Constitutional Amendment Necessary to Put Change Into Operation; Danger Seen by Some.

AUSTIN, April 27. (AP)—Both houses of the legislature today passed resolutions proposing amendments to the constitution to permit exemption of homesteads from state ad valorem tax levies.

The house resolution proposed exemption of homes valued at $2,000 and under. The senate resolution would place the maximum exemption at $5,000.

Both houses adopted substitutes which would allow all homes to share in the exemption plan. All homes, under the house resolution, regardless of their valuation, would be exempt up to $2,000. The senate likewise adopted a substitute proposing to exempt all homesteads from taxation on the first $5,000.

The senate rejected an amendment by Senator Holbrook of Galveston which sought to lower exemption figures to $2,000. Holbrook said his amendment was in conformity with amounts carried in the house resolution.

Holbrook in opposing passage of the Harden resolution, said he did not belong to a group which was seeking to "hoist jerks." His charge referred the resolution as a "dangerous thing."

Senator Deberry of Bogata, in taking Holbrook to task for his attack against exemption of homesteads charged Galveston county with asking for remission of all taxes paid to the state.

A substitute amendment by Representative Peach of Fredericksburg, to exempt homesteads from all state taxes, except for confederate pensions, was defeated.

An amendment whereby the state would pay counties by which state taxes have been remitted, the amount of the tax was ruled out of order.

New Term of District Court Is Begun In Pampa

An eight-week term of 114th district court opened this morning in the county court room.

In the absence of Judge Clifford Braly who is recuperating from a serious illness, A. Mineral Wells, W. I. Gamewell of Canyon was elected temporary judge by the associate members of the bar. Judge Gamewell has been serving as judge of the 114th court at Borger and Panhandle.

The voluminous docket was read this morning and a number of cases set down for trial. All the cases in 114th court are civil, although the court has criminal jurisdiction.

Non-jury trials will be the third and eight. No cases were on trial in 31st district court this morning. Civil suits are scheduled for this week. Several criminal cases are due to be tried next week.

Legion Sessions Declared Success

Legionnaires of the Kerley-Crossman post were congratulating each other today that another annual unofficial convention of the American Legion and Forty and Eight had "gone over with a bang."

Although the visitors were not as numerous as last year, when the courthouse was dedicated by Robert L. Bobbitt, then attorney general, the crowd of 300 visitors which flocked to Pampa Saturday night was not in the least disappointing, local officers said.

A dance at the Legion hall Saturday night was unusually successful. It was reported about 20 "poozies" were initiated into Forty and Eight Saturday evening before the dance.

Yesterday morning Legionnaires filled the First Baptist church for services conducted by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor, and chaplain of the post. A banquet was served to visitors yesterday noon.

SECOND CITY GAS CONSUMER NOT PLEASED

Amarillo Man Orders His Meter Changed Back to Old Firm; Says It Appeared to Run Too Fast.

Engineer Charges Instrument to Have Been Tampered With; 8,000 Applications Ask Change.

AMARILLO, April 27. (AP)—The city's second gas consumer has changed his mind, and has had Amarillo Gas company service re-installed in his house.

He is J. H. Honeycutt, who lives on the block first connected up for domestic service from the new plant being installed by the city in competition with the Amarillo Gas company. W. F. Curtis, his next-door neighbor and the first customer to receive a city meter, declared however, that he was delighted with the city gas.

Honeycutt said today he thought his city meter was running too fast, and that he could detect a "peculiar odor of fumes" in his house.

Bob Andrews, assistant city engineer, who disconnected the Honeycutt meter today, filed an affidavit in the city hall declaring it was his opinion the meter had been tampered with since it was installed last Saturday.

In the meantime, City Manager W. N. Durham announced that completion of an audit of applications for gas from the new city plant showed more than 8,000 users had applied.

The Amarillo Gas company last week announced a drastic reduction in rates, the biggest cut being to domestic users. The maximum company rate is now 27 cents as opposed to a maximum of 22-1/2 cents promised by the city.

Two Men Held For Kidnaping of Houston Citizen

HOUSTON, April 27. (AP)—Two men were under kidnaping and assault to murder charges today in connection with the alleged abduction of Walter P. Stein yesterday but the police were reluctant to discuss the affair. They indicated they desired a further investigation.

C. W. Kessling, 32, and George Ingram, 30, were charged.

Police reported they first learned of the episode through a call from a disinterested person who said there had been a "shooting."

"Neighbors told us that a man came out of a house and had got into a taxicab when three men in a coupe drove up in front of the taxicab," officers said. One of the three men had a shotgun. The shotgun was fired once into the door of the taxicab. Then the men forced Stein out of the cab and into their car.

"They took him off and he out talked him."

Stein did not report the incident to police and did not want to discuss it.

New Truck Plan Is Short Measure

AUSTIN, April 27. (AP)—Senator Stevenson of Victoria today introduced a bill proposing regulation of trucks operating over state highways, and in which he said he had covered in 750 words what other bills covered in several thousand.

The Stevenson bill classified trucks as those private owned, those traveling over designated routes, and contract carriers.

The bill would place a 12,000-pound weight limit on single vehicles, with 16,000 for truck and trailer.

Carriers would be permitted to increase their loads to 25 per cent above the specified limits only upon proof that trucks were equipped with tires capable of sustaining the weight.

The Stevenson proposal would require a certificate of necessity and convenience and drivers license for those operating trucks.

It would be possible under the bill for the railroad commission to issue special permits to persons engaged in hauling livestock, farm products and machinery necessary in promoting industry.

No truck would be allowed to operate over the highways which was more than 98 inches in width, including load, 11 feet 6 inches in height, also including load, nor more than 30 feet in length where operating singly and not more than 45 feet in length with trailer.

A $10 license fee would be collected annually from owners of such carriers.

Famous Gangster Is Seriously Wounded by Buckshot in Mystery Affair.

CATSKILL, N. Y., April 27. (AP)—Jack (Legs) Diamond, gangster, for the second known time, was cut down and seriously injured by the gunfire of unknown assailants early today.

Machine Age Need Not Prove to Be Detrimental to Workers' Welfare

This is a machine age. Machinery has been a tremendous influence in the rapid development of the nation. It also has been the cause of readjustments which have brought suffering because of the necessity of changing occupations.

In this period of unemployment machinery is a vital factor. Much work is being done by machines that could just as well be done by men. It is therefore incumbent upon those employers who can do so to use men—men who head families and pay taxes. The machine, as such, needs no sympathy and asks none.

The machine age has developed the profession of making machines, and naturally any curtailment of the manufacture of such implements will create unemployment at the same time that it is preventing it elsewhere. The secret of the situation is to junk several million dollars worth of obsolete machinery and to replace it with new machines. Scores of giant plants and millions of smaller shops have one or more machines which should be replaced for the sake of economy of operation.

Were part of the nation's machines halted and the other part replaced and put into first class condition, an important part of the unemployment situation would be relieved. Man must master the machine lest it do him more harm than good. There is no chance for halting the march of mechanical progress, but there is an opportunity to adjust this progress that a minimum number of men will be unemployed as a result.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON, April 27. (NEA)—Government experts have been reassuring the country that the Nicaraguan earthquake should and would have no effect on the project for a Nicaraguan canal, but what may retard it is the fact that the old story about the Panama Canal becoming outgrown has been effectively knocked in the head.

Arguments for a second canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific is now based almost entirely on the arguments that a Nicaraguan canal would provide faster transit for ships plying from Gulf ports or the east coast to the west coast and that it would have a distinct military value.

The contention that it would be much better in time of war to have two canals in case one were blocked up or destroyed is met with the assertion that our military and naval forces in the Caribbean would have to be divided to protect two and that if one canal could be blown up or something, so, presumably, could the other.

Nevertheless, although the fact apparently was given no decisive weight when the Panama route was selected originally, it is estimated that vessels sailing from one American coast to the other would save an average of two days despite the fact that transit through the Nicaraguan canal would take 24 hours to the Panama Canal's eight. And that fact is likely to have more effect on congress than the military argument.

Meanwhile, at the end of this fiscal year the Panama Canal probably will have been used by fewer ships than in any year since 1926-27. Some 5475 ships passed through in that year, 6456 in 1928, 6413 in 1929 and 6185 in 1930. The first eight months of the fiscal year 1931 hewed 3809 ships passed through as compared with 422 for the first eight months of the fiscal 1930. If the present year goes on at the rate thus far its total will be about 5715 ships.

That will mean that the number of ships using the canal has decreased for three successive years—although not with a proportional decrease in tonnage or tolls—but it is pointed out that the recent drop has been partly due to the general depression.

It has been estimated officially that with the growth of canal traffic—figuring in increase of business, population growth in South America, steamship line expansion and so on—the capacity of the Panama ditch would be reached about 1960. At the same time it has always been known that installation of a third set of locks at a cost of about $100,000,000 would double the present capacity and to all intents and purposes give the Panama Canal capacity big enough for all time.

Sooner or later congress will be found debating the question whether it is best to build the third set of locks or a new canal to cost between $500,000,000 and $800,000,000.

Work on the new locks would have to begin about 10 years before they were actively in operation and the Nicaraguan canal probably could be built in no shorter time. Construction of the third set of locks has been envisaged all along; there's a rock foundation for them in case they are built.

The Inter-oceanic Canal Board of army and civilian engineers, as directed by congress, is completing a sur-

Legislators Have Two Weeks More In Which to Finish Lengthy Task Oak Furniture Is Distinctive

AUSTIN, April 27. (AP)—Only two weeks and two days before the scheduled close of the legislative session, Texas lawmakers today wondered whether they would be able to finish on time.

The answer may depend on their success this week although many had expressed belief the session would be held over a week or ten days.

The senate hoped to pass at least one of the house truck bills today. However, it had added numerous amendments so a free conference committee was likely, immediately after disposing of one of the truck bills.

A development of last week which perhaps will have some bearing on the vote was the request of a group of Austin citizens that the Austin representatives give up their leadership against the bond issue and the subsequent condemnation of the citizens' action by the house. Interwoven was a proposal to move the state highway department from Austin to Waco.

The proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the ad valorem tax, passed by the senate some time ago, was scheduled to come up in the house for the first time Wednesday. The intangible assets tax proposal had been set for house consideration tomorrow.

Additional free conference committee work on congressional redistricting, oil tax payments and the elementary appropriations bill also was on the schedule for this week.

Key and report on the canal situation which will make new estimates on the various phases such as cost, commercial values and capacities and cover exhaustively the various problems presented. Besides reporting on the new locks and Nicaraguan canal projects the engineers will give the results of a study as to the feasibility of lowering the Panama Canal to sea level.

MEXICO INVOKES NEW LAND LAW

MEXICO CITY, April 27. (AP)—The newspaper El Universal Grafico stated today the new immigration law, which has been drawn up by government experts is awaiting the president's signature. Foreigners would be prohibited from owning lands within a zone of 35 miles of the frontiers.

The paper says this is a "healthful" measure and will guard against repetition of such cases as the separation of Texas from Mexico.

The law will not require congressional approval, as congress recently vested the president with extraordinary powers to act in such matters.

MAY TO BE INTRODUCED IN PAMPA WITH GALA EVENT

TWO THOUSAND CHILDREN ARE TO HAVE PART

May day, always symbolic of beauty, health and happiness, will be celebrated Friday evening, just before sundown when about two thousand school children appear in a May fete on Harvester park. The public is invited to attend.

Friday marks the beginning of child health week and shortly preceding national music week, so the festival is being arranged accordingly.

Principal characters in the event have been chosen according to health qualifications. Several children from each room of junior high school were chosen who had the highest health rating, and from these the May queen and Robin Hood were elected by popular vote. Nellie Myers was named queen and Billie Cornelius, Robin Hood. Both are in the sixth grade.

With votes a penny apiece, the boys and girls cleared $160.

Robin Hood's men, also chosen according to health qualifications, are Holt Hamlet, Junior Perkins, Earl Johnson, and Carl Watts of the sixth grade, and Robert Wright, Henry Barnett, Howard Zimmerman, and Cortez West of the seventh grade.

Each ward school will furnish four children as attendants and four as flower girls. One train bearer will come from Baker school and one from Sam Houston. Little Shirley Mae Sene will be a train bearer also.

The high school orchestra and glee clubs from all schools will take part and each school will have a Maypole.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE IS GOOD IN PAMPA

About fifteen hundred persons were in Sunday school here yesterday.

The largest attendance in the city was reported for the Methodist church. This attendance, 507, was the largest of the year so far, according to announcement this morning from the church office.

The First Baptist came second with an attendance of 424, this being slightly less than the average.

There were 200 at the Central Baptist, 341 at the First Christian, 112 at the Presbyterian, 152 at the Church of Christ, and 23 at the Episcopal.

Feminine Fancies BY HOLLYCEE SELLERS HINKLE

Beauty!—The very word suggests something rare, mystic, almost divine.

God has made the beauties of the elements and they are good, but a beautiful human being with a beautiful soul—that is God's masterpiece.

Fourteen of Pampa's finest young ladies, physically, will pass in review at La Nora theater Thursday evening and Friday evening. They will radiate health and beauty, qualities which all desire, whether they will admit it or not. These qualities, with the addition of a beautiful soul, spell perfection.

But beauty is seldom a gift of the gods. It must be worked for just as anything else which is really worth while.

Nancy Earle, beauty specialist, tells this story:

"I know one woman who went to hear a lecture on beauty. Oh, how she wanted to look nice! She was so buoyed up by the inspiration received from the lecturer that she went right home and told her husband, in no uncertain tones, that she felt that she, too, should have some money to spend upon herself. He gave her the amount required to buy the few talks, required suggested by the lecturer. Did she go down and get them the next day? Oh, no, my no! She had her stove blackened instead. She then felt as though she had made the supreme sacrifice."

There is something vaguely comforting about being a martyr to the extent of the impairment of one's

Past and Present Are Blended Today

ELK CITY, Okla., April 27. (AP)—The past and the present were blended in pageantry here today.

Delegates arriving for the U. S. Highway 66 association meeting were greeted by Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians who had arrived yesterday by wagon and set up their village for the celebration attending the meeting. Braves from the village were to slaughter a buffalo for the banquet tonight, following the business meeting and a pageant picturing the progress of transportation.

Prairie schooners, ox carts, chuck wagons and stage coaches were units in the pageant.

A primary purpose of the meeting is to promote paving through western Oklahoma of the "Main Street of America" route. States traversed by highway 66 were represented by delegates.

L. M. Fischer, B. L. Morgan, and John R. Fungius, Amarillo attorneys, are attending court here today.

Mrs. J. M. Turner and little daughter, Joyce Elaine, spent the week-end in Wheeler with Mrs. Turner's mother, Mrs. J. D. Merriman.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Probation After Death" was the lesson-sermon subject in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 26.

The golden text was from Psalms 37:18: "The Lord knoweth the days of the upright; and their inheritance shall be forever."

Included in the service was the following passage from the Bible: (Hosea 13:14): "I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death; O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction."

The following citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, were also read: "Jesus' unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all

PEN WOMEN TO HEAR TALK BY NOTED WRITER

Blanch Young McNeil, noted writer and instructor of writing, will be brought to Amarillo, the first week in June by the Panhandle Pen Women's association, for six days instruction in the art of short story and feature article writing.

Mrs. McNeil visited Amarillo several years ago under the auspices of the Pen Women and her two lectures on writing were attended by one of the largest gatherings ever present at a session of this kind.

This course will not be for Pen Women exclusively, this time but will be open to all that are interested in writing or that want to improve along this line. Men, women, and students are urged to enroll as this is a great opportunity for writers of the Panhandle to get a course for a nominal fee that would cost a great deal more elsewhere.

For full details regarding this course write to Miss Laura V. Hammar, Haring building, or to the secretary, Mrs. R. H. Stiteler, 1502 Travis street, Amarillo.

"—I Am a Member of the '400' .. the Elite of the Merchandising World ..
A NATIONALLY ADVERTISED PRODUCT!"

LOTS OF PEOPLE think it is easy to become—and remain—a nationally advertised product. It is easy enough to become a nationally advertised product, but it is hard to remain one. Your performance has to be absolutely above reproach, if you stand up under the pitiless spotlight of publicity. Even if my manufacturer wanted to skimp on the cost of my production, he couldn't afford to do it. When he set my label up in the focus of the advertising searchlight, he automatically put his name up as sponsor for what I would and could do.

"If I should fall down in performance, the good name of my maker as well as my own trade name would suffer. I have to measure up to the demands of my most critical user.

"There is a certain satisfaction in being met by smiles of welcome and recognition from every shopper that passes my shelf, counter or display space, but there is a decided price that my manufacturer has to pay for this prestige.

"Not only while in the display case, but after I have gone home with the shopper I must be ever mindful of my responsibility: must do my work so well that the shopper will be more eager than ever to secure a duplicate.

package of me when I have finished my service. If I fail, then the very advertising which built for me such prestige will prove my undoing.

"Sometimes I almost envy the little off-brand products . . . would-be 'climbers' in the shopping world . . . that try to sneak in among the nationally advertised products and look like they 'belonged' and were one of us. Their smirking packages and labels try to hide the fact that they are conscious of their own brazenness . . . but to no avail. If they stopped to think a moment they would realize that there were no labels or package goods until advertising came in to create the nobility of the merchandising world. Before that time, everything was bought and sold in bulk.

"These tawdry make-shifts have no proud heritage like mine. They are industrial waifs and foundlings, packed and prepared in unknown factories. Their maker is probably just as happy that he is unknown. He can thereby dodge responsibility in case of failure. No wonder he doesn't advertise them. As I said before, 'It is easy to become a nationally advertised product but it is hard to remain one.'

"The very fact, of course, that these snides are seen in our company reflects a little of our prestige on them, and occasionally they go home with some less discriminating shopper. They don't stay long. They can't live up to the standards which we nationally advertised products have installed. The shopper discovers the penalty of her carelessness, to her sorrow. I feel so sorry for those shoppers. If they had only stopped to think a moment they would never have permitted the wool to be pulled over their eyes in that manner.

"Sometimes we hear an unconscientious salesman make the statement: 'This unknown is just as good, and it's cheaper.' When he says 'just as good,' he admits that the highest yardstick by which these little fakers can be measured is the nationally advertised product, and I am surprised that the shopper does not resent the implication that she would be satisfied with anything but the best. As for being 'cheaper,' how can you tell whether a thing is cheap, if you do not know what it is, who made it or what it will do?

"Sometimes, as I said, I get provoked at seeing good friends of mine duped by these substitutes, but I, at least, have the satisfaction of knowing that it will only be a short time until they come back for me, sold more strongly than ever that national advertising is the shoppers' best guarantee of satisfaction."

MENTAL LAPSES ADD TO TROUBLES OF YANKEE OUTFIT

TWO GAMES ARE LOST BY BRAIN ROUTE

Chapman, Gehrig and Lary in Sleepy Mood as They Let in Three Runs.

By GAVLE TALBOT JR. Associated Press Sports Writer. As if it wasn't bad enough to lose three of his best outfielders, including Babe Ruth, within a week's time, something even worse has arisen to make Joe McCarthy prematurely grey. His New York Yankees have taken to lapsing mentally in the pinches.

As the outright result of two rarely unmitigated gestures over the week-end, the Yankees lost the same number of ball games and dropped out of first place in the American league, a position they had held without a break since opening day. The Cleveland Indians, rained out both days, took over the top without a struggle.

McCarthy's boys pulled the first one Saturday when Chapman became confused on where to toss the ball at a vital point in the tenth inning and didn't make up his mind until after the Red Sox had scored the winning run.

But that was scarcely anything compared to the rare skit given by Lou Gehrig and Lyn Lary yesterday at Washington. Lary was on base when Lou smote one far into the center pavilion. Lary, rounding third, looked back in time to see the ball bounce back into a fielder's hands, though it had been caught for the third out and headed for the dugout. Before they could stir him back on the base path, Gehrig passed by with a fine burst of speed and crossed the plate. There went two runs, the exact margin by which the Senators eventually won, 9 to 7. Chapman later hit one into the stands with a fellow Yankee on base and the whole team turned out to escort them safely past third.

Dusty Cooke joined the New York hospital squad when he fell going after Bluege's homer in the third inning. He will be out at least two weeks, physicians said, the result of a displaced collar bone. Myril Hoag is the third Yankee outfielder on the shelf.

In the day's only other American league engagement, Detroit scored its fourth straight victory at the expense of Chicago, 8 to 4.

Two sparkling mound performances flickered a curtailed card in the National league. Heinie Meine gave only four hits in pitching Pittsburgh to a 1 to 0 triumph over St. Louis. It was the season's second defeat for the champion Cardinals and their first shutout.

Women Golfers On Heavy Course At San Antonio

COUNTRY CLUB, San Antonio, April 27. (AP)—A cold wind and heavy course due to a heavy rain last night, greeted early starters this morning in the fifteenth annual Texas Women's Golf association state tournament at the San Antonio Country Club.

Mrs. Bernice Lee Boyton of Dallas and Mrs. N. Milken of Austin were the first to leave the starting tee at 9 o'clock. Mrs. L. W. Magruder of Waco, one of the outstanding players of the association, decided at the last minute not to enter, taking from the tournament one of its best known players. She was runner-up last year to Mrs. Clay C. Cary of Dallas who is not defending her title because she is now living in California.

Patman to Seek Ouster of Mellon

MCCAMEY, April 27. (AP)—Congressman Wright Patman will seek the impeachment of Andrew Mellon at the next session of congress, Hal Brennan, state commander of the American legion, told the sixteenth district convention of the Legion here yesterday.

The congressman has enough evidence to secure the impeachment of the secretary of the treasury, Brennan declared. He said Patman had given him information on tax refunds by Mellon to his own corporations that would make the impeachment effective.

Location of the next district meeting will be determined by the executive committee. A total of 262 members were present.

Mrs. W. M. Fore of Memphis is visiting her son, Frank Fore.

Prisoners Steals Hat Twice—Will Try It Again

PETERSBURG, Ind., April 27. (AP) Officers were worrying today in fear that Sherman Johnson's ambition was getting the better of him.

Held on a charge of stealing the same hat twice from the Bill general store at Francisco, Ind., Johnson was to have been sentenced today for burglary.

Johnson had not only pleaded guilty to the charge but he also notified officers he intended to wear that twice-stolen hat to prison.

His second theft of the hat took place a week ago when he and six other prisoners escaped jail. He was later captured, and the hat taken from him.

Yesterday he sawed his way out of jail again.

The proprietor of the Francisco store has been warned to guard the hat.

BABE RUTH IS HOPEFUL HE CAN BAT SOON

But Physicians Declare He Will Be Out of His Game Two Weeks.

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—The "great man" of baseball—Babe Ruth—left home last Tuesday full of vigor, with three home runs to his credit and hopes of producing a new record. He came home last night in a wheel chair.

The Babe was discharged from the hospital in Boston yesterday full of optimism about getting back into the game. He wanted to get a crack at the Athletics this week, he said. But by the time he had completed the five-hour ride to New York, the predictions of the physician who attended him, Dr. Francis C. Newton, that the Babe would be out of action two weeks, appeared more fully justified.

He appeared tired from the journey and much of his usual jocularity was missing. He used "fine" except for his injured leg, he said, but he did not protest when Mrs. Ruth answered "two weeks" to all questions about how long he would be out of the game.

The Babe went home as soon as he arrived. He was trundled to his car, hoisted in with some difficulty and started for a more comfortable place. He will remain under the care of Dr. Edward Kingsley, the Yankees' club physician, until he is able to play again.

The swollen area on his leg, which bore the brunt of his crash into Charley Berry, Boston catcher, has almost disappeared, Ruth said. He is able to walk a little now.

CHURCHES

The evangelist, A. F. Anderson, spoke to a large crowd last night in the state theater on the subject, "Creation or Evolution From Man to Monkey or Money to Man." The speaker showed that Christ was in the beginning with God the Father, and had a part in creation, and that man was created in His own image. Therefore, to say that man evolved from a lower form of life, is to say that Jesus himself evolved from a lower form of life. He also showed more than fifty beautiful slides on the subject.

The speaker manifested great earnestness in presenting the topic of the evening, and all were delighted with the manner in which the subject was handled. The lectures continue each night this week, and will be illustrated with pictures. All are invited to attend.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE REVIVAL CITY HALL The revival in progress in the south basement of the city hall continues to grow in interest and attendance. The sin-killing, devil-defeating, God-honoring, full salvation-proclaiming revival is well advanced. The evening sermon from the subject, "Resting the Spirit," was used of God. Several requests of prayer and one was sanctified. Old time shouts of victory were heard in the camp and the saints are encouraged to go forward.

Wood Abandons Race Spurts Now MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 27. (AP) After five unsuccessful attempts to break Kaye Don's world speedboat record of 103.74 miles per hour, Gar Wood today postponed further trials in order to give his Miss America IX a thorough going over. Wood's fastest time today was made on his first and second runs, when he was clocked at 102.281 and 101.024 miles an hour, respectively, for a two-way average of 101.653 miles an hour.

AS BABE WAS CARRIED INJURED FROM FIELD

Babe Ruth, baseball's greatest star, is shown here being carried from the field at Boston after injury to his leg which will result in his being out of the game for a time. The man in front-center is Lou Gehrig, another New York Yankee star.

Sport Slants BY ALAN GOULD

But for one of those things they call fate, Tom Lieb, instead of Hank Anderson, now might be the "senior coach" at Notre Dame, carrying on for the old master, Knute K. Rockne. Lieb was next-in-command in 1929, after his return from Wisconsin, and shouldered a big share of the responsibility that year with a Rock forced away from the field by the condition of his leg.

Magnolia Team Defeats Berger The Magnolias of Pampa went over to Berger yesterday and took of the Prairie Oilers of that city to a 3 to 1 drubbing yesterday afternoon. With Burke and Hamm pitching and catching, respectively, the Oilers were able to get only two plate hits, while the Magnolias hit Hegwer and Wood six times.

Billiards Has Huge Number of Possible Shots CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 27. (AP)—If you think this game of billiards isn't full of possibilities for a lifetime of attention, just read what Prof. Frank G. Dickinson of the University of Illinois, has figured out.

Following that season, Lieb received an attractive offer to coach at Loyola of Los Angeles and accepted, on Rock's advice, especially as the latter seemed fit to take full charge again. Anderson was recalled from St. Louis to take over the job as line coach and first assistant. Although younger and less experienced, Jack Chevigny, the "junior coach" under the new arrangement, was perhaps closer to Rock than any of his aides. Chevigny accompanied Rock on many of his personal trips, as a sort of aide and body-guard. In this way he had a rare opportunity to absorb Rock's ideas and philosophy.

For instance, there are possibilities for a mere 63,000,000,000,000 different shots. If one tried to make all of them he couldn't do it working day and night, in 2,000,000,000 years. According to Professor Dickinson's figures, there are 6,325 inches of surface on a championship table. If the table were lined off into one-eighth inch blocks and the balls were grouped in every possible combination, there would be more than 63,000,000,000,000 arrangements. The professor says the problem may be considerably simplified by lining the table off into one-inch blocks, then it would leave only 243,000,000,000 combinations.

Popularity of baseball among Missouri colleges is on the wane, a recent survey disclosed. Bad weather and conflicts with track are given as causes. CHANGING SCHEDULE KIGORE, April 26. (AP)—A change in the opening day schedule of the new East Texas baseball league was announced today under which Kigore and Longview will open here Wednesday instead of at Longview. Lefty Leopold, formerly of the Chicago White Sox, will head the Kigore pitching staff. About 50 rook-ies have been working out. Try News-Post Want Ads.

CATS GRAB TEXAS LEAGUE LEAD BY ONE-TILT MARGIN

One to One Tie at End of Ninth Inning Breaks Up Pitching Duel Sunday.

By The Associated Press.

A three-run rally in the tenth inning gave the Fort Worth Panthers a 4 to 1 victory over the Dallas Stars Sunday and the Texas league pennant; lead by a margin of one game.

The league leadership at stake, McCabe, for Fort Worth, and Murray, for Dallas, started the game. Both worked well and at the end of nine innings the count was knotted at 1 and 1. An error, an intentional pass and two hits scored three runs for Fort Worth in the tenth and Hansen, who relieved McCabe, held the Moresmen hitless in the Stars' half of the inning to get credit for the win.

Shreveport, knocked about in every game since the season opened, finally broke into the win column at the expense of the Wichita Falls Spudders Sunday. After losing ten straight, the Sports, with Turo on the mound, scored four runs in the eighth, taking a 5 to 3 lead which the Spudders could not touch in the ninth.

Carroll was master of the Houston Buffs as the Galveston Buccaneers won 3 to 2, squaring the series with their rivals and at the same time breaking a four-game losing streak. Carroll struck out but one bunt but kept Houston's six hits so well scattered that they netted only two runs.

San Antonio made it two straight over Beaumont, 4 to 1, with Cyrus Smith baffling the Exporters. He kept their nine hits scattered and added to his own cause by driving in two runs with a double and a triple.

Monday's schedule was unchanged, Fort Worth playing at Dallas, Wichita Falls at Shreveport, Houston at Galveston and Beaumont at San Antonio.

FAMED JONES' PUTTER FAILS STAR SUNDAY

World's Champion Is Highest Scorer in Trio When He Loses Confidence.

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN LOS ANGELES, April 27. (AP)— "Calamity Jane" lay defeated in Bobby Jones' golf bag today.

The famed putter, which aided the Atlanta lawyer in becoming the world's greatest golf champion, failed his master miserably on Wilshire Country club's rain-soaked greens yesterday, and therein lies a story.

It all happened in a hot-blast scene, for clatters in which Jones and Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente pro, muddled through 18 holes to finish all-square with California's Dutra brothers, Mortie of Long Beach and Olin of Santa Monica.

The surprising thing was that it was Jones who had the highest score, a 75. Diegel and Olin shot 74 on the wet 60-par course, while Mortie came out with the honors, 72.

Even on Bobby's thirty-seventh putt, a dramatic five-footer which had it dropped, would have won the match on the eighteenth, old Calamity Jane fell. Jones stepped aside and into a flooded barrage to explode his submerged ball almost into the cup.

Mortie Dutra and Diegel were in similar difficulties and were less fortunate in getting out, while Olin third was 15 feet from the pin. Bobby took unusual precaution as he addressed the ball. It was no use, he explained it later.

"I knew the putt was lined up right, but after such a miserable showing on the greens, I had lost confidence, and pulled the shot slightly." The ball rolled three inches to the left of the cup, but allowed him to halve the hole. For Olin also was down in 2 to a 5.

Bobby took 28 strokes on the greens, whereas Diegel and Olin used 32 each and Mortie 30.

This Game of GOLF BY O.B. KEELER

Joe Kirkwood, fine victory in the Southeastern open golf tournament at Augusta, Ga., where he played two rounds of the Forrest-Hills-Ricker course and two more of the Hill course at the Augusta Country club with a total of 290, recalls the brave days, years ago, when Joe and Walter Hagen between them captured seven or nine big winter tournaments, representing the Harlow stable around the circuit.

Joe has not competed so regularly in recent years, and has not won an impressive percentage of tournaments in which he did engage. But he displayed sterling golf at Augusta—any man who can turn in four rounds on those two particular courses in an average of 72-1-2 may plume himself unashamed.

This feat, in turn, recalls a query I have heard just about as often as any other in golf: "With all his trick shots, why doesn't Kirkwood win every competition he enters?"

Except Sink a Putt A lot of people think he ought to be the greatest tournamenteer of the world, after watching Joe and his bag of tricks. Joe can make a golf ball do just about anything. "Except go into the hole," he has explained whimsically.

There must be a reason for everything, according to the casuists; and after considering the case of Joe Kirkwood for some seasons I decided that the reason Joe did not win more important competitions was mainly because he knew too many ways of playing a golf shot.

You know how Joe, in his trick-shot exhibition, will play all sorts of trajectories with the same iron club, from a low line drive to a steep pitch; he will bend the ball to the left or to the right; "fading" it or "drawing" it—all that sort of thing.

Put yourself in Joe's place, in a serious competition, confronted with a shot of, say, 180 yards to a green. Perhaps there is a wind off the right, or off the left; and the green slopes this way—or conceivably that.

Too Many Ways Anyway, Kirkwood naturally will confront the shot with a mind not at all single. He might fade the ball in, holding it up against the wind. Or he might spare the stroke a bit and draw the ball in, riding it a wind and taking a longer run on the turf. Or he might—well, you get the idea.

It is quite possible that Joe settles the matter definitely in his objective mind. But what about that extremely sensitive and even slightly subjective mind, with which—so a number of critics inform us—the very highest quality of golf is played, when extreme astuteness has placed the objective mind in abeyance?

My theory is that Joe's subjective mind in moments of great stress sometimes imposes alternatives on the stroke just as it is in progress, and to mix the metaphor, between two stools the shot goes haywire. After all, a golf shot can be played only one way—at a time.

MISSING DOCTOR IS NOT HEARD FROM FOR ENTIRE WEEK ST. LOUIS, April 27. (AP)—With the passing of a week since Dr. I. D. Kelly, wealthy eye, ear and nose specialist, was kidnapped last Monday night, the police said they had nothing more tangible in the way of clues than last Tuesday when an eye witness told of seeing the abduction.

The Globe-Democrat said today it has "reasons to believe that he has communicated with his family and that his release from his kidnapers may be one of the eventualities of the next few days."

Members of the family and friends of the physician continued to deny last night that they had heard from either the physician or his captors.

AN OZARK MOUNTAIN GROCERY FILLS RED CROSS FOOD ORDERS

GENERATIONS to come will look back upon the winter of the years 1930 and 1931 with wonder at the physical phenomena which wrought one of the greatest natural disasters in the history of the United States. Perhaps Indian lore might disclose some year of great and universal drought on this continent, but certainly not since the time of the pioneer white settlers has such a wide breadth of the nation suffered under a similar calamitous blow.

Tragedy, in the form of destitution, poverty and near-starvation, stalked through thousands of communities in the twenty-one states, where crops scathed and died under last summer's terrific suns. Droughts in small regions and of periods enumerated in weeks have been a fairly common occurrence in some parts of our country. But a drought, starting in some sections in January, 1930, and remaining virtually unbroken a year later, according to Weather Bureau reports, had never before challenged the hardihood of the farmer.

In those regions most gravely affected—the valley of the Potomac and Shenandoah rivers in the east, of the Ohio river and its tributaries in the central states, and of the Mississippi river in the middle west—several million people in approximately one thousand counties suffered in greater or lesser degree.

Winter Stores Failed

Recognition of the plight that might face the farmers should the drought—the real intensity of which was first noticed in early August—continue unbroken, came in middle August when President Hoover called a meeting of governors of the drought-stricken states. The American Red Cross was represented by its chairman John Barton Payne, in this conference. Out of it grew committees for relief.

"GOIN' TO EAT HEARTY, THIS EVENIN'," GRINNED THESE KENTUCKY MOUNTAIN BOYS

An immediate relief task faced the Red Cross and this was to plan ahead to meet the distress which it seemed would inevitably visit many communities unless early autumn brought rains.

Distribution of seeds for gardens and pasturage was determined upon by the Red Cross as one way of meeting in some degree the need for food and feed which loomed in the future. Carrying out this plan, the Red Cross gave pasturage seed—enough for five acres of rye or wheat which would provide winter grazing and a spring crop—to 58,352 farmers in September and October, and seeds for garden truck to 27,424 farmers, also. Both proved a great boon. Especially in Texas and Arkansas were the pasturage crops successful, as good rainfall visited these states in the late fall. Everywhere in the six states—Louisiana, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Texas—where the Red Cross distributed these seeds were the gardens successful. Greenstuff helped out with the families' diets until, in many instances, the first week in January.

Feeding Began in November

In November, Red Cross Chapters assumed the feeding of many families, whose reserves had early become exhausted, and by late December, the national treasury of the Red Cross in Washington began supplementing the resources of these Chapters, and began helping 50,000 families.

Since August, the Red Cross had anticipated that, with continued unfavorable trends, such a situation might come to pass. Therefore its organization was in the field, and by January 15 more than 500,000 persons were being fed, clothed or given other relief. February 1 the Red Cross rolls carried more than 1,000,000 persons being given relief, and the peak was reached early in March when more than 2,000,000 persons were daily recipients of food, clothing, medical aid or some other form of Red Cross help. On March 15 more than 150,000 children in 3,600 public schools in the drought states were being given a midday hot lunch, to strengthen them against ailments which might impair their health and result in handicaps later in life.

In this relief work the Red Cross was ably supported by the public. The organization pledged $5,000,000 from its own treasury, and was given a $10,000,000 fund by public subscription.

"The Red Cross has met in this drought disaster the greatest task ever imposed upon it, in the numbers of people it has helped," said James L. Fieser, vice chairman of the Red Cross and administrative director of the drought relief operations.

"Thousands of families, who had the very highest standing in their communities, who had always been supporters of the Red Cross in the past in its relief work, but who had never sought, nor had ever dreamed of being forced to accept such charitable aid, had to take this help this time. Never was such a complete debacle of all means of self support as existed in some of these communities—not once through any fault of its citizens.

"Thousands of men and women sacrificed their own means, and gave months of devoted labor in this Red Cross work of distributing relief. Other thousands did any laboring task at hand in their gratitude for the relief given them."

Communists Are Given Blame for Walker's Trouble

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Mayor Walker, who is facing removal proceedings, on charges of condoning incompetency and encouraging corruption, ascribes his difficulties to communist activities.

Speaking before a communion breakfast of 2,000 members of the New York City fire department yesterday, he said he was merely the "temporary target" and that the attack would be widened to include other public men. Its object, he said, was to tear down American institutions.

"The efforts will become more manifest as the movement to destroy confidence in city officials grows," he said. "It is a matter not so much for me to worry about as business to worry about. After they undermine public confidence in the city municipal government, then the state, then the nation — then they will go into the business world."

The mayor, without mentioning names, referred to men "who ascend pulpit pretending a background of Christ's holy word or the Torah." A week ago in his reply to Governor Roosevelt, the mayor made caustic mention of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise and John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community church, who signed the charges against him.

HERE'S CLOSEUP OF SANDINO, NICARAGUAN OUTLAW

This illustrated map of Nicaragua shows the scenes of some of the major clashes between General Sandino and U. S. marines, as well as other incidents that form the background of President Hoover's determination that he shall be captured. At the left is a closeup of Sandino on his favorite mount.

When Sandino took over American gold mines in Nicaragua, he called the workers together and paid them all of their back wages. He decided not to destroy the mine at San Albino because it might prove useful to his country, but he did wreck another mine when he found four tons of dynamite stored there.

Where Sandino obtains his arms is a mystery. Some come from Mexico and others are the spoils of raids on the U. S. marine corps. He is popular for his eagerness to pay his way, but he is also known for his great severity. Punishment for infraction of his strict rules usually means death before a firing squad.

One of the most striking phases of the warfare is the discrepancy between U. S. reports of the battles and Sandino's stories of the losses. For instance, Sandino claims to have had only 60 men in the first major engagement with the marines at Ocotal on May 16, 1927, but American dispatches reported from 150 to 300 rebels were killed.

Frequently marine aviators have raided his strongholds, but he has always escaped their bombs and bullets. Sandino expects to be captured some day, but reports from Nicaragua say he is tutoring aides who will take his place and who are no less skilled in his strange tactics of guerilla warfare.

New Canons on Divorce and Upon Re-marriage Framed by Churches

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Changes in church codes are proposed in reports published today by official groups within the Protestant Episcopal church and the Presbyterian church in the United States of America.

An Episcopal commission appointed six years ago recommended the adoption of virtually a new canon covering the church's attitude toward divorce and remarriage. A commission of the Presbyterian church, depicting the increasing divorce rate, gave its approval to birth control and suggested the establishment of courses for instruction in marriage.

The revised canon of the Episcopal church advocated the creation of ecclesiastical courts to pass on problems of marriage. It would permit ministers to remarry communions and divorced persons under certain circumstances, eliminate all mention of ground for divorce and remarriage, and define nine causes for annulment. Even though a minister should officiate at the marriage of a communicant and one divorced, the ceremony could not be conducted in a church edifice nor could the Book of Common Prayer be used.

At present an Episcopal minister cannot in any circumstances officiate at the remarriage of a guilty party in a divorce granted for infidelity, although he can remarry the innocent party with the consent of the bishop.
