Noted Fliers to Dare Jungles

FEELING HIGH OVER CRIMES

Man Held For Assault at Port Arthur Is Moved for Safe Keeping.

PORT ARTHUR, July 24. (AP)—Feeling was so bitter last night against a suspect arrested in connection with a series of attacks on women and girls here that police and county officers spirited the man out of the county to prevent mob violence.

The suspect, a middle aged white man, was arrested after officers had traced his movements for the past several nights.

A 46-year-old woman, who was sprayed with ether Monday night in her home here and then attacked by the man, who had crawled into her bedroom through a window, identified the suspect without hesitation when the man was taken to her home by the officers.

Police and county officers were preparing to file a number of criminal charges against him, they said.

The arrest climaxed a reign of terror here for several nights, during which time at least three citizens have fired shotguns or pistols at prowlers about their homes.

Officers would not indicate where they had taken the suspect but it was believed they were on their way to Liberty county or Houston.

At the proper time, it was said other victims of the attacker, including a 9-year-old girl, will confront the man and attempt to identify him.

Liquor Is Found and Woman Charged With Possession

Mrs. Bob Wade was released on a $1,000 bond this morning in justice court after a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale was filed against her before Judge James Todd Jr. by Sheriff Lon L. Blansett.

Mrs. Wade was arrested about 4 o'clock this morning by Sheriff Blansett and deputies. About 15 bottles of beer and a gallon of whiskey were confiscated. The intoxicants were hidden in space under the floor of the dining room of the Wade home. A trap-door or "stair" in the highly-polished hardwood floor above the liquor supply was opened with small wires.

Officers of the sheriff's department have made a number of unsuccessful raids at the house this summer. Last January, Judge Clifford Braly of 114th district court granted District Attorney Raymond Alford's petition for an injunction restraining Mrs. Wade and several others from possessing intoxicating liquors at their residences. A judge may fine a person who disobeys an injunction for contempt of court.

RAIL GROUP TO CONVENE ON TUESDAY

Methods of Raising Remainder of $60,000 Needed Will Be Discussed by Committee and Signers.

QUIET ON FRONT

Compiling of Abstracts to Be Completed Soon; Durston Will Return to Assist in Big Project.

Instructions to begin purchasing right-of-way and terminal facilities for the Childress-Pampa branch of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad have been received by the local railroad committee.

At a brief meeting held yesterday afternoon, the committee adjourned to meet next Tuesday morning to draft a plan of procedure for raising the remainder of the $60,000 needed to buy right-of-way. Methods to be followed in acquiring necessary property will be discussed. The meeting yesterday was cut short by the illness of H. H. Durston, executive general agent, who left for his home in Fort Worth soon after the brief session closed. He plans to be here Tuesday. Compiling of abstracts to property on the right-of-way has been underway for six weeks and is now almost completed. Acquisition of the land will begin as soon as these abstracts are approved. A copy of the contract between local signers of the right-of-way guarantee and Denver officials also has been received.

All signers of this contract and every member of the committee are requested to be present at the meeting Tuesday. The Fort Worth and Denver Northern has expressed a desire to start construction of the Pampa-Childress line within 30 days. Work will begin where the right-of-way is ready, and local labor will be used in the various communities.

Hold-Up Men in Dallas Are Busy

DALLAS, July 24. (AP)—An epidemic of hold-ups here last night resulted in the robbery of three street car motormen, the operator of an ice station, a bathing beach life guard, and a street car passenger.

A trio of armed negroes preyed on the street car motormen and the passenger, the hold-ups occurring in widely separated parts of the city. W. E. Armstrong was robbed of $1 and his watch. One of the negroes told him "I have a good notion to shoot you anyhow, so you better hand over your money."

E. N. Sanders was forced to turn over $10 and his money changer to the negroes. W. E. Spitzer, the third motorman, was robbed of $18. Thaddeus Swenson, a passenger on Spitzer's car, was robbed of $12 and his watch.

George Hall, returning home from work at a bathing beach, where he was employed as a life guard, was hailed by a lone robber. As he stopped, the man covered him with a pistol and robbed him of $17 and two swimming medals.

Mouse Club to Have Pie Eating

A feature of the Mickey Mouse club meeting at the Rex theater tomorrow will be a pie-eating contest among some of the club members, sponsored by the Dilley Bakery.

Large juicy chocolate pies are to be used, and, according to those who have seen similar contests, the Mickey Mouse members will see an amusing and entertaining feature. A large and small cake will be given for first and second prizes.

Mrs. Malone Injured in Auto Collision

Mrs. G. C. Malone was bruised and a gash was cut on her forehead this afternoon in an automobile collision at the intersection of Kingsmill avenue and Somerville street.

She was taken to the Worley hospital in a Malone ambulance, and it was ascertained that her injuries were not serious. Miss Mabel Davis, who was in the car with her, was not injured nor was Mrs. T. F. Smalling, who was driving the other car. Mrs. Malone's car overturned after the impact. Neither car was moving rapidly, witnesses said.

FIRE MARSHAL SHOT
GAINESVILLE, July 24. (AP)—Walter Clements, 45, city fire marshal, was fatally wounded, and William E. Johns, motorcycle policeman, was shot through the body in an affray on the streets here at 3 p. m. today. Frank Bracker, whom the officers were said to have been attempting to place under arrest, was also seriously wounded. Bracker was lodged in the Gainesville jail.

"—Lies Down to Pleasant Dreams"

Like one who wraps the mantle of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams... That's what William Cullen Bryant wrote in his famous poem, "Thanatopsis," many years ago. And here, in the arms of a statue of the great poet in Bryant Park, New York, you see a homeless man taking these words in earnest.

MAYOR CERMAK OF CHICAGO APPROVES ROOSEVELT RACE

Finds Governor Wet Enough to Satisfy Illinois; Says Smith Not to Run.

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago, by virtue of his office one of the reigning heads of Illinois democracy, has only favorable comment to make of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York as a presidential choice.

"From all that I have read about Governor Roosevelt and from all that I have learned about his views," the mayor said, "my judgment is that he is wet enough to be acceptable to our wet party in the west."

Mayor Cermak made his statements concerning Roosevelt after a private talk with former Governor Alfred E. Smith, titular head of the national Democratic party. In the mayor's opinion, Mr. Smith

TAKE-OFF FOR TURKEY IS PREVENTED BY ACCIDENT

Inability to Rise Causes Fliers to Dump Fuel Into Jamaica Bay This Morning

FLOYD BENNETT AIRPORT, NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Russell Boardman and John Polando failed in an attempt to start on a non-stop flight to Istanbul, Turkey, today and were forced to dump 450 gallons of gasoline in Jamaica bay to save themselves from crashing.

Their gasoline-laden monoplane, unable to rise more than 100 feet, was wallowing over the choppy waters of the bay when they pulled the emergency valve and saved themselves from possible disaster.

The airplane, lightened by the loss of almost two-thirds of its gasoline supply, shot into the air. They turned back and landed, nine minutes after their take-off at 3:32 a. m. Central Standard Time. The Boston fliers said they would decide on their next start after getting some much-needed sleep. They had been up all night preparing for the 5,000-mile journey. They left for their hotel soon after landing. But for the precautions of field officials in removing two electric light poles from the roadway adjoining the airport, the heavy plane might have crashed.

All West Texas Fields And New Mexico Are Included in Order.

HOUSTON, July 24. (AP)—The Humble Oil and Refining company today met the Texas company's advance on crude oils and went the latter company one better by boosting gulf coast crudes. The increases ranged from 15 cents to 22 cents a barrel.

On Ranger, North Texas, Moran, Mexia, Powell, Boggy Creek, Richland, Wortham and Curry crudes the Humble company made below 36 gravity 35 cents, and 36 gravity and above 40 cents. East Texas was not included as that field is not posted.

Gray county crude was posted at 30 cents flat, a raise of 12 to 17 cents. Carson and Hutchinson crudes now are 27 cents flat, a boost of 10 to 16 cents. All West Texas fields where the Humble buys, Crane, Upton, Crockett, Ector, Howard, Glasscock, Winkler, Pecos counties, Texas and Lea county, New Mexico were boosted 15 cents to 25 cents a barrel.

Gulf coast crudes below 25 gravity were raised to 40 cents, with a one-cent upward differential for each degree gravity up to and including 35 gravity and above. The latter posted at 50 cents, a raise of 9 cents. Refugio heavy was advanced 9 cents to 44 cents; salt flat 17 cents to 37 cents; Mirando 9 cents to 44 cents; Dorst Creek 17 cents to 37 cents, and Pettus 15 cents to 50 cents.

The Gulf Pipeline company immediately met the Texas and Humble company advances.

PORT WORTH, July 24. (AP)—Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing company today advanced crude oil prices in North and North Central Texas 20 cents per barrel over its former schedule. The increase was effective this morning at 7 o'clock.

The gravity table was retained by Stanolind ranging from 30 cents per barrel for oil of 29 gravity and below, up to 42 cents for 40 gravity and above. A one-cent differential for each degree of gravity applies.

Postal Site to Be Known Soon

An announcement made today that the location for the Beaumont post office was selected yesterday led local citizens to believe that the site for the local federal building will be decided upon in the near future.

Postal officials who inspected possible sites in Pampa for the building came here from Beaumont, where they viewed locations. It is believed locally that the next location announced will be for the Pampa structure.

The post office department received a number of bids several months ago from Pampa landowners. A short time later, officials inspected the sites.

Motorist Drives Over Lawn of County Courthouse

A $10 reward for information that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the motorist who drove an automobile across the east courthouse lawn, was offered by Sheriff Lon L. Blansett this morning.

The marauder made the trespass some time late last night. He steered his machine directly across the smooth, green lawn and through a pattern of canna lilies now in bloom. A wheel barely missed a catalpa tree. Imprint left by the wheels on the grass indicated that the machine was a light automobile.

The east lawn is the particular pride of Sheriff Blansett. He, himself, has done a lot of weeding and other work in caring for the lawn. A number of prisoners have worked on the lawn under his supervision.

SCIENCE WILL BE GOAL OF BIG ATTEMPT

Dr. Eckner Believes Success Will Increase Confidence in His Fatherland; Expense From Other Nations

CREW IS REDUCED

Many Noted Scientists Going on Journey, Including Two Members of American Geographical Society.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, July 24. (AP)—In glorious weather and before a field jammed with well-wishers, the dirigible Graf Zeppelin took off for Berlin today on the first leg of her cruise to the Arctic.

The take-off was made at 9:51 a. m. (2:51 a. m., CST) just 16 minutes after the huge ship was taken out of her hangar.

In a brief broadcast from the dirigible, Dr. Hugo Eckener, the commander, said he regretted he was starting at a time when Germany was in such dire distress, but he felt the flight would serve to increase confidence in the Fatherland.

"So long as there is breath left in a German, science will never be neglected," he said. He emphasized that the flight was of purely scientific nature and pointed out that 75 per cent of the expenses would be borne by foreign associations and a newspaper organization and 25 per cent by stamp collectors.

The Graf is taking along an enormous amount of mail which will be exchanged in the Arctic with the Russian ice-breaker Malgoin—and the cancelled stamps will be prized items.

Aboard the dirigible were 46 men, 12 of whom are Arctic experts or scientists. There are 30 members of the crew, three newspapermen, and a special Russian wireless operator named Krahnikel. Dr. Eckener's captains who will assist in running the craft are Ernst Lehmann, Hans Flemming, Hans von Schiller, Anton Wittmann, and Max Pruss.

The Graf ordinarily carries a crew of 41, but this time, in view of equipment requirements, only 30 could be put aboard. After an excursion over Lake Constance, the Graf passed over Friedrichshafen at 10:30 a. m. and pointed her nose towards Berlin, where Dr. Eckener expected to arrive between 4 and 5 p. m. (9 and 10 a. m., CST).

The scientists in the party are Professor Rodolphe Samoilovitch of Leningrad, the expedition's scientific director; Professor Paul Mollischanow of Leningrad; Captain Walter Brunns of Berlin, Professor Ludwig Weickmann of Leipzig, Professor August Carolus of Leipzig, Engineer Walter Basse of Berlin, Engineer Klaus Aschenbrenner of Munich, Dr. Ludwig Kohl-Larsen of Alenbach, who is the alrshp's physician, and Professor Gustav L. Jungdahl of Stockholm.

Hickman Bests Foe at Bridge

DENISON, July 24. (AP)—An encounter between a resident of Durant, Okla., who attempted to pass over the free Denison-Durant bridge, and Captain Tom Hickman of the Texas rangers last night resulted today in the ranger ordering markers set at the south end of the bridge to mark the Texas-Oklahoma boundary.

Although automobiles have not been permitted to cross the bridge, closed by a federal court injunction, pedestrians heretofore had not been stopped. Captain Hickman announced today, however, that anyone crossing from Oklahoma would be told to return and those refusing to obey would be arrested.

Hickman's encounter with the Durant man resulted in the ranger forcing his adversary back to the Oklahoma side.

HOOPER WILL REST

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—President Hoover plans to leave for his Rapidan camp this afternoon to spend a quiet week-end.

In addition to the chief executive and Mrs. Hoover, the party will be composed of Senator Vandenberg of Michigan; former Senator Blair of New Jersey and Mrs. Baird; Henry Robinson of Los Angeles; Byron Price, chief of the Washington bureau of the Associated Press and Mrs. Price; Mark Sullivan, newspaper writer; Lawrence Richey, one of the president's secretaries, and Capt. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician.

Dominance of News-Post Means Service for All

What's going on? This inevitable question is answered in Pampa twice daily by The NEWS-POST. Whether the query concerns local happenings, territorial events, state, national or world news, The NEWS and The POST carry the LATEST NEWS FIRST to Pampa and territory.

The tremendous dominance of The NEWS-POST is well known by those in a position to know the coverage of these newspapers. The carrier boys, the post-office staff, the oil field superintendents, the rural route men—all of these will tell you that The NEWS and The POST completely dominate this territory.

Fail is coming, and with it the quickened activity of community clubs will re-organize, school will open, football will be in progress, the railroad will be in process of construction, courts will be in session. NEWS-POST readers look to these events with eagerness, because they know that this newspaper will bring the latest news TWICE DAILY. Such service is remarkable, and is not duplicated in any southwestern city of even 15,000.

That is why business men build their business with NEWS-POST advertising, and it explains why this is THE local newspaper. In Pampa since 1907, this institution will be here "from now on."

POSTOFFICE IS BURGLARIZED

Whittenburg, Near Borger, Scene of $300 Looting During Last Night.

WHITTENBURG, July 24. (AP)—Cracksmen looted the Whittenburg postoffice of $300 in cash, an unestimated amount of stamps, and several hundred dollars in money orders and savings stamps, last night.

Mrs. Laura E. Tidwell, postmistress, found the knob knocked off the safe when she opened the office this morning. The postoffice, second-class, is two and one-half miles from the Borger postoffice.

Wheat Bringing 25 Cents Today

Only two local elevators received wheat this morning, and the small amount that was sold brought 25c per bushel. The one-cent drop was announced just before noon. Dealers say that the 1931 harvest is over. It is estimated that 75 per cent of the crop has been sold, and that the remainder will be held indefinitely for higher prices.

"Cave Men" Throw Style Show

You'll have to admit that when members of the Oregon cave men of Grants Pass, Ore., put on their pre-historic style, they show the best of time getting back to the primitive. Here, at any rate, is a group that has been decked out in a new spring gown of simple lines, a notable feature of which is its surprisingly low cost.

INJUNCTION IS LIKELY TO BE ENDED TODAY

Petition Prepared to Hand Judge, Who Also Tenders Right to Appeal His Decision to Commission.

SPEED IS NEEDED

Oklahoma Guardsmen and Texas Rangers Calmly Gaze on Two Spans While People Worry at Delay.

HOUSTON, July 24. (AP)—Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly today granted the state highway commission the right to appeal his injunction ruling in the Red river bridge suit—an act which, it followed up will carry the matter before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans.

F. O. McKenzie, assistant attorney general of Texas, secured the required permission from the judge and immediately appeared in the office of Federal Clerk L. C. Materson and requested that the papers be sent to the clerk of the eastern district of Texas—the original jurisdiction of the suit. He returned, however, and withdrew the papers, declaring that he would take no action for the present.

Bills Reconciled

AUSTIN, July 24. (AP)—The Texas legislature today passed a bill designed to bring about immediate opening of the Red river free bridge between Denison and Durant, Okla. Governor Sterling's signature was assured.

The bill was expected to be enrolled and signed by the presiding officers of the two houses early this afternoon after which it will be taken by plane to Houston for the governor's approval.

A motion to dissolve the federal court injunction preventing the opening of the free span will be made immediately thereafter to T. M. Kennerly of Houston, the judge who granted it.

The law will authorize the company operating a parallel toll bridge to sue the state on its contract with the highway commission. Under that contract, if valid, the state highway commission owes the bridge concern between $60,000 and $150,000.

May End Injunction

Sidney Benbow, assistant attorney general, already had a motion prepared seeking a dissolution of the injunction. He stated the injunction was granted only because the toll bridge company had no other legal recourse. Since it will be given the right to sue the state, the injunction should be vacated, Benbow said.

The house today voted unanimously to adopt the senate bill after adding certain amendments. The senate a few minutes later concurred in these changes.

One of the amendments prevented any other injunction denying the use of the free span unless judgment was returned against the highway commission and that body refused to pay. Another prohibited a compromise settlement of this contract.

One or two senators moved as if they were about to offer amendments but Sen. Jake Loy of Sherman looked worried, dashed the chamber pleading that they not offer them.

"Please do not tie this thing up," he said. "It is a deplorable situation up there; people are about ready to

THE PRICE OF WAR

The economic troubles that beset the world today are not the result of some hitherto unsuspected weakness in the social system, and no five-year, ten-year or twenty-year industrial plan will cure them.

This is the statement of Leonard P. Ayres, Cleveland banker, who ranks as one of the nation's soundest economists.

On the other hand, says Colonel Ayres, "the true lesson of this depression is that we cannot afford any more great wars."

It would be impossible to sum the whole matter up better.

We are paying, right now, for the World War. Germany struggling on the edge of revolution, is paying the heaviest price, having lost the war. But are the victors much better off?

England, with millions unemployed and industry stagnant, is also paying. The United States, which made billions out of the war and escaped much of the fighting is paying likewise—paying through the nose, with 5,000,000 men out work and long breadlines in the cities. Everyone is paying, with suffering and privation; and the payment is not yet complete.

As Colonel Ayres says, this simply means that we must not blow ourselves to any more big wars. They are too expensive. They cost more than any results can possibly be worth. If the cost that we are now paying were only a trifle higher it might wreck civilization and mean universal bolshevism.

This is something to keep in mind when disarmament conferences, preparedness measures and such issues come up for discussion. We can keep a big army and navy if we like, we can thumb our noses at schemes for international co-operation; but we ought to remember that neither we nor anyone else can ever afford to indulge in another big war.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, July 24. (NEA)—There's a nice thing about the Federal Trade Commission, in case you don't know.

It protects you and me from a lot of slickers who are constantly trying to gyp us by false pretenses.

False claims and misbranding of goods come under the general head of "unfair competition" with the commission, but while the law thus designedly protects business firms from each other it also saves a whole lot of consumers who would be likely to believe whatever they were told.

The Federal Trade Commission, that is, keeps advertisers honest. Most of them presumably are honest anyway, but a glance at some of the cases wherein the commission has issued orders to "cease and desist" indicates that some of them would like to get away with murder.

About a year ago the commission decided that when companies paid for testimonials for their goods they would have to admit the fact when using same for advertising purposes. Thus one finds that recently the commission had to get after a hosiery company which was paying money to actresses and using their testimonials and photographs with no conspicuous mention of the monetary consideration as required. The same firm, the commission found, was using unauthorized endorsements alleged to come from actresses.

The prize among recent "cease and desist" cases was offered by a burial vault concern. The commission says it is charged with:

"Offering rewards for the disinterment of burial vaults of competitors; acquiring and exhibiting products of competitors and calling attention to their alleged bad condition; circulating pictures and letters disparaging competitors' products and the value of their guarantees; securing the co-operation of cemetery associations and the superintendents of cemeteries in conducting a campaign against competitors' products."

Asserting that a certain transformer for automobiles will "eliminate carbon, fire any spark-plug regardless of condition, eliminate the necessity of new piston rings and reboring cylinders, and save from 15 to 40 per cent on gasoline."

Promoting a "coal saver" which, although composed mostly of common salt, was represented as making poor coal good and good coal better, as preventing and removing soot and as increasing the heat of a given quantity of coal from 22 to 28 per cent.

Using statements and pictures for a poultry farming correspondence school which implied a larger faculty and more space than existed.

Using the words "English" and "China" to designate men's clothing articles made elsewhere and "silk," "crepe," "flannel" and "suede" to describe things made of other materials.

Using the word "grape" on jam and jelly labels without admission that neither product nor flavor was derived from the fruit itself.

Prison Searched for Hidden Weapons

JOLIET, Ill., July 24. (AP)—A methodical search of the new state penitentiary for weapons was started today under the direction of Warden Henry C. Hill following the second rumor of impending convict revolution in three days.

The 2,100 convicts will be kept in their cells, save for dining and brief recreation periods, through the search which Hill said would require about 10 days. Even the convicts' mattresses will be inspected. Inasmuch as saws, jacks, hammers, boxes and other tools used by convicts are missing, Warden Hill said he believed the search would be well worth the time and trouble.

Oklahoma City golfers tendered a testimonial dinner to Henry Robertson, who rose from caddy to greens worker and then state champion.

Fred Perry Beats Jean Borotra to Even Net Events

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, Autuill, France, July 24. (AP)—Fred Perry, 21-year-old British tennis player today defeated Jean Borotra in a bitter five-set match to give England an even break with France at the end of the first day of play in the challenge round for the Davis cup.

The scores were 4-6, 10-8, 6-0, 4-6, 6-4.

In the first singles matches of the series Henri Cochet, playing in his old time form, rallied from seeming defeat to crush H. W. (Bunny) Austin, England's leading player, 3-6, 11-9, 6-2, 6-4.

Perry made a courageous stand against the wily Borotra to wear his older adversary down and come on to victory after a stirring rally by Borotra and won the fourth set and given the French fans hopes of a clean sweep for the day.

The matches were played under terrific heat, and Borotra was wiling badly until a friendly cloud obscured the sun and caused a drop in the temperature and a rise in his spirits and calibre of play.

Panhandle Heat Wave At Peaks

By the Associated Press

The promise of showers gave hope of relief today from the blazing mid-summer temperatures that have prevailed throughout the state for the major portion of the past week.

Season peaks were reached in the mercury readings from many points yesterday. Reports from scattered sections showed an abundance of points over the 100 degree mark.

Practically all parts of the state sweltered under temperatures that rose far above the 90 degree mark.

The blistering heat swept like a torch over crops at some points, making immediate rainfall urgent.

Some of the towns bearing brunt of yesterday's high temperatures were: Amarillo 102; Clarendon 104; Childress 104; Fort Stockton 100; Memphis 104; Miami 106; Pampa 104; and Seymour 100.

MAY COOK Is Now at CINDERELLA BEAUTY SHOPPE Phone 581

The body was found fully clothed as Powell was when last seen Tuesday, except for his hat and his .45-caliber pistol. In water two feet deep and about 50 feet from the lake bank. The gun was being sought in the lake by officers, but mud was making the search slow. The cowboy was wearing rough trousers and green shirt. His cowboy toy hat was found on the bank. There was a 3 cent piece in one pocket, and he still had his gun holster.

Decomposition had set in when the body was removed from the water, but friends of Powell established his identity.

Officers learned that Powell, who had lived alone since the death of his wife three years ago, had been dependent for several weeks. He was out of employment. A deposit slip on the body showed he had placed $106 in a bank here early this year, but officers said he had rawn it out in small amounts, issuing a check for the balance on deposit on June 30. He had been taking his meals with friends, and lately had been without cigarettes.

Funeral services will be held at 7 o'clock this evening and burial will be here. Three children who survive are expected. They are a son in Dallas, a son in Oklahoma, and a daughter in Fort Worth.

ATTENDED FUNERAL

Among those from Pampa who attended the funeral of R. W. Silvey, former superintendent of the Pampa schools, at Clarendon, yesterday, were Mr. and Mrs. Ledrick, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ledrick, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Pope, Bob Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Huckbill, L. C. McMurtry, Mrs. Edwin Vickers, Mrs. Wilson, Chas. O. Duengel, Mrs. Clinton Henry, and Miss Junita Montgomery.

Mr. Briggs, secretary of the chamber of commerce, will return in time to attend a meeting of the railroad right-of-way committee Tuesday morning.

Mayor Key Cites Old Editorial to Describe Situation

ATLANTA, July 24. (AP)—Mayor James L. Key, fighting a movement to recall him because he described prohibition as "a failure," today cited an editorial in Baptist magazine of 50 years ago as a prophetic confirmation of his present opinion.

The editorial, in the May 31, 1881, issue of the Christian Index, and Southwestern Baptist, was written by Dr. Henry H. Tucker, who served both as chancellor of the University of Georgia and the Baptist Mercer university and predicted that a general prohibition law never would be enforced. The editorial also said that "those who allow a sentiment for doctrine to dominate them are as thoroughly intoxicated as if saturated with whiskey."

Meanwhile, "the Greater Atlanta Prohibition and Law Enforcement club," directed by John L. Manget, capitalist and veteran reformer, and including many ministers and W. C. T. U. workers, is conducting an intensive campaign to obtain signatures of one-fourth of the voters on a petition to call a recall election.

Mayor Key's criticism of prohibition was voiced while he was touring France with a group of American mayors.

MARSHALL, July 24. (AP)—Thomas Scott Goolbsy, whose memory was believed to have been restored by a shock suffered in an automobile accident last week, died in a hospital here today of pneumonia.

Goolbsy had been unable to recall past events of his life after an attack four years ago by a robber. His parents, Dr. R. C. Goolbsy, of Forsyth, Ga., and his wife, who came to his bedside from their home in Georgia, said the patient recognized them for the first time since the attack.

Other physicians had said they believed his memory would have been restored had he survived injuries suffered in the accident which occurred near here and in which another person was killed and two others injured.

Girl Student in Apache Region Is Object of Hunt

HOLBROOK, Ariz., July 24. (P)—Mountain men and Indian department special officers searched pine-clad peaks, and mountain lakes today for Henrietta Schmeier, Columbia university student who, sent into the Apache country by her alma mater to study the redman's mode of life, dropped from sight Saturday.

For a month Miss Schmeier had lived alone in a shack at East Fork, four miles from the Apache reservation at White River. White friends said they saw her last Saturday morning, and that she intended to go to Fort Apache to a dance that night with Gladio Gilbert, a 25-year-old Apache buck. They said he had served as one of the subjects of her Indian life experiments. Gilbert, arrested yesterday at White River, denied knowledge of the woman. He asserted she did not go to the dance with him. He has not seen her, he declared, since Saturday afternoon.

Markets

GRAINS WEAKER
CHICAGO, July 24. (P)—Lower prices for cereals prevailed early today, influenced by Liverpool wheat market downturns and by word that European countries were not purchasing. Weakness of securities was also a bearish factor.

Opening a shade to 1-4 cent off, wheat later continued to sag. Corn started unchanged to 1-2 lower and afterward held near to the initial limits.

COTTON OPENS EASY
NEW ORLEANS, July 24. (P)—Cotton had a quiet and rather easy opening today as Liverpool cables came in worse than due. First trades here showed losses of 8 to 10 points. News relative to the London conference appeared to have been discounted and had little influence on trading.

Prices continued to ease after the start owing to favorable weather in the cotton belt and selling by ring traders. October dropped to 9.21 and December to 9.43, or 16 to 16 points down from yesterday's close. At the end of the first hour the market was quiet and steady, near the lows.

Destroyer Moves Without Sailors as Radio Guides Her

By WILLIAM WARNE
SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 24. (AP)—An unmanned destroyer maneuvered at high speed off San Diego yesterday and among other things made a 180-degree turn, described by naval officers as the most startling trick ever performed by a crewless ship.

The ship was the U. S. S. Stoddert, a 195-foot vessel of 1,500 tons. Everything from its whistle to its rudder was operated by radio from the bridge of the control ship, the destroyer Perry, which followed in its wake.

Lieut. Com. Boyd R. Alexander, commander of the Stoddert, and Lieut. Com. Earl H. Quinlan, commander of the Perry, stood on the bridge of the latter craft watching the Stoddert. Alexander turned to a sailor standing before a little box bearing eight keys, resembling those of a typewriter.

"One hundred eighty degrees right," Alexander said.

"One hundred eighty degrees right, sir," said the sailor, tapping the keys.

At the ethereal command the Stoddert veered from the straight course it had maintained for miles and swung completely about without slackening speed.

Commander Alexander smiled. "That is the first time that ever has been done," he said. "There's a lot of machinery operating itself over there."

Every officer and man of the Stoddert was transferred to the Perry prior to the test.

With a radio robot at her wheel the Stoddert moved out to open sea at six knots. The Perry followed. The speed of the Stoddert was stepped up to 15, then 20 knots. She blew her whistle and blinked her great searchlight at radio commands. Then the order "full speed ahead" was given and she moved at 26 knots or about 30 miles an hour. The radio robot was doing the work of 60 men.

HOUSTON, July 24. (AP)—Texas prosecutors today went on record as favoring abolition of the fee system and substitution of a state salary system, in the fourth annual convention here of the state district and county attorneys' association.

President William McGraw of Dallas immediately appointed a committee to study the situation and measures for submission to the legislature.

Several dozen special coaches have been chartered to take Texas fans to the Harvard-Texas football game at Cambridge October 24.

BRIDGES

go to killing each other." He was successful.

DURANT, Okla., July 24. (AP)—Troops of the Oklahoma National Guard occupied a narrow martial law zone today at the Red river toll bridge, ready to carry out an order of Governor Murray to prevent its use. The troops, 33 of them under command of Lieut.-Col. John McDonald and Capt. Don Atkinson, were transported to the zone in front of the bridge, 1.7 miles long and 200 feet wide, in a truck this morning.

Meanwhile, W. E. Utterbach, Durant attorney for the Red River Bridge company, owners of the toll span, said J. R. Handy, receiver, and others in the bridge company board of directors would hold a conference during the day on the governor's drastic move.

Governor Murray ordered martial law to offset an expected federal court suit to force the state to remove obstacles to the toll bridge, placed so traffic might be diverted to free structures.

Citizens Pleased

A parallel free bridge, closed under federal injunction, is barricaded at the Texas end under the watchful eyes of Texas rangers. Citizens of Durant greeted the edict with enthusiasm and D. C. Hatchcock, mayor, said "we are for anything the governor will do to open the free bridge."

Patrols were posted in the zone at several points and at both ends. Waving red bunting, they challenged all who approached. Passes from Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett were needed to enter the area and the guardsmen insisted on scanning them closely, no matter how many times they had seen the bearer.

Headquarters were established in a red brick house overlooking the structure. On the other bank of the stream the rangers held forth in a highway hut with eyes on their big free bridge barricade.

"Dull Campaign"

"I believe it will be a dull campaign," said General Barrett. He added that it probably would be all over in a few days and that as soon as the Texas legislature passes a law to permit the toll bridge company to sue the state on a contract, the federal injunction for the free bridge may be dissolved and "the need for the guard will have passed."

Another officer with the Oklahoma troops was Lieut. H. C. Capshaw. The detachment to reach the bridge this morning included two full-blooded Indians, who were perhaps the most diligent in challenging those who draw near the military zone.

Bridge Firm in Denial
DALLAS, July 24. (AP)—Emphatic denial that the Red River Bridge company had sanctioned any legislative move to settle the Texas-Oklahoma free bridge controversy and a request for a hearing for the bridge company before the legislature finally passed any bill aimed at effecting a settlement were before Governor Ross Sterling today.

The denial and the request for the hearing were filed last night by Joseph W. Bailey Jr., attorney for J. R. Handy, receiver for the Red River Bridge company.

Bailey said there was no dispute over the amount of money due the bridge company under the terms of the contract with the state highway department.

Governor Sterling was reminded that the name of Ross Sterling was signed to contracts between the bridge company and the Texas highway commission, the message said.

"The troops are instructed to let no one enter," said General Barrett. "Persons living in the zone who must use the road will be allowed to pass but no one will cross the bridge."

Part of the roadway on the Oklahoma side has been plowed under by Governor Murray's orders.

Asked if the National Guard rifles were loaded General Barrett said: "They are not through without a pass and find out."

"The troops are about half a mile from the rangers."

will not again seek the presidential nomination.

"Nothing he said to me would indicate that he was or would be a candidate, and in my opinion, he does not expect to," Mayor Cermak said.

Smith, he added, was very friendly toward Roosevelt.

He said that Illinois favored a wet, and "a candidate must be honestly wet to stand the test with us in the Illinois democracy."

Mayor Cermak lunched with Governor Roosevelt and with Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, considered one of the most powerful democratic leaders of the east.

Mayor Cermak in a radio address last night defended Chicago as a much maligned city. He said Chicago would make a bid for both political conventions in 1932.

Buyers' Market in East Texas Is Blamed by Holmes

AUSTIN, July 24. (AP)—Conditions in East Texas have resulted from a sellers and not a buyers' market, R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas company, today told the senate committee investigating the oil industry.

Senator Tom Pollard attempted to show lower prices in the East Texas field constituted discrimination against that area because it would not follow proration.

"I do not call that discrimination," Holmes answered. "When one is utterly inconsiderate of others, I think it is not discrimination to buy his oil at what he can get for it."

The house continued to receive figures from C. E. Bowles, statistician of the Independent Petroleum Association of America. Bowles produced figures showing the nation's oil price structure was not appreciably affected by oil booms in California in 1923 and in Oklahoma in 1927, although oil was dumped on the market in considerably larger quantities.

Farish Testifies
W. S. Farish, president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, was the next witness on the house list. The Humble has been criticized for its operating methods several times during the house investigation.

Pollard, who has had a leading part in examining other advocates of conservation, went into a long discussion with Mr. Holmes as to why the Texas company recently had posted higher prices for crude in Oklahoma and certain parts of Texas, but had not done so in East Texas.

"Isn't it peculiarly significant," asked Pollard, "that you didn't include East Texas?"

Miss Ola Gregory is visiting relatives in Kansas and Missouri. She will return to Pampa Friday. She is an assistant in the office of county clerk.

MOON of DELIGHT

by Margaret Bell Houston

SYNOPSIS: Juanita Basara remains a prisoner in Divitt's gambling house because of his locked doors and his threat to expose her as a slowaway. Divitt and his wife, Molly, and Conchita and her son, Gabreau, prove friendly—especially Gabreau, who protects Juanita from the advances of a fellow employe, Umberto. Dressed as a harem maid, she sells cigarettes to the patrons, Divitt explaining she is from Turkey. Eric Ledbetter promises Adrian Fouché to speak to her in her own language. In their party are Kirk Stanard and his grandmother, Nelly Belaise. Juanita, called to the table, is alarmed when Senor Basara of Mexico joins the group. But her sudden kiss so confounds Ledbetter he fails to lift her veil and she flies to her room.

Chapter 9 HONOR AMONG THIEVES

When Gabreau went back to the parlors Molly enquired about Juanita. She had watched the pantomime at the roulette table, particularly after Juanita had gone to her room. Divitt usually came over to the cage during the evening, keeping in touch with what was going on. Tonight he seemed to be avoiding her. Molly was troubled by this, linking it with Juanita's indisposition and his subsequent interview with Ledbetter and Fouché. The interview had been a smiling affair, and Divitt had at once to explain and to make light. Then Ledbetter had written a note, and Gabreau had gone out with it. Gabreau explained now, and Molly was relieved. The incident had nothing to do, she saw, with Divitt's avoidance of her.

Molly watched Gabreau take his station between the two front windows.

The evening wore on. Few were left in the room beside the group at the roulette wheel. Kirk Stanard leaned over Mrs. Belaise, apparently saying that they must leave. Mrs. Belaise shook her head, laid down a coin. Molly saw Divitt look at Gabreau.

Gabreau came slowly from his station against the wall. Slowly he passed along the group at the roulette wheel, very slowly behind Mrs. Belaise's chair. Molly, watching saw the sidewalk, Divitt going first with his flash. They returned presently, Divitt offering his condolences. "I dislike such things to happen here," he said. "You will advertise, of course."

"I shall try to get it in tonight," Kirk answered, and was gone. Molly opened her door, stood for an instant in the dark, then switched on the light at the bed's head. Her coat and hat lay on the bed, for Molly had been that afternoon to see the doctor, had not got home till time to hurry into the parlors. She gathered them up now, —hat and coat—placed them in the armchair. Then she sat down on the bed's edge, rumpling the satin spread, staring into the dim old room. "It's a hell of a place to bring a baby to," she said. At noon next day Divitt sent for Juanita to come to his office. Divitt's office was directly over the room that he shared with Molly. A door had been cut in the wall that separated it from the Hotel Tigon, making it accessible to either place. No denizen of the house invaded the upper balcony where it passed Divitt's office; so Juanita walked there for the first time.

Here alone Molly's hand was not visible. Uncarpeted floor, dust, shabby desk and chairs. Divitt rose as Juanita entered, motioned her to a chair. In the dress of black silk with button at wrist and belt, her hair knotted smoothly, she was a different person from the young woman he had seen that first night, tumbled and distraught, yet beautiful withal. Divitt had watched lassitude come over the girl, had realized that something had snapped somewhere. He had thought that in this relaxed state she would confide in some one—in Molly, certainly—knew that her silence was due to the gravity of her secret. The knowledge satisfied him for the moment.

Juanita had been an asset, greater than he had foreseen. She had magnetism, enhanced by mystery. Molly's idea of the veil had been good. Its protection had given Juanita courage, and its allurement coupled with Molly's cleverly planted explanation of it, had advertised both Juanita and the place. Eric Ledbetter had unquestionably come solely to see her, also the distinguished Mexican who brought Kirk Stanard's card.

But Juanita must not be so touchy about the veil. She had left the group last night simply because Fouché had joked about snatching it off. The rumor of this touchiness would get about, destroying whatever charm she derived from her attire. Divitt had been a little astonished, however, at the cleverness with which Juanita had escaped from the contretemps of last night—that kiss she had left upon Ledbetter's jaw. He would have thought he was developing an unsuspected coquetry, had she not gone ill to her room and failed to return.

He would not have Ledbetter or any one else snatching off her veil. The parlors should preserve at least the decorum of a Mardi Gras parade in which every mask is respected. And so he had made that remark to Ledbetter about Turkish ladies and modesty. "You have lived in Turkey, sir, and know how modest Turkish ladies can be where their faces are concerned."

Juanita's terror of discovery would be an asset in what he had in mind, but it must be quieted in a measure. It would soon be known for terror, and would create a worse situation than the rumor of her prud-

ery. However, he would not speak of that now.

Divitt took a newspaper from his desk, handed it to Juanita. "Will you read what I have marked Senorita?"

Juanita's eyes ran down the page. "LOST: Sapphire necklace. Several large stones. Platinum links. Liberal reward. Kirk Stanard."

Juanita read and waited. Divitt tossed the paper on his desk. "I wonder, Senorita," he said, "if I can trust you to return that necklace."

She looked at him. "Return it?" "It was lost here—last night. Under the roulette table. I should like you to return it, refusing the

FRENCH DEMAND FOR MORE GUARANTEES IS OBSTACLE

Success of Geneva Conference Sure to Depend Upon Nation's Yielding.

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—The French memorandum to the league of nations claiming France cannot disarm further under existing political conditions in Europe today cast a shadow over the elation President Hoover manifested over the success of his recent diplomatic moves to aid Germany.

With the seven-power conference in London ended with a marked degree of success, American authorities turned their attention to the French document for the first time. Though comment was withheld, they did not disguise their disappointment at the tone of the memorandum.

In announcing his plan for a moratorium on intergovernmental debts in June, the chief executive expressed hope it would not only contribute to the economic recovery of Europe, but would so improve international good will that it would pave the way for a successful disarmament conference at Geneva.

Up to France. Since the world war France has been the big question mark in all disarmament discussions. Officials here take the view that the outcome of the Geneva conference will depend largely on the attitude France assumes.

Although it has been known that France would like to have political guarantees before joining any movement to reduce arms, her outright announcement of this policy was not expected at this time. France has not only refused to disarm under present conditions, but said she would not reduce her armaments without agreements from other nations to protect her in case of attack. She also demanded a guarantee of her political stability.

If France maintains that attitude, these most familiar with the situation acknowledge that she will deter material progress at Geneva. Neither Great Britain or the United States is expected to accede to the French demand.

Turn to U. S. A. LONDON, July 24. (AP)—Chancellor Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius, who are appreciative of the help given Germany in her financial crisis by the seven-power conference but are convinced that more is needed, turned today to the United States. They pinned their hope on Secretary of State Stimson, who agreed to accompany them home to Berlin, where it was hoped his presence would reassure the German people that the wealthy American republic is interested in their fate. The German statesmen counted on the friendly gesture of the secretary of state to assist them in retaining the confidence of their country in eliminating any tendency toward panic dealing with the opposition of nationalists and communists who are dissatisfied with the results of the London conference.

In Berlin the secretary will discuss with German leaders the question of further financial aid to Germany by the United States.

He volunteered to make the visit during the session of the conference which ended yesterday after accepting a relief program which includes extension of the $100,000,000 loan to Germany from central banks of the world powers, concerted measures in all countries to maintain existing credits in Germany, and recommendations for her future needs.

Stimson Influential. It was learned authoritatively that the German statesmen are convinced loans to their nation can come only from private sources, American and otherwise. And they are convinced also that the word of Mr. Stimson would be of greatest importance to American financiers. Mr. Stimson probably will be the dinner guest tomorrow night of American Ambassador Frederic M. Sackett in Berlin. Heads of the German state also will be present.

On Sunday the chancellor and the foreign minister will take the secretary of state out of Berlin, possibly to a golf club, for a restful day and in the evening there will be a dinner at the chancellor's palace, where Bismarck once was master.

Monday morning Mr. Stimson will have a private audience with President Paul Von Hindenburg and, according to present plans, he will conclude his visit that noon.

Walker Sees How Liquor in Canada Is Being Controlled

C. Herbert Walker, who recently returned from the Lions convention at Toronto, Canada, believes that Canada has solved two major problems that are today puzzling the wisest in the United States.

These are the banking system and the prohibition question. Mr. Walker explained that Canada has no bank failures because the government guarantees all deposits. There are eight major banks in the dominion and all other banks are branches. However, there are branches in the smallest villages. Before a bank can be chartered, the founders must deposit half of the capital with the government and this fund serves as a guarantee to depositors.

In Toronto, a city of 800,000, Mr. Walker never saw a single person who appeared to be intoxicated. He was told that Canadians do not patronize bootleggers. These derive their patronage from Americans who arrive after the liquor stores close at 5 p. m. A policeman whose beat surrounded a liquor store to which a friend took Mr. Walker, told the Pampa that he arrested two men in June, one in May and none in July for intoxication.

Natives of Toronto assert that the law forbidding citizens to open liquor between the store and their homes is strictly enforced. To buy liquor a Canadian must obtain a permit which costs $2. He takes this to the store and its validity is "checked and double checked" before the liquor is issued. Prices of all liquors are printed in large letters on the walls of the store. All Canadians have liquor in their homes but Mr. Walker believes they drink much less than the average than Americans.

Mr. Walker is opposed to the saloon and always has been, but he believes that so long as the public insists upon drinking alcoholic beverages somebody will supply the trade.

Mounted men, armed with lances, were used to quell the demonstration.

KANSAS GAS AND ELECTRIC CONSUMERS' RATES ARE CUT

Companies Involved Were Already Under Level of Cities Service Corporation

TOPEKA, July 24. (AP)—Gas and electric customers in more than 200 cities and towns in Kansas reckoned today their savings under voluntary rate reductions filed overnight with the state public service commission by four subsidiaries of the North American Light and Power company, an Insull corporation.

The Kansas Power and Light company, the United Power and Light corporation, and the Kansas Power company filed reduced schedules while a gas rate cut was provided for 52 towns served by the gas pipeline and Gas company. Some municipalities received both gas and electric reductions.

Commission and power company officials estimated the reduction would result in a saving of approximately 15 per cent to customers. The reductions were applicable to both residential and commercial rates.

The new schedules were filed "in keeping with the trend of the times." They will be effective Aug. 1.

Gov. Harry H. Woodring hailed filing of the new schedules as "a mighty splendid thing" and said the companies "are only meeting and trying to help the present situation with voluntary reductions to consumers."

"The gas company's rates, he said, were already below those now charged by Cities Service subsidiaries operating in Kansas." Cities Service, which through subsidiaries supplies gas to more than 100 cities in the state, recently refused the governor's demand for a rate reduction of 10 cents a thousand cubic feet, and now is embroiled in a controversy with Woodring.

Under the new electric schedules "top" or "first step" rates which had ranged as high as 13 cents a kilowatt hour were cut to a 10-cent maximum.

A charge of $1 for the first thousand cubic feet of monthly consumption with a $1 monthly minimum, was provided under the new gas schedules, with no changes in the present charges of 50 cents a thousand and for the next 10,000 feet and 40 cents a thousand for the next 80,000.

Two Persons Killed in Spanish Riots

MADRID, July 24. (AP)—Outbursts by syndicalists today in Seville and Barcelona resulted in a casualty list of two persons killed and four wounded and meanwhile the government prepared for possible trouble at Malaga, where a general strike is scheduled to start tomorrow.

In Seville a rooftop sniper shot down a civil guard captain of infantry who was standing on the porch of his barracks. The other fatality was a night watchman, who was killed by a stray bullet from a gun fight between a sniper and a civil guard.

In Barcelona syndicalists resisted police who attempted to close their headquarters. About 200 shots were exchanged. One person was wounded on each side. Later two policemen were hit by bullets while trying to disperse a group of syndicalists who were distributing radical literature.

Malaga authorities prepared to use iron-fist tactics if disorders developed in connection with the impending strike.

About New York

By WILLIAM GAINES
NEW YORK—The lion and tiger trade is in a tough way and giraffes are bringing only $8,500 on the open market. The long necks, most costly of all animals, used to fetch as high as $11,000. So you can see just how bad things are.

If you want a pet hippo you had better place your order now, however, for Henry Bartels believes the market for menagerie animals has hit rock bottom and is bound to go up like a balloon after a cocoon.

Henry Bartels is THE Henry Bartels of Henry Bartels', 206 Fulton street, famous among other things, for his monkey business. His brothers, Fred, the oldest, and William, youngest of the trio, help him dispense beasts to parks, circuses and private zoos.

Their 84-year-old father no longer takes an active interest in the New York store or the animal stockade in Union City, N. J.

CANARIES TO ELEPHANTS
 William, senior, came from Germany to New Orleans. Fred and Henry were born there; William, Jr., in New York. The Bartels got their start selling canary birds on the streets of New Orleans, for 10 cents apiece.

Municipalities have cut appropriations for maintenance and new purchases for zoos, hurting the Bartels' trade no end. Circuses, of course, have had rough going, and individuals with private menageries have been looking to the meat and hay budget.

Bartels says one of the finest private zoos in the country is that of George Getz, at Holland, Mich. Charles Bell has an amazing collection at his Long Island place, too. Bell was the customer who paid $2,000 for Prince, an immigrant of last March, which Bartels says is the second largest tiger ever brought to this country.

William Randolph Hearst is one of his biggest buyers. His zoo is in California and Bartels says he has shipped no less than two carloads of animals to him.

Elephants, bears, etc., are kept in stock at the Union City "ranch," where purchasers shop for them just as they shop for monkeys, birds, dogs and cats in the store. If the Bartels haven't got the rhino you want in stock, they'll fill your special order.

Henry sometimes goes to faraway ports to escort mammal cargoes here. He won't bother so much about the giraffes coming in at the end of this month, but next fall he is going to Venezuela for variety.

LITTLE CAESAR'S SORROW
 One of the publicity bargains about Edward G. Robinson, after each of his impressive screen portrayals of gangster characters, has been that he was heartily sick of such roles and did not wish to become permanently associated with them.

National Forest Burning Rapidly

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 24.—Flames swept forward today in the Teton National forest and North-eastern Wyoming, where they were menacing at least two large ranches, but they had been checked in Yellowstone National park and the Dubois Dude ranch country.

Losses mounted so rapidly forest officials could not give an accurate total, but estimated more than 50,000 acres had been burned over and the damage totaled several hundred thousand dollars.

A crew of about 1,000 composed of Dude ranch guests, who volunteered, ranch hands and forest rangers, checked two fires that threatened Dude ranches in the Dubois area. Included in the party were Julius S. Morgan Jr., New York, Daniel Roosevelt, nephew of Governor Roosevelt of New York; Peter Schlessinger of New York; Dr. Charles Bradford of Boston, and Marjorie and Malissa Marsten, of London, England.

National Guard troops and volunteers had little hope of stopping flames near New Castel, in the Black Hills, without the aid of rain.

according to a telegram from Col. R. L. Esmy, in charge of the troops, to acting Gov. A. M. Clark. The Diamond Bar and Lissola ranches were threatened.

Roger W. Toll, superintendent of Yellowstone, said rains had helped in checking flames on Basin creek. However, the fire, which has burned about 20,000 acres there, was still out of control.

The fire in the Tetons was reported to be eating its way over a new area south of Yellowstone. About 10,000 acres was believed burned over.

Telephone lines were damaged and communication was difficult.

 reward."

It was incredible — both commands. "You'd enjoy doing that, wouldn't you?" Divitt asked.

She hesitated. "If that is all," she said.

Divitt smiled. "You are suspicious, Senator. Have you never heard that there is honor among thieves?"

"I am not a thief."
 "I trust you are not implying that you will fail to deal honorably with us in this matter. I should have to be certain before I sent you on this first errand of liberty."

Library Door Glass Broken by Bad Wind

Mrs. James Todd, Jr., librarian in the city hall, lost a race with the wind storm yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Todd was sitting at her desk when the first gust of wind arrived in Pampa. The windows were open and the wind came through. As Mrs. Todd left her desk to close one of the windows she glanced towards the door leading into the hallway and saw the door starting to close.

Before the librarian could reach the door it had closed with a bang which was followed by the crash of falling glass. The large frosted glass in the door was blown into the hallway with terrific force which carried it across the hall and some went into the city engineer's office.

No one was in the hallway at the time. The crash was heard in all offices of the building. The police department rushed upstairs but their services were not required.

Apportionment Is Same as Last Year

AUSTIN, July 24.—The board of education has set the per capita school apportionment for the coming year at $17.50, the same as it was last year.

The apportionment was based on 1,500,000 scholastics, 15,000 less than last year. It also was made on the theory that property valuations would be as great as last year whereas the comptroller had estimated they would be about $100,000,000 less. This might entail a decrease in the apportionment.

The cigarette tax which becomes effective one month from today will supply $1.50 of the apportionment.

DIXON KILLED

PORT WORTH, July 24.—A man believed to have been Earl D. Dixon, mechanic here, was killed instantly near here today when a shotgun was discharged accidentally and the charge struck him in the heart.

Electric Motor Is Cause of Smoke

A short circuit in an electric motor filled the Hy-Grade Market on East Francis avenue with smoke last night and at first it was thought a fire was burning in the building. The fire department made the run but before any water was turned on the cause of the smoke was discovered.

Chief Gold reported that little if any damage would result to merchandise. He said the only known damage was to the motor.

BUYS ACREAGE

DALLAS, July 24.—Announcement of the purchase by the Sun Oil company of the half interest of Robert R. Fenn, oil company head, in 786 acres of leased lands in southern Upshur county was made here yesterday.

Warren Belcher Back for Visit

Ranger force and will take up his duties in September.

Mr. Belcher came to Pampa last January from Wichita Falls. He resigned his commission in May. His office was filled by Deputy Harris King of McLean.
