Governor Roosevelt Leaves on Trip Through Seventeen States

YOU SAVED ALL THAT FOR THE RELIEF FUND? GEE, THAT'S GREAT, OSSIE! THERE'LL BE PLENTY IN THE FUND FOR EVERYBODY, IF WE ALL CHIP IN!

Get ready, folks, for something recommended to the Panpan as mighty, mighty good. It's a home talent performance, so varied that all sorts of tastes should be pleased.

We refer to "Ghost House", to be offered under the auspices of the A. A. U. W. next Monday and Tuesday evenings, October 24-25. It is a mystery drama with a strong vein of comedy. A talented cast is working hard under a professional director. As added attractions, however, there will be two short scenes of comedy local girls and a men's chorus most applauded for its singing ability. And just to make sure that there can be absolutely no one disappointed, the Treble Clef club will be heard in numbers for which it is well known.

The "Ghost House" is the first of a series of home talent productions to be offered by local groups this fall and winter. There should be large audiences at all of them. Don't mistake us—we don't believe in attending even home talent offerings if they are not well prepared. But the performances to be recommended in this column are those to which local people of talent give their best efforts. Remember the "Ghost House" and varied program awaiting you.

Better sign—BOSTON—Presidents of the American Woollen Company for deliveries of cloth containers, and the big mills are at capacity.

Uncle Sam stands in danger of being INSULTED if he persists in trying to coax Greece and the Greek chamber of commerce to give up the former utility king.

Within the memory of many who will read this column, geographers spoke of the million square miles between Kansas and California as the great American desert. True, two trans-continental railroads traversed the mountain ranges and waste lands, but they were only to "get to California." West Texans have demonstrated the enormous fallacy of this description, but even West Texans, it is pointed out by Charles F. Lummis, author of southwestern Indian stories, had scarcely recognized the fact that for hundreds of years there have lived in this territory "a roost of strange peoples picturesque, romantic, mysterious, in little cities of quaint architecture and quaint customs; and among them and about them for 350 years already there have labored and studied and written the descendants of the men who discovered the West."

'ROOSEVELT WEATHER' CHANGES TO WIND BLOWN AGAIN

By WALTER T. BROWN, Associated Press Staff Writer. Roosevelt Special. ALBANY, Oct. 18 (P)—Stirling and waving his hand to a small crowd of well-wishers as he stood on a rain-drenched railroad platform, Governor Roosevelt left Albany at 9:35 a. m. (eastern standard time) for a presidential campaign trip of 3,000 miles through 17 states. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Dall, his son, James, and a party of 60 others. The presidential nominee's "weather luck" deserted him at departure this morning for one of the few times in the four campaigns he has toured, 1920, 1928, 1930 and 1932. "Those who have travelled with him expect to find clear skies, "Roosevelt weather." A black sky and wind blown rain greeted the candidate as he bore his special train today, as he started on a slight detour through the mid-west and south. Major speeches of the trip will be made at Pittsburgh, St. Louis and

A varied and interesting program will be given in connection with the visit of H. Ward Hayden, vice-president of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, to the local club tonight. President Jim Collins will preside and will introduce George Imerick, who will have charge of the program and who will also introduce the speaker, Mr. Hayden to one of the well known young men of this region and his address will be both interesting and enlightening. The meeting will be open to every young man in the city between the ages of 18 and 35 years. The program will include a reading by Mrs. H. C. Turner, a dance and song number by Miss Joyce Turner, a surprise by members of the Tom Lewis Peacock review and a musical specialty, singing and dancing by Woody Guthrie, Mat Jennings and Charles Barrett.

Snowstorm Visits Rocky Mountains

DENVER, Oct. 18 (P)—With a heavy fall of snow general throughout Wyoming today and lower temperatures here, this section of the Rocky mountain region appeared to be in for another visit of winter. A heavy blanket of fog last night grounded transcontinental transport planes at Rock Springs, Wyo., and Salt Lake City. Sheridan and Lander Wyoming reported nine inches of snow today and snow was falling heavily at Yellowstone National Park. F. L. Dieterick, Cheyenne meteorologist, predicted the weather in Wyoming today would be the most severe of the season.

LEVY FOR INTEREST SINKING FUND REQUIREMENTS IS CAUSE OF INCREASE IN CITY'S RATE

TOTAL OF $1.60 IS SET AFTER LOWERING OF B. C. D.

ASSESSMENTS REDUCED

CITY DEPARTMENTS TO PAY OWN WAY IN 1933

A city tax rate of $1.60 on the $100 valuation was set by the city commission last night. This total includes 3 cents for the public library, 7 cents for the B. C. D., and $1.50 for the interest and sinking fund requirements. The old rate of $1.40 was divided as follows: For library 3 cents, for B. C. D. 12 cents, for general fund 5 cents, for interest and sinking fund requirements $1.20.

It will be noted that the B. C. D. levy has been reduced from 12 to 7 cents. The new levy will produce $4,200 if all taxes are paid. The library levy is established by statute. The 5-cent general fund levy has been abolished, and all operating costs of the city next year will be paid out of revenues in the various departments, of which the water department is the largest producer. The raise in the rate, which followed a general reduction of about 10 per cent in the assessed valuations, was necessitated by a drop of more than one-half million in total valuations. The interest and sinking fund requirements are not subject to change, hence the rate must rise as assessments decline, unless the funds are supplemented from sources other than direct taxation. Expenditures will be guided by the city budget, copies of which are on file for public inspection. Another action of the commission last night was appointment of J. H. Blythe, city secretary, tax assessor, tax collector, and corporation judge, as registrar of vital statistics, succeeding Chas. O. Duenkel November 1.

Minister Says Charge Against Him Is Unjust

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 18 (P)—Two views of the Rev. S. Althea Berrie, song-writing pastor, were ready for presentation to a district court jury today, one depicting him as the slayer of his first wife, the other as a man unjustly accused. The 52-year-old minister, who wrote "In Beulah Land" and other church hymns, is accused of poisoning his first wife last March 21 in order to wed Ida Zeas Bright, 19-year-old Sunday school teacher, whom he married May 17.

Repeating the grand jury investigation which resulted in the indictment of the preacher August 9, were ardent love poems allegedly penned by Mr. Berrie to Ida Zeas, with whom he admittedly was intimate before the death of the first Mrs. Berrie. The girl bride, exonerated of blame in the death of the first Mrs. Berrie, has stood loyally by her husband and is expected to testify in his defense. Examination of the body of the first Mrs. Berrie, requested by a sister after the pastor's second marriage, resulted in filing of the murder charge when state's chemists ably containing a sedative which Mrs. Berrie collapsed and died after swallowing a capsule, presumably found poison "sufficient to kill," she had been accustomed to taking.

Pale and worn by 73 days in jail which he sought to avoid in two fruitless habeas corpus hearings, the minister remained confident of his ultimate acquittal.

CITY AROUSED BY GANGSTER AND WILL ACT

BAR MEMBERS NOT TO DEFEND GUNMEN IN COURT

NEW HOLOUP REPORTED

POLICE DRAG-NET IS USED TO SMASH 'EPIDEMIC'

LUBBOCK, Oct. 18 (P)—While officers, lashed by public indignation, began their drive to rid Lubbock of a well entrenched criminal element, a lone bandit early today strode into a hotel lobby, threw a gun on a negro porter, and escaped with a small loot. Meantime, plans were well under way for a county-wide mass meeting tonight as a result of most recent major hijacking and murder. Leaders of women's church and civic clubs were organizing on the side of law and order, and members of the Lubbock County Bar association, leading the drive opened yesterday, were repeating their "notice to criminals" to the effect that legal representation for thieves, burglars, hijackers and men who help in the commission of those crimes would be har do get. Funeral services for Robert Tharp, 25, former McMurry college grifter, were to be this afternoon. Fatal shooting of Tharp was the spark which set off the fuse of indignation here as the climax of a long series of crimes, aided by what prosecutors declare has been "gangster rule." After being told to "give the criminal element hell" and "beat em to the draw and bring 'em in," police and sheriff's officers last night threw out a dragnet. Seventeen "suspicious characters" lounged in the local bistros this morning and the congregation was to be augmented by further drives today and tonight. Judge Clark M. Mullican, of 30th district court, will make the principal address at the public anti-crime meeting tonight. A former over-sees colonel, the jurist officers yesterday which resulted in the decision that members would represent thieves, burglars, and hijackers only upon appointment by the court.

CAMPUS SNOBBERY TAKES A FALL

College youth isn't quite as "collegiate" as it used to be. A survey made recently in 24 leading colleges and universities shows that the campus has been hit by the depression, just as everything else has been hit. Enrollment, at most institutions, is down. Flashy roadsters aren't as common as they were a few years ago, more students are looking for a chance to earn part of their expenses, and in general there is a more sober understanding of the opportunities and responsibilities which a college education offers.

If all of this results in giving a different meaning for that word "collegiate," it will be an extremely good thing. Nothing in the past decade reflected more seriously on the American college than did the common interpretation placed on that word.

When we said a young man was "collegiate," what did we mean—that he was a seeker after knowledge, an ambitious and earnest young man trying to put himself into an intelligent and enlightened relationship with the life of his time? Hardly. We meant that he was a "snappy dresser," Heaven help us; that he knew all the latest slang and most of the latest cocktail recipes, that he was gay and empty-headed and thoughtless and full of wisecracks.

This, of course, was a great injustice to the majority of college students. But it fitted the realities in all too many cases even so. It was a caricature, but you could recognize the original on any campus.

All of it, of course, wasn't the collegian's fault. He simply was and did what was expected of him. The adult world gave its honors to the go-getter, to the self-advertiser, to the flip chap of the Jimmy Walker type. It gave its admiration to the college which had the best football team, or the greatest number of well-born snobs on its campus. The result was inevitable.

But a lot of water has gone under the bridge since then. We have deflated our sense of values as well as our industry. The sobering-up of the campus is a welcome sign of the times.

Europe has its passion play, but until very recently New Mexico had its passion reality—a flesh-and-blood crucifixion represented in actual fact by the death of the Indians. In the orient are the famous snake charmers; in New Mexico one may see the astonishing rituals of the Moqui snake-dance.

Before our Pilgrim fathers saw Plymouth rock, gray-robed Friars had built a score of great stone churches for the Indians in New Mexico, 1500 miles inland. These noble ruins if in Europe would be visited by thousands of Americans. The prehistoric cities of Italy, Asia Minor and Egypt have been explored by American scholars who fall to realize that there are similar, old civilizations in America. In the history of the southwest are romances of unparalleled march and exploration, heroic conquest and colonization, devoted evangelization. The southwest history is measured in centuries of dangers, hardships, sacrifice, heroism and human interest. But perhaps it is too much to hope that we live here will be the first to really "discover" our own Indians.

Nonplussed, Wright and the other hunters returned to Commerce. There they learned that Hotchkiss had left the island to give the two jungle beasts time to accustom themselves to their new freedom, returned and began beating the bush for the quarry. But they found no trace of the lions.

Wright protested angrily, but Hotchkiss contended he had done his official duty because the lions were a "menace to the peace and safety of the livestock and people of southeast Missouri."

The two young lionesses, born in captivity and accustomed to life in a circus, were easy marks, Hotchkiss said. When he had located them in a willow thicket, he walked to within about ten feet of them, fired four times and the hunt was ended.

"any person charged with the commission of theft, burglary, robbery or murder committed in the execution of any of these crimes, unless appointed to do so by the court; and in the event of appointment he will assist the court in seeing that constitutional rights of the defendant are protected." Judge Mulican introduced the resolution adopted, with the plea that the bar cleanse itself.

The jurist attacked regulation of firearms but condemned indiscriminate carrying of weapons. Judge Mulican said he carried a revolver "for self defense" and asserted it was time every citizen had one, that every merchant should equip employees with guns and that citizens cooperate with law enforcement officers.

President Will Speak in Detroit Saturday Night

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Hoover is framing his Detroit campaign speech, considering the while just where to make rear platform appearances on his third midwestern trip next weekend.

His decision to speak Saturday night in the Michigan center of the automotive industry was announced at the White House a day after the president's return from Cleveland where he discussed employment and the wage earner. The subject of the Detroit address was not disclosed, however.

Nor was any definite decision on other pre-election plans of the republican nominee made public. He will return to the White House immediately after his Detroit address. Then republican leaders here look for a swing along the Atlantic seaboard topped by a New York or New Jersey speech.

Next in order is the possibility of a journey to California. Mr. Hoover still is considering requests that he travel to his Palo Alto home just before election day. Only yesterday, Secretary Mills returned from a transcontinental political "trip to say that Californians want" Mr. Hoover to come there.

Children to Give Ghostland Pageant On Night of Play

Miss Kathryn Vincent is training a group of talented children for the parts they will take in a Ghostland pageant to be presented next Monday and Tuesday evenings in connection with the A. A. U. W. play, "Ghost House."

Rehearsals for the play, the children's pageant, the men's an girls' choruses, and the Treble Clef club, all of which will be included in the evening's entertainment, are rapidly nearing completion.

The following will participate in the pageant: Betty, Dorothy Jo Moore; Bobby, Jimmie Dever; with, Betty Jo Thurman; Imps, Lela Pearl Baldwin and Frankie Lou Keehn; fairy, Neeva Lou Woodhouse; pianist, Mrs. Frank Keehn; reader, Mrs. A. M. Teed.

Officers Need Public Support To Stop Stealing

A police officer cannot enforce the law and do his duty unless he has the wholehearted support of the community in which he works.

Pampa merchants and citizens are negligent in this respect, according to statistics of the Pampa police department.

During the last week three offenders were apprehended by the police department; the stolen goods recovered, and the persons released because the citizens would not prosecute.

The department is also handicapped by persons not reporting losses for several days. A radio was stolen from a local office Saturday and the loss was not reported to the officers until this morning. A man lost a valuable wrist watch and hunted for it for eight days before reporting the loss. In two hours, Chief of Police Andrews had arrested a negro and recovered the watch. The man refused to "prosecute" and the negro was turned loose.

A woman attempted to sell a stolen coat at a local store Friday, but the proprietor was suspicious and took the number of her car. She was arrested yesterday and admitted taking the coat from another store. A manager claimed the coat, but would not prosecute. She was released. Another man stole a suit of clothes, and after much work Chief Andrews had the suspect arrested in Panhandle. The owner recovered his suit and refused to sign charges against the man.

"We are only human and we try our best to enforce the law and make Pampa a safe place in which to live, but it is almost impossible when our citizens help the criminals," Chief Andrews said this morning.

Rules for Pampa Rifle Club Are Cited By Spees

Several members of the Pampa Rifle club need to shoot over only one of two distances to receive marksmanship, expert, or sharpshooter records with the National Rifle association, it was announced last night when the report of records read at a meeting in the Schneider hotel.

President Alden E. Spees is anxious that those members make the best of the next two Sundays to complete their records.

President Spees and two other members will meet with representatives of the volunteer fire department, headed by Alex Schneider, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, headed by O. K. Gaylor, to arrange for the combined use of the basement of the Brunow building for meetings and an indoor rifle range for small caliber firing.

The rifle club has had a successful year but there are still many members who have not shot for record which will give them an issue of ammunition next year.

More Locations Made in Gray

Despite the fact that oil production in the Panhandle field has been lowered, new locations are being made and new wells drilled in Gray county. Two of the largest producers of the year were completed last week and five new locations were made.

The new locations are: J. M. Baldrige No. 1 Catlin has been located 330 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the east line of the east 80 acres of Magnolia 158 acres, lying mostly in the north-west quarter of section 37, block 3, I&GN survey.

Negroes Provide Most of Names In Justice Docket

Without the aid of drunken negroes, justice of peace records here would be almost blank for the last ten days.

Nearly half of the negroes arrested on drunkenness or disturbing the peace are women. The total number of offenders is small compared with conditions several years ago.

The "flats," now decimated of population, boast but about fifteen inhabitants, but 75 or more negroes are scattered over the residential districts. At one time there were several hundred negroes in the vicinity. The call of the cotton patch has greatly reduced the number this year.

From cotton areas of nearby counties comes the information that pickers are fewer than the farmers need.

Roosevelt's Wife Speaks for Lehman

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the democratic candidate for president, has taken the stump—not for the national ticket, but for Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, who is running for governor to succeed her husband.

She made her first speech in his behalf last night at a democratic rally in Riverdale, on the northern outskirts of New York City, predicting that in the next few years "people are going to pay a great deal of attention to the way money is spent by the government," and warning against "economy that is detrimental to the public welfare."

It was the first political speech she had made in four years, she said. She will speak again in Col. Lehman's behalf at a dinner of the democratic women's forum in Brooklyn tonight.

Paul Tabor of Amarillo is a Pampa visitor today.

E. E. Dickerson of Medford, Okla., is visiting friends here this week.

RINGS FOR 1932 SENIOR CLASS SELECTED MONDAY; FIRST ORDER TO BE SENT ABOUT NOVEMBER 1

A senior class meeting was held yesterday morning to select the senior class rings. The president of the class, Jim Poole, appointed a committee of five who, together with the class officers, selected the rings for this year.

The rings will remain the same as last year, but the shape will be changed. The shank last year had the picture enclosed in an oval with the date in gold letters on black enamel, while the oval chosen for this year is a modernistic design.

The first order will be sent about November 1. The prices are $6.20 and $7.25 for the heavy weight. Orders for rings should be placed with Mrs. McFarlin.

Trenary Runs 75 Yards at Groom For Touchdown

Behind excellent interference, Trenary, Pampa halfback, dashed 75 yards for a touchdown on the first play of the Corral bulldog game last Friday when they upset the dope and downed the Tigers 13-7.

Scoring again in the second quarter on the same play, with excellent crossing, Trenary managed to cross the goal line after a 30 yard run with only inches to spare. Groom scored her touchdown early in the last quarter on a criss-cross.

Trenary and Elkins, alternating halfback and half, did most of the ground gaining for Pampa. Gregory, halfback, did some good punting and also was good on the ground. Evans, quarterback and center, and Hanner, fullback, were outstanding with their blocking. Williams and Brown, ends, played consistent games, as did Hollenbeck at center, and the Pampans and Nolan at guards.

Bring 'Em Back Alive' Man Came From West Texas

A small boy, armed only with a knife, went out after school one day about thirty years ago, and brought back rattlesnakes in the country near San Angelo.

It was one year ago a famous snake hunter, with helmet and a revolver in his holster, and a looped stick, captured a rattlesnake python in the Sumner range.

When Frank Buck was a boy in West Texas his horrified mother came upon him one day in a corner of the corral. The boy had caught a copperhead, which is no less deadly than the rattle. His idea then was to give a show which would include a couple of copperheads, a crocodile, a Gila monster, and whatever other animals were available.

Mrs. Buck, needless to say, initially postponed her ambitious offspring's debut in the wild animal business. But when the boy grew older and was somewhat more on his own, he insisted about a man in the city of El Paso, Texas, it seemed incredible that anyone would pay a cartwheel, or silver dollar, for two heady rattlers. So he determined not to miss his chance. Following up this lead, the boy snake-catcher made good sums of money for the dexterity which he soon acquired.

He never was bitten, although a childhood friend, engaged in the same occupation, was killed by one of the snakes.

Ontario Prison Quiet After Riot
KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 18. (AP)—Quiet was restored today at Portsmouth penitentiary, on the shore of Lake Ontario near here, where troops were called last night to quell a riot of the 900 prisoners in the institution. The riot in the course of which the prisoners threatened to set fire to the prison buildings, was reported to have begun over a demand by the men for cigaret papers, more tobacco and longer recreation periods.

Hi-Y Club Adopts Program For Year

Plans for the year were made in a meeting of the Hi-Y club in the library last Wednesday evening. A two-fold program was adopted; one week the program will take the form of constructive discussions and the next week it will consist of physical activities. Tonight's meeting at 7:30 will be held in the gym and will be given to games and stunts.

Officers for the year will not be elected until shortly before Thanksgiving, but the work of the club will be carried on under the direction of T. H. McDonald, sponsor. The organization has decided upon one project at which it is already working, the selling of programs at football games.

LEXINGTON, Va., Oct. 18. (AP)—A plan is afoot to buy a stark old mansion that trembles and whines when the winds whip under its eaves, and preserve it as a perpetual monument to a gallant Georgian—a man who might have been president.

It was the home of William H. Crawford. He was a United States senator, twice minister to the French court, secretary of war and secretary of the treasury under Presidents Madison and Monroe. Before the sputtering blaze of the old fireside presidents sat with Crawford and mapped plans for a young nation.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Oct. 18. Perrigo was held pending the outcome of the girl's wounds. He surrendered after the shooting, and police quoted him as saying "he shot her because I loved her and because I wanted to and I don't care if I get 99 years."

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

DRAGON ALLOWS SKELLY TEAM ONLY ONE HIT
PLAYGROUND CLUB OF NEWS WINS GAME 9 TO 1

Behind the one-hit pitching of Harry Drain, the Pampa NEWS playground ball defeated Skellytown 9 to 1 under the lights at the Shafer No. 1 plant last night. The newsmen scored their runs on five hits, several walks and a couple of errors.

Raymond Acklam and Patrick each scored three runs to lead the parade across the plate. Patrick also got two hits to his credit. Acklam, Merton and Dillman, got the other hits while Sturgeon, Hoot Fullingim and Ragdale scored the additional runs. Marshall worked the Skellytown pitchers for three walks in four trips to the plate. Patrick also got a walk on top of his two hits. The newsmen had their big inning in the eighth when five runs crossed the plate after the first three men walked.

Drain's fast ball was working to perfection and he was never in danger. He fanned 16 of the oilmen. Only eight of the opposing batters got on base, one by a hit, four on walks and the other three on errors. The only Skelly run came on two walks and an error. The first Skelly batter hit safely while the rest of the game was hitless as far as the oilmen were concerned.

Carson started in the box for the oilmen but was relieved by Bryant in the seventh when he struck out three newsmen in a row. He went wild in the next inning to walk three batters in a row and paved the way for a spurge of runs.

The NEWS used Acklam, Merton, Drain, Dillman, Patrick, Sturgeon, Heiskell, Marshall, Fullingim, Ragdale.

Skellytown lined up with Williams, Chambers, McGinnis, Munay, Carlson, Griswold, Searies, Howard, Brown, Harvey Bryant.

Physical 'Ed' Club Organized By Harry Kelley

Members of Harry Kelley's three gymnasium classes met last night in the high school gymnasium and organized a Physical Education club for high school boys, their fathers and business men sponsors.

The club is being organized to promote friendly relations between boy and man and to give the boys of Pampa high school much needed exercise and training under adult leadership. Various types of exercises, games and contests will be held from time to time.

The four-boy relay race was won by the third class with the first class a close second. Coach Kelley's tumbling class put on an exhibition which surprised the adults who attended. The six boys in the act were Bill Seeds, captain, Edward Wood, James Williams, Bennett Kell, Tony Boyington and R. E. Ragdale. The boys will give a demonstration before the Amarillo Rotary club Thursday noon.

Six wrestling matches were held with the following results: Fred Gordon defeated Robert Wright in three minutes; Basil "Pug" Stalcup and Leon Miller, draw; Bob Long and Bill Boyington, draw; Ivy Poe and Rolf Shannon, draw; James Foster and Lester Stephenson, draw; Free-for-all, a draw. The matches were refereed by Rob Roy and Buck Mundy.

Concert of Jazz Music Given in Toledo Church

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 18 (AP)—The strains of jazz music played by a night club orchestra two weeks ago in the stately first Westminister Presbyterian church had an echo today with the resignation of Herbert S. Boynton as director of the church choir.

Boynton attached copies of "I'm yours for tonight" and "let's have a party," two of the numbers played, to his letter of resignation. He termed the presentation of them "an outrage which could not have been perpetrated had my position as director of music been respected."

The pastor, Dr. Elwood Rowsey, defended the appearance of the orchestra two weeks ago last night, saying he wanted to make his Sunday morning services devotional and those in the evening entertaining.

The following Sunday night, Edwin Markham, poet, appeared, while last night the church was lighted with candles and an old fashioned service was held with the congregation singing the songs of their grandmothers' time.

THE BOHEMIAN COTTON-PICKER

SIR JOSEPH KOPECKY

The gentleman above will meet Rob Roy, local boy, in the main event at the Pla-Mor auditorium tomorrow night. Kopecky is king of the rough and tough maulers of today. He has been working for a crack at Roy for a long time and has finally gotten his wish.

By O. W. "RED" SEVERANCE.

When Roy Reigels, ill-fated center of Southern California, ran the wrong way and lost the 1928 Rose Bowl game to Georgia Tech, a wise-cracking world loosed its most stingy sarcasm on his cringing shouder.

No fewer than 10,000 persons after the game had devised a "perfect plan" that would have saved Reigels his ignominy if he had followed their method.

But a sweet-running back on Coach Billy Laval's South Carolina Gamecocks faced the same predicament last year and pulled a clever ruse that prevented the grandstand from ever knowing what happened.

"This back, whose name I'd rather not mention," Coach Laval said, "broke away from a great gain on a spinner play. Suddenly, with a clear field ahead for a touchdown, he turned and ran straight out of bounds."

"At a loss to understand his actions, I jerked him from the game, thinking he had injured his head on a previous play and was 'hazy'."

"Then I realized what a clever chancer he really was. He said he had cleared the line of scrimmage when suddenly the awful thought struck him that he was running the wrong way. So rather than take a chance, he decided the safest thing to do was run out of bounds. That's the best thinking."

The tamest tabby becomes a killer if allowed to get hungry for a few days, and even a well-fed house cat seldom passes up an opportunity to catch any bird that comes within its reach.

It is worth a person's time to drive out to Harvester park on an afternoon and listen to Jim Groen, manager of the Harvesters and guardian of the helmets. Jim knows the history of every player on the team and has his own opinion of each player and he doesn't mind expressing his mind. "Oh, him, why he's too darned fast to even make a backfield player," Jim used to be a lineman. Or about another, "he's all right, but he stays up too late at nights, going to have to speak to him, can't mix pleasure with football. I know, tried it out." Jim gets mad as a batter when he sees some player messing up his old position. He runs out on the field, grabs his mand says, "here's how you should have done it."

Jim says this writer never has gotten anything right yet, especially about his charges, but think this over Jim—if you don't get some life in those football boys of yours the Amarillo Sandies are going to slap their ears down and I don't mean maybe. We have fair Jim gets mad as a batter when he sees some player messing up his old position. He runs out on the field, grabs his mand says, "here's how you should have done it."

Coach Warren Moore has a little Corolla backfield ace who starts around the end and then stops and hurls a pass like a bullet. He throws with either hand and is just as accurate with one as the other. Too bad he is a senior. The coach also has a young jackrabbit in his backfield, but he also is a senior.

Hose-Stringing Contest Won by Bowers Firemen

The Bowers plant of the Cabot company won the hose-stringing contest at the Fire Prevention week program Sunday at the Bowers camp.

The Schafer team was leading by a good margin when the hose tangled, spilling the men, who were passed by both Bowers and Kingsmill squads. Fire Chief Clyde Gold and City Manager C. L. Stine were judges of the contest.

Scouts and Scout Sweethearts sang The Eyes of Texas and America as more than 400 who attended stood at attention. They were welcomed by R. G. Allen, superintendent, who outlined the purpose of the program and introduced Fire Chief Clyde Gold, who spoke briefly on fire prevention. Scout Sweethearts, Helen Arndt, Edith Peacock, Mary Lou Austin, and Joyce Mills sang "How-de-do Everybody."

Scouts Jimmie Arndt, Gerald Maxie, Glen Maxie, Joe Peacock, Luke Frazier and Billy Noland gave a physical training demonstration with tumbling acts directed by Scoutmaster Bill Peacock.

The winning hose stringing team was composed of Albert Dixon, E. J. Johnson, E. N. Bozart, L. C. Quall, Ishom Brown, Roy Parker. The time was 47 seconds. The Kingsmill plant was second in 47.9 seconds. The winning team then demonstrated the use of Foamite generators.

The first aid demonstration was given by the following men from the Schafer plant: John Brown, Con Paulsen, J. W. McCarty, E. R. Austin, J. E. Barrett, and G. W. Eaton. Dinner of fried chicken, baked ham, roast beef, salad, dessert, and coffee was served by the ladies of the Bowers plant. Frances DeLong of the Schafer plant won first prize in a dancing contest for girls under 12 years. Mary Lou Austin and Joyce Mills took second and third prize respectively. They represented the Cabot shops. Bergeron and Langard of the Kingsmill plant won the eight ball match.

Special guests introduced were A. G. Post of the Magnolia Petroleum company, W. E. Barrett and Mr. Thorne of the Phillips Petroleum company, Max Mahaffey of the Empire company, Dr. E. M. Bellamy, and City Manager C. L. Stine.

Reno Stinson was master of ceremonies. C. L. Woolley judged the dancing and awarded prizes.

Registration of Demos Gaining in California

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18. (AP)—A wave of democratic registration that surged in for last spring's presidential primary and swept on for the August balloting has broken in full force for the November election in President Hoover's home state of California, almost doubling as compared with 1928, but remaining nearly 400,000 under the republican total.

Registration figures gathered by the Associated Press from all but one of the state's 98 counties showed today the following totals for the two major parties:

Republican 1,589,960. Democratic 1,178,980. These figures represented an increase of 553,265 for the democratic party over the 1928 official registration and 3,809 for the republicans. The state total of 2,847,655 compared with 2,313,816 for 1928 and again set a record. Every county gave an increase over the 1928 registration, that of the 1930 general state election and that of the May and August primaries of this year.

CHUCK KLEIN GIVEN AWARD IN NATIONAL

PHILLIE RIGHT-FIELDER MOST VALUABLE IN LEAGUE

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—As the climax of his steady rise toward the top, Charles Herbert (Chuck) Klein of Indianapolis, cleanup clouter of the Philadelphia Nationals, today emerged as the choice of the national experts for the distinction of being the National league's most valuable player during the 1932 season.

Klein was third in the 1930 voting and runner-up to Frankie Frisch, St. Louis Cardinal captain, last year in the balloting by a committee representing the Baseball Writers' association of America. His selection was announced by J. Roy Stockton of St. Louis, chairman of the committee.

The Phillie right-fielder, now generally rated among the greatest all-around batsmen in the major leagues, won the honor from Lonnie Warneke, the Chicago Cubs' sensational freshman pitcher, and Frank (Lefty) O'Doul of Brooklyn, league batting champion, in a brisk three-cornered contest.

Klein received 78 out of a possible maximum of 80. He was the first choice of six and second choice of the remaining two members of the writers' committee. Warneke, first choice of two critics, was next with 68 points. O'Doul finished with 58. Paul Waner of the Pirates and Riggs Stephenson of the Cubs, with 37 and 32 respectively, completed the top five.

Frank Frisch, the 1931 winner, received only three points, one less than the young St. Louis pitcher, Dizzy Dean. Hack Wilson of Brooklyn, 1930 selection, collected six points.

Klein hung up a fine record in every offensive department, besides showing speed and skill on the defense. He finished third in the National league batting race with 246, tied with Mel Ott for home run leadership with 38, led both leagues in run-scoring with 154, drove in 135 runs and stole 20 bases.

Twenty-four players were mentioned in the balloting, in which each of eight writers listed ten candidates, in the order of preference. The points were figured on the basis of ten for first place, nine for second, etc.

REVAMPED LINE SHOWS BRAND OF 'PEP' NOT SEEN THIS YEAR

Coach Intent on Developing Team That Will Click Against Canyon.

The Harvesters went through a long but light workout yesterday afternoon, learning new plays and working on old ones. The workout started off with blocking the dummy and the linemen looked better and showed more pep than at any time during the season.

Philip Powell was on the field but walking was difficult. Rufus Walker also appeared, but his ankle kept him from working. Both boys were hurt in the game with Plainview. Powell may be out for several weeks. Ledrick and Hamilton were in uniform but Hamilton was the only one to get into active practice.

The tackle jobs are still open and the best man will win until Walker and Powell are able to return. Line Coach Angus Fox has developed several linemen who are ready to fill gaps but he will take time in picking a starter against the Canyon Freshmen Friday night in Canyon. Although no definite change appeared last night, it is expected that a revamped team will be used in scrimmage tomorrow afternoon. Should it click, the starting line-up against Canyon will be known.

The Amarillo game is less than two weeks away and much improvement will have to be shown in that space of time. The old pep in coming out of the huddle has been lacking this season, but railbirds are looking for something to happen.

Einstein Places Earth's Age at 10 Billion Years

BERLIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—To add to the other troubles of mother earth, the old lady awoke today to hear, upon noted authority, that she may be about 7,000,000,000 years older than she thought she was. The authority is Dr. Albert Einstein, famous scientist and mathematician, known everywhere as the "father of relativity."

Dr. Einstein places the age of the earth at probably about 10,000,000,000 years. It can't be proved, he said yesterday in a lecture on "the conception of space," but he added that the universe is in a state of expansion which possibly has been progressing for 10,000,000,000 years and that the birthday of the earth might be linked up with the beginning of that expansion period.

The latest calculations of reliable scientific authorities have placed the earth's age at about 3,000,000,000 years.

Dr. Einstein cited the recent observations of several prominent astronomers, particularly the work of Dr. Edwin P. Hubble of Mt. Wilson observatory, California, who is distinguished chiefly for his study of Nebulae and the "Red Shift" in space.

He explained that these observations indicated there were thousands of spiral nebulae in space speeding away from each other at a speed of up to 12,500 miles a second. This expansion, he said, had been going on for ten billion years and possibly marked the birthday of the earth.

Dr. Einstein recently arranged to spend several months of each year in the United States.

Canadian Liberals Oppose Tariffs

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 18. (AP)—The Canadian liberal party opened a drive today against the tariff preference agreements negotiated by Great Britain and Canada at the recent imperial trade conference and hinted that a general election might be demanded to carry the issue to the people.

The agreements were attacked in the House of Commons last night in a two and half hour speech by former Premier MacKenzie King, liberal leader, who assailed them as "protection gone mad" and as more likely to injure imperial trade than to help it.

Heated Denials Regarding Deal Issued by Clubs

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—That half million dollar baseball trade, rumored up Boston way, had drawn a string of denials from every interested party today and left the seven players, said to be involved, exactly where they were before the report was published.

The rumor, as printed in a Boston evening paper, said the deal, still in the making, involved four National league clubs—the Chicago Cubs, Boston Braves, Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants.

Figuring in the impending four-cornered swap, the paper said, were Hazen Cuyler, Pat Malone and Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs, Frank Hogan and Freddy Lindstrom of the Giants, Wally Berger of the Braves and Floyd (Babe) Herman of the Reds. Eventually, the report said, Berger and Herman would land with the Giants, Lindstrom and Hogan with the Cubs, Cuyler and Hartnett with the Braves, and Malone with the Reds.

All four clubs wasted no time getting into print with denials that any such involved trade was in the making. All said they were in the market for players to strengthen the weak spots, as they always are, but added they knew nothing of any spectacular four-cornered player exchange.

Oklahoma's Star Back Is Injured

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 18. (AP)—Injured backfield men have been added to the problems of Oklahoma coaches as they go about making preparations for the week-end game against Kansas State.

Little Bill Pansze, flashy halfback of the Oklahoma crew was missing from workouts yesterday as the result of injuries suffered in the Texas game. Doubt was expressed that he would be able to play against Kansas State. Another injured player, Dick Stimms, has been assigned to fill the vacancy.

Golf instruction is being given as a regular physical education course at Washington university this year.

Yearly student athletic tickets at the University of Oklahoma were offered on a dollar-down, time-payment basis.

JOE KOPECKY HATED BUT IS ONE OF BEST

ADMIRERS CONFIDENT HE WILL ALWAYS DO UTMOST

A Caledonian Scotchman and a Bohemian will meet on the mat tomorrow night at the Pla-Mor auditorium with only the corner posts barred. Rob Roy has finally gotten his "mad up" at insults hurled by Joe Kopecky and as a result he cancelled his match with Pat O'Brien and will meet the great Kopecky in a finish match tomorrow night.

The Bohemian cotton-picker will have few friends but plenty of admirers when he enters the ring. Kopecky is about the most unpopular wrestler in the game today but fans cannot help admiring his physique and trickiness and his stamling which is almost superhuman. The old gentleman is clever and knows the game but he uses the ropes too much and shoves out his chest and argues with the crowd too much to be popular.

The local youngster has been working hard all this week in preparation for the most important battle of his career. Rob's winning streak was snapped at 30 when big Russian George Ligosky downed him two weeks ago. Kopecky is the favorite for tomorrow night but he may get a big surprise as the young Scotchman has been improving steadily.

The semi-final will bring together Red Michael, another local boy, and Tex Thrower of Borger, better known as the Borger Iceman. It has been reported that Thrower was the cause of electric refrigerator sales going up in Borger recently. Both boys are in the same class and should put up a good exhibition.

Tickets are on sale at City Drug store. Admission will be 75 cents for general admission be $1.00 for reserved seats.

Roosevelt Due To Oppose Cash Bonus Payment

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—The New York Times says Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt will announce opposition to immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus in an address at Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

At the same time, the paper says, he is expected to hint to his approval of bonus payment, a program calling for relief for destitute war veterans, with machinery similar to the draft boards of world war days.

While the program for relief to be offered along with opposition to cash payment of the bonus has been kept a secret, the articles continue, it is suggested that the governor will propose that the boards would see to it that needy veterans who had an active war services would be assured of relief during the depression.

The bonus speech, the paper learns, has been practically completed, although it will not be fully assembled until a few hours before he speaks in Pittsburgh.

The freshman football squad at Washington university this fall was the largest in years.

BLOSSOMS ARE IN READINESS FOR SHOWING

MANY VARIETIES NOW ARE AT HEIGHT OF BEAUTY

With many autumn flowers at the stage of their greatest beauty, plans were made yesterday afternoon for the second flower show to be sponsored by the women's auxiliary of the Presbyterian church.

"OH, MY WHAT A FINE TIME TO SLEEP

Company and camera are all right in their place, but they shouldn't be permitted to interrupt a little girl's nap. Anyway, that seems to be the opinion of Beverly Joy Marutz, eight months old, of Los Angeles. She tried to be polite, but that yawn you see at the left shows how she really felt. Beverly tried nipping at her thumb, too, but her half-shut eye shows she had no real intention of staying awake much longer. Weary of all the excitement, she went right to sleep—still holding her thumb in her mouth.

SCANT RECOGNITION OFFERED WOMEN BY PRESIDENT HOOVER SAYS WOMAN REPRESENTATIVE

MRS. NORTON POINTS OUT THAT ONLY THREE AMONG THREE THOUSAND OF CIVILIAN NOMINATIONS GIVEN TO WOMEN

Only three women have been included in nearly 3,000 appointments to permanent executive positions in the government under President Hoover, declares Rep. Mary T. Norton of Jersey City in a statement challenging President Hoover's appeal for women's support. She says: "In his public addresses on the eve of election Mr. Hoover always has many compliments for women voters. He spoke recently of the women wage earners who were 'gallantly carrying on the burden' of making a living. In Mr. Hoover's years in office, however, these gallant women have had to struggle along without any helping hand from President Hoover. Let's consult the record.

One in Thousand. "In the senate document entitled, 'civilian nominations' which are those of enough importance to merit senate confirmation, women will find that out of 2970 or nearly 3000 appointments to permanent positions in the executive departments of the federal government (not counting postmasterhips) just three, or one in a thousand, were first named under President Hoover. None of the governmental agencies involved in these 2970 presidential appointments require training and experience which are not possessed by some women and in most cases by hundreds and thousands of the nation's trained women.

Furthermore, President Hoover took away from women one of the important presidential positions held by them previous to March 4, 1929. This was an assistant attorney generalship to which President Hoover returned to women under President Hoover. None of the governmental agencies involved in these 2970 presidential appointments require training and experience which are not possessed by some women and in most cases by hundreds and thousands of the nation's trained women.

Comparison Made. "Compare this record with that of President Wilson in opening up to women the positions of assistant attorney general of the United States, and commissioner of the District of Columbia, offices now returned to men by the republicans; in establishing the women's bureau in the Department of Labor and appointing a woman to Dinner to be Served Women. Mrs. J. B. Massa has planned an enjoyable program for the dinner meeting of the Pampa branch, American Association of University Women, which will be held at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at the Schneider hotel.

The dinner will be at the regular price, 50 cents, and reservations are to be made with Mrs. W. R. Campbell not later than 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

It was announced that members of the branch planning to attend the Lions club banquet might attend the meeting without eating and without making reservation, and that they would be given an opportunity to leave in time for the banquet.

Lee Mayo, 710 N. Russell, was dismissed from the Worley hospital this morning. Mr. Mayo, rig builder with the Paul Kasishke Drilling company, almost lost an ear yesterday when a brace fell, striking him on the head.

Comparison Made. "Compare this record with that of President Wilson in opening up to women the positions of assistant attorney general of the United States, and commissioner of the District of Columbia, offices now returned to men by the republicans; in establishing the women's bureau in the Department of Labor and appointing a woman to These attending were Mesdames V. J. Caska, Tom Eller, C. G. Smith, Felix Stalls, E. R. Sunkel, Frank Thornhill, L. C. Gomillion, Walker, and Miss Enloe.

The Campaign Puzzle

Study Past State-by-State Votes in Making Your Forecast

Massachusetts' vote for president 1928:
 Smith, 792,758.
 Hoover, 775,566.

Massachusetts' vote for Alfred E. Smith in 1928 was its first vote for a democratic candidate since 1912, and ran counter to a republicanism which had been almost unquestioned until recent years.

| MASSACHUSETTS | |

the state, and were credited with an important part in the result.

Democrats won their second United States senatorship in 1930 when Marcus A. Coolidge defeated William M. Butler, former national republican committeeman by a vote of 851,939 to 539,226. In the same year Joseph B. Ely (D), who had the campaign support of Alfred E. Smith defeated Frank G. Allen (R.) for governor, 606,902 to 590,238.

Massachusetts' delegation to the democratic national convention this year voted solidly for Smith to the end. Republican leaders have professed a belief that many democratic votes, disaffected by the outcome, may swing to Hoover.

Prohibition has been a major issue in the current campaign. Economic recovery also has been widely debated.

Massachusetts has 17 electoral votes this year, instead of its former 18.

Idaho's vote for president in 1928:
 Hoover, 97,322.
 Smith, 52,926.

Idaho has cast its electoral votes for the republican presidential candidate five times in the last 10 elections. Twice its votes went to Bryan and twice to Wilson. In 1928 its votes went to the People's party's candidate.

In the state elections of 1930, C. Ben Ross (D) was elected over John McMurtry (R) by a vote of 73,896 to 58,002. He was the state's first democratic governor in a decade, but the significance of the result was clouded by the fact that McMurtry's nomination in party convention caused wide dissent, friends of Bryan Defenbach claiming he was the party's real choice.

| IDAHO | |
| ELECTORAL VOTES | |
| IN 1928: | |
| HOOPER | 97,322 |
| SMITH | 52,926 |

In the same year Idaho re-elected Senator William E. Borah (R) by a vote of 94,938 to 36,162 for Joseph M. Tyler, (D), and re-elected its two republican representatives by majorities of 16,000 and 19,000 respectively.

Discussion of farm relief and banking programs of the two candidates, a parently has overshadowed the prohibition issue in the current campaign.

Idaho has usually been considered a strongly dry and Senator Borah announced early in the current campaign his refusal to support the republican prohibition plank.

Idaho has four electoral votes.

Wisconsin's vote for president in 1928:
 Hoover, 544,205.
 Smith, 450,259.

Wisconsin generally is regarded as a "normally" republican state, but since the days of the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette republican within the state has been divided between "progressive" or "LaFollette" republicans and the "conservatives."

| WISCONSIN | |
|----------------------|---------|
| ELECTORAL VOTES - 12 | |
| IN 1928: | |
| HOOPER | 544,205 |
| SMITH | 450,259 |

The state has not had a democratic governor since 1891. In recent years Wisconsin has failed but twice to give its vote to republican presidential candidates, voting for Woodrow Wilson in 1912 and for Senator LaFollette in 1924.

The LaFollette faction has been consistently at odds with republican national administrations, and in 1928 gave its endorsement to Alfred E. Smith. Prohibition was a leading issue in the campaign of that year, the progressives favoring repeal.

Forecasts of Wisconsin's vote in the coming national election were complicated by the recent primaries, in which former Governor Walter J. Kohler, conservative, defeated Governor Philip F. LaFollette for renomination by a heavy majority.

Senator John J. Blaine, running on the LaFollette ticket, was defeated by John B. Chapple, conservative editor.

Wisconsin has 12 electoral votes this year, instead of its former 13.

CHICAGO GRAIN
 CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (P)—Grain prices displayed firmness early today, influenced by comparative strength of securities and cotton.

Corn bulls contended that cereal was on a better basis for investment than any other of the major agricultural products.

Opening at 1/2 off to 1/4 up, wheat later hardened a little more. Corn started at a shade to 1/4 advance and afterward held near the initial range.

HIGHWAY 41 ADVOCATES MUST OVERCOME DIVERSE OBSTACLES

Final completion of Oil Field Highway No. 41, which would mean the realization of a dream of long standing, is a matter that is contingent upon many diverse factors.

For the most part, the gaps in the road are in the Texas Panhandle, and the road is not designated in Texas, except in a few instances and these where it is part of another system.

Highway 41 enters Texas at Wheeler, thence through Mobeetie to Pampa, from Pampa to Borger there is only a local road, through that portion from Pampa to the Gray county line is paved. Parts of the road from Pampa to Borger in Carson and Hutchinson counties are almost impassable in bad weather. From Stinnett to Dumas there is only a county road that is practically impassible in bad weather.

At present, the two most important links which need immediate attention are; the Hartley-Dumas-Stinnett link, most of which is in Moore county and the Borger-Pampa stretch, most of which is in Hutchinson and Carson counties.

Surveying work has been completed on in Moore county from Dumas to the Hartley county line and it is probable that the Hartley-Dumas link will be designated and paved sometime within the next twelve months.

A more complex problem arises on the road from Dumas to Stinnett. In the first place, it is self-evident that a new routing will have to be obtained for the most part, due to the many curves and breaks land which it traverses. Moore county must secure the right-of-way and the present financial conditions will not permit the acquisition of the right-of-way and payment of the engineering costs. Then the road will have to be designated by the state highway commission.

The road programs of Dallam and Hartley counties are progressing as rapidly as conditions will permit.

What About the State?
 The big question mark at this juncture is the State Highway department. All Panhandle people are wondering just who affect a change in the administration at Austin is going to work on the Panhandle highway program.

At the special session called by Governor Sterling in September, the state set aside one-cent of the gasoline tax to retire county road bonds used for construction of state highways. This will divert some eight or nine million dollars which have been used for construction. Highway construction will be cut to the extent of eight or nine million dollars annually in Texas.

Even if affairs at Austin are unchanged, the Panhandle must necessarily suffer its portion cut on new highway construction. It must be considered likewise that the fixed charges for maintenance are continually mounting. With every mile

MORE TESTIMONY HEARD

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (P)—Introduction of preliminary testimony was resumed today in a suit filed by the state against 15 oil companies and two petroleum organizations in which violations of the Texas anti-trust laws were charged.

Attorney General James V. Alford continued to offer exhibits from the files of the American Petroleum Institute dealing with the preliminary steps lead to formation of a code of practices to govern marketing of refined petroleum products. Alford alleged the code was the result of a conspiracy on the part of oil companies to monopolize market outlets and that it was in restraint of trade.

of new road constructed and new roads designated by the state, maintenance charges increase in proportion. About ten million dollars is used for maintenance of the state highway system, embodying some twenty-five thousand miles.—NEWS.

OIL OUTPUT DROPS
 TULSA, Okla., Oct. 18 (P)—Texas and Oklahoma reductions brought total crude oil production of the United States down 46,688 barrels to a daily average of 2,118,443 barrels last week, the Oil and Gas Journal estimates. The previous average was 2,164,139 barrels. Texas production dropped 38,971 barrels, from 925,972 barrels to 887,001 barrels daily, due to production curbs in East Texas and on the Gulf coast.

A PATH TO PARADISE

Chapter I
THE DON'T CARE GIRL
 CLIVE had made up his mind. Precisely what he was going to tell her depended on her reception. If she drove him to extremities, he would propose. But to become engaged before his prospects were brighter didn't strike him as honest. That she was rich was his misfortune. Besides, she was so young; he himself was only four years her senior.

Some of this he had tried to write, but had torn up the letters. Letters said too much. Practically what his had said was, "I adore you and don't approve of you." Not to approve of anyone implied distrust. All of this would be changed when he was certain she belonged to him.

That afternoon he had taken the first step by phoning her.
 "Hello, you, Santa? Are you free this evening?"
 "Sure, I wish you'd called sooner."
 "But see here—this is something that can't wait."
 A guy laugh.
 "I'd like to have to."
 "But see here," his tone had ceased to be casual. "If I don't say it now, I may never."
 "Then say it."
 "Can't across the wire."
 A pause.
 "You were with me till midnight. Why didn't you say it then?"
 "I know. But I've been thinking. I've reached a sort of crisis. Don't hang up. This date you've made—can't you shove it?"
 A longer pause.
 "I might. Tell you what—be a my house by a chivalry thirty. If I'm not at home, rest for me."
 "But you'll be!"
 "Sure." Her voice had ceased to be "That's a kiss for you."
 "Did any other girl done that it would have meant a lot. When Santa did it, it only meant that she was amiable."
 Her name was all wrong. That's where the mischief had started. You never heard of christening a girl-American baby Santa? A Spanish nurse had been responsible. So he'd misjudged the latent precocities of her charge, she had addressed her as "My Santa!"

The sentimental had been made prominent by baptism. The family name of Dawn had been sufficient; fantastic. When Santa was added, a favor of quite unnecessary romance had been imported.

In a worried mood Clive set out to keep his appointment. It was an April evening—blue sky, white banks of clouds. He travelled by the Hudson Tube to Park Place, New York, and from there hired a taxi! After the pavements of New York, flowering shrubs on green lawns impressed him as rural.

Tense with emotion, he struck the tree-bordered avenue in which the Dawns' town-house stood. Glancing at the windows he leapt out. A curtain moved. He was certain she was behind it. He made a wager with himself as he paid the taxi.
 "If she's postponed the other fellow, I'll propose to her."
 The butler opened the door. Miss Santa was away. Two young gentlemen in an automobile had called for her. Mr. and Mrs. Dawn were at the theater. The information implied, "On your way, little one. There's nothing to detain you."
 "That's all right, Goff." Clive insisted on entering. "Miss Santa's expecting me. She'll be back directly."

Goff ushered him into the library and placed cigarettes at his elbow. Clive's feeling that he was an intruder grew. The well-bred silence of the house rebuked him. Why had the entire family gone out? Was it to break the news that he wasn't welcome?
 Dusk faded. Goff returned to switch on the lights and draw the blinds.
 "I'm afraid Miss Santa may be late, sir. You know what she is, if I may so, when she gets going. After nine I'm off duty. Is "In love with me?"

 She wriggled as though he'd kicked her funny-bone.
 "It's so difficult to be certain."
 "Then you can't be. No woman can be in love with more than one man at the same time."
 "You've never been a woman."
 "Well, here's what I mean. No woman has a right to be in love with more than one man at the same time."

"Who's to forbid her?"
 Clive leaned forward.
 "The man who worships her. Supposing I did tell you what you've done to me this evening?"
 "I'd be furious."
 "Then why should you be privileged to do it to me?"
 She flashed up her face, thrusting her lips closer.

"Because I'm a girl!"
 He didn't stop to savor it. He told her that she was a first one minute, a second the next. That she was being misled when she attributed to every admirer her own inconspicuous. Her mission was to seduce. His mission was to be seduced. Their joint mission was to give the world a bad example.
 "But old sobersides" she protested, "be sensible. How can I let a girl seduce me? I prefer you till I've said 'no'!"

"That was the last straw." Though the devil was behind him, he rushed into the hall and seized his hat.
 "Well, you've finished sampling count me out," he pronounced his verdict.
 Next morning Mrs. Dawn tackled her daughter.
 "What's happened between you and Clive?"
 "I'm not sure, Mummy. I think he tried to propose."
 "Did you say yes?"
 "I'm not sure, Mummy."
 "In that case you will throw's name to be lost. Well, sell for Europe. Not a word to your father of the reason."
