

BEHIND WORLD FLIGHT OF WILEY POST IS RISE FROM COTTON PATCH TO AIR FEAT

BY LEON H. DURST
Copyright, 1931, by Associated Press
Behind every great undertaking there always is a personality, a man whose unflinching zeal weaves the various phases together and explains the success or failure of the project. In world-circling record flights this holds true, and in seeking the story behind the story of the breath-taking ride of "the Winnie Mae of Oklahoma," all trails eventually lead to Wiley Post.

A Texas farm boy who whitened out models of airplanes in the days when flying was only some- thing to read about in the newspapers, Post has kept his eyes on his goal as unerringly as he kept the "Winnie Mae" on the course plotted by Navigator Harold Gatty.

SLOW MOVEMENT OF SUPPLY SHIP DELAYS DEPARTURE OF ROBBINS AND JONES FLIGHT

SEATTLE, Wash., July 2. (AP)—A delay of a day or more in starting a proposed non-stop refueling flight from here to Tokyo, is in prospect for Reg. L. Robbins, and H. S. Jones, Texas aviators, because their refueling ship has lagged on its journey to Alaska. Robbins had planned to hop off tomorrow.

Mattern, San Antonio, Tex., and Nick Greener, checked their engine and plane at Edmonton and said they did not expect to take off for Fairbanks until tomorrow.

NEW YORK, July 2. (AP)—New York, and the millions who are a part of it, gave to two tired men today the spectacular sort of welcome which is reserved for spectacular guests.

Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, back in the city after girdling the globe in less than nine days, found New York at its noisiest and at the peak of its enthusiasm. Perched on the cushions of an automobile they made a circuit of the city which probably was only slightly less exciting than the flight itself.

PLAINS FARMING CONDITIONS

In considering farm programs, it must be remembered that the plains section has ranches and farms of large size. An American farm in the older sections may be of 40 acres and yet sustain a large family. But that much space planted in wheat would not keep one person.

We have before us the 1930 farm census of Hemphill county. It shows a total of 414 farms and farm-ranches. The total farm acreage is 434,101, and the value of land and buildings is $7,512,975. The average value per farm is $18,147 and the average acre valuation is $17.41. There are 209 farm owners and 199 tenants. There are only four farms of less than 50 acres, and only 27 of less than 100 acres. Fifty-three farm-ranches are more than 1,000 acres in extent, compared to 84 in 1920. Hemphill county had 34,038 head of cattle in 1930 compared with 55,046 in 1920.

From Hemphill we turn to another Panhandle county, Deaf Smith, where agriculture thrives. There were 630 farms in 1930 compared with 605 in 1920. The acreage is 443,225, a big decrease per unit—nearly 50 per cent—on account of the breaking up of big ranches. The land is worth thirteen millions, and the average about $32 per acre. Part of Deaf Smith is devoted to ranching, which accounts for the fact that there are 102 farm-ranches of more than 1,000 acres in area. The number of cattle was 18,161 in 1930.

It will be noted by comparing the above that Hemphill, an older county, has clung tenaciously to ranching, with relatively lower valuations. Her ranches are still large, partly because the sandy land is peculiarly adapted to such uses. Deaf Smith county has a composite of farming and ranching, with higher valuations. It is to be noted that in each instance the farm units are large. The temperate climate does not adapt itself to many of the live-at-home practices of the older sections, where land is costly and therefore broken into small units.

Any program which fails to take into consideration the difference in farming methods as between sections is illogical. It will be noticeable, however, that as land values rise the intensity of cultivation will increase and more efficient means of wresting dollars from the soil will be devised.

Warns About Use Of Fireworks Here

Care in handling fireworks July 4 is being asked by Fire Chief Clyde Gold and Chief of Police J. I. Downs. The chief says he will not tolerate the setting off of fireworks in the down town district and advises parents to make their children set off their fireworks displays at home where they will be watched. According to Chief Gold, many serious fires are started by fireworks. He cited the fire at Spencer, Iowa, last week as an example. More than $200,000 loss was the result of a child setting off a sparkler in a drug store. The city had a remarkable fire record during June, according to the chief. Only four alarms were turned in and the total loss was less than $25.

THE NEW GIRL

by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Beryl Borden loves Tommy Wilson and prevents his elopement with her half-sister, Irene Everett. The latter is furious when she falls and Beryl secures a radio contract. Beryl tries to forget her hopeless love by going to parties with Freddie Gaylord. Irene insists Freddie is rich and tries to win him from Beryl.

Tommy's aunt dies and he loses both job and money through her husband. Tommy tells Irene and she breaks their engagement. When Freddie asks her to marry him she accepts. In despair Tommy drinks heavily and joins evil companions. Fearing Beryl will expose her deceit, Irene slips away and marries Freddie.

Beryl develops throat trouble and the doctor advises rest. She catches cold while seeking Tommy to beg him to leave his bootlegging gang. Her throat becomes worse and she is told that her singing career is over. When Tommy realizes Beryl has made this sacrifice to save him he reforms, gets another job and starts night courses to finish college.

Beryl is happy again until Irene comes home after leaving Freddie whom she accuses of mistreating her. Beryl realizes that Irene is trying to regain Tommy's love and is taking steps to secure a divorce. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIX

Tommy was in love with Beryl. Irene saw it with eyes sharpened by jealousy. In turn she secretly raged and rocked at this situation called Tommy fickle and laughed scornfully at his blindness.

Tommy in these last weeks had become a far more interesting and desirable Tommy than the callow boy she had claimed as her own since they were children. There was a subtle dignity, a seriousness about him that commanded respect and liking.

Moodiness had dropped from him like a discarded garment. Irene could not understand the new Tommy. It was clear enough to her that he did not understand himself either, and that he accepted the change without question. But it annoyed her to realize that she, who remained the same, could not analyze it. What was it that eluded her?

That was during the first week. The second she sensed that something of the old Tommy was stirring again, breaking through the detached mood that possessed him. Touching this spark gave her unlimited satisfaction for she'd been face to face with the alarming thought that she'd lost her appeal for him.

The discovery that Tommy cared for Beryl had stung. Consciously she strove to exert the old enchantment over Tommy. Irene did this even though she understood that Tommy's feeling for her was not the gold of his love for her sister—the gold that lay buried deep in his heart. She thought Tommy was like a man who sought to grow a garden in the barren soil topping a rich vein of pure ore.

Why, if you never knew you had a thing you couldn't miss it when you lost it. And Irene wanted Tommy. Tommy was hers. So she set herself to make his garden grow for him. She would have it bloom with red roses and bright vivid colors, with flame and color and life.

At first Tommy did not know that her spell was upon him once more. They had met—a meeting his fancy had been unable to etch in for him, so tremendous was its import. He had said with a coolness that startled himself and infuriated Irene, "Did you have a pleasant trip?"

He did not know why he was not excited as he had feared he would be. He did not know that he had outgrown all but the memory of a youthful passion for Irene or that he was and always had been the true lover of another girl. The bondage of love that held him and Beryl had been of such gradual, undramatic growth that Tommy was entirely unaware of it as love. Their quarrels, their reconciliations, were to him just incidents of friendship.

And Beryl, watching in despair the return of his infatuation for Irene, was determined not to interfere. She saw Irene make herself lovely whenever Tommy was expected at the house, saw her wipe the petulant expression from her face on several occasions as though with a cloth, and substitute a mask of smiling charm. She saw that Tommy sometimes looked at Irene as he had looked at her when they were sweethearts.

Beryl grew bitter. If Irene could win Tommy back then she, Beryl, did not want him. If he could so easily be called back by a girl who had jilted him then Tommy had, as he had feared in the beginning, a fundamental weakness he could never overcome.

She must love him always, she felt, but if she could not respect him she did not want him. Irene was thankful that Beryl took this attitude although she did not understand it.

She found her mother less inclined to let her have her own way. Mrs. Everett protested Gaylord's suing for the divorce, for one thing. Irene had insisted with wistful resignation that it did not matter. Later Mrs. Everett had spoken her mind on the subject of money. What did Gaylord expect Irene to do?

She had asked this question as, with troubled eyes, she watched Irene unpack the lovely clothes that made up her new wardrobe. Irene's father would never be able to provide her with anything like these gowns.

"Oh, Prentiss will have to give me some money when he gets the divorce," Irene had answered lightly. She did not wish her mother to inquire too closely into her financial affairs, for she was not disposed to share with her family the money her husband sent her weekly.

"Honey," her mother said nervously, "don't you think you might be making a mistake in leaving Gaylord like this? You know it isn't so easy to do without nice things once you've grown accustomed to them."

Irene flung a sly bit of lingerie impudently into a drawer. "You wouldn't have had me stay and be treated like a dog, would you?" she snarled.

"No, but..." Mrs. Everett hesitated, then plunged boldly on. "Gaylord might see his mistake and make it up to you if you'd go back. I mean he might ask you to come back and do what you ought to do anything that would keep him from asking you," she ended lamely.

Irene stared haughtily at her. "What in the world are you driving at?" she asked, but she knew well enough for Mrs. Everett had frowned on her interest in Tommy.

"I mean, dear, that you aren't divorced yet and Gaylord might not consider that you have a right to go around with other boys. 'What other boys am I going around with?' Here I stay at home like a recluse, minding my own business and trying to forget how shamefully I've been treated and now my own mother begins to lecture me because an old friend feels sorry for me and is nice about it!"

County Officers Make LeFors Raid

Officers of the sheriff's department yesterday afternoon made a raid in LeFors which netted them 300 bottles of beer and 30 gallons in crocks. No arrests were made in the raid.

The officers with members of the constable's department have been making numerous raids during the past two weeks which have netted thousands of bottles of beer and many crocks and other containers. According to Sheriff Lon L. Bannett he will secure a court order to destroy the beer and turn the bottles over to the Welfare board to sell.

City officers yesterday turned 600 beer bottles over to the association so that the money realized from the sale could be used for relief work.

Hudkins Is Given Decision Over 'King'

CHICAGO, July 2. (AP)—Ace Hudkins today was after more heavyweights to conquer, and the customers who saw him with a decision victory over King Levinsky at Mills stadium last night were waiting for another knockout-studded card.

The one-time Nebraska contender for the middleweight title, making his first start against a heavyweight, and giving away 15 pounds, did most of the King's whistling right hand swings, and administered enough punishment to win the decision of the judges and referee after 10 rounds of savage battling.

house, she knew I'm not welcome here," she added suddenly and began to cry.

Her mother, defeated, said no more, but the next morning, when she brought up Irene's mail to her she was again inclined to question the state of affairs.

There was the mystery of the daily letters that Irene had been receiving, for one thing. Irene had never divulged the name of her correspondent but the handwriting was plainly masculine. At first she had seemed glad to receive the letters, but after a few days she showed the beginning of an indifference that grew in exact ratio to the interest Tommy was showing toward her.

Now the letters appeared to annoy her. She always read them alone but her mother discovered evidence that she destroyed them.

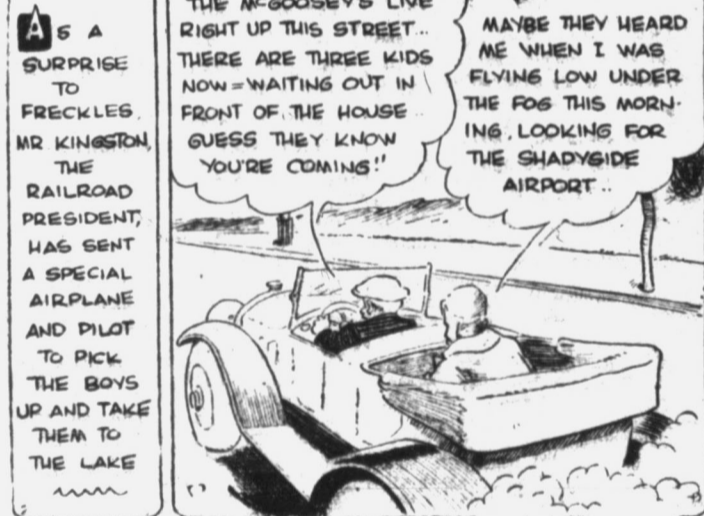

This morning Beryl had told Mrs. Everett that Tommy was getting a car of his own, one that he had picked up for "next to nothing," at the garage. The news disturbed Mrs. Everett more than she let Beryl see. She remembered hearing Irene say to Tommy that he ought to have a car. Now people would talk the woman thought.

Beryl departed for the store and Mrs. Everett, alone with her thoughts while she waited for Irene to come down to breakfast, became increasingly apprehensive.

When the postman arrived and left the daily letter for Irene along with one or two others she trudged up the stairs with a settled determination to ask Irene what the letters meant.

SCHMELING AND STRIBLING END TRAINING AND HOKUM

'GATE' LIKELY TO BE SHORT OF GOAL SET

Receipts of $300,000 Would Leave Small Margin for Promoters.

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND, July 2. (AP)—The world's heavyweight championship battle between Max Schmeling, title holder, and Young Stribling, American challenger, tomorrow night, may be a waste of a success as a fight, but it appeared today the gate receipts would fall far short of the $600,000 the promoters had hitherto expected.

As Schmeling and Stribling moved into Cleveland for their weigh-in tonight, predictions were made that with favorable weather, the receipts will be between $300,000 and $400,000 with an attendance of between 40,000 and 60,000 spectators.

If the receipts amount to $300,000 net, the figures will show a very slight profit. Figured on the basis of a $300,000 net gate, the boxers' share will amount to about $150,000, or 52 1-2 per cent of the receipts. Schmeling is to receive 40 per cent and Stribling 12 1-2.

End Ballyhoo Battle
Both Schmeling and Stribling completed their assignments in the battle of the ballyhoo yesterday and started for Cleveland to weigh in at 8:30 p. m. tonight with the nation listening in on a reading of their weight figures and whatever comment they may make on the air. For Stribling and Schmeling are to weigh-in at WTAM, Cleveland radio station, with the National Broadcasting company sending it out. It will be the first time in the history of boxing for the broadcasting of a title bout weigh-in.

Stribling wound up his training last night without throwing a punch at a sparring partner. Five rounds of work constituted the final public training of the young southerner before he matches his speed, skill, and punching power against the champion. Stribling skipped the rope for a round, slugged a heavy bag for a round, shadow boxed two rounds, and wound up with calisthenics. Before he started his work, he weighed 188 pounds, just the figure he expects to be tomorrow night. The challenger was in high spirits and seemed to be perfectly trained.

Prediction Knockout
"Pa" Stribling made the prediction that his son, who was brought up to be a fighter, would knock out the German champion within five rounds.

Schmeling also finished his training yesterday and is ready, calm, and confident for the war of the night before the fourth. There wasn't any pulling of punches or slowing up in the four sizzling rounds Schmeling fought his sparring partners at his camp. He worked as hard in his final drill as he did on any of his earlier workouts. Schmeling as usual centered his attack on George Panka's body in stopping three rounds with the Pittsburgh heavyweight. He shot some of those terrific rights to the head in the second round, causing Panka to go into a full retreat. Tony Manfello, New Orleans veteran was knocked back on his heels no less than three times in the round he faced the champion.

Schmeling Looks Good
Schmeling and his trainer, Max Baehon, both declared the champion was in better physical condition than he was a year ago when he won the title from Jack Sharkey, and no heavyweight on the eve of a championship fight ever looked more hale and hearty than the German did after he finished his last sparring.

After Schmeling weighs in tonight, he will be taken to a Cleveland hotel, where he will alternately read, nap, or pace the floor until he goes to Cleveland's new municipal stadium to defend his crown. Weather remained uncertain with the prospect of showers late tomorrow afternoon to break the heat wave that has baked Cleveland for the last several days. Dick Dunn, representing the Madison Square Garden corporation, declared the fight would not be postponed unless a terrific rainstorm developed at the scheduled time of the fight. If a postponement is necessary, the fight will be held Saturday night. For the second time in heavy-weight history, the challenger probably will go into the ring a favorite in the betting. Those willing to accept wagers have made Stribling a 7 to 5 favorite but the odds may shift to even money by tomorrow afternoon.

STONER BOWS TO SPUDDERS' HEAVY BATS

Shreveport Uncorks Brilliant 2-0 Victory Over Dallas Steers Wednesday.

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Texas league's split pennant race got its second start Wednesday after leaving Houston and Beaumont in a tie for the first half championship. It was a bad start for Lil Stoner, the ace man whom Fort Worth is depending on to bring the Cats the second half pennant. Lil was knocked from the mound at Wichita Falls where the Spudders opened the final lap with a 5 to 0 decision. It was Stoner's first defeat in his three starts since returning to the Cats from the Philadelphia Nationals several weeks ago. Stoner failed to last the first inning due to a two-run demonstration by the Spudders on three hits.

Bednar, and then Terry finished the pitching job for Fort Worth, but neither could match the fine work of Bob Cooney who turned in a seven-hit game for his eleventh win this season against three defeats. Off to a two-run lead, Cooney breezed in, never allowing the Cats to open with a serious threat. Baker of Fort Worth hit a home run for the Cats lone run in the first inning.

The Shreveport Sports got a brilliant 2 to 0 verdict over the Dallas Steers at Shreveport. The game soon developed into a mound duel between Grady Adkins for the Steers and Abe Miller for Shreveport. For five innings it was a scoreless duel, but in the last of the sixth, Shreveport bunched hits off Adkins to collect two runs while Miller continued to hurl shutout ball against the Steers.

Lefly Fowler returned to form Wednesday for a fresh second half start when he aided Houston in beating San Antonio 9 to 0. His mates pounded Carson and Peoples for 14 hits.

The Galveston and Beaumont game was postponed because of rain.

How They Stand In Physical Data

CLEVELAND, July 2. (AP)—This is how Young Stribling and Max Schmeling compare physically for the world's heavyweight championship fight tomorrow night:

Schmeling—Age 25, height 6 feet 1 inch, weight 190 pounds, reach 75 inches, neck 17 1-2 inches, chest normal 42 inches, chest expanded 45 1-4 inches, waist 33 inches, biceps 15 inches, forearm 12 1-2 inches, wrist 7 3-4 inches, thigh 23 inches, calf 15 inches, ankle 9 1-2 inches.
Stribling—Age 26, height 6 feet 1-4 inch, weight 188 pounds, reach 74 inches, neck 16 1-2 inches, chest normal 38 3-4 inches, chest expanded 42 1-4 inches, waist 33 inches, biceps 14 3-4 inches, forearm 13 1-2 inches, wrist 7 1-4 inches, thigh 22 inches, calf 14 1-2 inches, ankle 9 inches.

GRAINS STRONGER

CHICAGO, July 2. (AP)—Upturns in grain prices developed early today, influenced by bullish crop reports from Canada. Estimates by the Canadian growers' pool put the condition of wheat at 59, against 70 a fortnight ago.

Opening unchanged to 5-9 cents higher wheat later scored all around advances. Corn started unchanged to 3-4 off but soon mounted with wheat.

PHILLIES ARE BRILLIANT IN BEATING CUBS

Chuck Klein's Stickwork Is Matched by Fielding As Sparking as Ever.

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Phillies may not be headed any place in particular in the National league pennant race but leave it to that bunch of hard hitting youngsters to produce some of the greatest thrills of the game.

Yesterday they defeated the Chicago Cubs 11 to 6, and the manner in which they accomplished the feat was new. Chuck Klein blasted his way to the top of the league batting averages with his 21st home run, a triple, a double, and a single, while three of his teammates—Mallon, Friberg, and Bartell—were pulling the first triple play of the National league season.

Philadelphia's victory featured the National league program, which included the Giants' 4 to 3 defeat of the Cards, the conquering of the Reds by Brooklyn 3 to 1 and the Pirates' second victory of the series with the Braves by the score of 4 to 1.

Lead Is Slashed
The Giants' triumph reduced the champions' margin to two and one-half games. Johnny Vergee's tenth circuit drive of the season with Travis Jackson on base put the Giants out in front.

Socks Seibold and Ben Cantwell had slightly the best of Glenn Spencer as far as hits were concerned but the Pirates bunched their six blows while Spencer kept the Braves' seven safeties well scattered, holding them scoreless until the ninth.

The Reds also outlit the Robins 10 to 8 but Joe Shaute tightened up in the pinches while the Robins held to the advantage given by Babe Herman's home run in the first inning.

Browns Are Helpful
Once again the St. Louis Browns stepped in and widened the gap between the Athletics and Senators in the American league. The Browns defeated the Senators 4 to 3 while the world champions and Lefty Grove were eking out a 4 to 3 decision over the Indians and Wesley Farrell. The defeat shoved the Senators four and one-half games behind the Mackmen.

After holding the Browns hitless for two innings, Fred Marberry allowed five consecutive hits in the third and was relieved by Bump Hadley, who pitched shutout ball. It was the first time Grove and Ferrell had opposed each other and the Athletics' speed ball artist had slightly the better of the argument, although each team got 11 hits.

The New York Yankees bunched four hits with an error to score three runs in the third and eventually beat the Tigers 4 to 2.

Mellow, mild tobaccos that need no parching

ANY tobacco expert will tell you that parching would ruin the flavor of the choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos of which Camel cigarettes are blended.

Heating to that extent is an emergency measure resorted to only as an attempt to take part of the bite and burn and sting out of harsh, strong tobaccos.

We do everything to bring you Camels in factory-fresh condition, preserving for your enjoyment the natural moisture together with the rich, rare flavor and aroma of those choice tobaccos.

That's why Camel smokers hold so persistently to Camels. They simply can't enjoy the stale, flat smoke from dried-out, moisture-robbd tobacco.

You see, every Camel package is now a humidior that excludes dust and germs and guarantees factory-fresh Camels to every smoker.

If you are not a Camel smoker, switch over for just one day. After you have discovered how mild, how cool they are to your throat, then leave them for stale hot smokes—if you can.

Don't remove the moisture-proof Cellophane from your package of Camels after you open it. The Humidor Pack is protection against sweat, dust and germs. It delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until you smoke the last one

Some FEMININE Fancies
By HOLLYCE SELLERS HINKLE

"Consider your Adam's apple—"
Were we to be asked "How is your voice today?" many of us would have to answer, "It's on the rocks."

But remember, "The voice with a smile wins."

And here is another good rule: "If you are pleasant, your voice cannot fail to be pleasant too."

To achieve health and beauty one needs only to achieve voice perfection is the opinion of Veda Ravenscroft Sutton, whose "Magic of Speech" series is in its third year on the air. "If one uses the right word, one has to breathe well, and if the body is kept braced into good postures, one moves more easily, looks better and feels better." In other words, correct speech does only those things which tend to make the face beautiful rather than hinder beauty.

The histrionic ability of Virginia Gardner, New York microphone artist, is taxed to the limit degree. Miss Gardner has a half dozen different voices and quite often is called upon to use them in all in one program.

Although such ability is unnecessary for the average person in his every-day life, it should be remembered that we are given a wide range of tone in order better to express various meanings or emotions. The monotone is inexcusable.

The low, gentle voice is so instinctively a part of a well-bred personality that it should be used for all ordinary purposes.

For voice cultivation, Lillian Erichler has given the following suggestion:

"Read before a mirror, slowly and carefully. Watch your mouth as you pronounce each word. Keep a small pronouncing dictionary handy, and if there are any words with which you have difficulty, look them up at once and find out just how to pronounce them. Be careful to enunciate clearly, enunciating all vowels and consonants. Each syllable must be carefully accentuated. A common mistake is to slur words and syllables together; but the opposite extreme, clicking off each little syllable like a word on a typewriter is just as bad. Careful articulation, without stiltedness in speech, is what you must strive for."

"If you practice reading aloud before a mirror and associate with cultivated people who talk well, you will quickly develop a pleasant speaking voice."

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS POSTPONE SESSIONS

RAIN CAUSES DELAY IN ALL CHURCH MEETS

The hard rain necessitated postponement of all women's church gatherings scheduled for yesterday afternoon.

"We plan to have the meeting of our council this afternoon rain or shine," said Mrs. Ivy Duncan, newly elected president of the Woman's Missionary council, First Christian church. The meeting was to begin at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

The meeting of the Woman's Missionary society, Central Baptist church, has been postponed until next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church. Business and study will be combined at that time, according to Miss Mary Burks, church secretary and young people's worker. The Bethany circle will be hostess.

Mrs. P. C. Workman reported that the meeting of the Woman's auxiliary, Presbyterian church, was postponed. The next meeting day, however, has not been decided upon.

Mrs. A. C. Lovell has announced that a meeting of the Episcopal auxiliary will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. C. P. Buckler. The meeting, originally set for yesterday afternoon, is for the purpose of planning a large benefit entertainment.

The meeting of the Amoma class officers, which was to have been held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Clyde H. Garner also has been postponed, according to Mrs. Tom Rose, teacher. The day for the next meeting has not been decided upon.

TWIN SISTERS BECOME BRIDES OF LOCAL MEN IN DOUBLE CEREMONY

Eva and Neva are married.

Word has just come to friends of the twin sisters that on June 22 Miss Eva Ellis became the bride of Alva Duenkel and that Miss Neva Ellis became the bride of Clarence Comer in a double service, ring ceremony, at Hollis, Okla. The Rev. Graham, Methodist minister, officiated.

The girls never dress alike. For the ceremony, Eva was wearing a flame colored, flat crepe frock, princess lines, with black accessories, and Neva was wearing a rose beige flat crepe frock with pink accessories.

The couples are in Longview but may return to Pampa in about two months to make their home. Mr. Duenkel, a local plumber, is the eldest son of Mrs. Alva Duenkel, and Mr. Comer, a rig builder, is the eldest son of Mrs. C. L. Comer of Duke, Okla.

VISITOR GIVEN PARTIES TWICE BY PAMPA FOLK

Two social events have been given this week to honor Mrs. Clyde Peak of Greenville, who is a house guest of Mrs. John T. Glover, Tuesday afternoon Mrs. L. N. McCullough entertained with a contract bridge party and Wednesday morning Mrs. Glover gave a miniature golfing party, followed with breakfast and a morning of bridge in her home.

Mrs. Charlie Thut was favored for high score and Mrs. Glover for second high at the party given by Mrs. McCullough. A gift also was presented Mrs. Peak.

Mrs. Will R. Saunders assisted in serving an ice course to the following guests: Mesdames Tom Rose, Siler Faulkner, Charlie Thut, Clyde Peak, Philip R. Pond, George Waldstad, R. W. Mitchell, and John T. Glover.

At the party given by Mrs. Glover, Mrs. Peak was presented a gift and Mrs. H. D. Keys was favored for high score.

Those attending were Mesdames H. C. Wilson, E. M. Conley, H. F. Beatty, H. D. Keys, L. N. McCullough, R. S. Lawrence, and the honoree.

Betty Louise Glover assisted in serving the two-course breakfast at tables prettily decorated with pansies and lilies.

Cult Leader

John Christian Armand, above, 60-year-old hermit of Fairfax county, Va., and one-time follower of King Benjamin Purnell, of the House of David, has decided to become a religious leader in his own right. Reputed to have been wealthy, he has sold his land and is to begin a preaching trek to Michigan to start a cult.

Local Folk Return After Trip by Air

Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Bartgis and baby and Mrs. L. H. Anderson and two children have just returned after an airplane trip to visit friends and relatives.

The plane was piloted by Mr. Bartgis. He and his wife and baby went to Boise City, Okla., while Mrs. Anderson and children stopped in Stratford.

Highway 33 Paving Open to Traffic

There were a few muddy places on the road, but the 8-mile strip of paving separating Pampa from Carson county was thrown open to traffic this morning by the Stuckey Construction company.

A party of prominent Amarillo citizens, headed by Mayor E. O. Thompson was the first to traverse the new road. Since highway No. 33 was paved across Carson county, the 8-mile strip has been a "Jonah" to motorists in both dry and wet weather.

Due to the heavy rain yesterday, the construction company had some difficulty in removing the earth spread on the concrete for curing purposes.

Bolt Victim Is Due to Recover

The physician attending Mrs. E. M. Matthews, who was injured when shocked by a bolt of lightning yesterday afternoon, said today that the paralysis she suffered in her lower limbs would not be permanent. Her injuries were not regarded as serious.

The bolt descended upon the tent in which the Matthews were living in south Pampa. An 18-month-old baby and her husband were not injured. Five tents in that section of the city were hurled to earth by the wind and driving rain.

OLD SOL AND OLD MAN PAR NOW ALLIES

Join Hands to Discourage Ambitious Golfers Who Play at Inverness.

BY ALAN GOULD
TOLEDO, Ohio, July 2. (AP)—Old Man Par and Old Man Sol, his newly-acquired ally in the business of making things tougher for the golfing class, furnished a blistering battle ground today for the first round of the United States open championship.

Par has been knocked down for the second a number of times in practice in the inferno of Inverness but it has been manifesting increased resistance, with the cooperation of the alfalfa off the fairways and the dripping onslaughts of the heat wave, which scored a 97 in the shade yesterday.

Old Man Has Edge
Thus fortified, the old man of the links was conceded a slight edge over the field of 144 contestants slated to play 18 holes today, another round Friday with the ranks cut to about 60 for the final 36 holes Saturday.

The popular guess was that 290 for the 72-hole route would be good enough to win. Par is 71 over this comparatively short but very well trapped and hazardous course. Four par rounds would clip the U. S. Open record of 286.

Under the conditions, stamina and resistance to the effects of the terrific heat figured to be as important as the ability to slide up the fairways. For the British contestants, most of them veterans, unused to such strength sapping weather and already feeling its effects, the situation was especially discouraging.

British Captain Out
The heat and knee injury combined to convince Charles Whitcombe, captain of the British Ryder Cup team, that his place was on the side lines with Jones, Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, two veteran Britons, threatened to withdraw today if there was no let-up in sight.

Nevertheless, at least a few of the invaders, including Percy Allis, representative of a Berlin club; Henry Cotton, the young English free lance; Archie Compston and W. H. (Billie) Davies appeared rugged enough to withstand the weather and still give plenty of con-

Coliseum Will Be Fair Project for Current Year

AMARILLO, July 2. (Special)—An international coliseum, the largest building of its kind in the southwest, seating 20,000 people, with an arena large enough for a football game is to be erected for the Tri-State fair in time for the opening of the 1931 exposition.

The coliseum will be known as the International coliseum and will be formally opened by President Ortiz Rubio, of Mexico, who has announced that he will make every effort to be present. Four governors have already accepted invitations to participate in the dedicatory exercises.

Under the plan for financing the erection of the building, each of the 144 people who made the trip to Mexico on the News-Globe special to invite President Rubio to attend the Tri-State fair, has been named chairman of a committee and will be asked to raise fifty sub-committees. Each committee will be asked to dispose of two tickets to the dedicatory program at $5 each. Those tickets are to be sold before July 15 in order that the building may be completed in time for the 1931 fair.

The names and addresses of every person buying one of these advance tickets will be placed on permanent tablets in the building. All funds will be placed in trust until sufficient money has been raised to erect the building.

All expenses of the ticket selling campaign are being paid by the Amarillo chamber of commerce. Wilbur C. Mason, president, and other officials of the fair are now busy contracting for talent to be used in the dedicatory program and assert that it will be the finest show ever offered in the southwest. In addition to the big features to be offered, the entire fair will pass in review before President Rubio, the four governors and other dignitaries who will attend.

Every cow, every pig, every tractor, every automobile, everything on exhibition in the fair will move through the giant arena. In terse words, the Tri-State Fair will be brought to the people of the southwest and exhibited to them as they sit in comfortable seats in the southwest's largest coliseum and the biggest building of its kind ever owned by any fair association in the world.

The International coliseum will be 540 by 320 feet outside measurements. The arena will be 400 feet long and 180 feet wide.

The roof will be of the patented Lamella type, now used extensively in coliseums and auditoriums. There will not be a post in the entire building to mar the view of any spectator.

Oldtimers Are to Gather at LeFors for Big Reunion

Tomorrow morning old timers, old settlers, newcomers to this section and children will gather at LeFors on the banks of the north fork of Red river for the biggest celebration in the history of the town in the center of Gray county. The occasion will be the old settlers reunion and free barbecue.

Seven beefs donated by residents of the LeFors community will be barbecued and will be served to all present at the noon hour. The big celebration will last through Saturday with a rodeo, three baseball games, swimming, dancing and other amusements.

The big rodeo will be in charge of Sheriff Lon L. Blanset who has secured some of the best roping horses, bucking broncos, roping steers, calves and goats, available. The rodeo will be of particular interest in that most of the participants will be cowboys from Gray and surrounding counties.

The price to all performances will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children over 10 years. A performance will be held at 2 p.m. and 9 p.m. each afternoon and night.

Following the afternoon performances baseball games between LeFors and the Phillips Oilers, teams in the Gray-Carson baseball league, will be played Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the Magnolia Mags and the Pampa Barbers, teams in the same league, will play a postponed league game on the LeFors diamond. Admission to all baseball games will be 25 cents.

LeFors extends through its reception committee an invitation to everyone. They are anticipating a crowd of more than 8,000 persons. A special invitation is extended old timers in the Panhandle.

Baseball Games to Feature Rodeo at LeFors This Week

Three snappy baseball games are scheduled to be played during the old settlers reunion and free barbecue at LeFors tomorrow and Saturday. Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock the Phillips Oilers and LeFors will meet in the opening game. The same two teams will clash Saturday afternoon at the same hour. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the Magnolia Mags and the Pampa Barbers will play a postponed game in their Gray-Carson league scheduled. The Mags will probably start Bosart in the box with Bozeman receiving. The Barber hurler had not been named last night but it is probable that Farley will get the call, with Biggs receiving.

The Mags must win the game to keep in first place and the Barbers are hoping to topple them and to creep a little higher in the league standing. It will be the first time this season that the two teams have met.

LeFors and Phillips are old rivals and they will fight it out on the diamond both afternoons. Batteries had not been named last night, both managers keeping their hurling staff under cover until just before the games.

Resists Heat

Today's motors have higher compression, tighter bearings, reduced piston clearances, and faster speeds. So internal engine heat is higher than ever before. Modern refining science has met this challenge with Phillips 66 Motor Oil. Its rich oiliness lasts hundreds of miles longer than others, and fights friction all the way. That is why it is the world's finest oil for your motor.

COTTON UNSTEADY NEW ORLEANS, July 2. (AP)—Cotton had quiet and rather irregular opening today. Although cables came in lower than due, July here opened 2 points up and later months only 1 point down.

POST—

Continued from page 1 much. His mother, Mrs. W. F. Post, recalls that even when he was a small, barefooted, freckle faced youngster, he had an inordinate desire to tinker with things. He read adventure stories, showed a preference for mechanical toys, and only once developed sufficient enthusiasm for farming to indicate he could do it if he would.

grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Post, both 90 years old, were in Van Zandt county reading of his achievements. Full of Franks "Wiley never took much interest in school work," his mother says. "He was a good boy, but full of pranks. He always loved to read good stories. His father wouldn't let him read trash. He liked adventure stories best."

The record shows Wiley was not a good student in grammar school. He quit before he was 15 years old, but a few months after that he had acquired the cotton patch from his father and was proving to the instructors in the mechanical school at Kansas City that he could be a good student—if he was interested in the subject.

Consider your Adam's Apple!!* Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants "Reach for a LUCKY instead"

Place your finger on your Adam's Apple. You are actually touching your larynx—this is your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple, you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. No one has yet challenged the statement—"sunshine mellows—heat purifies." That's why LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process includes the use of Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked—made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos are expelled by LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple." Be careful in your choice of cigarettes.
