Gov. Franklin Roosevelt Dismisses Charges On Walker

NO SPECIFIC GROUNDS FOR OUSTING DAPPER MAYOR ARE SUSTAINED BY EXECUTIVE

City Affairs Committee Had Charged That Jimmie Was Incompetent and That He Had Neglected His Duties and Permitted Corruption to Flourish in Regime Under Fire.

LENGTHY REPORT

Administration Was Praised in Voluminous Reply Made to Allegation of Rabbi Wise and His Group.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 28. (AP)—Governor Roosevelt today dismissed the charges brought against Mayor James J. Walker of New York by the city affairs committee. The committee had asked that Mayor Walker be removed for incompetence and neglect of duty.

The government's action was announced at the executive office here. Mr. Roosevelt was at his Hyde Park home.

The charges against Walker, received by the governor March 18, were signed by Dr. John Haynes Holmes as chairman of the committee, and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise as vice-chairman. Governor Roosevelt advised Mayor Walker in California of the action taken against him, and that his reply should be forwarded to Albany when he returned from the Pacific coast trip, intended to benefit the mayor's health.

On April 20 Walker's reply was handed to Roosevelt.

The New York City executive defended his administration, lauding its accomplishments in the 15,000-word reply he had prepared.

Pantages Makes Not Guilty Plea

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 28. (AP)—Pleas of not guilty were entered today by Alexander Pantages, defendant in three cases, and three co-defendants when they were arraigned in original court on charges of conspiracy to violate the state juvenile law by alleged offenses against young girls.

Those entering pleas with Pantages were Jesse H. Shreve, defendant in San Diego real estate man, City Day Clark and William H. Jobelman, the latter two alleged partners in the so-called Hollywood "love mart."

John P. Mills, wealthy real estate dealer, fifth defendant, entered a plea of not guilty when he was arraigned last Tuesday.

Judge C. N. Andrews set the trial for all for May 25.

The case had its inception when Oliver Day allegedly confessed to District Attorney Byron Pitts of Los Angeles she had operated a bureau with Jobelman, supplying girls for the three wealthy men at a party last Oct. 30.

Wilson Predicts No Wet Plank

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP)—Dr. Clarence T. Wilson, general secretary of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals, prophesied last night that no political party in 1932 would seek the presidential election by including in its platform an attack on the eighteenth amendment.

Dr. Wilson asserted prohibition had weathered its worst storm in 1930, had overcome all obstacles put in its path, and had defeated all attacks made upon it.

Uniform Methods in Finding Potentials Urged by Murray

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28. (AP)—Clarence I. Murray advanced the opinion today that uniform methods of determining potential oil production must be drafted and approved by all oil producing states before uniform proration may be enforced.

Murray, heading the oil states advisory committee, of which a legal sub-committee is in session here, said most of the present available figures on potential production are false.

"Before allowable production figures can be fair they must be based on accurate potential figures," he said.

No two states use the same method of arriving at potential figures, he said.

Murray has been authorized by the advisory committee to name petroleum engineers to make a study of the problems of potentials and said the appointments probably would be made after a scheduled meeting of the committee in Austin, Texas, Monday.

An interstate pact and proposed state treaties to be drafted by the sub-committee are to be submitted to the committee as a whole in Austin.

Fiery Sarasate Compositions to Be Played Here

One of the best known technicians among younger violinists on the concert stage, Joe Lefkowitz of Kansas City, is one of the few artists who have a complete Sarasate repertoire. Mr. Lefkowitz will appear in a joint recital at the city auditorium, May 6, with Hazel Silver-Rickel of Salina, Kans., soprano. The concert will be the feature performance of music week, May 3-8 inclusive.

The ultimate in technique is required for an adequate interpretation of Sarasate, Spanish composer who wrote numerous fiery Spanish and Spanish gypsy dances over a century ago. For decades, Sarasate's compositions for the violin remained almost unknown. In the last 20 years they have been the special passion of many noted violinists. Sarasate's music is based on wild dances and songs of gypsies of the Pyrenees mountain in northern Spain where the composer lived.

Mr. Lefkowitz will play four of the best-known and most beautiful of Sarasate's compositions. They are Gypsy Airs, Tarentella, Jota Navarro, and Romanza Andaluza. These require a bow and fingers that move like lightning. The principal melodies must be played on at least three strings. Mr. Lefkowitz is a graduate of the Kansas City conservatory. Last year he toured with Mme. Schumann-Heink.

Husband Agrees To Eat Spinach

EVANSTON, Ill., April 28. (AP)—The next time Mrs. A. L. King cooks spinach for her husband it's likely that he'll eat it.

He was sentenced to do so yesterday by Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter.

It seems that Mr. King was accused by Mrs. King of becoming so angry when she suggested that he partake of the spinach she had prepared for him, that she feared his wrath would get out of bounds, so she called the police. They locked him up. Yesterday he came before the magistrate.

"If you will promise to be agreeable to your wife and eat your spinach like a man in a jail, I'll let you go free," said the court. King agreed.

Solons Rap Austin Group Plan to Move Highway Office to Waco Arouses Storm in State Capitol

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP)—The controversy between the legislature and a group of Austin citizens concerning certain actions of Austin members of the legislature drew to a close in the house today with formal adoption of a resolution commending actions of the legislative delegation and condemning actions of the citizens' group.

The vote on the resolution was 104 to 1. Representative Forbes of Weatherford dissented.

The proposal to move the state highway department to Waco was brought into the discussion when Representative Seward of Teague, sponsor of the movement, vigorously denied it was an effort to "club the members of the Austin delegation into voting for the state highway bond issue." Seward said his proposal was sincere and that he thought it was a good move.

Consideration of a resolution to adjourn sine die May 12 was postponed until next Monday. It was brought up by Representative Anderson of San Antonio, who said he

Mrs. Joe Utley Identifies Them as Having Been in Mishap Sunday Night.

Mrs. Joe Utley who suffered painful bruises in an automobile collision at Amarillo Sunday night, came here today and identified Roy Vest and T. A. McIntyre, both of Tucuman, as occupants of the machine which collided with the one she was driving.

Third Divorce Action Is Taken

A third divorce is being sought in 31st district court today by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Renner. Two divorces which previously have been granted by trial courts were reversed and remanded in the Court of Civil Appeals due to errors.

Mr. Renner is a farmer living east of Pampa. Alleging that his chief ground for divorce was the cruelty of his wife, Mr. Renner testified this morning that she struck him on his chest with a "two by four" (two by four inches) plank. He occupied the stand an hour.

Mrs. Renner is asking for division of property. She demands half-interest in a 160-acre farm valued at $12,000. The second divorce decree granted the couple stipulated that the husband pay the wife $25 per month for the upkeep of their 8-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Renner claimed this amount was necessary to pay the costs of educating and supporting the child. The firm of Kinney and Ritchey is counsel for Mr. Renner. W. M. Lewright is Mrs. Renner's attorney.

Two Big Stills Are Seized Today At Noon In Raid South of City

Federal prohibition agents and city officers seized 10 gallons of whiskey, two copper stills with a total capacity of 500 gallons, and arrested one man in a raid made at a farm barn several miles south of Pampa just before noon today.

A man is being held in the city jail, awaiting transportation to Amarillo tomorrow. The federal officers said charges would be filed this afternoon. J. W. Harper, U. S. deputy marshal, will arrive in Pampa tomorrow to take two prisoners, arrested by city officers in liquor raids recently, to Amarillo.

The stills were being operated in the barn, officers said. Equipment seized and subsequently destroyed included a gasoline burner, numerous kgs. jars, a quantity of mash. A glass copper "worm" was brought to police headquarters.

The man was arrested on the premises, officers said.

H. C. Cottrell, assistant chief of police, and other city officers accompanied the federal officers on the raid.

Trip To Caverns Will Be Delayed

Announcement was made today of postponement of the Nunn-Warren special train to Carlsbad caverns which was to have been chartered for May 2-4. Tickets had been purchased from The NEWS-POST by local people and residents of Canadian, Miami, and other cities, but so unanimous was the recommendation that the trip be postponed to nearer the tourist season that the request was granted.

It was pointed out that the size of the delegation could be doubled by delaying the journey until residents of various Panhandle cities had recovered financially from year-end shopping trips, and tax paying.

The NEWS-POST will refund ticket deposits placed with it.

MILK "WAR" UNDER WAY

Price Slashes Are Marking Progress of Drive; Down to 10 Cents Quart.

Price of milk to the consumer was cut from 13 cents to 10 cents a quart yesterday, it was announced today. This was the second slash in retail milk prices made within the last two months. A month ago the price was reduced from 15 cents to 13 cents per quart.

The cut in the price of the producer's product was in proportion to the retail reduction, it was said. Milk is brought into Pampa from all sections of the community—Laketown, Groom, White Deer, and Panhandle. All milk that is sold in the city must meet sanitary requirements. The herds and dairy plants are regularly inspected and the cows are tested for tuberculosis. Most of the milk brought from farms is dispensed through pasteurizing plants.

The second fruitful liquor raid made in the Finley-Banks addition within the last week by city officers netted 12 one-half gallon jars of whiskey and two arrests last night.

The raid was made by Officers H. C. Cottrell, Chas. Pipes, and L. L. Renner. The whiskey was found in an excavation under the floor. A loose square in the linoleum on the floor led to the cavity underneath.

Last week, city officers arrested one man and seized several cases of whiskey, gin and beer, also an agr. label, empty kegs and fruit jars.

Unexpected Gusher Is Running Wild

GLADEWATER, April 28. (AP)—Preparations were being made early today to shut in the rampaging Sinclair No. 1 Cole, which came in unexpectedly, and forced its crew to leave the tools temporarily in the hole.

The crew had missed two sands, and was not expecting to get a producer. After casing had been set for a trial, however, and the plug drilled with water, the well began blowing and the crew made a rush to the boilers and doused the fire.

The boilers were moved a safe distance away. Connections were made and after that the crew will try to remove the drift stem.

Force of the flow gave hopes of a 30,000-barrel producer, it was said.

PRORATION OF EAST TEXAS ISSUE AGAIN

Increase of 30,000 Barrels in Allowable Production Is Asked by Operators During Heated Session.

DEMANDED MORE

Longview Field Sets Record in Drilling 310 Producers in Less Than Year; Many New Locations.

LONGVIEW, April 28. (AP)—East Texas oil men were watching the state railroad commission today in the next move in their proration fight, after the east central advisory committee yesterday made a recommendation that the three fields of that area be allowed to produce 160,000 barrels daily. The amount would be 30,000 barrels more than allowed under East Texas' first proration order effective April 23.

Shortly after the recommendation was placed in the hands of R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas division of the commission, oil men were informed at a mass meeting that pipeline companies were willing to take up 206,000 barrels daily. The mass meeting was called to provide markets and pipeline connections for wells now without them.

Meeting Is Stormy

The advisory committee's report came after a stormy meeting at which Kildore operators contested strenuously for an allowable of 60,000 barrels, the amount finally agreed on was 60,000 barrels, while allowable for the Longview area was set at 35,000 instead of the present 30,000 barrels daily, and for the Kildore district at 65,000 instead of 60,000 barrels.

Parker said he believed the commission would allow the increase when it considered the matter at Austin, probably today.

Considerable criticism of methods used in gauging potential was voiced at the mass meeting, many operators contending that use of a 2-1/2 inch choke instead of 3-4 inch, would show a higher potential. It was brought out that 13 wells in the Kildore field, four in the Lathrop area, and 26 in the Joiner pool were without connections.

310 Wells Producing

LONGVIEW, April 28. (AP)—Producer wells in the East Texas oil field—not yet one year old—now total 310, according to figures announced today by proration umpires gauging wells in the East Texas area.

Of this number, 146 are in the Joiner area, 126 in the Bateman pool, 38 in the Lathrop district of Gregg county.

A total of 78 tests are being

Wheelbarrow Is Newest On Pavement

TYLER, April 28. (AP)—Motorists along the Tyler-Overton highway were startled today by the appearance of a "east Texas ricksha"—a rubber-tired wheelbarrow bearing W. B. Brandon, Overton real estate operator, with W. R. Destain, Corsicana oil scout, furnishing the motive power.

"I'll push you to Tyler from Overton on a wheelbarrow if the Vitek well on the G. W. Eaton place comes in as a producer," Destain told Brandon recently.

The well came in as a 25,000-barrel producer. Destain had a Tyler cabinet shop make a rubber-tired wheelbarrow and the ride began today.

A haul and wagon followed with a "refueling" crew. Arrangements were made here for a reception upon arrival of the two men, either today or tomorrow.

Physician Is Not Harned By Captors

He Is Turned Over to Reporter on Road Near St. Louis; $100,000 Ransom Is Believed Not Paid.

NO ARRESTS YET

Kidnaped Man Spent Week at Upstairs Room in Isolated House; Unspoken Menace Held Over Him.

ST. LOUIS, April 28. (AP)—The Post-Dispatch, in a copyrighted story, says Dr. I. D. Kelley, wealthy eye, ear, nose, and throat specialist, kidnaped a week ago last night, was released by his captors today.

The release was effected, the newspaper says, on a road near East St. Louis when he was turned over to John T. Rogers, Post-Dispatch reporter on an anonymous tip over the telephone.

The physician was unharmed, the newspaper says, and declared that as far as he knew, no ransom was paid for his release.

The physician related how he was kidnaped Monday night when he answered a telephone call purporting to be from a patient. Dr. Kelley said he arrived at Davis place, location indicated by his supposed patient and a man entered his automobile, directing him with a gun to drive into the country on the Olivet street road. Dr. Kelley said his captor when he arrived at a house where he was blindfolded and a hood was thrown over his head. He was then assisted into the house. After remaining here for a time he was taken in another automobile over a bumpy road to another building and taken up stairs.

W. Cold and Wet

He found himself in a room with an iron cot. Here his captors searched him and he was ordered to lie on the cot. His abductors then covered him, as he was cold and wet from the rain. When his hood was raised to give him a drink of water, Dr. Kelley said he saw of one of his captors' "most picturesque looking pirate, bandaged up with a handkerchief over his face, sitting there with a gun in his lap."

His captors lacked burlap over the windows, Dr. Kelley related as he would not be able to tell where he was.

Aside from being spoken to in gruff tones, and being the object of unspoken menace by the men, the physician returned unharmed.

When the physician was turned over to Rogers, the reporter failed to recognize him because of the goggles.

"Here's your friend, he's waiting for you," said Rogers' unknown companion.

"What friend," asked Rogers.

Rogers Goggles

"Dr. Kelley," the man answered, and then ran to one of the two automobiles and disappeared from view down the road. The physician raised his goggles.

"Is this Dr. Kelley," asked Rogers.

"Yes, is this Mr. Rogers of the Post-Dispatch?"

Rogers extended his hand and Dr. Kelley shook it fervently.

"My God," he said. "This was an experience I'm glad to be back in the hands of my friends." Rogers immediately took Dr. Kelley to the reporter's home, and the physician's relatives were notified.

The Post-Dispatch revealed today that a letter from Dr. Kelley had reached the newspaper by a round about route in which the physician said his captors wanted from $250,000 to $100,000.

William D. Orthwein, who had been the principal representative of the Kelley family since the abduction, said no money was paid to any one, to his knowledge, for the release of the physician.

Rogers, a veteran reporter, was assigned to the kidnaping case immediately after Dr. Kelley disappeared.

Decline in Texas & Pacific Railroad's Business Typical of Present Period

Several days ago this column referred to the declining revenues of the railroads but was unable to quote statistics upon the Texas and Pacific, which was used as an example.

Today THE NEWS has facts reported by President J. L. Lancaster through the Associated Press. Net earnings of the Texas & Pacific railway in 1930 were $3,652,191—a decrease of $2,477,882 or 40.42 per cent from the 1929 total. The gross income decreased $2,149,265 or 21.73 per cent during the same period. The cause lay in many things, including the slump in West Texas oil field business, the general depression, and the encroachment of bus and truck competition.

The road did the inevitable—it cut operating expenses by $5,428,442 or 17.04 per cent over 1929. Railroads are forced to retrench and to cut expenses in order to preserve the markets for their stocks. Since millions of Americans are rail stockholders, the stability of the railroads is vital.

The automobile manufacturing business, indirectly competitive in the sense that motor traffic is replacing rail traffic to a certain extent, is showing the heaviest output since last June. The March output of passenger automobiles was 230,837, a gain of 25 per cent over February. The total was 30 per cent below that of last March, and 55 per cent under the 1929 March figure, however.

Six millions of idle men would buy enough cars to return the industry to normal conditions were they employed. The automotive industry enjoyed phenomenal success for several years and was due for a low production curve, in the opinion of many economists.

Basically, the farmers' plight, inability to buy, has cut consumption so low that production is slowed down. Make the farmer prosperous and the country would feel its commercial tone instantly restored.

WASHINGTON, April 28. (NEA).—Tremendous improvements, making for greater speed, safety, efficiency, durability and combat strength, have been achieved in the past few years by the Army Air Corps.

One of the most marvelous developments has been that of the "mechanical pilot," a contrivance which when once set takes the place of a human pilot and controls the plane both as to direction and as to vertical and lateral stability. The army developed this apparatus in collaboration with a big electrical manufacturing company and expects to use it in its 40 or 50 transport planes.

The "mechanical pilot" sits in a cubical box about a foot high, weighs about 50 pounds and is placed under the pilot's seat. It contains two gyroscopes which work together. Last year the Air Corps flew by means of this little machine a plane from Dayton, O., to within 25 miles of Bolling Field in Washington. Although in case of a shifting wind the human pilot must correct it or change his direction, the development is expected to add greatly to safety of commercial planes and some experts suggest that the crash which recently killed Knute Rockne would never have occurred had the plane in which he and fellow passengers were riding been so equipped.

Remarkable increases in combat efficiency and strength have also come along in the last two years.

The high speed of pursuit planes has been increased from 165 to 192 miles an hour and their combat ceiling, previously about 21,000 feet, has been raised to 30,000. A two-seated pursuit plane in which the gunner can sit in the rear with his back to the pilot and spray machine gun bullets, will soon be introduced into the service.

Attack planes are being improved to the point where, Assistant Secretary of War F. Trubee Davison says, a squadron of them will be able to fire 68,000 rounds of ammunition a minute while also dropping 5000 pounds of bombs. Their speed is being increased along with their power to deal death and destruction.

New bombers carrying two tons of bombs will be found in the May maneuvers alongside the bombers of 1929 which carried only a ton. Speed, cruising radius and altitudes have also been raised.

The improvements in combat planes appear all the more sensational when it is remembered that one factor in military planes usually conditions another. Speed must be sacrificed to some extent for durability, safety and the load factor. Other sacrifices must be made for maneuverability and so on.

Instruments have become more dependable, especially those used in banking and turning and the artificial horizon. The army has made many experiments on the premise that it is of paramount importance to aviation to develop the airplane and its accessories so that it may operate independent of fog, which is the greatest enemy to safe and consistent operation. The "mechanical pilot" apparently can take a plane safely through fog, but landing aircraft safely in the fog is another proposition.

Development of parachutes which will lower the entire plane safely to the ground is also proceeding. An experimental chute of this sort designed for a light plane has already been constructed and present types are being improved to assure greater safety of operation and less swaying in the air.

Radio communication in aviation has progressed to the point where several ships in the great formation of 672 planes to be seen in May will be able to talk by wireless with other units and some planes will be communicating with the ground. Nearly all pursuit planes are now equipped with receiving sets and the commander of each squadron has a transmitter. Planes without radio apparatus can always be equipped with them and when they are not they depend on the old simplified set of signals given by hand or by the dipping of wings or nose.

TILSON ENTERS CAMPAIGN FOR SPEAKERSHIP

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP).—Possibilities of a close contest over the republican candidate for speakership of the next house today appeared to have passed the blossoming stage.

Representative Tilson of Connecticut, majority floor leader in the last congress, definitely entered the race yesterday with this announcement:

"Having served in the house for 20 years I know that its members will exercise their fair and honest judgment with regard to the speakership. Having been elected majority leader four times, I should naturally expect that I should be considered."

Tilson made it plain, however, he would not make an active campaign to succeed the late Nicholas Longworth. Some colleagues of the Connecticut republican interpreted his statement as indicating he would not support the apparent but unannounced candidacy of Representative Snell, republican, New York, for the position.

In speculation which followed Longworth's death, Tilson and Snell have been prominent among those discussed for the speakership. With Longworth they comprised the "trinitate" that ruled the last house.

Ship's Cat Thrown In Sea—Man Held

NEW ORLEANS, April 28. (AP).—Chief Engineer James E. Ahearne, of the tanker Elizabeth Kellogg, was in jail at Hahnville, near here, today on charges of throwing the ship's cat into the Pacific ocean outside the port of Los Angeles. Ahearne was arrested soon after the tanker docked yesterday on a warrant sworn out by W. E. Huger, secretary of the Louisiana State Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, after an investigation of a complaint by one of the crew that the feline had been tossed into the sea. The reason was not disclosed.

Gloria, 11-year-old daughter of Caruso, the noted tenor, made a radio debut Thursday in the child health campaign.

A Chicago policeman who sought to quiet a noisy party in a North Side apartment was shot and fatally wounded.

B. W. Rose has returned from a business trip to Colorado.

Nitro Is Stolen At Okmulgee, Okla.

OKMULGEE, Okla., April 28. (AP).—Theft of 320 quarts of nitroglycerin from the magazine of the Independent Eastern Torpedo company, five miles north of here, was reported last night.

Carl Steffy, well shooter for the company, reported to officers 70 pounds of dynamite and dynamite caps also were taken.

He said entrance was gained by sawing off the lock, probably Sunday night.

Theft of the explosive followed closely a warning to Midcontinent oil operators to be on guard against a communist plot to steal the explosive for purposes of sabotage in the oil fields. The warning was issued by Frank Hamer, Texas Ranger captain at Austin.

MAD MARRIAGE

Laura Lou Brookman Author of HEART HUNGRY, etc.

Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old typist in a New York office, marries Jim Wallace the day after she meets him at the home of her wealthy cousin, ANNE TROWBRIDGE. Gypsy has been flitted by ALAN CROSBY, back from a year and a half in Paris, and Wallace's fiancée has just broken their engagement. There is no romance in the union. Wallace is a young lawyer. They go to his home in Forest City where his relatives snub Gypsy.

Jim undertakes the defense of NINA ROBERTS, accused of murdering her employer, DR. FOWLER. The case is sensational with circumstantial evidence strongly against the girl and Gypsy becomes deeply interested. On impulse she goes to see MRS. FOWLER, widow of the victim, and finds her hysterical over her adopted son's illness. The woman admits she shot her husband to save the child's life. Gypsy persuades her to go to Jim and confess. Later she learns she waits restlessly for a telephone message from Jim.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXX

"Yes, Jim, what is it?" Gypsy asked impatiently. She held the telephone receiver tightly against her ear but the voice across the wire was jumbled and indistinct.

"What is it? I can't hear you."

"There was a pause."

"Hear me better now?" Jim asked.

"Yes."

"Mrs. Fowler's confessed."

"What?"

"I said Mrs. Fowler's confessed she killed her husband. Came down here this morning and told me the whole story. She says she did it to save the boy's life. The woman's a complete wreck."

"But what about Nina?"

"She's acquitted. That's what I called you about. Would it be all right to send her out to the house?"

"I don't want the reporters to get another chance at her and if she goes to that place where the roomed that's what will happen."

"Why, of course. Where is she now?"

"Here in my office. If you think it's all right I'll bring her out."

"Bring her," Gypsy said. "Lunch will be ready when you get here."

She left the telephone for a hasty consultation with the cook. Gypsy was upstairs putting out fresh linen in the guest room when she heard the front door open. She hurried down.

"Nina Roberts was sitting in the big chair in the living room. Jim turned as Gypsy entered. "Well," he said, grinning, "we won't."

"Oh, I'm so glad! I was so worried until you telephoned. Nina— isn't it wonderful?"

"The girl had been crying. She touched her handkerchief to her eyes. "It's fine or you to let me come here, Mrs. Wallace," she said.

"Why, we're glad to have you. Of course! Would you like to go upstairs now or shall we have lunch first?"

"I-I think I'd like to go upstairs."

Gypsy led the way. The guest room was not large but it had abundant sunshine. The walls were green and cream colored and the taffeta drapes were apricot.

"The bath is through here," Gypsy said, opening a door. "I hope you'll find everything to make you comfortable. There's powder here and cold cream if you want it. I'll leave you now if you don't mind. I'm dying to have Jim tell me everything that happened."

Nina stood in the middle of the Modern William Tell in Action

William Tell shot the apple off his son's head, but Elwood L. Mould, left, runner-up in the 1930 national archery championships, surpasses even the gallant Swiss by clipping off the thin stem of a pipe in the mouth of his friend, Chester Seay, at Los Angeles. The climax shows the bowl of the pipe dropping after Mould had made a perfect hit.

Well—that's the story. While she was telling it, she mumbled a lot about Bobby being sick and going to die. The kid is sick, all right. It seems she got the idea his illness is a sort of punishment to her for letting someone else pay the penalty of her crime. The woman was half-hysterical. Kept asking if I thought I could save her and begging me to help for Bobby's sake. Certainly is crazy about that kid, all right!

"The poor woman!" Gypsy exclaimed. "Where is she?"

"She's at home. Held up long enough to make a statement before the judge and then collapsed. Doctor and nurse went with her. Of course after that the acquittal was just a matter of form."

"What do you think will happen to Mrs. Fowler?"

"Oh, you can't tell. Trial may be put off a good while. There seems to be a big public reaction in her favor. I think she'd get a light sentence."

Gypsy sat silent. It had been the most exciting morning of her life. To find the barrier between life and death so fragile, to face such tragedy left her exhausted. She gazed at Jim with new respect.

"He heard Nina's footsteps on the stairs and Gypsy went to meet her.

"Lunchon's ready," she said.

"Shall we go in?"

For two days Nina Roberts was a guest in the Wallace home. Gypsy saw to it that she had plenty to keep her occupied. Reporters were constantly telephoning, but aside from the typed statement Jim gave out at his office Nina was not quoted in the newspapers.

There were household tasks which the girls shared together. Nina romped with Pat. Over the telephone Gypsy made arrangements with the woman who operated Nina's boarding house to have the girl's clothing packed and sent out. She gave the girl plenty of wholesome food, urged her to rest.

Nina had announced that she wished to leave Forest City.

"Where do you want to go?" Gypsy asked.

"My sister's in Chicago," Nina said. "She's married. If I could get to Chicago I could stay with her until I get a job."

So it was agreed that Nina should go to Chicago. She had a pitifully small amount of money, though Jim's charge for his legal service was the merest fraction of the usual fee. The morning of the day on which Nina was to depart Gypsy knocked at the door of the guest room.

"May I come in?" she asked when Nina appeared.

"Of course."

Nina wore the rose negligee Gypsy had loaned her. She had been making the bed.

"I've got something for you,"

Killed Cop?

Guy F. Sprague, 59, head of the Grain Traders company, Chicago, is charged with the murder of Patrolman Patrick Gallagher, killed at a party held for Sprague. The officer tried to quiet a noisy group and was shot.

Gypsy said, smiling. "Two things." She took the other girl's hand and placed in it a small folded object. "Now you mustn't say you can't accept it. It's something I want to do."

The folded object was $20 bill.

"I can't take it," Nina protested, shaking her head. "It wouldn't be right after you've done so much for me." She started to hand the bill back but Gypsy refused it.

"Listen, Nina," she said. "It's my own money—money I earned before I was married. I'd rather do this with it than anything in the world! I want you to have it. Please keep it to remember me!"

"I won't ever forget you, Mrs. Wallace. I don't need anything to remember you by."

"But I do want you to have it. There's something else." From the pocket of her house dress Gypsy drew forth a soiled white envelope. There was nothing written on the envelope but Nina Roberts recognized it instantly.

"It hasn't been opened," Gypsy said softly.

The other girl's eyes met hers. It was one of those moments when Nina Roberts' face was unfathomable.

"If you'll hurry and dress now," Gypsy continued cheerfully, "we'll go out and see what we can find in the garden to brighten the living room table. There are plenty of iris and I think we might find enough of the white lilacs left."

"You've been so good to me," Nina said impulsively. "Oh, you'll never know what these days have meant to me!"

"Then I'm glad. It's little enough after what you've had to face. Well—shall we go out the flowers?"

The garden, bathed in warm sunlight and the fragrance of lilacs, bore promise of what summer was to bring. Dew sparkled on the fresh grass. The iris bore their gold and purple heads proudly. A few straggling tulips—remnants of Pat's mischief—added a splash of scarlet. Above, against a turquoise sky, the clouds drifted lazily. It was a perfect May morning—a day when nature seemed to outdo herself proclaiming the joyousness of living.

They cut flowers to fill a pottery bowl for the table in the living room and a smaller vase for the dining room. Gypsy left Nina to arrange the bouquets, while she telephoned the grocer. At one o'clock they had their luncheon and an hour later Jim arrived with the car to take Nina to the train. All three of them piled into the single seat. Nina's battered suitcase was stowed away in the rear.

They reached the station just five minutes before train time. No attention was paid to the girl in the gray suit and black hat who boarded the westbound train. Gypsy

BOSTON TEAM IS DISHING OUT FINE BRAND OF BASEBALL

SEIBOLD HAS WON TRIO OF HIS GAMES

Allows Only Three Scores In 27 Innings Against Strong Outfits.

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR. Associated Press Sports Writer
Time might prove that the Boston Braves are playing over their heads but there is no denying the fact that Bill McKechnie's disciples are producing the finest brand of ball in either league at present.

By shutting out the Phillies, 2 to 0, in the first of their series yesterday, the Braves put a game and a half between themselves and the second place St. Louis Cardinals, who dropped another to Pittsburgh 5 to 3.

Old "Socks" Seibold, who could do no better than break even in 32 games last season, turned in his third straight victory and his second shutout in a row, allowing the Phils four scattered hits. Not only that, but he singled in the third and scored what proved the winning run on Rabbit Maranville's single. Seibold has been scored on just three times in 27 innings against the Robins, Giants, and Phillies.

Four runs off Flint Rhem in the first inning proved sufficient to give the Pirates their second straight over the champion Cardinals. Larry French went all the way and successfully choked off a two-run St. Louis rally in the ninth.

Johnny Verze, rookie third sacker, supplied the chief fireworks as the New York Giants greeted their neighbors, the Robins, with an 8 to 5 thumping. Verze cracked his second home run of the year, a double and a single. In the first inning the Giants scored six runs, Washington and New York, playing the day's only American league game, struggled through 12 frames before the Senators finally won, 9 to 8. It marked the Yankee's third straight reverse.

Six other teams of the junior circuit were stopped by the cold wave, as were the Cubs and Reds in the National.

STEERS AND SPUDDERS TO BATTLE NOW

Fort Worth Cats Use Real Baseball Tactics To Win Two in Row.

By the Associated Press
Thrown for the second loss in two days, the erstwhile league-leading Dallas Steers wended their westward way Tuesday to open a series with the Wichita Falls Spudders. Their place at the head of the procession was held by Fort Worth—the team that handed them two knockouts in games sparkling with what fans like to call old-time baseball.

The Cats clawed out their victory yesterday by scoring two in the ninth to win 4-3. Two doubles, a wild throw to first, advancing a runner to third, then a single, and the Cats went one up and stayed that way.

Meanwhile, at San Antonio, Beaumont loosed a heavy batting assault against Carson and Stein, getting 18 hits good for ten runs against a single marker for the Redmen. The win raised Beaumont to runner-up position and shoved the Steers down to third ranking.

The Spudders were glad to get back on the home lot, after getting licked for the second time in two days at Shreveport. The Arizona fell on Fresno and H. Taylor for nine runs their first time at bat, seven of them being charged up to Presnell in one-third of the inning. The Spudders were unable to produce when their turn at bat came, and a final count showed a 12 to 0 score.

Down on the coast, the fans were treated to an old-fashioned pitchers' battle, when Thornablen and Hansen hooked up. Each allowed but four hits, and Galveston beat Houston 1 to 0.

Cellar Jail Is Chicago's Latest

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP)—The home hogsgow is here.

Up until last night neither the general public nor the police knew of its existence and they might never have learned about it if things hadn't gone a bit awry at the home of Howard Lietzman.

There was some kind of a celebration at Mr. Lietzman's home, which the police said led them to discover the one and only privately owned jail in Chicago. It seems as though Mr. Lietzman invited Messrs. Clyde Secrest and Charles Wilbourn to join him in the party, and as matters progressed Mr. Secrest seized a chair and offered to smash the radio.

It was this that prompted Mr. Lietzman to remove Mr. Secrest to the basement, where he bound him securely with surgeon's tape, put him in the private jail, snatched a padlock on the door and returned to see his other guest, who by this time, fearing a similar fate, had called police. All three were arrested.

Clingman Will Try To Defeat Heavier Rival

Promoter Frank Hunt of the New Pampa wrestling fans a chance to see a real light heavyweight in action Friday night. The newcomer, King Elliot, is fresh from Liverpool, England, and his opponent will be none other than Otis Clingman, local idol.

The Pampa boy is stepping out of his class to take a crack at the heavier class and if successful may start wrestling at a heavier weight. Clingman has trouble holding his middleweight poundage. He is going through strenuous workouts every day besides his regular 18 holes of golf. He is getting a real tan and looks better than he has in some time.

Elliot, fresh from nine straight victories in Dallas, has thrown a scare into the upper circle in East Texas. None of his Dallas matches went more than two falls. He is expected to give Clingman a nasty time. Early reports say he has a technique all his own that may send him far in the ancient art.

Red Michaels will step into the ring with a wildcat, in the semi-final bout. Wildcat Pete of LeFors wants a crack at the Clingman protegee, and he is going to get it.

Old Andy Gump, the Dutch Mantel of Pampa, will take on Young Warford in the preliminary. With several teeth missing, Andy will soon be eligible for a beauty contest with Dutch Mantel, Dutch Belts of Borger, and a few others.

Bowling Champs To Be Decided in Games Tonight

The champion bowling team of the city will be decided tonight when the Gordon Stores team, winner of the Commercial league, and the Pampa Elks club team, winner of the City league, will roll three games, total pins to count.

Pampa Bowling alley officials have been trying to get the two teams together for some time and finally succeeded. Without notice, the Lions club team, third place contestants in the City league and later class B state champions, threw a challenge at the winner of tonight's battle.

The Elks will probably line-up with Prewitt, Howell, McConnell, McWright and Huff. The Gordon Stores roster will include Husak Murphy, Gosnell, Clauson and Powell.

When Canzoneri Merged Two Titles

Mergers being quite popular today, Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, took the junior welterweight championship out of the hands of Jackie (Kid) Berg, busy British boxer. This photo shows the actual consummation of the deal, which took place in the Chicago Stadium. Canzoneri is the upright fighter; Berg is in a respectful position on the floor. He was belted there—and out—by a Canzoneri right which landed smack on the whiskers.

Thirty-Two Women Starting Match Play in San Antonio Tournament

SAN ANTONIO, April 28. (AP)—Thirty-two qualifiers started match play in the Texas Women's Golf association tournament at the San Antonio country club today, hoping for a return to form and more favorable weather.

Scores in the qualifying round yesterday over a rain-soaked and wind-swept course were so high that only a 105, instead of a 99 as last year at Texarkana, was required to remain in the tourney. A one-hole playoff for a four-way tie at 105 sent Mrs. F. P. Dodge of Fort Arthur into match play as the thirty-second starter.

Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, one of two players to break 90, was medalist with 44-42-86, and was pitted against Mrs. H. E. Nelson of Fort Arthur in the first round of match play today. Mrs. O. R. Armstrong of El Paso, who had 47-42-89, was matched against Mrs. Dodge.

Landis Case Is Not Yet Finished

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP)—It appears that the Kenesaw Mountain Landis-Fred Bennett case is not quite finished after all.

Federal Judge Walter Lindley last week ruled that Landis, dictator of baseball affairs, had not exceeded his authority in ordering the St. Louis Browns and Milwaukee Cubs to relinquish their claims to outfielder Fred Bennett, who did a lot of traveling from one Brown farm to another. The decision was handed down on an injunction obtained by the Milwaukee club to prevent Landis from interfering with movement of the player.

Phil De C. Ball, owner of the Browns, has ordered his attorney, Sol W. Swartz, to file an appeal. Bennett originally was the property of the St. Louis club, and after Landis' stand was upheld, signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Londos Asked to Battle Strangler

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP)—Unless Jimmy Londos, one of the leading claimants to the heavyweight wrestling championship, signs within ten days to meet Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former titleholder, wrestling matches will have to be billed as "exhibitions" instead of contests.

Lewis and his manager, Billy Sautow, yesterday posted a check for $5,000 with the Illinois State Athletic commission as a forfeit for a match with Londos to clear up the championship situation. Ed White, manager of Londos, indicated he would not consent to such a match, causing Gen. John V. Clinin, chairman of the Illinois commission, and president of the National Boxing association, to state that wrestling would suffer a change of status unless the match is held somewhere.

General Clinin also said member states of the N. B. A. would be asked to take the same action concerning the grappling game.

Curvers Courageous
Men is generally recognized by baseball fans. Most fans, it seems to me, are pretty wise people and know a home run when they see it. But bravery has been boosed—and often.

A couple of southpaws who are laboring for the Phils this year offer you examples. One is Jumbo Jim Elliott; the other is Ben Shields. Still another example—a southpaw, too—wears a uniform given to him by Uncle Robbie largely as a gesture of generosity. His name is Joe Shaute.

Jim, Joe and Ben
Jumbo Jim was a lumbering giant of 20 when the Browns gave him a trial 10 years ago. He was sent to Terre Haute for seasoning and for three years turned in some fine work for the Toti. Thence he was shunted to San Antonio for a season, but he returned to Terre Haute in 1925 to win 26 ball games. That fall Brooklyn gave him a tryout. He was sent to Seattle where he pitched great ball, winning 26 games, pitching 367 innings.

Brooklyn brought him back in 1927 and for two years he pitched good ball for a second division club. Then came the blowoff. One day while helping her brother with electrical installation in Terre Haute, Jim fainted. His illness was diagnosed as collapse of the colon.

Dietary Horrors
Uncle Robbie kept him on, and Big Jim went on the most painful diet to which man ever was subjected. For nearly a year, I think, his meals consisted of ground prunes and carrots. Last year he started back on the trail to health. He dreamed of steaks and apple pie a la mode—and ate more prunes and more carrots. How he must have suffered—with a frame built to house 225 pounds, subsisting on baby food!

During all the time he was recovering Jim drew plenty of raves from the ferocious Flatbush fans. He kept going. Robbie traded him last year to the Phils. The other day, as a reward to dear old Robbie, Jumbo Jim tied the Flatbush Fusiliers into bow knots, winning a ball game with a fine exhibition of pitching.

Strangely, during the same series with the Phils, Joe Shaute, who for two years was boosed every time he stuck his head out for the district in Cleveland, furnished the first argument in his debate with the fans on the subject: Resolved: That My Arm Is Sweet. Shaute beat the Phils and broke the Robins' losing streak. For a couple of years, over in Cleveland, Joe nursed a lame shoulder, going from doctor to doctor. Last year an operation seemed to help the old souper, and Joe asked Robbie for a trial. Robbie was skeptical, but gave him his chance.

Trying to Come Back
The third of the southpaws with which this piece is concerned, Ben Shields, has been fighting death for five years—and the Philadelphia fans handed him the razz in royal fashion during the same series. Shields came up with the Yankees late in the season five years ago. He pitched three winning games in September. One day in batting practice Babe Ruth smacked one back at him that bounced off his chest and laid him cold. Pneumonia resulted. Then he was seized by tuberculosis.

Bow and Arrow Not Effective in Killing of Buffalo

ELK CITY, Okla., April 28. (AP)—The bow and arrow of the Indian is not so potent today as in the long ago. Cheyennes and Arapahoes brought here from their reservation to slay a buffalo with their primitive weapons as part of the celebration attending the annual meeting of the U. S. Highway 66 association yesterday, failed to bring down the animal before it had run within arrow range of the crowd. The white man's rifle finished the job.

Twenty-Eight Young Men Eliminated Last Night in National Tourney

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Little was in sight today for the amateur boxers here from every part of the country, Hawaii and Canada, to participate in the National Amateur Athletic union championships. At 10 for five fierce hours last night, they are scheduled to start mulling again this afternoon at Madison Square Garden.

Twenty-eight youngsters who came here with high hopes dropped by the wayside in last night's opening skirmish, leaving 123 to battle out for the championships in the various divisions. Thirteen went out by the knockout route, while fifteen lost three-round decisions.

Other winners were divided between Detroit, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Newark, Reno, Virginia, Grand Rapids, Mich., Nanticoke, Pa., and Honolulu. Benny Ahakua, the lad who traveled 5,000 miles from Hawaii to compete, outpointed Irving Johnson, Army lightweight entry, in his first appearance.

Babe Ruth Hopes To Play On Sunday

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Babe Ruth, the battered Bambino, has given up all hope of being able to play against the Philadelphia Athletics in the three-game series starting here Thursday but is confident his injured leg will have improved sufficiently for him to suit up against the Boston Red Sox Sunday.

"It was in a game with the Red Sox just a week ago that the Yankee cleaver received the jolt that sent him to the hospital.

Artie McGovern, Ruth's trainer, started working on the big fellow's legged thigh yesterday and expressed the opinion he would have him back in the game by Sunday. "Probably he will have to take it easy for a time," said McGovern. "It might be several weeks before he is fully recovered."

A matinee-tea was given Monday afternoon by Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. A. B. Zahn, Mrs. Mary R. Ikard, and Mrs. A. D. McNamara as a courtesy to a large group of friends. Contributing to the informality of the occasion, the hostesses passed boxes of candy as the guests viewed Will Rogers in "Connecticut Yankee" at La Nora theater.

Later in the afternoon the guests assembled in two groups at the home of Mrs. Boyd for tea. The table was made unusually attractive with a centerpiece of snapdragons encircled with a garland of sweet peas and lilies of the valley and lighted with yellow tapers. MEMBERS WILL GIVE "IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE"

"The Open Gate," a one-act play of disappointed love, though with a happy ending, delighted members of the Little Theater last night when they met in the high school gymnasium.

A divided scene, half of it forming the living room and half the out-of-doors, made an appropriate setting for the action. Mrs. Curtis Douglass was director, and parts were taken by Mrs. Douglass, Mrs. E. M. Conley, W. O. Workman, and Emmet Smith.

Jimmie Drake accompanied at the piano by Miss Roy Wiley, favored the group with a vocal solo, "Indian Love Call."

Mrs. H. H. Hicks was in charge of the program.

The Little Theater is making plans for a final public production of the year, "It Pays to Advertise." The play, a three-act comedy, will be directed by Mrs. Curtis Douglass and will be produced the latter part of May.

Two plays will be presented by the group in McLean next Tuesday evening.

Musical Comedy Is Much Enjoyed

Pampa's talented children and high school students presented an enjoyable performance last night at the city hall, centering around the musical comedy, "Cherry Blossom."

Ethel Chisum, charmingly dainty in the part of Miss Cherry Blossom, had the leading role and sang gaily through it, supported by Dick Benton, tenor, and many others; Malcolm Carr, as Kokemo-wick-rick-tea garden proprietor in Tokyo, was exceptionally skillful, as also was Edward Burch, who lent a deep bass to the part of Togo, politician of high rank. Joe Kahl, Florida Freeman, and Edison Peacock were well cast in other character roles.

The pleasing tale was musically unfolded in a setting of Japanese cherry blossoms, with feathery and lanterns making an attractive tea garden. The gaily clad geisha girls and the two choruses, made up of American men and girls from a yachting party visiting Japan, added color and melody.

Bursts of harmony from the orchestra greeted assembling citizens and exceptionally fine ward school sketches were given between acts. Baker school pupils gave a Japanese drill, followed by the uniformed and talented Horace Mann glee club, directed by Loma Groom.

After the second act, the boys' harmonica club from Sam Houston school played patriotic airs, achieved organ tones and produced two solo numbers. Especially clever was the doll dance, by Woodrow Wilson pupils - tap dancing by costumed little misses who tripped about in gay abandon and much skill.

Playing With The Two Grandchildren of Hoover Is Happy Occasion for Girl Cousins From Iowa

By SUE McNAMARA

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's a gain day for two little girls from Iowa when they go to the White House to play with the president's grandchildren.

The two girls are Charlotte Ann and Margaret Ellen Hoover, distant cousins of little Peggy Ann and Herbert Hoover 3rd. Their father, Claude Hoover, is a second cousin of the president. They recently moved here from Fairfield, Ia.

The girls like to go to the White House and play with Peggy Ann's dolls and the furniture Mrs. Hoover bought for her granddaughter on Christmas.

They enjoy riding over the smooth east room floor in the scooter wagon of Herbert Hoover 3rd, better known as "Peter."

Only they do not understand why they can't run over and play with the president's grandchildren as they would with any other youngsters.

"Mother can't we go over and play with Peggy Ann and Peter today?" is a frequent question.

And when a call comes from the White House inviting them over the two little girls don their best dresses and go eagerly forth to mingle with the small children of cabinet members and diplomats.

Sometimes they are invited to play with their little cousins alone, and they like this the best.

When they drive past the White House they point out proudly: "There's where Peggy Ann and Peter live."

They cut out pictures of the president and save them. They only know him, however, as a big, busy man who appears for a brief moment, pats them on the head, smiles and is gone.

But Peggy Ann and Peter skip along with him to his office nearly every morning and go to meet him in the evening.

Charlotte and Margaret have their own grandfather here, George Hoover, cousin of the president, an attorney for the Interstate Commerce Commission. He tells them stories of boyhood days in Iowa, when he and the president played together.

Dolls with ruffled dresses in pastel tints formed shades for individual table lamps at the luncheon given by Mrs. Charles Todd Friday afternoon at the Canary Station shop.

The early afternoon was spent in playing games of bridge in Mrs. Todd's home.

Members present were Mesdames Carl Brashears, I. C. Houk, Harold Miller, Arch Haskley, John Haggard, Harold Kelly, J. H. Lutz, Boehm, E. Hooks, and the hostess. Guests were Mrs. Frank Allison, Mrs. Frank Howell, and Mrs. H. C. Myers.

Mrs. Houk was favored for high score among club members. Mrs. J. H. Lutz for low, and Mrs. Frank Howell for high score among guests.

WILL CLEAR WALKER NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—News-papers today predicted the immediate dismissal by Governor Roosevelt of charges of inefficiency filed against Mayor Walker.

The governor was described by the papers as feeling that the charges were not specific, that the mayor had answered the points at issue, and that any irregularities in the city administration could be uncovered by the committee of the legislature which is investigating city affairs.

CHURCHES

Bible Chautauqua continues with increasing interest.

The people began to gather in the State theater at 7 o'clock Monday night, to hear the subject "From Eden to Eden by Way of the Cross." At 8 o'clock the theater was packed, and many were standing. There was great interest shown as the evangelist delivered the lecture, showing from the Bible, and pictures that this world was created perfect in beauty, and without sin, but as man sold himself to the devil without price, and death came upon the human race because of sin, and that Jesus came into the world to die for man, thus becoming the vicarious sacrifice for man. He showed that this world is to be redeemed from its sinful condition, and will be as it was when it came from the hand of the Creator in the beginning, and that all the redeemed people of the earth's history will live in this earth never to die any more. The lectures continue all the week.

Worrell Is Injured By Iron Splinter

An iron splinter caused a painful but not serious wound in Dr. T. J. Worrell's right arm Sunday when he fired a Krag-Jergerson 30 caliber rifle into a piece of cast iron.

Dr. Worrell, who is the city health officer, was not over 50 feet from the piece of cast iron when he fired the rifle. He had previously been firing at a target, he said.

When your dealer

urges you to buy an unknown substitute product rather than an advertised brand by telling you.. "It's just as good and cheaper"

ask him this Question..

"If that is true why doesn't the maker advertise it to the world and sell more?"

You will ask him that question because you are an intelligent woman who can not be fooled by a little glib talk.

You know that if the manufacturer of that substitute product had discovered a method whereby he could produce equal quality at reduced prices, he would be eager to advertise this fact convincingly and greatly increase his sales.

You know that you could not buy, say your present car, at the price you paid unless it was produced by mass production.

You know that mass production is possible only by advertising the merits of the product to millions. Also that high quality and low cost can be maintained only through continued mass production made possible by continuous advertising.

You know that advertising does not increase, but decreases prices and adds extra quality never before possible. To illustrate how little advertising costs, a well-known brand of breakfast food costs $0.15, and the cost of advertising each package is only $0.003 (one-third of 1c). If an unadvertised substitute contained the same quality it would cost at least $0.20.

You know that a cake may be baked with cheap ingredients and still be made to look just as good as if only the best of everything had been used. But when such a cake is cut and tasted, the difference is discovered. The catch is that the cake is bought and carried home before that difference is discovered. Just so are all substitutes whose claims are "just as good and cheaper."

Beware of unknown substitutes, for you don't know how they were made nor the quality of their ingredients. Be guided by known, advertised brands, for they always give you the highest quality at the lowest prices.

"Belled Buzzard" Found at Last

Traditional stories of a mysterious "belled buzzard," a bird allied to the vulture, which in some manner acquired a small bell firmly attached to its neck, appeared to be verified when an automobile owned by Rufus Turner of Spencer, Ind., struck and killed such a bird near that city. A small bell, indicated by the arrow in the above picture, was tucked to the buzzard's neck by a strap. How the bell got there, Turner makes no pretense of knowing. However, the mysterious thinking emanated from the sky that has been reported from time to time for years in many states, may have been real.

Insanity Cause Is Believed Found Fred Burke Is Taken to Prison

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Discovery that puckering of particles in brain cells causes insanity—may even be the long sought secret of this ages-old mystery—was reported to the National Academy of Sciences today.
The same pucker explains sleep in a new way, alcoholic insanity and why aviators have "ceilings" above which they lose control. It gives insanity itself a novel and less dreadful aspect.
Dr. Wilder D. Bancroft, professor of physical chemistry, and Dr. G. H. Richter made the discovery at Cornell university.

Failure to recognize this two-way source, Dr. Bancroft suggested, explains why certain drugs help some insane persons and are mysterious by a poison for others. Some drugs counteract too much coagulation, while entirely different ones are needed for over-peptization.
"Alcohol is credited with nearly 10 per cent of the mental disorders that lead to hospital incarceration," said Dr. Bancroft. "It is a coagulating agent for the brain colloids among others. In its action on the brain it first stimulates and then depresses, the depression passing into sleep, anesthesia or death, depending on the amount taken."

Member of Kimes Gang Is Caught

HENDERSON, April 28. (AP)—Two men widely sought over the southwest for killings and other crimes in Oklahoma, were held here today awaiting arrival of officers from the neighboring state.
Paul Martin, long hunted as the last member of the notorious Kimes gang, which allegedly perpetrated a series of holdup bank robberies in Oklahoma, was surprised by officers at a tourist camp between Joinerville and Turnersville Sunday night.
Ed Davis, one of three men charged with killing J. R. Hill, constable at Marlow, Okla., when the latter sought to arrest them, was surrounded yesterday by Henderson sheriff's officers while in a house at Troup. He threw up his hands when officers broke in the door.

A woman who gave her name as Mrs. Ed Cobb was captured when officers took Martin, but Cobb, believed to have been in the vicinity, escaped.
A charge of murder was filed against Martin at Okmulgee, Okla., alleging the killing of W. J. McAnally, chief of police of Beggs, during the robbery of two banks at Beggs, May 18, 1927.
Authorities also wanted to question him concerning the $100,000 robbery of the Lincoln (Neb.) Bank and Trust company and the robbery Dec. 16, 1927, of a bank at Jet, Okla.

Sterling to Speak To Lions Meeting

PORT ARTHUR, April 28. (AP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling was to address the convention of Texas Lions International at its second day's meeting here today.

KING OF SIAM WILL VISIT AMERICAN PRESIDENT SOON

He is Studying Means by Which His People Will Learn to Rule Seives.
PURCHASE, N. Y., April 28. (AP)—King Prajadhipok of Siam, an absolute monarch who intends voluntarily to give the right of suffrage to his people, tomorrow will visit the chief executive of a government which he admires.
The king and his suite will reach Washington this evening.
The king's half brother, the Prince of Chandaburi, died yesterday in Paris of a throat affliction. A statement issued on behalf of the king at Cokir Hall said: "Court mourning will, of course, be observed in Bangkok, but no majesty—as is customary in cases of functions of state—has ordered the suspension of mourning for his visit to Washington and on the occasions of subsequent engagements now constituting the king's schedule."

"During my visit to this country," the king said, "I shall be interested in studying the form of franchise and whether voting really expressed the will of the majority. I want to find out about the American form of voting and how the campaigns are conducted. Those things interest me a great deal."
"Later on we are planning a new municipal law by which, perhaps, the people will be permitted to select their own councilors. The matter is being studied now. My idea is to begin with suffrage in local matters and then work up."
His ambition, he added, is to achieve happiness for the greatest number of people possible.

HOLDUP MAN IDENTIFIED
EASTLAND, April 28. (AP)—Identified yesterday by D. L. Allen, merchant and postmaster at Nimrod, as one of two men who held him at a high Ingram today awaited further moves of the prosecution in his trial for the robbery. Allen said he lost $50.
Ingram once was assessed 10 years on the charge, but the case was reversed and remanded.

Intangible Tax Before Legislature

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP)—Proposed taxation of the intangible assets of corporations doing whole or part time business in Texas and truck regulations were before the legislature today.

The intangible assets tax bill would tax 15,000 corporations and approximately $10,000,000 in revenue. The bill was taken up momentarily by the house last week but postponed until today.

Truck control leaders in the senate promised late yesterday they would insist on bringing truck regulatory bills up for consideration at the outset of today's work. Pending before the senate are two truck regulatory bills by Representative Murphy of Livingston and one by Senator Cousins of Beaumont. One of the Murphy bills, in which regulation of trucks operating over the state highway would be placed under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission, was engrossed last week.

In addition, the senate had a heavy schedule of special order business listed. Among the bills set as special orders were those providing increase of the state highway patrol from 50 to 200, the educational appropriations bill, the anti-discrimination bill, and a land title validating bill by Senator Small of Wellington.

Notice was given in the house that the adjournment resolution, introduced several days ago, would be called up for consideration today. The resolution calls for prompt adjournment of the legislature May 12.

More was to be heard today on the city of Waco's bid for a proposed state highway office building. Citizens of Waco offered to donate the site for the building.

Senator Pollard of Tyler notified the senate yesterday he would call up for consideration today a motion by Senator Small of Wellington to print the Brooks bond retirement bill on a minority report. The Brooks bill proposes to retire out of current revenues the bonded indebtedness of counties voting funds to aid in the construction of state highways. The bill was passed by the house but received an adverse report from the senate committee on state affairs.

'Legs' Diamond In Critical Condition

ALBANY, N. Y., April 28. (AP)—Death loitered today in the room where Jack "Legs" Diamond lay dangerously wounded. The buckshot which cut him down yesterday morning had not been removed from a lung still weak from a bullet wound made last year by a gangster's gun. He was in great pain.

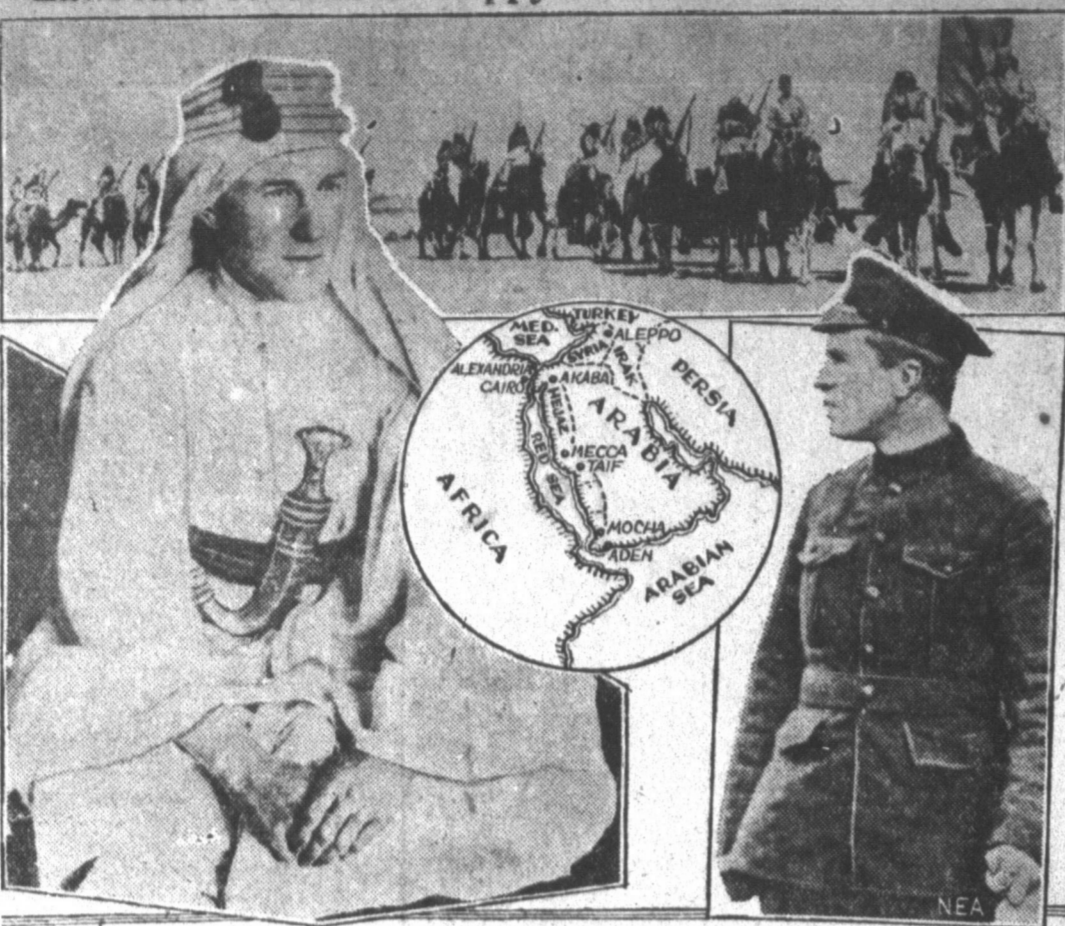

While his physician fought to prevent pneumonia, the state moved swiftly to clear the Catskills, where Diamond was shot, of the gang element which has kept that resort section in a turmoil since Diamond moved there to recuperate after he was wounded last year in New York.

Attorney General John J. Bennett, who took over the investigation at Governor Roosevelt's direction, said he would seek a number of indictments before the grand jury today.

ESCOBAR 5 CHARGED

EL PASO, April 28. (AP)—The Herald-Post says today a warrant for the arrest of former General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, exiled Mexican rebel leader, charging abstraction of bank funds, has been issued by Judge Jose G. Mijangos of the Torreón, Coahuila, penal court.

"Lawrence of Arabia" Happy Now as Mere Private

Weary of politics and all that goes with it, tired of responsibility and seeking relaxation by working with his hands—that explains why Col. T. E. Lawrence, famous in the World War as "Lawrence of Arabia," is now a private in Britain's royal aircraft service, according to his story just obtained by a journalist. Lawrence is shown above as he appeared when he was "the uncrowned king of Arabia," organizing and leading thousands of Arabs against the Turks for the Allied cause and, right, as he appears now as a British private. Some of the desert tribesmen that he led in battle and a map of the scene of his exploits are also shown.

Markets

COTTON FIRM

NEW ORLEANS, April 28. (AP)—Cotton here had a steady opening. Liverpool cables were about as due and first trades here showed gains of one point. New York, however, opened slightly easier due to the issues of notices for 70,000 bales on May contracts. A little later, New York rallied as it was apparent the notices were being stopped.

The market here improved in sympathy, July trading up to 10.27 and October to 10.62, or 4 points above yesterday's close. At the end of the first hour, the undertones here was very steady with indications that local scalpers were buying.

WHEAT BOOSTED

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP)—Announcement France would allow an additional 5 per cent mixture of foreign wheat gave an early upward impulse to grain prices today. Continued absence of moisture in North American spring wheat territory also was a bullish influence.

Opening 1-8 to 1-4 cent off to 1-8 to 1-4 up, wheat afterward showed an all around advance. Corn started unchanged to 3-8 higher and subsequently held near the initial limits.

Financial Rehabilitation Promised As Chicago's New Mayor Takes Seat

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP)—Anton J. Cermak, native son of Bohemia who once mined coal in the pits of Bradwood, Ill., occupied his desk today for the first time as Chicago's formally inducted mayor.

He regarded it as a "full time job," he said, one dedicated to restoring the city's expenditures, restoring law and order, and preparing America's second city for the century of progress exposition in 1933.

He outlined that program in his inauguration held last night in the council chambers. The formal ceremony was broadcast over a coast-to-coast network.

Mayor Cermak promised the citizens of Chicago he would reduce taxes by reducing governmental expenditures.

The mayor also promised to place the police department on its own feet in law enforcement.

"The responsibility for the conduct of the police department," he said, "and its administration, will be placed squarely upon the commissioner of police. He will not be interfered with by me. I shall insist that he does not permit himself to be interfered with by anyone else. He will be judged solely by the results he accomplishes and I shall not hesitate to reorganize the department at any time I am convinced it is not functioning efficiently."

The mayor then turned his attention to the world's fair. While the board of directors will care for preparations of the fair itself, he said, the city council must attend to street widening and other public improvement projects which must be completed in the meantime.

Killifer Changes Lineup of Browns

CLEVELAND, April 28. (AP)—Still far from satisfied with his St. Louis Browns, Manager Bill Killifer planned another shift today, which he hoped would improve both the offense and the defense.

Killifer's latest plan is to send "Red" Kress from third base to right field, using Lin Storti at third. Several players already have been used in right field and all have caused Killifer considerable pain.

Storti, a recruit from the Texas league, has showed much promise in the few chances he has had to play this year.

RENO DIVORCE MACHINE READY

RENO, Nev., April 28. (AP)—The machinery of Reno's famous "divorce mill" was being oiled today in preparation for a big rush of business when the new six weeks residence law becomes effective Friday.

The two judges of the district court, Benjamin F. Curler and Thomas F. Moran, have drawn plans by which they said they expected a decree could be granted every ten minutes in non-contested cases. The present calendar system will be disposed of if the judges' recommendations are approved by the local bar association and cases will be set for hearings by the county clerk.

The present divorce record for one day was reported to be 52 petitions granted by Judge Moran and former Judge George A. Bartlett.

Under the constitution, the 120-day session would end May 12.

VERY NERVOUS AND DEPRESSED

"A few years ago, I was in a very nervous condition," writes Mrs. P. L. Reynolds, 327 W. Main St., Spartanburg, S. C. "I was terribly depressed. I felt every day just like something awful was going to happen. I did not sleep well at night. I had awful crying spells and did not know what in the world I was crying about. My mother told me to try Cardui. After my first bottle, I was better. I took several bottles and it did me a world of good. I quit having the nervous blue feeling, and was soon all right. I have taken it since, just as a tonic."
