Police of World Preparing to Watch May Day Events

COMMUNISTS ARE EXPECTED TO BE ACTIVE

Demonstrations in Connection With International Labor Day to Be Forbidden in Many Cities.

BERLIN FEARFUL

Oklahoma National Guard Will Be Ready; Texas Expecting No Trouble—Thefts Recalled.

AUSTIN, April 30. (P)—State officials were not alarmed today at the approach of May 1, communist and "red" demonstration day.

However, they were known to have been advised "unofficially" that there "might be" demonstrations in Texas tomorrow.

Governor's secretaries reported that Gov. Ross Sterling had not issued any kind of a warning on probable communist and "red" demonstrations.

Officials did not reveal the nature of the information made known to them of probable demonstrations.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 30. (P) Brig. Gen. Charles E. McPherson of the Oklahoma National Guard said today 1,000 men would be available in 24 hours in case of disturbances tomorrow and that 5,000 guardsmen could be mobilized in 48 hours.

State officers and military authorities were prepared for possible emergencies in connection with the rumored communist disturbances on May day and garrisoning among miners' families in the Henryetta coal district.

Oil field areas here and at Seminole received most attention, due to recent thefts of explosives.

Murray Warns OKLAHOMA CITY, April 30. (P) Citizens of Oklahoma today were warned of what Governor Murray sees as a very serious situation within the state—ones from thousands of unemployed and underemployed persons and other from communists, possibly planning violence tomorrow in May day demonstrations.

Governor Murray considers both situations threats serious enough to warrant the issuance of statements calling attention of the public to the two-fold problem.

Asserting he feared "revolutionary violence" by destitute people of the state, he issued an urgent appeal for funds to purchase food for needy thousands.

He also ordered the Oklahoma National Guard to be held in readiness to quell possible attempts at violence tomorrow by communists, particularly in the oil fields. In his statement, the governor said: "Dynamite has been stolen from four places in the state recently, all field sites were warned to establish double guard tomorrow, and be alert."

Delegations Call The appeal for public aid in behalf of the unemployed and drought victims came after delegations from Oklahoma, Bryan, and Choctaw counties called at the capitol and told Governor Murray immediate action must be taken to relieve conditions in their territories.

HENRYETTA, Okla., April 30. (P) Substantial aid came from the Red Cross today for hungry thousands in the coal district here.

The local organization was authorized to draw on National Red Cross headquarters for as much as $1,000 for emergency relief through May 1.

It was cheering news for citizens had taken to Gov. W. H. Murray their fears that unemployed miners might riot for food. The governor, who was expected to visit the district Sunday, called for voluntary subscriptions.

Police Ready LONDON, April 30. (P)—Police of much of the world today made preparations to suppress disorders and maintain order during widespread observance tomorrow, May day, of International Labor day.

In England, May day celebrations have gone somewhat out of fashion of late beyond some soap box oratory and a few small processions expected in London, but elsewhere in Europe and in Spanish America observances presented a more serious problem.

The government has forbidden open air meetings and parades in Paris in answer to efforts of communists there to stage a great demonstration tomorrow. Vigorous preparations were made to combat any breach in order.

Berlin Approaches Police of Berlin, where the celebration two years ago initiated serious rioting which lasted two days, will be mobilized for the day and a rigid curb placed on demonstrations.

Police in Sofia of the Balkan countries forbade celebrations, but in others permitted demonstrations under strict supervision. In Spain the day was expected to have a dual significance with celebrations marking

LEGISLATURE SETS RECORD

Many Measures Are Made Into Laws—Others Due to Be Ignored.

By Clyde W. Warwick (Representative 123rd District AUSTIN, April 30. (Special) Newspaper correspondents in Austin are predicting as to bills which will be passed during the coming two weeks by the 42nd legislature and which class of bills will remain untouched at the end of the session.

One guess is as good as another for no one knows what peculiar tangent is likely to result in the final wind up of this legislative session.

It is freely predicted that some kind of a congressional redistricting bill will be passed this session, but it is very unlikely that redistricting will follow so far as the state senatorial and state representative districts are concerned.

Among the most important bills which are likely to go into the discards are the most discussed public utility commission; conservation and proration oil commission; cotton acreage control; judicial redistricting; income tax; single primary reform bill; prison relocation; split tax payments; repeal of six year alcoholic age.

The above mentioned are given on the supposition that the legislature will close on May 12, the end of the 120-day period. However, sentiment seems to prevail that the legislature will remain in session until about the 20th of May.

"LAST DRINK TOGETHER" HAS ENDED AFFAIR OF COUPLE

CHICAGO, April 30. (P)—While her husband and another witness watched helplessly, Mrs. Ralph Garrison of Kalamazoo, Mich., and a man police said they identified as J. H. Hartung of Dayton, Ohio, lifted glasses to their lips, drank the contents, and then fell dead last night in the room of a downtown hotel.

George Washington University Confers Degree on "Beloved Ruler" of Siam.

WASHINGTON, April 30. (P)—American scholarship honored the king of Siam today at the presentation of the degree of doctor of laws to him by George Washington university.

Representatives of leading universities participated in the brief ceremony in the Hall of the Americas at the Pan-American Union.

An audience which filled every available seat stood as the king entered accompanied by President Clyde Heck Marvin, of the university.

President Marvin called the king "a beloved ruler of independent people" in presenting the honorary degree.

Charles Riborg Mann, director of the American Council of Education, told the king "American scholars have watched with admiration the spread of the university spirit in the kingdom of Siam."

King Prajadhipok rose and responded after he had been invested with the academic hood.

"American methods and institutions and resources have played a considerable and significant part in the development and advancement of modern Siam," he said, "and I am the more thankful, on that account, for this evidence of commendation from an American university situated here in the capital city of the United States."

After the ceremony, the king went to Baltimore to have his eyes examined by specialists.

Production of Library Drama Set For May 26

Production date for "Beauty at the Throat," five-episode play to be given to augment the library funds, has been set for May 26, it was announced today. The performance will be given in the city auditorium, beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

The presentation of the new play, May 26, will be the first time it has been produced. Although the drama involves minute studies of the characters in the play, its chief purpose is to tell a gripping tale.

The plot concerns a youth who went to sea on a sailing vessel for the purpose of learning to paint seas and ships, and five hardened seamen who greatly softened toward the boy before the climax. The action takes place during a voyage around Cape Horn to Valparaiso, and is based upon the seamen's reaction to the storms and gales that rage continuously at the Horn, and upon the youth's successful battle with the wester in rounding the "tail" of South America.

Dayton garment concern. Police said they identified Hartung by papers and cards found in his possession.

The Garrisons had effected a reconciliation. Garrison came to Chicago with Mrs. Jones after they had located Mrs. Garrison in Chicago. The Garrisons and Mrs. Jones went to the hotel together.

"I see come to reclaim my wife and to gather her belongings and take her home," Garrison was quoted as saying to Hartung.

Hartung smiled calmly. He looked at Mrs. Garrison, and said: "Let's have a last drink together."

BURNING WELL YET UNTAMED

NITRO IS NOT TO BE TRIED UNTIL LATER

Basins Around Killer Test to Be Pumped Full of Water Before Kinley. Brothers Attempt to Shoot

JOB VERY LARGE

Preparations May Not Be in Completion Before Next Week; Newspaper Men Kept Four Miles Away.

GLADEWATER, April 30. (P)—J. M. Clevinger, foreman in charge of the work of clearing a way for an attempt to extinguish fire in the Sinclair No. 1 Cole well with a nitroglycerin charge, said today that physical conditions at the well would not permit the shot to be used before Saturday.

The explosion and fire at the well Tuesday resulted in the deaths of eight workmen.

No outsiders were permitted to go closer than four miles from the well, all comers being stopped on the Klinger road by deputy sheriff. Newspaper men for the first time were denied a closer approach.

Clevinger had 50 men, four cat-crillar tractors, many trucks, and ten teams preparing facilities about the well.

Laying Water Line The foreman said a water line was being laid from Prairie creek, half a mile away, to be completed tonight, and that a big basin would be formed with levees around the fire, this basin to be flooded with water. He said it would require many hours to pump enough water into the basin.

Asbestos suits had been brought here for the use of workmen who will pull all equipment, including tons of casing and steel rig appliances, from the fire.

Clevinger said the Kinley brothers, who have put out three large oil fires for the Sinclair company, never have worn asbestos suits and would not make an exception of the present job.

Twenty acres of timber pine were being cleared from the vicinity of the well.

Inspector Visits Well The flaming gusher was inspected today by Leslie McKay, Austin, chief deputy supervisor of the oil and gas division of the Texas railroad commission; J. L. Martin, chief supervisor in this district; and Homer Pierson, chief of the Dallas district.

The expressed opinions that conditions would not be favorable for the nitroglycerin shot before next week.

McKay said it was possible the railroad commission might take some action soon with reference to more stringent safety regulations in Texas oil fields.

TULSA, Okla., April 30. (P)—M. M. and Harry Kinley, oil well fire fighters, returned here today by airplane for additional equipment to be used in an attempt to conquer the flaming Sinclair No. 1 Cole well near Gladewater, Tex.

M. M. Kinley said they expected to hurry back to Gladewater in a plane piloted by D. A. McIntyre of Tulsa.

GLADEWATER, April 30. (P)—Preparations for efforts to extinguish the fire in the Sinclair No. 1 Cole oil well which caught fire Tuesday, resulting in the deaths of eight men, were resumed at daylight today. Whether much progress could be made after many hours of rain was problematical.

A. M. and Harry Kinley of Tulsa, Okla., nitroglycerin experts and widely known oil well fire fighters, were expected to come back today for a second look at the fire, four miles from Tulsa.

reached and world economic forces were shaping for an upward trend. The main spurces of prosperity would be dried up, he said, if the public generally became fearful that the government would destroy investments by entering private competition.

"No single thing could happen," he said, "which would give more courage and inspiration looking to revival of prosperity, than to know the government intended to maintain a sacred regard for the rights of private property, as those rights have heretofore been supposed to be protected."

NAVY PLANT IN BRAZIL IS DEMOLISHED

Two Hundred Believed Dead as Torpedo Loading Room at Nicttheroy Produces Terrific Explosion.

BODIES MANGLED

Adjoining 3-Story Building Wrecked and Many Die in It; Hospitals Quickly Filled With Injured.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, April 30. (P)—Half of the 400 employees in the naval laboratory at Nicttheroy were reported killed or injured today when an explosion wrecked the plant.

Rescuers began removing mutilated bodies and carrying out the injured. The hospital at Nicttheroy was quickly filled. Many victims were brought here.

The explosion which was believed to have occurred in the torpedo loading room wrecked that building and an adjoining three-story structure.

Nicttheroy is just across the bay from Rio de Janeiro and the injured who could not be accommodated there were carried across in launches.

The ministry of marine said it was impossible to estimate the number of dead and injured accurately but it was virtually certain that at least 200 had been killed or badly hurt.

GENERAL RAINS FALL BUT HIGHWAYS ARE PASSABLE

Guadalupe River on Rampage at San Antonio and Motocists Are Marooned.

All roads leading into Pampa were being travelled by vehicles without chains at noon today. Intermittent rains which fell here last night did not interrupt bus service to Amarillo and to Clarendon. The bus did not run to Wheeler this morning but service will be resumed this afternoon.

All dirt roads were rather muddy this morning but were becoming hardened as traffic passed over them.

The Clarendon road was reported as being heavy but passable. Approximately five-sixteenths of an inch of rain fell yesterday and last night, according to the rain gauge at the Santa Fe station.

SAN ANTONIO, April 30. (P)—Swollen by a cloudburst late yesterday and steady rainfall all night, the Guadalupe river today had become a raging torrent a mile wide and has marooned many tourists near Comfort, northwest of here.

Heavy rains in the Guadalupe watershed in Kerr and Mason counties brought the river up about six feet and cut off travel to a half dozen towns in the section.

Local police were appealed to today to send blankets and food to the marooned motor colony on both sides of the river near Comfort. It was suggested that blankets and food be dropped from the air.

Creeks which flow into the Guadalupe, including the Cypress and Block creeks, were on the rampage and indications were that the Guadalupe will be up 14 or 15 feet if the rain does not abate.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 30. (P) Warnings of possible floods were sent today to towns along the South Canadian river, including the Oklahoma Panhandle, by Federal Meteorologist J. P. Slaughter.

Fear of Competition Thru Governmental Channels Is Declared Harmful.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 30. (P)—Modification of the anti-trust law and a watchful guard against encroachment by the federal government on the field of private business were urged today by business leaders addressing the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Fred M. Sargent, president of the Chicago and Northwestern railway, while agreeing with many businessmen here that forces appear to be shipping themselves for a return to stability, emphasized that American business cannot fully succeed if it is constantly subject to the fear of government competition.

Sargent expressed the belief the bottom of the depression had been

Truck Bill May Limit Carrying of Nitro and Powder

AUSTIN, April 30. (P)—Efforts were made today as the senate returned to consideration of pending truck control bills, to place strict limitations on trucks hauling nitroglycerin, bombs, gunpowder and inflammable substances over the state highway system. An amendment which would require issuance of special permits, granting permission for one trip on which explosives and inflammable substances were transported to cost $25 each, was pending when the senate recessed.

Among the amendments to the truck control bill adopted was one by Senator Small of Wellington which provided that limitations on height, weight, and length should not apply to trucks transporting property from points of origin to the nearest practical common carrier loading or unloading point.

Other amendments adopted provided that the weight of trucks should be listed on license receipts, that certain utility emergency trucks, not exceeding 6,000 pounds in weight, might operate over the highways at a maximum rate of 40 miles per hour and that each truck should carry a fire extinguisher and its driver possess a drivers license.

Bride's Brother Shot to Death

McALLEN, April 30. (P)—Augustine Perez was dead today of a gunshot wound, Pete Dennett was awaiting examination trial in connection with the case, and officers were looking for Juan Cerda, believed to have been wounded in the same gun fight. Dennett said the shooting began when Perez and Cerda drove up to his home and opened fire on Ramon de la Garza, who had come there with his newly married wife in search of rooms. The girl was a sister of Perez.

CATCHER RELEASED

FORT WORTH, April 30. (P)—Frank Meyers, veteran catcher, has been cut from the roster of the Fort Worth baseball club and the Cubs are now within the 18-man limit of the Texas league. Officials of the club said today that efforts were being made to place Meyers, with another team but he may be made a free agent.

Tulsa Firemen Injured By Gas

TULSA, Okla., April 30. (P)—Seventeen firemen were overcome by gas and smoke from a stubborn fire which smoldered 35 feet below the street in a basement of a department store here late last night.

Due to the nature of the gas, believed thrown off by insecticides stored in the basement, fire department gas masks were rendered useless and it was not until special equipment was borrowed from a theater that firemen were able to reach the heart of the blaze.

Physicians said all 17 of the men confined in hospitals would recover.

Frenzied Drilling Costs Lives And Unbalances Crude Oil Market

Death of nearly thirty persons in the new Longview field recently in connection with oil blazes and fires is illustrative of the frenzied drilling in those pools. Hazards were allowed to exist and fatal accidents resulted. Despite the depressed condition of the oil market, the new field reached huge proportions in less than a year. Giant gushers spurred the movement. Oil not needed on the market spurted forth almost unrestricted. Proration efforts, carried on laboriously in the Pampa field and in other parts of the nation, appeared almost foolish in the face of continuing heavy importing from Venezuela and other foreign countries. The huge proportions of the Longview field, however, suggest that if domestic overproduction does not exist actually it is at least a potential fact.

With East Texas offering a flood of cheap oil near to the state's big refineries, the older pools are endangered. East Texans, therefore, have an obligation somewhat like that of the importers—to refrain from killing thousands of small wells with resulting waste of many millions of dollars. Purchasers should buy ratably from the various fields.

The oil tariff is as much needed as ever, and we have the added fact that orderly production in line with market demands is going to be necessary to restore the oil business to prosperity. Continued price cutting has affected the earning of three fourths of the oil industry and if continued for another year or two will result in staggering economic waste.

Legislation should, if possible, be confined to regulating common carriers and rearing a tariff. No industry which becomes a political football is apt to be very stable for the reason that its political fortunes are turbulent.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, April 30. (NEA)—The two factions of the politicians' union have been debating as to which party has the biggest liars and the game is to convict the other fellow out of his own mouth.

Politicians rely so importantly on their mouths and use them so frequently that it is not very difficult to pin something on any of them when one employs such obviously unfair tactics as trying to hang them for things they have said. In fact, on that basis everybody else, which presumably is the reason that the recent attempts to make a national issue out of alleged political falsehoods seem so bizarre.

Keeping score on this game is no cinch, but it appears that the Democrats first developed the technique of using a politician's words against him.

During the 1928 campaign they discovered that several of the most important Republican leaders had at some time or other in the past said very harsh things about Mr. Hoover, who had become the party candidate. Including Charlie Curtis, Hoover's running mate. So day after day their publicity staff quoted eminent Republicans in an attempt to show that Mr. Hoover was utterly unfitted for the White House.

It must be admitted that all those blows below the belt—which the Republicans naturally had trouble in countering—did not exactly swing the country to the Democratic ticket. The fact that in 10 or 12 years Mr. Hoover had been slammed by all the big politicians, Republican and Democratic, appeared only to increase the size of his majority. And that leads to the disquieting thought that the voters are not worrying very much about whether Chairman Fess is going to prove Chairman Shouse a liar, whether Chairman Shouse is going to prove Chairman Fess a liar or, whether again, both Chairman Fess and Chairman Shouse are going to prove each other liars.

The Democratic propaganda bureau had been recalling day after day that Mr. Hoover and his party had promised national prosperity, thereby qualifying Mr. Charlie Michelson, Democratic chief propagandist, as the world's meanest man.

And in speech after speech and mimeographed release after mimeographed release, the Democrats have been re-quoting the ringing words of Senator Jim Watson of Indiana, Republican floor leader, who assured the country as the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill passed nearly a year ago that within 30 days, as a result, the country would be on the upgrade financially, economically and commercially and that within a year the peak of prosperity would have been regained.

Lately, Republican Floor Leader John Q. Tilson of the House asserted that no sensible person had ever claimed higher tariff duties would prevent economic depression or restore prosperity and now no Democratic publicity sheet is complete unless it asks whether Watson was looney then or Tilson is looney now.

Anyway, Chairman Fess recently came upon a story in a San Francisco newspaper which said Chairman

Captain Ira Eaker Is Lost In Fog

CUSHING, Okla., April 30. (AP)—Captain Ira Eaker, army flier, spent two hours at the airport today after being lost above the clouds on a projected flight from Midland to Washington.

The flier took a friend with him from this point, planning to let him out at the Tulsa municipal airport before continuing the flight to the east. He left here at 1:40 p. m.

Airport attendants here said Captain Eaker had climbed above a heavy bank of clouds blanketing the entire southwest and that the Cushing airport was the first marked landing field he had seen since he left Midland.

He landed about 11:30 a. m. and stepped for lunch before continuing his flight.

GENERAL HULEN HONORED

AUSTIN, April 30. (AP)—Gen. John A. Hulen of Fort Worth today was named a member of the board of directors of Texas Tech to succeed F. E. Clarity of Fort Worth, resigned.

Governor Sterling also appointed Mrs. M. H. Hagaman of Fort Worth to succeed S. C. Rowle of Fort Worth on the board of regents of O. I. A. and Dr. Jack Hearn of Fort Worth to succeed Dr. W. O. Talbot of Fort Worth on the state board of dental examiners.

Paper Reckteering Will Be Stopped

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—Mayor Walker has called that "reckteering" in newspaper sales must cease.

He ordered the police department and the license department yesterday to revoke licenses of any newsdealer and to remove from the vendors charging more than the regular price.

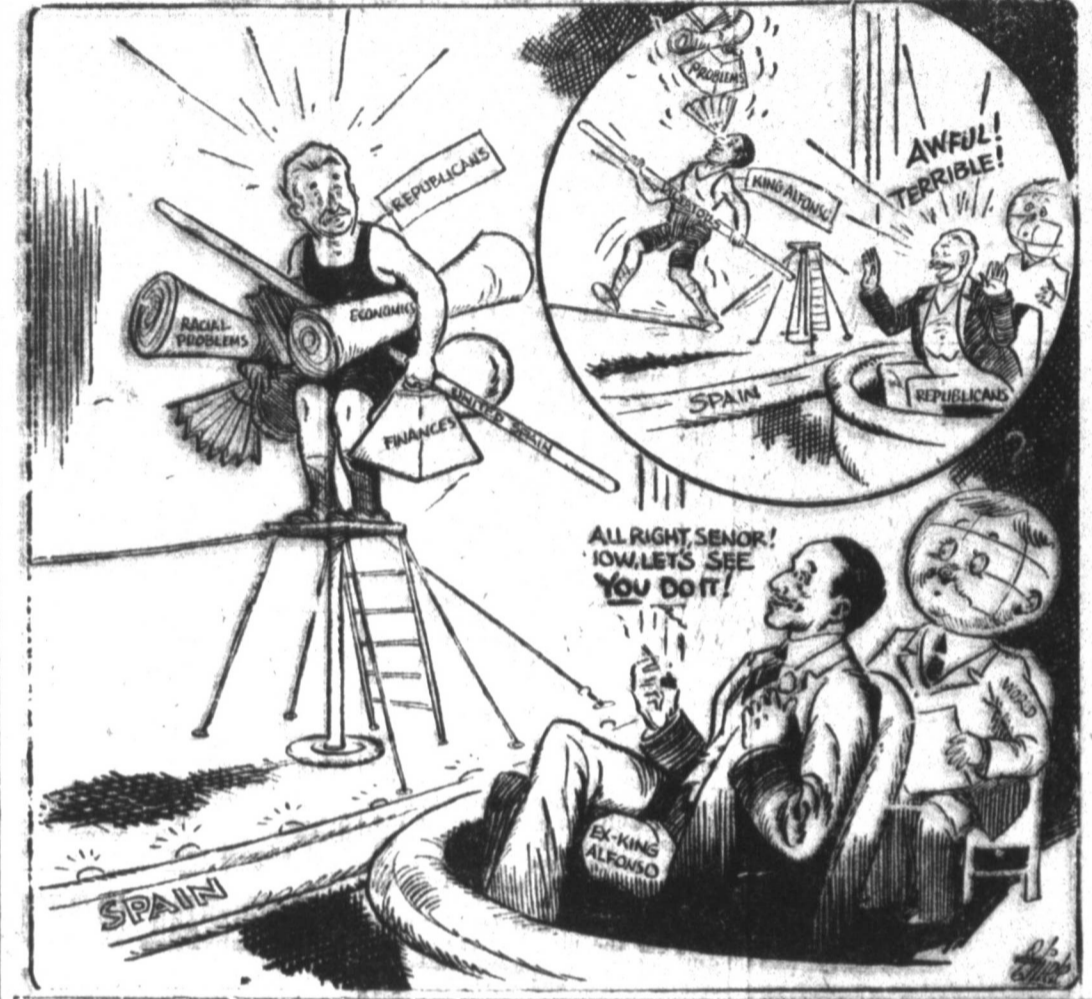

The move was made at the demand of newspaper publishers who charged that early editions were being sold at a greatly increased price in "the biggest news-dealer racket in the nation."

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—The government went out of the loan business today for drought sufferers in 18 out of the 22 states favored by last year's unprecedented dry spell.

Applications for loans from the $57,000,000 emergency fund appropriated by congress must be dated today in all states except Pennsylvania, Montana, Oregon, and Washington, where the time limit has been extended until May 15.

Shouse had said the Republicans had bought 10 million copies of a magazine which contained an article attacking Mr. John J. Raskob, the other Democratic chairman, in an attempt to use Chairman Raskob's religion against the Democrats. Chairman Fess said that was a "deliberate lie." Chairman Shouse said he had been misquoted in the newspaper.

Feminine Fancies

By HOLLYCE SELLERS HINKLE

Hurray! I got in. What a narrow escape to be the last one admitted into a store sale and to be permitted to hunt bargains with hundreds of other men, women, and children.

I took a pencil and pad along to jot down a few things that might interest you. But when I started to write—my goodness, that perfectly good 5-cent pencil had disappeared.

I charged that up to experience and bought three others just as good for the price of one.

There came a shout from some one who seemed to be in charge. "Hey, don't let anyone else in. What do you think I closed that door for?" Again I was thankful to be among that "inner circle" of early comers.

Also I decided that "Meet me at the sale" would be a good slogan. Why, I saw half the people in town at that "melting pot of civilization." There were society women, church workers, business men, professional women, ditch-diggers, and children.

I dropped all my packages but one. Thank goodness that was the only one with glassware in it. A woman spilled all of her money. There were several bills and coins lying all over the place. Pampa people are honest. Incidentally no one even found time to help her pick up her change.

Recent issues of the News and Post have carried announcements of several such interesting sales. There are others in this afternoon's paper and more to come. Can we afford to miss either the bargains or the fun?

ART OF LIVING IS DISCUSSED AT CONVENTION

CANYON, April 30.—In spite of a drizzle rain nearly 300 women gathered for the second annual one-day short course offered to the women of northwest Texas by the department of home economics of the West Texas State Teachers college and the home demonstration division of the extension service of the A. and M. college of Texas.

The forenoon session was featured by an address by President J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Teachers college in commending the work of the Woman's Home Demonstration clubs, and the Girls' 4-H clubs. President Hill said recently he was told by a county officer in a North Texas county, where there has been much poverty and suffering this year that "No home in which a woman or girl was a member of a home demonstration club has found it necessary to apply for aid during the recent hard winter."

Sam Houston Day At Clinic To Be Next Wednesday

Mothers of children who plan to enter Sam Houston school for the first time next year are asked to bring the children to the Methodist church next Wednesday for a free physical examination.

Plans for the clinic were made by the group in charge at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. R. B. Thompson, general chairman.

Mrs. R. B. Thompson, Mrs. John A. Oakes, and Mrs. Jack Maeson were appointed to assist the doctors in their examination of children.

Mrs. A. S. Beavers and Mrs. Roy Bourland were appointed to visit the mothers whose children will enter school next fall and to inform them concerning the clinic.

The transportation committee is composed of Mrs. Joe Hodges, Mrs. W. Mullinax, and Mrs. Mel Davis.

Those on the reception committee are Mrs. A. L. Patrick and Mrs. E. Vicars.

Mothers in rural districts whose children will enter school in the fall are asked to communicate with Mrs. Thompson or some other member of the P.-T. A.

Mrs. Maggie W. Barry of the A. and M. college gave two addresses to assemblies of women. The first was a very short talk addressed partly to the students who were in the auditorium. Mrs. Barry said it is very much more important to possess a genius for a living than merely to achieve a few things. She also said "I believe that youth today with all its freedom is more lacking in the current conventions than youth was during the so-called Victorian age. If you would be really free I suggest three things to you: Consideration of others, respect for yourself and common sense."

In her second talk Mrs. Barry declared that the problems which confront us today are the same problems that confronted early civilization. We have to struggle with the problems of life brought about by the rapid changes in industrial and social life.

From this starting point Mrs. Barry outlined the possibilities of improving the farm home, providing education for the farm woman and creating opportunities for cultivation and spiritual growth.

Prof. Wallace R. Clark, head of the music department of the Canyon college gave an address, "Appreciation of Music in the Home." Mr. Clark showed the importance of radio in both the home and school teaching.

In discussing the problem of choice, Mr. Clark said he doubted very much whether any character which has not had the privilege of making a choice is as strong as he who has deliberately chosen the better part.

The day's session closed with a short music program by the college band and a one-act play which was given by the Panhandle players. The play was directed by Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the speech department of the college.

Others Raise Money

Various means of raising money are employed by the various A. A. U. W. branches throughout the United States.

The Little Rock, Ark., branch has raised more than $700 for a girl at Radcliffe college and to assist a former scholarship girl at Smith college to complete her senior year there.

The money was raised by means of individual pledges and the selling of moving picture tickets.

A benefit party, selling of children's scrap books of cloth, selling of Christmas cards, and "College Nite" in connection with a production of the Theater Guild were means used by the Bartlesville, Okla., branch.

The Battle Creek, Mich., branch held a baked goods sale.

The Plainville, Ohio, branch is taking orders for fine English hybrid delphiniums through a local nurseryman.

Gives Child's Play

Superior, Wis., branch sponsored a child's play, "Jack and the Beanstalk," written by a member of the branch.

The Baton Rouge, La., branch sponsored the reading of the play "Green Pastures." Along with the presentation was a chorus of 40 voices from Southern university (colored) singing the spirituals.

Lectures on contract bridge brought money to the Petersburg, Va., branch.

The Orange county, Cal., branch is raising funds by the following methods: (1) Selling tickets to a moving picture show; (2) selling historical maps of Orange county; (3) selling gladiolus bulbs.

WES FERRELL PROVES THAT PITCHERS CAN WIN ALONE

HURLS NO HIT NO RUN GAME YESTERDAY

It Seems That Sluggers Had Remarked That They Were Most Important.

By GAYLE TALBOT JR. Associated Press Sports Writer. Possibly the Cleveland sluggers had taken to chiding members of their hurling staff. Something like: "Yeah, if it wasn't for us hitters, where would we be. We wouldn't be riding out in front of the American league if we had waited for you guys to get going."

Anyway, Young Wes Ferrell took it upon himself yesterday to uphold the honor and dignity of the Tribe's curving corps.

Wes went the limits to prove his point. He pitched the first no-hit, no-run game seen in the major leagues in nearly two years to tick the St. Louis Browns, 9 to 0. The star right-hander, starting his third campaign in the big show, allowed only six men to reach first—three on walks and three on errors by Bill Hunterfield—and not one of them got as far as second base. He struck out eight and, incidentally, won his fourth victory of the season.

Ferrell further repudiated the swatmen's driving in four runs with a home run and double. Earl Averill also cracked one into the outer stands to help hand the Browns their sixth straight reverse and send them into a tie with the Red Sox at the bottom.

The last previous no-run, no-hitter was pitched by the Giants southpaw, Carl Hubbell, who victimized the Pittsburgh Pirates May 8, 1929.

The victory kept the Indians a game and a half in front of the Washington Senators, who took undisputed possession of second place by thumping the crippled Yankees again, 9 to 5. The New Yorkers have dropped four of their last five, with only a 14-inning tie to break the monotony.

Chicago's White Sox tied their previous high run for the year by making it two straight over Detroit, 3 to 0. They grouped their five hits off Whiteell, while Thomas kept seven Tiger blows well spaced. Inclement weather stopped the Athletics and Red Sox for the fourth straight day at Boston.

St. Louis and Chicago continued their argument over the leadership of the National league, and it still is a dead heat.

Both won their eighth victory in eleven starts, the Cardinals taking Pittsburgh 7 to 1, and the Cubs doing Cincinnati, 3 to 1. There were only two games, rain preventing play at New York and Philadelphia.

VAN RYN AND LOTT ARE TO GO ABROAD

Americans Are To Enter French And English Tennis Meets.

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—A journey born of the usual confidence that the United States will sweep through the American zone Davis cup play, is to begin this evening when John Van Ryn and George M. Lott Jr. of Philadelphia, star tennis players, leave for Europe.

The two young internationalists are not yet official members of the United States Davis cup team, which starts its first round matches against Mexico at Mexico City tomorrow, but they probably will be named for the team before it goes abroad. In the present journey they are official representatives of the United States Lawn Tennis association in the French championships, which begin the second week in May at Auteuil. They also will play in the British championships at Wimbledon.

Both players will be accompanied by their wives. Van Ryn, the former Marjorie Gladman, probably will play in the women's singles both at Auteuil and at Wimbledon.

Opening Singles Begin Tomorrow At Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, April 30. (AP)—The opening singles match in the semi-finals of the North American zone cup contests will be played here tomorrow morning when members of the American and Mexican titles, yet to be named, clash on the Chapultepec Sports club courts.

Announcement of the contenders in the opening match will be made today.

The American players, Frank Shields, Sydney Wood and Wilmer Allison, and J. B. Dour, captain of the team, were received by President Ortiz Rubio yesterday. The president promised to attend the opening match. The series will be played in three days, May 1, 2, and 3.

NOT AFTER RECORDS. HESTON, Eng., April 30. (AP)—Captain Frank Hawks, American aviator, took off this afternoon for a flight over Ireland and western England. He said he was not after any speed records this time and would return tomorrow.

Johnny Farrell on GOLF

By JOHNNY FARRELL Former American Open Champion As Told ALAN GOULD NO. 2. THE GRIP

Maybe you have heard a lot of conflicting ideas about the proper grip in handling golf clubs. This star uses the over-lapping, that one the inter-locking, another just the old-fashioned grip.

These varieties really make no difference at all in the results; that is, none of them involves any secret of success.

The whole thing is to keep the hands close together, first, so that the grip is comfortable; second, so that the hands work in unison.

It is essential to get the left hand over in any kind of grip. This helps cock the wrists at the top of the swing, thereby furnishing power in the stroke.

The thing I point out to pupils is to use the knuckles of both hands in the proper grip, are along the same line. This, as I say, means that the hands are going to work in harmony.

Of course, it is essential to use the same grip for all shots. I use the over-lapping grip myself, with the small finger of the right hand over-lapping the index finger of the left hand. For another player, the inter-locking grip—with these two fingers hooked together, may be just as effective. As I say, I do not consider this feature vital.

It is just as important to avoid tenseness in the grip as it is in the arms and body generally. It should be firm without being tight. Don't grip the club as a drowning man might grab a stick held out to save his life.

Another important thing is to have both hands go through without any check on the follow-through. Sometimes I notice players have a tendency to let one hand, especially the right hand, relax, or even let go before the completion of the stroke. This is a bad habit.

Sport Slants

BY ALAN GOULD

It seemed about time for this operative to report in detail on the activities of a portly gentleman named Ruth. Anyway, it was a pleasant spring day calculated to lead many a taxicab to the Yankee Stadium.

As we arrived at the outset of hostilities, Mr. Ruth was just taking a futile right swing at the right-handed smoke blown in his direction by George Livingston Earnshaw, a world's series hero no longer than last October.

That sound we detected from the right field bleachers obviously was of a derivative character as the Babe trotted out to his place in the sun. He has heard it before and seemed not the least annoyed.

Three innings later with the A's leading 4-0 and a mate on first, Ruth swung once and missed with great gusto then swung again and connected. High up into the right field crowd soared the ball, followed by a tremendous roar.

Twice more the Babe came to bat with a man on base and two runs needed to give the Yankees a winning lead. A towering fly wasted the first chance, then with two strikes on him he caught one of Earnshaw's fast ones. The tell-tale crack sounded. Again the ball sailed high into the stands; again the tumult and the shouting.

The old man had broken up the ball game single-handed with a brace of blows that seemed symbolic of a number of things, among them:

1. That the new ball, when solidly smacked, will travel as far as the Ruthian drives of old.

2. That the Babe, with an extension of his $80,000 contract to be considered, is off on another big year.

Still The Big Bam

Ruth's home run act remains the greatest one man show in baseball. Often as this and other operatives have seen it put on, there is still a thrill in the big fellow's rhythmic swing, faultless timing and follow-through.

The masses continue to manifest semi-hysteria whenever the Big Bam connects. A ceremony of hankering waving awaits the Babe in the right field bleachers after every poke into this favorite home run territory of the Yankee Stadium.

So long as this unquestioned appeal to the box office exists, and it seems do have lost none of its potency, the magnets will do no great amount of tampering with the ball calculated to minimize the historic qualities of the game's most eminent actor.

Bath-Earnshaw This

Earnshaw, the victim of Ruth's first double-barreled blast of the 1931 season, failed to profit from his experiences of last season. On two separate and distinct occasions of the 1930 campaign the Big Moose of the A's was combed by Ruth for a brace of round trip blows, so that George Livingston Earnshaw's embarrassment will be imagined when George Herman Ruth again smote him twice in the same spot. All told, in competition with the two acts of Connie Mack's "full house," Ruth has hit Earnshaw for seven homers in three years, so that Robert Moses Grove for six circuit courts in five seasons.

DIZZY DEAN CALMS SOME WITH CARDS

Famous Texas Rookie Was Trying to Sleep As Mats Practiced.

ST. LOUIS, April 30. (AP)—Dizzy Dean, the most publicized rookie since Art Shires, a fellow Texan, started telling the world of his greatness, has been a constant occupant of the Cardinal bench since the start of the baseball season. Manager Gabby Street explained Dizzy's inactivity was no reflection on his ability.

"He looks mighty good," Street said, "but my other pitchers have been going so good I haven't had an opportunity to use him."

Asked if Dean, a tall right-hander just past his 20th birthday, who won 26 games in the Western and Texas leagues last year, would remain with the Cardinals throughout the season, Street replied, "I couldn't say."

The Redbirds' skipper let it be known he was highly pleased with Dizzy's department of late. Gabby said Dizzy had been behaving "fine" since the close of the training trip, when they found many things on which to disagree, one of them being the proper time for the juvenile pitcher to sleep. Dean wanted to sleep during the hours the Cardinals were working out, whereas the manager insisted he should get his rest between sundown and sunup. Once it took Branch Rickey's best oratory to smooth things over and keep Dean in camp.

Street said he would stick with his "big five" of Grimes, Haines, Hallahan, Rhem, and Johnson for starting duty but would give the other pitchers a chance if anything happened to his veteran stars.

Meanwhile, Dizzy, who modestly predicted during the spring he would win upwards of 30 games, continues to view the proceedings from the bench.

Yankee Golfers Off to England

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—America's annual golf invasion of Europe, which has the British open championship as its principal objective, is well under way. Following the trail of MacDonald Smith, who went "home" some time ago, two more American professionals left yesterday to compete in the Big British tournament. Another, Willie Hunter, is due to leave today.

The two who sailed yesterday were Tony Manero, who signed up as playing pro at the Norwood Country club of Long Branch, N. J., and Joe Turnesa, former Elmsford, N. Y., pro who finished a stroke behind Bobby Jones in the 1926 national open. They intend to play in tournaments at Southport and Leeds, England, before heading north for the British open at Carnoustie, Scotland, starting June 1.

SLAYS HIS WIFE

HOUSTON, April 30. (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Kopitz today was under a charge of murder resulting from the shotgun killing last night of his wife, Margaret, during a family quarrel. She died on the way to a hospital. A son, Sigmond, 18, was slightly wounded by the same charge.

Wichita Falls Man Wants to Form New League With Pampa as Member

WICHITA FALLS, April 30. (AP)—Honest John, otherwise John J. McCloskey, veteran of many baseball campaigns, today was awaiting the return of Alvin J. Gardner, Tex. league president, with whom he expected to travel to Amarillo and begin the formation of a West Texas league.

McCloskey, credited with the founding of the Texas league in 1887, said the new loop probably would include Pampa, Lubbock, Memphis, Childress, Plainview, and Borger, as well as Clovis, N. M.

BRITISHER IS SAID TO HAVE HOT TEMPER

But Clingman's Next Foe Ordinarily Is Mild In Temperament

Said to be a clean mauler but one who can get real nasty if an unknown and smaller wrestler is getting the best of him, King Elliot of Liverpool, England, is apt to get "fried" tomorrow night when he takes to the mat with Baby Faced Clingman, local favorite, at the New Majesty. The baby faced mauler will be much lighter than his light heavyweight opponent, but means nothing to Clingman.

It will be the first match for Clingman outside his middleweight class, and fans are expected to fill the auditorium to see him in action against the Englishman. Elliot comes to Pampa before going to San Antonio to do battle with the best in the southwest. He has just completed cleaning Dallas of aspiring light heavies and is seeking new fields. It took Elliot nine matches and 15 straight falls to rid Dallas of maulers.

Clingman is badly sunburned from playing golf but says he will be as fit as a fiddle by tomorrow night. He is in great condition and has been working hard for this match.

Red Michaels, local boy, will wrestle the Wildcat Willie of LeFors in the semi-final. Red learned plenty from a boy named Ewald last Friday night and will try some of his new-found knowledge on the Wildcat.

Young Warford, brother of the Wildcat, will tackle Andy Gump in the opening

MAD MARRIAGE

Laura Lou Brookman Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old typist in a New York office, marries Jim Wallace the day after she meets him at the home of her wealthy cousin, Ann, "Trowbridge." Gypsy has been fitted by Ann Crosby, back from a year and a half in Paris, and Wallace's fiancée, there is no romance in the union. They go to Jim's home in Forest City where his relatives snub Gypsy.

Jim, who is a lawyer, undertakes the defense of Nina Roberts, accused of murdering her employer, Dr. Fowler. Gypsy becomes deeply interested in the case. On impulse she goes to see Mrs. Fowler, widow of the victim, and finds her hysterical over the adopted son's illness. The woman admits she shot her husband to save the child's life. Gypsy persuades her to go to Jim and confess, keeping her own part in the affair secret. Nina is acquitted. Jim and Gypsy spend a day in the country, enjoying at Jackson's Creek, favorite picnic haunt of his boyhood.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXII

Gypsy drew back with crimson cheeks and forced a laugh. "Why, Jim!" she exclaimed, "are you growing romantic?"

"I don't know. Would you mind?"

"But isn't it like you? You're not—you're not like that at all!" She turned away from him and reached for a yellow blossom that was just within arms' length.

Sharp bark from Pat interrupted the conversation. Both Jim and Gypsy scrambled to their feet. Thirty yards away in the thicket the trier had treed a squirrel. It was several minutes before Jim with loud voice ordered him to retreat to the clearing.

"Shouldn't we be starting back?" Gypsy asked. She was leaning against the big oak tree, a hand on each hip. In her green dress and scarp she might have been a wood creature. Dark wisps of wind-blown curls had escaped from beneath the scarf.

"Oh, it's early. Can't be more than two o'clock. Jim squinted at the sun which was high overhead. "Sit down, Gypsy. I want to have a talk with you."

Gypsy drew her features into mock solemnity. "Yes, Marsa Jim," she said. She sank down, tucking both feet beneath her.

Jim took a cigar from a leather case, lighted it with elaborate attention to the ceremony.

"How about this—venture—of ours?" he asked in a voice that was carefully controlled. "Do you ever regret it?"

"Why should I?"

"Plenty of reasons."

"The girl was serious now. "It's been like a new world," she said. "Do you suppose I can regret getting away from subway jams, rushing to work and rushing home again at night, pounding a typewriter until my shoulders ached, horrible meals at lunch counters and every night the same monotonous round ahead of me next day? Do you think I can regret that? Look—look, what's in here!" She waved toward the stream and the trees.

"Oh, Jim, I hope you understand that I'm grateful!"

"He had been watching her face. "But there are things—and persons—you care about that you left," he suggested.

Gypsy smiled cynically. "No one can have everything. You've given me the far more than I deserve."

"There was a pause. Then the girl spoke again. "Have you regretted it?"

"No. I never regret anything. Don't believe in it."

"That's a good rule," Gypsy agreed. "If you can make it work."

Jim glanced at her inquiringly. Presently he said, "You don't have to feel grateful for anything here. You're making no more comfortable than I've ever been. The house is lovely instead of a museum of relics." He kicked playfully at the fox terrier in front of him.

"Even Pat can tell the difference, can't you, Pat?"

Gypsy smiled. "Pat would tell you, if he could, that he'd much rather be chasing squirrels than listen to people talk."

For a time each was lost in thought. Then Gypsy sprang up. "Look, the sun's back of those trees tops! I think we should be starting home."

Together they packed the dishes in the lunch basket. Jim made a fire and burned the papers that were left, and they went back to the car.

The drive home was quiet. Jim watched the road ahead and Gypsy seemed content to lean back in the car and feel the wind whipping against her cheeks. When the roadster turned in at the drive leading toward the brick house there were long shadows on the lawn.

"It was a lovely picnic," Gypsy said as she stepped out of the car. "I'm so glad we went."

Jim nodded and drove on to put the roadster in the garage.

Throughout the week that followed the girl thought frequently of that morning out of doors. She puzzled over the impulse that had made Jim first lover-like, then matter-of-fact. His kisses had startled her. He seemed to be taking pains to be considerate in a reserved, personal way. Twice that week they dined out, once at the Carlton and once at the home of a business associate of Jim's. Gypsy wore the brown chiffon dress with the new coat and was gratified by the approval she read in her husband's eyes.

Then one night when they were driving Jim's arms slipped around her shoulders and settled there comfortably. It was scarcely a caress. Overhead the sky was almost black, myriads of stars twinkling their tiny gem faces like jewels displayed on velvet. A tendril of the girl's hair floated on a soft breeze from her tilted hat and brushed against Jim's cheek. She raised her hand to recapture it.

There was a quick, fluttering laugh. Their eyes met. Gypsy turned away amazed and half-doubtful of what she had read in Jim's face. Could he possibly care for her—that way?

She said good night and went to her room as soon as they returned to the house. Upstairs she was slow about undressing. She hung away her frock and drew on her hair and began the customary 50 strokes on each side. Presently the brush dropped. Gypsy was sitting at the dressing table but she was not aware of her reflection in the mirror. She was considering this new problem.

"Was Jim falling in love with her? Each of them had been frank. Each had admitted caring for someone else and had scrupulously respected each other's ties of affection. As a matter of fact—paradoxically—this was the chief bond between them."

Gypsy had never considered the possibility of Jim caring for her with a deeper feeling. She had never considered it because she knew there could never be anyone for her but Alvin Jim, she supposed, would feel the same about Marcia.

Here were complications. To live day after day in the same house with a man who loved you, to pace as his wife though maintaining the most impersonal of relations—could she do that?

After she let down the hair brush. After all, perhaps it was imaginative. Jim had said nothing to set her off on such a track. The whole thing was nonsense. She went to bed.

In spite of determination she could not quite put the suspicion from her mind next day. There was nothing to confirm or deny it because Jim dined downtown and attended a club meeting. It was nearly 11 when he arrived home and they talked only for a short time. Jim told her about the speaker of the evening, who had been dull.

Friday evening they had dinner at home. Gypsy, remembering Jim had paid her a compliment on her housekeeping, ordered a menu she knew would please him. The broiled salmon was served with his favorite sauce. There were baked potatoes and fresh peas in cream and a salad of watercress. For dessert there was Matilda's most celebrated achievement—wedges of lemon pie topped with great fluffs of golden meringue. Jim Wallace had a failing for lemon pie.

"That," he announced impressively as they rose from the table, "was a meal. There's not a king in the world could ask for finer fare!" Jim looked well fed and happy.

"Give Matilda the credit," Gypsy answered. "Really, Jim, if you mention to her that you liked the pie I know she'd be pleased."

"I'll do it," Jim said. He moved to the radio and turned the dial so that instead of the dinner music they had been listening to, the voices of two comedians filled the room.

Grinning, he dropped to his big chair. "Another of Aunt Ellen's pet pieces," he said. "Lord—how she used to love this pair!"

The distant entertainers chattered back and forth in dialect for five minutes. The doorbell rang then and Jim rose and went into the hall to answer.

Gypsy heard a woman's voice, high and excited. She listened intently. No doubt of it—it was Ellen Wallace. The girl was on her feet immediately. Before she reached the hall Jim had turned.

"Come on in, Aunt Ellen," he was saying. "Come on in and sit down. You're all worked up. There's plenty of time to tell me—"

"But you don't know!" the woman's voice was nervous, high-pitched. "You don't understand! It's from Marcia, Jim. Her husband—"

THEY COOKED 36-CENT DINNER FOR HOOVERS

It probably was one of the cheapest White House dinners in history. For 36 cents was the total cost of a tasty meal which these Washington Girl Scouts cooked and served for the president and Mrs. Hoover at the White House the other day. Left to right, in the front row are Shirley Schafer, Louise Erk and Faith Shee—the second row are Betty Leske, Betty Jane Oswald and Helen Sheets, who were the cooks. In the rear is Mrs. Edmund F. Erk, wife of the congressman from Pennsylvania, who supervised preparation of the meal.

happened this morning—he's—he's dead!"

All three in the room were suddenly like statues.

"What?" Wallace asked slowly.

"He's dead—Marcia's husband! He fell from a horse. Killed him instantly." She was waving a yellow telegram before him. "It's all here—here's her message. Read it!"

Jim took the paper and bent over it. He was silent for a long while.

"Won't you sit down, Aunt Ellen," Gypsy suggested.

Miss Wallace glanced about the room critically. She had not seen it since its renovation at the hands of the interior decorator. She sank down in the nearest chair.

"Well," Jim said slowly, glancing up, "this is bad news. Very bad news. I'm sorry for Marcia."

"Of course the child is beside herself!" Ellen Wallace put in. "Her mother sailed two weeks ago for Europe. There she is all alone in that terrible place up in Canada. No one to help her or do for her—"

"The Phillips family have probably taken charge of things," Jim said.

Gypsy had remained in the background. "What is it that's happened?" she asked.

Jim eyed her levelly. "You've heard me speak of Marcia Loring," he said. "She was married six weeks ago to Brock Phillips. Spending their honeymoon at Banff. This morning Phillips fell from a horse and it killed him."

"Oh—how horrible!"

Miss Wallace covered her eyes with her handkerchief. "Poor Marcia!" she murmured. "Oh, the poor girl—"

Jim paced across the floor and back again. He halted beside his aunt. "There isn't anything we can do, is there?" he asked.

"You must send her a message, Jim. I declare, I've been so beat since that telegram came I don't know what I'm doing. Send her a message and say we all sympathize. I'll write tomorrow or next day. I couldn't put pen to paper tonight."

"I'll do it," said Jim. "I might as well walk down to the telegraph office and write it there. It's a hard blow for Marcia, all right!"

Miss Wallace rose. "If you're going now I'll walk as far as my place with you," she told him.

Jim got his hat. Miss Wallace said a perfunctory good-night to Gypsy and the two departed. Left alone, the girl returned to the living room. Her face was very serious as she hurried up on the end of the davenport farthest from the light.

It was two hours later that Jim returned. He glanced into the room, saw that Gypsy was reading, and disappeared into the library.

A week passed monotonously. Then Monday evening Jim Wallace came into the house to find Gypsy writing a letter. He paused on the threshold of the living room.

"Marcia Phillips has come home," he announced.

About New York

NEW YORK—Green grow the sidewalks around the Hudson tube terminal. Suburbanites again are all a-twitter with their annual year for gardening.

New York's bulb, seed and plant market is a six-block mess of greenery every spring, when commuting Jerseyites feel the rustling of the verdant spirit in their veins.

Saturday afternoons during the planting period—April 1 to June 15—one store alone is visited by an average of 3,000 householders, shopping for seedlings.

And temporary sapling stands break out like a layer of fresh sod. It's a curious sight along the dingy gutters of the lower west side.

Amateur Planters
There is a nature racket, too, one of the old established houses said. Fly-by-night dealers in shrubs and plants set up stalls to catch the business of ignorant city folk who want to start a garden but don't know the difference between arbutus and peach trees.

Maybe the old established house is just jealous, but anyway thousands of stone-trodding commuters get a lot of fun out of selecting front lawn beautifiers.

Rose bushes, poplar saplings and tubs of boxwood overflow the sidewalks of Barclay, Greenwich and Vesey streets. Store fronts expose rows of pansy plants, iris bulbs and innumerable other varieties of horticultural decorations.

Few people go in for vegetables. It's the touch of beauty they yearn for, as expressed in a recent bit of rectorial prose:

Floral Lore

A lot of prominent New Yorkers take pride in their lavish gardens. John D. Rockefeller, jr., is supposed to have a bed of 250,000 daffodils, or maybe it's a 250,000 bed of daffodils. T. A. Havemeyer, the sugar magnate, is a lily fancier.

John Wister, brother of Owen, the writer, is a famous iris grower. Incidentally, the wisteria was named for the Wister family. It seems the Wisters introduced it from Japan, or some place.

But the big flower fans seldom visit the market. The superintendent of their country estates by the spring layout from traveling salesmen, who are sent out by the downtown nurseries.

Ohio, Colorado and Oklahoma were represented on the sub-committee while Northcutt Ely, executive assistant secretary of the interior, represented the federal government as an observer at the three-day meeting during which the proposed interstate pact was drawn up for later approval by the oil states.

A meeting of the advisory committee, of which Cicero I. Murray, of this state, is chairman, will be held May 4 at Austin.

English Artist Is Storm Center

LONDON, April 30. (AP) — The British art world was excited today by a controversy raging about the head of Reginald Eves III, English artist of note who, when an obscure painter, was discovered by John Singer Sargent and made his name.

The president of the Royal Academy was said in an afternoon paper to have vetoed election of Eves to the academy after discovery that one of the artist's paintings sent to the academy was an enlarged photograph thinly painted over.

An official of the academy, confirming the discovery, said the artist's name had been withdrawn from consideration and the picture returned. The Evening News later quoted the artist, whose name was not disclosed until later, as admitting he had painted over the photograph. He explained it was one of three such pictures he had to complete hurriedly for an exhibition last year. He devised the method while suffering from a cramp in his hand, but declared reading it to the academy was a "mistake" and that he had no idea of working contrary to the academy's rules.

Some noted painters today expressed sympathy with Eves, accepting his explanation and stating that his action was at worst foolish. They pointed out he was too great an artist to practice or need to practice deception.

Oil Conservation Bodies To Assemble

AUSTIN, April 30. (AP) — The Texas oil and natural resources conservation committee headed by Gov. Ross Sterling, chairman, today formulated plans for the first of a series of meetings to be held here Monday between the Texas committee and representatives of adjoining states in the interest of conservation.

Senators Woodul of Houston, Parrish of Lubbock, C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, and Representative Harby of Breckenridge were named members of the entertainment and arrangement committee for the Tuesday meeting.

The meeting will open at 10 a. m. and continue throughout most of the day. Among the visitors expected is Governor Woodring of Kansas.

Trouble Will Be Dealt Gunmen

CATSKILL, N. Y., April 30. (AP) — The federal government and the state were piling up trouble today for the gang element in this region.

Attorney General John J. Bennett said the state would ask that Lee Diamond be indicted on another charge of kidnaping and also for carrying a gun in violation of law. He is under three indictments now.

A federal warrant was ready today for a benchman of Diamond, accused of operating a still.

Attorney General Bennett said there had been almost no response to his appeal that residents knowing of gang activities hereabouts bring him their stories on promise of protection against possible reprisal.

A severe attack of pleurisy was complicating Diamond's battle in an Albany hospital against gun wounds today.

Dr. T. M. Holmes said the pleurisy increased the danger of pneumonia.

NO WET-DRY TALK FOR GOVERNORS. THEY DECIDE

AMSTERDAM, Holland, April 30. (AP) — Dutch rubber producers, who refused to cooperate with British producers in the Stevenson restriction scheme, have formed an association of their own which seeks a 25 per cent curtailment of production and higher prices.

The growers produce but 34,000 tons annually. The world production in 1930 was 112,000 tons, and of that the United States imported more than half—58,500 tons.

Enthusiasm was expressed for rubber brought corresponding increases in acreage. When war needs ceased, rubber production far overtook consumption and the price tumbled accordingly. Then the British producers in the Malay states worked out the Stevenson plan, which restricted imports to a point that rocketed prices. Recently prices have been way down.

The Stevenson plan brought considerable resentment in the United States, and many of them, including Herbert Hoover, then secretary of commerce. But it worked, temporarily. Initiated in 1921, it was abandoned in 1928 when it had practically ceased to be effective. Dutch producers would not participate.

Restriction is practicable with large estates under single control, but there is no way to stop a native from planting as many rubber trees as he can. What happened was that the natives simply planted enough more trees to bring them the same income as before. The result has been that native production, once only a small fraction of the total output, reached 100,000 tons in 1930 and is expected to total 250,000 tons by 1932.

Flower Shop Has Strong Beer Scent

CHICAGO, April 30. (AP) — It was just like any other flower shop, growing agents said across the front window was a big sign which read "Florist." There were lilies and roses there too.

But the scent that reached the nostrils of the agents, they related, was strangely unlike any roses or lilies they had ever smelled so they decided to investigate.

Inside they reported they found Clarence Edwin amid a system of pipes, designed not to water the flowers, but to quench the thirst of any of Edwin's customers who might care for beer.

Perhaps Edwin can think of some explanation. At any rate he was given time by a United States commissioner, who continued his hearing.

The humorist arrived on an American Airways plane from Atlanta yesterday afternoon. He was greeted by his son, Will Rogers Jr., and a group of friends.

WET-DRY TALK FOR GOVERNORS. THEY DECIDE

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP) — The National Governors' conference today decided at the meeting, pictured at right, are Governors Norman Case of Rhode Island, Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and John G. Pollard of Virginia. Standing: Former Gov. Carey Hardee of Florida, Gov. Leslie of Indiana, and Gov. Egan of Utah.

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission today denied five railroads permission to build a line in Jefferson county, Texas.

The Sabine Basin Railway company, the Beaumont, Sour Lake and Western Railway company, the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe; the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and the Missouri Pacific had applied for permission to build approximately 25 miles of line.

The examiner reported the construction of other lines was unnecessary.

Minute Interviews

D. A. "Bub" Harrell, pioneer resident of Lark in Carson county — "It's only the young men who are worried these days about 'good times' and 'hard times.' Take us old timers that lived through the panics brought on by republican administrations in '87 and 1907, we're not worried."

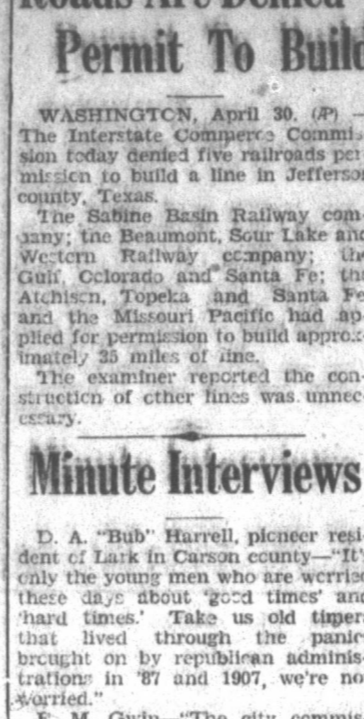

F. M. Gwin — "The city commission is hoping it won't have to take the same action that Amarillo does toward letting its auditorium; that is, hire three men to erect and take down stage properties and charge the costs to those using the hall. In a recent performance in the auditorium, negligent persons permitted a hole to be punched in one of the scenic curtains."

Ralph R. Thomas, county agent — "The biggest question now facing the farmer is, 'What shall I produce?'"

Complaint of a high school student — "The boy in high school who goes out for literary attainments rates with the public and his teachers just about as high as a Woolworth clerk does with a banker. In high school there is no success but in athletics."

E. A. Shackleton — "Never have I found these three cheats I lost. I reckon someone must have stolen them."

Siamese Rulers Reach America

KING Prajadhipok of Siam, only remaining absolute monarch in the world who holds the power of life and death over his subjects, and his consort, Queen Rambai, are shown above in their first picture in North America. The royal visitors posed on the rear platform of their private train as they left Vancouver, B. C., for New York, where the king will undergo an operation on his eyes.

Scientist Says Droughts May Be Predicted Many Years Previously

By F. B. COLTON Associated Press Science Writer.

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP) — The notion that future weather prophets may be able to forecast droughts and wet spells as much as 25 years ahead was expressed today before the American Geophysical Union.

A. F. Gorton of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography of California, said upward and downward trends in rainfall might be detected that number of years in advance by closer study of sunspots and the output of heat from the surface of the oceans.

There is evidence that rainfall increases and decreases in regular cycles over certain regions, he told the union, which opened its annual meeting here today.

If the length of these cycles can be established accurately, it will be of enormous economic value to industry and agriculture, Gorton said.

Rainfall cycles may be related to changes in the amount of radiation from the sun, Gorton said. He advanced the theory that major seasonal weather changes on the continents may be caused by variations in the heat given off by the surface of oceans.

There is increasing evidence that sunspots and weather are related in some way, it was pointed out. Violent storms occur in the eastern United States when sunspots are numerous.

Rainfall records kept for many years at Boston, Charleston, South Carolina, and Rome indicate there may be long rainfall cycles of from 70 to 90 years, Gorton said.

AMARILLO, April 30. (Special) — Amarillo and the Panhandle of Texas, New Mexico, and western Oklahoma, are going to visit Old Mexico and invite President Ortiz Rubio to attend the 1931 Tri-State fair.

The Amarillo News-Globe is sponsoring a special train to leave Amarillo Saturday, May 16, for a week's visit to the southern republic. Two days will be spent in Mexico City during the first annual International Aeronautical, Industrial and Commercial Congress, for which the Mexican government is offering $100,000 in prizes.

Wilbur C. Hawk, general manager of the News-Globe and president of the Tri-State fair, and Mayor Ernest O. Thompson will head the train. The 125 tickets necessary have already been sold, and additional reservations are being made. The entire cost of the trip will be $150 per person which includes railroad fare, Pullman fare, meals and tips. A parchment, bearing a formal invitation to President Rubio, is being prepared, to it will be affixed the official signatures and seals of all mayors and cities in the Panhandle of Texas, New Mexico, and western Oklahoma, as well as the seal of Texas, and the signature of Governor Ross Sterling.

A special effort is being made to have a representative from every city in the Panhandle on this special train. The train will leave Amarillo May 16 and enter Mexico at Nuevo Laredo. Stops will be made at Austin, San Antonio and Laredo. A half day will be spent in Monterrey. The return trip will be by way of Durango, Chihuahua, Juarez, El Paso and Albuquerque.

To Warn Against Anti-Freeze Liquids

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP) — A warning against the dangers of anti-freeze solutions mistakenly used for beverage purposes was contained today in a report of state health officers to the public health service.

The report recommended that Surgeon General Cummings urge upon makers of anti-freeze solutions the necessity of labeling and coloring to guard against deaths by drinking.

Possible means of making the solutions unobtainable were advanced and the recommendation cited "the use of ethyl alcohol, now distributed rather loosely for anti-freeze purposes, may mistakenly be utilized for beverage purposes and cause loss of vision and loss of life."

Prisoner Recaptured

TYLER, April 30. (AP) — Edward Woodland, who led a jail break here a week ago in which nine men escaped, was recaptured yesterday at an abandoned house five miles from Tyler. Only one other member of the nine had been found, being captured at Shreveport.

ELMWOOD, Mo., April 30. (AP) — A second disastrous fire within a month today virtually completed destruction of the business district of Elmwood, a small town at the foot of the huge New Union Electric power dam across the Osage river. No case was reported injured.

The flames were reported under control and damage in today's fire is estimated at $500,000. The first fire several weeks ago wiped out much of the business places with a loss of over $100,000 and claimed the lives of two men who were trapped in rooming houses.

Two causes of today's fire was undetermined.

Carolina Woman LOST 47 LBS. In 3 Months and Feels Years Younger

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning. I then weighed 219 pounds, was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides."

"Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, weigh 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say."

"I shall never be without Kruschen Salts, will never cease taking my daily dose and more than glad to highly recommend it for the great good that is in it." Mrs. E. A. Solomon, New York, N. C., Jan. 1930. "P. S. You may think I am exaggerating by writing such a long letter, but truly I feel so indebted to you for putting out such wonderful salts that I cannot say enough."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at Richards Drug Co., Inc., Pampa Drug Co., Patterson-Wilson Drug Co., Patterson Drug Stores and druggists the world over. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

Attention to diet will help—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—the Kruschen way is the safe way to lose fat. Try one bottle and if not joyfully satisfied—money back. adv.-2

Liquor Found In Arkansas Capitol

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 30. (AP)—A raid by federal prohibition agents on the state capitol building yesterday resulted in the arrest of a 29-year-old man and confiscation of a gallon of whiskey officers said he was about to deliver.

In addition officers said they found 12 quarts and five pints of whiskey in the man's automobile parked on the capitol grounds. Special agent Arthur Satterfield said the intoxicants had been ordered for delivery to a person he did not name in time for the baseball game yesterday afternoon.

Curtis Douglas was dismissed as a patient from Pampa hospital last night.

J. E. Hadden was admitted to Pampa hospital last night.

Allred To Return Next Saturday

District Attorney Raymond Allred telegraphed Sheriff Lon L. Blansett today that he would arrive back in Pampa Saturday. It is expected that he will summon the grand jury Monday to investigate the death of Mrs. Roy Vest who was picked up dead from the street Sunday night. It is understood that her husband, Roy Vest, and A. T. McIntyre will not seek release from jail until the grand jury takes action. Yesterday they retained the services of Wolfe & Stinnett, attorneys, after a two-hour conference with them in the county jail. Both men are charged with murder. Officers charged that Mrs. Vest was slain and then thrown from the speeding automobile in which her husband and McIntyre were riding, in front of an approaching machine.

Capone Henchman May Be Deported

CHICAGO, April 30. (AP)—A new effort to deport Tony "Mops" Volpe, one of Alphonse Capone's chief lieutenants to Italy, was under way today by the government. Assistant United States Attorney Dodd Healy said.

Healy said he had received word from Washington that a second deportation warrant had been issued by Secretary William N. Dusk of the labor department, the first one having been withdrawn to clear the way for the introduction of additional evidence concerning Volpe's re-entry into the United States in 1928.

Volpe, who is classified by Chicago authorities as a "public enemy" is alleged by the government to have made false statements to federal inspectors at Key West, Fla., following his landing there after an airplane trip from Cuba. The government contends he claimed citizenship to gain admission, whereas he later said he had taken out only first papers.

Graf Zeppelin to Make Brazil Hop

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, April 30. (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin will make a second trans-Atlantic crossing to Brazil late in August. Captain Hans Von Schiller said today.

Whether it will be a non-stop journey or with a stop over in Spain depends on the passenger list, he said.

"If there is no need of calling for passengers at Seville," he said, "we'll naturally fly straight to Pernambuco for that saves time and expense. It is an easy hop to there will be no reason for an intermediate landing except if business warrants."

Oil Activity In Pennsylvania Slow

OIL CITY, Pa., April 30. (AP)—The derrick report that 90 wells were completed in the Pennsylvania oil area during April with an estimated initial production of 77 barrels daily. At the end of April there were 323 rigs building and wells drilling as compared to 181 at the end of March.

Chicago Home Is Damaged By Bomb

CHICAGO, April 30.—The home in Park Ridge of William H. Malone, who resigned last January 7 as chairman of the state tax commission, was bombed early today. No one was injured.

Malone said he was at a loss to ascribe a definite motive, but told police he had received many threats in the past few years, particularly since the tax commission ordered a reassessment of all real estate in Chicago. Park Ridge police suggested politics as a motive. The bomb, made of black powder, did but slight damage.

AUSTIN, April 30. (AP)—Governor Sterling today signed a bill proposing an audit of the state bank guaranty fund.

Here's Ruth Making Home Run

Not exactly in condition to circle the bases yet—but the mighty Mr. Babe Ruth was making a home run in a wheel chair, his injured muscles on the mend, when the picture was taken of him at a railroad station in Boston. He'd just left the hospital, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth and a nurse, with at least two weeks of enforced rest ahead of him in New York. He was hurt recently in a Yankee-Red Sox game at Boston.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE Rivalry City Hall

In speaking from the subject, "A Biblical Sermon From the Dictionary," last evening the evangelist said in part:

"Webster wrote a book. He changed the subject frequently, but all in all it makes interesting reading. We will select a few words at our leisure: First, 'conviction,' a feeling of moral responsibility to God, a deep consciousness of guilt. Naturally following that is 'conversion.' Our sins do testify against us, said one. 'Argumentation' is next in line. We argue the matter and try to avoid the issue. 'Restitution' and 'salvation' quickly follow, and with them comes 'emancipation,' 'deliverance' from evil habits and freedom completely. 'Identification' with the heavenly family is ours. We are children of God! This is an illustration of God's wonderful love and what He can do for humanity. It effects our 'disposition' also! A radical

'separation' from the world is now due. 'Consecration' is the duty and privilege of every Christian and that brings 'sanctification' which is not a 'hallucination' but a blessed reality! Having the 'qualification' as well as the 'right' for heaven and the 'fortification' against the wiles of Satan, 'circulation' is a natural consequence. Then we are a 'separation,' a puzzle to our friends and a mystery to the devil! 'Translation' comes after the battles of life are over. 'Glorification' is the inheritance of the faithful and they will all be at the 'coronation' and 'forever' have 'satisfaction'!

The message was well received and the service closed with great optimism concerning future services. Subject this evening will be: "A Good Start and a Bad Ending," at 8 o'clock in the south basement of the city hall.

Mrs. Will McKean was dismissed as a patient from Witley hospital last night.

Mrs. O. A. Kelly was dismissed as a patient from Pampa hospital last night.

DOCTOR WINS POINT TOPEKA, April 30. (AP)—Dr. J. R. Brinkley, Milford, Kans., goat gland specialist and unsuccessful independent candidate for governor last fall, won today another legal skirmish in his effort to set aside the order of the state board of medical registration and examination which cancelled his license to practice medicine and surgery in Kansas.

Judge John C. Pollock of United States district court denied a motion by the board and William A. Smith, former state's attorney general, to strike certain portions from Dr. Brinkley's bill of complaint.

WARWICK—

May, in order to save some of the important measures.

The public need have no further fear as to the bulk of accomplishments of the 42nd legislature. Bills have been rapidly passing during the past week until it is now estimated that more laws will be placed on the statute books by the 42nd legislature than any previous session. More bills have been introduced this session than usual, due perhaps very largely to the prevailing economic conditions in the state. More bills have been killed by the committees than ever before due largely to the radical nature of these measures.

A number of tax raising measures are pending which may not be considered owing to the fact that the tax on natural gas and cigarettes will bring in about as much additional revenue as it seems would be needed by the state government to take up the deficiency and meet the increased cost of government.

The passage of the cigaret tax was very clearly a victory for the school interests of the state. Never before has such a flood of telegrams and letters descended upon the legislature as came from those interested in the public schools seeking to tax the smokers of the state for the benefit of education. The governor has signed this bill which will raise from six to eight million dollars annually.

Constitutional amendment proposals have had rather hard sailing in this session. More than 50 measures were presented and while several are yet pending the majority have been killed and will not be submitted to the voters.

Governor Sterling has signed the insanity bill which seeks to eliminate all or a majority of the pleas of insanity made by criminals condemned to the electric chair. The practice has been so grossly abused as to cause a great expense to the state.

Just how well the institutions and departments of the state will fare as to appropriations during the coming two years will largely depend upon the action of the free conference between the house and senate and the action of the governor when the bill is finally passed and submitted to him for action. It is usually the custom to hold these free conference reports until near the end of the session, but it is hoped this year the bill will be finally passed so the governor may act before the end of the session. The house appropriation committee has been very economical in its recommendations but not so much as many of the members would like to see. These fights are always made by certain members regardless of the totals in the money bills passed.

The senate is wrestling with the truck and bus bill passed by the house.

It is recognized that these bills as passed by the house do not fulfill the needs of many sections of the state. Instead of regulating the trucks, they do, as a matter of fact, turn loose the trucks and in addition allow the railroads to own a system of truck lines which it is said would soon monopolize the truck business.

Adequate regulation of the highway is the most difficult problem

GRAINS SAGGING
CHICAGO, April 30. (AP)—Grains averaged lower early today owing largely to absence of a definite announcement relative to proposed reduction of Germany's wheat import duty. Urgent need of rain in Canada, however, tended to check declines.

Operating at 38 to 1-2 cent decline to 1-8 to 1-4 advance wheat later held near to the initial limits. Corn starts 1-8 to 5-8 off and subsequently rallied.

Curb strong; utilities lead general upturn.
Foreign exchanges strong; sterling improves.
Cotton lower; disappointing trade demand.
Sugar higher; steady spot situation.

Ex-Convict Begins Life Anew

"We're beginning life all over," say Mr. and Mrs. Frank Preston, of St. Louis, shown here with the pardon that Governor White of Ohio granted him because he led a successful and exemplary life during the 12 years between the time he escaped from an Ohio prison and was recaptured in St. Louis. After his escape, Preston married, reared a family, lived respectably and prospered.

confronting legislative bodies in every state in the union. Linked together with highway construction and maintenance, regulation is the most serious and perplexing problem.

better." Nurses said he was making a remarkable effort to live, spurred on by his young wife, who remained constantly at his bedside.

W. Tom Cole, owner of the tract on which the well is located and where home is near the blazing producer, gave it as his opinion that a week's time would be needed to make ready for extinguishing the fire, while others insisted it could be snuffed out much sooner. Sinclair company employes merely said they "do not know and went on with their work."

Two Bodies Not Found
The bodies of Virgil Wolts and H. J. Blankenship were sent to Enid and Tulsa, Okla., respectively. Arrangements for the burial of W. H. McCaslin of Winona, Okla., and his son, W. H. Jr., of Oklahoma, had not been completed. Efforts were being made to get in touch with relatives of George Albright, whose home address was given as Carnegie City, Penn. The bodies of Bob Murok and Bill Harroun had not been recovered from the fire.

Federal prohibition agents yesterday arrested three men and seized a 400-gallon still hidden in an underground chamber beneath a garage at a rabbit farm on U. S. Highway No. 50.
