CHAPTER I

The traffic signals flashed from red to green. With a grating roar the big truck shot forward, cleaving a pathway down the center of the crowded thoroughfare. Street cars bells jangled and a bright blue roadster swerved sharply. It was 5:30 p. m. on a busy downtown street of Marlboro, that rapidly growing industrial stronghold of the middle west, with its close to a million population, its swarming mills and factories, its interminable odor of coal smoke. Tired men and women were heading homeward after a day of toil, hurriedly impatient. The throats of motor vehicles chafed at one another. Pedestrians on the sidewalks walked their way rudely. And then the shrill cry out of the air.

It was frightened, high-pitched, it came from the center of the street where the heavy wheels of the huge truck had just passed. A wailing, plaintive note of tremulous terror.

The girl in the gray suit was first to see what had happened. "Oh," she cried, stopping horrified. "Oh, can't somebody help him?"

Someone about wildly caught the arm of the young man who was passing. "Look!" the girl exclaimed. "There by the car tracks! He's killed!"

"What?" the youth bemoaned and then stopped short as his eyes followed her pointing finger. involuntarily his lips tugged at the corners in a half-smothered gasp as he sprang into the street.

Somewhere a man shouted. Others who turned to look swore abruptly. There was the grunting noise of hastily released brakes. The street which a moment before had been a smooth flowing artery of traffic was suddenly disorganized, chaotic.

The girl in gray stood quite still. Her face was very white now. A feminine voice in the little knot of spectators that had gathered on the sidewalk cried hysterically. "He got it, look—he's got it!"

As quickly as that the tension snapped. The watchers saw the young man stoop and pick up a tiny, bedraggled bundle that whimpers and wriggled. Though the light in the traffic tower still gleamed emerald obliging motorists waited, clearing the way for the youth, carrying the bundle now, to return to the sidewalk.

He came straight to the girl in gray. The young man was grinning. "Here he is," he said, shifting the load in his arms slightly. "Good as new, too. Not even scratched!"

"Oh, I'm so glad. Isn't he precious?"

A half dozen of those who had been watching the little drama closed about the couple for a better view.

"Why, it's a dog!" exclaimed a shrill-voiced woman. "Just a puppy! My land! That young man might have got himself killed just—!"

The speaker turned away in disgust, her words dying in the distance.

"Is it all right if I pet his head, Miss?" a small boy with a load of newspapers slung across one shoulder wanted to know. "Gee, that was a close call!"

The girl nodded, smiling. She had taken the tiny animal from the arms of the young man. Some of the spectators who lingered eyed the youth curiously; more were looking at the girl. She was such a pretty girl, slender and not over five feet four inches tall in her trim, high-heeled pumps. The gray suit and small black hat she wore were indistinguishable from the garb of hundreds of others in the army of girl workers but the black hat was pushed back, revealing a broad forehead and dark-fringed, wide-set eyes. The ivory plink of her corset was flawless and natural-looking. Below the hat brim there was visible just a trace of softly waving, taffy-colored hair.

The pup snuggled close to the girl's coat, apparently content. What a neat, neglected specimen of dog life he was! Frowsy gray-brown fur standing out askew where it was not matted to his underdeveloped body. Ancestry only to be guessed at. Scandalous certainty! Age probably three months.

The puppy raised two eyes of utter trust to the girl's and nuzzled a cool little nose, soft as velvet, beneath her protecting fingers.

"Mrr-ph!" it barked in infantile dog language. "Mrr-ph!"

"Why, he looks like Charlie Chaplin. Honestly, doesn't he?" the girl exclaimed, laughing. "There certainly was about the pup something of the unconscious pathos and whimsical clowning of Hollywood's funny man with the derby hat, big shoes and cane."

"Does for a fact," agreed the young man.

At that moment the tiny mongrel was completely captivating. Others

MEN FORCED TO CELLS AS BREAK FAILS

Four Inmates, All Desperate, Attempt to Escape by Hospital Exit Near to Main Gate of Prison.

TWO KIDNAPERS All Guns Believed to Have Been Seized; Source of Supply Is Unknown by Warden James Corgan.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 27. (AP)—The acting prison physician was slain and a guard and a trusty wounded in an attempted break at the state branch prison here today by four convicts, who then committed suicide when their plot was foiled.

Three of the convicts ended their lives after they had barricaded themselves in the industrial building of the prison, with a score of guards surrounding them. The fourth shot himself half an hour later after he fired at a guard in another wing of the prison and missed. The slain acting prison doctor was A. W. Hornbogen. He was shot to death in the hospital near the main gate of the prison, when three of the convicts attempted to make a break for freedom through the hospital exit.

The convicts were Tony Germano, Toledo, Ohio, sentenced to 35 years for killing a Birmingham, Mich., patrolman; Leo Duver, Charles Rosbury, and Frank Hofer, Germano and Hofer were at one time charged with alliance with the Laman-Andrews kidnaping gang of Detroit.

Warden James P. Corgan said that a general riot at first was feared, but that his guards were able to maintain control of the situation. All of the guns obtained by the prisoners were in his custody, he said, and the prison was quiet.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 27. (AP)—Three prisoners who were foiled in an attempt to break from the Marquette branch prison here this morning after they had shot and killed a prison doctor and wounded a guard and two trusties, committed suicide after they had barricaded themselves in the industrial building of the prison.

The prisoners were Tony Germano, Toledo, Ohio, sentenced for the shooting of a Birmingham, Mich., patrolman, and two convicts not immediately identified.

Prison guards forced the trio into the industrial building after they had entered the prison hospital, shot and killed Dr. A. W. Hornbogen, acting prison physician, and wounded three others.

The trio barricaded themselves in the building and guards tossed in gas bombs. When the gas cleared away the guards found the three men had shot themselves.

A general prison riot was prevented by Warden James P. Corgan. The prison hospital situated near the main gate of the prison was the point from which the three convicts attempted their escape. How they obtained guns has not been determined.

Frank Oligschlager, a prison trusty, was wounded by one of the three convicts and physicians said he had little chance to survive. He was an attendant in the prison hospital. Joe Cowling, assistant deputy warden, received a flesh wound during the gunfire in the hospital.

Gasoline Prices on General Rise

HOUSTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—The expected increase in gasoline prices, following recent boosts in crude oil prices, became general today. Texas, Gulf, Shell and Crown Central companies meeting the one-cent advance initiated by the Magnolia company (Standard of New York) yesterday. The Humble and Sinclair companies had not met the increase but were expected to do so late today.

The new prices, spread over Texas where there are low points, are: Full straight run commercial gasoline, 14 cents at filling stations; ethyl gasoline, 17 cents.

GULF PRODUCTION COMPANY OPPOSES FIELD ALLOWABLE

Chief Geologist Says 250,000 Barrels Not High Enough to Be Efficient.

AUSTIN, Aug. 27. (AP)—An allowable production of 250,000 barrels daily from the East Texas oil field is not high enough, Ben C. Belt, chief geologist for the Gulf Production company, testified at the railroad commission hearing today.

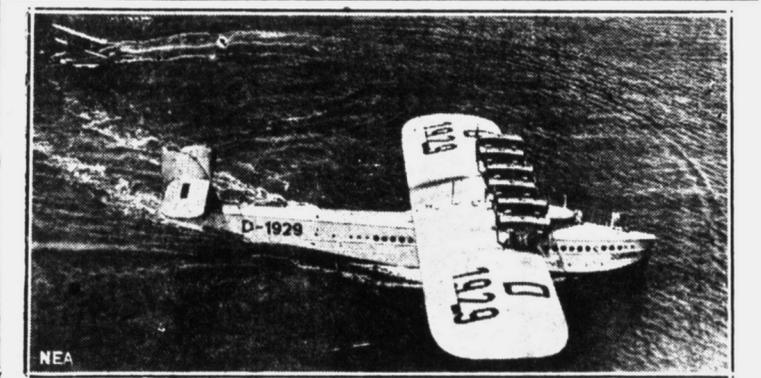

The Gulf company is opposed to proration of the field as a unit and opposed to an allowable production. The basis for an appeal from the order of the commission governing the field was established yesterday.

A Long-Expected Visitor Arrives

Here's Germany's mammoth flying boat, the Dorner DO-X, on its first appearance in American waters. And if you don't think it's an aerial giant, just compare it with the average-sized biplane seen beside it (upper left) as the DO-X alighted on Biscayne Bay, Miami, Fla. The twelve-motored air liner reached this country after several months' journey from Europe by way of South America.

Phoebe Omlie Leads Race

Clema Granger Drops Into Fourth Place While Crossing Plains.

AMARILLO, Aug. 27. (AP)—Phoebe Omlie of Memphis left Amarillo today a leader by more than four points in the Santa Monica to Cleveland handicap air derby.

Mrs. Omlie, who was second at El Paso Wednesday, climbed to first place in the flight to Amarillo yesterday, while Clema Granger of Santa Monica, leader at El Paso, dropped to fourth place.

Mrs. Omlie's score was 101.0 points. Lee Brusse of Burbank was second with 97.01 points, Eldon Cessna was third, 96.97 points, and Mrs. Granger's score was 96.84.

The first tie of the race was reported between Roy Hunt of Detroit and G. B. Warren of Alameda, Calif., who have scored 95.21 points each for fifth place. Charlie Goldtrap of Phoenix was sixth with 94.16 points.

Mrs. Omlie and Mrs. Granger are leading the women's division with Elton Cessna second, Hunt and Warren tied for third and fourth, and Goldtrap fifth.

The average score for women in the race is considerably better than the average for the men, officials said.

Gladys O'Donnell, took off from English field here at 8:04 a. m. for East Okla. noon stop control point of the transcontinental race.

Mrs. O'Donnell was followed one minute later by Phoebe Omlie. Other derbyists took off at one minute intervals in the order of their arrival here yesterday afternoon.

The fliers will spend tonight at Bartlesville, Okla.

Jerry Nettleton of Chicago, who was forced out of the lineup near El Paso, landed unharmed some time during the night and resumed the flight today. Fifty-three planes were checked out from the local field.

The last plane to leave this morning cleared the field at 8:53 a. m.

All ships took off without mishap. (See FLIERS, Page 6)

Biggest Flying Boat Roars Into New York Harbor With 72 Aboard

By W. W. CHAPLIN
NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (AP)—Conquering at last its ten months' battle against fire, wave and wind, the gigantic flying boat DO-X arrived by a roundabout course from Germany today with 72 persons aboard.

Its 12 great American engines' thundering roar mingled with screaming sirens of ferry boats and other harbor craft and with the cheers from thousands gathered at the Battery.

Among the official welcomeers were Captain W. R. Sayles, chief of staff at the navy yard; Commander G. W. Simpson, U. S. N.; George F. Mandl, heading the mayor's committee; Victor Ridder, representing the German societies, and E. J. Snow, representing an oil company, with medals for the fliers.

Plans for closer cooperation between the Welfare Board and the Parent-Teacher associations of the city during the next school term were to be discussed at a joint meeting of the Board and the P-T-A council this afternoon.

A report of the Board's welfare activities among school children last year will be given. The Board hopes that the various P-T-A organizations and the welfare agency will be able to work as one during the coming winter as far as needy cases are concerned.

Mrs. A. L. Jones is president of the P-T-A. Each ward school and central and junior high schools are represented on the council by three members.

GANDHI IS APPEARED
SIMLA, India, Aug. 27. (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi and I. C. V. P. Lord Willington today reached an understanding regarding the outstanding points at issue between the government and the nationalists, and the Mahatma announced he would sail Saturday for London to attend the round table conference.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy, cooler in north portion tonight; Friday generally fair, cooler.

OKLAHOMA: Partly cloudy in west, thundershowers in east and central portions, colder tonight; Friday partly cloudy, cooler in east and south portions.

And A Smile
TULSA, Okla., Aug. 27. (AP)—The low price of crude oil is of benefit to matrimonially inclined swains and maidens of Tulsa county. Two justices of the peace have offered to perform marriages gratis until the price of oil reaches a dollar.

Visit Two Shrines
TOKYO, Aug. 27. (AP)—Given a day pretty much to themselves before being led into an ambitious round of functions in their honor, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today got some rest, experienced a slight earthquake, and visited Japan's two greatest shrines.

It was their second day in Tokyo and had been set aside to permit the couple to rest from the long flight from New York which they completed yesterday.

Railroad Camps Are Established Near City Today

FOUR MILES OF LINE NEAR HERE SUBLET

Grading Will Begin As Soon as Right-of-Way Is Paid For; No Time To Lose In Buying Route.

HOUSE IS RENTED

All Engineering to Be Directed Out of Headquarters Established Here; All Committees Active.

Two railroad construction camps are being established within 5 miles of Pampa. H. H. Durston, general executive agent for the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, announced today.

A large firm of contractors, Roberts & Roberts, of Chicago, is unloading equipment today to establish a camp about 5 miles from Pampa along the line between here and LeFors. This will be the biggest outfit on the entire project.

Yesterday, the Chicago contractors sublet a four-mile project to John McKnight of Amarillo. This job will begin at the city limits and extend toward LeFors. Mr. McKnight will start grading his strip as soon as right-of-way deals are consummated.

City Is Fortunate
"Pampa is fortunate in having two large construction gangs within a mile of her city limits," Mr. Durston said today. "That's more than any other town along the line can boast."

The official stated the local right-of-way committee was working in a hurry to complete negotiations for property along the route. "There is no time to lose," he said. "The contractors are moving in and will be ready to start work before right-of-way is secured if the committee does not work fast."

The firm of Roberts & Roberts will build the grade through the rough country in Gray county.

Mr. Durston also announced that railway engineering headquarters has been established in a large house at the corner of Foster and Wynne street, 102 South Wynne. All engineering work will be directed out of Pampa. Another firm of contractors, Hamilton & Gleason of Denver, Colo., has established a camp between Shamrock and Wellington.

Mr. Durston pointed out that after this week he and the engineering corps will be in Pampa most of the time during the next year, or until the road is completed from Childress to Pampa.

Today Mr. Durston is conferring with the local committee regarding options on property already obtained.

By The Associated Press.
If public demand was to be his guide, Governor Ross S. Sterling appeared today to have little choice in the matter of calling a special legislative session to enact cotton acreage reduction measures.

Farmers continued to hold meetings over the state from which emerged resolutions favoring cotton curtailment and expressing their desire for prompt legislative action.

The governor was resting from a slight illness at his ranch near Cardozo Springs yesterday and had made no decision. He had promised to convene the lawmakers if the special session was demanded and if legislators would agree on some plan of control.

Two rival groups were forming among proponents of cotton curtailment. One faction, led by bankiers who met Tuesday in Dallas, opposed acreage reduction by legislation. Instead it proposed financing the withholding of one-third of the 1931 crop and agreement between bankers and farmers that acreage would be reduced 50 per cent in 1932 and one-third in 1933. Bankers would enforce the agreements by refusing to lend money to farmers who disregarded the pact.

SHORTER HOURS AND MORE PAY URGED IN RAIL TALK

Amarillo Speaker Declares This Plan Alone Will Solve Jobless Problem.

AMARILLO, Aug. 27. (AP)—Shorter working hours alone can solve the unemployment situation, delegates to the tri-state convention of Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen were told today.

C. W. Maier, personal representative of D. B. Robertson, Cleveland, international president, told the railway men that "unemployment is the paramount issue before the world today, and all experts agree on but one remedy—shorter working hours and more pay."

"Thousands of American men and women are without jobs and will remain unemployed forever unless working people adopt shorter hours and make the machines of industry pay the bill," Maier said.

Contributions to Cannon Located
WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—A contribution of $10,000 to Bishop James Cannon Jr. when he was chairman of the anti-Smith campaign committee in Virginia in 1928, by Joseph S. Freling-Huysen, former republican senator from New Jersey, was found today by the senate campaign funds committee.

F. C. Ferguson, president of the Hudson County National bank of New Jersey, identified in response to Chairman Nye of the committee, two cashiers' checks for $5,000 each drawn on his bank October 24, 1928, and made payable to Bishop Cannon.

Ferguson said "Senator Freling-Huysen" was the purchaser of the two checks. He then identified Freling-Huysen as Joseph S. Freling-Huysen.

This brings the known total of contributions to Cannon in the 1928 campaign to $75,000, of which $65,300 was given by E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist.

Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, has complained to the committee that Bishop Cannon's reporting the expenditure of only $17,000 to the clerk of the house.

PAMPA FIRE FIGHTERS AID THIS MORNING

Hotel, Barber Shop, Tailor Shop and Implement Company Suffer Damage Estimated at $15,000.

WORK IS PRAISED

Confining of Conflagration to One Building Commenced; Insurance Will Cover Fourth of Loss.

Pampa firemen made a fast run early today to White Deer and aided the fire department there in confining a dangerous blaze to a single building.

Fire originated in the first floor and spreading upward to rooms of the closed Modern hotel did damage estimated at $15,000. The upper part of the building was gutted. In the lower part, there was smoke and water damage to the John Deere implement agency owned by Hugh Edwards, to the Sanitary barber shop operated by Dick Higgins and Joe Seitz, and to the Doc Hopkins tailor shop.

Blaze Is Confined
The blaze was discovered shortly before 6 o'clock and was not completely under control until two hours later. Water was poured on the Triangle Motor company building housing the Ford agency during the height of the blaze.

White Deer business men gave much praise in describing the efficient work of the Pampa firemen. The local men arrived when the White Deer boys were getting fatigued. They remained until the blaze was practically extinguished. The building, erected in 1927, was of brick exterior. Loss, estimated to be about 25 per cent, was partially covered by insurance.

Chief Clyde Gold said the blaze started in the bath room of the barber shop and quickly centered in the roof. The barber and tailor shops were total losses. Mr. Gold took three men and a pumper with him. He commented upon the efficiency of the White Deer firemen in confining the blaze to the single building. The blaze was under control when Pampa firemen arrived. The local department was called to assist when the White Deer foremen began to show signs of exhaustion.

COTTON BILL IS APPROVED

Louisiana House Is Unanimous in Sending It on to Senate for Passage.

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 27. (AP)—The Louisiana house of representatives today passed by vote of 77 to 0 the bill of Governor Huey P. Long against the raising of cotton in Louisiana next year and sent it to the senate.

The committee of agriculture reported favorably on the bill yesterday after inserting a section to authorize the governor to suspend its operation if states raising 75 per cent of the cotton crop fail to pass a similar act against the growth of cotton in 1932.

STATISTICAL

Pampa News The Forty and Eighter magazine replies for the veterans that the whole idea of adjusted compensation is to give the men under arms a partial recompense for the economic sacrifices suffered during their time in service.

The Forty and Eighter is willing to concede that the average soldier who perhaps served 200 days at home and 200 abroad received with everything taken into consideration $1,170.35 for thirteen months. Against that is balanced high war wages, and estimates had he stayed at home he would have earned $200 a month, or $2,600 giving him a direct economic loss of $1,429.65. Very nearly anything can be demonstrated in figures. Very nearly everything is. There have been periods of wage rates as high as that of the war period since its conclusion, but the average wage of the population has never yet reached $200 per person per month. It did not reach it during the war. Since the draft army was drawn from the whole people but at the low-wage ages of 21-31, if the Forty and Eighter is willing to stand on its thirteen-month pay estimate of $1,170.35 it would find that the war-time army was paid off on as good as the average wage for its age, not only for 1917-18, but for subsequent years. It was compulsory employment; in many cases it was unwelcome employment; but, if the case is argued merely on the economic aspect of the soldier's pay, the sacrifice was on the part of the minority and not of the majority, except when the thirteen-month period is valued in terms of experience in civil life pursuit. Even that might well be offset by the consideration of what would have happened had this nation lost the war. Ask the German taxpayer. The fact remains that patriotism can not be paid for in dollars and cents. It is not a commodity. But the serious error of this nation, perhaps of all nations, comes in permitting it to be dealt in on the futures market. Whatever our present or past mistakes in adjustments and pensions a definite policy for the futures market. Whatever our present or past mistakes. Not to mention post-war claims.—State Press in Dallas News.

The Pampa NEWS extract with which State Press differs quoted the Legion's standpoint fully, and it was in itself proof that the veterans are not trying to collect on their patriotism. The boys who went to war believed that it was the whole nation's war, and that the cost should be borne equitably. Such an advance understanding should do much to reduce the ballyhoo in favor of such conflicts, which make millionaires of stay-at-home profiteers.

PRORATION

300 barrels per well.

Figured on a basis of 300 barrels per well, production in the field would be between 480,000 and 600,000 barrels daily when opened up again.

A majority of the recommendations to the commission by former witnesses placed the figure at 250,000 barrels allowable.

TITUSVILLE Pa. Aug 27.—The oil industry is 72 years old today.

There was no fanfare to the celebration but up here in the Allegheny mountains where the first well was brought in, old residents discussed that evening when Col. Edward Laurence Drake completed a 69-foot hole and brought forth a rich grade of crude oil.

Samuel R. Smith, 68, who lives near the site of the first well and as a boy of 16 helped to bring it in, was kept busy spinning yarns of the boom that followed the oil discovery and the opening of other wells in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and New York.

future deputy oil and gas supervisors would be employed to handle the work formerly handled by umpires.

A. B. Capers, former deputy supervisor in the Crane and Upton fields, is being considered to take charge of the East Texas field, Parker said.

Eager To Produce
 KILGORE Texas, Aug 27.—The chief concern of the beleaguered East Texas oil field today was that the state railroad commission hearing in Austin develop regulations permitting resumption of production in this vast oil area.

Everyone from oil operators to enlisted men of the militia enforcing the shutdown of the field looked beyond borders of the martial law area to the state capital, anxiously awaiting news of the hearing.

The operators were anxious to get back to producing oil under prices measurably more favorable at least than the 10 cents per barrel and less which prevailed before the martial law shutdown. Enlisted men probably will be kept here until the new regulations are issued and put into effect.

PALESTINE Texas, Aug 27.—Col. Alvin Owsley of Dallas, former American Legion national commander, addressed his protest against military shutdown of East Texas oil field to a crowd gathered on the court house square here last night.

Attacks Majors
 "They won't let me go over to Tyler and discuss a public issue," he declared. Because Gen. "Ske" Wolters and his boys are patrolling the town square there. It is a disgrace to the state.

He declared the military shutdown of the oil field was the worst thing a governor of Texas has ever done, and ridiculed Governor R. S. Sterling's assertion that a state of "insurrection and riot" existed in the field.

Owsley asserted larger oil companies and night, "which smaller operators could not afford to do, and predicted they would be ready to produce oil in greater quantities than before when the field reopened.

Girlish Costume

One of the most attractive of the new jacket frocks for the fall is shown above. It has what might be called the perfect ingenuine neckline, demure, girlish, and with just the trickiest air of sweet simplicity. The cute little black tie matching with the dark tone of the belt sets off the costume delightfully. This frock is in woolen spiral crepe, made of rayon and wool, so popular now for travel, street and tailored clothes.

NEW YORK MAN IS VISITING HERE

C. M. McAfee of New York City, uncle of the former Miss Aleene McFarland of Weatherford who recently became the bride of Prince Johann, future ruler of Liechtenstein, is visiting his sister-in-law, Mrs. A. J. McAfee, and other relatives in Pampa.

Mr. McAfee has oil and ranch interests near this city. Although he has lived in New York for many years, he returns at frequent intervals and declares, "I am still a Texan."

HAND MANGLED

Joe Whitaker's right hand was badly mangled in a meat-cutting machine at a local market yesterday morning. The index finger was amputated at the Caillon?Seydler clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stone and small daughter, Shirley Ann, of Graham, Tex., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stroope, 102 West Browning. Mr. Stone is a nephew of Mrs. Stroope.

BAPTIST WOMEN MAKE STUDY OF SOUTH AMERICA

At a meeting of the Woman's Missionary society, Central Baptist church, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Ray R. Hunsate directed a program on "Advertising With the Gospel in South America."

Following the initial talk on "The Other America" by Mrs. Hunsate, the program proceeded as follows:

Musical reading, "Grandmother's Patchwork Quilt," by Ruby Scaief, accompanied at the piano by Miss Louie Barton.

"Adventuring With the Word, the Printed Page, and the Bible," Miss Mary Burks.

"Adventuring With the W. M. U.," Mrs. W. B. Barton.

"Adventuring With the Schools," Miss Ouida Coburn.

Piano solo, "Meditation," Gerald Brown.

"The Adventures of a Missionary Ford," Mrs. W. J. Turpin.

Members of the Bethany circle served refreshments at the close of the afternoon.

Those attending were Mesdames Lee Miller, B. F. Walker, G. D. Holmes, W. C. Brown, J. M. White, D. M. Scaief, O. J. McAlister, B. L. Moore, M. M. Rutherford, Ray R. Hunsate, W. B. Barton, W. J. Turpin, Walter Kirbie, E. V. Davis, Miss Mary Burks, Miss Ouida Coburn, Ruby Scaief, and Gerald Brown.

SMALL FIRE DAMAGE

Slight damage was done to a five-room structure at 210 West Brown last night by a blaze that started at the water heater vent. The fire department extinguished the flames about 10:30 o'clock last night. The house, occupied by H. O. Studer, was owned by H. O. Studer.

Henry Robertson, Oklahoma amateur golf champion, considers knicker a flim. They brought him bad luck once, and he has worn knicker ever since.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Jess Haines and Burleigh Grimes, Cardinals—Patched Cards to double victory over Braves.

Roy Johnson, Tigers—Hit home run in eighth, breaking tie to defeat Senators, 5-4.

Phil Collins, and Dick Bartell, Phillies—Collins won fifth straight in first game of doubleheader, beating Reds 8-14; Bartell's double with bases full in ninth gave Phillies second game, 7-6.

George Goslin, Browns—Smacked through singles, driving in four runs in triumph over Athletics.

Pat Malone and Rogers Hornsby, Cubs—Former held Giants to three hits to win 4-3; latter hit pinch homer in ninth inning to tie second game and enable Cubs to win in twelfth.

Former Soldiers On Way Home

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 27. (AP)—Soldiers of 1917 parted for another year today as they turned homeward from the convention of the Texas department of the American Legion.

Corpus Christi was chosen the 1932 convention city at the final session last night and V. Earl Earl Sweetwater, attorney, was elected department commander by acclamation. He succeeded Hal Brennan of Laredo.

The delegates heard an address by Ralph T. O'Neil of Topeka, national legion commander. He said there was much unemployment among veterans and the legion was working to relieve it.

Other officers: vice commanders, C. C. Patterson of Fort Worth, Carl Nesbitt of Mineola, I. H. Bortz of Bryan, Dr. W. W. Utaman of McAllen, A. Garland Adair of McCombs, treasurer, W. F. Spiegel of Fort Arthur, re-elected.

Resolutions urged "fortification and protection" of the government helium plant at Amarillo, re-opening of a war department order abandoning Fort D. A. Russell and other

Texas military posts, discharge of federal women employes whose husbands were able to support them, establishment of a federal hospital at Fortran, and extension for an indefinite years of the date for completion of war risk insurance, now set for July 2, 1932.

HUSBAND and WIFE TAKE HERB EXTRACT

Both Report Great Improvement

FOR SALE BY PAMPA DRUG STORES

Dallas, Texas—Countless families have seen such extraordinary benefits from the use of Herb Extract in the case of one member of the family that soon everybody in the family is taking it. Mrs. E. R. Michels, 2014 Ross Avenue, Dallas, had just such an experience.

"For years I suffered from constipation, stomach trouble and gas pains. I could not sleep and was restless.

"Then I saw Herb Extract advertised. I bought a bottle and after taking it a few days, it does its work thoroughly and is the best laxative I have ever used.

"My husband has also used this medicine and it has helped him. I will gladly recommend Herb Extract because I know it will do all that is claimed for it. My appetite is good now and I eat anything.

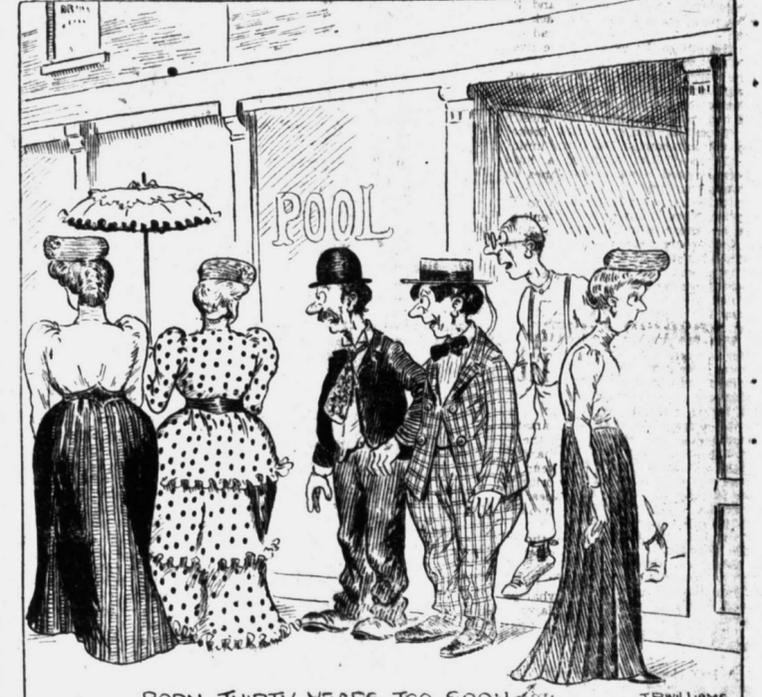

Your own drug store sells and recommends this great medicine. Get a bottle and join the thousands that have returned to health.

CARDINALS GOING HOME WITH LEAD OF 10 CONTESTS

TO COAST IN FINAL MONTH OF CAMPAIGN

Athletics Hold 14 1/2-Game Lead on Western Tour— Lose Yesterday.

By GAYLE TALBOT, Associated Press Sports Writer. Homebound today after having completed their last triumphant tour of the Atlantic seaboard, the St. Louis Cardinals are in position to concentrate on getting themselves in prime condition for their October skirmish with the Philadelphia Athletics.

By sweeping their closing doubleheader with the Boston Braves yesterday, the Streetmen closed their eastern invasion with a record of 13 victories in 17 starts against the Giants, Phillies, Robins, and Braves. They are returning home with a lead of 10 full games over the field, sufficient to permit them to coast through the final month.

Two veterans of the Birds' pitching staff completed the sweep of the five-game series at Boston yesterday, Jess Haines keeping ten hits scattered to win the first 6 to 1, and Burleigh Grimes taking the nightcap, 6 to 0.

Thanks to some lusty hitting by Hanson Cuyler and Manager Hornsby, the Chicago Cubs were able to close their eastern jaunt with a pair of victories over the Giants, 4 to 3 and 7 to 4. The second going 12 innings, The Phillies shoved Dan Howley's Cincinnati Reds a little deeper into the cellar with a pair of beatings, 8 to 4 and 7 to 6. They had 14 score four times in the ninth to win the nightcap.

Although they dropped the final to St. Louis, 9 to 5, the Athletics showed a nice profit for their last western tour, winning 10 and losing only four. They were back east today with a 14 1/2 game lead over their closest American league rivals, Washington.

Boy Johnson's homer in the eighth was the punch the Detroit Tigers needed to nose out the Senators, 5 to 4, in their last meeting of the year. Johnson's blow broke a tie that had existed four innings and gave Earl Whithill a hard-earned victory over Sam James and Carl Fischer.

After losing ten straight to the New York Yankees at Comiskey park this year, the Chicago White Sox finally broke through to win their closing tilt, 8 to 5. Boston's scheduled doubleheader at Cleveland was rained out.

Canadian Champ Threat to Title

MONTREAL, Aug. 27. (AP)—Bobby Somerville, Canadian amateur champion, can be added to the list of those who have a good chance to win the United States amateur golf crown this year. The authority for this statement is Bobby Jones, who defeated Somerville last year on his way to the title.

Bobby was asked what he thought of Somerville's chances when he arrived here.

"You know how golf is," he replied. "You never can tell what will happen. Sandy is a good player all right and I think he has a pretty good chance."

Memphis Player Hits Three Homers

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 27. (AP)—Big Joe Hutcheson, Memphis right-fielder, vowed just before yesterday's game that he would knock a home run to thrill his home folks.

His sister, Miss Mattie, Otha Hutcheson, Denton, Tex., and his cousin, Miss Ada Ruth Carlton, Joe and watching this week's games, Kingswood, Texas, are visiting Big They wanted to see a home run.

Before the end of the game Big Joe had surprised even himself. He counted for five of the Chick's seven smashes out three homers, accounts that beat the Birmingham Barons, 7 to 1, in the only game played in the Southern association yesterday.

In the second inning, he hit a homer over the center field wall. In the sixth he put another one in the same place. In the eighth he hit one over the right field fence, scoring Brazil and Taylor ahead of him.

It was the first time in Ruxwood park's history that three homers have been made in one game. Big Joe now has 17 to his credit this season.

Chicago Collects Small Revenue

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—Chicago's financial ups and downs have sent some queer-looking figures into the census bureau statistics of cities' finances.

The great mid-western metropolis, whose mayor recently came out flat with the statement of being broke, looked just that way in the 1929 financial line up, but gave promise of nearer normalcy in 1930 figures, and down again in 1931.

BAKER WILL CHANGE

BEAUMONT, Aug. 27. (AP)—The Beaumont baseball club announced yesterday that Del Baker, successful pilot of the Exporters this season, would not manage the Beaumont club next year. The club left yesterday on a road trip. Baker expressed hope of bettering himself for 1932 season, although he had no definite plans.

BULL GOES FARMER

STEPHENVILLE, Texas, Aug. 27. (AP)—An enraged bull gored Joe Utery, a farmer, so severely yesterday that he may die. Utery was attempting to drive the bull from a cotton field when he was attacked. The bull's horns inflicted deep wounds in his body.

MISSISS HALL OF FAME AS CASHION HITS

Dick Whitworth Wins No. 16 in Shreveport Defeat by 6 to 1 Score.

By WILLIAM A. (BILL) PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. Dick Whitworth, Foot World's champion, Fort Worth's veteran hurler, missed baseball's hall of fame last night by one hit as he defeated Shreveport, 6 to 1.

For six consecutive innings, Whitworth turned the Sports back runs and hits, but in the seventh, Cashion tripled and scored on a fly out to right field. Whitworth struck out six to win his 16th victory this season.

Carlos Moore hurled for Shreveport, but his wildness plus 10 Fort Worth hits left him ineffective. Dallas made a clean sweep of a two-game series with Wichita Falls, winning last night, 12 to 7. It was a combat of hard hitting in which ten extra base hits were made.

"Cowboy" Jones led Dallas' attack with a double, triple and single, driving in two runs. Bob Cooney, who has 15 victories to his credit, started for Wichita Falls but was shelled out in the second inning.

Galveston defeated San Antonio 3 to 0. Speer's triple in the seventh with the bases full decided a mound battle between Precher Thurman for Galveston and Tom Estell for San Antonio.

Champion Shooter Real Marksman

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 27. (AP)—Steve M. Crothers, Chestnut Hills, Pa., stood today as champion of amateur trapshooting champions.

The Pennsylvania amateur titlist gave a display of perfect marksmanship yesterday to defeat champions from 47 states, the Canal Zone and Alberta, Canada, in the day's feature shoot of the thirty-second grand trapshooting tournament.

Crothers broke 200 consecutive targets, duplicating his feat in winning the Pennsylvania crown. He succeeds E. F. Woodward of Houston, Tex., to the title. Ted Renfro, Del. Mont., was second, and Joe Hiestand, Hillsboro, O., third.

Earl Donahue, Minneapolis professional, claimed the professional championship after winning a shoot-off from Rush Raze of Denver. Tying Raze at 199 out of a possible 200 targets, Donahue ran off 23 more to win after the Denver professional had missed his 23rd from a difficult angle.

WHEAT PRICES SAGS

CHICAGO, Aug. 27. (AP)—Easiness of wheat prices at Liverpool led to scattered selling on the board of trade today and prices sagged. Liverpool was easier because of pressure of Russian exports with better weather reported from Russian harvest districts. Corn eased because of selling by Chicago professionals.

Wheat started 1/4-3/8 cents lower and later showed little change. Corn opened 1/4-3/8 off and then steadied.

Mrs. Tyson Faces Jinx Rival, Her Own Townswoman

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Aug. 27. (AP)—Mrs. George Tyson of Kansas City found herself face to face with her noteworthy golfing jinx today as she sauntered out to protect her women's western championship.

Her foe as the battle entered the third round was her famous home town rival, Mrs. Opal S. Hill whom she hasn't succeeded in defeating for three straight years.

The second match of the upper-bracket also was expected to be a hard tussle, involving two of Chicago's best golfers—Virginia Van Wie and Mrs. Charles Demmay, runner-up in the 1928 championship. Topping the lower bracket was Mrs. Leona Pressler of San Gabriel, Cal., holder of the crown two years in a row in 1927 and 1928. Her quarter-final opponent was one of the surprises of the tournament, Helen MacMorran of Chicago.

COTTON IS QUIET

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 27. (AP)—Cotton had rather a quiet opening today. Liverpool came in a shade here worse than due and the first trades her showed losses of one point, as New York on the other hand opened a little higher. Prices promptly rallied 2 to four points, but soon eased off again owing to lack of sustained support.

October dropped to 7.06 and December to 7.28, down 8 points from yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market was steady though quiet and near the lows.

Faber Prevents Utter Riot Before Chicago Crowd

CHICAGO, Aug. 27. (AP)—After holding out on Red Faber for 31 consecutive innings, the White Sox finally scored some runs for the veteran spitballer.

Faber yesterday asked for the job of trying to keep the New York Yankees from taking every game of the season series in Comiskey park, and his mates responded by scoring two runs in the first inning, and enough thereafter to win, 8 to 5. Faber was relieved for a pinch batsman in the seventh, but was credited with the victory, and the Sox were spared the humiliation of bowing to the Yanks every time a home crowd looked on.

RIVER STILL HIGH

HANKOW, China, Aug. 27. (AP)—The Yangtze river at Hankow maintained a steady level at 53 feet today. Calm, pleasant weather succeeded Tuesday's typhoon, but many foreign buildings were weakened and their owners feared their collapse, with heavy losses. Practically the entire wall surrounding the Standard Oil company's Hankow installation crumbled today.

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 27. (AP)—Residents of the Davis mountain country 160 miles east of El Paso still were a bit nervous today after three earth tremors were felt yesterday at Valentine, Fort Davis, Alpine and Marfa. No one was injured and no damage was reported.

COUPLE DIE TOGETHER

HILLSBORO, Texas, Aug. 27. (AP)—Their wish to die together almost was realized yesterday by G. D. Tarleton, 78, veteran Hillsboro attorney, and his wife. Both had been seriously ill several days. Mrs. Tarleton died at 2:30 a. m. and her husband followed her at noon. Tarleton had practiced law here 50 years.

ROBBERS GET $14,000

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 27. (AP)—Two masked men walked into the Quinpool Road branch of the Royal Bank of Canada today, slugged Manager Frank P. Robertson over the head with a gun, herded four employees into the vault and escaped with $14,000.

had drifted away, the youngster with the newspapers last to go. The youth who had rescued the puppy looked down at him.

"Cute little beggar!" he said. "How'd he get away from you? Don't you think you should keep him on a leash?"

"Oh, but he isn't mine!" "Not yours? You mean he isn't your dog?"

The girl shook her head. "I wish he were," she admitted. "I think he's adorable. It was brave of you to go out there and save him. In another minute I know he'd have been killed. I thought for a moment one of those cars was going to hit you!"

The youth shrugged. "Nothing to that," he said. "Say, I kind of like the little beggar myself. Cute way he's got of wrinking up his nose!"

The pup chose that instant to repeat his miniature yelp. "Mrr-ph! Mrr-ph!" A warm tongue licked a bit of moist pink flannel like the girl's finger.

"He's probably trying to say that he's hungry," the girl decided. "I wonder—what do you suppose we should do with him?"

At the sound of that "we" the young man's face brightened. His eyes had been on the girl almost constantly. It was an eager, openly admiring glance.

"That's for you to decide. You saved his life."

"Oh, but you were the one who did that!"

"Well, then, I relinquish my claim. Anyway the hound's adopted you. Never saw a more contented pooch in my life."

The stream of pedestrians passed about them. These two who had never before seen one another were talking like old acquaintances.

The girl raised her head and the young man set to marveling that eyes so dark hued could be blue. Blue they certainly were. Never until that moment, he decided, had he seen eyes that were really blue.

The exquisite small nose, the slightly full lips, carved to the current vogue, were after thoughts in the inventory. Yes, by George, the girl was a beauty!

She seemed oblivious to this fact. There was not the slightest trace of self-consciousness about her. Oblivious, too, she felt as to whether the youth before her were tall or short, cross-eyed or wizen-faced.

He straightened, frowning slightly. Couldn't she just for one moment look at him as though she really saw him? It was a jolt to his complaisance. Not for the world would he have admitted consciousness that his well-cut profile resembled a certain motion picture star, that the straight line of his dark brown was a daily gratification, or that his rangy height and broad shoulders set off perfectly the excellent tailoring of his dark suit. None of these things would he have admitted and yet they were all true.

Easily he said, "Look here, let me get a cab. We'll get away from this crowd and then we can decide what to do with the pup."

The smile died in the girl's eyes. She shook her head. "No, thank you. I'll manage some way."

"Oh, but that's not fair! I feel in duty bound to keep tab on that mongrel's welfare."

She relented, faintly. "I'm afraid you'll have to trust me about that. Anyway I think the first thing to do is to try to find his owner. Tomorrow I'll advertise."

"Advertise? For that—?"

He pointed contemptuously toward the pup. There was disbelief, laughter in his voice.

The girl's chin raised. "Yes," she said, "and until I find his owner he'll have a good home. We'll get along all right." She sought his eyes for an instant, hesitated and then added, "Good night," as she turned and started northward.

She had not gone half a dozen steps when the youth was beside her. He touched her arm.

"Listen," he urged, "there are a lot of things I want to talk to you about. Didn't I meet you one evening at the Marigold? No, that's not it. I mean—the Palais Royal? I'm sure I did. I've been wanting to see you again. Don't hurry away like this—"

She had stopped and was watching him as he floundered for the words. Into the wide blue eyes that seemed so guileless a moment before there flashed a look of swift hostility, followed instantly by a show of cool indifference.

The transformation was startling. It was something that never should have been seen on the face of one so young.

But the youth took no notice. "If you won't let me take you to dinner," he went on, "how about tomorrow? Where can I telephone you?" He had pulled a memorandum book and pencil from his vest pocket. "Say," he grinned boyishly, "I don't remember how to spell your name. Mine's Travers—in case you've forgotten, Mark Travers."

"No, Mr. Travers," the words snapped sharply, "Not tonight—or any night. Better go back to the Marigold and find the girl you met there. It wasn't I."

Traffic had halted at the intersection and a taxicab, vividly colored, pulled up near the curb. The girl had turned away, suddenly thought better of it and wheeled toward the street. She signaled the driver and darted toward the cab.

Another moment and she was invisible. The street light glowed green again and with the jerk the cab moved forward. "Where to, lady?" asked the driver.

She gave the address, then leaned back against the leather seat. A friendly whimper from the puppy made her hold the little animal closer. Over her shoulder the girl caught a swift glance at a disconcerted young man, tall and very well tailored, standing on the curb and looking after the disappearing taxicab.

Five minutes later the girl and young man faced each other across a candlelight table. The puppy had curled into a comfortable ball at their feet.

"Have a hard day, Norma?" "No—no!" Norma Kent considered the question, raised her voice faintly as she answered. "It wasn't especially hard but I'm glad it's over. I'm always glad when a day's done. What have you been doing?"

Farrell grinned. "Oh, rubbed the dust off some filthy old volumes in Kemper and Kemper's law library. I've been looking up references for a suit over some property. Spent most of yesterday at the same job. Better order, hadn't we?"

The waitress handed them a card and departed. Farrell studied the menu. There was nothing whatever about this young man to suggest the youth who had aided Norma in the dog's rescue. Bob Farrell was not so tall as the other, squarely built yet not with excess poundage. His tweed business clothes made no pretense at elegant tailoring. The suit was as casual, probably as inexpensive as Norma Kent's.

There was a friendliness about the young man that to a degree redeemed unsymmetrical features. His eyes were gray, his hair brown—rather light—tossed back from his forehead with a look of perpetual disarray. The line of his chin was forceful, even stubborn perhaps. When he smiled the generously cut lips took a slightly crooked twist. No Apollo, Bob Farrell would be rated by any unprejudiced group to be likeable, good-natured, dependable.

"Well, what's it to be?" he asked after reading the suggestions on the menu.

"Of course. How could I have forgotten!" She smiled at him. The blue eyes were wide and innocent again. In the flattering candlelight Norma Kent presented an attractive picture.

There was no doubt that the youth across the table was aware of this. For nearly a year Bob Farrell and Norma had been spending occasional evenings together, hunting out new dining places, dropping into the big movie palaces to see their favorite stars, sometimes taking long bus rides. During the summer these expeditions had increased. Now in September scarcely a week passed but Norma and Bob spent at least two evenings together. They read the same books, usually liked the same plays. Norma, who spent five and one-half days each week at dictation, typing and the complex duties of a private secretary in the offices of Brooks, Welliver and Brooks, attorneys at law, felt a high respect for Bob Farrell's opinions. Bob was a member of the bar of two years' standing and employed by the legal firm of Kemper and Kemper.

Norma wasn't in love with Bob. Oh, dear, no! Whenever she felt a cal subjects. That tendency toward the perilous rocks of romance she brought it back abruptly to practical subjects. That tendency toward the romantic was the flaw in what had otherwise been a perfect friendship from Norma's viewpoint. She was 22 years old and oh, so very sure that love and marriage were to play no part in her own life. For others if they wished. For herself, no thank you!

This is how matters stood that September evening when Bob Farrell and Norma Kent, dined in the little restaurant, the mongrel puppy cowering contentedly on the floor beneath the table. Bob, during the 12 months' acquaintanceship, had twice asked Norma to marry him and had both times been refused.

COUNTY CLUB WOMEN LEAVE TODAY FOR ENCAMPMENT

COUNCIL MEET WILL BE HELD IN OPEN AIR

Two days of fun are in store for women of the Gray county demonstration clubs. Women from all parts of the county are leaving today for the Gething ranch, near Laketon. Miss Myrtle Miller, home demonstration agent, left this morning about 10 o'clock for the ranch. It was not known how many campers would attend, but it was expected that the crowd would be diminished because of the hard winds.

About 2 o'clock this afternoon, the regular monthly council meeting was held in the open. The program for the coming year was to be discussed, and plans for entries in the Gray County Free fair were to be formulated.

Swimming, games, and stunts are to be diversions after the meeting, and prizes will be offered this evening to the club giving the best stunt.

Tomorrow morning, two demonstrations will be given. L. R. Bruner will demonstrate Skell gas for cooking and refrigeration, and Jack Mistot will demonstrate the making of salads with Wesson oil. The women will return to their homes tomorrow afternoon.

There will be plenty of good food throughout the camp. Basket lunches were served at noon today, and this evening, sandwiches, salad, and Dr. Pepper will be served. The drinks have been furnished by the Dr. Pepper Bottling company. A stove and a refrigerator have been provided for the group by the companies whose demonstrations will be given tomorrow morning.

MRS. LEWIS GIVES PARTY

Mrs. Marvin Lewis entertained in her home Tuesday afternoon for the benefit of the Pampa public library. Mrs. Walter Butler, Mrs. Paul Kasiske, Mrs. Frank Fore, and Mrs. Mack Graham joined in the games of bridge. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

MRS. STEWART CHOSEN HEAD OF AUXILIARY

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 27. (P)—Mrs. Van Stewart of Perryton was chosen president of the auxiliary of the American Legion, department of Texas, at the state convention here yesterday.

Other officers: vice-presidents, Mrs. C. S. Hutchins, Greenville; Mrs. I. H. Barts, Bryan; Mrs. W. J. Leslie, Bay City; Mrs. Dallas Higgins, Cleburne; Mrs. Will M. Denton, Amarillo; Mrs. C. L. Austin, Austin, re-elected; and Mrs. F. H. Carpenter, Sour Lake, re-elected president, was named national committeewoman.

REVIVAL DRAWS MANY PERSONS TO GATHERINGS

More than 100 persons attended the revival service yesterday morning at the First Methodist church, and the house was comfortably full at the evening hour.

The Rev. Ray N. Johnson's address at the morning hour was principally to church members. He used as his subject, "The Call of Christ to the Christians."

"A Quartet of Fools," was the subject for the evening services, these being "the atheist or scoffing fool, the disobedient fool, the industrial fool who builds on material alone, and the runaway fool." In connection with the last point, the story was told of the prodigal son, and the Rev. Lance Webb sang "The Prodigal Son."

Four decisions were made. "How a Great man Threw Away Salvation" is the subject announced for this evening.

NOT GUILTY

Ward Stratton was found not guilty on a charge of aggravated assault by a jury in county court this morning after a few minutes deliberation.

Mrs. Frank A. Shields and son, Jerry, of Midland were visiting Mrs. Robert F. Hodge last week.

PICNIC PLANNED BUT POSTPONED FOR DEVOTIONAL

The Merry Fu club of the intermediate department, Methodist church, had planned a picnic and swimming party for Wednesday afternoon. This they postponed, however, in favor of a devotional in connection with the revival service now in progress.

Opening the meeting was the Lord's prayer and a song, "What a Friend We have in Jesus."

Mrs. Joe M. Smith, leader of the group, then took charge of a devotional on "Love," using as her text the third chapter of First John. A circle of prayer followed, and the girls joined in singing, "Love Lifted Me."

Those attending were Jean Shore, Jeannette Ricketts, Burton Tolbert, Valerie Austin, Anne Mae Fleisher, Phyllis Smith, Dorothy Harris, Maxine Furner, Nina Fisher, Sybil Husted, and Elcise Mitchell.

JUNIORS ARE IN CHARGE OF CHURCH MEET

The junior Christian Endeavor boys and girls of the First Christian church were in charge of the prayer service at that church Wednesday evening, and, at the close of the program, served watermelon to 55 persons.

Following the opening devotional by Betty Jo Townsend and Endeavor songs by the group, Jackie Hurst read the twenty-third Psalm and Betty Jo Townsend and June Stevens sang a duet.

All joined in the Lord's prayer. While standing, the Endeavor group sang a prayer song, "Into My Heart Jesus Came."

Mrs. E. B. Stevens, leader of the group, was in charge of a lesson on "Why We Should Be a Christian." Lorene Blanchley gave a reading, "God's Heart: Inside of Me 55." Mrs. J. B. Townsend was in charge of the music.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Hollycye Sellers Hinkle

Canned foods will be an important feature of the Gray County Free Fair to be held here in September. There will be cash prizes and blue ribbons, and there will be scores of other entries that will give stiff competition to the prize-winners.

Canning has its champions just as surely as an out-of-door sport has its champions. It takes a good cook to can well.

Many of the champions in canning, says Alice Blake, who has informed herself on the methods used by winners, use the short-bell method. Among these, she says, are Mrs. Lester Barker who won 24 jelly and jam prizes at the Central States fair last year; Mrs. C. E. Osborne, the jelly champion of Iowa; Mrs. B. G. Fearnow, winner of 12 jelly and jam prizes at the Virginia State fair; Mrs. Porter Luker, winner of 3 jelly and jam prizes at the Texas State fair, and many others.

The following recipe is a popular one:

Ripe Peach Jelly
3 cups (1 1/2 lbs.) juice
6 1/2 cups (2 3/4 lbs.) sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin
Remove pits from about 3 1/2 pounds peaches. Do not peel. Crush peaches, thoroughly. Add 1-2 cup water, bring to boil, cover, and simmer 5 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1-2 minute, remove from fire skin, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 9 eight-ounce glasses.

Mrs. G. W. Lunsford and daughter, Miss Daphnia Lunsford, returned yesterday from Chickasha, Okla., where they visited for about two weeks. They are former residents of that city.

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

Four people have purchased the Buick Eight to every one buyer of any other of the thirteen eights in Buick's price range during the twelve months since its introduction. This four-to-one preference—in days when America is scrutinizing values more closely than ever before—fully confirms the value leadership of The Eight as Buick Builds It. It is this outstanding value which causes 89 per cent of all Buick owners to buy Buicks again and again.

*Buick has sold four times as many eights as the next most popular eight in its field, August 1, 1930, through July, 1931, according to official figures by R. L. Polk & Company.

MISSING MAN IS RELEASED

Chicago 'Racing Baron' Seems Surprised to Learn Ransom Demanded.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27. (AP)—John J. "Jack" Lynch, wealthy turfman who was reported kidnaped last Thursday, returned to his home in Lake Geneva, Wis., early today in his own car and unharmed.

Lynch said he was released last night by his captors on a street in Kankakee, Ill. After waiting five minutes, as his captors ordered, he took off his blindfold and started his car toward Chicago where he picked up a friend and drove on to Lake Geneva.

He denied money had been paid for ransom or that any had been promised. In fact, he exhibited surprise when he was told that $250,000 had been demanded for his release.

"Nothing was ever said to me during the time I was held," he said, "about my business or any ransom. I cannot understand this."

Was Treated Well
Lynch said his captors treated him like "an old friend." After forcing him into their car along the Wisconsin highway, he said, they blindfolded him and drove about for about two hours.

"The next thing I knew was that we were in a house somewhere, and I had a nice soft bed to sleep on," he continued. "They gave me plenty of good food, but kept me blindfolded or wearing heavily colored glasses continuously."

Last night, he said, they took him from the house, drove about for an hour or so, then put him into his own car, and turned him free.

Meanwhile, Alphonse Capone, listed as "public enemy No. 1" by the Chicago crime commission, was sought again, this time in connection with the kidnaping.

Patrick J. Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney telephoned the order for Capone's arrest from Lake Geneva, where he has been making an investigation of the Lynch case, saying that the gang chief was suspected of a direct connection with negotiations for Lynch's release. Capone was reported to have agreed to pay off the abductors with $50,000 raised by the missing man's friends, and Roche said if Capone refused to name the persons to whom the ransom was paid he could be prosecuted as an accessory.

Colonel Lindbergh then made a trip to Kasumigaura naval base where he landed yesterday, to inspect his plane. He explained that faulty spark plugs, which became fouled with oil, were responsible for the motor trouble in the Kurile Islands.

Lindbergh decided today to have his plane overhauled. The mechanical work will be done at Kasumigaura naval base, near here. The overhauling will begin after the six-day program of receptions and other functions in their honor and will be completed while the couple go sight-seeing about Japan.

The colonel said there was nothing seriously wrong with the plane but an overhauling was due after its journey of more than 7,000 miles from New York. He indicated he was anxious to get the work under way as soon as possible.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 27. (AP)—Tammany Hall, faced with defection in its own ranks in the legislative battle over the New York City investigation, was looking today for peace with Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Well-informed democratic circles believe the governor will give Tammany the opportunity to heal the "break" between them, possibly as early as Monday, by sending a message to the special legislative session which will give Tammany the chance to ask extension of the New York City investigation to upstate, republican-controlled communities.

LeFors Club to Battle Magnolia

The LeFors baseball team still thinks the Magnolia Mags are not so hot so they have challenged the winners of the Gray-Carson league to a game Sunday afternoon on Mag field. Manager Raburn Burke readily accepted the challenge and turned the Mag team over to Rusty Cahill who will lead the Mags in Sunday's encounter. Burke will probably be on his vacation.

Manager Joe Doby of the LeFors nine is liable to throw a surprise nine at the Mags who will not take any chances and will throw Charlie Kock on the mound with the giant Bozeman behind the bat. Manager Doby refused to name his hurler when approached last night. "The Mags are wondering who will beat them for the first time this season and they sure will find out Sunday afternoon," Manager Doby said.

The Mags have won 16 games this season and have had no losses to their credit. The team is well balanced and has worked together the entire season. Odus Mitchell and Shorty Morgan will be in Sunday's lineup, Burke said yesterday.

The Texas Aggies have opened negotiations for a football game with the University of Hawaii, to be played at Honolulu during the Christmas holidays.

"I'm older than you think I am..."

"BUT I remember some of the things that I heard when I was younger.

"I was told to watch out for one of those so-called friends who is so mighty glad to see you today—almost going to hug you; and the next time you see her, is holding her head high up in the air and won't even speak to you.

"I was thinking about this while I was enjoying a CHESTERFIELD cigarette. You know, I have been smoking CHESTERFIELDS quite a long time, and they are not like some of our friends—one thing today and another thing tomorrow. They are always the same—always mild—always so pleasing in taste. They just satisfy all the time.

"By the way, that reminds me of something. I was playing bridge recently with a girl friend of mine and two men, and after we finished the game they began lambasting a whole lot of things and folks. Some of the talk was right funny, you couldn't help laughing; but, really, they pulled down a whole lot of things, and didn't build up anything.

"And that reminded me of a salesman who called to see me the other day to tell me something about CHESTERFIELD. The thing that pleased me more than anything else was that he didn't lambast and cuss out any other cigarette; but, of course, he thought that CHESTERFIELD was the best... And I rather agree with him. They do satisfy."

GOOD... they've got to be good!
