House Accepts Cigaret Tax

HOT DEBATE WAGED OVER 3-CENT LEVY

School Teachers and Corporations Are Criticized for Support of Measure Senate Started.

CIGARS EXEMPT

Revenue From Bill Expected to Be Six Millions But Other Estimates Are as High as $11,000,000.

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP)—The house today adopted the free conference report to levy a tax of 3 cents per package on cigarettes. The vote to adopt the free conference report was 71 to 59 and came after almost two hours of debate in which the corporation lobby and the school teachers were severely criticized by opponents of the tax.

The corporation lobby was charged by Representative Davis of Brownwood with having advocated the cigarette tax to lessen the pressure on the legislature to pass the intangible assets tax and other tax bills. Davis said he also regretted Governor Sterling "had thrown himself behind the cigarette tax."

Yield Six Millions
Representative Sanders of Neodesha, one of the leaders for the cigarette tax, said he estimated it would yield approximately $6,000,000 per year. Opponents, however, claimed it would bring in about $11,000,000 since the federal tax of 6 cents per package yielded $22,000,000 in Texas last year.

The free conference report also levied gross receipts tax of two per cent on natural gas production.

The cigarette tax was added by the senate to a house bill levying a natural gas tax of two and three quarters per cent. The senate cut the gas tax to two per cent.

Representative Duvall of Fort Worth charged the action of the senate in adding the cigarette tax to the gas tax violated the spirit of the constitution which stated that all revenue measures must originate in the house.

Representative Duvall said the senate could add any kind of a tax they wanted to every tax bill sent over by the house.

Representative Albritton of Yorktown asked Sanders why cigars were not taxed, answering the question himself by saying it was because cigars were smoked by "big business men" while the poor man smoked cigarettes.

"Don't Care How Much"
Duvall denounced the school teachers of the state for trying to dictate the policies of the legislature. "They don't care what kind or how much taxes the legislature levies so long as they get their share. And whenever any member of the legislature opposes one of their tax measures they set up the howl 'he's opposed to education,'" Duvall said.

Representative Reader of San Antonio, one of the members of the free conference committee, said he favored the tax because the nuisance features have been eliminated. Reader previously had opposed the tax.

Representative Long of Wichita Falls declared the tax would favor bootlegging of cigarettes and put a penalty on the legitimate dealer. He also accused the corporation lobby of responsibility for the tax, saying "the lobby for the corporate interests has been dancing with glee since the free conference committee voted to levy the cigarette tax because they knew other tax measures would be abandoned if the cigarette tax was levied."

"We ought to bring out the intangible assets tax and the tax on sulphur companies and place the burden of government on some one who can afford it and not on the man smoking cigarettes," Long said.

The free conference report did not receive enough votes to go into immediate effect and will not become effective until 90 days after adjournment.

NEGRO SHOTS MANY PERSONS

Nightmare Is Blamed for Shower of Bullets in Houston Last Night.

HOUSTON, April 20. (AP)—A negro's nightmare started a series of shootings late last night which had culminated early today in the death of "Sonny" Reed, 28, negro, and his wife, Lois, 29, and the serious wounding of three white persons.

The shooting started in the rear quarters in the rear of 405 Pierce avenue, where Reed, apparently awaking from a "bad dream," shot his wife three times with a pistol, fired at a group of white citizens and later was shot by Detective R. H. Sullivan in an ambulance en route to a hospital.

Other seriously wounded were David Harris, about 35, an attorney, Mrs. George Leach, about 46, of 407 Pierce avenue, and Miss Janet Arendal, 25, also of 407 Pierce avenue.

Miss Arendal, Mrs. Leach, and Harris, who were playing cards at the Leach home just before the shooting, were in a critical condition.

"His wife, in a dying statement, told officers her husband apparently awoke from a "bad dream" and shot her before he was fully conscious. She was awakened by the shots that struck her, and leaped through the second story window in an effort to escape, breaking her leg as she fell. She crawled under the door.

Reed took refuge in the basement of Louis Wagner's home at 405 Pierce avenue. When Mr. Harris, Mrs. Leach, Miss Arendal, and Mr. Wagner rushed out with demands that he come out and surrender, he fired upon them, a single discharge from his shotgun wounding the two women and Harris.

The negro then barricaded himself in his home. When Detective A. C. Thornton attempted to crash in the door, the negro called out a warning "all right, I'll give you one chance. Get off them steps!"

The officer retired and Detective R. H. Sullivan advanced with a tear gas bomb. Then a shot heard in the house, and officers rushed in and discovered Reed lying between his emptied shotgun and pistol with the left side of his face blown away. He had used his last cartridge upon himself.

OIL STATION AND CAFE SEE POINT OF GUN

Lone Star Restaurant Is Held Up Again—Shot Fired at Fleeing Man Attracts Police.

UNION OIL LOSES

But Bandit Gets Only $2.00 In Raid; Phillips Station Is Burglarized And Cans Taken.

Two holdups committed Saturday night and the burglary of the Phillips service station at the corner of Kingsmill and Frost, last night, gave the police something to worry about during the week-end.

For the second time within ten days, the Lone Star cafe on South Cuyler was reported robbed about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The cafe attendant told police that, as in the previous robbery, the hold-up was done by one man. About $8 in cash was taken. The cafe attendant said that a well-dressed man entered the cafe, ordered him to stick up his hands, and robbed the cash register. He said the robber then marched him through the cafe to the alley at the rear, and ordered him to return to the cafe by going around the block to the front entrance.

He said he made a movement as if he intended to start up the alley, but darted back in the cafe, snatched up a shotgun and fired three barrels at the retreating figure of the robber. City officers heard the shot and hurried to the cafe. The attendant said there were no customers in the cafe when the bandit entered.

About 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning attendants at the Union Oil and Gas company reported that a lone bandit held up the place at the point of a gun, taking about $2.

The Phillips station was burglarized of a leather jacket belonging to B. O. Lilly, manager, and all the pennies in the station. The burglars made an unsuccessful attempt to open the safe. They gained entrance by smashing the glass pane in the rear door and by opening it with a skeleton key.

OFFICER DIES IN HOT FIGHT

Marlow, Okla., Is Scene of Battle Last Night—3 Men in Flight.

MARLOW, Okla., April 20. (AP)—A policeman was killed and the night police chief here wounded today in an exchange of shots with three men who later escaped in a commandeered automobile. One of the three was wounded.

The officer, J. R. Hill, died almost instantly. The night chief, was shot down by a charge from a shotgun, but was not seriously wounded. He opened fire and said he wounded one of his attackers and disabled their car.

A short distance away and still in sight of the wounded officer, the three stopped W. B. Lee Jr., Purcell, and a companion, oil scouts, forced them to aid in transferring the wounded gunman, and fled southward out of the city in the commandeered car.

"We were suspicious of the car and its occupants when we saw it driving around after midnight," Veach said today. "We drove our car alongside, and when we did two fellows stuck shot guns out the windows and fired at us."

"The shots knocked Hill and me out of our automobile. Hill did not move again. I managed to get my gun and kept shooting at them until they were out of range of the car and disabled their car. Then they took Mr. Lee's car away from him and drove south."

In the abandoned automobile investigators found automobile tags of Arizona, Oklahoma, and Texas. Marlow is about 80 miles southwest of Oklahoma City.

Lee said the wounded gunman appeared paralyzed from the hips down, evidently by a bullet from Veach's gun.

A posse of officers and citizens set out in pursuit.

J. M. Parker of Gorman, Parker's father, announced today that the law firm of Cook, Smith and Teed had been retained to represent his son in court. Mr. Parker said today that his son would plead not guilty, and that it was his opinion that the woman who calls herself Mildred Chism Parker of Baxter, Mo., would never appear in Gray county to press charges against the man from whom she said she had not been divorced.

Julian Assessed $500 Fine

Oil Man Pleads Guilty to Carrying Weapon Unlawfully at Laredo.

LAREDO, April 20. (AP)—C. C. Julian, widely known Oklahoma and California oil man, pleaded guilty today to an indictment charging him with unlawfully carrying a weapon and was fined $500 and costs by District Judge J. F. Mullally.

It was the first of four cases against Julian in connection with an incident in which Lamar S. Bolling, formerly associated with him in a business way, claimed he was kidnaped by the oil man, who allegedly sought to extort $50,000 from him. Other indictments against Julian charge kidnaping, conspiracy to rob and assault with a prohibited weapon.

Immediately after Julian pleaded guilty to the charge of carrying an unlawful weapon, the court granted a request of both state and defense attorneys for recess until 2 p. m., when the other indictments would be considered.

Julian and Bolling sat in court with C. C. Boren, also under charges in connection with the alleged kidnaping. M. J. Raymond, Laredo attorney, represented him.

Raymond, District Attorney Valls Robert Lee Bobbitt, special prosecutor in the case and former assistant attorney general of Texas, and Ed Mullally, assistant district attorney, went into conference soon after court opened. When their conference was concluded, Raymond asked Julian to step forward.

The oil man walked jauntily forward and told the court he desired to plead guilty to the charge of unlawfully carrying a weapon. When his plea had been accepted and the fine imposed, the court ordered the recess.

Bolling sat outside the bar, flanked by two officers.

Belated Winter Is Felt Here Today

With a light mist over most of the Panhandle section and with the temperature dropping rapidly, another belated assault of winter was made on northwest Texas today.

A high wind from the southwest yesterday veered around to the north early today, bringing low clouds with a threat of rain or snow. Close to freezing temperatures with possibly snow flurries were forecast for tonight. A drop from 56 to 38 degrees between 7 a. m. and 11 a. m. was recorded here. The cold wave was expected to be of short duration, fair weather being forecast for tomorrow.

The wintry attacks followed three weeks of spring weather which came on the heels of two heavy snowstorms three weeks ago.

RED PEPPER IS USED TO BLIND STORE EMPLOYEES AS PAYROLL OF $7,000 TAKEN

Two Bandits Slug Dallas Men While Third Grabs Bag Containing Money.

DALLAS, April 20. (AP)—Blinding their victims with red pepper, three armed men today held up three men in an automobile carrying the payroll of the Sam Dyerbach department store and escaped with a satchel containing $7,000.

The three store employees, W. E. Kerns, George Swartz and Henry Well, were en route to street car barns in East Dallas, where on every pay day they were in the habit of cashing checks of Tram company employees and making collections on accounts.

As they rode through the business district, the robbers' automobile crowded their car into the curb. Two of the bandits, brandishing pistols, jumped on the running board of the store's machine, dashed red pepper from cans into the eyes of the three victims and ordered them to hand over their wallets.

"We have no guns," Kerns, who was driving, told them. Swartz and Well were pulled from the car and Well was slugged with a pistol. The third robber snatched the money satchel from the floor of the car and threw it into the coupe in which the three robbers were riding. They jumped into their machine and sped away.

Well was blinded by the pepper and suffered a deep scalp gash. The eyes of Kerns and Swartz were partially protected by spectacles.

None of the victims was able to obtain the license number of the robbers' car.

DENVER AND ROCK ISLAND FILE PETITION

Letter's Objections Covered by Agreement; Burlington Asking Right to Build And Sell Half Interest.

IS JOINT PROJECT

General John A. Hulen Expected Here Soon to Pick Right-of-Way From LeFors; to Have Conference

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—The Fort Worth & Denver Northern Railroad and the Chicago Rock Island & Gulf today applied to the interstate commerce commission for approval of an agreement covering construction of a new line between Shamrock and Quanah, Texas.

The commission a year ago authorized construction of a line jointly by the two roads. The Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf objected to some of the terms of the order and the agreement submitted covers these.

It is proposed that the Fort Worth & Denver Northern build the new line and give the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf an option to buy an undivided one half interest in the section of the road between Shamrock and Wellington. The option is to run for 120 days after completion of construction and when the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf makes cash payment in exercising the option they would have the right to operate between the two points and participate both in local and through traffic.

City Officers in Big Raid—Man Is Detained in Jail

City police seized 96 bottles of beer, four quarts of "Gordon's dry gin," 24 pint bottles of whiskey, a half-dozen kegs and a number of cases of fruit jars and bottles in a raid made last night at a two-room house in the Finley-Banks addition. One man was arrested and is being held in the city jail for federal officers.

The raid was made by H. C. Cottrell, assistant chief of police, and H. L. Kenner. The liquor and containers are being kept in the city jail. It was the biggest raid made by city officers in some time.

The house in which the intoxicants were seized was occupied, officers said. A bed which had been lately slept in was in the front room and the liquor was in the back room.

The raid was made about 10:30 o'clock last night.

PROVIDING STEADY WORK NATION'S GREAT PROBLEM

One of Jim Williams' recent "Out Our Way" sketches in The News provided material for a good deal of serious thought.

It showed a group of men in a machine shop. They were dancing and hugging one another in glee; for a clerk from the business office had just come in with the information that a big order had been received, one that would provide the shop with steady work for at least six months to come.

Now it happens that Williams got his joke out of the superintendent's effort to remain calm and unemotional in the face of the good news; but the thing that sticks in one's mind, somehow, is the picture of these workmen, beside themselves with joy because they know that they are assured of steady employment for the next half year.

It reminds one, inescapably, of the way in which the ordinary man in these days is completely at the mercy of business forces about which he knows very little.

When a man starts out into the world to make his living he more or less takes it for granted that things are strictly up to him, once he has passed his apprenticeship. If he is a good, honest worker; if he gives 60 minutes of reliable work for every hour's pay; if he tends to business and does his job capably—then, he believes, everything will go nicely.

That, to be sure, is the way it should be. But it doesn't always work out that way, and Williams' little sketch is a tragic reminder of the fact.

A man can be the best worker in his trade. He can be sober, conscientious and everlastingly reliable. He can be working for an old established concern that has the reputation of treating its employes with fairness.

But still he cannot be sure of his job. He cannot have that security which is essential to a sense of well being.

If the orders do not come in properly he is out of luck. He is completely at the mercy of economic forces which he cannot understand. A slump in business, originating 2000 miles away, can reduce him to the status of the incompetent and the rebellious misfit. Neither skill nor sobriety will help him if the plant produces goods that cannot be sold.

It is this simple fact that is the most damaging accusation yet leveled against our economic system. Somehow—and the worst of it is that nobody seems to know exactly how—this has to be changed. We must have conditions in which an honest, capable and industrious worker will always be sure of steady work and a steady income. Williams' sketch reminds us how far we have to go to reach these conditions.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, April 19. (NEA)—There is plenty of opinion here that the capital gets quite enough visitors and it is also generally suspected that the rest of the country hears quite enough about Washington.

But the Board of Trade's Greater National Capital Committee will spend $50,000 in the next year to combat both those disloyal ideas and an expert municipal press agent has been engaged to sell Washington as a place to visit, to bring more conventions, tourists, permanent headquarters and trade organization headquarters here, to make better arrangements to take care of them all and to promote the city as the educational, musical and art center of America.

Free information facilities for visitors will be featured. New secretaries to members of congress charged with getting the office fixed up for the boss, complain that the government furnishes cuspidors for senators and representatives but not ash trays. The theory is that somebody with an economical mind decided the immense brass goboons supplied would hold everything. Others on Capitol Hill are sore because the master showman, Congressman Sol Bloom of New York, impresario of the Washington bicentennial, unloaded in every one of the 531 offices a massive bust of George Washington, two feet high. Some members insist that they are aesthetically qualified to decorate their own offices, but the busts are pretty heavy and none have turned up yet at the town dump.

This city has been anticipating its own newspaper merger, but reports that the Washington Post had been sold have been denied by Ned McLean, its owner, who has been celebrated for his old intimacy with President Harding, the Hope diamond and other troubles. For months the rumor has been that the Post would be merged with Hearst's Washington Herald, the other morning newspaper here.

No collection of current local gossip would be complete without mention of the unkind things being said by Hoover's enemies about the president's invitation to Bryan Untiedt, boy hero of the Colorado bus disaster. "Ruining the boy at his own expense," they say, and point to the report of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection which warns against subjecting children to the limelight and emotional excite-

Lady Nicotine Makes Baby Chicks Grow, But Humans Are Different

By HOWARD BLAKELEE

STATE COLLEGE, Penn., April 20. (AP)—Tobacco fed to baby chicks is making them into bigger broilers at the Pennsylvania state college. This same nicotine diet, in the fully grown old fowl, makes healthier hens and roosters—and, what is more, may emancipate their farm owners from having to keep them so closely watched for fear of a parasitical infection that chickens may pick up when economically foraging for their own food.

A high percentage of nicotine in tobacco is the secret of the effectiveness of the Penn State tobacco diet. The value of tobacco as a germicidal agent in chicken feed has been recognized for years, but sometimes its use has yielded uncertain results. It is likely to make hens ill, some being more susceptible than others.

Suspecting that the harm may come from other tobacco ingredients than nicotine, Dr. J. E. Hunter and Dr. D. E. Haley of the department of agriculture and biological chemistry, have been feeding tobacco rich in nicotine, a diet with less tobacco, but a bigger "kick."

The material is made by grinding the whole tobacco plant. The most successful brand is a plant Nicotiana Rustica, containing five per cent or more of nicotine. Tobacco with barely one per cent of nicotine has "decidedly harmful" results on chickens.

Between the low and the high nicotine types they are now seeking the "level" of nicotine content at which the best results may be obtained. A wider range in effective plants may mean increased markets for tobacco farmers.

However, there is no other parallel between smoking and feed tobacco to chickens. In smoking, nicotine's stimulation works through the blood and the nerves. In the chickens' diet it is only a disinfectant passing through the body, but not necessarily being absorbed into the system and therefore not af-ment. But the Hoover haters are always saying mean things like that and as long as the president, the boy and the photographers all have a swell time, no one is expected to interfere.

Nearly 10,000,000 persons have ascended the Washington monument since it was opened in 1888. The elevator, incidentally, holds 35 persons.

"TEXAS HISTORY MOVIES"

Siam's Royalty See Wheat Land

PORTAL, N. D., April 20. (AP)—Speeding across North Dakota prairies, the King and Queen of Siam got their first glimpse of the United States today.

En route to Washington and New York, King Projothipok, first reigning asiatic monarch to visit this country, and Queen Rambai Barni, gazed on vast stretches of wheat lands, much of it freshly sown with spring crops, as their special train carried them toward the end of their long journey.

Richard Southgate and Stanley Hornbeck, representing President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson, respectively, extended greetings as their majesties arrived late last night at this international boundary town from Vancouver, B.C.

The king, who has been suffering from malaria and bronchitis since shortly before departing at Vancouver, appeared to be in fairly good health as he received the official American reception committee, but the queen failed to appear. She was reported ill with a cold.

After his arrival in Washington, the king will go to New York to undergo an operation on his eye which is the purpose of his long trip to this country.

Piece Work Plan Will Be Adopted By Soviet Regime

MOSCOW, April 20. (AP)—Russia's communist socialist government in the hope of speeding up production, is dropping socialism's principle of equal wages and is instituting piece work, generally associated with capitalistic systems.

Under a new wage system to be introduced in factories, plants, collective farms, mines, railroads, and the like May 1, the wages of workers will not be based on the communist theory of equal division but on the capitalistic idea of rewarding individual efforts on a basis of skill and ability. The new system will be called "khozrachi" which means literally "economic accounting" and is interpreted in the government decrees means that the affected industries must henceforth take the responsibility of fulfilling contracts and adjusting wages without interference from trade unions.

The Stalingrad tractor factory, where chaotic conditions prevail, is cited as an example of the new system. The factory must contract with the state collective farms for so many tractors at an agreed price. If factory production continued to slump, wages will be cut, but if output increased wages and bonuses will be raised proportionately. Piece work will be introduced, throughout, if it is understood, there and elsewhere.

RECORD FOR STRIKEOUTS MAY BE SMASHED THIS YEAR

FIRST GAMES SHOW MANY MEN FANNING

Good Pitching Appears to Be Associated With Weak Batting Eyes.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
If major pitchers can continue their performances of the season's first few games, strikeout records may be in serious danger. Whether it is the changed ball or a mere epidemic of poor batting eyes, fanning this year seems to occur more often than in previous seasons when slugging was the rage.

Seven hurlers in the two major leagues struck out five or more men in many cases that was not enough to win or even keep the pitchers on the mound for nine innings. Big Fred Fitzsimmons of the New York Giants led the way, fanning seven of the Boston Braves as his team won 9 to 2. Fitz limited the Braves to six hits in giving them their first defeat of the season while the Giants got 14 blows to go into three-way tie for the league lead.

In the long drawn out game which saw the Chicago White Sox whip the St. Louis Browns 12 to 6, 14 men were struck out. Sam Gray, one of four St. Louis pitchers, and credited with the loss, and Garland Braxton of Chicago each whiffed five. With a near record crowd of 80,000 looking on Rube Walberg of Philadelphia besked Charley Ruffing of the New York Yankees, 3 to 2, in a pitching and fanning duel. Walberg struck out six and allowed the same number of hits. Ruffing fanned five while giving seven hits.

Charley Root of the Chicago Cubs and Remy Kremer of Pittsburgh also were credited with six strikeouts each. Root was wild at the start but good Cub fielding aided him in turning back the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 1. It was the first defeat for the Cards, putting them level with the Braves and Giants. Weak base running by the Reds rendered Kremer's six walks harmless to Pittsburgh as the Pirates won, 5 to 1. Cincinnati had 14 men left on base.

Good pitching also came to the fore in the other American league games, bringing victories to Washington and Detroit. Lloyd Brown's mound work helped the Senators take the lead by shutting out the Boston Red Sox 8-0. Earl Whitehill turned back Cleveland with 7 hits, stopping all of the Indians but young Joe Vosmik to win 7-2. Vosmik's homer brought in both Cleveland runners and with a single left him a batting average of .667 for five games.

Philadelphia's two Elliotts combined to hold Brooklyn to seven blows and handed the Robins their fifth straight defeat, 6 to 4, in ten innings. Homers by O'Dell and Herman were the leading Brooklyn blows.

Mary McCormic on Second Honeymoon

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 20. (AP)—Another honeymoon may be added by Prince Serge Midvanti and Mary McCormic, opera star, to the one they interrupted after their secret marriage to assist police in tracking robbers who rifled their home of $12,000 worth of furs and rugs.

The prince, a Georgian nobleman and until recently the husband of Pola Negri, film star, said today he and his bride might tour the European capitals as soon as arrangements could be made for a longer absence.

The diva said she married Prince Serge 10 days ago, but neither she nor her husband disclosed where the ceremony was performed. They said upon their return here Saturday night they had taken an "automobile honeymoon" tour through three western states.

The prince added that they had planned to be married at Lillenas, Nev., when they slipped away from the home of Prince David Midvanti and Mrs. Murray, Serge's brother and sister-in-law, but that they met newspapermen who knew them and "kept going." They said they were in San Francisco when they learned their house here had been ransacked last Thursday.

The secret marriage culminated a long romance. After the prince and Miss Negri first quarreled in 1929 at the film actress' chateau in France, Miss McCormic greeted him warmly upon his return to the United States. When it became known that Miss Negri was seeking a divorce in Paris, both Prince Serge and Miss McCormic admitted they were engaged.

Miss Negri is en route to Hollywood, where she plans to resume her motion picture career.

Helene Madison Is Fine Aquatic Star

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—The Women's Swimming Association of New York has captured team honors in the 1931 National Women's Swimming Championships but it remained for the Seattle star, Helene Madison, to furnish most of the excitement of a somewhat disappointing aquatic tournament.

Miss Madison captured three individual titles during the four-day carnival and almost single-handedly enabled the Washington A. C. of Seattle to finish second in the team race with 27 points. The W. S. A. with Eleanor Holm accounting for two titles, scored 39 points.

The disappointing feature of the championships was that not one world's record was threatened, much less broken.

POOR INDIAN LOSES BATTLE OVER TITLE

Track Timers Change Their Figures To Give Jim Bauch Honors.

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 20. (AP)—Lo! The poor Indian loses another battle to the white man.

Wilson (Buster) Charles of the Haskell Institute, National A. A. U. decathlon title holder, was dislodged as the best all-around athlete at the ninth annual Kansas relays here Saturday.

It came about when official timers, confronted by opinions of track experts, decided Charles could not have defeated James A. Bauch, by as decisive a margin in the 1500 meter run, as the official timers first reported.

Before the long race, last of the ten events, it was determined that to retain his decathlon crown, Charles needed to win the 1500-meter test by at least 55 seconds. Charles won the race easily in 4:35.6. Bauch was fourth, far behind. Harry Hudd, Egbert Ward, and Harry Morrow, timers of fourth place, each reported Bauch's time as 5:51. Carl Parker of Lake Forest (Ill.) college, who placed third, was timed by Mike Getto, a Jayhawk football coach, and others clocked third place, in 5:41.5.

These figures were turned over to the university mathematicians. Charles was announced as having successfully defended his relay decathlon title, with Bauch placing second.

Steve Hinchaw, freshman coach at the University of Kansas, the institution which sponsors the relays, obtained signed statements, meanwhile, from several coaches who carry stop watches and time races for comparative purposes.

With these he contended that the official timers had mis-read their watches, which have figures from one to 30 next the rim and inside of these, numerals from 31 to 60.

The official timers were convinced they had read the inside figures erroneously, as was Jayhawk Coach Getto.

Reading of the outside figures won the decathlon for Bauch, his time being revised to 5:21, rather than 5:51, and Parker's time being recorded as 5:11.5, not 5:41.5.

Bauch's revised point total of 7846.2203 was announced as better than the American record of 7784.68 set by Kenneth Doherty, College of the City of Detroit.

Alfonso Is Not As Welcome As It First Seemed

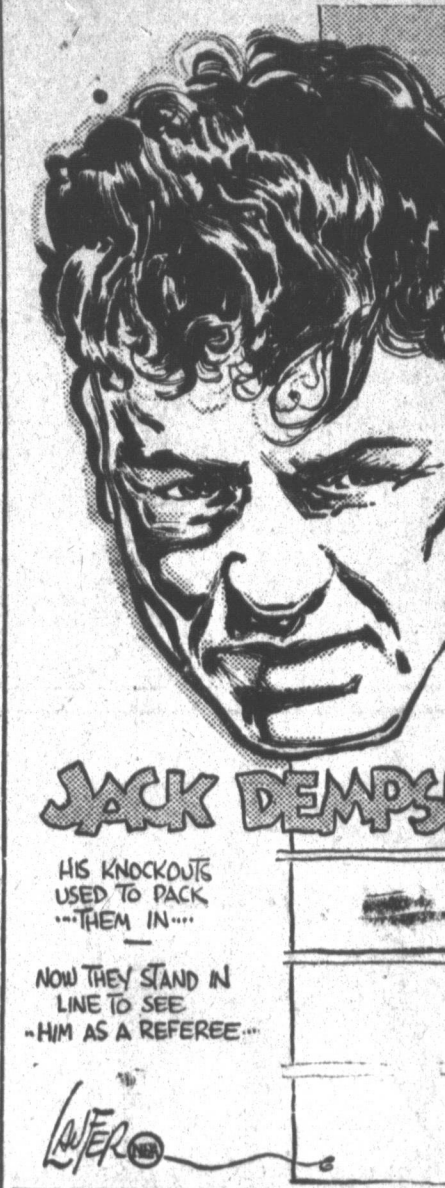

PARIS, April 20. (AP)—Alfonso, Duke de Toledo and exiled king of Spain, is not the honored guest in Republican France that his hearty reception Thursday may have led him to believe.

Fearing an attempt against his life, it was understood here today, the police have suggested tacitly that he seek a refuge in some smaller place, where a better watch may be kept on him and his family.

The continental edition of the London Daily Mail said today he and the Duke of Miranda, chief of the royal household, would leave Paris tonight for London to spend a few days there attending to private business matters.

There has been some talk from the beginning that Alfonso might choose to make England his exile. His wife is a British princess and he probably would be accepted as a member of the British royal family.

Perils of Police Are Truly Great, As This Proves

CHICAGO, April 20. (AP)—The perils of police work formed the subject matter of the conversation Thomas Maloney was having last night with a friend as he sat at his desk in a police station.

"Police men are," he said, "in constant danger. Our profession is the most hazardous in the world."

"Fiddlesticks," interjected his listener.

"Yes sir," the sergeant went on. "It's a dangerous business. Fortunately I have escaped harm. I've never been shot, kicked by a horse and my guns have never failed, but all of these things could have happened."

To emphasize the word "could" he brought down his fist with a bang. There was a crash as his chair gave way, and he fell to the floor, winning the argument with two fractured ribs.

Publishers Going To New York For Annual Meetings

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Hundreds of newspaper publishers and editors from all parts of the United States are in New York this week for meetings of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

Interest today centered in the annual meeting of the Associated Press at the Hotel Commodore, an interim in the meeting being devoted to the annual luncheon with Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company as guest speaker. The National Broadcasting company arranged for a nation-wide hookup from 1:15 to 1:55 p. m. central standard time, carrying Mr. Gifford's speech as well as that of Frank B. News of the Washington Star, president of the Associated Press.

Meetings of the American Newspaper Publishers' association will begin tomorrow at the Hotel Pennsylvania and continue through Friday.

ed with representatives of the Hotel d'Angleterre.

Newspapers of the left have seized upon Alfonso's warm welcome here last week as an occasion to attack the government, criticizing Alfonso as an enemy of liberty. The press generally today dropped the royal exiles, some newspapers not mentioning his name and others printing only a few lines.

Yankees Out To Set Gate Record

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—The New York Yankees apparently are bent on setting a new attendance record for major league baseball this season. They've played five games so far and have drawn an aggregate attendance of 205,000, an average of 41,000 a game.

Yesterday 80,403 jammed the Yankee stadium to watch Philadelphia trip Joe McCarthy's men, 3-2. The only larger crowd came to the stadium in September, 1928, when 85,265 saw the Yankees beat the A's twice in a Sunday doubleheader.

BAYLOR WILL BATTLE FOR HIGH PLACE

AGGIES GO INTO TIE WITH TEXAS UNIVERSITY FOR THE SECOND RUNG.

DALLAS, April 20. (AP)—The Baylor university Bears, pace setting the southwest conference baseball race, faced two games this week which may have an important bearing in their chances at the 1931 championship.

The Baylor club slipped into first place Saturday when the University of Texas Longhorns defeated Texas A. & M. Aggies, 8 to 0. It was the Aggies' first defeat since the conference race opened.

The defeat left the Aggies in a tie with the Longhorns for second place. This week's schedule: Monday—Rice vs. Baylor at Waco. Tuesday—Rice vs. University of Texas at Austin.

Friday—Texas Christian vs. University of Texas at Austin. Southern Methodist vs. Texas A. & M. at College Station.

Saturday—Texas Christian vs. Baylor at Waco. Southern Methodist vs. Rice at Houston.

pair of hose she had purchased Saturday.

The knot, police said, apparently had been tied by someone familiar with handling rope. They suggested it might have been a sailor or one who had had a sailor's training. The blanket was closely scrutinized for some mark which might lead police to its owner.

At the outset the case seemed as baffling as that of the kidnaping and slaying of 10-year-old Virginia Brooks who disappeared from her home here in February and whose body was found 15 miles from the city a month later. However, police found no link which might connect the crimes.

Miss Teuber's body had been stripped of clothing with the exception of black pumps and gunmetal hose. Investigators said there was every evidence the girl had been dead before the long rope was tied. The fact the body had not been lifted from the ground, was significant they said. There were no bruises indicating injury, which might have caused death.

SAN ANTONIO, April 20. (AP)—An old fiddlers contest has been announced as one of the outstanding events of music week here. This contest, open only to old people and amateurs, has been set for Thursday afternoon, May 7.

SAILORED SUSPECTED IN DEATH OF GIRL

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 20. (AP)—The death of a 17-year-old Louise Teuber and the lack of clues to the slayer, who apparently strangled her and then hanged her nude body to a tree, puzzled police here today.

The body, found by a picnic party yesterday was dangling from a high limb of an oak tree in the eastern fringe of the city. Her feet scraped the ground. Police surgeons said the girl had been dead eight hours.

Miss Teuber was a clerk in a five and ten cent store and the daughter of William Teuber, barber shop proprietor. She lived with her father and grandmother. Girls who were her friends at the store said she gave up her job Saturday night and told them she was going away but refused to say where.

At the scene of the tragedy police gathered two slim clues. One was the double half hitch knot which bound the rope about the girl's neck. The other was an army blanket found with the girl's clothes, purse, and a package containing a

FANS WATCHING DALLAS AND FORT WORTH TODAY AS SERIES IS STARTED

Slugging Plentiful In Texas League

DALLAS, April 20. (AP)—Twenty-seven home runs and 403 hits were collected by Texas league clubs in their first five days of the pennant campaign.

Dallas led in club hits with 64 against Shreveport. Fort Worth, playing Wichita Falls a five-game series, ranked second with Dallas with 61, but the Steers played one more game than the Cats due to a 9 to 9 tie Friday which was played off in a doubleheader Sunday.

Friday was the best day for home runs when eight were clouted out of Texas league parks.

How Texas league clubs hit in their opening series:

Dallas, 6 games, 64 hits; Fort Worth, 5 games, 61 hits; Shreveport, 6 games, 58 hits; Wichita Falls, 5 games, 55 hits; Galveston, 5 games, 47 hits; Houston, 4 games, 52 hits; San Antonio, 5 games, 40 hits; Beaumont, 4 games, 36 hits.

STEEERS LOOKED GOOD SUNDAY IN DEFEATING SHREVEPORT TWICE IN ROW.

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The first crucial series of the 1931 Texas league pennant campaign was scheduled Monday afternoon at Fort Worth where Hap Morse and his Dallas Steers were due to oppose Fort Worth in a two-game series.

The schedule also called for a new move Monday with Dallas at Fort Worth, Shreveport at Wichita Falls, Galveston at Houston and San Antonio at Beaumont. However, it is the Dallas and Fort Worth series that will spotlight the schedule because these two clubs are peacocking the league marathon.

The Steers' blipped Shreveport for a double killing Sunday, 9 to 5 and 12 to 6. It made five straight for the Steers since their opening against the Sports. Hard hitting kept the Steers in front Sunday. In the first game the Sports grabbed a 5 to 3 lead that was substantial until the sixth when timely hitting from the bats of Manager Morse, Borrell, Cotter, Bennett, and some class base running by Harrell gave the Steers enough runs in the sixth and eight innings to continue their unbroken string of wins.

The Fort Worth Cats, who have clouted 61 hits in five ball games, ended their five game series against Wichita Falls Sunday with a 7 to 4 win, and four out of five games. Dick Whitworth started his first game this season for the Cats, and went the route. He stopped the Spudders with seven hits.

A veteran of many Texas league star races, Tom Egan saved the San Antonio Indians Sunday. Egan went to the relief of Ted Blankenship who got away to a miserable start of four passes in the first inning, and managed to hold Galveston while the Indians pounded out an 8 to 6 verdict. Galveston, however, won the five game series, 3 and 2.

Herb Thormahlen, who opened the season for Galveston and beat San Antonio, was' driven from the mound by the Indians Sunday in the fourth inning with a rampage of five hits and five runs. San Antonio's pitcher finally bloomed with eleven hits Sunday, their first venture into double figures since the season opened.

The Beaumont and Houston game was rained out.

Ah, little onion, growing there
Side by side with flowers rare,
Than rose to me you are more fair:
Lovely little onion!

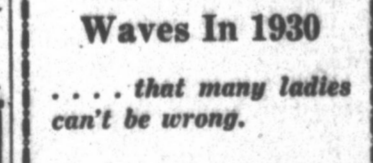

How proudly there you lift your stalks
Amid the posy-bordered walks;
We'll know who ate you when
He talks:
Potent little onion!

How tenderly, how faithfully,
Your fragrance clings so close to me;
It still remains while others flee

I'll greet you then with tearful eyes:
Your pungent virtues still I'll prize:

Depression Said To Be Cause Of Fewer Marriages

SAYRE, April 20.—The marriage license bureau showed a slump in business during the last week.

"The financial depression is hurting the matrimonial market as well as other businesses," County Clerk Tom Lowery said Friday afternoon. Applications for licenses of interest to people of the north plains of Texas include the following: Everett Watsons, of McLean and Miss Jessie Williams of Shamrock; Ralph Smotherman and Miss Beatrice Case of Wheeler.

Members of the American Association of University Women and the College club are receiving invitations today to attend the annual banquet to be given Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Schneider hotel. The event is in honor of girls graduating this year from the Pampa high school.

Mrs. George Briggs is to be an outstanding speaker for the occasion. Other events of interest will be installation of officers and the presentation of a year's scholarship to a senior girl.

The D. H. T. union of the Central Baptist B. Y. F. U. will have a social at 8:15 p. m. in the home of Mrs. D. L. Lunsford. Members and prospective members are invited.

Gentlemen:

Ward Week—our greatest sale—has just ended. I want to express our thanks for the support given this event by your paper and emphasize our confidence in the pulling power of your medium.

Aside from meeting our sales quota, we made hundreds of new customer friendships. This, of course, means that we are completely satisfied with our Ward Week results.

As a result of this recent sales drive in your paper, we are certain that the public is more than ever conscious that it pays to read News-Post advertising exclusively.

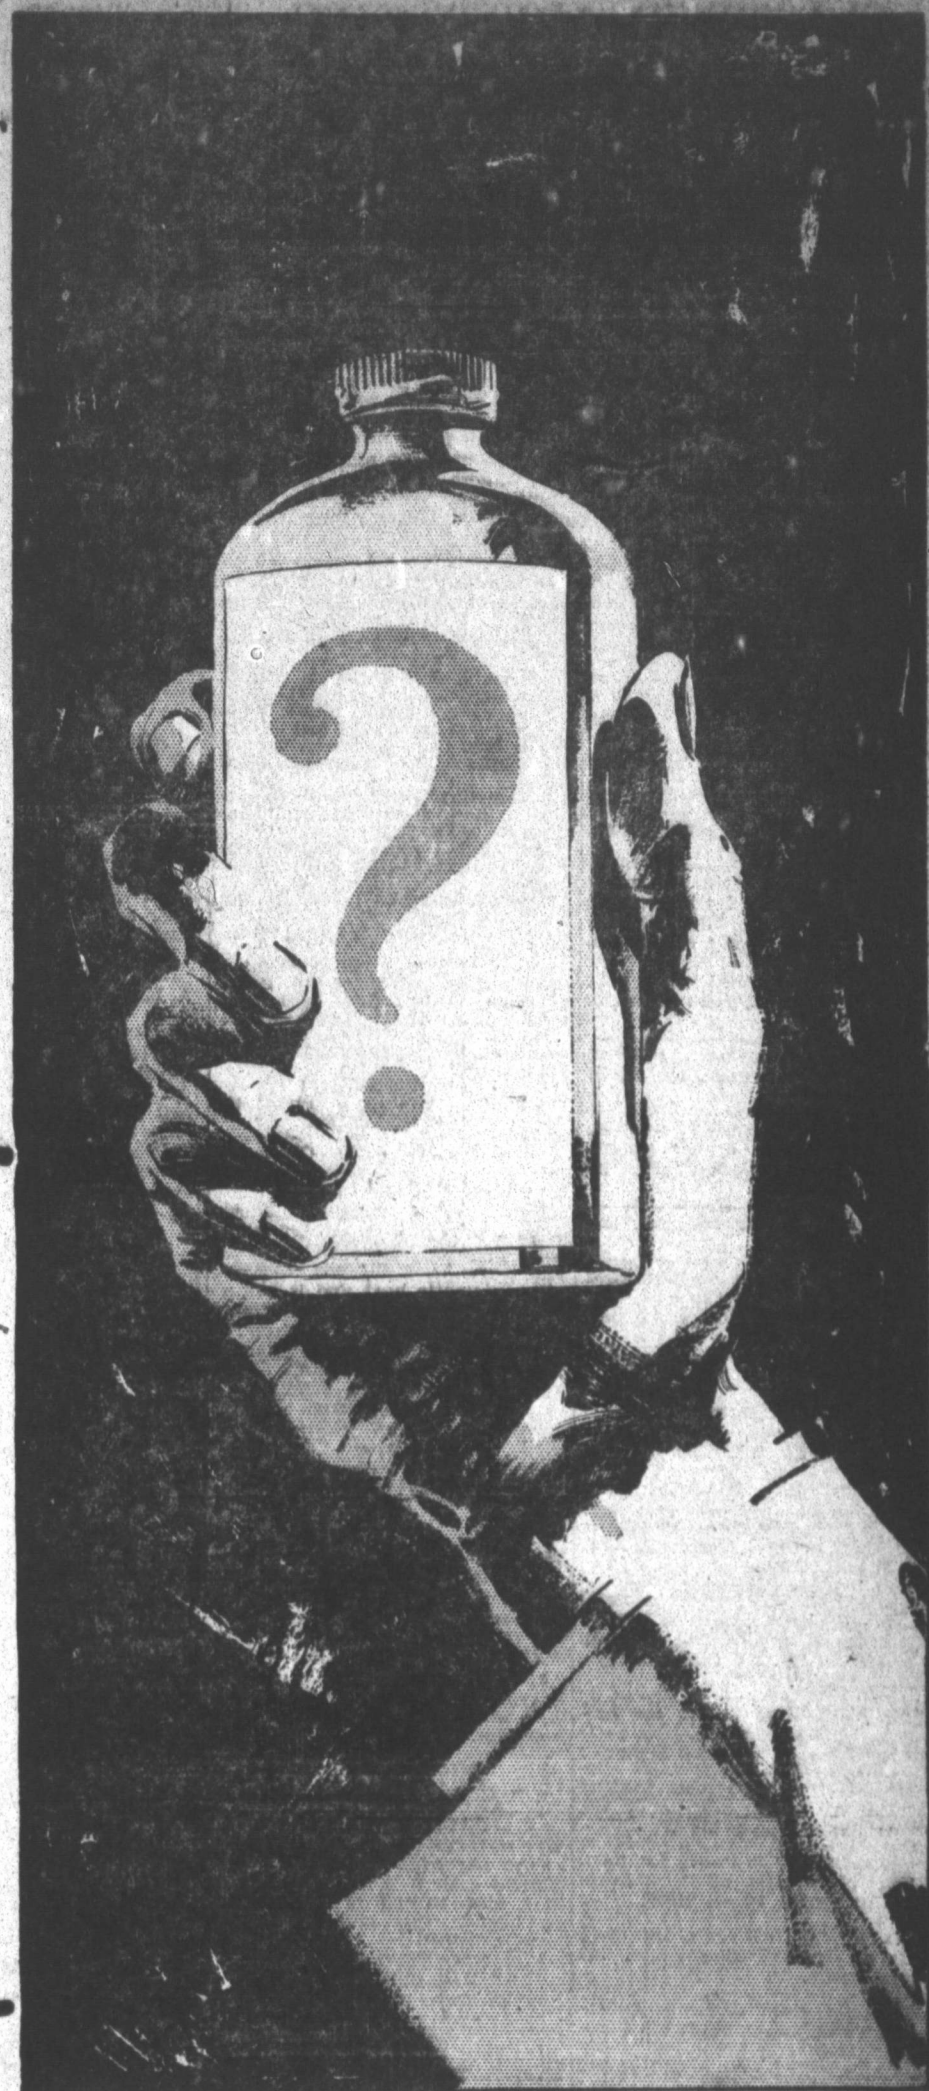

Thanks again, for the increase in business for which your paper is, in a great part, responsible. We sincerely appreciate the cooperation which you extended to us and the efficient manner in which you handled this campaign.

Yours very truly,

"JUST AS GOOD AND CHEAPER"
HAVE YOU EVER
FOUND IT TRUE?

For almost every well-known product today there is an unknown imitation.

No line of business anywhere is without such substitutes.

Daily, they are foisted upon unsuspecting shoppers in place of known, advertised brands.

The clerk may say these imitations are "just as good" as regularly advertised products. Or cheaper because they give "a little more" for the money.

But is it ever true?

When a product is sold cheaper than one of recognized quality, you may be sure it is made cheaper. Then how can it be just as good?

Substitutes are business waifs. They have names, but their names mean nothing. Seldom, if ever, will the manufacturer admit their parentage by advertising.

The only kind words they ever receive are spoken to move them from the store—at more profit than known, dependable products return!

That is the only reason for substitution.

The merchant who permits and encourages this practice is looking at today's sales slips. Not at tomorrow's loyal customers.

Advertising can not create character for any product. But it does place on trial character already established.

Think of this whenever you buy.

The advertised product has a reputation at stake. It must always make good to hold your confidence.

But the substitute product—because it has gained no recognition—has nothing to lose.

Honest value is the only inlet to the columns of this newspaper. When you buy brands advertised here—when you are guided by names you know—you are safe.

But when you let "over-the-counter" claims prevail against your own good judgment, you may be sorry.

THE ANSWER TO SUBSTITUTION
IS ALWAYS . . .
"NO"

MAD MARRIAGE

Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old typist in a New York office, meets Jim Wallace at the home of her wealthy cousin, Anne Trowbridge. Gypsy is miserable because she has learned Alan Crosby, back from a year and a half in Paris studying art, no longer cares for her. Wallace thinks that she has been jilted by his fiancée. To spite the girl he cares for he asks Gypsy to marry him. She first refuses but later accepts. They are married next morning and depart for Forest City, his home town.

At Jim's home they are greeted by his aunt, Miss Ellen Wallace, who immediately becomes hostile to the girl. After a few days Miss Wallace moves to a cottage down the street. She arranges a family dinner party at which Gypsy meets the other relatives. Mrs. Sophronia Nicholson, who is Jim's aunt, and Lucia Wallace, his cousin, snub Gypsy. This enrages Jim and the couple leave. Next morning Gypsy receives a letter addressed in familiar handwriting.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIII Upstairs, securely locked away in the lowest dresser drawer in Gypsy's bedroom, there was a package of letters tied with cord. They were addressed in the same bold handwriting as the envelope in her hand. The difference was that this letter had been directed to "Mrs. James Wallace."

For one long moment Gypsy's heart seemed to cease beating. Then it began to pound tumultuously. "There were the familiar initials, 'A. R. C.' in the left-hand corner. There was the same funny little curly-cue Alan always made when he wrote a capital 'M.' Gypsy turned the letter over, noting the New York postmark. Slowly she went back into the house."

She dropped the other letters on a table in the hall and climbed the stairs, securely locked away in the lowest dresser drawer in Gypsy's bedroom, there was a package of letters tied with cord. They were addressed in the same bold handwriting as the envelope in her hand. The difference was that this letter had been directed to "Mrs. James Wallace."

For one long moment Gypsy's heart seemed to cease beating. Then it began to pound tumultuously. "There were the familiar initials, 'A. R. C.' in the left-hand corner. There was the same funny little curly-cue Alan always made when he wrote a capital 'M.' Gypsy turned the letter over, noting the New York postmark. Slowly she went back into the house."

She heard a knock at the door. Gypsy stood motionless. After a moment she called out: "Who is it?" "It's Miss Christopher, Ma'am. She's downstairs waiting. She said you was expecting."

"Tell her I'll come in a few minutes," Gypsy directed. She was still wearing the suit coat and hat she had put on to go out marketing. Gypsy tossed aside the hat, fluffed out her hair and went to the bathroom to dash cold water on her eyes. She could not entirely conceal the swollen lids but powder was helpful.

The last thing she did before leaving the room was to drop Alan's letter into the desk drawer. She gave it a wistful glance, then hurried down the stairs. Miss Christopher was slender and trim and gray-haired. She sat in a straight-backed chair and as Gypsy entered the living room she arose, smiling.

"How do you do, Mrs. Wallace?" she said. "I hope I'm not too early. I've just been admiring the lines of that fireplace. You know we're going to make this into a beautiful room."

"Good morning. I hope you'll excuse me for keeping you waiting," Gypsy's smile was mechanical. Miss Christopher opened her handbag and took out bits of dark-colored cloth. "Of course I understand you're busy," she said. "Now here are the samples and I do think this mulberry is lovely. If you prefer a lighter shade I'd recommend the buff. You could have the same color in this brocade if you'd rather. They're sun-proof of course. Notice the quality—"

Gypsy fingered the little squares of fabric, frowning. "I'll show you what I have in mind," Miss Christopher continued. "Here—perhaps I'd better make a sketch. By crossing the overdresses you get the effect of a valance in a newer way. Do you see what I mean?" Miss Christopher's voice was bird-like. As she drew the diagram she chattered over Gypsy, trying to listen. It found that she was hearing the high, chirping syllables without the slightest realization of their meaning.

The girl nodded when an answer seemed to be expected of her. Twice Miss Christopher repeated questions. She was certainly energetic. From curtains she turned the conversation to furniture and rugs and she rose from her chair and darted across the room to show just where she would place the Georgian chair she recommended. Gypsy heard such phrases as "modern treatment" and "periods in harmony" and "light values."

How had Alan learned where to send the letter? How long had he known that she was married? Gypsy puzzled over these questions when a knock again told her where he was and what had made him write to her. She had felt so brave when she had left without a word of farewell. Now she knew it had been running away.

Miss Christopher's voice broke in upon the girl's thoughts. "If you'd care to show me the upstairs rooms now—" she began, but Gypsy interrupted. "I'm sorry," she said. "I'm afraid we'll have to make it some other time. I have some appointments that I really must keep. I'll let you know the best price I can get on that chest. Well—I must run! Goodbye."

Gypsy went to the door with her. After that there was a conference with the man from the electric shop who was waiting at such an outrageous hour. If I've disturbed your luncheon please go on with it. I was so anxious to see you and this was the only chance I had—" "I'm glad you did come," Gypsy told her. "Do sit down."

She left the way into the living room. Abbie sank into an armchair and Gypsy sat opposite her. Mrs. Manley paused an instant and then words rushed on. "I want to tell you how dreadfully I feel about what happened last night. Lucia and Ellen deserved every word Jim said to them. Oh, yes, they did! Lucia Wallace is a cat and the whole town knows it. Only you mustn't think we're all like her. Ben's a good sort but he lets his

Markets

COTTON STEADY NEW ORLEANS, April 20. (AP)— Cotton here today opened rather steady. Liverpool was a shade lower than due at the start but soon improved. First trades here were 1 point down to 1 up. The market rallied right after the start in sympathy with the late improvement in the foreign market, rather favorable textile reports, a better demand for spot cotton for export, and prospects of a cold wave in the western belt, with freezing in Texas. July traded up to 10.61 and October to 10.95 or seven points above the opening figures.

At the end of the first hour the market was steady and near the highs.

GRAINS WEAKEN CHICAGO, April 20. (AP)— Grain prices underwent early setbacks today as a result of reports indicating general breakup of the drought.

Material enlargement of the amount of wheat on ocean passage counted also as a bearish factor. Opening at 1-2 cent off to 1-4 to 3-8 up, wheat afterward continued to slide. Corn started unchanged to 1-2 down and subsequently declined all around.

When she returned Mrs. Manley launched forth about her difficulties with a dressmaker. Gypsy warned to Abbie's frank friendliness and forgave her garrulity. As the front door closed Gypsy heard Matilda's heavy footsteps. "Mis' Wallace," the cook came
