TREMORS ARE STILL FELT IN STRICKEN CITY

Bodies Are Being Taken Out of Ruins Hourly by Big Relief Squad, Joined by U. S. Marines.

PLENTY OF FOOD

Planes Carry Physicians to Managua and Ships Rush With Everything That Is to Be Needed.

By WILLIAM H. EWING Associated Press Staff Correspondent (Copyright, 1931, by The Associated Press)

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 2. (AP)—With six hundred bodies recovered from the ruins, Col. Frederick L. Bradman, U. S. M. C., in charge of the relief plans, estimated the total dead from the earthquake at 2,000 persons.

The excavating for bodies continued throughout the day and more were being taken out hourly. Meanwhile, new shocks occurred. Two tremors during the night shook down a number of rickety houses still standing. The hardest one appeared about 4 a. m., awakening outdoor sleepers who had scattered to the outskirts of the city to rest on cots, benches, and on the ground.

Natives Return At daybreak, hundreds of natives who precipitately left the city yesterday returned and poked through the ruins, salvaging their personal belongings and household furniture and carrying them by mule, ox-cart, automobile and train into the city. The marines appeared to have the situation well in hand. An abundance of food and medical supplies was arriving. There seemed to be enough surgeons and doctors to care for the injured.

Earnest J. Swift, Red Cross official, was expected during the day from Miami in an amphibian plane and will undertake relief work which has already started from several points.

Planes Arrive Amphibians from the U. S. S. Lexington arrived yesterday and last night, bringing air surgeons and supplies and promising more today. The U. S. S. Rochester, steaming up the west coast from Balboa, is expected tomorrow with food supplies.

Virtually all of the injured have been treated through the heroic work of the marine, army, and navy forces who have worked unceasingly since the first shocks on Tuesday.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 2. (AP)—Razed by earthquake, gutted by fire, Managua today was an almost deserted city of smoldering, crumpled ruins, its debris littered streets peopled largely by grim, silent marines and Nicaraguan national guards.

On the hills about the city stand tents, made in some cases from bed clothes, and other hastily erected temporary shelters in which more than 30,000 of the stricken city's population are camped, fearful of return to Managua's ruins and uncertain of the future.

Funerals in Progress On one hill overlooking the city, a giant funeral pyre, fed by the quakes of Tuesday is being used as an improvised crematorium to which most of the bodies recovered are being taken as soon as they are extricated from the fallen masonry of the ruined city.

About 600 dead have been actually accounted for and it seemed probable today that the total would reach the initial estimate of 1,300.

El Paso Papers Are Consolidated

EL PASO, April 2. (AP)—The El Paso Evening Post, Scripps-Howard newspaper, today announced the purchase of its evening competitor, the El Paso Herald, from the Lindsay Nunn company. Beginning today the merged papers will be published as the El Paso Herald-Post.

Simultaneously, Clarence D. Roderick, who has held the title of resident publisher, bought the Morning and Sunday Times from his associates.

The negotiations were opened six months ago by Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo, Texas, Globe-News, on behalf of the Lindsay Nunn company, at a conference in New York with W. W. Hawkins, general manager of the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Purchase of the Herald involves none of its physical plant, which goes to the Times. Like Scripps-Howard's recent purchase of the New York World newspapers, the El Paso deal involves only the name, the good will, circulation lists, and the Associated Press membership of the paper purchased.

Library Must Have Funds to Keep Operating

The library is just about on the financial rocks again, according to John I. Bradley, chairman of the finance committee. It is now operating upon money borrowed from a bank, and unless those who have agreed to sponsor it come to its assistance, "well, there just won't be any money to run it," Mr. Bradley said.

This week he is writing letters to all the clubs who sponsored the library. Mr. Bradley pointed out that only a small portion of the citizenship bought library membership cards.

It is believed by the committee that an election will be called soon to determine whether a city tax shall be levied to support the institution. However, if the election is called and the levy voted, no money will be forthcoming until next year's taxes are paid.

Other members of the finance committee are Mrs. Glen Poole and Mrs. H. H. Hicks.

Children Invited To Kiwanis Party

Numerous gifts contributed by merchants will be an added feature of the occasion. Boy Scouts will assist by hiding the eggs and helping to care for the children.

Cox Brothers' Grocery Is Robbed Last Night; Third Time In Year

Cox Brothers' grocery store, near the Jones-Everett machine shop in South Pampa, was entered last night and burglarized of candy, cigars, cigarettes, and foodstuffs. The glass in the front door was broken and the lock on the inside turned. It was the third time the place has been robbed in less than a year. In the last burglary, thieves rolled the safe out the front door to a vacant lot and looted it of money and other valuables.

Julian and Borev were arrested here this morning at a hotel as they prepared to leave with Mollie, State Highway Patrolman Homer T. Sealey, in a statement to attorney's office, said he was standing near the hotel clerk's desk when Sheriff Joe Condon and the district

HIGH COST OF OWNING DOGS IS ISSUE NOW

Vaccination Fee Is Added to License; Rabies Halted by Plan Last Year After Big Scare in 1929.

OWNERS PROTEST

Sharp Decrease in Number of Licenses Noted in 1931—Erroneous Ideas About Vaccine Corrected.

"Hide the dog, Johnnie. I think yonder comes the dog-catcher!" And Fido or Flora goes under the bed, in the cellar, or under the rug until the terror of dog-lovers goes by. Somehow or another, the owners of man's best friend have the happy idea that the dog-catcher will not invade the sanctity of their homes and take their dogs, despite the high cost of owning the afforesaid best friend. For this year vaccination of dogs is not optional. If you buy a license, a tag, which costs $3 for Fido and $5 for Flora, you must spend $2 more and have the canine vaccinated for rabies. Everyone acknowledged without the slightest hesitation that vaccination is a wise idea.

Mad Dogs Recalled Pampans have not yet forgotten that in 1928, between 50 and 60 people were bitten by mad-dogs. The next year the city began vaccinating. Last year not a single person was bitten by a mad-dog. The necessity for vaccination is clearly obvious.

The point of contention between a number of dog owners and the city is the combined cost of the license and the vaccine injection. There is the owner of a fine bird dog out in the east part of town who talks a great deal about "the principle of the thing." Said he: "It's too much for both. I'll keep my dog locked up in the basement all year—I'll leave town before I'll pay such exorbitant fees. It's too much to pay $5. The license ought to cost a dollar and the vaccination a dollar—no more. I won't pay."

Practically the same argument was advanced yesterday by a lady in west Pampa, the owner of a German pointer.

Many have expressed similar opinions.

Amarillo Fee Cited Dr. T. J. Worrell, who vaccinates the dogs by injecting rabies vaccine into the loose skin on a dog's neck, says Pampa charges the same as Amarillo for registering and vaccinating a dog. Tom Holiday, Panhandle city marshal, said yesterday that a dog tag in Panhandle costs one dollar.

The actual cost of vaccinating one dog is 45 cents; that is, if you pay the veterinarian nothing. The vaccine costs approximately 45 cents, Dr. Worrell said. Only veterinarians with state licenses and those recognized by the state livestock and sanitary commission can administer the vaccine which is brain tissue from dogs that have been inoculated with virus.

One dog-owner declared Sunday that he wouldn't have his dog vaccinated because the vaccine makes them sick and in some cases destroys the health of the animal. Dr. Worrell says this is not true, and that vaccine never made any dog sick, and if it does some previous infection overcomes action of the vaccine and causes rabies.

He pointed out that it's cheaper to spend $2 vaccinating a dog than it is to spend $21 vaccinating a human. That is the actual cost, he said. In some cases human beings who are vaccinated are paralyzed for life.

Fewer Licenses Last year, 224 dogs were licensed and vaccinated by the city. Fees were paid on 90 per cent of these dogs by April 1. This year, only 124 dogs have been licensed and vaccinated. The dog-catcher has killed over a hundred dogs after keeping them in the pound a few days. He was out this morning hunting unlicensed dogs. Cost of registering dogs last year was the same as this year, and the reason for the comparatively few 1931 licenses lies in two conditions: the business depression and dissatisfaction with the license cost. Last year the city hired a dog-catcher who worked until summer. This year, a member of the police force is the dog-catcher.

Boiling kicked him lightly on the ankle. He held the trio for questioning until other officers arrived. Boiling claimed two men came to his room and threatened him with a pistol, one man packing his clothes in a suitcase while the other held a gun to guard him.

Patrolman Sealey stated that as he stood near the hotel clerk's desk, when the three men appeared, he heard a man say with an oath, to Boiling, "You come on over," and Boiling replied, "I'll give it to you right now."

DENVER MAY DROP ATTEMPT AT JOINT TRACK PROJECT

Agreement With Rock Island Not Yet Reached; Early Completion Asked.

WICHITA FALLS, April 2. (Special)—That the Port Worth and Denver Railway company will be ordered in Washington an amended brief to permit the railroad to construct its own railroad line between Wellington and Shamrock is the opinion of many observers.

Apparently officials of the Denver and Rock Island have been unable to reach terms in constructing a joint railroad between Wellington and Shamrock. The Denver has graded north from Childress and is preparing to start grading work both ways from Wellington and Shamrock and southward from Pampa, northern terminal of the new railroad.

Officials of the Denver road have started to complete the railroad into Wellington by September and into Shamrock a few weeks later. The Interstate Commerce Commission ordered in its permit for construction of the two railroads that the line be a joint one between Wellington and Shamrock.

The signal that the Denver is to start laying steel on its grade north from Childress will mean starting construction of many new outbuildings in Childress, Wellington, Shamrock, and Pampa. Hundreds of unemployed men will be given employment, and for that reason alone the public is extremely interested in seeing the Denver start laying steel.

The new railroad will give Wichita Falls its first direct railroad connection in the rich oil and gas fields of the eastern Panhandle counties. The area is also one of the greatest wheat growing sections in the United States.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

PRORATION AGREEMENT FAILS AND COMMISSION NOT LIKELY WILL MEET EAST TEXAS URGE

AUSTIN, April 2. (AP)—C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission and Lon A. Smith, commissioner, conferred again on oil proration this morning but no definite agreement was reached. Carl Estes of Tyler, one of the leaders of the east Texas forces, re-quested that the railroad commission allow more time for the development of the new field, representatives stated a high figure for the new pool. However, the commission last week recommended 50,000 barrels but its representatives stated a high figure would be acceptable since additional production has been brought in since that time.

Smith said today the commission would reach an agreement with the east Texas forces, which the east Texas forces would accept, and which they would not fight in the courts. "We could not agree and it looks as if we might as well fight," Moody said he did not believe his go-ahead and issue the order, clients would be satisfied with an Smith said.

PROBE LIKELY WILL RESULT FROM ACTION

Issue Is Actively of Cicero Murray, Governor's Cousin, Who Is Making Trips On Oil Business.

PRORATION CITED

Naming of Umpires Criticized by Senator; Editorial in Paper Attacking Solon Being Investigated.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 2. (AP) Senator H. P. Daugherty, democrat, Chelsea, today prepared for introduction in the Oklahoma senate a resolution to investigate activities of Cicero I. Murray, Gov. W. H. Murray's personal oil representative, to determine "just who is paying him," his associates and the Oklahoma oil field supplies.

The resolution asks that five senators be appointed to inquire into Cicero Murray's "extended trips" out of the state when "Murray assumed to represent the state of Oklahoma."

Cicero Murray, a cousin of Gov. W. H. Murray, left last night for Washington, where he will preside April 7 over a meeting of the oil states' advisory committee, of which he was made chairman at a Texarkana, Ark., conference recently. Charge Not Disputed.

The resolution asserts: "It has been charged and not disputed that in the matter of proration of oil runs in Oklahoma private interests, especially the importers of oil, are being allowed to name the umpires, referees and so forth who are enforcing our laws."

"Without authority of the legislature one Cicero I. Murray is maintaining expensive headquarters in Oklahoma City, with an office force, and also is making long and extended trips to places out of the state, assuming to represent this state, in conferences already held and to be held on the subject of oil."

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 2. (AP) By unanimous vote the senate today asked that a copy of the Blue Valley Farmer, weekly newspaper controlled by Gov. W. H. Murray, which made an alleged attack upon Senator Knox Garvin, democrat, Duncan, be sent to the postmaster general for such action as he might deem necessary.

Row Over Wents The editorial, alleged to have criticized Senator Garvin for his stand in the controversy between administration forces and Lew Wents, republican highway commissioner, was placed in the records of the senate. The upper house at the same time voted confidence in the Duncan senator.

Senator Tom Anglin, democrat, an administration leader, said the administration and Cicero Murray, the governor's cousin, business manager of the paper, had advised Senator Garvin they knew nothing of the editorial until it had been printed. "Yes, but they did not apologize," Senator Garvin replied.

Deputies Stricken By Flu Attacks

Sheriff Lon L. Blansett was glad to see Deputy Harris King when the latter arrived at the sheriff's office from McLean this morning. Deputy King will be a big help today during the absence of Deputies Raymond Harnah, Warren Belseter, and Floyd Archer, all of whom are sick.

Sheriff Blansett rose from a sick bed this morning, and the doctor and Mrs. Blansett were trying to make him go back to it. Deputy Belcher went to bed yesterday afternoon with a case of the flu. Deputy Archer underwent an operation yesterday for appendicitis. Deputy Harnah also has the flu. Mr. Archer was improving this morning.

Deputies Clyde Garner and King are the only ones who are not ill or ailing. Mrs. Blansett is acting an office deputy.

Better Basis for Proration Would Be State Supervision of Fields

To the general public, proration has seemed an official act of the railroad commission. Though untrue, this assumption has worked a hardship on the commissioners and brought them undeserved criticism.

In the absence of definite powers and jurisdiction, the commission has exercised a supervision largely through powers delegated by producers, chiefly major companies. The commission has usually adopted proration schedules after asking and receiving suggestions from those affected.

At present proration is, in Panhandle and elsewhere, largely in the hands of an advisory committee comprising officials of producing companies. This committee in effect tells the railroad commission what the companies represented are willing to do.

It is unfair to charge the railroad commission with the sins of commission and omission in proration. The state body has no set-up of technical experts, no knowledge other than what the producers and a small staff furnish, and no regulatory power except that of preventing waste.

The umpire and his assistants should be amenable to the wishes of the commission. With the major companies and independents at loggerheads, the state should be in control as an impartial arbiter.

Up until now, the rail commission has not had jurisdiction enough to make it responsible for proration or the lack of it, discrimination in taking of oil, inaccurate gauging of wells for potentials, and similar activities in the industry.

The first need of the oil industry is a tariff or embargo to cut down imports of crude oil and refined products. Another prime need is for a new basis for proration—one in which the state will govern instead of producers, and in which the state body will have well defined powers to enforce its decrees.

Two views of a new dinner dress costume for women are shown here. It consists of a swallowtail coat like a man's, plus white satin pajamas.

LONDON, April 1. (AP)—Sauce for the gender is sauce for the goose, as far as evening dress is concerned. A dinner suit for women adapted as closely as possible from the full dress for men, has just been introduced by Val St. Cyr, a London designer.

Most striking of the suit's details is the dress coat, a replica of the "swallowtail" except that it drops to the ankles. The material is black broadcloth, the design, pockets, are the same. With the coat is worn a vest of white satin, also designed as is the man's dress waistcoat, and daintily décolleté. It has pockets and even a strap and buckle in the back. The trousers are heavy white rain pajamas, extremely wide at the hem which gives them the effect of a dress at times. These have side pockets and are belted under the waistcoat. There isn't, however, and belted shirt with this outfit. "I've tried to make it as feminine as possible," St. Cyr says, "and I think it's surprising how graceful the long coat is on women. The suit would excite comment, but not ridicule."

Northwestern Floods Do Million Damage

SEATTLE, April 1. (AP)—Floods, the worst in more than 50 years in southern Washington, northern Oregon and central Idaho, were recently rapidly tonight, leaving in their wake damage estimated at nearly $1,000,000.

Sudden rains in the watersheds of tributaries of the Snake and Columbia rivers have ended and at least two days of good weather was promised by the U. S. weather bureau. Sunshine warmed the flooded region after two days of steady down-pour.

Walla Walla, Wash., seemed the hardest hit. City streets, highways, bridges, business houses and truck gardens in the low country around the city were believed to have suffered damage totaling half a million dollars.

WICHITA FALLS SCHOOL CHIEF DEAD OF FLU

WICHITA FALLS, April 2.—The site for the new federal court and postoffice building is being rapidly cleared. Twelve structures were on the site and all have been removed with exception of the old First Methodist church building, which was constructed several years ago at a cost of $48,000.

The church structure has been used as an occasional building by the First Methodist church, which has recently completed one of the finest buildings in Texas on the west half of the block. The new federal building is to cost $900,000. The Methodist congregation is to erect a modern, educational or Sunday school building in the same block at a cost of $125,000.

When construction starts on the two buildings, employment will be given a large number of men, both skilled and common labor. There is plenty of local labor available for both jobs.

Magnan terraces are employed in Orange county, N. C., to reclaim worn-out and washed hills.

Written Opinion on Injunction Is Received Today

The written opinion delivered yesterday by Judge Hal C. Randolph of the Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals, in J. L. Noel's suit to enjoin Gray county from paying Tom Jackson a $3,000 travel bill was received today by Willis Stader and Sturtevant, attorneys for the county.

The injunction granted by Judge Clifford Braly was reversed and the cause remanded for another trial. Attorneys for Mr. Noel, Cook, Smith, Teed, Wade and Turgeon, announced today that it had not been decided whether they would ask for a rehearing.

Judge Randolph's opinion was as follows: "The contract made by the commissioners with Jackson through Cox, one of its commissioners, was for hauling of material and for spreading of same on the road. The record does not disclose that any contract was made with regard to the placing of such upon any special number of yards of road and no number of yards of gravel or caliche or other material was contracted for; hence it cannot be said that the making of the contract called for the expenditure of the sum of $2,000 or more. In other words, it was such a contract for the delivery of material that work could be stopped at any time. "That the contract now before this court is not controlled by the case of the Gulf Bitulite company vs. Nueces county, for the reason that the evidence fails to disclose that the contract as made with Jackson necessarily amounted to the sum of $2,000 and for the reason that the commissioners court when having county road work done under supervision was not limited to such sum in the repair of the road of the county and that they had the option as to whether such work should be submitted to competitive bidders. We reverse the judgment of the trial court and remand the cause for another trial."

The higher court held that Article No. 3,368 of the statutes did not apply. This article dealt with letting of contracts by the county. The opinion of Judge Randolph, in summarized form, was published exclusively in The NEWS yesterday.

Return to Night Gown Advocated

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 2. (AP)—Application of the old-fashioned way, and a return of the night gown are planks in the platform of Dr. Mary Tatman, Mountain View, Okla., who seeks to become dean of women at the University of Oklahoma.

In a letter to Gov. W. H. Murray today, applying for the position, the Mountain View woman, a physician and land owner, promised institution of "lower heels on shoes," as a means of aiding co-eds to "walk the straight and narrow." The letter condemns wearing of pajamas "any where and everywhere," and suggests the use of the shingle as effective in regulation of young women. Dr. Tatman's letter came as a senatorial committee delved into purported "padding" of expense accounts and other alleged irregularities of Miss Edna E. McDaniel, now dean of women.

NACOGDOCHES, April 2. (AP)—Only two weeks before the date for dismissal of school for vacation, the school building at Nat., 10 miles west of Nacogdoches, was razed by fire last night. The building, valued at $10,000, was erected 10 years ago. Origin of the fire was not learned.

SHREVEPORT, La., April 2. (AP)—Having won three of their four exhibition games, from New Orleans and Kansas City, the Shreveport Sports today prepared for their series against Cleveland here Saturday and Sunday. Catcher Rowland of the Sports got four outs, including a homer, as the Sports beat Kansas City yesterday, 4 to 2.

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old typist, goes to meet the boat on which Alan Crosby is returning from a year and a half in Paris. Crosby, who has been in Paris for a year and a half, breaks an engagement with Gypsy, explaining he is spending the evening with business associates. The girl goes to the theater alone and encounters Crosby with Mrs. Catharine Langley. There is a scene, Mrs. Langley drives away in her car and Gypsy and Crosby go home in a cab, quarreling all the way. Next day at the office Gypsy is offered a promotion and takes a dictation test. She hurries home determined to apologize to Crosby. They meet and in the interview following Crosby makes it plain his former affection for Gypsy is ended. Next day at the office Gypsy is reprimanded for some careless work and she resigns her job.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

When Gypsy opened the front door she heard footsteps on the second floor landing. Then a familiar voice called down: "Miss McBride—is that you, dearie?"

"Yes, Mrs. O'Hare," the girl answered.

"Well, somebody's been trying to get you on the telephone all afternoon. I told 'em you wouldn't be in until 5 but they kept calling. Last time was about half an hour ago, I guess."

"It couldn't be—no. of course not. Gypsy told herself it was ridiculous to let her hopes rise. Still there was a quickening in her voice.

"Do you know who it was?"

"No, they didn't give any name. Number's on the pad beside the telephone. They said you were to call back."

Gypsy's feet flew down the hall. At the far end was the pay telephone for the roomers' use and beside it a pad on which messages were posted.

There it was—McBride—call Center 5942 before 6 p. m.

With a weary gesture the girl turned and started back toward the stairs.

"Did you find it?" the landlady's voice persisted from above.

"Yes, I know who it is—nothing very important, I guess."

"The woman who called the last time said you should be sure and ring the minute came in!" Mrs. O'Hare said insistently.

"Wess, I guess—"

Further discussion was interrupted by the jangle of the telephone bell.

"I'll answer it," offered Gypsy, turning back.

"Oh, that'll save me coming down, thanks, dearie."

The girl placed the receiver to her ear. It immediately she recognized the voice at the other end of the line.

"Hello," the voice said, "May I speak to Miss McBride?"

"This is she," answered Gypsy. "Is that you, Anne?"

"Oh—at last! I've found you. I've been trying all day long to get in touch with you! First I called your office and they said you'd gone. After that I tried this number. There's something you've simply got to do for me—"

Just as she had thought. Whenever Ann Trowbridge called it was to ask a favor. Anne was the only relative of Gypsy's who lived within 1000 miles of New York but their paths crossed so infrequently they seldom thought of each other as cousins. Anne had come to the city as the bride of Phil Trowbridge. She had "married well," according to the old phrase. Anne's father and Gypsy's mother had been brother and sister but the two girls had never seen each other until the day two years before when Gypsy had called on young Mrs.

Trowbridge in her hotel suite.

From that first day Gypsy had known they could never be friends. Anne, though she was three years older, had never worked at anything except making herself look attractive. Her mother (Gypsy's Aunt May) had been a Carrol—with all the distinctions that name implies in the Maryland community in which Anne had spent most of her life.

Here in New York Anne and her husband lived in an apartment on the upper east side. Gypsy took Sunday dinner there twice a year—and was slow about calling afterward. She thought Anne patronized her, though in reality the fault was on both sides.

It had been six months since she had heard Anne's voice.

"What do you want me to do, Anne?" Gypsy asked.

"I want you to come to dinner. Oh, you must! You see, I'm having some people in for dinner and bridge. There were to be 14 and this afternoon Mildred Lane was in a traffic accident and fractured her arm. I simply cannot have 13 people—I'm terribly superstitious—and everyone I've called has been out of town or sick or giving parties. You're my only hope, Gypsy! Don't bother to change. You can dress here. I'll lend you something—"

"What was what to Anne's mind was a tragedy! Gypsy had been trying to get a word in. Now she spoke abruptly:

"Sorry," she said. "I'd like to help you out but I won't be able to."

"What was the usual excuse? Oh, yes, of course—I—I have an engagement for the evening." Gypsy stumbled a bit over the words.

"Oh, but Gypsy—can't you break it off?"

"But won't you try?"

"There was nothing to do but work her way out. Gypsy tried a white lie.

"I'll try to," she promised. "I'll call you back about it. I mean I'll call you if I can come."

"Oh—I hope you can make it! Call before 6 o'clock—won't you? I'll be expecting to hear from you!"

"All right, I'll let you know if I can come. Goodbye."

Gypsy replaced the receiver and mounted the stairs. She walked slowly, discovering that she was tired.

"What if Anne's dinner party were spoiled? What did that matter? Had Anne ever known what it was to feel this weight like lead in her heart, to face bitter loneliness not just for today but stretching on and on in the future? Had Anne ever known a pain like the one that had been throbbing at Gypsy's forehead all afternoon?"

Well then, who was Anne to need sympathy?

Gypsy reached her own room and entered. She threw her hat and coat on the bed and sank down beside them. It had been a long day. Purposely she had stayed away from the rooming house until after 5 o'clock, the usual time she arrived there. She did not want the other roomers of Mrs. O'Hare's to know that she had given up her job. They would be curious and Gypsy was in no mood for questions.

She thought about tomorrow. Better start hunting a job, she supposed. What sort of a job?

It occurred then to Gypsy that employers would ask where she had worked before. They might want references. Should she go back to MacNamara's and ask Miss Tuttle for a letter? Hardly that!

There was McEider, the city editor who had helped her get the first job. She might call on him. Gypsy's mind wandered, taken half a dozen different trails, but never far from the main subject. Where was Alan? What was he doing tonight?

Suddenly the girl sprang up. She would not spend another evening here alone. She would not waste time thinking about Alan Crosby when he was having a good time with friends—friends whose company he preferred to hers.

She stood in the center of the room, staring at the wall in indecision. Then she caught up her purse and ran down the stairs.

Gypsy was breathless when she reached the telephone on the first floor.

"Operator," she called impatiently, "give me Center 5942. Hurry!"

A man's voice came over the wire.

"Is this Phil?" Gypsy asked.

"This is Gypsy. Will you tell Anne I'm going to be able to come for dinner. Tell her I'm starting right away. Yes, I'll try to get there in half an hour. That's all. Goodbye."

Lose Fat Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body should have to function properly—purify your blood of harmful acids, and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

In this modern age of living, it's impossible to get these salts from the fancy foods you eat—but don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts.

Take a half teaspoon every morning before breakfast in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you'll feel better than ever before—years younger, more energy. You'll soon possess that enviable beauty, clear skin, sparkling eyes, superb figure which only perfect health can impart.

An 85c bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at Patterson-Wilson Drug Company, Fatherson Drug Stores, Pampa Drug Co., Richards Drug Co., Inc. or any progressive druggist in America. Money back if Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat.

A Hartford woman writes, "I'll tell the world Kruschen Salts is wonderful stuff to reduce." An Ohio woman lost 10 pounds with one bottle.

It was reckless to spend money on last fare but Gypsy was in a reckless mood. She pulled on hat and coat without even a glance in the mirror, and hurried out of the house. On the curb she signaled a cab and 35 minutes later was alighting at the capopied entrance of the up-town apartment.

As the elevator car rose to the 16th floor Gypsy had a moment of foreboding. She stifled it. Anything was better than another evening alone.

"Gypsy—I'm so glad you came!" Anne was waiting for her in the open doorway. Phil Trowbridge was there too and said a casual "good evening." Gypsy had always liked Phil.

Immediately the girl was whisked down a corridor to Anne's bedroom.

"I knew you wouldn't have time to dress so I got this out for you. Do you like it?"

Anne Trowbridge held up a creamy flowered chiffon with a vivid design in crimson, orange and dull green. Anne herself was dressed in flame. A stranger might have thought the girls were sisters. Anne was nearly an inch taller but her frocks fit Gypsy perfectly. The older girl's features were more regular. Anne's hair was dark but it was smooth and glossy instead of wavily. Her complexion was fair and here eyes were blue.

How like Anne to say Gypsy "didn't have time to dress." Of course she knew the other girl had no such evening gown.

"It's lovely," Gypsy said. "Glad you think so. Now hurry up and get into it. You'll find everything you need on the dressing table. Oh, do try my new rouge! I'm simply crazy about it. You'll excuse me, won't you? I've got to see Phil. Dinner's at 7 so you'll have time if you hurry. If you want anything just call—"

The hostess disappeared. Gypsy pulled off her jersey office dress and hung it away in a closet. A bath room, stunning in blue and silver, adjoined the bedroom. Gypsy took a quick plunge, wrapped herself in a rose negligee and went over to the dressing table.

What an array of lovely bottles and boxes—all for the purpose of making Anne beautiful! Gypsy picked up a jar of crystal and lifted the turquoise lid. There was creamy stuff inside with an odor sickeningly sweet. She rubbed some of the cream on her arm and found it pleasant. As she put the jar down Gypsy caught a view of herself in the mirror.

There were lamps at either side of the dressing table, flooding the glass with pillar light. Gypsy studied her reflection; then she sat down before the dressing table and set to work.

Twenty minutes later there was a tap at the door.

"Gypsy! Anne Trowbridge called. "Are you ready?"

The door opened and Anne stepped into the room. "My dear!" she exclaimed, "you're looking wonderful!"

"Am I all right? Did I get the dress fastened the right way? Here—is this supposed to be like this?"

Gypsy turned slowly for inspection. Anne was enthusiastic. "I never saw you looking so pretty!" she declared. "I'm proud of you. Come on out with me. Some of the people are here and I want you to meet them."

Obediently Gypsy followed. She was wearing a lovely gown and it had been amusing trying out Anne's cosmetics, but already she wished the evening were over. She wished she had not come.

Gypsy had no way of knowing that this was to be the most momentous evening of her life.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2. (AP)—The Phillies, with two of their most important regulars among the absences, come back to the home lot today after five weeks in the south.

Manager Shotton said the team was in fair shape for the coming series with the Athletics but wet weather had interfered with spring training. He had no word, he said, of any change in the status of Chuck Klein, outfielder, and Phil Collins, his best pitcher, both of whom are holdouts.

He Punched Tiger in Nose

Walter Clajus, attendant at a Milwaukee zoo, punched a full-grown tigress right square in the nose the other day. He had to, for he was unarmed when the tigress attacked Frank Tefelske, a painter, who was inspecting the ceiling of her cage. Clajus leaped into the cage, clouted Kitty in the nose and then kicked her in the ribs. She backed away, startled, and Clajus got Tefelske out of the cage with only slight wounds. Clajus and Kitty are shown above.

Convicts Confess Plot That Ended In Prison Blaze

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 2. (AP)—Sole responsibility for the fire that took the lives of 320 prisoners at Ohio penitentiary last April 2 rested today on the shoulders of two men.

Solution of the plot that caused one of the greatest prison disasters in history came yesterday when Franklin County Prosecutor Donald J. Hoskins announced that Clinton Grate and Hugh Gibson, convicts, had confessed setting the fire with a view to delaying Warden Preston E. Thomas' construction program and because they objected to aiding in the building of a new cell block to house fellow prisoners.

Gibson, formerly of Philadelphia, was sentenced from Cleveland, Grate, whose home is in Virginia, was sentenced from Dayton, Ohio. Both men were convicted robbers and had served nine years of their terms.

Commissioner M. M. Newman of McLean was in Pampa yesterday. H. E. Hoover of Canadian is attending court here today.

One of Every Three Oil Wells Picks up Dust

WASHINGTON, April 2. (AP)—Despite modern geological and mechanical strids, figures in the report of the bureau of mines on oil conditions in February blazoned the warning today that drilling remains a gambler's choice.

One out of each three holes, the report showed, on an average will produce nothing more tangible than the groans of backers of the costly ventures with which to fill up the empty shaft.

The cost of wells ranges from $50,000 upward, and the general average for producers, the American Petroleum institute showed in a recent publication, was in the vicinity of $225,000 each.

The bureau of mines' report disclosed a slight decrease in drilling in February, which boasted 1,065 wells against 1,130 for January, but the dry percentage held its customary level.

The number of wells drilled in January and February, 1931, totaled 2,195 and was a third below the same two months' 3,357 in 1930.

The percentage of non-producers, however, remained about 33 out of 100, except in the new east Texas pool in Rusk and Gregg counties, where 17 out of 19 were producers.

Grain Parley Is Without Result

ROME, April 2. (AP)—The world grain conference ended today without having arrived at any concrete plan for dealing with the world surplus stocks of wheat.

The delegates of the larger non-European wheat exporting companies, however, agreed to hold a conference on their own at London April 18. George Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner at London, who will preside, at the London meeting, emphasized today that the meeting would have no connection with the world grain

ROCKNE BACK HOME AFTER FATAL CRASH

Funeral Arrangements Await Arrival of Wife—Body of Man Mutilated.

By PAUL MICKELSON

Associated Press Sports Writer SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 2. (AP) Knute Rockne was back "home" today. His epic odyssey on earth was near trail's end.

All that was mortal of the man, who blazed such a brilliant path of human achievement in his life span of only 43 short years, rested peacefully in a closed bronze, flower blanketed casket in a quiet, modest funeral home on North Michigan street just three miles from the campus of old Notre Dame.

The great nordic chief of American football and good sportsmanship, who but four days ago left South Bend and Notre Dame with a broad smile on his face, was back "home" with the boys he loved so well and with those who loved him and who will cherish his memory forever. Instead of ecstasy and joy, he brought sadness and despair. He was dead and so were the hearts of the thousands who found it so hard to believe that their "Rock" could pass on so tragically at the very zenith of his glory—of Notre Dame's glory.

Never again were his friends to look upon his face. The tragic crash of the airplane, which took his life in Kansas, denied even that. Those in charge of the body viewed it and decided it would be best to keep the casket sealed forever except to give his widow a one last glimpse at the man everyone cherished. But it was doubtful whether Mrs. Rockne would care to see "Rock" again under the circumstances of mutilation and death.

She, like all of Rock's boys, wanted to remember him as he was when last she saw him—beaming, joking, and laughing. Escorting by guards of honor, the body of the famous Notre Dame football coach was returned to South Bend last night. The same thousands jammed the railroad stations both here and in Chicago as they did just four short months ago when he led his football legions back from their glorious invasion of the west, but the same thousands were silent, awed and hushed as the casket was pushed solemnly to a waiting hearse and taken slowly through the massed throng to the McGinn undertaking parlor, where it will rest until the funeral.

Even today, pending Mrs. Rockne's planned arrival at 6 p. m. from Florida where she received word of her husband's sudden death, funeral plans were indefinite. It was the general belief that the funeral would be held Monday or Wednesday.

Spudders Ready To Meet Steers

WICHITA FALLS, April 2. (AP)—After two days of moderate to light workouts, the Spudders were in fair condition today to tangle with the Dallas Steers in the first of two exhibition games here. Manager Carl Williams for the last two days has carried his men to a grassy hill near Athletic park, where the playing field was drying from the soaking it received earlier in the week, and engineered routine batting and fielding practice.

Shortstop Joe Hassler is not expected to be in the Spudders' opening day lineup after having his tonsils extracted yesterday. The former St. Louis Brown has been unable to do any real conditioning because of an ailing arm and the operation was submitted to in the hope that it would bring around the troublesome whip.

TEXAS PLAYER FAILS FORT WORTH, April 2. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today started a vigorous hunt for a first baseman capable of playing major league baseball.

Ray Radcliff, a recruit who was expected to take care of the job, was found wanting and yesterday Manager Donie Bush sent him back to Dallas of the Texas league from which the Sox obtained him. Johnny Watwood, an outfielder by trade, will play the initial station, pending developments.

BATS BROKEN UP LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 2. (AP)—Shano Collins and his Red Sox plan to visit a bat factory. The old stock of sticks has been pretty well splintered up by the squad's heavy hitters and Shano has hopes that a new supply will bring even bigger and more base hits.

HORNSEY IS WORRIED LOS ANGELES, April 2. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs who were expected by Rogers Hornsby to sweep through their exhibition series, now are faced with the problem of getting above the .500 mark.

Yesterday's flop to the Pirates left them with a record of 11 victories and 12 defeats, most of the latter due to shortcomings of the younger pitchers.

ROOKIE IS FAVORED BILOXI, Miss., April 2. (AP)—Walter Johnson has so much hope for Wally Dashiell that he is setting aside a time-estimated rule in his behalf.

Ordinarily a rookie gets little chance unless he shows up well in pre-season games. Dashiell, however, has had a bad leg and has been unable to participate in a single one of the Washington Senators' exhibitions this year. But the flashy infielder showed to such an advantage at Chattanooga last spring that Manager Johnson is willing to wait.

Who Said "Innocents Abroad"

Detroit Tigers Help to Maintain Lead of American League Teams

NEW YORK, April 2. (AP)—Just when it looked like the National league might pull abreast of the American circuit in their annual joust for the springtime championship, up popped Manager Bucky Harris' Detroit Tigers during the past week to turn back the mer of Heydler.

After having remained on the sidelines most of the spring, the Tigers jumped into the inter-league warfare with both feet and captured three out of four from the Pittsburgh Pirates. As a result, the American league was able to increase its advantage to three full games. The score today stood: American 21, National 13.

Outside of the Tigers' winning spree, the two leagues fought on even terms for the week. The Giants licked the White Sox two out of

You hear so much about the success of Notre Dame football stars as coaches that the widespread supposition is they all line up after graduation, shift rapidly to the right and sign coaching contracts to cash in for the immediate future.

Bert Metzger prefers to be a butcher and egg man. Not a big one of the type well known along Broadway, for you will recall Mr. Metzger weighed nearly 150 pounds, although he played a very convincing game at guard against much bigger men and won an All-America spot for himself in the Associated Press returns last fall.

Bert's father is in the dairy business in Chicago and the son has decided to join him, meanwhile foregoing a number of attractive offers to enter professional coaching.

"Of course I hate to quit connections with football," he told me in a three-cornered fanning bee with Frank Wallace at Miami Beach.

Bert had a lot of fun in the game, but I figure I'll be more sensible in the long run to get right down to brass tacks and business. I can still go out and give a few cheers for the boys, when I feel the old itch to be back in it.

I never hated more to part with a game than that team of ours last year. In many respects, perhaps, we weren't as good as that 1929 team. It was tough for a little guy like me to follow in the footsteps of guards like John Law and Jack Cannon. But we all got together, we had great spirit and we were able to get the jump.

"Rock, you know, had a way of getting us to do better than we thought we could. When it came to that last game with Southern California and he asked us to go in there for good old Larry the fans, there was nothing to it. I still get a thrill when I think of that game, although probably we played as good, if not better football against Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania."

ALSO TOUGH The story of Bert Metzger is one of the real romances of college football—in fact it's been made famous as the story of the guard who was "a little small but also a little tough."

Bert went out for football at Loyola academy in Chicago chiefly because his older brother had been a star, going to Georgetown later. It wouldn't have looked good for a Metzger to have done anything else.

Of course, it was something of a handicap to weigh only about 135 pounds but Bert looked the situation over, decided to try out at guard.

WRESTLING IS SAID TO HAVE BIG COMBINES

Sport Only Exhibition In Opinion of Seattle Commission.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 2. (AP)—Charging that wrestling seemingly was controlled throughout the country by two powerful "syndicates" the Seattle Athletic commission has ordered that city matches hereafter be billed as "exhibitions" and not as "contests for physical superiority."

It proposes to name its own referee in the future. The commission said the two groups of promoters were the Jack Curly syndicate in the east, whose "alleged champion of the world" is Jim Londos, and the Lewis-Sandow-Bowser syndicate of Glendale, Calif., with Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former champion, as its head and Don George as its "champion."

Wrestlers of the two factions, the commission declared, deliberately staged "fake antics" in the ring. Gus Sonnenberg, while traveling as "alleged champion," and George, who won the "alleged championship" in his recent tour here, were managed by the same promoter, a man named Tonnemann, the commission found. Tonnemann purported to be a licensed referee in Illinois.

"It is seemingly impossible for wrestlers from one group to invade the territory controlled by the other group," the commission's report said.

"It is impossible for anyone, even the referee, to determine from the performance of the wrestlers whether they are giving the best that is in them for physical supremacy. "Antics such as chasing each other around the ring, both inside and out, grunting and growling, pulling chain whisks, jumping on each other's feet and making faces, are purposely put on by the wrestlers with the approval of the promoters to entertain and amuse the public."

Manager Gabby Street's champion St. Louis Cardinals boasted the outstanding mark against major opposition, with nine wins and only three losses. Brooklyn has won six out of eight against the big boys.

Next Season's Eleven To Be Seen Here on Friday Harvesters of 1930 Will Go Against Reserves and New Men Tomorrow.

Wayne Kelly today was elected captain of Coach Warren Moore's spring football squad. Kelly will lead the green-clad aggregation against Coach Mitchell's golden gridders.

The 1930 eleven, clicking as of old, will battle an outfit composed of Harvester reserves and new material. Both squads have been training steadily and will display really competitive form, the coaches promise.

A dry field and good weather will make the game attractive for the hundreds of fans who are expected to witness the contest to get a line on next fall's eleven. It will be a benefit affair to keep the squad out of the "red" and to finance the track season.

The game will begin at 3 p. m. Friday.

Maybe he wanted to catch opposing pitchers unawares. Anyhow Babe Ruth would have trouble giving "chin" to an umpire in this well, let's say it—hirsute, adornment. The mighty batsman donned false whiskers to make the House of David team feel at home during an exhibition game with the New York Yankees at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Giants Want to Be Ranked High

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 2. (AP)—Travis Jackson, shortstop and captain of the New York Giants, does not agree with the experts who pick other teams to win the National league pennant. Jackson, praising the work of Johnny Vergez, Hughey Critz, Bill Terry, Fred Lindstrom, and Harold Schumacher, added: "We have a great team this year with every position well covered and everybody in a winning mood. Don't count the Giants out when you are picking pennant winners."

Rose, the Shreveport dude who always looks in condition, will be able to take care of himself, with or without trickery.

In the semi-final event, Dutch Blake of Berger will meet Billy Londos, the Greek.

Cardinal Infield Declared Strong

BRADENTON, Fla., April 2. (AP)—Manager Gabby Street waxed enthusiastic over his Cardinal infield today and predicted it would go far in bringing another National league pennant to St. Louis.

While the same players compose the infield as a year ago, Gabby reasoned Charley Gelbert, still a youngster, would show continued improvement, and "Sunny Jim" Bottomley, handicapped last year by an injured hand, should do much better. Frankie Frisch still is the Fordham Flash, and "Sparky" Adams, at third shows no signs of weakening.

Athletics Ready To Start Home

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 2. (AP) Winding up a training season that has been somewhat unsatisfactory because of rainy weather, the first and second string Athletics will get away from North Carolina late today and head for home.

The squad, split into two touring outfits a week ago, will get together en route. They are due in Philadelphia Friday morning. Manager Mack said he expected both Summons and Earnshaw, who have been training at Hot Springs, to be on hand for the city series with the Phillies.

While the same players compose the infield as a year ago, Gabby reasoned Charley Gelbert, still a youngster, would show continued improvement, and "Sunny Jim" Bottomley, handicapped last year by an injured hand, should do much better. Frankie Frisch still is the Fordham Flash, and "Sparky" Adams, at third shows no signs of weakening.

CASTANETS LURE CONSUL'S DAUGHTER TO DANCE STAGE

Joan Keena, daughter of the American consul-general in Paris learned the dances of old Spain in the years when her father was stationed in Latin-American countries, and is now entering upon a professional career as a Spanish dancer.

By ADELAIDE KERR

PARIS, April 2. (AP)—To the click of castanets the 20-year-old daughter of the American consul-general in Paris will whirl onto the dancing floor of the Lido April 17 to make her professional debut as a Spanish dancer.

She is Joan Keena (Maria del Pilar for professional purposes), and she has studied Spanish dancing for the last 15 years in Latin-American countries where her father was stationed as consul.

When she begins the Jarabe Tapatio, danced with staccato taps on the wide brim of a Mexican sombrero, she whirls into a dance she learned in Chihuahua, Mexico, where she was born.

She never has stage fright. At the age of 5 she made her first public appearance in a fairy ballet at a Valparaiso theater, and liked it so well she repeated her dance four times.

Later she began her professional study with the premiere danseuse of the Buenos Aires Opera company. Then came a session with the Danish Dancers in New York and later a year's study with the Nemchinova Ballet in Paris.

Recently Miss Keena danced at private receptions in Paris, where she attracted the attention of Gilbert White, American painter. He arranged an audition with the director of the Lido, and her engagement at the amusement palace was the result.

Lenten Services Held At Catholic Church This Week

The first of a series of Lenten services held this morning at the Holy Souls church.

Friday morning at 7:30 the Mass of the Presanctified will be read, termed thus because the Host is not consecrated, but the one deposited on the side altar the preceding day is consumed. The usual confession of sin with which the Mass is celebrated is replaced by the proscription of the celebrant on the floor while the servers replace the candlesticks and cloths on the altar. The Passion of the Savior is read and the crucifix, the symbol of salvation for all, is venerated by the congregation. The Mass is shortened and ends abruptly after the Host is consumed.

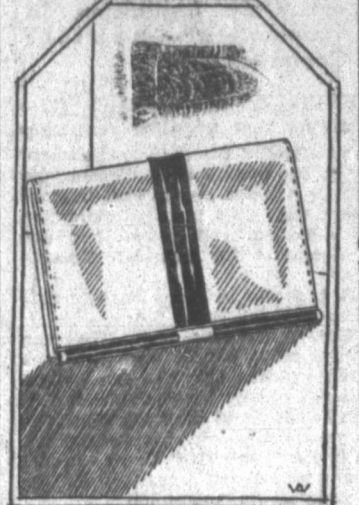

A three-hour service from noon to 3 o'clock will be held on Friday. At this service there will be a series of meditations on the seven last words of Christ interspersed with hymns by the choir and prayers by the congregation. The services will close with the stations of the cross, in which are commemorated the principal events that happened from the time of Christ's condemnation until He expired on Calvary.

In the evening at 8 o'clock appropriate services dealing with the death of the Savior will be held.

Saturday morning, in order that the Mass proper may begin at 7:30, the preliminary services will begin at 8 o'clock. The new fire is first kindled from which one of three tapers on the triple candlestick is lighted. The other two tapers are lighted after pausing on the procession to the sanctuary. The Paschal candle is blessed during which ceremony the other candles and the sanctuary lamp is again lighted. The 12 prophecies concerning the coming of the Savior are read after which the baptismal font is blessed. In this latter ceremony the Paschal candle is used. The Mass follows in which at the Gloria the organ is again intoned and the bells are rung in anticipation of the victory of the Savior over death.

The choir will participate in an active manner in all services. A special Easter program has been prepared augmented by Prof. Otto Schick's violin quartet.

The public is cordially invited to participate in any or all services.

Simmons Students On Long Journey

ABILENE, April 1. (AP)—Six Simmons university students left here recently on an 8,000-mile car-cer and debate tour that will take them through the Pacific northwest, possibly into Canada, and back through the central portion of the United States. John Lovell and Calvin Whitley will meet at least six schools in debate. John Regan will supply roping and whip cracking acts along the route. Others are Fildon Reed, Fred Ball, and Cleron McMurtry. Their itinerary will take them through New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, California, Oregon, Washington, Canada, and back through Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma. The six debates on the present plate are all with American colleges, and an effort is being made to arrange a contest with a Canadian school.

Backache, Headache

Henderson, Texas—"I suffered continually with severe backache and blinding nervous headaches. I was forced to take to my bed each month and, in short, was a nervous wreck. Recalling to mind the marvelous results my mother had obtained from Dr. Pierce's medicines, I decided to quit the doctor and give this treatment a trial. After taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I gained eleven pounds, lost my headaches and backaches and have not been obliged to take to my bed since."—Mrs. J. Y. Welch. All dealers.

Fill out the coupon blank wrapped with medicine and mail it to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y. for free advice.

Baptist Juniors To Be Entertained

Juniors of the First Baptist church and children between the ages of 9 and 12 who are not in another Sunday school are invited to gather at the church Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock and to go to some chosen spot for an Easter egg hunt. If the weather is bad, the hunt will be held in the church basement. Mrs. Baker Henry, superintendent, is planning the entertainment.

Test of Chivalry Faces Babe Ruth

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 2. (AP)—Babe Ruth's chivalry faces a severe test today.

A gold watch has been offered for the first homer hit at Engel stadium, and the Bambino would like to have it. But, Miss Jackie Mitchell was scheduled to pitch for the Lookouts, and her heart's desire is to fan the Babe and make enough money to buy a roadster.

QUAKE—

(Continued from page 1) There probably will be more dead than injured, marine corps officers believe, commenting that most of those caught indoors at all in the quake were killed outright. More than 300 serious injuries have been treated at the marine barracks at Campo de Marte and more than 70 persons are confined there with injuries which in many cases will prove fatal. Some, too old to undergo necessary operations, amputations and the like, are almost certain to die of their injuries. The patients are of all races and both sexes. Some have broken legs and arms; some fractured skulls, and others internal injuries. The marine doctors are greatly handicapped by lack of operating rooms and are doing their work in tents. Vaccination Ordered Medical operations are in charge of Lieut. Com. W. B. Hatfield, who during the night organized a corps of doctors and surgeons for vaccinations against typhoid. A blanket vaccination order has been issued covering all residents of the city who cannot show proper previous inoculation. A water supply today still was the city's most serious immediate problem which may be solved by bringing in pumping machinery from Granddora. There probably will be enough food for the emergency period, with additional supplies arriving by plane and ship. Practically nowhere in the city was there a building left standing which was fit for habitation. Two of the city's three banks are in ruins; one of these, the Anglo South American bank, a half million dollars in gold reposed out the walls were left by the quake in such dangerous condition that no one has ventured inside. Managua is still without communications save that afforded by the Tropical radio from its power plant, three miles outside the city. The operators there have worked unstintingly without sleep for more than 36 hours. There have been no additions to the toll of four Americans dead and about a score injured in varying degrees.

COTTON UNSTEADY

NEW ORLEANS, APRIL 2. (AP)—Cotton had a rather irregular opening today owing to the unfavorable character of Liverpool cables. First trades showed 2 points decline to 1 point advance. After the start, the market eased off slightly owing to further pre-holiday liquidation. May trading declined to 10.54, July 10.78 and March to 11.14, or 2 to 3 points under yesterday's close. After these offerings were absorbed the market was a shade steadier at the end of the first hour but trading was very moderate.

WHEAT IS LOWER

CHICAGO, April 2. (AP)—Reports of increased vessel chartering in southern Russia ports caused grain prices to average lower early today with oats outdoing the season's low price record. Buying, however, of previous sellers who wished to even up accounts in preparation for a holiday tomorrow served to steady the market somewhat. Opening 3-3 cent off to 1-4 cent up, wheat advanced kept near to the initial range. Corn started at 1-2 cent decline to 1-4 cent advance, and subsequently sagged further.

Brothers Case Is Near Conclusion

CRIMINAL COURT BUILDING, CHICAGO, April 2. (AP)—The last to speak for Leo Brothers, Attorney Louis Piquett, pleading with a jury to set Brothers free on the charge of murder of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, said today that the arrest of the young St. Louisan was the result of a "great conspiracy." His bushy white hair waving as he pounded the table, stopped after almost every sentence by objections of the state. Piquett said a "big spider web" was formed after the killing June 9 of Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter. "But this spider didn't wait a week or a month, it waited ten months, picked out this young man and then closed around him," thundered the defense lawyer. Piquett said Lingle, Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, and Clark Applegate, Kentucky turkman who identified Brothers as the man who tossed a gun near Lingle's body, were the "three musketeers, boss-companions."

Robins Radio-Minded

MACON, Ga., April 2. (AP)—The Brooklyn Robins are becoming radio-minded. Jake Flowers and Joe Shaute, leading vocalists of the club, have been signed up to sing at a Macon radio station next Saturday night, while Dazy Vance says one of the reasons he was willing to sign his contract calling for $25,000 a season yesterday is that he has been offered a contract for ten radio talks of ten minutes each which will net him $2,500.

FOLA NEGRE DIVORCED

PARIS, April 2. (AP)—Fola Negri, moving picture actress, was granted a divorce by the French courts today from Prince Serge Mdivani. She sailed yesterday for America. Before sailing Mme. Negri said "I am going to make my first talk. I want to be free and stay free."
