WHEAT CONFERENCE BEGINS WORK

CANADIAN IS CHAIRMAN OF BIG SESSION

Eleven Exporting Countries in London Parley; Ferguson Says Disposal of Surplus Is Vital.

B A R OBSERVERS Importing Nations Are Denied Admittance; Press Also Will Be Kept Out of Most Meetings.

LONDON, May 18. (AP)—Samuel R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska and head of the United States delegation to the world wheat conference which opened today, outlined his country's program this afternoon at a conference with newspaper men.

By July 1, he said, the United States will be faced with a carry-over of roughly 275,000,000 bushels of wheat in the face of the new crop, a compared with an ordinary annual carry-over of from 100,000,000 to 125,000,000.
"Consequently," he said, "we have come here prepared to cooperate. But we do not propose to join nor will we agree to join any international pool."
"Furthermore," he paused so his hearers could get the full meaning of his words, "we do not propose to dump one bushel of the farm board's holdings."

By TOM WILHELM Associated Press Staff Writer.
LONDON, May 18. (AP)—Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner, convened the world wheat conference here today, outlining in his inaugural speech broad methods of alleviating the world surplus. Delegates of 11 wheat exporting countries were in attendance.

At the outset, Mr. Ferguson terminated disposal of surplus wheat stock a matter of outstanding importance to the world, explaining that the wheat growing industry contained two essential problems, that the wheat reach the customers when required and that the producer get a reasonable price for his product.

Cites Tendency
"Low prices," he said, "have a tendency to convert themselves into average shrinks and business decline shortens supplies and raises prices."
"The result is dearer bread. Our effort must be directed to help the farmers get a fair wage and maintain their families without overcharging their fellow workers who must buy bread."
Ferguson said that the conference should delve into possible better ways of bringing the customer and producer together.

After Mr. Ferguson's welcoming speech representatives of the eleven exporting countries participating in the conference elected him permanent chairman and named a standing committee to handle organization work.
Among the proposals discussed at the committee's first session was a request that importing countries be permitted to send unofficial observers. It was understood that these observers and the press would be admitted to the plenary sessions.

For the present, however, observers of the press are excluded.

Wildcat Well to Be Given Test

With the completion of the derrick and casing, drilling is about to proceed at the wildcat on P. C. Ledrick's land 25 miles north-east of Pampa and 18 miles north-west of Miami.
The well is located about a half-mile from the Big Bend Oil company's test which had several showings of oil before it reached a total depth of 5,590 feet. At one time it had about 50 feet of oil in the hole. It was shut down but not abandoned about a year ago.
The new test is being financed by a group of land-owners in the vicinity.

Father of Slain Girls Is Refused Quinn Meeting

KANSAS CITY, May 18. (AP)—Capt. Jett Griffith of the Blackwell, Okla., police force today was refused permission to view Earl Quinn, 30-year-old ex-convict, held here as the slayer of the children of a Pampa family.
"I have a precautionary measure," said Chief of Police L. M. Stierstadt in explanation of the refusal. Stierstadt said Griffith, who is accompanied by Patrolman Roy Burger of Blackwell, is convinced Quinn is the man who killed his two daughters Dec. 28 near Tonkawa as they were returning to their schools from a Christmas at home.
The Kansas City chief said he would take all precautions necessary to insure Quinn's safety until he is placed in the custody of Sheriff Joe Cooper of Kay county, Okla.

KANSAS CITY, May 18. (AP)—Expressing faith in her husband's assertion he did not kill Zelia Griffith, 34, and Jessie Griffith, 24, Oklahoma school teachers, the father of the slain girls, Earl Quinn, was to appear at an extradition hearing in Jefferson City today.
A warrant, charging Quinn, 30-year-old ex-convict, with the murder of the sisters arrived here yesterday.
Mr. Quinn said he would appeal to Gov. Henry S. Caulfield for assurance of protection in the event his husband was returned to Tonkawa, Okla., near the scene of the slaying last Dec. 28. She said she had no fear of the outcome if he was "given justice."

CANNON HEARING DELAYED WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—

Further hearings in the senate's inquiry into the use of campaign funds in 1928 by Bishop James Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, were postponed today until late in the summer.
Chairmen of both the house appropriations and senate finance committees said they believed free conference committees on the appropriation bills would complete their work and report in plenty of time. The senate appropriation bills were considerably higher than those passed by the house. The house eliminated approximately $1,600,000 for buildings from the educational appropriation bill and cut all salaries five and 10 per cent.
Rumor was current that the committee would meet with the approval of a majority.

Cut Off Million

Chairmen of both the house appropriations and senate finance committees said they believed free conference committees on the appropriation bills would complete their work and report in plenty of time. The senate appropriation bills were considerably higher than those passed by the house. The house eliminated approximately $1,600,000 for buildings from the educational appropriation bill and cut all salaries five and 10 per cent.
Rumor was current that the committee would meet with the approval of a majority.

SULPHUR HAS AGAIN COME UP FOR VOTE

"Omnibus" Tax Measure Is Drawing Many Amendments, intention of Which Is to Kill It.

OIL LEVY URGED

Pipelines May Be Included in Merry Effort to Load Bill Down; Last Week to Work Is Passing.

AUSTIN, May 18. (AP)—Pushed to a vote in the senate today, the Beck home rule resolution failed to produce the necessary two-thirds majority for submission of proposed constitutional amendments. The vote was 16 to 9.

AUSTIN, May 18. (AP)—Back today to the consideration by the house of the oil bill, the senate found the original bill overshadowed by proposals to increase the tax on sulphur.
The identity of the holder bill was all but lost Saturday when amendments were offered to tax intrastate purchasers of cotton farm and dairy products where the amount purchased ran more than $500 and to increase the sulphur tax levy from 3 cents to 1 1/2 cents.
The senate refused to reconsider the vote by which the purchase tax amendment was added to the holder bill. It sustained a motion by Senator Page of Waco to table the motion to reconsider. The vote of Edgar Vint, lieutenant-governor, broke a 14-13 deadlock.

Senator Whomson of Nacogdoches offered an amendment to the oil sulphur tax amendment wherein he proposed to levied one dollar per ton on sulphur. The senate voted 16 to 14 against tabling this amendment. Both amendments were pending at recess time.

Senator Stevens of Victoria asked the senate if this is going to be an omnibus tax bill with oil, sulphur and a tax on chain stores, automobiles and automobile accidents and be done with it?
Senator Small of Wellington, oil order tax advocate, aimed at winning the bill down and liming it.

Senator Small said he would place an excise tax on all pipelines. He stated the amendment would make the sulphur tax amendment fade into insignificance.

Hundreds of Bills

AUSTIN, May 18. (AP)—The Texas legislature today started on its last lap with several hundred bills awaiting action. The 42nd legislature, in session longer than any other in the state's history, will adjourn at noon Friday unless both houses recede the same day resolution adopted several days ago. The session originally was to adjourn May 12.

It was likely an effort would be made to continue the session another week or 10 days so that legislation already passed by committees might be acted upon. Several legislative bills, however, regarded an extended session as remote possibility, claiming much legislation would be on the calendar regardless of the length of the session.

A move has been started to persuade members to stay after May 22 without pay. This was not expected to meet with the approval of a majority.

Chairmen of both the house appropriations and senate finance committees said they believed free conference committees on the appropriation bills would complete their work and report in plenty of time. The senate appropriation bills were considerably higher than those passed by the house. The house eliminated approximately $1,600,000 for buildings from the educational appropriation bill and cut all salaries five and 10 per cent.
Rumor was current that the committee would meet with the approval of a majority.

This Burglar Is Obliging—He Catches Himself

CHICAGO, May 18. (AP)—A good way to catch a burglar is to let him catch himself.
That's what the police said in commenting on the case of Charles Miller, 65, whom they formally charged last night.
While prowling in the home of Andrew Matik Miller attempted to open a drawer in a bureau. The drawer stuck. Miller turned, overlooking the fact there was a radio on top. It fell striking him on the head.
When police arrived they found Miller lying on the floor—unconscious.

CHINA FACES NEW REVOLT

Open Fighting at Canton Is First Flash of War Long Brewing.

SHANGHAI, May 18. (AP)—The birthplace of two unsuccessful revolutions, Canton, today proclaimed by open fighting the commencement of a third insurrectionist movement.

Two hundred loyal Nanking soldiers have been killed within the last few days there, insurrectionist leaders said, when they resisted attempts to disarm them. A provisional government is expected to be established in opposition to the rule of general Chiang Kai-Shek within the next few days.

The late Dr. Sun Yat-Sen marched from Canton to sweep the old dynasty before him a score of years ago and establish the first republic in the south China. After troubles and defeat the young republic Kai-Shek led from Canton an expedition that resulted in 1927 in the establishment of the Nationalist government as the dominant power in China.

Sun Fo son of Sun Yat-Sen, is expected to play an important part in the insurrection at Canton. Sun who has been minister of railways in the Nationalist government, is riding here despite requests from the Nationalists that he return to Nanking. He was expected to proceed to Canton shortly.

Meanwhile the ominous clouds which have been gathering over China for several weeks apparently had been rent by the first flash of open fighting. The split between the conservative elements of the Kuomintang (People's party) and the Nationalist government led by Chiang Kai-Shek in April when the South Chinese denounced Chiang and accused him of harboring desires to establish an autocracy in China. Although Nanking has denied such reports, preparations have been made by the government for possible action.

Five Desperate Men Are at Large

SAN ANGELO, May 18. (AP)—No clues to any of the five desperate men who broke from the Tom Green county jail Saturday morning had been found today.
A man who wrecked his car at the Spring and was shot by officers as he started to flee Saturday, was found Sunday to be an Eden and Kerrville automobile dealer. He returned to talk and is now in a Big Spring hospital.

Meanwhile hundreds of West Texas officers continued the search unabated for J. D. Connor, confessed hijacker and gunman and alleged kidnaper of R. W. Morrison, San Antonio capitalist. Clint Powell, convicted hijacker, William Quinn, bank robber and burglar suspect, Albin Pitts, alleged automobile thief, and R. E. (Blekley) Martin, indicted here on theft charges.

Each of the men who took three pistols and a shot gun from Jaller wedgie and Deputy Sheriff Wade Thompson is well armed and believed to be desperate. They are believed to have escaped into Mexico.

Buttram Suit Is Near Verdict

Whether Frank Buttram, Oklahoma City capitalist and 1930 defeated candidate for governor, owes Gray county taxes on $700,000 worth of oil property he bought from Joe Bowers is due to be decided by Judge Wilson of the federal court in Amarillo today.
The suit was tried last Saturday. Newton P. Willis represented the Gray county commissioners. Mr. Buttram was present at the trial. He alleged that Mr. Bowers and not himself owed the taxes, on the ground that he purchased royalty in the amount of $1,000,000 from Mr. Bowers and paid only $300,000 in the transaction. The suit was dismissed as to Mr. Bowers. Judge S. D. Stennis was attorney for Mr. Bowers.

GAINESVILLE IS SCENE OF FIRE TRAGEDY

Electrician and Telegraph Man Crushed Under Falling Wall; Several Others are Seriously Hurt.

DAMAGE IS GREAT

Motor Company and Hardware Firm Heaviest Losers; Many Hours of Fighting Is Necessary.

GAINESVILLE, May 18. (AP)—Two men were killed and several others were injured probably fatally early today when the front wall of a burning building collapsed, burying firemen and spectators.

The dead: H. C. Talley, 37, foreman of the Texas Power and Light company. Wayne Williams, 28, railroad telegraph operator.

William Block, Erick Giles, Raymond Powell, Morris Finley, all of Gainesville, were injured seriously, and were taken to a sanitarium. The fire of unknown origin, started about 1 a. m., and was still burning at 7:30.

The building, housing the Trew Brothers Motor company, and the Kernerly Hardware company building, were destroyed with loss estimated at $100,000.

Robert Young, truck driver, residing at Marysville, 25 miles north-west of Gainesville, was probably fatally injured. He had just stepped on the sidewalk when the wall fell on him, badly crushing his body.

Talley had just finished cutting light wires above the Trew building and had climbed a pole to the ground when the wall collapsed.

Damage to the Trew company was estimated at $40,000 and stocks and the building of the hardware company suffered an estimated $60,000 loss.

Fireman at 8 a. m. had succeeded in removing sufficient debris from the sidewalk to determine that no more bodies were buried there. Block, member of the hardware firm and also a volunteer fireman, had said he believed others were buried there.

Fire trucks from the Gainesville fire department and more than 100 volunteer firemen battled the flames from the time the fire was discovered in the motor company establishment, shortly before 1 a. m.

The fire was the third destructive blaze on the same site within the last 35 years. The Hunnicutt dairy stable on that location, burned in 1894. A brick building was constructed in 1897 but on the night after it had been occupied by the Stevens, Kernerly & Spragens Hardware company, that structure also was razed, stores of dynamite adding to the conflagration.

Road Bonds To Be Ready Soon

Approximately $900,000 worth of road bonds of the $2,250,000 issue recently voted will be off the press in a few days, according to C. M. Smith of the firm of Brown-Crummer of Dallas who is here today.

Point in the amount of $300,000 will be sold in the first sale. The remaining $600,000 in bonds will be used to compensate outstanding road district bonds. The attorney general and the market attorneys of New York have approved the issue. It is expected the bonds will be offered for sale about the middle of June.

The firm of Brown-Crummer has charge of taking up outstanding road district bonds, and of the preliminary legal work necessary for sale of the first $300,000.

HIGH WAGES OR LOW

It took almost a year after the onset of the current business depression before the advocates of deflation found their voices. The country had been pretty well satisfied on the desirability of high wages and short working hours; it is only recently that men of prominence have begun to assert that the depression will not end until wages are slashed and hours of labor are lengthened.

However, if it took a long time for this claim to be made manifest, there are plenty of signs that we are going to hear a good deal of it from now on. One by one, the deflationists are getting vocal. Furthermore, in one factory after another, they are making their influence felt very materially.

One of the sanest criticisms of this attitude was provided recently by Mr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin. Writing in the May issue of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers' Mr. Frank remarks:

"Following the lead of some of the more far-sighted leaders of American business and industry adopted a new credo that said a stable and widely distributed prosperity and healthy industrial development required high wages, short hours and low prices. This ran contrary to the naive business thinking of earlier generations that said low wages, long hours and high prices made for maximum profit."

"But outstanding industries throughout the United States grooved by their balance sheets that high wages short hours and low prices were not only good for the masses, but also good for the manufacturers. And we are in the grip of a depression now, not because we followed this new credo of business, but because we did not follow it generally enough or apply it far enough."

Then, turning directly to the lower wages crowd, he added:

"The inflationists of yesterday brought the stock market to collapse. The deflationists of today will bring our entire business system to collapse if they succeeded in reducing the majority of American business men, bankers and manufacturers to their point of view."

"To speak with brutal frankness—and the times call for that sort of speaking—the deflationists are, in my judgment, little more than a big saddle, seeking to lead a business army to which they have nothing to bring except the terror of their fear. They are big business men who have fallen short of being BIG business men."

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, May 18. (NEA.)—Old Mr. Riker was carried down from his home in a tree on an isolated Virginia hilltop and died two or three days later.

A few persons gathered for his funeral at a small undertaking parlor here. They included an elevator man at the senate office building, several other employes from Capitol Hill, a man from the American Engineering council and a congressman.

That was the end of Carroll Livingston Riker, who may have been one of the great geniuses of his age. He was engineer and inventor, originator of stupendous projects such as other engineers may be developing a hundred years hence. He proposed to change the climate of a hemisphere by harnessing the mightiest ocean currents; he aspired to alter the future of the great Mississippi valley. His breath-taking programs were so simple and so carefully planned that they often fascinated the sanest and soundest of men.

Mr. Riker was the white-haired, browned but fragile gentleman, often seen standing by that enormous model of his Mississippi river flood control plan in the senate office building basement. There the water flows down from Cairo and Cape Girardeau through a miniature of the immense three mile wide, 500-mile long Riker spillway and into the gulf; Riker's brain made the Father of Waters a canal. His towers, red stoplights, water gates, power houses, levees, conduits, reservoirs, highways along levee tops with toy motor cars and great ocean liners plying up to St. Louis for two or three years have enchanted the guests and denizens of the capitol.

Bent by age but lucid in mind and speech, he operated his model and explained everything to everybody in minutest detail. Quite a few capitol folk developed a deep affection for him. Since 1914 when he assured congress that a "terrible catastrophe" on the Mississippi was certain unless the government's "levees only" flood control policy was abandoned, this man had persistently denounced the army engineers in masterpieces of inventive wit to delight any lover of words.

Riker explained to all-comers how his spillway would run the river in a new straight line through the swamps and cheap land, how great power dams would be built, locks installed to permit ocean commerce, capacity provided to handle twice the historic peak of the river's waters, muddy banks replaced by sites for docks and warehouses, levees built 70 feet high with 100-foot top width and 300-foot base from earth removed in digging drainage canals on each side of the spillway, how the cost would be two billion dollars but how the first five years would show 10 billion dollars of profit through enhanced land values, power development, prevention of flood loss, highway and railroad beds and so on.

The old man spent his last years working night and day to promote the plan. Senator Frazier of North Dakota gave himself wholeheartedly to Riker's fight for a full investigation of the plan by a commission of civilian engineers. Riker had a large house near Falls Church, Va. But alongside he built himself a pretty little green dwelling held 20 feet in the air by a tall treestump. It was his home for three years—a place with a bedroom-sunparlor, electricity and electric heat. His heart trouble was increasing and Frazier, perhaps his best friend, sometimes drove out and besought him to move into town. At last the old man's condition became desperate; friends brought a physician, persuaded him to let himself be moved down the ladder and carried into civilization to die.

An amazing life was over.

Tanks to Replace Horse In Cavalry

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—Speedy man-made tanks are going to replace about 8,000 horses in a part of the United States cavalry. When General Douglas MacArthur, chief of army staff, yesterday announced his mechanization program for the cavalry, he said this step was being undertaken in an effort to modernize that branch of the defensive forces.

Ten years of study, based on lessons learned in the World war, he said, have established the superiority of tanks and their greater strategic mobility for some functions. But there are some things the horse can do that the tank cannot, so the four-legged beasts of burden will be retained for that duty.

ABOUT NEW YORK

us fairly frigid. We often barge into a gallery to take a long look at some Degas or Daumier. But that's usually when it's raining outside.

Maybe it's because our artistic sense was polluted by the first murals we saw in Manhattan. They were on the walls of a Greenwich Village tea shoppe, painted by some Tommy Tucker for his supper. They seemed pretty bad. But we really wouldn't know. We're the wind of a guy who says, "I don't know anything about art, but I know what I like."

Our enthusiasm runs to camera work. Our idea of something pretty swell are the wall-size photographs in the Cloud club. It's a private luncheon club near the top of the Chrysler building and has a smart membership of such New Yorkers as Conde Nast.

The photographic murals in one room show the history of steel production. The aviation room has 40-inch shots of flying machines from the first balloon to the Zeppelin and tri-motored plane. Another room is encircled by views of oil wells and refineries.

One reason a lot of us avoid the salons of art with a big A is the other people who go there. Of course, it is quite the uppy thing to do. The connoisseurs are all right and so are the amateurs who keep their mouths shut.

But the in-betweeners who put on lah-de-dah airs gush all over the place. "If you really want to look at the pictures," says Walter R. Brooks, a fellow townsman, in his guide book, "you ought to plug cotton in your ears. Otherwise you'll be drowned in a sea of vague verbiage, tag ends of art school patois and the more wah-wah phrases from the art critics." His advice is to plug your ears wear a monocle and turn away from each picture with a disgusted and vigorous "Bah!" Or murrur: "How charmingly obscene!" And occasionally "Mon Dieu!"

Tree Directory

Joyce Kilmer waxed poetic about "Trees," his verses now popular in the musical version. And the city park department is a watchful guardian over these of Manhattan.

The location of every tree in town is on record. None can be planted by a citizen without the supervisor of a park inspector. Even those around the residence of J. P. Morgan are under the jurisdiction of the city, although they belong to the financier. If a tree needs attention, the park department is notified and sends a man to spray it, or hack a dead limb, or do whatever it needs. Erratic motorists frequently drive into trees, probably startled by the sudden sight of one, and a forestry officer hurries over to administer first aid. But before he goes out, he checks the patient up in the records and finds out what kind of tree it is, its size and other details. Police sometimes use the tree directory in solving crimes. Trees are valuable here. They are such rare possessions.

BERLIN, May 16. (AP)—Since voting suffrage, German women vote in ever-increasing numbers for representatives of their own sex. In the present reichstag there are 39 women, as compared to 32 in the 1920 post-war parliament elected in 1920.

"DIZZY" DEAN KNOCKED FROM MOUND BUT WINS GAME

ALFRED TODD LEADS WITH HARD RIGHT

Dallas Player Is Riled When Dusted Off Twice—Cats Beat Indians.

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer. Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, the Art Shires of the pitching mound, took to the chin Sunday in Dallas, but this time it happened to be Alfred Todd's firm fist and not a baseball bat.

Insofar as the ball game was concerned, "Dizzy" stopped Houston's losing streak by defeating Dallas 7 to 1 for his fifth win since returning to the Texas league from the St. Louis Cardinals.

Dean and Todd mixed it in the last half of the ninth. On his previous time at bat, Todd tripled off Dean. Coming up in the ninth, after the first two batters had been retired, Todd was dusted off on the first pitched ball but said nothing. He was dusted off with Dean's second pitched ball, and there and then, Todd dropped his bat and went after Dean. Todd was an easy winner, being bigger and heavier than Dean. A number of blows were exchanged with Todd scoring the only knockdown. Although he had a split lip, Dean stayed on the mound after the fight and finished the game. However, Dean was in character until the last with: "Well, guess I was knocked from the mound in that fight, but the ball game belongs to me, and they are the little things that wins pennants."

The Fort Worth Cats continued to win and led the Texas league flag chase. Sunday at Fort Worth, the Cats defeated San Antonio 3 to 0 with Dick McCabe pitching his finest game this season.

At Shreveport, the Beaumont Exporters won their ninth consecutive ball game when they whipped the Spiders, 6 to 5. The win gave the Exporters a clean sweep of the Shreveport series.

The Galveston Buccaneers rambled in Wichita Falls Sunday to trim the Spudders, 10 to 1. White, starting pitcher, and Florrid, relief pitcher, were touched for 16 hits. Harry, Galveston's ace hurler, was never in trouble.

Man Is Wounded After Questioning

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—Tuesday night, a man was seriously wounded in a gunfight here last night a few hours after police had questioned him about the theft of liquor last week from the latrine of El Salvador.

Although police hinted there might be some connection between the wounding of Day and the raid on the legation, when Dr. Carlos Levin, charge d'affaires, was attacked by a robber, they held more strongly to the belief the last incident resulted from a disagreement over a gambling transaction.

Day was shot in the temple while on an apartment on M street, northwest. Two men were held for questioning.

BRUSHING UP ON SPORTS

This Game of GOLF

By O.B. KEELER

This may be a tip, and then again it may not. But if you are in the habit of teeing a golf ball so that you hit it on the trade-mark, so to speak, it is just as well to keep on doing it. And if you haven't the habit it may be just as well to acquire it.

By what I lately found out at Agua Caliente and other places the new standard ball in construction with a very slightly longer axis, or diameter, from pole to pole than through the equatorial plane, if I may be permitted the explanation. In other words, it is just the opposite of the earth, which, as every student of physical geography is taught before reaching his teens, is slightly flattened at the poles.

The Gauge

I don't say that all golf balls are made this way. I haven't tried all of them with a gauge. But I've tried four of the standard brands, and every one of them fits the gauge more snugly on the polar axis than on the equatorial.

The gauge, which is the first one I ever saw, is a ring of light white metal with a hole in it which, I am told, is designed just to pass a new standard ball, with a perceptible friction. That is, the hole is 1.68 inches in diameter. If a ball touches it, with a "sticky" sort of sensation, in passing, that ball thus is up to the legal size in the United States of America.

If a ball drops through the ring of its own weight, it is under the standard size and is illegal.

Now, in trying the several brands that came readily to hand I was astonished by the evident difference in diameter. Some manufacturers obviously were taking no chances of producing a projectile which might, in the infinitesimal variations incident even to the beautifully precise methods of modern golf ball construction, come out undersized—due perhaps to the enamel being ten-thousandths of an inch too skimpy.

Big Balls O. K.

Several balls of well known makes were sufficiently large to resist forcing of any reasonable degree when tried on the ring.

They were not much larger than the prescribed 1.62. But they were some larger. They all were perfectly legal, of course. There is no limit upwards for the size.

One ball was found which passed through the ring with suspicious ease on the equatorial diameter and sustained itself nobly on the polar axis. Indeed, when placed in the ring with the poles touching, a tiny beam of light could be seen about the equator. In a word, this ball, and most of the others, so far as I could tell, were constructed perhaps a thousandth of an inch thicker from trade-mark to trade-mark than through the belt.

Whether this is due to the "buffing" about the waistline, after the cover is pressed together, or whether the makers designed the ball that way I do not pretend to say. In either case one may expect a very slight ballistic advantage to result from whacking such a ball fairly on the pole whenever it is played from the tee.

Fate apparently enjoys being ironical, and it is a useful accompaniment if you can cultivate sufficient philosophy to collect a grin out of these occasional pranks.

"Speed" Holman Is Killed in Stunting

OMAHA, Neb., May 18. (AP)—Death has brought to a close the aerial career of Charles W. "Speed" Holman, 23, of St. Paul, whose name for years had been high in the list of American aviators. He was killed yesterday while stunting upside down at a height of only 20 feet at the Omaha air races. Death was instantaneous. Twenty thousand spectators saw him die.

His own magnanimity, his friends said, was the indirect cause of the death of the St. Paul aviator whose stunts in the air had thrilled thousands during the past decade. During a lull in the closing day program, Holman volunteered to go aloft and stunt for the capacity holiday crowd. A stiff, treacherous wind was blowing above the field. For 15 minutes he had delighted the crowd with his sky antics. Barrel-rolls, outside loops, freeman turns, each in turn brought spectators to their feet.

Then a thunderous crowd was heard as the plane fell. It rolled, plowed and bounced its way along for 200 feet before it stopped.

The engine was thrown to one side and Holman's body was thrown 10 feet from the battered shapless wreckage.

No official verdict on the cause of the fatal crash had been reached today. Some official observers believed Holman's safety belt broke, allowing him to fall partly out of the cockpit and lose his grip on the controls as his ship skinned crazily along the earth; others thought that the plane was caught in a down current of air and was unable to right itself because of the pressure from above.

Old Roman Tries To Produce Another

CHICAGO, May 18. —In his seventh-third year and not in the best of health, Charles A. Comiskey, "The Old Roman," is still striving to weld together another American league championship contender for Chicago.

After the wild series scandal of 1919, which caused him to wreck a great team, Comiskey's White Sox sagged and sagged into the depths of the league. A year ago he hired Donie Bush, who had given Pittsburgh a National league title, to national essay contest.

His latest effort has been to trade Willie Kamm, for whom he paid $100,000 in 1922, and who was one of the league's leading third basemen, for Lew Fonseca, of the Cleveland Indians. Fonseca, who led the American league in batting in 1929, will be used either at second or third, and his hitting should help the Sox win games.

Early in the season Lu Blue was obtained from the St. Louis Browns to play first, otherwise Fonseca, who has been at first for the Indians, might have been stationed there.

Manager Bush predicts his team will cause all kinds of trouble when it gains its full power. Ted Lyons, the ace of the pitching staff, has been out with an injured shoulder, and Smoot Jolley, a batsman of 300-plus calibre, has been inactive since undergoing a minor surgical operation. Bob Fothergill, whose hitting this season has been reminiscent of his best days while with Detroit, also has been injured, but is due back in a few days, giving Bush six outfielders when all hands answer roll call.

After the match with the Detroit, who incidentally never have been beaten in fourball competition.

ACCIDENT VICTIM DIES

DALLAS, May 18. (AP)—J. P. Green, 55, Fort Worth insurance man, died yesterday in a hospital here of injuries received Wednesday when his automobile collided with another machine on the Dallas-Garland road. The body was sent to Fort Worth for burial. Three other persons were slightly injured in the collision.

George Voight In Golf Victory at Westward Ho

WESTWARD HO, DEVON, Eng., May 18. (AP)—George Voight of New York, chief amateur hope in the British amateur golf championship, defeated T. H. Bowman, Norfolk champion, 4 and 3, in a first round match today.

After a somewhat shaky start, Voight settled down to a streak of steady, consistent golf that was plenty good enough to whip Bowman, known to British experts as an extremely able match player.

Douglas Fairbanks, the film star, tried his hand at championship golf only to bow to J. R. Abercrombie of the Royal Liverpool club, 1 up, after a tense battle.

Another Californian, L. R. Phillips of Santa Barbara, lost a close first round match to N. C. Selway one hole.

Thomas Maguire of Stockton, Calif., advanced to the second round at the expense of H. L. Archibald of St. Cloud, France, 5 and 4.

Fairbanks played his round in grim earnestness and didn't display his famous movie smile until he conceded the match at the home hole. Neither did he indulge in any movie antics, to the evident disappointment of his gallery, which dwindled away as the round progressed to a bare hundred or so.

Another American who fell by the wayside in the first round was Ross Thomas, of Uniontown, Pa. He was defeated by L. R. H. Hornby, of Saltford, one up in 23 holes.

Murray Asked To Name Senator Who Suggested Trade

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 18. (AP)—Sixteen state senators today forwarded to Gov. W. H. Murray a letter demanding that he name the state senator who, according to the governor's statement, offered a "trade" for the removal of Leavontz from the state highway commission.

Details of the letter were not revealed. Senator Knox Garvin, of Duncan, who sponsored the meeting of the senate group last night, at which a resolution was adopted favoring a formal demand for the senator's name, forwarded the letter by special delivery.

"We tried to be fair, but were direct and to the point in the letter," said Senator Garvin.

Reference to the purported trade was made by Governor Murray in a statement supporting his contention of the executive power to remove from office appointive officials. He said a senator, whom he did not name, told him that if the would name another appointee instead of J. F. McKeel to the highway commission, the governor's removal of Wentz would be upheld by the state supreme court.

Governor Murray related that he told the senator: "I do not believe you know what you are talking about."

Flying Maneuver Starts Tomorrow

FAIRFIELD, O., May 18. (AP)—The army's flying force today were winning their fight against the flight of time and the laws of percentage.

Only one day remains before the 600 military planes of the United States army air corps are to trek 250 miles cross-country to Chicago to show their wingmanship, but will only two days of practice at Fairfield flying they were ready to make a creditable showing.

And despite the fact such large gatherings of airmen usually produce accidents, every plane was expected to make the trip. Only four minor mishaps were chalked up yesterday, causing the ships to be grounded for repairs.

The task of assembling hundreds of ships from every section of the country and teaching them the intricacies of battle and parade formations, nearing completion without a single fatality to mar the maneuver.

Bootleg Chief Is Shot to Death

MASSILLON, Ohio, May 18. (AP)—A gangster's gun brought a death early today to William "Bill" Kerrill, 38, reputed chieftain of a bootleg ring, who, police said, had vowed vengeance for the death of a henchman slain four days ago.

Kerrill, known as the "King of Columbia Heights," a suburb, was just starting his automobile after leaving an apartment house when a man, concealed in the doorway of a nearby building, fired four times. One of the bullets struck Kerrill in the right side, passing through his heart.

FERRELL HAS HOODOO UPON BALL TRAIL

Cleveland Ace Shuts Out Browns Then Fails To Last in Next Trio.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.

A hoodoo seems to have pursued Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland ace, since he pitched a hitless shutout against the St. Louis Browns three weeks ago. Since then he has been able to pitch only one full game on his next start he got out some trouble and beat Detroit but he has failed to last through the last three games he started.

"The Indians called on him again, yesterday in an endeavor to halt the slump they have been in ever since they began meeting eastern teams." He weathered five stormy innings against the Athletics and contributed home runs on his own account. But in the sixth he gave way to Pete Jablonowski, who was charged with Cleveland's ninth straight defeat. The A's also used three pitchers in the slugfest which wound up with a 15 to 10 score.

Washington and the St. Louis Browns divided a double header. The Browns won the first, 7 to 1 behind Sammy Gray's fine pitching, to break their five-game losing streak and end the Senators' string of victories at six. Homers by West and Elvage in the ninth inning of the second clash gave Washington a 4 to 2 triumph.

Ground rules limited the long hits at Detroit to two bases as 38,000 fans, the biggest crowd of the season, turned out to see the New York Yankees outslug the Tigers 8 to 5. Eston and Chicago showed that the spell of pitching had not been completely broken as the White Sox pitched over a run in the ninth inning of a close duel to win 2-1.

The St. Louis Cardinals clouted four of the National league's homers in beating the New York Giants and Fred Fitzsimmons 6 to 1. They connected four times, George Watkins hitting two.

Eppa Rixey of Cincinnati and Heinie Meine of Pittsburgh turned in some good National league pitching to win the other two games. Rixey weakened in the eighth and gave Brooklyn four runs before Fry rescued him, but Cincinnati won't out 7 to 5. Given a three run lead in the first inning, Meine pitched the Pirates to a 5-3 victory over the Boston Braves, getting in trouble only once.

The Chicago Cubs and the Phillies had an off day.

Mr. Lewis Robinson was admitted to Worley hospital Saturday for observation and treatment.

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Kitchens of Miami was admitted to Worley hospital Saturday.

Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old New York typist, marries Jim Wallace the day after she meets him at the home of her wealthy cousin, Ann Trowbridge.

Months pass and Brock Phillips killed in a fall from a horse. Maria consults Jim about financial affairs and later tells him her marriage to Phillips was a mistake. She declares she cares only for him. Jim tries to remain loyal to Gypsy but sees Maria frequently.

Presently she raised her head. She remembered the evening when she had said to Jim, "If you ever regret our marriage I want you to tell me about it." And he had promised that he would.

"A-Hunting We Will Go"

She mentioned names of other guests that to Gypsy meant nothing but she knew they must have social prominence or Anne would not have been interested.

"Thanks, I'm really fagged to death," Gypsy said. "You haven't minded being buried in a little town like this, have you?"

At that it was settled. Gypsy had a hasty conference with Matilda. Life was suddenly stirring in the house again. There was no time to think of anything except the demands of hospitality.

Trop No. 15 of the local Boy Scouts met Friday night where they heard an account of the adventures of our two scoutmasters, John T. Bradley and J. D. Sockett.

Dressing became a ceremony. She put on her daintiest, most fragile undergarments. The chiffon gown was still a ruin. Gypsy had only one other that was suitable—a white crepe.

She was alone in the living room when Jim entered. If he was impressed by her appearance he said nothing about it. Gypsy went over to him.

Mr. Dodson told the Pampa Daily News today that he did not attend the Amarillo meeting and did not know all the details of the new league, but that a meeting was to be held here late today concerning the project.

He said he understood Mr. Galloway was negotiating with the school board to use Harvester park for 90 days, lighting it for baseball and promising to equip it free of charge for night football next fall.

Advance sale of tickets would be used to start the Pampa team, which would be composed largely of young players.

mittee probably would agree to leave the buildings out and put the salaries back up or put the buildings back and leave the salaries at their reduced levels. The house made a similar cut in salaries in the departmental appropriation bill. The third money bill in free conference was the eleventh annual appropriation bill.

Senate and house conferees on the congressional redistricting bill still were holding out with chances growing daily slimmer that this legislature would provide for congressional redistricting. The conferees agreed last week on a bill but after agreement had been reached four of the five senate members refused to sign the report.

It was signed by each house conferees.

Will Try Again

A last effort to pass the highway bond issue constitutional amendment was scheduled for Wednesday. Representative Hubbard of New Boston, house floor leader, said he said the resolution would be called up under the joint rules which require constitutional amendment resolutions to be laid out until either passed or defeated.

The bond resolution has failed of submission by the house twice this session.

The senate started argument on the sulphur tax Saturday and the battle was continued today. The increase in the sulphur tax from 55 cents to $1.25 per ton was proposed by Senator Loy of Spearman in an amendment to the house peddler tax bill. The house has refused to set a bill proposing to increase the tax to $1 per ton for special order and the only hope remaining for advocates of this tax was to have it passed by the senate.

The jam was so great dancing was almost impossible but the thousands had a good time as the Chicago Jubilee, designed to mark the end of the depression and return of prosperity, rose to a climax. This picture shows State street, looking north from Lake, when festivities were at their height.

KIRKLAND IS ACCUSED WHEN PAL TESTIFIES

VALPARAISO, Ind., May 18. (AP)—Paul Barton, companion of Virgil Kirkland the night Arlene Draves was slain at a party in Gary, pointed an accusing finger at Kirkland today at the latter's second trial.

Barton gave a description of the revel at the David Thompson home before a courtroom packed with spectators. Against the advice of his attorneys, Barton consented to become a state witness without any promise of immunity.

The witness said there was dancing and drinking at the party. He testified he saw Kirkland and Arlene drinking and later saw them embracing on a davenport. When Barton and Thompson went to Barto's car they found Kirkland and Arlene in it, he related.

Among the more fundamental causes of unemployment, Howard cited the modern machine, which in some instances he said could replace more than 300 men.

"The thing many persons forget when they discuss the part machinery has played in the modern economic structure," he said, "is that the machine produces but it does not consume."

More than 300 delegates and visitors attended the opening session which, with the exception of Howard's address, was given over largely to introductory ceremonies.

Capone Extends Beer Territory

CHICAGO, May 18. (AP)—The Herald and Examiner said today Alphonse Capone invaded 41 north-west side places, long identified as being under the protection of Matt Kolb, czar of illicit traffic in that district, and left orders to buy their beer from Capone's syndicate in the future.

Kolb's gambling devices were all replaced by Capone's, the newspaper said.

Police authorities of Chicago were reported to be fearing a sanguinary gang war as a result.

Young Brownfield Banker, In Ill Health, Shoots Self This Morning

BROWNFIELD, May 18. (AP)—Morgan L. Copeland, prominent young banker of this place, shot and killed himself at 8:30 this morning. Friends said he had been in failing health and had been dependent over the critical illness of his mother.

Copeland, about 35, was cashier of the Brownfield State bank, and president of the South Plains Bankers' association.

A verdict of suicide was returned by Justice of the Peace E. L. Shelton.

Copeland was shot in the head with a small revolver, dying instantly. He entered the bank shortly after 10 o'clock and without saying a word to other employees, entered a telephone booth in the rear of the building. A few minutes later a shot was heard and his body was found slumped on the floor.

Copeland had been with the bank since 1920, moving here from Falls. His mother, wife of Dr. W. F. Copeland, has been seriously ill for several weeks.

Besides his parents, Copeland leaves his widow, a young son and a brother, Andrew, vice-president of the bank here.

Copeland was elected head of the South Plains Bankers' association at a recent meeting in Big Spring. He was prominent in Brownfield and Terry county affairs.

Mrs. Earnest Gee and daughter, Doris Gee, have returned from a trip to Tipton, Okla.

Shorter Working Day Needed, Says Chief Of Printers

EL PASO, May 18. (AP)—Charles P. Howard of Indianapolis, president of the International Typographical Union, made a stirring appeal for adoption of the five-day week or six-hour day as a means of relieving unemployment in an address today before the annual convention of the Texas Federation of Labor.

Howard asserted that only drastic measures would restore prosperity and painted a dark picture of conditions in great industrial centers of the north and east.

"When there isn't enough work for everybody, we must divide up work which does exist," he said. "The only thing the American laborer asks is an opportunity to work."

"Gambling" in the stock market he cited as the immediate cause of economic depression and included the public in general as well as the big operator in his indictment of participants in it.

Construction of Hoover Dam Will Go Forward; Law Sustained Today

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—The law authorizing the construction of Hoover dam on the Colorado river was sustained as constitutional today by the supreme court.

Arizona's bill of complaint was dismissed by the court without prejudice to her right to proceed further in the matter should it later develop that any of her rights were being impaired.

Arizona succeeded in showing, the court declared, that it may suffer injury as a result of distribution of water from the reservoir. If at any time in the future her rights to water from the river should be impaired, the court said, the state might take appropriate legal action but that it could not deliver a judgment based on the assumption that the state's rights would be injured.

Work on the dam, already under way, will go forward as a result of the decision although it eventually may be halted if Arizona should bring other court action, with regard to distribution of the water.

The act authorizing the construction of the dam was passed in December, 1928, over the bitter opposition of Arizona's representatives in congress.

Arizona, in its complaint, questioned the constitutionality of the law and asked the supreme court to prohibit the interior department from carrying out its provisions. The state also challenged the Colorado river compact.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McDonald and daughter Pat and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walker are visiting Mrs. Walter Merten at Clay Center, Kans.
