Meet the Browns—Typical Family

Of 29,000,000 families in the United States, the Browns of Indianapolis were selected as "most typical" in a recent nationwide magazine contest. They're so typical, in fact, that they all go in for golf and Mrs. Brown keeps both her age and golf score a dark secret. Here they are from left to right, John Brown, 13, with Pat, the family pet; Mrs. Brown; Louise Brown 15 and Merrill J. Brown 4. Brown is a sales manager and belongs to several clubs.

WHEAT CONFERENCE WAITS ON REPORT OF COMMITTEE

Prolonged Discussions Are Not Encouraging; Russia Has Denounced U. S.

LONDON, May 22. (AP)—The world wheat conference was forced to postpone today's plenary session until tomorrow due to the inability of its sub-committee to complete work on the proposals for solution of the international grain crisis.

While no official word was permitted to leak from the committee rooms, the general impression among observers was that the committee was deadlocked on the divergent plans suggested by Russia and the United States.

Russia's proposals were based on pre-war figures as a starting point in fixing the scale for new quotas. The American delegation opposes such a plan and the Russian insistence upon the pre-war basis is said to have found little support from the Argentine, Canadian, and Australian delegations.

M. W. Thatcher of the Farmers' National Grain corporation, was to sit in the plenary session as an accredited delegate of the United States. He has been acting in an advisory capacity but the conference decided he should come in as a delegate.

Official announcements continued to speak of a spirit of optimism and cooperation among the conference members but observers on the outside were wondering what is causing the prolonged committee discussions.

MOSCOW, May 22. (AP)—The newspaper Izvestia, official government organ, commenting today on the London wheat conference, denounces the United States as not only refusing to agree to a "scheme" for solving the world's grain surplus problem but actually preparing plans for huge dumping operations on the world market.

ROBBERS OBTAIN $1500 IN LUTHER, OKLAHOMA, RAID

LUTHER, Okla., May 22. (AP)—Three men robbed the First National bank of Luther this morning and escaped with currency estimated at $1,500.

John Bednar, bank president, and Walter Hays, cashier, the only persons in the bank at the time of the robbery, were locked in the vault. They worked the combination from the inside and emerged in a few minutes to spread the alarm.

Bednar said the three entered an old small automobile and were last seen heading south out of Luther.

ROFF, Okla., May 22. (AP)—The First State bank of Roff was robbed of $2,000 shortly after noon today by two men who escaped in an automobile heading west. Roff is in Pontotoc county.

Finger prints were left on the vault doors by the robbers and state operatives were summoned from the bureau of criminal investigation at Oklahoma City to aid in the search for the robbers.

A library designed to house ultimately 4,000,000 books will be built and fully equipped for Columbia university with funds pledged by Edward S. Harkness.

TRADE PLAN APPROVED BY GRAIN GROUP

Panhandle Dealers Declare Trading in Futures Shows Supply and Demand on Accurate Basis.

STORAGE SHORT

Old Crop Must Be Moved to Make Way for New; Rap Is Taken at Government Interference.

AMARILLO, May 22. (AP)—Finding that the present system of futures trading in the grain market "accurately registers supply and demand, and minimizes the wide fluctuations in price levels that would otherwise occur," the Panhandle Grain Dealers association today adopted resolutions commending the system and opposing government interference.

The association opposed interference by the government because of its "tendency to prevent free and lawful operation in accordance with the age-old law of supply and demand."

Another resolution commended the United States Chamber of Commerce for its stand on "the rights of private citizens" and its efforts to get the government out of business.

A. W. Towsey, Chicago, assistant vice-president of the Rock Island, said that storage facilities in the nation as a whole were only adequate to handle the 1931 wheat crop, and that the millions of bushels now in storage would have to be moved out or congestion would arise. He said the railroads were in a position to handle the crop movement.

Delegates to the Southwest Shippers Advisory board here yesterday predicted that wheat now in storage would be moved out before the new crop starts to market.

Towsey estimated the wheat yield in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Nebraska at 350 million bushels.

W. Martin, Vernon, was elected president of the association just prior to adjournment this afternoon. He will succeed R. L. McClellan, Spearman.

Harry Kearns, Amarillo, was re-elected vice-president, and Joe Morris, Amarillo, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Directors elected were J. F. Connally, Claude, Burton Thornton, Lockney, O. D. Dinwiddie, Hart, and H. G. Heaton, Dalhart.

Russian Official Talks to Briand

GENEVA, May 22. (AP)—Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff of Russia remained in Geneva today, exhibiting considerable speculation in diplomatic quarters in view of the adjournment of the Pan-European commission.

Having visited French Foreign Minister Aristide Briand yesterday, Mr. Litvinoff was believed to be planning conferences with representatives of other capitalistic countries.

He has been much more conciliatory in his official remarks this week than on his previous visits to Geneva, apparently wishing to obtain recognition for his proposed pact of economic non-aggression. It was referred to the sub-committee of the commission after M. Orland and Foreign Minister Julius Curtius of Germany had spoken kind words concerning its guiding principle.

When attending league conferences in the past, M. Litvinoff has overflown with sharp references to the members' sincerity and method of working. This time he limited himself to poking a little fun over what he termed the commission's sudden discovery that Russia was a part of Europe.

The sessions have been marked almost daily by friendly expression toward the Soviet delegate and the country itself by spokesmen for other European states. Observers watching, therefore, for further signs of warmer relations between the exponents of the communist and capitalistic states.

Frank Kimbrough Wins At Lubbock

LUBBOCK, May 22. (AP)—Frank Kimbrough of Plainview, Ellis County of Midland, and George Samson of Post merged winners in championship matches in the West Texas Golf association tournament this morning on the Lubbock Country club course.

In the most decisive victory of the morning, Kimbrough defeated C. M. Hughtett of Lubbock, 8 and 7. Cowden eliminated W. G. McMillan of Lubbock, 2 and 1, and Samson joined John Pennell of Amarillo, 7 and 6.

Efforts at once were started by long distance telephone and telegram to alter his decision but those who know the character of the father of India's independence movement say he is not likely to change his mind.

Gandhi was represented as feeling his presence in India now is imperative if all terms of the Delhi truce are to be enforced and if the existing breach between Hindus and Moslems is to be healed.

COMEDIAN IS CLEVER STAR

Albert Pearson to Be Seen And Heard Saturday in "Okay Baby."

Albert Pearson, who takes the comedy lead in "Okay Baby," Memphis musical comedy to be presented in the city auditorium on Saturday evening for the benefit of the Welfare Board, is a "natural" comedian.

He has all the requisites for this hard role. His facial expressions are as many and as varied as the many-sided Eddie Cantor. He has a good voice for the type of songs he is called upon to sing, and he puts them over.

Musical comedy is his forte. He can ad lib with the smartest of them. As a tap dancer, he is in a class by himself and when he does his latest tap numbers, the audience demand more and even interrupt the dance to show him their appreciation.

He is the focal point of the entire cast. Music is a part of him. He interprets a big cross-section of life by his comic antics. He is by no means the whole show, but he is a mighty part of it. Pearson knows many people in Pampa. His father, J. O. Pearson, lives here and he is particularly anxious to give a good account of himself to the Pampa audience. Seeing Pearson alone is worth the price of admission.

Japan, like the United States, is attempting to reduce the high cost of military defenses.

REDISTRICTING BILL HAS BEEN APPROVED BY HOUSE

Legislators Are Unwilling to Let Political Plum Go on "At Large" Basis.

AUSTIN, May 22. (AP)—The house today voted to accept the free conference report on the congressional redistricting bill. Debate on the report was short and while several expressed disapproval with the arrangement of the counties they voted to adopt it.

The vote was 90 to 31. The impelling motive for many of the favorable votes was that few were willing to leave the state unredistricted which would force the election of three congressmen-at-large, Texas being entitled to 21 instead of 18 congressmen under the 1930 census.

Under the report south Texas will receive one new district and west Texas and the Panhandle the other two districts.

The bitter fight on the report in the senate was predicted. The report did not place two incumbents in the same district.

FORMER PROSECUTOR GIVES UP FOLLOWING SLAYING OF PUBLISHER AND POLITICIAN

David Clark Refuses to Tell of Assassinations—His Resignation Pending.

LOS ANGELES, May 22. (AP)—David Clark, former deputy district attorney, was held today on a charge of slaying Herbert Spencer, magazine editor, and Charles Crawford, wealthy politician, who were shot to death in Crawford's office Wednesday.

Clark surrendered last night to Byron Pitts, district attorney, who said his former aide had been identified by employers of Crawford, a real estate dealer, as the man who was in conference with the victims just before they fell mortally wounded by revolver fire.

Officers questioned Clark more than an hour about details of the shooting before he was sent to jail. Pitts said he had refused to make a statement.

Gives Self Up

Shortly after being named in a statement by Pitts as the man wanted for the slayings, Clark telephoned the district attorney last night he decided to make his office, ran a gantlet of cameramen and reporters and disappeared into Pitts' chambers.

Clark refused to talk about the murder when reporters shot questions at him and Pitts later said he had refused to make a statement under questioning. A murder charge was filed against Clark after he had been identified by three persons as the man who ran from Crawford's office after the shooting.

Clark's recent unsuccessful candidacy for a Los Angeles municipal judgeship had been opposed by Crawford and Spencer. Pitts said he recently had requested Clark's resignation as deputy prosecutor.

Bought Pistol

The district attorney said he had evidence that Clark purchased a .38 pistol Tuesday. Police experts asserted 38 caliber bullets had killed Spencer, former police reporter and alleged "fixer" for persons accused of minor offenses, and Crawford, presumably retired political "boss."

The killing at first was attributed to gambling interests which had been attacked in the magazine, "Critics of Critics," of which Spencer was managing editor and Crawford a patron. The magazine had named Guy McAfee, wealthy former policeman and gambling dictator, as "Boss" of Los Angeles.

McAfee, police said, established that he was not near the scene of the killing.

These developments at least temporarily displaced theories that Spencer and Crawford were gangland victims.

Clark's boyish-looking lawyer, just before his resignation in February, after eight years of service in the district attorney's office, prosecuted grand theft charges on which Daisy DeBee, former secretary of Clara Bow, film star, was convicted and sentenced to 18 months in jail. He is a graduate of the University of Southern California and the U. S. Naval academy.

MANY PLANES MOVED TODAY

Atlantic Coast Is "Defended" by Huge Swarm of Army Warbirds.

FAIRFIELD AIR DEPOT, Dayton, O., May 22. (AP)—Prepared to defend the Atlantic coast as the climax of the annual maneuvers, 500 army planes began taking off from Fairfield for eastern points at 4:05 a. m. (Central Standard Time) today.

The first to leave was the 101st pursuit group. Daylight was just breaking in the east when the cadets of Kelly Field left in three for Buffalo, immediately after refueling there, they take the air again for Valley Stream, N. Y.

The eastward flight is to demonstrate the feasibility of moving large bodies of airships and to "protect" the sector from Maine to Washington, with New York City as the concentration point.

The jump of 400 miles indicated many of the ships would be on the move from eight to ten hours and that the pilots and mechanics would go without rest for an even longer period.

The cadets had hardly disappeared when the first pursuit group cleared the field.

With most of the pursuit ships away, the "Big Berthas" of the air corps—the five-passenger bombing planes—began to lift from the field. At Wright Field across the road, the first of the observation planes, the 104th observation group, began circling. Before the faster ships were out of sight, at least 150 ships were in the air working for higher altitudes over the field before hiking east.

As the bombers faded into the early morning horizon for Middletown, Pa., and Bolling Field, their first stop, the third attack group, heading for Butler, Pa., cleared Wright Field. Following them was the 20th pursuit group, headed by the 95th squadron, crack fighting outfit of the army from Mather Field, Calif.

The entire schedule was only a few minutes behind because of cold motor which took a long time warming up.

At noon the more than 500 planes had reached the refueling points—Buffalo, Rochester, Washington, and Middletown, and Butler, Pa.—without an accident, except that one plane was slightly damaged when it nosed over in landing at Rochester.

The planes, which compose the first provisional air division of the United States army, were due at flying fields in the New York area by mid-afternoon.

Army air men described the take-off from Dayton as "perfect" and expressed satisfaction with the machine-like precision with which the movement of such a large number of planes was progressing.

Waco Student Is Accident Victim

WACO, May 22. (AP)—William Maxberry, 16, Waco high school freshman, was shot and fatally wounded early today as he and Richard Thompson, 16, were examining a small caliber pistol at the Thompson home, before going to school.

He died as he reached a hospital. A coroner returned a verdict holding the shooting was accidental. The youth was the son of Homer T. Maxberry, former ministerial student at Baylor university.

Pajama Fad Is Issue In Schools

OAKLAND, Calif., May 22. (AP)—H. H. Cousins, high school principal, is a conservative on feminine styles. Seven of his feminine students are liberals.

When the girls appeared for classes attired in pajamas they were ordered to go home. Mr. Cousins said he would not permit the wearing of pajamas unless other schools in the city did so.

W. S. Givens, superintendent, refused to interfere, but said he personally approved of the informal attire.

Today the students set out with the avowed intention of persuading girls of other schools to adopt the mode.

LEGISLATURE MAY ADJOURN ON TUESDAY

Senate Proposal Taken to House With Likelihood It May Be Refused; Special Term Is Probable.

ADOPT REPORTS

Sulphur-Peddlers Measure Is Approved; Rural Ais As House Passed It Taken Up by Solons.

AUSTIN, May 22. (AP)—The senate today voted, 22 to 5, to extend the regular session of the legislature until next Tuesday noon. Concurrence of the house would be necessary for the extension.

Adjournment had been set for 12 o'clock today. The houses stopped or turned back their clocks so that hour would not be reached until they were ready.

Both branches adopted the free conference report on the cement-sulphur-peddlers' tax bill, the house, 69 to 59 and the senate 28 to 2. The bill carried a five cents a barrel surtax on cement, an increase in the sulphur tax from 55 to 75 cents and revised the general occupation taxes.

Both houses adjourned for lunch. Returning this afternoon, the senate began discussing the $5,000,000 rural aid free conference report, which the house had adopted, and the house approved a few small emergency appropriations.

Included in the appropriations was an allotment of $2,100 to the auditor to continue his investigation of forged witness fee certificates.

The first eleemosynary free conference committee could not agree on establishment of a psychopathic hospital at Dallas. Senate members held out for an appropriation while house conferees felt bound by the action of their body to make only a "paper" establishment.

AUSTIN, May 22. (AP)—Proposed legislation moved slowly this morning and the hour of adjournment of the regular session of the forty-second legislature was still an open question shortly before noon today.

The free conference committee on educational appropriations agreed, according mainly to the senate's desires by reinserting the house's five and ten per cent salary slashes. Many legislators predicted the house would not accept that report.

The situation on congressional redistricting was exactly the opposite. The house had approved the report but Senator Greer, chairman of the senate committee, expressed confidence the senate would reject it. A vote on a related question strengthened his prediction.

The eleemosynary appropriations committee reported it was deadlocked and a new committee was named.

The house adopted the free conference report on the sulphur-cement-peddlers' tax bill. Senator Hopkins of Gonzales, author of the cement tax, which was causing most of the controversy, predicted the senate would do likewise.

AUSTIN, May 22. (AP)—The unprecedentedly long regular session of the forty-second legislature today approached its end. Adjournment was scheduled when the legislative clocks reach 12 noon. Some thought that would be this afternoon but most legislators believed it would be tonight.

Four appropriation bills, congressional redistricting, and the omnibus sulphur-cement-peddlers' tax bill were the important proposals hanging in the balance.

Free conference committees on claims and accounts, educational, eleemosynary and departmental appropriations and congressional redistricting worked late last night. Phil Sanders, chairman of the

MANY WOMEN HELPING DEPENDENTS

With six millions of men out of work, it is rather interesting to know that there are that many women gainfully employed. Women's entrance into all sorts of labor fields has had a part in reducing the number of positions available to men at this time.

There are many women who work at jobs formerly held by men because of the desire for independence or pin money, but most of them are supporting others and are removing the necessity of support from some other wage earner. A recent survey showed unmistakably that at present hundreds of thousands of working women have just as many dependents as the average man.

During the depression there has been a tendency to rule out the married woman in business. Labor leaders have come out squarely against this trend, pointing to the fact that behind nearly every working married woman is a man whose income is uncertain or whose work is intermittent. In many instances craftsmen are idle for lack of opportunity to work and their wives are keeping stark want from the households.

These are not normal times. Before discharging women employes, married or single, it would be well for employers to ascertain how many mouths are being fed from the wages involved. There are many thousands of women and children in America who are bearing heavy burdens behind the scenes.

GOVERNMENT'S "VOICE"

It is a magnificent show that the Army Air Corps has been putting on lately. It is hard to imagine anything more thrilling and inspiring than the sight of 600 airplanes flying together. The massed roar of their motors, the upward sweep of the great machines soaring toward the sky, the sense of energy and controlled, disciplined striking power that they give—these make up a spectacle that no one can witness, or even read of, unmoved.

Yet there is something very dismaying about the whole business, when you stop to think about it. One gets the feeling that all of this splendid discipline, singleness of purpose and driving power have been misused.

This great fleet of airplanes exists solely to destroy lives and property. We have grown inventive and we have grown rich, and to our wealth and inventive genius we have added the acme of human skill and the most careful, scientific planning that we can possibly provide—and for what? To create an engine that is purely destructive, an engine that can add nothing to human happiness, an engine that can never be used without tremendously increasing the total of human misery in this world.

All of this, of course, is not the same as saying that we should not have an Army Air Corps. There is precious little indication at present that the world is going to get on without war henceforth; and as long as the menace of war exists, it seems to be up to us to get ready for it. Nor is the air corps to be blamed for holding the present maneuvers.

Pistol Belonging To Creighton Has Been Identified

JOPLIN, Mo., May 22. (AP)—A revolver with which James Edward Creighton was admitted killing Coyne Hatten, a son of a Webb City capitalist, has been identified as the weapon taken from Elbert A. Dalley, Hastings, Neb., police officer by bandits who robbed a bank there Feb. 25 of $27,000.

Creighton, who waived preliminary hearing on a murder charge brought after he had signed a confession he shot Hatten in a sudden flare of anger, is held here without bond.

Officers believed he was a member of the notorious Mat Kimes gang and was a confederate here of Fred Barker, fugitive burglar and safe cracker. Fred Barker is a brother of Herman Barker, shot near Cartersville by a Joplin detective in a battle which led to the capture of Ray Terrill, another widely known outlaw.

Auto Mechanics To Organize In State

EL PASO, May 22. (AP)—The Texas Federation of Labor annual convention today approved a campaign of organization among automobile mechanics throughout the state.

A resolution adopted unanimously declared the automotive industry was "in a most deplorable condition" and approved a proposed law to license automobile mechanics and also called on organized labor to patronize union garages and mechanical shops.

The convention also went on record as opposing a bill before the legislature which would have state printing done in the penitentiary printing plant. Other resolutions instructed officers of the federation to see that provisions of the federal law providing for payment of the "prevailing wage" settle on government construction be carried out. Penioning of city employes by law was favored and officers of the federation were instructed to work for such a law.

ANK CHEAPER RATES

PROMOTION EXERCISES ARE OF INTEREST AT LOCAL SCHOOLS; AWARDS ARE GIVEN TO PUPILS

Promotion exercises were held this morning for scores of pupils who are leaving the ward schools to enter Junior high school next year. Interesting programs, including inspirational talks, were given, and awards were made to a number of pupils who have done outstanding work.

Cliff E. Hinkle, editor of the Pampa NEWS-POST, spoke at Baker school. He encouraged pupils to strive for higher education and told them of a wealth of learning which was theirs to explore. He prophesied that education during the next few years would be improved greatly.

Although he advised them to go to high school and college, Mr. Hinkle reminded the pupils that success would not depend so much upon their environment or their education as upon themselves, their own determination to succeed. In illustrating this, he referred to the late Dr. S. P. Brooks, who had few educational opportunities in childhood, but who, as president of Baylor university, became one of the most noted men of Texas.

At the conclusion of the address, the editor presented the medal offered by the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution to Leon Plato, a pupil of Miss Edna Underwood's room.

The program opened with a song, "America," sung by the audience, and proceeded as follows: Prayer; piano solo, Miss Louie Barton; reading, Miss Cleo Snodgrass; vocal solo, Miss Julia Shakerford, accompanied by Miss Euriha Henry; rhythm band numbers directed by Miss Martha Wulfman; saxophone solo, Miss Mary Bishop, accompanied by Mrs. John Gant; address by Mr. Hinkle; awarding of medal to Leon Plato; awarding of certificates for perfect attendance.

At Horace Mann fifth and sixth grades, under the direction of Miss Frances McCue and Mrs. M. K. Griffith directed the programs at Horace Mann school.

Lillian Mayden led the devotional, and the grades repeated the 23rd Psalm in unison.

The Harmonica band then entertained with a number, and Ruby Scieff gave a reading.

T. D. Hobart presented to the best all around students, Janice Furvance and Robert Moore, medals from the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution and the American Legion.

Fifty-five perfect attendance certificates were awarded, and certificates were given the following who made 100 per cent in the North Plains Music Memory contest: Thasaron Ashley, Pauline Gregory, Robert Moore, Inez Routin, and George B. Stevens.

A medal was given Mary Lynn Schofield and Jack Greene who made a perfect score in the total dictation contest in the third grades of the Pampa schools.

Awards of perfection were presented to the following pupils in the Harmonica club: Lloyd King, Kyle Zello, Robert Hendrix, Helen Covey, Harold Collier, Edith Hallar, Howard Wood, Paul Nelson, William Morse, Clarice Gillis, Robert Miller, Era Boyd, John Mitchell, Raymond Baxter, and Arvoe Daniel.

Baptist Circle Meets Wednesday

The Lottie Moon circle of the Central Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Ben Siebold.

Mrs. G. D. Holmes presided over the business session, during which Mrs. E. C. Chandler, who is moving from Pampa, resigned as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. J. M. White was selected to fill the vacancy.

Following a study based on Acts 8 and 9, the group was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Holmes.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames H. C. Chandler, D. M. Sealie, W. C. Brown, O. H. Gilstrap, C. D. Holmes, C. E. Langard, J. M. White, Ben Siebold, and one visitor, Mrs. O. L. Hurst.

Her Age?

Eighteen or thirty-five... each is a reasonable guess. Decidedly different, however, is Georgette's prescribed treatment for club women and for debutante. Thirty-five requires remedial courses which are superficial for eighteen. Specially adapted beauty courses for each age are further modified to suit individual requirements... hence at the Georgette Shoppe you get, not a shop-practice, but specialized service.

Feminine Fancies BY HOLLYCE SELLERS HINKLE

Wear a poppy tomorrow! The little flower represents an honest effort on the part of disabled soldiers to earn a living. It calls to mind the ideals for which they were disabled and for which many gave their lives. It signifies our own patriotism.

Ten million poppy sales is the goal set for tomorrow. The money will go to the disabled men who made the flowers, and their families.

"There's a reward offered for the first one who can make a chicken's back lie flat on the back in the frying pan and stop livers from popping while frying. For years scientists and inventors have been working on this problem. Mechanics and engineers say it can't be done. So why waste any more time on it. It's safer, saner—and less trouble to consume a hot dog or a hamburger."

Consoling advice to get from a mother whose daughter has trouble frying chicken, don't you think? But the daughter thinks fried chicken is worth the trouble, and is going to spend half a day, if necessary, to get it.

LONDON BRIDGE CLUB FAVORED HERE THURSDAY

A springtime theme was stressed in a pretty party given for the London Bridge club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Wade Duncan.

Pink and green were featured in table and game appointments, and favors were tied with ribbons in these colors.

Mrs. J. D. Sugg made high score among members, Mrs. Bert Curry, high score among guests, and Mrs. Arthur Swanson, low.

Those attending were Mesdames Clarence Barrett, Julian Barrett, Elmer Blair, W. E. Coffee, Justine Devine, William T. Fraser, R. G. Hughes, Porter and sufficient bread crumbs to make the mixture stiff enough to be formed into a roll. Bake in a moderate oven until delicately browned, basting with hot water combined with 2 tablespoons fat. Serve hot with tomato sauce.

Baked Indian Pudding: 1 quart milk, 1-3 cup yellow cornmeal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup molasses, 1-2 to 1 teaspoon ginger. Cook the milk, cornmeal, and salt in a double boiler for 20 minutes. Add the molasses and ginger, pour into a greased baking dish, and bake in a very moderate oven (about 300°) for two hours. Serve hot or cold, with or without milk.

Put the beans and onion through a meat chopper. Add the cheese and seasonings and sufficient bread crumbs to make the mixture stiff enough to be formed into a roll. Bake in a moderate oven until delicately browned, basting with hot water combined with 2 tablespoons fat. Serve hot with tomato sauce.

FOUR TEAMS AFTER BIG 6 TITLE MARKS

Defending Champions Expected to Be Hard Pressed at Lincoln Meet.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 22. (AP)—A four-way scramble for the Big Six track and field championship here today and tomorrow will produce several new conference records if the star performers duplicate their best efforts of the 1930 season.

Defending the championship won last year from Nebraska, Kansas will try to stave off the titular bids of the indoor champion Cornhuskers, Coach Bob Simpson's Iowa State Cyclones who tied Nebraska in dual competition, and Coach John Jacobs' darkhorse contenders from Oklahoma.

The defending champion record-holders primed for action were Cobe Tomson, Nebraska broad jumper; Bob Hager, Iowa State's timber-topper, and Ray Putman, two-miler from Iowa State.

Western Stars Seeking Records In Big Tourney

EVANSTON, Ill., May 22. (AP)—Western conference stars came to Dyche stadium at Northwestern university today to begin their 31st annual assault on track and field records.

Preliminaries in 11 of the 16 events were scheduled to start at 3 p. m. today, with finals to open a half-hour earlier tomorrow.

A final meeting will be held this afternoon in the office of J. M. Dodson, vice-president of the league, when final signatures will be received.

At a meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms last night Jim Galloway, holder of the Pampa franchise, John "Honest" John G. McCloskey of the Amarillo team and Harry Wanderly of the Lubbock team placed the proposition before a mass meeting of fans. They told the gathering that the other towns in the loop, Amarillo, Lubbock and Plainview were ready to start the season.

Only the final action of the Pampa school board awaits starting of the diamond at Harvester Park. A contract for the lighting system is in the hands of Mr. Galloway and when the park has been definitely located and the franchise underwritten, work on the park will be started, Mr. Galloway said.

It is planned to hold the first game June 10 with Amarillo at Pampa. Practically all games will be played at night. General admission will be 50 cents. Box seats and a limited number of season tickets will be available.

Mr. Galloway has authorized the Pampa NEWS-POST to say that the management will give a season ticket, valued at $20 to the person submitting the name chosen for the Pampa team. Suggestions are to be mailed to Harry E. Hoare at the Pampa NEWS-POST and a committee named by Mr. Galloway and Mr. Dodson will choose the name for the team.

Pampa Baseball Club Organized in Meeting of Fans

Pampa's baseball team in the Panhandle league became a reality last night when a number of local merchants and baseball fans decided to underwrite the proposition. A final meeting will be held this afternoon in the office of J. M. Dodson, vice-president of the league, when final signatures will be received.

Racing Club Will Cost $1,500,000

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22. (AP)—Plans for construction of a $1,500,000 racing and polo club near Redwood City, 30 miles south of here, have been announced by Eugene Normie, sportsman and former business manager for Jack Dempsey.

The plant will be built on a 290-acre tract. Normie said the land had been purchased for $300,000, and construction work will start within two weeks.

Normie, who will be general manager of the plant, said he was spokesman for a group of California capitalists.

Gus Suhr Will Rejoin Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, May 22. (AP)—Gus Suhr, Pittsburgh Erate first baseman, will leave tonight for Chicago to join his team mates after an enforced lay-off that started May 2 when he injured a knee. Suhr expects to be in the lineup tomorrow against the Chicago Cubs.

It is expected that Bill Regan will be benched, that Grimham will be shifted from first to second, and that Ben Sankey will continue at shortstop. He has replaced Tommy Theohov, whose batting average has dropped to .115.

Protege's Farewell
Old Jim Jeffries' protege appeared for a brief spell in Madison Square Garden the other night, took a swishing right to the chin and went away from there. The protege is (or had we better say was?) Al Merrio, and it took just a right and a half for Steve Hannas, former Penn State athlete, to knock Merrio for a loop. Proteges never were much good, anyway.

Clever vs. Tough
The Butalino-LaBarba championship shindig revives the question of cleverness vs. toughness. Butalino is tough; LaBarba is clever. Usually the clever guy can beat the tough 'un—but not always. LaBarba happens to be not only clever, however, but tough himself.

An Old School Frank
Flint Rhem and Ralph Hemsley have something in common that is becoming rare in the big leagues these days. You remember how Rhem was kidnaped last year for several days while the Cardinals were coming down the home stretch with a pennant in sight. The other day, Manager Jewel Ens of the Pirates suspended catcher Ralph Hemsley, who was away from the team for a week and came back with the explanation that he had been ill with influenza. Oddly, Hemsley, in his fight with the flu, acquired a beautiful black eye. Kid Influenza should be awarded a technical knockout.

Surprise?
The intercollegiate last of the month at Franklin Field are a foregone conclusion as far as team effort counts. The lads from the coast will walk in, do their turn and walk right out again with a championship.

But there may be individual surprises. Joe McCloskey of Fordham, Russ Chapman of Bates and Carl Coan of Penn will be in there with twinkling legs and, well—look at Sweep All placing in the Derby—you never can tell. Hurdler and Captain Podge Smith of Stanford, and Vic Williams, Southern California quarter miler, have been reported out of condition. A few of the eastern boys may get into some of the Pacific stars' way, but not enough to count when those totals are computed.

Canada refuses to quit on Percy Williams, and you can't blame them for that. Vancouver has invited Frank Wykoff, California's "fastest human," to run 100 yards August 22 against the Olympic champion. Los Angeles replies that Wykoff will be out of training then, but that if Mr. Williams really would like to race, why shouldn't he come to the Southern California sectional meet June 20? If you could discount Williams' gameness, he looks to be priced at second choice in a race with Wykoff. But Williams' gameness is something you can't discount. He wins races with it.

Max Schmeling probably will earn between $200,000 and $250,000 for his fight with Young Stribling at Cleveland July 5... that is based on a gate of $500,000 and Schmeling's end being 40 per cent... that is, Schmeling and Associates' end, rather than after the associate's get through with the cake, a large chunk will be missing... figuring on a gate of $500,000 this far in advance seems safe... that kind of gate would give Stribling $250,000... Dempsey is giving the boys a 60-40 arrangement at Reno July 4, the winner snatching the big end of the purse.

CLINGMAN IS VICTOR OVER JACK PURDIN

Big Shreveporter Is Unable to Handle Husky Local Fisherman-Wrestler.

Sailor Otis Clingman, local wrestler, last night at the New Majestic won a three fall match from Jack Purdin of Shreveport, La., when he came out from under a rain of rabbit punches to put Purdin to the mat with a reverse body slam. Clingman showed more speed and cunning in his match with Purdin than in any previous encounter.

The Pampa youth was outweighed more than 15 pounds but he handled the big Shreveporter with comparative ease on the mat. Purdin's superior weight and reach told in the clinches. Clingman's broken rib was hurt during the second fall when Purdin got a punishing body scissor high up.

The sailor took the first and third falls. The opening fall went to Clingman in 29 minutes with one of his famous drop toe holds. Purdin withstood the terrific pain for one minute before he patted the mat. Fall number two went to Purdin with a body slam in 16 minutes. Clingman won the match in a nine-minute battle of fists, elbows and slaps with a reverse slam that pinned Purdin to the canvas.

The first two falls gave Pampa fans an exhibition of skill, stamina and speed little expected in two big wrestlers. The last fall started out with Purdin slugging and elbowing Clingman practically unconsciously. Clingman landed a few for good measure and things happened. Coming up from a jarring punch, Clingman landed a la Sonnenberg in Purdin's mid-section 10 times but Purdin failed to take the count and Clingman had to slam him.

Red Michaels had considerable difficulty in taming Young Carter of Los Angeles in the semi-final bout. After 12 minutes Carter's shoulders went to the mat with a scissor and arm bar.

Gold Star Mother Is Critically Ill

PARIS, May 22. (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Olsen, of Hays, South Dakota, a member of the gold star mothers contingent, was in a critical condition today after undergoing a blood transfusion early this morning.

She is suffering from intestinal trouble.

Mrs. Catherine Lutz of Buffalo, who contracted pneumonia on the voyage over, was reported today as somewhat improved, having passed a comfortable night.

All the groups in the first contingent were to return to Paris tonight from the cemeteries at Verdun, Soissons, and St. Quentin.

SPUDDERS CONTINUE THEIR WINNING STREAK IN RALLY IN NINTH WITH BEAUMONT

Dallas-San Antonio and Ft. Worth-Houston Games Rained Out Yesterday.

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Texas leaguers had to be satisfied with a pair of games and a lot of rain Thursday afternoon and night. The Dallas-San Antonio and Fort Worth-Houston games were postponed because of the weather.

At Wichita Falls, the Spudders continued their daylight winning streak when they defeated Beaumont in a ten-inning combat, 6-4.

It was a game with a rousing ninth inning. The Exporters went into their half of the ninth with the score 5 to 2 against them. Then and there they opened a hit barrage that sent three runs over the plate to knot the count at five-all.

The Spudders, in their half of the ninth, filled the bases with none out, but the hit needed to drive over the winning run was not to be delivered in this inning, so into the tenth they went with the score 5 and 5. Scharein's walk, followed by Bryant's timely double, produced the winning run.

Shreveport and Galveston's unrecited own ten-inning game at Shreveport. Galveston got away with a 4 to 1 lead that was good until the last of the ninth when Shreveport, following a two-run effort in the eighth, added another tally to tie the score 4-all. The Sports then shoved over a run in the tenth to salt the game away. Merville's error allowed the winning run to cross the plate.

KILLS HIS CHILDREN
DRAOUT, Mass., May 22. (AP)—Leroy B. Skilling, police said, beat his two children to death with a hammer early today and injured his wife so badly that it was feared she would die. Skillings later severed an artery in his wrist. He is expected to live. In what was described as a dying statement, Mrs. Skilling implicated her husband and said he had been jealous of her.

Would Abolish Federal Board

HOUSTON, May 22. (AP)—Abolition of the Federal Farm Board and substitution of intensive government activity in behalf of a better grade of American cotton and development of broader foreign trade were asked here today by Walter Parker, New Orleans, economic counsel for the American Cotton Shippers' association.

He outlined his views in an address prepared for delivery before a meeting for organization of a Texas division of the association for increased use of cotton.

Estes For Calling Another Meeting

AUSTIN, May 22. (AP)—Carl Estes of Tyler said today five members of the East Texas Oil Production committee of 11 had wired him to ask C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission to urge Chas. F. Roeser, chairman of the committee, to call a meeting at once.

Members of the East Texas committee voted several weeks ago to hold another meeting not later than May 15 to determine whether the allowable production should be raised, Estes said.

He stated that Gus F. Taylor of Tyler, a member of the committee, had taken the position that so many new wells were being brought in that the allowable should be increased.

"Mr. Roeser will either call the committee to meet or six of the members will issue the call themselves," Estes said.

Warm Sun Helps American Netters

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, AUTECIL, France, May 22. (AP)—Thieved by their first sight of sun in six days, George Lott and John Van Ryn, the American contenders, easily won their matches against two Frenchmen in the first round of the French hard court singles championships.

Lott beat Andre Piel, 6-1, 6-2, 9-7, while Van Ryn defeated Rene Vieillard, 6-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan, the former Californian, and Cilll Aussem, of Germany advanced to the finals of the women's doubles defeating Mme. Jung Henrotin and Josanne Sigart, 6-4, 7-5.

Miss Virginia Hilleary, of Philadelphia, paired with the South African, N. G. Farquharson, to defeat the young English pair of Mary Heeley and Fred Perry, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4 in the mixed doubles.

VERDICT FOR AMERICANS TAMPIO, Mexico

TAMPIO, Mexico, May 22. (AP)—A decision in favor of the Texas company of Mexico, an American Oil concern, was rendered in district court here yesterday in a suit for approximately $685,000, filed by a Mexican citizen.

Pioneers Tell of Spikes' Reputation In Lubbock Suit

LUBBOCK, May 22. (AP)—Sharp clashes between counsel over testimony and two cautions to counsel for the plaintiff to be more careful in his line of rapid questioning marked the introduction of oral testimony in the $200,000 libel suit of Fred Spikes against J. Evetts Haley and the Capitol Syndicate Lands company in district court here today.

W. R. Mersfelder of Los Angeles, who said he had talked to Fred Spikes in a rooming house in Hereford, Texas, shortly after the latter had been wounded in a run-in with officers in New Mexico in January, 1902, testified as to conversations with Spikes. He quoted statements of Spikes as to his belief of the reason why he was "run out" of New Mexico, saying he "knew of no reason."

Libel action is based on a chapter of "The History of the XIT Ranch" written by Haley for the company in which the plaintiff is spoken of as a member of the "Spikes gang."

house appropriation committee, predicted yesterday conference reports on the money bills would be ready today. Senator Guiner of Bryan said last night a majority of the free conference committee had agreed on the long discussed congressional redistricting bill.

Tax Is Increased

A conference committee agreed yesterday on the peddler's bill, reducing the cement tax from 20 to 5 cents a barrel. The sulphur tax would be 75 cents, an increase of 20 cents over the present levy.

Legislators were watching Governor Sterling and wondering if his next move would be to call a special session. He recommended yesterday that the regular session be recessed for a few days or weeks. The senate backed him up, 17 to 12, but the house voted 94 to 45 not to recess.

Sterling Watched

In his message yesterday, Governor Sterling warned of the possibility of a special session if they did not recess. He said the state was facing a $5,000,000 deficit, that it might be impossible for him to fit the expenditures to the revenues through vetoes of single items and therefore he might have to call them back to increase taxes or decrease appropriations, or both.

The forty-second legislature convened January 13. Voters last November authorized the extension of the session from 60 to 120 days. When the 120-day period ended, the lawmakers voted to work ten more days at half pay.

Steel Executive Condemns Cutting of Wage Scales

NEW YORK, May 22. (AP)—James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, faced fellow executives of the steel industry today and charged that "the big standard companies" are not maintaining wage scales.

"I think," he said, "it's a pretty cheap sort of business."

Mr. Farrell's indictment of the companies was made at a general meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

"You say wages have been stabilized in the steel industry," Mr. Farrell began. "They are not. We are living in a fool's paradise. Honeycombing and pinching of all sorts of things have gone on. The so-called big standard companies, the companies in the headlines, are not maintaining the standard of wages. It's a shame that when some of the large companies are trying to maintain wages others are cutting them even when they are affording only three day a week employment."

"It is not going to give the names of all the companies represented in this room that have cut wages, because I don't want to embarrass you, but I think it's a pretty cheap sort of business."

Rigden Trial Is In County Court

A jury was being chosen this morning in county court in the case of E. R. Rigden of McLean, charged with using gas without permission of the owner. The complaint was made by the McLean Gas company.

Rigden's case was set on the county court docket for yesterday morning. When he failed to appear for trial County Judge S. D. Stenison ordered Rigden re-arrested and his bond forfeited.

REDUCE YOUR COST OF FINE-CAR OWNERSHIP WITH OAKLAND EIGHT

an outstanding General Motors value

Naturally we are interested to know why people like the new Oakland Eight. And so, recently we asked a young couple what pleased them so much. Their answers were different in some ways—as men and women are supposed to be—yet pretty much the same when you analyze them!

The woman said:

"Well, for one thing, I can feel the quality of the upholstery. I know it is genuine mohair—and that convinces me that the car is well made all the way through."

"Then, I think, the Oakland is just as good-looking and smart as can be—and in such good taste. The seats are splendid, too, with their deep cushions—and I can easily move the driver's seat forward or back to suit me exactly."

"It's no effort at all for me to steer the Oakland—and in traffic it's just fine how quickly it gets away. Of course, I don't pretend to know mechanical things, but the gears surely do shift easily." (Yes, indeed, they do—they're Synchro-Mesh!)

The man said:

"Oakland struck me as an exceptionally good buy. It has real size... a full-grown, man's car. And I like the solid construction. When I slammed the door, the car felt sound and well-built."

"I'm all for the new Oakland's motor. To me, a car that hasn't got plenty of speed and power simply won't do. I surely like the pick-up and smoothness I get with this powerful big eight. It just eats up hills."

Of course, what they both really liked was the all-round value Oakland offers for the money. A man may not understand fabrics as a woman does—but he wants quality and durability there. A woman can't be expected to know motors—but she wants reliability and fine performance. Oakland has the qualities everyone wants, and it saves owners money on these qualities. Naturally, our owners are pleased, and are talking about Oakland to their friends.

Needless to say, the best way to get a true picture is to drive the car, or ride in it. That you can do by arranging with any Oakland-Pontiac dealer for a demonstration—at your convenience and free of obligation.

One important step in reducing your cost of car ownership is Oakland-Pontiac's policy of equipping its cars ready for the road. Prices you see advertised for Oakland and Pontiac cars are the prices you actually pay, with no equipment or delivery charges to be added.

Cars are equipped with front and rear bumpers, four hydraulic shock absorbers, five wire wheels, and extra tire, tube and tire lock. Wood wheels optional at no extra cost.

delivered equipped in Pampa for the 2-door Sedan or Coupe, $1143.50. 4-door Sedan or Convertible Coupe $1163.50. Custom Sedan, $1223.50.

THE BODDY GIRL

By RUTH DEWEY GROVES
AUTHOR OF "THE BLOOD HUNTER," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beryl Borden discovers that her half-sister, Irene Everet, is planning to elope with Tommy Wilson. She tries to prevent the marriage by kidnapping Tommy with the assistance of her neighborhood "gangs."

They capture him on the eve of the elopement and drive him out to the country where Beryl urges him to continue in college and not break the heart of his adoring aunt, Mrs. Hoffman, who is financing him. Failing to convince him of his folly, Beryl calls him a "dog" and takes him back to her sister's house, enraged at the long wait, refuses to listen to Tommy's explanation and postpones the elopement. Desperately, Tommy carries his suitcase home and hides it on the porch as his aunt meets him at the door.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER III

"Going fishing with your uncle?" Mrs. Hoffman asked Tommy.

"Not if I can help it," he said determinedly. "Just going down for some ice water."

"Tommy Wilson, you haven't been drinking?"

"Oh, Aunt Em, does everything always have to be according to rule?"

"I didn't really think you had," his aunt answered with a touch of amazement. "I'll go down and fix the ice water for you."

Tommy did not object, and she moved on, her heavy figure in the gray dressing gown grotesquely resembling a giant porcupine. When she figured she had reached the kitchen he slipped quietly down the stairs and out to the front porch.

He was on his way back to the front door, his suitcase in his hand, when a hall from the neighboring garden brought him to a halt.

"Hey, Tommy," a shrill voice called. "Goin' on our picnic?"

Tommy did not stay to hear more. He hurried back upstairs and shoved the suitcase under the bed. A few minutes later his aunt called up from the lower hall: "Tommy, Michael's here and wants to know if you're going on the picnic."

Tommy stuck his head out of his door and called back: "No, I'm not, I'm..."

"You're going with me," his Uncle George put in, emerging partially from the bathroom. "Seeing you're awake you've got no excuse now."

Tommy had his choice, or thought he had, and he certainly wasn't going on any picnic that was personally conducted by Beryl Borden.

"I'm going with Uncle George," he shouted down to his aunt, and slammed his door, which move prevented him from hearing her exclamation of bewilderment.

He dressed hurriedly, thinking he might escape both invitations, but his uncle, guessing his intention, entered his room as he was trying to leave the house and dragged him into the kitchen.

His aunt fed him with special care. "The poor boy looks all fagged out," she remarked sympathetically to the one in particular who couldn't you like some special pears, Tommy? I've got a jar or two left from last year."

Spiced pears Tommy liked especially. "All right," he said, conferring a favor upon her.

"Hurry up," his uncle urged as he dawdled over a third helping of the fruit; "there's more important things in life than pears."

"Don't I know?" Tommy moaned. "I'm not, it don't look like it. Come on, it's time to go."

Tommy got up with a sigh. "Save the rest of them for dinner," he said to Aunt Emma, indicating the remainder of the pears.

"Not worth bothering with," his uncle scoffed. "Come on, let's go." They went out and got into Mr. Hoffman's shiny new car, their fishing tackle stowed in the tonneau, but no sign of a lunch basket, that Tommy could see.

"Don't we eat?" he worried.

"Never mind," his uncle answered abruptly. "Start her up."

"They had gone about 10 miles on a new state highway that traverses a portion of Long Island from east to west when they passed Beryl and the members of her picnic party. Tommy scowled darkly at them in answer to their shouts of greeting and wild hand waving.

"What made you change your mind?" Michael shouted above the rest.

"That kid's a pest," Tommy muttered.

Some unexpressed emotion moved him to step on the gas and they flew along at a speed that left Beryl's old car far in the rear. Mr. Hoffman protested, but Tommy paid him no heed. He felt like getting even with some one.

In far less time than Mr. Hoffman expected they arrived at a crossroads corner where they turned south to the fishing grounds. There, reports had it, the bluefish were running plentifully.

"Stop here at this garage a minute," Mr. Hoffman said to Tommy as he slowed up for the turn.

"What for?"

"Never you mind. Do as I say and stop."

Tommy stopped.

"I want to see a feller in here," his uncle said, getting down from the car.

"Don't sell him a dog," Tommy said suspiciously. His uncle was acting "funny," and he couldn't understand it.

Time passed and Tommy fidgeted while his uncle remained inside the garage. At this rate they'd never get back in time for him to see Irene before the day was gone. And he'd made up his mind since starting out that he must see her. Maybe she wouldn't be so stubborn after a night of thinking things over. And it would certainly suit his plans to have their elopement over with. He wanted plenty of time before college reopened to bring his aunt around to his point of view.

He was about to go inside and urge his uncle to get along to their destination when Beryl and her gang came rattling down upon him.

Mr. Hoffman, noting her arrival, quit his stalling, much to the relief of the garage owner, and came out to tell her he was glad she'd got there.

For a minute Tommy listened with his brow wrinkled in perplexity; then he saw light. This was a cooked-up job. But he couldn't see why—when his uncle favored his match with Irene—he should drag him away from her on Sunday and hand him over to Beryl.

He wasn't left long in ignorance. It was revealed that all his uncle wanted was to store his nice new car in the garage and have Beryl drive him to the fishing grounds in her muscle box, which could stand out in the blistering sun and salt air for hours without harm to its community-painted surface.

"I guess you don't know what you've done," Tommy said darkly to his uncle when he had him for a moment out of Beryl's hearing. "Irene will never forgive me for this."

"Is that so?" his uncle asked with a touch of real anxiety. "Why I thought... her mother was over to the theater last night, looking for you, and she said Irene was going away for a while. I thought it was all right when I met Beryl."

"Where'd you meet her?" Tommy asked skeptically.

"At the drug store. I went in for a soda."

"Must have been pretty late," Tommy pursued. "She was at home when I left there last night and that wasn't early."

"Sure it was late. She was getting something for her mother; said she had hysterics, but she looked like she needed something for herself."

"H'm, she made a quick recovery," Tommy retorted, looking toward Beryl, who was heading her picnic group into lesser space in the old car. Of course he could not see the shadows under her eyes, or that the color which was usually hers naturally today was from the rouge pot. She was laughing and bantering her gang with her customary light-heartedness, which seemed to Tommy in his present mood of bitterness toward her like an especially vile form of grossness.

"Come on," she called to them. "My kids will be getting hungry before you've got your hooks baited."

Beryl insisted upon driving and Tommy had to sit squeezed in between her and his uncle.

"If a cop sees you," he warned hopefully, "you'll get a ticket for this overcrowding."

"I know every cop on Long Island by his first name," Beryl boasted, and Tommy said, "I dare say you do."

They arrived finally, somewhat confused as to the proper ownership of various assorted arms and legs, at the beach, and piled out according to their respective fitness. Beryl watched Tommy and his uncle take off for their fishing with genuine longing in her shadowed eyes. She loved fishing, but she couldn't leave her gang—that was her promise to their mothers. They needed her supervision, for they were "rarin' to go," as they informed her.

"If you want to do something, dig into the depths of Pride of the Sea and get that stove assembled," she directed them. "We're going to have fish."

"Maybe," Pigmy grunted.

They busied themselves with the stove and fuel, with digging a deep hole in the sand to keep the water-melon and bottled drinking water cool, with getting kites in working order, and various other occupations, until one of the number cut his foot on a piece of broken glass.

Then they all stood around while Beryl gave first aid to the injured—all but Angie, the youngest boy. Angie, who had been eyeing the water with infinite craving for its refreshing coolness, thought it a good time—with everyone busy—to fulfill his wish. He wasn't the least bit interested in what was going on where Miss Beryl was—too often it was work. The water was fun. He waded out until the water was to his waist. Then he started to swim. He wasn't a bad swimmer for his age—eight—but what he hadn't seen, far out, and rapidly coming nearer was what some people call a water kitty. Undreaming of his danger, he swam straight for it.

Treasury Must Change Policies To Halt Deficit

WASHINGTON, May 22. (AP)—How to adjust governmental expenses to receipts is puzzling the treasury.

Undersecretary Mills is convinced some changes are necessary, but he also thinks the $964,268,517 deficit that existed Tuesday is not a fair basis for consideration of the problem.

He prepared a speech outlining his views for the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks convention yesterday and since he was ill Assistant Secretary Ballantine read the address. At the same time the internal revenue bureau announced its collections for the first 10 months of the 1931 fiscal year were $290,246,408 less than the corresponding period of year earlier.

Mills indicated the December congress would be asked to make readjustment of a large deficit.

"We are faced with a large deficit," he said. "Does this mean that taxes have been reduced too far or that the taxes that have been retained do not constitute a sufficiently well-balanced system to provide an even flow of revenue from year to year?"

Among other things, he found fault with the fact that two-thirds of the government's revenue comes from income taxes, which fluctuate readily with business peaks and depressions.

The present deficit, he explained, emphasizes the question of whether some of the war taxes were modified or repealed too rapidly. But he contended drastic changes probably would not be necessary unless it should appear that there is a real danger of a series of unbalanced budgets.

It appeared likely the treasury next month would issue long term bonds to raise needed money. There was a possibility, however, that short term paper might continue to supply the funds until August or September.

Fall to Appeal Prison Sentence

WASHINGTON, May 22. (AP)—Albert B. Fall will carry to the supreme court his conviction of accepting a $100,000 bribe while he was interior secretary under President Harding.

One of his counsel, Frank J. Hogan, announced last night that friends and counsel of the 69-year-old former cabinet officer had succeeded in convincing Fall that the case "should not stop short of the supreme court."

Hence, Hogan said, Fall, from his Three Rivers, New Mexico, home, has instructed his attorneys to petition the highest judicial group to review a District of Columbia appeals court decision upholding the conviction, a year's prison sentence and a $100,000 fine.

After the District of Columbia court announced its decision last month, Fall said he no longer would contest the case charging he accepted a bribe from Edward L. Doheny, wealthy oil man. Doheny has been acquitted of giving the money.

"I am an old man and I have no money for further legal defense," Hogan announced the petition for review would be filed with the supreme court before next Thursday, which is the last day it may be presented.

Modification of Rail Plan Will Be Asked Soon

WASHINGTON, May 22. (AP)—Despite the decision of eastern railroads to seek modification of the Interstate Commerce Commission's consolidation plan and the more recent proposals of nearly all carriers to ask rate re-adjustments, the commission has received no formal notification of either project.

President Hoover announced in December that negotiations undertaken at his suggestion had brought agreement between four major eastern railroads, exclusive of New England, to submit revised plans to the commission, which would facilitate consolidations. It was said today, however, no indication had been given as to when this plan would be presented or whether the carriers had been able to work out the minor, but troublesome, details which were incomplete at the time of the White House announcement.

In the meantime, the carriers have announced a determination to ask rate adjustments to produce $400,000,000 more annual revenue. While these are expected to include mostly increases on projects not in direct competition with buses, pipelines, and waterways, adjustments downward are planned in some instances to meet this competition.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., May 21. (AP)—Characters on a television screen tonight exchanged repartee with an audience in a demonstration by the General Electric company.

Life size images of speakers addressing a Rotary club gathering were projected on a large screen, the speakers making their addresses in the glare of a television booth in a laboratory some distance from the hall.

Jubilee of Red Cross Observed

WASHINGTON, May 22. (AP)—After 50 years of labor on battle fields, among earthquake debris, through fire and flood and famine, the American Red Cross took time off last night to celebrate its golden jubilee.

President Hoover cut the first slice of an enormous white-iced birthday cake, topped with a red cross and 50 gleaming candles.

Never before had the organization appeared before the American public in festive mood, yet its patriotism was as effective as its appeals for the suffering.

A red cross made ethereal by an oval-framing of light was background for a brilliant banquet room gay with bouquets in the Red Cross colors, and with flags of all nations, loaned by the embassies and legations, as their share in the celebration.

Nurses gave smiling welcome to 800 guests from more than fifty nations, and from every portion of the United States. They were ambassadors, diplomats, international jurists, cabinet officers, financiers, all identified with the work of the Red Cross.

"A chief glory and pride of the American democracy," President Hoover said of the organization, "it belongs to the people themselves. It is a living embodiment of their heart and soul. It has lived and grown because it is a natural outgrowth of their spiritual impulse."

Only three survivors of fifty years ago remained to share with the organization its golden jubilee. Each, however, typified a phase of Red Cross character—Mrs. Peter Voorhes De Gray, of Washington, member of the initial national society; Dr. Benjamin P. Andrews, of Danville, New York, member of the first "local chapter;" and Major James McDowell of Washington, pioneer relief worker.

AIR RATE REDUCED
CHICAGO, May 22. (AP)—The Nation Air Transport division of United Air Lines today announced a 10 per cent reduction in passenger fares between New York and Kansas City. The reductions, which apply also to their cities in the southwest, will become effective May 24.

End of Liquidating Period About Over in Opinion of Charles Schwab

NEW YORK, May 22. (AP)—Charles M. Schwab told the American Iron and Steel Institute today there was reason to believe liquidation was about over. Mr. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, is president of the institute, which held its semi-annual meeting here.

"There has been so much talk about the future that we have lost sight of the extent to which the deflation has gone," he said, pointing to the long decline in commodity, security, wholesale and retail prices.

"There are many signs of stirring in our economic life. The very fact that we have faced this situation and adjusted ourselves to it is a preliminary to the better times, to the favorable upward reaction. We want to keep pulling for the shore. We must not lose headway by resting on our oars, but we can be cheered by the knowledge that the tide is coming in."

One of the most encouraging facts, he said, was that the country had met this depression "with much less fear, less distress and with much more organized intelligence than in any previous period of hard times."

"I am unable to predict that any particular circumstance is going to bring about the return to good business. In fact, I believe that specific causes are often over-emphasized. After a period of undue deflation we are ready for normal business again, and that return is manifested in a number of ways, some of which catch the public attention and come to be considered as the major cause.

The steel industry, which has maintained its wage scale although working hours have been shortened, is operating at the rate of about 30,000,000 tons in the first half of 1931. Mr. Schwab said. This is less than half of total capacity of 67,000,000 tons, "but a good deal more than 50 per cent of a normal operating basis."

"This figure of 30,000,000 tons represents a drastic liquidation of production. There are no inventories. Any steel ordered today has to be rolled. The longer we continue on this 30,000,000 ton basis the sooner must we come to a catching up with unsupplied needs." Maintenance requirements under normal conditions, Mr. Schwab pointed out, are 31,000,000 tons of steel annually in this country, and the reason for the present slump below this level is because practically all lines of business are over-liquidated.

Stock market securities, in Mr. Schwab's opinion, have "by and large" been "much over-liquidated."

Fear of wage cuts is one of the current difficulties, and instability of prices is another, in Mr. Schwab's opinion. Labor costs in the steel industry, he asserted, had been liquidated "without taking it out of the wage rate of the mill employe."

ENJOY THIS WAY TO PREVENT CONSTIPATION

THE most frequent cause of illness and poor health is constipation. Its poisons cause headaches, backaches, dizziness, lack of pep—and often lead to serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—a delicious ready-to-eat cereal, protects against constipation. Two tablespoons, eaten daily, will prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In stubborn cases, eat it three times a day.

Isn't this far more pleasant—and far more healthful—than taking habit-forming pills and drugs?

ALL-BRAN also provides iron, which brings a healthy glow to complexions. Many delicious recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Pipeline Bridge Near Completion Over Canadian

The Missouri Valley Pipe Line company's pipe line bridge across the south Canadian river 22 miles north of Sikellytown is nearing completion. The bridge is being built for the company by the Frank Farrot company of Dallas, at an approximate cost of $115,000. It was started last December and is to be in use by July 1.

The bridge will be the only one of its kind in the world, being of the multiple span type. It will have eight-320-foot spans, and four quarter spans of 160 feet each, and will total 3,176 feet from anchor to anchor. It is designed to carry two of the 24 inch lines. Only one will be put on the bridge at this time.

The line, owned and operated by the Missouri Valley Pipe Line company is one of three 24 inch lines feeding from the Panhandle gas fields to northern states. The line is complete as far as Sioux Falls, Iowa.

A unique feature of the bridge is that of the eleven piers, nine are landed in quicksand, no rock being found in the 85 feet that the piers have been sunk. Each pier is made up of two 45-inch caissons and six concrete and steel piles with an underground depth of 75 to 85 feet.

Much local labor was used on the project through the Panhandle. Edgar A. Davis of Pampa is engineer in charge of construction.

Airplane Fatality Is Real Mystery

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 22. (AP) A 700-foot plunge from an open cockpit airplane caused the death of Daniel Mills, 29-year-old amateur pilot and Youngstown tire salesman, under circumstances which remained a mystery today.

Two witnesses said Mills apparently jumped from the ship but his widow and a brother, David, of Cleveland, said they knew of no reason for suicide and believed it was an accident.

The fall occurred as Mills was being flown back to Youngstown late yesterday afternoon after inspecting a ship in Cleveland. Pilot William Jones said they were near Niles, north of here, when the plane suddenly lurched. He glanced behind and saw his passenger was missing. Jones was sure Mills was still wearing a safety belt when they left Parkman, 30 miles from here, after a brief stop, and said he did not believe the fall was accidental.

David Mills suggested that his brother, who suffered from a bad heart, might have raised himself to catch his breath and was swept overboard by the propeller blast. Jones agreed this was plausible. Officials declined to comment in advance of a coroner's inquest to be held at Warren today.

HUNDREDS IN LAST TRIBUTE TO DEAN OF DRAMA

Stars of Broadway, many of whom Belasco launched on their stage careers, were among the hundreds who thronged the Central synagogue, New York, when funeral services were held for the famous producer. This picture shows the casket being placed in the hearse after the funeral. Mayor James J. Walker and Daniel Frohman were among the honorary pallbearers.

McLEAN CLUB BOY PROFITING FROM FLOCK

James Massay, McLean 4-H club boy has made a profit on his flock of 72 White Leghorn hens every month for the past six months in spite of the low price of eggs this spring. He has done so by forcing high production with plenty of good mash before the hens all of the time, warm wet mash on cold days, plenty of warm water, wheat pasture for green stuff, and keeping the house clean and well ventilated. Before the demonstration started last November all undersized pullets and undesirable hens were culled out. He then treated the hens and pullets for lice and worms.

In the past six months James has made a net profit of $79.57 on his flock, or an average of $1.09 per hen.

The most profit for any one month was in November when a net profit of $27.79 was made from the sale of eggs. The least profit was in April, when only $5.14 was made above feed cost.

The average feed cost per dozen eggs was 7.6 cents for the six months. In November when the hens produced 13.5 eggs per hen it cost 10.2 cents to produce a dozen eggs, however, when the production of the flock increased to 20.3 eggs per hen in March the production cost dropped to 5.9 cents per dozen eggs.

The flock produced an average of 104.6 eggs per hen in the six months.

Five Hundred In India Killed by British Troops

SIMLA, India, May 22. (AP)—Nearly 500 persons are reported to have been killed and thousands wounded or captured in the current insurrection in Burma against British authority.

American missionaries returning here said the rebellion is in danger of spreading from southern Burma, its starting point, throughout the country and that colonial officials are rushing fresh troops from India into the upper section.

The trouble is much more serious than earlier reports indicated, it was said, although martial law has not been declared. Business is nearing a standstill and rice, the national staple, is selling at half its normal price. The interior was described as unsafe for foreigners.

Burmese nationalists have been agitating for some years for a dominion status, separate from India. Guerilla detachments of natives have clashed with British troops frequently in the Tharawaddy and Theyelmo districts, resulting in heavy casualties to the former.

Oil Shutdown Is Latest Proposal

DALLAS, May 22. (AP)—T. P. Roberts of the O. R. W. Oil company of Dallas, heading a group of independent, has urged, in a letter to the Independent Petroleum association and the major companies, shutting down crude oil production in the United States. The move, as outlined, would be temporary or until the "demoralization" of the oil industry has been adjusted. It would be accompanied by the voluntary restriction of imports.

The letter said producers, royalty owners, and others directly interested were losing millions of dollars because of surplus production. It suggested that the shutdown should last about a year or until the greater part of 500,000,000 barrels of crude oil, reported in storage, and the huge gasoline stocks are consumed.

A plea to stop the alleged waste of national resources was included in the letter.
