Business Here Is Little Behind Figures Shown in Census for Abilene and Lubbock.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16. Retail business in Pampa is approximately $12,500,000 as shown by the bureau of the census in the release today of the returns from the 1930 distribution census now being compiled. The 1930 population of Pampa is 10,470.

The bureau reports 246 retail stores with a total annual business of $12,500,000, a yearly pay roll of $1,000,000, and full-time employment of 736 men and women. The reported number of employees does not include those working part time, although the pay roll of part-time employees is included in salaries and wages. Merchandise in stock for sale at the end of 1930 shows a cost value of $1,514,505.

The total of 246 stores includes 150 single-store independents; 15 units of 2-store multiples, and 81 units of 3-store multiples. There are also 30 units of local chains, 7 units of sectional chains, and 6 units of national chains. Sales of these three types of chain organizations aggregate $3,106,611, or 24 per cent of the total retail business, while sales of the single-store independent amount to $8,393,389, or 67 per cent. These figures are based upon reports received in 1930 covering the year 1929.

The automotive group takes the lead in this report, with the lumber and building group second, and the food group third in order of sales. Food stores total 40, and report sales of $1,919,309, or 13 per cent of the total retail business. Of this number, 24 are grocery stores with sales of $945,900, 8 are meat markets with sales of $223,225, and 8 are combination stores (groceries and meats) with sales of $749,022. Many bakeries which manufacture their own products are included in the census of manufacturers, and do not appear in this report.

Wash Automobile Business
The automobile group, with 55 establishments, does a business of $5,655,272, or 39 per cent of the total retail business. Sales in 10 motor-vehicle establishments amount to $2,755,079, and sales in 7 accessory, tire, and battery stores to $135,297. A total of 26 filling stations is reported with aggregate sales of $471,976 in gas, oil and other accessories. This merchandising is also sold in 9 garages whose total business of $40,423 includes receipts from repairs and storage as well as from sales.

The general-merchandise group, which includes department stores, dry goods stores, general stores, and variety, is $4,452,107, and 106-dollar stores, reports sales of $1,111,725. The 12 stores employ the full-time services of 12 men and women and pays $108,728 annually in salaries and wages. The 3 department stores report sales of $468,660, while 4 dry goods stores and 3 general stores, and 2 variety, 5-and-10, and ten-dollar stores report sales of $644,429. Inventory for the group as of the end of the reporting year totals $301,373.

Hot Restaurants
The 27 restaurants and other eating places in Pampa employ 128 full-time people, and do a business of $670,239. This volume of business is exclusive of meals served in dining rooms operated by hotels and boarding houses, and of lunches served in drug stores. The total pay roll of the 27 restaurants and eating places is $125,803.

The furniture and household group totals 13 stores, employing 43 full-time people, and does a business of $680,476. Furniture stores sell $408,183 of this total in 7 stores, while 6 household appliance stores account for the balance of the $272,293.

Lumber Trade Heavy
The lumber and building group, with 23 stores and yards, reports 66 full-time employees, and a total retail business of $2,503,586, or 20 per cent of the total retail business. This group includes lumber yards and hardware, electrical, heating, and plumbing. Fencing mills and similar establishments which manufacture building materials are included in the census of manufacturers and do not appear in this report. Other large business classifications shown in detail in this report are feed and farmers supply stores, drug stores, clothing stores, and radio and music stores.

This report is a comprehensive picture of the retail business in Pampa and is part of the first "basic" distribution census of distribution now being compiled by the bureau.

YOUTH KILLED RIDING CARS

Loss of Blood Results in Death in Amarillo of Bill Haggard.

AMARILLO, April 16. (P)—Bill Haggard, 20, of Oklahoma City, died in an Amarillo hospital today from injuries sustained shortly before midnight when he fell between moving freight cars on the Rock Island 16 miles east of Amarillo. His right leg was amputated just above the knee and attendants said he died from loss of blood.

The youth was en route to his home in Oklahoma City, according to Victor Anders, a brother-in-law, who also was on the train. The train stopped and members of the crew rendered first aid.

Haggard leaves a wife in Oklahoma City. His parents are said to be living at Maude, Okla.

Girl Prisoners Injure Officers

LUMBERTON, N. C., April 16. (P)—Five officers and firemen were injured in quieting six girl prisoners, who early today spread terror in the Robeson county jail for an hour. The girls tore down electric light fixtures and broke out window panes after setting the bunks afire.

They attacked the jailer, cutting one of his fingers almost off and slashing his face with glass. Firemen and other officers were attacked similarly.

Finally the insurgents were overcome and locked in new cells, containing no furniture.

The girls had been brought to the jail and charged with arson three weeks ago after a dormitory at Samarcand, state school for delinquent inmates, was burned. They had been inmates of the school.

Detour Necessary As Paving Begun

All traffic on highway No. 33 west is being detoured over the Berger highway to a point north of Kingsmill and then south to the pavement in Carson county. Actual paving of the road will begin next Monday or Tuesday. Stuckey Construction company announced yesterday.

The contract was let a month ago to the Stuckey Construction company for $148,000, or at a cost of approximately $21,000 per mile. This is the lowest price that has been paid for concrete paving in the Panhandle.

Commissioner Lewis O. Cox of precinct No. 2 has had the Berger road put in good condition, and will maintain it until the stretch of new paving, 7.4 miles, is opened.

Redistricting Issue Up To Committee

AUSTIN, April 16. (P)—The congressional redistricting question was given to a free conference committee today when the house refused to concur in senate amendments to a bill by Representative Metcalfe of San Angelo. The senate adopted a bill by Senator Gray of Kemp as substitute for Metcalfe's bill.

ALFONSO HAS NOT GIVEN UP HIS POWERS

Willing to Resume Place If People Decide To Have Monarchy — He Is Irritable.

GOING TO PARIS

Difficult Task of Keeping Order and Establishing Stable Government Is Before Country.

MARSEILLE, France, April 16. (P)—Alfonso XIII, deposed Spanish monarch, who arrived here at dawn today from Spain, left at noon for Paris where he will join his wife, Victoria, and five of their six children.

Nervous and somewhat irritable, he landed here with his cousin, the Infante Alfonso, and the Duke of Miranda, chief of the royal household, from aboard the cruiser Principe Alfonso on which they left Caragena before daylight Tuesday.

He wore the same brown overcoat and soft grey felt hat he had on when he left Cartagena. His face was lined with fatigue and strain and for the crowd of newspapermen which met him at the quay his only words were: "Laissez moi"—"leave me alone."

The Duke of Miranda, speaking for him, declared Alfonso had not abdicated the Spanish throne. "His Majesty has retained all of his rights," he declared. "He has merely abandoned power in order to avoid trouble or even civil war."

Alfonso awaits the forthcoming elections in June to settle the fate of the country. He will remain aloof until the people have decided the form of government they wish and then will abide by their decision.

PARIS, April 16. (P)—Spain's king and queen, driven from their throne at Madrid in a movement which has led to the establishment of a Spanish republic, today found an asylum in France.

Sad faced and hearted, Queen Victoria, who left an English home to become the bride of King Alfonso, reached Paris with five of their children this forenoon. She retired to a hotel apartment where she said today she will be in a state of virtual seclusion as a consequence of the strain of the past four days.

She shut herself up in her bedroom and would see no one upon her doctor's advice that she must have absolute rest and quiet until tonight, when Alfonso is expected here from Marseille, and he will be landed from the cruiser Principe Alfonso at dawn today.

MADRID, April 16. (P)—The government, attacking the tremendous problem of changing Spain almost overnight from autocracy and dictatorship to a republic, today used a heavy hand to curb threats of communist disturbance and separatism.

Communists riot
Martial law was proclaimed in Seville after communist rioting there. A communist mob provoked the riot at a garden restaurant and two persons were killed and 19 wounded in the ensuing clash. Four police were wounded. General Capallenas, the newly appointed captain general of Andalusia, was ordered to Seville immediately to take charge of the situation.

Seville was the second Spanish city to declare martial law since the proclamation of a republic and flight of the royal family, who it appeared today, would be reunited in Paris preparatory to taking up residence in England. Barcelona, the first, also was in the hands of the militia today after scattered rioting with some casualties.

There were other scattered disorders, with communists in some sections using the red flag of revolution as a symbol of their own cause, but the general atmosphere was one of celebration rather than violence. A government order asked all Spain to go back to work today after its holiday of yesterday, pleading that the junta had vital questions to consider and should not be disturbed by problems of public peace.

The council of ministers was understood today to have decided that the integrity of Spain must be maintained until a constituent cortes or constitutional convention can work out its future status and that separatist movements, such as that at Barcelona, where a Catalan republic has been proclaimed, must be suppressed.

POLICEMAN RESIGNS
H. G. Butler has resigned as a member of the city police force. His resignation took effect yesterday. Mr. Butler was a member of the night force during the last winter. He will not have a successor, it is understood.

PATIENTS IMPROVE
The following patients were discharged from Pampa hospital yesterday and today: Mrs. E. J. Ewald, Mrs. E. F. Boyles and baby daughter, Mrs. M. P. Moore and baby daughter, Mrs. Ida Walton.

RESCUER'S CAR IS DESTROYED

SAN ANGELO, April 16. (P)—Within ten minutes after the fire he picked up two young women who had been injured in the overturning of their automobile, J. Harvey Andrew's car caught fire last night near Harriett, east of here, and was destroyed. Another passerby brought the trio to San Angelo.

Miss Wilma Gossett and Miss Mary Edwards still were in hospital this morning, neither critically hurt.

Gray county's modern, all-steel, and well-populated jail was without a barber today.

Rules Portugal From Fortress

From behind the walls of a virtual fortress — a Lisbon army barracks surrounded by barbed-wire entanglements and artillery emplacements — President Carmona, above, is ruling revolution-torn Portugal. Lisbon, the capital city, is seething with reports of rebellion, with Madeira and the Azores already in open revolt.

HEMBREE IS KEEPING CALM

Choctaw Indian Must Die Soon for Attack Upon School Teacher.

MALESTER, Okla., April 16. (P)—E. S. (Choc) Hembree, Choctaw Indian, maintained stoical calm today as the hour for electrocution approached.

Hembree, 38 years old, is to die shortly after midnight for shooting and attacking Leota Booley, young Gainesville, Texas, woman, near Loco, Okla., where she was teaching, 13 months ago.

Last night in his cell in the "death row," just a few steps from the execution chamber, Hembree whistled gaily. He smiled, said he wasn't worried and showed little interest in the fact that a sanity hearing — his last chance to escape the "chair" — had not been held.

"Let 'em look at my brain if they want to," he said, adding that he didn't think such a hearing necessary. Hembree took no part in pleas for mercy made for him by members of his family.

His wife and children, his parents and a sister have said their goodbyes.

His brother, A. Y. Hembree, also convicted on the same charge, is free on an appeal bond from a prison sentence.

The young school teacher was in a critical condition for months

STERLING NOW OIL CHAIRMAN

Meeting Of States Will Be Held in Austin On May 4.

AUSTIN, April 16. (P)—Holding their first meeting this morning, members of the newly created Texas oil, gas and natural resources conservation committee elected Gov. Ross S. Sterling chairman.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, was named vice-chairman, and Representative Howsley of Albany was selected secretary. While the meeting was for the purpose of organization, members drew two resolutions and adopted them before recessing subject to call of the chairman.

In the first, the governors, the chairmen of the railroad commissions, and the legislative committees of Oklahoma, Kansas, Louisiana, Arkansas, California, Mexico, and Wyoming, were advised of Texas' proposed work and were asked to send representatives to a meeting of the committees here May 4.

The second stated it would require the presence of nine of the 12 members of the committee to constitute a quorum.

The meeting also heard the bill Representative Lassiter of Henderson proposed to invite Cleo I. Murray of Oklahoma to the meeting, whereupon Senator Pollard of Tyler protested. Lassiter withdrew his motion. Pollard said he was opposed to inviting any individual beyond the membership of the committee.

Members of the committee advanced the opinion Governor Murray of Oklahoma would in all likelihood send Cleo I. Murray to the conference here May 4.

Governor Sterling told members he had gathered data from various sources concerning oil among them being a report from the Washington oil conference. He said the data would be mimeographed for use of the members.

The Texas oil, gas and natural resources committee is composed of Governor Sterling, James V. Allred, attorney general, Senators Pollard and Woodard of Coleman, Woodul of Houston, and Parrish of Lubbock, and Representatives Howsley of Albany, Lassiter of Henderson, McDougald of Beaumont, Hazy of Breckenridge, and Johnson of Carrizo Springs.

Gulf Is Sued For Damages By Man Hurt In Accident

Damages in the amount of $25,500 were asked of the Gulf Production company by J. W. Worley in a suit filed in district court today for injuries alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff June 9, 1930, when he was injured in an automobile accident two and one-half miles northwest of LeFors.

Mr. Worley claimed that his arm was permanently injured and made useless. He alleges that his car was stopped near the embankment on the side of the road and that he was injured when a truck loaded with tubing and driven by an employee of the Gulf company collided with his machine.

Worley filed the suit through his attorney, Will R. Saunders. The petition states that the road was slippery with mud, and that there were 40 feet of road between his car and the other side of the road for cars to travel.

He claims that his arm was broken, and the ligaments in it badly torn and strained. He asked $300 for hospital bills.

ASHROFT TO TRIAL

R. I. Ashcroft is being tried in 31st district court today on a charge of exchanging a gallon of whiskey for a talking machine.

He pleaded not guilty to the charge and attorneys selected a jury this morning. The case is due to be concluded early this afternoon.

John Sturgeon is attorney for the defendant.

Dr. J. H. Kelly, T. R. Martin and G. E. Wallace attended the Panhandle Medical association in Amarillo yesterday.

BIG RACKETEER SLAIN IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 16. (P)—Giuseppe Masseria, otherwise "Joe the Boss," described by newspapers as an associate of Al Capone and by the police as "the biggest racketeer of them all, is dead from the bullets and the police feared there would be a gang war.

Five bullets were fired into the back of his head and shoulders while he sat thumbing a deck of cards in an obscure little Italian restaurant in Coney Island last evening.

Joe lived in Harlem and he was a long way from home when he arrived at Nuova Villa Tammaro in his steel-armored car with its inch thick plate glass windows. It was uncertain whether he arrived alone or whether there were any other customers in the place. The proprietor was out for a walk, the cook was in the kitchen and neither knew a thing about it.

An hour after he arrived there was a volley of shots in the restaurant and an automobile pulled away from the curb.

Police found Joe in a pool of blood, a card table overturned, and the cards strewn over the floor. His car was still outside where he had parked it, and not a great distance away was a second automobile in which were found several sawed-off shot guns.

The feuds which "Joe the Boss" waged in New York have been so many, police said, that any one of a dozen enemies might have killed him. They said he was "bigger than Al Capone" and that he had a hand in "every racket known."

Advisory Group Asks That Crude Output Be Curbed

ST. LOUIS, April 26. (P)—Anticipating a decrease in the demand for petroleum products during the next six months, the oil states advisory committee has recommended to the governors of nine oil producing states that there be no increase in oil production.

The recommendations of the committee followed presentation to the refining division of the American Petroleum Institute of supply and demand forecasts based on separate surveys by the federal oil conservation board's committee on economics and the institute's committee on refinery statistics and economics.

Woman Attacked By Man Given Ride

AUSTIN, April 16. (P)—Willingness of a 30-year-old San Antonio woman to accommodate a friend by offering him transportation in her automobile from San Antonio to Waco was rewarded adversely near Austin late yesterday.

Mrs. A. M. Short was in a hospital here today recovering from bruises about the body and head which she told police and sheriff's officers were inflicted by her companion about 15 miles south of Austin late yesterday.

Mrs. Short told the officers the man attacked her then removed her shoes and hose, taking $93 in cash which she had secreted in her stocking. He then left her unconscious in her automobile beside the highway, all stated.

Trial Of Student Nears Conclusion

LAREDO, April 16. (P)—Reading of District Judge J. F. Mullally's charge to the jury in the trial of Harlan E. Carter, 17, Laredo school boy, indicted for murder for the shotgun killing of Ramon Casiano, 16, was postponed until this afternoon.

Defense attorneys, when the trial reopened this morning, asked for additional time in which to prepare objections to the charge.

Arguments were expected to be as soon as the charge was read and the case was likely to reach the jury this evening.

Mrs. J. L. Natic and son, Carlton left this morning for Carlsbad, N. M., where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Vasey and visit the caverns.

Three Persons Injured at Wichita Falls During Series of Explosions at Cracking Plant.

BULLETIN
WICHITA FALLS, April 16. (P)—Clarence E. Walker and Jim A. Horne, employees of the Panhandle Refining company, who were burned in an explosion and fire at the plant here this morning, died in a local hospital this afternoon.

Damage was estimated at $30,000 by Roy B. Jones, president of the company.

KILGORE, April 16. (P)—One man was burned to death and two others may die of burns received when a battery of oil tanks at the Humble company camp near here were destroyed early today.

Joe Lamb, 25, is dead, and M. J. Pendleton, 35, and a man named Pettaway, were seriously burned.

Lamb's father, who stood helplessly and watched the flames burn his son, was taken to a hospital, prostrated from the experience.

Auto Backfires
The oil tanks were ignited by backfire from an automobile, which set off a gas pocket.

The Lamb's were believed to have come here recently from Smackover, Ark. It was not known whether any of the men was married.

Joe Lamb's body was burned beyond recognition. Pendleton and Pettaway were taken to a hospital here, then taken to a hospital at Henderson.

Mrs. R. L. Lamb, of Houston, the youth's mother, arrived here at 10:30 a. m. without having been advised of her son's death. He also was surrounded by Mrs. Beethoven, Joseph E. and John S. Lamb.

Attendants at the hospital reported later in the morning that M. H. Pettaway would live.

Humble Oil company employees said the fire was confined to a gas pocket under a group of three tanks at the Humble-Orin No. 3 well.

Series of Blasts
WICHITA FALLS, April 16. (P)—Clarence R. Walker, Robert K. Krull, and Jim A. Horne, employees of the Panhandle Refining company here, were critically burned Thursday morning in a series of explosions at the Dubbs cracking plant at the refinery, and a fourth man, Lawrence Worthely, was slightly injured.

Firemen were making only slight headway with the flames that engulfed 50 to 60 feet into the air from the cracking plant. Little hope was held for the three more seriously injured men, who were in a local hospital.

JULIAN CLAIMS ILLNESS
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 16. (P)—Through a physician's certificate setting out that C. C. Julian, California and Oklahoma oil man, is ill, his counsel today obtained continuance under a writ of habeas corpus in district court to list properties and assets.

He was to have given the information today as a result of a court order obtained by John Salisbury, Los Angeles, who holds judgments of nearly $200,000 against Julian.

Leaders Should Not Pass Up Panhandle's Manufacturing Opportunity

The Panhandle offers one of the greatest opportunities for manufacturing in the nation today. Hundreds of concerns are leaving metropolitan New York for a large number of reasons; many are moving to the south because of the many advantages offered.

This section offers unlimited opportunities for manufacturing because of the great supply of cheap natural gas in the Panhandle oil field. The population has grown rapidly the past decade. This growth also means that more and more manufactured products can be consumed locally.

New York doesn't seem to care because many concerns are leaving. For instance, it is said that only one large hat factory remains in New York. No more expansion is being made in New England by cotton mills.

B. C. Forbes, noted economist, gives among the reasons firms are leaving congested centers: Unsatisfactory labor conditions, including arbitrary unions; higher wage scales than at other points; heavy taxation on profits in New York state; higher rentals; workmen's compensation burdens; lower power rates and more tranquil labor in the south.

Pampa and Borger have great possibilities through increased refinery facilities. Carbon black plants should mean that the day will come when these cities will have ink and tire factories. There is need for a number of great flour mills in the Panhandle, and these are sure to come with more ranch land being put into cultivation.

With the shift of cotton mills to the south, the day may come when Childress will receive recognition because of being the center of the Panhandle's cotton belt. Also the improved railroad facilities make it easier to ship finished products.

The entire Panhandle should work together because all communities can profit through the development that should take place.

When one realizes that it takes one to three hours to make the round trip to work in New York; that house rent is out of reason; that taxes are more burdensome even than in the Panhandle, then it can be understood why this section eventually should be selected for manufacturing sites.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, April 16. (NEA).—The senate will have to learn a lot of new tricks if it hopes to monopolize the attention of the country in the future as it has since the league of nations fight.

Veterans here recall the days when the house galleries were always packed and the senate galleries hardly ever. It has been the other way around in recent years, but the old-timers expect the house to draw the crowds again in the 72d congress. The probabilities of turmoil are obvious.

The death of Speaker Nicholas Longworth, who was perhaps the only man who could have handled the next house and kept it running with a fair degree of smoothness even though administration control was gone, has increased the chances of confusion and of grief for Mr. Hoover.

Even if Ohio sends a Republican to replace Longworth and the party retains a majority of one vote, the effect of Longworth's loss is expected to be important. There is no one else like him. He even had a way with the Progressives, who are likely to make the most trouble in the next house. In fact, he and the late Victor Berger, lone Socialist member, had been seen with their arms on each other's shoulder.

The party which has a majority of one or two votes will be likely, if it organizes the house, to find its technical dominance more of a liability than an asset. It will have theoretical responsibility without control. Nothing but the organization itself, and perhaps not even that, will be decided by purely partisan votes because of the presence of, perhaps a score of Progressives. Whatever is accomplished will be done only as a result of trades and compromises which are likely to become extremely complicated. Longworth, incidentally, was a master of compromise when compromise was necessary or expedient.

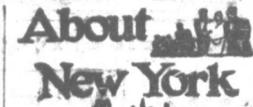

The surest thing of all is that President Hoover will have a majority of the members of both houses opposed to his re-election in 1932, and that's a state of affairs which may produce almost anything.

Of course the iron-bound control heretofore exercised by the speaker, the majority leader and the chairman of the rules committee is now definitely gone. So far as that is concerned, it makes no difference who has a House majority when congress convenes—and that's another matter of uncertainty.

What counts most now is that it will require a majority of the house—218 votes—to elect a speaker and proceed with business. There have been deadlocks on the speakership in the House before and there is a fine chance of one next December. One of its congressmen could deadlock the election by voting against the choice of the other 217. Unless, of course, its candidate for speaker drew support from the other party.

It doesn't seem as if the Republicans could possibly elect a speaker without a complete surrender to the Progressives. The latter would be bound to bargain to the limit for committee assignments and revision of the rules, if not for further promises. And it will be harder to get them to vote for such an arch-conservative as Majority Leader Tilson or Chairman Snell of the Rules Committee than it would have been to round them up for Longworth.

"Backstage at the playhouse where she clowns through a musical comedy, members of the cast shake their heads and chuck their tongues (like this -- "Tsk, tsk") and say she has no idea of the value of money.

She figures in terms of dresses. She has $800, that means she has

From the way the show is going she is likely to be one of Broadway's most dressed actresses.

COMEDIENNE

Lydia Roberti was an unknown to Broadway the night the curtain lifted to expose her charms. She was discovered in Los Angeles in a vaudeville "unit" and hired for the musical show, "You Said It," when the unit reached a Brooklyn theater. There Lydia shared the bill with Rudy Valle.

And although she has only about 70 lines to speak and one chorus to sing, she was an immediate favorite with the Broadway audience. That was largely because of her accent.

Her pronunciation of the song, "Swit' ahndt Hawt!" is a town phrase, mimicked by amateur vocalists.

The accent is natural. Lydia and her blond sister, Menya, who is a chorus girl in the same show, were born in Warsaw. Their father is Roberti, a famous European circus clown.

KICKED UP IN CIRCUS

Lydia was reared in the tradition of circus families and was intended for an equestrienne. As soon as she could put on short skirts her father had her suspended by a rope. She was supposed to jump on and off the bare back of a galloping horse. If she missed, her father kicked her. She seldom missed.

The troupe was in Siberia when it was stranded during the revolution and the Roberti family went to Shanghai, where Lydia sang and danced in a cabaret and learned English in the American colony. Then she and her sister set out for America, arriving on the west coast three years ago.

At the time she joined her current show she had just $15. During the rehearsals she found out that some of the chorus boys were broke as usual. She distributed her $15 among them in sums of $1 and $2 each.

She is very appreciative. Offered a contract for two talkies by a major movie company, she has refused to sign them unless Sid Silvers, former stage to Phil Baker and co-author of "You Said It," is hired to write them. Silvers, with Lou Holtz and Jack Yellen, put her on Broadway.

MAD MARRIAGE

Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old, typist in a New York office, meets Jim Wallace at the home of her wealthy cousin, Anne Trowbridge. Gypsy is miserable because she has learned Alan Crosby, back from a year and a half studying art in Paris, no longer cares for her. Wallace tells Gypsy he has been jilted by his fiancée. To spite the girl he cares for, he asks Gypsy to marry him. She first refuses, but later accepts. They are married next morning and depart for Forest City, his home town.

At Jim's home they are greeted by his aunt, Miss Ellen Wallace, who immediately becomes hostile to the girl. After a few days, Miss Wallace announces she is moving to a cottage down the street. Jim comes home one evening with a diamond ring for Gypsy. Before he gives it to her he picks up the book she has been reading. In it is a picture of Alan Crosby.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XX
"Here I am," Gypsy called as she entered the room. "What was it you were going to show me, Jim?" Wallace's back was toward her. He stood at a window staring out across the lawn. At the sound of her voice he turned.
"Didn't you say you had something to show me?" the girl asked again.
"Why—did I? Couldn't have been anything important. I guess I've forgotten it!" He was making an elaborate effort to seem casual. Gypsy watched him, puzzled.
"What time are the movers coming tomorrow for Aunt Ellen's things?" he asked lamely.
Gypsy told him they had promised to arrive at 9 o'clock. There was more talk of inconsequential things and then Wallace excused himself. Gypsy noticed he was quiet throughout dinner. Afterward when they all went to the living room he said something about having work to do. He left them and went into the library. Gypsy waited until 10:30 but he did not reappear. The moving van was still backed up in the driveway at 10 o'clock next morning when the doorknob rang. Gypsy opened the door upon a tall, heavily built woman wearing a black plush coat and blue hat. The woman extended a card. "I'm from the Reliability Agency," she said.

The card bore the name "Mrs. Inez Cooley," and the printed slogan of the Reliability Employment Agency, "We Never Fail."
"Come in," Gypsy invited. She led the way into the living room. "Won't you sit down?"
"Thank you, Ma'am," Mrs. Cooley sat down. "They told me you wanted a cook."
Gypsy nodded. "She had never been on the employer's side in such an interview. 'You've had experience, I suppose?'"
"Yes, Ma'am. I've cooked in restaurants and hotels and private homes. I was with Mrs. Hookaday over on Maple street for five months. Fancy cooking for parties is my specialty. How many are there in the family here?"
"Just myself," Gypsy told her, "and my husband."
"No children?"
"No."
"That's good," Mrs. Cooley said approvingly. "I never work where they have children unless there's a nurse. The laundry goes out of course? I don't like to have laundry work cluttering up my kitchen?"
"Why—you see we've had a cook who's been with the family for years. A woman comes three times a week to clean and do the washing and ironing. I wasn't planning on having anyone else in the house all the time."
"But they said you wanted a cook!"
"The cooking is the biggest part of the work—" Gypsy began, but the woman was on her feet.
"I wouldn't be interested," Mrs. Cooley said, head high in the air. "I don't see why the Reliability office sent me to such a place! With an air of offended dignity she turned toward the hall.

Gypsy watched her sweep out of the house and down the steps, and returned to the living room with the impression that somehow she herself was in the wrong.
The last of Aunt Ellen's furniture boxes were piled into the moving van and disappeared down the street a half hour later. Harriet had gone ahead to see that the things were unloaded properly. Aunt Ellen, her black had posed squarely on her head, coat collar about her chin, paused in the hallway.
"Well," she said, "I'm leaving."
"Goodby, Aunt Ellen. I hope you're going to like the new house."
"I hope so too," said the older woman. "If there's anything I've forgotten I'll send Harriet back." She put her black umbrella under her arm and stepped outside.
The big house seemed quiet after the noise and bustle of the movers. The rooms looked half-stripped and barren. Familiar pieces of furniture were gone. It was a melancholy scene but Gypsy's heart was singing. At last this was her home!

She telephoned the employment agency and two more applicants arrived. The first said she could cook but admitted her only experience had been as a tea room waitress. Gypsy was so skeptical to hire her. The thing introduced herself as Matilda Schwartz. She was a small, sturdy-built woman who looked well up in the thirties.
"Are you married?" Gypsy asked.
"Matilda shook her head. "Not now," she said. "I had a man but he's gone. Took the money I worked to save for three years. After he left I went to see a lawyer. I didn't get the money back but I got a divorce."
They settled upon the salary. It was agreed that Matilda was to have Thursday afternoons and Sunday evenings off. She left, promising Gypsy to return next morning with her trunk.
Left alone, the girl hurried to the kitchen. It was shining and spotless as Harriet always kept it. Gypsy inspected the refrigerator. There were butter, eggs, a head of lettuce and two grapefruit. Half a bowl of cold cereal left from breakfast occupied one shelf. That was the extent of the larder.
"Why didn't I think this morning?" she chided herself. "Oh, well—once more she went to the telephone.
When Jim Wallace arrived home at 5:30 he found Gypsy in the kitchen enveloped in a huge apron that had been discarded by his aunt.
"Hel-lo!" exclaimed Jim. "What's going on here?"
"The cook I hired couldn't come until tomorrow. Don't you like beans?"
"Sure. Wait a minute—I'll open that can for you."
Gypsy relinquished the can opener and rushed to the stove and grabbed the skillet from the flame and lowered the blaze.
"What do you want me to put these in?" Jim demanded.
"Anything. You'll find a dish in that cupboard." The chops were safe again and Gypsy turned back to the table. By the time Jim had found a dish to hold the baked beans she had them heating over the fire.
He lounged awkwardly against the table while Gypsy set out plates and dishes.
"Listen, Jim suggested, "what's the use of carrying all that stuff into the dining room? Let's eat out here!"
"Do you want to?"
"Why, sure. What's the matter with that?"
"Nothing," said Gypsy. "I think it will be better. Here—I'll give you a job if you want it."
She set him to whipping cream in a blue crockery bowl and to keep him from splattering himself wrapped an apron similar to the one she wore about his shoulders. Presently they sat down before a meal of baked beans, fried pork chops and a rather desultory salad. There were hot rolls and steaming coffee that was delicious. For dessert they had apple pie from the delicatessen with thick cream poured over it.
"All terribly fattening!" Gypsy said with a sigh.
"Best meal I've had in a long time," declared Jim staunchly. "Is there any more coffee?"
She poured him a second cup. Scarcely a crumb remained when the meal was finished. Jim leaned back in his chair contentedly and crossed his knees.
"Looks as though that Graham case is going to turn into a good row," he announced. "I told you about that, didn't I?" For half an hour more they sat at the table while Jim explained details of a law suit. Gypsy asked questions. She found the bits of information Jim dropped about courts and legal tangles very absorbing. It impressed her to think that every day at his office Jim was dealing with the lives of men and women, fighting for their rights and trying to defend them in their difficulties.
Gypsy cleared away the dishes. Later she washed and Jim dried them. He dropped the cream pitcher picked it up with the handle missing, displaying the two parts with so much humility that the girl laughed at him. There was more gaily in the Wallace home that night than there had been for months.

Breakfast next morning was likewise served in the kitchen. At 9 o'clock Matilda Schwartz arrived and Gypsy turned over to her the reins of the household. There were minor instances of friction but in the main affairs moved smoothly. Matilda worked slowly and was likely to have breakfast on the table at 8:30 instead of 9. She had to be reminded regularly to check up on supplies before Gypsy gave the daily order at 10 minutes before meal time something was sure to be missing. She was, however, a good cook of plain foods. Sam kept the fires as usual and Cora came to do the laundry and cleaning.
On Tuesday Aunt Ellen telephoned to say the dinner party had been postponed until Thursday night. Gypsy passed the word on to Jim as soon as he arrived home.
"No way of getting out of it, I suppose," he said gloomily. "Listen, you'd better go downtown and buy yourself a new dress. Doll up. They make these orders as uncomfortable as possible. Best bits and tuckers and all that."
"Not evening clothes!" exclaimed Gypsy.
"Oh, Lord no! Aunt Ellen will be spruced up like Queen Victoria in her famous black lace. I suppose. You'll see the family jewels—"
"Has the black lace dress got sleeves?"
He said that it had. With this information Gypsy set forth next morning on a shopping tour. She came home with a coppersy chiffon frock three shades deeper than her skin. It had short pleated sleeves reaching half-way to the elbow, and a full skirt. There was a flat applique ornament of bright coral silk at the side front. The coral was exactly the shade of Gypsy's lipstick. She bought slippers a shade darker and hose like fine-spun cobweb that were practically invisible. What Gypsy liked best about the outfit was a tiny bonnet-like hat of dark brown so close-fitting it looked like her hair. A tiny bow of coral perched saucily behind one ear.
"And just one minute, Madame, let me show you—" exclaimed the clerk as Gypsy stood before the mirror in her new finery. The tall, slim saleswoman disappeared to return with a brown wrap over her arm.

"This!" she said triumphantly. "Try it on!"
"But I didn't come to buy a coat," Gypsy protested.
"Try it on, Madame. See for yourself."
Gypsy slipped her arms into the sleeves of the coat. The wool was soft and downy. The wrap fitted perfectly. About the throat there was a flattering collar of fur. The skirt flared gently, making the girl seem taller. Gypsy wrapped the coat about her closely, and smiled.
"See, Madame. It was made for you!" The saleswoman spoke persuasively.
"But I didn't—" Gypsy began again and then stopped. She had no coat. She couldn't go to the dinner party without a wrap. "I'll take it," she said thoughtfully. "The price was more than she would have spent on an entire season's wardrobe a month ago."
Jim was enthusiastic in his praise when she entered the living room Thursday evening. "Look like a million dollars to me!" he assured her.
The compliment gave her a pleasant sense of warmth. It strengthened her courage 15 minutes later when Aunt Ellen greeted them in the doorway of her new home.
"Come in," Miss Wallace said brusquely, "the others are all here." Jim took his wife's coat and hat and the hostess led her forward. A woman with a sharp nose and small dark eyes turned at their approach. Gypsy took one look at her and her heart sank.

Oil Committee Issues Report
WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur, voluntary committee on petroleum economics in its final report on the next six months' oil requirements today, left to the industry determination of how much crude oil now in storage in each producing state should be consumed this summer.

It confirmed preliminary figures on probable gasoline consumption and the domestic crude requirement of 461,434,000 barrels for the period April 1 to September 30. A reduction of crude stocks during the six months of somewhat less than 17,000,000 barrels was suggested but having no definite data on the storage in each producing area, the group did not attempt to set out what proportion of each state's contribution to the total crude output should be drawn from new production and how much should come from storage.

Pantages Is Bound Over For Trial
SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 17. (AP)—Judge Arthur L. Mundo, at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing today, ordered Alexander Pantages and four co-defendants bound over to the superior court on charges of a conspiracy to commit immoral acts against two 17-year-old girls.
The decision by the justice court followed four and one half hours pleading by the state and defense on the testimony offered during the two days of the hearing.

In a brief review of the evidence, Judge Mundo declared:
"A review of the testimony shows it is sufficient to convince me at least beyond a questionable probability that what has been related here took place and there is sufficient cause to believe the defendants committed the things charged. The motion to dismiss the complaints is denied and the defendants will be held for trial in the superior court."

PHILLIPS 66 is made by the world's largest producers of natural high gravity gasoline
Frankly, our hardest job is to get motorists to buy their first trial tankful of Phillips 66... the greater gasoline. After that our task is simple—they always come back for more.
They quickly prove for themselves that this gasoline is an amazing performer. That it delivers extra power, smoother running, and longer mileage. That it brings out the best in the motor. And they appreciate that this premium performance costs not a penny extra.
Give credit for these results to the famous Phillips principle of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, which matches this gasoline to the monthly changes in your weather. Its year 'round gravity, from 60.6° to 71.4°, is always higher test than others.
Convince yourself of the money-saving and performance advantages of using Phillips 66. Try it just once and you will always come back to the Orange and Black 66 shield.

CHICAGO GRAPPLER WILL BE CLINGMAN'S Foe TONIGHT

ROY CASTLE IS YOUNG BUT EXPERIENCED

Local Man Is Back From Victories In Big Road Journey.

Otis Clingman, back home from successful record on the road, tonight will tackle Roy Castle of Chicago on the Majestic mat.

The Chicagoan has been a professional wrestler since he attained the age of 15 years and is known as one of the shrewdest grapplers at his weight. He is on his way to the west coast and is using this bout to help pay expenses en route.

Castle is a well-developed young American and a crowd pleaser, according to advance notices. The semifinal event will be between Tommy Thomas of LeFors and Tully Pish, with Red Michaels as the referee.

Andy Gump and Kid Lee will raise the curtain.

HOMERS HAVE NOT VANISHED THIS SEASON

But New Ball Seems To Have Produced Better Quality of Pitching.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer. Fans who haven't already forgotten the pre-season hullabaloo over the new baseball used in the major leagues this year may well wonder after two days of big time play what effect the altered sphere is having.

It seems evident that the ball still is lively as the home runs are made at their usual rate, but good pitching performances appear on the increase as well. Eight pitchers went the full route in the two major leagues yesterday, an unusual number for the second day of the season.

"Bump" Hadley of Washington and Burleigh Grimes, veteran spitballer of the St. Louis Cardinals, shared the topmost hurling honors. Hadley limited the world's champion Philadelphia Athletics to four hits while the Senators fell on Big George Earnshaw for five runs in the fourth inning and a 7 to 1 victory. Grimes pitched the year's first shutout, setting the Cincinnati Reds down with seven blowouts as his Chicago won 4-0. Red Licasa went the route for Cincinnati.

Cuba Win Again Bob Smith of the Chicago Cubs and Claude "Weeping" Willoughby of Pittsburgh staged a full length duel, the Cubs winning their second straight 9 to 5. Manager Rogers Hornsby provided the winning run with a homer.

Contributing the surprises of the opening day, the Boston Braves and St. Louis Browns each won a second successive game and joined the Cubs, Cardinals and New York Yankees in the top positions of the two leagues.

Although both were hit rather freely, Sammy Gray of St. Louis bested Walter Hoyt of Detroit to gain a 6 to 4 triumph. Both hurled the full game. Seibold held the Brooklyn Robins to eight hits to give the Braves a 9 to 3 triumph. The Braves hit safely 17 times and the Robins contributed seven errors.

Their infield work, with Thompson and Wright both on the sick list, was especially weak. Gehrig Gets One The two New York teams figured in the leading slugging contest. With Lou Gehrig's first home run as the big blow, the Yanks scored five runs in the first inning then barely outlasted the Boston Red Sox, resting over a run in the ninth to win 8-4. Henry Johnson failed to last after fanning 13 Boston batters. The Phillies slammed five Giant pitchers and scored eight runs in the second inning to triumph 10-7. Chuck Klein's third homer in two days was the feature.

In the remaining game, the Chicago White Sox squared their series with Cleveland by a 7 to 6 10-inning victory. The Sox were out-hit 16-10.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press Chuck Klein, Phillies—Made four hits in four times at bat against Giants, including third homer in two days.

Burleigh Grimes, Cardinals—Scored first shutout of major league season, giving Reds seven hits to win 4-0.

Benny Tife, White Sox—Doubles in tenth inning to drive in winning run against Cleveland.

Henry Johnson, Yankees—Fanned 13 Red Sox batters as Yanks won 8-7.

Bump Hadley, Senators—Held Athletics to four hits and struck out five for a 7-1 victory.

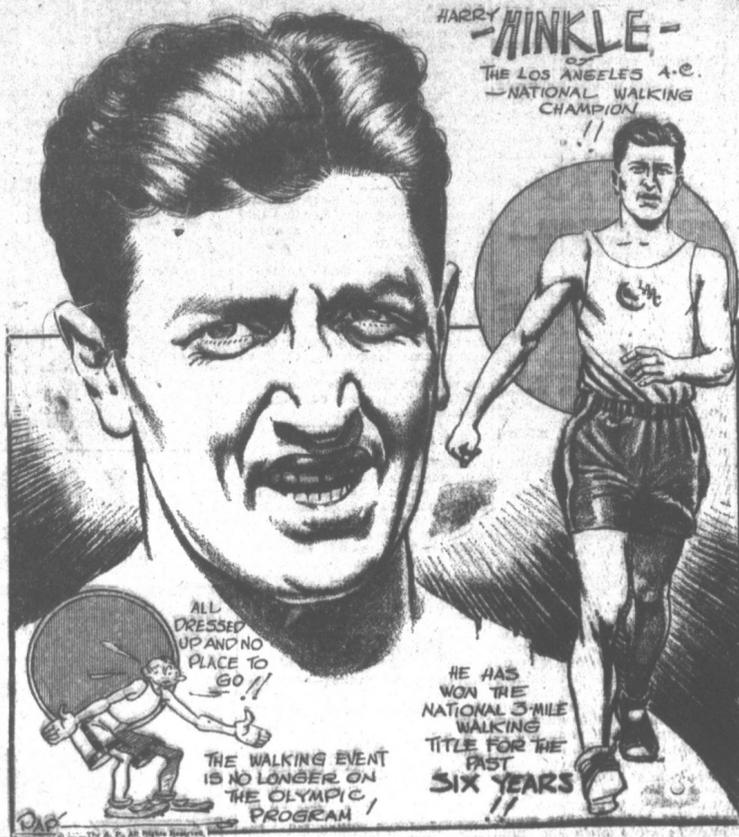

Rogers Hornsby, Cubs—His home run gave Cubs 6-5 victory over Pirates.

Socks Seibold, Braves—Stopped Brooklyn with 8 hits to win 9-3.

Lon Chagny, Yankees—Hit homer with two aboard in first inning to start Yankee rally against Red Sox.

SLEEP IN OPEN OAXACA, Mexico, April 16. (AP)—Most of Oaxaca's residents spent their second night in the open last night, afraid to sleep in their homes because of a prediction that an earthquake would occur.

WINNING IN A WALK

Sport Slants

BY ALAN GOULD

The implication that the golf professionals have been teaching the game all wrong, based on revelations of the form of Bobby Jones and Joyce Wethered in the ultra-slow movies taken under the auspices of the P. G. A., is somewhat sharply resented by the crop of younger teachers, such as Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell.

"Where," demanded Gene, "do they get that stuff about us teaching that the wrists should be broken early in the back-swing?"

"Some old-timers may have been teaching that but it's a generally discarded idea, so far as my experience goes."

"Neither do we 'snap the wrists' at the impact with the ball. That's old stuff, too."

"Sure," interrupted Johnny. "We may be young, but we never have had anything but the idea of a smooth back-swing, cocking the wrists at the top and then following all the way through."

"That follow-through is the thing that gets the extra distance. It is what makes Babe Ruth, for example, such a terrific hitter in baseball as well as golf."

Other Golfers Good The professionals, it seems, are not over enthusiastic about holding up Jones and Wethered as the last word in mechanical perfection, to the exclusion of any member of their own clan. Not that they take anything away from Bobby or Joyce, so far as their styles go, but on the ground that several of the professionals also have styles worth holding up as examples.

"Take Willie Macfarlane, as an example," said Sarazen. "He has the nearest thing to a perfect swing I know of. Willie is so consistently straight that if they reduced the width of all fairways to twenty yards, he would walk away with all the tournaments in the country."

The things about the Jones brand of golf that the pictures cannot show, in Farrell's opinion, are the competitive temperament, stamina and resourcefulness that contributed so much to the famous Georgian's success. Johnny feels that in some respects, these factors overshadowed the mechanical skill of Jones.

"Don't forget," said Johnny, "that Jones could be in trouble often without it proving a handicap."

Indian Looks Savage From the way they have been performing on the road to the pennant campaign, Cleveland's pitching forces are in shape to send Roger Peckinpaugh's club away to a flying start.

The Indians demonstrated that they had the punch last year, with the big pitchers of Hodapp, Averill, Foster, Morgan and others swinging lustily.

Shofner, Brown and Hildin, if their spirits pace is a sample of what may be expected, should give Wesley Ferrell enough hurling assistance to make Cleveland a real pennant factor from the outset.

Peckinpaugh and Billy Evans, Cleveland's general manager, say they expect to do as well as third in the coming race. They concede the favored positions to the Athletics and Senators, but it is likely that higher hopes burn in the savage breasts of the Indians.

LONGVIEW CLUB TRAINS Longview, April 16. (AP)—Training activities for the local club of the newly formed East Texas Baseball league will begin Monday.

Manager Abe Bowman said there would be two workouts a day. Longview, Tyler, and Kilgore are members of the new league.

Gar Wood Fails To Break Record For Speed Boats

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 16. (AP) Gar Wood raced his Miss America at 103.249 miles an hour one way over the Indian Creek course here today and came within 25 of a mile an hour of equalling the world's speedboat record of 108.49 miles an hour held by Kaye Don, of England.

Wood's maximum speed thus far in today's trials was made in his fifth run over the measured mile, after which he halted and brought his boat to its dock to inspect the motors.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 16. (AP) Gar Wood piloted his Miss America IX at a speed of 102.534 miles an hour one way over the measured mile course in Indian Creek here today in the first of a series of runs in which he hopes to break the world's speedboat record.

After several runs to warm up the motors, Wood took his craft roaring southward over the course. Odus Porter, timer for the American Automobile association, placed the time at 102.534 miles an hour.

On his second run, made northward over the nautical mile course, Wood was clocked at 40.51 seconds for a speed of 102.331 miles an hour.

Immediately after completing his second run, Wood piloted his boat into his dock and ordered his mechanics to change spark plugs and bail out water that splashed into the craft during the runs.

The record is 103.49 miles an hour set recently by Kaye Don of England.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 16. (AP) Harry Hinkle, National Walking Champion, today won the 3-mile walking title for the sixth year.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 16. (AP) Having received formal notification that his first effort in defense of the title in the 1931 championship will be made July 3 at Cleveland against Young Strubling, Max Schmeling today went to French Lick Springs, Ind., for a two-week rest.

The German titleholder and his manager, Joe Jacobs, yesterday were sold by the Madison Square Garden corporation of New York and Ohio, that the new municipal stadium at Cleveland had been selected as the site of the battle.

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer. The Texas league's three pennant favorites, Houston, Fort Worth, and Dallas, opened the 1931 championship race Wednesday with victories, and Thursday were ready to take another fling at their respective pennant enemies.

Of the seven outstanding pitchers who were assigned to opening battles, only three, Herb Thormahlen of Galveston, George Washington Payne of Houston, and Dick McCabe of Fort Worth, finished. Harold Carson, San Antonio's starting hurler, was not a winner last year, and was not expected to finish. He lived up to expectations.

An estimated combined attendance of 25,000 fans saw the four opening battles. Galveston's estimated crowd of 8,000 paced the opening day trophy seekers, but Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio have yet to stage their opening days. Estimated attendances were: Shreveport, 4,600; Galveston, 5,600; Beaumont, 7,000; Wichita Falls, 5,000.

For the games, they were both good and bad. Happy Moore's Dallas Steers stopped the Shreveport Sports 10 to 7 with five earned and five unearned tallies. Lee Mead-ows lasted only four innings for the Steers, giving up eight hits and six runs. Oscar Turoci pitched six beautiful innings for Shreveport, but erratic support sent him to the show-ers in the sixth. Leo Cotter for Dallas, and Pete Lapan for Shreveport, clouded home runs.

A sensational catch by Harvey Ballew in the ninth inning of Nash's line drive which started a double killing, saved the Buccaneers and gave the men 5 to 4 decision over the San Antonio Indians. But for Ballew's fine catch, the Indians would have tied the score.

Herb Thormahlen not only started but finished for Galveston, although he weakened perceptibly in the fading innings. Puccinelli, Houston's robust pasture guard, was the big shot for the Buffaloes in their 7 to 4 win over Beaumont. He drove in four runs, and chipped in with a home run. Payne was touched for nine hits, but Beaumont could not touch them for a worth while rally. Manager Del Baker sent Goldstein to the Exporters mound, but Isadore found the strath too great and went out after giving up six hits and five runs in one inning.

The Fort Worth Cats, 1930 Texas league and Dixie series champions, banged Mill Steengrabe, Wichita Falls starting pitcher, from the mound and treated Hillin and Vincent just as rough to take a 11 to 0 game from the Spudgers. The Cats accumulated 16 hits, the longest being a home run by Yarn Yarnan in the fifth frame with one on. Dick McCabe, who won 20 games for the Cats last year, hit the Spudgers down with 8 hits.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 16. (AP)—The King of Siam, an absolute monarch, but also a sick man trying to get well, will arrive here tomorrow with his consort, Queen Rambhai, aboard the liner Empress of Japan.

Seven Kentucky Derby Eligibles Not To Race; Event Is Only Month Away

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 16. (AP)—With the Kentucky derby exactly a month away, seven of the 130 eligibles have been declared out of the race for various reasons.

Back Log and Oswego, prominent nominees owned by Gullaher and Combs, and Aerial Prince, A. L. Ferguson's eligible, contracted ailments at Lexington and were withdrawn from training. Lord Swift, an imported non-starter, has not developed fast enough and C. B. Shaffer has decided to save him for the Arlington classic and American derby later in the year.

Others withdrawn are Herbert M. Woolf's Portnesia, E. B. McLean's Skiffy and James C. Ellis' Leroc. Honors for the fastest mile workout to date are held jointly by Sweep All, owned by Charles T. Fisher, and Joey Bibb, C. C. Van Meter's candidate. Both have breezed the distance in 1:42.3-5 at Lexington. They clipped a fifth of a second off the best mark of Pittsburgher, T. E. Mueller's big colt, which was set at Churchill Downs, a faster track than the Lexington oval.

Kentucky racing will begin at Lexington Saturday with prospects that no derby eligibles will start in the opening day feature, the Ben All handicap, though several have been nominated. The race is over the futurity course, and owners of derby eligibles prefer not to start their hopefuls against older horses except in races nearer the derby distance.

Pirates Suffer As Pitchers Are Sick

CHICAGO, April 16. (AP)—Manager Jewel Ems is having trouble in getting his Pittsburgh Pirates started due to the week-end condition of his pitching staff.

Remy Kremer and Erv Brame, two of his starting hurlers, are ill and Heinie Meine was nominated for today's battle with the Cubs, with Glenn Spencer due for tomorrow.

FISHING BOAT BURNS SAN PEDRO, Calif., April 16. (AP)—Radio messages received last described the burning of the Lisboa, a 74-foot fishing boat off Magdalena point, 600 miles south of here, and the escape of her crew of 14.

Coltco Organizes Baseball Outfit

An announcement made yesterday that the Coltco plants at LeFors had organized a baseball club was followed by another today that the Coltco plants would play the Magnolias at the latter's ball park here at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Last year the Coltco plants had one of the best teams in this community and gave the Gulf and Magnolia several hard games, winning some and losing some. However, the team is due to be much stronger this year, because the two Coltco plants have merged their baseball talent into one team.

Helen Twelvetrees Reveals Marriage

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 16. (AP) Those who contend that a woman can't keep a secret found support for the theory today in a revelation by Helen Twelvetrees, film actress, that she had been married three weeks without telling anyone about it.

The actress wore her wedding ring to the studio yesterday and the secret that she was married in Reno, Nev., to Frank Woody, Hollywood real estate broker, was out. They had just returned from a honeymoon in northern California.

This is Miss Twelvetrees' second marriage. Her divorce from Clark Twelvetrees on charges of cruelty was granted March 26, 1930, becoming final March 31 last.

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—It seemed less probable today that the United States would send a material force to Nicaragua to protect American property.

The government had indicated, however, it would make every effort to prevent loss of American lives. The gunboat Asheville, with her nearly three-score marines, was under orders to remain at Puerto Cabezas to guard Americans. Officials here, however, expressed the opinion attempts might not be made to protect property unless more urgent circumstances develop.

WILL BRAVE PACIFIC TOKYO, April 16. (AP)—Thomas Ash, American flyer, announced today he expected to start a trans-Pacific solo flight from Japan late in May, planning to land either in Seattle or Tacoma within 40 hours.

ASH SAID he would follow the great circle steamship route, and since the flight would involve two nights in the air, he would select a moonlight period.

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. C. Leonard's prescription—HEM-R-OID—to end itching, bleeding, protruding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-R-OID succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts, restores blood circulation in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal can do this. That's why HEM-R-OID is the only one that's guaranteed to cure. HEM-R-OID tablets must end your Pile agony or money back. —adv. 7

McALESTER, Okla., April 16. (AP) A few hours before he is scheduled to die in the electric chair, E. S. (Choc) Hembree, 34-year-old Choctaw Indian, turned bitterly on his younger brother, with whom he was convicted of the shooting and criminal attack of a Loco, Okla., school teacher.

"You'll Get Worst" "You'll get worse than I got," read a statement left by the doomed man with his mother, A. Y. Hembree, 24, the brother, is sentenced to serve 25 years in prison.

Free on $25,000,000 appeal bond, the younger Hembree was in McAlester today with other relatives of the man condemned to death at state's prison shortly after midnight.

The mother said she "maybe" would reveal the entire contents of the statement "afterward." She refused to take sides in the rift between the brothers.

"A. Y. had lots of illness," she said. Hembree's father told newspapermen that "A. Y. let Choc take the rap."

The lawyers kept saying it was best," he added. Choc meanwhile ate heavily in his cell almost within sight of the death chair. He maintained calm at times whistling as he paced the floor.

Pardoned by Walton The last year is not the first time he has seen the inside of a prison. He was convicted of murder at Antlers some years ago, only to be freed by a pardon from J. C. (Jack) Walton, then governor.

Dempsey Divorce Battle Likely To Be In Los Angeles

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 16. (AP)—Divorce proceedings seemingly inevitable and the seconds named, all that remained today for the staging of the court battle between Estelle Taylor of the movies and Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, was the fixing of the time and place.

Miss Taylor accepted Dempsey's recent challenge from Reno when her attorney, Joseph Scott, last night telegraphed her husband's lawyer, Robert E. Burns, that she was prepared to file suit in Los Angeles. The former titleholder had announced he was establishing a residence in Nevada with a similar idea.

The legal bout, if and when it is arranged, promises to be void of the sensational. Neither participant is anxious for that, they say, and the charges are expected to consist merely of mental cruelty.

As matters stood today, it appeared that the legal set-to would take place in Los Angeles.

Governor Murray hasn't the nerve to come down and go through this with us," the wife said. Warden Sam Brown, newly appointed, is scheduled to give the fatal order for the execution.

GRAINS WEAKER CHICAGO, April 16. (AP)—Influenced by unlooked for setbacks in Liverpool wheat quotations and by lessened export demand for North American wheat, grains tended downward early today. Fresh low price records for securities benefited also as a bearish factor. Opening 1-4 to 3-8 cent off to 1-8 cent up, wheat afterward receded all around. Corn started at 1-8 to 3-8 cent decline and subsequently sagged further.

LIVERPOOL STRONG NEW ORLEANS, April 16. (AP)—Cotton here had a steady opening today in sympathy with better Liverpool cables, first trades showing no change to two points up. Prices soon lost this opening gain on a recurrence of weakness in the stock market, but promptly rallied again, July trading up to 10.45 and October to 10.75, or 7/8 to 1 point above yesterday's close. At the end of the first hour the market was steady and at the high.
