More Uses for Oil Necessary to Steady Industry

CLEVELAND, April 24. (AP)—New uses for petroleum are needed to offset the over-production which has beset the oil industry.

Horning, president of the Waukesha motors, predicted that "soon we will be heating houses with gasoline. In Wisconsin tests we got 92 per cent of the heat in gasoline inside the house."

In a survey of 35 industries recently, Horning found that next to agriculture, the oil industry is in the worst plight.

Horning also predicted that the future automobile engine will be a foot high, with tremendous intake capacity and high compression ratios that will develop four times as much power as at present, thereby saving the country 20 per cent of fuel.

ASSERTS THAT FARM BOARD PLAN FAILURE

Senator McKellar Tells Cotton Shippers That Government Should Amend Act with Debuture.

Association President Thinks Price Will Mount When Government Retires From Merchandising

NEW ORLEANS, April 24. (AP)—United States Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar, of Tennessee, told the annual meeting of the American Cotton Shippers association here today that President Hoover and the federal farm board have made a "woeful failure" of the agricultural marketing act.

"They have spent $500,000,000 and so far as anyone can learn, there has been no general benefit," Senator McKellar said.

As an alternative to repeal of the act, he suggested the following amendments and policies:

"The qualifications of members of the board should be set out and the president should appoint members in accordance with their qualifications. Members of the board should be, for the most part, practical farmers of undoubted standing in their communities."

"The board should be required to carry out the purposes of the act in good faith. They should not be permitted to use this fund for purposes not contained in the act."

"The board should be prohibited in the strongest language from gambling on the future markets, or from buying seats on the cotton exchanges or authorizing their purchase by cooperative associations."

"The board should be prohibited in like manner from cornering or attempting to corner the cotton market. Above all, it should be required, in lending money to the farmers, to include all the farmers, and not merely give loans to one in 12, and then only because he belongs to some cooperative association."

"The law should be amended to include individuals as well as corporation associations. It was never intended that government officials should go into business in competition with private dealers."

"The law also ought to be amended so as to require every effort to be made to extend our foreign cotton trade."

NEW ORLEANS, April 24. (AP)—D. E. McCuen, of Greenville, S. C., president of the American Cotton Shippers' association, in his address to the annual association meeting here today, predicted an advance of 10 cents per pound in the price of cotton six months after the "government retires from the merchandising of cotton."

"Let the government retire from the merchandising of cotton, both spots and futures, turn its stabilization stock over to the trade and at a fair price, and give proper assurances that they will never re-enter the market again," McCuen said, "and I will promise you an advance of 5 cents per pound within six months."

Let the government continue, and the farmer is doomed; the present merchandising system destroyed; the country bank will close its doors; the fertilizer plant will be converted to other uses; oil mills, gineries and compresses must enter other fields of industry, and the farmer must move to the city, join the bread line and depend upon a paternalistic government for the dole.

"Since the farm board admits that it can only give advice, make it a bureau of the department of agriculture where it belongs. Let them give advice. The average farmer does not pay much attention to advice offered by a white collared agriculturist. Let them give it. But get them out of business. And for the sake of America, and the southern cotton farmer, get them out quick."

THRONGS HAIL BIRTH OF REPUBLIC

Shouting throngs surged through the streets of Madrid, hailing the fall of the monarchy and the birth of the Spanish republic. Here you see a typical scene as a taxicab, bearing on one side a placard announcing the abdication of King Alfonso, was applauded by street crowds given right-of-way through the jam of traffic. Scores of injured—victims of the wild celebration—were taken to Madrid hospitals.

Beulah Allred Is Found Insane In Rains County

GREENVILLE, April 24. (AP)—A sign "lawyer wanted," devised by pasting cotton on a mattress on the window of her jail cell with syrup served at her meals, today had obtained for Miss Beulah Allred, prohibition crusader, an attorney who was seeking her release from the Hunt county jail here.

The exponent of temperance who once walked the streets of Pampa carrying a basket and shouting that Jamaica Ginger was for sale, in an attempt to show that Pampa was "wet," recently was adjudged insane in Rains county. Sheriff J. N. McTaggart of Rains county had brought her to Greenville because of crowded conditions in the Rains county prison.

A habeas corpus petition filed by her attorney here today charged that she was tried and convicted on false charges of insanity.

Since her confinement in the jail here, Miss Allred had made numerous attempts to get letters out to attorneys and friends, on one occasion wrapping a note around a wrist watch and throwing it to the street, where it was picked up by the jailor.

Canyon Meet To Be As Scheduled

CANYON, April 24. (AP)—The Panhandle-wide drizzle failed to dampen the enthusiasm of 1,000 contestants and their friends in the district 1 interscholastic league meet which opens here today.

The city was swarming with students from 22 Panhandle counties. Nearly 2,000 visitors were expected by late afternoon.

Preliminaries in the literary department events began at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The athletic events do not open until 4 p. m.

The mist and rain have little affected Buffalo field, where the track meet will be held, and all events will be staged as scheduled. Schools in Amarillo and most Panhandle cities were closed today for the event.

AMARILLO POST WILL SEND BIG DELEGATION TOMORROW

Unofficial Convention to Draw Ex-Service Men From Many Cities.

Hanson post of the American Legion at Amarillo is going to be unusually well represented at the annual unofficial Legion convention which will be held here Saturday and Sunday.

This was indicated in messages sent to Pampa Legionnaires yesterday by Dr. T. M. Montgomery, commander of the Amarillo post. D. W. Thurman, who was in Amarillo yesterday, said that the office personnel of Hanson post has planned to attend. These officials include Dr. Montgomery, Floyd Sloan, post adjutant; C. G. Gibson, fifth division membership chairman; George Browne, fifth division commander; Walter Irwin, past commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars and a prominent member of the Forty and Eight Legion.

The Pampa ex-soldiers are expecting largest delegations from Shamrock, Clarendon, Childress, Perryton, Panhandle, Miami, Canadian, and Amarillo.

A group of local Legionnaires will attend a banquet in Amarillo tonight in which Ralph T. O'Neill, national commander, will be chief speaker. Commander O'Neill will be guest of posts at Lubbock and Clovis.

His speaking dates, arranged some time ago, prevented him from attending the Pampa convention.

MURDER THEORY IN REES DEATH DROPPED

SAN ANTONIO, April 24. (AP)—Police abandoned the theory today that F. A. (Nona) Rees, Texas university star athlete, found fatally wounded Tuesday, was the victim of an assassin.

In abandoning the murder theory, Lieutenant of Detectives McDonald, who had headed the investigation, said indications did not support the theory that Rees might have been shot by some one who entered the rear of the sporting goods store where Rees worked and fled before the wounded man was found.

Rees was found with a 22 caliber bullet in his brain. A gun was nearby. He died without explaining what occurred.

A theory advanced at one time in the investigation, that Rees might have been struck by an accidental fired bullet that struck a hard surface and glanced, was discredited by the fact the bullet had not flattened when it entered Rees' head, McDonald said.

Rees was killed early today at Antioch, Ill., when their automobile struck a freight train with such force that five cars were derailed.

The dead are Herriek C. Harrington, 21, a graduate of Marquette university; Daniel Wigham, 24; George H. Eaton, 24; Gus Gustafson, 22, and Edgar Lindroth, 21, a bank clerk. Eaton is a stepson of the Lake county coroner.

The deaths brought to ten the number killed in automobile crossing accidents in the Chicago area within 24 hours.

Pastor Denies He Kissed Mrs. Thomas

KANSAS CITY, Kan., April 24. (AP)—The Rev. James Cornish, minister, today denied the charges that he had kissed Mrs. Thomas, 37, who asks damages of $5,000 for assault and battery.

The 52-year-old minister, now holding a pastorate in Great Bend, Kan., asserted on the witness stand yesterday Mrs. Thomas' suit was "an attempt at blackmail."

"Her conduct," he added, "up to the time she made these charges, was above reproach."

Woman members of his former congregation testified in his support. Mrs. Thomas, a Sunday school teacher, alleged the pastor seized and kissed her when she entered the library.

Abandoned Car Is Licensed in Oklahoma; Hat Dropped Is "Best in Texas"; Coat Is From Ohio.

LAWRENCE, Kans., April 24. (AP)—Melwin Howe, 42-year-old policeman, was shot and killed early today by an unidentified assailant who escaped on foot.

The slayer was the occupant of a small coupe bearing an Oklahoma license which Howe and another officer, John Ingalls, had cornered in a blind street.

Oklahoma City police informed officers here that the motor number on the automobile showed it to be the property of G. W. Tilliferro of Shawnee, Okla., but that the license number was not Tilliferro's.

In the abandoned automobile were found a hat bearing the label, "Beaver Hat Shop, Best in Texas," a coat with a Cleveland, Ohio, label and 20 automobile catalogues.

The slain officer is survived by his widow, a small son, and a father who lives at Chickasha, Okla.

Sandino Rumored To Have Destroyed U. S. Observatory

NEW ORLEANS, April 24. (AP)—An unconfirmed radio report received here today said the Sandino bandits had taken the town of Cabo Gracias a Dios, Nicaragua, and had destroyed the United States weather observatory there.

Official confirmation of the report was lacking as the tropical radio has not been in direct touch with Cabo Gracias a Dios since the bandits had taken the town, dismantling the radio station there.

Outlaws have been reported in the neighborhood of the town since their first attack west of Puerto Cabezas, some 60 miles south of the cape.

WIFE OF KIDNAPED PHYSICIAN SAID TO HAVE RECEIVED NOTE

ST. LOUIS, April 24. (AP)—Although police said "nothing new" had developed in the disappearance Monday night of Dr. Isaac D. Kelley Jr., socially and professionally prominent physician, reports in which newspapers placed credence were current today that demand had been made for a large ransom for his release.

The Globe-Democrat said today indications were that the physician established his first contact with his wife last night when a letter, written in pencil and longhand, was delivered at their home by a messenger.

Upon receipt of the letter, in which the newspaper says, Dr. Kelley set forth he was being held for a ransom of not less than $10,000, and that, as yet, he was unharmed, several attorneys who have acted as Mrs. Kelley's advisors went into conference, the nature of which they declined to discuss.

Later, however, Carroll W. Harlan, attorney friend of Dr. Kelley's family, who has been acting spokesman in dealings with the press, denied emphatically a ransom letter had been received. He said the letter was for Mrs. Kelley from Roman Catholic sisters who were praying for the return of Dr. Kelley's hand. An organ-like voice came from radio tubes. It's something new devised by the General Electric company.

West Texas Should Get Her Share Of Revenue From New Tax Levies

With added revenue—10 to 20 millions—to be available by reason of the new tax levies, what is the legislature going to do with the money?

West Texas has a right to ask that question in the expectation of getting an answer. The gas tax falls heavily on this section. Other taxes will affect this section as much as any other.

Without attempting to get more than its just share, West Texas should militantly guard the state coffers. Legislators should protect the institutions and make it less necessary for lobbying by friends of the institutions and presidents of the various colleges and stations.

THE RAILROAD'S DILEMMA

For a time, railroads, attempted to minimize the effect of bus and truck competition. That day is past. Today the railroads are frankly admitting their falling revenues. They point to the fact that they are tightly regulated by the government, that their earnings are restricted, and that their opportunity for meeting competition is sharply curtailed.

They must maintain certain crews, pay taxes on real estate, rolling stock, and roadbeds, and maintain large station staffs. They see buses and trucks rolling along the highways furnished free of charge by the state, virtually unregulated and untaxed.

There is some justice in the railroads' claim that competition should be equalized and that taxes should bear more evenly upon the two classes of carriers. Destruction of the railroads, would do immense harm to rail employees, rail stock holders of whom there are more than a million, and to the schools and other institutions profiting through taxes upon the railways.

There is no doubt that legislation tending to protect the public is desirable.

MUSIC WITH HIS MEALS

Doctor Aldrich tells of a child who refused to eat unless his grandmother danced before him to the music of a phonograph.

The fact that the whole household often revolved about the child during mealtime would be incredible if it were not so commonplace.

Singing, story-telling, music and apparently even a dance by grandmother are sometimes necessary to induce the younger generation to partake of nourishment.

Once a mother has shown how concerned she is over her child's appetite, he is seldom slow to take advantage of his observation.

In the drama of mealtime he finds excellent opportunity to play the part of absolute monarch in a way that cannot fail to be far more satisfying or interesting than mere business-like eating.

Whether or not a child behaves in this way depends entirely on the grown-ups about him. If his food is set before him in a matter-of-fact manner, if it is assumed that he will eat and no one pays particular attention to him until after he is through, he never will discover that there is any fun to be had out of mealtime except the pleasure of eating.

If, however, he already has been permitted to demand all sorts of attention and entertainment with his meals, there is a sure way of curing him.

His mother need only explain to him briefly that dinner time is eating time and wait for him to eat. If after ten minutes he has not applied himself to his task, his food should be removed with out comment.

He will not skip more than a few

ABOUT NEW YORK

NEW YORK—Theodore Dreiser's comments on the movies are costing the magnates more than blushes.

He is supposed to have been offered more than $100,000 for the right to film his "American Tragedy". But that was not the first Hollywood money tossed to Dreiser's "slapping" novelist.

Several years ago one company retained him at a fee of $5,000. All it got was his opinion of the Hollywood product.

INDIANS ARE PUTTING FEAR INTO RIVALS

Take Sixth Engagement of Nine Starts; Pitching and Hitting Is Good.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.

The ball players who are trying to get their teams into the American league pennant race this year are inclined to fear the Cleveland Indians more than several other teams which the fans consider about as strong. And Cleveland's playing so far has shown a good reason for that fear.

Escaping the season's first general deluge of postponements yesterday, the Indians won their sixth game in nine starts to take undisputed possession of second place. Wesley Ferrell, star hurler of the Cleveland staff, gave the Chicago White Sox just five hits to win this third victory of the season 3 to 2. Behind him the Indians hit safely 13 times.

This was just one sample of how Cleveland has been going through the early games. Ferrell has hurled two full games and parts of two others, winning three and losing one. The batters, with the recruit Joe Voshick setting the pace, also have been going at a great clip.

Yesterday's other game produced a tight battle between the St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers, two teams which have shown signs of being dark horses in the pennant race. They have met five times so far out of six games for the Browns and eight for Detroit and the standing between them is 3 to 2 for St. Louis despite yesterday's defeat.

Tom Bridges, the Tigers' recruit hurler, had the better of the mound duel with Southpaw Walter Stewart, who pitched his third full game of the season.

Rain and cold weather throughout the major league portion of the country caused the postponement of all National league games and two in the American.

That is the ambition of Tony Canzoneri, the game-cock lightweight champion of the world, and Jack (Kid) Berg, Great Britain's fistie pride and holder of the world junior lightweight title. Their ambitions will be realized, one way or the other, when they toss their respective boxing crowns into the Chicago stadium ring tonight.

Canzoneri's lightweight championship will be at stake and so will Berg's title, a minor championship recognized by the National Boxing association. The titles will be involved as both warriors will be under the lightweight division limit of 135 pounds. Canzoneri scaled 132 pounds today after going through a brisk warming up workout, while Berg tipped the beam at 133.

Outstanding lightweight youngsters will angle in bouts supporting the title event. Tony Herrera, fast punching Mexican lightweight, will engage Steve Halaiko, Buffalo, N. Y., in the eight-round semi-windup at 135 pounds. Lud Abella, Madrid, Spain, will collide with Barney Ross, Chicago, in another eight, while Harry Dubinsky, clever young Chicagoan, will attempt to retrieve a recent loss to Roger Bernard, Detroit, in a third eight-round bout.

Chicago Battlers Will Enter Ring For Championship

By CHARLES DUNKLEY Associated Press Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, April 24. (AP)—Two championships or none at all!

That is the ambition of Tony Canzoneri, the game-cock lightweight champion of the world, and Jack (Kid) Berg, Great Britain's fistie pride and holder of the world junior lightweight title. Their ambitions will be realized, one way or the other, when they toss their respective boxing crowns into the Chicago stadium ring tonight.

The titles will be involved as both warriors will be under the lightweight division limit of 135 pounds. Canzoneri, one-time holder of the world welterweight championship, will be defending his latest title for the first time since he won it from Al Singer last November, and if the betting odds are indicative of the outcome, the lightweight title will take a trip to England the next time Berg goes home. The slambang Britisher today was held a 7 to 5 favorite to win by a decision at the end of the 10-round engagement.

Canzoneri's title was dragged into the argument when Berg, who has done his fighting at 136-40 pounds, made the lightweight limit of 135 pounds to get a crack at the more expensive crown.

Berg, who scored a decisive victory over Canzoneri in New York before the latter won his title, said making the weight had done the British no good and was confident he would win by a knockout within five rounds.

Sport Slants

BY ALAN GOULD

The radio microphone and the well known "invisible audience" seem to have a strange if not actually paralyzing effect on a number of our star athletes, who think nothing of doing their stuff ordinarily before thousands of roaring or gasping fanatics.

Lefty Grove's confidence on the mound is such that he feels no special qualms in pitching to the eminent George Herman Ruth, but before the "mike" in Washington, the star outpaw of the A's obviously was nervous and rattled in getting the slightest attention to the crowd.

By contrast, Ruth was very much at ease, speaking for the most part extemporaneously on a variety of subjects and with obvious confidence. The Babe had more experience at public speaking than Grove. In addition self-confidence always has been a conspicuous asset of the Yankee slugger.

Snow Predicted As Meet Opens

DES MOINES, April 24. (AP)—With chilly weather and possibly some rain or snow during the next two days in prospect, 2,500 college and high school athletes today opened the twenty-second annual Drake relays.

Hope of record smashing performances in a half dozen or more events seemed dependent upon a relenting weather man who decreed continued cool weather.

In the 100-yard dash Eddie Tolan of Michigan, last of the sensational college sprint acts of 1929 and 1930, stood alone to defend the old school's honors against the newer threats. His most dangerous rivals appeared to be Peyton Glass, the Oklahoma polo captain, scored nine goals in a spring game against the Colorado Aggies.

Jp Massey, Macon, Ga., amateur golfer, picks a rainy day to test his ability to enter a tournament.

Strangely enough, when it came to remarks about the outcome of the pennant races, Grove picked the Athletics. Vance nominated the Brooklyn Robins, Ruth picked the Yankees "if they get a little pitching," and Wilson selected the Cubs to win.

Ruth made the magnificent gesture by agreeing with Vance that the National league race figured to be a lot tougher than the American.

SCHMELING IS SURE OF WIN OVER "STRIB"

THINKS HE WILL WEAR GEORGIA BOY DOWN IN FIFTEEN ROUNDS.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., April 24. (AP)—Max Schmeling, present king of the heavyweights, believes the "best man" will win his bout with W. L. "Young" Stribling at Cleveland July 3, but of course he believes Herr Maxie himself is the person to whom he is referring.

He has seen Stribling fight and does not hold him lightly. He knows the Georgian is strong and tricky but the German expects to wear him down over the 15-round route. He doesn't believe Stribling will hit as hard as Jack Sharkey did.

"I think it's going to be a good fight in Cleveland," he said. He admitted the possibility of losing, of course, and said in that event he would fight three or four more times in this country to merit a return match with the champion next summer.

Schmeling does not rate the mountain, Primo Carnera, so highly. The Italian is scheduled to meet the winner of the Schmeling-Stribling encounter.

"He's a good man, of course, for his size, but he doesn't seem to have much hope of getting to the top," Max said. "You know, he isn't fast enough."

"Sharkey? Well, he's getting too old. When a man gets past 30 and doesn't fight more than once a year he has a hard time getting in shape."

Schmeling is at French Lick Springs resting before beginning an exhibition tour. The resting consists almost entirely of golf. The German is no Bobby Jones, but of course Bobby is not much of a heavyweight champ either. Max's best score so far over the course here is 98.

SPONSOR MARRIAGE

DUMAS, April 24. (AP)—There is no premium on marriage in Moore county.

Not a single marriage certificate has been issued by the Moore county clerk during 1931. So worried are residents of this city that the Moore County News is sponsoring a "shower" of household necessities to encourage someone to get married—"by June anyway."

The News editor proposes to buy the license; any minister in Dumas will perform the ceremony, and merchants are donating a long list of merchandise.

Dumas marriages are generally performed at Clayton, N. C.

Eddie Moore, center fielder for Fort Worth in the Texas league, played in 573 consecutive games.

Eddie Tolan, Michigan's great negro sprinter, has yet to finish better than three in the 100 at the Drake relays. He is to try again this spring.

CANZONERI IS TO MEET BERG THIS EVENING

His Title Will Be Given Berg If Britisher Is Not Weakened.

CHICAGO, April 24. (AP)—Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion of the world, will match his title against the junior welterweight crown owned by Jack (Kid) Berg of Whitechapel, England, tonight in the Chicago stadium.

Canzoneri, one-time holder of the world welterweight championship, will be defending his latest title for the first time since he won it from Al Singer last November, and if the betting odds are indicative of the outcome, the lightweight title will take a trip to England the next time Berg goes home. HEALTH OFFICER MARRIES

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 24. (AP)—A trip to Washington originally planned to attend a meeting of the international state and territorial health officers had become a honeymoon journey today for Dr. J. G. Anderson, Texas state health officer, and Miss Anna C. Tobin of Austin, who were married here yesterday. They obtained a license after the license bureau had closed and were married in the Pulaski county courthouse, leaving soon afterward for Washington.

Panhandle Athletes Are Gathering At Canyon for District No. 1 Meet

CANYON, April 24. (Special)—"I hope I'll get to Austin." In every part of Canyon this is heard today, in accents hopeful or wistful as hundreds of high school boys and girls from 22 Panhandle counties are gathering to compete in the contests of the first district Texas Interscholastic league.

Literary events, including debate, extemporaneous speaking, and declamations, and all sorts of track and court activities will make up the two-day program.

The trip to the state capital is the highlight of the school year for those who win in the contests. Frequently the winners are lads or lassies who have never spent a night in a Pullman, and who know little of Texas. They take the trip with eyes and minds and hearts open for all that Texas can offer them.

W. E. Lockhart, director general of the first district declares, "no boy or girl can take part in these contests and make the trip to the state contests without coming back with a better citizenship and sportsmanship." The contestants usually go by special train, with experienced chaperones and teachers to help them use every minute of their time profitably. A visit to all the state institutions in and about Austin is a most desirable part of the trip. No wonder "I hope I'll get to go to Austin" is the expression of the day.

The Pampa high school track and field squad is in Canyon this afternoon participating in the district one meet.

Despite rain here, Coach Chas. Mitchell and his boys left early so that they would have time to rest before preliminaries start at 4 o'clock. The team will run on a cinder track for the first time this season. Many of the boys attended the meet last season and liked the cinder paths.

Albert Lard will be in a green and gold uniform but not in the best of condition. Coach Mitchell's greatest sprinter was injured last Friday in Amarillo and has been favoring his left leg since.

By winning the Gray county meet at McLean this spring, the entire Harvester team is eligible to participate in the district event. Coach Mitchell has made several changes in his line-up since that date and believes he has a more formidable team. His boys have won two firsts, a second, and several third places in competition since the county meet.

Captain Jim Ayres will lead the Harvester squad in battle. The oldest and tallest member of the hurdles and jumping events.

Following is a list of Pampa entries:

100-yard dash—Albert Lard, Joe Kahl, Durwood Martindale.

220-yard dash—Albert Lard, Leon Robinson, Joe Kahl.

440-yard dash—Albert Lard, Sam Kleth, Joe Kahl or Leon Robinson.

Half mile—Wayne Kelley, Bill Kelley, Bill Finley.

1 Mile—Ray Weedman.

120-yard high hurdles—Jim Ayres, Durwood Martindale, Parks Brumley or Harley Kennedy.

220-yard low hurdles—Floyd Collins, Jim Ayres, Durwood Martindale or Parks Brumley.

Chick Hafey Is Near Suspension

ST. LOUIS, April 24. (AP)—Charles James (Chick) Hafey, the St. Louis Cardinals' heaviest gunner, still was among the missing today and unless he puts in a sudden and unexpected appearance before midnight and signs a contract he will be suspended automatically.

Few details of the salary dispute, other than that Hafey has been offered the offer, have been given since the offer, have been given out by the Cardinals' front office. Reports on what Hafey is demanding have varied, but the one generally accepted by the fans is that he is seeking a 3-year contract starting at $14,500, with a $1,000 raise in 1932 and a similar increase in 1933. Another report is that Hafey offered to accept a one-year contract for $13,500.

It appeared certain today Hafey will play for $12,500 or won't play at all for the Cardinals. President Sam Breadon of the Cards has set that as his maximum figure and Breadon probably changes his mind on such matters less often than any other baseball magnate.

Even if Hafey should come to terms, Breadon said his salary would not start until he is in playing condition, which means each day outfielder he is costing the big Californian about $75.

Buttram Resigns As Regent When Ouster Is Dropped

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 24. (AP)—Frank Buttram, wealthy oil man who applied to the office Gov. William H. Murray now holds, stepped down as regent of the University of Oklahoma today, but not by the ouster route first intended by the chief executive.

The governor last night withdrew his executive order removing Buttram from the board. Buttram then resigned.

Raymond Tolbert, Oklahoma City attorney, formerly head of the university alumni association, was named to succeed Buttram.

"I believe," Murray said, "that Mr. Tolbert's services as a member of the board will meet the entire confidence and approval of all concerned."

Rebels Are Pursued By Honduran Troops

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, April 24. (AP)—Government troops, victorious in severe fighting in the San Pedro Sula area, today pursued a fleeing rebel army into the mountains near Honduran interior.

Advices here from the field staff today said all rebels had been cleared from the Puerto Cortes area and it was not believed there was any further danger of an attack on San Pedro Sula from the rebel band between Tegucigalpa and the coast.

The Auburn Tigers met their first defeat of the season in the new Dixie college baseball league at the hands of Oglethorpe.

ONETIME CONQUEROR OF CLINGMAN WILL ATTEMPT TO REPEAT FEAT TONIGHT

Ellis, Four Years Ago Showed Young Grappler That His Game Was No Snap.

Wrestling for this week will be staged at the Majestic tonight when Otis Clingman will meet a man who holds a victory over him—John Ellis. The Oklahoma met Clingman four years ago and decisively defeated him. The local man says that the memory of that beating, administered before a number of his friends, is still keen. Until he met Ellis, Clingman had the idea that wrestling was according to rule.

Ellis sarcastically says Clingman is just a baby faced beginner that needs to be slapped down again. Probably Ellis does not know the Clingman of 1931, a thorn in the side of World Champion Gus Kallilo. In great condition, Clingman is confident he will keep up his winning streak.

Clingman has won 28 out of his last 31 falls and has not lost a match during that time. He has wrestled all comers in Texas, New Mexico and Colorado during his last winning spree.

Red Michaels, Clingman's protege, will meet a young wildcat in Claude Swindell of Columbus, Ohio, in the semi-final match. Advance dope gives the Ohion a lot of odds on the back as a coming mauler.

Andy Gump and J. C. Lewis will be on the preliminary card while an added attraction will bring Buck Mundy and Tony Boyington to the mat in a special bout. Both boys are being coached by Harry Scully at the high school. Clingman says they have great futures in the wrestling game.

TEXAS RACE HAS 3-WAY TIE OF CLUBS

Six Defeats And Two Losses Best Record of State's Teams.

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Texas league pennant marathons floated into a three-way jam for the pinnacle Thursday afternoon when Fort Worth and Beaumont triumphed while Dallas dropped a ten-inning battle to Wichita Falls. Friday found these three aggregations at the top with six wins and two defeats each.

Art Phelan's Fort Worth Kittens had no trouble at all during their 7 to 0 scrimmage against the Shreveport Sports. Southpaw Roy Hansen started and finished or the Cats, stopping Shreveport with six hits. Oscar Estrada pitched mediocre baseball for the Sports, allowing 12 hits.

Beaumont jumped into a tie for first place by finishing strong to defeat the Galveston Buccaneers 2 to 1. Galveston enjoyed a 1 to 0 lead until the last of the ninth when Beaumont filled the baselines and Holley doubled to drive in two runs to win the ball game. It was Beaumont's sixth straight win. Henry Thormahlen pitched superb ball for the Buccaneers until the eighth inning when the Steers started a hitting stampede against White, Spudder hurler, that netted three runs.

Garland Orr, San Antonio outfielder, smacked four hits to aid his team in its 9 to 4 victory over Houston in a night game at Houston. The Alamo City boys got away with eight runs in the first five innings. It was Houston's fourth defeat this season and dropped the Buffaloes into fifth place.

LOCAL PUPILS ENTERING DISTRICT CONTESTS TODAY

REPRESENTATIVES FROM ALL PARTS OF PANHANDLE TAKING PART IN LITERARY FEATURES

A number of local pupils left this morning for Canyon, where they will compete in literary events with winning pupils throughout the Panhandle in the District I, Interscholastic League meet, today and tomorrow.

Among high school pupils making the trip were LaVelle Meyer, Ruth Wakeman, Charles Frost, and LaVerne Vicars, debaters, and the following typists: Esther Stark, Yedda and Bessie Stein, Laniece Chaffin, alternate, Clyde Carlet, Kathleen Helmick, alternate, Lucile Kentling, and Leona Leadman.

Edna Dunaway, junior high school debater, made the trip, and a theme, "Why I Should Like to Go to College," by Jim Bob Johnson was sent from junior high.

Winners in the Canyon contest will compete against the other 25 districts of Texas in the state meet at Austin, May 7, 8, and 9. Registration was to have begun at 11 o'clock this morning and preliminaries in the literary events were to have opened at 1 o'clock this afternoon at West Texas State Teachers college.

Among the literary department contests are debate, declamation, extemporaneous speaking, music memory, typewriting, essay, food and clothing tests.

Both Class A and Class B schools are represented. Elimination contests were held during the last few weeks in these classes in each county, but the representatives are competing at Canyon as individuals, regardless of class, in most of the events. Rural and city schools, however, are separated in one or two of the events, and junior and senior classifications also will be made in some instances.

W. E. Lockhart, of the college at Canyon, is director general of the meet, and has a staff of department heads in charge of the various events.

"The Open Gate" Is To Be Given

Members of Pampa's Little Theater will hear "The Open Gate," a one-act play, in their meeting of next Monday evening.

The Little Theater play will be given by a cast which includes Mrs. E. M. Conley, W. O. Workman, Emmet Smith, and Mrs. Curtis Douglas. Mrs. Douglas is director. The story is that of an old maid and her niece, with the latter in love with a youth whose uncle was once the lover of the aunt. The girl's aunt and the boy's uncle separated 20 years before the time of the play, but left the gate open to their romance. It is a pretty story which takes about 40 minutes to unfold.

Other parts of the program will be vocal solos by Jimmie Drake and the business session.

'APRIL SHOWER' IS FAVOR OF SENIOR GIRLS

An "April shower" delighted girls of this year's high school graduating class when they were entertained by A. A. U. W. and College club members at the Schneider hotel Thursday evening.

A lovely three-course banquet was served at 8:30 o'clock from foreshore tables centered with umbrellas in pastel shades. Places were marked with cards in an umbrella design. A shower of presents tied in silver paper with white ribbon, hung from the ceiling, and the decorations were made more colorful with clusters of bright balloons.

An important feature of the event was the presentation of a year's scholarship to Miss Ruth Wakeman. She may choose her own college. The scholarship each year is presented on the basis of scholastic standing, which must be in the upper two-fifths, personality, general character, and service to the school. Words of presentation were given by Mrs. Paul Kasahke, chairman of the scholarship committee.

Mrs. Virginia Duerr presided over the banquet, and Mrs. George Briggs was principal speaker.

"Some education," said Mrs. Briggs, "is transformed into egotism, some is transformed into intolerance, and some is transformed into false ideals, but the only worthwhile education is that which is converted into service."

Miss Fannie May, president of the organization, introduced the following officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. A. M. Teed; first vice-president, Mrs. E. L. Norman; second vice-president, Miss Wilma Chapman; third vice-president, Mrs. A. B. Goldston; recording secretary, Mrs. E. C. Will; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Will R. Saunders; treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Hicks; parliamentarian, Mrs. Tom Rose; publicity chairman, Mrs. Olin E. Hinkle.

Mt. Vernon Is Reproduced for Exhibit

PARIS. (AP)—On a sloping plot in the Park of Vincennes, French workmen have driven the last nails in the facade of Mount Vernon, reproduced as part of the United States exhibit in the International Colonial and Overseas Exposition.

The show is to open early in May at a ceremony which probably will be the last official function of President Gaston Doumergue. His term as president of France will expire a few weeks later.

Furnishings of the historic home of George Washington, complete in every detail, are being installed in the Mount Vernon reproduction under the supervision of Miss Anne Madison Washington, great-great-grand-niece of the first president of the United States.

Miss Washington, whose father was the last child born at Mount Vernon, will act as hostess at the mansion during the six months of the exposition.

With the cooperation of the Mount Vernon Ladies' association, which maintains the real Mount Vernon, every detail of the historic mansion has been measured and reproduced, from the carved mantelpieces and built-in cupboards to the pots and pans in Martha Washington's brick-floored kitchen.

Of greatest interest to the French is the reproduction of Lafayette's room. The chamber where the French general stayed when he visited Mount Vernon in 1783.

Several historical articles have been brought here. At the foot of the bed in George Washington's room will stand the battered trunk which accompanied him on all his revolutionary campaigns, while his sword, mess kit and camping outfit, loaned by the Smithsonian Institution will be displayed in other parts of the mansion.

In addition to the Mount Vernon pavilion, the United States will stage colonial exhibits from Hawaii, Porto Rico, Alaska and the Philippine Islands. The whole has been financed by an appropriation of $250,000 from the United States government.

"American Week" at the exposition will be staged from June 28 to July 4, when the ceremonies will climax with a reproduction of Lafayette's Independence Day visit to Mount Vernon.

As that time the march "The Legionnaires," composed by John Philip Sousa as America's musical contribution to the exposition, will be played by the band of the French Foreign Legion.

Mrs. Fay Scott and Mrs. G. W. Marshall underwent minor operations at Pampa hospital last night.

BALTIMORE, April 23. (AP)—Seventeen years old, Barbara S. Poole has just received a private pilot's license from a Missouri flying school and plans to go to British Guiana to fly a plane for a gold-mining company there.

The youthful aviatrix said she has been offered the position in British Guiana by R. M. Sage, American operator of the mine.

If present plans mature, the girl, who is in South America with the transportation of supplies from the nearest town to the mine, a distance of 150 miles.

Miss Poole entered aviation about six months ago, enrolling for a ground course in aeronautics at a local flying school.

Last January, desiring to gain more flying time and ultimately to qualify for a transport pilot's license, she advertised in an aviation magazine, describing herself and stating her number of hours of solo flying.

Her notice also stated that she would go anywhere to gain more flying time. Sage, she said, was one of the first to answer the advertisement, and the two made tentative arrangements.

Kiwanis Members to Feed on Beans

The characteristic and highly nutritious seed of certain leguminous plants of the family Fabaceae, hence called the bean family.

With emphasis on "beans" the members of the local Kiwanis club will have a big feast Monday night, May 4.

Several months ago an attendance contest was launched by the club with the membership divided into two teams, the "Reds" and the "Whites." It is the members of the "Red" team who will enjoy the "bean feast."

Under the leadership of C. M. Carlock his team was defeated by Elmer Blair and his faithful followers.

On the same night that the members of the winning team will eat chicken, etc., and the other members will eat "seed of certain leguminous plants," the national convention at Miami, Fla., will be in session. President Paul D. Hill and A. G. Post will represent the Pampa club at the convention.

Visitors at the luncheon included Joseph R. Lazarus, F. G. Dodson, and F. H. Meskimen.

WOOLWORTH RELATIVE DIES

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—The death of James Paul Donahue, son-in-law of the late Frank W. Woolworth, was entered in official records today as having been caused by poison taken "with suicidal intent."

But Mr. Donahue's physician, Dr. Henry Craig Fleming, ascribed the death to "uremia, probably induced by mercurial poison," and added: "There is absolutely no evidence whatsoever that the poison was taken with suicidal intent."

TO VOTE ON REPUBLIC

MADRID, April 24. (AP)—The provisional republican government of Spain laid its plans today for national parliamentary elections June 21, the resulting assembly to be the first cortes Spain will have known in eight years.

Since the issue will be a clearcut "monarchy or republic" decision the elections will give the dethroned Alfonso the answer which when he left Madrid he said he would wish in exile, whether his people wish him to return to power or not.

Navy's Blimps on Parade Over Manhattan

Steering clear of Manhattan's loftiest skyscraper peaks, three of the United States Navy's baby lighter-than-air ships made this striking picture during an aerial parade over the metropolis. It was a training exercise for the blimps J-3 and J-4 and the all-metal ZMO-2, photographed here from an airplane. That's the Hudson river in the background, and the tall, sentinel-like structure toward the center of the picture is the Empire State building, highest in the world, where dirigibles are to be moored.

COTTON FAIRLY EASY

NEW ORLEANS, April 24. (AP)—Cotton had rather a firm and fairly active opening today. Liverpool came in very much better than due, and early reports from Texas indicated that considerable young cotton had been killed by the recent freeze. First tracks here showed gains of 11 to 13 points, with July at 10.45 and October at 10.81. Prices eased off 3 to 4 points soon after the start on realizing but toward the end of the first hour, this slight dip had already been recovered and the undertone was firm.

Texas reports indicated that there would be rather heavy weevil emergence this spring.

WHEAT IS FIRM

CHICAGO, April 24. (AP)—Crop deterioration reports from Kansas and unexpected firmness of Liverpool wheat quotations led to early upturns today in grain prices here. Absence of any important amount of moisture in spring wheat territory also was a bullish factor. Opening at a shade decline to 5-8 cents advance wheat later held near to the initial limits. Corn started 1-8 off to 1-4 up, and subsequently showed all around gains.

Ford Factory Doctor Pays High Tribute To Sargon's Powers

"Sargon is one of the most powerful strengthening, reconstructive tonics and body builders I have known in the 30 years I have engaged in the practice of medicine," declared Dr. P. K. Drummond, for 12 years factory physician at the Ford Motor Co., Detroit, who was retained to examine the formula.

"At this season of the year, especially, people who are in a rundown condition, due to simple anemia, thin, watery blood, poor digestion or elimination, should benefit richly from the Sargon treatment," Dr. Drummond's straightforward endorsement of Sargon is typical of the unstinted praise it has received from scores of other outstanding physicians and explains why Sargon is having the largest sale of any tonic medicine of its kind in the world today.

Gasoline Market Slump Caused By New Competition

TULSA, Okla., April 24. (AP)—The Midcontinent gasoline market, in a slump most of the year, was agitated by two things—unfavorable weather and the introduction of a "competitive grade" of gasoline.

The question of whether other marketers would follow the Standard Oil company of Indiana and the Pure Oil company in offering a third grade of gasoline to sell at lower prices than their two regular grades, created uncertainty.

The effect of weather conditions was to delay the beginning of the annual upswing in gasoline consumption. Whenever rain or cold checks the operation of the country's 27,000,000 motor vehicles, which use about 400,000,000 barrels of gasoline annually, the oil industry feels a decided effect.

In introducing their third grades of gasoline, the Standard of Indiana and Pure companies are making a bid for the business of the motorists who buy on price. In this way they hope to increase their volume of sales without losing any business in their established standard and highest brands of gasoline.

Executives of several other large companies, when asked their opinions concerning this third pump idea, said they were awaiting developments before deciding what policy they would take in meeting such competition.

Considerable speculation was precipitated as to the effect of the new brands. Officials of marketing companies operating in the Midcontinent area said several days probably would be required for the market to become adjusted to the new conditions.

Some talk was heard to the effect that a third grade of gasoline with a price appeal may offer a solution to the refiner's problem of disposing of lower grades of gasoline. Improvements in automobile motors and motor fuels have increased consumption of the so-called "anti-knock" gasolines, resulting in a diminishing demand for the lower grades.

Refiners found a note of encouragement today in the report of Platt's Oilgram and National Petroleum News showing that gasoline stocks in the Midcontinent area decreased 545,000 gallons, or four per cent, in the fiscal week ended April 17, totaling 127,184,000 gallons at the end of the week.

Production of gasoline for the same period totaled 49,870,000 gallons, an increase of 3,810,000 gallons over the preceding week's output, but shipments kept ahead of the production, totaling 49,612,000 gallons, an increase of 3,633,000 gallons.

Daily average crude oil runs to mills for the week totaled 311,772 barrels, an increase of 11,982 barrels.

MAD MARRIAGE
by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of HEART HUNGRY, etc.

Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old typist in a New York office, meets Jim Wallace at the home of her wealthy cousin, Anne Trowbridge. Gypsy is miserable because she has learned Alan Crosby, back from a year and a half in Paris studying art, no longer cares for her. Wallace tells Gypsy that he has been jilted by his fiancée. To spite the girl he cares for he asks Gypsy to marry him. She first refuses, later accepts. They are married next day and depart for Forest City, his home town.

At Jim's home they are greeted by his aunt, Miss Ellen Wallace, who immediately becomes hostile to the girl. A few days later, Miss Wallace moves to a cottage of her own. She gives a family dinner party at which Gypsy is snubbed by other relatives.

Jim undertakes the defense of Nina Roberts, accused of murdering her employer, Dr. Fowler. The case is sensational, with circumstantial evidence strongly against the girl. Gypsy becomes deeply interested and persuades Jim to take her to see Nina Roberts. Nina asks her to return alone. The following Saturday Gypsy goes again to the prison.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVII

Gypsy was in luck. She waited on the stone steps for several moments and then the face of the guard appeared behind the heavy iron door. It was Steve, the same guard she had seen the day she had come with Jim.

"I'm Mrs. Wallace," Gypsy said. "Jim Wallace's wife. I came with my husband the other day to see Nina Roberts. Don't you remember?"

The jail guard nodded.

"I wonder if I can see Nina this morning. I thought maybe a little company would do her good."

The guard turned the lock and swung the door open. "Come in," he said. He closed the door then and led the way to the office. "Sit down," he said, motioning toward a row of chairs, "while I get the matron."

Gypsy had not realized there might be any difficulty in seeing the girl. She tapped one foot nervously and stared at the only room. At a desk directly opposite a man was writing in a huge book.

She heard Steve's heavy footsteps. Mrs. Sloan, the matron, entered the room behind him.

"Good morning, Mrs. Wallace," she said, smiling. "Steve says you've come to see Nina."

"I—why, yes. I hope it won't be any trouble. With the trial starting tomorrow I thought she might like someone to talk to. How's she feeling?"

Mrs. Sloan shook her head. "That's a bad case," she said. "A bad case! You can go up if you want to. I don't know how you'll find her. I've seen lots of queer ones here but I can't understand that girl."

Gypsy followed up the stairs and down the corridor of barred cells. Nina was lying on her cot, her arm thrown over her eyes to shield them from the light.

"Someone to see you, Nina," Mrs. Sloan said as she unlocked the cell door.

The girl did not move. "Who is it?" she asked without the slightest show of interest.

"It's Mrs. Wallace," Gypsy said quickly. "If you're resting I don't want to disturb you. I can come another time."

Nina lowered her arm and looked up at them. The girl's eyes were red-rimmed and swollen. Then she sat up. "I wasn't resting," she said. "Don't go away."

Gypsy entered and sat down on the cot.

"I got the magazines," Nina said, pointing to the chair with the bright-covered, periodicals lay. "It was nice of you to send them."

Mrs. Sloan had fastened the door and was disappearing down the corridor. Gypsy covered Nina's hand with her own.

"I came as soon as I could," she said in a lower voice.

Nina was silent, looking down at the floor. When she glanced up her dark eyes studied Gypsy. "I guess I shouldn't have bothered you—" she began haltingly.

"But if there's anything at all that I can do for you I'd be so glad to do it!"

"Would you?"

"Oh, Nina, don't you realize there are lots of us on your side? You mustn't be so disheartened! You must help Jim fight this thing out!"

Suddenly Nina Roberts clenched Gypsy's hand. She held it so tightly it was painful. "Do you think I did it?" she demanded in a whisper.

"No, Nina, I don't."

The girl turned her head away. When she faced Gypsy again her voice was steady.

"I didn't do it," Nina said. "Gypsy had never felt so sorry for anyone in her life. There was nothing she could say. She patted the girl's arm comfortingly.

"They won't ask of them believe what I say," Nina said. "They won't any of them listen to me. I don't know why I asked you to come back here only there's something—well, there's something I've got to ask someone to do for me. After I tell you about it if you don't want to just say so."

"What is it?" Gypsy asked eagerly.

From the neck of her blouse Nina drew forth an envelope. It was blank on the outside.

"It's in here," the girl said. "I mean what I want you to send. It's a letter. The name and address are there too. It's a letter to a— to a boy I used to know back home. It's the trial goes—against me—I want him to have this letter. Will you send it for me? Will you do that?"

"Of course I will. Only don't think about things like that, Nina. The trial isn't going to go against you."

The girl did not seem to be listening.

"They asked me if I had any relatives," she was saying, "and I said no. Know why I did that? Because I didn't want them to know. And nobody does know. Nina Roberts isn't my real name. I changed it when I came here. It's all in the letter there. But it's not to go unless they send me away! Will you promise that if anything happens to me you'll send it to him?"

"I give you my word. I promise!"

Nina put the letter in Gypsy's hand. "Tell me," the girl went on quickly, "what do people outside

THE BETTER WAY TO PREVENT CONSTIPATION

You must look out for the health of your family. Often a faulty diet leads to constipation. Headaches, dizziness, loss of energy follow. Husband and children become irritable. Serious disease may develop.

You can prevent this by including roughage in the diet. A pleasant way to supply this roughage is with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, a delicious, ready-to-eat cereal.

Two tablespoons daily, for each person, will prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases, use with each meal. Do this instead of giving them habit-forming pills and drugs.

ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron to enrich the blood and lend color to cheeks and lips. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

(Continued From Page 8) think? Do they say I did it? They won't let me see newspapers. They won't tell me anything!

Gypsy hesitated. "Lots of people are sympathetic with you," she said, "only the case is such a complete mystery. Jim's traced down every clue. Nina, who do you think shot the doctor?" "I don't know!" "But haven't you the slightest idea?"

Nina Roberts jumped up and walked back and forth in the tiny cell. "I've told them a thousand times I don't know," she began resentfully. "That's what they're always asking me. Do you think I had the slightest idea I wouldn't have been told? Night after night I've lain here and tried to figure it out."

"I suppose you know Jim's going to try to show it was suicide?"

Nina shook her head. "Doc wouldn't have done that," she said. "He didn't have the nerve."

"But it's the only chance to save your life, my dear girl!" Nina was quiet again. She sank down to the cot.

"Wasn't there anyone at all you knew he had trouble with?" Gypsy persisted.

"No one!" Nina said. "He never talked much to me about anything like that. Oh—God, how I wish I'd never seen that man!"

There was no use continuing. It only increased the girl's misery. Gypsy arose.

"I'd better leave you now," she said. "You're getting nervous and worked up. Mrs. Sloan will never let me see you again. There—she's coming!"

They heard the matron's voice on the stairway. Gypsy turned and put the letter Nina had given her in her handbag. "I'll do just as you asked me to with this," she promised.

"And if there's anything else I can do let me know. You can send word by my husband. He doesn't know I came this morning but you can tell him you want to see me."

Nina put out her hand timidly and took Gypsy's. "Thanks," she said. "I only hope some time I can repay you."

Gypsy smiled. "Of course you will!" she said. "Goodbye, Nina. I'll see you again soon."

She followed Mrs. Sloan down the corridor. "Would she talk to you?" the matron asked.

"Yes, she talked. Oh, Mrs. Sloan, aren't you sorry for her? She isn't like—well, the sort of girl you'd expect to find here!"

"Plenty of them aren't, so far as that goes," the woman answered. "Sure, I'm sorry for all of them. But you can't tell about murder, Mrs. Wallace. They're the cases that surprise you. I've seen them come in here in their fur coats and silks looking so elegant and guilty as sin. This one I don't know about. She's a puzzle."

They were in the office now. Gypsy thanked the matron and left. As before when she left the prison she inhaled the fresh air with a deep sense of relief. Then she squared her shoulders and walked away rapidly.

The first three days of the Roberts trial dragged. There was the routine of selecting the jury with constant bickering and disagreement between the lawyers. The case was being heard by Judge Knox, a fact Jim Wallace regarded as encouraging. Knox was a jurist inclined to temper the cold letter of the law with human sympathy.

There were new photographs of Nina in the newspapers, blurred glimpses showing only a part of her face, caught by the camera man as she was on her way from the jail to the courtroom. There was one mysteriously obtained portrait which showed the girl sitting beside Jim, gazing directly forward. She wore a simple blue frock with white at the throat and a black, brimless hat that increased her pallor. Nina looked much prettier than when Gypsy had seen her in the prison but her expression was still lifeless and brooding. Most of the time she rested her chin on her hand, half-concealing her face from the crowd that packed the courtroom. Frequently Gypsy felt pangs of guilt over the letter Nina had given her. She had not mentioned it to Jim. Was it right to keep this information from him? The slightest gleam, she knew, was sometimes the turning point in a great victory. Jim was fighting so hard now and the case looked so black.

She had given her promise, however, and she could not bring herself to break it.

As much of the time as possible Gypsy was in court. She was amazed at Jim's aggressive manner, at the fiery fluency of his attacks.

It was the second day of the hearing before the jury that Gypsy heard Bennett, the state's attorney, call out the name, "Mrs. Fowler."

A woman in black rose and came forward. She was of medium height and rather heavily built. She wore a black veil which she threw back when seated in the witness stand. Gypsy thought her face might have been attractive but for the swollen eyelids and obvious signs of weeping.

Bennet began to ask questions. Yes, the woman said, she was the wife of Dr. Frank Fowler. She told where they lived. She had last seen her husband when he left the house after breakfast the morning of the day on which he died. She had seen his body later at the hospital. Her words were interrupted at times when her handkerchief went to her eyes.

Her first news of the tragedy, Mrs. Fowler continued, had been a message from police headquarters. She thought it must have come about 6.30. She had been waiting for her husband to come home to dinner when the telephone rang. Yes—she was alone in the house except for Bobbie. Bobbie was the two-year-old child the Fowlers had taken into their home a year before. He was in his crib asleep and Mrs. Fowler had had to run to the neighbors to get someone to stay with the child before she could leave for the hospital.

Had there ever been any trouble between herself and her husband? Mrs. Fowler said no. Did she know anyone who might wish to do him harm? The woman's answer, scarcely audible, was in the negative.

"Now, Mrs. Fowler," the voice of the state's attorney rose slightly, "have you ever seen this young woman before?" He pointed toward Nina Roberts.

Heads were craned forward. A murmur of excitement circled the room. A woman's voice cried out: "She's fainting!"

Pretender Wants To Become King

PARIS, April 24. (AP)—Don Jaime de Bourbon-Arjou, a cousin of the deposed Alfonso and fifth of the Carlist line of pretenders, today laid claim to the Spanish throne in a published manifesto which said: "Remember, I am always ready to help Spain avoid anarchy."

He asked the Spanish people to declare in the approaching elections whether they are republican monarchist, and inviting them to favor the latter, said the resulting monarchy need have no relations with the former regime but could be renewed, progressive and decentralized.

"My desire is to have a king head the federation of Spain," he said. "A king above parties. Even the republicans admit that a great part of the Spanish people favor the monarchy. It is unjust to suppress the monarchy because one king does not know how to make his people love him."

He will join Sunday in a pilgrimage to Cape Henry, Va., where 324 years ago English colonists under Don Jaime, who once served as a colonel in the old czarist army, is 60 years old.

HOOVER TO MAKE TRIP
WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP)—President Hoover tomorrow will turn southward to take part in the celebration of an anniversary of one of the country's important historical events.

He will join Sunday in a pilgrimage to Cape Henry, Va., where 324 years ago English colonists under the leadership of Captain John Smith, of Pocahontas fame, landed and stopped for a few days before journeying to Jamestown and establishing the first permanent colony in America.

W. H. Davis returned yesterday from a three-day gas measurement school held at the University of Oklahoma, Norman.

About New York

NEW YORK—"The columnist is king in the American newspaper today," a magazine proclaims. And mothers from here to Alhambra, Calif., probably will begin raising their boys to be columnists. King, eh? Well, look what happened to the king of Spain. If somebody doesn't play an ace, he's apt to have a joker, and then where are you? A joker beats a king in this game. "The racket isn't what it's cracked up to be."

We Gadabouts!
A lot of people have the impression that all a columnist has to do is find ways to spend time. "Oh, how I envy you," they exclaim. "Evenings just a round of parties and night club chit-chats. These up at noon and a few minutes dashing off that twaddle you do between scrambled egg and toast."
Says who? Of course, if you happen to be a Grade A guy, you may be allowed to mingle with the top cream folk. But the agony of writing about it!

Finley Peter Dunne never was a columnist, but his case may be an example of how columnists suffer. It is said that he would go to any extreme to postpone creation of a Mr. Dooley piece. When the rest of the world is going home to the wife and totties the columnist is being lashed by an onrushing deadline.
So it's a gay life? Ever try to do a day's work after stumbling home at 4 a.m. with the smoke of a night club in your eyes and a charley horse in the right arm from jotting notes that never are so hot the next day?
And about those notes. There's a mistaken idea that every columnist has a secretary to assemble his material. I wish that were so. Then when you heard that Patrolman William Wood of the mounted police was known as "the song and dance cop" because of his entertaining ways at amateur shows, you would merely have to say:

"Miss Garfinkle, please get out my notes on Barney, the popular Broadway cop, and that other cop they call the Adonis of the force and that 'Eagle Eye Gus' Somebody, who spots all the stolen cars as they cross Brooklyn bridge. I want to put them in a paragraph."
Apologia
Or maybe you think of a subject like "Legends of Broadway". But all you remember is that William Anthony McGuire habitually writes two acts of a Ziegfeld musical comedy and then forgets to work on the third scene until somebody finds him just before the opening night. You can't get far on that.

While you're pondering you decide to use the gags that pour in (like frozen concrete) in your mail. You open the first letter and find the following:
"He: It cost $945."
"She: F. O. B."
"He: Nope spare tires and everything else came with it."
The rest are worse, if possible. But it beats selling apples.

Liquor Fishing Is Gulf Sport

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 24. (AP)—Liquor fishing has been booming near Port Aransas at the expense of tarpon and mackerel fishing. Eighty sacks, each containing 12 pints of Canadian liquor, have been reported taken from the water. The new departure in fishing started several days ago when the first two sacks of liquor floated in. Since then other sacks have drifted in over the jetties or have been rescued from the water.
