the list.

All of this is interesting from the viewpoint of the student of strategy. But it is even more interesting for the ordinary citizen. These generals supposed experts in the art of warfare, stand condemned as wasteful, short-sighted and stubborn. War is discredited by its own proponents. The pacifists have seldom been given a more telling argument.—NEA.

Colorado lambs in Chicago reached 2.65 while at River markets the best went at 2.25 down. Matted clovers held at 2.00, levels at most markets but in Kansas City values were reduced 25-50. Best fat ewes made 4.23 at Chicago. Offerings totaled 474,987.

Hog prices were lowered anywhere from 10-25 at most markets while St. Louis reported declines of 25-40. The late top rested at 11.15 in Chicago on choice light and medium weights. The week's supply totaled 381,052.

Markets

Wheat Still Lower
CHICAGO, Sept. 13. (AP)—Drifting aimlessly, wheat prices floated a little farther downstream today to the lowest prices of the week, year and for almost two decades. Most of the day was spent in eddies, nervously swishing upward and then falling back within a range of 1c a bushel.

Unexpected weakness just before the closing at Winnipeg where a deluge of selling poured into the market in anticipation of an extraordinary heavy run Monday finally shoved wheat here into the current and prices quickly broke to the extreme low for the season.

The closing was almost the lowest prices reached. Corn showed extreme weakness and this had a depressing influence on all other grains.

Wheat closed weak at nearly the bottom most levels reached, 1-2 7-8c below yesterday's finish. Corn closed up sharply, 1 1-4 3-4c down, oats 5-8 1-4c off, rye 3-4c lower to 3c up, and provisions ranged from a 3c decline to an advance of 8c.

There was a better tone to the wheat market much of the time today, but not enough confidence to inspire aggressive buying over the week-end. Prices were averaging generally a little higher until commission houses with connections northwest threw selling orders into the Chicago pit and takers showed reluctance. This circumstance broke prices sharply.

Corn suffered from selling pressure because of the fine weather prevailing generally over the corn belt. Observers said it was unusually so for this time of year.

Oats developed weakness late. Liquidation seemed to develop in volume as corn declined and support was lacking. Rye followed wheat. A considerable quantity of rye was reported for shipment as a substitute for corn.

Closing Interimities: Wheat—(July 7c, Dec. 7 5-8 3-4, 87 1-8; March 87 5-8, 80 7-8; May 90 1-2, 85 3-4; Corn—Sept. 50 1-4, Dec. 85 1-3, 80 3-4; Rye—1-2, March 86 1-4, 88 1-2, May 87 3-4, 81 3-8

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 13. (AP)—U. S. Dept. Agri.—Demand for the better grades of steer and yearlings was broad and the limited offerings closed at unevenly 25-75 higher levels. Other fed steers had an indifferent outlet and values are steady to 50 lower with in-between grades taking the most loss. Choice light yearlings scored 13.10 at Chicago. Vendors advanced 50-100 with demand broad. There was a little better movement of stockers and feeders but little change was made in price levels. Most sales ranged from 6.50-8.50 with fleshy feeders at 9.00 and above. Receipts totaled 213,230.

In spite of increased supplies fat lambs sold readily with prices 25-75 higher than a week ago. Choice

Fall Tendencies In Furniture Are Explained; Colonial Furniture Is Effective For Use in Small Rooms

Although perhaps a little slower, the changes in furniture are as definite as those in wearing apparel, with each season bringing on something new for every room in the house. Some of the latest tendencies are explained by two local furniture men, G. C. Malone, of Malone Furniture company, and F. M. Foster, of Pampa Furniture company.

"Even davenport 'sets' have their fashion trends," said G. C. Malone, of Malone Furniture company. "For one thing there is much wider choice in the mohair coverings. The colors are brighter and come in a wider range. Tapestry is used more and is combined with mohair, while 'buttoned tufting' also is used. 'Buttoned tufting' is applied to those little buttons on the back of a chair that fasten the covering down; something like tying a comfort. Elaborate nail heads are used for decorative effect.

"Davenport fronts have curved aprons for a new feature. Serpentine fronts grace some suites. Then the set back arms, in the French provincial manner are characteristics of some sets.

"And it really isn't necessary to have chairs to match the davenport set all.

Tables Interesting

"Nothing is more interesting than small tables. There is the end table for the davenport, a coffee table, a small table to stand by the big chair, a pie crust table for tea time, perhaps a small nest of tables, and the tall console table against the wall.

"Screens are effective accessories. These have as varied treatment as do our walls. One that comes to mind has a small patterned glazed chintz covering, with quaint old floral prints spaced three to a panel.

Newer Bedrooms

"Authorities on furniture say that balance is the new style in furniture," said F. M. Foster of Pampa Furniture company. "Yet in a bedroom there are many horizontal lines in the pieces of furniture and few possible verticals. Perhaps this is why small mirrors and large ones are manufactured to match the dresser and chiffoniers, and who people find paneled walls so charming. Curtains and drapes held establish necessary verticals for good balance.

"Colonial furniture fits particularly well in small rooms.

"A very narrow room had a spool bed for its center with a hand tufted spread of candle wicking. A small dressing table had a ruffled skirt of chintz with a pretty mirror hung over it. A plain maple chest stood on the other side of the bed. The high window was treated with a ruffled curtain stretched on rods above and below.

Widener's Horse Wins Futurity

NEW YORK, Sept. 13. (AP)—Turning back the pages of history, Geo. B. Widener's Jamestown today proved himself a champion worthy of his sire, St. James, by winning the 41st running of the futurity and $99,000 to clinch the 1930 two-year-old title before a crowd of 30,000 that jammed its way into picturesque Belmont park.

Packing the same crushing weight of 130 pounds carried by St. James in his 1923 futurity triumph, Jamestown dashed down the seven furlongs of the Widener course in 1:20 3-5. Responding to the urging of Linus (Pony) McAtee in the final strides he gained a nose victory over Equipoise, his arch rival, which carried the silks of Harry Payne Whitney, who was seeking his second consecutive futurity victory which one won for Whitney last year.

New Citizen

Election of E. O. Snead as active vice-president of the Pampa National bank was announced yesterday by J. M. Dodson, president. Mr. Snead was vice-president and cashier of the State Bank and Trust company of Dallas for three years. He arrived in Pampa Thursday and will assume the responsibilities of his new position at the institution tomorrow.

Before going to Dallas, Mr. Snead was acting vice-president and cashier of the Central State Bank of McKinney for four years. A McKinney newspaper carried the following item about Mr. Snead when he resigned his position at the McKinney bank:

"Mr. Snead is a gentleman of pleasing personality and made many personal and business friends during his residence in our city who regret to see him leave our town. Mr. Snead is an experienced and successful business man and banker. These citizens regret to see him leave our business circles."

Mr. Snead will make Pampa his permanent home. He has not yet moved his family from Dallas to Pampa. Prior to his election as an official in the McKinney bank, he was state bank examiner for five years. The officers and directors of the Pampa National Bank consider themselves fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Snead. Upon his election to the vice presidency of the Dallas bank the Dallas News said: "Mr. Snead is well known to the bankers of Texas and has an intimate acquaintance with those of Dallas."

Mr. Snead believes that Pampa

The election of Mr. Snead is a result of negotiations begun about six months ago between Mr. Snead and Mr. Dodson. The new executive and his wife paid a visit to this section several months ago.

Senators Beat Sox

CHICAGO, Sept. 13. (AP)—Concentrating their attack in two innings today, the Washington Senators defeated the White Sox, 6 to 4, to make it two straight in the series. Four hits and a walk off Pat Caraway in the first inning gave the Senators four runs, and Sam Rice's doubled combined with Walsh in the sixth.

CATS GAIN ADVANTAGE WITH 8-7 VICTORY ON SATURDAY

BIG INNING IS BLOW TO HOPE OF SPUDDERS

FORT WORTH, Sept. 13. (AP)—The Fort Worth Cats jumped into the lead in the Texas league title series today when they defeated Wichita Falls, first half champions, 8 to 7, in the third game of the series.

A five-run rally in the seventh inning brought victory to the Cats, who appeared to be held well in hand by Fred Vincent until that big inning. Eight thousand fans, biggest crowd of the series so far, were present.

The fourth game of the series will be tomorrow, with Lil Stoner or Dick McCabe due to toss for the Cats and Hal White for the Spudders. Both McCabe and White saw service as relief hurlers today.

A three-run rally in the fourth, with the big blow a triple by Bettencourt, put Wichita Falls in the lead, 3 to 1. The Cats came back to tie it up, but dropped behind in the next inning. Burns hepped a triple over Moore's head in the seventh inning to help put around two more for the visitors.

That was the last inning Whitworth pitched for the Cats. He had been hit on the hand by a pitched ball in the third and from then on, was in trouble. He gave way to a pinch hitter in the last of the seventh. Vincent, with one out, issued a couple of passes in this inning. Then Mallon doubled, Bonowitz tripled and out came Vincent. White relieved him. A sacrifice fly, a home run by Fowler followed to give Fort Worth a two run lead. White, after he retired the side in this inning, was replaced by White, who allowed no runs in the eighth, the only round he worked.

Roberts was called on by the Cats in the eighth, staying long enough to get out one man and walk two. In came McCabe, who held the Spudders scoreless though they jammed the sacks with one out. One run came in the first of the ninth on doubles by Kioza and Burns, then the Spudders lifted three flies and the game ended.

Tommy Armour Beats Sarazen To Win Title

FLUSHING, N. Y., Sept. 13. (AP)—Tommy Armour, stylish Scotch golf professional, today won the professional golf association championship from Gene Sarazen, one up, and in winning showed again that he is a great putter in a pinch.

For years the Scot had been dubbed a poor putter, and a great iron player. This afternoon, with the match all square on the 36th green he holed a 15-foot putt for a four and when Sarazen missed his bid from a few inches under 14 feet, Armour was the P. G. A. champion for the first time. Sarazen has held the title twice before, in 1923 and 1925.

The fortunes of the golf battle ebbed and flowed throughout the day. Sarazen was a hole after the first nine, but when the 15 had been completed, Armour led by one hole.

And every night, from some big league city, their famous father telephones to his young overseers at Bethesda, Md., to find out how they are getting along.

Ambitious Wrestler of Colorado Will Meet Rattan Here as Step Toward Championship Encounter

Charlie Carr of Pueblo, Colo., aspirant to the title now held by Jack Reynolds, will have here next Thursday evening the chance he has sought for a long time—an opportunity to remove Silent Rattan from the path leading to the title.

Rattan's threat was in no way dimmed by his loss to Otis Clingman here Thursday night. Clingman was 10 pounds heavier than Rattan, who weighed 149 and who makes 147 for title matches. The local grappler conceded that Rattan was one of the best men he ever met here. Clingman admitted, furthermore, that he pulled a fast one on the former Oklahoma A. & M. boy by pretending he "out" when he was only letting the dead one wear himself down.

Tiny-Footed Whiz

Carr has a huge following in Colorado, many of whom believe he is of championship calibre. Since Rattan has met the champion and nearly defeated him, Carr believes that a victory over the Silent One would be virtually a ticket to a championship match.

Final Game in Be on Wednesday Bowling Contest to

Before a crowd that jammed the Pampa bowling alley, the Diamond Shop bowling team lost to a team from the Amarillo bowling alleys by a score of 2360 to 2301, Friday night.

The Pampa team won two out of three games but lost on number of pins. Team scores were, first game, Amarillo, 729; Pampa, 744; second game, Amarillo, 824; Pampa, 723; third game, Amarillo, 807; Pampa, 834.

Individual scores, Amarillo, first game, Stover 149, Lenix 146; Anderson 127, Cunningham 125, Coffman 182; Pampa, first game, Kahl 146, Holmes 147, Fenberg 120, Baxter 167, Dusard 167, Amarillo, second game, Cunningham 144, Coffman 212; Pampa, second game, Kahl 148, Holmes 141, Fenberg 153, Baxter 132, Dusard 149, Amarillo, third game, Stover 158, Lenix 179, Dave Cunningham (substituted for Anderson) 154, Cunningham 176, Coffman 140; Pampa, third game, Kahl 164, Holmes 174, Fenberg 206, Baxter 143, Dusard 147.

According to manager Sam Fenberg, an attempt is being made to watch a game with a Wichita Falls team. The Pampa team challenges any team in Pampa, says Sam. The deciding match of the series between Pampa and Amarillo will be played at the Amarillo bowling alleys Wednesday night at 7:30. Pampa's lead over the Amarilloans was 74 but this has been cut to 23, and out of six games played, Pampa has won five.

San Angelo Wins

IMPROVING HARVESTERS WIN 53-0 VICTORY OVER RANGER TEAM—CHASTAIN IS STAR

BY OLIN E. HINKLE
Keyed up to a scoring pitch and facing the most listless Perryton eleven seen in years, the Pampa Harvesters crushed the Rangers here Friday afternoon and won by a score of 53 to 0.

Scoring by periods:
Pampa..... 13 13 14 13-53
After the first touchdown, which came in 11 minutes of play, the visitors showed only isolated flashes of spirit. They made only two first downs during the game and gained 65 yards from scrimmage, while the Harvesters reeled off 17 first downs and more than four hundred yards of earned advances, including many long runs.

Late in the game both teams tried six passes. Just before the final whistle Joe Kahl heaved a pretty pass to Leo Salsbury for a touchdown, the best completion of the day. One Pampa pass was intercepted, and one of Perryton's likewise. The Rangers completed two passes, one for nine yards and one which ended in a six yard loss.

Pampa Captain Hurt
The Pampa eleven played three quarters without the services of Captain Don Salsbury, who was crushed down upon Pafford's big shoes to suffer a rib injury of uncertain seriousness. Earl and Jim Ayres were already on the sidelines with injuries.

It remained for Ray Chastain, stellar Harvesters back, to play the greatest game of his career. He scored 26 of his team's points, making four touchdowns and kicking two goals for extra points, and plunged, dodged, twisted, and generally perplexed the visitors, and at one time eluded almost an entire team. He also turned in a fine defensive game and ran the team well.

Martindale, anchor of the squad, was second in scoring with 13 points on a touchdown being a sensational 60-yard race. Given a fairly open field, simply drifts away from the fleetest of pursuers, and his change of pace is very deceptive.

Benton Is Improving
Benton, hot so good at end, is going strong at half and looks so much like Martindale that the blancher folk are often confused. He has a fast stride and is steadily improving. His touchdown was made possible by an efficient stiff arm. Don Tate took Captain Salsbury's place when the latter was injured, and while he had some bad luck in spots, he turned in an acceptable performance. He kicked one point after touchdown and was credited with another when the Perryton center, Murphy, was offside. Brother Joe Salsbury put up a plucky defensive game before Joe Kahl hurled him a pass over the goal line. Young Joe was quite a whiz himself, and it was his low deadly tackle which stopped the eminent Mr. Witt on the Pampa 25 yard line (closest Perryton ever got) when the speedy guest was heading for the Harvesters goal.

Last week the heavy Spur team pretty badly mangled the outskirts of the Pampa line. Against Perryton the whole line was showing revamped form and stopping the Perryton backs, whether they plunged at the middle guards, or tackle, or tried to circle the ends. Moore cut loose with play of which he is capable, and Kennedy and Sartin were little less effective. Poe was filling the center job in a way that warmed the heart of the coach, and Poole also did well.

Uses Twelve Men
Substitutions were so heavy from the Pampa side that the referee had to count the men on the field, finding twelve and ordering a kick-off repeated. The subs made up in fight what they lacked in experience and harassed the badly whipped Rangers still more.

What the Harvesters need next week is a really hard game in preparation for the Lubbock Class A encounter of September 26. Hollis Okla., is reputed to be able to furnish just such opposition Thursday.

The Harvesters backed up against the wind and took the initial kick-off. They made three first downs off. They made three first downs off. They made three first downs off. They made three first downs off.

CONFIDENCE NETS $5,000 TO WHITE SOX'S NEW BUY

ATLANTA (AP)—Luke Appling, crack Oglethorpe university half-back, had no fear that he wouldn't get into the big league, and his confidence has paid him some $5,000.

Luke, who quit school early this summer to sign with the Atlanta Crackers in the Southern Association, last spring spurned a couple of major league offers. The Crackers gave him a nice bonus for his signature.

His shortstop play brought the Crax a half dozen offers. His sale to Chicago netted the biggest check the Atlanta club ever has received for a player.

It topped the $18,500 received for Mule Haas by several thousand dollars, officials announced.

Luke will have $5,000 of this price in his bank account when he reports to Donnie Bush at the end of the Southern season.

A fast, rangy youngster, Appling's batting average has hovered around .325 all season. He's been one of the best fielding shortstops in the Southern and Johnny Dobbie, Atlanta manager who piloted New Orleans when Cleveland took Joe Sew,

Hollis to Play Harvesters Here Next Thursday
Decision to bring Hollis, Okla., here next Thursday instead of Saturday as formerly scheduled was announced last night by Coach Odus Mitchell.

This change will give the Harvesters more time to prepare for their hard Lubbock game of Sept. 26 and to recover from injuries. Hollis consistently wins his district title and may prove difficult.

Lubbock has scouted both Pampa games, Coach Henry Franke and some of his boys having journeyed up here twice for the purpose. The fact that Pampa defeated Spur, and that Spur then defeated the boastfully strong Memphis eleven, 52-0, has put Lubbock to thinking.

It was also announced that Guss Irwin, manager of the Pampa Flying club, would give a free plane ride to every Harvesters who plays in the Lubbock game.

Enterprise Is Winner In First of Boat Races
NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 13. (AP)—Enterprise, sliding thru the mist like a big white ghost, ran away from Shamrock V today in a moderate breeze and Sir Lipton's quest for the America's cup again took on the aspect of a fruitless chase after another will o' the wisp.

The first race of the series, sailed over the 30-mile leeward and windward course in the open sea southeast of Newport, was won decisively by the American defender, which now needs three more victories to keep the classic trophy safely at home.

Enterprise, ably skippered by Harold S. Vanderbilt, led from start to finish, though it was close enough at several stages of the leeward run when the American boat was no more than 50 yards in front. The slim, trim, Yankee-built sloop had a margin of two minutes and seven seconds at the 15-mile mark. On the beat home she increased to a final margin of two minutes and 53 seconds.

The gap between defender and challenger might have been much wider had not skipper Vanderbilt, either by choice or necessity, lost at least a minute's advantage in taking an extra hitch to get across the finish line.

Enterprise's elapsed time was 4 hours, 3 minutes and 48 seconds and Shamrock's 4:06:40, for the 36-mile course.

McCAMEY, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The McCamey high school football team defeated Maria, 13 to 9 today.

CARDS GAIN TOP RUNG IN HOT CONTEST

BOSTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—St. Louis pulled itself over the seven onto the roof of the National league here today by battering out an 8 to 2 win over Boston's Braves. The Cardinals garnered 12 hits with every member except Bottomley getting at least one safely.

Chick Hafey and George Watkins helped matters with home runs. Hafey's was the 25th of the season while Watkins also added a triple with the bases full in the ninth to his day's work.

Jess Haines pitched wisely and well and kept the eight hits made by the Tribe well scattered. Frankie Frisch contributed the only two errors in the game yet he played brilliantly in the field. One of Frisch's errors was a bad throw which bounded and struck umpire Jorda on the left eye. He received a serious cut and was forced to leave the game.

Robins Keep Pace
BROOKLYN, Sept. 13. (AP)—The Robins kept pace with St. Louis, now leading the National league, and passed the Chicago Cubs in the hot fight for the pennant today when they won a hard fought struggle from the Cincinnati Reds 4 to 3. It was Brooklyn's ninth straight victory and left the Robins in a virtual tie for the lead with the defeated Cubs a half game behind.

But in victory the Robins lost the services of Johnny Fredericks, centerfielder. Perhaps for several days, the young outfielder made a spectacular catch when he dove for Durocher's long liner to left center in the third inning. He caught the ball in his gloved hand on the fly while still in the air, then held it as he turned a complete circuit, landing heavily on the turf. He strained a muscle of his back severely.

Pershing Honored on Birthday But He Works Long

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—General John J. Pershing, retired, acknowledged his 70th birthday today with many a salute and hand shake, but nevertheless remained at his desk long after all other war department officers had closed.

During the day an almost constant stream of callers moved thru the door marked "General of the Armies." Singly and by twos, nine generals came to pay respects to their former commander, and at one time a sheaf of more than 150 telegrams collected from many parts of the world were taken to his flower-covered desk.

The felicitations of President Hoover were brought by Lieutenant Colonel Campbell B. Hodges, military aide at the White House, while other government officials, civilian friends, army officers, and even an admiral were in the long line which came to congratulate the former leader of the biggest army this country has ever known.

Pershing himself, white-haired and wearing a dark business suit, and blue tie, showed signs of his three score and ten years. His greetings were crisp and his step was springy as he moved about the suite of offices that not long ago served as President Hoover's work-room of state, following the White House fire.

During the afternoon, as government offices closed for the customary Saturday half-holiday, and the stream of callers diminished, General Pershing continued the routine tasks which daily occupy his time. He answered correspondence coming to him as head of the battle monuments commission and custodian of the resting places of American dead in France. Later he discussed with publishers matters pertaining to his just finished memoirs as a leader of the American Expeditionary force in France.

Farmer Arrested After Attempt to Lynch Black

EASTMEN, Ga., Sept. 13. (AP)—George Jump, 54-year-old farmer, was arrested here today on a warrant charging assault with intent to commit murder in connection with an attempt made early yesterday to lynch M. C. Wylie, negro.

Wylie, held as a suspect in connection with an attack on the wife of a farmer near here a few weeks ago, escaped from a crowd that broke into the Rhyne, Ga., jail early yesterday. He was wounded three times by pistol bullets as he ran. Jump is alleged to have been in the hand of men who seized the negro. Sheriff G. G. Rogers said he found the negro under a cotton gin house and brought him here for medical treatment. He was said tonight to have developed pneumonia and doctors said he had only a slight chance of recovery.

Sheriff Rogers said he had witnesses who would testify that Wylie was at work in another section of the county at the time of the attack.

Chicago Hotel Raided
CHICAGO, Sept. 13. (AP)—A series of spectacular raids, one on a fashionable residential hotel, were staged today by federal narcotics agents and police. Twenty-five prisoners, including a dozen girls and young women, were arrested.

Large quantities of narcotics including opium and opium pipes were found.

The raids were the result of two weeks of preparation. Forty more warrants, naming approximately 100 persons, still were to be served.

Wreck Toll Is Five
ENID, Okla., Sept. 13. (AP)—The known death toll in the wreck of a Rock Island freight train and burning of 15 tank cars of casing-head gasoline near Kremlin, Okla., stood at five tonight.

Reports that another body was found today proved false. Searchers recovered a few bones charred but, decided, they were parts of the bodies of itinerants known to have died in the inferno.

Only one of the victims was identified. H. L. Lockwood, 52, Louisville, Ky., died in a hospital after the wreck.

The Rock Island resumed service over the line this morning.

Negro Admits Robbery
MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 13. (AP)—Harry Ward, negro porter at the First National bank confessed tonight, officers said, that he had taken $8,000 from the bank's night deposit vault August 3.

Police arrested Ward when he purchased a home, paying cash. They then found $1,750 buried in the yard of his residence. Ward said he lost the remainder gambling.

PRISONERS DIE AFTER TAKING POISON DRINK

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Sept. 13. (AP)—Federal penitentiary officials late today announced two prisoners at the prison annex, Fort Leavenworth had died after drinking shelle containing wood alcohol and a third convict who drank the fluid was expected to recover.

The dead were Wallace Waldron, negro, 35, received Nov. 16, 1929, from Chicago to serve four years for violating the anti-narcotic act; and Clarence Nickerson, 39, received Dec. 12, 1929, under 18-month sentence for violating the anti-narcotic act. Nickerson's body will be sent to Union City, Pa., and Waldron's to Chicago.

The prisoners drank the liquid Friday morning while at work in the prison paint shop and soon became violently ill.

NEGRO CONGRESSMAN IS THREATENED BY FLOTTERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 13. (AP)—Two men were being questioned by detectives tonight in connection with an alleged attempt to extort $10,000 from Congressman Oscar de Priest, negro.

Their names were given by police as Julius Link, a west side politician, and Solly Lason, a milk wagon driver.

Link and Lason were arrested today after the crime prevention committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce and the state's attorney's office had spent several days laying plans for their capture.

Claims Self Defense

SALLISAW, Okla., Sept. 13. (AP)—Mrs. Kindness Mcatee Garrett, 37, in jail here charged with shooting her former husband, Mack Garrett, to death at Westville today said to night she shot in self defense. Garrett was armed and shot first, she told officers, severing one of her fingers, and then she shot him nine times. A gun was found by Garrett's side with one bullet gone. Mrs. Garrett called police after the shooting and was brought here because there is no women's ward in the Adair county jail.

BERLIN, Sept. 13. (AP)—Political parades on the eve of the Reichstag election resulted in the death of one Communist tonight while three policemen and several demonstrators were injured in a clash between Communists and Fascists. Many persons were arrested.

Farmer "Gets His Men" in Nocturnal Chase Starting at His Chickenhouse

A mounted policeman always gets his man, any Canadian will tell you, but who ever heard of a Royal Mounted chasing his man while bereft of his magnificent uniform, or to get to the point, without any clothes on at all except his underwear?

Otis Hendricks, farmer who lives eight miles southwest of Pampa, has set an example for the Royal Mounted to emulate. For, clad only in his shorts, and without waiting to slip on neither shirt, shoes or trousers, he jumped into his car about 2:30 a.m. Friday morning and struck out down the road after two men who had fled from his chicken house in an automobile.

He chased them for two miles before he overtook them and got "the drop" on them. They surrendered and Hendricks arrived at the court-house with them and five chickens in a sack about 5:30 a.m. They were charged with theft and placed in the county jail.

Hendricks had taken time to snatch his pistol when he first heard a noise at the poultry house. He paused on the porch to look around and standing in the moonlight he saw one of the two men. He started for the building but stumped his toe on a can. That's when the men fled—with Hendricks right behind them.

Fliers Planning to Fly to London

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Sept. 13. (P)—Captain Errol Boyd and Lieut. Harry Connor brought their plane Columbia to a safe landing at Tea Hill, five miles from here, early tonight on their way to Harbor Grace, N. F., where they plan to take off on a trans-Atlantic flight.

The fliers landed here because strong head winds over Cape Breton, preceded by adverse flying conditions from the start of their flight at Montreal, so delayed them that they would have been forced to make a night landing at Harbor

Grace, their original destination. The fliers will hop off tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, local time, for Harbor Grace, there to await favorable weather for the flight to London.

BIG SPRING MAN IS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

BIG SPRING, Sept. 13. (P)—C. C. Chambers, 43, dirt contractor, was assessed a life sentence by a jury in district court today which convicted him of murder for the slaying of Ray Jones, farmer, May 3, on a street here.

The verdict was returned after the jury had deliberated an hour and a half. Mrs. Chambers fainted when the verdict was read.

It was alleged the men had quarreled over some hounds in Mitchell county in 1927. Chambers pleaded self defense. Judge Fritz E. Smith pronounced sentence this afternoon.

Old-Time Methods In Education As Passe As Little Red School House; Few of New Tendencies Explained

The little red school house is gone and with it has gone an old-fashioned idea of education—reading, and writing and arithmetic—yes, and it has also taken with it the traditional old hickory stick. Each year of study and practice has brought forth new methods to be used by the progressive teacher, and a few of these new tendencies as applied to local conditions, are explained by R. B. Fisher, superintendent of the local schools.

Opportunities Will Be Equal For All Pupils

"Equal educational opportunities for all children" is to be the educational slogan of the Pampa public schools for the coming year, according to Mr. Fisher. "Each child," he said, "will be allowed to progress according to his ability, and a special effort will be made to care for the individual needs of the pupil."

"No one set plan of teaching is to be found in the Pampa schools. For every system has its faults. The Platoon system, for instance, is very good in some respects, but does not provide for progress according to ability. What the teachers in Pampa try to do is to study all the plans with their good and bad points and to adapt them to the needs of the children in our particular school."

"Acceleration Permitted. We have two methods for allowing the child with super-normal intelligence to go ahead of the average. In promotion for instance, he is allowed an acceleration of not more than two years from the time he enters the first grade until he graduates from high school. The second method is to provide additional work within a grade for the child who is above the average intelligence. For instance, if the child is especially good in arithmetic, he may be given other arithmetic books to study besides the regular text."

"We are opposed to retardation and will not fail a pupil unless he has missed a great deal of time from school. We believe it a better plan to provide the essentials in the next grade. Coaching classes also are organized as the occasion demands."

"Vocational Guidance. Vocational guidance is another tendency in caring for individual needs. A curriculum is formed for the child as an individual, and he is encouraged to develop his tastes and his talents."

"In caring for vocational guidance, the dean of girls will be of valuable assistance. Her capacity will be to advise pupils, but not to force them into anything. We attempt to place before the children various vocations for their study, and will probably have local business men address the classes."

"Invites Suggestions. Superintendent Fisher is inviting suggestions or criticisms from parents of the pupils. 'If a parent sees room for improvement,' he explained, 'she should go first to the teacher, and if she does not get results there, she should go next to the principal, and then, if not satisfied, should go to the superintendent. No reflection will be cast on the parent because of criticisms or suggestions.'

Marquis Bratton Is Favored With Party on Friday

Complimenting her son, Marquis, Mrs. W. A. Bratton entertained a group of boys and girls from 4 to 6 o'clock Friday afternoon in her home, 905 Maryland street.

Games were played on the lawn, and a lovely picnic supper was served.

Those attending were Catherine Culberson, Arline Saunders, Jeanette Cole, Zelma Elliott, of Mobeetle, Charles Cook, Jr., Chester Hunziker, Jack Donaher, Jack Huskey, Zaida Mae Hurst, Leona Hurst, Marquis and Billy Bratton, W. B. Hix.

Women's Homes Swept Away by Times of Peace

BY SUE McNAMARA Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—Mrs. Lulah T. Andrews, who saw the devastation of war for men, has also seen the devastation of peace for women.

As head of the government bureau of industrial housing and transportation she has seen homes of 400 women recently swept away in a purely peace-time movement.

The government hotels, which housed that many women government workers, have been torn down to make way for more imposing buildings needed in the capital extension plan.

Erected during the war to meet a housing emergency the neat stucco buildings were homes for 2,000 women workers. In pleasant, home-like surroundings they obtained board and room for about $50 a month.

In a few years the hotels became real homes to many women, especially the older ones, some of whom had no other home ties. With the signing of the armistice the original purpose of the hotels vanished—the housing of women war workers.

But by that time the women had so firmly entrenched themselves that it took a very hard-hearted congress to summarily dislodge them.

To Take Training. Thomas L. Morse of Mobeetle, member of the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion, was in Pampa Friday, en route to a government fort in Arizona, where he will attend a three-week R. O. T. C. course, in which he holds a second lieutenant's commission.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY HOLLYCE SELLERS Perhaps you remember last week I urged each feminine reader to "be herself" if she would have a charming personality, since personality consists not of affections, but of the natural blossoming out of beautiful qualities from within.

Today let us talk of the subject from a different standpoint. To avoid affections does not mean that a woman must be plain, for to be natural is anything but plain. Observe the different personalities next time you go to a party or, for that matter, to any type of gathering. Is the woman who is embarrassed at every social error charming? Is the person who is so careful not to make a mistake that she appears stiff charming? Gracious, no. The most charming woman is the one who can overlook a mistake without embarrassment (for mistakes are made in the best of families) and who, apparently, can forget that she is in a gathering and should exercise her "Sunday go to meeting" manners.

When I discourage affectation, I do not want to discourage individuality. A coy tilt of the head, for instance, would be affectation for one while for another it would simply be individuality. Do you do a certain thing consciously or unconsciously? Answer this question and you will know whether the characteristic makes for affectation or individuality. Don't try to be plain but just try to be easy and natural, if you would be lovely.

Last week I quoted the famous producer, Ziegfeld, in stressing the point that personality came from within. Ziegfeld has made his name and fortune by developing personalities that demand popularity. But today, I am going to use as my illustration, a young lady who has become famous merely by being herself—a very interesting self.

It is individuality that has made for Greta Garbo an almost unequalled popularity. "The It girls have been coo," says Elizabeth Wilson in the September issue of Cinema, and Garbo is not coy. And yet in her there is more allure for the eyes than can be found through study of all the roistering It stars—"It was James McNeill Whistler who pointed out that 'the disagreeable mannerisms of an unsuccessful painter become the enviable styles of the master when his pictures sell.'"

"Not that anyone can point out disagreeable qualifications in Garbo (even if you know one, better keep it quiet, as the Garbo mania never fail to get their man), but it is only in departures from perfection that we obtain individuality." Take several eggs. One is so much like another as to be indistinguishable because each is a perfect oval in shape. So then as you approach the cold, passionate, regular features of perfection you lose all distinguishing characteristics. The profile of Miss Liberty, while greatly sought after on metal discs, has never started any great hue and cry as far as her beauty is concerned.

"The Garbo bob was the first manifestation of the dawn of the Garbo epoch. A bob that curled up at the ends, sleek and smooth. It would seem that anyone might have originated such a coiffure, but like all attributes of Garbo this had the undefinable something, this had the greatness of art. It was medieval in certain respects. A Guinevere, waiting for a Lancelot to return from the wars, might have fashioned its simple parting and a Joan of Arc its decorative curling hair—Garbo's way of wearing her hair is a perfect piece with her fundamentally artistic soul."

"The writer continues with another characteristic belonging distinctly to Garbo: 'The story is told of Garbo that her only contribution to the discussion concerning a part which she knew did not suit her was 'I go home now.'"

And day after day this extraordinary girl, unable to express understandingly what she felt, would terminate the unprofitable conferences with her smiling ultimatum, "I go home now." And despite the expostulations of the Lord High Director and the disconcerted producer, home she went. P. S. She did not get the part."

Of course, I do not advise that the reader of this column abruptly end a conference with the statement "I go home now," but it doubtless did not detract from the personality of Greta Garbo. The moral is this: what is natural and attractive for another person might be ridiculous if tried by you, while that which is ridiculous in another person might be charming in you. So don't follow style in personality, and don't suppress an impulse to act in a certain way merely because you do not see others acting

"Ideal Man" Is Too Elusive, So Mary McCormic Sticks To Opera

Mary McCormic didn't find her "ideal man," so she's going back to opera after several years of concert work.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13. (AP)—Mary McCormic failed to find her "ideal man"—so she'll be back singing in grand opera this year.

Last year, Mary, an Arkansas village girl who sang her way to fame in the big city, was enthusiastic about a young nobleman, who, however, was married to a movie actress.

When Miss McCormic stopped off to visit her friend and discoverer, Mary Garden, she said she was looking for the "ideal man" and intimated she had found him.

But now she is coming back to the Chicago Civic Opera, after a few seasons in concert work.

"She came to Chicago from Belleville, Ark., to study music after Miss Garden heard her sing in a church choir.

A couple of years later she was making her debut in "Carmen" with Miss Garden.

Those attending were Miss Mary Ellen Cook, Miss Christine Cook, Miss Frances Finley, Miss Louise Walstead, Miss Lucile Cole, Miss Marjorie Buckley, Ray McNeil, Laverne Twiford, Burdette Keim, Bill Kelly, Joe Kahl, Parks Brunley, and the host.

Rosebuds on Lace Make Pretty Gown

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—Pink rosebuds painted on lace in Dresden effect make a pretty afternoon frock for Miss Eunice Roberts.

The dress is an ensemble and has a coat with flared sleeves. She wears a large pink hat and broad-crimped pink slippers.

Hand-Knit Collars For Furless Coats

PARIS, Sept. 13. (AP)—Hand-knit diagonal stripe collar and cuffs are used like fur on some of Schiparelli's new winter coats and sport suits.

Light gray and black, beige and brown and red and black are combinations the modernistic designer stresses.

Most of the collars are shawl form but a few are straight curves.

Newlyweds Return

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dolan returned Friday from their honeymoon trip in Colorado. Mrs. Dolan was former Miss Esther Stalder.

P. M. Nunn of the Panhandle Motor company of Amarillo, transacted business here Friday.

E. F. Adams and Emory Crockett made a business trip to LeFors Friday.

In that particular way. If the characteristic is natural with you, it will be distinctive, and your personality will be enhanced, which means your popularity will be increased proportionately.

Bridge Is Played At Mid-Afternoon Event for Women

Concluding a series of lovely bride parties in the C. C. Cook home 1003 Christine street, Mrs. Cook entertained a group of women with a mid-afternoon affair Friday. The first of the series was held Saturday evening, Sept. 6, when Mr. and Mrs. Cook joined in entertaining with eight tables of bridge, and the second was a ten-table party given by Mr. and Mrs. Cook on Wednesday evening of the past week.

At the close of the games on Friday, Mrs. Paul Kasishke was favored for high score, Mrs. C. F. Buckler for high cut and Mrs. F. M. Culberson for low cut.

Those Attending. Those attending the party were Mrs. F. M. Culberson, Mrs. Dick Walker, Mrs. George W. Wallace, Mrs. Iva Willis, Mrs. John Studer, Mrs. Roger McConnell, Mrs. George E. Wolfe, Mrs. George Walstead, Mrs. Jim White, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. R. C. Sowder, Mrs. Tom Rose, Mrs. W. A. Duerr, Mrs. Paul Kasishke, Mrs. Art Swanson, Mrs. Heistand.

Mrs. J. Blake, Mrs. Kiser, Mrs. W. C. Mitchell, Mrs. W. Coffee, Mrs. J. H. Kolley, Mrs. T. R. Martin, Mrs. Hal Peck, Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mrs. Henry Thut, Jr., and Mrs. C. P. Buckler.

A course of salads and ices was served at the close of the afternoon.

colorful." Showing Announced

Expressing the latest fashions in the new fall modes are the new coats and dresses which will be displayed by Pampa Style Shoppe in their windows beginning Monday night. The new effects so popular for fall will be evident in the coats, many of which are fur-trimmed, some with heavy furs, and others plain for sport and semi-sport wear. All the new materials, a wider variety than ever, are being included in the showing of fall dresses. The new flaring skirt effect, bulging sleeves, with little color effects here and there, which add a touch of color to the accepted black and white combinations.

Everything Blends

"One cannot appreciate the new fall fashions until they are seen collectively," says Frank Lowther, manager of Murfee's store. "The coat, dress, hat, shoes, in fact every thing seems to blend into the new fall season."

Mr. Lowther has spent several weeks in the eastern markets selecting the fall merchandise for Murfee's. He remarks that never before has he seen such a display made by the manufacturers in market centers.

Suits Are Discussed

"Not only is there a coat, but there is a suit for almost every occasion," said A. Gordon, of Gordon dry goods store. For general wear, a tweed with hip length or longer jacket is appropriate, while for the more dressy occasions, suede cloth with fur borders as well as fur collars and cuffs is good.

"As for hats, most of them are off-the-face models, and all are becoming and charming. Berattes in their new stylings are meeting with favor, and shallow crowns and bandeaus are seen in great variety. The double brimmed felt finds its opportunity here to soften a line that might be too severe to be flattering."

Hats Are Trimmed

"All the newest hats are in some way trimmed," said Murry Fraulich of Levine's. "The trimming may not be elaborate, but it is distinctive and feminine."

"This same tendency is seen in all other details of a wardrobe. An article may not be elaborate, but it will have some feminine touch, even for sportswear."

Fur grade school wear, dresses of wool, crepe, jersey, or velveteen are noted. You will find the brief skirts slightly flared, or pleated, you will find the jaunty bolero effects, and you will see little round collars and cuffs that are the most adorable style a girl can wear.

For College Girl

"The most tailored type of frock for the college girl, if it is not of wool crepe is apt to be a light weight tweed; and if not made with tunic, it is probably of coat dress type with a Peter Pan collar of white pique. The school girl has her formal occasions too and will use a frock of velvet or silk crepe in full or Canton crepe weave."

"Ensembles are quite popular with college girls, and they feature coats that may be worn separately when not with the dress or skirt they belong to."

Tells of Materials

A few of dame fashion's selections for midday's millinery will be shown. New arched and drop effects in combination with the dresses and facts have been brought in to add a touch of distinctiveness to the ensemble. Millinery for all occasions and to match any suit is being shown at the Shoppe.

"A great variety is seen in materials for fall," said Joe Mohrhead, of S and M store.

"For the most formal coats and ensembles there is a choice of luxurious wool or cashmere velvets and velours in every color, and for the slightly less formal there are suedes which show interesting variations in weaves."

"Experts have decreed the revival of the coat dress, often with the accompanying jacket and the prominence accorded the cloth frock with pique or lingerie touches or trimming of fur. Travel tweeds are light in weight, firm in construction and in color-right combinations or mono-tone tweed treatments."

Jewelry Important

"The final touch to any costume is the jewelry," says Sam Penberg of the Diamond Shop. "That it is the accessories that completes the costume has become a byword with leading jewelers," says Mr. Pen-berg.

The Diamond Shop now makes a regular study of the seasonable apparel, jewelry for street and dress wear. Besides the regular display of diamonds, watches, silver-ware, etc., emphasis is placed on the correct selection of accessories.

"Since color has become an important item in midday's costume, naturally we choose our novelty jewelry accordingly," says Mr. Penberg. "If we have calls for beads, bracelets, etc. in popular colors we are always ready to show them. The jewelry must be in keeping with the leading fashions and color has come to be an important factor."

Exclusive Collection

The L. T. Hill company has invited the public to a showing of an exclusive collection of ready-to-wear at the store on Sept. 15, 16 and 17. The collection comes direct from New York and includes fur coats, cloth coats, knitted sportswear and high style dresses. The showing will be under the direction of W. A. Coffey, merchandise manager of women's apparel.

Men's Apparel Featured

"Smartness in every line and pattern effect is considered in the men's apparel at Ke's and Thomas," said E. P. Thomas. "Fabric integrity, tailoring proficiency, good grooming and advantageous expenditure all are important in clothing for men."

The window display for this store the first of the week includes society brand suits, Wilson Brothers haberdashery, Chaney and Wisness ties, Stearns and Knapp-Pelt hats, high grade Oregon City robes and bed blankets, Bradley sweaters, Curlee and Society Brand overcoats, and Florsheim shoes.

For Men and Women

The Model, operated by "Doc" Denehelm, is a store for men and women. The stock of this store is confined to dress clothing exclusively.

"Getting something new is my main hobby," says "Doc."

"Every time I see something that appeals to me, or something that I think might appeal to the people here I feel obligated to buy. It's the new things that people like."

Will Beautify City

PERRYTON, Sept. 13. (Special)—Blue prints and plans on the city beautification movement have been received and accepted here by the Soro club committee, which is sponsoring the project. The plans were prepared by Jack T. Boyd, a landscape gardener of Benton. The work of surveying the plat and establishing walks and drives this fall, with the view in mind of starting the actual planting next spring.

At Veterans' Meeting

J. D. Hartley returned Wednesday from Oklahoma City, where he transacted business at the Veterans bureau. The Oklahoma City office is the regional headquarters for veterans in Oklahoma, a part of Kansas, and the Panhandle of Texas. About 45 ex-service men were present at the re-ratings.

Alva A. Duree returned Friday from a trip to Sweetwater.

V. T. Mitchell has taken employment with the White Rock No. 1.

Go to Floydada

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Thomas and children left Saturday for Floydada, where they will visit Mr. Thomas' mother, Mrs. C. O. Thomas, and sister, Miss Virginia Thomas.

A marriage license was granted Sept. 12 to William Alexander and Mrs. Gladys Ward.

A new cafeteria is going up across the street from the school house.

CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Kingsmill and West Streets

Rev. Jno. Lee Harris, who has for almost two years faithfully served the church in so many capacities, will be in the services Sunday perhaps for the last time in his present relationship. He resigned at the regular business meeting of the church Wednesday evening, his resignation effective at his own discretion.

He had decided to leave some time during the coming week. There is hardly a service one is capable of rendering a church that Mr. Harris has not rendered this church. He has preached, served as pastor, as associate pastor, director of young people's work, choir leader, Sunday school superintendent, and church secretary. In it all he made for himself friends and admirers outside of the church, and a relationship with those in the church that only service to a common Master and His cause develops. His going is with many regrets, and his labors and noble personality, backed by his noble life, will be missed in all the work and councils of the church.

There is no plan to elect a successor to Brother Harris. The church has many financial obligations, and in every way possible, there is a curtailing of expenses that we may meet them. Fructuosity all of the work he has been doing the church will try to do with volunteer services on the part of the members. That consideration is the reason his resignation was accepted, and only then with reluctance. He goes from us with the prayers, love, and friend-ships deserving of the man he is. All will watch his future and progress with interest.

Sunday being his last Lord's Day with us, he will be busy. He will direct the choir at the morning service, and teach in the young people's department of the Sunday school. In the evening he will preach his farewell sermon. He has not preached since the present pastor came on the field two months ago. We hope the attendance will be the largest possible, and that in every way each one will do their best to make it a day of significant and signal services. The hours are: Bible school, 9:45, morning worship 11 a. m. Young people will meet at 7 p. m. and preaching service at 8 p. m.

C. E. LANCASTER, Pastor

EPISCOPAL SCHOOL

The Episcopal church school meets every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the music hall of the high school.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Francis and Warren Streets

God does not expect more of a man than he can perform, but does expect a man to do all he can by going to the limit. When God commands a person to do a thing, he expects man to comply and fulfill the conditions to the very best of his ability and capacity; then God does to part that man is unable to do.

Man can, and must plant a crop if he expects to reap a harvest. It is impossible for man to effect the growth, thus he has reached his extremity, and God does what man is unable to do.

Services: Bible study, 9:45 a. m. Preaching, 11 a. m. Subject, "The Duty of Ministers, and Hearers." Young people's class, 6:30 p. m.

Page One News' Determines Style, Autumn Fashions in Paris Now Show

BY DIANA MERWIN
Associated Press Fashion Editor

PARIS, Sept. 13. (AP)—Page one news has its reflection in the influence of Russia and India on winter styles.

Tunics, coats adapted from the Cossack, astrakhan round turbans, and wide belts pulled in snugly testified to Parisian consciousness of their Russian.

Gandhi's campaign has reminded dressmakers and fabric makers that India had blocked prints are rich in color and appropriate for reproduction in silk and wool fabrics.

Varieties of Prints

Dressmakers are using many varieties of India and Persian prints for blouses and for the tops of sport dresses. Occasionally sport jackets are lined with printed silk or wool to match an India print tunic or top.

India print tunics are largely limited to sport wear so far. They have been nicknamed Council tunics and Paris expects them to have a big style future.

Russian Lines Noted

Russian lines and stiff rich metal brocades that are copies of old Russian fabrics characterize a few of the most distinctive winter evening wraps. These are velvet lined in rich glowing colors or lined with the same material as the evening dress and bordered with ermine or sable.

The Russian-type wraps have open sleeves, slit to the elbow or wide bell sleeves cut to points on the underside.

The Hollywood Story

COPYRIGHT 1930 by NEA SERVICE Inc.

by ERNEST LYNN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAN RORIMER, Hollywood scenario writer and former New York newspaper man, meets ANNE WINTER, who has come from Tulsa, Okla., to seek extra work. He takes a deep interest in her. Dan is with Continental Pictures, and not very satisfied with what he is doing. Anne is just a beginner.

Anne gets extra work at Grand United studios. She goes to live with two other extras, MONA MORRISON and EVA HARLEY. The latter is a bitter individual, possibly because of her failure to get much work, and from her Dan learns a lot about the problems of the vast army of extras.

GARRY SLOAN, famous director has noticed Anne Winter. He gives her a "bit" in a picture. Dan, not liking Sloan, although he has not actually met him, is a bit apprehensive. The casting director at Grand United calls Anne up and tells her there may be a chance for her in a musical comedy picture. He and Director FRED HURLEY get her to dance for them, and Hurley promises her a screen test. Anne gladly tells this to Rorimer, who is more discontented than ever at Continental Pictures, who is living with PAUL COLLIER, who writes a daily movie column for a string of newspapers, tells Collier that he has torn up his contract with Continental. And he tells him about Anne's forthcoming screen test, and Collier has news about Garry Sloan.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAN RORIMER, temperamental young man of Hollywood, can't get along with the studio manager at Continental Pictures and tears up his contract as scenario writer and asks to be fired. But he isn't. Dan has become keenly interested in ANNE WINTER, a young girl from Tulsa, Okla., who is working as an extra girl. She has had stage experience, and she knows enough to warrant a screen test at Grand United studios.

Rorimer, former newspaper man from New York, lives with PAUL COLLIER, who writes a daily movie column for a string of newspapers. Anne lives with MONA MORRISON and EVA HARLEY, five extra girls. Eva is rather bitter. She does not get enough work to make a living, and Dan suspects that there may be some sort of tragedy in her life.

GARRY SLOAN, famous Hollywood director, has shown some interest in Anne Winter, although hardly enough for her to warrant any high hopes. Dan does not care much for Sloan; he is an admirer, however, of MARTIN COLLINS, formerly of Continental, now with Amalgamated. Collins invites him and Anne to a housewarming at his home. Dan and Collier take Eva and Mona out one evening. They go to a public dance hall.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

The dance floor was as vast as space. Paul Collier had described it as being "a couple of acres" in area, and Dan told him he had only mildly exaggerated.

There was a sprinkling of sailors, dancing or lounging in chairs near the soda fountain. "The fleet's not in," Collier explained to Mona and Eva, "or you'd see enough of them to man a battleship."

They remained there for a couple of hours of dancing and watching other dancers. The orchestra played with unwearied frequency and there were the inevitable few couples trying to show off. Their exaggerated grotesque manoeuvres were vastly entertaining to Collier. He laughed a great deal and declared that it was more fun than a show.

"It won't be so funny," Dan Rorimer told him, "if one of those shiks gets wise to you."

But Paul ignored him. "I like that couple over there," he told Mona. "The one's keeping time with their chewing gum—I told you it would be good clean fun didn't I? Was I right or not?"

Dan said, "At that, it's got if all over some of those nightclub gyp joints where they sock you a dollar a bottle for ginger ale and expect you to dance on a floor about the size of a postage stamp."

Mona said it reminded her of some of the places she had been to in Chicago. "You know, where the dance tickets sell for ten cents apiece. I was just a kid then. Gee, it makes me homesick."

Collier laughed at her. "Just a kid, did you say?" And Bona made a face.

It was after midnight when they got back to the bungalow, and Anne was waiting up. Rorimer knew a queer feeling of guilt, as though he had been spying on her, when she informed him that she had been out to dinner with Mr. Hurley.

"We went to the Montmartre," she said.

Dan managed to get her aside and tell her of the invitation to Martin Collins' party. "He's a real person, Anne! you'd better come."

She said she could be glad to go. "Did Mona tell you I tried to reach you on the phone this evening?"

Dan nodded. "She told me the good news too. I'm mighty glad. How did your voice sound to you? You heard it, of course."

"It sounded—" Anne stopped, and she laughed. "You'll think me conceited, Dan. It sounded—good. I'm so thrilled. I hardly know where I am. Mr. Hurley said that when he heard the play-back he decided he was going to let me have a song—Dan, I can hardly believe it! I didn't think I'd dare to try to sing!"

Anne Winter's dark eyes shone with excitement. Rorimer wanted to take her in his arms and hold her here, for her eager beauty was almost irresistible. He thought that never before had he seen her so lovely as she was tonight.

He looked at her gravely, holding her sparkling eyes with his own. "I wasn't fooling," he told her, "when I said there was something in your voice that would get them. You've got something, Anne."

"You mean my singing, Dan?"

"Everything," he assured her, and Anne smilingly told him that that made her feel better.

"Because I'd be awfully disappointed if they just wanted me to sing and dance. After all, you see, I came out here with certain pretensions to being an actress. And I hope to be given a chance to act."

"You should worry about what kind of a ladder they give you to climb," Dan said. "You're bound for the top, Anne.—Isn't that right, Paul?" he demanded, and he swung around toward Collier.

Paul was sitting on the sofa between Mona and Eva, carrying on an animated argument with the red-haired Mona. "Sure, that's right," he said, looking up briefly. "What did he say, Anne?"

Anne laughed. "He just said something very nice, Paul."

"Nothing tough about that," said Collier, and he picked up his hat and grabbed Dan by the arm.

"Come on, give the girls a break and let them get some sleep."

Driving homeward, Dan told Collier that he soon might have his opportunity to carry a story about Anne in his column. "Hurley told her he's going to give her a song and she'll probably have a dance with it. When it's all set you might give the little girl a big break."

Paul nodded. "You bet your life."

Dan continued: "She sure deserves it if anybody does. I'm tickled to death that she's made such a hit with Hurley."

"Hurley's a bachelor, Dan. Aren't you jealous?" Collier grinned.

"Maybe I'd better look into that," said Dan.

"You'd better." More seriously he added that Hurley probably could do a lot more for Anne Winter. "And nobody gets a bigger kick out of pushing a gal along. He's a good egg—a real white man. Anne's lucky. Garry Sloan gives her a bit and—"

He stopped. "What a break if Sloan should really get interested in her!" he exclaimed softly.

"Sloan, the star maker, eh?" Rorimer laughed caustically. "Every time I turn around I hear Sloan, Sloan! You'd think the man was a god or something. There are other directors in Hollywood. I'd be willing to stack Martin Collins up against him, for instance."

"Collins is good, all right," Paul agreed. "But he's no Garry Sloan—not yet.—What the devil," he demanded, turning on Rorimer, "have you got against Sloan, anyway? You've never even met the man. I think, by God, that you're afraid he'd eat Anne Winter up, or something, if he took a shine to her! Don't be a sap; that girl can take care of herself."

Dan drove a short stretch in silence. He said, presently: "Let's stop in Henry's for a cup of coffee."

"And a piece of egnog pie," Collier agreed. "Though I'll bet two bits they sold the last piece at lunch."

Martin Collins, Dan learned, lived at the crest of one of the numerous finding uphill drives in Beverly Hills. Collins had sent him an invitation with a map drawn on it, but despite its explicit directions, Rorimer lost his way twice; and twice he had to descend the hills to the main road and take his bearings over.

MORE . . . MORE . . . MORE . . .

"This time," he informed Anne, "I'm going to keep my mind on where we're going, instead of on my passenger, and take a look at the signs." And he began then to make use of his spotlight. "Collins," he said, "doesn't live in California; he lives in Crete. That wasn't any road we were on; that was a labyrinth."

Anne laughed. "I half expected to see a Minotaur jump out at us from behind a tree. Weren't you afraid, Dan?"

"Not a bit. The Minotaur," he said, "was a lot of bull, anyway."

Anne turned on him a swift searching glance, saw that he preserved a solemn face. "It's a good thing you didn't laugh at that one," she said. "I think it was terrible."

"That's funny," Dan said, perceiving disappointment. "I thought it was a pretty good track. But that's the way it goes; you work hard to put over a nifty, and what do you get? Do you get a hand? No—you get a lot of destructive criticism."

"I believe," Anne said, ignoring him, "that this is the place."

"It must be," said Dan. "We've tried every other one in Beverly Hills."

He turned in to the driveway behind a line of parked automobiles, and he jumped out and gave Anne Winter his hand, and they walked beneath the shadows of palms, and into the light that drifted across the lawn.

"You're beautiful tonight, Anne," he said, with an admiring look.

ONCE UPON A TIME

Lacking a crowd, Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, stood on a chair in a village street with head upraised in silent prayer. When spectators gathered, she jumped down, shouted "Quick!" and led the group to her tent.

George H. Gray of the Clauson Motor company made a business trip to Amarillo Saturday driving a Chrysler 8 Royal coupe on his return to Pampa.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Jeremiah, the Prophet of Individual Religion.

Scripture Lesson—Jeremiah 1:4-10; 21:27-34.

Jer. 1:4. Now the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying:

5. Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee, and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee; I have appointed thee a prophet unto the nations.

6. Then said I, Ah, Lord Jehovah! behold, I know not how to speak; for I am a child.

7. But Jehovah said unto me, say not, I am a child, for to whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak. 8. Be not afraid because of them; for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith Jehovah. 9. Then Jehovah put forth his hand and touched my mouth; and Jehovah said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth: 10. See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to pluck up and break down and to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant, Jer. 31:27. Behold, the day come, saith Jehovah, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of

Agent of Gray County Judges At Hemphill Fair

There were 45 cattle in the dairy exhibit of the Hemphill county fair, which closed yesterday. Ralph R. Thomas, Gray county agent, judged the dairy cattle.

Much interest was shown in the poultry show, these being about 100 fowls on exhibition. There was a fine exhibit of field crops, including grain sorghums, wheat, oats, barley, tomatoes, cantaloupes, vegetables, and truck garden products.

Other judges at the fair were: T. R. Brown, county agent of Donley county, who judged the poultry, hogs, and beef cattle; J. D. Tinsley, general agricultural agent of Santa Fe, agricultural exhibits; Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs, district home demonstration agent, and Miss Viola Jones, home demonstration agent of Wheeler county, home demonstration work.

Mr. Thomas said the display of canned meats, jellies, preserves, vegetables and fruits, was excellent. Mrs. Gladys N. Weaver is home demonstration agent of Hemphill county. Parker D. Hanna is the county agent.

A parade of all the school children in the county was held Friday.

County agent Thomas conducted a poultry demonstration at McLean Tuesday for the members of the McLean boys 4-H club. He showed the club members how to cull for lying. At the end of his demonstration, he passed out pullets to the boys, and not one mistake was made by any of the boys in judging them.

Veteran Is Enabled to Enter Hospital

Local officials of the American Legion were responsible for Captain Luther F. Williams of Lubbock having gained admittance to the U. S. Veterans Hospital at Muskogee, Okla.

Williams was seriously injured recently near Berger, where he was working, and had been in a local hospital for several weeks. His efforts to be admitted to the hospital at Muskogee were unavailing.

The service officer of the Pampa post took the case and in one-half hour's telephone conversation completed arrangements so that Captain Williams could be cared for at the Oklahoma hospital. On Friday, Mr. Williams accompanied by a nurse, Mrs. Sam Davis, left Pampa for Muskogee, where he will be cared for in the U. S. Veterans hospital. Mrs. Davis returned to Pampa.

High Marks Made in Chevrolet Contest

Harold Baer and L. S. Bubes were able to drive 127 miles on one quart of gasoline, giving them a mileage equal to 50.8 per gallon, to win the Chevrolet economy contest held by Culbertson-Smalling Chevrolet company, which ended Friday evening. Nine other merchants cooperated with the Chevrolet company in offering prizes for the winners.

Other prize winners and their mileage are as follows: J. W. Condo, 48.4; H. C. Raines, 48; W. M. Chambliss, 46.8; R. E. Gattlin, 46.8; Mrs. W. F. Arndt, 45; Mrs. Olive West, 43.2; Mrs. J. R. Williams, 42.8; N. C. Tindall, 41.6; Mrs. S. E. Hurt, 37.6; Mrs. H. T. Miller, 37.6.

More than 200 cars were tested in the three days of the contest and the average mileage was 24.6 miles.

F. E. Beecroft of Amarillo, and W. A. Bratton returned Friday after a business trip to Tulsa.

PROPER FOOD KEEPS CHILDREN ALERT IN SCHOOL

BY ALEXANDER GEORGE Betty and Dick, clear-eyed and sturdy, start off to school after a summer of outdoor play, rest, and much sunshine. Just how long they will remain vigorous and bright-eyed depends greatly on proper food.

Food hastily eaten and improperly masticated is often the forerunner of sickness. Children should get up early enough to eat a substantial breakfast, in a leisurely manner.

It is best to have the children's heaviest meal at midday, and it should consist of energy producing foods, easily digested, palatable and attractively served.

One starchy and one or two green cereal or starchy vegetable, with bread and butter, dessert and milk provide a nutritious morning or evening meal.

If the school is some distance from the home it is better for the children to carry lunches instead of having them run home, swallow a few mouthfuls and dash back again to school.

These "carry" lunches can be made just as nutritious and attractive as home meals if the mother, or whoever is head of the household, does some planning.

Children require something hot at noon, especially in the winter. Soups, canned vegetable or meat mixtures can be poured into hot food jars and kept hot until serving time.

With substantial sandwiches wrapped in waxed papers, tasty desserts, bits of sweet, fruit and milk in a vacuum bottle, a nutritious lunch can be provided every school day.

At signs of illness, lighten the diet and see that the child does not over-exert himself.

NOTICE OF EXECUTION SALE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Gray.

By virtue of a Pluries Execution issued out of the County Court of Dallas County At-Law No. 2, Dallas County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said court on the 21st day of September, 1923 in favor of G. A. Doering, doing business as Texas Electric Farm Light Company and against Howard F. Wingo, in the case of G. A. Doering, et al., case number 36138-B in such court, I did, on the 1st day of September, 1930, at 10 o'clock A. M., levy upon the following described tracts and parcels of land situated in the county of Gray, state of Texas, as the property of said Howard F. Wingo, et al., to-wit:

"That part of lot six (6) in Block J in McLean, Gray County, Texas, being part of Section Twenty-two (22), Block R, and more particularly described as follows: Beginning at the Southeast (SE) corner of said block J thence in a Westerly direction with the South boundary line of the said Block J two hundred (200) feet for corner; thence in Northernly direction parallel with the East Boundary line of said Block J one hundred fifty-four (154) feet for corner; thence in a Westerly direction parallel with the South boundary line of said Block J two hundred (200) feet for corner in East boundary line of said Block J; thence in Southernly direction with the East boundary line of said Block J one hundred fifty-four (154) feet for corner to the place of beginning."

And on the 7th day of October, 1930, same being the first Tuesday of said month, between the hours of ten o'clock A. M., and four o'clock P. M., on said day, at the Court House door of said county of Gray, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction for cash, all the right, title and interest of the said Howard F. Wingo in and to said property.

Dated at Pampa, Gray County, Texas, this 12th day of September, A. D. 1930. E. S. GRAVES, Sheriff. By C. E. GUTHRIE, Deputy.

Davis Electric to Handle Radios

The new General Motors Radio, which was announced last Sunday, will be represented in this section by the Davis Electric company. The local distributors will have a voice in the policies through a plan of meetings of dealers at Dayton, Ohio. Each month a different group of dealers will be brought together.

The new General Motors Radio is an 8-tube set, and is offered in 5 models. A tone selector, which enables one to emphasize either bass or treble tones is a new feature.

KGRS to Have Excellent Studio

Following the radio program given by members of the local Epworth league at Amarillo last week, Mr. Porter, manager of KGRS, invited Walter Hardin to accompany him on a tour of the new home of KGRS, now under construction, on the site two blocks south of the fair grounds. Double tile and stucco are used in the construction of the building, which will contain a visiting room, employees' quarters, and one of the most modern studios in the West. The studio will be placed in the center of the building. The most scientific specifications were used in the construction of the building. Antennae from the Eighth street station have already been removed to the new building.

Mr. Hardin said "I believe the location to be one of the most beautiful in the city of Amarillo, as it will overlook the entire business section of the city."

"Mr. Porter stated that he would be in Pampa one day next week to complete arrangements for the Pampa studio which will be tuned in as soon as the Amarillo building is completed and equipment installed."

The new building will cost approximately $10,000 and the entire plant will represent an outlay of about $70,000.

Attend Convention Mr. and Mrs. W. C. deCordova, J. A. Pearson, and O. K. Gaylor attended the state convention of the American Legion of Oklahoma at Okmulgee, Sept. 7-8-9. Legion registrations totaled 3,900 at the Oklahoma convention. Representatives from 12 states were present.

Goes to Paris Mrs. J. J. Pritchett of the Wholesale Syndicate left for Paris Saturday, where she has been transferred to the Paris store of that company.

B. R. Wood, C. D. Reno, and J. H. Brown, all of the Clouston Motor company, made a business trip to LeFors Friday.

Dahlias and Asters Are Blooming in Many Yards as Other Flowers Fade

By ARCHER FULLINGIM Zinnias and petunias have had their day. Before them, blossomed the violet, the sweet pea, the peony in April; the daisy, the poppy, the gladiolus in May, the honeysuckle in June. July and August were brilliant with petunias and zinnias here.

A casual glance into flower gardens and into yards reveals that dahlias are coming into their own, and that the aster is plentiful and in full bloom. Paint brush is beginning to flame in many a yard. Cannas are preparing to shed their last blossoms of the year and it appears that they have saved the best for the last. After the dahlias, flower lovers may look forward to a few short weeks of chrysanthemums and then—frost.

In our opinion, one dahlia bloom can beautify an entire garden or a whole yard, for the dahlia like the gardenia and the orchid is a precious flower and one blossom may be sufficient for a garden or a yard pattern. Therefore it is not necessary to fill one's yard with dahlias. It's too expensive anyway.

Quite the loveliest dahlia seen in Pampa this morning was one that was as dark red blood in color, and was growing in the yard of Mrs. R. C. Campbell at 420 North Gray street. It was perfectly proportioned—a thing of beauty even if it will not be a joy forever. However it was not the only blossom on the dozen dahlia bushes in the pattern. There were pink ones and orchid-colored ones. The bushes exultantly bore the weight of more than a hundred buds which will soon burst into bloom.

The greenest and most colorful yard in town was Mrs. A. R. Sawyer's also on North Gray street. Dahlias in the garden were yellow, red and lavender. The grass was just as green as it was in April. Phlox was still bravely blooming while the morning glory blossoms were deep purple. Mrs. H. W. Wright at 609 North Gray has red dahlias around her doorway. There were pink dahlias in the yard of Mrs. C. M. Bryson at 601 North Gray and many buds promised more.

Asters of many colors were in Mrs. Sawyer's garden and in the yard of Mrs. Lynn Boyd. The Campbells have just seeded their yard in blue grass, and those who are planning to do the same thing should get busy. The county commissioners are getting ready to have the courthouse yard planted in blue grass. There were pink dahlias at the residence of Mrs. F. E. Luttrell at 1035 East Francis. Pure yellow and crimson were the colors of dahlias in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Park at 219 East Francis.

Orchid-colored dahlias are the preference of Mrs. C. M. Powers at 720 North Gray, while Mrs. T. W. Jamison at 800 North Gray is partial to the universal favorite, red.

J. H. Wilson of the Buick agency at Perryton, was in Pampa Friday. Mrs. Miriam Wilson has returned from a vacation in Tennessee.

28. And if shall come to pass that, like as I have watched over them to pluck up and break down and to overthrow and to destroy and to afflict, so will I watch over them to build and to plant, saith Jehovah.

29. In these days they shall say no more, This fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge.

30. But every one shall die for his own iniquity; ever man that eateth the sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31. Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah:

32. But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith Jehovah: I will put my law in their inward parts, and in their hearts will I write it; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

33. And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know Jehovah: for they shall all know me from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith Jehovah: for I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin will I remember no more.

INTRODUCTION

Jeremiah has been called, "The prophet of personal religion." He was the first great teacher in Israel to break away from the nationalistic conception of religion. They had been thinking that because they were Jews had Abraham for their father, all was well with their souls. Jeremiah insisted, to a certain extent anticipating Jesus' teachings, that men must deal with God: that the living Shepherd counts and names his flocks one by one.

The prophet has a pertinent word to a certain part of the world of today: those who call themselves Christians because they live A. D., in a "year of our Lord;" or because they are bolstered up with the countless blessings of a Christ-mented civilization; or because they are of a family that for generations has feared God and kept his commandments.

Jeremiah emphasized, and we had done before, what we term "spirituality." Careless of ritual, of form, prescription, one of his big words from God is: "I will put my teaching in their breast, and I will write it on their hearts." (31-33).

Jeremiah's Call

The call of Jeremiah came in a different way from that of Isaiah. To him was given no vision of Jehovah in the temple yet his call was no less real and convincing. In some way he heard the voice of Jehovah declaring that before his birth he had been chosen for a divine mission. The revelation of the fact could not but impress him deeply; for as Davidson says, "It is certainly the case that is a source of comfort and power to us to think that not now for the first time has God thought of us, or is making use of us; but that we have been in his mind for long, always, indeed, from the beginning. When for instance, we are in something like the position of this prophet undertaking a serious responsibility, and can recall things in our history which we cannot regard as providential, determining our course of life, and leading us on toward the place which we are going to occupy, it does strengthen our hope that God is now calling us to the place."

Jeremiah's Humility, v. 6.

"Then said I, Ah, Lord Jehovah, behold, I know not how to speak; for I am a child." As Jeremiah prophesied for more than forty-one years, he must have been about twenty at this time, about the age of Isaiah when he began his work. The word translated "Child" means a very young man. So Solomon said at the beginning of his reign, "I am but a little child; I know not how to go out or come in" (1 Kings 3:7). A prophet must be able to speak with power, so as to sway the hearts and minds of the people, and Jeremiah felt his inability to do this as Moses did when called to lead his people from Egypt: "Oh, Lord, I am not eloquent. I am slow to speech, and of a slow tongue" (Ex. 4:10); to which the Lord replied, "Who hath made man's mouth? Go; and I will be with thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt speak."

"God has often selected the young for posts of eminent service: Samuel and Timothy, Joseph and David, Daniel and Jeremiah; Calvin, who wrote his "Institutes" before he was twenty-four; and Wesley, who was only twenty-five when he inaugurated the great system of Methodism. In every age of the church young eyes have eagerly scanned this paragraph, and have dared to cherish the hope that since youth did not disqualify Jeremiah, so it would not render them unfit for the spiritual service of God.

Jeremiah's Mission, v. 7.

"For to whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak." So also Christ bade his disciples, "Go ye into all the world, and teach them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you." It is not for the Christian, as it was not for Jeremiah, to choose the place where he shall work or the words he shall say; he is to live as a missionary, "one sent," the commissioned agent of his King. He is to say, in the words of the post: "It may not be on the mountain heights.

Or over the stormy sea; It may not be at the battle's front My Lord would have need of me; But if by a still, small voice he calls

To paths that I do not know, I'll answer, dear Lord, with my hand in thine, I'll go where you want me to go."

Personal Responsibility, v. 30.

"But every one shall die for his own iniquity." "The soul that sinneth, it shall die" (Ezek. 18:4); it, and not another soul coming after him. This is the doctrine of individual responsibility upon which Jeremiah insisted, as opposed to the doctrine of clan or family responsibility which had obtained before him. There is truth in both views. Each one sees the work of heredity, whereby a drunken father is so likely to have a drunken son and a godly father is so likely to have a noble son. Children suffer terribly, often, for the sins of their fathers. This law of God is wise and necessary, since one of the strongest deterrents from evil and incentives to good is the knowledge that our acts affect our children as remote posterity. But over against this law must be placed the truth which Jeremiah insists upon: thru physical and material results of one's father's sins may fall upon us, the sin itself is not transmitted. If we resist the evil tendencies which we inherit, if we conquer them, the sin is not ours, however sadly it may have been our father's.

The New Covenant, vs. 33, 34. "But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith Jehovah." "The house of Israel" is all the people, the ancient name of the Jews before the division into two kingdoms. "I will put my law in their inward parts, and in their heart I will write it." God's law had been to the Jews an exterior thing and therefore their religion had been mere formalism, from which it was easy to break away. A covenant written on the heart, enforced by the desire and will, is part of the life, enforces itself, and cannot be broken. This is the Christian idea of our relation to God, and it could not be fully realized until God came close to men thru his Son, "Ye in me and I in you," as Christ said. "And I will be their God, and they shall be my people." This is to be the permanent result of the new individual heart-relation with Jehovah which Jeremiah prophesies.

"For I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin will I remember no more." "God will treat the past of-ences, even though their inevitable consequences may continue, as they affect the communion of the soul with God. He will, in the language of other prophets, "blot out" the sins which yet belong to the indelible and irrevocable past (Isa. 43:25; 44:22).

For his outspoken opposition to an Egyptian alliance—the policy of king and nobles—we find our prophet now in the stocks (20:1-6), now confined in a loathsome dungeon (chapters 37, 38). For months after the destruction of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar he tarried in the vicinity. When the "remnant" fled to Egypt, after the murder of Gedaliah, they forced the prophet to accompany them.

There was to be no rest or peace this side the grave for Jeremiah. Even in Egypt he went on fighting ungodliness among his exiled countrymen, voicing God's warnings and judgments (44:5). He was indeed, and distinguishedly so, a suffering servant of Jehovah. Cheyne remarks that if his words do not foretell of Christ so plainly as those of some of the other prophets, his life very dramatically does. There is one tradition that he was stoned to death by his own people, down there in Egypt; another that when Nebuchadnezzar conquered Egypt (around 567 B. C.) he took the old prophet with him to Babylon, where he died a natural death. Either tradition is unauthenticated, but,

"He who battle on His side, God, though he were ten times slain, Crowns him victor glorified, Victor over death and pain."

Konjola Freed Fort Worth Man of Rheumatism

Suffered Five Years—Kidney and Stomach Ailments Also Banished.

MR. N. R. DANIEL

"I suffered from rheumatism for five years," said Mr. N. R. Daniel, 808 East Arlington avenue, Fort Worth. "This settled in my left leg and hips and I became so sore and stiff that I walked with a limp. I could not stoop sufficiently to lace my shoes. Later I became afflicted with stomach pains caused by gas. My kidneys became affected and I suffered constant back pains."

"I watched local endorsements of Konjola and decided to give it a trial. I noticed a change while I was taking the first bottle so I continued the treatment. Today the pains of rheumatism have entirely passed. I move my limbs freely and without effort. The stomach and kidney ailment have gone the way of my rheumatism and I no longer suffer from constipation. Even head catarrh which bothered me for years has been relieved by this new medicine."

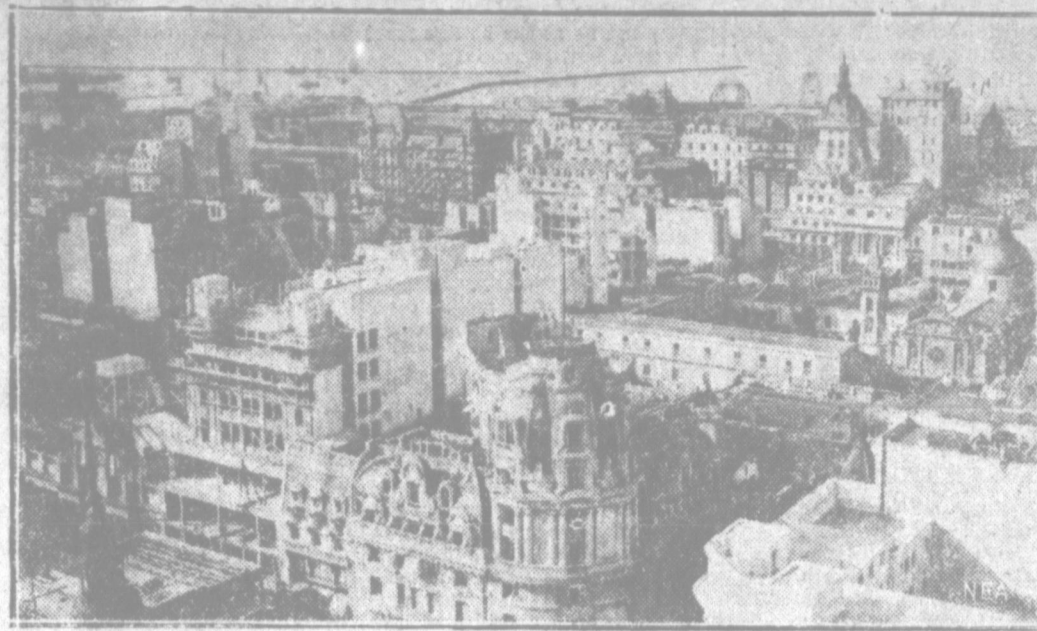

The files of Konjola contain many

Argentina's Revolution-Torn Capital

This unusual birds-eye picture of Buenos Aires, as seen from the tower of the Guemes Arcade, shows the center of the city and the harbor in the background. Sharp clashes occurred in the streets in the outbreaks that marked the ousting of President Iriogyen and installation of General Jose E. Uriburu as provisional president of the Argentine.

color—except," he said with a grin, "when you happen to be wearing pink or red or green or something." But white really was what he liked her best in, he thought, and he told her so. "No fooling."

He looked rather well himself, in his Tuxedo and his Panama. Paul Collier, who had watched his toilet with critical eye, had pronounced him acceptable, and Anne's eyes had approved him. Collier's new house was Spanish in design. It was impressive. The Japanese butler who admitted them took them toward the patio, where the director and his wife were sitting with their guests, and Collins jumped up at once and came toward them, bringing his wife with him, holding her by the hand. Rorimer had met her before, and she welcomed him cordially. "I'm especially glad to see Dan Rorimer again!" she exclaimed, and her husband said shrewdly: "I'm especially glad to see the lady."
