NON-CONFIDENCE MOVE

LEGALITY IS DISPUTED

CHANCELLOR IS CAUGHT OFF GUARD AND IS IGNORED

BERLIN, Sept. 12. (AP)—A communist motion of non-confidence in the cabinet of Chancellor Franz von Papen was voted by the Reichstag today 513 to 32, with 50 members abstaining.

The motion was carried after the chancellor had promulgated a decree dissolving the Reichstag and Hermann Wilhelm Goering, national socialist speaker, had declined to enforce the decree pending action of a technicality before the house.

Coupled with non-confidence motion was a demand for the emergency decree by which President von Hindenburg legalized the economic program of Chancellor von Papen, he rescinded.

This dramatic turn in events left parliamentarians regarding the exact status of the Reichstag.

This confusion was increased by Speaker Goering, who declared that the chancellor's decree of dissolution would be ignored in view of the fact that the government had already been overthrown.

Papen ignored

In an atmosphere that was most tense, Chancellor von Papen appeared on the Reichstag in his hands the decree of dissolution which had been signed a week ago by President von Hindenburg for just such an emergency.

The chancellor talked with Speaker Goering, who gesticulated, shook his head and refused to listen.

Later it was reported that Herr von Papen had yielded his decree of dissolution but the speaker would pay no heed to him pending completion of the vote which was to ex-

Blaze Damages Residence on East Browning

Damage estimated at $750 resulted when fire destroyed the roof and a portion of the interior of a residence at 1218 East Browning avenue at 3:50 o'clock this morning. The fire department had not sufficient hose on the truck to reach the burning building so used water from the booster tank while additional hose was being rushed to the scene of the fire.

Much to the surprise of the firemen on the job, the water from the booster tank, 120 gallons, put out the fire. The house was located south of the airport and the nearest fire plug was on East Francis ave. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

The house was owned by Miss E. Barker but was vacant at the time of the fire, Miss Barker being in Canyon.

DOG CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN IS TO BE BEGUN

Chief Andrews Will Pick Up Untagged Canines

"It is not fair that a few dog owners in the city should have to pay dog tax and that hundreds of others let their dogs run loose without paying for tags and vaccination, and the police department is going to start a cleanup campaign immediately," said Chief of Police John V. Andrews this morning.

The chief also said that there were numerous dog owners who have purchased license tags and have not placed them on their dog's collars. Those dogs will be picked up with the rest during the drive taken to the pound unless the tags are put on the collars.

Dogs are becoming a nuisance in the downtown section especially on the city hall and courthouse lawns.

"I like dogs as well as the next person but I hate to see a few people obeying the law and the majority going free," the chief declared. "This is a warning to dog owners and the next thing will be action."

Red Cross Cloth Ordered Shipped

A portion of the Red Cross cloth for the Pampa chapter has been ordered shipped according to word received this morning by Mrs. W. H. Davis, executive of the local chapter.

The cloth already ordered will come from Griffin, Ga., Danville, Va., and Clearwater, S. C.

The local chapter will receive 3,500 yards in all. It will be made into wearing apparel by local church and club women who will work in the engineers room in the city hall. Sewing machines will be supplied by the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Work will start immediately upon arrival of the first issue of cloth which should be the latter part of this week.

SUICIDE LINKS STILL MISSING

Millette Letters Provide No Clues; Woman Hunted Over Area.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12. (AP)—The suicide of Paul Bern was still a mystery today as officers strove to fill in missing chapters leading up to the death of the motion picture producer husband of Jean Harlow, screen actress.

Letters from Bern to Dorothy Millette, missing "other woman" in his life, were found in her effects here yesterday but filled only a few pages.

More was expected from Los Angeles, where Bern shot himself a week ago today, with the probable opening of a statement from Mandel Silberberg, attorney for Miss Harlow.

Authorities of Sacramento and San Francisco sought Miss Millette or her body. She was believed drowned either in the muddy Sacramento river between the two cities, herself a suicide or, if still alive, fleeing from possible recognition.

Bern and Miss Millette were definitely linked in four letters found as police opened baggage left at a San Francisco hotel from which the woman checked out the day after the producer's death. She vanished that night on the next morning from the river steamer Delta King en route to Sacramento.

Three of the letters were from Bern; the other from his secretary, Irene Harrison.

The letters revealed Bern had been solicitous of Miss Millette's welfare and was interested in supplying her with funds. He sent "love and best wishes" in a letter written to "Miss Dorothy Millette"

First Luncheon Of Jaysees Will Be Tuesday Noon

Every member of the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce will be called or interviewed before tomorrow noon when the first noon luncheon will be held. The organization will hold weekly luncheon meetings in the future, and will work out a program to be followed.

The members will meet in the Schneider hotel at 12 o'clock noon and the meeting will last only one hour. An interesting program is being arranged. It will include musical numbers and brief talks.

Decision to join the National Junior chamber of commerce was made at a recent meeting. A membership drive will be discussed at the luncheon tomorrow.

BANDITS WRECK 3 TRAINS AND ROB 600, LEAVING 24 KILLED

HARBIN, Manchuria, Sept. 12. (AP)—Twenty-four persons were killed, upwards of 70 injured, and undetermined number kidnaped and 600 robbed in a series of three combination bandit raids and train wrecks near here within 24 hours.

In addition to these casualties more than 200 were killed and several wounded in a battle between Japanese troops and Chinese bandits 60 miles farther south near Tansing. The Japanese clashed with 700 bandits who were raiding along the Chinese Eastern railway on which the three wrecks occurred.

Six passengers were killed, 14 injured and 100 kidnaped in a second wreck of a passenger train bound for Harbin in the neighborhood of Chengkaotze, on the eastern Chinese Eastern railway.

Six Japanese were killed, several wounded and several others missing.

COMMISSION CONTENTS OIL-TAKING LAW VIOLATED

ALLRED FILES PETITION

DISCONNECTING OF ANY WELL PROHIBITED BY WRIT

AUSTIN, Sept. 12. (AP)—The Texas Railroad commission probably will hold hearings in the East Texas oil field to develop evidence bearing on charges that oil is being stolen and that conservation orders of the commission are being violated. Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner, said today.

Commissioner Thompson said the commission would welcome any specific evidence of violations of either the commission's orders or the conservation statutes. Thompson said witnesses at the hearing would be sworn and the testimony developed under oath.

"If there is any illicit taking of oil, we want to know about it," he said.

He regarded it as likely that the hearing would be held in the near future.

Commissioner Thompson returned today from an investigation in the East Texas oil field. He reported that in every instance local officials in the area had offered to cooperate in running down the charges that oil was being produced illegally.

Injunction Granted. Action of Attorney General James V. Allred in filing an injunction suit against the Humble Oil & Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company in which the company is being restrained from putting into effect a proposed order whereby they would reduce takings of crude oil in the East Texas, North Texas, and Panhandle fields starting today was commended by Thompson.

The injunction specified the companies must purchase oil ratably from all wells in the field and must

'Chute Accident Almost Results In Ship Crash

Several thousand people visited the airport yesterday attracted by the announcement of the "chute leaps." Due to the extremely high wind a jump was not attempted until 6:30 when Eddie Winfield went up to jump the old balloon chute at the field. During the climb to gain altitude for the jump the chute became loose from its fastenings and started bouncing around on the wing. Eddie climbed out on the wing and tried to tie it down or fasten himself to it to jump, but could not reach it. Meanwhile the ship kept circling over town out of control as the chute and Winfield out on the wing deflected the air over the tail controls and made them virtually useless. Observers said it was only the work of Art Pavey who was flying the plane that kept it from tilting over to one side or the other which would have meant a fatal spin with the extra weight on one wing.

The chute was finally tied into place and Pavey came in for a landing with the chute still out on the wing, to pick up enough gas to go up for a second attempt. They discarded the balloon chute and Winfield went up and jumped with his pack chute, free falling about two hundred feet before opening it. He jumped from an altitude of 2500 feet and the chute drifted five miles north of the field before landing. Winfield landed in a ditch on his feet and bounced over a barbed wire fence sustaining a few cuts on one arm.

The wingswalking and stunting exhibitions were performed early in the afternoon.

IDENTIFYING DEAD AFTER SHIP BLAST

With 43 dead and a score still missing, following the explosion which sank the ferryboat "Observation" with 150 workmen on board, New York City and federal authorities today are investigating the cause of the disaster. Upper photo shows police checking identification of victims after the bodies had been taken from the East River. Bodies of the dead were taken to Bronx piers as they were recovered by police boats dragging the river. Lower picture shows the "Observation" as it looked in the days when it served as a sight-seeing boat that carried many visitors to New York around Manhattan Island.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—Reports for the democratic national campaign organizations filed today with the clerk of the house showed a net balance of $32,042 and an estimated current deficit of $236,694 on Sept. 1.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, today challenged the accuracy of the report on the bonus army made to President Hoover by Attorney General Mitchell, denying that he had asked for or approved a request for troops to quell rioting last July 28.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—A towering wave of selling broke over the stock market today, giving the list its most severe lull since it turned upward more than two months ago. After extreme losses of 1 to 7 points, the list recovered a point or two here and there in the last hour, but sagged again in the final dealings. The closing tone was heavy. The turnover exceeded 4,000,000 shares.

Cotton Declines $2.35 Per Bale

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12. (AP)—Cotton values declined $2.35 to $2.45 a bale today under hedge-selling and a wave of liquidation induced by absence of rain in the belt over the week-end and weakness in stocks and grain. Stop-loss orders were uncovered on the scaled-down. All three of the nearest future deliveries dropped well under the eight-cent line before noon, with October at 7.62, December to 7.78 and January at 7.86, down 47 to 49 points from the close of Saturday.

Favorable Liverpool cables and very bullish August textile statistics were disregarded in a weak opening of the market and the trend was steadily but unhurriedly downward thereafter.

GOVERNOR SAYS HE'LL BEGIN FIGHT ON TOMORROW

LUBBOCK, Sept. 12. (AP)—Gov. R. S. Sterling said today he would meet "Jim Ferguson on the floor of the convention" tomorrow to contest the nomination of Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson for governor.

Governor Sterling said today he would take his fight for the democratic nomination for governor to "the highest tribunal in this state."

"I have come to Lubbock to continue my fight for good government and the purity of the ballot in Texas and if a Ferguson steamroller convention holds me tomorrow my route from Lubbock leads to the highest tribunal in this state," the governor said.

"I will meet Jim Ferguson on the floor of the state convention tomorrow and with me will be the representatives of this half million Texans who have so loyally followed me. If on that convention floor illegal ballots again defeat the forces of honesty I shall next meet Jim Ferguson in the court house.

"I have no concern of the ultimate outcome and say to all who are with me in this fight—and I know they are in the vast majority—be of the greatest hope and cheer."

"I have sent out a call for a mass meeting on the night of this very day, where on the eve of our stand against inurement this Lubbock Sunday morning and were at the railroad station to receive me. I am sorry that a misunderstanding resulted which ended in my disappointment that I had not come on the train they anticipated. I am here now. These same thousands are surrounding me. ### ALLRED FLAYS HUMBLE MOVE

Company Assailed For Its Action After Receiving Injunction.

AUSTIN, Sept. 12. (AP)—Attorney General James V. Allred today charged the Humble Oil & Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company with issuance of orders in "furtherance of their scheme to undermine and tear down the order of the railroad commission of Texas which raised the per well allowable in East Texas from 43 barrels to 50 barrels per day."

The statement was made by Allred in a formal memorandum. "It is commonly known," Allred stated, "that the Humble company has been dissatisfied with said order but, fortunately, under the laws of Texas, it is the duty of the railroad commission to fix the allowable oil which may be produced and not the prerogative of the Humble Oil & Refining company."

The memorandum was occasioned by receipt of a telegram by District Judge W. F. Robertson, who last night issued an injunction restraining the companies from carrying out a proposed order whereby they would purchase only 50 per cent of the per well allowables set by the commission for the East Texas, North Texas, and Panhandle fields. The telegram purportedly was signed by W. S. Parish, president of the Humble Oil & Refining company, and R. W. Hanrahan, president of the pipe line company.

Meanwhile, prohibition officials at Washington, aiding in the hunt, were holding to their previously expressed belief in two other theories. They thought Robins, who disappeared while on his way to visit President Hoover, was either the victim of amnesia or that Russian Czarists were responsible for his disappearance.

The colonel was reported to have been active recently in seeking recognition by the United States of Soviet Russia. As a result he was reported to have received threats from Russian Imperialists.

FAULTY HOME PLANNING

When the President's Conference on Home Planning and Home Ownership completed its survey of 3,000 typical American homes recently, it pointed out that "much needless impairment of home and family life in present-day America" is due to faulty house plans.

The almost universal scheme for the small home provides for three rooms downstairs—living room, dining room and kitchen—and, as the conference remarks, for a family of any size this is pretty cramped.

"Only a single living room for recreational activities of too many people—children, parents and grandparents; no private place to read, or rest, or play, or entertain personal friends"—that is the way the conference report sums it up.

Here seems to be one of those perfectly obvious truths that we fail to recognize until someone points them out to us. The average house is cramped, and when we look back on our own experience we realize it.

A home ought to have one room where children can distribute their playthings as they see fit. The bane of childhood, very often, is the fact that just as you get your blocks, or your toy train, or your building set arranged to your fancy you have to put the whole business away, because other people need to use the room.

It ought to have a room where daughter can entertain her boy friend without driving the rest of the family off to bed. You might reflect that if more homes had such rooms, there would be fewer "parking parties" along lonely roads late at night. Most young people would greatly prefer to meet in their own homes, if they could do it without crowding their parents out.

And it should provide a lot of other things—a workshop for an energetic and mechanical-minded boy or adult, space where part of the family could enjoy music without disturbing those who want to read or chat, and so on. Of course, getting all of this into a small house isn't as easy as it might be; but couldn't our designers come a lot closer to it than they usually do?

SUICIDE—

In New York City six months before he shot himself and four months before he married Miss Harlow.

Bern Solonichos

"If you do change to another place," he wrote, "we will find some way of supplying you with funds in a manner convenient for you." The letter was addressed, on Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer stationery, to "Hotel Algonquin, West Forty-Fourth St., New York City."

He said in a preceding paragraph he had read with "great interest" she was "contemplating a trip to San Francisco," and added: "Of course, I can not give you any advice because you yourself can be the only person to know what is best." He recommended the hotel at which she registered last May 4.

In one of the other letters written two years ago Bern discussed business and financial conditions briefly, adding, "consequently, I don't think that you should come out here now."

The third letter, dated two weeks previously, said "I was really very happy to get your note of the 16th because it is so very long since I heard from you. Particularly I was

I happy to know that you are in relatively good health."

The letter from Bern's secretary, dated last May 13, and addressed to Miss Millette in San Francisco, announced the enclosure of an order for $100, "due on May 14." It stated: "Mr. Bern has already left on his vacation but I am at the office in the meantime, and if I can help you in any way at any time please, don't hesitate to let me know."

River Dragged
In a wardrobe trunk left behind by Miss Millette, police found imported shoes, frunks and fine Parisian perfumes and toilet articles.

On a blotter of her writing pad, stamped in reverse order, was the one enigmatic word—"justification." There was no indication of what the word referred to but police expressed the opinion it was noted from a note or letter written shortly before the woman left the hotel.

As her belongings were examined here, Sacramento authorities dragged the river for the woman who allegedly lived with Bern as his wife 10 years ago. Their operations were confined to a 20-mile stretch.

Miss Harlow's attorney promised a statement after conferring with the widow, her step-father, Mario Bello, and Bern's brother, Henry.

POWER—

Maine has been the immediate forum of orators for the two major parties. Secretary Mills of the treasury wound up the campaign for the republicans Saturday night. Senator Walsh and Governor Ely extolled the cause of the democrats Friday.

The republicans, through their state chairman, forecast victory for Burleigh Martin, their candidate for governor, by "more than 25,000 votes." Louis J. Brann, the democratic candidate, believed he would win by 20,000. Brann favors repeal of the prohibition amendment. Martin was non-committal in his campaign talks.

Among tomorrow's primaries the prohibition issue arises in Michigan in the efforts of two former congressmen, Cramton and Hudson, to win republican renomination. Each was an active prohibitionist and each was defeated two years ago by anti-prohibitionists. Candidates for state offices and seventeen house seats also will be named by Michigan voters.

Prohibition echoes also from the state of Washington where Senator Jones, author of the "five and ten" law which put new teeth in prohibition enforcement, is opposed for renomination by Adams Beeler. Two Senate members, Stephen Chadwick and Edwin Brown want the democratic nomination.

Senator Huey Long figures in Louisiana's primary, although not himself a candidate. He has campaigned vigorously against the republican in November. Prohibition has been a topic of the campaign of Congressman Ernest W. Gibson and Loren R. Pierce for republican nomination for Vermont's single seat in the house. Gibson advocates re-submission. Pierce has urged repeal.

New Hampshire's senior senator, George H. Moses, has spent little time campaigning for renomination. He is unopposed save by Joseph L. Richards, new to New Hampshire politics, who has asked voters to write in his name on the ballot. He failed to file in time to have his name appear.

Hunt Running Again.

In Arizona the seven-time governor, George W. F. Hunt, 73 years old, will have four opponents for the nomination. The party registration in Arizona is four to one as regards democrats and republicans but for the first time in the state's history the republicans are placing a full ticket in the field.

Interest in Colorado tomorrow centers upon the contests for senatorial nominations. Candidates for the unexpired term of the late Senator Waterman and for the full term of six years are to be named.

In South Carolina, it is strictly a senatorial affair, the voting being on the question of whether Senator E. D. (Cotton Ed) Smith or former Senator Cole L. Blease will be the democratic candidate for the seat now held by Smith.
On Wednesday Congressman Crisp and Governor Russell will contest a senatorial affair, the voting being on the question of whether Senator E. D. (Cotton Ed) Smith or former Senator Cole L. Blease will be the democratic candidate for the seat now held by Smith.

There were rumors in the Reichstag lobby that the government planned, if necessary, to use force. Through its press department the government announced that it regarded the Reichstag's action as unconstitutional and ineffective because it was committed by a parliament already dissolved. The constitution provides that government representatives are entitled to the floor during sessions of the Reichstag, even outside the regular order of business.

The chancellor contends that he asked for the floor twice but was denied it and that this denial was a violation of the constitution.
Then, it was explained, he placed his decree of dissolution on the speaker's desk. By this act, according to the government interpretation of the events, the decree of dissolution became effective and the vote of non-confidence void.

The press bureau announced that the government's further course would be determined by the action of the council of elders which went into session this afternoon.

Caught napping by the Reichstag opposition, Chancellor von Papen found himself today in a position of great uncertainty.
He will remain in charge of the government for at least several weeks longer, for the supreme court will be asked to decide the constitutionality of the events which made today's session of the Reichstag one of the most dramatic in a long time.

A single dissenting voice could have forestalled consideration of a communist motion coupling a declaration of non-confidence with a demand that the government's last emergency decree be rescinded but the government had not expected this turn of events and there was no objection to the motion.

Realizing too late what was going on, the chancellor sprang to the rostrum with his decree of dissolution but the speaker waved him aside, asserting the vote would be completed before anything else was taken up. It carried by 54 to 32, with 50 members abstaining.

The chancellor maintained that the vote was the act of a parliament already dissolved and therefore ineffective. Hermann Goering, the national socialist speaker, said the decree would be ignored and the Reichstag would be summoned for tomorrow.
Then he reconsidered and agreed to submit the issue to the supreme court.

It was understood that several states would contest the legality of the dissolution, probably Brunswick, Mecklenburg, and Oldenburg, inasmuch as the Reichstag itself cannot appear while its existence is questioned by the government.
The litigation probably will require several weeks.

after the derailment and wreck by a Japanese hospital train near Shwanghai, near where the first train was wrecked. This train was carrying 50 Japanese passengers and a number of sick Japanese soldiers.

Among those aboard the first train was Henry Villard, son of Oswald Garrison Villard, publisher of the Nation, New York. He was not injured.

Villard saved his money and his passport by concealing them under his shirt but all his baggage was stolen and his clothes were torn to shreds. Nevertheless he went on toward Manchuli by way of Changchun.

The holdup of the train on which he was a passenger occurred during the night, 40 miles from Harbin when 50 desperados, having ripped up the rails, attacked when the train struck the gap in the track.

They began looting immediately, ignoring the cries of the dying. The injured lay in the wreckage until daylight. Those who survived over their lives to the fact that they were in steel cars.

not take more from their own wells than were taken from other leases. It also prohibited the pipe line company from disconnecting any wells that now have pipe line connections.

Fred Upchurch, assistant attorney general, who prepared the injunction petition, had interpreted the order of the Humble companies as a move to override the orders of the commission. Upchurch said he believed the companies were disgruntled at the recent order of the commission in raising the allowable for the East Texas field from 325,000 to 375,000 barrels daily.

Attorney General Allred delayed leaving Austin for the state democratic convention to keep in touch with developments in the East Texas oil situation. He indicated he would file other suits if he believed the facts warranted.

Order Received Here.
Commissioner Thompson said "it was strange that one company would apply for 260 well locations in new areas of the cry of overproduction in East Texas."

The Humble Oil & Refining company will purchase only 50 per cent of its allowable but will not store the other 50 per cent as announced Saturday, according to a telegram received at the local office of the company. The decision not to store the balance of the allowable was made after a temporary injunction restraining the company from violating the provisions of the Texas ratable oil taking law as interpreted by Attorney General James V. Allred had been granted yesterday afternoon in Austin.

In an announcement Saturday, the Humble company said that it would purchase 50 per cent and the other 50 per cent at two cents a barrel per month. The supplemental order received this morning instructed superintendents to go ahead purchasing 50 per cent of oil from connected wells, including company wells. The order further stated that the company was not to store any of its own production.

The Humble company will ask for an adequate hearing on the injunction which they claim was granted without notification to them.
The purchasing order in the Panhandle went into effect this morning.

Parish Protests Wit.
HOUSTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—W. S. Parish, president of the Humble Oil & Refining company, commenting here today on an injunction granted the State of Texas in Austin specifying that the firm must purchase crude oil ratably in the East Texas, North Texas and Panhandle fields, said that "we cannot and will not purchase any more crude than we can consume and sell."

Mr. Parish's statement follows: "The company was storing considerable oil which was necessary as the production from wells to which it was connected was in excess of its own consumption and sales to others. Rather than adopt another policy, and in order to avoid inconvenience or injury to its customers and to treat their oil the same as its own oil, the company arranged through the Humble Pipe Line company to store its own excess production and to store the excess production of its customers over and above the amount that it could consume and sell."

"This program has been interrupted by the injunction granted, we think, although we have not seen the court papers and are acting on telegraphic information from the clerk of the court.

Allred said the substance of the telegram was that orders had been issued to superintendents of the company instructing them to withdraw the offer of the Humble Pipe Line company to store oil produced in the field and to run the Humble pipe line only 50 per cent of the allowable set by the commission. The superintendents also were instructed, Allred stated, to purchase only 50 per cent of the railroad commission allowable from wells to which they were connected.

Order Misconstrued
"They intimated they were doing this in compliance with their understanding of the court's injunction," the memorandum stated. "We cannot conceive how any ordinary business man could have placed such an unreasonable and unwarranted construction on the court's injunction. As a matter of fact, the mandatory injunction only prevented the Humble Pipe Line company from unlawfully disconnecting with any well to which they were connected and ordered the Humble Oil & Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company to take and purchase from each operator to whose wells they were connected in the same amount that they produced from their own wells."

The memorandum stated the attorney general understood the Humble had intended, starting today, to continue to produce 50 barrels from each of its own wells, "buying from themselves 25 barrels of it and storing for themselves the other 25 barrels, but refusing to purchase from independent and other operators to which they were connected more than 25 barrels of oil per day."

STRONG MEET TUESDAY IN BALL LOOP

JAYSEES AND FACULTY, NEWS AND DANCER PLAY GAMES

There should be action galore in the playground ball games scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. Teams will still be meeting for the first time this season and testing strength.

The game between the Jaysees and the Faculty should be one of the best this season. Another good game should be the Pampa News-Dancer encounter. The newsmen have already won a pre-season game from the oilmen and they are smarting for revenge as it is the only blip on their state this season.

The Rose building, one of the grandest in the city, will meet the Santa Fe in a hard game. The Phillips will come to Magnolia park to meet the Kiwanians. The Phillips nine so far this season has been a home team and dopsters are looking for the children to come through with a win tomorrow.

The pitchers battle of the season should be at Danciger park when Harry Drain of the NEWS and Geppert of the oilmen meet for the first time. Both have plenty of speed. Olsen and Patrick should also make things interesting when they tangle in the Jaysees-Faculty game at Jaysees park.

Plans for Dixie Series Not Made

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 12. (AP)—Actual negotiations for the playing of the Dixie series have not been opened between President John D. Martin of the Southern association, and Alvin Gardner, Texas league ace, it was said at Martin's office today.

Martin's office said he has been delaying discussion with the Texan until the Southern pennant race was decided.

Chattanooga's opponent for the "world series" of southern baseball will be determined by a play-off between Beaumont and Dallas, each the victor in a half of the Texas league "split season."

Martin's office anticipates conferences on the matter will be started within the next day or two.

Another Rise In Rio Grande Flood

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 12. (AP)—Another slight rise in the swollen Rio Grande was noted here today as the mighty stream licked at its levees on the American and Mexican sides.

The government weather bureau, which announced a flood stage here of 19.2 feet, up one-tenth foot since yesterday, said there might be still further fractional rises, especially if the wind should veer to the south-east, but W. J. Schnurbusch, head of the bureau, said he thought it would require at least one and a half feet more water to send the international river over restraining levees.

"Undoubtedly there will be no such rise," he added.

Meanwhile, Hidalgo, further upstream, also reported a rise in the flood stage. It was standing 23.8 feet there this morning, up three-tenths of a foot.

The Rio Grande City, still farther up the stage was 22.5 feet, a fall of eight-tenths foot since yesterday.

Mercedes again reported the stage stationary at 21.8 feet. At Lyford, some 50 miles north of Brownsville, water from one of the main valleys had broken in that region had crept to within a quarter of mile of town.

A. M. Sadler, veteran Oklahoma city golfer, played 18 holes taking only 19 putts.

Billy Herman, Cubs' second baseman, went hitless only one day in a 15-day stretch during the Chicago team's sensational home stay.

Lookouts Win Southern Title By Two Games But Margin Is Disputed

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 12. (AP)—The Lookouts of Chattanooga were the champions of Southern association baseball by a two-point margin today but protests by Memphis, runner-up, prolonged controversy over the title.

The season ended yesterday when Chattanooga defeated Knoxville 5 to 0 and the Chickasaws of Memphis whipped New Orleans 1 to 0. Chattanooga's 12 to 4 victory over Knoxville last Friday in a game disputed by Memphis was the margin of victory.

Chattanooga will engage the winner of the Texas league pennant in the Dixie series that will determine the champions of southern baseball.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Dedicated to the School Teachers of Gray County:

Away from the town and it's worry, From school and it's struggles away, How happy and peaceful the moments, Passed on a fair August day, Where falls the tall soothing shadows, On eddy spotted by foam, Where, down in the depths of the water, The gamey black bass has his home.

To lay on the sword with the blunts, And list to the mooking-bird's song, And breathe the sweet air so refreshing, No day can be too long.

But hark, September is calling, And the web that I've woven grows thin, It's time to be up and a-going, For soon my school will begin, Each of my pupils will tell you, 'Tho at the time they think I'm bewitched, The golden rule I use to ad-mo-nish, And never resort to the switch.

I'd like to be back at the old home, Where they taught me the old golden rule, But my fate has been sealed, if you please sir, And I've got to keep on teaching school.

E. E. (Dan) M'OREW.

Rotarians Balk At Hurling Ace Of Eager Girls

War has developed between the Rotarians and the Business and Professional Women's playground ball teams and all over a pitching problem. The two teams are scheduled to meet on Magnolia diamond at 5 o'clock this afternoon but the Rotarians balked at Manager Raymond Acklam's selection of a pitcher for the women.

The Rotary team will have to feed the "weaker sex" if they lose the game by their own agreement. The Rotarians have been keeping quiet as to their lineup but it is reported they have been working out secretly and have a fast combination.

As the Kiwanians can verify, the Rotarians will need the best they have to win. The girls team defeated the Kiwanis team 6 to 5 last week in the upset game of the season.

Officials Will Act On Protested Game

Officers and team managers of the Pampa Playground ball league will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the chamber of commerce rooms to air the first protest of the season and discuss other important matters.

President Roff will preside and he has issued a call for every team to be represented.

The NEWS protested their opening game of the season played against the Faculty and a final decision will be given tonight. Trans-lation of several rules will also be made by the president.

The postponed game between the Faculty and the Kiwanis club will be played Wednesday afternoon at Magnolia park, the president announced this morning.

Kentucky Law Favors Jenkins

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 12. (AP)—Joseph S. Lawton, attorney for Hubert J. Jenkins, said today he had been unable so far to find any thing in Texas law to provide for indicting a parent for "kidnaping" his own child. A hearing by which Dallas officers seek to return Jenkins under a kidnaping indictment is to be held by Governor Ruby Laffoon tomorrow.

FRISCH TESTIFIES

While roaming around in the National League this way, it isn't a bad idea to talk to Frankie Frisch about the world series. This is to be one of the few world series in which Frankie is not billed to play, at least not billed at the moment. But Frank has a few well chosen words to utter about the Cubs.

"Take it from me," flashes the Fordham Flash, "those Cubs are one hard team to beat on their home grounds. It is a club that was built especially for Wrigley Field.

TAILOR-MADE TEAM

"It's an odd park, and Wrigley collected ball players to fit it. Right-handed pitchers, of which the Cubs have quite a few good ones, throw to the plate from a background of white shirts in the center field bleachers.

"Wrigley obtained a flock of right-handed hitters to meet the same specifications, taking every advantage of the bleacher angle which is hard on both southpaw pitchers and batters.

"Thus, I do not think that Gomez and the Powerful Yankee left-handed hitters will get very far at Wrigley Field."

MORELAND ONE OF FAVORITES IN 'WORLD SERIES' TOURNEY

Qualifying Rounds Today at Five Farms With 159 in Competition.

By GRAHAM DILLON.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12. (AP)—Amateur golf's big six-day marathon started over Five Farms course here today with 159 challengers seeking qualifying positions for the United States championship.

Over this difficult 6,000-yard layout, where par 70 has never been bettered in competition, the first 18 holes of the 36-hole qualification test was played. The 32 low scorers today and tomorrow will advance to Wednesday's match play rounds.

Picking favorites for this championship, the "world series" of golf, was risky business but Francis Oulmet, the defending champion of Boston, who came last summer at Beverly to regain the title he first won in 1914, was well liked.

Oulmet has been hitting his shots well and putting with his usual fine touch. Others of the well-advertised stars liked are the youngsters—Charles Seaver of Los Angeles, Maurice McCarthy, Gus Moreland of Dallas, Texas; Tony Torrance, captain of the British Walker cup team, and Cyril Trolley of England.

Then there are several former champions—Oulmet, Harrison Johnston, Jess Sweetser, Charles Evans, Max Marston, Jesse Guilford and Chandler Egan—with new title aspirations.

Gus Moreland's hand, cut several days ago, was almost healed.

Schmeling-Walker Match Postponed

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—A bolt on Mickey Walker's left arm probably will force postponement of his 15-round bout with Max Schmeling until Friday, Sept. 25. The match, scheduled for Sept. 19, will be held in Madison Square Garden bowl on Long Island.

Walker as examined yesterday by officials of the New York State Athletic commission who recommended that he be given an additional four days. Commissioners Muldoon and Pielan approved the postponement and it was expected Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, also would consent.

RECORD CROWD HEARS GRIMM SUNDAY NIGHT

TOTAL OF 23 RESPOND TO CALL GIVEN BY EVANGELIST

That age-old question, the question Cain asked God, "Am I my brother's keeper?" was the theme of Rev. B. B. Grimm's sermon last night to a crowd that filled all the available space in the tabernacle. It was the largest crowd of the revival.

In the largest possible sense, we are our brother's keeper, the evangelist declared. Pointing to the failure of the saloon, he prophesied the same fate for the motion picture show as it is conducted today.

Using the verse "Son of Man I have set thee as a watchman," from the third chapter of Ezekiel, Rev. Grimm explained that the living conditions of that day required walled cities. Watchmen were placed on these walls and if they failed to give the alarm, if any one perished, their blood was required.

"Many people think that this text applies only to preachers, but it applies also to laymen. Every layman shares this responsibility."

"The reason of the church's condition today is traceable to its failure to function properly."

"The standard of Christian living has been lowered in Pampa. People are lost and unchurched in your city because the light of Christianity has been hidden under bridge tables, home brew, and Sunday desecration. Remember, the blood of these will be required at your hands."

"Churches are dead because of double-crossing church members who have no regard for their church. As a result the world has lost confidence in their religious integrity. After all, it is the life that counts."

He urged fathers, mothers, and friends to look on their hands at the blood of their loved ones and friends. A gripping story of how he let a fraud slip through his hands to eternity led the audience in tears. Twenty-three of the audience responded to the appeal he made.

Miss Cornelia Barrett will have charge of the young people's service, which begins at 7 o'clock tonight.

My Beauty Hint

By PHYLLIS FRASER Giving the hair and scalp a frequent vacation from hats is a good beauty aid, I find. Whenever I am not out in the sunlight I remove whatever head covering I have on. I also find that giving my hair a short sun bath daily helps to keep it healthy and brilliant. Another hint to remember is the importance of sterilizing brushes, combs and hairpins frequently.

CLASS MEETS TUESDAY Fidelis Matrons class will meet at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Bethany class room, First Baptist church. At 10 o'clock the class in a body will attend the revival services. All members, associate members, and members in service are requested to be present. A nursery will be provided.

LILY TO DIVORCE MATE?

"Report ridiculous and untrue" was the characterization Lily Pons, 28-year-old opera star, gave to reports she was planning to divorce her husband, Auguste Messire, the 55-year-old Dutch millionaire who started her on her career. She's in Rio de Janeiro and he's in Paris, where he admitted that there had been "a little difficulty." Friends, however, say he is "heart-broken" because of the situation and expects they'll be divorced despite her denials. Lily and her husband are shown above in New York.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

Nearly every modern housewife has some knowledge of the facts connected with the production and distribution of canned milk in its various forms. She realizes that these products have the advantage of absolute purity. All manufacturers uphold high standards of cleanliness. In addition, the process of manufacture requires rapid heating to a high temperature which is destructive to dangerous bacteria. These make milk products a safe source of milk, entirely dependable in the most remote parts of the world. They can be kept for long periods of time without ice and are particularly convenient for travel and camping.

But there is another point worth consideration—the special value of canned and dried milks as an ingredient in cookery. Since all canned milks have been heated sufficiently to alter their flavors, they blend excellently with many other foods and produce unusually delicious dishes. The process of evaporation develops a flavor suggestive of caramel, as well as a richness and smoothness of texture that makes it, undiluted, almost like cream. Condensed milk, which is a sweetened, evaporated milk, supplies sugar for desserts, cakes and beverages in addition to its own flavor. The milk powders are satisfactory in many instances. When they are dissolved in water, they form a "reconstituted" milk which can scarcely be distinguished from fresh milk. The canned creams—both the coffee and whipping—have been sterilized after sealing in the can and will keep indefinitely before opening. After opening they must be treated just like fresh cream. Since these canned milks can be

'Substance' Was Christian Science Subject Sunday

"Substance" was lesson-sermon subject in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 11.

John 6:27 furnished the golden text. "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed." The lesson-sermon embraced the following verse from the Bible (Zachariah 2:13): "Be silent, O all flesh, before the Lord: for he is raised up out of his holy habitation."

Included in the service was the following from page 276 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"That matter is substantial or has life and sensation, is one of the false beliefs of mortals, and exists only in a supposititious mortal consciousness. Hence, as we approach Spirit and Truth, we lose the consciousness of matter."

Stocks Suffer Severe Losses

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—Stocks today suffered their severest reaction since the summer rally began. Fairly heavy offerings of shares were pressed on the market from all sides.

As trading entered the last hour, activity turned quieter, and some securities, which earlier had lost from $1 to $5 a share, recovered part of their losses.

The rails were particularly weak. New York Central selling around $27 1/2, down $2; Southern Pacific below $30, down $4; Santa Fe at $54.50, down $4.50; Union Pacific at $73.25 down $4 and Pennsylvania at around $18, down $3. Among the industrials, U. S. Steel was off $2.75 to around $46; American Can more than $2 to $36 a share or less, and losses of $2 to $3 occurred in Case, Anaconda, General Electric, American Telephone and Allied Chemical.

A break in secondary railroad bonds appeared to draw selling into the stock market. Nickel Plate loans were notably weak, following announcement that the Interstate Commerce commission would agree to advance only 25 per cent of the funds needed to meet a $20,000,000 note maturity due next Oct. 1, and then only on condition that the noteholders agree to a three-year extension.

Cotton dropped $2 a bale and wheat was off about 1 1/2 cents a bushel.

AUSTIN, Sept. 12. (AP)—The Texas Railroad commission today entered an order reducing the daily allowable production in the Van oil field from 50,000 barrels to 45,000 barrels. The order will become effective September 15. Hearing on the field was held several days ago.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12. (AP)—A wave of liquidation in cotton today sent values down $2.60 to $2.65 cents a bale before satisfied shorts covered and the close showed net declines of $2.25 to $2.45 a bale.

of such a crisis as Texas now faces. We shall emerge the victor.

"Too, I desire to mention that on every hand my friends are mentioning the delightful hospitality of Lubbock. Already, I have been engaged in it. But who is surprised at hospitality in West Texas, a wonderful people of a wonderful state."

The democratic state executive committee met to certify the results of the close party gubernatorial race between Governor R. S. Sterling and Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, with the latter expected to show the most votes on the official tabulation.

The official vote was to be checked by a sub-committee with representatives of both candidates looking on.

The state convention tomorrow will receive the committee's recommendations and officially put out the party's candidate. A platform of principles was being drafted for ratification by the democrats.

In spite of all the uproar over the closeness of the race and charges of irregularities preferred by Governor Sterling, who claimed he had obtained a "majority of the legal votes, cast and would be nominated and elected governor," there was not much convention on the part of friends of the governor.

It was apparent that tomorrow's convention would be in the nature of a love feast for the Ferguson cohorts, for the first time since 1924, when Mrs. Ferguson was elected the state's first woman governor, there had been rejoicing in that camp of the Lone Star commonwealth's strange political school.

Governor Sterling arrived this morning to be present at the convention, after his friends had given up hope that he would attend. He did not put in an appearance at the executive committee session. However, he was greeted by a throng when he reached his hotel—not the one where the Fergusons were stopping.

LEGION STAND ON BONUS DUE FOR REVERSAL

Delegations From 35 States Demand Cash

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 12. (AP)—Reversal of its stand of a year ago against immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus was widely predicted as delegates assembled here today for the opening of the annual national convention of the American Legion.

At least 35 state delegations have come instructed to demand federal cash for the ex-soldiers and sentiment was crystallized at a pre-convention caucus of bonus proponents led by Rep. Wright Patman of Texas last night.

One member of President Hoover's official family, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, is attending the convention, but he announced he had not been invited to speak.

Stanford MacNider, who recently resigned as United States minister to Canada and who also is a former national commander of the Legion, came here as a member of the Iowa delegation but was forced to return home because of the illness of one of his children.

MacNider declared unfounded rumors he and Hurley had been dispatched by the administration to combat bonus sentiment. He said he expected the Legion to be "sensible," but added that "some state departments are coming here with resolutions of approximately 12 words which if adopted would ruin the finances of the country."

Speeches by distinguished guests, including Joseph Daniels, wartime secretary of the navy, greetings from state and city dignitaries and the annual report of Henry L. Stevens, Jr., national commander, made up most of the first day's program.

A memorial service, conducted by the Rev. H. A. Darce, national commander's dinner will be held tonight.

On Tuesday, drill teams, bugle and drum corps, department units with thousands of Legionnaires in line and floats and bands will swarm through downtown streets, rain or shine.

Even busier than the main convention are the auxiliaries' meetings, and the annual convalescence of the Forty and Eight, the Legion's fun-making organization. The 40 and 8 will have its parade tonight and the organization's official program was begun this afternoon.

Lobbies of downtown hotels were denuded of rugs and movable furniture except plain board tables and more durable varieties of chairs. Laundry bags underwent major operations rendering them unfit for holding water. At the 1931 convention in Detroit, laundry bags filled with water were dropped from hotel windows during the Legion parade and pillows were split open to waft their feathery insides over the parading thousands.

Officers Have Few Details of Winn Shooting

COALGATE, Okla., Sept. 12. (AP)—With only meager details available, authorities of two counties began an investigation today into the fatal shooting of U. S. Winn, former Ada postmaster and Territorial U. S. commissioner, at his ranch west of here.

Mrs. Winn, described by authorities as perhaps 20 years younger than her 60-year-old husband, and her attorneys were to confer here with County Attorney Wylie Snow of Coal county. County Attorney Truman Harrison of Pontotoc county also left Ada to confer with Snow. Taken to an Ada hospital, Winn died yesterday. During the afternoon Mrs. Winn notified officers at Ada of the shooting, but gave no details. Her attorneys said she would accompany them to Coalgate today. No charges had been filed.

County Attorney Snow said he assumed the shooting occurred in Coal county, but County Attorney Harrison was prepared to begin prosecution in Pontotoc county if evidence was developed to justify it. Funeral arrangements for Winn awaited arrival of a daughter, Mrs. W. R. Chancellor of Lubbock, Texas. County Attorney Snow said he understood the present Mrs. Winn was the former postmaster's second wife.

County Attorney Snow said he officiated, as county judge, at a second marriage ceremony for the Winn's several years ago, after they had been divorced. He also said Winn had been employed as special counsel to aid in prosecution of a murder case today.

He was retained by brothers of Mrs. Beniah Smith, allegedly slain near the Winn ranch by her brother-in-law, Leasli Smith. Smith, the county attorney said, claimed the shooting was accidental.

Commissioners in Bill-Paying Session

County commissioners met in the courthouse this morning in a regular session. Payment of bills came before the meeting. Following a recess at noon the commission recessed at 3 o'clock to continue the discussion of payment of bills. Other business was scheduled to come before the meeting later this afternoon.

Judge S. D. Stennis and Commissioners John White, Lewis O. Cox, H. G. McCleskey and M. M. Newman were present when the meeting opened.

Two "watch charm" guards, Lettinger and Peters, each weighing less than 170 pounds, are leading candidates for year's Purdue eleven.

SCIENCE HAS NEW TASK—SAVING BOYS FROM CRIME AND STUDYING WAYS FOR TURNING THEM INTO GOOD CITIZENS

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor) WARWICK, N. Y. (AP)—Sometimes it's chickens, sometimes automobiles, sometimes baseball that redeem a boy from crime—

Scientists have taken up a new problem—saving boys from a potential life of crime and turning them into substantial citizens. Experts from the Columbia university medical center this fall will take over the scientific care of the health of delinquent boys at the Warwick, N. Y. state training school (center) and seek to find proper methods for redeeming boys. Youth at the school (above) are taught occupations. They live in cottages and there are no bars or fences.

But why one little incident should succeed out of scores of equally simple ones that fall, no one knows not even the wisest scientist in the world.

That is one reason why one of the world's greatest scientific institutions, the Columbia University Medical Center, will take over the scientific care of these boys' health this fall.

Experts to Visit Boys It is announced as the first time a great medical institution "has taken over a penological unit for such intimate cooperation and scientific study."

By fall there are expected to be about 500 delinquent boys at Warwick. They live under the program of Robert Rosenblum, superintendent, no bars, no fences, all sorts of opportunities to learn skilled hand work.

But because this is a penological institution, these boys are "controlled." "Control" is the all-important measuring-stick of the scientist, usually wholly lacking when studying human beings.

The redeeming chickens were a flock given to the care of Smokey, a negro boy, who imagined his parents and thought him a hero who was drifting in from the outside.

The auto were shop work for Tony, a white boy, whose father is in the penitentiary, mother poverty-stricken, sisters alcoholic, a family disinclining with disastrous effects on Tony.

Baseball did equally as much for Stub, another white boy, after work had failed.

How great is the field of unknown factors involved in such cases is hinted by Dr. Frederick Tilney, noted neuropathologist of Columbia university, one of the scientists who will visit Warwick regularly.

He thinks civilized man at present develops only one-fifth of his brain possibilities. He predicts man is probably not bound to these delinquencies in perpetuity.

Chapter 19 A TRAGEDY INTENDS The day came up in a sea fog which lifted before eleven. It left the gray grey with dew and every tree and flower hung with tiny brilliant drops which made rainbows in the sun.

Nan looked up at her window and wondered if she had really stood there in the dead of night and seen Robert Leonard by a flash of lightning. A white shiver went over her. She had only to shut her eyes, and she could see him against the pale violet flare.

She looked down at Bran, lying on the stone at her feet with his nose between his paws. Jervis hailed her from under the wall.

"Would you like to come and see the waterfall?" She looked over the balustrade and saw him below her, bareheaded, looking up. A drop of three feet on the terrace side was a good ten to the path below. Jervis was gay and smiling. He had very much the look of being at home.

He wore an old brown shooting coat and knickerbockers. Bran got up, put his fore feet on the balustrade, and looked over at him, pricking his ears. His nose quivered slightly. He made no sound.

"I'd love to come," said Nan. "You'll want thick shoes—everything's sopping." "These are the thickest I've got. I don't mind getting wet."

She ran down the steps in the middle of the terrace, and he met her, frowning. "You'll get drenched. Why on earth don't women have decent shoes? You'll get absolutely soaked."

Nothing Venture by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Fearing that she and Jervis Weare were being followed by Rosamund Carew and Robert Leonard, Nan Weare goes to her husband's country place with him. Nan cannot convince Jervis that Leonard has tried twice to murder him. She is awakened in the middle of a stormy night by Bran, Jervis' dog, in time to see Leonard at the edge of the lawn, sharply outlined by a lightning flash.

Garner to Leave For Kansas City

DUALDE, Sept. 12. (AP)—John N. Garner, democratic vice presidential nominee, plans to leave his Duvalde home this afternoon of tomorrow morning for Kansas City, where he will join the presidential nominee, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Charles S. Hand, who has been assisting Garner in arranging his campaign tour, said the speaker would accompany Roosevelt to Topeka. Roosevelt was scheduled to deliver an address there.

Hand said he would proceed to Washington Wednesday of Thursday to prepare Garner's speaking itinerary.

"Shall I show you there isn't?" Jervis let go of Bran with a sudden contemptuous movement and turned to the bridge.

Nan quavered tomorrow, with one whom she loves—but to what purpose? (Copyright, 1932, Lippincott.)

HOOVER AIDE CLAIMS BONUS ARMY WAS FULL OF CRIMINALS AND 'REDS'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—A report from Attorney General Mitchell that federal troops summoned during last summer's encampment of the bonus army were "necessary to and did prevent further disorder and bloodshed" today was before President Hoover.

"In their absence, further rioting would have occurred with further bloodshed among bonus marchers and police and possibly innocent bystanders," Mitchell advised the president after an investigation of police and other official records.

"It is probable the bonus army brought into the city of Washington the largest aggregation of criminals that had ever been assembled in the city at any one time," his report said.

The 4,000-word document covering findings in the investigation ordered by President Hoover was made public by the chief executive with a short statement that it "should correct the many misstatements of fact as to this incident with which the country has been flooded," Mr. Hoover added.

"I wish to state emphatically that the extraordinary proportion of criminal communist and non-criminal elements amongst the marchers as shown by the report should not be taken to reflect upon the many thousands of honest, law-abiding men who came to Washington with full right of presentation of their views to congress."

Mitchell reported that 877 of the first 3,656 men named on the B. E. F. roster could not be identified as ex-service men and that of the 4,723 applying for transportation home 1,069 had police records and 829 of these had been convicted. Communist, he said, promoted the march on Washington and then sought to incite the marchers to disorders, he added.

Many Ex-Service Men. "On the other hand, a very considerable number were genuine ex-service men of good intentions and clean records. This is particularly true of the conditions prior to the adjournment of congress. After the adjournment of congress, the quality of men in the bonus army steadily deteriorated."

Publication of the justice department report brought immediate comment from bonus army leaders in New York. Walter W. Waters, commander of the B. E. F., said: "Mr. Mitchell's charges are absolutely without foundation in fact. It was Mr. Mitchell's job to furnish this information and he did the best he could.

"I regret that this statement was timed for the American Legion convention as it will only antagonize thousands of veterans who had begun to forget what took place in Washington.

"After a careful study a complete answer will be prepared and issued."

R. B. Ellison, who said he was national organizer of the Khud Shirts of America, and former contact officer of the bonus army in a statement here termed the Mitchell report "a political alibi."

Much of the report was given to discussions of communist activity. It said the communist central organ, the "Daily Worker," urged delegations to join the bonus army and said frequent communist meetings were held here, "at many of which incendiary speeches and plans to stir the bonus army to violence and bloodshed were made."

Among communist leaders participating, the report named Emanuel Levin, John T. Peace, James W. Ford, Clair Cowan, and Sylvester G. McKinney.
