'BUSINESS AS USUAL' FOR PAMPA

TWINKLES
Oh, well—what's a few more bank holidays among friends? And in a strong city like Pampa, backed by nearly a hundred industrial payrolls, with one of the strongest banks in West Texas, we have nothing to worry over—much to jest about. It's a privilege to LIVE IN PAMPA.

Just laugh it off by attending the last performance of the Lions minstrel tonight. You'll enjoy it.

Pardon me while I blith.

Ordinarily the Pampan is a careful talker and a pigg careful writer, seeking unimpeachable authorities for all heavy statements.

But when he cooks sides with John Hesse against Judge Ivy Duncan on the theory that the Texas declaration of independence was made in 1835 and won in 1836, he was talking when he should have been discreetly silent. To make matters worse, it was a public dispute at Lions club, and how are we going to face that lions den of raspberry next week?

President J. A. Hill of Canyon Teachers college calls attention to the fact that funds spent for higher education in Texas, only $5,623,374 was appropriated for this year. Our figures were higher.

President Hill says that money spent by certain institutions of higher learning for experiment stations, rodent control, forestry service, extension services, and elementary institution education should not be charged to the students seeking education. We agree.

Bare statistics can cover a multitude of facts. President-Elect Roosevelt has a pile of figures to face in balancing the budget, and if reports are correct his spending program will make him ever more popular than Hoover with veterans, federal office-holders, and many, many other groups which expect Uncle Sam to be generous.

LONGER, SINGLE TERMS?
We read with considerable interest a recurrence of the old suggestion to limit terms of governors and presidents to one administration of 4 or 6 years. Because of the often-heard political campaigns of the Ferguson, the uncertainty of the Hoover strength until last year, and the nervousness of the present office in the purpose of defeating them for a second term, the single-term idea is worthy of close study. We find, for instance, the New York Sun commenting as follows:

The founding fathers were not in clear agreement upon the mode of electing a president. After a great deal of debate in the course of which they changed their minds many times the delegates to the constitutional convention on July 28, 1787, arrived at an agreement that the president should be appointed by the national legislature for a term of seven years and should be ineligible for a second term. This latter condition was consistent with a tradition as old as American politics: that of rota-

BABY BEEVES TO BE SHOWN ON SATURDAY

CREAM OF CROP TO BE SEEN HERE IN EVENT

ASK PUBLIC INTEREST

TED SCOTT AND GRADY SHEPHERD TO BE JUDGES

HRIGHT and early this morning County Agent Ralph R. Thomas began making final preparation for the baby beef show which will be held at the Gray County creamery barn tomorrow, near the Santa Fe freight depot. Throughout the morning, Mr. Thomas was visiting homes of 4-H club boys who will enter anywhere from a dozen to 21 baby beeves. Final instructions were given the boys.

Both Mr. Thomas and George W. Briggs of the chamber of commerce expressed the hope that local meat market owners would give the baby beevess a thorough inspection tomorrow. The calves will be sold at the Amarillo fat stock show.

Mr. Thomas pointed out that the show Saturday would be no ordinary fat stock show. The calves to be shown are the "cream of the crop" in Gray county. They are scheduled to win prizes later on in the season at other shows. One of the best calves ever raised in the county, according to Mr. Thomas, a calf owned by Jim Farley of O'Connell, will not be entered in Pampa show this year. Last year the boy won the grand championship of the Amarillo show and is not eligible this year. The calf will be shown at San Angelo and Fort Worth.

A $10 prize donated by the Hereford association of America will be given the owner of the grand champion tomorrow. Other prizes are as follows: juniors, first $5; second, $4; third, $3; fourth and fifth $1. Seniors, first, $5; second, $4; and third, $3.

Judges for the baby beef event will be Grady Shepherd of Miami and Ted Scott of Pampa.

Entries already received are from the following: Class 1—Farris Hess, McLean; Billy Wilson, McLean; and J. W. Thompson of Miami. Class 2—Farris Hess, McLean; Fess, McLean; Wilbur Lee, Wilson, Hess, McLean; (2) Elsie Vanderburg, Pampa; Evert Vanderburg, Pampa; Fred Vanderburg, Pampa; Robert Wilson, McLean; Louise Wilson, McLean; Archie Hibler, McLean; (2) J. W. Thompson, Miami; Eva Lorene Thompson, Miami.

The public is urged to see the beeves. Judging will start at 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

Mr. Thomas said he would take to the Amarillo show any hams and bacon desired by Gray county people to be entered.

Kiwanians Open Contest as Most Members Attend

Only three members of the Kiwanis club were absent today in the first meeting starting a four-week attendance contest. Two of the absent members were out of town and the other, T. W. Barnes, is ill.

Fred Cullum and Reno Stinson, captains of the two teams, will furnish transportation to Amarillo each Monday morning so that any member can make up his attendance.

One team accepted the challenge of the other to make the contest a "turkey and bean" affair, the losing team to buy the winning team turkey while the losers eat beans.

An interesting program was presented by members of the safety committee today. Several Boy Scouts under the supervision of Eagle Scout Otto Rice demonstrated types of bandaging and other first aid methods.

Junior police from the various Pampa schools were introduced. The Kiwanis club sponsored the Junior police movement here more than a year ago, and since organizing there have been no serious accidents around any of the schools.

Junior Williams sang several "cowboy" songs, playing the guitar as accompaniment. Emmitt Smith also entertained with piano selections.

Among the visitors today were Jack McGrady, D. E. Cecil, Ralph Thomas, Emmitt Smith, Doc Childers, Jess Wynne, Grady Browder, the Junior police and Boy Scouts.

DR. WARNER IS GRATEFUL FOR SCOUT LETTER

Boys' Leader Is Recovering Health Very Slowly At Muskogee Hospital.

While the Pampa Boy Scout leaders are preparing to open Monday the annual drive for funds to carry on the movement, they have the inspiration of a letter from Dr. W. A. Warner of Claude, who wrote from the hospital at Muskogee, Okla., where he has been in a critical condition since November.

Often called the father of Scouting in the Panhandle, Dr. Warner and his wife, Mrs. Phebe K. Warner, have been of tremendous influence in helping the movement for many years. Last January the Adobe Walls council leaders directed that a letter be written to Dr. Warner expressing appreciation of his services and hope for his speedy recovery.

Dr. Warner wrote: "Your most kind letter of January 11 was promptly received but on December 29 the doctors put me on the table for the third bit of work technically called an operation. I was very slow in making a recovery following it.

"You know, just such letters as the one from the Adobe Walls area, from my home town, from Amarillo, and from about 300 others made me feel that if I had any nerve at all now was the time to show it.

"In November for 4 days and nights the medical staff thought I was at the end of life. One doctor, however, would not give up. I hiccupped a week and night and day. Finally, I stopped suddenly after trying everything known. After I had been eating heartily for three weeks, I weighed 110 pounds. That was five weeks ago. Now I weigh 121. I weighed 180 when I arrived November 27. I hope to go home in a couple of weeks.

"I would have written sooner had it not been a task to write so you could read it. Your offer of assistance is appreciated greatly, and it came in the form to do the most good—encouragement.

"Please express my heart-felt gratitude to the council for the expression of good will and I hope it will be many a day before any of you have the exquisitely painful pleasure of meeting the spinal puncture, electric instruments, etc. I know so well.

"Success to the Adobe Walls council in its every good work."

Japan Suffers Huge Loss When Tidal Wave Hits

TOKYO, March 3.—More than 1,200 persons are known to have been killed in the earthquake, tidal wave and fire which devastated a section of the northeastern seaboard of Honshu island, largest of the Japanese archipelago, today.

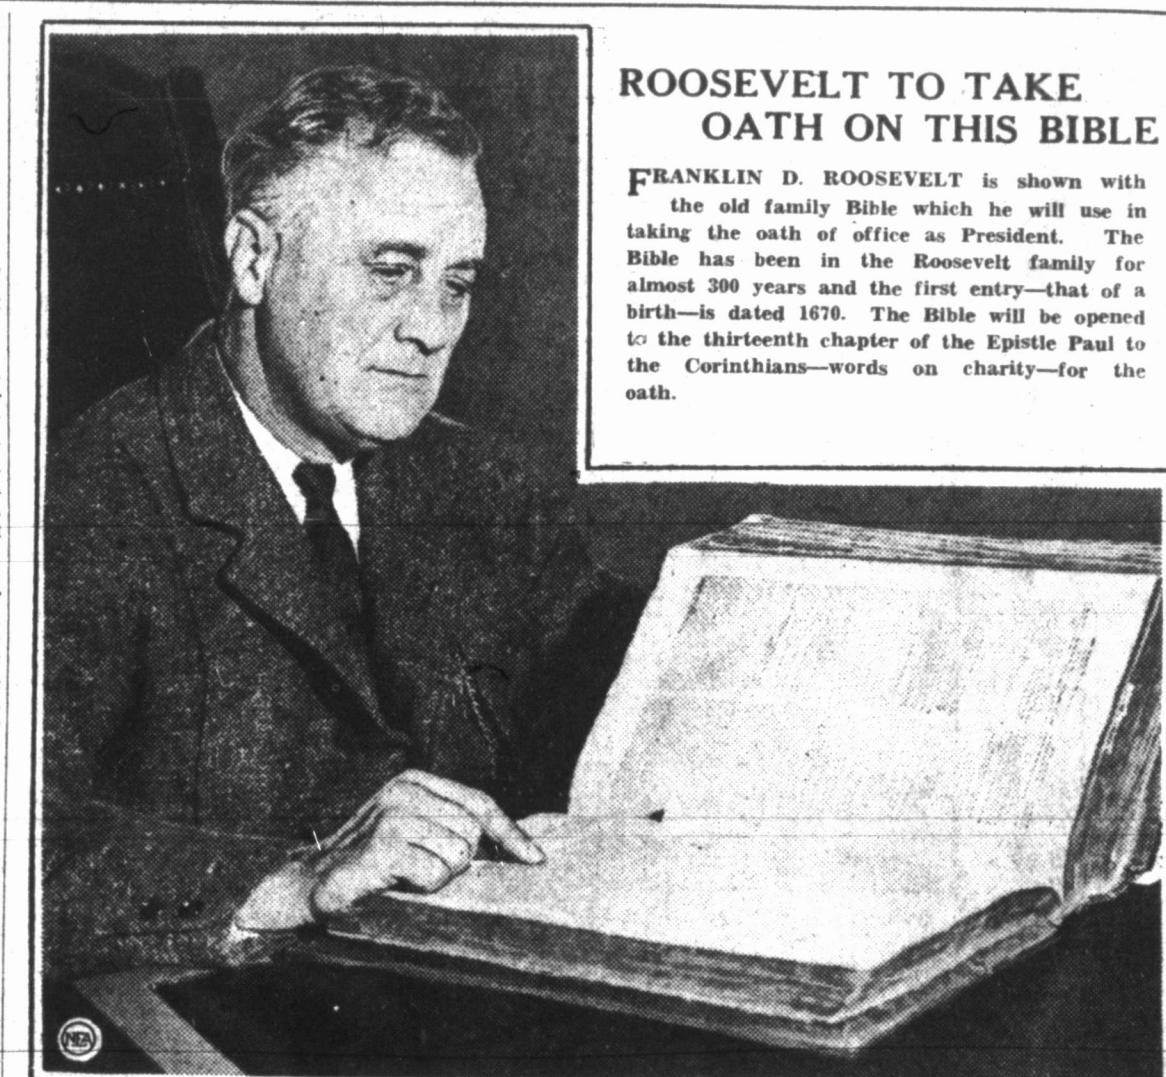

The full extent of the casualties had not been determined at 11 o'clock tonight, but the governor of the province of Iwate, which suffered most heavily, reported that 1,119 lives had been lost in Iwate alone, mostly north of Miyako, a seacoast town 300 miles northeast of Tokyo.

Mrs. W. H. Price of White Deer shopped in the city yesterday.

ROOSEVELT TO TAKE OATH ON THIS BIBLE

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT is shown with the old family Bible which he will use in taking the oath of office as President. The Bible has been in the Roosevelt family for almost 300 years and the first entry—that of a birth—is dated 1670. The Bible will be opened to the thirteenth chapter of the Epistle Paul to the Corinthians—words on charity—for the oath.

PARADES AND GAIETY CLAIM CAPITOL NOW

BUT WALSH'S DEATH LENDS NOTE OF SADNESS

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—With a cheer on its lips and a prayer of transcendent hope in its heart, the nation turned its capital city into one vast parade ground today as it prepared to welcome a new president amid inaugural tumult unmatched in many years.

In tens of thousands, and from every state, the fellow-citizens of Franklin D. Roosevelt were pouring into Washington to see him take up at noon tomorrow the duties of that high office in which Herbert Hoover was spending his last full working day.

But the death of Thomas J. Walsh touched the hearts of high and low alike, injecting a somber note into the atmosphere of gaiety. Although the main functions of the inauguration were unchanged, the Roosevelts decided not to participate in any of the purely social activities.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—Busy both with weighty matters of state and with personal affairs, Franklin D. Roosevelt had little time today to rest for tomorrow's inaugural ceremonies.

Even before rising in the morning, he received Vice President-Elect Garner and talked special session plans. Upon arriving at the capital after the visit to the suite of his chief in the Mayflower hotel, Mr. Garner indicated an expectation that the session would be called this month earlier than has been indicated; but he declined to speak for the president-elect.

BETTER MAIL SERVICE SOUTH TO BE INAUGURATED AT ONCE

Efforts made during the last six months by the B. C. D. and business men to obtain better mail service between Pampa and downstate sections were rewarded this morning.

Geo. W. Briggs, secretary of the Board, received a telegram from Rep. Marvin Jones from Washington, which virtually assures a "new deal" in mail service.

Mr. Jones telegraphed that he had been advised by the post office department that an order had been issued, effective March 8, which would afford improved mail facilities by establishing a star route mail service to operate between Clarendon and Pampa.

Although no details of the new arrangement had been received this morning, it is believed that the mail schedule which was in effect between Pampa and Clarendon before the present mail contract between Pampa and Clarendon was awarded, will be resumed again. Under that schedule mail from the south arrived in Pampa about 7:30 a. m. and south-bound mail left the city about 7:30 o'clock at night, or in time to make connections with the Denver mail train at Clarendon. That arrangement was largely satisfactory here while it was in effect.

Under the present schedule, mail leaves Pampa about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Business interests found it almost impossible to dispatch important mail by that time. Recently, Mr. Briggs sent letters from Pampa business men to Mr. Jones urging that the service be improved. The immediate attention which Mr. Jones gave to the matter and the speed with which he accomplished the service, drew praise from business men today.

Rev. James Will Conduct Revival

The Rev. W. S. James, father of the Rev. J. P. James, pastor of the Nazarene church, will arrive Wednesday to conduct a week-end revival. He is an able speaker, and as he is preaching for 20 years, he public is invited to hear him.

Maker Parents Sunday Afternoon; Named President

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—President-elect Roosevelt today announced the appointment of Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut as attorney general in the place of the late Senator Walsh of Montana.

Mesdames Will And Flying Field To Be Moved Soon

Glover and Boyington, local contractors, have been awarded the contract to move the Pampa emergency flying field from five miles north of the city to the new location on the Will Wilks land adjoining the city limits north of the city. The offer of the local company was low of fifteen bids opened several weeks ago.

News of their successful bid was received yesterday afternoon. Work orders have not been received but O. L. Boyington, who will be in charge, expects them next week. The lighting tower, building, and all the border lights will have to be moved to the new locations. Several hundred rods of fence will also have to be built at the new location.

The new emergency field will have run-ways in nearly every direction, ranging from 3,600 feet to 4,400 feet.

We had two good services last Sunday. New faces are in our services each Sunday. We are very much encouraged over the increase of attendance at the church services. The Sunday school is becoming more interesting each Sunday, and the members are very active.

LEGISLATURE WILL ACT PROMPTLY WITH MEASURE

'BANK NOTES'
THE Pampa First National bank today issued this statement: "In accordance with a mandatory proclamation issued by the Governor of Texas yesterday afternoon declaring a state-wide bank holiday for a five-day period, this bank in cooperation with all other banks in the state will remain closed until Wednesday, March 8, unless permission is granted by the governor at an earlier date. The officers of this bank regret exceedingly the inconvenience that will be caused by the closing and we want the public to know that it was not our wish or desire to close for this period of time, but due to the fact that the governor's order was mandatory, we had no choice in the matter."

THIS IS CITY'S DECISION AS BANKS CLOSE TO CONFORM TO 'HOLIDAYS' IN OTHER STATES

NEW MEXICO ACTS
SANTA FE, N. M., March 3. (AP)—A four-day bank holiday for New Mexico was proclaimed this morning by Governor Arthur Seligman. He said the action was taken at request of bankers in the state and after a consultation with financial authorities in El Paso, Texas, Fort Worth, Texas, and other places. He said correspondent banks of New Mexico banks were affected by other state moratoriums and this in turn affected New Mexico banks. So far as could be learned the holiday was mandatory.

ROOSEVELT IS LIKELY TO MAKE MOVE AT ONCE

Showing little concern over the Texas 5-day bank holiday, merchants of Pampa who met briefly at the B. C. D. decided to carry on their business as usual, meeting any shortage of cash as individual judgment dictated.

It was agreed that Pampa has one of the strongest small city banks in the state and that the holiday here was just a temporary way of cooperating with banks in the big Texas cities where demands for cash from nearby "holidays" states would otherwise tend to be unfair to Texas. There was no need for a holiday in this section.

"Business as usual" is Pampa's answer to the moratorium.

By The Associated Press
TWENTY-THREE states have taken protective steps of one sort or another in regards to banks and their depositors.

Action ranged from holidays mandatory or optional, to legislation giving banks power to limit withdrawals if they deemed it necessary.

Holidays of varying duration were declared yesterday or early today in eight states—Texas, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and Wisconsin, and New Mexico and Georgia today.

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—A bill that would give the state banking commissioner plenary power, with consent of the governor, to invoke a moratorium limiting withdrawals from all financial institutions, was approved today at a conference of legislators and bankers considering the Texas economic situation.

The bill was expected to be sent promptly to both houses of the legislature with a message for Governor Miriam A. Ferguson explaining the need for laws that would ease conditions described by her yesterday in a proclamation declaring a five-day financial moratorium.

The governor's proclamation "prohibited and enjoined" all financial institutions from paying out any money drawn against accounts.

STOCKS IN ADVANCES

NEW YORK, March 3.—(AP)—Financial markets quickly surged upward in surprising fashion today. Starting in stocks, the movement spread to bonds and principal commodity markets. In a sudden buying flurry which sent shorts into hurried retreat, stocks rose $1 to nearly $5 a share. After the movement had slackened in stocks, it continued in commodities. Wheat rose some 2 cents a bushel. Cotton jumped about $1 a bale. Sugar, silver and some of the smaller commodity markets joined the movement. Spot silver was quoted 5/8 of a cent higher.

Withdrawals Limited

Three banks in Austin, and some in other cities, failed to fully comply with the close down proclamation. Austin banks were limiting withdrawals to fifteen dollars daily against any one account.

PARADES AND GAIETY CLAIM CAPITOL NOW

BUT WALSH'S DEATH LENDS NOTE OF SADNESS

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—With a cheer on its lips and a prayer of transcendent hope in its heart, the nation turned its capital city into one vast parade ground today as it prepared to welcome a new president amid inaugural tumult unmatched in many years.

In tens of thousands, and from every state, the fellow-citizens of Franklin D. Roosevelt were pouring into Washington to see him take up at noon tomorrow the duties of that high office in which Herbert Hoover was spending his last full working day.

But the death of Thomas J. Walsh touched the hearts of high and low alike, injecting a somber note into the atmosphere of gaiety. Although the main functions of the inauguration were unchanged, the Roosevelts decided not to participate in any of the purely social activities.

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—Busy both with weighty matters of state and with personal affairs, Franklin D. Roosevelt had little time today to rest for tomorrow's inauguration ceremonies.

Even before rising in the morning, he received Vice President-elect Garner and talked special session plans. Upon arriving at the capital after the visit to the suite of his chief in the Mayflower hotel, Mr. Roosevelt indicated an expectation that the session would be called this month earlier than has been indicated; but he declined to speak for the president-elect.

Flying Field To Be Moved Soon

Glover and Boyington, local contractors, have been awarded the contract to move the Pampa emergency flying field from five miles north of the city to the new location on the Will Wilks land adjoining the city limits north of the city. The office of the local company was low of fifteen bids opened several weeks ago.

News of their successful bid was received yesterday afternoon. Work orders have not been received but O. L. Boyington, who will be in charge, expects them next week. The lighting tower, building, and all the border lights will have to be moved to the new location. Several hundred rods of fence will also have to be built at the new location.

The new emergency field will have run-ways in nearly every direction, ranging from 3,600 feet to 4,400 feet.

BETTER MAIL SERVICE SOUTH TO BE INAUGURATED AT ONCE

Efforts made during the last six months by the B. C. I. and business men to obtain better mail service between Pampa and downstate sections were rewarded this morning.

Geo. W. Briggs, secretary of the Board, received a telegram from Rep. Marvin Jones from Washington, which virtually assures a "new deal" in mail service.

Mr. Jones telegraphed that he had been advised by the post office department that an order had been issued, effective March 8, which would afford improved mail facilities by establishing a star route mail service to operate between Clarendon and Pampa.

'BANK NOTES'

THE Pampa First National bank today issued this statement: "In accordance with a mandatory proclamation issued by the Governor of Texas yesterday afternoon declaring a state-wide bank holiday for a five-day period, this bank in cooperation with all other banks in the state will remain closed until Wednesday, March 8, unless permission is granted by the governor at an earlier date. The officers of this bank regret exceedingly the inconvenience that will be caused by the closing and we want the public to know that it was not our wish or desire to close for this period of time, but due to the fact that the governor's order was mandatory, we had no choice in the matter.

New Mexico Acts
SANTA FE, N. M., March 3. (AP)—A four-day bank holiday for New Mexico was proclaimed this morning by Governor Arthur Seligman. He said the action was taken at request of bankers in the state and after a consultation with financial authorities in El Paso, Texas, Fort Worth, Texas, and other places. He said correspondent banks of New Mexico banks were affected by other state moratoriums and this in turn affected New Mexico banks. So far as could be learned the holiday was mandatory.

Holiday in Georgia
ATLANTA, March 3. (AP)—A holiday in Georgia from 11 a. m. today, continuing through the sixth day of March, effective as to all banks in the state was declared today by Governor Eugene Talmadge.

Moratorium on Debts
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 3. (AP)—The Arkansas house of representatives without a dissenting vote today passed a bill to provide a 90-day moratorium on public and private debts by shearing the courts of their jurisdiction to enforce collections during the holiday. The bill was sent immediately to the senate where Senator Mitchell, a sponsor of the plan, said it would meet little opposition.

President May Act
WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—Sweeping powers for the incoming president and the comptroller of currency to take steps deemed necessary to secure bank deposits were called for today in a bill by Senator Gore (D., Okla.).

Many Plans Considered
WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—A variety of bills designed to deal with the banking situation were put forth in both branches of congress today, climaxed by a summary for members of the house banking committee to hold themselves in readiness to consider important but unspecified banking legislation.

Measures in the senate to deal with the problem would allow postal savings checking accounts, and empower the incoming president and the comptroller of the currency to take such steps as they considered necessary to secure bank deposits.

Chairman Steagall called the banking committee to be ready to assemble, shortly after both President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt had disclosed that they had no intention of issuing statements dealing with the situation.

STOCKS IN ADVANCE
NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Financial markets quickly surged upward in surprising fashion today. Starting in stocks, the movement spread to bonds and principal commodity markets. In a sudden buying flurry which sent prices into hurried motion, the Dow Jones industrial average rose $1 to nearly $5 a share. After the movement had slackened in stocks, it continued in commodities. Wheat rose some 3 cents a bushel. Cotton jumped about $1 a bale. Sugar, silver and some of the smaller commodity markets joined the movement. Spot silver was quoted 1/2 cent higher.

Withdrawals Limited

—AND A SMILE
UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—C. A. Silverthorne declared headedly that the state had had plenty of time to deliver his new automobile license. But it wasn't delivered, and Silverthorne got tired of riding buses. Before writing a vigorous protest to the state, he looked in his check book for the stub, so he could tell the date the check was mailed. Yes, there was the stub, dated early enough to get him the license. And there, also, was the check.

LEGISLATURE WILL AC PROMPTLY WITH MEASURE

PEOPLE WELL BEHAVE

ROOSEVELT IS LIKELY TO MAKE MOVE AT ONCE

Showing little concern over the Texas 5-day bank holiday, merchants of Pampa who met briefly at the B. C. I. decided to carry on their business as usual, meeting any shortage of cash as individual judgment dictated.

It was agreed that Pampa has one of the strongest small city banks in the state and that the holiday here was just a temporary way of cooperating with banks in the big Texas cities where demands for cash from nearby "holiday" states would otherwise tend to be unfair to Texas. There was no need for a holiday in this section.

"Business as usual" is Pampa's answer to the moratorium.

TAKEN protective steps of one sort or another in regards to banks and their depositors. Action ranged from holidays mandatory or optional, legislation giving banks power to limit withdrawals if they deemed it necessary.

Holidays of varying duration were declared yesterday or early today in eight states—Texas, Washington, Idaho, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and Wisconsin, and New Mexico and Georgia today.

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—A bill that would give the state banking commissioner plenary power, with consent of the governor, to invoke a moratorium limiting withdrawals from all financial institutions, was approved today at a conference of legislators and bankers considering the Texas economic situation.

The bill was expected to be sent promptly into hurried motion, the legislature with a message for Governor Miriam A. Ferguson explaining need for laws that would ease conditions described by her yesterday in a proclamation declaring a five-day financial moratorium.

The "prohibited and enjoined" all financial institutions from paying out any money drawn against accounts.

PARENTHOOD AND DELINQUENCY

Grand jury reports on crime conditions are commonly as thick as falling leaves in autumn, and most of them are as soon forgotten. But once in a while one is presented which expresses a lot of good sense.

Thus a grand jury at Houston, Tex., not long ago returned in a report upon delinquency among Houston's juveniles and made a point which is well worth remembering.

"We have found," said the jury's report, "that the fathers and mothers of many juvenile delinquents had no knowledge of their children's whereabouts, the percentage running from 60 to 79 per cent. This indicates a breakdown of parental authority and should serve as immediate warning to the parents of this country."

Back of almost every adult criminal there stands the shadowy figures of a juvenile delinquent, lost somewhere in the unredeemable past. And back of almost every juvenile delinquent we can find, if we look hard enough, a careless and thoughtless set of parents.

That is self-evident, of course. But it is something we often forget, and if we could bear it in mind we might produce some straighter thinking about our crime problems.

It is easy enough to say that the job of bringing children up to be good citizens depends, in the last analysis, upon the parents. But that doesn't entirely cover it.

It doesn't simply mean that a child must have what we call "a good home"—plenty to eat, a fair chance at healthy recreation, honest and industrious parents, a measure of economic security. Beyond these things, a child needs a father and mother who recognize their responsibility for him. They must know where he goes for his play, with whom he plays, what channels his restless young mind is exploring. They must be willing to take the time and energy to guide him.

The parent who fails in this respect has small reason to beat his breast and bewail the harshness of fate if his children gets into trouble.

That legislative proposal to require pedestrians on the highways to carry red lanterns may be a help—until some city driver comes along who never waits for the signal to turn green.

For a family of kingfish, Huey Long and his brothers do a surprising amount of carping.

Henry Ford says he still believes in high wages—and so do a lot of folks, even more than before they took their cut.

If President Hoover's name is bandied around rather roughly after he leaves office, it will be his own fault. He has autographed medicine balls for his cabinet members.

Sir Hubert Wilkins says he will take Lade Wilkins with him on his next submarine expedition to the Arctic. Husbands who do the driving while their wives read the road map are betting Sir Hubert will come up smack at the South Pole.

In Alabama, 6,000 families have moved from cities to farms within the past year, says F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician. The toadfish, re-named "sea-chicken" now appears on Florida's list of edible fishes. Only the tail of the toadfish is marketable.

Beaumont Makes Drastic Cuts In Operating Costs

BEAUMONT, March 3. (AP)—Delinquent taxes pyramiding the past two years has forced the city into drastic retrenchment. On March 1 a new 10 per cent salary reduction for city workers went into effect. In addition, practically all street lighting was eliminated, two free swimming pools will be abandoned for the summer, parks will receive only skeleton care, probable loss of the public library home loans and the animals of the zoo will be disposed of. Eight employees likely will be laid off.

The salary cut applied to 200 employees of the general fund who have had no pay for January and February. The police and fire departments may be affected by the program. The library, docks, and schools are operated by their own boards and commissions, although the library building, a conditional gift, may be lost unless its operating costs can be pared heavily. Every year at this time the city government, operating a year behind revenue, borrows money against anticipated taxes to be paid at the end of the year. Authorities said they had been given to understand the loan was available at this time, due directly to the tax situation.

VALIANT DUST

by Percival Christopher Wren
"BEAU GESTE"

SYNOPSIS: The deeper Jules Margot sinks into drunkenness, and into the intrigue of the Citadel of Metz, the more desperate becomes the situation of Margot's wife, his English wife. All about her treachery in a plot to ward France, plotted by the King of Metz, and by Major Napoleon Riccaud of the Foreign Legion, encamped not far away. But it is the King, having gotten Jules drunk, slips into Margot's room.

Chapter 20 WHERE WAS JULES?

"Do you call this behaving like a man?"

"Like a man in love," said Ralsul. "Like a man who knows exactly what he wants, and intends to get it. If you had fifty husbands and each one had an army, I would get you—and keep you."

Margaret yawned audibly, tapping her open mouth with her hand. "A brave effort."

"Very interesting, Ralsul," she said. "Getting quite a big, boastful boy, aren't you? But won't you tell me the rest of the story some other time? I want to go to sleep again, and little as I like boastful boys, I should hate to see my husband come an' throw you over the balcony. Three hundred feet, isn't it? You'd be a nastier mess than you are now."

Agath Ralsul laughed and drew a step nearer. Margaret turned to the bed behind her, and a faint sound was audible as she moved the pillow.

"Don't move again," she said, "except in the direction of the door, or this pistol will go off—and I hate the noise they make in a room."

"Oh! Little spit-fire has got a pistol, has she? What a liar Jules is..."

"As it happens, Jules doesn't know I've got it," replied Margaret—with perfect truth, for she had no pistol, and had never touched a pistol in her life.

"So we don't tell our husband everything, do we?"

"I shall have something to tell him as soon as he comes," answered Margaret bravely, "if he doesn't come while you're here and break every bone in your body."

Again the amused laugh.

"Well, you tell him, darling—and then tell me what he says, will you?" said Ralsul.

"I think I can tell you that, now," he added. "He'll say: 'Oh, you mustn't mind young Ralsul. The boy will have his joke. He will...'"

"Look here," Margaret interrupted him abruptly, making her voice as hard and harsh as she could. "Get out—or I'll shoot you. Go on. Get out, you cur."

That maddening mocking laugh again.

"You wouldn't shoot me just for standing here—and telling you that you're the loveliest woman on this earth, or in Paradise; and that I worship you, would you?" he asked softly.

"Unless you go instantly, I will shoot you for coming into my room in the middle of the night, and making love to me. Now go."

And this time it was Margaret who took a step forward.

Laughing, Ralsul drew back.

"Oh, splendid! I love you more than ever, darling. And I shall love you still better without the pistol. Ever so much. I don't want to die for you, darling, not a little bit. I want to live for you—and with you."

"Oh! count ten," said Margaret.

"One... two..."

"Buckle up, shoe," said Ralsul.

"Three... four..."

"I'll shut the door," said Ralsul, "after me," and Margaret saw him pass between her and the balcony archway.

"Good night, darling," he said from the door. "We've got all life before us, and there is no hurry. We'll have another jolly talk when there are no nasty pistols about..."

The door shut, Margaret rushed across the room, thrust home the huge clumsy bolts, tottered back to her bed and collapsed upon it.

She awoke to find herself lying across the over-cushioned, faintly unpleasant, dubious, slightly musty, fusty, trowsy bed, in her dressing gown.

She sat up.

Had she had a horrible nightmare? No. It was not a dream. She must get out of Morocco—at once.

How? How could she get away from this awful place? Where was Jules?

What time had it been when that vile beast had come to her room?

She must get a pistol and learn to fire it.

But how utterly absurd in the twentieth century. Such things don't happen. But this wasn't the twentieth century here in Metz; it was about the fifteenth, and such things did happen.

What would Jules do to Ralsul? And what would they do to Jules if he killed him? Something terrible, something unthinkable, for Ralsul was the apple of the King's eye. He positively worshipped him and, according to El Isa Beth al Ain, the King was a monster of cruelty and savagery when his anger was aroused, and very often when it wasn't.

He'd torture Jules to death if Jules injured Ralsul.

Perhaps she had better not tell Jules, after all?

But she must, for several reasons if she didn't tell him, she could produce no sufficient reason for his slating that they should leave Metz instantly.

If she didn't tell him—it might happen again.

If she didn't tell him, Ralsul would not get the horse-whipping that he deserved if ever a man did.

If she didn't tell him, Jules wouldn't understand her wish for a pistol, and her demand that he should never leave her unprotected.

Of course she must tell him... But she must insist on his keeping his temper and controlling the indignation rage that would lead him to thrash Ralsul within an inch of his life.

She must point out to him that Ralsul was all-powerful here, and that, by coming here, they had put themselves completely outside the pale of civilization and all that civilization stands for.

She must remind Jules of the terrible dungeons and torture-chamber here, and of the King's bestial worship of his son, and of his unbridled savagery and ferocious cruelty to those who offended him.

And if Jules turned a deaf ear to her prayers, advice, and warning, she would use his love for her as a conclusive argument, and point out that if anything happened to him, her plight would be terrible indeed.

Margaret rose from the bed and, thinking that she would give anything to be able to walk into her bathroom at home, performed her uncomfortable ablutions in a curtained alcove, as best she might, with the aid of a kind of glorified brass coffee-pot, a big earthenware jar of water, and a large brass basin.

Yes, she told herself, as with her hand-mirror in one hand and brush in the other, she looked out across the shimmering rocky, dusty plain, she must tell Jules, after breakfast and, while minimizing the outrageous offense sufficiently to keep Jules from "seeing red" and losing control, still make it sound serious enough to ensure his taking her away at once.

But after her breakfast of coffee, fruit and bread, Margaret did not tell Jules—nor at any other time that day—for she did not see him.

He was, according to Ralsul—who came upon her in the garden, and, with unblushing effrontery, ignored her cutting and contemptuous refusal to speak to him or notice his presence—unwell, suffering from a bad headache, and quite unable to get up.

Finding that Margaret completely refused to speak to him, look at him, or in any way realize his presence, even to the extent of asking where her husband was, Ralsul laughed and observed:

"Vain woman! said she. But my hour will come. said she. Her face aboard the ligger and the girl is mine. And with a hissing scowl he gnashed both his teeth—flung-cloak-about-his shoulder and—strode away," and strode away.

Margaret did not look up from the book which she was not reading, but as soon as Ralsul was out of sight, went in search of El Isa Beth al Ain.

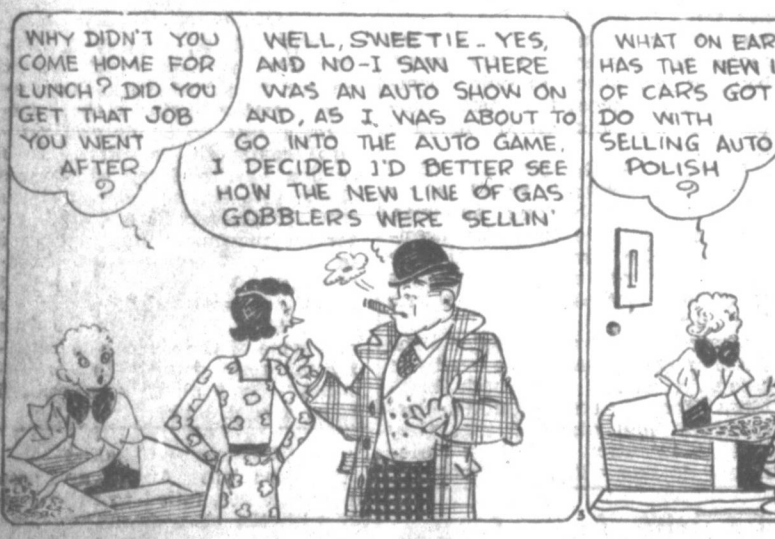

She was Jules' mother and, to that extent, perhaps Margaret's friend. Presumably she would be able to get to the bottom of the matter, and find out where Jules was and what had happened.

Probably Ralsul had put some little drug in his coffee or wine.

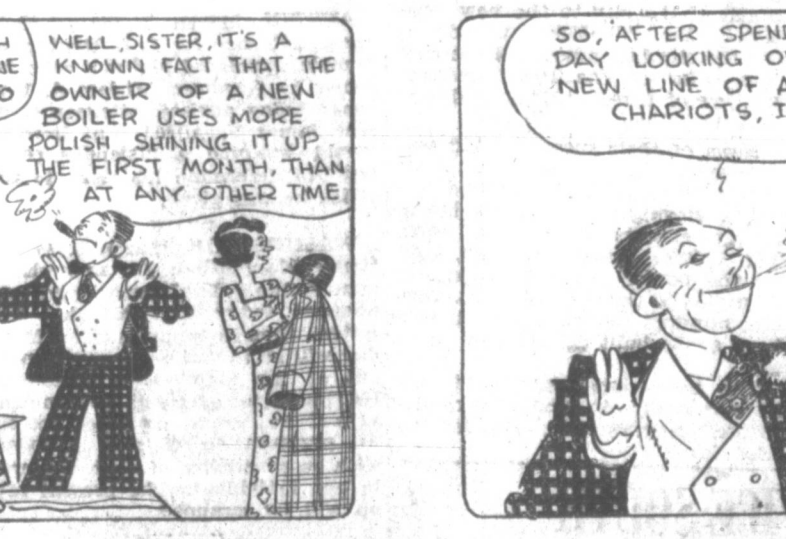

Boxing promoters at Ogden, Utah, have adopted the barter system for fight admissions.

Because of stocks on hand, gamemen probably will have to refuse cauliflowers and lemons.

A FUNCTION of interest to every club woman in Pampa will be held the evening of May 4, the time set for the formal opening of the club room at the city hall.

Plans for the open house, which will begin at 8 o'clock, were made at a meeting of the Council of Clubs yesterday morning. It was decided that the women might bring gifts for the reception room for the kitchen if they so desired, but that this would not be compulsory.

Committees for the open house were selected as follows: Gift, Mrs. Frank Foster, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mrs. F. E. Leech; stand, Mrs. E. M. Conley, Mrs. R. Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, president, presided at the meeting yesterday. The Council of Clubs which formerly existed in Pampa presented a balance of $60.85 to the new Council, and it was decided to place a part of this amount into the furnishing fund.

The Garden Club asked that anyone who had plans to exchange with Mrs. Tom Clayton, Mrs. Charles Thut, or Mrs. Howard Buckingham. The Business and Professional Women's club announced its style show for March 31, and the Little Theater announced a play for March 17 and 18.

The club room furnishing committee reported that it had bought two stoves, two rugs, and draperies. Work of making the draperies was to be started this afternoon.

The committee composed of Mrs. E. L. Fowler, Mrs. Frank Foster, and Mrs. Alex Schneider was appointed to meet with the board of commissioners Monday evening to decide who may use the club room.

Those present yesterday were Mesdames C. T. Hunkapillar, Paul Kasishke, H. H. Isbell, Katie Vincent, A. B. Goldston, Frank Foster, Raymond W. Harrah, Alex Schneider, Philip Wolfe, and Thurston S. It will participate in the Pioneer Barbecue given by the Fat Stock Show officials, and later be in the Pioneer section of the Exposition parade, after which it will be "camped" in the lobby of a leading hotel.

Accompanying the wagon will be Horace Wade, Sweetwater business man and old time cow cook, Julian Woody, a well known wagon boss of the early eighties, John Selman, wagon boss for the S M S Flat Top ranch, and John M. Hendrix, wrangler for the Sweetwater Chuck Wagon association to whom the wagon belongs.

SPRING'S IN THE AIR

CHECKING in for spring, is this new cape frock, with white notched collar, and the black cellophane hat which features the new high back crown, low front, in Watteau effect, with a soft black velvet bow both going and coming. By this slanting brim, you get the tipped hat effect, while the hat really sits quite straight upon the head, in the new, becoming manner. The new cellophane weave gives that high-light every lady likes upon her head this Spring.

Mrs. Purviance Addresses Horace Mann Parents and Teachers; Crowd Of Seventy-Five Persons Present

Children—Our Greatest Asset was the subject discussed by Mrs. W. Purviance before about 75 persons at a meeting of the Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon. Mrs. George Nix was in charge of the program.

"The Great Maker is ever re-making His world, and is ever doing so through the rising generation," said Mrs. Purviance. She pointed out that the future generation depends upon what we are teaching children today, and used prohibition and scientific farming to illustrate her meaning. She closed with the following poem:

An angel paused in his onward flight
With his seed of love, and truth, and light,
And cried, "Oh where can the seed be sown
That it will be most fruitful when it is grown?"
The Savior heard and said with a smile,
"Place it for me in the heart of a child."

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar addressed the crowd on the endowment fund. Children of the school also had part on the program. Charles Riggins gave a reading, and Miss Loma Groome's pupils entertained with harmonica and xylophone numbers. Elizabeth Ann Cross, Betty Baker, Maxine Houchin, and Mildred Pearce played the xylophone, and Mary Lynn Schofield played the myrtilina. Betty Baker and Jack Levitt rendered a vocal duet.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. J. M. Turner, it was reported that the resurfacing

Mrs. Glover was given a shower of lovely gifts by the members, these gifts being presented by little Martha Lou McCullough, daughter of the hostess. Mrs. Carl S. Boston won high score, Mrs. R. S. Lawrence was second high and Mrs. Charles C. Cook made the fortunate cut.

A lovely plate of salad and wafers, ice cream and cake, and iced tea was passed to two special guests, Miss Jerry Young (Mazungu, Okla.), and Mrs. O. L. Boyington, and the following members: Mesdames John T. Glover, I. B. Hughey, A. B. Goldston, R. S. Lawrence, O. H. Booth, H. C. Wilson, E. M. Conley, A. M. Martini, Carl S. Boston, H. D. Keys, and Charles C. Cook.

HOOKS and SLIDES BY BILL BRAUCHER

THE death of Ernie Schaaf proved that even a New York sports writer can be wrong. Most of them, after seeing the Boston boy sink to the floor like a torpedoed ship, went back to the office and wrote pieces about what appeared to be a phony.

Pirate Sluggers 'Losing the Ball'

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 3. (AP)—President William Bensinger of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club, in spring training here, may move the fence of his practice field farther away from the clubhouse.

Vic Frasier Is In Good Health

PASADENA, Calif., March 3. (AP)—About the most pleasing item in the Chicago White Sox training development to date is the apparent return to health and form of Vic Frasier, young right handed pitcher.

'Sad Sam' Puts Up Fortenberry As All-American

S. D. Burton, physical director at the West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, has started a campaign to bring all-American basketball recognition to Joe Fortenberry, center and captain of the teachers.

Former Winners Will Run Again Tomorrow Night

Grimes Suffering Attack of 'Cold'

AVALON, Calif., March 3. (AP)—Burlingame Grimes' plans for a big comeback with the Chicago Cubs this year already has received a setback. The veteran spitball pitcher was in the hospital today with an attack of influenza.

The "Lowdown"

One of his managers was Jack Sharkey, heavyweight champion of the world. Sharkey was collecting part of his purse. The winner of the Carnera-Schaaf bout was supposed to box Sharkey in June.

The Face on the Floor

Few writers really saw Schaaf's face as he lay on the floor. What most of the others did not see was that face. Rud Rennie and Bill Cunningham were sitting directly under where Schaaf fell after being struck before he fell. He was getting plumper and more portly. I think those long legs did it.

A Close-Up

"Schaaf was practically knocked into my lap. I could have reached out both hands and picked up his head. And here's expert testimony on the fact that the face that lay there didn't belong to a man who was taking. His breath was rattling in his throat, his eyes were crossed and only their whites were showing. His mouth was frozen in a ghastly twist and a purplish color started painting his lips.

Gomez and Moore Still Missing As McCarthy Worries

Dean Come Up for Air

Jerome Herman "Dizzy" Dean sends along the pleasant tidings that he can't see how any club is going to beat him next season. In a letter to a St. Louis friend, Dizzy confides: "Am in Gulfport, Miss., and have been working out. Believe me, Bill, the old equipment feels great. Honestly, I don't see how any club in the National League can beat me. I think I will be able to call in all the outfields and then win the game. I intend to do both the hitting and pitching in my games this year. So, by being both hitter and pitcher, don't you think the club can let some of the other players go and raise my salary accordingly?"

Derby Gossip

Kerry Patch won the Futurity in 1932... but will be lightly regarded in the betting when the time comes for the Kentucky Derby. Tom Shaw, of the future book, thinks Repaid is a more formidable threat. Ladysman, winter book favorite, is a bad risk at this writing... bad underpinning... the horse took on 250 pounds during the winter... and will not be rushed for even the Derby... Maybe the depression is over... anyway, it is so Hales, the Miami track which has been packing them in... During the first 20 days, the mutual handle was $3,185,951... an increase of more than a half million over the corresponding period of 1932... the attendance this year has been nearly double that of last... or $8,977 against 49,325... crowds for single days ranged from 3000 to 7000.

Golf Receipts

Again, speaking of money, the U. S. G. A. faces another loss in revenue this year... without Jones... receipts in dues from member clubs last year were $26,959... and in 1930 amounted to approximately $30,000... admission prices sold for the National Amateur and National Open last year totaled $15,967.75... in 1930 receipts for the same events were $51,042.25... the fans paid $27,659.50 to watch Bobby Jones at Merion... and $23,382.75 at Minneapolis.

Smokey Joe Is Moved to Third

LOS ANGELES, March 3. (AP)—Smoky Joe Martin appeared in the New York Giants training camp roster as an outfielder but already Manager Bill Terry has decided he'd look better at third base. The Winston-Salem rookie was given a thorough workout at third base yesterday and did a pretty good job. He kicked around a few grounders but made a number of spectacular plays and uncovered a strong throwing arm to boot. He batted .302 with Winston-Salem last year.

The officers of this bank regret exceedingly the inconvenience that will be caused by the closing and we want the public to know that it was not our wish or desire to close for this period of time, but due to the fact that the Governor's order was mandatory, we had no choice in the matter.

HARVESTERS SAY LAMESA TEAMS AND FANS CONFIDENT

LOCALS GLAD RIVALS REVEAL SUCH TEMPER

CRUCIAL CONTEST HAS WIDE ATTENTION TODAY

Half-time and final scores of the Pampa-Lamesa basketball game will be received by THE NEWS and announced at the Lions minstrel at the city auditorium this evening. The game will be "covered" by Archer Pulling of THE NEWS staff.

The Harvesters basketball team arrived at Lamesa yesterday afternoon and found the Golden Tornado and its supporters highly confident that the District 2 champions would win the second game of the bi-district championship series tonight, according to reports received this morning.

That was exactly what Coach Mitchell wanted to happen. The Tornado's confidence, that they would win the game had the Lamesa coach worried and he was doing his best to "take it out of 'em" before night but was having little success. The Harvesters were due to work out on the Lamesa court last night. In practice here this week, they showed phenomenal improvement. The boys planned to put up the fight of their lives.

At least the Pampa cagers were not over-confident, although they believe they have the best team. The small court and its cement will be a handicap. The game will begin at 8 o'clock tonight. A sell-out of all seats is expected. If Lamesa wins tonight, the Harvesters will pick their suits away and ring down the 1933 basketball curtain with the district one championship behind it. If they win, they must beat the Tornado again. If Lamesa wins tonight, the Tornadoes will represent 29 teams in West Texas at the state tournament at Austin next week.

Pirate Sluggers 'Losing the Ball'

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 3. (AP)—President William Benward of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club, in spring training here, may move the fence of his practice field farther away from the plate.

So many baseballs have sailed over already this season, Benward said today. Gus Suhr walked up to the plate yesterday, his first time at bat this spring, and smacked the first pitched ball over the screen. A minute later Forrest Jensen duplicated the feat. Paul Waner twice missed by inches.

Vic Frasier Is In Good Health

PASADENA, Calif., March 3. (AP)—About the most pleasing item in the Chicago White Sox training development to date is the apparent return to health and form of Vic Frasier, young right handed pitcher.

Frasier, a star in 1931, last year lost his effectiveness and was "busted out of action nine times in a row." An examination after the season revealed the presence of malaria germs. Treatment eliminated the ailment and Frasier reported in excellent shape and has made the most rapid progress of any of the Sox hurlers.

'Sad Sam' Puts Up Fortenberry As All-American

S. D. Burton, physical director at the West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, has started a campaign to bring all-American basketball recognition to Joe Fortenberry, center and captain of the teachers.

In a letter Burton states: "Every coach that has played against us believes we have in Fortenberry a player who deserves all-American recognition. He stands 6 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 200 pounds. He possesses practically all the requisites of a great basketball player. He has scored 332 points in 14 games and has been on the bench a lot in our earlier games, permitting substitute to get experience.

"We split a two-game series with the Wichita Henry's, national A. A. U. champions, winning the first 29 to 26 and dropping the second, 39 to 37. In these games Fortenberry was played against Pickell, former University of Arkansas center who once was an all-American collegiate center and last year was named all-American A. A. U. center. Pickell is reported to have said Fortenberry is the best center he ever played against. While I did not hear him make this statement, I know that Fortenberry clearly outplayed Pickell in the first game, while Pickell may have shaded him a little in the last game."

WHITE SOX SOCKER

Low scores were made in City league games rolled last night at the Pampa Bowling alleys. Voss Clemons took a four-game lead in the race with three straight wins from the Texas company. Kiwanis No. 2 won two out of three games from the Jaycees but one game is being contested and will be settled by team managers at their next meeting. Workman of the Jaycees and Chambers of the Texas company rolled high game with 213 pins each. Chambers' series of 554 was high. Workman followed with 526 pins.

Bowling Scores

THE death of Ernie Schauf proved that even a New York sports writer can be wrong. Most of them, after seeing the Boston boy sink to the floor like a torpedoed ship, went back to the office and wrote pieces about what appeared to be a phony.

Perhaps it is just as well that illness prevented this writer from seeing the fight, I probably would have joined the others in crying for the sheriff. It is hard to see everything. Often men in the very first row, with their chins in the resin, have to ask their neighbors about certain phases of the action.

It was a slow fight, and the circumstances leading up to it were such that it was very easy to fall into the delusion that the whole thing was a business deal. Schauf went down from a light blow. He had not seemed to be giving his best efforts.

Former Winners Will Run Again Tomorrow Night

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Twenty-four of last year's point winners will be back for the annual indoor track and field championships of the Intercollegiate A. A. A. to be held tomorrow night at the 258th field artillery armory.

Two of these, George Weinstein of New York university and Joe McCluskey of Fordham, will be defending titles they won a year ago. Weinstein faces a field of more than 50 in the 70-yard dash, including the five men who traded him to the tape in the 1932 final, Dick Bell of Massachusetts Tech; Al Kelly, Georgetown; Dick Hardy, Cornell; Bob Kane, Cornell, and Don Johnson, Princeton.

Grimes Suffering Attack of 'Cold'

AVALON, Calif., March 3. (AP)—Burling Grimes' plans for a big comeback with the Chicago Cubs this year already has received a setback. The veteran spitball pitcher was in the hospital today with an attack of influenza.

Grimes, hero of the 1931 world series while with the Cardinals, had all manner of bad luck last year, what with influenza and bad teeth. He had an appendicitis operation during the winter and was ill so to speak, only to have illness delay him again.

J. M. Pritchett of Amarillo was a 'Boo' 'Fakel' 'Get up, you tramp' Pampa visitor yesterday.

HOOKS and SLIDES BY BILL BRAUCHER

The death of Ernie Schauf proved that even a New York sports writer can be wrong. Most of them, after seeing the Boston boy sink to the floor like a torpedoed ship, went back to the office and wrote pieces about what appeared to be a phony.

Perhaps it is just as well that illness prevented this writer from seeing the fight, I probably would have joined the others in crying for the sheriff. It is hard to see everything. Often men in the very first row, with their chins in the resin, have to ask their neighbors about certain phases of the action.

It was a slow fight, and the circumstances leading up to it were such that it was very easy to fall into the delusion that the whole thing was a business deal. Schauf went down from a light blow. He had not seemed to be giving his best efforts.

The 'Lowdown'

One of his managers was Jack Sharkey, heavyweight champion of the world. Sharkey was collecting part of his purses. The winner of the Carnera-Schauf bout was supposed to box Sharkey in June. Sharkey fighting his staminate hardly would fill that Long Island bowl.

It was reported before the fight that Carnera had been signed for the June date. Betting odds that had been in favor of Schauf suddenly made Carnera the choice. The stage seemed set for another Barney.

The Face on the Floor

Few writers really saw Schauf's face as he lay on the floor. What most of the others did not see was that face. Fred Remick and Cunningham were sitting directly under where Schauf fell after being struck where he fell. He was getting pinker and more puffy. I think those long lefts did it.

Boston writer Cunningham offered the following account: "As for the knockout, the New York boys are saying they never before saw a man knocked out with a left jab. Schauf was between the punch and me and I couldn't see the blow, but I did see Carnera's elbow and it looked more like a hook from my elevation. But from the time Schauf hit the floor, I was in better position to see than anybody else in the place, except the telegraph operator on one side of me and a Garden employe on the other."

A Close-Up

"Schauf was practically knocked into my lap. I could have reached out both hands and picked up his head. And here's expert testimony to the fact that the face that lay there didn't belong to a man who was fading. His breath was rattling in his throat, his eyes were rolling and only their whites were showing. His mouth was frozen in a ghastly twist and a purplish color started painting his lips.

"I once saw a man whose neck was broken by a suddenly swung beam, and that picture flashed back into my mind. I turned and yelled to Jimmy Johnston, 'Get a priest, Jim, his neck is gone.' He had the look of the dead about him.

"On all sides they were yelling, 'Boo' 'Fakel' 'Get up, you tramp' and 'Oh, what a Barney' "

TRACK MEET IN COUNTY TO BE IN APRIL

R. A. SELBY OF JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL TO DIRECT IT

Track and field events in the county interscholastic meet will be held at Harvesters park April 1 with R. A. Selby, principal of Pampa Junior high, as director general. Tennis, volley ball and playground ball events will be staged here on March 25.

Arrangements have been made to exchange judges with Wheeler county whose meet will be March 17 and 18. The names of the judges have not been received here. Neither have the Gray county judges been selected.

Superintendents of schools possessing cups won in Gray county interscholastic meets are urged to inform Mr. Selby how many consecutive years they have been in possession of the school immediately.

Pampa will enter teams from the high school, junior high and grade schools. The meet last year was in LeFors and was won by Pampa schools.

Schools eligible to participate are Alameda high school and grade schools; Back, Baker, Pampa; Bell; Eldridge; Grandview; Hopkins grade and grammar; Horace Mann, Pampa; Laketon; LeFors, high school and grade schools; McLean, high school, junior high school and ward schools; McClelland creek; Pampa high school and junior high school; Sam Houston, Pampa; Webb; Woodrow Wilson, Pampa.

Gomez and Moore Still Missing As McCarthy Worries

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3. (AP)—"Marse Joe" McCarthy, pitcher of the New York Yankees, is seriously considering the dispatch of a posse in search of Vernon Gomez and Wiley Moore, both of whom are A. W. O. L.

The two pitchers have been reported en route to the training camp where they were due on Wednesday. Nothing has been heard from either since then.

Dean Come Up for Air

Jerome Herman "Dizzy" Dean sends along the pleasant tidings that he can't see how any club is going to beat him next season. In a letter to a St. Louis friend, Dizzy confides "Am in Gulfport, Miss. and have been working out. . . . Believe me, Bill, the old soup-bone feels great. Honestly, I don't see how any club in the National League can beat me. I think I will be able to call in all the outfields and then win the game. I intend to do both the hitting and pitching in my game this year. So, by being both hitter and pitcher, don't you think the club can let some of the other players go and raise my salary accordingly?"

Derby Gossip

Kerry Patch won the Futurity in 1932 . . . but will be lightly regarded in the betting when the time comes for the Kentucky Derby. Tom Shaw, of the future book, thinks Repaid is a more formidable threat. . . . Ladysman, winter book favorite, is a bad risk at this writing. . . . The horse look on 250 pounds during the winter. . . . and will not be rushed for even the Derby. . . . Maybe the depression is over. . . . Anyway, it is at Halesah, the Miami track which has been packing them in. . . . During the first 20 days, the mutual handle was $3,185,951 . . . an increase of more than a half million over the corresponding period of 1932. . . . The attendance this year has been nearly double that of last . . . or $8,977 against 49,325 . . . crowds for single days ranged from 3900 to 7000.

Gold Receipts

Again, speaking of money, the U. S. G. A. faces another loss in revenue this year . . . without Jones . . . receipts in dues from member clubs last year were $28,959 . . . and in 1930 amounted to approximately $30,000 . . . admission prices sold for the National Amateur and National Open last year totaled $15,907.75 . . . in 1930 receipts for the same events were $31,042.25 . . . the fans paid $7,559.50 to watch Bobby Jones at Merion . . . and $23,382.75 at Minneapolis.

The Item of Fare

The old Baseball Players' Fraternity was short-lived . . . but there still is a privilege on the books that the frat won from the managers . . . a ball club used to pay its players' and coaches' fares from the club's home city . . . rooks had to assemble . . . now the clubs must pay the fare from the athlete's home town to the training base.

'NEVER SASS THE UMPIRE'

GREEN BELT GOLF BODY WILL BE REORGANIZED, ENLARGED

VERNON, Mar. 3. (AP)—Special invitations to rejoin the Green Belt Golf association have been extended clubs at Pampa, McLean, Wellington, Estaline, and Hedley in Texas and Altus, Okla. All were formerly members of the association now comprised of clubs at Electra, Crowell, Quanah, Childress, Shamrock, Clarendon, Memphis, and Vernon in Texas, and Frederick and Davidson in Oklahoma.

At a meeting of directors for the association in Quanah, Childress was awarded the eighth annual tournament to be held June 12-15. It will mark the first time Childress has been host to the tournament. Quanah and Electra have each held the tournament twice, while Vernon, Memphis, and Clarendon have each received the meet one time.

Smokey Joe Is Moved to Third

LOS ANGELES, March 3. (AP)—Smokey Joe Martin appeared in the New York Giants training camp roster as an outfielder but already Manager Bill Terry has decided he'd look better at third base.

The Winston-Salem rookie was given a thorough workout at third base yesterday and did a pretty good job. He kicked around a few grounders but made a number of spectacular plays and uncovered a strong throwing arm to boot. He batted .302 with Winston-Salem last year.

Indianapolis: Tracy Cox, Indianapolis, outpointed Jimmy Alvarado, Detroit, (10). Willard Brown, Indianapolis, outpointed Jackie Purvis, Indianapolis, (10). Savannah, Ga.: Pat Flaherty, Savannah, and Baby Kiser, Tulsa, Okla., drew, (10).

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

GREAT GOLF THROUGH SEEKS POT OF GOLD

AND AT NEW ORLEANS GUS MORELAND IS STRONG

MIAMI, Fla., March 3. (AP)—A $5,000 pot of gold that lay at the end of a rainbow of 72 six-inch cups drew more than a hundred golfers, including most of the leading title holders, today.

Gene Sarazen, American and British open champion, led the field that started out over the Miami Biltmore course where he is professional.

Contenders included Olin Dutra, Metropolitan, and P. G. A. title holder; Harry Cooper, Canadian open champion; Paul Runyan, winner of the Agua Caliente open; Craig Wood, winner of the Los Angeles open and leading money golfer of the season; and Deputy Stute who took the Miami Biltmore and the Gasparilla opens.

Johnny Revolta of Menominee, Mich., who won the Miami open, Walker Hagen of the American Ryder cup team and Horton Smith who paired with Runyan to win the International Four Ball tournament also were listed with the favorites.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3. (AP)—The second round of the New Orleans Country club carnival invitation golf tournament got underway today with most of the favorites still in the running.

Gus Moreland of Dallas, Tex., the medalist, defeated Gaston Peck of Galveston, Tex., yesterday, 4 and 3 and meets J. R. Robinson of Wichita, Kans., today.

Johnny Dawson of Chicago, defending champion, easily disposed of Harry Rainold of New Orleans, 7 and 6, and will meet Jack Weber of New Orleans.

Hickman Greene of Baton Rouge, La., runner-up for medalist honors, lost to Robinson, 5 and 3, in an upset.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP)—

Martin J. Bishop secured a temporary position securing rights of way for the Bell Telephone company in 1896, just to see him through the depression that time. Today he is retiring as the company's general rights of way superintendent in Beaver Falls.

In Accordance---

... with a mandatory proclamation issued by the Governor of Texas yesterday afternoon declaring a state-wide bank holiday for a five-day period, this bank in co-operation with all other banks in the State will remain closed until Wednesday, March 8th, unless permission is granted by the Governor at an earlier date.

The officers of this bank regret exceedingly the inconvenience that will be caused by the closing and we want the public to know that it was not our wish or desire to close for this period of time, but due to the fact that the Governor's order was mandatory, we had no choice in the matter.

STATE FUNERAL DECIDED
WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—A state funeral for former Senator Thomas J. Walsh will be held at the capitol probably on Monday and Franklin D. Roosevelt will attend if possible.

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—District Judge W. F. Robertson today granted a temporary injunction restraining the Sinclair-Prairie Oil company from over-producing from its 481 wells in the East Texas oil field.

New and Better Way to Beat Body Odor, by Removing Cause!

Laboratory tests now show that ordinary soap, with its thick, sluggish lather, will cleanse only the surface of the skin. But body odor is deep-seated, caused by stale perspiration curds. Ordinary soap can't remove these curds!

That's why deep-pore cleansing is needed—and it is a scientific fact that there is only one way to accomplish this. Kirk's Coco Castile, being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, goes into an emulsion with the stale perspiration curds, then rinses out completely. Thus it ends body odor in the only effective way—by removing the cause.

Kirk's Coco Castile is stimulating to the skin—leaves no offensive M.S. (medicine smell)—ends body odor the odorless way. A BIG cake, half again larger than the average toilet soap, it is today selling at the lowest price in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name—at your grocer's!

Lindbergh Case
Year Old Today; Manhunt Goes On

TRENTON, N. J., March 3. (AP)—An international manhunt for the kidnapers and murderers of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., never relaxed, went on today, one year after he was stolen from his crib.

Begun March 1, 1932, when the 21-month-old son of the famous flier was abducted, intensified on May 12 when his body was found in bleak Sourland hills, the search has been relentlessly pursued.

Months ago President Hoover admonished law enforcement agencies to make the case a "live and never-to-be-forgotten" one.

His admonition has been followed. At the year's end investigators had nothing they were willing to report. For six months they have maintained silence.

Meanwhile, a $25,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the kidnapers, offered by New Jersey after the baby's body was found, still stands.

There is no longer the freedom of country life on Sourland mountain. The entrance to the lane leading to the big white stone house is guarded night and day by state police. They have maintained duty there since March 1.

The curious, who first thronged by the thousands to Hopewell, still drive up the winding mountain road just to single out, from a mile away, the Lindbergh home, standing alone on Jersey's second highest mountaintop.

Miss Frances Smith of Slaton was admitted to Worley hospital yesterday.

Mrs. S. G. Surratt left Pampa hospital yesterday afternoon.

WHEAT IS HIGHER
CHICAGO, March 3. (AP)—An upward trend showed itself in grain prices early today. Liverpool wheat quotations displayed strength, with British exchange rates 3 points higher. Bulls pointed also to prospects of a sharp curtailment of the United States wheat carryover and of a drastic reduction in new crop yields.

Mrs. Ray Hawkins of Roxana was a Pampa visitor last night.

HONEST YOUNG ATTORNEY HAS HARD BATTLE

The case of an honest young lawyer vs. a big city's politicians will be presented before Judge Public when William Powell's latest picture, "Lawyer Man," opens at the La Nora theater today with Joan Blondell playing the feminine lead.

It is a new sort of story for Powell, fast-paced drama which runs a rapid gamut from ward cases on the East Side to big business cases which jerk him out of his little corner of the world and deposit him in an elaborate suite of offices.

But it's drama relieved by plenty of comedy. For the first time in the careers of either Powell or Joan Blondell, the two have been teamed in a picture, and if reports from the previewing Hollywood press are to be credited, the teaming was an inspiration.

In his law practice among his own kind, Powell finds the peace and satisfaction, the drama and comedy of life, which are the natural rewards of the not overly ambitious lawyer. But when he steps out against some of the city's biggest lawyers in cases involving more than he has ever heard of—his success is too much for him.

In the end, however, chiefly due to the practical and sane advice of his blonde secretary—Joan Blondell—who has stuck even when he soared into a society that made her head swim, he is able to beat "the ring" checkmate "the big boss," and go back to work among his own kind, finding his satisfaction in helping the little fellow who, but for him would be at the mercy of every city wolf who wandered his way.

"Lawyer Man" is drama tuned to the pace of modern life—but modern life in America, where even the mailmen whistle, is not all drama. The comedy touches introduced in this picture by Powell and Joan Blondell are said to be funnier than either has ever achieved alone.

Cast in the picture with Powell are Joan Blondell, Helen Vinson, Sheila Terry, Claire Dodd, Alan Dinehart, David Landau, Allen Jenkins and many others.

The picture is based on a novel by Max Trell, screen play by Rian James and James Seymour, directed by William Dieterle.

The Rex tops its program of the week with an equally appealing picture, "Laughter in Hell," while the State will show that famous pair, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, in "Hold 'Em Jail."

WRONG KINDS OF WOMEN IN PRISON FILM

YOUNG IRISHMAN HAS FULL PLAY OF PASSIONS

The right kind of woman is the greatest gift of life, but the wrong kind makes "Laughter in Hell" points out Universal's powerful drama of that name which is playing an engagement at the Rex theater. It is impressive with its intensely human theme and characterizations.

Laid in a mining town in the South at the close of the 19th century, the film traces the youth of a young Irishman who marries a faithless girl and finds his life blasted when he discovers her in the arms of his enemy since childhood. His passionate crime sends him to the Hell of a prison chain gang whose foreman is the brother of the man he has killed. The brutalities of these penal organizations, as recently exposed in the newspapers, are graphically portrayed as the foreman attempts to make life more than miserable for the killer of his brother. Interest is heightened when the prisoner makes a break for life and his efforts to evade the reaches of the law provide the tense film with unlimited suspense.

A fascinating and entirely different background lends the film a unique atmosphere. The action was filmed for the most part in an old section of Galveston which remained virtually unchanged since the days of its settlement and the odd fashions of the "Nineties" and the picturesque mood the film boasts.

Pat O'Brien is authentically cast in "Laughter in Hell," as the young Irishman who pays for his passions in the fullest measure. Merle Kennedy gives a bewitching performance as the faithless wife who finds her flirtations lead to tragedy. Gloria Stuart, Bert Wheeler and Tom Brown are seen in the remaining featured roles with Arthur Union, Lew Kelly, Lawrence Muse, Tommy Condon and other screen artists included in the exceptionally large and established cast.

The film marks the latest literary effort of the great Irish realist, Jim Tully, and like all Tully's works is unusually powerful and penetrating. Edward Galt directed the film with a fine sense of dramatic values.

In the OIL FIELDS

None of the other major purchasers in the Panhandle field has met the cut of the Humble Pipeline company, which posted a top price for Gray county crude of 40 cents a barrel, meeting the Phillips price. Carson and Hutchinson prices were posted at 30 cents a barrel for top grade.

The cut followed reports of a hike due for early this month. Many operators in the field are still confident that a better price will be posted soon.

Applications for stripping permits will be heard at a meeting of the Texas railroad commission in Amarillo Tuesday starting at 10 o'clock. Thirty-three companies will ask permission to strip gas from 203 wells in the Panhandle field.

The Skelly Oil company completed a nice well in the Bowers pool. It was the company's No. 6 North Jackson in section 90, block B-2, and made 419 barrels a day on test, natural flow. The hole was bottomed at 3,145 feet. The same company's No. 1 Gelling in section 48, block A-9, was shot with 145 quarts of nitro Friday afternoon. The shot was placed from 2,652 to 2,712 feet. Cleaning-out started yesterday with 1,400 feet of oil in the hole.

A test on the Skelly Oil company's No. 3A South Jackson in section 88, block B-3, in the Bowers pool, was started yesterday. Pay was estimated at 3,116 feet. The test is on the pump.

Oil was encountered in the Stuckey Construction company's No. 1 Koons in section 43, block 24, Wheeler county, Friday. Completion of the test will be started immediately.

A new schedule for the Panhandle field was released Wednesday morning with the allowable 43,000 barrels. Production for last week amounted to 47,116 barrels, a decrease of 739 barrels from the previous week.

County	Prev. Wk.	Last Wk.
Carson	254	5,253
Gray	825	28,811
Hutchinson	837	12,234
Moore	22	1,197
Wheeler	41	280
Totals	1,977	47,855

Decrease, 739 barrels.

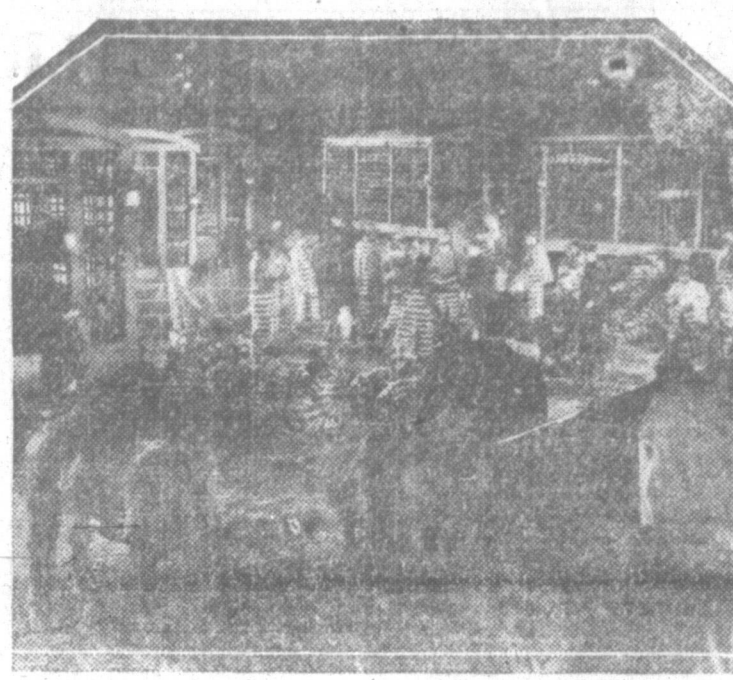

Frogs Finish In Second Place In Conference Race

FORT WORTH, March 4.—(AP)—For the second straight year, the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs finished in second place in the final standings of the Southwest conference race by defeating the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, 36-24, before a big crowd tonight. The Frogs won undisputed possession of the runner-up position when Texas defeated Texas A. & M. in Austin.

The Frogs came from behind to win tonight. Passing poorly and with their defense working none too well, the Schmidt men fought themselves behind, 17-13 at the half. As the last 20 minutes of play opened, the purple rallied sharply, tied it up at 17-all. The Pones again went ahead by a single point but a field goal by Doc Sumner, who was playing his first game for the purple, gave the Christians a lead they increased the rest of the way. Sumner led the scoring with 9 points.

GOVERNMENT AERIAL SURVEY MADE OF SAN ANGELO AREA

---WITHDRAWALS---

SAN ANGELO, March 4.—(AP)—There soon will be available to aviators a late governmental aerial map of that part of Texas extending from Midland on the northwest to Brenham on the southeast and from Dryden on the southwest to Corsicana on the northeast.

Lieutenant-Commander A. L. Giacomini of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, and Captain Edward M. Haicht, always extension superintendent of the department of commerce, spent four weeks in preparing the map of the region. It is designated officially as upper H-14. Working out of Waco, the officers will detail the lower or eastern sections of the map.

There are said to be no strictly air maps of the United States except those of flying routes between the main centers of population. There has been a need for maps made with a particular view to pilots' use from the standpoint of national defense and promotion of civil aviation, Captain Haicht said.

The government has undertaken to chart the entire country on maps of equal size and similar scale. This is being done by sections. Approximately 390 miles long from east to west by 160 miles wide from north to south.

Commander Giacomini and Captain Haicht have been assigned the mapping of the nation and have been at the task three years. They have completed approximately one-tenth of the country. They fly precise courses on a time basis and locate on the maps accurately the routes of railroads, principal high lakes and contour elevations in colors with other data which is an aid to flying.

Paul F. Evans of Corsicana was a visitor in the city yesterday.

GRIM RELICS OF OLD INDIAN BATTLE REVEALED AS SANDS ARE MOVED BY STRONG WIND

WILLOW SPRINGS FIGHT HAD NO WHITE SURVIVORS

PECOS, March 4.—(AP)—Old timers around Monahans, Texas, are being called on again to relate tales of fifty or more years ago as shifting sands reveal stark memories of those former days in the wild west.

The last Indian massacre in Texas that of Willow Springs, has been the subject of much speculation lately as the sands have blown away and left a heap of grim relics.

Just fifty years ago a band of Pennsylvanians en route from the American region of California crawled down the eastern slopes of the Rockies by wagon train and into the sand dunes north of Monahans. The little caravan was led by three men who had helped make the history of California's gold fields from 1849. They were John Sutter, Jim Marshall, and Sam Brandon.

The wagon train crossed the Pecos river going on to the camp site at Willow Springs. After crossing the river it slowly passed out of sight in the low hills and was never seen again.

There are few facts available connected with this frontier tragedy of 1833, because the annihilation was complete. None escaped that Indian slaughter to relate the tale.

However, there are many mute witnesses to the raid and as the dunes shift back and forth they uncover wagon irons, pots, and other pieces of camp equipment that withstand the erosion of sand, wind and water. The actual massacre was probably in so many others of that day with the difference that men had escaped before to recount their experience.

There is no way of knowing how and when the Indians attacked, but Monahans people and sight-seers searching for the relics digare the sand and charred wood. This leads to the theory that the pioneers were attacked either at supper or breakfast. Also, judging from the number of flint arrow heads still to be found in the vicinity those old hunters and their comrades put up a good fight.

Willow Springs is a treasure spot for people interested in pioneer and Indian relics. When the wind blows and the sands shift to leave Willow Springs again above the ground, arrowheads, spearheads, moccasins, beads, and bones are there to be picked up. But an hour, or a day, or a month later those restless white sands close back.

for establishing how ones in the senate.

The house floor was crowded to the last seat when it came time for his departure to take the oath of office as vice president. Representative Bulwinkle, a North Carolina democrat, had just presented a gold watch to the Texan when Representative Sweeney of New York, the republican leader, urged Garner to yield the chair to Hawley of Oregon, a retiring republican.

Garner did. Sweeney introduced, and the house adopted unanimously, a resolution thanking the Honorable John N. Garner for the able, fulminant manner in which he presided over the house in the seventy-second congress.

Brushing his eyes with the backs of his hands and blinking vigorously, the Texan went back to preside over the house for the last time.

In trembling voice he said "I probably appreciate this resolution more than previous speaker. . . I have a very great affection for a great many of the members of the house of representatives. I leave this body without a single feeling other than a Christian one toward every member. I told the members some weeks back that I regretted to leave this chamber. That was a sincere expression.

The last of the "lame duck" sessions of congress, with a record of failures surpassing that of accomplishments, expired to make way for a democratic dominated national legislature that probably will meet in extra session next week to combat the nation's financial troubles.

New President Lashes 'Unscrupulous Money Changers'

EMERGENCY TO BE VIEWED AS INVADING FOE

DECLARES NATION ASKS 'FOR ACTION AND ACTION NOW' 'PUT PEOPLE TO WORK' NO MORE SPECULATING WITH OTHER MAN'S MONEY

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON, Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Another Roosevelt stepped into the presidency today, undaunted by a national banking crisis that synchronized with his inauguration, to lash "the unscrupulous money changers" with unsparring tongue.

"They have fled from their high seats in the temple of our civilization," he said, lifting his eyes to glance boldly over a hundred thousand faces staring widely up at him from the wide sweep of the capital plaza. We may now restore that temple to the ancient truths.

A stir ran through the throng. A rattle of handclapping waxed and died as President Franklin De-lano Roosevelt pushed on unheeding with his address. His clear, young voice, vibrant with the hope and courage he sought to instill into every word, carried out over the country here by that very fear of tomorrow against which he called them to battle.

"The only thing we have to fear," he said, "is fear itself—nameless, unreasoning, unjustified terror which paralyzes needed efforts to convert retreat into advance."

"Only a foolish optimist can deny the dark realities of the moment. Yet our distress comes from no failure of substance. We are stricken by no plague of locusts. Plenty is at our doorstep, but a generous use of it languishes in the very sight of the supply.

"Primarily, this is because the rulers of the exchange of mankind's goods have failed through their own stubbornness and their own incompetence, have admitted their failure and abdicated. Practices of the unscrupulous money changers stand indicted in the court of public opinion, rejected by the hearts and minds of men.

"True they have tried, but their efforts have been cast in the pattern of an outworn tradition. Faced by the failure of credit they have proposed only the lending of more money. Stripped of the lure of profit by which to induce our people to follow their false leadership, they have resorted to exhortations, pleading tearfully for restored confidence. They know only the rules of a generation of self-seekers. They have no vision, and when there is no vision the people perish.

"The money changers have fled from their high seats in the temple of our civilization. We may now restore that temple to the ancient truths.

"Our greatest primary task is to put people to work. This is no unresolvable problem if we face it wisely and courageously. It can be accomplished in part by direct action by the government itself, treating the task as we would treat the emergency of a war, but

COLORFUL INAUGURAL SPOTLIGHTS ROOSEVELTS AND GARNERS

INAUGURATION of Franklin De-lano Roosevelt as President and John Nance Garner as vice president is the pivot about which have revolved plans for the colorful Washington ceremonies marking installation of a new administration Saturday, March 4. The complete program has promised five lively days for capital society and throngs of visitors from all over the nation.

The incoming President, shown with Mrs. Roosevelt, follows a busy program on inauguration day, taking the oath at noon on the east front of the capital, following the senate chamber ceremonies inducting the new vice president, shown with Mr. Garner. The inaugural ceremonies is timed to follow these ceremonies, for which elaborate preparations have been made.

Time-honored custom brings the great parade from its starting point near the capital, along Pennsylvania avenue, past the reviewing stand near the White House, with seats of honor reserved for the Roosevelts and the Garners and other notables. General John J. Pershing (center) was accorded the honor of leading this year's procession along its historic route.

Back to Land.

"Hand in hand with this we must frankly recognize the over-balance of population in our industrial centers and, by engaging on a national scale in a redistribution, endeavor to provide a better use of the land for those best fitted for the land. The task can be helped by definite efforts to raise the values of agricultural products and with this the power to purchase the output of our cities. It can be helped by preventing realistically the tragedy of the growing loss through foreclosure of our small homes and our farms. It can be helped by insistence that the federal, state, and local governments act forthwith on the demand that their cost be drastically reduced. There are many ways in which it can be helped, but it can never be helped merely by talking about it. We must act and act quickly.

"Finally, in our progress toward a resumption of work we require two safeguards against a return of the evils of the old order; there must be a strict supervision of all banking and credits and investments; there must be an end to speculation with other people's money, and there must be provision for an adequate but sound currency.

Duty Clear.
"I am prepared under my constitutional duty to recommend the measures that a stricken nation in the midst of a stricken world must require," he told his cheering audience.

"These measures, or such other measures as the congress may build out of its experience and wisdom, I shall seek, within my constitutional authority, to bring to speedy adoption.

"But in the event that the congress shall fail to take one of these two courses, and in the event that the national emergency is still critical, I shall not evade the clear course of duty that will then confront me.

"I shall ask the congress for the one remaining instrument to meet the crisis—broad executive power to wage a war against the emergency, as the power that would be given to me if we were in fact invaded by a foreign foe."

Asserting that the nation "asks for action, and action now," Roosevelt made the following general recommendations:

"Putting people to work, in part by direct recruiting by the government itself.

MAN IS ACQUITTED ON TRIAL OF SHAMROCK BANK LOOTING

WHEELER, March 4.—A verdict of acquittal was given H. D. Little, charged with looting the Shamrock First National bank March 4, 1932, this week in 31st district court. The first trial of the case resulted in a hung jury.

The prosecution hinged on the testimony of Isom Hays, negro bank janitor, who was the only one of five persons in the bank to see the faces of the two men who staged the raid.

Twenty-seven Wheeler county schools have paid their interscholastic league dues and are eligible for the county meet to be held in Wheeler March 17 and 18. Literary events will be held the first day and track and field competition the second day.

More than three thousand dollars has been spent here and in nearby communities under the direction of the federal relief committee. The square and streets have been gravelled and alleys cleaned.

Standard Cuts Oil Price in California

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4. (AP)—The Standard Oil company of California announced today it would reduce prices paid for crude oil, effective tomorrow, from 6 to 32 cents a barrel.

The new price range is from 49 cents to 96 cents a barrel. The sharpest cut was made at the Elwood Terrace field, where 37 gravity-oil was cut to 96 cents from $1.28.

The company made no explanation of the cut, but oil men have professed to feel a reduction would be necessary to discourage production above market capacity.

Daily average production in California last week was 468,300 barrels, the American Petroleum Institute reported. The estimated maximum market demand was 440,000 barrels.

New Record Made In Mile-Relay At Indoor Track Meet

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—A rousing finish marked by record performances in four events, including a new world indoor mark for the one-mile relay by Pennsylvania's great quarter, Yale university's track and field team came from behind to beat out New York university, defending titleholder, for the intercollegiate A. A. A. indoor championship tonight.

The Elis, due mainly to a sweep of the first three places in the pole vault and a close victory in the high hurdles by George Lockwood, finished with a winning total of 32 points.

New York university, second with 28 points, saw its last chances go glimmering in the final event, the one-mile relay, when Sid Sheffield fell in the first scramble for positions and was distanced. Yale had a 2-point lead going into this event and easily added to it by placing fourth behind the record-breaking Penn team.

The Penn fliers, featuring Bill Carr, Olympic champion, scored a decisive victory in setting a new world mark of 3:17 for the mile relay. This displaced the former mark of 3:17.8, made by Pennsylvania in 1931 and equalled by New York university last year.

Helium Gas From Panhandle Fields Used to Inflate Akron and Macon

AMARILLO, March 3. (AP)—One of the nation's "inflation" problems—that of filling the helium tanks of the navy's new Macon—already has been solved.

A recent shipment from the United States helium plant near Amarillo of three big tank cars, each containing 200,000 cubic feet of the non-inflammable gas, brought the storage at the hangar at Akron, Ohio, to an amount in excess of the 6,000,000 cubic feet cruising capacity required for the new queen of all lighter-than-air craft.

Pressed by demands of the Akron which was inflated last summer, and its sister ship, the Macon, which will take to the air in March or April, the helium division of the bureau of mines has set new production records during the fiscal year. Operating on the present scale, the year's total will reach 18,000,000 cubic feet, which will be at least 2,000,000 cubic feet greater than the total of any previous year. The cost of deflating the Macon will be approximately $42,500, the helium having been produced for an average of $7.10 a thousand cubic feet. The navy's first helium-inflated ship, the C-7, was floated in 1920 with helium that cost $104 a thousand, bureau of mine records reveal. Although the Macon's capacity is 150 times greater than the C-7, it will cost only 10 times as much to inflate it, and with helium of greater purity. It now averages 98 per cent pure.

The needs of the Akron for the fiscal year will be approximately 9,000,000 cubic feet, or one and one-half inflations. This amount, plus the 6,000,000 cubic feet required to fill the Macon for the first time, and considerably smaller amounts needed to keep the army and navy blimps floating and for all other purposes, probably will push production for the year ending June 30 to new totals. Still greater production will be needed for the year beginning July

OLD-TIME TRADING POST PLAN IS REVIVED FOR TRIAL HERE

Harking back to trading post days, H. V. Patterson has opened a general sales company at 810 West Foster to deal in everything which residents wish to barter, whether it be labor, professional services, farm produce, and various kinds of merchandise.

"Through this exchange, we will trade anything of value for things, other persons wish to have. Although some cash sales will doubtless be made, the intention is to establish a barter system in which cash will not be necessary."

Things already offered for exchange or trade include mechanical services, dental services, auto repair, washing machine repair, barbering, cleaning, furniture, radios, washing machines, rugs, pictures, and the like. Attempts are made, on a commission basis, to trade what patrons have for what they wish to possess.

Among things in demand are common and skilled labor, domestic help, household goods, farm produce, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, separators, sporting goods, and guns.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Lancaster were in Amarillo yesterday.

But wait till you taste it popped! Just try Kellogg's Wheat Krispies.

Wheat that has a pop-corn flavor!

The entire wheat flake with all its nourishing elements is actually popped into a new form. It tastes like fresh popped corn.

Knapp Denies Education Costs As Much at Tech as Senators Claim

AUSTIN, Tex., Mar. 3. (AP)—Dr. Bradford E. Knapp, president of Lubbock college, said that Senator George Purl of Dallas, and Grady Woodruff of Decatur had been given some erroneous information on which they based criticisms of his institution.

Senators Purl and Woodruff expressed themselves last night before a joint committee meeting of the house and senate considering recommendations for a reorganization of state departments.

Purl said it cost more to educate a student in music at Texas Tech than it did to send one to Vienna to study under the masters.

Dr. Knapp said that the claim it required an expenditure of $1,500 for the music studies was not borne out by the report of the state board of education which showed the cost there to be $360.

He said a statement by Woodruff that the college had "become the best teachers' college in the state" was refuted by enrollment records of the college. He said forty-two per cent of the students were putting in full time at technical courses.

"I do not charge the senators with not being serious, and know they believed they were stating the facts, but they evidently were given some erroneous information," Dr. Knapp stated.

A bill proposing consolidations and reorganization of the teachers' colleges and other institutions of learning will be discussed before a house committee on March 13, 14 and 15. Dr. Knapp will appear before that committee.

One of the largest hearings held before a committee at this session of the legislature is expected when the education committee of the house starts consideration, on March 6, of bills seeking to revise the state's system of higher education. The bill proposes to reduce eight of the teachers colleges to the rank of junior colleges and make other changes.

Citizens of the various communities in which the colleges are located have indicated to Rep. John W. Laird, chairman of the committee, that they would vigorously protest against the proposed action.

The bill proposing the changes was drafted along the lines recommended by the legislative committee on economy and organization.

More than 1,000 witness fees ranging from $1 to $10 are unclaimed in Mecklenburg (Charlotte) county, N. C. They have accumulated since 1924.

IF AN INSECT REMAINS ABSOLUTELY MOTIONLESS, A FROG OR TOAD WILL NOT EAT IT!

FROGS and toads prefer living food, and the more lively an insect, the more attractive it is to them. A frog would starve to death, sitting in the midst of a swarm of insects, if they continued to remain motionless. Insects are captured by the snapping out of a long, sticky tongue which is attached at the front end of the frog's mouth.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Jesus Giving Life and Health. Scripture Lesson: Mark 5:21-24, 35-43.

21. And when Jesus had crossed over again in the boat unto the other side, a great multitude was gathered unto him; and he was by the sea.

22. And there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and seeing him, he falleth at his feet.

23. And beseecheth him much, saying, My little daughter is at the point of death: I pray thee, that thou come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be made whole, and live.

24. And he went with him; and a great multitude followed him, and they thronged him.

25. While he yet spake, they came from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Teacher any further?

26. But Jesus, not heeding the word spoken, saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Fear not, only believe.

27. And he suffered no man to follow with him, save Peter and James, and John the brother of James.

28. And they come to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, to see her whom he beheld a tumult, and many weeping and wailing greatly.

29. And when he was entered in, he saith unto them, Why make ye a tumult, and weep? the child is not dead, but sleepeth.

30. And they laughed him to scorn, but he, having put them all forth, taketh the father of the child and her mother and them that were with him, and goeth in where the child was.

31. And taking the child by the hand, he saith unto her, Talitha-cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, Arise.

32. And straightway the damsel rose up, and walked; for she was twelve years old. And they were amazed straightway with a great amazement.

33. And he charged them much that no man should know this; and he commanded that something should be given her to eat.

Golden Text: Jehovah hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad.—Ps. 126:3.

Time: Autumn, A. D. 28, the second year of Christ's ministry. Place: Capernaum.

Introduction. To Christ, and to his four biographers, there seems to be no difference among the miracles, either as respects the wonder with which they are recorded or the perfect ease with which they are accomplished. Only a word restores the withered arm, and only a word brings Lazarus from the grave. If anything appears more difficult than another, it is the cure of demoniacs, there being a kind of demon that no man should know this; and he commanded that something should be given her to eat.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by the New York Dr. Iago Goldstein, Academy of Medicine Growth Promotion

The human body has been described fittingly as a mechanism which, at its conception, possesses a remarkable growth impetus, most of which is expended while the individual is still in his mother's body, and during the first few years of his life.

This growth impetus requires concrete substances for its expression. In other words, there is a native tendency in the infant and child to grow, but in order that this tendency might be fully realized, the individual must have food in adequate amounts.

What, however, constitutes adequate food? We have answered this question for a good many years in a book of a balanced diet, containing a sufficiency of proteins, carbohydrates and fats.

Now, however, we realize that these essential elements are not in themselves adequate. In addition to the building substances we also require what is called vitamin B2 or vitamin G.

Vitamin B was first described more than 15 years ago. At that time it was thought one element.

More recently, however, it was shown that this vitamin is really made up of two separate parts, one which prevents degenerative changes in nerves, and another described as a growth-promoting and appetite-stimulating substance.

Much study has been devoted to the second portion of vitamin B, called B2 or G, particularly with regard to its distribution in food materials.

It has been established that B2 is available in common foods in the following descending order: dried or liver, dried yeast, meat (dried steak), milk solids, egg yolk, whole germ wheat, whole wheat, lard, dried peas, whole wheat, maize, white and yellow maize germ meal and milk.

Children whose growth and appetite appear to be unsatisfactory and who are free from organic diseases, should have as part of their dietary generous portions of the foods listed above.

our relief in our pressing need. He knows best, Mary and Martha, and Jairus, learned, and we shall learn, rich and richer lessons of Jesus' love from his tantalizing deliberateness than we ever could from his hurriedness.

Line of Death.—And Life. Nor is Jesus at all disconcerted by the message that is brought while they are on the way to the ruler's house that the girl is dead.

For he knows that his Advent is driving that word "dead" from the speech, for those who accept his faith, "Only believe," verse 36, might be rendered, "Just keep on believing."

Peter, James, and John, the circle within the circle of the apostle had, the same three who the Lord praised the girl's faith, the kindly word, "Daughter," is never given to any other woman so far as the records go, and the gentle farewell, "Go in peace, and be whole of thy plague."

The Delayed Blessing. In reading this chapter we think of how Jesus tarried two days in Perea when Lazarus was dying (John 11:6). Why? We, too, are often perplexed and impatient when he does not hurry at once to

Miniature Pool Bill Decisively Defeated 69-40

AUSTIN, March 3. (P)—The decisive defeat in the house of a bill to legalize the display and use of miniature pool tables has given concern to those seeking passage of bills to legalize betting on horse races and liberalization of the prohibition laws.

The miniature pool table bill was defeated by a vote of 69 to 40, although its sponsors, before debate started, were confident it would go through with little opposition. The vote came on a motion to strike out the enacting clause.

The attitude of the house on the proposed legalization of small tables was accepted by many members of the legislature as an indication that a similar fate awaited the proposal to legalize the return of regulation size tables. A bill to allow return of the latter has been reported favorably by the committee on criminal jurisdiction and placed on the calendar. Its authors have indicated they were in no hurry to call it up and feel that it might be best to let it alone until the heat of debate over the small tables is forgotten.

Opponents of the miniature pool bill agreed that it was immoral, would be detrimental to the state's youth, would break down respect for law, increase gambling and provide the opening wedge for return of the open saloon.

Supporters of the proposal contended that it was about time as per se could play an innocent game of pool if he chose, asserted that there was no more opportunity to gamble on pool than on bridge and other forms of amusement and claimed there was more money bet on football games between the state's colleges than would be wagered on pool games. They also expressed opposition to what they termed the "witchburning" of the past several years.

The vote on the bill was a surprise to most observers, since it had been generally believed that a majority of the members leaned toward modification of existing laws. Opponents of the racing and prohibition modification bills predicted that the same fate would befall these proposals in view of the strength mustered against the pool table bill.

THAT'S NICE OF THEM. MILWAUKEE, Wis. (P)—Even Dan Cupid may soon be transacting his business by barter and scrip. A jewelry store has informed the unemployed labor and commodity exchange that it would take the organization's scrip for wedding rings.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

If you are in search of an inexpensive addition to your emergency diet, why don't you consider dried beef? There are innumerable ways to make good use of this old-time product that has meant so much to pioneer America.

The dried beef on the market in glass jars is excellent, and there are several brands from which to choose. This variety is more expensive than the meat in the bulk, but so very convenient to have on hand for "emergencies" that the extra expense is warranted. For regular, planned ahead meals, however, it pays to use the bulk beef which your butcher or grocer will slice as thin as paper for you.

The nourishment furnished by dried beef is not particularly important. It is usually combined with other foods which supply the actual food value, the beef adding flavor to bland foods and making the dish appetizing. However, there is no waste, and pound for pound, compared with round steak, the fuel value of dried beef is 12 per cent higher. The amount of water it must be freshened carefully. The best way to do this is to use cold water to more than cover for one hour. Lift from the water and dry between towels. When time is pressing pour boiling water over beef picked in small pieces, cover and stand three minutes. Drain carefully.

Whenever dried beef is used, it is seldom necessary to add salt for seasoning. The beef salts the dish sufficiently. If the beef is too salty it may be freshened carefully. The best way to do this is to use cold water to more than cover for one hour. Lift from the water and dry between towels. When time is pressing pour boiling water over beef picked in small pieces, cover and stand three minutes. Drain carefully.

Tomorrow's Menu. BREAKFAST: Grape juice, cereal, cream, ham omelet, crisp Graham toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Cream of celery soup, roast sticks, Chinese cabbage salad, savory dried beef sandwiches, sliced oranges with shredded coconut, crisp cookies, milk, tea. DINNER: Breaded veal cutlets, browned parsnips, creamed carrots, cheese ball salad, chocolate bread pudding, milk, coffee.

A very good and inexpensive sandwich filling is made by combining finely chopped dried beef, minced gherkins and mayonnaise. The filling is especially good between slices of rye or whole wheat bread. Another savory filling is

Murray Favors Whipping Post For Criminals

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 3. (P)—Governor William H. Murray today urged a joint session of the Oklahoma legislature to pass laws for punishment of criminals, both youths and adults, by whipping posts and stocks.

Blaming lax parental training and the world war for "a loosening of public morals" the governor told the legislature the honor system of punishment virtually has failed and other systems must be devised.

He outlined his clemency policy, his plans for reform of criminals and urged the legislature to create an Oklahoma state ranger force similar to the famous Texas ranger system and the Canadian mounted police.

One cup dried beef, 1 cup finely diced cheese, 1 cup sifted tomato, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon white pepper, 1 egg. Chop dried beef and combine with cheese. Put in top of double boiler and cook over hot water until cheese begins to melt. Add canned tomato which has been rubbed through a coarse sieve to remove seeds and cook and stir until mixture is thoroughly blended. Stir in mustard and pepper and add egg slightly beaten. Stir over hot water until thickened, not more than a minute, and pour into a bowl or par to cool.

CONNIE IN STRIPES

PHILADELPHIA—Many a baseball manager has "lost his shirt" at one time or another but for the first time Connie Mack, veteran pilot of the Philadelphia Athletics had had that experience with his pajamas. Connie lost his traveling bag in the confusion of getting the squad away to spring training quarters. The situation looked serious for a time until one of the accompanying photographers loaned Mack a pair of pajamas—bright green ones with stripes.

Woman Speaker Keeps Men In Proper Places

AUSTIN, March 3. (P)—Mrs. Sarah Hughes of Dallas, the only woman member of the house in the 43rd legislature, has demonstrated she would make a good presiding officer. She was called upon recently by Speaker Coke Stevenson to take the chair temporarily. Mrs. Hughes, who is rather small, wielded the heavy gavel used by six-foot Speaker Stevenson with the skill and confidence of a trained parliamentarian.

Motions were put by the woman occupant of the chair in rapid order and the gavel cracked in "one, two, three" fashion as she declared motions carried.

'The Queen City Of The Plains'

Pampa had its beginnings as a town in 1902 when George Tyng of the White Deer Land company laid off the town and offered lots for sale. It must be remembered that the early history of Pampa is inextricably interwoven with that of the White Deer Land company, through its successive agents Mr. Tyng, T. D. Hobar, "agent and attorney in fact," and M. K. Brown, promoted the settlement of this section.

There was nothing here that resembled a town until the White Deer Land company took a hand in it. The town was laid out on land owned by the company. The first school building, erected in 1902, was built on company land by the company. A grader was provided and maintained by the company to grade the streets and roads. The first White Deer agent, Mr. Tyng, named the town. In fact, one might say, for almost 20 years the growth of Pampa was promoted by the White Deer land company. The company had other "children," White Deer for instance, but Pampa was always its favorite child. The agents and central office were located here.

That Famous Little House

The agents spent big sums in advertising the White Deer lands. Excursion trains were brought in. Exhibits were displayed at the funny little house that was situated near the railroad—the house that now sits in the cemetery. Passengers on the trains that sometimes roared through and sometimes "moaned" through were not allowed to escape sight of the pumpkins, squash, wheat bundles, kaffir, maize, watermelons and other products that were proudly grouped around the little house. An expensive booklet replete with photographs and containing flattering descriptions of this section—descriptions by the way, which have since justified themselves—was distributed throughout the nation. A history of the White Deer Land company would be a fairly complete and accurate history of Pampa and this section.

The White Deer lands were owned by Frederic de P. Foster and Cornelius C. Cuyler, and that's why we have Foster avenue and Cuyler street. Alcott square on which the city hall is located, was named for Albert Foster, brother of Frederic. The square was donated to the city by the company, as was also the plot of ground on which the fire station is now located.

Town In 1907

The area of the White Deer Lands in 1907 was about 631,000 acres. In that year, so the booklet

advertising the lands states, Pampa was "a new and growing town located on the plains and commands a very extensive trade. Its surroundings are such that the drainage problem is very simple. The town is amply supplied with water from several good wells, and in addition thereto a large dam has been constructed in its immediate vicinity, making a very convenient reservoir about three-quarters of a mile in length. Good roads extend for miles in all directions."

The booklet proceeds to state that "Pampa is a prominent shipping point, an average of 20,000 head of cattle being shipped annually. There are two hotels, a restaurant, three general mercantile establishments, an excellent hardware store and furniture store, two banks, a drug store, three lumber yards, a livery stable and feed yard, tin shop, blacksmith shop, market, and various other enterprises. There are three church organizations and active work is being carried on by each of them. There is an excellent public school with an efficient corps of teachers and also a public library. The normal organizations are represented by three different lodges. "The booklet did not state the population of the town. The booklet includes testimonials from T. S. Bugbee, Clarendon; J. R. Henry, J. D. Dickson, J. W. Scivally, John A. Newman, W. B. Jackson, J. M. Bell, all of whom testified as to the splendid climate, the productiveness of the soil and convincing reasons why every one should want to live in the vicinity of Pampa."

Landmarks

Pictures in the booklet included the White Deer land office, the herd of Edward S. Swift on the White Deer lands, a "fishing scene on White Deer creek," arrival of an excursion train at Pampa, July 4, 1907, Pampa school building, the old hotel at Pampa and the new hotel (now the old Schneider hotel), the First National bank building "with adjacent store building and furniture store of J. N. Duncan, residence of Mrs. Keahy, residence of J. N. Duncan, steam plow at work, apple orchard of Perry LeFors, at LeFors, straw stacks of A. B. McAfee, (1905), cabbage patch of J. T. Benton, (1906), oats raised by J. M. Bell, "grapes on the plains, J. J. Lill, Carson county," Henry Thum's residence at LeFors (with two white horses hitched to a buggy out in front), residence of L. N. Henry, residence of D. C. Henry. The booklet contained 64 pages, not including charts and maps, and was a fair history of Pampa in 1908.

Chinese Flight Shown in Film

Impressive scenes of the movement of Japanese troops into the Shanhaikwan battle area near the eastern end of the Great Wall of China, and the Chinese civilian inhabitants fleeing over frozen rivers, to be seen in the current issue of the Pampa Daily NEWS-Universal Newsreel. The screen's talking reporter, Graham McNamee, radio announcing act, describes the hectic scenes in vivid language at La Nora theater.

Rank after rank, in almost unending columns, the Mikado's furnished infantry pours into the disputed zone. Generals Nishi and Suzuki inspect the arrival of their forces and look over the results of the fighting which put the Rising Sun banner over the ancient Chinese strong-hold. Departing inhabitants are thoroughly searched before being allowed to trek with their pitiful belongings and feed small children, over the ice-covered rivers to lead a gypsy life in the countryside back of the Chinese lines.

McNamee reports many other important events in the reel, including President Hoover's "I-f-well" address at the Lincoln Day Dinner in New York City; the rising tide of Nazi demonstrations, pre-election rallies and activities in Germany; the spectacular million dollar Chicago grain elevator fire with the mercury at 23 below zero, and the setting of a new world's bob-sled record at Lake Placid, N. Y.

BOTH HOUSES FOR DRASTIC CUTS IN JUDICIARY, WITH FREE CONFERENCE NEEDED

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—The first of the four major appropriation bills, that for the judiciary, was ready today for free conference committee consideration.

The senate yesterday passed a bill which its finance committee substituted for a proposal approved some time ago by the house. A free conference committee will be appointed to adjust the differences between the two houses.

Drastic cuts in the salaries of judges for the biennium beginning next September 1 were made by both houses. The house slashed salaries 25 per cent and more in some cases. The senate made cuts ranging from 16 to 25 per cent.

A large senate group made a determined effort to raise the judges' salaries above the figures recommended by the senate finance committee but efforts of this group were unavailing except in one instance. The committee voted to cut the pay of supreme court justices from $8,000 to $6,000 annually but the senate would not accede to a reduction below $6,500.

Below Old Totals

The total of the senate bill was approximately $3,948,000 for the biennium. The figures in the house proposal aggregated about $3,694,000. Both were far below the appropriations for the current biennium. The senate recommended that the pay of each district judge be fixed at $4,200. The house bill placed district judges' salaries at $3,750.

Another of the major money bills, that for the eleemosynary institutions, was pending business in the house.

The house committee on education voted a favorable report yesterday on a bill to provide that the University of Texas could not change text books more frequently than once every five years. The committee was told by Dewitt Kinard, student at the university, that a condition that provided this the state had fulfilled its obligations. Harman said that owing to the turn in events in the last 24 hours, the state colleges might be glad to get one fourth of what they asked for on which to operate during the next year.

One of the bills proposed to increase the annual fees to $175 for resident students at the University of Texas and A. and M. and $150 for the teachers colleges. The fees would be doubled on out of state students.

Another bill would increase the fee to $50 a semester for state students and $75 for out of state registrants. A third would retain the present fee of $30 for a long term for residents that would raise the

Roosevelt Has Conferences On Bank Situation

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—President-elect Roosevelt called in congressional leaders and his economic advisors today as he prepared for action on both national and international economic problems.

At his quarters in the Mayflower hotel, the vice president-elect—Speaker John N. Garner—was the first caller.

Senator Bulkley of Ohio, a member of the banking committee and an expert on banking legislation, was at the Roosevelt suite, too.

Leaving the banking problem up to President Hoover until he takes over the presidency himself, Mr. Roosevelt appeared to be preparing for any action that may be necessary.

Some democrats are urging passage by the house of the Glass banking bill sent to it by the senate as one method of giving the government amount to $90 for out of state applicants.

Leans Have It Over Fats When Pricked by Pin

DURHAM, N. C., March 3. (AP)—The slight prick of a pin, when unexpected, causes less pain to a slender person than to a thickest individual. It may even be painless to the slender one.

These and other experiments showing that the two great human body types live in such different worlds that they may not hope to understand each other fully were reported by Elizabeth Enke, of the University of Marburg, Prussia, in "Character and Personality." This scientific quarterly of international psychology has its American editorial headquarters here at Duke university.

The tests were made with electrodes attached to the arms in a setup similar to "the detectors." They recorded the internal turmoil and electrical currents of even the most poker-faced persons.

Wives Have Most Of Pocket Change

Pampans do not carry money in their "jeans," so hi-jackers need not come to Pampa in the hope of getting rich. The truth of the above statement was proved this morning when a NEWS reporter stopped 30 men on the streets and asked them how much money they had in their pockets. Wives were said to have most of the family change for shopping.

The total amount available from the 30 men was less than $100. Sums on hand ranged from 25 cents to 85. Dollar bills were in the majority and only three of the men stopped had 50 cent bills. One had $10 and he had it in his upper coat pocket. He gave orders that his name not be mentioned or every one would be trying to borrow from him or present bills.

Mrs. Bo Barrett was to leave Worely hospital this afternoon.

Student Writes Story of Texas' Independence

(This interesting account of how the Texas Independence day came to be observed was written by Erdus Dedmon, Junior high school student.)

You would hardly need to be told why Texas declared herself independent of Mexico. However, here are some of the reasons which they gave for the declaration.

They said that Mexico had invited the Americans to settle Texas and promised them the protection of a republican government like that to which they were accustomed in the United States, but that Santa Anna had so changed the government that he expressed instead of protected them Santa Anna had overthrown the government of Coahuila and Texas, he had held Austin in prison without cause, he had demanded the surrender of prominent citizens to be tried by military officers, he had tried by military officers the right of trial by jury and, finally, had failed to establish a system of public education.

For these and other causes, the convention of delegates of the people proclaimed Texas a free and independent republic on March 2, 1836. In commemoration of that day, we Texans celebrate every second of March.

Early in September of 1835, Austin returned from his long imprisonment in Mexico and told the people that the time had come for war. They believed him because they knew that he loved peace and would never advise war if it could be honorably avoided. From this moment, Austin took the lead, and at his command parts of Texas urging the colonists to form military companies and be drilled. On September 19 in a circular letter which was widely scattered, he said "war is our only recourse. There is no other remedy, but to defend our rights, ourselves, and our country by force of arms."

And three days later he sent forth a ringing call for every man in Texas to seize arms. This was enough. The colonists were ready and the clash of battle was not to be much longer delayed.

The first shot was fired at Gonzales October 2, 1835, where the Mexicans tried to get a cannon which the people had there to protect them from the Indians. Col. Ugarteche, who was commander of San Antonio, knew they would use it against his troops if they were allowed to keep it until war started. He sent only a corporal and five soldiers in order not to alarm the colonists, but the latter refused to give up the weapon. Then he sent a captain and a hundred dragoons to take it. When he arrived, he did not feel strong enough to make the attempt, so he marched up the river several miles and went into camp to await reinforcements. Here for a night his men had a pleasant time plundering a farmer's watermelon patch, but the next morning they awoke to face a band of 150 Texans advancing on heavy wagon wheels.

It was loaded with pieces of chain and scraps of iron, and at the first volley the Mexicans broke camp and fled in terror leaving one dead upon the field. This was called the battle of Gonzales.

This showed the Texans that they were going to have more trouble with the Mexicans. It also was common knowledge that Mexico had not treated Texas right, and all realized what it would mean to enjoy the privileges of independence later. But the declaration did not seem to impress Mexico. Mexicans, made over-bold by victories at Goliad and the Alamo, pushed the warfare. The battle of San Jacinto, however, turned the tide and made possible the Lone Star republic. The Mexicans withdrew permanently and Santa Anna promised never to set foot on Texas soil again. Houston, the big-hearted and kindly military leader of the Texans, granted Santa Anna's request for liberty.

Speaker Rainey To Be Liberal

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—The next speaker of the House—Representative Rainey of Illinois—today made plans for divesting that high office of much of its power and giving it to the democratic majority.

A steering committee is to be formed, Rainey announced last night soon after his nomination in caucus, which henceforth will shape the policies of the house.

"Our failures in the 72nd congress, which few there have been, have been due entirely to the fact that the direction of policies has come entirely from the speaker's chair," he said. "From now on it will come from the democratic party."

Rainey, white-haired, 73-year-old veteran in the house, will succeed John N. Garner, the vice-president-elect. He was chosen over Representative McDuffie of Alabama, Rankin of Mississippi, Jones of Texas, and Bankhead of Alabama. Nomination is tantamount to election.

Representatives Byrns of Tennessee, was selected as floor leader—the post held by Rainey.

"The steering committee assures solidarity of the party in support of President Roosevelt," Rainey said. "I will support President Roosevelt to the limit. Whatever the Roosevelt program is we are going to do and no more. If necessary we will only organize committees to deal with the program."

PANTS? NO MA'AM!

MINNEAPOLIS—Wearing trousers—if you are a woman—is as bad according to law here—as wearing nothing at all. A 56-year-old ordinance says:

"No person shall appear on any street or in any public or exposed place in a state of nudity or in any dress not belonging to his or her sex."

The maximum penalty is $100 fine or 90 days.

Chief of Police William J. Meehan says he will enforce it.

HUSBAND SCARS WIFE

DENVER, March 3. (AP)—Scared from acid, which police said was thrown on her by her husband, Mrs. Maxine Gustin, 33-year-old telephone operator, was near death in a hospital today. Her husband, R. C. Gustin, Tulsa, Okla., salesman, died from poison in a hospital 20 minutes after a bottle of acid was poured on her.
