Hundreds of Visitors Arrive for PAMPA DAY -- New Plans Made

JAYSEES ARE TO ASSIST IN BIG PROGRAM

COMMITTEES CHOSEN TO OUTLINE EVENTS

MOVIES VERY POPULAR

SERVICE TO AREA TO BE MAIN GOAL FOR DAY

Today's PAMPA DAY, discussed at the luncheon of the Junior chamber of commerce, was declared to be a gratifying success despite the rough roads in this territory.

Its success was measured in terms of the number of out-of-town persons who had already arrived at noon. The La Nora theater crowd for the free movies this morning numbered more than 500 persons, and according to Manager George Lamerick most of these were from surrounding territory. He said they obviously appreciated the show and the spirit of PAMPA DAY. There were nearly 300 persons at the Rex theater, where another free show was presented.

Mr. Lamerick, in speaking to the Jaysees, told how PAMPA DAY was adopted after a plan in cities of Oklahoma in farming districts was found to be unworkable here. He predicted that PAMPA DAY would, by familiarizing visitors with the city, be of great benefit to guests and local folk. He was followed by Joe Lazarus, who said that PAMPA DAY was not to be measured in dollars and cents but in service to this territory. Trade relations develop indirectly from such efforts, he added, and urged that selfishness not be injected in the plans. Philip Pond spoke along similar lines.

The Junior chamber devoted primarily to advertise Pampa to this territory, went on record as favoring PAMPA DAY, Page 6)

Tickets for Clovis Game Going Slow

Reserved seat ticket sales for the Clovis-Pampa football game of next Friday afternoon are going slowly at the office of Joe Smith in the courthouse.

Only the west side center section has been reserved, and only a few dozen reserved seats have been taken. A last-minute rush is expected.

The athletic association this morning voted to plant the tops of the stands after Friday's game. There will not be another home game for two weeks, or until Plainview's Bulldogs come here October 15.

BIG RUSSIAN POWER DAM READY NOW

(By The Associated Press)

Power! To get power necessary for her gigantic schemes of industrialization, soviet Russia has built Dnieprostroy, the greatest hydro-electric plant in the world drawing its energy from a dam 140 feet high, which impounds the drainage of 170,000 square miles.

The dam, soon to be formally opened, is Russia's biggest construction. But the soviet union plans to build another dam at Volgastrof that will have a capacity three times Dnieprostroy's and will irrigate 10,000,000 acres.

Power has been the cornerstone of Russia's industrialization program. Since 1920 more than a score of large central stations and many smaller stations have been erected. Power plant output last year was 10,800,000 kilowatt-hours, twice that of 1928 and five times the pre-war output.

To existing capacity Dnieprostroy is expected to add an average annual production of 2,520,000,000 kilowatt-hours. Its nine turbines, when in full operation, will have a capacity of 756,000 horsepower. This compares with 430,000 horsepower at America's Niagara Falls, and 612,000 at Muscle Shoals.

Since only three of Dnieprostroy's nine turbines can operate at all seasons the plant will be supplemented with seven steam plants, having 203,000 horsepower capacity.

At the dedication, Col. Hugh L. Cooper, American engineer and chief consultant, will take a preliminary address.

'Golden Jubilee' Draws Thousands To Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Hilariously continued to reign supreme in Wichita Falls Tuesday morning as residents and visitors resumed celebration of the "golden jubilee" and added to the tribute already paid to pioneers of Texas and Oklahoma.

Religious services were held at Memorial auditorium at 8 a. m. with the Very Rev. Frances X. McCabe of Chicago paying honor to the city on the part of the Catholics of the southwest.

The event that, along with the famous town lot sale, started Wichita Falls along its noteworthy career, was held at the union depot at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning when the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad system aided by many Wichitians and pioneers reproduced the "arrival of the first train." Engine No. 8 was used to pull in the passenger train, although it was a sister engine that brought a great crowd to Wichita Falls September 27, 1882.

The Hon. Charles M. Hay of St. Louis, representing the democratic national committee, spoke from the Scott Avenue stand, the official meeting place for the pioneers, at 10 a. m. to celebrate the round of morning addresses.

A gigantic parade, more than four miles in length and featuring decorated floats, bands, civic and patriotic organizations and early day and modern methods of transportation, moved through the streets of the city at 11 a. m.

Our improving times—South Omaha packing companies have recalled 450 workers during the last week.

Paul LeBeuf found these seven selling laws in a London publication:

1. The customer is an invited, honored guest—welcome him accordingly.
 2. Very few people know values—show the customer why quality goods are worth the price.
 3. Talk about the service your commodity renders—that is all the customer buys.
 4. Never argue questions of taste—logic can never make a man like olives.
 5. A well-groomed, quiet-spoken salesman predisposes customers in his favor.
 6. Increase business by always suggesting an article related to what the customer buys.
 7. The last one of a dozen contains all the profit on a dozen—it must be sold.
- When buying, ALWAYS TRY PAMPA FIRST.

The rain isn't over yet, declares a local weather prophet, carefully choosing his words.

Legislating of morals is admitted impossible, although observance of laws tends to hold many human tendencies in check until habits are formed along the right lines. The last regular session of the legislature passed a resolution which has been overlooked, and the Texas Interscholastic League takes the press to task for not making it known.

The resolution we mention urges the restoration of righteousness to correct social abuses in Texas and was introduced by Joe M. Moore, senator from Greenville. Both houses of the legislature passed it. In order that parents and teachers of Pampa may know their specific duty, we will say that the resolution enjoins the people of Texas "to address themselves to renewed efforts to rebuild the idea and ideals of the family, to overcome the tendency of the present juvenile delinquency, so prevalent and militating against the future security of the state and restoring the balance between the spiritual and material by the precept and example of the parent."

I HEARD--

Mrs. Charlie Duengel declares this morning that there were two kinds of people who talk too much—men and women.

That Mrs. Roger McConnell, Mrs. Joe Gordon, and Mrs. C. E. McHenry might join the circus when it comes here following their stunt at the First Methodist church yesterday at noon during a luncheon program. Their stunt was a "hundred-dollar" was reported.

That Bulger, the fire department dog, is on a sulking party today because the fire truck left the station this morning without him on board. He followed it as far as The NEWS then gave up the chase and came in to rest before returning to the station. Bulger is not as young as he used to be.

DOHERTY BORROWED ON POLICY BEFORE HE LEFT

CHEFOKKEE, Okla., Sept. 27 (AP)—Walter Ingram, bank examiner, had instructions today from W. J. Barnett, state bank commissioner, to file embezzlement charges against H. C. Doherty, missing cashier of the Burlington State bank.

Barnett directed that Doherty, who disappeared from his home at Burlington September 18, be charged with embezzlement of $8,200 in notes and bonds. The bank closed a few days after Doherty's disappearance.

Search for Doherty has been pressed in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. Mysterious notes and telephone calls, to relatives, indicating the possibility he had met with foul play, have complicated the search. His automobile was found abandoned south of Oklahoma City September 21.

ROOSEVELT IS WELCOMED BY SEN. CUTTING

Republican Leader In Dramatic Scene In New Mexico

ROOSEVELT SPECIAL, Lamy Junction, N. M., Sept. 27 (AP)—United States Senator Bronson Cutting, young Republican Independent, appeared on the platform and shook hands with Governor Roosevelt, the democratic presidential nominee, when New Mexico extended its official welcome to the New Yorker here today.

Cutting smilingly waived aside Mr. Roosevelt's offer to yield the platform to him for a speech.

Roosevelt, after a personal tribute to Senator Sam Bratton and Congressman Dennis Chavez, Democrats, began to introduce his family to a crowd of about 1,500, including delegates to the state convention in session at Santa Fe.

Governor Seligman interrupted Mr. Roosevelt and whispered in his ear. Roosevelt, turning toward the side of the speaker's stand which was flush with the nominee's private car, remarked:

"I think there is a very dear friend of the family in the crowd; a young man I have known since he was short pants. You know him as your own Senator Cutting. If it is all right with him we will be glad to have him come and say howdy."

Many in the crowd had seen Mr. Cutting at the station before the Roosevelt train arrived and they sensed the drama of the moment. A great shout went up.

Cutting went through the private car and appeared on the platform. The crowd cheered again, shouting for a speech. The Senator shook hands with Mr. Roosevelt but refrained from speaking.

After an hour's stop at Lamy, the special train pushed on north through the mountain to Las Vegas.

Permits to Repair Residences Issued

Now is an excellent time to have houses repaired. If citizens may judge from the permits issued by the city.

Most of the permits issued this year have been for alterations and repairs, rather than new structures. There also is much repairing being done in the oil fields of this territory.

HEY CHILDREN! HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO GET FREE TICKETS TO BIG CIRCUS SOON

Save Scrambled Animal Until All Are Printed—Color Them for THE NEWS.

All right, boys and girls—sharpen up your wits and your pencils.

How would you like to see a first-class A-No. 1 circus free of charge? Let the Pampa Daily NEWS take you how.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus is coming to Pampa October 6. Beginning today on page 3, and continuing for six days, THE NEWS will print pictures of badly scrambled animals—each picture containing portions of three different animals.

Here's how to get your circus ticket free:

Carefully cut out the scrambled animal that is appearing each day. Divide each into three sections that make it up. Then, when you have all the pieces, put them together as they should be, so you get the real pictures of the animals. Take your crayons or water colors and color the complete set.

Get three new weekly subscriptions to THE NEWS at 15 cents a week delivered by carrier, and bring the colored animal set and

ELECTRIC PLAYER BOARD WILL SHOW EVERY PLAY IN WORLD'S SERIES FIRST GAME TOMORROW

To Be Located Atop The Daily NEWS Building

Preparations were being made by the American Legion this morning to mount the big electric baseball player-board on top of The NEWS building.

Most of the carpentry on the board had been completed and the electric wiring was in place. Dozens of electric bulbs of various colors will be used to show the position of the players, the ball, the runners, and the scoring and line-ups. The fans who worked out the plans for the board believe that it is the most complete arrangement in this section. It will be the first board of the kind used in Pampa.

Speed of playing the world series play-by-play has been assured thru use of the Associated Press leased wire. Every ball, foul tip, strike, bunt, and the like will be graphically shown. The games in New York tomorrow and Thursday will start about 1:30 p. m., Pampa time.

See the world series actually played at The NEWS building. It's free.

HAVANA, Sept. 27. (AP)—Clemente Vazquez Bello, president of the Cuban senate and head of the national liberal party, was assassinated today by an unidentified assailant. He was shot as he left his home next door to the Havana Country club and died a few minutes later in the military hospital at camp Columbia. The assassin escaped.

VALIANT, Okla., Sept. 27. (AP)—Two men were wounded and captured and another man and a girl arrested in the attempted robbery here today of the Farmers' State Guaranty bank.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. (AP)—Cold, dismal weather today, plus an unusually poor advance sale of reserved seat tickets, marred preparations for the opening of the world series between the Cubs and Yankees at the Yankee stadium tomorrow. Overcast skies prompted Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs to call off the scheduled workout of his players at the battle-ground.

MANY PERSONS KILLED WHEN GALE STRIKES

CARIBBEAN ISLAND IS SWEEP BY 120-MILE AN HOUR WIND

PROPERTY LOSS IS HUGE

WIND MORE DAMAGING THAN DEVASTATING BLOW OF 1928

SAN JUAN, P. R., Sept. 27. (AP)—At least 30 persons were known to have been killed in a terrific hurricane which struck this city last night.

The full force of a 120-mile wind struck before midnight and lashed the city until 2:30 this morning, causing property damage even greater than that left in the wake of the disastrous 1928 blow.

Hundreds were injured and thousands were left homeless. Most of the dead, first reports indicated, were in smaller outlying towns, such as Barrios, Sabanailla, Caguana and Rio Piedras.

Here in the city the loss of life was materially reduced by the police who took the precaution of rounding up hundreds of women and children, removing them from their homes and placing them for safety in the more substantial church and school buildings.

The villages, consisting for the most part of flimsy homes, had no such protection. Even in San Juan homes by the hundred were unroofed and torrents of rain poured in.

First reports gave the following death toll:

Barrios, 14 dead; Sabanailla, 4; Caguana, 2; Rio Piedras, 10.

Various reports from the last named town placed the death toll there as high as 40, with seven members of one family killed in their home. Rio Piedras is about five miles east of San Juan, directly.

Caliche Laying Delayed by Rains

Recent rains have prevented work of laying the caliche base on Highway 33 east of here for the last five days. The work had progressed to a point two miles from the city when rains began.

Road work likely will be resumed tomorrow if the caliche pits are dry enough. With bad weather apt to interfere at frequent intervals later in the year, it is unlikely that the topping can be placed on the road before next year.

Grading and drainage structures are being built on highway 152 by Oran Spear of Ajvor, the contractor. Topping of this highway must wait until spring. Drawing of specifications on highway 88 is being done now. It is expected that the contract for grading and drainage of this highway will be let in November by the state highway commission. Few changes in the route are likely.

Tax Payments Show Increase

City tax payments increased somewhat in the last week, according to Tax Collector J. H. Blythe, but delinquencies still constitute a grave problem.

It is now apparent that the tax rolls will reveal a total far under last year. The original rolls last year totaled $7,285,000, and were increased slightly by a supplemental list.

A tentative total on valuations recently completed reached only $6,000,000 and the final figures will not be much more than that. Most valuations have been lowered and others equalized.

A CANDIDATE'S PENALTY: Anyone who takes the time to sit down and muse a bit about our presidential campaigners must sometimes wonder if perhaps the Socialist, Norman Thomas, isn't in the most enjoyable spot of all.

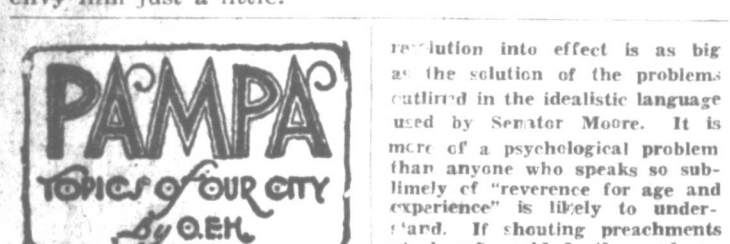

To be sure, Mr. Thomas hasn't the remotest chance of being elected. But that, after all, is just what makes his spot enjoyable. He gets all of the excitement of campaigning for the presidency without any of the grief.

This isn't necessarily because of the sheer physical activity involved—although, as in the case of Bryan in 1896, that in itself may be appalling. It is the mental strain, the sense of being a participant in the most stupendous gamble any American citizen can enter, the constant knowledge that every word, every act, every smile, almost, must be scrutinized in advance for its possible effect.

The presidential candidate can never be himself. He can never consult his own wishes exclusively. He can never for a moment forget that he is a contestant in a race.

And the worst thing of all must be the thought of the prize that lies just ahead of him. The presidency is the greatest prize any American can win. It insures one a kind of immortality—a place in the history books as long as the republic lasts.

It is this sort of thing, one suspects, even more than the ceaseless round of speeches, interviews, handshakings and all the rest, that leaves a candidate, at the end of a presidential campaign, in need of a quiet month in the mountains. And the fortunate Mr. Thomas, who knows he can't possibly win, is spared all of it!

Resolution into effect is as big as the solution of the problems outlined in the idealistic language used by Senator Moore. It is more of a psychological problem than anyone who speaks so sublimely of "reverence for age and experience" is likely to understand.

Vol. 2 PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL, SEPTEMBER 27, 1932. NO. 1

WARM CLASS ELECTIONS ARE TO BE HELD SOON—STUDENTS WORK HARD FOR CANDIDATES

Meetings of the various classes in the high school were held yesterday for the purpose of nominating officers for the school year. Nominations were made in all the classes for president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer. The election will be held Thursday in the main hall of the high school building with separate ballot boxes for each class.

The polls will be open from 8:30 until 4:30. In the meantime friends of the various nominees are conducting heated campaigns. Senior candidates are as follows: For president—E. L. Faulkner, Ruth Reynolds, Louise Walstead, Jim Pool, Charles Frost, Edmund Wittenburg. For vice-president—Gerald Schmidt, Bertou Doucette, H. L. Ledrick, L. S. Salsbury. For secretary-treasurer—Henry Will, Phillip Powell, Dorothy Shilline, Clinton Evans, Robert Woodard, Yedda Stein.

The Junior nominees are the following: For president—Warren Finley, Sue Dickey, Josephine Lane, Lorraine Noel. For vice-president—Harold Gregory, Wayne Kelley, Walden Dickenson, Faye Compton, Jess Patton. For secretary-treasurer—Leo Woodward, Helen Joe Daugherty, Eleanor Frey, Willie Isabell, Grace Kite.

The Sophomores selected the following candidates: For president—Roy Webb, Otto Rice, Burton Tolbert, Harriet Hunsbarger, Robert Talley, Ella Faye O'Neil, Harry Barnett, Bill Hancock. For vice-president—Phyllis Smith, Vera Murphy, Jean Mann, Bill Hunsbarger, Richmond Eastup, Tom Ross, Maybelle Nash, Ellen Hollingsworth. For secretary-treasurer—Onelia Campbell, Kathleen Guinn, Mary Elizabeth Niles, Bernice Lyon, Harry Art, Ann Robbs, Russell Turner.

When the freshmen class the following people were nominated: For president—Dickie Tarant, Eddie Gray, Holt Hamlet, L. A. Hunsbarger, Buford Archer, Dorothy Smith, Georgeanna Gray, Edna Mullins. For vice-president—Norman Carr, Carl Watts, George Nix, D. C. Turner, Leo Benton, Duane Turcotte, George Lane, Mildred Cook. For secretary-treasurer—Wah Hin Collins, Joseph Ridge, Claudia Atchey, Alida Mae Myatt, Joe Hawkins, Louise Embury, Thelma Betts, James Foster, Flora Dean Palfrey, Melvin Lancaster, Christine Dickinson, Ann Sweetman.

Sponsors for the classes have not yet been selected. BEAT CLOVIS! WE WONDER—(Echoes from last week's assembly) Who is the "strong silent woman" of the faculty to whom Mr. Stone referred? A. will again cooperate with the teachers in the home room work by providing a home room teacher for each room. This plan was carried out very successfully in some rooms last year.

BEAT CLOVIS! Eight Dogs And Fifty 'Grand' Not Enough for Man. NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Hunter died leaving $50,000 and eight dogs. Her husband got the dogs. Now he wants a husband's share of the estate. Besides, four of the dogs were dead when he got them. In filing notice Monday that he would contest the will, Louis R. Hunter called attention to the fact that she will left his wife's estate to blood relatives, aunts, the Christian missionary alliance, the Red Cross animal relief, the American humane association and made no provision for him except for the dogs. He found four of the dogs dead in the cellar, he said, and had them buried in an animal cemetery where other dogs Mrs. Hunter had owned had been buried. There is a law in New York making it impossible for a husband or wife to disinherit the other. Mrs. Hunter, however, signed her will one day before the law went into effect.

J. W. Carter was admitted for treatment in the Worley hospital yesterday following a stroke of apoplexy.

Greatest Year Is Predicted for High School in Term

This year promises to be the greatest in the history of Pampa high school. We have a total enrollment by classes as follows: seniors, 140; juniors, 158; sophomores, 197; freshmen, 242. There are also twenty-four students taking post-graduate work. We wish to extend a hearty welcome to all students who have never attended Pampa schools before and to the freshmen. We hope that you will make yourself one of us. We believe that you will find Pampa high school a friendly school. Pampa high school has a beautiful song, one that is loved by every true Harvester. It is called "Dear Old Pampa High School" and is sung to the tune of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." For the benefit of those of you who do not know it, the words are printed below. Learn your Alma Mater and sing it as if you meant it.

"Dear old Pampa high school, We're in love with you. Dear old Pampa high school, We will be true blue. Keep your colors flying As we stand by you. Dear old Pampa high school, We're in love with you."

Public Is Invited To Attend Chapel

T. H. McDonald, who will have charge of chapel programs this year, has announced the following program for tomorrow: Music, Pampa high school band. Devotional, Rev. Jesse Wiseman. Violin selections, Eleanor Frey. Interpretation of the new football rules, Coach Mitchell. Musical readings, Mrs. A. N. Dilley. Announcements, Principal Stone. The public is cordially invited to attend this program, to be held in the gymnasium at 10 o'clock. The football fans should be particularly interested in Coach Mitchell's explanation of the new rules. Eleanor Frey, a junior, has just returned from 15 months of study and travel abroad, and this will be the first time she has played for the high school students since her return.

Mrs. Dilley is a well known Pampa musician, and her selection for tomorrow is a humorous one which will particularly interest students.

Pep Squad Busy At High School

One hundred and twenty-six girls reported for pep squad practice yesterday. The girls are working hard under the direction of Louise Walstead, head yell leader, and her assistants, Lorraine Noel, Jacquie Downs, and Josephine Gants. In order to put on a good display at the Clovis game Friday, it is hoped that the uniforms will arrive in time for the first game of the season. Many of the yells have been changed, and several new songs have been added. Virginia Rose, a former head yell leader, now a sophomore in Baylor university, taught the girls a new song before leaving for college. Two mascots have been chosen for the pep squad this year—Shirley Mae Stone and Martha Jeanette Kelley. Shirley Mae was mascot of the pep squad last year and Martha Jeanette held a similar position with the girls' basketball team. A pep squad mother will be selected soon. Faculty sponsors again this year are Miss Strnad and Mrs. Norman.

STAFF THIS WEEK Those who helped with this issue of the Little Harvester were Victoria Anderson, Luella Clarke, Reed Clarke, Clinton Evans, Anna Mae Flesher, Charles Frost, Myrtle Faye Gilbert, Wayne Hutchens, George Kefauy, and Miss Pannine Mae, faculty adviser.

BEAT CLOVIS!

Clovis to Bring Fast Outfit to Battle Pampa

The Pampa high school football season officially opens next Friday when the Harvesters meet the Clovis, New Mexico, Wildcats. Last Friday Clovis beat Hobbs, New Mexico 33 to 10. These boys gave a great exhibition of power and speed and promise to make it plenty tough for the Harvesters.

Coach Mitchell has not yet announced his starting line-up, but it is predicted that there will be some surprises for the fans. The game is due to start at either three or three-thirty, the final decision not having been made yet. Admission prices for the game will be 50 cents. An extra charge of 25 cents will be made for reserved seats. Even though somewhat handicapped by bad weather, sports are getting a good start in the high school. Football, as usual, is the main attraction, but Mr. Kelley's gym classes promise to draw considerable attention.

Tennis has not done much of late, due mostly to poor weather conditions, but on fair days there are always plenty waiting their turn at the courts. Mr. Kelley takes care of the tennis as well as he can with so much else on his hands. Little has been heard or seen of Miss Perry's girls, but we'll bet they aren't loafing on the job. These girls usually do excellently, and it is not likely that this year will be any exception.

Enough said about other sports, now to football. Last Friday the Harvesters scrimmaged the LeFors Pirates and made a very good showing. Some of the local boys lack experience, but they certainly make up for it in willingness to get in there and fight. There isn't much said about the linemen usually, but remember they do the hard jobs and take the hard knocks. These boys did right well Friday, and it is hoped that they will do even better against Clovis.

As usual, Coach Mitchell has an outstanding backfield this year. Jim Pool, who plays fullback, can certainly drive through the opposition and gives promise of being one of the best all round men for his position that Pampa has seen in many a day. Dick Sullins certainly promises to furnish speed and elusiveness enough for any man's team. It is almost impossible to tackle that boy, Sammy Turner, while small, can surely play football, and does that boy work! H. L. "Beefy" Ledrick is a great little quarter and knows about all there is to know about his opponent's weaknesses and strong points. "Tuke" Salsbury gets in there and scraps too. Miles Marbaugh can play that fullback position almost as well as Pool. Miles is a left-handed boy who goes in for punting and passing in a big way.

The entire line has become outstanding under Coach Fox, with Gerdis Schmidt, Clovis Green, Rufus Walker, "Pinky" Powell, "Bull" Nelson, Wayne Kelley, Jess Patton, and numerous others in there at all times. Just a little dope on Clovis. Rumor has it that their main stay is speed, with perhaps a few passes thrown in for good measure. Some say the team is very heavy this year, but others seem to doubt it. It is apparent at any rate that Clovis will be no mean opponent, having the reputation of being the best team in eastern New Mexico. Coach Moore's Gorillas are getting along fine in practice, although they lack experience and size. The boys are light, but they may develop enough speed and fight to offset their lack of weight.

BEAT CLOVIS!

Greek Premier Is Leading In Poll

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 27 (AP)—Early provisional returns from yesterday's election indicated the candidates of Premier Eleutherios Venizelos' liberal nationalist party were leading in the field in Athens, Piraeus, Salonica and the Island of Mitylene. The election was held chiefly to choose members of the lower house of parliament but final results will not be known for three or four days. The voting held particular interest because of the recent resignation of Premier Venizelos after he was called to account by royalists when he attacked the former royal family. He was persuaded to remain at the head of the government until after the election.

KILLED IN RUNAWAY

FARMERSVILLE, Sept. 27 (AP)—Collision of a team of runaway horses hitched to a wagon and an automobile moving in the opposite direction caused the death last night of Darrell Smart, 20. The wagon tumbled through the side of the car and penetrated his chest. The accident occurred while Smart was driving from Blue Ridge to his home in Barnett community. As he approached the hurrying wagon, the team swerved sharply, crashing against the car. In the car with Smart was Paul Riley, but he escaped injury.

Senator Norris To Tour Nation For Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—A nation-wide speaking tour by Senator George W. Norris, Nebraska republican, in behalf of Governor Roosevelt's presidential candidacy was sponsored today by the national progressive league. It said in a formal statement the organization was created under Norris' leadership to support the democratic nominee "and the progressive principles for which he stands." "The league is non-partisan in policy and its activities are confined solely to economic issues," the statement said.

Norris, a veteran independent, already had announced his support of Roosevelt. In 1928 he bolted the republican ticket to support Alfred E. Smith against Herbert Hoover. The league said Norris will begin a coast-to-coast tour Oct. 15. Other speakers also will take the stump, including Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit, Bainbridge Colby of New York, secretary of state in the Wilson cabinet, and Amos Pinchot of New York.

Chaco Combatants To Close Fighting

ASUNCIÓN, Paraguay, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Paraguayan government Monday announced acceptance of a proposal for cessation of hostilities which will be supervised by the American neutrals commission. The conditions under which fighting between Bolivian and Paraguayan forces would cease, were approved in a reply sent to the commission in Washington. They were: Immediate withdrawal of armies. Complete demilitarization of the Chaco within two or three weeks. Acceptance by both Bolivia and Paraguay of a reduction of military effectiveness to the minimum required for security.

The reply said Paraguay was leaving settlement of the dispute in the "hands of international justice." Mrs. H. S. Foley of LeFors will leave the Worley hospital this afternoon following a minor operation. Charles H. Shuly of Bell Plains, an employee of the Cabot Carbon company, was admitted Monday for treatment in the Worley hospital.

Mrs. Borah Has Improved Some

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 27 (AP)—"Slight improvement" in the condition of Mrs. William E. Borah, wife of Idaho's senior United States senator, ill with psittacosis or parrot fever, was reported by her physicians here today. Four injections of serum, brought by airplane from Washington and Pasadena, Calif., to combat the disease, have been administered. Mrs. Borah became ill more than a week ago from what was at first supposed to be influenza. Discovery that a parakeet had died in her home recently resulted in the conclusion by physicians that she was suffering from psittacosis.

GIVEN SENTENCE LUBBOCK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Jess Covington has been convicted of murder and sentenced to eight years imprisonment for the slaying of P. V. (Leather Hat) Brown and two other men accused in the same connection. Face trial. Brown, a stockman, was killed at Woodrow the night of May 30. The trial of High Walker was set for today and that of the other defendant, B. L. (Barber John) Richardson, immediately after conclusion of Walker's case.

Gandhi Improves From 'Death Fast'

POONA, India, Sept. 27 (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi is progressing favorably today, his physicians said, after breaking his "death fast" yesterday. His diet today consisted of grapefruit juice and sugar, and tomorrow he was expected to be able to take some barley water and milk whey. He was visited in his quarters at Yeroda, jail this morning by the noted Indian poet, Rabindranath Tagore, Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya and several other prominent Indian leaders.

Jack Vance and E. M. Robb returned last night from a brief trip to Breckenridge. Mr. Robb has just moved from Breckenridge to Pampa. The men reported hard rains in that city.

Eight Dogs And Fifty 'Grand' Not Enough for Man

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Hunter died leaving $50,000 and eight dogs. Her husband got the dogs. Now he wants a husband's share of the estate. Besides, four of the dogs were dead when he got them. In filing notice Monday that he would contest the will, Louis R. Hunter called attention to the fact that she will left his wife's estate to blood relatives, aunts, the Christian missionary alliance, the Red Cross animal relief, the American humane association and made no provision for him except for the dogs. He found four of the dogs dead in the cellar, he said, and had them buried in an animal cemetery where other dogs Mrs. Hunter had owned had been buried. There is a law in New York making it impossible for a husband or wife to disinherit the other. Mrs. Hunter, however, signed her will one day before the law went into effect.

BEAUTIFUL BIRTHDAY DINNER GIVEN METHODIST FOLK

Gray County Club Women Are Powerful Enemies of 'Old Man Depression'

SEPARATE IDEA USED AT EACH OF 12 TABLES

MRS. SHELTON GIVES AN ADDRESS; STUNTS PERFORMED

Under the general direction of Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, members of the First Methodist W. M. S. achieved one of the most beautiful entertainments ever given by a local church group when they were hostesses at a "birthday dinner" yesterday noon at the church.

All Methodist women of Pampa and all women attending the Methodist church were invited to the dinner.

Mrs. C. M. Barrier provided music during the registration period, and Mrs. W. R. Campbell and Mrs. H. B. Carson, who presided at the registration table, pinned on each guest her first name and the name of the month in which she was born. She was asked to sit at the table corresponding with that month.

Mrs. Long in Charge
Mrs. C. A. Long was toastmistress and announced the following program numbers: Invocation, Mrs. C. T. Nicholson; one verse of "I Am Thine O Lord"; songs by Mrs. J. M. Dodson; inspirational talk by the president, Mrs. Joe Shelton, on missionary society work; trio selection, "Thank God for a Garden"; Mrs. A. W. Mann, Mrs. C. C. Dodd, and Mrs. Philly Wolfe, accompanied by Mrs. C. M. Barrier; talk on "Why I Am a Member of the Missionary Society"; Mrs. Purviance; stunts by persons representing each month; song, "Blest Be the Tie"; prayer, Mrs. H. B. Carson.

The stunts, all exceptionally clever, included the following:
January, bridal stunt, making use of brides, Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. J. M. Turner, Mrs. A. B. McAfee.
February, impersonating old album pictures, Mrs. Paul Jensen, Mrs. Carl Boston, Mrs. C. P. Nicholson.

March, operation for neglect and non-attendance at church, Mrs. H. T. Wohlgenuth, Mrs. O. H. Booth, Mrs. R. W. Lane, Mrs. J. W. Murphy.

May, reading by June Rose Hodge; Maypole dance, Mrs. Sherman White, Mrs. John E. Hessey, Mrs. J. V. Edwell.

June, mock wedding, Mrs. C. E. Waller, Mrs. Lewis Robinson, Mrs. C. E. Ward.

July, patriotic stunt, Mrs. H. L. Wilder, Mrs. Luther Pierson, Mrs. M. M. Robinson, in red, white, and blue costumes.

August, clever reading by Mrs. William T. Fraser.

September, (the prize-winner), circus stunt, Mrs. Roger McConnell, Mrs. Joe Gordon, Mrs. C. E. McHenry.

October, fortune-telling stunt in which guests found typewritten fortunes tied to bones, Mrs. A. W. Babione, Mrs. R. B. Fisher, Mrs. Albert Wood.

November, stunt by Mrs. Roy Tinsley, Mrs. Chris Baer, and Mrs. Emma Hardin, dressed as Quaker ladies; reading, Mrs. Tinsley.

December, distribution of gifts by Santa Claus (Jo Ella Shelton), assisted by Mrs. S. C. Evans, Mrs. H. R. Thompson, and Mrs. Roy Krotzmeier.

Decorations Lovely
Attractive, seasonable decorations were used for the tables. The January guests were grouped around a table in all white, there was a snowman, snowballs, and floral decorations of white showberries and white dahlias.

In marked contrast with the white decorations, the February table flaunted flags and streamers of red, white, and blue. Individual flags were given as plate favors. Green and white streamers brightened the March table, in each corner of which were shamrocks.

A rainbow with a pot of gold at each end adorned the April table, which was centered with a bouquet of flowers. Rabbits gave added interest.

Pink was the predominating color for the May table, which was olive with manifestations of spring. A big cupid doll dressed in pink centered the table and around it were tiny pink-clad dolls. Flowers were of the same color, and May baskets filled with mints were given as favors.

At one end of the June table was a miniature bridegroom and at the other end was a little bride with attendants. A wedding bell hung overhead, and baskets flowers gave added beauty. Roses were the plate favors.

Patriotism was paramount at the July table, arranged in red, white, and blue. Toy cannons and suitable flowers were used, and toy fire-crackers were the favors.

A lily pond centered the August table, decorated in cosmos, zinnias, and nasturtiums in vivid colors.

Circus Takes Prize
The September table, which took the prize, was centered with a circus tent of white canvas, surrounded with animals. Colored flags gave brightness to the table.

Yellow and black were the featured colors for the October table, decorated with pumpkins and yellow flowers.

Chrysanthemum, cane, and corn stalks predominated at the November table, yellow and brown being feature.

GRANDVIEW'S RECORD BOOK TAKES PRIZE AT FAIR

Grandview community's home demonstration club, in taking second place at the Tri-State fair with its record book, has furnished unmistakable proof of the way the club women of the county are helping to whip the depression.

The club of eleven members is headed by Mrs. S. C. Jones as president and Mrs. Ada Lomax as vice-president, with Mrs. G. C. Andis as secretary. Mrs. Andis was commended for the neatness of her minutes and records.

The members' gardens averaged 21 vegetables each. Seed and plants cost $22.95, labor $8, and spray and poison $1.95. The value of the vegetables canned was $1,406.25. Fresh vegetables brought $500 when sold and it was estimated that those used were worth $816.25. A net profit of $2,277.55 on the gardens was shown by actual records.

Chickens on hand January 1 numbered 1343, valued at $671.50. When the records were closed the number of birds had increased to 2150, with a value of $1,075. Eggs sold numbered 6,548 dozen, valued at $445.05, and 1850 dozen eggs were eaten, having a value of $185. Chickens sold and eaten numbered 685, value $185. The total income was $1,395.03, the total expense $740.11, leaving a profit of $654.82.

The club women canned 876 quarts of fruit and 744 quarts of vegetables. Twenty-seven quarts of vegetables were brined. Meat canned totaled 225 quarts, making a grand total for canning of 5727 quarts.

Dried vegetables totaled 109 pounds, and 305 quarts of pickles and relishes were put up. Cured meats totaled 7,250 pounds. Six hundred and two pints of jellies were made. The value of these products was estimated at $2,648.55.

The women also made 28 dresses at a cost of $19.23, effecting a saving estimated at $20.77. Eighteen undergarments cost $2.25, with a saving of $2.75. Eighteen infants' garments cost $3.50, saving $2.50. There also were made 57 children's garments, costing $9.25 and saving $7.75. A saving of $16.88 was made in renovating 8 garments at a total cost of $212. The number of garments made or renovated was 129, and the saving estimated at $49.65.

Members of the club also made dresser scarfs, luncheon sets, and table cloths numbering 21 pieces, costing $5.90 and saving $10.60. Miscellaneous activities included planting of shrubs, refinishing walls and floors, improving rooms, and screening of the houses.

The club was formed in 1929. It had a prominent part in the Achievement day event here. Its activities are directed by Miss Ruby Adams, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. P. A. Worley who is recovering in the Worley hospital following injuries received in an automobile accident, is able to be up for short intervals.

GOVERNORSHIP HER GOAL—AT 52

A screen career isn't the first interest of Margaret Fitzpatrick of Birmingham, Ala., even if she does possess a movie contract. She wants to be Alabama's first woman governor and she plans to study law in preparation. She will be known on the screen at Gail Patrick.

HOLLYWOOD (P)—At an age when most little girls are standing before mirrors and practicing the smiles of their current movie heroines Margaret Fitzpatrick had a determined baby eye set on a royal throne which she would occupy some day when she grew up.

Later, when most girls her age were nursing secret ambitions to be movie stars, Margaret abandoned dreams of royalty and concentrated her hopes on an honest-to-goodness political career.

So, considering the quite common irony of fate, it is not so unusual that Margaret today is in Hollywood, possessor of a term contract to act in pictures. But it is unusual that even with a new and glamorous career opened to her she has not sidetracked her political ambitions.

"I'm still going to be a lawyer," she declares. "Even if I make good in pictures I'll study law in my spare time, and when I'm through I'm going to the University of Alabama to take the law course. And you may laugh if you want to, but I'm going to be Alabama's first woman governor by the time I'm 52—if some other woman doesn't beat me to it before then."

You'll have gathered by now that Margaret, who has been named Gail Patrick for screen purposes, comes from Alabama. She has lived all her life in Birmingham and was graduated from Howard college there. She was ready to attend the state university on a scholarship to study law when she entered a movie contest and was among those selected to go to Hollywood for the final choice.

"Acting isn't my life work," she insists, "but I'm glad to try it. Since I've had no experience, however, I suppose I'll go to acting school on the lot before I do anything at all."

Gail is a slender brunet, 21, with a cultured voice, a decided Alabama accent and a vivid beauty that the studio plans, contrary to her modest expectations, to exploit almost immediately.

Yo-Yo Contest at Rex Next Saturday

Pampa's champion yo yo artist will be selected at the Rex theatre next Saturday, according to Harry Laehr who is directing the contest. All the youngsters in this community are eligible to enter the contest at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The ten best artists will be selected in the morning and they will compete for the grand prize at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The next four best twirlers of the yo yo will be given prizes. Last Saturday the management of the Rex theatre gave 300 yo yo's to children attending the theater.

Little Theater Session Not to Be Held Tonight

The regular meeting of the Little Theater scheduled for tonight in the carpenters' hall in the basement of the Brunow building was postponed today for two weeks on account of a conflict with the Moose lodge which holds meetings Tuesday night in the same hall, Mrs. E. M. Conley, president announced.

It was not known until today that the lodge would meet in the hall. Date and place of the next meeting will be announced later.

Major characters in the cast of the play to be produced here Nov. 2 were announced today by the casting committee of which Mrs. Julian Barrett is chairman.

The title role of the play, name of which will not be released for publication for several weeks, will be interpreted by Miss Lucille Ewing, a new member of the Little Theater. Miss Ewing, daughter of Judge and Mrs. W. R. Ewing, moved with her parents to Pampa from Miami several weeks ago. She has toured the country several times with stock companies and appeared in several productions on New York stages.

Reed Crites, employe of the Phillips Petroleum company and a graduate of Kansas University where he had much dramatic experience, will assume what is probably the most important role in the play. Other persons who were cast for roles include Mrs. H. H. Hicks, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Miss Josephine Cariker, Paul M. LeBeuf, Julian Barrett, Dub Williams, Miss Lois Stalling, Mrs. A. B. Goldston, Miss Flo Perry, Paul Camp, W. O. Workman, Miss Kathryn Vincent, I. A. Freeman, Bill Weible, Gilmore Nunn, Mrs. E. M. Conley, Mrs. Warren Cretney, Miss Maxine Lyon, and others whose names were not available today. Only a few roles remained to be filled, and the casting committee planned to announce the entire cast tomorrow. First rehearsal will be held Thursday or Friday nights of this week.

CUBS AND YANKS BEGIN WORLD SERIES FIGHT TOMORROW

ODDS 8 TO 5 IN FAVOR OF NEW YORKERS

PLAY THREE GAMES IN CHICAGO; TWO IN THE BRONX

By GAYLE TALBOT Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. (AP)—The big city palatial world series fever today as the Chicago Cubs, glamorous champions of the National League, and the New York Yankees, the boys with thunder in their bats, prepared to fight it out in baseball's greatest spectacle at the Yankee stadium.

Tomorrow they go at it. Two games here, then three at Chicago, then back here for two more if the series goes the limit.

The Cubs, slipping in under the Hudson at 10 a. m., this morning, were to be given full possession of the great pile in the Bronx for a last-minute brushing up on fielding and a sharpening up of batting eyes, the Yankees, too, were to snap through just enough work to retain a keen edge for the big series.

Meanwhile the greatest activity was miles removed from the battle site.

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, from a central location, smoothed out the thousand and one details and gave managers and umpires final instructions. And in the back rooms it went like this:

"Yeah, they're offering 8 to 5 on those Yanks, but it don't mean a thing. Not a thing. Did you see they lay the same figures that the Athletics would take the Cardinals a year ago and didn't this Pepper Martin make them all look silly?"

That was how matters stood. The approximate odd 8 to 5 in favor of the slugging Yankees, the prospect that there will be showers tomorrow and Thursday, and the majority of fans frankly skeptical of the dope that has established the American league champions top-heavy favorites.

Most of the falling-off in Yankee sentiment the last several days is traceable directly to the doubtful condition of three of the club's outstanding performers, Babe Ruth, Charley Ruffing and Lefty Gomez.

Fourth Game at Chattanooga Is Scheduled Today

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 27. (AP)—The Chattanooga Lookouts and the Beaumont Exporters get together today for the fifth game of the Dixie series if the weather is not as cold or wet as yesterday.

Chattanooga, entry in the classic from the Southern association, has a lead of three games to one. Manager Del Baker, boss of the Texas league champions, said he would use Izzy Goldstein in the box today.

Either Duster Mails or Red McCoy will work for Chattanooga.

The boys sat around radiators yesterday and talked about dividing the jack pot they will get from the first four games. Beaumont players decided to split their share of the spoils 23 ways among the 20 men on the team, Manager Baker, Business Manager Robert Stow and with half a share each to Cowboy Jones and Joe Jachym who were with the club the first half of the year.

The Beaumont players will collect $5,982.15 if they win the series and $5,982.15 if they lose.

Women's Champion Fails to Qualify

PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 27. (AP)—With the defending champion retired to the gallery, the 32 qualifiers in the women's national golf championship were primed today for the opening 18-hole matches on the Salem country club's course.

Helen Hicks, 1932 titlist, passed out of the tournament when she carded an 89 for her qualifying test. As she flubbed away her chances, most of her more seasoned top-notch rivals survived the competition against par.

Two other stars, Maureen Orcutt and Virginia Van Wie, added to their games history by trying for the medal with par 77. They engaged in a sudden-death playoff to facilitate the making of the numerical draw for the match-play and the former won on the third extra hole, forcing Miss Van Wie into the lower half of the draw, which contains Emil Wilson, the British champion, and the most feared player in the tournament.

Baseball's Little World Series Open

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 27. (AP)—Eyes of the minor league baseball world turned today this city today to watch the opening engagement of the little world series between the champions of the International League and the American association.

Newark, itself, was in a holiday mood as today's battle between its own Bears and the Minneapolis Millers marked the first time in its history the classic of the "Double A" leagues was held here.

PONIES LOOK FOURTH-RATE

But Coach Morrison May Be Fooling Southwest Conference Again.

DALLAS, Sept. 27. (AP)—The form sheets indicate that the Southern Methodist university Ponies will be left at the post in this year's southwest conference football race.

No school has ever won the conference title two years in succession and the Ponies were champions last season. A far greater handicap than tradition, however, is the fact that for the first time in recent years Coach Ray Morrison finds himself without an outstanding passer, an outstanding passer, or a really first-class back-field man.

Morrison says he believes his team will be good by mid-season. As of its first game, it is not a good team now, for it was held to a scoreless tie Saturday by the North Texas Teachers' college eleven. The Teachers are a strong enough team in their own league, but the members of that circuit rarely give the Southwest Conference elevens anything more than a workout.

Last year's championship Mustangs were by no means so brilliant as other teams Morrison has coached. In the old days it rained footballs whenever the Ponies took the field and their beautifully smooth and tricky passing game brought them the name of the aerial circus of the southwest. Last year's team ran power plays principally, using passes as a threat to keep the defense from forming effectively against the ground attack.

The Ponies were marveled in mid-field but feeble on the five-yard line when the defensive backs moved in closer.

Speedy Mason, the fleet halfback, George Kooitz, pass-smaring wingman, and three linemen who won all-conference mention have departed. Morrison already has tried to make fullbacks out of two ponderous linemen and had very little luck with them. He has Howard Sprague and Bert Baxter for halves and Kenneth Travis for quarter. He has Charley Hearon, who is a very fast little man but not much bigger than a minute. He has one good end in Kenneth Mills. Otherwise, the undrafted Mr. Morrison has a large number of earnest young men who have been in college all this time and never yet seen their names in the headlines. But he says he will have a good football team and his competitors confess the excellence of his judgment.

Max Baer Looms As Heavyweight Title Contender

CHICAGO, Sept. 27. (AP)—When the plans for the next important heavyweight battle are made, it is going to be difficult to overlook Max Baer, the handsome entrant from Livermore, Calif.

In the Chicago stadium, same ring where he flattened Ernie Schaaf of Boston, less than a month ago, Baer last night definitely eliminated Tuffy Griffiths, game youngster from Sioux City, Ia., from consideration as a championship contender by a technical knockout in the seventh round.

Endowed with all the physical advantages, height, reach and a weight pull of 16 pounds, the Californian literally hacked Griffiths down to defeat.

Griffiths' courage carried him through one round after another, but in the seventh, a crushing right to the jaw sent him reeling against the ropes and as he bounced off, another left him rubber-legged and ready for the finishing punch. Referee Little Phil Collins stepped in before the decisive punch, would be delivered.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press New York—Max Schmeling, Germany, stopped Mickey Walker, Rumson, N. J., (8). Tony Shucro, Boston, and Charley Belanger, Canada, drew, (8). Vincent Parrille, Argentina, outpointed Al Fay, Charleston, Pa., (6).

Chicago—Max Baer, Livermore, Calif., stopped Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City, Ia., (7). Charley Retzlaff, Duluth, Minn., stopped Les Kennedy, Vernon, Calif., (2). Paul Dazzo, outpointed Joe Palazola, Detroit, (6).

Holyoke, Mass.—Battling Archie, Hartford, Conn., knocked out Joe Venutti, Boston, (2). Johnny Gallo, New York, outpointed Roland Le Ouyer, Holyoke, (10).

HOUSE OF DAVID WRESTLER

Henry A. Clausen

When Henry Clausen meets Red Michael in the semi-final at the Pampa auditorium tomorrow night, the redhead will have plenty of whisks to pull as Clausen still believes in the House of David rules and does not have. He is a scholar, a movie actor and a wrestler. He took part in the "Thief of Bagdad," "The Sea Hawk," "The Merry Widow," and other stage attractions. Special interests are reading and music. Rob Roy and Farmer Vance will wrestle the main event.

HARVESTERS LOOK DANGEROUS DESPITE ABSENCE OF 2 MEN

While Gerdis Schmidt, regular tackle, and Clovis Green, center, sat on the sidelines yesterday afternoon, Coach Odus Mitchell and Argus Fox put the Harvesters through one of the toughest scrimmages of the year. Green is out with a broken wrist and Schmidt with a knee injury, both sustained in a scrimmage Friday afternoon.

Garmen Howard and Hoot Fullingim were worked at center without rest, while J. D. Wright replaced Schmidt. The Harvesters will open the 1932 season Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Clovis high school here. Admission will be 50 cents with reserve seats 25 cents extra and hard work is in store for this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon, with polishing exercises scheduled for Thursday.

Harry Nelson, appears to be on the inside track for the other tackle job. Nelson was a valuable Gorrilla last season. His improvement has been greater than expected this season and he may get a regular place on the starting lineup. Patton and Kelley have the appearance of being a pair of record-breaking ends. Powell and Walker look like guards although all positions are still open.

The backfield problem has not been settled. Three places have been tentatively filled. Captain Jim Fool looks like the fullback find of the year. Dick Sullins just about has one halfback position filled. H. L. Ledrick has an inside track on the quarterback job. Three promising youngsters are battling for the other halfback position. They are Floyd Hamilton, Sam Turner and Bert Stevens. Hamilton and Turner have the best opportunity, as Stevens has been out for two weeks with a broken jaw. Turner spent two weeks on the sidelines with a broken hand but his substitute play last season keeps him well up the race.

The squad has not been out and every boy is working his head off to keep on the green and gold for the year. The coaches will have the biggest job of the season deciding who will go back to the Gorrillas for more seasoning.

Rain Continues to Delay Tournament

Old man weather has members of the Country club tournament committee literally tearing their hair, according to Dr. H. H. Hicks, chairman. Qualifying for the Country club invitation tournament is scheduled to close Thursday afternoon but there has not been a suitable day for play since last Wednesday and up to that time less than 20 entrants had turned in qualifying scores.

Play should have started last Sunday, but qualifying was held over an extra week because of the weather. Match plays are scheduled to start next Sunday morning but may have to be postponed again unless suitable weather for qualifying is in sight tomorrow.

Sixteen valuable prizes will be awarded at the close of the tournament.

C. E. Terry of White Deer is in the city today.

H. W. Rapstine of White Deer locked after business here this morning.

BE-WHISKERED WRESTLER TO GRAPPLE RED

'PRINCE OF THE HOUSE OF DAVID' COMING TOMORROW

Red Michael, Pampa's latest wrestling marvel, will meet something new in the way of wrestling at the Pampa auditorium tomorrow night when he tangles with Henry A. Clausen of the House of David. Henry will be here, whiskers and all, in an attempt to tame the redhead who has been going like wildfire lately.

Red and Clausen will wrestle the semi-final to the Farmer Vance-Rob Roy battle. It will be a case of youth versus age. Roy will have 30 years on the old fellow who will have the advantage of experience and knowledge. However, the Pampa boy may be fast enough to stay away from the veteran until he gets him winded.

Vance claims that he has never been worn down yet and he doesn't think any young upstart like Roy can do the stunt. The farmer has probably never seen Roy in action. He is one of the fastest men on his feet in the game today and he uses his speed to good advantage.

The old gentleman is liable to get rough with Roy when he finds he has a tough proposition on his hands. He is a second Dutch Mantel when he gets heated only he can take first place in the sock-em game. Fans have yet to see the local boy get rough. They are liable to get their fill Wednesday night if Farmer Vance goes into action. Andy Gump and Wildcat Willie are scheduled to meet in an elimination tournament with Michael as the prize.

Sailor Otis Clingman, local favorite, may appear on the card. He is en route home from Cincinnati where he has reached the top of the ladder and has been promised a match with Gus Kallio, world champion.

Bowling Season To Open Tonight

The Class A bowling season will open at the Pampa Bowling Alleys at 7:45 o'clock tonight with the Schneider hotel team, last season's champion, meeting the Thirty Footers, runner-up last year as Powell's Prides, and the Country club playing the Cullum Motor.

Games will be played every Tuesday night. Eighty-one games will be played during the season. The schedule was drawn up at a meeting of league officials and team captains in the Schneider hotel last night. Alex Schneider is president of the league.

The Class B league will be organized within the next few weeks.

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press Buffalo, N. Y.—Nick Lutze, California, won by decision from Joe Malcewicz, Utica, N. Y., 57-00.

Pensauken, N. J.—Fred Grubmeier, 265, Iowa, won two out of three falls from Milo Steinborn, 220, Germany.

Writers Decide Longhorns Will Win Grid Title

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer

If Coach Clyde Littlefield could find time for a hunt, he probably would shoulder a machine gun and put down a barrage with southwest conference sports editors as his targets. But ye editors have beaten Clyde to the open season, and have spotted him and his University of Texas Longhorns for the big kill—that of winning the 1932 southwest conference football championship.

For the scribblers have voted their choice for the title. Five votes went to Texas. Rice received two and Texas Christian one. Strange though it is, Rice's two votes were gained at Austin, home of the Longhorns. Refusing to be patriotic to their local boys, Homer Owen of the Austin Statesman and A. S. "Hop" Hopkins of the Austin American picked the Owls to win.

There was a boon where Kern Tips of the Houston Chronicle and Lloyd Gregory of the Post-Dispatch write sports. Without commenting why, Tips simply named Texas Christian first, Rice second and picked Southern Methodist for a third place tie with the University of Texas. Gregory named Texas.

FATALLY HURT FORT WORTH, Sept. 27. (AP)—Robert H. Simpson, 30, of Fort Worth was injured fatally when his automobile struck a traffic post this morning.

Members of his family believed he fell asleep at the wheel of his car. He had returned to Fort Worth this morning from Big Spring and, on arriving here, was notified he was wanted in Shelby county in connection with his jail business.

Simpson, after resting only about 30 minutes, had left for East Texas.

ARSON ATTEMPT MADE CORSIANA, Sept. 27. (AP)—Officers today investigated an attempt to burn the Corsicana Sun building last night. A man who poured kerosene on the floor of the second story and lit a long dynamite fuse leading to it fled when he was surprised by a reporter of the newspaper.

Albert Combs is improving in the Worthy hospital following injuries received in an automobile accident.

PAMPANS WILL PLAY BORGER UNDER LIGHTS

GAME SCHEDULED FOR NIGHT INSTEAD OF DAY

The Harvesters will play their first conference game of the season under artificial lights. Coach Odus Mitchell announced this morning. The game with the Borger Bulldogs has been changed to a night game and will be played at Alamo stadium in Borger at 8 o'clock October 8, instead of 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon.

The coach will take his charges to Borger some night next week to work under the lights. He also plans to rig up some kind of lights at Harvester park to run ground plays in night practice. Anyone leaving floodlights that could be installed at Harvester park is asked to get in touch with Coach Mitchell or Joe Smith.

Last year's game with the Yearnings of West Texas Teachers college was the first experience the Harvesters had under artificial lights. The green and gold won the game 37 to 6.

Borger has the darkhorse team of the conference and the Harvesters are pointing toward the encounter. It will be Berger's first Class A conference game. The Bulldogs went Class A this year. Coach Nyle Atkins, T. G. U., has been working his boys at top speed since the first of the practice season and is reported to have rounded out one of the best elevens in the conference.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. McNally of Dallas are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. Williams.

Mrs. Inez Carter was dismissed from the Worley hospital this morning.

Nothing Venture

by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Ferdinand Francis draws a net of circumstantial evidence about Robert Leonard, connecting him with the mysterious series of "accidents" which have threatened Jervis Wear's life. Jervis stubbornly refuses to doubt Leonard and demands that Ferdinand prove a motive. Ferdinand dramatically asserts that Leonard schemes to secure the Wear estate through Rosamund Carew, Jervis' treacherous former fiancée.

Chapter 32
JERVIS GETS A JOLT
"There you have it," said Ferdinand. He swung round in his chair and addressed Nam:

"Haven't I given him Leonard's motive?" he asked her.

Nam slowly got to her feet. She stood with one hand just touching the table and looked across the grapes and oranges at the two men. Her eyes snapped and her voice was vibrant with tension:

"Jervis won't listen to either of us. He doesn't want to hear anything against Leonard. Perhaps he really thinks you loosened the wheel so we'd all die together. Or I do you think I had a wrench in my pocketbook this afternoon. Jervis?"

"Somebody's trying to kill you. If it's not Leonard then it must be Ferdinand or I. Don't you know there's something between Leonard and Rosamund? I don't know what it is but I've known it was something since the other night at the hotel."

"Why didn't Rosamund marry you? She wouldn't tell, would she? You should have asked Robert Leonard."

She stopped speaking, bending over the table with her flashing eyes on Jervis. Suddenly he flung out of his chair, strode to the door, and opened it. Then he stood back, holding it conventionally.

Nam went out with her head up and a burning rose in each of her cheeks.

Jervis came back to the table. "We'd better shift out of here. If Nam's well he's coming in here in the steady."

"He did not speak until they were shut in together. Then he walked towards the sunset, frowned at the blue and golden sky without seeing it, turned round, and said:

"What's behind all this?" Ferdinand said on the arm of a happy leather chair.

"Robert," he replied succinctly. "Damn Robert!"

"Well, that's not my business." "Look here, F. F.," he broke off.

"There are things I can't say, even to you." He walked to the end of the room and back again. "That business ten years ago—you say Leonard was seen coming from the place where I'd fallen?"

"Well, I didn't say fallen. It's my belief he laid you out."

"And left me to drown?"

"You've said it."

"I'm going to tell you, because I think it's about time you knew."

"How long have you known?"

"For about a week."

"Well, what is it?"

"It's a very curious thing. The child who saved your life by holding you up in that pool when you were unconscious—well, she just happened to have seen Robert coming away after he'd laid you out."

"What did she see?"

"She saw you go around behind the rocks, and she saw Robert come down the cliff close beside her. He didn't see her. He went after you, and by and by she saw him again, walking away. That's why she knew his back view when she saw it again—it's peculiar, you know, the way he walks with that big head of his pushed forward. He went up the next path on to the cliff, and when she got worried about it, she came coming back, she went behind the rocks and found you lying in the pool with a hole in the back of your head."

"This is very convincing—ten years after!" Jervis laughed. "I could make up a better yarn than that if I had ten years to do it in."

"There's no one making up a yarn."

"Why didn't she say all this at the time?"

"She was down at Croyston with some kind of an aunt, and they were leaving that afternoon. She was late for the train and soaked through, and the aunt purchased her. And when they got back to where they lived, the poor child was in a fever and sick for weeks."

"And you met her again?"

"Last week."

Jervis paused. The room filled with silence. Ferdinand did not break it. He kept his bright dancing eyes on Jervis' face and saw the color rise in it to the roots of the black hair.

Jervis said, "Nonsense!" sharply.

"Have it your own way."

"What are you talking about?"

"Nam," said Mr. Francis, "I've known Jervis made a step towards him. If you're fooling—"

"I'm not."

"Nan!" said Jervis. "You mean it was Nam?"

"I recognized her at once. When I saw the scar on her arm, that clinched it. I've told you about that before. She'd cut herself pretty well to the bone holding your head off the rocks every time a wave came into that pool. It was her arm or your head. And she made it her arm every time. There was bound to be a scar, and when I saw that scar on your wife's arm at the Luxe, I thought I'd stumbled upon a very pretty romance."

Jervis stood for a moment with a perfectly blank face. Behind it his mind, like a shuttered room, was being violently shaken as if by an earthquake. His thoughts slid together, collided, broke.

With a violent effort he turned about and walked to the window. The sun was gone; a kind of golden haze tinged the dusk. There was no wind at all; each tree and bush stood up dark and solemn without the slightest movement. The whole scene might have been painted on glass. The contrast between its stillness and the turbulent confusion of his thoughts gave him a sense of being in some remote and unfamiliar place.

He did not know how long he stood there. The gold went out of the air and left it yet more gravely still. A very faint green light came from the horizon. This too faded. An impalpable stream of darkness flowed between him and all the world.

Suddenly he crossed to the door and switched on the light. The room had been quite dark. As the light came on, the windows seemed to recede. All the shades and degrees of the outside darkness vanished. The straight crimson curtains framed black, black windows. Ferdinand had not moved. He was sitting on the arm of one of the big chairs with his hands in his pockets.

"You're sure it was Nam?"

"Quite," F. F. answered.

"She told you so?"

"No, she did not. I recognized her. And then when we were at dinner, I told the story of the plucky kid who saved your life, and I watched her. I could see she didn't want you to know. I'm an inquisitive man and, though I'd like to get to the bottom of why you didn't know and why she didn't want you to know, I haven't got to the bottom of it yet. Those bright, yellow-brown eyes of his twinkled with questions. He crossed one leg over the other and leaned sideways against the back of the chair. "Well?" he said.

Jervis stood by the jamb of the door. He looked at a bare, blank window and spoke.

"Did she know—when she married me?"

Ferdinand twinkled more noticeably.

"What do you think?"

Jervis made a gesture. There was no expression on his face.

"Why not ask her?" suggested Ferdinand.

"I'm asking you," said Jervis. "You seem to be well behind the scenes. Did she know when she married me—or did she find out afterwards?"

"Know? Of course she knew! Why do you suppose she married you?"

Jervis set his jaw and was silent.

"Better ask her!" said Ferdinand with a short laugh.

Jervis turned abruptly, flung open the door, and went out. Ferdinand watched him with a quizzical smile. He went impetuously through the hall and out at the front door, shutting it hard behind him.

Grains Open Weak

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Downturns in grain values took place early today as a result of scattered selling which found the market without aggressive support. Corn touched a new bottom price record for the season.

Opening 1/4% lower, wheat continued to say. Corn also started 1/4% off and later held near the initial limits.

Cotton Opens Steady

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Cotton opened fairly steady today, considering the large tenders on October contracts in New York this morning, totaling 60,000 bales. In addition, 9,400 bales were tendered here bringing the local notices to 42,300 bales. Liverpool cables came in about as usual and first trades here showed losses of 2 to 7 points, due principally to hedge-selling. Prices recovered somewhat when the notices appeared to be promptly stopped and the improvement was helped by a map showing considerable rain in the belt and the appearance of the tropical storm in Porto Rico.

What Is the Texas CENTENNIAL?

On March 6, 1836, at 3 A. M., some 6000 men gathered at the Alamo. They were twice surrounded with heavy forces of 830 Mexicans, only 130 remained. They finally scaled the walls and the heroic last stand which the defenders made is well known to every Texan.

Q. What does the word Centennial mean?
A. Webster's Dictionary defines the word Centennial as: "A 100th anniversary or its celebration."

Q. Why the movement to celebrate it in 1936?
A. 1936 marks the 100th anniversary of the actual gaining of Texas Independence and the formation of an Independent Republic. In other words, 1936 will be the 100th birthday of Texas.

Q. What State in the Union has a more brilliant history than Texas?
A. Though a few states closely rival the colorful history of Texas, there is certainly no state which has a more brilliant or inspiring history than our own dear State.

Q. Why celebrate the 100th birthday of Texas?
A. 1936 offers an opportunity which occurs only every 100 years. Surely the least which present-day Texans can do is to make public and fitting recognition of the heroic deeds and sacrifices of our forefathers.

Q. Who are sponsoring the movement?
A. An official Centennial Committee of 100 was appointed by the State Legislature to officially sponsor the movement. This committee is made up of patriotic Texans from all over the State. In addition, many other patriotic groups, such as the Texas Press Association, the Advertising Clubs of Texas, Progressive Texans, Inc., the Texas Daily Press League and others, are sponsoring the movement.

Q. How can the Texas Centennial in 1936 become a reality?
A. An exposition of this magnitude and character must have the official sanction of the entire State, hence the matter of whether or not Texas shall celebrate its 100th birthday is to be submitted directly to the people. On November 8th a Texas Centennial Constitutional Amendment will be voted upon.

Q. What will it mean to Texas?
A. The celebration of the Texas Centennial offers the greatest opportunity that Texas has ever known. It is certainly patriotically mandatory upon us to make this public recognition. From an economic standpoint, twenty-five years' growth can be brought to the State within five years.

Q. What should every loyal Texan do as his part?
A. The first and most important duty of every Texan is to go to the polls November 8th and be sure that he votes for the Centennial Amendment. After this Constitutional Amendment has passed, there are many things which Texans can do to make the Exposition a brilliant success. These instructions will be given the people of Texas at a later date.

Q. How much actual wealth will be brought to the State by the Centennial in 1936?
A. It is conservatively estimated that the visitors who come to the Centennial Exposition in automobiles alone will return to the State Treasury in gasoline tax alone an amount of approximately $25,000,000. This State gasoline tax goes directly into the Highway and School funds and thus will show permanent development to the State. Wealth in untold millions and from many different angles will pour into the State as the immediate result of this celebration. And thus while celebrating the patriotic Centennial revering the memory of Texas' forefathers, present-day Texans will benefit in an economic way by a dissemination of information concerning present-day opportunities in Texas.
