HEARING RUMORS

Will Not Molest Toll Road as Long as New One Is Open; Will Help U. S. Enforce Regulation.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 27. (AP)—An effort has been made to close the bridge against any traffic whatsoever, the order said. "The same is now open in obedience to an executive order, dated July 16. There are rumors of other attempts to close the bridge and approaches.

"In the passage of the federal road act provisions were expressly made that no tolls whatsoever should be collected on any federal aid project.

"It becomes my duty as chief executive to enforce the law of the state providing for a free bridge and a free highway to the people traveling over said bridge and highway and also to aid in enforcement of the law of the United States in the contractual relations, expressed and implied, so made between the national and state governments for construction, maintenance and free use of the bridge and its approaches.

Last night the governor said that traffic might move over the toll bridge as long as the free bridge remains open. A federal injunction restrains interference with toll bridge traffic.

Murray said the law could best be enforced by the military power of the state.

Two Hundred Feet Wide

The military zone for the free bridge, the order said, covers the Texas boundary line and extends northward to the point of divergence of the road leading to the toll bridge, over which the governor July 23 declared martial law.

The free bridge martial law zone will be 200 feet wide.

The martial law is extended over the zone wholly to prevent blocking of the bridge or road and to prevent all obstructions being placed on or near the bridge or the approaches which in any way would obstruct free passage," the order said.

"The national guards are ordered to maintain military control over the zone for that express purpose and that only of continuing the free passage to the end that both the state and federal laws and the contract between state and federal governments shall be upheld."

Guards were declared under direct command of the governor as commander-in-chief and directed to recognize no authority save and except an order of the president of the United States or that of the supreme court of the United States.

Haskett Seeks to Save Buffaloes

DALLAS, July 27. (AP)—Fred L. Haskett, former Children's newspaper editor, planned to leave here today for Austin to seek aid of legislators in having the Goodnight ranch, near Childress, designated as a state park in order to preserve the Goodnight herd of 206 buffaloes, the largest remaining privately owned herd in the United States. The herd was collected by the late Col. Charles Goodnight, pioneer West Texas ranchman.

Haskett said chambers of commerce in West Texas cities were being asked to assist in preserving the herd from being killed or disposed of to owners who might take the buffalo out of Texas.

PRESIDENT OF CHILE RUNS FROM WRATH OF CITIZENRY

Many Death Threats Heard in Meeting of Deputies Who Accept Resignation.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 27. (AP)—Carlos Ibanez, who resigned yesterday as president of Chile, fled the presidential palace early today by automobile, heading for the port of San Antonio, apparently to board a destroyer or passenger ship.

Gathering together a few belongings and some personal documents, he said good-bye to Pedro Opazo, who was chosen acting president to succeed him, and left Moneda palace at 1:20 a. m. in the automobile of General Siquedra, chief of the garrison of Santiago. With him were a few army officers and other friends.

Because many persons have been attempting to kill Ibanez before he had a chance to leave the country, the greatest secrecy surrounded his departure.

The streets were deserted when the president left Santiago, so the getaway was simple. About the only persons aboard were troops on guard at the palace.

Prosecution Demanded

To insure the safety of the retiring president was one of the first problems of the new regime. The feeling of the public was plainly shown at last night's chamber of deputies meeting. After the deputies had accepted his resignation and had granted him safe conduct, so great a clamor was raised by the galleries that the vote was reconsidered, his request to leave Chile was rejected and his prosecution was demanded.

Ibanez, self-styled "man of destiny" who once said he enjoyed divine guidance in ruling, was under guard at the presidential palace while this was going on.

After the exciting chamber of deputies meeting, Santiago quieted down considerably. The senate already had approved the resignation and the safe conduct, and no further action was taken legislatively last night.

Civilian Regime

Today Chile has for the first time in four years a civilian government. Opazo, who was president of the senate, will function as president of the nation until elections are held. A popular cabinet was formed with Ezequiel Montero as premier and minister of interior and Pedro Blanquier, the country's idol because of the record he made recently in his eight-day premiership, as minister of finance.

A student at Calcutta, India, was executed for the murder of an English colonel last December. A general strike has been declared in protest.

Dr. Klein believes next prosperity to be stable. U. S. Commerce Department has started out to remove All Guesswork.

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, believes the United States is climbing out of the depression and making progress toward preventing future business declines.

"We are obviously coming out of the depression now," Dr. Klein said in a radio address last night, "and at the same time we are seeing the basis laid for an enduring, stable prosperity that will resist another unbalance."

Stressing the need for accurate statistics and their correct interpretation, he said "better knowledge as to all phases of the intricate operation of industry, wider distribution of ascertained facts, and institution of effective research into economic factors will make for business stability."

The commerce department's newly revised survey of current business was held up as a splendid guide for business, but the speaker said additional figures always will be demanded.

Statistics were needed, he said, showing how stocks of finished goods were running, the fluctuations in the total of real estate and personal credits extended in the country, unemployment, and what new forms of transportation were doing to the business fabric.

"Our whole trouble in this slump," he asserted, "originated largely in the fact that we had too much guesswork. Too much easy-going playing hunches. And so I do not believe it possible to overstate the importance of these new statistical studies to American enterprise."

"During the last ten years, American business has been making a fine and at least partially successful struggle to develop and apply scientific methods to its own conduct. The art of business management is still surrounded by much mystery, but nevertheless there has been a tremendous evolution of system experience in this field."

Frank Robinson, Driver, Is But Slightly Injured—Walks to Farm House to Obtain Help.

Hewitt Stewart, water well contractor, suffered serious injuries early this morning when the automobile in which he and Frank N. Robinson were riding smashed into a culvert 5 miles southeast of Pampa on the LeFors road. Robinson was slightly bruised.

The accident was due to a defect that suddenly developed in the steering gear it was said. The machine was demolished. After crashing into the culvert it overturned twice.

Robinson walked a mile to C. F. Baggerman's house to telephone for an ambulance but connections were not completed and the two drove into Pampa. Stewart was brought to Pampa hospital in a Malone ambulance.

His hip joint was dislocated, and he suffered deep gashes on his limbs and face. He was unconscious from loss of blood and a severe head injury when he arrived at the hospital.

Robinson owner of the automobile, was driving it. The accident occurred about 4 o'clock this morning. Robinson is a salesman for the Hinderliter Tool & Supply company.

Three Persons Die in Crossing Crash

The dead: Jack Halley, about 35, Sand Spring, Okla., Halley's 12-year-old son, E. G. Garner, 33, Linday, Calif. A small coupe in which the three were riding, apparently owned and driven by Garner, was struck by a northbound Frisco passenger train shortly before 2 a. m.

Abilene's Milk War Terminated

ABILENE, July 27. (AP)—A ten-day milk price "war" here has been terminated, new schedules upward having been posted over the weekend by three creameries, with raw milk dealers generally in line.

The new prices are 10 cents wholesale and 12 cents retail per quart; five and seven cents per pint; and bulk milk, 35 cents per gallon. Under the cut of July 15, when prices went to the lowest level ever known here, schedules fell as low as seven cents and nine cents per quart. Even the new schedule, however, does not carry milk to the level existing prior to July 15, when a quart wholesale for 11 cents and retailed for 13 cents.

Creamery men said today they were posting a new schedule on butter fat, paying the farmer 60 cents over the price prevailing the past 10 days. Prior to July 15 a 65-cent price was maintained.

Okemah Jailor Is Shot During Riot

OKEMAH, Okla., July 27. (AP)—At least 100 of the 200 inmates of the county jail last night by an uproar among twenty prisoners, Olin Derrick, jailor, was attacked by the leader of the commotion and shot through both legs by Mrs. Derrick when she was called to aid her husband.

The shooting occurred when Derrick grappled with Wayne Dougers, held for Colorado officers as a car thief suspect, who hit the jailor over the head with a radiator valve when he entered the cell.

Stunned by the blow, Derrick fell to the floor and Dougers pounced upon him. The officer called to his wife for aid. She rushed in with a pistol, and Derrick told her to shoot his attacker. As she fired, Dougers pushed the jailor into the fire of fire. The bullet grazed Dougers' leg and passed through both of Derrick's legs.

County and city officers rushed to the jail, on the fourth floor of the court house, and quickly quelled the fracas.

ARMED CITIZENS SEEKING SLAYER OF TWO OFFICERS

Raymondville Constable and His Deputy Cut Down Last Night in Battle.

RAYMONDVILLE, July 27. (AP)—A cordon of armed men were hung around the Raymondville section of the Rio Grande valley today as officers sought a man who last night shot and killed two Raymondville officers and wounded a third.

The officers who were slain were W. F. Haygood, 58, constable of precinct two, and his deputy, Francisco Cisneros, 25. Jose Guzman, 24, county jailer, was shot in the hip.

The officers were patrolling the Raymondville Mexican section last night in their car when they encountered a man who had been arrested for bootlegging here and from whom Cisneros had taken a gun last week.

The alleged bootlegger leaped from his car, according to Guzman, and ran to that of the officers.

Before the officers could draw their weapons he opened fire. One bullet struck Haygood in the body. Six more killed Cisneros. Another clipped Guzman's lip.

Darting into the shadows of the street, the assailant fled into the darkness, leaving a woman in his car.

The woman was taken to police headquarters but refused to talk. Police said she had been living with the slayer of the officers for about a year.

Immediately after the shooting, border patrolmen and other officers were warned to watch for the slayer in the belief that he might try to escape into Mexico. No report was heard of him, however, and officers believe that he is hiding in the vicinity of Raymondville.

SLAYER SOUGHT

Bullet Is Believed to Have Been Meant for Police-man, Who Denies Having Used His Pistol.

AMARILLO, July 27. (Special) Bill Elston, about 25, of Panhandle, is in an Amarillo hospital with a bullet in the base of his brain as a result of a mysterious shooting at a dance hall near this city last night. Physicians said today he would not recover.

Elston is said to have run as two city officers started to leave the dance hall with him in their custody. Investigators said the shot was fired from a small caliber gun while both officers were armed with guns of larger caliber. The police department also issued a statement that the city officer's gun had not been fired.

No charges had been filed. The officers were armed with a complaint signed by a local girl, charging Elston with criminal assault.

The 15-year-old girl went to the police station early Sunday night and filed a complaint against Elston in which she charged she was assaulted near the dance hall and was struck over the head with a beer bottle.

E. R. Murr and Sid Harper, city officers, were given papers for the arrest of Elston and they went to Jack Hall's place seeking a county officer to serve them. The officers found Elston before they found the Panhandle man and one of them held the Panhandle man while the other went to look for the county officer.

Elston broke away from the officer and began running among the parked cars near the dance hall while the officer pursued. A shot was fired and Elston fell and the officer was so close behind that he fell on top of the wounded man.

Officers were working on the theory late today that someone was shooting at the officer who was chasing Elston.

The bullet was extracted from Elston's forehead this morning in the hospital.

Capone Soon to Know His Fate

CHICAGO, July 27. (AP)—Alphonse Capone's day of reckoning with the government is close at hand.

There has been considerable conjecture as to what length of term the gang chief will receive when he comes before Federal Judge Wilkeson on Thursday of this week, but one thing appeared certain and that was that he won't fly in an airplane to the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kans.

United States Marshal H. C. W. Laubheimer said the government had rejected an offer from an attorney company to transport all prisoners to Leavenworth by plane, beginning with Capone.

Capone is to be sentenced on his pleas of guilty to charges of violating the income tax law and for conspiracy to break the prohibition act. Meanwhile he has been enjoying a final spurge of freedom at Bronck Harbor, Mich.

NEWSPAPER STABILITY AND SERVICE

Community service by a newspaper is dependent in large measure upon its financial stability. Without that stability, it cannot measure up to its opportunities and obligations. Many people imagine that anyone can make a profit with a newspaper, but the fact is that newspapers are among the most difficult of all institutions to operate successfully.

We quote George I. Seitz, Texas publisher, along this line:

"I would rather write about newspapers than any of the fine and useful institutions of modern culture and civilization. I like to think of them as alert sentinels of the public conscience, as crusaders for progress and prosperity, as unselfish champions of the right and traditional enemies of the wrong. They are all of that, and more; but if they survive, they must be business institutions, too.

"However well managed newspaper plants may be, they seldom earn returns commensurate with the time and effort and talent expended. Indeed, were they not slaves to the subtle incense of printers' ink, did they not love their work more and money less, there would be no newspaper men and therefore no newspapers.

"Yet business men—men who wouldn't think of asking the druggist to donate a five-cent drink—will resort to any device to slip into the newspaper advertising camouflaged as news. They forget that newspapers are not some form of privately endowed philanthropy; they do not stop to think they ask a business institution to donate the only commodity it has for sale. (Subscriptions are obtained at an actual loss, for the business purpose of making valuable the space offered to advertisers. It costs any newspaper more to print and mail a year's production than the reader pays for it.)

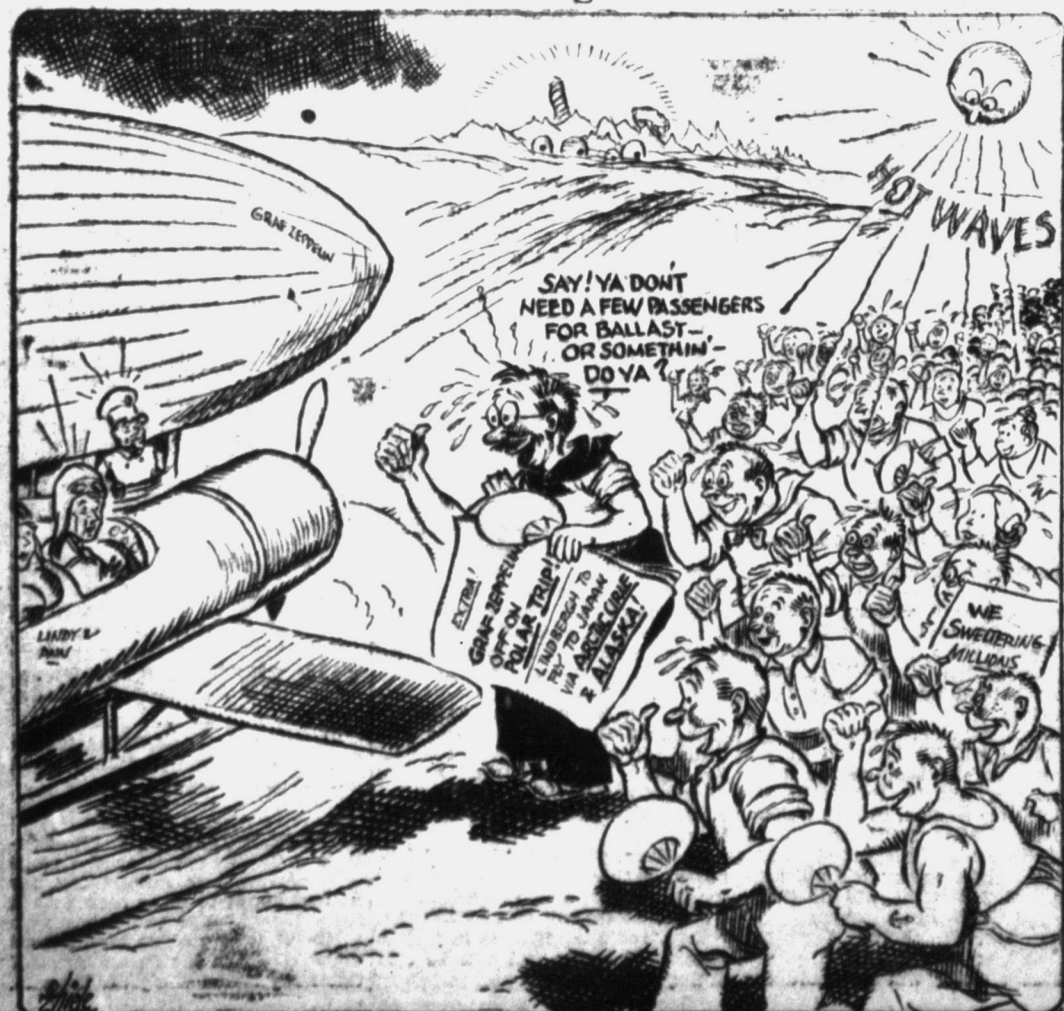

Frequently good news stories are ruined by almost ludicrous attempts to write into the meekly concealed advertising. At the present time, the publicity for a splendid and worthy movement, a movement to which every newspaper is pleased to lend its influence, is disfigured by persistent mention of its leader's business connection. Even when the newspapers submit to the imposition, no good purpose is served because the public sees—not the guiding genius of a great, progressive program—but the slapstick antics of a publicity hound.

"There are two very good reasons why advertising should be presented in paid space. First, the advertiser who succeeds in 'slipping in' unpaid advertising annoys and irritates the reader who feels he has been made the victim of a fraud; and, second, the newspaper that consistently permits advertising to appear in its news columns ceases to be a business institution and therefore soon ceases to be a newspaper.

"Modern newspapers have a larger capital investment than the average business institution, skilled craftsmen must be employed, and large overhead expense must be met. Properly supported, and with its advertising space sold at a legitimate profit, the newspaper can render the essential and constructive service expected by a critical public. Without that support and paid advertising, it quickly becomes a miserable reminder of the splendid institution that might have been."

The Hitch-Hiking Season!

Priests Can Flee Mexican State or Stick to Posts

MEXICO CITY, July 27. (AP)—Catholic priests in the state of Vera Cruz were free today to decide for themselves whether to leave their churches or to continue their religious offices in defiance of Governor Adalberto Tejeda and of the recently enacted state religious law.

Papal Nuncio Nuz y Flores announced he had ordered Bishop Rafael Guisay y Valencia of Vera Cruz to inform the priests of his diocese that they might determine for themselves whether to stay in their churches or flee the state. Meanwhile reports reached here from Jalapa, capital of the state, of a riot late yesterday in which several persons were said to have been injured, and of a reputed attempt on the life of the Vicar general, Pedro Castillo y Escobar.

Bishop Guisay said two men entered the house of the vicar general and attempted to kill him, but he escaped and was in hiding. Reports of the riot in Jalapa gave no details. It was said that all churches there and in the city of Vera Cruz were closed. Four Jalapa churches were damaged by fire Saturday as a result of mob violence. The disturbances have accompanied Governor Tejeda's attempt to enforce a state law which limits to thirteen the number of priests allowed to exercise their religious functions in the state, which has a population of about 1,300,000.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
 The subject of the lesson-sermon was "Truth" in all Churches of Christ, Sunday, July 26. Zechariah 8:3 furnished the golden text. "Thus saith the Lord; I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth, and the mountain of the Lord of hosts the holy mountain." These passages from the Bible (Deuteronomy 32:3-4) were included in the service. "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock. His work is perfect; for all His ways are judgment; a Good of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He."

The following citation from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, was also read (p. 286). "We must not seek the immutable and immortal through the finite, mutable, and mortal, and so depend upon belief instead of demonstration, for this is fatal to a knowledge of Science. The understanding of truth gives full faith in truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings."

ATTENDANCE AT SUNDAY SCHOOL IS DECREASED

Some FEMINE Fancies

The two girls were all excited this morning as they told of their experiences in Washington and other points in the United States.

There was a continual round of entertainment for the 465 convention guests from the time they arrived in Washington to the time they left after the week's gathering.

It was an unusual honor, however, that came to the two girls now in Pampa in receiving an invitation to attend the formal dance given by the Delta Sigma fraternity at the Mayflower hotel.

Then there were tours to all the public buildings of interest in Washington. They also had a ride on the Potomac, and trips to Arlington, Mt. Vernon, and Alexandria, as well as to the naval academy of Annapolis.

And here is what the girls thought is quite a joke: Between the office building for the senators and representatives and the capitol building is an underpass. The senators are permitted to ride through this underpass, but the poor representatives have to walk.

Miss Olson, as daughter of a former representative from Wyoming, received a number of privileges not granted to the entire group, and was shown some of the interesting sights by Mrs. Ambrose Ross, daughter-in-law of the former governor of Wyoming.

The girls, after leaving Washington, visited in Chicago, Kansas City, Colorado, and New Mexico. In Colorado they were joined by Miss Lyon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lyon, who accompanied them to New Mexico.

"We didn't get lost a time—much to the surprise of our families," declared both girls.

OREGON GUESTS HERE Mrs. David McKee and children, Owen David, Allen, and Helen Catherine, of Salem, Ore., arrived in Pampa yesterday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Cecil. Mrs. McKee is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Cecil.

FALSE ALARM The fire department made a run to the northwest part of the city at noon today, but the reported fire proved to be a false alarm. Chief Clyde Glick said.

Greta Garbo—at 17 and Today

Remember this little bathing girl, version of 1887, on the left? Yes, it's she—the famous Greta Garbo, at 17, when she was just a homely home-town girl and her name was Greta Gustafson. But then she came to Hollywood, and Gustafson became Garbo, and Garbo became that mysterious and charming young woman shown on her latest picture at the right.

SLIGHTLY MORE ARE REPORTED BY METHODISTS

Sunday school attendance was considerably decreased at practically all local churches Sunday. The Methodists, however, reported an attendance of 390, an increase of five over the Sunday preceding.

There were 107 at the Central Baptist church, 9 at the Episcopal, 265 at the First Christian, 99 at the Presbyterian, and 381 at the First Baptists.

Services at the Church of Christ continue as usual despite the fact that Jesse F. Wiseman, minister, is conducting a meeting in Clayton, N. M. Central Baptists reported 14 additions to the church. The Rev. R. L. King, who has been conducting services at the Southside Baptist mission for two weeks, preached both sermons and officiated for baptism of 13 persons Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Saunders' farm.

Twelve Violent Deaths in State

By the Associated Press Twelve persons were known to have met violent deaths in Texas in a series of homicides, wrecks and accidents during the week-end. Automobile injuries and burns headed the list of fatalities with three each.

Mildred Ecker, 15, Amarillo. Mrs. Theresa Ecker, Amarillo. Floyd Flynn, 25, San Antonio. Frank W. Kendrick, 27, Houston. Raymond Abshat, 7, Dallas.

Kendrick, the Evker girl and her mother died of burns. Kendrick was fatally burned when his plane fell and caught fire in the outskirts of Houston. Mrs. Ecker was fatally burned when she attempted to rescue her children from flames which started in her Amarillo home when a jar of gasoline exploded in the hands of her daughter, Mildred.

Flynn and Harker died from knife wounds inflicted during altercations. Private Clinton was fatally injured when he dived into shallow water and Hilliard drowned near Texas City. Davis died of brain hemorrhage several hours after he was struck by a hoe.

MAYOR BADLY HURT PORT LAVACA, July 27. (AP)—Mayor A. Henington, of Port Lavaca, was probably fatally injured last night in an automobile collision on the highway near Edna. His wife received serious injuries. The accident happened when a carload of negroes attempted to pass a truck. Mr. and Mrs. Henington were pinned under their car when it overturned. Several of the negroes were seriously injured.

DUMAS, July 27. (AP)—Preparations to snuff out a fire at the No. 1 Jones of the Dana Oil and Gas company and Jim Cloud, Inc., 12 miles northeast of Dumas, which caught fire from the engine while the well was being cleaned out Sunday afternoon, were under way today with Tex Thornton, explosives expert, in charge.

The well was producing more than 100 barrels of oil and 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day. It is known as the "crevice well" because of a crack in the formation that required several months to fill before the hole could be completed.

Kilgore Fire Does Heavy Damage KILGORE, July 27. (AP)—The large portion of a block in the business district lay in ruins today after Kilgore's second business section blaze in as many Sundays.

Fire, believed to have been caused by defective wiring in a theater building razed seven business establishments, doing approximately $50,000 damage early yesterday. The theater, a barber shop, cafe, grocery store, confectionery, dance hall, and drug store were destroyed.

Many Attorneys Here for Court Attorneys from many Panhandle cities flocked to Pampa this morning to attend the opening of 14th district court for an eight-week session.

Judge Clifford Bray commenced reading the docket and setting cases at 10 o'clock. Approximately 100 cases are scheduled for trial during this court session. Today and part of tomorrow will be required for reading the docket and setting cases.

Paris Predicts Colorful Autumn

LOW HEMS AND MANY FLARES MARK STYLES

By DIANA MERWIN (Associated Press Fashion Editor) PARIS, July 27. (AP)—Daytime frocks for early fall are as rich in color as an old-world master's canvas.

A new rich blue-green, Bordeaux red, and plum purple are among the outstanding tints, while tobacco and wine browns, a warm taupe grey, and a brilliant blue suggesting sapphire are also seen. Most of the colors bespeak the spirit of the harvest season.

Marcosans, heavy crepe de chine, featherweight wools, and velvets are outstanding materials, since the new fall fabrics have not yet made their appearance. Most of the frocks are designed with slightly longer skirts, close-fitting at the hips and flaring near the neckline.

A number of them have fur-trimmed scarves or waist-length jackets to match, giving them a lightweight wrap for cool days. A wine red jersey frock with a white crepe vestee has a pert red velvet waistlength jacket buttoning high about the throat and edged with black astrakan.

Another of blue-green wool, designed with a flaring skirt, has a wide scarf of the same material with the ends tossing over the shoulders, edged with dark brown caracul.

Vestees and tight undersleeves of contrasting light color are smart new notes on early frocks. Black marocain and rosin frocks are designed with white crepe de chine lace—trimmed vestees and tight white sleeves reaching to the elbow to meet the flaring black upper sleeve.

Pink-purple crepes have vestees and undersleeves of ivory or cream. Frocks of taupe-grey are often trimmed with deep brick-orange intrusions to enliven the effect.

Thornton to Shoot Out Well Blaze DUMAS, July 27. (AP)—Preparations to snuff out a fire at the No. 1 Jones of the Dana Oil and Gas company and Jim Cloud, Inc., 12 miles northeast of Dumas, which caught fire from the engine while the well was being cleaned out Sunday afternoon, were under way today with Tex Thornton, explosives expert, in charge.

The well was producing more than 100 barrels of oil and 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day. It is known as the "crevice well" because of a crack in the formation that required several months to fill before the hole could be completed.

HEALTH OF WOMEN STUDENTS IS ONE OF MOST IMPORTANT AIMS OF TEXAS UNIVERSITY

(By LORENA DRUMMOND) AUSTIN, July 27.—With the opening of the new $400,000 women's activity building at the University of Texas in September, exceptional facilities for work in individual gymnastics will be available for the benefit of women students who need special attention, according to Miss Leah Gregg, adjunct professor of physical training.

Individual gymnastics have taken the place of the work in physical training formerly known as correctives, and the specially adapted equipment in the new building is expected to augment the efficiency of the classes to a great extent. Corrective work, that is, physical training designed to benefit students who are physically defective, either organically, in the matter of posture or by reason of some chronic ailment, has been offered at the university for the last seven years. At the beginning of each session, new students are given a thorough physical examination by university physicians. Those who are organically or posturally defective are assigned to the corrective, or individual gymnastics, classes, and additional cases of bad posture or chronic ailments discovered in regular physical training classes are added to these from time to time. In the "repair department," as the individual gymnastics classes are known, each of these students is given exercises which are designed for her particular ailment, whether it be fallen arches, round shoulders, sunken chest, or some deeper-seated disorder.

In addition to the classes of special exercises, there are several in which the girls enrolled do nothing but rest. That is, under supervision, they sleep or rest for a one-hour period a day. These classes are organized for the benefit of girls who are physically unable to take even the lightest of exercises. But being sent to the repair department does not mean that a student is definitely placed for the remainder of the year. As soon as sufficient improvement is noted in the examinations which are given regularly, she is again sent to the usual physical training classes. In fact, the enrollment in the individual gymnastics class each year, amounting to between 250 and 300 girls, about 75 per cent is discharged before the year is up. This percentage should indicate to the most casual observer that the individual gymnastics accomplish a great deal in remedying common postural and even serious organic troubles.

ILEANA IS ON HONEYMOON TO TRANSYLVANIA

SINAI, Rumania, July 27. (AP)—Prince Anton and Princess Ileana were on their wedding journey today, and the peasants who thronged Sinai yesterday were on their way back home, traveling bareback and by ox-cart.

The Gypsy musicians who made merry for the wedding have disappeared from the streets, and gay costumes have been put away. Sinai is getting back to normal—or will when it has caught up on its sleep.

After the brilliant pageantry of the wedding, the bride and bridegroom left for Castle Bran in Transylvania, where they will spend several days. Then they go to London for a spell, and from there they'll fly—in their wedding gift airplane from King Carol—to their castle at Freiburg, Germany. The prince is an expert aviator.

Ileana, daughter of the late King Ferdinand and Marie, now dowager queen, and Anton, seventh son of Archduke Leopold Salvator of Hapsburg, were married in the Palace of Pelesh, a romantic looking castle among the pine trees in Sinai's hills.

JIM ELLIOTT LITERALLY "THROWS GAME AWAY" SUNDAY

WILD PITCH LETS IN RUN IN 9TH INNING

Lucky Break Sends Cubs to Second Place; Robins Split Doubleheader.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

The phrase "he threw the game away" is heard often enough in baseball but it took Big Jim Elliott of the Phillies to show a few thousand Chicago fans the fullest meaning of the words.

Elliott, ace of the Phillie mound staff, came into yesterday's game with the Cubs in the ninth inning. The score was tied at 1-1 after a brilliant duel between Pat Malone and "Clay" Dudley but Charlie Grimm had just threatened to break up the battle by hitting a triple. "Jumbo Jim" faced only one batter and promptly cut loose with a wild pitch that allowed Teachout, running for Grimm, to scamper home with the run that brought Chicago a 2 to 1 victory.

Giants Were Idle

The triumph put the Cubs into second place in the National league standing, a half game ahead of the idle New York Giants, and left the Phils only three games ahead of the last-place Cincinnati club. The Reds divided a double-header with the Brooklyn Robins, playing a smart brand of baseball to capture the opening duel between Larry Benton and Hollis Thurston 4 to 0, although out of luck by succumbing to Dazzy Vance by a 5 to 0 count in the second. Vance allowed only three hits, fanned seven, and drove in two runs himself.

More expert pitching helped the Boston Braves reduce the St. Louis Cardinals to eight games by splitting a double-header. Fred Frankhouse and Sylvester Johnson battled ten scoreless innings of the first class before they both weakened and Boston won out in the eleventh, 3 to 2. Paul Derringer had the better of the argument with Bruce Cunningham in the second clash, winning his 12th game of the year 5 to 4.

Athletics Slaughtered

The Philadelphia Athletics, who had won 13 straight games at home, jumped to Cleveland for a Sunday game and saw their streak shattered by a 13 to 2 beating. A. J. Greig hopped all over Waite Hoyt, who lost his first game for Philadelphia, while Mel Harder held the A's to nine scattered hits. Earl Averill's 30th home run featured the 10-hit attack.

The St. Louis Browns downed Washington, 5 to 2.

The Chicago White Sox hit effectively to beat the New York Yankees 5 to 4 in the first game of a double bill. The Yanks, however, got their fire up after their first defeat by Chicago this season and ran up a 22 to 5 score in the second game before coasting to the finish.

Boston and Detroit likewise divided a pair of games. The Red Sox took the first in a tight ten-inning battle, 7 to 6, but the Tigers hammered out a 7 to 3 victory in the second.

BUFFALOES AND EXPORTERS PLAY TO 15-INNING TIE

Third Game of Play-Off Series Will Be Tonight; Houston Won First.

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Mark down another deadlock for Houston and Beaumont. Finishing in a tie for the first half championship after eight long, hot games, the Buffaloes and Exporters opened their first half-play-off series Saturday with Houston winning 3 to 2 but in the second of the five-game saw-off series played Sunday in Beaumont, these two teams battled 15 innings to a 4 to 4 tie. Both scored twice in the 15th inning, and the game was called on account of darkness. The third game is scheduled tonight in Houston.

Opening pitchers in the second game were Carleton for Houston and Wyatt for Beaumont, but neither finished. Jerome "Dizzy" Dean won for the Exporters in the first game, relieved Carleton in the seventh. Buck Marrow relieved Wyatt. The Buffaloes got away to a two-run lead when they scored in the fourth and again in the sixth. The Exporters came back to score in the seventh and eighth to tie the count. The next six innings were grueling, runless baseball with both clubs bearing down consistently.

Refuse to Fade

The Buffaloes opened the 15th with two runs, giving them what looked like a sure victory, and the second game of the series, but Del Baker's hustling Exporters refused to fade out as many anticipated, and instead fought back to score a pair of runs in their half of the 15th which was climaxed by a sensational steal home for the tying run by Joyner White. Beaumont rookie outfielder and the Texas league's leading base stealer. When he slid

BOY, 2, ENJOYS BUMPS

It will be many a day before his mother gets over the scare that Charles Lawhon Justo, above, aged 2, gave her. Just imagine Mrs. Justo's feelings when she glanced up as a relative's car sped down the driveway at Knoxville, Tenn., on a hurried trip, and saw her son perched on the rear bumper, clinging to the tail light. Oblivious of his precarious passenger, the driver took the curves at high speed. Finally, occupants of another car overtook him and shouted to him, besides being a little frightened, Charles was all right. "I just held on tight," he explained.

Horton Smith in Amazing Victory Over His Jinx

After almost a year and a half of futile campaigning, the erstwhile "Joplin Ghost" finally overtook his notorious jinx yesterday by winning the $10,000 St. Paul open championship on the tide of a record, par-shattering score of 278 strokes for the 72-hole jaunt for gold and fame over the Keller club layout.

The brilliant score which he carried with rounds of 69-69-67-73, carried him ahead of a brilliant field of par-smashers and gave him the first prize of $2,500 by three shots over the defending champion and runner-up, "Lighthouse Harry" Copper of Chicago.

There wasn't a happier fellow in the world of golf today than Smith. As soon as he was proclaimed victor, he grinned broadly and remarked: "Well, I guess I finally routed my jinx. I doubt if any one ever felt like I did during this depression."

It was Smith's first golfing conquest since the Orlando, Fla., open in the winter of 1930. When he captured that one, he was the "wonder boy" of professional golf, having galloped away with 13 championships during his winter campaign to jump from the ranks of the "also ran" golfers to the biggest money of American golf. But the jinx caught him there and held him in its clutch until he capped his stirring comeback yesterday.

YOUTH IS IDENTIFIED

SCARRED RING FINGER led to the identification today of a young man killed under the wheels of a freight train.

An employe of a salt mine here recognized the scar and summoned Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Sproles, of Yantis and they identified the body as that of their son, Luther.

The youth was killed Friday when he attempted to board a fast-moving freight train. He missed his footing and was thrown under the wheels. His parents said he was en route to Dallas to visit his sister.

Shaw Finds Food Plentiful in Russia

MOSCOW, July 27. (AP)—When George Bernard Shaw came here to see how Russia was getting along under the Soviet, he thought things were so bad he'd have to live in a tent.

To be prepared, he brought one along with him. Moreover, he had food, bedding and pillows in his duffel.

Shaw told today—as a joke on himself—in a speech last night in the concert hall of Columbia, attended by workers, writers and educators who were helping him to celebrate his seventy-fifth birthday.

"We were told there was no food, other necessities in Russia," said G. B. S. "After we crossed the border we found our equipment unnecessary, and we began throwing it away."

Shaw addressed his hearers as "comrades" and told them that when they had succeeded in their communist revolution, the other nations would follow fast in their footsteps.

"As an old socialist," he said, he saw on the faces of his audience, new look which one does not find in the west but which he hopes to see there."

Sheep and Goat Men at Session

SAN ANGELO, July 27. (AP)—A week of major livestock exhibitions opened here today with the arrivals of an expected 2,000 guests for the annual gathering of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' association. Sessions will open officially Tuesday morning. Five hundred animals are in the pens for the annual sale.

The executive committee of the sheep and goat raisers and officials of three livestock associations, the Texas sheep and goat raisers, the Texas Angora goat raisers, and American Angora goat raisers, met in separate sessions this afternoon.

The Texas Wool and Mohair Warehouse association is to meet July 30. The Texas Furriers' annual association will hold its session July 28. American goat breeders are to have an executive committee session. Pat More Lamb club directors and directors of the National Wool Marketing association from Texas and New Mexico also are scheduled to meet.

Fine Is Paid in Noted "Lawn" Case

The motorist who drove his automobile across the east lawn of the courthouse paid a $14.15 fine for that offense in justice court yesterday.

He would have paid more, said Sheriff Lon L. Blanton, who apprehended him, if he had not been made a good citizen. The man said that he was unaccustomed to the car he was driving and put the gear in second instead of in reverse, as he intended. He "rattled" the motor and was half-way across the lawn, before he could stop the machine. He then figured he would do more damage backing out than if he drove on across the lawn.

FRANCE HAS LUCK TO KEEP NET CROWN

She Must Develop Some New Blood to Replace Old Masters.

AUTREUIL, France, July 27. (AP)—For at least another year, France will hold the Davis cup, emblematic of international team tennis supremacy.

Led by little Henri Cochet, the French beat back a determined charge of Great Britain's youthful team in the challenge round yesterday by the narrow margin of three matches to two.

Only Cochet's magnificent play saved the day for France. His singles partner, Jean Borotra, the aging Basque, went down to double defeat, leaving Cochet to carry virtually the whole French burden. And the one-time ball boy of Lyons responded by whipping Henry W. (Bunny) Austin in his first singles match Friday, dominating play as he and his partner, Jacques Brugnon, won the doubles from George Patrick Hughes and Charles H. Kingsley on Saturday, and clinching the series in the final singles match against Frederick J. Perry, big British youngster, yesterday.

Great Britain, surprise victor over the United States in the interzone finals, entered the final day of play trailing two matches to one. But Austin quickly evened the count at 2-all with a convincing four-set victory over Borotra, 7-5, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5.

That left the issue squarely up to Cochet and Perry. Cochet won the first set, at 6-4, after a strenuous struggle but the British giant swept through the second at 6-1 to even the match. The fortunes of war shifted swiftly in the crucial third set before Cochet finally pulled it out of the fire at 8-7. The little Frenchman bounced into a 5-3 lead in the fourth set but Perry led 30-15 in the ninth game. Cochet worked the score to 30-30 and then to 40-30. Cochet's winning point, for game, set, match, and series came when Perry overhit the ball.

Although retaining the cup for the fifth successive year, France conclusively revealed that new blood must be found if the tri-color is to continue its hold for much longer.

Uncle Robbie finally has found a way to make his outfielders pay attention. . . . Those Brooklyn outfielders, you know, can be very inattentive. . . . Babe Herman used to hold excited arguments with the fans in the bleacher seats. . . . and Lefty O'Doul would seem greatly uninterested out there part of the time, just standing and thinking. . . . and sometimes not even thinking. . . . Uncle Robbie would wave to his men that a left-handed batter was coming up. . . . and would they please move? . . . and the outfielders wouldn't see him.

Your Uncle has remedied that now. . . . He has a police whistle and when he wants to move an outfielder he sounds off.

Sometimes when O'Doul or Herman slams one into the next covey, Robbie pipes up with his whistle in high glee.

But now they slip the poor old chap With vim and self-reliance.

To which your correspondent would like to add: In ancient days the umpire's ways Were poison to the Giants And still they rap the poor old chap, Amusing all the clients.

The point is: there are more rhymes for Giants than your correspondent at first glance supposed.

Well, what of it?

Chicago Man Is Victim of Gunmen

CHICAGO, July 27. (AP)—Three assassins who laughed as they fled, caused the death of Ely H. Orr, secretary-treasurer of the newspaper delivery drivers, chauffeurs, and handiers union. They poured shotgun slugs into his automobile early yesterday while he was driving home from downtown Chicago.

Orr's machine, out of control, as he attempted to escape, plunged through the window of a butcher shop. A coroner's physician said he found no bullets in the victim's body, but that his head had been crushed against the door jam of the car.

"Oh, boy, we sure got him that time," one of the slayers exclaimed as the trio sped away in an automobile.

Jack Barry, an ex-convict, who was forced out of the union as secretary-treasurer last winter at an election held under the protection of Assistant State's Attorney Chas. E. Lounsbury and a detail of police, surrendered for questioning early today. He denied any connection with the slaying.

MOON of DELIGHT
 by Margaret Bell Houston

SYNOPSIS: Jason Divitt, sensing mystery in Juvalita Basara's past, holds her prisoner in his gambling parlors as a veiled cigarette girl. His wife, Molly, is friendly, as also are Conchita and her dwarf son, Gabriele, who defends her against Umberto's advances. But terror grips the girl when she sees Senor B. of Mexico City in a party with Mrs. Belaise, her grandson, Kirk Stuard, Adrian Fouché, and Erik Ledbetter. Ledbetter vainly attempts to remove her disguise. Before Mrs. Belaise leaves, Divitt sets her necklace. Then next day he sends Juanita, posing as Senorita Isabel Flores, to return it. Umberto drives her in a car to the Belaise home, where Kirk has remained, helping to console his grandmother over the loss of the jewelry.

"This is my reward," said the senorita

Chapter II REJECTED JEWELS

Kirk had a deep-rooted tenderness for the grandmother who had reared him. A good and an understanding friend. Love for her had become a habit, and now that age and illness had come that habit of Kirk's was serving her well.

So Kirk had come home, seeing victors himself.

"Senorita Isabel Flores." As he went toward the lady in the drawing room he had a sense that they had met before. And yet—

"Mr. Stuard?" she asked, "putting doubts at rest. They had not met. It was just that first glimpse. 'I am sorry Mrs. Belaise is ill,' Kirk said.

She asked, "Is it the necklace?" The lady was holding the necklace out to him.

"Senorita! Where did you find it?"

"On the sidewalk. I was passing in my car. I saw your card in the paper."

She seemed to speak by rote. Kirk was conscious of this even as he examined the necklace. "Only the catch was broken."

"When was this?" he asked.

"Last night—or rather early this morning—as I was returning to the Tijen."

"It must have been directly after we dropped it. I can't tell you what this means to her. There is a reward, Senorita."

"She shook her head. 'I do not wish the reward,' she said. 'But surely you have charities!'"

"So must you," she said. "Give it to me—for me."

"Come and meet my mother," Kirk urged. "I'll go first and prepare her. Do sit down."

Nelly Belaise was beaming when Kirk came in with the beautiful senorita. There were traces of tears on her cheeks, and the necklace was clutched in her hand.

"Kirk, draw the big chair up to the bed. Now tell us again, Senorita."

"Senorita Flores. Mother."

"Ah, yes. Kirk says you are from Seattle. My daughter Delphine and I spent a week there. I saw a bull fight. I suppose you have seen a great many bull fights, Senorita?" Senorita was smiling. "Yes, a great many."

"What a shame the football season's over. You'll have to stay till it comes again," said Kirk.

"Yes, yes," agreed Nelly. "You must make a long visit. Suppose some one else had seen the necklace?" she cried. "Please, Senorita, I shall feel terribly if you won't take some reward."

"This is my reward," said the senorita, "seeing how happy you are."

Nelly Belaise stretched out an imperious hand.

"Lorena," to the colored maid, "bring my jewel case."

Lorena went into the next room and returned with a silver casket. Nelly Belaise lifted the lid. "Choose something," she said to Juanita.

Juanita smiled, her eyes turning with appeal to Kirk. Kirk said: "Senorita Flores has declined any reward, Mother. Perhaps Senorita Flores will put us under further obligations. Perhaps she will let us see her often while she is in New Orleans."

"Then you are staying!" cried Nelly.

"Through the spring," Juanita answered. Why did she say that? The man's eyes, meeting hers, had seemed to put the words into her mouth. She rose, a little frightened.

"Kirk will do the calling, dear. I don't call any more. But I shall see a great deal of you if you are here through the spring. . . . Never can thank you enough. . . ."

Kirk went with Juanita down the stairs. He saw her to her car, and as she rode from him she smiled. No, he had never seen her before. Always when she smiled the illusion when Conchita brought up Juanita's tray that evening. Molly came with her. Divitt would not be home till nine o'clock, so she was dining with Juanita. Molly was dressed already for the parlors.

"How'd everything go?" she asked when Conchita had padded out. "Were they glad to get it back?"

"Glad?" Juanita was happy to describe that gladness.

"They insisted on giving me a reward," she added.

Molly looked up quickly. "You didn't take it?"

"No. She brought out her jewel case and told me to choose."

"I should think that it would be big for her to carry."

Death Toll Now Forty in Blaze

PITTSBURGH, July 27. (AP)—Little Sisters of the Poor, still stunned by the fire which destroyed their home and took the lives of two scores of their aged charges, weary from long hours spent in searching for the missing and re-assembling those who survived, joined today in the inquiry into the disastrous blaze.

The death toll had reached 40 and there still were more than 100 injured in hospitals. Ten unidentified dead lay in the morgue, and their identification, officials believed, probably would erase the list of 10 reported missing.

Many of these in hospitals will die, physicians said as they battled to prevent pneumonia and to stave off death from shock.

Meanwhile, many of the aged and infirm who were removed to temporary quarters, were being taken to another home maintained by the little sister of the poor.

The city, county, and state centered an inquiry on the twisted, charred four-story building, which late Friday night became an inferno from a cause still undetermined.

Stimson on Way to London After Berlin Journey

BERLIN, July 27. (AP)—Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson left for Amsterdam today by airplane on the way to London shortly after an audience with President Von Hindenburg.

He maintained to the last his policy of extreme discretion, and when an American correspondent asked him to give his impressions of the audience he replied:

"As an American citizen you know that one never quotes the president. That's my answer too. In my position one must be especially careful." Then, after a pause, "needless to say, the visit was most pleasant."

Ambassador Von Frittz and Gaffron, who was at Tempelhof airport to see Mr. Stimson off in the regular Dutch airways passenger plane, disclosed that he had acted as interpreter for the secretary, and the president, but when he was asked what they talked about he smiled and said, "that I cannot say."

All that either the secretary or the ambassador would say was that the president had not given Mr. Stimson an autographed photograph.

Ambassador Frederic M. Sackett and the whole embassy staff were at the airport with representatives of the German government, but there was no crowd because the morning papers had announced that Mr. Stimson would leave on the Paris express.

From Amsterdam the secretary plans to motor to Holland and continue by ship to London.

Although he maintained his reticence he concluded his last interview with correspondents with a sentence regarded here as of the utmost significance.

"The present financial trouble in Germany," he said, "is due largely to a temporary lack of confidence, and I am certain that with courage and a return of confidence Germany will recover her prosperity."

Hitch-Hiker Beaten to Death; Slayer is In Morals Charge

HAWTI, Mo., July 27. (AP)—Chas. W. Jones, a carpenter and blacksmith of near Beaumont, Texas, today was charged with beating to death Jesse L. Womack, a hitch-hiker of Harrisburg, Ill., because Jones said in a signed statement, "he got too familiar with my wife."

Womack was beaten to death with a tire tool at a tourist camp near here early yesterday. In beating Womack, officials said, Jones accidentally struck his wife, putting out her left eye.

Jones, testifying at an inquest, said two negroes attacked Womack, but later, in the presence of newspapermen, Marshal Tom Teaster, and Constable Ed Grocher, admitted he killed Womack.

Marshal Teaster said Jones asked him to arrest Womack Saturday on a morals charge, but the officer told him he would have to obtain sufficient evidence to procure a warrant.

Jones, who was motoring back to Texas with his wife and their five children, after a visit to Virginia, said he met Womack about a week ago and allowed him to ride in his car. Officers said papers found in Womack's clothing indicated he sold insurance and has used several names, including S. R. Porter.

Paul Ebermann and family returned Sunday after a month's trip to Des Moines and other points of interest.

EXPERIENCED farmers prefer the Case Wheatland Disk Plow for many good reasons. This is why—

A patented feature of the Case Wheatland is the Universal Joint connections between the disk gangs. The cylinder can bend in hard ground without gang bolt breakage or additional draft. One gang can be removed if soil conditions require. When connected, all gangs turn as one.

A sturdy, well-braced and trussed I-beam frame, made of high carbon steel, rides directly over and supports the disks. Gives strength and rigidity to the plow, and proper balance of weight above the disks. Positive penetration is assured. The frame's high location above disks eliminates clogging.

House Inviting James Reed to Speak on Trusts

AUSTIN, July 27. (AP)—A resolution inviting former United States Senator James A. Reed, (Dem.) of Missouri, to address the Texas legislature was adopted by the house today. He will be asked to speak on world currency conditions and on trusts and monopolies. The house is conducting an investigation of the oil industry to determine if it is dominated by trusts and monopolies.

AUSTIN, July 27. (AP)—Two independent operators were on the witness stands today as the house and senate of the Texas legislature went ahead with their separate investigations of the oil industry. This was the last day of the house inquiry unless members should vote to extend it. The senate examination was scheduled to run through Wednesday.

Tells of Difficulty Walter A. Duffy of Fort Worth told the house he believed pipelines should be forced to take all oil produced in accordance with orders of the regulatory commission and related the difficulty he had experienced in getting pipeline connections to property in East Texas. He stated offsets to his holdings had been overproducing by virtue of injunction suits and had been draining his oil. He stated no serious effort was being made to enforce the oil conservation laws. He recommended divestment of the pipelines from the producing companies. The senate heard Ed R. Mayer of Amarillo, who previously had testified before the house. Mayer wrote the bill which had been introduced by Senator Charles S. Gainer of Bryan.

Cites Discrimination Mayer said prohibition in Texas had discriminated against the independent because it was based on potential, that the large companies either own the big producers or buy them, and that the man with a 300-barrel well gets his production out in the same ratio as the man with a 30,000-barrel gusher. He said he favored giving a commission power to prevent production above reasonable market demand. However, the commission, and not the purchasers, should determine the amount of the demand, Mayer added.

A bill to prevent oil companies from selling gasoline at a low price in some communities to drive out competition and at a higher price in other places where the transportation costs were the same was introduced in the house.

AUSTIN, July 27. (AP)—A bill to prevent unfair price discriminations by any company engaged in production, manufacture, or sale of any commodity in general use to destroy competition was introduced in the house today by Representative J. T. Cox of Groesbeck.

The bill would prevent the sale of a commodity for one price in one community and for a higher or lower price in another community unless the difference was caused by variations in grade of the product, sold or higher cost of transportation.

Complaint had been made in the house investigation of the oil industry that major companies had reduced prices on commodities in several instances to destroy the business of a local competitor. The bill would provide a fine for corporations of from $50 to $1,500 per day for each day of violation. Penalties on individuals violating the law would be a fine of $10 to $5,000 and imprisonment from 30 days to one year.

May Hike Penalties A bill increasing the penalties for violations of the common purchaser pipeline law was introduced by Representative E. M. Davis of Brownwood. The penalty would be from $100 to $1,000 per day for each day of violation. The railroad commission also would be given the right of injunctive relief against pipeline companies believed to be violating the law and also to ask for appointment of a receiver to handle the affairs of companies convicted of violating the provisions of the bill. Failure of the railroad commission to enforce the provisions of the common carrier pipeline law had been severely criticized during the investigation.

Representative Charles McCombs of Dallas introduced a bill to prevent swimming, wading or bathing in any reservoir or lake from which a city receives its water supply. The fine would be from $5 to $50. The water supply of numerous cities is located outside the jurisdiction of the cities and they have no means of preserving the purity of the water. A bill by Mrs. Lee J. Rountree of Bryan extending the time for completion of the organization of the Brazos river conservation and declaration district to July 1, 1933, was introduced. The bill also authorized directors of the district to levy a

Independents Meeting TULSA, Okla., July 27. (AP)—Independent petroleum producers from various fields of the midcontinent area gathered here today to consider shutdown of their properties as a "strike" against prevailing crude oil prices and to plan resumption of the fight for a tariff on oil imports.

The producers will meet tonight to determine their course of action. The meeting was called by Winston P. Henry, chairman of the Oklahoma "stripper" relief committee with the support of the Independent Petroleum association of America and Midcontinent Royalty Owners' association.

Russell B. Brown, counsel for the Independent Petroleum association, will be chairman.

Plan Shutdown OKLAHOMA CITY, July 27. (AP)—Oklahoma oil producers prepared today to launch a statewide campaign for a shutdown of flush oil fields until crude oil prices reach $1 per barrel and to make another request that Governor Murray use his authority to shut down wells.

Sponsored by leading oil associations, a meeting is scheduled at Tulsa tonight of delegates from every state district to further the shutdown cause.

Production of the Oklahoma City fields, where most producers have closed in wells under a voluntary agreement, dropped to around 600,000 barrels Sunday morning and was relieved even lower today. This compares with 251,000 barrels daily production two weeks ago.

Bush Denies He Will Quit Job NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Donie Bush, manager of the Chicago White Sox, expressed surprise today at reports he intended to resign, due to the club's poor showing.

"I have no intention of quitting, now or at the end of the season," Bush told the Associated Press. "My two-year contract expires with this season but I have not talked with the club about its renewal. I have had no discussion at all about next year, nor given anybody any suggestion I would be ready to step out."

"My only sick is we haven't enough pitchers, but except for the Athletics and possibly the Washington and Cleveland clubs, I guess everybody has that complaint."

Markets SLAYER

COTTON FIRM NEW ORLEANS, July 27. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today as Liverpool cables came in better than due. First trades showed no change to 1 point up and prices continued to improve slightly after the start, October trading at 9.07 and December at 9.30, or 2 to 3 points above Saturday's close.

Prices soon turned easier however on a renewal of long liquidation, October dropping to 8.95 by the time the offerings were absorbed, and December to 9.15, or 12 to 15 points down from Saturday's close. At the end of the first hour the market was quiet and steady but the undertone continued bearish.

Although news from Germany was more favorable this morning and stocks were steady, cotton continued to ease off owing to some hedge selling and to selling by ring traders on the map indications of clearing weather in the belt.

CORN UP—WHEAT DOWN CHICAGO, July 27. (AP)—Corn prices went up early today and wheat down. Temperatures of 100 degrees with no rain were reported, threatening damage to the corn crop. Wheat lacked buyers.

Opening unchanged to 5-8 cent higher; corn afterward scored and all around advance. Wheat started 1-8 to 5-8 off and later showed but little power to rally.

New Wickersham Report on Prisons Is Critical Blow

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—The Wickersham law enforcement commission today condemned the nation's prison system as antiquated, inefficient, failing to reform the criminal or protect society, and as using brutal disciplinary measures without justification.

Submitting its seventh report to President Hoover, dealing with "penal institutions, probation, and parole," the commission advocated the creation of a new system in which iron bars would play but a small part and education would be emphasized.

Much of the report was a denunciation of prison conditions, characterized as "almost incredible," under which men were imprisoned in overcrowded cells without sufficient light or fresh air or benefit of modern plumbing.

It lashed out also at the system of prison discipline described as "traditional, antiquated, unintelligent, and not infrequently cruel and inhuman." Asserting these methods "contribute to the increase of crime by hardening the prisoner," the commission urged they be blamed by law.

Inhuman Treatment Told Among the punishments revealed, many of them visited upon prisoners for slight offenses, were the shackling of men to doors for 12 hours a day, whipping, placing them in straight jackets, lashing them down under streams of cold water, confining them in cages so small that movement was impossible and keeping them in complete darkness for days at a time on a ration of four ounces of bread every 24 hours.

After asserting flatly that the American prison had failed as a "business enterprise," and as an educational institution, since men were released no better than when committed, the commission added: "The prison has failed as a disciplinary institution, the riots, the fires, the use of cruel and brutal measures of punishment, the persistent recurrence of murder within the prison, the prevalence of narcotics, the frequent atmosphere of hatred and bitterness, are sufficient evidence."

Irritation Means Plotting "It is clear at present that the more punishment the more discontent, the more discontent the more irritation, the more irritation the more plotting, the more plotting the more violation of rules and the greater need for more severe punishment. The whole procedure is in the nature of a vicious circle for which there seems to be no remedy."

Outlining what it considered the ideal, the commission asserted segregation of the diseased, insane, drug addicted and hardened criminal was one of the first requisites. It held fortress-like prisons of the Auburn type were unnecessary save for the worst types.

The millions of dollars now employed to construct elaborate maximum-security prisons, it said, "could with much better advantage be used in the development and proper financing of adequate systems of probation and parole."

YOUTH KILLS MAN EL PASO, July 27. (AP)—Roy Cooper, 16, had words with H. O. Davis, because Davis objected to the Cooper dog barking at his cat.
