Wild Antics of Abilene Prisoner Have Officers Worried

ATTEMPTS TO END LIFE BY EATING GLASS

Karl Strain, 19, Slashes His Wrists With Razor Blades and Later Tries to Open These Wounds.

IS NEAR DEATH

Escapes From Hospital Where he Was in Stupor; Faces Reformatory Sentence for Impersonation.

ABILENE, April 23. (P)—Gauging open old wounds in his arms with a table fork, Karl C. Strain, 19-year-old federal prisoner under a reformatory sentence, today made the third attempt in 48 hours to end his life.

The attempt followed Strain's capture after an earlier break from a hospital here, where he was being treated for razor blade slashes and was under observation for effects following the chewing up of bits of glass lamp chimney.

The youth was in a cell in the city jail today when he was found standing with his arms flowing blood. He was still attacking himself with the fork, but offered little resistance when officers rushed to him.

Strain was sentenced here last week for impersonation of an army officer. He has kept federal, county, and city officers on the jump for two days. Tuesday afternoon in a cell in the county jail, he slashed his arms with a razor, severing veins but no arteries. A few hours later he was found crunching bits of a lamp chimney and swallowing the glass. When doctors said his death was imminent, he was removed to a hospital, where he lay in a semi-stupor until, at 1 o'clock this morning, he suddenly awoke, threatened a guard, and two hours later escaped. After his recapture at daylight he made the third attempt on his life.

Panhandle Post Invited to Pampa

At a crowded banquet table in the Legion hall of the Kit Carson post at Pampa last night, many Legionnaires and their wives accepted invitations extended by Dr. R. A. Webb, D. W. Thurman and Richard Cross to attend the annual unofficial convention of the American Legion which will be held here Saturday and Sunday.

The Panhandle post now has 500 per cent of its membership quota and is ahead of any post in the state. Its quota was 25 members and after a drive it had 125 members. Last night the Legionnaires, celebrated with a banquet. The cost was divided into two membership teams, and the losing side paid for the banquet and the beans, according to the report. The winning team at food, it was said.

Mr. Thurman received five applications for membership in the Post and Eight. The Kit Carson post assured the local Legionnaires that the greater per cent of its membership would be here Saturday and Sunday.

The convention program includes Eight and Forty marches, Legion parade, "wreck of the poor goods," initiation ritual for Forty and Eight members; auxiliary reception at the Legion hut, dance at Elks club, church services at First Baptist church, Sunday in charge of Rev. C. E. Lancaster, post chaplain; banquet at the high school gymnasium after the sermon, and a meeting at the city auditorium in the afternoon. The convention will begin at 1 p. m. Saturday and end Sunday afternoon.

Congressman Will Inspect Caverns

AMARILLO, April 23. (P)—After making an inspection of the United States helium plant late last night, the appropriations sub-committee of the house of representatives at Washington, headed by Rep. Frank Murphy of Ohio, chairman, left early today for a visit of New Mexico park sites, including Carlsbad Caverns.

Although the committee is not directly interested in the manufacture of helium, and accompanied Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo and a large welcoming party on a visit to the plant, the 7-mile drive being made through a cold mist. They were directed through the plant and the government's cytogenetic laboratory by C. W. Seibel, superintendent of the helium division of the bureau of mines.

"We are spending four months of our vacation period visiting projects for which we will recommend appropriations in the next congress," Mr. Murphy said. "The next congress will differ from all others because there will be an equal division of power, and claims for appropriations must have merit. We are seeing everything we can in order that we may more wisely recommend."

MEXICAN MAY BE ASSAILANT

San Antonio Child Stabbed To Death By Friend Late Yesterday.

SAN ANTONIO, April 23. (P)—Less than seven hours after the body of Merle Springer, 11-year-old school girl of Leming, Atascosa county, was found in a gulley 400 yards from her home last night, San Antonio police and Sheriff J. B. Lott and Deputy S. J. Wall of Atascosa county turned their search for the girl's slayer to this city for a Mexican who formerly lived here.

The little girl, pupil in the Leming school, started for the home of her stepfather, Elmer Dickey, of Leming, at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. She was seen walking down a path through the woods toward home and a Mexican, Deputy Wall learned, was seen on the path some distance ahead of her. Officers believed when she reached a secluded place on the path the Mexican attempted to attack her, became alarmed by her screams, and stabbed her to death. More than 20 wounds were found in her body.

At nearly sundown, Dickey started toward the school to find why the child had not returned home and found the body.

EUROPE HAS FEW TERRORS FOR YANKEE

Paris to England Journey Made in 59 Minutes—Rome Flight Difficult Because of Lofty Alps.

NARROW ESCAPE

Inability to Speak Italian And to Pay for Landing in Lire Is Difficulty at Pisa Landing Field.

HESTON, Eng., April 23. (P)—Capt. Frank Hawks, with two new speed records to his credit, climbed out of his red monoplane here this afternoon just 59 minutes after he had left Le Bourget airport, outside Paris.

He had covered this distance 37 minutes faster than any other man had ever flown it. Commander Glenn Kiddson's record of 96 minutes from Le Bourget to Crocydon was just another mark the Texan had knocked over.

In two days he has halved two important flying records, cutting the time to Rome to 5 hours and 20 minutes, and leaving European aviators in a daze over his mark for the channel crossing.

"Boy," he said with a wide grin after he had shaken hands all around, "those Alps make our Rocky mountains look like little bumps. We pulled through all right, but I still don't know how." He was talking about yesterday's flight to Rome during which he had to climb to 23,000 feet without an oxygen tank.

"I pulled up to 21,000," he said, "and I knew I had to go higher. With every foot I got dizzier and I couldn't move in the cockpit for fear of passing out."

"Down below all I could see thru the fog was snow on the top of mountains, and I didn't know how my head was nothing but thin air."

"I don't know how I made it but I got over and headed for Rome in a driving rain. To dodge the storm I hit for the Italian coast."

The small crowd which stood around listening to him bubbled with laughter when he began to tell of the return trip.

"I got off all right at Rome," he said, "and along about Pisa something went haywire in the fuel line. I came down to fix it."

"I don't speak Italian and at the Pisa field there was nobody who could speak English. I tried to make them understand that I was all right, but they wanted 54 lire for a landing fee. I didn't have any change for your English pound Sterling. We had a lot of fun."

When the captain started out yesterday his idea was to have lunch in Rome and come back here for dinner last night with the Aero club, but his fuel ran out and he landed at Polly-Les-Glen, about 63 miles south of Paris.

Byrd Mourns Death of His Dog

Illness of the dog pal which accompanied him to the frozen wastes of the north and south poles made Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd cancel speaking engagements in Kentucky and start back to Boston to visit his sick canine friend. But alas! Igloo died and Byrd resumed his tour.

MONCUS TWITTY MUST DIE SHORTLY AFTER MIDNIGHT

Gray County Man Has Hope of Being Saved From Chair by Governor.

HUNTSVILLE, April 23. (P)—Moncus Twitty, 30, went through the routine of the condemned today. He is to be put to death in the state prison electric chair shortly after midnight for attacking a three-year-old girl in Gray county.

He claimed he had not entirely given up hope for executive clemency. Governor Sterling, however, long since had declined to intervene, and the prison authorities went about the customary precautions.

The law's other agencies, in addition to the governor, likewise had refused to believe Twitty was mentally unbalanced, the state pardon board considering him morally responsible for his act. The issue of insanity was settled adversely to Twitty in the trial.

Miss Esther Claybaker and Miss Bonnie Burris returned last night from San Angelo where they attended a convention of hospital managers. They made the trip by automobile. Miss Claybaker is superintendent of Pampa hospital, and Miss Burris is a nurse there.

"Kidnaped" Heiress-Bride Found

The search over many states for the former Miss Helen Fisher, right, St. Paul, Minn., heiress, ended when she wrote a note on a paper towel which was found in a gasoline wash room and which reached the hands of authorities at Madison, Wis. Officials held her husband Wally Brill, left, and two other men, and asked them to explain the girl's story that she was dragged into an auto in New York. The couple were wed in Iowa two years ago, the marriage was annulled, they re-wed and later separated.

CADDO MILLS COMMITTEE IS VERY USEFUL

Vigilance Group Surprises 5 Men Robbing Store Early Today and Open Fire on Fleeing Burglars.

VICTIM UNKNOWN

Night Telephone Operator Credited with Discovery of Raid and Notifying of Residents.

GREENVILLE, April 23. (P)—Hunt county authorities today sought to identify a man about 40 years old who was shot and killed when members of a "vigilance committee" at Caddo Mills, 7 miles southwest of Greenville, surprised five men robbing a store early today.

The man killed had a pair of woman's shoes in his pockets identified by A. Fagg as having been taken from the store. A gun was clinched in his hand. The man was about six feet tall, wore overalls, a sheep-skin lined coat and inside his hat were the words "San Ann, Texas."

C. C. Bethea and Courad Bethea, brothers and members of the protective band organized recently at Caddo Mills after numerous robberies, fired shots that killed the unidentified robber.

The night telephone operator at Caddo Mills observed the men when they came into town and after she saw them enter the Fagg store, quickly aroused members of the vigilance committee.

First to arrive were the Bethea brothers. After they saw the robber band included five men, two of whom were standing guard across the street from the store, they started to go for help but at that moment other members of the committee arrived at the other end of the street, one of whom started shouting, causing the robbers to run.

When the men ran past the Bethea brothers, they were ordered to halt but disregarded the command and the brothers opened fire. It was believed other members of the gang were wounded.

Work of County Agent Is Praised

Tom Edmonds of Texas A. and M. college, district agricultural agent for Gray and other Panhandle counties, visited Pampa and County Agent Ralph E. Thomas yesterday. Mr. Edmonds was greatly pleased with the results of the first year's work of Mr. Thomas.

He pointed out that in at least two departments of the county work Gray county had achieved state-wide distinction. "It was a credit to Mr. Thomas and to Gray county that Paul Griffin of Alabaster by raising one of the best fields of cotton in the state, won a trip to the National 4-H campment at Chicago, and that Jack and Betty Farley of Groom won first and other prizes with their fat Hereford calves at the Amarillo stock show," Mr. Edmonds said.

It was also mentioned that boys' club work is being actively carried on and is 100 per cent active in Gray county. Mr. Thomas has supervised the terracing of thousands of acres of land in the county since he came here a year ago.

Plane Lands Here To Study Weather

A tri-motored passenger plane of the T. W. A. express stopped at the local landing field for thirty minutes this afternoon while the pilot ascertained weather conditions between Pampa and Amarillo by telephone from the headquarters at the latter town.

The plane was not forced down, and although the ceiling was low, the pilot said it did not interfere with flying between Pampa and Wichita, Kans.

The ship carried no passengers; only mail. It took off again after the pilot learned that the weather west would permit flying.

John Fraser and H. G. McCleary from the southeast part of the county were Pampa visitors today.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Cloudy, occasional rains, somewhat colder in the Panhandle tonight; Friday cloudy, occasional rains in southeast portion.

OKLAHOMA: Cloudy, probably occasional rains tonight and Friday; somewhat colder in west portion tonight.

—AND A SMILE
NEW YORK. (P)—Rudy Vallee has an ambition to play two-fisted, he-man roles in the movies. Back from a tour in which he and his orchestra grossed $22,000 a week, he says he is tired of being known as an effeminate kind of crooner.

AMARILLO GAS RATES SLASHED

AMARILLO, April 23. (P)—A sweeping cut in rates was announced today by the Amarillo Gas company as the latest development in the controversy between the city and the gas company over local rates. The maximum domestic rate was reduced from 38 cents to 27 cents, and the schedule to commercial users was lowered on a varying scale from 10 to 20 per cent.

The gas company, said R. E. Wirtz, president, was forced to the reduction to "save its investment." Mayor Ernest Thompson, who recently negotiated contracts with outside sources for delivery of gas to the city limits at 5 cents and who had announced that the city would install its own distributing system, had not commented upon the new schedule.

Mayor Thompson had offered a city rate from 2 1/2 cents to 7 cents. The new schedule by the gas company ranges from 27 cents to 8 cents.

The new rates are effective on April consumption.

District Agent Is Visiting in County

Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs of College Station, district home demonstration agent, and Miss Martha Buttrill of Clarendon, home demonstration agent for Donley county, are Pampa visitors today.

On Saturday, Miss Inez Derryberry, extension specialist of A. and M. college, College Station, will give a yard landscape demonstration at a farm home in the county Saturday. The demonstration will include screen planting.

Tulip Beds Are Pageant of Color

One can almost "tip-toe through the tulips" out at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry, 905 Beryl street, in the east part of the city. The last snow and freeze that nipped or retarded the growth of most of the tulips did no damage to Mrs. Henry's.

She has two long beds that are now in full bloom—yellow, pink, red, single and double. The yard is really a gorgeous splash of color because of the tulips.

Fair Committees To Be Announced

Names of the general committee members and department heads for the Gray County fair to be held here Sept. 10-12 will be announced in the next 10 days.

The committee members were chosen by the agriculture committee at a meeting. They are being notified this week. The committees include citizens from every community in the county.

The condition of Mrs. L. B. Hughes who underwent a major operation at Pampa hospital Tuesday is better.

It is a Patriotic Duty to Give Employment to Nation's Workmen

Good wages of full-time workers put money into circulation, create demands accompanied by ability to pay, and make possible normal business conditions.

Prosperity is dependent upon turnovers of goods, which in turn make it possible to keep industries occupied with orders. The individual workman can do little to better himself other than to be a good citizen, a good worker, and a good spender and investor.

Money in the bank, whether it belongs to many individuals or one man or firm, does not add to the work to be done and the salaries to be obtained. It is conducive to prosperity only when used, wether by the individuals or firms or through the instrumentality of bank loans.

Under-consumption arises through inability of the people to buy. Demand is ever present but often accompanied by inability to pay. Putting men to work at good salaries tends to create effective demand and to increase consumption.

When machines take a man's job, his ability to buy the product of the machine is destroyed and the value of the apparatus is lowered. Fortunately, in many cases machines have created new jobs for old.

The most disastrous thing that could happen now would be for business men to retrench further, cut salaries, and lay off men. The country is full of money, there is over production of goods, and six million men are eager to earn money with which to buy wheat, cotton and gasoline.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, April 23. (NEA).—Three senators are going abroad to study the silver situation and add to a great mass of information and opinion which has been poured out in statements, official reports and erudite articles—none of which has prevented the price of silver from going down below 30 cents an ounce.

In February, at about the time silver was falling below 26 cents after previously declining from 69 cents in 1925 to 46 cents in 1930, the senate adopted the resolution of Senator Key Pittman of Nevada which asked President Hoover to negotiate with foreign governments with a view to stopping government sales of silver and to promote an international conference to achieve agreements or understandings "with respect to the uses and status of silver as money."

No conference has been called, but the administration is actively interested in silver, along with statesmen, fiscal experts, economists and business men over the world. The subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which will now be interviewing foreign leaders consists of Pittman, Swanson or Virginia and Shipstead of Minnesota.

The important phases of the international silver depression, which have stirred up general interest in and discussion about the metal for the first time since the famous Bryan "free silver" campaign of 1896, involve the prosperity of India and China and the effect of low silver prices on exports to those countries, the effect on the mining industry in this country and other countries where Americans may or may not have large mining investments and the aggregate effect which most experts agree has been an important factor in the world-wide business depression of the last year or two.

Silver is not the only depressing factor, but the great amount of study and discussion devoted to it is attributable to the fact that our own silver producing states are vitally affected, half a dozen important countries in Asia and the Americas which either hoard or produce silver are involved and many authorities seem to believe that something can be done about the white metal which will stimulate prosperity's return.

This is probably the shortest article ever written about silver, but some of the main facts may be pointed out as follows: The total world loss on silver supplies, with its accompanying bad psychological effects, will approach two and a half billion dollars, a decrease of more than half within 18 months. That means about $1,300,000,000 to the people of India and about $800,000,000 to the Chinese. Our exports to China have decreased rapidly. China operates on a silver standard, the value of her currency depending on silver prices. India's people, although on a gold basis, hoard silver in vast quantities as a form of saving. Mexico, the largest silver producing country, has been hard hit because silver is among her most important exports; her two-year suspension of payment to holders of her external bonds was partly attributable to the silver decline.

The U. S. treasury lost $100,000,000 on its silver reserves.

Governor Montagu Norman of the Bank of England and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon are said to have discussed silver at their recent meeting here, but no suggestion or proposal has been forthcoming as a result. Both the United States and Great Britain are understood to be willing to enter an international silver conference, but apparently neither country intends to call one.

Various proposals for government action here and abroad have not been getting anywhere because they are not convincingly sound or advantageous from the standpoint of those requested to act. Most of them involve some form of price fixing.

"Great Men Who Became Famous" is the title of a book written many years ago. It dealt with some of the outstanding characters in history. As we remember the author's viewpoint of these men they were great men long before they became famous. In other words, the world is slow to recognize its great. That leads to a question that we will not attempt to answer: "What makes a man great?" Examples of great or famous personages have been given wide publicity the past week in the daily newspapers. One of these was the great football coach of the University of Notre Dame, Knute Rockne, who was killed along with seven others in an airplane accident in Kansas. His death has received as much publicity as any great man usually receives and a lot more than some. Another person who is becoming widely known and may some day be listed as great is the 13-year-old youth, Bryant Untiedt of Towner, Colo., credited with having saved the lives of many of the twenty Toyner school children who were marooned for 36 hours in a bus during a blizzard. He is being recommended to receive a Carnegie hero medal. It is apparent that in order to be great one must do some outstanding work for the good of society. Fate may enter into events to present the opportunity for greatness, but the real title cannot be gained without work. There are many hard working people who never become great. Some may say, "What's the use." These should remember the old adage, "There is plenty of room at the top."—Canadian Record.

Local Man Says Hardware Meeting Very Beneficial

From the standpoint of interest shown and the attendance, the 22nd annual convention of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement association at Amarillo April 20, 21, and 22, was the best one we have had. Travis Lively of the Pampa Hardware and Implement company, said this morning. "We heard addresses from nationally known hardware men, such as those from C. J. Whipple of Chicago, president of the Hubbard-Spencer-Barlett company; H. P. Sheets of Indianapolis, managing director of the national association; and Clifton Rodes of Louisville, of the Belknap Hardware company.

"The Panhandle Hardware and Implement association occupies a distinctive position. It is the oldest and the largest regional association in the United States, and includes members not only from the Panhandle, but from parts of eastern New Mexico, southern Kansas, southern Colorado and western Oklahoma. The problems of dealers in these sections are similar to ours, and the regional association is particularly adapted to their needs."

Mr. Lively was re-elected to serve his second year as a member of the board of directors of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement association. H. E. Williams of Lamesa was elected president of the association.

The committee began its work when its counsel, Samuel Seabury, served a subpoena on James A. Higgins, commissioner of accounts, directing the commissioner to appear for examination May 4 and to introduce the records of all complaints filed with him, as well as the record of all his investigations over the last five years.

Republicans Will Dodge Prohibition

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Prohibition is being sidetracked in republican leaders' plans for the 1932 campaign.

They seem to have agreed to accept the proposed democratic issue of economics and apparently are willing to enter the next presidential race on tariff and agriculture instead of more controversial liquor laws.

After a meeting yesterday at which they determined to carry out in the farm belt a vigorous defense of the tariff and the farm board, Representative Cable, republican, Ohio, today issued a statement suggesting that "President Hoover put through a strong, restrictive immigration policy whereas congress fallseph Hadley under false pretenses.

down on the proposition." "A year and a half ago," Cable said, "the leaders realized further restriction of immigration was imperative. The restrictionists in congress, however, could not agree on a bill so it was the president who indicated to the state department that further restriction for the protection of the workers of this nation was possible by enforcing the provision of the law in the light of existing economic conditions."

MISSOURI TAKES PRISONER
 AUSTIN, April 23. (AP)—Governor Sterling today honored the request of Governor Caulfield of Missouri for the return of Don Shells, alias Don Shee, from Houston to St. Louis.

Shells was accused in St. Louis of having obtained $350 from Joseph Hadley under false pretenses.

Cast of "Submerged" Will Present Benefit Play for Library in May

First rehearsal for "Beauty at the Throat," a play in five episodes to be produced in a month for the benefit of the library fund, will be held tonight. The cast includes high school boys who appeared in "Submerged," one-act play.

The play which is based upon "Dauber," a poem by John Macfie, concerns a youth who shipped upon a clipper, fast-sailing vessel, to paint the seas and ships, and five seamen. The two scenes of the play are at and near Cape Horn, southernmost tip of South America, where gales of hurricane proportions rage throughout most of the year. There is only one intermission that consumes over a minute.

Scene of the first three episodes is the same, the after-deck of a clipper-ship. The setting of the last two episodes is the seaman's deck house.

Cast of the play follows:
 Dauber, Willard Vieira; The Bosun, Ray Weedman; Sam, Malcolm Carr; The Mate, Paul Camp; Sails, Paul Sharpe; and The Captain, George Chappell. Mrs. May Foreman Carr will have charge of musical settings and interpretation.

In "Submerged," Willard Vieira interpreted the role of Shaw the man who allowed himself to be shot through a torpedo tube in order to save his mates, trapped in a sunken submarine. Paul Camp assumed the role of Jorgensen; Malcolm Carr, Bayce, the coward; Paul Sharpe, Nabb, the stoical "lar," Weedman, Dunn; and Charles Bourland, the commander. George Chappell was stage manager, and Miss Arlene O'Keefe, director.

The one-act play created a sensation when given at the city auditorium last night, and was awarded first prize by the judges for being the best of the group performance presented. However, the prize was given to the Lions club's act when Principal L. L. Sone announced that the boys were not competing. The play is highly emotional and its situations always tense. The boys succeeded in their attempt to give a sincere, realistic and convincing production of the unusual episode.

If President Hoover can eat a hearty meal for 25 cents, why can't we all?

That is exactly what he did today. There was pea soup, Melba toast, meat and rice, brown sauce, baked potatoes, fresh vegetable salad, tea, and whole wheat muffins. Enough for any White House table—or Pampa table.

A nation-wide appeal for home gardens to provide food while money for work is scarce is being made by Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, chairman of the woman's division of the President's Emergency committee for employment, who asks that the agencies which directed the war gardens cooperate again this time. Doctor Gilbreth says we are now engaged in a war on human suffering within our own borders in which all persons can help.

Women of Gray County Home Demonstration clubs are enthusiastic about their gardens. Mrs. H. H. Isbell, president of the Wayside club, said this morning that the ground was ready and members were to begin planting immediately. Some have planted once but because of the cold spell replanting will be necessary. In addition to her usual garden, each woman is to raise one vegetable which she has never attempted before, as well as cherry trees.

Mrs. Isbell said that practically any vegetable might be grown here and that gardens of the club women would include onions, beans, peas, okra, carrots, cabbage, spinach, celery, and other vegetables.

Experts of the United States department of agriculture estimate that seed and fertilizer for a garden to supply vegetables to a family of from five to eight persons will cost no more than $8. Such a garden would yield some surplus for storage.

In order to assist the unemployed in raising vegetable gardens the Emergency committee for employment suggests that vacant city lots be utilized and that civic organizations make every effort to help in financing the work.

The department of agriculture experts suggest the following group of vegetables for the home garden which can be planted in the following order: Peas, potatoes, onion sets, beets, spinach, radishes, lettuce, cabbage, turnips, broccoli carrots, string beans, tomatoes, peppers, and lima beans. They say, however, not to plant peas and potatoes if space is limited. The department distributes a bulletin, "The City Home Garden," which goes into the problems of the small vegetable garden in much detail and should be of great help to those who are attempting one for the first time.

A diamond set in a front tooth of a Mexican woman who also flashed diamonds in rings and earrings was among the many curious things viewed by Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Nicholas on the trip to Mexico which they have just completed.

"On the whole, the roads were terrible," reported Dr. Nicholas. "There was good concrete paving from Laredo and Monterrey, and a road is under construction from Monterrey to Mexico City, but ordinarily a mere trail is considered a good road."

"Danger of travel in Mexico is much overestimated in the United States. There are bandits, but no more than in this country. The Mexican people usually are congenial, but their living conditions are poor. The peons, who compose a large per cent of the population, live in bamboo huts and feed largely on beans and corn which they raise themselves."

Presbyterian Women to Have Quilt Exhibit

Plans Are Made Here Wednesday In Hobart Home

Quilts which were prized 100 years ago, as well as some which are now in the process of the making will be exhibited at the city hall in June when the Presbyterian auxiliary conducts a quilt exhibit. Entries in the exhibit will not be limited to members of the auxiliary, but will include covers made by other women as well. A bazaar will be held in connection with the exhibit.

Plans for the event were made at an auxiliary meeting Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T. D. Hobart with Mrs. H. P. Larsh as hostess.

Mrs. Sweetman presided for a business meeting. A lesson relating to the negro was led by Mrs. T. M. Ashley, with Mesdames Ashley, V. E. Fatheree, John Andrews, Wanner, Fowler, Snead, and M. W. Jones taking part. Twenty-seven members were present.

Local Women Will Visit In College

Mrs. V. E. Fatheree and Mrs. T. W. Jamison will go to Norman, Okla., on Friday to attend Mothers' day exercises in the fraternity houses of their sons at University of Oklahoma. Gene Fatheree is in Beta Theta Pi fraternity and Carl Jamison is in Lambda Chi fraternity.

The exercises, which are always elaborate, will be held next Saturday and Sunday.

WHY COMPLAIN OF HARD TIMES IF THE UNITED STATES PRESIDENT CAN DINE ON TWENTY-FIVE CENTS?

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—A 25-cent piece with the edge shaved off covered the cost of a luncheon cooked today for President Hoover.

The meal for a party of eight, prepared in honor of the president and Mrs. Hoover, cost $1.89, or 23.6 cents for the presidential plate.

The Girl Scouts little house, quaint green-shuttered White House figure erected to typify the more modest American home, was scene of the thrifty luncheon.

The menu was: Split pea soup 18 cents; Melba toast 5 cents; meat and rice 40 cents; brown sausage 3 cents; baked potatoes 9 cents; cabbage, lettuce, and carrot salad 28 cents; butter, bread and cooking 30 cents; lemon for tea 8 cents; whole wheat muffins 21 cents. Even the dash of salt and the few slivers of onion in the meat loaf were computed.

Dainty indeed was the meal's appearance. The service followed approved White House etiquette. Louis Eric, tall Girl Scout, daughter of Representative Erk of Pennsylvania, had been instructed to serve the president first with Shirley Schaefer, small Girl Scout, daughter of Representative Schaefer of Wisconsin, waiting to place the food before Mrs. Hoover just a second later.

The primary purpose of the low cost meal was the launching of better homes week. But there entered also the thought of a menu appropriate for an average American home whose income may, perhaps, have been slightly impaired in the general depression.

The bureau of home economics and the president's emergency committee for employment worked out the menu. Girl Scouts cooked it. The president's place was at the

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "HEART HUNGRY, ETC."

Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old typist in a New York office, met Jim Wallace at the home of her wealthy cousin, Ann Trowbridge. Gypsy is miserable because she has learned Alan Crosby, back from a year and a half in Paris studying art, no longer cares for her. Wallace tells Gypsy that he has been jilted by his fiancée. To spite the girl he cares for he asks Gypsy to marry him. They are married next morning and depart for Forest City, his home town.

At Jim's home they are greeted by his aunt, Miss Ellen Wallace, who immediately becomes hostile to the girl. After a few days Miss Wallace moves to a cottage down the street. She arranges a family dinner party, where Gypsy is snubbed by other relatives. This enrages Jim and they leave. Next day Gypsy receives a letter from Alan Crosby and after some indecision returns it. Jim undertakes the defense of Nina Roberts, accused of murdering her employer, Dr. Fowler. The case is sensational, with circumstantial evidence strongly against the girl. Gypsy becomes deeply interested in the murder case and persuades Jim to take her to see Nina Roberts.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVI

Gypsy's hand trembled on Jim's arm. "I'm right," she said, "and it seems so awful to be in a place like this."

"I told you you shouldn't have come," Jim reprimanded her.

"But I don't mean for myself. I mean for prisoners—people accused of committing crimes. Those bars at the windows and heavy chains—aren't they horrible?"

"Yes, but they're necessary. If you'd see some of the crew they have here you wouldn't be so sympathetic."

The jail guard returned with a large woman dressed in blue. She was introduced as Mrs. Sloan, the matron, and led them up a flight of stairs.

"Nina doesn't seem to be feeling very well," Mrs. Sloan confided. "I don't know what the matter is. She won't eat her meals."

"Does she complain of feeling sick?"

"No. Just doesn't eat and lies on her cot most of the time. I don't think she sleeps much." Her voice died away as they approached a tier of cells. This was the woman's ward. Gypsy caught glimpses behind bars of several kimono-clad figures. Mrs. Sloan walked ahead, paused before a cell and inserted a key in the lock.

"A girl was sitting inside with her back toward them, and at the sound of the key in the lock she swung around."

"Here's some company for you, help you. You must do your part."

Jim moved restlessly. They heard the sound of footsteps in the corridor. It was Mrs. Sloan returning with her heavy ring of keys. Gypsy stood up, suddenly self-conscious.

It was while the matron was inserting the key in the lock and Jim's back was turned, watching her, that Nina Roberts suddenly came close to the other girl. "Come back," she whispered, "alone."

Gypsy had barely time to conquer her surprise and nod in answer before she was outside the cell, following Jim down the corridor.

"What do you think of her?" he asked when they reached the sidewalk.

Gypsy drew a long breath. "I'm sorry for her," she said. "Jim, she couldn't have done that hideous thing! Why, she doesn't look any older than I do. All the time I was looking at her I felt as though it might have been myself."

"Oh, I wouldn't say that!" "But why couldn't it? I worked just as she did. There were plenty of chances for the same thing to happen—only it didn't. What I can't understand is why she doesn't talk more. Nina doesn't even try to defend herself."

"I've been trying to make her talk for three weeks," Jim said grimly.

"Anyway, I'm glad I went to see her," Gypsy continued. "Would it be all right if I made up a bundle of magazines and sent them to her?"

Jim said he thought the matter could be arranged. Two blocks down the street Gypsy left him and caught her street car. Jim's last words were that he would probably be home late.

Throughout the ride home Gypsy puzzled over Nina Roberts' whispered message. It was exciting and mysterious. There must be something Nina wanted to tell her without Jim's knowledge. That meant Gypsy must find a way to make the visit secretly.

She wondered how she could manage it and when. Not tomorrow, which was Saturday. Not Sunday, Tuesday was the date of the trial. It would have to be on Monday.

As she entered the yard a succession of short, sharp barks greeted her. Pat came forward with a rush, leaped against her, pranced about on two feet and whimpered his delight. She was rubbing his head when Sam appeared around the corner of the house. Sam came toward the girl determinedly.

"That's a fine dog," he muttered sarcastically, "yes a fine dog. Would you like to see what he's doing to the tulips, ma'am?"

The tulips were the first blooms in the garden to flaunt their defiantly brilliant heads against the April winds. Sam had reported the first blossoms a week ago. Only that morning Gypsy had counted 12.

"Oh, Sam, he didn't—" "See for yourself, ma'am. I've told you before there can't be much garden so long as that dog's allowed to dig and scratch wherever he takes a notion. I know what I'd give him if he was mine! I know that all right enough!"

Gypsy hurried around the house. Sure enough, there were her worst fears realized. A hole the size of a bushel basket in the center of the precious tulip bed and high on either side of it mounds of soil, fresh earth.

"Oh, Sam!" Broken flower stems and mangled blossoms showed in the wreckage. Gypsy reached down and tried to raise to life one of the half-uprooted plants. Pat, unaware of the damage he had wrought, came close to her, his head slightly to one side, eyeing the gaping hole. He was evidently proud of it.

Gypsy took the dog's head between her hands and said, "How am I going to teach you," she said sadly, "that you must not dig in the garden? You've been a bad dog. Pat, I don't like you when you tear up the flowers. I don't like to have the garden spoiled!"

She shook her head at the terrier. Pat eyed her in puzzled dejection.

"If he was mine I'd teach him quick enough!" Sam spoke up crossly.

Gypsy rose. "Do what you can with the tulip bed," she told the dog. "I'll talk to Mr. Wallace about stretching up a piece of wire fencing." She could hear Sam growling to himself as she led Pat toward the house.

They had not been inside 10 minutes when the door bell rang. Matilda was in the kitchen baking. Gypsy went to the door. There were two women outside on the porch.

"How do you do, Mrs. Wallace," they chorused. For an instant Gypsy was startled. Then she remembered where she was. "Hello, Mrs. Butterworth! The younger one was the daughter."

"How do you do?" Gypsy answered. "It's Mrs. Butterworth, isn't it? And Miss Butterworth. Won't you come in? I've just got in from down town."

Mrs. Butterworth glanced about the living room. "We've been meaning to drop in to see you for a long while," she said, "but you know how time flies! I declare, here it is the middle of April. Yes, time certainly does fly. Been making some changes in this room, haven't you, Mrs. Wallace?"

"Yes, I hope you like it." "Oh, it's lovely! Lovely! Only of course it looks different to me because I was always used to the way Miss Ellen had things. Miss Ellen likes it in her little house down the street, I suppose?"

"I think she likes it very much," Gypsy agreed. "If you'll just excuse me a moment I'll have Matilda make some tea. It will only take a minute."

She went back almost immediately. Daphne Butterworth looked up and amazed Gypsy by speaking. "I've just been telling Mother how much I like your curtains," she said. It was the first time Gypsy had ever heard Daphne express an opinion.

Before Gypsy could reply Mrs. Butterworth cut in. "I suppose you read about that Loring girl marrying Brock Phillips," she said. "My, what a surprise that was! Maybe I shouldn't say it to you, but of course you must know the whole town expected Marcia to marry Jim Wallace. Only girl I guess Jim ever went with. Well, that's the way it goes. You can't tell about men. No, indeed, you certainly can't. Did Jim know about it before he read it in the paper?"

"Why, really, Mrs. Butterworth—" "Oh, I suppose I shouldn't have asked. Only, of course, you know there's bound to be a good deal of talk. That's why I wanted to have the straight of it. Well, I guess Marcia Loring's getting a sight more money than she's ever had before. The Loring's didn't have much, you know. He was in the bank here but outside of some insurance and real estate there wasn't much left. Their going east must have been what broke up the match between Marcia and Jim. And last summer when she was visiting out here he was so devoted to her!"

Matilda's arrival with the tea tray helped Gypsy over the embarrassing moment.

"Three lumps," Mrs. Butterworth instructed as Gypsy raised the sugar tongs. "I like my tea sweet no matter what the styles are." She accepted the cup, then continued: "It does seem sort of unusual, doesn't it, for Jim and Marcia to have their wedding almost the same month after being engaged to each other so long?"

Gypsy handed a tea cup to Miss Butterworth. "Have you read anything interesting lately?" she asked in a deliberate voice.

"Why—no, I guess not. Somehow I never seem to catch up with the books I want to read. I guess it's what Mamma calls having too many irons in the fire."

Twice again Mrs. Butterworth tried to turn the conversation to Marcia Loring's wedding but each time Gypsy was on guard. When the callers left 20 minutes later there was hostility in the older woman's eye.

Saturday and Sunday passed uneventfully, and Monday was a day of brilliant sunshine. By 9:30 Gypsy was out of the house on her way to the secret visit to Nina Roberts.

Fair Space Offered Panhandle Exhibits

AMARILLO, April 23. (AP)—Five state fairs in the middle west have offered free space to the Panhandle of Texas, Incorporated, to show exhibits of the products of farms in the 32 counties comprising the Panhandle country; Howard A. Ferguson, manager here has announced.

"We will have exhibits at between 12 and 16 fairs," Ferguson said. "We plan to have two trucks for our exhibits."

The fairs at Spencer, Iowa, Huron, S. D.; Mason City, Iowa; Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Muskogee, Okla., have announced the Panhandle of Texas, Inc., could have free space for exhibits.

In addition the state fair at Dallas and the Houston fair will give free space.

"Last year we had to pay for these fairs," said Ferguson. "Now they tell us we can show free because they consider the exhibit an education exhibit. Some other fairs have reduced their charges one-half."

It is planned to print a 32-page rotogravure edition of between 5,000 and 100,000 copies. This paper will be given free to those who show an interest in the section.

Honduran Rebels Have Hard Time

TEGUIGALPA, Honduras, April 23. (AP)—The government today claimed important victories against revolutionary armies in northern Honduras. Heavy fighting continued near Chamelecon, not far from San Pedro Sula and reinforcements were rushed to aid the regulars.

A total of 29 dead and many wounded was counted in yesterday's fighting in several minor engagements but so fierce was the battle being fought in the San Pedro Sula area that it was impossible to estimate the casualties there.

The battle at Chamelecon, which has for its prize the railway key point at San Pedro Sula, between Tegucigalpa and the coast, began Tuesday night. The government forces repelled an attack on the town and there was a lull, but the attack was renewed yesterday afternoon.

Latest word from the area said government forces were holding the town and there was a lull, but the attack was renewed yesterday afternoon.

Import Quails From Mexico for Breeding LAREDO, April 23. (AP)—Bob Whites, quail from Mexico, which refuse to fly voluntarily to the United States from Mexico, are now moving northward in large quantities—but in cages aboard airplanes.

They are being imported from Mexico by Dr. Frank Kent of San Antonio for breeding purposes and are going on to places in New York and Massachusetts, where they are used in bird dog field trials, it is reported.

Special crates with self-feeding devices are provided and the birds are fed water-soaked grain en route. The transportation of the quail by airplane was made with the railway express. Dr. Kent recently imported 500,000 quail from Mexico and shipped to all parts of this country for restocking reservations and for other purposes.

Miers, Largest Sheep Raiser, Buys D Ranch SAN ANGELO, April 23. (AP)—W. A. Miers, who through his ownership of 50,000 head of sheep in the United States from Mexico, has spent $300,000 cash for the famous D. Ranch in Culberson county, a ranch of 90,000 acres owned in fee and 70,000 acres leased.

This brings Miers' ranches to a total of 35. On his latest addition he will place both sheep and cattle and build 300 miles of sheep fence. The ranch is well watered, having a part of Delaware Creek, several running springs, pipelines, wind mills, concrete tanks. Another spring issues in the milk house to the rear of the two-story ranch mansion which is the headquarters.

The house has a stone table weighing about 2,500 pounds. J. H. Yates and Vince Bailey, who sold the ranch, disposed of everything to Miers but the cattle which will be moved off before June 1 when Miers takes possession. Carlsbad, N.

Radio Amateur Talks To Station In Nicaragua

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—The marines of Nicaragua may have an assignment to catch Augustino Sandoz but this hasn't lessened their interest in the news from back home, especially the daily baseball score.

Direct communication with the radio station two miles south of Managua, Nicaragua, recently wrecked by an earthquake, was maintained last night by Fred H. Schnell, amateur radio operator from his home. He gave the Associated Press the privilege of a direct interview with one of three operators in the marine corps who have been handling official communications since the earthquake wrecked all other lines of communication.

This operator, Adam G. Hileman, of Anna, Ill., is stationed in the aviation unit of the marines south of Managua and talked with only the light of a candle to guide him. Referring to the bandit leader Sandoz, Hileman says: "No one knows for sure of his whereabouts. He works with two or three lieutenants, each of whom is in charge of a large group, and each group spreads as a unit making guerilla attacks and sabotage forays. The only way they will get Sandoz is to accidentally jump into him."

"He has just as many spies, if not more, than we have. Just now everything is fairly quiet at Puerto Cabezas. The Nacional Guardia is in command of marine corps officers and we are keeping track of each unit of the guard. Two aircraft squadrons and the second brigade of marines are here now. The marines and guardsmen have parties in all large cities of Nicaragua, and about 235 men are left in the hills, but they will return here by May 1."

AIR-TIGHT PITCHING IS WINNING MOST EARLY BALL GAMES

BRAVES AND CARDS REVEAL FAST STRIDE

Yankees Also Are Getting Remarkable Work on Mound This Year.

By GAYLE TALBOT JR. Associated Press Sports Writer. There still is nothing that quite takes the place of old-fashioned, air-tight pitching when it comes to winning ball games. And it takes no more than a cursory examination of the records up to now to discover why the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves are setting the National league back on its heels, nor why the New York Yankees are doing likewise to the Junior circuit.

They have been getting some swell pitching. In seven games the Cards' great mound staff has allowed only nine runs and the Braves' surprisingly stout staff has given up only 28 scores in nine tilts. Yankee moundsmen have held opponents to 29 runs in eight games and five of their starting pitchers have been in at the finish. This would seem to be as good an answer as any to the skeptics who wondered what the Yanks would do for pitching this season.

Old Tom Zachary became the third Braves hurler to start and finish in as many days when he set the hapless Brooklyn Robins down with four scattered hits yesterday and blanketed them, 4 to 0. Two Card pitchers, Sylvester Johnson and Jim Lindsey, gave a similar masterpiece in beating the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 2. They allowed only four hits and not a Red was left on base.

Although the Yankees increased their advantage over Washington and Cleveland by trimming the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 5, there was little satisfaction in the victory. Babe Ruth was injured going after a fly in the sixth inning and there was a possibility he would be out several weeks. Up to the time he was hurt the Bambino had driven in three runs and scored two.

A three-run slump in the seventh, touched off by Hughie Critz's home run, enabled the Giants to nose out the Phillies, 5 to 4, in their debut at the Polo Grounds. The Athletics gave Lefty Grove a four-run lead in the first inning and that was sufficient. He beat Washington, 5 to 1. Joe Cronin's home run in the second depriving him of a shutout.

Pat Carraway was invincible after the second inning and the Chicago White Sox outplayed before the home folks with a 10 to 2 win over Cleveland. Rain kept the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates apart, and the grounds prevented the scheduled Tiger-Brown skirmish at Detroit.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press Babe Ruth, Yankees—Accounted for five runs with two singles and a double before injury forced him out of game as Yanks beat Boston 7-5. Tom Zachary, Braves—Shut out Brooklyn 4 to 0 with four scattered hits. Fred Ehrhardt, White Sox—Made four hits and a sacrifice in five trips to the plate, batting in four runs to beat Cleveland 10-2. Bob Grove, Athletics—Fanned seven Senators and allowed seven hits to beat Washington 5-1. Hughie Critz, Giants—Hit homer that started winning rally in Giants' 5-4 victory over Philadelphia. Rabbit Maraville, B's—Secured two runs and batted in one; two against Brooklyn.

COTTON IS EVEN
NEW ORLEANS, April 23. (AP)—Cotton today opened steady although Liverpool was hardly as good as due and first trades here showed gains of three points. As New York opened somewhat easier, the market here eased off in sympathy right after the start, losing the initial gain, with July at 10.23 and October at 10.09, 3 points under the opening but unchanged from yesterday's close.
At the end of the first hour, the market showed a disposition to rally, owing to the very cold weather in the belt and map indications of another spell of unsettled weather coming on the western section.

Ellis Calls Clingman "Society" Wrestler and "Pink Tea" Matman

Otis Clingman and John Ellis will clash Friday night at the Majestic in a match which finds the local man in danger of suffering another defeat from the visitor. The prosperous Greek is a wall-punching grappler who is so powerfully constructed that little things like body slams do not bother him. He considers Clingman a "pink tea" wrestler and refers to the P-T-A performance of last evening as evidence that Otis is a "society" matman. The match will open at 8:30 o'clock. Ticket sales are in charge of the Diamond shop.

The Berger nine has been playing for several weeks and has only lost one game. They have a number of last year's men in the lineup and with some newcomers are reported to have a strong line. Magnolia has a 500 percentage for the season. They won their opening encounter from the Pampa All Stars but last a game last Sunday to the combined Coltex teams of LeFors. STEERS ARE STILL HOLDING LEAGUE LEAD

Cats Are Second But Beaumont Spurts to Force a Tie.

By BILL PARKER. Associated Press Sports Writer. The first crucial series of the 1931 Texas league pennant race has past, and still on top are the Dallas Steers. Still second are the Fort Worth Cats, but this time in a tie with Beaumont. After losing the first of their important series to the Cats at Fort Worth 10 to 6, the Steers Wednesday spoiled the Cats' 5 to 3. Big George Murray was in great pitcher form after the second inning. When he beat the Cats Wednesday, it made his second straight win since the league race started.

Henry Hardaway started for the Cats, but he started without control and did not last long. Hardaway walked the first four batters to face him, forcing in the first Dallas run. Leon Chagnon relieved Hardaway and was greeted by a double from Langford's bat which sent three runs across the plate. Harrell followed Langford with a drive into right field to score Langford and round out the five-run rally.

Wednesday brought another defeat to the Shreveport Sports. Wichita Falls got enough good hurling from Howard Taylor, right hander, to beat the Sports for the third straight time. A wild eighth inning in which the Spudders counted four runs gave them a 7 to 3 decision.

At Beaumont, the Exporters and Galveston Buccaneers put on a real show with the Exporters taking the last curtain call, 8 to 7. Galveston was coasting in with a 7 to 3 lead until the eighth inning when the Exporters uncorked a batting spree that netted them four runs to tie the score. Doubles by White and Mallett aided in the four-run stampede. The Exporters broke the 7-all deadlock and won the game in the last of the tenth inning on a trio of scratch hits: plus Malesworth's low throw to home plate trying to cut off the winning run.

East Texas Oil Proration Is Begun

AUSTIN, April 23. (AP)—The orders placing the first curb on east Texas oil production became effective today. R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission said. Parker said umpires told him yesterday they were ready to institute proration in the Longview and Kilgore areas. Figures on potentials in the Henderson area probably will not be completed for two or three days but Parker said he had been informed operators were ready to go ahead with proration under a temporary schedule.

Both teams have a win and a loss to their credit and will be battling for a win. While the Phillips battery has not been named, the All Stars will start Adams and Maples. Kid Berg May Be Next Champ

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—If the sentiment of the Chicago wagering community is correct, the lightweight championship of the world will be transferred from Tony Canzoneri to Jack (Kid) Berg of England tomorrow night in the Chicago stadium. Berg, already owner of the trick junior welterweight title, today had become an 8 to 5 favorite to take away the crown. The New York Italian won from Al Singer several months ago. Canzoneri, however, was not without backers who figured him to knock out the White-chapel windmill early in the scheduled 10-round battle. Both title will be at stake. Berg having weighed in at the lightweight limit, 135 pounds, yesterday after his final serious workout. Canzoneri probably will come in at 133.

RUTH'S LEG IS SPRAINED AND REST ORDERED

Severe "Charleyhorse" Is Found After Star's Limb Goes Bad on Him.

BOSTON, April 23. (AP)—Babe Ruth is lost to baseball for two weeks at least, possibly a month. Dr. Francis H. Newton of the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, where the Babe was taken yesterday after his left leg gave way while chasing a long fly, discovered a severe charleyhorse in Ruth's left thigh. Dr. Newton believed Ruth would be able to leave the hospital today but said he would not be able to play ball for "two weeks or a month."

Ruth's leg began bothering him during the first of the sixth inning of yesterday's Yankee-Red Sox game. The Yankees were at bat. The Babe doubled and slid into second. Lou Gehrig singled and Ruth pulled up lame as he swung around third. His left ankle appeared to be bothering him and play was suspended while he rubbed his leg. As play continued, Tony Lazzari filed to Webber. Charley Berry, Red Sox catcher, tried to block Ruth at the plate and the Babe tripped over Berry's legs in the tangle. Ruth grinned, gained his feet, and walked briskly to the Yankee bench. The Yankee fielder's leg appeared all right as he walked to his position when the Sox came to bat. Then, Tom Oliver, Red Sox heavy hitter, belted one out into Ruth's territory. While the Babe was chasing the ball his left leg buckled and he fell to the ground. A squad of Yankees carried him from the field and he was taken to the hospital after a hasty examination at the dressing room.

Publicity Given To Hall Dedication In Forty-Eight Paper

Pampa and Pampa Vulture 959, Forty and Eight, received national publicity in an article concerning the dedication of the new city hall, published in the April issue of THE FORTY AND EIGHTER, official national publication, Springfield, Ohio. A good photograph of the city hall accompanied the article.

The story mentioned that Charles E. Perry, Chief of Chemin de Fer, came all the way from Maine to assist in the dedication exercises. The story, in part, follows: "The ceremony marked the first time in La Societe's history that a Vulture Locale has dedicated a city. Last year, the Pampa Vulture set another record by being the first Vulture Locale to dedicate a courthouse, when it conducted ceremonies at the opening of Pampa's new county building. These honors do not come to Vulture 959 for nothing. The leadership it takes in the civic advances of its community make it the natural organization to head the performance exercises. The city celebrates an achievement."

"These Texas Voyageurs are famous for their efficiency in dedicating Poor Goofs and they gave their town a real show when they opened the city hall. The big building contained a municipal auditorium as well as the city offices, cost only $125,000, which indicates that there is some efficiency in this town where Voyageurs are so active in civic affairs. Quite a building, isn't it? The Vulture helped get it for Pampa, and when the time came to dedicate the structure, the job was turned over to the Forty and Eight."

A complete account of the program and dedication exercises was given in the story.
